Naval And Military Gazette

Librarian

Witarpara Joykeishna Public Library

Govi. of West Bengal

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETTE

East India and Colonial Chronicle.

No. 574.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1844. Literary Notices .- "Manwell" History of the Rebellion in Ireland, is the year 1702"

"Studies of Sessation and Svent"—Posma. By R. Joses Pombl. or the London Chartvari"

Correspondence

CONTENTS OF THE PARSENT NUMBER ... Military Appointments and Promotions—Muvements (18th Hussars—Lourt Martial on Lieut and Payments: Route

R wild.

(2011 Foot. Death of Ma) Parker and Lt. Mac Lackism)

(44th Foot. Letter of "A Constant Header")

(44th Foot. Death of Colonel Shelton)

(44th Foot. Court Marini on Ensign Richard Maciaine)

littlery intelligence

[arai Pristoftions and Appointments of the Week

general Pret-Office Notice

avai Intelligence

Naval Intelligence
A Memorial of the War in Ava
The French Army

OR MADRAS & CALCUTTA. WIII leave I the Docks on the 20th Interest, Gravesend the 20th as Portamouth the 1st Manue, and estimate penerogene at formouth, the woll-known, rigarde-built ably LONDON, 70s but Thomas Arwenou, Commander; Iving in the East India Doct This fine ship's accumulations for penerogene are first, rate, as the will carry an experienced burge-in For freight or pushes will carry an experienced burge-in Hartrick on the Santonian & Co., Su count, or 90, Combits of Co.

MADRAS AND CALCUTTA A VIA VIA NAME AND CALCUTTA, will half punctually on the last Pehranty, the well-known Teak Ship I ORD HUNGENPORD 724 Tone per Register, V. Proore Commander. Lying in the Rest India Ducky. This Ship has excellent Accommodation for Passengwa, and carrier an expectanced hungeon. For Light Freight or Passenge, apply to Menors Corneasti and Co. S. Austin Friers, to Captain Paragentation, or to T. Havisian and Co. Sun court, or S. Cornhill.

DOYAL MAIL STEAMERS.—
Best soute to BELFAST and LONDONDERSY, via Piectwood, every Monday, Wedneeday, and Saturday evening, after the arrival of the London morning train, by the superior new iron seems ships PRINGE of WALFS and FRINCEMS
AI ICE, taking the main from Manchester and Presion for Bestast
For 10 NOTONDERRY, every Fidday forenoon, the favourite alcanur ROBERT NAFIER
I'm freight on prasage apply to Mr. Hunner Smith, Piectwood, or at the Commany's offier, 4, 42. Swithin's lane, London

OR THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, will That or the 18th February, full or not folt, the generabily last safting River busic Stip, Victia Ant. A: 480 Tune 1 haven, commander Lying in the Lundon Ducks. This Bhip afford an eigible opportunity, as from her Engagements at the Cape, she must keep her time. For Freight or Passage analy to Messan 1, W. & A. Bonnapares, 34, Fencharch street; or to 3. Haviaina and Co., San sourt, or 59, Corabili.

THE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Mears T and W Suits, of Newscate-upon-Type, and built by them for the INDIA IRADE, will leave Gravesead punctually at the undermeationed dates:—
LOCATION BOY, DON THOMSON, Commander, to Self-Pedragy (C.

PPLIN, GSU TORS, KURRET LAIMS, COMMERCED, to Sail BOBERI SMALL, 800 Tone, E. Williams, Commander, to

ACTARAS THE SECOND CONTROL OF SECURITIES OF SECOND COMMENTARIES, TO RULE NEW YORK, 1,100 Pupe, M. C. CLOS , COMMENTARIES, TO Sail May 20 HUCLPHALU'S, 1,030 Tons, WM BELL, Con mander, to Sail

FOR CALCUTTA DIRECT.
7-1 ORIANA, 1, 10 Fone, J. S. Wass Commander, to Sail

July 8,
11 DOR, 1,150 Tone, M. J. LAY, Commander, to Sail Aug. 15
FOR THE CAPP. AND CALIUTIA.
PLANTALENET, 1,000 Tuns, Jane Dunser, Commander, to bail July 16.

FOR MADRAN.

DURF OF ARCHILL, 800 Join, Bray BRISTOWE, Commisser, to Sail August 10.

For Fearsage apply to bir J. Peris, Bary, & Co., 71 Combility Captain Barean, 17, 51 Mary Ase, Captain William Fulcing, at T. & W. Britti's, 78, Caribilly, or Newmaste-on Type.

TO MILITARY OFFICERS and GEN-AILUTARY OFFICERS and GEN-TLEMEN JOINING —WINFIELD & SIMME, 56, NEW BOND BTRPET, LONDON, are the only Progricters of the really hervierable BEDNIRAD, sukable to Military purposes. Upon any ether constitution they become stokety by frequent restoral, It is protected by Letters Polens, and may be had heavery variety, together with all Articles required for an Outst, upon the Lowest Terms possible and the Stortest Notice. N. B.—Several Second-Hand BEDSTRADE and BEDDING is be duty ned of upon edvantageous terms, being for the most part of their own manufacture.

H. S. HAYPE, Agent,

FOR HOME AND VORHERM SERVICE.

TOHNSON'S MILITARY BEDSTEAD, requiring neither MATTREES new SQUEER, and weighing when pecked in value, but he lost, can be had only of E. Journow, Personey, et. Jermyn-atreet; where also may be had the PATENT WATERPROOF TRUNK, for the Obstand Econe

Ladia, and stery actual of sould unabogany. Enument, Tables, Chotaman, solid Leather Portainsteams, Saga, des., at considerably reducing prime for Cash, all warvanted.

E. JOHNSON, es, JERMYN-STREET, ET. JAMES'S.

Correspondence

"Capt T. Bourchier" on the China Medal

"Badge" on Maval Uniforms

"Neuticus" on Duciling

"A World-be-Cummodore" on Maval Promotions

"Crayon" on Naval Rank

Editor's Notes to Correspondents

Editor's Notes to Correspondents

Editor on the Steam Navies of Great Britain and Prance

the Army in Ireland and the Rejeaters

the Userland istalligence from India

the Userland intelligence from India

the Userland intelligence from India OVERLAND TO INDIA, -OUTFITS furnished in Twelve Hours to any Part of the Globe, at extraordinary Low Prices. But printed lists apply to W. H. AhlET; and Co. 27, Cornhill, Loudon. Navel and Military Officers, Cadon, Surgeons, Midshipmen, and Pamilies equipped with every article of Wearing Apparel, read-made lines. Caden furniture, &c., overland trynks, sir bods, &c., hept ready.

SHIRTS.—Beautiful Long Cloth Shirts, at 48a, $4a, to 72s per dozen, with fine linen collers, wrist-bauds, and platted linen fronts; cairco shirts for see use, 10s, and 12s. per dozen; ditto with platted fronts, 16s., 21s, nee, 10 36d.; per dozen; fine linen shirts, 7s. und 6s each; very fine, 16s end 18s. each; common ditto, ss. 6d each; ladtest online chemises, 12s., 16s., 16s, 18d 18s. per dozen, fine long cloth, 31s, 34s, to 20s.; per dozen; might grams, 21s, 30s, 3s 6s, per dozen; Uuthin to all parts of the Globs.—At W. R. ABI ETT & Co.'s, 27, Cornhill.

PHILLIPS, NAVAL TAILOR, 28, La STRAND, hogs to inform the Officers of the Royal Mary that he has all the Patterns of the Attentions exectioned by the Loyds of the Australity, which he submits of the best quality, at the following low prices:—

PRICES LOR NAVAL UNIFORMS Commanders' Coats lor. less.	Commo- dures of the Second Class, Captains, and Com- manders,	Ante, Mastere,	Musters, Assistant
Dress Cost Underss Cost Dress Trousers Epsulettes, rach Sword Kuot, & Belt Dress Seft Cocked Hat Cup and Gold Band	H H-3 10	a 4606 16: 9 10 - 4 4 9 10 - 8 20 9 10 - 9 16 3 6 - 4 16 1 19 - 9 10:	# 10 - 4 4 1 5 - 1 12 5 6 - 4 16 1 19 2 19 3 9 - 2 10	3 8504 4 9 15 - 9 14 1 4 - 1 19 8 0 - 4 19

BHINTS of good quality, and well made, all for per season. Ciffic are joining fitted out at a few house posice, with every required for a voyage Shirts, thesis, Seeding, ac. dec. always confy, and every acticle warranted strictly regulation. Chetta, Military and Riplomatic (Shirts, Stud out on the sarue advantageous terms. Yall grinted estimates of each on Application,

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, HEST
QUALITY, WITH PEATHER, FOR £3 3.

CLERGYMAN of HIGH STANDING, A MA, Cambiling, who resides about four miles from London, in desirons of receiving Thu Fifth to prepare for the Universities of Mistary Academy at Woodwich, to whose he can offer preciber advantages. Address, W. T., at Messre Hatchird's, Bookseilers, &c., Piccaddily.

EA AND PERRINS "WORCESTER. EA AND PERRIN'S a WORCESTER—
La SHIRE SAUCL." prepared from the Ranges of a nobleman in the scenty—Tan above calcharded beause has, from the time of its introduction, been steadily progressing in public favour. Its peculiar piquancy, combaned with exquisite flavour, antabilish it of a character anaposition is muces. Robbemen and others of achnowledged gout, pronunced it to be "the only good anapos," and for waricking graviers, or as a zest for fick, certice, steaks, game, cold meat, fat, especially unrivaled. As a rapidly normalised, to a rapidly moreover, and to transport to the proprietors beg to state that druggials, grocers, and others, only be supplied by their agents—blevers. Barring and Sona, Parringdon attret; Mr. J. Harding, '9, King-street, Rayore; and beaus, Marcalle and Co. 16, Southampton row, and by the Wholesale Oil and Italian Warehousedson in London, upon the saint terms as at their warehouse as the greater.
Soin retail in half pint bettee, at 1 et 6; junts, 2e 6d; and quaris, 5e each, with the proprietors' stemp over the cork of every bottle.

OPRESTI'S DUKE of GLOUCESTER'S DARKSTIS DUKE of GLOUCESTER'S

A BAUGE—This incomparable theses for General Dar, to preparad only by C. W. LOPERTI, 199, Ploughtly, among years other Crock to the late Dwice of Utoconter; and from its fine pledency and unpermitted consumy and excitioner, enterty compounds dummonly and. Also LOPERTIFE ANOMOVIES for First and various pure Sauces for all purposes; his real Oriental/Curry Powders, Liquid Cayennes, Briwen Artifer Gravius, Relatests historiating, and other Laboles Flavourings, Aromatic Symple A. With infractions, grates, for using them at Table, and in Cookery. His "SCONCINCAL RECEIPTS," price Le Lebausti, 199, Flouring. Rathr on Mac

the M

the M

oration of the Pu passion, the Navel G

Court, Exhien, and Gherni News foreign and Calcaini Intelligence (Military Aprointments, Proceeding, M

femory—A Press. By the Inte L. B. L.

Panely, Births, Marriarys, and Destin

A Window the cause of a War MONEY.—Noblewen, Gentlemen, Military TONE. I.—No influence, Gentlamen of the Universities, and others, may be necessated with LDAMS to say amount, for long or about periods, if of indoustable responsibility sail adequate apectation. Rate of respons nearthing to risk. Meads also advanced on Dook Warrants, fig.—Parties requiring easi aid may must with canduar, secreey, and promptibile, by applying, either paragraphy or by letter (prepais), but Mr. White No. 10, demid-aquate, Town-hill.

M.S.—The Manager of this noise requires so bills anderset of securities left, without the Cash agrees to Three b'eitest.

Cime

क्ष्मिम् इ

PRINCE SE

TO GENTLEMEN, SPORTSMEN

BERCHANTS, and OTHERS.—Constantly in this, it partect order, GUNS, RIFLESS, and PISTOLS, by all the Stratech Mohern, Weynasted.—Gle Gene, So., taken is exchange.

E. WHISTLEES, Gene, Rice, and Pleast Repository, 11, Strate, opposite the Guiden Orusi Hund.

Money advanced to any amount upon every description of Valuable Property.

N. B.—Observat—From the late OHARLES VAUGHAN'S.

INDIA MILITARY AND CIVIL OUTFITTING SHEAR AND CIVIL OUTFITTING SHEAR AND CIVIL OUTFITTING SHEAR AND CIVIL OUTFITTING SHEAR AND AND CIVIL OUTFITTING.

I BUGIES & CO., 203, REGENT.

A STREET, CITY.—Offings in the Quasa's Newton Loadets, Assistant-Ranguages, Writers, and Presentager to the Colonius, can be promptly and currious manipular with west requisites in Military Chutching and Accountmentally Objecting State Overland Roads, and Change and Objecting State the Voyage of Overland Roads, and Change and Object Ferriand Roads, and Change and Object Ferriand Roads. The State of Control of C

OFFICERS in HER MAJESTY'S Service Catch and anistant flar maid high t of carrying catch and anistant flar man be required at a show notice with the proper description of Lines, Military Associate motive with the proper description of Lines, Military Associate motives. Color Frankture, do, regardless for an Claffic of the best quality, at Wholeanie Frices, by Chikustian and Latit Chikuston, it will mare the control of the color of the colo

DATENT CHRONOMETERS, Watches, and Cheek.—E.J. BRY, by special application of the motor, watch, so a close basher to the discrete watch, so a close basher to the discrete watch, so a close basher to the discrete watch, so a close basher to the control of the extensive better most to watches and CLEVER, which have been make to ment the demand of the public at the present sensor.—St. biffing, and 23, Octoper. street.

NDREW SMITH'S PATENT WIRE

NDREW SMITH'S PATENT WINE AND REW SMITH'S PATENT WINE AND ROPE for STANDING BIRGING -- finis Rope has now been in use appeared of seven-years, being jeed them half the weight and size of homeon Rope, and about one that dropper. The Royal Yacht Victoria and dibert in entirely fixed with Audrew Routin's Patent Wise Rope, Metal Biocks, and Rorew Lanyards, together with a consideratio number of other skips in the Ray; as well as in the Revenue thereof, Corntifly. The fullowing is a copy of a testimonsal. A number may be seen at the bifles—"Commercial Bock, London, Aug. 2, 1842 "Duan Sin,—in Captain and cover of the achoonir Merchael, of Great Grimsby, I have much pleasure in attaing for the information of the public, that it is now appeared of seven years since my vessel was entirely fitted with your Palent Wire Rope as attending Riging, and that it is now appeared of seven years since my beneal when that it has the line, in as good a state as when first fitted, though the ellephyse has bren, during the whole of test fina, trading to the Raidin Rid Constwars. I am perfectly anticale of its grad advantages over Hempen Rope for Ball kinds of wester—"I am, Mr., your cheelent bereast, (Bigner). "FROMAS MARSHALL."

CADETHIPS AND COMMINSTORS IN THE ROYAL MARTINE CORPS.

A CADEMY, UNION STREET, PORTAMES AND PORTON AND PORTON OF THE ROYAL MARTINE AND PORTON OF THE ROYAL MARTINE AND PORTON OF THE ROYAL WAS A CADEMY, UNION STREET, PORTAMES AND PORTON OF THE ROYAL WAS A CONTROL OF THE PORTON OF THE POR

Military Intelligence.

FROM THESDAY'S GAZETTE.

Edinburgh Militia...Alexandor Edgar MacGregor, Gent., to be Licut. v. James Fraser, dec., John Hay Hardyman, Gent., to be Licut. v. James Ballile, deceased.

PROM PRIDAY'S GAZETTE.

PROM FRIDAY'S GAZETTE.

WAS-OPPICE, Jan 5.

Oth Lt. Dragoons—Paymaster F. K. Leech, from 18th Lt. Dra., to be Paym. v. H. Knight, who retires upon half-pay.

1st Foot.—Gen the Right Hop. Sir G. Murray, G.C.B., from 42d Foot, to be Colonel v. General Lord Lynestoch, G.C.B., dec.,

... E. Dashwood, Gent., to be Ensign by p. v. Hingleton, 16th - E. Basiwood, 65mt., to be Ens. without p. v. Pottal, whose appointment has been cancelled.

15th - Christopher Sayers, Gent, to be Ens. without p. v. Pottal, whose appointment has been cancelled.
4ts: -J. E. Gondwyn, Gent., to be Ens. by p. v. Rawlins, prom. fight. - H. E. Warren, Gent., to be Ens. without p. v. Forman, promoted in 7th Foot.

66th W H. Herrick, Gont., to be Bas, without p. v. Down-

65th.--W H. Herrick, Genk., to be Ens. without p. v. Hown-man, promoted.

77th.-- Lieut. A. Altken, from 28th Foot, b) be Lieut. v. Herbert, promoted.

9dd.--(f. A. Thompson, Gont., to be Ens. by p. v. Campbell, appointed to 72d Foot.

M.M.--Tho half-pay of Lieut. T. H. H. Cauty, of the Bourbon Regiment, has been cancelled from 5th Jah., 18t4, he having been granted a commuted allowance.

CAVALLY.

3d Drag. Guards-The Military Authorities are engaged investigating the facts connected with the case of Harriet Hurst and two young Officers of this regiment. The particulars of this case, which was brought under the notice of the magintrates of the Dublin Head Police-office, here already appeared in the N. & M. Gazette. The present inquiry has been directed in consequence of a meanwing forwarded by Harriet Hurst to the Duke of Wellington.

Drag. Guards--A small detachment of ten men is at this deput (Maidstone), under orders to join the head-quarters at the Cape of Good Hope. The Officers who a company the draft are Cornets Gore and Bunbury.

Wit. Drags. (Umballa) - This Reg. is to form a portion of the Cavalry Brigade to be assembled at Busseah on the Satledge. Maj. Gen. Sir J. Thack ell, K.C.B., is appointed to the command of the Cavary Division of the Army of Everoise.

9th Lancers-(Army of Exercise)-The bd.-gra. and 2 Squadrons have marched from Camppore to join the left wing of the Army of Exercise, in Bundeleund; the remining 2 Squadrons continue at Campore. Lacut. Col. A. Campbell, K.H., is appointed to the command of the lot Brigade of Cavalry, with the rank of Brigadier. Lieut. Col. J. Scott, C.B., is appointed to the command of the 4th Brigade of Cavalry. Capt. A. Spottawoods is appeared Major of Brigade to the 1st Brigade.

tith the server Capt. J. W. Reynolds has joined from the Royal Mustary College.

1.th Hussars—Lieut, Von Strong has 2 years' leave to Eastand.

We regret to have to give publicity to the following preceedings. Lieutenant and Paymester Routh had been 13 years in the Army, having cutered as Ensign on the 11th Oct., 1839.

Lieut Quarters, Camp Allahabad, Oct. 10 .- Af a General Court

herest (quarters, Camp Allahabad, Oct. 10.—At a General Court Ma. 15.1 held at Bangalore, 7th July, 1843, Paymaster Henry Routh, of H.M.'s 15th on the king'el Reg. of Hussara, was arraighed on the following charges:—

(b) 100 howing at Bangalore, on the 31st March, 1843, ember-led or fraudulently misapplied the sum of 972 mpces, 28 mons, and 6 pics, but may a balance of money due on the pay abstracts of H.M.'s (alle L.f. Diagoons, for March of the same year, left in his bine, and entrusted to his charge, as Paymaster of the said regt.

MAN A tall LL Diagnous, for March of the same year, left in his home and entrusted to his charge, as Paymaster of the said register regimental purposes.

20 For basing at Bangalore, on the sist March, 1849, embry yield or fraudulentiv misapilied the sum of 400 rupees, being the balance of info cupees left in his hands on 6th March of the same year, to private Robert Nicholbs, and entrusted to his charge, as Laxinaste, for purchasing the discharge and paying for the 1000m, to balance of the said private Nicholbs. In harding at Bangalore, on the 31st March, 1843, embexised of fraudulents insapplied the sum of 300 rupees, the property of private S. H. Woods, which had been deposited with him by the said private Woods, 7th Feb. of the same year, and entireted to his charge, as Paymaster, for the purpose of purchasing his, the said diviate Woods discharge.

Atta-Fro his him at Bangalore, on the 31st March, 1844, embez, field or translutents misapiled the sum of 30 rupees, the proposity of her Majesty, and have been lodged with him for her said (styr) sinch by rivate Charles Sweet, on the 3th Oct., 1842, and who was discharged on the 31st March, 1844, embez, sinc and fraudulently misapiled the sum of 20 rupees, the proposity such by rivate Charles Sweet, on the 3th Oct., 1842, and who was discharged on the 31st March, 1843, embez, sicu and fraudulently misapiled the sum of 20 rupees, it annas, and 10 pies, being the effects of decased soldiers of 14.M. S 18th Lt. Dragnous, which had been currosted to his charge as Paymaster on 13th Feb. of the same year, for the purpose of being paid into the Kast tonia Company's Treasury at Madras.

3th -1 or remaindance and diagnous behaviour, unbecoming the character of an Odser and a gentleman in the following to significance.

the differential minimplied the num of 12,330 rupos, 1 none. wied intradictive thinguised the sum of 13,330 rupoes, I mans, and leading menties entrusted to be charge, as Paymenter, belong the forthe regiments innin of $1.50.5 talk it. Dragoons, in the forthe regiments innin to the $1.50.5 talk it. Dragoons, in the forthe regiments of the forthe country, on account of the Samt George's Fanch, 31 rupoes, 4 amen, and 9 ples; on account of the Casterna, 10.50.5 talk it. The supposition of a manner, and 4 ples; and on account of the Mers, it is the same for the first beauty of the first first beauty and the same place on the 31st March, and the first beauty and the same of all rupoes, being the first beauty manufact the same of all rupoes, being the amount of a subscription made for private William George, by Officers and soldiers by the same regiment, and which had been received by him and corrected to his charge, as Payenater, in Dec., 1942, on account of the said W. George, discharged from the Service in consequence of an accident.

3d Inskance—In having at the same piace on the Sist March, 1943, fraudulently misapplied the sum of 2560 rupses, being momey entrusted to his charge as Paymaster, by H. Tarleton, on the following dates—namely, 1960 rupses on the 18th April, 1960 rupses on the 18th Oct., and 950 rupses on the 18th April, 1969 rupses on the 18th Cet., and 950 rupses on the 18th April, 1968, fraudulently misapplied the sum of 800 rupses, being money intrusted to his charge for the purchase of a silver tankard by cortain Officers of I.M.'s 18th Light Dragoons, and which amount he, as Paymaster, stopped by instalments from the pay issued to those Officers in the months of July, Aug., Sept., and Oct., 1443.

3th Instance—in having at the same place, on the 2d March, 1963, made a false and fraudulent entry as Paymaster, in the private account-book of the mean of H.M.'s 18th Light Dragoms, to the offset that he had, on that date, paid to John Batho, berjeant, the sum of 160 rupses, in terms of an order from Capt. Richard Know, of the same reg., and President of the Meas Committee. No such money having been so paid, nor any such order given.

Oth Instance—In having at the same place, on the 18th March, given.

6th instance—In having at the same place, on the 15th March, in the same year, made take and fraudulent entries in his public books as Paymaster, to the effect that he had, on that date, paid on account of Quartermaster W. Betwon, of 11.M.2 15th Light Bragoons, the sum of 1800 repees; no such money having because.

7th instance—In having at the same place on the 16th March 1 the same year, made a felice and fraudulent charge in his Dragooms, the sum of 1600 rupces; no such money having been so paid.

7th Instance—In having at the same place on the 16th March, in the name year, made a felse and fraudulent charge in his account with Capt. Richard Knox, of H.M.?s. 15th Light Dragooms, the sum of 101 rupces and 5 annes, stated to have been paid by him, as Paymaster, on account of the said Capt. Richard Knox; no such auch having been so paid.

8th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 21st March, in the same year, received from Cornet Charles Bill, of H.M.'s 15th Light Dragooms, an order on John Innes Gedes, at Madras, for the sum of 250 rupces, on account of Capt. John Bunce Prigrim, of the same regiment, and which he fraudulently misapplied.

9th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 31st March, in the same year, traudulently misapplied the sum of 501s repecand 9 annas, being a balance of pay left in his bands as Paymaster, by the following Otherra of H.M.'s 15th Lt. Dragooms, namely—by Maj. Gen. (Col. J. B. Lovell, 101 rupces., Fannas, and 6 piese, by Capt. Edward T. H. Chambers, 115 rupces, and so piese, by Capt. F. W. Home, 232 rupces, and 10 piese, by Capt. Edward T. H. Chambers, 115 rupces, and so piese, by Capt. F. W. Home, 232 rupces, and 10 piese, by Lieut. H. Brett, 21 oupces, 11 annas, and 3 piese, by Lieut. H. Brett, 21 oupces, 11 annas, and 3 piese, by Lieut. H. Brett, 81 rupces, 11 annas, and 2 piese, by Lieut. H. Brett, 81 rupces, 11 annas, and 2 piese, 12 annas, and 2 piese, by Surgeon. Mount, 752 rupces, 8 annas, and 2 piese, by Lieut. H. Brett, 81 rupces, 11 annas, and 7 piese, 11 piese, by Surgeon. Mount, 752 rupces, 61 Annas, and 7 piese.

10 annas, and 1 piese, by Lieut. Hetbert Morgan, 203 rupces, 11 annas, and 2 piese, by Surgeon. Mount, 752 rupces, 8 annas, and 3 piese, by Vertriancy Surge. Tendicically on-applied the sum of piese, and by Cupt. In the same year, fraudulently unsapplied the sum of 8 rupces, 11 annas, and 11 pies, being a balance of pay left in his hands a Paymaster, by Assist -surg. Traner

Bragions

17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the 17th March,
17th Instance—In have the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the 17th March,
17th Instance—In having at the 17th March,
17th Instance—In havin 17th Instance—In having at the same place, on the 17th March, in the same year, transitionally meapplied the own of 215 rupees the property of Caption O. S. Binchford, of H.M.'s 15th light Dragosum, the same being a balance of pay entrasted to his charge has Paymaster for the purpose of his procuring for the same (apt. Blachford an account general bill for the same aun; in lieu of which he, Paymaster Routh, gave a bill dated the 21st of the said month at 10 days' sight, in his own came, in favour of the said Capt. Blachford, on Missiseurs Griffiths and Company, at Madras, for the same amount, a history was returned dishonoured. he, Paym. Routh, having made no provision to ment the same, 13th Instance—In having at the same place, on 21st of March, in the same year, given to Vetermary Surgeon Thomas Hurford, at 11th, 15th Hog, of Let. Uragoous, on account of money due by him to the said Vetermary-Surgeon Burford, a hill of the same date, at 15 days' aught, on Messieurs Griffiths and Company, or order, for 25 expect, and 6 annus, which was returned dishonoured, he, Paymaster Routh, having made no provision to meet the same.

ment the same.

14th Instance—In having, at the same place, on the Sist of 14th instance—in mering, at the same place, on the same year, fraudmently make, finds the same int 700 tipees, the property of Lieut. John Surman, of H. M.'s 15th M. Dragwons, and which had been cultrusted to his charge as Paymaster for the purpose of the same being rematted, on the same Lieut. Surman's account to the Agentio, the Agra Bank, at Marier.

same Lacut. Surman's account to the Agentio, the Agra Bank, at Madras

15th Instance—in having at the same place, on the 14th Dec., 1842, given to Capt. John Bunce Prigrim, of H.M.'s 15th
1A. Dragoons, on account of money due by hun, Paymaster Routh, to that Officer, two orders, under the atoresaid date, at 15 days' sight, for 500 rupees, each in favour of the said Capt.
16th; and made payable at Messaura Hall. Bambeitge, and Coffigany, at Madras, which orders were returned dishonoured.
16th; hayn. Routh, having made no provision to meet the same.
17th above being in broach of the Articles of War

(Signed) L. Lovser, Maj.-Gen., Col. Com. 18th Hussars.
18th; Bangalore. Vay 3, 1843.
18th; Finding—The Court laving most maturely weighed and considered the whole of the evidence brought forward in support of the pressention on the charges, as well as what the prisoner, 18th; and the order of the evidence have guilty on the 3th charge, guilty; on the 4th charge, guilty; on the 3th charge, guilty; on the 5th, guilty; on the 5th, guilty; on the 5th, guilty, on the 4th, guilty; on the 5th, guilty; on the 5th, guilty, to the extent of transiently misapplying the som of 4,920 rupers, 5 annas, and a pion; finding on the 10th instance, guilty; on the 14th, guilty; on the 18th, guilty, on the 18th, guilty; on the 14th, guilty; on the 18th, guilty, on the 18th, guilty; on the 14th, guilty; on the 18th, guilty; on the 18th, guilty; on the 14th, guilty; on the 18th, the 10th instance, guity; on the 11th, guity; on the 12th, guity, on the 12th, guilty; on the 14th, guity, on the 14th, olity Sections—The Court Inving found the printeer guilty to the extent above staked, disth sentence film, the said Henry Routh, Paymaster of H. &, a 18th Lt. Dragoons, or the King's Hussary, being born of European parents, to be transported beyond the seas, as a folon, for the term of 7 years.

(Signed) With Sawall Maj. tenn. President.

L. Macquand tapt., Dep. Judge-Advocate-fren. The finding is approved, with the exception of that on the 3d, 3th, 18th, 13th, 14th, and 18th instances of the 6th charge. The sentence is confirmed,

H. Gowon, Gon., Com., Com., Chief in India.

Head Quarters, Aliahabad, 3th Oct., 1840.

Hassacks.—The Commander in Chief has disapproved of the finding in the Instances it appears that the sums therein monragard to the 3d instance it appears that the sums therein monragard to the interest by Rerj. Maj. Tarleton, in behalf of his troop; and though Mr. Bouth is indebted in the amount stated which is not forthroming, be cannot be said to have "fraudulently misapplied" the money under such circumstances. On this instance the verdet should have been an acquittal. In regard to the 4th, 18th, and 1sth instances, because the proof of these rested on letters, or extracts of letters from Agents at Madras, which were not evidence—and is regard to the 18th and 18th instances, because heemso no sufficiently formal proof of them was adduced.

Here a supplied in the date of deposit alleged in the

Him Exc. has observed that the date of deposit alleged in the

His Eac. has observed that the three of depoint alleged in the eth Charge is not established, and the evidence shows the total amount misapphed, alleged in the 9th instance of the 6th Charge, to be 4,819 rupees, 9 amas, and 5 pee. Under the provisions of the 8th Sect. of the Mutiny Act, the total amount of loss or duringe is directed to be ascertained by the Court, in cases such as the present, and the Com.-in-Chier is of opinion that that usage should not have been departed from in the present case. the present case.

one present case.

D is with extreme rejuctance, and only under the impulse of steen duty, that his fixe, feels himself called upon to allow the mentance of the Court to be carried into effect. The name of mentance of the Court to be carried into effect. The name of Pasm. Routh will accordingly cease to be borne on the Roll of Roll flussest from the date on which this Order may be received at Hangalore, and the necessary measures will be taker to send Mr. Routh to the Presidency of fort St. George, under the orders of the Most Noise the Marquisor Tweedadle, Com.-in-Chief at Madras.

By order of the Fire the Com.-in-Chief Br. G. Soirra, Maj. Gan., Adj.-Gen. H. M. & Forces in India.

Mr. Routh arrived at Madras on the 18th Nov., under an escort from Bangalore, and was transferred to the civil authorities.

16th Lancers-(Army of Exercise)-This Reg. has marched from Meernt, to join the 3rd Brigade of Cavalty with the Army of Econose, Lieut. Col. C. R. Curoton, is appointed to the command of that Brigade, and Capt. R. Partinson is to be his Major of Brigade. Capt. E. J. Prott is appointed Dep.-Assist .- Adj .- Gen. to the Cavalry Division of that Army.

The deput, which was transferred from Canterbury to Maidstone in Sept., will at an early period be removed. from the last place to Brompton Barracks. The reason assigned for this change is, that the depot at Maid. stone is insufficient for accommodation of the number of men at present there, in addition to the large number of recruits required to reinforce the 5d Light Dragoons and 9th Lancers in the East.

ORDNANCE CORPS

Rl. Artillery-Maj. Gen. J. Webber Smith. C.B., has been appointed Director-General of Artiflery, Vice May-Gen. Sir Thes. Downman, C.H., who has succeeded to be Colonel-Commandant of the 3d Battalion. Maj. Geo. J. W. Smith is expected to assume his duties at Woolwich on Tuesday next.

Rt. Engineers-Capt W. H. Ford goes overland to Ceylon.

Recently a serious accident happened to Private Henry Stirrett, of this Corps, stationed in the Barracks, at Brompton. The soldier, while in a state of sommanbulism, rose from his bed and fell out of the window, by which he was most severely wounded.

INIANTRY.

3d-1(Army of Exercise; Left wing)-This regt. has marched from Allahabad to join the 1st Brigade of In-fantry, with the Afmy at Kooneh. Maj.-tien. Dennis has the command of the 1st Division of Infantry, and Capt. P. McKie is nominated Dep. Assist. Adj. Gen. to that Division.

ith Depot-Capt. Bell embarks with the next draft for 9th-(Kussowhe)-This corps has taken up the quarters of H. M.'s 13th Light Inf. at Kussowhe, leaving 3 companies at Substhoo for the protection of that station.

10th - ( Fort William ) - Ass. Sur. W. A. Tongue died in Fort William in Oct. Private Anthony Boyle has been sentenced by General Court-Martial to 7 years' transportation. having at Fort-William, Calcutta, on 13th Sept., 1843, when a prisoner in the Conjee-house, there and then kicked, or offered violence to Serjeant George Whittaker; and Private Laurence Hickey has been sentenced to be transported for fourteen years, having, in Fort-William, on the night of 6th Oct., 1843, discharged a musket, tunded with gunpowder and ball, or some other hard substance, at Colour-Serjeant Richard Gwydyr, with the intent to do him some grievous bodily harm.

13th-(In Progress to Scinde).-This reg. had reached Loodians. Lleut. (new Capt.) Sinclair was appointed Adjutant v. Lieut. J. S. Wood, promoted.

16th—Private Kelty tried by court-martial for having used seditions expressions while drinking in a public house at birr, received 150 lashes, and is to be drammed out of the regt. A co from head quarters replaced a co, of 82d Depot at Loughres. Charles Story

22d Depot-Capt. Souter (lately exchanged from 44th) will receive command of the Depot at Chatham.

Aplin embarks with the next draft for Bombey.

26th—On Saturday forenoon many of our citizens were attracted and delighted by a drill of thus gullant Regiment, now in the Castle. The whole corps, with the exception of those on duty, were marched by their dis-tinguished Commander, Colonel Mountain, C.B., from the gar son to Queen's Park, and from the ace to the flunter's Boz. Here the Reviser's Colones and the second to the flunter's Bog. Here the Regiment piled arms; and were then marched to the top of Arthur's Scat, where, at the saggestion of the gallant Colonel, they gave "Three cheers for Auld Reckie." They were then merched over the hill to the verge of Duddingstone Loch, and homeword by Sampson's Ribs, and slong the "Radienl-road," to the north end of the valley, where having resumed their arms, they returned to the Ceatie.—Edinburgh Paper.

27th Depot-A co. from Drogheda has replaced at Trim

a co. of 65th.

28th-Our East India intelligence, we regret to say, notifies the death of Maj. Parker, and Lieut. Mac Lachian. The former had been 18 years in the Service, and the latter 5. The following extract of a letter from Kutraches, dated Nov. 1, gives a sad picture of the state of this gallant regiment :--

regiment:—
"II.M.'s seth is suffering very severely. Its plight, on its arrival on 20th Oct. was very sad; it was, in fact, a maving hospital. Since then 220 have been occasionally in hospital, out of 22 Officers, it so it has sack het, and Capt-thumans, who one day was transferred from the 7sth Highlanders, was on the following one in command of the 2sth. On turning out to Estage parade parade on Friday actualists of men left camp, 3 had to fail out on the way, and this was all which represented a Quient's regiment! On the execute of that day Maj. Parker shot Binnell with a pistol while under the influence of fever, and supposed to have been definious—the whole mot of this skull was literally blown off. 'The Estigal-Aginy,' says the writer who narrance with a pistol while under the influence of fever, and supposed to have been delirious—the whole mot of his skull was literally blown off. 'The British Anny,' says the writer who narrates these motancholy generalization, 'did not contain a man more beloved, or who the process of the motanian a man more beloved, or who the process of the law proceeded to Alahahad to relieve any the distribution of the process of the process 33d-On board Renstance, arrived at Hullfax, on 5th Dec., from the West Indice, and proceeded to St. John's, New Brunswick, where it arrived the the 13th December.

33d Depot—Capts. Gough and Williamson, and Lieut. Walker, have left to join the service con. Lieut. Pretyman, from the service con, succeeds Lieut. Walker as Acting Adjutant. Lasstenant Walker is on leave.

39th—(Army of Exercise)—This regiment is posted to the 5th Brigade of the Army of Exercise, of which Brigade Lieut. Col. T. Wright has the command, and Capt. M. G. Nexon is appointed Brigade-Major. Lieut. E. Croker is exists in appointed Singular angue. Link, Croker is appointed Dep. Assist. Quartermaster-General of the ild division of lumitry.

40th—(Army of Exercise)—This corps is attached to the 3d Brigade of the Army of Exercise; and has marched from Meerat to jour. Ens. Woodward died at Mussoome 30th September.

-The Officers gave a grand ball on Tuesday commemoration of the presentation of the colours. The regument proceeded to Winchester on Wednesday, the 3d, there to be stationed until further orders.

20 th Editor of the Navat and Military Gazette.

Srn,-The conduct of the old 14th Regiment having been attacked since the total aunitiliation of the regimen m Affghamstan, I read with great satisfaction the raply of Colonel Shelton to Sir Hercules and Lady Pakenham and Archileacon Wilberforce, at the presentation of the Colours.
The Colonsi's speech is marked with so much elegance and good taste, and is at the same time so consolatory to the feelings of the relatives and friends of the Othcors and men, who died like herges, that I have been much ausprised to observe not one of the metropolitan papers have oported it. It is to be regretted that the public have not been favoured with any statement from Colonel Shelton regarding the campaign; but anything affecting the conduct of this regiment, coming from so authorite a source as his, so contradictory to other accounts, is full of in erest to the Service in general, and to many hundreds of individuals connected with those who fell under its banners. I hope, therefore, that you will indulge your readers by publishing the speech in your widely-circulated A CONSTANT READER.

Maidstone, Dec. 27.

Our Gazette of the 16th December contained the Addresses of Lady Pakenham and General Sir Hercales Paketham; and we readily comply with the wishes of currespondent ingiving the speech of Colonel Sholton, an Officer whose character as a gentleman and a soldier has been justly reviewed in former Guzettes. Too much present pannot be bestowed on the exertions of Ceitmel person pannot be bestowed on the exertions of Cerbinel Shottom to perfect the new regiment in its discipline.

"General Mit Hervatte Pakenham,—The duty ", ", pleasing task told departed upon myself to return, in the body of the Officers, Most commissioned "Mosts, and Soldiers" of the officers, and Soldiers of the Acquision of the Acquision of the Acquision of the person of the property of the Veneralies.

"I fear Thail fall in my single to occupy to the Veneralies Archiescom of the riches the deep same as emissible of the footons to have preferred them the regularity this say, in cleaning the Calculate Mit Legislander, pulms, and single-the address to the earps on this boloms and integrating commion, must ever associate the name of Wilberbare is all thoir fining dends in the career of glory. The striking contrast delinoated in such beauthal language between the nobiler's duty to his God, and to his flovereign and Country—the strong affinity between religious and a soldier's duty in the field, when fighting on the side of truth and justice, has been so forcibly expressed, that all must acknowledge how strictly compatible with a truly Christian spirit is the correct performance of a soldier's duty in bettle, and how superior must ever be the educage of that soldier who must be nearly under the conscirutions feeting of thirting always fulfilled the duties of a good Christian.

"Lady Palendam—I have not words to express our sense of your Ladyship's hindness to knowledge the with your prevance, in no delicate a stafe of health, to could upon the regiment the high and espaced of suphibies to presenting the New Colours which her most gractions Highery best coulded to the corps disarge. The bonder of receiving them from the hands of a lady so intimately connected with the Hillary profession as your Ladyship, is fully appreciated by myself, the Officers, and every Non-connected with the Hillary profession as your Ladyship, is fully appreciated by myself, the Officers, and every Non-connected to the corps who ever these Colours shall be unfuried in the presence of un newsy. Your Ladyship's feeting allusten to the Physicia, is reference to the unhapy tele of the brave Unicers and men of the curps who full at Cubut gad is the filestrous stad men of the curps who full at Cubut gad is the filestrous stad men of the curps who full at Cubut gad is the filestrous stad men of the curps who full at Cubut gad is the filestrous present, and the deep sympathy so rehightically expressed in their susferiors on the sales of the strong of a distinguished a Pseudam—To me it is a source of products of so distinguished a Pseudam—To me it is a source of products of so distingu six nights on the sales without cover or sig, and with little food, command my warmest thanks.

"General Six ferevoles Patentham—To me it is a source of proud satisfaction to receive the New Colours under the auspices of so distinguished a Psalmular titlem as yourself—an Differe who has so often distinguished humself in the ficia, and been so often secunded in fighting those giorcous hattles under his Grace the Buke of Wallington, and to me it is a source of proud axuitation to have had the bosons of serving with you is those brillant actions, in which the undimented courage of the Rrights solder was disadayed to a manner that called forth the admiration of surrounding satisms. The executions your farminate to me the carps will, I trust, he responded to by yeary 't' 'car, Non-commissioned Officer, and Soldier, by Hest contextours and desire to ment the praise you have in the kindness of your heart beatowed upon them on this interesting occasion.

"I must now pay a tribute for the memory of the departed biasu, by rindicipling the supersions which lave been so ungunerably cast upon the conduct of a part of the regiment. Which and is going through the Tangan Fas, annoyed by a galling and centructive fire from the sights on both fants, and when crowds of savage Chilizes rashed like a torrent upon the rese, this brave little land, chedientic my votes, halted, laged shout, and repelled the appalling numbers of the atermined vourage, that might have extracted admiration from the very strices under their feet; and though they had been now four Jays and four impendous from the above a more forced march of two days and our night, without mating -ropeling the increasant attacks of the enemy under a destructive fire than the health of the destructive fire that they had been now four Jays and four nights on the shoul, sighted to the annow, in an mobile-fallows papiraged a forced march of two days and our night, without mating -ropeling the increasant attacks of the enemy under he admirative fire their command my admiration

After the half yearly inspection of the reg., the Serjoonis of the corps, with several Non-commissioned Officers of the 47th and Scotch Fusilier Guards, sat down to a dinner, consisting of everything that could be desired by an admirer of good old. English obeer. After the usual patriotic toasts, the President, herj. Major Culpays, spoke to the following effect:-

Triends and Fellow hadrers,...We have met together to day to celebrate an event, not only interesting to autorise, but of the algore importance to the country at large. But a few months ago, the spatial given the spatial disaster which lefel the fill-fated corps. Deserted by sper silten-destinte of the commonous nocessaries of life-exped to the severity of a most medicinent necessaries of life-exped to the severity of a most medicinent sessous—and assailed dualit which less and cruel for,—they fell victims to abcombinating of the constructor for,—they fell victims to abcombinating of the men and firstsh midders, and while their honors were bleaching on the Afghan measurable, it became our duty to re-eating on the Afghan measurable, it became our duty to re-eating on the Afghan measurable, it became our duty to re-eating on the Afghan measurable, in the case of the pleasing middless country and their duces, in the pleas of their spallest prederessors. Thus far have we talled, actuated by the pleasing middle period of the happy consumnation which has now taken place. No longer an analysis of an abiliting of upray then, our nedgr. Strait measurable within the secret bapmer of our country, we are factoly reminded of our position as defenders of licitans and her apparitude anew with his secret bapmer of our country, we are factoly reminded of our position as defenders of licitans and her apparitude anew which his secret bapmer of our country, we are factoly reminded of our position as defenders of licitans who her country, we can feel no other than an anarrance that from the same here tappy, one marrier will not be just and the good than that of our parties in the fact."

The jest and the song went round, and the good-burgous and labertly of the company remained anchocked and subtrack a statif a very late hour.

This Head, are... I (Miners and 270 men, on liner of "Friends and Fellow Builders -We have met together to and unbroken matil a very late hour.

47th—Hend-qrs., 9 Officers and 270 men, on board the Princess Royal, arrived at Portamouth, on Duc. 31, from the West Indies.

custody. Captain Griffin's co., from Newcastle Emlyn and its vicinity, remove to Cardigan to relieve Bt. Maj. Whytock, who with his company (except Licut, Lillicrep and his detachment at Newport) is to be placed at Nabberth and the stations edjacent, relieving the company of the 70th Rogt., now there. Newcastle Knityn and Lland. just are to be possibled by troops of the line from Carmarthen.

Soth—(Army of Exercise: Laft Wing).—This Corpa had marched from Camppore to join the Zad Brigade of the Army of Exercise, to which it is attached.

534—The General Court-Martial ordered to assemble

Army of Exercise, to which it is attached.

53d—The Esseral Court-Merfiel ordered to assemble at Newry on Thursday, the 28th uit (see our last), was adjourned to the till inch, when instead of three Officers being brought to trief, paly one, Liput. Parker, would undergo the ordest; the two others have sent in their application to ratics. The Aburt is composed of Lieut.-Col. Roston, 11th Hussars; (501. Higgins, Rh. Artillery; Maj. Deeden, 34th; Maj. Pawkes. 27th; and Officers from the 5th Dragoon Guerds, and 24th Reg. 5th.—Captain De Haviland died at Hong Kong, 6th Sept. He had been 13 wers in the Army; he served, and was wounded, in the gampaign of 1834 against the Rajab of Cong.

Rajeb of Coorg.

55th Deput—This is more the strongest depot at Chatham of the regs. on the India asiable business; it must see that the control of the series of the series from China.

smeters can Omega, and was not send out any more drafts, as the regiment is about to return from China.

Afth—Captala Oskally was on his remest promotion chaired round the harranks at Curk by the men of his company, to whom he gave a Christman disner.

Afth—Capt. Orens has 2 years' leave to Europe.

Byth—The Prestonies Bomanjes has been ordered to proceed to Barbadoss, to bring home the second division of this regiment.

process to sparamore, processing this regiment.

61st—The two sea under Maj. Verner have rejoined head-quarters from Galway.

62d—(Disapore)—Lieut. K. E. Hillier has leave to. Calcutta, to suable him to appear before the examiners of the College.

Obths. Capt. Gold's eq. has moved from detachment at I film to Mullinger, head-quarters.

66th The company of farrickfergus have rejoined beed-quarters.

68th Depot-Liout. Johnston, Act. Paym., less joined at Challenn of the figure. Liout. Johnston, Act. Paym., has joined at Childran.

Juli—At a Concerd Court. Martial, holden at Passali on the Nor.

Juli—At a Concerd Court. Martial, holden at Passali on the Nor.

Juli—At a Concerd Court. Martial, holden at Passali on the Nor.

Juli—At a Concerd Martial, holden at the character of the Soc.

Julian State of Soc.

Ju

12. Gen., and Com. in Charl Ras. B. Madgine is to be released from areas and to return to its auty.

By order of his Excy. the Common Chief,

R. M. Madnowsker, th. Col.

Daputy Adj. Comi. H. W 's Forces, Romber.

Blue. This regt. will not go on from New South Wales.

to India until the summer.

Slat Deput-Capt. Splains joins the service our at hi. John's, Canada.

SETTION COS.

3d West India Regt. Assist Surg. Goorge, M.L., 'm barks for Bashadoes.

An Order has just been issued from the War-Office, An Order has just been issued from the War-Office, intimating that accompensants have been entered into by the Government with the London and Birmingham, Great-Western, Brighton, Bover, Grand-Jancton, North-Midland, Sidand-Counties, Worthern and Listern, Eastern Counties, Birmingham and Dorby, Monchester and Birmingham Brighingham and Glouceater. Mathebester and Leads, York and North-Midland, Lancaster and Ereston, Nedrostle and Carling and the Gibet North of England Rajusya, for the conveyance of the horsels of Field and Staff Officers, and Infantry, when proceeding by route with regiments and detachments on railways and likewise for the conveyance of shok hurses of Christy rightments. The rates of moverance are fixed as followers. tions the West Indice.

48th Depot—Ens. Andrews has left for the service cos.

Ri. Mannes—We before noticed the difficulty of keeping the small detachments spread arrough the Welch distributed sober. We have still many complaints on this subject. At Kilgerran (near Cerdian) the landlord of a public-bouse was unforts stelly self in an alternation with regiments and detachments on railways and like regiments and detachments on railways and like the conveyance of sick hurses of Chrairy regiments. The rates of conveyance are fixed as follow expenses.

For any distance not exceeding 50 miles, 4d. per thile for each horse; for beyond 50, and not exceeding 100 miles, 34d.; and exceeding 100 miles, 3d. The route or order of the Commanding Officer of the regiment or detachment is to be produced at the railfuy station, as the authority for the conveyance of the horses, and the written appointment of the principal Veterinary Surgeon, in regard to the sick horses, is to be annexed to the charge in the public account for such conveyance, The regulation has effect from the commencement of this year.

Colonel Sir Charles R. O'Donnell, stationed at New Ross, has been on a tour of inspection through his extensive district which comprises Wicklow, Waterford, Kildure, Queen's and King's County, and a portion of Tipperary. Lieutenant-Colonel Cox, stationed at Charleville, is shortly to sesume the office of Assist. Quarterm.-Gen. in Limetick, Col. St. John Clerke, and Lieut.-Col. Hall, whose appointment we noticed last week, are to be stationed in Trales, and Athlone, as Assist. Quarterms.-Gen. Maj.-Gen. Sr. Octavius Çarey, commanding in Cork, who has been ill at the Bilto, Hotel, Dublin, left on Monday to resume his command. We regret to find that the guilant Officer is still indisposed.

The Cut-pensioners at Birr were last week inspected by Licut.-Col. Campbell, 16th, and Mej. Tulloch, the general Superintendant, with the view of ascertaining their fitness for service in the local companies to be formed in the distriot, when an excellent company was selected, the majority of tuem above five feet nine in., and bearing the strongest evidence of health and efficiency. Without any previous training these men went through a few evolufacility as if they had been newly discharged; thus demonstrating how readily their services could be made avail-able in any emergency. The inspection at Maryberough afterwards took-place, when another company was speedily formed of those residing in that unighbourhood.

Capt. Buckley, formerly of the 92d, bas been appointed Barrackshaster at Dominica, in succession to Capt. Burgoyne, removed to Paisley.

ROYAL MILITARY ACADEMY, WOOLWICH. N. & M. Consette of last week, we mentioned that there was a want of ceremony in distributing the prizes at the kloyal Military Academy, Woolwich, and we find by several communications that our opinion is generally concurred in. One correspondent has favoured us with the names of those gentlemen who distinguished themnelves at the late examination for commissions, viz.:- G.C. estukes received the award for good conduct during the period of two years and a half he had been at the Institution; G. C. Smythe for practical Artillery received the prize; G. C. Way received the prize for Surveying; G. C. Hutchinson received the prize for Surveying; G. C. Hutchmson received the prize for Chemistry; G. C. Clarke has received the prize for Fortification, distinguished in Matasautics, Surveying, Plan Drawing, History, and Geography; G. C. Ducane received the prizes in Mathematics, History, and Geography; G. C. Moggridge distinguished in French History and Geography; G. C. Colcloughte-weived the prize in German; G. C. Ord received the puzze in Landscape Drawing; G. C. Blosse distinguished in Portification; G. C. Ehot was complimented by the Commandant for the firm, manly, and gentheingnly manner he had done his duty as under Officer of the Practical Class.

The treight-ship Diodem arrived at Gravesend on 2d inel., to , receive on board detachments for the Cape of tiont Hope.

Nabal Intelligence.

PROMOCIONS.

PRIMOTIONS.
Captains- John Adams (800 our last Nugber, p. 825); R. B., Tuting, Will.amp Sanyth.
Loutenants Francis Hen. Short, for his proficiency in study at the Royal Naval College; Hon P. F. Pellew) 1109. F. Curzon.
Appainted F. P. Halstoad (1823), in study at Naval College.
Licute marts-th. Stokes (1842), to Helena: W. J. Wheeman (1838), to Fractical, Janes A. Hodgelin, (1841), to Foliage; E. J. M. Clark, J. (19), t. Hicate.
There G. Keng its //, and G. W. Towney (1840), to Pinto; W. H. Pasane (1847), to Hinger.
Sinchipmans-W. Wood, to Pendope.
Volunter First Class-W. M. Beovel, to Albian.
Blacky of Assistant F. Inglis, to Fictory.
Sungrous-R B B Hopley (1841), to Hecate.
Assistant Surgeons-W. Paisons (1841), to Hecate, F. Stupart (1840), to Pinto.

COART OF ARD.

The Annual Promotion has not yet taken place, but we believe to tolowing areight. Officers selected — Commander George Dation, by the Capitain; Leutenants William Crispin, Philip Cod and Charles Alexander Johnston, to be Commanders; Mate Hernert B. Gray, to be Lieutenant.

Action and Lieur Thos bighten Coppinger, from Glandore, to Statis, v. Lent Tilwards, D.D., Mr. Noch D'Aton, from Caggan, to Manny, Bay.

TROMCTIONS DURING THE LAST QUARTER.

Captings Wildiam John Thompson Hood, Edward Jacob Bird, John Angers. CUART OF ARD.

Laprens William John Thompson Hood, Edward Joseph Bird, John Angers.

Commanders Balchen Folker West, William Salmon Cooper, terdige Augustus Budloid, George Winner, Thomas Wilson, John Hotham Weller, George Snell, Chas, Mitchell Mathuson.

* Phere was no price graphitis time, as it is never proceeds.

twice to the same person.

Horato Jauncey, Archibeld M'Murdo, John Sibbald, James Frederick Lowis Wood, William Winniett, Edward Crouch, Sir William Hoate, Bart., John Moure, Edw. Gordon Bremer. Retired Commander, under H.M.'s Order in Council of the 30th

Retired Commander, under H.M.'s Order in Council of the 30th January, 18.6-fleories Chanvill.
Lieutenauts—George Edward Knox Gore, Prederick Edwyn Forles, James Einnear Hancock, Henry Augustus Holliu-worth, Edward Winterton Turnour, Henry Augustus Holliu-worth, Edward Winterton Turnour, Henry Charles, Richard Boynton Crepke, Samuel Frichard, Harry Thomas Vettch, Robert Coote, Frederick Palham Warren, Charles Evelyn Rowley, Fater Astle Scutt, Henry Galetey, Jaseph Dayman, Thomas Edward Lawa Moore, Edward Nicolls, William Godfrey Deane, James Boucher Ballard, William John Royle Card, Charles Codrington Forsyth, Francis Willoughby, John Sher-hrooke Roberton, John William Whyte, Thomas Seigrave, Crawford Aftherson Benham Pasoo, Charles Hawkey, Robert James Duriey Wadditove, Robert Hall.
Masters—Edward Morris Fox, John Edward Davis, Henry Braddick Yuln, Jamos Burnett Andrews, Henry Harper.
Mates (appointed in 1843)—Maurice Jones, Samnel Trevor Dickens, Hou, Frederick Curzon, Cavendish Bradstreet Hote, Eustace Maxwell, Robert Heale Beale, Philip Wheler Darnell, Edward Scronge, William Wilhraham, Frederick J. Nicholson, Prancis Roynell, John Franc Charles Hamilton, Augustus Butler, Arther William Achan Hood, Hon, Olive William Matthew Lambert, Jumes Bephen Darrell, Louis Rivet Reynolds, Sterard Osborn, Packenham Osborne, Robt, Hamilton Menda.
Rurgeone—John Octavius Goodridge, William Robertson, Robt, Hutler, M.D., David Thomas, Charles Smith, John Dumbar Tweeddie.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, Jan. 6.

The next mails for Vigo, Oporto, Lisbon, Cadiz, Gibraltar, Malta, Grocce, and the Jonian Islands, viá Bouthampton, with be dispatched from hence on Thursday next, the 11th instant. All letters must be posted at the branch offices by eight A.M., and at the Gengral Pust office before half-past eight, A.M. The West Indigmalls will be made up on the morning of the 17th.

PORTAMOUTH, Jan. 4. - (From our own Correspondent.)-The Bonette arrived from Ascension and the coast of Africa on Sunday, and has since gone to Sheerness to be paid off. She brought Lieut, Moore, of the Wilber-force steamer, invalided, some seamen, and reported the death of some of the crew-among them, Mr. Rowe, Clerk in charge. The Princess Royal transport also arrived on Sunday, from the West Indies, having on board the head-quarters of the 47th Regiment, from Antigus. These troops have been landed at Gosport, and jound the depot companies. The transport will reft Pestonjee Bomanjee transport is to go for other service. to the West Indies as soon as possible, and return with the 59th Regiment from Barbadoes. Heleno received her orders on Sunday, and, suited next day for l'lymouth, at that port she is to embark Mr. Baukheud and family, and sail for Jamaica. 1.11y was paid off on Tucaday. Penslops will get her altered main-mast in during the week, and as the engineer department are working very smartly, she will be ready for sea next week. Satellite is ady to go out of the Basin, and will be fit to put to sea on the 13th; it is expected she will return to her former station-South America. Rodney's defects are more serious than first anticipated ; some timbers from the bow are to be removed and replaced, and it is probable she will not be out of the hands of the dockyard artificers until post month. Murtle steamer arrived here yesterday morning, with the body of the late Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Brace; it was landed at the Victualling-wharf, and moved to Catafield; the funeral will be a private one, and take place on Friday or Saturday, at Furcham. Nautilus has been recaused from going to cruise off Brighton, and she is in the harbour. Firebrand is fitting for commission in the Basin. Larne and Pluto are ordered to cell at Spithead; the latter will be paid wages here. Ships in Part -Nt. Vincent, l'ictory, Excellent, Viotgriu and Albert yacht, Penelope, Satellite, Parless steamer. Pestonjee Bomanijos and Princess Royal transports, in harbour, PLYMOUTH, Jan. 3 .- (From our own Correspon - Dec. 26, 1843 - Sailed Neatark, 6, Com. Thomas Gooch for the coast of Airca; Com. H. W. Hill, the new Governor of Bathurst, in the river Gambia, has taken a passage in her. 29th—Arrived Hyscinth, 18, Com. F. South, from Cork, and was towed into harbour the 1st inst. by the Consumer st., to have her masts shortened and her detects made good, pravious to her proceeding to Bona Viata. Arrived Rhudamenthus, st., Mant. Com. Thomas Leen, with a detachment of Marines from the eatward; the Marinea, who were embarked on board the Cyclopu at Chatham, were transferred to the Rhadaminthus, as the Cyclons has some defects making good; the detachment of Marines from this division, coentioned in our last Guartic, and who were to have embarked in the ('yelops, were also embarked on board the Rhadamanthus, and she sailed for Cork the same day. The Cyclops was paid wages this day, and will be ready for sen in a few The Chatham, brenkwater-ressel, was hauled out of dock, and towed to her old moorings in the Sound, and the Kyeira Bulk returned to her moorings in the harbour. 30th—Nervus, store and coal depot. Mast. Cons. Buteman, which sales for South America the 28th ult., was obliged to put back by stong winds from the S.W. The Duc de Bordeaux arrived this day from the seat of Lord

Chiford, near Chudlegh | soon after is arrival he was

Deal; returned to Dover in the evening. 31st—H.M.'s visited by Mai-Gen, Hon. H. Murray, Commander-in-Chief of the Western District; Rour-Adm. Pym, Superintendant of the Dockyard; Captain Sanders, the Mayor of Davonport, and other official personages. The fol-lowing day he visited the Breakwater, but the weather being very boisterous His Royal Highness did not land; on his return he visited that magnificent ship the Albion, 90 guns, Capt. Nicholas Lockver, and was received by our gallant Port Admiral Sir David Milne, who attended him throughout the ship. On Monday H.R.H. visited the Victualing and Naval yards, and expressed himself highly gratified with their arrangements; after which he proceeded to Mount Edgecumbe. In the evening H.R.H. and his suite addited with Admiral Sir David Milne; after dinner a numerous party. consisting of the dita in this neighbourhood, assembled, and dancing was kept up until a late, or rather early, honr. H.R.H. left on Tuesday morning for Torquay and Teignmouth, where he was to meet Lord Clifford; on his departure he expressed himself highly delighted with the reception he met with from all classes. Jan 1st, 1844.

—Voluge, 26, Capt. Sir W. Dickson, was hauled into dock; on examining her bottom it was found that she had not received any serious damage by her getting on shore on the coast of Irdand, only a small portion of her false keel being knocked away. 2d.—Arrived Camel tender, with stores from Pembroke, 3d. — Arrived Nya steamer, Capt. Vidal, from Iraland, took on boark supernumeraries for the Large, and sailed shortly after for Sheerness. Harbour-Almon, Sun Josef, Volage, Hyacinth, Swift, Confluence, steamers. In the Sound-Cyclops, Noreus.

SHEERNESS, Jan. 4.—(From our own Correspondent.)
—On Friday last, the Gassamer tender sailed for Woolwich with men for the Alban steamer. She returned on Saturday with the Myrilo steamer, which arrived here that day to convey the remains of the late lamented Admiral Sir Edward Brace to Portsmouth. This melancholy duty, however, was put off till Tuesday, when the remains of the gallant (Micer were conveyed on a gun-carriage, drawn by a party of men belonging to the Camperdown from Admiralty House to the steamer in the N. Camber, and accompanied by the Officers of the ships in commission in the Medway, the Military Officers of the depot, the Officers of the dock yards, a party of Marines, and a party of the 77th Regiment. The Camperdown fired minute guns during the procession and embarkation, and saluted the remains of the gallant Admiral (we annex the programme) on the sailing of the Myrtle with 19 guns. The same day the Moroury tender, Scarlett, Master, arrived from Portsmouth, and next morning sailed for Woolwich. Yesterday the Vestal, 26. Captain Charles Talbot, and Larne, 18, Commander W. Brisbane, were discharged from the Basin; they will sail very shortly. In barbour-Campeteluwn, Ocean, Raven, Speedy, Larne, and African steamer.

PROGRAMME of PROCESSION at the EMBARKATION of the REMAINS of VICE-ADMIRAL SIR E. BRACE, K.C.B., On Theoring, 2d January, 1std.
Commander J. W. D. Brabane, Director of the Procession. Guard composed of Marines of "Camputdown."

Band.

Admiral's Coxewain Admiral's Office-keeper bearing tword.

Licutement of Captain E. B. Tining Licutement of Camperdown."

Madical Attendants.

"Camperdown."

Chaptains

PALS-BRARRES

Commander R. H. Fieming

Lientenant-Colonel Sir F. Smith, Knight, K.H.

Colonel Sir T. Wilshire, Bart., A.C.B.

Captain F. E. Loch. COLLIN.

PAR-BEARES.

COPPIN.

PASL-BRABERS.

Commander G. G. Burton.

Col. B. Laurence, C.B.

Captain Charles Taibot.

Captain Peter Fisher.

Chief Mourner—Lieutenant Hall, R.N.

Admiral's Blaff.

Civil Officers of Dockyards, and of Ordnance Department.

Seemen of the "Camperdown."

Quarter-dock Petry Officers, R.N.

Bubaliserus of Army, and Maten of Navy,

Warrant Officers of Ward-room rask.

Lieutenauts of Kavy and Captains of Army.

Majurs of Army and Commanders of Navy,

Waptains of Navy and Colonels of Army.

Commodore W. H. Shureff, supported by a Lieutenant, R.N.

Millyond Haver, Jan. 3.—(From our own Corres condent.)—On Monday last sailed the Camel and Roches re lighters for Plymouth, having on board the furniture, ter lighters for Plymouth, having on board the furniture, horses, &c., belonging to Mr. Master-shipwright Edye, lately removed from Pembroke to Devonport dock-yard. The new system of check mustering was partially commath dat Pembroke on the 2nd inst. It appears to be magin, d at Pembroke on the 2nd inst. It appears to be fairerable to the workmen, but faint evidently require additional clerical services. The detachment of Marines are to be removed from Cardigan to Narbeth. The new 12-gan brigg constructed by the Surveyer, are rapidly proceeding with at Pembroke.

DRAL, Jan. 4.—(From our sum Correspondent) by Dec. 29, 1843—H. M.'s steamer driet came to anchor other than the surveyed to Decar in the area of the M.'s started.

revenue cutters, Lion and Experiment, run into the Downs for shelter; several vessels have arrived from the river and anchored in the Downs. Jan. 1, 1844—A great many homeward bound vessels have arrived, took pilots off Dral and proceeded for the river; sailed, H.M. a revenue cut Lion and Experiment, and several of the optward bound vessels to the west, the wind having vermed suddenly round from south to north. 2d-All the outward-bour sessels sailed from the Downs to the west : one of H.M.'s steamers, with the remains of Sir E. Brace on board passed through the Downs to the west about 3.30 r.m. 3d—One of H.M.'s schooners run through the Downs to the east at nightfull; an American barque, coal laden, got on the Brake this evening in working through the Guil stream and has sunk; crow saved by one of the Deal boats. H.M.'s revenue cutters, Lion and Experiment, sailed from the Downs to the west.

DEFFFORD, Jan. 1.—(From our own Correspondent.). The new mode of musicing the workwen belonging to this yard with tickets, commenced on Monday the lat-This plan was first used in the engineering department in Woolwich yard, but has been improved upon by the storekeeper of that yard; it is now in use in all the yards with the exception of the victualling departments. The Angelina transport is ordered to be paid out of the Service. The Prince George transport is still unloading the unserviceable stores which she brought from Ascension. Jupiter freight-ship has completed ber cargo of Naval stores for Malta. Diadem treight-ship is loading for Trincomalee. Warblington freight-ship is loading with victualing and Naval stores for Gibratter.

WOOLWICH Jan. 1.—The Gladiator, a fine first-class steam-vessel, is ordered to be commenced to-day, and the shipwrights will be employed by task and job work; and as the greater part of her tunhers have already been converted, it is expected also will be ready for leunching in about three mouths from this period. Two new ste vessels are to be built at Deptford, one to be named the Spitfire and the other the Porcupine.

Woolwich, January 5 .- The Prometheus et .- v., cu down the river from Means. Seaward's, at Limehouse where she has undergone a thorough refit, and it is expected she will shortly be communioned at Woolwich.

The keel, or rather part of the keel, of a first-rate vessel of war, was recently dug out of the bed of the river Thames, a short distance from the Warrior convictship. It was nearly two feet in thickness and upwards of 20 teet long. No person alive at Woolwich remembers the loss of a vessel of that magnitude opposite the Royal Arsenal, but many have heard their parents state that a first rate ship of war was wrecked near the spot where the part of the keel was found. This relic has been sold with other old wood.

OHATHAM .- Extensive alterations are contemplated in the Dockyard for erecting foundries, in order to render the establishment more efficient. The copper for sheathing vessels will then be rolled here, whereas at present it is brought from the Portsmouth Dockyard. The drill shop, where all the iron used in the yard is drilled, and which was built about three years ago of wood, in the form of aplean-to against the engine-house, in a very temporary manner, is now being pulled down piccemes! and rebuilt substantially with brick.

W : have received letters from Valparsiso, dated on the 23d of September last, by which we learn that the French have reintorced their squadron in the Pacific with the heavy frigates I. Uranie and Danae, and another was hourly expected from Brest, thus making four large frigates, braide three smaller ones, in those seas. The Polynesian Islands were to be under the command of a Commodore (Brust), with his broad pendant in 2. (Aming and he is also appointed Governor of the Marquesas, and Commissioner to the Queen of Ouheite. mander-in-Chief of the French squadron is Rear-Admiral Du Petit Thouare, who has his flag in La Reine Blanche, of 60 guns, and will have altogether four first-class frigates, three small frigates, or, as they style them, corvettes, of 30 guns each, and four sloops-of-war end two large steamers, under his command. The Vindictic was on her way to England from Otaheite; but on Captain Nicolas finding, on his arrival at Valparaiso, that these reinforcements to the French squadron had arrived in the Pacific, he at once determined on remaining upon the station until he could hear from Rear-Admiral Thomas. The Carrefort was still at the Sandwich Islands, whither the Commander-in-Chief had gone. The Champion sailed from Valparaise on the 7th of September, to join the AdmiraL ' The Sutellite had sailed for England with a freight. The Salamander was at Valparano with the Vindiction. The Fantons was daily expected from Rio. The Basilish was gone to the Admiral.

The Greyhound R. cruiser, Licut. David Dooley, Com mander, whilst pursuing her voyage from Cromarty to Leith, on the 1st instant, encountered off Aberdeen heavy weather, wind from N. and W.; and during a heavy gall off the land, about cirkt write, she fell in with some shiking off the land, about eight miles, she fell in with some flahers men in a very exhibited state, 33 in number, who had left Aberdeen in nine boats for the fishing. When met with, overy hope had well nigh left them; they were got safely on board the Greyhound, many of them being obliged to be parbuokled on board of the chaiser, the greater part being above 85 years of age. The bosts were taken in tow, though two were obliged to be cut away, the sea increasing, and the boats being sunk at the tow-rope. The greatest praise is due to Lieut. Dooley and the Officers and crew under his orders on this occus don; and it is hoped that the Lords of the Admiralty may become acquainted with, and duly reward conduct so meritorious.

VESELS PAID DEF IN 1845,-Howe, 120, Capt. R. Smart; Impregnable, 104, Capt. T. Format; Rodney, 92, Capt. R. Maunsell; Thunderer, 84, Capt. R. Pring; Vanguard, 80, Capt. D. Dunu; Endymion, 44, Capt. Hon. F. Groy; Druid, 36, Capt. H. Smith; Herald, 26, Capt. Joseph Nius; Iris, 26, Capt. R. Munday; Magi-Pavourite, 18, Com. T. R. Sulivan; Grecian, 16, Com W. Smyth; Lily, 16, Com. G. Baker; Partridge, 10, Lieut. Com. J. T. Nott; Persian, 16, Com. T. R. Edga; Pylades, 18, Com. L. S. Tindal; Satellite, 18, Com. Gambier; Terror, 7, Com. F. R. M. Cronier; Tortolas, atoretic Martin Com. J. Wood, Tortolas, 410. ship, Master-Com. J. Wood; Tweed, 20, Com. H. D. C.
Douglas; Waterwitch, 16, Lieut.-Com. H. Matson;
Jupiter, troop-ship, Master-Com. G. B. Hoffmeister; Cyclops, steamer, Capt. H. T. Austin; Alban, steamer,
Lieut.-Com. John Jeayes; Lucifer, steamer, Capt. P. Beechy; Promethous, stammer, Lieut.-Com. F. Liener, Stromboll, steamer, Com. W. Louis; Sydenham, steamer, Lieut.-Com. W. Cruzier; and Heaste, steamer, Com. J. Ward: making a total of 39 vessels, of which 5 are line. of-battle ships, 5 frigates, 22 sloops-of-war, and other oraft, and 7 steam-vessels.

SHIPE COMMISSIONED IN 1843 .- 1 line-of-battle ship. 8 frigates, 12 sloops-of-war, and 13 steemers (total, 34), viz.:—Albion, 90, Capt. N. Lockyer; Castor, 36, Capt. Charles Graham; Fox, 42, Capt. Sir H. M. Blackwood; Fiaguard, 42, Capt. J. A. Duntze; Conway, 26, Capt. R. Fair; Iris, 26, Capt. R. Munday; Tyne, 26, Capt. W. N. Glascock; Vestal, 26, Capt. C. Talhot; Eurydice, 26, Glascock; Vestal, 20, Capt. C. Talhot; Eurydice, 20, Capt. G. O. Elliot; Bracer, 16, Com. A. Reid; Satellite, 18, Com. R. H. B. Rowfey; Scelark, 10, Com. T. L. Gooch; Star, 10, Com. R. J. W. Dunlep; Alert, 10, Com. C. J. Boaanquet; Espoir, 10, Com. A. Morret; Helena, 16, Com. Sir C. Ricketts; Hyaciath, 18, Com. F. Scott; Larne, 18, Com. J. W. D. Brisbane; Modeste, 18, Com. T. Baillis; Snipe, 2, Lieut.-Com. G. Raymond Nersus, atore-ship, Master-Com. F. W. Hatemen; Pens lope, 22, steamer, Capt. W. Jones; Cyclops, 6, steamer apt. W. P. Lapidge ; Gleaner, atsamor, Com. C. G. Robinson; Hydra, stramer, Com. H. B. Young; Alban, steamer, Lieut.-Com. W. P. Crozier; Hecate, steamer, Com. J. P. Bower; Corniorant, steamer, Com. G. T. Gordon; Dwarf, steamer, Lieut.-Com. E. Nicholis; Plamer, Lieut.-Com. C. J. Postle: Hermes, atcamer, Lieut.-Com. W. Carr; Fluto, atcamer, Lieut.-Com. J. Jeaves; Stromboli, steamer, Hon. G. Plunket; and Virago, atcamer, Commander G. G. Otway. H.M.S. Wassertz, — Liebon, Doc. 20.—The surgeon of this able new for this next posted on Saturday of this ship, now in this port, was buried on Saturday last at the Praseres Cemetery, in this city. The unfortunate deceased was in perfect health and vigour a few days ago. While dissecting a corpse at the Hospitel of St. Joseph he accidentally cut his finger? the wound festered and inflamed, a gangrone soon came on, and in less than a week he was a corpus himself.

The completion of the magazines of a first-rate and 84-gun ship, according to the plan directed by the Lords of the Admiralty, has been accomplished at Portsmouth and the improvement bids fair to be one of the most perfect and efficient that can be resorted to, and reflects great credit on Sir Thomas Hastings and the parties who have been carrying their Lordships' plan into effect. The subject is of the deepest importance as regards the security of the lives of all on board, and the preservation of the ship from the terrific effect that may b e produced by the shells recently introduced into the Service. It is now well-known that powerful steamers like the Penelope. armed with the shot and shell guns, have the facility taking any position they may deem expedient over sailing ships; hence the great importance of this improvement in the magazines, which are now so placed that the upper part or crown is about six feet under water, and protected at the sides by water and other means, that it amounts almost to an impossibility that the explosion of a shell can affect the internal part of the magazine.

The Firebrand steam frigate is to be commissioned immediately. She is likely to prove one of the fastest steamers in the service. During her passage from the river to Thetamouth she best the Cyclops, three miles an hour. The Cyclops, however, had all her stores on board, and, consequently, had a deeper dimmersion in the water than the other, and her engines are only of 320 horse power, whereas those of the Firebrand are of 430 horse power, although both vessels are of the same closs. first and one of the most important improvements in marine steam-engines was made by Meants, Scaward and Co., in the introduction of the Gorgon, or direct action engine, into the Cyclops, as that vessel has now engines of 320 borse power and 350 tons of coal in a space that was formerly occupied by sugmes of only 220 home power and 250 tons of coal. In fitting the engines of the Firebrand they have effected a further improvement, by which also can carry engines of 430 horse power, and 450 tons of coal, in a space eighteen feet less than that originally required for engines of 220 horse power and 250 tons of coal. This is in consequence of the introduc-tion of tubular hollers, which are not half the weight, and do not require half the space of the buildra upon the old plan, and therefore allow of a considerable reduction of the engine-room, with an additional quantity of fuel and an increase of power. Another important accountage gained by this improvement is in the geduction of the consumption of the fuel, see the Freebrand's engines require very little more that helf per horse power than the smaller engines of 220 horse power in the Medea, Salomander, Phenia, &c. When these vessels undergo a repair, there will be no difficulty in the adaptation of the tubular boilers to the old engines, which the Admiralty will, no doubt, cause to be done, for the experiment has already been made in the ""cometheus, by which a space of nine feet has been added to her accommodation.

THE SLAVE TRADE. - Nt. Petersburg, 110: 16. Conformably to the first article of the treaty concluded and signed at London on 8th (20th) Dec., 1841, between Russia, Great Britain, Austria, and Prussin, for the total suppression of the slave-trade, the Russian Government has delivered the first license to English cruisers, by which those cruisers are authorised, in the sens, where the reviprocal right of search may be exercised, to search and detain, according to the said treaty, morehautmen sailing under Russian colours, which are suspected of being con-corned in that trade, or of being fitted out for their purpose, or of having carried on that trade during the voyage on which they were stopped by the English cruivers. These licenses, signed and scaled by the Bussian Board of Admiralty, are drawn up in the Russian, Lingtish, Gexman, and Swedish languages. The ornivers authorized to exercise the right of search are to use a particular signal, which has been agreed upon by the contracting parties who signed the treaty of 8th (20th) December.

THE SLAVE-TRADE .- Sierra Leone, Sept. 23, 1811 ... The Brazilian brig Furia, a prize to the Spy, has arrived with 530 slaves. She is a very fine vessel. Nov 27.—Two prizes have come up, the Independence, 199 tone, ilian brigantine, taken by the Madagasear, and saw condenned; and the Tenerario, Brazilian built, taken by the Rapid, at Bermuda, with 290 slaves. There was a schooner coming up, taken by the Madagastar. The Senator transport left this on the 23d of November with 130 emigrants for Trinidad.

130 emigrants for Trinidad, Paren Monny,—The Officers and company $\frac{1}{6}$11.MY frost, on 17th Jan. next, will be paid at No. 41, hotto-affatron is conjunt their proportions of bounty-money for the undermediated at their proportions of bounty-money for the undermediated approximation of bounty-money for the undermediated approximation of their proportions of bounty for Act of Parliament 1 - Britishukkon,—Bistonia readilest, agreeably in Act of Parliament 1 - Britishukkon,—Bistonia (34, 120 for 1 their Clam, 201, 420 for 1 their Clam, 201, 420 for 1 their Clam, 201, 50 for 1 their Clam, 41, 120 for 1 their Clam, 42, 120 for 1 their Clam, 43, 1 the 3\frac{3}{2}\tau, 3 for 1 their Clam, 42, 1 the 3\frac{3}{2}\tau, 1 their Clam, 43, 1 the 3\frac{3}{2}\tau, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 43, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 43, 1 their Clam, 43, 1 their Clam, 44, 1 their Clam, 44, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their Clam, 42, 1 their Clam, 41, 1 their expectedly, on board the Quern, and exercised the shio's company at night quarters until 14 o'clock.

We learn from the Meden, which was lying at Matri on 5th inst., that the Kakithian expedition had made no further discoveries of importance beyond the exception of a higg tomb, weighing to less thus twelve tous, the chief destars of which being the three-headed ishulous wonster of Lycia, spokes of by Humer, has been called the Chinaris toust, and which was short being divided lifts quarters, to facilities to removal. The Meden's Officers and men were all healthy, but there had been two set three case of fever amongst, the exceptions, and que accuma of the came of Sutton had fallen a victim to the climate. Captain Warron had just returned to Matri from the valley of Rathids, Mich he from time to time vitueto see that all is going on sight.

Incomber 97.—The Alestosteamer arrived here from Aleanadria this morning, bringing the Overland Ladia Maji, despatched from Hombay by Victual vicamer, in the let December.

A MEMORIAL OF THE WAR. IN AVA.

[From the Inited Service Monthly Magnetic for Jesuary.]

In 1824, in consequence of long and repeated aggressions on the territories of the India Company by the Burmene, it was resolved on by the Governor-General in Council, at Calcutte, that an expedition should be sent against that ampire; and Rangoon was selected as the point of attack.

The authorities of India, Though the Burmese Empire horders on their own, were entirely ignorant of all statistic and necessary knowledge of this country, particularly as to the time, length, and effects of its mouseon; which ought the time, length, and effects of its monsoon; which ought to regulate the operations of Armies in tropical climates, so as to send an Army at the preper time of year, with materiel and equipment necessary to contend with the difficulties to be overcome in its operations.

(The different races composing the necessary to contend with the

(The different races composing the population of the Burmose Empire, are an active, sthetic, and brave people, whine habits are totally different from the quiet and indulent people of India; they are also a shrewd, well-informed, and quick-minded nation, that to be contended. with successfully required not only the physical power of European troops, but a steady and well-organised mind in the man selected to conduct the Army against them.

It is necessary to make the foregoing statement, to understand that the expedition was sont from India, at the very time of year when its energies were to be paralysed; and without those necessary powers to contend against the wants and difficulties to be met with on its landing, except the redeeming one,—the great and important one,—the selection of its Commander, Major-Gregers Sir A. Campbell, whese mind, full of resources, —whose indomitable spirit of all occasions,—whose example and his sharing in all difficulties retrieved all, and infused a spirit into the force under his command, which for two years never left it, and who at last overcame the brave and obstinate defence of his adversaries, to the dietating, at the door of the capital of the Burmese Empire, a police as honourable to his Army as it was advantageous a pickee as honourable to his Army as it was advantageous to his country, as by this Treaty he obliged them to edic those provinces building on the territories of India, whose aggressions had adsafganed the war, as well as making the King of Ava pay dw willion sterling towards its expenses. Sir A. Campbell drived before Rangoon about the middle of May, 1834; and two days after its capture the monsoon set in, which continues, with very little inter-monsoon set in, which continues, with very little intermission, for five motifies.

On the assault of Rangoon the Burmese authorities had obliged the inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood to colliged the inhabitants of the town and neighbourhood to move into the country diving before them the cattle, and taking with them all kinds of provisions. The Army possessed only the grands on which it lay, and depended entirely on its Committeriat, little prepared by the Indian Gogernment for such disposals.

It was not a matter of opinions but a decided impossibility, after the raigs had set in, for the Army to advance up the country around, a jungle and solvablete swamp; the river rushing towards the ocean at eight or ten miles an hour against our boats, and increased to the overflowing of its banks, and inundating the country around.

The enemy had only retreated, and were shortly relatored to an Army of between 30,000 and 40,000 mm, and commenced their poculiar system of whefar by throsymp arrong field-works, which were called Stockades.

These stockades formed at intervals a half-circle around the British Army, and some of them approached as near at a shout three miles only.

it it shout three miles only.

Sir A. Campbell was not the soldier to allow this quietly Sir A. Campbell was not the soldies to allow this questly to proceed. Day after day, week after week, were the troops in action, assaulting and destroying their works. The nights were often occupied by repelling their attacks by water with fife-rafts and was beaut, which kept the Navy is haussed as the Army, in proher him the numerous and valuable transport shipping, See, from destruction. Such was the valour of these people, that they often defended their works with an obstimery us to contend hand as hand such this European soldies.

defended their works with an obstinuely as to contend hand to hand with the European golder.

Privations from want of good and sufficient tood, constant action with the enemy under heavy while, both by land, and water, wet clothing, and expected quarters, brought on sickness, and the Army suffered drandfully. Yet she cheerful countenance, the constant sharing in all its difficulties, whether of eighting or starving, of its Commander,—all was borne with calmness and fortitude. And the writer of this menuir well knows that several opinious in high quarters of the Army ware held of the propelety of leaving the country; and Sir A. Campbell would have been justified in so doing;—that the perseverance in and subsect of the war were all his own.

These increasant attacks were at last terminated by the almost magical appearance, before the lines at Rangeon, of, an intrenched Army, to the amount of more than $0,000 men. It was welcomed with thinkfulness by $ir A. Campbell, who, though his Army was saile wasted.

A. Campbell, who, though his Army was addy wasted and weakened by sickiness, repelled the attacks of this multitude around him for several days with complete aucress, until his own dispositions for a general attack on his part were made, when after a severe contest he defeated them, and relieved himself from further eggreccion.

aggression.

This wonderful dissemblure alone of such a best by a cickly Army, not neglecting in effective men a tenth of its enemies, had it sheen appreciated of it so merited, would have placed of A. Campbell schere all his Army expected he would have taken his seat.

The great object of the expedition, and the one nearest the heart of Sir A. Campbell, was to proceed up the country, and finish the war at its capital; and all his energies were directed to its accomplishment. In December, 1824, about never months after the arrival of the Army at Ranguon, and the effects of the monsoon having subsided, Sir A. Campbell made his arrangements to more.

The late doings in India have made England familiar with what is expected to be necessary for the moving of an Indian Army—of the tens of thousands of camele, buillooks, &c. &c. &c. With the Army at Rangoom, on the noint of proceeding through an empire for 700 miles against an active, brave, and intelligent enemy, in a climate, from the heavy daws at night, lowering the fulckativer to 53° in the morning, and a tropical sun raising it on the same day to upwards of 90° in the shade, the means of this Army consisted of about freety elethe means of this Army consisted of about twenty ele-phants, that carried an insufficiency of slight tents for the men, and some unbroken bullocks sent from Calcutta. Sir A. Campbell, the Commander-in-Chief of this Army, had a Bengal Subaltern's tent; the Officers, of whatever rank, had Goork's tents, and many Officers to tent. Commanding Officers of regiments had one bullock only, which was the extent of the means of carriage to all other Regimental Officers.

To do justice to the indefatigable exertions up to his leaving Rangeon, and on his progress up the country, to the termination of this war, would be to write a volume, and therefore the writer of this manuck is at a loss how so to condense it as to make it intelligible, and show the so to condense it as to make it intelligible, and show the admirable qualities of this, he may say, great and excellent man, Sic A. Campbell.

The Army left Rangoon for its progress up the country in two divisions, about the middle of December, 1824. One, a water division, whose arrangements were under the direction of the Officers and seamen of the Royal Navy ; in which were embarked a respectable force, with stores and supplies for the whole Army. The land division formed the other, under the eye of Bir A. Campbell, who, in fact, directed the operations of the whole, as the two divisions were to be in communication as much as the country would allow of it.

It may be here remarked that the opinions, again, of several Officers of this Army of rank ware, that the Army with such means would never keach twenty miles from Rangoon, at A garrison was left at Rangoon, which had charge of that part of the country, the large transport shipping, and the port, to receive and bold the supplies sent from India, and at convenient opportunities to forward them to the Army. The ment remained here. The head of the Commissariat Depart-

The commencement of Sir A, Campbell's operations were infortunate. The water party his to attack a very atroug position on the banks of the largereddy, held by about-suxteen thousands men, under a Burmese General of high remutation. The arrange of high remutation. nhout-sixtuen thousand men, under a Burmess General of high reputation. The attack was repulsed, with a heavy loss of British soldiers. Six a. Campbell, conceiving the force he had assigned audicing for the capture of this post, had proceeded on his maste a boastkeralls dintance beyond Donebu, the name of the enemy's position, and on the opposite bank of the giver. . On regioning the information of this desates, his saw at some he must retrace his steps, cross the river, and reduce Donebu. Here was another and important distance where his attackness of purpose, but crossing this noble river; Irrawaddy, measuring from helf-a-mile to five miles from the broad, with his always for childways for with the Irrawaddy.

The route of the land division to the backs of the Irrawalds took it deep into the country, and dway from the patter party, as the Rangoon siver into the irrawaddy mide a long detaut round the country, and interretinable for the mainty on the banks, and interretied by white sticking, that the Rection that the division on the interretied by white sticking, that the Rection that the divisions on the interretied by mainty take the mainty and interretied by mainty that the parties beyond Donebu.

a few quall boats only at his disposal, but by his inde-fatigable exercions, night and day, in forming raits, and other means, the passage was accomplished, to the astonial-meant of every one, on the fourth day. In four days more he was exempted in front of the left flank of days more he was encomped in front of the left flank of the enemy's position; repulsed two very formidable sallies, accompanied by their war-elephants; directed the flotilis to force its passage past the stockade, adding it by his own attack, that the enemy, atruck by his energetic measures, abandoned their position in the night, their Commander being killed during the bombardment. Sir A. Campbell, baving the sid of his flotilis, soon re-crossed the river to its left bank, which was the course of the march of the Army, and pursued his route for Frome, which he reached without further opposition which the letter and of March.

Prome, which he reached wit about the latter end of March.

about the latter end of March.

The capture of this large and populous city completed about half his labours, being about 280 miles from Rangoom. Its position and advantages enabled him to place his Army in the most comfortable quarters it had occupied since its arrival in the country. The irresistible enemy, the monsoon, was to commence again in a few weeks. The exertions of the Army through this long march, bere as it was of equipment, required repose; but the great reason for halting here was, that all the necessary supplies, as they were exhausted, could only be recruited from the depots at Rangoon, conveyed up the river. from the depots at Rangoon, conveyed up the river, through the greatest labour and exertions, against its atream, with a vigilant enemy on its banks.

[The farther proceedings of the Army will be given in our nest?

THE PERNCH ARMY.

THE PERNCH ARMY.

The practice which prevalls in this country of purchasing commissions in the Army, is wholly unknown in France. All enter by the same door, namely, by voluntary chilistment, or by conscription, as privates. The idea of a person entering the Army a full-fledged Officer, as with us, strikes the French as ridiculous. Hence it is that so many of the sons of the first families in France are to be found in the ranks, living on the same scanty and homely fare, sleeping in the same beds, and submitting in all respects to the same privations, as the sons of the poorest peasants.

poorest peasants.

Freugh soldiers are poorly paid. The Officers receive but a very small allowance compared with the pay received by the Officers in the Englishearmy. The pittance of the privates is also small,—so small as hardly to be credited in this country. A Colonel in the Cavalry only receives 2751, per annum; a Colonel in the Infantry, 2501.; a Captain in the Infantry of the first class, 1441.; and a Captain of the second class, 1201. The various grades of other Officers are paid in the same proportion. But the allowance of the private is still more miserably small. Nominally he receives fourpence-halfpenny per diem, but in reality not more than three-halfpence are available to him for packet-money. From his allowance one penny is deducted for the purpose of forming a small fund out of which he may supply himself with the requisite linen, stockings, and other little srticles, such as shaving and washing materials. Three-halfpence are withheld for his food, which is always taken in mess. Another halfpenny is taken from him for some other purpose, which was mentioned to me by one of the soldiers, but it has escaped my memory. So that, after all these deductions are made, he has no more than three-halfpence per diem to keep in his pocket.

How, it will be asked, does the French soldier contrive to manage on so small a sum? He could not manage at the manage on so small a sum? He could not manage at all were it not that he has, in most cases, some other means of replanishing his pockets. The French soldiers are not, as with us, the refuse of society,—men, whose prolligate habits have driven them into the Army; they are mostly the sons of farmers and tradesmen in easy circountinger, and their parents, in the majority of cases, anguly them with pocket-money during the period of their service.

You cannot walk the streets of Paris without perceiving that they are a much superior class of persons to our soldiers. You see intelligence in their toos, and what the French call style in their manner. persons to our soldars. Tou see intelligence in their manner, those, and what the French call style in their manner. When not on duty, you see them in twos and threes in the streets, and at public places, walking arm-in-arm logather. Many of them are great readers, and others are arising a large painting by one of the first masters; and so well was it done, that none but an artist could have discovered any difference between the topy and the original. The French soldiers are only allowed two meals a day. The first, or breakfalt, is at nine in the morning; and the other, or dimer, is at five in the afternoon. Both meals after nearly the same; they consist to soon, ment, whethelds, and brown bread. On every fifth day there are no mean distance, but simply postatoes that rice. No beer or either allowed: that direct is had water, with about a light of a allowed: that direct is had water, with about a light of a allowed: that the results a triply is not be noted of allowed: the original of the continuous and the process of the postation of the matter with a single or allowed. The process of the street of the sound of the street of the process of the postation of these distances are the process of the particle of the street of the particle of the street of the particle of the continuous sections and the process of the particle of the street of the particle o his discharge, and is free to go where he pleased. Some of them, probably one out of every six or seven, re-enter the Army by voluntary enlistment: the others, in nearly the Army by voluntary enlistment: the others, in nearly every instance, return to their native place. These who re-enter the Army by voluntarily enlisting, do so for periods of two or four years. Me for two years, the saldier receives a bounty of 22 france: if for four years, a bounty of 44 france, and the addition of a penny per diem to his pay. Not more than 5000 to 6000 men enter the Army every year by voluntary enlistment; but in time of war, or when war was expected, from 40,000 to 50,000 have been known to enlist in the king's service.

The discipline of the French Army is not so rigid as ours: the barbarous practice of flogging is unknown in France. The greatest offence which a soldier can commit France. The greatest offence which a saldier can commit is that of insulting his superior: to strike an Officer subjects the offender to the punishment of death.

Perhaps the greatest inducement to soldiers to re-enter remaps the greatest indusement to seven years, is to be found in the estainty of promotion according to a fixed scale, graduating with a soldier's length of asswics. I need not enter into the details of the steps by which a private soldier can rise to the highest rank in the Army: it may be enough to state that he who remains a certain length of time in the Service, and conducts himself with pro-pricty, may reasonably hope to reach the numerit of Mill-the French Army, as in ours, length of service, or wounds received in battle, entitle to a pens ion. In a time of peace, 30 years' service are required to entitle to a pension; but in a time of war, 15 years saffice. Every two years' service in the colonies count as three. The t rate of pension for a common soldier is 200 france, or 87. per annum; and the highest rate is 300 france, or 12/. a year. The scale varies, as a matter of course, with the different ranks in the Army. The widows and children of all who die in battle receive about a fourth part of what their husbands or fathers would have been entitled to receive. A small pension, rarely exceeding 5% per annum, is also settled on the widows of pensioners.

The French are a Military people. This would be sufficiently apparent, had we no other evidence on the point than is involved in the fact that the Army of France is little short of 400,000, being more than four times the amount of the English Army; and everything which can be done has been done by the state to foster the Military spirit. The public buildings in Paris are crowded with pictures of battles in which the French Army has been successful, and with trophies of its victories over the foes of France. The palace of Versailles affords an instance of the former, and the Hospital of Invallde furnishes an instance of the latter. Much as you meet with in Versailles to excite your wonder and occupy your attention, there is nothing strikes you more forcibly than the number of pictorial representations of engagements in which the French have been successful. You had no idea before that so many battles had been fought since nation began to war against nation. And as the French appear vic-torious in every conflict, one who knew no better would be apt to conclude that they had never known what it was to sustain a defeat, or even to meet with a temperary reverse. You reproach yourself for not remembering that you had ever heard of one-half of the battles which are thus commemorated as having been gained by the superiority of French prowess. You inquire into the matter, and, in many instances, find that what the artist has converted into some great Military achievement was ac malg-nificant an affair as to be wholly unworthy of actice. Of this there can be no question, that the future historian will do no more than make a mere passing allusion to many of the Military events the remer nbrance of which is thus to be perpetuated on canvass, while in many more instances the page of history will make no mention of them at all.

In the Hospital of Invalids, again, you see hundreds of the flags which the French took from their enemics, from the commencement of Napoleon's career, down to the recent triumphs of the French arms in Algiers.

And, as if these memorials of the skill and courage of the French were not sufficient to keep up the Military apirit in France, a marked attention is paid to soldiers in private seciety. The mere circumstance of wearing the habiliments of a Military man is a sure passport any-The mere circumstance of wearing the where, and renders the person a favourite in all compani The effect of all this is, to keep alive the Military spirit. We can thus account for the enger desire which the French nation show to runk into a war whenever their Government chances to come into collision with that of any other country. Paris and its People.

Literary Nouces.

Maxwell's Mistery of the Rebellion in Ireland in the Year 1788. Illustrated by George Cruiksbank. Part I.

Baily & Co.

Wis are very glad that Mr. Maxwell has taken up the subject of the Irish Robellion of 1796; because, treated as he is likely to treat the events of that mamoriality respondents on the subject of Naval uniform, none have period, they cannot fall to illustrate the character of the account the present want of distinction between Captains disaffected Irish, and to show the world what may be expected from the Rapeslers of the present day—especially if they should succeed in the attainment of their object. Mr. Maxwell commences his undertaining with a retrospective glance at the Franch Ravelution, and at the separation of the American Colonies from the parent State, as influencing as insertectionary feeling in Irisland; after which, he offers brief but spirited notices of the leading United Irishmen; and then describes the first Franch attempt at invasion in 1796. So far, the work promises extramely well; and we have no doubt of sixing it successfully perried through. Two of George Craikethank's elever ctokings are given with the present Part.

Studies of Sonsation and Sout;
Powns, by Ebenezes Jones. Fox.
A morngoodly volume to the eye, and strikingly varied in its contents. Poems more antithetical in character, with reference one to another, never met the public eye. Here we encounter an utter regardlessness, or non-com-Here we encounter an utter regardlessness, of non-com-prehension, of the charms of rhythm—the widdet and most uncouth extravagance of thought and feeling—the most extraordinary and fer-fetched terms of expression; and these are contrasted, in turn, by the most mellifuncte harmony, the gentlest grace, the awastest simplicity. Occasionally we meet with bold and startling imagery, and passages of thrilling power. We must offer a few detached lines to justify what we have said in censure :—

"Til her shoulders shiver and shrink with her delight."
"He would rush to grovel his being's makededt beteen."
"Her magnifidushty swift automatum."

"All pittlemly nakeding her, he bears."

"The struggling eyes of his fire-behooded face."

"The strugging eyes of an are-neacond tags,"
No comment cap here be necessary.
In these festive hours, a little sorig will not be deemed out of season. We still therefore permit her author to atone for the above," by the following " Song to the Rose;" we take it, not because it is one of the heet, but because it is one of the heet, but because it is one of the volume, and therefore best adapted to our space.

"Besutiful rose! a song for theb,
This thing mouth of June;
Thy rod buds brighten every tree,
And so my coul in tune,
Would carol thy beauty, star of the wildwood!
Image and joy of carviess childhood!

" I strive to sing, but mine eyes grow dim, I fray thy leaves away, And the music sinks to a mournful hyzes, For thy declining day; How shall I sing thee, atar of the wildward? Trembling and ead like betweening childbelod?

" Blowel' the melody, tlacker the string, Thise heart of beags I have won; And the delicate bude of thine inhermost glag. Are stripped, and stained, and—gone; How shall I sing then, star of the wild wood! Envished away like the joys of childhood!

Sheat the melody, broken the string,— Thy light is abad for ever,— The light is thed for ever,—

Never more may the shower fresh fragrancy bring;—
But the spirit would break to say "niver;"
Piercely I weep—star of the wildwood!

Uttorly lost like the joys of childhood!"

Here and there, in this volume, we find some little uriencies which ought to have been expunged.

We strongly advise Mr. Jones, when he may next meditate publishing, to submit his MBB, to some sternly critical friend, not afraid to use the tomanewk. He has excellent stuff in him, and we wish not to see it encumbered by rubbish.

Punch; or the London Chartvari.

Wirm all that richness of humour and pungency of satire which had distinguished the causer portions of his career, Punch has just, with the close of the year, concluded his fifth volume. And what more can we see of a bowl-or a volume-of Panch, than that it is spirited, and strong, and sweet, delicately seld, and deliciously fragrant? All this it is; and we recommend it as a delightfully refreahing and inspiring dordial at all seasons.

Correspondence addressed to the Editor.

THE CHINA MEDAL.
To the Editor of the Navel and Mitting Gazette,
Sin,—Having been asked by many of my friends if Sin,—Having been asked by many of my friends if I am the author of an article (littler) which appears in your paper of the 16th of last month, relative to the distribution of the modal intended to be given for service in China, and signed with initials similar to those of my name, I beg, without offering any opinion upon the subject, or doubting the possibility of there liaving been various other "T. B." " in that force, that you will do me the favour to say that I am and the price of that estimant the most the position of the article. in that force, that you was no and an &c., ath not the writer of that article—I am, &c., T. Bouaching, Capt., B. N.

Commanders, and Lieutenants, when without their conlettes? It may, 'perhaps, be said that they ought never to appear without them, but it is well known that book hu cont of the incorrections and expense, they frequently account of the incorrentence and expanse, they frequently do. Might not the same distinctive mark as a new need on the online of the different grades of Admirals be transferred to the shoulders of other Officers; the Lieutenants wenting one strap of gold ison across with shoulder, the Community was two, and Captains these. It would at least have the mark of not being very explanates.

BALIGE.

the marit of not being very explanates.

Bright States of the Naval and Military Sanctic.

Bright Was highly gratified come time since in observing that your widely circulated Paper was made the medium of some whealer remarks on the pecessity of suppressing the upchristian practice of dealing mo omen than been, and and written in representation and crouse of it, but so very little can be advanced in the extenuation of so heathen a practice, that it becomes, on reflection, a matter of astendament how ony civilized nation—and more particularly a professed moral nation, can, by the laxity of its penal code, teolify countenands its murderous continuation. It has become fashionable to rank dupling amongst the measury cylls of refined govery, and to counted the measury cylls of refined govery, and to counted the measury cylls of refined govery, and to counted and war; and while we affectedly deplore the self, counternance and applated by presence—but this is mawkish morality and rank hypocricy—we have not the councer to strike at the root of the evil, and crush the mischief by mereiful severity. I remember an anacolot—which, with your ciful severity. I remember an anacolot—which, with your morally and rank systems, we make not the rought to strike at the root of the evil, and crush the mischief by merciful averity. I remember an annodote—which, with your permission, I will relate—as indicative of the extreme absurdity, foily, and, in many instances, unfairness of the practice. A gentlemen, having a wife and large family obtaily dependent upon his life and daily exertions for support, and inadvertently given offence to a passionate young sten unincumbered with either of those sources of happiness and anxiety. He was called upon for honour able estimated invainable life spainst a comparatively worthing one. It fortunately happened that both seconds were nice of allowing the life, and perhaps the total rain of a large and anniable family, to be ascrifted at the bloody shrine of civilized henour. They therefore arranged that the young emisons runney, so we macripose at the photoly entitle of civilized henour. They therefore arranged that the young man was to meet ble second, and breakfest previous to going out on the ensuing morning: accordingly at the appointed hour he called upon his friend, whom he found appointed hour he called upon his friend, whom he found seated with a lady, surrounded by a numerous family; after some few minutes apent in the friendly intercourse of hospitality, his friend rose, and addressing the young man, said; the first wife and family of the men whose life you would have secrificed to your false motions of honour. When you are blessed with such ties as these, fir, your life will be equally valuable; till then, you are not upon a fair footing, and no han of honour would deshe an unfair advantage, and I decline to, act for you." The young man was so foreibly atruck with this remailer appeal, the justness of the objection, as well as his munifolly, that he frankly apologised, and the affair outed amicably.

folly, that he frankly apologised, and the affair onded amicably.

I have been engaged myself, Sir, many times as a ffend, always with the understanding that if I equid not arrange the differences amicably and honourably, that I declined further proceedings, as yet, I have been always fortunate emorgh to prevent bloodshed, and I do firmly believe that, except in cases of unpardonable outrage or heartless wielstion, an amicable settlement may be effected without a compromise of either honour or principle; and I think it will be found, Sir, that is most cases delay is not dengerous, for amongst the most vindictive and angry spirite. I have often observed that time and the reflection it bring tend much to humanise the feelings and prepare the miff-for the possibility of a reconciliation, even where the pe for the possibility of a reconciliation, even where the pofor the possibility of a reconciliation, even where the previous disposition to revenge has been bitter and deadly, and this induces me to think that the present beyon regards the time of a deel being fought after the quarter is wrong, and should be reversed. As the law at previous stands, the less time that clapses between the insulf and the meeting the more favourably does the law consider reaches the transfer of the law consider reaches the transfer of the law consider reaches the meeting the more favourably does the law consider reaches the transfer of the law consider reaches the reaches the law consider reaches the reaches the law consider reaches the law consider reaches the reaches the reaches the reaches the law consider reaches the reaches the reaches the reaches the reaches the law and la but, Sir, this must be wrong, for it instigates to such and deadly meetings while the passions are in a tunnit. and allows no time for reflection :- many a man has fall before the fames of the wine which incited to anger he evaporated, or the spirit of revenge has subsided-man-men. Sir, have been hurried by this law to adden so-violent deaths, when perhaps a few hours' reflection off-bate racalled them to a sense of the crime they we average recated them to a secretic might have be avoided. I do hope, hir, that the able pen of Un Anne Moldat may again be wielded in reproduction of this tone christian and damnable custom; to remedy it immediately and effectually I feel is impossible without some attingent and diagraphical punishment—a punishment more degrading than the refound of a challenge.—i am, dio. NAUTICE.
Canterbury, Junuary 1.
[We omit an aneodote too well known to require Repub-

tion -EA.1

E(Correspondence continued at page 16).

Co Readers and Correspondents.

We regret the disappointment of many subscribers in Dublin and elsewhere, who could not obtain copies of our last weck's Paper.

'e shall be glad to hear from "G. H. C."—" A Friend

' neal week.

To "J. H. R." (Northampton).—Ambassadors h no authority to grant commissions in fereign Services. To " H. B." (Dublin).—We do not use diagrams, ay without them the plans proposed would be unintelligible.

'Fair Play' (Dublin) states—" That am Ensign in the - Regiment, promoted from the ranks in with his corps ever since, has never done one day's duly us Officer of the day." He adds—" Can it be possible that a man would be promoted from the ranks who is unfit to perform the duties of a Subaltern ?" If our correident had authenticated his statement we would have invistigated the fuse.

An Old Subscriber," with reference to the remark we made a few weeks back, on the subject of floating the person in cases of shipursok, requests our opinion as to "which apparatus we consider the best adopted for this purpose, with a due regard to economy and portability."
We have already expressed & opinion that Pigot's in"vention is far superior to any her.

"A Constant Reader" writes..." In the event of Lieutenante and Sub-Lieutenante of the Regiments of House tenants and No-Lieutenants of the Regiments of Mouse-hold Canding and the Lieutenants of Infantry of the Line being associated together on Courts-Mertial, would the latter take their seats with the Lieutenants of the former according to the dates of their commissions, or with the Sub-Lieutenants?" With the Lieutenants.

Is a Lieutenant of the Line eliable to each anne with " Lieutenant of either of the three Regiments of House-hold Cavatry " Cortainty he is , and if this corre-spondent will refer to the London Gazetta of the 18th Aug., 1643, he will see that Lieut. Sir F. W. Sykes Bart., of the 97th Foot, exchanged with Lieut. E; V MacKinnon, of the 2d IAfe Guards.

.To "One Interested,"-The China medal has not yet

We do not see that any good could result from publish ing the latter of "Junius," unimadverting on the speech of Sir Hercules Palenham, with regard to the old 44th: at all events we must previously have, in confidence, the writer's name and address. We this day publish the ad-dress of Colonel Shelton, vindicating the conduct of the

Last night's Guzette announces the appointment of General Sir George Murray to the Colonylog of the Royals. We stated that the regiment would be thus dis-pared in our Guzette of the 23rd Dec., but were contraeled by a party professing to know more than ourselves. There is no truth in the report put forth that the dieted by a party profe Coppand of the Nore has been offered to Vice-Admiral Sir William Hall Gage. Such an offer has never even been contemplated. The Command had not been filled up at the time of our solves to Press, and for the reasons stated last week, it would buildle to notice the many " guesses" virculated. The appointment will probably be decided on circulates. The appointment was proving as uncount or early in the mening usek.

We are gratified to announce the promotion of Commander William Smyth (1837), lately commanding Grotian, to be Captain for meriturious service, particularly in the sapture of some unseels, in which he has aided in the sapture of some unseels, in which he has aided in no less than sixteen instances.

Naval & Military Gazette.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1844.

Tha subject which still engrosses the greatest attention of Naval men, is one which we commented on in our retrospect for 1842, namely, the advance which France is making in the orention of a powerful Steam Navy; and it is indeed a question which merits the most setions regard.

We'long ago exposed the policy which that country hed conceived in this respect, but we confess that we did not proceed the could have made so great a progress in the short time that has clapsed since that policy has been adonted.

By a recent atatement, which appeared in the French journal "La Presse," the number of armed Steamers come played and in progapus is described as 104; having an aggregate pawer of 25,000 horses; and the officia erports in the " Annales" confirm the statement. This fucludes the Meamers under the administration of the Post Office-(in facf the Packets)-amounting to between twenty and thirty vessels, of from 50 to 220 horses-power each, and of about 8700 horses-power in the directate.

. .

Comparing this with the Steam-vestels on our Navy List, eighty in unaber (or 106, including Packets under the Pendant) it presents no great disparity of numbers and any deficiency in this respect might be easily remedied, by arming the powerful vessels employed on the Atlantic line, and others belonging to private Companies. But it is the great progress that the French are making in steamers of the first-class that excites attention; for, whereas two years ago they had no vesselfof more than 220 horse-power—nor, as it has been stated, manufactories expable of producing engines of greater power-they have now two, Descartes and Vaulan, of 540 horses-power to be completed in 1844. and upwards of thirty of more than 300 horse-power, (in fact, two-thirds of the latter of more than 400 horses power), either launched or in progress; whilst their largest engines and produced at several establishments, besides their principal depot at Indret, all superintended by English machining.

It is true, that we have in progress, and to be com pleted next year, two yessels (the Watt and Terrible) of 800 horses-power, and the Penelope, in commission, of 650 horses-power i but, with these exceptions, there are few of our first-class steamers of more than 400 horsespower; and it will be alimitted that, leaving out of view the vessels already referred to, the French steam Navy as described in their official esturas, is superior to ours in some degree in point of horses-power-the true standard by which the efficiency of a steamer must be measured.

We have more than once expressed the opinion that for practical purposes in war, a larger number of vessels of small size will be found more efficient than a smalle number of greater power, although the aggregate power of each Fleet might be the same. The reason for this is, that it would multiply the means as well as the points of attack, and give many other advantages which will readily occur to Naval men; but this must be taken with a reservation. There is a law established and admitted in the theory of resistance to substances passing through fluids, that the resistance is as the squares of their diameter, whereas the power of substances to overcome the resistance is as the subset of their diameter. If this theory holds good in a body passing through water as well as satific men assert; then the vascel of the largest sine will have the greatest velocity, although her steam power is only comparatively as great as the smaller one; and as this advantage would enable her to overtake her weaker opponent, of course it would be in some cases fital to the latter.

We throw out these observations as worthy of consideration, at the same time maintaining the opinion we formerly expressed; because in future Naval battles, it is probable the etempers will act but as advanced squadrons to commence an action, until the ships of the line shall have approached sufficiently near, and therefore they can, when pressed, always retreat under cover of their line of battle, which would present too powerful a battery to be approached, particularly if these ships had some apparatus sufficient to impel them three or four knots an hour, and so keep in position. The importance of this subject is so great as to reader its discussion impossible in a single article; we shall, therefore, return to it bereafter. In the meantime we shall be gratified to find that an increased number of stenmers of the largest class is conetemplated in the forthcoming Navy Estimates.

Two elucere amity which now exists between the Kingdome of England and France has damped the arders of the Reneglers in Ireland, and cut them of from the hone they evidently cherished of finging in France sympathy and support in their attempts to read samuler the United Kingdom. The more calculating of the Repealers are evidently looking out for a loophole of escape, and we understand that within the last month there has been a great decrease in the Repeal rent. The "Times" lately observed that the danger was less than supposed, but we fear that however hopeless the cause of Repost has been rendered, by the Duke of Wellington's energy, and by the state of our foreign relations, that still there is a large mose of the Irish population ready and willing to try their strength with England, so maddened have the people in that unhappy country become by the harangues of O'Connell and the spiritual exhortations of the Priests.

12 人物的A.

We trust that no relaxation of exery exertion that can be made will be suffered through a false idea that the danger has passed away. The Army in Ireland is even at this moment a mere handful of men, and the most disastrous consequences would follow, if the precautions hitherto used for its better being able to hold the country should be naglacted. We would gladly hear of a large reinforcement being sent there prior to the State trials taking place.

Ws digrate a very considerable portion of our Gauette this week to the intelligence received from India, all tending to confirm the opinions we have over and over again expressed, that a war in the Punjaub is unavoidable; and that Lord Ellenborough is actively preparing to carry it on with vigour and ability.

An Army of Exercise is assembling at Agra, and the Governor-General was to proceed, at the end of November. at the head of another army, to the North-Western Provinces, invested with full powers to make peace or war by a special act of the Legislative Council. In the Punjaub, the Chiefe are disunited, the soldiers mutinous, and the provinces distracted by their fears, dreading an invasion from the Affghaus at Peshawur and of the British at Labore. Under such circumstances, there can be no doubt of the sound policy of our interference, and the seful result that must attend our arms.

The Army in Seinde, we grieve to say, is reported to be decimated by sickness. Out of 8,504 men, composing the garrisons of Hyderabad and Kurrachee, 3,500 were

Next week, we shall fully review the intelligence we this day publish; in the meanwhile, we may express our gratification at finding that our powerful contemporary. the Times, recognises not only the State policy, but the social philanthropy of those demonstrations which are intended to repress insurgent Amesrs, to control the Court of Lahore, and to intimidate the successors of Scindia, by a boldness and a rigour such as wrenched the acentre from the hand of Surajab Dowlah, stemmed the might of Hyder Ali, and crushed the marauding violence of the Mahrattas.

It is understood that negotiations are going on with the Nizam for the transfer of his regular troops to the service of the East India Company, and the fruitful valley of Bernr to be ceded for the purpose of maintaining them. This arrangement, if carried out, would in every respect be highly beneficial to the Madras Army.

WE have on more than one occasion endeavoured to draw attention to the manifest detriment to the efficiency of regiments caused by retaining weakly men in the Service. The wholesome regulation that provides for the discharge of all soldlers under three years' service who are inclinible from want of stamina, or from inantitude of body or mind, has been grievously overlooked of late years. Indeed, as far in we can learn, the regulation is scarcely acted on; and unless what is called "a medical case" can be made out, no men-be he a fool, or weak as a girl-is ever discharged. We know that great care is generally taken in the examination of recruits, but very frequently an over anxiety to complete a regiment returned from abroad, and the false feeling of good-nature in allowing individuals to benefit as largely in possible by the levymoney for recruits, have led to the introduction of many under-sized and weekly men into the Regiments of the Line. We again revert to this important subject at this beason, when men are about to be inspected by the General Officers for discharge. Let these who think we are repommending a new measure, instead of inviting attention to an old but much neglected regulation, see page 499 of Her Majesty's Regulations and Orders, where a Roturn is ordered of the inefficient.

Tak report gains ground that some modification of the law with orthogonal Militia will be introduced in the coming sion of Parliament. We, however, have made in in quarters where information on this subject ought to exist. If any measure of the sort were contemplated, and we have good grounds for believing that as yet, at least, nothing has been determined on. It is, however, probable that the Militia may, in England, be enrolled, as this has not been done for very many years. Nothing would add more to our national power, as a Military people, than having a numerous Militia always ready to take the house duties of our regular Army. Were England suddenly called on to wage war, she has literally no Army availa -her foreign possessions drain to exhaustion the jew regiments she calls her Army. We, therefore, hope that our most constitutional Purce-the one viewed with as little jeniousy as the Navy-may be re-organized and rendered easily available for the defence of the country. We must be convinced by the briefest reflection; that since the power of steam has become in element of war, we are no longer in the position of insular encurity : our coasts are no longer invalnerable, and our noble Navy so longer the wooden walls of England in the sense they during the last great war with Napoleon. We shall have to look to our Militis on shore-for our Army is scattered over the globe-and to our Navy affect, for the defence of the United Kingdom at the beginning of the next war.

In our last, referring to the discreditable affair at New Zealand, we made a few remarks on some recent in stances of cowardice, which would seem to offer proof of the deterioration of the national character; this has led us to give the matter further thought, and to trace the effects to their causes. No one who takes the trouble to read our columns will imagine that we indulge in any political bias, and we put uside from us, with contempt, any idea that we wish to advocate the cause of one sention of the community against another. We must further comfort our readers with the avaurance that we do not mean to enter into the vesata questio of the Corn-laws, but only to show how its solution will bear on the interest of the profession whose cause we advocate.

It will be hardly denied that the "land we live in" and the bands that cultivate it form the main-spring of national atrength and prosperity; nor is it attempted to be denied that the manufacturing population has added both to the strength and riches of the country; had it not been for the wealth poured into the country by this channel, it would have Been impossible to have carried on the gigantic struggle in which we were engaged with the whole power of Buonaparteat the same time we can see no reason why this portion of the population should require the merifice of other interests for its sole benefit. A foreignen little acquainted with this country, into whose hands this controversy was placed, might reasonably imagine that agriculture and manufactures were the only two trades going in the country; that the whole population of England was divided between clod-brookers and cottonspinners; and both the parties who have engaged in this dispute seem to have come nearly to the same conclusion. It will be remarked that the efforts of the Anti-Corn-law League beyond their own circle are confined to making converts of certain farm-tenants, and within their own bounds to raising large sums of money for the avowed purpose of bribing electors !-- the rest of the world is no more noticed then if they did not exist.

Without entering into the merits or demerits of the Corn Laws, we have only to suppose the case of all, protection being taken from the Agricultural interest : the result would be the throwing up of forms, the impoverish ment of the landlerds-Amost of whose estates are already mortgaged, and to throw out of culture all the land of rent quality; the Longuers will then my, What great matter in all that ! these people have had their day ; but no thought seems to have been bestowed on the lai thrown but of employ! Probably that is an arrière pen sie of the manufacturers, who may easily imagine that this cause will materially boulet their great object, the leaving of wages. Some country gentlemen seem to facilitie thing of this state of allein light number that the breading of stock. Lat us suppose, then, that all England was turned into a graning park, we might have super-excellent beef and mutton, and have Corn cheep from abroad; but then what is to become of the country population! Farms of this kind would only require an ox-drover, a shapherd, a swine-herd or two, and a few men for carrying out and spreading manure, and bringing in her. Where would the rest of the first population be either crammed into unhealthy manufactories, benished themselves by lighting up the country with fires. Then how the material of which our Armies are comprised would be deteriorated! It will be hardly necessary to make the comparison, it is so self-evident; but we may put the question: which is the best stiff to hake a soldier of, the man who is out in the open fields for twelve hours els days out of seven, expused to all weathers, and engaged in labour that increases his suimal powers; or a nan pent up in a close and braced room for 14, 15, or seek 16 hours, and engaged during that time in some alight and effections inbour that requires only practice and no bodily exertion?

We rather think that this Zonland appointen of British valour, and some of the craven acts in Allghanistan smell strong of the shop, or rether of the factory. Even our persentry, as it exists now, has been descriptated by the stilltarian and precise character of the age; the amuse ments and sports of the country have been discounts namend ; elugio-stick, quarter-staff, wrestling-malibbes, have all disappeared. We can recollect well, when, after divine service on Sanday, the lade of the village used to form orieldt-matches, and the clergyman gave his approving glance as he person along. Now such a healthy exhibition would be a dreadful eye-sore to pickly morality or pecuda-religion. Putting saids the whole dispute between the parties, the question is, shall a whole raral population be escribed to fill the pockets of manter manufacturers ! No word has been so greatly exaggirated in value as "Capital;" granting all the wonders it has done in canale, milways, &c., is there to be no bounds to accumulation? Who benefits by these darge fortunes gained by manufacturors? what advantages will any individual in the country, except those who succeed to it, derive from the eight millions left by Arkwright !-- have they added to the happiness or comfort of a single workman; or is the country benefited in any degree by this monstree accommutation? partainly not, and could not be, unless such enormous fortunes were made to contribute in proportion to their amount to the Income-tax.

We readily insert the following letter, elicited by son late remarks of ours on Passylvas, asserted by one of the written of " The Songe of the Nation," to be connected with the Repeal movement in Iroland. Here, however, the subject must be allowed to rest. 'Our remarks were general and hypothetical; not that we believed the Passyites to be actually mixed up with the cause of Repeal, but, as favouring the sharch of Rome by their doctrines and observances, we considered them Similar to the constitution of Church and State, and therefore that they ought to be suppressed,

To the Editor of the Name and Military Gasette, Sin, Perhaps you will think it for to allow a fer rords to appear in your columns, valuable as your space doubtless is, on the widden of some remarks in your Rumber of Dec. 23, tenshing a miserable volume of paces published by the Republica, and some automatican remarks. Dec. 23, tourning a manufacturer of the Republicus, and some supposes of an and a certain "great party" in E-confidents when it has grown some a mineral proposed parties of marker in Reg shed by the R

I only see your Gazette when it has comins to say as hitle at 14 possible, consistently with my bject, and to say neighby which can bring an a contra-cest on abstract mathins, where it would be quite out of place.

I must be understood as not speaking for, or in the name of, anybody. I do know some little of the "party." accused, and they are known by vestistance by that means: who er what " Xoung England." may be, I know as little as Joseph Risma, who, I believe, was one of the first who weed their president may be another name for "Little British," for anything that concerns the matter in hand: however, that accuse is not one to jest upon. First, let me assure you that it is most unlikely that may " English Passyite will take the trouble to "contradict" a o ejone, yet so absurd, as that contained in the press ex-tract given by yes. I am really amesed that you, knowing, as every one knows, the amount of credit die to am on's words, should think such a thing needed—that you should give a moment's evolume to such as accession, coming from such a barrier. The quotation, which pouvers the thorpe, is just a deliberate fatcheod g as awful thing, thorefore, to think of, and one smong the deadly size to be one day assessed for by the unbappy was whose work you so ju atily o men whose work you so poetly enterent. Dut you to syspect as uspok; for you call it a "disbelled is and my the thing is assessed "Visitely, so done;" and my the thing is asserted "fallerly, so here;" and then fullows, what is rather putaling for you say, "if Euseyian be ne-and-so, it sught to be abeliefed;" but presently, you seem to call for im Boolition, whether it be so-and-so, or not, " for it he put show, do, he,

fould we spoke a little more gently of one another-

Would we spoke a little more gently or one annalyand thought less well ?
Touching "Passylin," you say "is favoure the church of Rosse," dec. do. Areyou quite sure that it does?
I am quite sure it does not that it is Rosse's spony(as much as Christian churchy will called to be so "put all this youting it—is Rosselland to be so "put down. Is Protestant discort, that deally allows of the shared? Is averything, which is "in appetition to the church?" If on, wall and good soby it would not be seen to do it. Or is "Passylam" to fare worse then easy to do it. Or is "Passyland" to fare worse fain either Populy or Protestant distant? To defend "Passyland" from such a charge is super-

Of all mon living, "English Passyltes," if true to their own ligh primities, must most deeply, and most in-tensely, abbor and detect the horrid impulse of this writehed back, and the flatanic traiper which alone could aive it utterance.

I say ". Satanio," not as a strong word, but with a deep and serious sense of its mounting; believing firmly that all evil, and "liberalism?" and democracy among the rust, are our common origin.

" English Prespites" hold that the ery of "fiberty" is wrong; then may popular movement as each, is wrong; that may popular movement as each, is wrong; that estation is wrong; and that revolutions, as such are not, of sur; rightly or not, is not the question, but such are those opinions; why, then, are there enhanced to me such are those opinions: why, then, are they subject to so dreadful an imputation, as treet conveyed in what these shamelose man say?

They hold the conduct of the agisating pricets to be airecious; and they look on each a book on the size yes here noticed, not so much with abhorrence and hate, as with dranf and aws, at the tagrible wickingers which notes to the let losse among men, at the sight of human hearts the tits sight of human hearts thus turned into onges of ancien things? I have to believe mon whose word no man of some would take for the value of a farthing—ment whose thoughts and words are of blood, and who hear the hearth of murlevers, to the injury of our own brothers, and th odly spains and well membles and respected men, because they have a stelement should which there is a net beg dian?

panie and a pro While we she panie and a prejection?

While we shudden so the six of those who can write at these most unhappy frishmen do, let us becare of another sin, and one not very unlike theirs; fifet of specking, or "thinking, cril," and "rejecting in iniquity!"

P.S.—I have used the nicknesse "Passyste," for convenience the shortcast only, but I protect against its use, as being painful to a very excellent men, and implying a spirit of party and combination which these not exist.

Ir is high time that some alteration in the Navel cap were made. The senting on duty, and the soldier in the streets know hot, to whom the honour of the salute is due. We see all grades in the Marchant Service, Second Mane, and Stowards of revenue-crafters, &t. &c. wearing the Navil Liviach lace on their cape! We wish to one a services bis cap introduced, on which the Crown and Anchor should be conspicuously placed, and the erasments on the cap to distinguish the rank of the wears. All persons sporting this Neval cap who have not the right of do so, should be visited with a keavy penalty, under the Ast of Mr. hast Vessels holsting the pendant; and if should be the power of all Officers under the Grewn to apprehend offenders against this regulation.

An consequence of Minete of an infectious character

An consequence of illness of an infectious character prevailing in the immediate vicinity of Cleremont the period of the visit of the Giveen and the Pricks Concort has been indefinitely postpaned.

The Queen.—A slight accident, which, happily, has groved of no seasoquence, happened to har Majesty yearings, whilst taking a drive in a postycarriage with the Marchiness of Donco. The postilism took too there is turn from one read into another; and the left wheel went into a bound ditch, which through the carriage grainst the hedge. Her Majesty and Lady Douro were speedily reseased and returned to the Castle in a small post oreringe, driven by Colonel Arbuthnot, which was given up for her Majesty's use by a lady who was driving close by, and Prince Albert accompanied the carriage on horseback. Her Majesty has not experienced any inconvenience from

The Revenue Tables—Show a very considerable in-crease, both as regards the year and the quarter just otal income of the year, ending 5th Jan., #50,071,948 44,390,466 Showing an increase for this year of This is composed of an increase principally in £5,742,070 dust which there is to be set, a decrease in Stamps Taxes Taxes Post Office

Crown Lands
The QUARTER just ended shows a total incerne of £13,211,777
Against the corresponding quarter of last year

11,485,107

Exhibiting an increase for this quarter of The principal increase in the quarter h #715.M7

Customs Property by The principal decrease has been in-. #849,879 197,303 . . . . . . Crown Lands 17,000 10,000 The increase on Excise for the quarter was only 6,7631.

and in the Post-office 2000/., the deficiency of the latter for the year being, as already stated, 13,0007

The Property-tax thus appears during the four quarters of the year—the previous quarter (that in which it first is seen in these tables) having been #218,864 $27,819

2th April, 1849

2th April, 1849

2th April, 1849

2th April, 1849 oth July, 1863 . 901,700
19th October, 1843 . 2047,994
19th October, 1845 . 2047,994
15th January, 1844
It will thus appear that though there has been, as above noticed, an increase over the corresponding quarter of 1843 of 197,203/, there has been a decrease as compared with the last quarter, of not less than 1,593,489.

This, no doubt, arises from the period at which the tax is usually collected.

Guizeto Appointment.—Charles Edward Murray, Faq., to be one of Her Majesty's Hon. Corps of Cen-tlemen-at-Arms, v. Hopkins, who retires.

Queen Christine is mear her necouchement. Her hus-band, Munos, who is the sen of a Swiss tradesman, fought based, Munos, who is the son of a Swiss twiceman, fought in the streets of Faris, in 1850, on French pay.

The Duke of Wellington "Napping."—At the conclusion of the Benguet at Windoor Castle, on the 26th ult. Here Majesty and elvines Albert, with their distinguished guests, retired as usual, to the green drawing-room, the Queen's private band being stationed in the adjoining apartment (the sprimes of drawing-room), the folding doors of which were given from the private apartment of the evening Her Majest left the private apartment arm-in-arm with the Duke of Wellington, and scatted herself, with the Duke of Wellington, and scatted herself, with the Duke on Wellington, and surrounded arm-in-arm with the trace of weating-on, and surrounded self, with the Duke on her right hand, and surrounded by the Court, near the band. After listening to the performance of two or three compositions, the Gacen rose from her seat to retire, a mercapent which was, of course, followed by the whole of this Royal party, with the exception of the Duke, who had fullen into a profound map. Her Majesty, smiling; and evidently eploying the involuntary forgetfulness of his Grace, playfully tapped the Duke on his shoulder with her knounts, which speedily broughs him from a state of momentary oblivion to perfect consectourses, when the Queen, with a gracious smile (amidst the suppressed titterings of the illustrious guests), made his irace a low curtisty, and taking the noble warrior's arm in the most kind and affectionate manner, and laughing the while, proceeded from the crimon to the green drawing-room, where toffee was served. by the Court, near the band. After listening to the per-

The Duke.-An anecdote is told of the manner in which His Grace got rid of the proposed New Infantry Change He attended her Majesty with one in his dispatch-box, and after transacting other business, pulled out the hat, thrust it on his head—the point nearly reaching-his Grace's non-and in his heaty manner said "Madam, this is the hat. I fear it wont do-no shape at all, Madam." The Queen smiled, and replied-"No, Duke; I do not admire the hat." Armed with the Rayal power, the Duke forthwith counter-ordered the Int.
The Duke of Graffon has resigned the Lord Lieutenantoy of Suffeit, and the Marquess of Bristol has, we Meye, been appointed in his stead. Maj. Gomeral F. J. T. Johnstone, C.R., Bengel Cavalry, brother of Bir Alexander Johnstone, died gesterdage.

General Courte D'Alexander de la Francise
Courte on the 1981 of December. His zon Courts Afred, now Comite d'Orsny, was called from England thrye weeks ago to the death-bed of his father.

The removal of the equations varue of George III. from the spot it formerly occupied in Cockspur-street to the new side in Trafalgar-square, has just been completed.

Sir Peregrine Muitland, Governor of the Cape of Good Flope is expected to embark on Monday, to enter upon his official duties.

The Hon. Captain Rous is recovering from the effe of his late excident. It has been incorrectly stated that the minfortune was occasioned by the gun bursting, which was not the case; it exploited while in the act of reloading, and the ramrod wounded the finger (since amputated), seriously lacerated the system, and somally passes through the rim of his lat. The Captain's meane was almost miraculous; hat his head been a tride more advanced, the connequences must have been fatal. He will vanced, the consequences must have been fatal. He will not lose the sight of the injurid eye.

New Poilis Arrangement for 1844.—In no department of the public revenue have so many improvements been made of late years as in that of the General Postoffice, in consequence of the facilities afforded by the rapid progress of stann intriguition and railways. To the commerce of this great individually country the introduction of locomotive power since 1820 has proved of the greatest importance. Our well-built steamers now cross the wide Atlantic to America and the West Indies, Portugal, Spain, down the Middlerraness to Egypt, and the Indian seas; up the Raffie to St. Petersburgh, to Hamburgh, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Octand, Calair, Boulogne, burgh, Rotterdam, Anturry, Ortand, Calaire, Boulogne, Dieppe, and Havro de Grace, and run daily like a trip to Gravesend; whilst by the meens of railways we are convayed in a few hours to inland towns of England and Soutland, which formoffy cocupied days and nights of dreary travelling. The following is the official list of Gravesesed; whilet by the means or ransways we are conveyed in a few hours to inland towns of England and Scotland, which formerly cooupied days and nights of decay travelling. The following is the official list of Proto-office strangements for the present year, which came into operation January J, and the postage on foreign letters, which no doubt will he interesting to the public:—Caiste fishly (Sundays excepted), does in London vally; Ostend, Stohay, Tuescay, Tuescay, Tuescay, Tuescay, Tuescay, Sunday, and Friday, he shades, and Tursday; Amenday, and Friday, due Bunday, and Saturday, by shoan-packagt from London; Vigo, Oporto, Lisboo, Caika, and Sibolay, Tuescay and Friday, due Tyrinday and Saturday, by shoan-packagt from London; Vigo, Oporto, Lisboo, Caika, and Sibolay, by the overland of the lat of the month, by steem-packagt sea Southampton, to Malta, Egypt, India, and Hong-Rong, by the overland oldest mail who Haristiles, on the 4th of the month. Hritten and fessing colonies in the West India, and Hong-Rong, by the overland oldest mail who Haristiles, on the 4th of the month. Hritten and fessing colonies in the West India, and Hong-Rong, Bernauda and St. Jago de Cuba, on the 17th only the month, security in the capular January, February, and March, and two units of the State State

The Newvis.—We understand that the marrative of "The Veryages and Services of the Newvisio, from 1840 to 1845," is prepairing for immediate publishments from the notes of her late Commander, W. H. Hill, R.N. (of the Fictoria and Albert yacht); and from personal observations made in China and other publish by W. D. Bernard, Esq., A.M., &c. The work, distinct testinishing an accurate description of the number of interviews interviews in the original interview in the limit during the period above meditioned, will comprise a complete history of the origin, program, and terminates of the late swents in China; the disting all the people, and the groupests of our faints behavior of the people, and the groupests of the finite lates with them. The Newsie.—We understand that the harrative of Kong, &c. It will also contain notices of some of the Portuguese slave settlements at Monambique, Delagon Bay, &c.; with observations on the Comoro Islands, &c.; togather with some remarks on the peculiarities of iron steam, vessels, and their advantages upon an enemy's coast. It is always gratifying to mention instances of good feeling in our commercial transactions with other nations, feeling in our commercial transactions with other nations, and the following is equally creditable to the donors and the recipient. Mr. Edward Pashley, who, during the last 13 years, has regularly taken charge of the London and New-York packet-ships to Portsmouth, uses on Wednesday last complimanted with an elegant silver tea-service—the gift of the different Captains on the line. A dinner was at the same time given him at the London Coffeebouse, Ludgate-hill, which was attended by Captains Moore and Hobert, of the Hondrick Husson and Quebeo, and Massers. Phillips and Tiolady: after which Captains moore and Reterd, of the Hondrick Hudson and Quebes, and Mastra. Phillips and Tiplady; after which Captains also the Captains, presented the tea-service, which is inscribed as follows:—"Presented by the Commanders of the New-York and London line of packet-ships to Mr. Edward Pashley, as a sincere token of their respect for him as a man, and esteem as a pilot. 1st January, 1844."—Shipping Gasette.

The Sale of Lieutenant Munro's Effects .- Contrary to very general expectation, the sale was allowed to proceed on Wednesday without Interruption. The auction commenced and was carried through without Mr. Wakley's appearance. The company was not numerous.—[We understand that the coroner has impounded the produce of the sale for the band of the next the coroner. of the sale in the hands of the auctioner.]

It does not appear that the statement which has been but forth by several of the papers with something like authority, namely, that Lieut. Munro would surrender this session and take his trial at the Old Balley, has any foundation in truth. No notice of any such intention has been given to the Officers of the Central Criminal Court, nor is it likely, under all the circumstances, that there will be.

Lieut. General Loveday.—This gallant and venerable Officer, whose death at Bath was notified in our Gazette of the 23d ult., married Miss D'Reterre, sister to Mr. Norcott D'Esterre, who was killed by Mr. O'Connell in a duci near Dublin, in 1815, and by whom he had a numerous family.

East India Direction.—A vacancy having occurred in the Court of Directors —A vacancy having occurred in the Court of Directors of the East India Company by the death of ,W. S. Clarke, Esq., Mejor Olfbhant and Mr. Whiteman have offered themselves as candidates. Mesars. C. W. Smith, W. L. Melville, and W. J. Eastwick have declined proceeding to the ballot on the present occasion.

Selling Meat not fit for Human Pood .- Rochester, Jan. 1.--This day the Rev. Henry Winter, chaplain to the Fortifude convict ship (and occupying two farms), together with Mr. Geo. Bassett, army butcher, residing in Bigh-st., Chatham, appeared before the magistrates to answer informations charging them with disposing of an heifer, on 25th Nov. last, which died of disease on Mr. Winter's farms, and was unfit for the food of man, the of Henry III. The court was densely crowded with respectable lababitants. After hearing the evidence of two butchers and the head servant of Mr. Winter, the Court being informed by the clerk that some very important witnesses were prevented attending this day, adjourned the investigation until the next sitting. From the known respectability of the defendants, the magistrates bound, th em over, in their own recognizances, in the sum of 40% each, to appear on Friday (yesterday).

Brutal Attuck.—On the 17th ult., about 10 o'clock in the evening, at one of the Officers belonging to Her Majesty's ateam-vessel Volenno, stationed as the guard-ship. in Kingstown Harlour, was walking by the side of the rallway communicating with Bublin, he was attacked by three radians, who knocked him down, and after a severe struggle, in wh sich they cut and bruised him, they took the gold band from his cap and rifled his pockets of their nontimes, and it is supposed they thought he was dead, as contents, and it is supported the left him someless.

along about an hour s they test him nemeless. A peliceman happened to come along about an hoar afterwards and accompanied the Officer along the line. They had not proceeded far before they met one of the rusham, and succeeded in taking him into cessedy. Upon his person was found a Postofice order and a peachnife, which formed a part of the property. The man (William White) has been committed for trial. A policeman happened to come

The Repealers and the State Trials.—"We believe," may the Bratesman, "that nothing has given buch extin-fallian to all intelligent, loyal, and found-headed men as faltion to all intelligent, loval, and sound-headed men as the assertion of the LAW above mob force and guiltiness. How while the law is being sacropt, and military force likelying the necessal power, what is the language of the imministing force. Anything like shrinking now on the part of the Government would only after a triangulate the Replicing who threaten a fearful convaision and vehicles as the sum missequences of O'Council's consistent and publishment. Some missequences of O'Council's consistent and publishment. Some missequences of O'Council's consistent and publishment.

this spirit, let us look at the Nation's version of Holer's Hymn to the Sword, which we subjoin :---

"What rights the brave? The swe What frees the slave? The sword | What cleaves in twain The despot's chain, And makes his grees and dungeons vain? The sword! CHORUS. "Then cease thy proud task wever, While rests a link to sever; Quard of the free, We'll cherish thee, And keep thee bright for ever!
"What checks the kneve! What emites to save?
What smites to save?
The sweet!
What wreaks the wrong
Unpanish'd long,
At last upon the gullty strong? Then couse thy proud task never, &c.

"What shelters right? What makes it might?
The aword I
What stylles the grown
Of tyrings flow.
And showers with its facilities frown?

"The sword in the fault their frown?

The sword!

"Then count thy proud their never, but he know thus, good sword!

We'll die to die, glood sword!

Leap forth to light It synante, maltrust our arms to wield their right, Good sword!

"Yes, manne."

Andi "Yes, peace thy proud task mover my proof task while rests a first to sheer Quant of the tries. We'll chartes thee, And keep thee bright for ever!"

Marlborough Street. Privilege. A summons having been obtained against the coschium of Count Follow, the Sardinian minister, for radusing to pay the reward ad-judged to the firemen who attended to artingulah a fire which occurred at that minister's studies, the Count, in which occurred at that minister's stubles, the Count, in the exercise of his privilege as a foreign minister scenarioted to this court, ordered his coaching not to obey the aummons, and the magistrate decided that, is the severalt was part of the establishment, and as Count Pollon had pleaded his privilege, the summons must be cancelled.

The Greenage Tragedy.—Sarah Gale, the companion of the notorious Greenaces, and who, for the robbert of his unfortunate distinctions.

his unfortunate victim, was sentenced to transportation, is living at Port Philip as assistant in a confectioner's shop. She is described by a person who recently saw in that colony as having regained her health looking very comely; her haggard appearance at her trial showing the relies of a countenance of considerable prior attractions.

Haymarket.—Those two public favourites, Charles Matthews and Madame Vestris, whose names had for some weeks past crased to figure in the bills of this theatre, from reasons diversely explained, made their re-appearance on Saturday night, when both were received with two distinct rounds of hearty applaute.

We copy the following jew d'expett from the playbili of the Haymarket pantomime: "The public is respectfully informed that the little dog mentioned in the enginal story has been omitted, for fear the animal's attractor might render the manager liable to the penaltics of the 24 and 3d of Victoria, cap. 47, sec. 56, by which it is enacted that no person within the districts of the Metropolited police, shall "use any dog for the purpose of drawing or attempting to draw," &c. &c.

Foreign and Colonial Intilligence.

FRANCE. - The National publishes the following datality relative to the fact of the Prince de la Mostrowa (Ney having resigned his commission in the Army (see V. d. M. Gusette 30th uit.):—" The Prime de la Markovi has been for a long time a chef d'escadron (Major of Cavalry), impatiently waiting for promotion; he tauthred his resignation several mouths since to the Minister of his resignation several months since to the Minister of War, who induced him to change his resolution, by assuring him that in a short time he would be promoted. The period appended having expired, the Prince waited on Marshal Solit, and asked him if he had forgotten his promise. The Marshal replied, that it was his anxious with to have performed it and he added, that inothing bould have given him greater pleasure than to have provid to the son of Ney that he was not unusindful of sing friendship which strated between him and his old countrie. Fin had given his word, and he wished to observe it, but in invincible obstacle had the Minister's hand. The Prince de la Markour tohir the first amortuative to complain to invinciose oceacie ness the manuter's hand. The l'ince de la Moskowa tobichis first opportunity to complain to the Dire de Nimosire, who reglied, that it was impossible to promote these who gave a systematic opposition to this Government. We should have perfectly understood the mode of reasoning, had the Dire de Nimosire declared, 'Your company their minish at units had in the Chamber mode of reasoning, had the Due de Nemoure declared,
You-command very much at your esse in the Chamber of Peers, of the Jockey Club, or behind a plane; your comrades perform their duty, which is often a painful side, in gurrians towns; you so not suffer any of the fiberals of your profession, and you decrees control if you liberals that your name or your rank of Peer of France gives you a right to promotion which you do not deserve. And it belonged to the Minister of War, and not to the Due de Nemoure, to distinguish infraem fibre him, and it has been did not. Included a decree the fifther of Prince to Towns. The mains the Prince to Towns. Included a decree the Minister and his Substitute. What, therefore, must be Minister and his Substitute. What, therefore, must the Army think when it finds that it is not its legal chief which it is bound to obey, but a Prince spon whom the Charter has conferred no power?"

Russia.—The measurems, which the Emperor has caused to be erected at Kowno, in commentaristics of the events of 1813, was languarated on 10th New. The construction is of bage size, and on the front are these words, taken from the Emperor Alexander's fliet, manifesto, on the opening of the Russian manpaign well-flied is against the aggressor; "and on the opposite side..." In the year 1812, and also then 70,000 hoatile trough periahed in Russia, and only 70,000 were able to configure. Before which lately test plans in the East of the Companies.—Schamyl, the Chief of the powerful tribs of the Russian Schamyl, the Chief of the powerful tribs of the Russian were estimated in the heginning of Saga, into the district of the tribe of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of Koise. The tribe of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of Koise. The tribe of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the tribe of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the tribe of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the fact of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the fact of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the tribe of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the fact of the Averes, who inhalls the valley of the fact of the fact of the powerful the fact of the fact neurs Column wasting attention, at the heat of a but-talide, by a forced march from Chuneak, to the relief of Ungoula. This force was attacked by Schamyl with his entire Army in the gardens of a village, where the Rechans were encamped. After a determined reintance Resident were encomped. After a determined reductive the antire Resident force, was put to the sword by the mountaineers. Wallet these events were justeing, M. Blak de Blaganan; the General commanding the province of Dagwesn; murebed from the fattiess of Tentis-Countachme, with all the disposable farm in could collect in the province, to attack Schamyl, but the loss of the fortrees of Ungoula, and the measure of Colonal Wasilahits battalion, forced the Russian General to take shelter in the fortrees of Chunak, where he were besteed by Schamyl, whose forces were increased by the segretary of the forces were increased by the population of the Avaras to 20,000 men. The Russian General, who feared that the termines of Temir-Chantechme, a most important place, might fail into the hands of the monutaineers widet it was destitute of the counterpart of the tands of the mountaineers whilst it was destitute of troops, made several attempts to force a signage through the ranks of the bestgars, in order to return to Temirobantschmis, which was his usual head-quarters, but he failed in all his attempts. Prives Argainski, another Russian General, arrived wish 5,000 men to the relief of the garrison of Chunash. At the approach of this force Schamyl raised the siege, and withdraw into the mountains of Tachenens, having compelled the active population of the Averas to follow him, first having laid waste the entire country. The loss of the Russians amounted to 3,000 men, unlongst whom were 45 Officers. The Tachetschenees captured 12 please of Artillery.

Spars.—Accounts from Madrid of the 27th ult, announce the first step towards the attempt to govern nounce the first step towards the attempt to govern shapletely. M. Gonzalez Brays read on that day to the Senate, and M. Mayane, the Minister of Justice, in the same terms read to the Chamber of Deputies, the ful-the National Guards; and 3dly, having accomplished those objects, to convoke again the Cortes, and demand from them a lift of indemnity, and an approbation of measures which they had considered it a duty to adopt for the welfare of the country. Simila the Cortan refuse to sention them, they are to be immediately Uritus Svetus.—The Magnet of the Mercelery of the Navy represents the Placel Steen, of the United States as aunisating of —1 ship of 120 gaps; 9 ditto, 90 game etch; 1 resee, 92 ditto; 12 frigates, 52 ditto; 90 game etch; 2 ditto; 93 ditto; 15 frigates, 52 ditto; 6 ditto; 50 ditto; 15 ditto; 16 ditto; 16 ditto; 16 results of smaller velocis. The steamers are 6, three of which are frightes. There are 4 First Class sloope on the stocks. Also 11 brigs and schooners, and 4 store and resulting ships in the stocks. All are nearly ready fire immersing. Totals, 70 seconds.

The tron state-definite Medicages kas just been immedial lies lake-Service, in Medicages kus just been immedial dier 16 game, bet et griecht terthe two 61 Faithaos, stell feigr 22 pound described to described to there are proposed —— Untrup Spates, -- The Report of the Secretary of the Count of Africa—4 sloops, 8 brigs or schooners, and 1 store-ship; in till, 7: Brazil const—2 frigates, 3 sloops, I bilg, and 1 store-ship; in all, 7: Poetfo—3 frigates, 4 sloops, 7 brigs or schooners, and 1 store-ship; in all, 10. East Indice—2 frigates, 2 sloops, 1 brigs, and 1 store-ship; in all, 6. The Labor-1 steamer. Special Service—The Steamers, Mississippi, Princeton, and Union, and a small from stanter.

The lack of funds, the Secretary may that many workmen had been discharged, and an increase is recommended in entered braziolack.

Bast India Enteligence.

Monthly Summary.—Sickness throughout the month has been fearfully provident in all party of Science; and, out of a force of above 18,000 mean, it seems doubtful if at any time, for these six weeks past, 2000 could have taken the field. The sold sesses has set in, and matters six happily new hogishings to mend. It was starming trough to find our posts, all save Hyderebad, aspeced to the Schoolhed Myenthiners in front, cand out off by the Indis and the desert front saw leavenged them to a man. It. M. and hills might have destroyed them to a man. It. M. and hills might have destroyed them to a man. It. M. and hills might have destroyed them to a man. It. M. and h. together with the lat Grandlers, have, since our last, arrived at the Presidency from Eurobes. The 13th N.I. him replaced the inter, and a wing of the Europeans sept thither for their thatth decapted the quarters of the former. Ambuget the double, which are upon the whole comparability few if manbor, have to be recented those of Maji Parker, and Lient. MacLachlan, of H.M. and the first programs. A Revolution, Sth N.I. Lient. Thomson, 20th N.I. Lient. Thomson, 20th N.I. died yesterfay at Bombay, having just returned from Science in a state of extreme sickness. No Military operations have taken place, in the course of the month. Mattew in the Punjanb bagin to attende once more a troubled as most extender of the insurphing Kindyne chief into our lands has not been followed by the pacific contents calls have been efficiency weather the most actions of the most contents calls have been officially samprined as them to be actioned to the most actionary form and troughts a shout to be made in the morth-west provinces, where a fuery forms of Herne and Foot Artillery, with thout 50 gams, from 4000 to 5000 Cavalry, regular and tregular, betwirt 3000 ind 4000 of H.M. a furces, and 12,000 to 15,000 N. I.—in all an Army of above 25,000 men, have been ordered to assemble and sonstitue the pot the set of the servence of the second and sonstitue the pot the servence of t Monthly Summary .- Sickness throughout the month 25,000 men, have been ordered to necessible and consti-tute the not very hapfily named "Army of Excitetes." The Panjady and Gwallor—one or other, or both—are believed to be the sums of operations for this splendid force,

From China we have intelligence of Soth Rept. Everything remained peaceable, but sickness cancinged to be extremely, in many cases fittelly, prevalent. All Henry Pottinger had arranged a supplementary treaty with the Court of Pekin, containing some wise and salutary provisione, to prevent the Imperial mind from being distracted by the residence of foreigh Embassies at the capital—an arrangement so anxiously desired apparently by America and France, and so likely to produce misunderstanding. The Governor-General, it is said, to shout to leave Calcutta for the north-west province. Home of the Hadres troops near Sectindershall have of late been soffering severity from choiters. The soid season has set in, and throughout the Company's disminious passes and contentment appears to reign supresses. The intelligence contentment appear, to reign suprems. The intelligence from Affghanistan is so conflicting and contradictory that it scarcely requires a notice in our abstract.—Hombay' Timer. Duc. 1.

Pechanish.—Dhoeria Khan, Chief of the Oodoosies assembled his clam or tribs on lessing of the death of Maharejah Shere Sing, and strongly recommended to them anjattack on Pechanist, with the view of effecting a resolution in the Government. On hearing this, Pear Mahomed Khan, brother of Saltan Mahomed Khan, went to Dheeria Khan, and having placed the Koran between him of the succession of Dhullesp Sing to the throne, and that everything had been successfully brought into order; also that a large force was on its way to Perhawar, in the hope that his doing so might induce the Dost to relinquish his attack on his province.—Delhi Gnætte, Nou. 4.

Kurrachee and Hyderabad.—We regret to learn that sickness continues steadily and rapidly on the increase throughout Scinde. Our intelligence from Kyderabad is dated 25th October. In the course of a single fortnight the 21st Regiment of Native Infantry, quartered at the former place, had become completely disorganized, nearly the whole of the officers. Europeen and Native, with about 400'r. and f., being in hespital. The regiment had been withdrawn from line duty altogether for the present. The 3rd Cavalry had scarcely an officer fit for duty, and Maj. Stack and Capt. Oldfield had been slarmingly lil. Threefourths of all the men, Europeans and Natives, were suf-fering from fever. The medical men were suffering as saverely as the others; Drs. Chatterton, Allender, Styles, Dest, Sproul, Trestrail, and Carter, were all of them very Nor was this state of matters confined to the line of the Indus : it was reported by the Natives that through. cout the country nearly ene-third of the whole population was ill of fever. Nor is any relief poked for so long as the present south wind continues to blow; when it verse round to north, as it is expected very shortly to do, and brings with it the freeliness of the mountain air, then it is believed that all will go well.

Kurrachee, Nov. 16.—Sickness smonget the troops has, I am sorry to say, rather increased since my last. The 28th has 200 in hospital again, the Highlanders 90, the 2d Europeans 104, and Artillery 18. Several deaths the 2d Europeans 104, and Artillery 18. Several deaths have occurred. On the 10th the lady of Capt. Hawkins, 8th N. I., and on the 11th Lieut. MacLachian, of H.M.'s 28th; and since then two men and two children of the 78th. The Secotive anchored off the Point yesterday afternoon; about 450 biggarees (adolies), goundles (magons), and sociars (carpenters), have disembarked from her. The Bundes and other public works ought to advance apace now with this great increase of hands. A dawk runner between this and Hyderabad was a short time back halted on the road by a hand of Bulgophase. time back halted on the road by a band of Beloochees, bound to a tree, and his pookets opened and the letters thrown about the road. The man coming in the opposite direction to relieve him of the pagkers, or rather to exchange letter-bags with him, found and released him from his unpleasant situation. I believe mone of the letters were destroyed. A wing of the 28th, having 30 sick, embark to-morrow for Bombay In. the Semetric. Poor fellows, they must be happy in leaving this accurred country, where so many of their comrades, wives, and country, water so many of their commans, week since for Mandavie, see it was said to bring over the head quarters, and part of the wing of the 2d Europeana to Kurrachae. Every preparation has been made for their reception. Three companies of the wing now here moved out into tanth, and the harracks which they left have been cleaned and Redd up as an hospital to receive the sick—said to be is many as 250! Fearful accounts of the sickness at Hyderabad still continue to be received.

Nov. 22 .- The Augkland arrived yesterday morning off the Point, and last evening about ten o'clock the wing of the 13th N.I. arrived in camp from her. The re-mainder of the 28th will embark in her to-morrow, and in the evening, I believe, she will sail for Bombay. Pluto arrived early this morning with the 2de Europeans (or part of them) from Bhool; the sick are now coming to the two barrock-rooms which were put in readiness for them some time ago-there appears a great number of them; all the spare doolies and bearers, carts, and kajawahs, in camp, are in requisition for their conveyance. What an unhappy and miserable plight for a smart young regiment to be placed in! Ere yesterday another and occurrence took place—Lient. Wiseman, of the 2d European Lt.-luf., put an end to himself while labouring under delirium...-he had been so for soveral days, and finding a favourable opportunity shot himself with a platol through the heart. He was interred in the evening, and followed to the grave by the whole of his wing, and a great many Officers of all the other corps in camp—the band of the Highlanders was present. Sir C. Napier, I understand intends starting from hence in the first week of Dec., and will trace two guns and a wing of Kuropeana (the High-landers, it is said), as also his own troop of Auxiliary Horse. He goes by a new route through the hills for the Horse. He goes by a new route through the hills for the purpose I mentioned before, and will, at the same time, have an eye to select an eligible spot for a convalescent station. These markedge used to plunder and destroy the mail, and mureer the runners. I have not heard lately how the troops at Hyderabod are getting ou, but I am happy to say those here are decidedly mending; the hospitals are becoming thinner, though four or five deaths have occurred since my last. I have just learned that 120 cnly of the 2d. Europeans came over in the Plate, and they all sick in the hospital; two died on board last night. When they left Mandavic, scarcely a dozen men of the wing were fit for duty. The baggage of the 28th is now being shipped. The 1st, or Lealie's, Troop Horse Artillery is on its way from Hyderahud for this place.

The Punjuub -The apprehension of the interference of our Government had apparently damped the ardour of the patriots of the Panjaub so far as to cause them for a to suspend the out-throat operations in progress shortly before the date of our last. The troops, not having received the large gratuities promised them by Heera Singh, threatened to take the law into their own hands, and help thomselves. The Rejah Goolamb Singh, a powerful hill chief, who had in reality been sick, and was reported to be insane, arrived at Labord from Jumboo on the 10th, with 20,000 of his hill men, to back the government of his neighbour, and at once assured the mutineers that unless they put up with what they had got, and remained subordinate, he would compel them to obey him. It is supposed that they will avoid collision, but that they probably may disperse themselves throughout the country, and commence pludging on their own account. Nearly the whole of the European Officers patronised by Runjest Singh have been dismissed the service, or expressed their flesire to resign. This augurs ill for a continuunce of pestes. Strong brigades of Brillsh troops are to be placed along our frontier from Perozephre Loodianah, to be commanded by Major-General unter. This, at all events, is a prudent precaution. A report of the assaultation of Doet Mahomed, by the contrivance of the Ameer of Bokhara, has been recently current; but although told with the greatest circumstantiality it turns out to be unfounded. The state of Aff-ghanistan under that Chief is understood to be little more settled than that of the Panjaub, the Chiefs being pretty nearly their own masters in their own districts, and no union being possible smonget them, unless for the take of plundering their neighbours.—Calcutta Englishman.

A. Ferosepore letter gives the following :- " I have opened this letter to give you a little Lahore news, this moment received. Heers Sing is in the Fort with his own trongs, and Liens Sing Majestes and Shan Sing, the father, of New Nehal's widow, have attacked the place with a large force, and upwards of 100 guns. I knew the Seikh Chiefs would not put up with these low caste Pahareas much longer, and allow them to be the war-makers of the Punjant. Had the Sirders atood up sooner, they would have saved the chief men of their party—Lena Sing Sindeewalla and his nephaw Ajest; however, I think now Uttar Sing will be sent for and placed on the Guddee." Bengal Herbarn, Nov. 18.

Lahore,-We learn that the redoubted Rajah Goolab Singh, whose madness was a temporary sickness of but little consequence, had positively reached Labore on the evening of the 19th, wist. In consequence of the late eventful tragedyone exists was fixed on his entry into the city, and he proceeded at once to his own palace. On the moroing of the 11th he received all the Sirders, and assured every one of his favour and good-will, but exressed his firm determination to resist the demands the soldiery at Labore, made on the promise of Rajah Heera Sing for an increase of pay, and to come to blows with them sooner then permit this to be carried out. As he has brought 22,000 hill-troops with twenty pieces of cannon, it is more than likely the Seikha, with all their buasting, will have to submit, though we can well con-ceive it will be with the worst grace imaginable, and their determination to disperse and plunder will probably be determination to disperse and plunder will probably be hastened by this step of Rajah (loolah Singh, to whom it would appear his nephew has at once concelled the su-preme authority. We learn from other sources that the services of two of the French Officers, Colonels H. Monton and Augustus Lafont, have been dispensed with, and, what is more symptomatic of the real state of affairs, that General Ventura has himself solicited permission to resign, and is about to return to France.

Guallor.—The stairs of this state are evidently drawing to a crisis, and will soon be definitely settled, if not by negotiation, certainly by force of arma. "It appear that two strong parties have formed at the capital, o which, with many of the influential chiefs at its has inclined to yield to the demands of the British Governments and the other, headed by the widow of the late Maharajah, and supported by a powerful body of troops, is opposed to any compromise, and determined to come to extremities. The several regiments intended for the Army of Exercise, which is now generally known to have been organised for the purpose of secreting the state of Gwalior, notwithstanding its singular denomination, has been put in motion, and everything seamed to batchen war, when suddenly the seizure by the party friendly to British interests at Gwalior, of the person of the Khasgeswallah, whose surrender was one of the conditions of peace, seemed to have smoothed down all difficulties, and ditions of orders were issued countermending the march of almost orders were issued countermanding the maron or amountil the troops which had been put in motion, under the impression, no doubt, that the de facto Minister, now a prisoner in the hands of our friends, would be immediately given up. Circumstances, however, which see not as yet fully explained, seemed to have accurred, which have led to the issue of orders for the immediately assembly of a hody of troops fully adequate to sweep the State of Sindeesh from one end to the other in the course of a couple of months. An immense hattering train has been prepared at Agra, the Commander-in-Chief is on the spot to take the chief command, and the various corps are moving towards their destroation. The Cavalry and Artillary from Meerut, Nussecrabad, &c., will meet at Mattra before the end of the month; most of the Infantry regiments will be at Agra about the same time—a large detachment of Cavalry and Infantry is already assembled at Jamese in Bundelkund. Nothing but instant submis-sion can save the state of Gwalior from the conditions which its resistance to the earlier propositions of the British Government will now render it necessary to im-pose. The Governor-General has in the Sindh papers expressed himself strongly averse to the levying of tribute from states in alliance with the British Government in India; we may therefore infer, with every probability of being correct, that a cession of territory will be demanded in paymont of the expenses incurred in the present armament. More than probably the result of this large assem-blage of troops will be known before we despatch our next summary.—Delhi Gazette.

A letter from Bellary informs us that cholcra is making sad Mavor at that station. Lieut. T. A. Turquand, 3rd Light Inf., we regret to observe, fell a victim to the disease on 17th inst., which casualty promotes Eus. F. M. Haultain, of the same corps.

The Officers of the respective Armies of the Indus and Candahar have presented General Avitable with presents of plate in acknowledgment of his hospitality and generous treatment of British Officers during the years 1839-40 and 41, and subsequently whenever the occasion offered of his Candanar mass, presented Jeneral Avitable with presents of plate in acknowledgment of his hospitality and genrous treatment of British Officers during the years 1839-40 and 41, and subsequently available.

General General of India in Council having recolved, at the recommendation of his Baoel, the Councin-Ciner, on the addition of a corps to be stylest tiel. Left Wing to the Army of Exercise, a new disposition of the whole force has become necessary, and the troops are accordingly to be formed into divisions and brigades, and Blatf Officers attached to them in the manner set forth in the following detail. All appointments for the Army of Exercise, and staff Officers attached to them in the manner set forth in the following detail. All appointments for the Army of Exercise are to have effect from 28th inst., inclusively; and all such as lawy beam amounted hereinforce are cancelled by the present arrangement;—Brig. G. E. Gowan, Com., Capt. J. fl. M'umaid, hep., Assist. Adj.-tien.; and Capt. E. P. Day, Commissary of Ordfance. Cavury—Maj. tien Sir J. Thackwell, R.C.B., and K.H., Commanding; —, A.D.C.; Capt. J. Gray, Dep.-Assist. Quartern. Gen. Infantry—Int Riv.—Maj.-Gen. J. Gray, C. B.; Cupt. W. L. Turlor, A.D.C.; Capt. J. Gray, Dep.-Assist. Adj.-tien.; and Capt. H. Capt. J. Gupt. J. Gray, C. Bartis, C. Capt. H. M. Gravan, 16th Cremadiers, Dep.-Assist. Quartern. Gen. A. D.C.; Capt. P. Wite, S. Blaffi, Dep. Assist. Adj.-Gen.; and Capt. H. C., Capt. H. M. Gravan, 16th Grenadiers, Dep.-Assist. Quartern. Gen. A. D.C.; Capt. P. Wite, S. Blaffi, Dep. Assist. Adj.-Gen., and Lieut. N. B. Chamberlain, 16th Grenadiers, Dep.-Assist. Quartern. Jen. Brigade Slaff.—Cavalny—int Brig.—2 squadrons all H. M's 9th Inception of the State of State of State of State of State of the State of State

North-West Provinces.—General Order:—

"Head-quarters, Camp, Aliahabad, Oct. 10, 1845.

"It having been touch eccessary, as a precantionary measure to strengthen the frontier stations, keeping a strong support as Umballa, and as from the recent extreme sickeds of many of the carps in the Strikad division, this relief and support must be taken from the Regiments at present composing the Macrost division, and which it would be inexpedient to displace from those the Command of the General Officer of that station, his know, the Com, in-Chief hea, at the suggestion, and with the concurrence of the General Strike and it, it is the command of the Strike Strike Strike and the upon himself, during the partical the company districtions may be attaloated on the north-western frontier, or until further detern, the command of the Forces both in the Sirbind and the Meerat divisions. The usual reports and returns by the earps agar composing the division will, an hereture, he sent to Maj. Gen. Fast, but the whole Force, as well of the Sirbind as of the Meerat division, will obey all orders issued by Maj. Gen. Sir 2. Dick. Maj. Gen. Sir 3. Dick will take up, and remove his hund-quarters from those to time to augh points as he may deem heat calculated for carrying istè effect the vices of the Covernor General in Louncil.

General Courts. Martal.—At Meerat, 19th Sept., 1848, on Licut. Augustus Henry Gerrard, 534 N L, for conduct highly desocuoung the character of an Others and a gentlemah, for having addressed grow and abusive imagenage to the lafe Lieut. the Hen. H. H. Pery, of the 21 Saropean Eag. Finding, Guitty. Bentence, To be Jimmissed. Recommended by the Court to the Character of His Exectlency the Com-lin-Chief. Approved and confirmed by the Communider-in-Chief, but centerior remittals.

At Laudour, on 4th Oct., 1843, pn Privates Jaremish Callepy and Jos. Young, of 1st European Light Ind., and John Barry, of 2d European Reg., for disgraceful soundard, in having attempted to the time dulivar, H. M. 5 at Light Dragoung, and his wife down a precipice. Finding, Guitty. Sentence, So be imprimoned for one year each, the 4th, 5th, and 18th months respectively to be solutary. Approved and confirmed by Communication.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c.

BENGAL.

Staff.—Capt. F. B. Evans, A.B.C. to his Excet, the Com., in.

Chief, appointed Postmaster at head-quarters, Capt. G. Tyler, Sad N.I., sip. Mej. of Brigade at Noerat; Bt. Maj. J. Croudaes, 11th N.I., sip. Mej. of Brigade at Noerat; Bt. Maj. J. Croudaes, 11th N.I., sip. Mej. of Brigade at Cawapore; Capt. P. Grant, 1rist Assatt, app. Mej. of Brigade at Cawapore; Capt. P. Grant, 1rist Assatt, app. First Assatt Adv. General of the Army, v. Grant, Assat, app. First Assatt Adv. General of the Army, v. Grant, Litent Cavalew.—tat Reg.—Cornet C. H. Nicholsto, posted-the-Cornet R. B. Mackool, to Livera v. Ward, dist.; Cornet A. V. Dumbieton, posted, 7th—Capt. G. R. Mackool of the Assatt Capt.

Antillany.—Lieut.—Col. E. Biddeth, resouved from jet and grant forms and report binacif to the Adjutant-Goneri, Antillany.—Lieut.—Col. E. Biddeth, resouved from jet and Brig. Horse Arill., and Lieut.—Col. C. Grabam from the latter to the former; Sec. Lieuts, H. D. Macaveca and D. M'Neill to proceed to Agra, and place themselves under Lieut.—Gol. Tunnent; Maj.-Gran. J. A. Bigge returned to his cuty from Bril, to Europe; Lieut. J. Young to proceed to Europe on med. cert.; Capt. G. Ellio leave to the hills for one year on med. cert.; Capt. G. Ellio leave to the hills for one year on med. cert., J. C. Bakin-apear, Kat., app. Assatt to Lieut.—Col. G. Grabam, C.S., transf. from 1st Brigade of tions Arill.; Walt.—Col. G. Recoke transf. from 2d Batt. to 1st Brigade of Horse Arill.; Maj. W. Gaddes poated to 3d Brigade of tions Arill.; Prit Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Europe on med. cert.; First Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Europe on med. cert.; First Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Europe on med. cert.; Pirst Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Europe on med. cert.; Pirst Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Europe on med. cert.; Pirst Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Burge on med. cert.; Pirst Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Burge on med. cert. Pirst Lieut. J. Money to Proceed to Parope on med. cert. Pirst L leave to the siles north on Dryfan for tweete mosses, un more certificate.

Engineer of Agra division of public works; bec. Liest. S. R. Sneyd and J. E. T. Nicolie to proceed to Agra, and await the orders of the Com.-in.-Chieg. Lieut. J. D. Cusaningham app. Sec. Assist. to Gov..Gen.'s Agest on N.W. frentier; Maj. H. de Buds deceased at Calcatta, 8th November.

IRFANTAT.—Lt. Col. G. Moore, prem. to Colongly. Maj..Gen. Macleud, K.C.B., dec.

RUROFRAN IRFANTAT.—1st. Reg.—Lieut.-Col. J. Robinson, transf. to 3pth N.I.; Ens. R. B. Bhamire, posted. 2d—Ens. E. Smalloy, removed at his awa request to 17th N.I., and Ens. F. W Brodie, to Sist N.I.; Ens. J. Mailie, J. F. Campbell, and J. Silver posted.

end Legion Staff of Bundgleund Legion. Sul-Lieut. D. E. Brawder, app. Ad., v. Trollene, res. the app. 62th—Lieut. G. J. Harpison, Inter, and Quarternessier, app. to disthere Budder hasser and Abkarle duties at Dinapres. Frd.—Capl. F. C. Misching of Government of north-western provinces. Seth—Engs. F. R. M. Gosset and C. Warde, attached to de offer, Sultime Ense. H. E. Smith and F. W. A. Hamilton, reserving at their own request to let to I. I.; Ense. J. J. Willes and A. B. Burge, princip. 72d—Leent, Davidson, dec. at Simila, 17th Oct., En. J. C. Curris, to Lieut. v. Davidson, dec., Ro. W. Gillon, posted. 22d—Ens. M. Crosse, posted; Br. Capt. E. K. Hopper, des. at Deshi, 17th Oct. at Oude Local Inf.—Lieut. and Ad. W. J. H. Charters, app. to act as 3d 10 cum., v. Davase, off. us Com: of the sorps.

rections. Type. Lower, Dawreton, etc., as Stories, 17th. Cort., Edward, Davidson, doc., fas., W. Cillon, posted. 2nd.—Eas., R. Crose, posted. Br. Capt. E. K. Hopper, etc., at Delhi, 17th. Cort. at Oude Local Inf.—Lieset, and Ad. W. J. H. Charters, app. to set as at an exam., v. Dawsen, offi. as Coun. of the worps.

Massical Evrapajanimary.—Burg. J. Surber, posted to sith Reg., and Surg. C. J. Mandemaki, srow the lative buile former curpassing. T. W. Surg., respect to duly from fast. to Stith. Reg., and Surg. C. J. Mandemaki, srow the lative buile former curpassing. T. W. Surg., respect to duly from fast. to Stith. Reg., P. Frienling, removed from 7pd and posted to 69th M. L. Assict.—Surg. A. White, M. D., posped to Sid M. L. Farg. J. Dallyrough. Br. Carloga for the vertice from the desire build of the fast of the surgery of the conference of the stiff N. J. Assict.—Surg. A. White, M. D., posped to Sid M. L. Farg. J. Dallyrough. Br. Carloga for the vertice from the service of the stiff N. J. Assict.—Surg. A. White, M. D., posped to Sid M. L. Farg. J. Dallyrough. Br. Carloga for the service from the service of the stiff N. J. Assict.—Surg. A. White surg. V. Miller, Bullon of Tylenot, and America—Surg. W. Millies powered to selff N. J. Assict.—Surg. A. White promoted to selff N. J. Assict.—Surg. A. White promoted to surg. V. D. removed from Staft L. I. Sala. and ponted to Spick Troop th Sirgded force Artillery.

Ohney. S. A. Assict.—Surg. J. France, Sala.—Surg. A. White promoted to Surg. V. D. removed from Staft L. I. Sala. and ponted to Spick Troop th Sirgded force Artillery.

Ohney. C. M. Pitzerrald, E. A. Salawedt, A. J. Belstord, M. P. F. Vorcert, J. J. S. Thooley, J. France, Donney, J. R. Partillery.

Ohney. C. M. Pitzerrald, E. A. Salawedt, A. J. M. J. Salawedt, Salawedt, CADRY ADMITTED TO TWO DESCRIPTIONS STREET OF S

HOMBAY.

BOMBAY.

Brass.—Capt. J. Reitidge, Engineers, app. Eng. to Dockyatd.
Liest. Wingsts, Engine to be Executive Eng. at Proma. v. Estridge. The services of Capts. Scott and Estridge, Sings., placed timporality at disposal of the Government of helada, for dary in that agains. Liest. Munber, Engin. app. Enge. Engineer at Abbidingagur. Liest. D. F. Morth, Hage., app. w. officiate as Civil Engineer in Candelah. The services of Lieut. M. K. Keffnety, Sec. Assist. to Superimendent of Roads and Tanks, placed at the disposal of the Commander in Chief.

PRONICLE.

med. cert. 3d—Licut. F. T. Taylor farlo, to Eur., can med. cert.; Capt. T. Ayre beave to Nétigherries, on mid. cert.; Cornet B. F. Moore decemend at Hydrenbad on the 1st November.

Autlantive—Bt. Jiout. Col. J. Licut. C.B., directed to juin the head-quatters of the Columbanea Battalon.

Resilvent The India, to Europe cranted in Licut. W. F. Marriats has been annotified, and that Officer appointed Adjutant and Assistant of the Chief Engineer.

Invastrys.—Mal. A. Crackieve to Licut. Celt. v. (shourne, dec. Europea The India, to Europe. Eng. H. Doly prought and Assistant of the Chief Engineer.

Invastrys.—Mal. A. Crackieve to Licut. Celt. v. (shourne, dec. Europea India, Celt. W. Barnwatz, poated; Capt. W. Barnwatz, —Mal. P. M. B. Tucker, a furl. to Europe. On Sud. Cert.; Licut. J. M. Wiserfan, dec., at Karachice, on seth of Movember. This officer shot historic with a pistod through the heart while in an unactined state of mind.

Natura Invastrative—Ind Gens. Rogt. has arbived at the Presidency from Kutzchee. 3d—Licut. J. W. Enhealder. Combonic Combonic is apprintenent of Chief the M. Done, the F. W. Josen, to proceed to Neiligherty Mille, un med. aert., Licut. Jol. (Res. Col.) J. Gibbon transf. in 11th H. I. Mass. W. M. Jugat. J. School, these fast artived at the Presidency Home Proma, Licut. A. N. Robertson, returned to the Presidency Home Proma, Licut. A. N. Robertson, to taxtured to the Presidency of the Col. and the Army Licut. V. Licut. V. Licut. So. of N. I. I Licut. D. Elekt furl. to Rosepe on med. cert. in the H. M. Mass. W. M. Jugat. D. Colt. M. E. Chiera. Au V. E. Chiera. Au V. Licut. V. Licut. V. Licut. V. Licut. V. Licut. V. Licut. So. of N. I. I Licut. D. Elekt furl. to Rosepe on med. cert. in the Army Licut. So. of N. I. I Licut. D. Elekt furl. to Reserve on med. cert. in the Colt. J. Robertson on the Army Licut. So. of N. I. I Licut. D. Elekt furl. to Rosepe on med. cert. So. of N. I. I Licut. D. Elekt furl. to Rosepe on med. cert. So. of N. I. I Licut. D. Elekt furl. to Rosepe on med. c

CHINA

Tun most prominent items of intelligence relate to the unicatchiness of Hong-Kong. Bosides Mr. Morrison, one of the first Chinese schulars of the day, the most disone of the bras Chinese somials of the any, the most dis-tinguished of the victims of the disease are F. R. Foots, Deputy Commissary-General in H.M.'s Service; Captain de Haviland, Her Majasty's 55th Regiment, &c. This is not only and, but is a considerable measure valooked for. The maladies of previous years have been ascribed to purely temporary or local causes—to the uneskilful agrange. ments for the landing of the troops, for the summer selec-tion of the sites of new habitations. These were matters tion of the sites of them habitations. These were flatters which it was hoped care would remove, or experience remedy. Notwithstanding the scope which has been afforded for the exercise of preclition—and it is not asserted anywhere that this has been described—the evils of a sickly climata, so far from being remedied, have become aggravated; and m no preceding year since we set foot in Hong-Kung, do the ravages of sickness seem to have been more severe than at present. The Emperor is said to have expressed his approval of the late commercial surrements, though the surrements of this is held doubtful agreements, though the suscrity of this is held doubtful by the journals. The subjoined extract from the Camba systements, though the ampeteres of this is held doubtful by the journals. The subjoined extract from the Canthu Praes of 23d Sept. gives an important item of intelligence:

"It is said that in the subjementary treaty about to be signed by her Mejest's Presiptiontary and the imperial Commissioner, the latter intends to introduce a clause, guaranteeing to all other nations the same privileges of Made and intercourse as granted to the English. This, we believe, will be done with the object of randering unnecessary any resewant negotializes setting on the Chinese Government and such agents as other sealone may send out to this somety, who will, on their arrival here, find all they may wish to claim already granted, we think this a wise measury, as China can by no means when to harbour in the country, and perhaps at Court, a corps of lorgin diplomation either to that which it is now the milatron of Judery, and Krypt to poseens. The poly diplomatic agenty of the country which there will be any permanent secentry, will be Courted to which there will be any permanent secentry, will be Courted to speciate on a Council (source) where the grade is of very great importance, as there assems to be no probability, for a while at trust, of foreign Ambusastions being received at the Imperial Court."

Sir Heary Pottinger considered the ratification of this of such importance that it was his intention to despatch is the dispersal of the Commander-in-Chief.

Le. Cavasav.—list Reg., Caps. J. Fenney furlo. to Eur., on the steamer with the treaty for Sueg direct as soon as it was not cert. 26—Caract C. il. Barnewell leave to Heligherine, on put in proper shape, This will in a great measure proillude the necessity of such formal and stately embassics in that now on its way from the United States. The latest letters describe the delight of the Court of Pekin at the conclusion now attained. The Emperor's professions of sinearity seem at dength to "have become so emphatic," that they are no longer doubted by the Pleniputentiary. He had enjoined the strictest conformity to the regula-tions by all his Officers and subjects; and with the will of the Sovereign emphatically made known, and our de-termination not for a moment to be trifled with sufficiently manifest, the servants of the most insincere and mends clous government on earth may for once find themselves compelled to manitain good faith with us, and to pursue a course of at least ordinary fair dealing, so new and so unusual in this country.

In consequence of the death of the Hon. J. R. Morrison, the Roy. C. Gutglaff, is nominated to the vacant nituation of Chinese Secretary to H. M.'s Superintendent of Trade and to the Government of Hong Kong. Mr. S. Majoribanks is confirmed in the medical charge of the Consulate at Canton, and is to be considered to have held that charge from lat of April last.

that charge from 1st of April nav.

(Correspondence continued from page 7.)

NAVAL PROMOTIONS.

To the Editor of the Navat and Military Gasette.

Sin,—When I look over that book of hooks, "The Navy List," (which makes some hearts joyful, others wondrous sad), I am puzzled when I son over the list of Captains, to see their names standing from the year 1808, down to the present time, to know why the Admiralty sllow Officers to be so long in one grade. Men who have attained the age of 70, (and for what I know upwards), of awained the age of 70, (and for what I know upwards), of nominally the same rank as the stripling of 22, but of equal rank with a young man of 25, if he has but interest. Through the medium of your widely-apread Gasotta, I, would auggest for the "powers above," that on the new year, they would make an alteration for the old boys who have it has not the hard the hard the hard the hard the hard the same of the same than have "braved the battle and the breeze." Take the first fifty on the list, and style them First-Class Commodores; the second fifty, Second-Class Commodores. Let the First Class was the uniform of a Rear-Admiral without the stripe on the cuff—the Second Class the same as at present. The half-pay of the First Class to be a guinea present. The half-pay of the First Class we be a guinea a day, and that of the Second, IRs. The First Class, when entered, to have a Captain under him—the Second only a Commander. I would also suggest that Captains above three years 'standing be termed "Captains of the "Line;" under three years, "Captains of Trigales," and those who are now styled Commanders, to be called "Captains of correctes;" and Lieutenants in Command "Captains of corvettes;" to be on a separate list, and termed Commanders.

Plymouth, Dec. 31. A WOULD-BE COMMODORS.

To the Editor of the Newal and Military Gasatta, Sin, - Your Editorial romarks of the 30th December, 1043, on the prontitution of the style of Captain, induce me to draw your attention to the subject of Navel rank. In a former islier of mine, I recommended that all Captains, now so styled, including Commanders, should be classed in three styledons, and styled Commodores, Vice-Commodores, and Rear-Commodores. 1st class to commend ships of the line; 2d, to command the large class frigates; 3d, to command all other nost ships.

three classes to take rank with het, Brigadier Generals; 2d, with Coloncie; 3d, with Lioutenant-Colonels.
The next alteration in style should be, that all Lioutenants of the Flest be styled Captains, in two classes: 1st, those in command of the present "sloops;" 2d. these serving on board fler Majesty's ships commanded by Commodores of the three classes. These Captains to rank with, 1st, Mejors in the Army; 2d, with Captains in the Army, and those Officers in opmound to have the pay of the present "Commanders."

All Maton to be styled Lieutenants, and appointed by Commission to the "sloops" under the 1st class of Captains. This class to rank mith Lientenants in the Army; and where serving in sloops, to have the pay of the present Lieutenants, and these appointments to be given to those Officers who have the strongest claims. Thus, Sir, our Naval Officers would hear appellations hus, Sir, our Naval Officers would been appellations intially Naval, and this could be effected without an increase in the expanditure.

A Window the course of a War. When the palace of Trianon was in course of erection, in the reign of Lovis XIV., that monarch went to inspect its accompanied by Louvols, the Secretary of Wer, and the superintendent of the bhilding. He remarked that one of the windows was out of shape, and amelier than the rest. Leavaist denied this and asserted that he could not perceive any difference. This king having had it artisured, and finding that he had judged rightly, treated Louvois in a contangulous manner before the whole court. This conduct so incomed this and the superintent of the very Rev. Blandan Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, to Macherian, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Canada, D.D., Singson in It.M.'s int Life, Louvols, the Secretary of Wer, and the superintendent of the bailding. He remarked that one of the windows was out of shape, and smeller than the rest. Louvois denied out or suspe, see smearer than the rest. Learnis defield this, and sweeted that he could not perceive any difference. The Life having had it measured, and finding that he had judged rightly, treated Louveis in a continuous manner before his whole court. This conduct of increased this Minister, that when he arrived at home he was heard to have that he would find button ministers.

MEMORY.

On I what is Blemory but a gift, Within a ruln'd temple left, Reminding what its heapitles

And then presenting what they

Ou! tell me not that Memory On theil ma not that Mannory Mada a joy o'er the past. Whatla reveal'd byfacied flowers Save that they would but last? Were it not better to funget. Than hat remember, and lagret Look back—e'en in your hours of spring,

What were your early years,
But scopes of childish cares as grids;

griffs ? And, say not, childish fears Are mathing : at the filling they More then the young beart well could bear. Go on to riper years, and ichik Upon your sunny spring, And from the wreck of long past

Our life is as a mountain path, A path of toll and pain, And when upon its rough ascen A little way we gain, What boots it turning back to trace The troubles that benetour race? But turns we from the many chords, That Memory can wake, Its faded hopes, its griefs, its In faded hopes, its griefs, its cares, And one chord only take—

That one all other man above;—
(b): heed I mane the name of Love?

'mid Lore's sorrows I will take

But one my proof to be,
Albert its wees are numbericus
As the same by the sea;
But one will prove Momory sent
On carth to be a pusishment.
Love, unrequited Love — the

And from the wreck or many prices

What will your memory-bring? Or else he early grave.
Adections wasted, pleasures Alest to them from Mamory's Med,
And hopes now number'd with the dead.

The Monthly Magazing. That owns it can but crave

Bank Stock, 1861 53 5 per Cent. Red. Anss., 972 a 85 per Ca. Red. Anss., 1822 3 Long Anss., Exp. Jun. 5, 1860, 134 41-16 Long Anss., 30 Years, Exp., Oct. 10, 1859, 12 9-15

India None India Bonds ander 1,0004., 79 91 Canola for Opg., 97 5 Exchequet Bills, 1,0004., 12d., 67 9: 14d., 67 9 Ditto, 6004., 12d., 67 9; 14d., 67 9

LOTTE KERR—At Cheint Church, Cawagore, Nov. 4. James in the New York, Nov. 1. Lieut. Corn. Brownen Thomas, 2nd N.J., to Eliza, charlet of the Labi J. Shaw, Eng., of irvine.

Aladron.—At Hangabers, Oct. 7. Lieut, John Cortes, 8th N.I., to Elizabeta, Shaw, Eng., of Irvine.

At Hangabers, Nov. 8. Libert, A. H. M. Chesan V. Questarmanter and Interp., 2nd Lt. Inf., no Martha, daughter of Mr. G. Brahar—At Trichindpoly, Nov. 1. Troman Weiter, Eq., Ad. of Reading —At Poona, Nov. 1. W. A. Gereniaw. Eng., 3nd Madrus N.I., to Capt. Bears, vidow of the late Capt. Bears, of the same corps.

Handay,—At Poona, Nov. 1. W. A. Gereniaw. Eng., 3nd Madrus N.I., to Esizabers, daughter of the late W. Maron, Eng., M.C.S.—At Commenced, Neighberty Hills, Oct. 7. Thromas Markey, and daughter of the late Capt. H. C. Jackson, Bondley, Hart., to Luque, widow of the late General Wether—At the Cathedral, Nov. 2n, Magra J. Dillon Browne, 1eth N.I., to Maria, eldest designing of the late W. T. Taylor, Eq.—Nov. 21, at the Cuthedral, C. H. Boyz. Ag., Boubay Army, to Harris, daughter of the late J. H. Bellenie, Eng., Bonbay Civil Service.

BEACHIE.

daughter of the late J. H. Bellenje, Req., Bonbay Civil Service.

Bengal.—At Duca, Oct. 17, of cholera, R. B. Duncan, Esq.,

Sarg. 48th N.I.—At Mussorie, Hept. 20, Rua. Wordward, of H.

M's 46th—At Simis, Oct. 17, Ijent. G. H. Davidson, Adj. 72d

N.I.—At Umbalia, Oct. 14, J. G. Jungers, Em. seth N.I.—At

Barrackpure, Oct. 25, Roward, child of Surg. J. T. Pearson—

At Galcutta, Oct. 24, in the 65th year of his age, Capt. Auracius

Gillert, Harbournaster of the Port—At Cape Town, Aug. 7, Welliam, von of Liebt. Arthur Quin Hopper, 24th Bengal N.I.—

At Barrackpore, Nov. 6, James, son of Lieut. A Turner, 1at N.I.

At Galcutts, Nov. 8, Maj. H. Da Budd, Bengal Engineers, aged 42 yarg—At Calcutta, Nov. 9, Mis Asiglia Le Vada, an out ward of the Millerty Opphan Institution, and daughter of the late Capt. C. V. Le Vade, Bengal N.I., aged 26 years—At Delhi, Roy. 18, Eliza, elicar daughter of Maj. Troup, 18th N.I.—

Agres, Nov. 18, the Wiss of Capt. P. Harris, 70th Bengal N.I.,

aged 37.

NOT. 18. Raira, elicas daughter of Maj. Troup. 15th N.1.—At Agra, Nov. 18, the Wiff of Capt. P. Harris, 70th Bengal N.1., aged 37.

Middens.—At Octacamound, Oct. 17. Charles, fourth son of Maj. John M. Boyes, 1st Madray N.V.H.—At Veltore, Oct. 20. Francis Juhn, son of Lieut. S. S. Coffu, 74th N.1.—At the Pracideory, Oct. 31. Charlet The Madray N.V.H.—At Veltore, Oct. 20. Col. 31. Canap. near Heaverram, no the banks of the Kistur, of cholers, May, wife of Capt. H. Pace, 30th N.1.—In Camp, Oct. 35. Am. Sur. C. H. Aucurthere, M.D.—At Nackapilly Oct. 26. Capt. C. Bond, 1st N.V.B.—At Octacamund, Nov. 1, Capt. G. 13. Minney, Bist Madray L.I., aged 40 years—At Fort St. Occupe, Nov. 9. Alexambus, youngest twin son of Dr. Lopaner.—At the French Rocks, Nov. 2. Frances, daughter of Publics. Hensington, 14th N.1.—At Karnol, Nov. 3. the infant Bon of Cornet Hoch, 7th L.C.—At Octacamund, Nov. 12, Surg. 9. Evokus, int Eu. 192. of Publiers—At Bellary, Nov. 16. Vei. Murr. W. H. Wormsley, Medical Department—At Kurnoul, Oct. 14. Kaiza, wife of W. G. Mich. Eq., 46th Madray N.1. 16. Vei. Henbrig.—At Mhow, Oct. 12. Capt. A. F. Bartiar, 36th Bomby M.1.—At Bagdad, Aug. 34, on hoard the H C.'s steam-vessel Mineyae, (b. A. F. Danvens, Exq., into Pirat Licut. in Portsmonth Division of St. Majriaca, aged 29 years—At Bellary, of shollers, Massagamer, Wife of Capt. S. F. Macketske, 2d Mading Cavility—At Assergiar, November 10, Maj. Gansus Moone. Str. Majriya—At Assergiar, November 10, Maj. Gansus Moone. Str. Majriya—At Assergiar, Nov. 30, Anneyw J. Thomson, 2Min M.1., aged 32 years.

Minchily Military Oblinary.—Generals—Morrison, Col. of 13th Mouley.

Marking, ath N.I.—At Kullangine, Nov. 26, Levina, infant daughter of Capt. Elchards, flat Reg., aged 17 months—At Hampert How, Nov. 30, Annusw J. Tromson, 22th N.I., ared by years.

Menship Military Obitsery.—Generals—Morrison, Col. of 13th F. and Governor of Chester, London. Loud Lynedoch, G.C.B., G.C.B. (G.C.M. (G., Col. of 12 F. and Gov. of Dumbatton Custle, London. Lieutenant-Generals—Bir John Taylor, K.C.B., Col. of 34th F., London; Blommart, Tunnton: Loveday, E.I. Comp. Serv., Bath. Major. Jonoreal Reliant, E.I. Comp. Serv. (Golonels—T. Weston, L.-p. 14th Gar. Batt.; Knight Residue, C.B., h.-p. Bradshaw's Levy; Ou Versiel. Siromed Bilirhead, h.-p. Rl. Staff Copps, Bunderholm. Lieutenant. Colonels—J. Wilkinsmoon, Compandant of R. Mil. Asplus, Chelson; W. R. Dickson, K.H., h.-p. Now Brunny. Pince and Assist. Adj. Gen. in Ganda. Queber. Majors—J. Lanthark, Ishe of E.I. Comp. Serv., Clavedon, near Bratol.; P. Crasics, E.J. Comp. Berv., Denapore. Captains—Bryan, h. p. Gran, Gde.; Gastiner, h.-p. 4th F.; G. Campbell, h.-p. 5th L. on Gran, Leg., Elithenheia, Hanvier; Mejer, h.-p. 5th L. in Batt., Genn. Leg., Elithenheia, Hanvier; Mejer, h.-p. 5th L. in Batt., Genn. Leg., Elithenheia, Hanvier; Mejer, h.-p. 5th Line Batt., Genn. Leg., Stilletheia, Hanvier; Mejer, h.-p. 5th Line Batt., Genn. Leg., Paysh Pr., Leutenanta—Knoliya, Std F., Scollegnet Elichard Harvey, Bl. Art., Jamaica, Mehand Brown, L.-p. 8th Mart., h.-p. 5th P., Leutenanta—Knoliya, Std F., Scollegnet Elichard Harvey, Bl. Art., Jamaica, Mehand Brown, Leg., Std Hertan, h.-p. 3th F., Leuten, h.-p. 15th F.; Leute, h., 24th F.; Capter, h.-p. 5th F.; Leute, h.-p. 4th F., Capter, h.-p. 5th F.; Leute, h.-p. 4th F.; Leute, h.-p. 15th F.

DOMESTIC COMPORTS.
DEAD'S PATENT STOMACH

DOMESTIC COMPARY.

DEAD'S PATENT STOMACH AND I REMA PUMPE, for removing Poisons from the hymanesh, alleviating costi veneme and other completion of the horse, have long enjoyed the repatition of being the heat and work parked lastruments of the kind of with offered to the Public, and especiment by the highest Medical Antherities being at home such shroad (refe the Life of Sir Asthy Cooper). This desinguished unique public hose imidalisms of Sir Asthy Cooper). This desinguished unique public hose imidalisms of Sir Asthy Cooper). This desinguished unique public hose imidalisms of Sir Asthy Cooper). This desinguished unique public hose imidalisms of Sir Asthy Cooper). This desinguished unique the even from the Cooper and the sir of the Sir Order of Sir Asthy Cooper and the Sir Order of Sir

ROYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST LOUISING COMPANY, & GENERAL LIPE ASSURANCE

Office, 18, Waterico-piace, London.

PATRONEUS.—Her Must Gracious Majesty the QUEEF, Assurances are granted upon the Liver'of Persons in corre-station of life, and for every part of the world, upon particularly

Persons assured in this Office may change from one country to another without forfeiting their Policies. Board days every Thursday at One o'Clock, and every facility afforded for effecting Assurances on other days. JOREPH C. BRETYELL, Secretary,

UNIVERSAL LINE WILLIAM STREET, TO CHETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, TO DISLOTORS:

Bit Heory Willock, K.L.S., Cheirman.
John Stewart, Req., M.P., Deputy Cheirhau.
Major-General Sir Rd. Arm.
Strong, C.B. K.C.T. and S.
John Begahaw, Req.
Augustus Bonanquet, Req.
Augustus Bonanquet, Req.
Charles Dislotory, Req.
Charles Dashwood Bruce, Req.
Charles Dislotory, Req.
Capt. Seamel Thorston, Req.
Clayt. Seamel Thorston, Req.

1146 Aphirement Scotle

ptrong, C.B. E.C.T. and S.
John Baguhaw, Eng.
Acquestus Bossaquet, Eng.
Charles Dashwood Bruce, Eng.
Elike Watkin Challes, E.G.
Ealing Corrie, Eng. M.F.
The principle adopted by the Universal Life Askingson Sequence of an earneal vibration of sames and limitification, R.M.,
Free principle adopted by the Universal Life Askingsons Section of the earneal vibration of sames and limitificat, End's division of three-fearths of the profits sinoing the absorbed, he admitted to other great disparinges, depending to those parties who may wish to deproprise their proportion of profit to the reduction of Enture premises. The following Table will whow the last division of profits to the reduction of Enture premises.

Agrical Protestan.	Data of Policy	dun Andersia.	Original Premium:	Annual From.
20 ) 20 40	On or bullets		21 10 A 20 40 2 40 40 40
	ge by	4,255	65 15 4 66 17 4

INITED KINGDOM LIFE ASSUR-ARCE COMPANY, R. Waterloo-plain, Pall-Mell, Lon DIVISION OF PROFITS AMONG THE ASSURED. HOMOMARY PROFITS.

Bart of Broi Bart of Courtown Bart Leven and Melville Earl of Norbury Bart of Stair • •

Amunu Atta Passingers Lord Viscount Falkland Lord Esphiseture Lord Balkaran and Stenian

Disserors.

James Shiert, May., Chairman.

Hanasel De Castro, Esq., Dougly Chairman.

Samuel Anderson, Esq.,

Hemilton Siair Avarne, Esq.,

Edward Royd, Esq., Resident

E. Lamox Boyd, Esq., Assist.

Basident

Charles Mattiand, Esq.,

William Rafites, Esq.,

Juhn tiftchie, Esq.,

F. H. Thueson, Esq.

This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most period security in me supply saldous Capital, and in the great success which has stended it since its opposite in the 1884.

isse.

In 1841, the Company declared an addition to the Sharcholders of one-half of their Stock, and also added it, per cent per annea, from the date of the policies, to those Parties who had insered with Profits. The Premiums, nevertheless, are on the most moderate scale, and only a moisty need be paid for the first five years, where the lastrance is to 14.6.

The amount of bosses added to policies sinks the commencements of the Company in March 1824, to the slet of Dec. 1846, is as folious:—

Olinus: - Sum assured. Sum added to Policy.

Sum Assured. Time Assured. Sum added to Policy.

Sisso 6 Years 10 Months.

1980 6 Years. 50 0 0
1000 8 Years. 50 0 0
1000 1 Year. 50 0 0
Every information will be afforded in application to the Resident Directors, EDWARD BOYN, Esq., and E. LENNON HOYN, Esq., of No. 8. Waterioo-place, Pall. Inall, London.

Frederick Hain Thomson, Reg., Surgeon, 48, Berners-atreat, attends at the Office daily, about hair-past Two o'Clook.

BRITANNIA LIFE ASSURANCE COM-PANY, No. 1, Princes street, Basik, London. Empowered by Special Act of Perliament, 4 Vic., cap. 9.

DIRECTORS. William Bardentt, Esq. william mergett meg.
Bannel Bevington, Esq.
William Puchusy Black, Raq.
John Stiphtman, Raq.
George Cuben, Esq.
Millis Coventry, Esq.
John Drawett, Kaq.

ona, Robert Egituton, Esq., Kraumus Et. Forter, Esq. Alex. Boburt irvine, Esq. Peter Morrison, Esq., Menry Lewis susalle, Esq., Thomas Tood, Esq.

John Drewett, Req.

Auditors.—J. B. Squinton, Beq.; F. P. Cockerill, Req.,

J. D. Bow, Req.

Medical Officer.—John Clendinning, M.D., F.R.S., 16, Wim
polarizet, Cavenden-agonte.

Standing Counsel.—The Hop. John Andry, New-square, Lincoln's Inn; Mr. Respenselskiff, Mr. P. Temple.

Solicitor.—William Hevry, 226, Old Pewry.

Bankers.—Meser. Drewett and Fowler, Princel-street, Bank.

BANKERS.—Wellison Browst, and on Rewry.

BANKERS.—Meast. Drewett and Fowler, Princed-street, Bank.

This Institution is empowered by a special Act of Parliament, and is so constituted as to effort the bigedie of Life Assurance, and the foliast extent, to policy-holders, and the foliast extent, to policy-holders, and the foliast prince facilities and accommodation than are usually offered by other semigenies. The decided superior, have been proved, inconfessibly, by its extracedinary and unprecedibled success.

Assurances may either be effected by Parties on their new Lives, or by Parties interested thereig on the Lives of others.

The effect of an Assurance on a person's own life is to create at once a Proparty in Eleverance, which can by no other means be realized. Take, for instance, the case of a person at the age of Thirty, who, by the payment of M. Se, 4d, to the Britannia Life Assurance Company, can become at once possessed of a bequanticable property, amounting to 1,300%, subject only to the condition of his confining the same payment quarterly, during the remainder of he life—a capatition which may be fulfilled by the maring on Eight Heilings weekly in his expenditure. Thus, by the exertion of a very slight degree of economy—much, indeed, as can exceedy by feit as an inconvenience, he may at once realize a cheptair of 1,400%, which he can bequest or dispose of in any way he may think proper.

PETER MORRISON, Resident Director A Board of Directors inflatesphance dailyngt Two o'Clork.
A liberal Commission allowed to Solidiffer and Agenta.

A USTRALASIAN, COLONIAL, AND GRNERAL LAPE ASSURANCE AND ANNUITY COMPANY, 196, Binhopspete-st., corner of Corobit. Capital—#550,000—in 9,000 Bhange.

CAPITAL—MENO, 2000—in S. pot Bilange.

CAPITAL—MENO, 2000—in S. pot Bilange.

Bilandrons.

Bilandrons.

Bilandrons.

C. R. Mangles.

Robert Scoule.

Eq. St. C. R. Mangles.

Reg. St. C. R. Mangles.

Bilandron.

Patronised and mactioned by HER MAJESTY the QUEEN N.R.R. PRINCE ALBERT, the ROYAL FAMILY, and the esveral COURTS of EUROPS.

TO OWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL.

I. for the Greech, Ant for Preserving and Resultiying the Roman-Hall.

Price is. 66.—70. Family Bottles, (equal to Four small.) 100.66. and dueble that Size, 712.

GAUTION.—The words: "ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL." are engraved on the Wespair of each genuine buttle, and off the back of the Wespair of each genuine buttle, and off the without this: "Nurs and Gazuring."

ROWIAND'S KALTDON, for improving and Reautifying the Skin sad Cambigaich. Price do. 56. and 66. 54 per bottle, duty included.

sam and Combinates. Price is. Id. and is. S. per bottle, duty inclinied.

ROWLAND'S ODORTO, or PEARL-DERTIFICE, renders the Teath Sessificilly White, and preserves he Gume. Price is. S. s. per box, duty included.

S. S. per box, duty included.

CAUTION.—Springs Imitations are frequently offered for sale, as the real articles. It is therefore imperative on purchasers to see that the word "ROWLAND'S" is on the Wrapper of each. For the protection of the Public from Insul and imposition, the Housewable Commissioners of fee Majesty's Stamps have suitorised the Proprieties" Signature to be suggraved on the diovernment Stamp, there.

A. EOWLAND AND SON, S. HATTON (JARDEN, which is affixed to the EALY DOS and ODONTO.

Sold by them, and by Chemists and Perfumers, e. all others are SPICIFIC SOLUTION OF LORDER. The efficacy of this lavativable Madicine is attested by Taplinonials.—From James.

TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF COPAIRA.—The efficacy of this tavatuable Madicine is attested by Taglimonials—From Journ Harry Gunny, Eng., P.B.R., one, of the Conneil of the Royal College of Surgeons, Rargeon to St. Thomse's Hopfiel; and Professor of Surgeons, Rargeo College, London:—"I have might trial of Mr. Paarus's solution of Copaiba, at St. Thomse's Hopfiel; and off reverse of discharges in the insele and femile, and the results warrant my stating that it is an efficacious remady, and oneswhich does not produce the seaso in abjustment streets of Copaiba.—(Signed)—Joseph Harry Genny."

"45, Lindoin's Inn Fields, April 18, 1885."

Prepared only by Gennes Paarus, Surgeon, 30, Blackfiers Road, London, where it may be had in Sollies at the 18th Art. dat., and 11s. each; and of all respectable Bruggiets and Patent-Methy, clarifieds—"Capaiba, "Giorne Paarus, Blackfiers Road," in surgered on the Giovernment Stamp, It capnot be granter.

"9" Mr. Franks may be quantified with I we obtice daily.

TEREMITE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of

TEREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of O OPIUM, PHEST PERPARED at PATNA, in BENGAL.—The great merit of this preparation is its peculiar tracking from the portions properties of Opium, said has therefore been found available in cases where that forms have been instinctible, from its not disjurying the net vote system. The rest preparation from the not disjurying the net vote system. The rest properties, from its not disjurying the net vote system. The rest properties from its not disjurying the net vote species, though taking it dontine only, is left in free possesses of his faculties. It has for several years been supplied to the patient, though taking it dontine only, is left in free possesses of his faculties. It has for several years been supplied to the H. C. Deprenancy, by order of the Marieni Board of Reaged, from whome formula it is invested in the faculties. It has for several years been supplied to the fact in the properties of the from the bury formula of the fact in the properties of the properties of the properties of the properation have found its great browning. In Influence, Ones, The Bondomens, Cholera, and though to few weeks old having takes it, without any careful by infants of 6 few weeks old having takes it, without any carefural took flow for the from the proved by infants of 6 few weeks old having takes it, without any carefural thanks are given here of the properation have been proved by infants of four weeks old having takes it, without any carefural thanks are given here of the set of the properties of the properation for the proved, via.:—

Bir David Biron, Royal Navat Hospital, Flydrouth, Dr. Cook worthy, Physician, Physician, Physician, Itanium, J. E. Martin, Bidelesser, Houston, Browseng-st., London, Dr. Jarkson, tota problems, of Physic, Groweng-st., London, Dr. Jarkson, tota problems of Physic, Groweng-st., London, Dr. Jarkson, the Apolesser, of Physic, Groweng-st., Prymonth, and soid by his in bulk for dispensing, said in buttles at 2-, 164, a. d. Groweng-st. Is an all the said with the EREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of

Dr. Hingeion, ) south Levon Boustal.

Prepared only by Francis Lean, 37, George-street, Plymonth, and sold by hisf in bulk for dispensing, and in buttles at 20. tol., 40. $45, $860 Its., all stamped with the George-serve Ramps, having in the budget if I pressure hed. 501. Gal., by Fran. Lean," with directions for use, having his algosters reties to red task, without what mome is gonulus.—Sold also Whitesale by Brearing & Rom, 7, Pouttry, London; Evans & Bod. Exster; Rewise, having & Rom, 7, Pouttry, London; Evans & Bod. Exster; Rewise, have, Mills-servet, Budins, Root, Thompson & Uo., Calenters, Binney, Masses, Tracher, Benning, Resselb & Co., Jamakes, William Slake, Montreal, Canada, and retail by all respectable chanists. 20. 44. 64. and 11s each book; post free, 8s. 5s. and 19s. 20. DRATT'S OWN MILITARY and OVERLAND BEDSTEAD, and EASY CHAIK (Just Completed) is particularly recommended to the sarriy motion of the budget of the sarriyan of the budget of the sarriyan

DRATT'S OWN MILITARY and OVERLAND BEDSTEAD, and EABY CRAIK (Just Chapter) in particularly recommended to the early notice of the Nobility and Gentry visiting the Continent, or journeying by the Overland Rome to indice, and Officers in the Army, as it folds up in an incredibly small compane, which, with the whole of the nitings, as contained in One Weller. The similificity of construgion by which a strainferind, cany Charr, either with of withput bey real, in obtained, must prove highly adventageous in the Bannara, Continuated, that it was a strainfering the strainfering the State of the Continuation of the Continuation of the State of HYNON COMPLETE FOR FIFTEEN SKILLINGS.

ORD BYRON'S POETICAL WORKS. A With Portrait, and View of Nawatead. One vol., 7L Bro. 104. John Marray, Albemarle etroet.

DOMENTIC COOKERY, BY A LABY. Histy-seventh Edition, greatly unlarged and improve on boards.

NEW SYSTEM of DOMESTIC COOKERY: A suited to the greatest advanced state of the art, but founded upon principles of connount and presidest knowledge, and adapted for the Use of Private Families.—By Mrs. RUNDELL. e of this, well-known Work upwards of 189,000 copies have breased.

John Murray, Albemaria atreet; and to be obtained of all Book sellers in Town or Country.

BEQUEL TO DON JUAN.

Request to Don Juan.

Now ready, price 10s. $d., elegantly bound,

SEQUEL TO DON JUAN; with

A pertraits of Lady Adeline Accunderfile, Aurura Raby, Ense Delatour, and Henrictta, Engraved after the style of "Finden's Syroit's Beauties," by J. W. Cook,—The work taking up the interact the nerrative an abruptly broken of in the original of the mobie author, and concludes the Adventure of Don

Jean and the Dechess of Fits Fulke. It then pursues the carees of the Hero in his amours with Lady Adeline. Amendeville, Rose Pleacour, and Haerletts. It follows him into the midst of the Regen of Terror in France, and records the Adventure of a cer tain beautiful Lady with Founder Therit the Public Accuser.

The saturcal positions of this Poem dontain reference to Earl Fitthweiling (Cobinel Berkeitey) and Blas Foote frow Conneces of Harrington-dille Robert Pert, for Edward Knarchbull, the

Duke of Wellington, fit James Ordham, Lord Stadley, Mr. Grui
blem of Wellington, fit James Ordham, Lord Stadley, Mr. Grui
blem of Wellington, fit James Ordham, Lord Stadley, Mr. Grui
blem of Wellington, fit James Ordham, Lord Stadley, Mr. Grui blem is the taken of certain individuals well known in the gambling world, and in the notes reveletions are made which will throw agivate architecture, in adjourn in England.

Allegane, this Prem, for which the Publishers have given an anordina give, and which sames from the pen of a gantle man of high flavory reputation, by calculated to produce an en cetement of an absence trapproperation, not only in the feablounds world, but also in the west, but a fact, into describe the produce of the same and the produce of produced being a same produced to bigging which the produce the feabloombic world in the produce the labors.

"With regard by posterior will be greekes post of our time. "

"The Author has toldly acasillat the vices of the age, and given stylence of producing his and the West planes. "

"The day of pusher, is alwayed affectingly, and a power of anitra, nearly, if

This day, neathy bound in eloth, prior he, MONA'S ISLE, and O'THER POEMS. By W. Kunyane, E. S. Anthor of "A Method for Consentrating the Fire of a Ryundalde Ma Ship of War," Sec., &c. London J. Bradiay, Great Titchheid-street, Stranghie, Masshall Salvo.

Of whom may aim be had, in 18mo., sloth, price 2s., PLEASING FURMER, &co., for the Use of Sak containing Disloyes, Drematic and Sucred Piccies.
By Hannier Jouns.

This day is published. PRITISH AND FOREIGN REVIEW, No XXIII. Contenté— 1. Critics and Criticism in France. 2. Aradd's Lectures.—The Church and State. 3. Musical Antiquestion Coulety.—Ragdish Madrigain. 4. The Principles of Tariffs applied. 5. The French in Spain.—Secret Folloy of Louis XIV. 6. The Outford Controversy.—Angle-Catholicism. 7. The Circgus Territory. 8. Lamg's Notes wife Traveller. 9. Irviand.—Repeat of the Unica. 19. Note on the Jaw of Hebitor and Greefitor. 11. Postnersyt on the Gregon Territory Question.—The President Message.

dent's Messagh. London: R. and J. E. Taylor, Red Lion-court, Fidet-afrest.

TIODGSON'S POTTED WELCH SALMON.—The most delects and quightful preparation, far surpassing any article of the kind aver yet introduced to the public for anadwines, towst, &c., is new with considence recomquinded to opicures, travaliers, and invalids, as a great requisition to the breakmen, tencheon, or supper table. Bold in poise at is, 25., and 30. 64., wholesale and retell, at J. Rodgson's licitial wine, warehouse, 37, Union street earl, Makenagate-street, and wine, warehouse, 37, Union street earl, Makenagate-street, and wine, warehouse, 17, Union street earl, Makenagate-street, and wine, warehouse, 17, Union street earl, Makenagate-street, and wine, warranted four years old.

M ETCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH A ETCALYE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH IN A BRUBII and SMYRNA SPONGES.—This Tooth-Brush has the impostant advantage of searching theroughly into the divisions of the testh, and decaning them in the most effectual and extendrighary manner, and is camons for the hairs not coming loose, is. As magicoved Clothes-brush, that cleafs in a thigh part of the agent time, and incapable of injuring the flugat and. Brackersling-high-brushes, with, the delights unblosched Russia division of the most surprising and secondarial manner. The general section is in most surprising and secondarial manner, the general section is the most surprising and secondarial manner. The general section with the presented vision profit and destructive blacking, and securing the luxery of a genuine Smyrua Sponge. Only at METCALFE'S, 156, 8, Oxfordst, one door from follow-pirest. Caution.—Bewere of the words, "from Metcalfe's," adapted by some houses.

REQUIRED for the SIXTH REGIMENT TALLOR.—Applications for the above post to be made to the Quarter-Master, 6th Regt., inclosing characters and references.

DEPOT FOR NAVAL & MILITARY EQUIPMENT. DEPOT FOR NAVAL & MILITARY EQUIPMENT.

SAAC LEVY, SUCCESSOR to S. LEVY,

No. 3, Hemming's-row, St. Marrin's-lane,

Rège to cell the attention of the Officers of the May and Atmy, and, to his (lid-Ratabilated DEPOT, where they will find ready avery article of Naval and Military Realisment, Completenders, Bedding, Reddingd, Canteens, Portable Drawers, 4c., 4c.

Officers and others eftending, Levess and Drawing-Rooms auspilled with every article required.

ORIGINAL DEPOT FOR NAVAL MILITAKY EQUIPMENTS.

AMUKL LEEVY, late of Hemming s-row, begs now to indicate his Naval and Military Friends, that he has removed to might apsolous and slegant Framises, where they will find a most untansive outputy of every article and by him, at even lower griets than formerly. He begs to assure his Friends generally, that the same peacetuality and attention to their orient which for so many years obtained their exprodution shall mark his future dealings with them.

Portable Bestheads, Boiss, Cantenn, and Camp Premiture of every description and frest manufacture, at forty per cont. abder the charges of any house in the trade.

Portable Camp Tout. Hedstend, Budding toraplete # 0 holds Leather Portable the save a 2 s 1 to 1 months of the control of the trade.

Portable Camp Tout. Hedstend, Budding toraplete # 0 holds Leather Portable Sward 2 s 2 s 1 to 1 months of the control of the

Shoulder Ditto

S. L. has no connexion with any other house in town.

LASTIC CLOGS.—The general fault of Loign has been that they were heavy, and difficult to put on and off—these evils are entirely obvieted in the MinkTIC CLOGS, which may be put on without toughing them with the fingers, and require no descening subjector; they are abovery light and next in appearance, at well ever the hoot or shee, are weterproof, and regular not other cleaning than from a sponge or damp cloth. A large stock of india-rabber Goldshee for Ladies, therefore, and Children, 4s, 6d., 7s. 6d., 12s., the best that can be made.

RIASTIC ARKLE BARIDS.—Instead of wearing a heavy and right Lobe Stocking, with all the stocking of lacing in the morates and unincing at night, the Single Rend will give the support required, by heing, merely drawn on by two silk lenge, and can be all the mediage. They are unain in black or white which reprint to bendage. They are unain in black or white good with the lace white and with the lace white and with the lace of the lace white and with the lace of the lace white and with the lace of the lace and lace with the lace of the lace and lace with the lace of the lace and lace and lace white and the lace of the lace and la

ELASTIC BOOTS; they require neither hoing; buttoning, nor tying; they may be put on and off in a thement, without trouble or loss of time. The constant amorance of most breaking, buttons rouning off, boles wearing out, and many other imperfections in the ardicary modes of fastening, 'angested the imprevenment which is now askentited to the public. No boots ever afforded such veriety of play and motion to the fest and salites, of corresponded so exactly to their natural and sententials form.

J. SPARKEN HALL, Einste Bootmaker to Her Mejesty the Guesu, and the Gueen of the Belgians, opposite the Polytechnic Institution, Regent-street.

E LECTRO-PLATED AND GILT ARTL L'LECTRO-PLATESI AND USLI ARTI-L'A CLER.-BIRINGTON and Co., Patentees, grainfully acknowledging the distinguished patroungs the articles of their manufacture have hithorto received, beg to agnounce that their stock, embrucing every variety of NOVELTY for the RIGH-BOARD, DINNER, DEBBERT, and BREAKFAST TABLE, may be imported at their Establishments. WENT END.—Es. REGENT STREET, corner of Jermyn-street. CITY.—437 MOORGATE-STREET.

CITY.—43.9 MOORGATE.STREET.

The Patonteen beg expressly to state, that their Electro-plated fiveds differ entirely from any hitherth officed to the public as "plated grounds," or "substitutes for signer," Both in appearance, account, and wear, these graduance equal to SOLID STLYER; they are ones and chanced in BOLID WITY METAL, and strongly plated with biller by their PATENT SILEGITES, PROCESS, and indicate are made with hard silver switer, which agends in each in overland plated ground, and neither acide any most effect them.

Their ELECTRO GILDING, for her sty of shirest effect them.

Their ELECTRO GILDING, for her sty of shirest and facility of application to ALL METALS, is missing each glishing, on left and new articles, promptly executed, as the Manifester, the Mongare-street.

Every article made and gravanted by the Bullistees hears their ticle made and surrented by the Miligitees bears then Stainp, S. & Co., over a Crown.

L'ASE AND COMPORT IN SHAVINGS AND MORRE. BASE AND COMPORT IN SHAVINGS AND MORRE. BASE CANTON STRONG OF QUADRILLATERAL CHINESE RADIO. BASENCE FOR dere the operation of Shaving no longer inight to the incet tender shin. By a very simple process the harvest edge may apossily be given to the binnest range or markets. B. and a Cowvan's peculiar to the strong or markets and shaving powder, specimens of the Strong sty and adelaite delimy, Louster Arbans, from whence the mont festering certificates buye home near, which may be seen at the inventory. B. and S. COWFARE Abs., French et all respectable Fertilisates, from the United Strong, peloc at the personal transfer of the Composition of the Comp box. Challon....Hope are grade

BETTES PATENT BRANDY.

DETTES PATENT BRANDY.

Districture, 7, smithfulled Rars.

Rotwithmanding the publicity for many years past given to the superiority of SETTES PATENT FRENCH DISTILLED BRANDY evic fevry other Spoit, British or Provings, it is with his partially hasve: J. T. Berre & Co. therefore test it a stay they awe to the Public and the trench Brandy, until every Pamily in the kingdom, in which kirandy is consumed, have made trial of their Patent Brandy,—and consequently dispositioned the use of the Puckeys article. Their respective merits are furly developed in the following Testimoutals, to which they again beg to refer -- Latuate from Testimonials.

"I.T. Betts, Esq." "Chemist to He Majesty."
"Your Brandy is tree from uncombined and astrongent matter, which exists, more or less, in most of the Brandies imported from France.

"Jonn Thomas Confre,"
"Lacturer on Chemistry."

It is this perfect freedom from the above or identically dies, and its agreeable similarity in flavour to the finest samples of Cognac Brandy, that constitute the peculiar value of the PATRET BRANDT.

PATRIX BRANK.

J. T. BETTS & Co. era, at length, enabled to give a distinct appraise that arrangements will be completed in the course of the present month, which will afford an unfailing protection to purchasers against the continuance of those france, from which they have bitherto so extensively suffered, as each built will be secured by a PATRIX METALLIC CAPAULE, or covering for the cork, of solid petal, with their name, address, and the wurds "Bett's Patrix Branks To enhance upon it; the forgery of which subjects the guilty party to a Penalty of Fifty Possale for every officers.

Title valuable Spirit is manufactured only at the Distillery, Mn. 7, Smithfield Born, leading to St. John Street, where it may be obtained, either pale or coloured, in quantities not less than Two Gailons, at Eighteen Shillings per Gellon, for Cash on

Just published, the SIXTEENTH EDITION, price 20.; and sent free, on receipt of a Post-office Greet for 3s. 6d.

A N H O O D;

The CAUSES of the PRESENT RESTORATION; addressed to those suffering from the fallerishme affect of Experience in-fallgance, Softmay Edition; or infection; followed by Observa United Statements of Syphilis, Genorrhow, Greet, &c. Hims Tended Will Cause. tions on the transciols. Trated With Cales, &co.

By J. L. Custte and Co., Consulting Surgeo THE SIXTESITH THOUSAND.

THE SIXTENTH THOUSAND.

THE SIXTENTH THOUSAND. Medical Bookseller, 26. Coventry Street, Mark, 4, Brydges-street, Street, Stree street, Dunney, housest & Co., cone; manes, sp, high-street, Ginagowe, Dunney, a. Elek-street, Edinburgh; and hold, in a cutoff envelope, by all Booksellers.

"This work, a TENTH Edition of which is now presented to the public, ion thousand copies having here exhausted since its first appearance, mas been very much improved and onlarged by the midition of a more extended and clear detail of general principles, as also by the insertion of several new and highly-interesting enses. The book, as hes been already stated, in the result of very apple and daily-increasing experience in a class of diseases which, for some unaccountable assoon, have been either alsugather overlooked, or created anneal with indifference, by the ordinary inedical practitioner; and we feel no healtstook negliging, that there is no immune of accept by whom the book will sible be found useful, whether such person hold the relation of a Parent, a Proceptur, or a Clergyman."—Sun.
"Heases. Carlie's work, entitled MANHOOD, is one of the few books now before the jubble on such a subject which can be yeared to public on such a subject which can be time that it is fully intelligible to all who read it. The morations modical precapits given render it invaluable."—Magnet.

"The person of Messra. Cartin's hook entities MANHOOD has really astonished us-by seveloping a series of maintain, the newester of the left and a work that we fear there azista too much need for to cause us to become of the victions habits of which it treats. The dient custication pointed out between the easigned chose and the affects in a work that we fear there azista too much need for to cause us to be statute to all cases, however complements habits or bort that we fear there azista too much seed for to cause as to be seed the fed increase, and divented of all medical technicality, phain and cary directions are given fee the best ands to be paramed in all cases, however complements, that filte work althe affords consolation and care in pacables only a series of a constitution of mening a lagueral across. — sees and here a cycin, "Mesers, Culties & Co. are to be consulted daily at their residence, No. 7, Faith Stratt, and to Square, London.

Constry fathers are requested to be as minute as possible in the dead of their coice. The communication must be accompanied by the main consultation for of it, and in all cases the most invisible secrety stay he relied on.

Beliefiche General Lane, of No. 10, South Parado, St. James's Pairit, Parado, St. Matapart's, is the county of Middlesoz, Frister, at the Giber of Managart's, the trans, Louding St. Matapart's, Parado and Palifiched by him at the Drawn, in the City of London, and Palifiched by him at the Drawnon, in the City of London, and Palifiched by him at the Drawnon, in the managart from the City of London, mad Palifiched by him at the Drawnon, in the major County, whereast Association to this will pure much breaking.—Saturnay

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETTE

3 89	t India and	Colonial (	Thron	itie.
No. 575.	SATURDAY,	JANUARY 18	5; 1844.	. PRICE 8d.
CONTENTS OF THE PRESENT NUMBER:  Naval Promotions and Appointments of the Week 18 Raval Intelligence 18 Military Appointments and Promotions—Merements 19 Military Intelligence 28 (Fromotions, Appointments, &c. during December) 21 Memoir of the late Adm. Sir Charles Edmand Nugent, G.C.S. Admiral of the Freet 21 Naval Song 28 Correspondence 88 "A Guinea Bird" on Cape station—South-west Coast of Africa 4C." on the Sealark, 16 Guns, and the New 12-Gun Brigs 22 "A.C." on the Fortified Barrack at Pembroka Book 23 "Capitar" on Allawances to Acting Staff Non-commissioned Officers of Depots 23 London Losignes 23	and Hyderatad the Laws of War- (Lotter of "P. P." the Character of 8 the Morning Chre Amoris of Science Major Eldred Pot the Projected Hat (Letter of " M. 6. the Uld War Subs (Letter of " A Pris	w Neval Instructions rom India roop in Ireland refock") lectule for the Victories of "The Duke and General N lir Hudson Lowe stacks—Sir Heary Pottings tinger for the Infantry there were and of Merit", riment of Greenwich Ros sof the Navy	24 . 24 . 24 . 24 . 24 . 24 . 25 . 25 .	Editor on Musical Designations  Court, Pashion, and General News  Foreign and Colonial Intelligence  Liberary Notices:—""The Life and Times of the Good Lord  Cobharn." By Thomas Gaspey  "The Arbet's and Amateur's Magazine." By K. V. Rep.  pingville  "A Megagi to Don Juna"  "The History of China and India." By Miss Corner  "The Bastile"—"Fart I.  "Payne's Universalum; or Pictorial World" By Charles  Edwards, Esq.  Fortraits of the Princes and Paople of India. By the Hon.  R. Rden.  A Memorial of the War is Ava  Memorical of the Lieut. Gen. Bir Hudson Lowe, K.C.R., &r. 80  "National" Poetry—"Militona to the Resoure"  How to write Charly and Forciby  Founds, Birthe, Marriagon, and Beaths  30
Sail on the 15th February, full or not full, the remarkably fast-sailing River-built Ship, VIGILANT, A 1 480 Tons. J. Hauwe, Commander. Lying in the London Books. This ship affords an eligible opportunity, as from her Engagements at the Cape, she must keep her time. For Freight or Fassage apply to Meavrs. I., Wi & A. Borradamilla, 34. Fenchunch-streat; or to T. Haviside and Co., Sun-court, or 69, Cornbill.  1 OR MADRAS & CALCUITA, will leave the Docks on the 20th February, Gravasend the 20th, and Portsmouth the 1st March, and embark peasengers at Portsmouth, the well-known, frigate-built ship LDNDON, 70n foos, Thomas Arwoon, Commander; bying in the Real Initia Docks. This fine ship's accommodations for passengers are first rate, and she will karry an experienced Surgeon. For freight or passage apply to Capt. Shuttanawath; or to T. Haviside & Co. Suncourt, or 69, Cornbill.  1 OR MADRAS AND CALCUITA.  I has two good Cabina disengaged, will Sail punctually on the 18 February, and Portsmouth on the 2th, the well-known Teak Ship LORD HUNGERFORD, 736 Tons per Register. W. P. port., Commander. Lying in the East India Bocks. This 2th has excellent Accommodation for Passengers, and corries.	THE NEW THE NEW PHILLIPS, I a STRAND, begs to that be has all the Pattern Lards of the Admiralty, wi the following low prices and PRICES FOR a NAVAL UNIFORMS. Commanders' Custu Inc. lene.  Dress Cost	mt quartered at Chester, we this above post to be testioning characters and NAVAL UNIFORM.  NAVAL UNIFORM.  NAVAL UNIFORM.  NAVAL UNIFORM.  NAVAL TALLA curious within the Attentions asset the Attentions asset hich he assembles of the testion of the testion and the Attention asset hich he assembles of the testion and testion	Mastra made to the reference.  OR, 28, Royal Navy ioned by the st quality, at med 3nd Class vo- uniters, Masters, Anders, ests, Rc.  d d, d s, d s, d s, d s, d s,	TO GENTERMEN, SPORTSMEN,  MERCHANTS, and OTHERS.—Constantly on Sale, in perfect order, GUNS, RIFLES, and PISTULES, by all the first-rate Makers, Warranied.—Old Guus, Sec., taken in exchange.  E. WHINTLER'S, Gun, Rife, and Pistules, by all the first-rate opposite the Colden Cross Burel.  Moncy advanced to ang amount opon every description of Valuable Property.  N.B.—Observet—From the late CHARLES VAUGHAN'S.  INDIA MILITARY AND CIVII, OUTVITTING RETABLISHMEN'S.  THUGHES & CO., 203, REGENT.  BETREET, corner of CONDUST-STREET, and 76, RING WILLIAM-STREET, CITY.—Officers in the Queen's norvice, Gaden, Assistant-Bargeine, Wilters, and Passingers to the Colonics, can be promptly and correctly equipped with ever requisite in Military Clothing and Assimtrements, Clothing for the Voyage or Overland Route, and Camp and Cabin Furniture and Bedding, at wholesale charges. Estimates with prices for warded. Regulation Tranks for the Overland Boute, 38s, per pair.  HER MAJESTY'S DOCKYARDS.  LIR W. BURNETY'S PATENT
Eth has excellent Accommodation for Passengers, and carries an experienced Surgeon. For Firight or Passage, apply to Messrs. Conkerral, and Co., s. Assim Friare; to Captain Farguraron, or to T. Haviside and Co., Son-court, or 59, Cornhill.  I OR MADRAS DIRECT, and will suit punctually on the 1st April, the first Teal Ship at ELListit, and Tons, J. H. Fawerry, Commanders Frieg in the St. Million Tines Incks. This Ship has excellent accommodation for Passengers, and carries an experienced Surgeon. For Freight or Passage apply to Messrs. Generalness & Co., White Lion-court, Cornhill; or to T. Haviside & Co., San-court, or 69, Cornhill.	Swirribliant, & Heltis 5 Treas Beit 9 Cocked Hat 9 10 Cop and Gold Bend to 18 MHIRTH or gold quality Others juning fitted to requisite for a copage. Mi really; and every article w Codets, Military had D same adventageous terms application. Tilk NEW MILLY.	4 15 2 6 4 10 4 5 4 1 3 10 1 10 2 10 1 10 2 1 4 4 3 10 3 10 1 10 1 5 4 7 16 10 1 10 1 10 15 4 7 16 10 2 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10 10	10 3 e 4 10 10 10 15 0 15 e 10 15	by ving undergone nine years' true to ALL CHMATES, is now is daily extensive operation in the above authoral estain listencette, on well as by usary public companies and private individuals. This PROCESS preserves TIMISES from DRY RATE and, when desired, fenders it uniformitation like. It is created individuals, and case of application. It gots be used in ordinary wonden tanks, and case only therefore, easily hydraulic manishines, except for the rate of appearance the common test of the manifest of the common test of the common test of the part of the common test of the part of the common test o

Codets, Military and Diplomentic Officer, Atted out on the name advantageous terms. Full prioted estimates of each on application.

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, BEST QUALITY, WITH PEATHER, FOR AN 34.

DURE AND COOL WATER. - Naval and Military Officers will find one of LIPACOMBE & CO.2 PATENT TRAVELLING WATER FILTERS must desirable acquisation. They are warranted to remove colour, taste, and smell, from every kind of water, and to make have water soft. They have been in extensive use for many years, and are well known to be the most effectual, convenient, and durable filters ever invented. In word classics—where good wholes some water as eddom met with—they will be found invaluable; as they not not; render the most ataguant water clear and sparking as they not not; render the most ataguant water clear and sparking as they not not; render the most ataguant water clear and sparking as they not not of order,—200. conb—Liracoma & Co., 93, Regont's Quadrant.

Lientlessen are cautioned against the hon-crome cheap filters which are offered for sale in most sea port towns, as they are only made to last a short time, and met then atterfy worthlesse.

**TORK** PLACE. No. 6.—A Good Family

YORK PLACE, No. 6.—A Good Family A House to be let upon Leuss, Unfurnished, with Counti-house and Stabling; the House has recently been Papered and Painted throughout, and put into a complete edite of repair, and it for immediate occupancy, being perfectly dry and well ared. For Carda to View, apply to Mr. J. MARGHALL, Upholsterer, &c.,

PEGENT'S PARK, 19, Chester Terrace. Description of the property of the property of the property of the part, and community first to be sold, or table let upon Lease industrial with Conch house and stabling, situate in the most health, part of the Park, and communiting the first views. The House has recently hear put this a very complete state of communital and security state of communital and security state, and newly papered and painted throughout; and the bifuce-are numerous and well arranged. For cards to view, apply to bir. J. Mannata, Upholasterer, Scc., 31, Suba-square.

I EA AND PERMIN'S "WORCESTERoll. 2 BHIRE SAUCE," propured from the Recipe of a molecular in the county.—The above eclefrated flames has, from the time of its introduction, been stradily progressing in puttin from the time of its introduction, been stradily progressing in puttin favour, its peculiar piquancy, combined with excellent flavour, betablish it of a chalacter unregalied in houses. Notifesten and others of such obtiledged goet, provinghous it to be "the only good associaty, made for extreming graving, or as a rest for shi, carrien, starly, made, exist meat, so,, superintly surrivated. An a migisfy increating togetry is now made for it it in all parts of the Register, the proprietors her to state faul straights, gracers, and others, may be supplied by their agents—Better. Berting and flume, Farringdon-street; Mr. J. Having, Mg. King-street, Respect Measure efferents and Co., fl. floorthampless. row, and by the Wholesale Oil and limitate Waretireaspears in Loudon, apon the start of the street of the street of the street of the manufacture as a their resolutions at the street of the street of the gaments, fig., thek, with the proprietors' Hause over the cork of every leasure.

information upon its objects and application will be given, at the Company's Offices, No. 58, KING WILLIAM NEREKT, LONDON BRIDGE. CADELEGIPS AND COMMISSIONS IN THE ROYAL MARINE CADETSHIPS AND COMMISSIONS IN THE RUYAL MARINS CHRIS.

A CADEMY, UNION STREET, PORT
BEA, PORTMUTTH. Conducted by the Rev J NEAVE, This Academy has been long established, and the course of Station pursued in it, embraces everything needship for a Station and Commencial Reneation. In addition to an accurate knowledge of the Council of the course of Station and Commencial Conditions of only the pure Mathematics, but their application to Megastration, Burveying, Navigation, Fortification, Gomency & &c. Gentlemen breparing for Cadet, shops of Commissions in the Royal Mathematics, shops of Commissions in the Royal Mathematics, and seems of the analysis of the subjects on which they are assumed. Much time may be asset of the Navy, Arm, and Universities. A Printinguous of Terms, & compression of the Navy, Arm, and Universities.

DASS'S EAST INDIA PALE ALE.—
This perficular kind of Ale is prescribed to invalide by the most solderested Physicians. Its. Prost, who has examined it in his work on "Discases of the Blomasis," Est, after condoming common Ales, especially recommonsist his for weakly per sons. In excellent condition, its cases and bottles, of any age at their appointed Agents', Haway Banar and Co., 3, 8t. James's ry, Acmy, and Universities A Prinapatus of Terms, &c. obtained on application by Letter.

By King William stynet, Charing cross, ORIGINAL DEPOT FOR NAVAL MILITARY EQUIPMENTS AMUEL LEVY, late of Hernming's row to inform his Naval and Military Friends, the his necessary of the system and clegant Frontiers, where they will find a now extensive supply of every stricts sold hims, at even lower pieces than formerly. He begs to neare his trief orders which the same puretuinty and attention their orders which the same puretuinty and attention their orders which the sold production whall mark his future cealings with them.

Portable Bestiewes, Solas, Cantaeres, and Camp Parniture & every description and hust manufacture, at fortgar bent, unde the charges of any house in the trade.

Portable Chest Drawgra

	Portable Chest Drawers		4	64	4	Ø0
•	Portable Camp Tent-Bedetend, Brilding	or m	piete	8.		9
	Solid Leather Fortmanteau		٠,	2	7.	0
	Town made Regulation haure			3	2	9
	lutautty saste, all bilk		• ,	ı	3	0
	Laplands Epaulettes, heat greatly			4		0
	faruterante Epauleites, best quality, pe	r ya	ir .	.3	4	ø
	Waint Beita			H	6	٠
	Shoulder Ditto			•	9	0
	S. L. bes no connexton with any other	hou	184 [1	10	WA

THE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Messrs. T. and W. SMITH. of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, and built by them for the INDIA TRADE, will leave Gravesend punctually at the undermentioned dates.—
Last Shipping Day in the Rast India Docks Three Days previously.

COLOMBO, 600 Tous, John Thomson, Commander, to Sail February 15.

POR MADRAS AND CALCUITTA.

PEKIN, 650 Tons, Robert Lavnu, Commander, to Sall

Vebruary 24.
ROBERT SMALL, 800 Tons, E. Williams, Commander, to Sail April 20.
ELLENROROUGH, 1,100 Tons, M. C. CLOSE, Commander, 10

Bail May 20. BUCCPHALUS, 1,030 Tons, WM. Bast, Commander, to Salt une 15.

FOR CALCUTTA DIRECT.
GLORIANA, 1,100 Tone, J. S. Www., Codimender, to Sail

July 8.

TUDOR, 1,150 Tons, M. J. Lar, Commander, to Sail Aug. 15.

FOR THE CAPE AND CALCUTTA.

PLANTAGENET, 1,600 Tons, San Donstr, Commander, to Sail July 15. FOR MADRAS.

DUKE OF ARGYLL, 860 Tons, HERRY BRIFFOWE, Communder, to Sail Angust 10.

For Passage apply to Sin J. Piszz, Barr, & Co., 71, Cornbill; Captain Harsen, 17, St. Mary Are; Captain Wisliam Fournes, at T. & W. Swith's, 78, Corobill, or Newcastle on-Tyne.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS. HOUTAL Meall STEAMERS, wis Plectwone, every Mondey, Wednesday, and Baterday century, with Plectwone, every Mondey, Wednesday, and Baterday century, after the arrival of the London morning tests, by the superior new from steam ships PRINCE of WALES and PRINCESS ALICE, taking the mails from Manchester and Preston for Belfant. For LONDONDERRY, every Priday forestoon, the favourite steamer ROBER NAPIER.

For feeight of passage apply to Mr. Hamay Survey, Flectwood, or at the Company's office, 8, 81. Swithin's-lane, London.

t or passage apply to Mr. Hunny Surru, Fleetwo Impany's office, 8, St. Swithin's idea, London.

TO MILITARY OFFICERS and GEN-TLEMEN JOINING.—WINFIELD & SIMMS, SS, NEW BOND STREET, LONDON, are the only Propeletion of the really Serviceable SED-TRAD, suitable to Military purposes. Upon any other construction they become richstry by frequent removal. It is prefer with all Articles required for an Outfit, again the Lemma. Terms prosite and the Shortest States.

N.S.—Several Second-States Section, being for the most part of their general second-States Section, being for the most part of their gene manufacture.

ture. E. N. Haves, Agent,

Nabal Entelligence.

Lientenants-Hon. P. P. Pellew; Hon. F. Curzon.
APPOINTMENTS.
Admiral-Str James Hawkins Whitshed, Bart., G.C.B., to be

Admiral of the Picet. cc-Admiral—Sir J. C., White, K.C.B., to be Commander-ia-

Admiral—Sir James Hawkins Whitshed, Bart., G.C.B., to be Admiral of the Fleet. Vice-Admiral—Sir J. C., White, K.C.B., to be Commander—H. O. Morris (acting), (Lieut. 1937), to Welserine. Chief at the Nore. Commander—H. G. Morris (acting), (Lieut. 1937), to Welserine. Heutenants—Augustus P. Green (1849), to Plower; Andew R. Danilop (1849), to Way; Henry S. Hillyar (1842), to Wolf.; d. Balland (1843, to Hornwellis) T. E. L. Moore (1848), Edw. Collier (1815), to Calculonia; C. W. Bonham (1843), P. E. Frebas (1849), and W. C. Lambert (1842), to Cornwellis; John D. A. C. Agnew (1843), to Pique: Angustus P. Greene (1842), to Plower; (1843), to Pique: Angustus P. Greene (1843), to Pique: A manual (1843), to command Locust, v. Lunn, returned to Engised on leave; Richard M. Robertson (1849), to Warsgile; Charles Hawkoy (1843), to Heads; Thomas S. Hill (1843), to Fique: Arthur B. Kingston (1844), to Policy: H. T. Veitch (1843), to Recellent; Henry King (1841), to Apolis; Jan. M. Hoxer (1840), to Recellent; Henry King (1841), to Apolis; Jan. M. Hoxer (1840), to Chiedonia; Francis Willoughby (1843), to Alfred; Colin C. A. Kano (1841), to Calcadonia; H. E. Griffiths (1842), to Emessas; G. W. Wando (1838), to Ratellite; Hadaway (1893), to Penelope; W. Mottley (1841), to Penelope, v. Stukes; Charles C. Foreyth (1842), to Helen.

Mastera—E. M. Fox (1842), to Hecale; J. H. T. Norrie (acting), to Paper.

Masters - E. M. Pox (1849), to Hecale; J. H. T. Norris (acting), W. MOUNT. 1887, to Hecate; J. H. T. Norris (asting), 19143, to High.

Masters—E. M. Pox (1843), to Hecate; J. H. T. Norris (asting), to Viper.

Mate—W. R. Surridge (1858), from Escellent, to Hecate.
Second Masters—T. J. Whillier, to Alban; H. Hunter, to Isaame, to Pickle; Duncan Randal, to Alfred; Ezekiel Anjier, to Salpe, H. F. Collins, to Shearwater.

Volunteer First Class—Wm. Templer, to Albian.

Raputy Inspector of Hospitals, at Gresswich Hospital—Alexmoder Niebel, M. D., v. Dourville, denessed.

Surgeon of Greenwisch Hospital, v. Nisbet.

Amstant-Nurgeons—W. Macdonald (1842), to Walf; W. Bule (1841), to Apollo; D. B. Whipple (1840), to Agissouri; A. A. Jack (1810), to Paledonia; W. Bateman (1871, to St. Vinsoni; F. Stupart (1846), to Alban; F. N. Sight, M.D. (1826), to Calefolic, to C

POPTRMOUTH, Jan. 11. -- (From our own Correspondent.) - Not any arrivals during the week. Hecate, Alban, Plute, and Dwarf are hourly expected to call here; they were to leave Woolwich (principle). Penelope is moured off the dockyard; she has god her top-gallant masts up, and it is expected some members of the Board of Admiralty will be down to try the effect of the alterations which have been made; she will be ready on Saturday, and will go round the 1st of Wight, and if all is right, Penelope is to proceed to Cork. Satellite is out of the basin, and completing her fitting alongside her hulk; she is to be ready for sea by the 19th, and will doubtless return to South America. Nautilus has gone to gruise off Brighton. Zenobia, with Lieut.-Gen. Sir P. Maitland and, suite, has sailed for the Cape of Good Hope. Princess Royal and Pestonjee Bomanjee, transports, are relitting in the harbour. Admiral Sir C. Rowley is expecigd to rehoist his flag and resume duty on the 20th. Firebrand is the only vessel fitting for commission. Ships in Port-St. Pincent, Victory, Excellent, Victoria and Albert yacht, l'enelope, Satellite, l'earless, and two transports in harbour.

Pay Mourn, Jan. 10 .- (From our own Correspondent.) 4th -- Arrived Heleva, 16, Com. Sir Cornwallin Ricketts, from Portsmooth, and waits the arrival of Mr. Hank-hed, the newly-appointed Minister to Mexico, and convey him to Jammes: Halena proceeds from thence to the Cape of Good Hope. Ath.—Arrived Crane packet, 6, d.t.-Com. Thos. A. Lewis, from South America. having overshot Falmouth, and come into harbour the following day to have her defects made good. Growler, Curiew, Dolphin, and Spider, were at Ric 24th Nov. The Dolphin had taken a slaver with 570 slaves on board, 6th.—Arrived Adventure, N.T., Mant. shaves on board. 6th—Arrived Adventure, N. T., Mant.-Com. John Hoskilly, from Holyhead. 7th—Seiled Norcus, cost and store vessel, Mant.-Com. T. W. Bateman, in tow of the Cyclops st., Capt. T. W. Lapidge, who sees her clear of the Channel; the Cyclops goes to Cork and the Norcus to Valparaiso. 8th—Asorn, and Polician, 16 guns gach, were hauled into dock, and are to becoming such on the Cyclops as soon as their defects are made good, for which purpose a number of hands have been alread to work on them. The George 16 shows in the placed to werk on them. The Greeian, 16 afine, is also to be brought forward for commission. 9th-Arrived Vestal, 26, Capt. Chas. Talbot, from Sheerness, and will convey the Hon. Mr. Pakenham, the new Ambas-ender to the United States, to New York, and from thence she proceeds to the Brazile; she will be said wasses in advance before she sails. 10th-Bailed Roshester tender with stores for Chatham and Deptford dockyards. Fifteen additional bricklayers have been entered in the dockyard for a limited period. Albion, 90, Capt. N. Lockyer, will move into the Sound on the Harbour. Albion, San Monday or Tuesday west. In Harbour—Albjon, San Josef, Volage, Hyacinth, Hwift, Crane, Constance at. In the Sound—Vestal, Helona.

SHEERMESS, Jan. 11 .- (From our own Correspondent.) -On Thursday last, the 4th inst., the Myrie steamer came in here from Portsmouth, having conveyed the remains of the late lamented Vice-Admiral Sir Edward Brace thither, and having taken some men on board for the Alban steamer, proceeded the same evening to Woolwich. 5th-Arrived the Bonetta brigantine, Lieut .-Commander Edward Gray, from Spithead and the Coast of Africa. The Stys steamer, Capt. A. T. Vidal, passed up the Thames to Weelwich to be paid off. 6th—Sailed the Vestal, 26, Capt. Charles Talbot, for Plymouth. The Bonetta passed up to Chatham in the morning, to be paid off. 8th—Sailed the Cerus tender for Woolwich, with men for the Measte stemmer. The Camperdown commenced returning stores to-day, orders having been received here on the 6th to pay her off immediately. 9th—Sailed the Larne, 1%, Commander W. Brisbane, in tow of the African steamer, for Portsmouth. 10th— Arrived the Cerus tender from Woolwich with volunteers for the Larne, but in consequence of her having sailed, and her complement being long ago completed, they were draked on board the Camperdown for general service. The Hevale steamer passed down the Thames to-day for Portsmouth; and, orders were received to pay off the Camperdown without returning her atores, so that she will be immediately recommissioned for the flag of the next Admiral, whom report here would have to be Sir Jahleel Brenton or Sir Thomas Briggs. 11th-Arrived the African steamer from the westward, and the Ruby steamer from Chatham. In Harbour—Comperdown, Ocean; Haven and Speedy, outters; and African steamer. At Chatham—Pointers, with the broad pandant of Commentary Was II Steiners. with the brond pendant of Commodore Wm. H. Shirreff. Communder-in-Chief pro tempore, and Bonetta brigantine, paying off.

DEAL, Jun. 10 .- (From our own Correspondent.) Thursday, 4th - H.M.'s steamer Styr came into the Downs at 11 P.M., took a pilot off Deal, and proceeded to the cantward. 6th -H.M.S. Festal anchored in the Downs in the evening. 5th—Sailed H.M.S. Vestal and the outward-bough vessels from the Downs to the westward. 9sh—H.M.'s brig Nautilus anchored in the Downs; a Sicilian man-of-war steamer went through the Downs to the westward, and Nampson, tog-steamer, with troops on board. 10th-H.M.S. Larne came into the Downs from the enstward, took a pilot off Deal, and proceeded to the westward. Two Spanish vessels got on the Goodwin from Antwerp, bound to Corunna; they were got off next tide, with the assistance of some Deal and Ramagate boats. One of H.M.'s steamers went through the Downs to the westward.

DEFTYORD, Jan. 8.—(From our own Carrespondent.)
—Sailed, the Diadem freight ship for Trincomalee, with Naval stores. Remain—Jupiter, freight-ship, has completed her cargo for Malta, and will all in the course of the week. Harblington, freight-ship, is leading with Naval stores for Gibraltar. Liquestrian, male convict-ship, is ready to receive convicts on board for New South Wales. 11.M.'s steemer Firefly is in dack repairing. Ships building in this yard. Terrible, first-class steamer; Per-cupine, third class: Spitere, third class.

The Boscawen, 70 Guns.—This fine vessel, after being a considerable period on the stocks at Woolwich Dock yard, has been ordered to be completed, and is now nearly ready for launching. A number of caukers are employed upon her, to complete that part of her works, as it is expected she will be launched in March next. camen is 'a handsome two-decker, and sithough not of such large dimensions as the Trafulgary is well worthy of being seen, as she is the largest ship of war in an advanced state at Woolwich or Deptford Dock-yards at the present time. The principal deck is supported by 18 turned pillars of the best African teak, which add greatly to the appearance of her stability. The Royal Albert, 120, will be the principal object of attraction at the Woolwich Dock-yard after the launch of the Bessesses. The greater part of the timbers of that magnificent first-rate ship being now nearly converted into their proper shape, will enable the workmen to proceed with his construction with the utmost despatch, and she now begins to assume a fine form and very beautiful outline; her side-timbers are created.

M. THE NEW NAVAL REGULATIONS, which have at opived $11. 7s. 4d. per mensem; they are now to receive 52. 14s., being the highest pay now given. Captains commanding sixth-rates formerly received 261. 17s. per monsem; they are now to receive 301. 13s. 8d., monacus; they are now to receive 30t. 13s. 8d., the lowest class of pay to Captains arging affoat. Commissioned Officers: All Officers are now to be appointed by commission, including Masters, Surgeons, Pursers, Mates, and Assistant-Masters. Warrant Officers: The only Warrant Officers in the Navy will be Gunnara, Bontswains, Carpenters, and Engineers. Pursers: The designation of Pursers in future to be "Parsers and Paymasters." First class Volunteers: Volunteers of the first clais are in future to be known as "Naval Cadeta."-Morning Chronicle.—[The above paragraph is only partly correct; the Regulations are not yet published (see our Issaing remarks), and the designation of Pursers is to be "Paymasters and Parsers," not "Pursers and Paymasters."—Ed. N. & M. G.] Captain Sir George Sartorius, of the Malabar, has been presented by Espartero with a handsome aword, in commemoration of Sir George's services in Portugal, which so powerfully influenced the establishment of Spathish freedom. The sword was given to Espartero by the province of Santander.

The Daring, building by Mr. White, Osprey by Mr. Blake, both at Portamouth dockyard; Mutine by Mr. Fincham, and Espiegle by the students of the Naval College of Architecture, building at Chatham; and Kingfisher and Flying Fish, building at Pembroke dockyard, by the Surveyor of the Navy, Sir W. Symonds, are all to be innuched and fully rigged by June, when they will form an experimental squadron for the purpose of testing their relative capabilities. They are each being built upon the lines of their respective constructors, but the plan recently introduced in ship-building, in giving breadth of heam has been followed by them all. The trial cruise will be of considerable interest.

The Cambridge, a large North American-built barque, of and from Newcostle, caught fire on Sunday night last, while under repair in Mr. Gent's yard, off Plymouth, and was totally destroyed. This vessel put into Plymouth about two months since, bound to l'alparaiso, to discharge part of her cargo, she being too doubly laden to proceed round Cape Horn; and while lying in the Sound, dragged her anchors, and struck on Mount Batten reef; she was got off after by great exertions of the Plymouth Pilets, who were awarded 185L for salvage. Considerable pro-gress had been made in the repairs of this unfortunate vessel when this calamity took place. It is supposed that the acoldent happened from a lamp being placed near some oakum, upon the half-deck. Too much praise cannot be Narines, the police, and the seamen from the ships, for the slacrity with which they reached the spot. The barque is insured.

SPEAM VERSELS.—A very great improvement is being effected by giving, as often as opportunities occur, andtional propelling power to such steamers as may require it, which form a considerable majority to the Service. Hitherto, the space occupied by the engine-room has been too extensive to admit of engines beyond a certain power being supplied to vessels, which power has been found to be inadequate to the size and tonnage of the respective ships. The recent improvement in the engines and the introduction of the tubular boilers, have given so much additional space that vessels can now be fitted with engines of nearly double the horse-power they have hitherto carried, which will occupy even less space than the original smaller engines. The Fucily, which is about to be commissibated for the surveying service by Captain Bacchy, has had her engines taken out, and been supplied with others of greater phwer. They were the engines of the Phanir, of 220 horse power, which versel is to

to the Phanus, of 1220 hover, which vessel is to be supplied with others of upwards of 330 horse power. The Myrtle steam-vessel, in charge of Mr. Bryant, Master of the Monkey, proceeded to Greanhithe, on Thursday, with the Alban, Hecate, and Dwarf steam-vessels; the Alban for Portsmouth direct, and the Hecate and Dwarf to remain at Greenhithe, to have their compasses adjusted by Captain Johnson; they will then proceed to Portsmouth, and the Myrile will return to Woolwich. The Goodwill arrived at Woolwich on Wednesday.

THE IRLAN SQUADRON.-The following vessels com-THE IRIGH SQUADRON.—The following versels compute the squadron on the coast of Ireland, studer the Command of Renr-Admiral Bowles:—Caledonis, 120, flag-ship, Capt. Milus Cook; Fox, 42, Capt. Sir F. H. Blackwood, Shannon; Hyseinth, 18, Com. F. Scott; Iris, 26, Capt. R. Mundy; Lynx, 3, Com. J. T. Nott; Snipe, 2, Com. G. Raymoud; Flamer, 6, Com. G. J. Postle; Comet, 2, Com. G. A. Prazer; Dee, 2, Master Com. T. Driver; Meteor, 2, Com. G. Batier; Pluto, 2, Com. Blances: Stromboli, 6, Com. Stor. E. Plankett;

Military Intelligence.

FROM THESDAY'S GAZETTE.

n. 5 be Deputy Lieu. Charles Augustus

County of Bornet.—Thomas Russer, M.P., to be Reputy Lieutenant, John Physre, Esq., to be do.; Captain Charles Augustus Mannuz, R.N., to be do.
The Queen's Own Regiment of Worcesterships Venmanry Cavairy.—John Harward, Seat., to be Ournet, z. Gepmehreek, promoted.

FROM FRIDAY'S GAZETIE.

WAS OPPICE, Jap. 18.

7th Foot—Lieut C. S. Cochrane, to be Cept. by p. v. Me W. O'Malley, who ret.; Eas. B. E. De Montmorrany, from 18th Foot, to be Leent. by p. v. Cochrane; Asist. Narg. J. Mitchell, M.D., 10m 78th F.of, to be Burg. v. Shean, who rat. us half-pay.

30th—Staff Jurg. of the Second Clam S. Lawson, to be Earg. v. J. Trigance, who retites upon half-pay.

33d—Leut. R. N. Phillips, to be Capt, hy p. v. Fautchingon, who ret.; Ens. W. Payn, to be Lieut. by p. v. Phillips M. Lassas, Gent., to be Busin by p. v. Payn.

39th—Rus. G. Nowtomen to be Jisut. by p., v. Tamiline, who retires; W. J. Hoars, Gent., to be Ens. by p., v. Memospeli. Oith—Lieut T. R. M'Coy, from 38th Foot, to be Lispin v. Kons, who exchanges.

60th—M. F. Monckton, Gent., to be Eas. by p., v. Asiley, promoted.

promoted,

#6th—Look H. J. Darell to be Capt. br p., v. Bt.-Maj. Dundas, who retires; Ens. H. Massy to be Lieut. by p., v. Darell;

Hon. W. S. Enox to be Ens. by p. v. Massy.

geth—Lieut. T. G. Enox, from 6tth Moot, in be Lieut. v.

M'COV, who exchanges,
2d West India Reg. - Lieut. W. H. Nicolis to be Capit. without
p. v. Lardner, dec.; Rus. A. P. Huith to be Lieut. without p. v.
Nicolis, Dec. 37; R. W. Webster, Gent., to be Ens. without p. v.
Smith.

CAVALRY.

4th Dragoon Guards-Corner Lans joins at the and of next month.

7th Dragoon Guards-A detachment, consisting of 2 Officers and 10 men proceeded from Maidstons to Gravesend, on 6th January, and to sushark on board Diadom, to Cape of Good Hope. 9th Lamors—Vet. Surg. Johnston has leave to Cal-cutts for three months, to appear before a Medical Board.

Lith Hussers.—Lieut-Colonel the Earl of Cardigan left town last evening to resume the command of this spiendid corps in Dublin.

16th Lancers—Curnet Maycock has leave to Calcutta to appear before a Medical Board. Leaut. Need has leave to Mussoorie to 1st May, 1844, on medical certificate.

ORDNANCE SORPS,

ORDNANCE SCHEPS.

Royal Artillery—

Mennamous.—The Second Lieutenants appointed to the Rt. Artillery by the General Order of this date are posted to companies as follows, viz...—Rt. A. Sniyth to Capt. Morgan's ed., the batt., E. W. Phillips to Maj. Andrews's, 7th batt., E. M. Prikering's, 8d batt., F. H. Canacillar to Capt. Supering to Capt. Pickering's, 8d batt., T. H. Carlyon to Maj. Furioaux's, 8d batt.; It. S. Elhot to Capt. Palmer's, 9th batt., C. Waline to Capt. Leave, 8th batt., C. Waline to Capt. Leave, 8th batt., C. Waline to Capt. Leave, 8th batt., C. Waline to Capt. Cator's, 3d batt., F. M. M. Omozney, to Capt. Cornetine's, 4th batt., E. Palmer io Major Figer's, 4th batt., O. H. Gilbert to Capt. Tomkyn's, 4th batt., 1 Vanustart, to Mojor RendalPs, 4th batt., L. G. Paget for Capt. Witcon's, 6th batt., R. Philips to Maj. Greenwood's, 8th batt., 1 Vanustart, to Mojor Hardinge's, 3d batt.; H. A. R. Fizgerald so Maj. Jackson's, 3d batt.

Bard Dec 29, 1843.

Colonel, Ansita. Add. General.

The following general romark made by the Hon. the Surveyor-Concral upon Mesers, Cox and to 's account of ellowason to wive and tamilies at soldiers. Hoyal Artiflity, to take them to the a tionace, year 1841-2, he promisigated to the regiment for the pulsamone of all Officers in command of troops, companies, and catabhinents.—

"It's requested that. on the principle discrete to be adopted.

netachments—
It is requested that, on the principle discrete to be adopted by it is a page 124 if, vol. ii, Finance Regulations, the women may be furnished with certification for passage by era, railway, er in all cases in which it may be practicable, in the same manner as for troops, companies, and detachments, it being considered that, in most instances, orders for the conveyancepagnics by Mesers Cox and Co. would be taken by the railway constance.

If I. b. Ross, Deputy-Adjutant General."

RI. Engineers—Capt. James Velch, off the h.-p. of this corps, has lately published a pamphlet on the means of establishing a ship navigation between the Mediterranean and Red Seas. The line recommended from Suez direct to Tinch is seventy five miles. The caust, according to the Captain's plan, would be 21 feet deep, 96 feet wide at bottom, and 180 feet wide at the surface. The total expense 2,012,1601., a vasily higher estimate than that of the French Officers. Capt. Vetch served at the defence of Cada; he entered the Army in 1807, and was placed on half-pay, March 11, 1824.

Royal Suppers and Miners.—Letters received by the man which arrived on Tuesday from Bermuda, sonvey the intelligence of the entire subsidence of the fever there, and of the return to Hallfax, Nova Scotia, of the Medic Officers, and gentlemen who had kindly tendered their professional services and attentions to the sick and dying during the recent fatal epidemic. Until this information had been furnished, no more troops were to be sent to that region; but now that the group of islands has been ductared to be free of the faver, minforcements will shortly be sent out to fill up the fluidinnoises occasioned by the mortality of the disease. The widows-find orpinus of the Non-Commissioned Officers and men of the Ri. Artiflery and Ri. Sappers and Miners, artifled Woodship or Monday evening in a waggon. There are nine women and shout forty children of the two compenies of these corps at Bermude thus thrown on the world, without protection and support. The sight was a very melanchely one, and excited the deepest sympathy. It is consulatory to know that the Rl. Support and Miners, in consideration of the deep distress which the widows and orphans of lique who deep distress which the widows and orphans of lique who exceed in their corps have been reduced, have entered into a subscription for their relief; and being aided by their Officers, belonging to the Rl. Engineers, the contribution, which is still increasing, piready amounts to a sum which reflects the highest credit on their liberality.

INFARTAY:
"1st Poot, 1st Bett.—Lieut. Wells is appointed A.B.C. to the Governor-General of Cener 2d.—Capt. Jephson has leave to Calcutts for 6 menths.

2d.—Capt. Rouse has leave to Mussouris for 1 year, on -Lieut. Blair has leave to Culentte for I months, med. ourt. to appear before a Beard of Medical Officers.

4th—The invalids left Samundershiel for Poensusies, in Noy, under the command of Lieut. Chetwedz.

6th—The Colonel of this regiment, Con. Sie Gagrye Nugent, Bart., and O.C.B., Sc., in the same General of the Army. It is singular that his twin britise should have also renched the head of his protention, the Navy, having lately died Admiral of the Flast. (See Mamor.)

10th. We much regret to learn that a saypre and in-tractable furm of Ophthalmia has lately been prevalent in il.M.'s 10th, now queriered in the Fort, and that many of the cases require a complete change of nir, for the reatoration of the individuals afflicted, and the preservation of their right. On the above circumstances being reported to the Gavernor-Goueral, like Landship immediately directed a steamer to be prepared, to take them for a use trip, and the Tanguserile has been got ready for that purpose, and will start as soon as the requisits starte are supplied. This is but another, added to several known and recorded instances, of Lord Ellenborough's true friendship for the Army; long may he continue to sum-mend the affection and admiration of the saider by such solid and ambetantial acts of kindness and bearvience.— Englishman, Nov. 8.

16th-Liest.-Col. Lord Charles Wallastey will resume the commandes the Blat inst.

17th-Capf. Cooper has leave to England for two years on medical certificate.

18th-Capt. Sir William Maggregor bas arrived from Chine.

29d.—Capt. Chute has two years' leave to England, on medical certificate. Lieut. Stopford has leave to England for one year.

27th Deput—Capt. Williamson commands the sompony at Trim, with Lieut. Stupylion, that replaced Capt. Guld's company, 65th.

28th-Lieut. Burrell has leave to Culcutta, to appear before a medical board.

80th-Service encapanies arrived at Cack on 6th Jan. on board Resistance troop-stip, after a remarkable quick passege of 18 days, from finishs.

Hat-Copt. Kelly has leave to Calcutte, to appear before a board of medical Officers. 35th Deput. Have moved from Youghal to Temple:

Bith-Ht.-Major De Lacy's leave expires nest munth.
Colonel Maxwell is in command; and the Repealers will find that Her Mejasty has not a more staunch and loyal sorpe then the Herefordshire.

42d-The Rayal Highlanders celebrated the anniversary of St. Andrew's day at Matta, on a splendid goals of hos-pitality, and the Officers surited all the sons of Asid Scotia, Blibitary as well as civilians, on the island, and faw of them declined the gattering. The mess-room, or spa-sions hall of the Aubergo de Castilia, was the accorded the revels, where the finel were regaled with a sumptague dinner, consisting of all the substantials and delicacies of the season, not forgetting abrep's kend, and haggis, the the meant, not forgetting savey a new and pages, the chieffain of the pudding rave; the wines were of the greatest veriety and exquisite flavour, from simplegue to numble port, and the whisley, drunk from qualdin, was first-rate mountain drw. The number which sat down to the feast was above sixtys most of them described with crosses of St. Andrew, embroidered by the fair hands of a warm-hearted descondent of the Gael. On the table was a splendid display of rich and wassive plate, tokens of remembrance from public societies for seeds of daring; and from chieft retring from the corps. A splendid orne-mental desert was furnished by the dear Mrs. Sweetman amongst which peered the Castie of Anid Reskie "standing on a rock." Amongst the season mars his Burn't ing on's rock." Amongst the greets were his Excel-lency the Governor, the Hou. Sir Patrick Stuntt, his beother, and the Highland chieftain Glengerry. During the evening the fine instrumental band of the regiment played actions are, alternately with the hand of pinges nucleus are, atternately with the hand of pines. Nothing can exceed the perfection to which this hand of pines has exacted under the tuition of Pipe-Major Million, Sistem pipers marched in the county to McLaim, Filteen pipers marched in the round the table, and much was diar hermony that it spreaged as if the ments was produced by one instrument, and so delicately soft, that the ment squarenish finzen our could not have failed to be delighted. M'Lean strutted round in a failed to be delighted. M'Lean strutted round in a pibroch, played in a "ne plus aften" style,—from a pair of aliver pipes presented to the regiment by Sir Denis Pack, after the battle of Waterloo. But when the pipes of fine fellows agrang up, and Total the affect? A number of fine fellows agrang up, and Total it with all the anthusiasm of their native hills, hopting, clerking, and finging, in a style that would have wan the hearts of the fairest of the fair, could they have but witnessed it. His Excellency left the party after 10 colock. The most payous hillsrity prayelled, as is always the cose where the some of the Gael most aboutder to aboutder at the feetive board. the Gael most shoulder to shoulder at the festive board.

4414-

To the Editor of the Nevel and Military Basette.

Bin.—It is the day of every Officer belowing to the Service of the East India Conyany, to cause for wifed and demand from the Duke of Wellington and the Court of Distance of the Court of Disspure an ample spology from Colonel Shelton, for the foul assertion he has dured to cent upon the Sepore, in his spayed on the late presentation of rejours to the 44th Regiment, as published in your Gasette at the Geb instau:.

On such an uncasion, arely word that he uttered can be considered in no other light than official. He was at the head of his regiment, and on the parade-grounds and therefore the mare criminal and pagenerous. The Duke of Wellington, who ower much to the Sepoys, and whose testimony in their farmer has often been the public, will not in juntice allow such conduct to pass in eleme. Column Shelton uses the words When the Sopo descript us." This slindes to the retreat, after all the mischief had been done, out when the gullant Calonel, and he a party to the convention, had described Shab Suojah. Will be have the goodness in refer back to the conduct of his own regiment during the manneration at Calon, and also to the Monorandum lately published by Living Com. Named and Athlean Constitution in rendered to the protestion of tikhlar Khan 2

It is out of place to take notice of the very modest notice of the very modest notice which capalades Colonel Bludton's speech; vis., praise which concludes Colonel Bielton's speech; viz., that "he would be proud to lead the new regiment against the havest for Europe can houst." He courage was never questioned; yet why did he not second Gen. Elphiastone in times of difficulty and danger?—and why commence his speech by accoung the Sopoys of miscondagt, and finish it by exalting binself?

A. Kindly give the shove insertion in your next issue, if you are disposed to further the ends of justice and the good of both Services.

Loudon, Jan. 8.

As will be seen by the notice in our lest, we did not intend to publish the letter from Juneau, dated 4th Janusey; has we have since received several amongstations requiring that the consistent of the tild 4 th should be tully and fairly discussed in our columns. Yet therefore now some two lessers from this writer, and shall readily give about two lesters from this weiter, and assist reading give the friends of the Clid 44th an apportunity of replying. We only require that the parties abstain from personalities in To the Editor of the Mand and Artifray Guestle. Sin,—It is as for back as the Lith of last month that I read in the Times newspapers long statement detailing the corangony which took place upon the presentation of colours to the 44th Reg., now nationed at Gosport, and also also resent of a mesch delivered at the agenc time by also the report of a speech delivered at the same time by Sir H. Pakenham. Doubtless, for, you and the majority of your renders remember well the account to which I employed by Sir Heroules in his address to the 44th upon that accession. I have been writing in the subject, but in secting summer public spaces taken of the subject, but in I therefore feel it almost to be a duty to submit the following observatues for general consideration. whole affair is of the most public nature, sud therefore public property.

There are (thank lieuven) very few matences in which lenguage, however strong, in praise of our admirable troops would be out of place or decided graggorated. But this very fact should rooks people to authority expecially careful to descriminate where any case of exception occurs to this simost universal and gioriths truth; otherwise, an agt of the greatest injustice is done to the rest of the Army. It is out of the wesknesses of this tempusising ago not to be able to give things their proper number, and to soften down the broad line which should divide right from wrong, and thus to confound all proper distinctions.

What are the most lively recollections which the public have of the notorious 44th? Let us turn our eyes to the west. Did it not by its unsteady, wavering, and comorably the statement of the American man. conduct before May Otlesus, during the American combring rule and destruction not only upon their not not only upon their and tarnish the glory of our arms? Ites it in the Best received the phonon which it lost in the Mest & Alas! the entelogue of our recent millortunes in Alighan.

thing to too fresh in the memory to require any reminder. But what part did the 44th play in the tragedy? Its be-haviour (with shame every Englishman must confess it) both before and during the retreat, was marked by unsteadiness, want of subordination, and cowardice. Instead of showing an example of courage, devotion, and loyalty, it displayed the most opposite qualities; and it is as true and notorious as it is painfully humiliating, that the 44th Regiment frequently abandoned the post of danger and of honour to the Native troops-a circumstance, I believe, before unparalleled. Had this regiment been true to its own honour, it is not too much to say that many of the crils of that disastrous time would probably have been averted. The strictest justice could slone entitle me thus to speak of a body of men who have paid the last debt of nature; but it appears to me to be imperatively demanded.

If it was necessary to go through the public ceremony of presenting colours to the 44th Regiment so soon after its re-organishtion, the Address which usually accompanies it, in place of heing couched in terms which would have honoused the most gallant regiment in our Service, should have been framed in language of the gravest warring, as regards the past, and of the most carnest exhortation for the future.

It is idle to say that the regiment is not composed of the same men as formerly. If this should be considered a sufficient answer, one of the strongest inducaments for distinction would be taken away. Who ever heard of this plea heing urged, when any panegyrie, justly due, was bestowed upon a regiment? A regiment never dies. Its Far he it from me to say, that by subsequent good conduct the blot upon the reputation of the 44th may not be But this has yet to be accomplished, and, in the meantime, it rests under a cloud. I am, &c. "

Junius. January 4.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gazette.

Sin,—The reputation of the Army is the nation's prorty. This is greatly injured where praise is improperly heatowed. It much becomes you, in your position, to see that this most relined species of injustice is not per-petrated. In speaking of the bad fame of the 44th, do I deal in attacks of a private or concealed nature which would properly demand authentication? Until the following sentences (written, besit observed, on the spot, and by eye-wituesses) can be satisfactorily refuted, will say that the expressions contained in my former letter are too severo?

First, Lieut. Eyro says, "It is a lamentable fact that some of those European soldiers (the 44th), who were naturally expected to exhibit to their native brethren in arms an example of endurance and fortitude, were among the first to lose confidence and give vent to their feelings of discontent at the duties imposed upon them." p. 55.

"The Europeans eave way simultaneously with the Sepoys. In vain did the Officers of the 44th exhort and beacech their men to charge forward, not a soul would follow them, save one." p. 58.—" Major Scott, of H.M.'s 41th, repeatedly called on his men to descend with him to drag the 6-pounder away, but strange to say, his frequent appeals to their soldierly feelings were made in min." p. 64. - "The Brigadier (Shelton) fruitlessly endcavoured to induce the men to charge bayoneta. Several of the Officers advanced to the front, and priced the enemy with stones. All attempts, however, to encourage our men were in value," pp. 106, 107,... "The Luropean garrison withdrawn from the Bazanr, and a company of the 37th N.S. substituted in their room This being the weakest point in our defences had hitherto been protected entirely by parties of H.M.'s 44th, which post of honour they were few considered unworthy to retain." p. 129,-These are a few extracts from Liout. to retain." Hyre's work. Many others of a similar nature might be multiplied. The Lieutenaut records at pp. 127, 128, a scene peculiarly disgraceful to the 44th, wherein the poys show an example to the English troops, and at 130 observes generally—" It is notorious that the 44th P 130 observes generally-" It is notioned a state of woful detervictation. I firmly believe, in this, and in every other respect, they stood alone as a regiment of that noble Army whose glorious deeds in all quarters of the globe have formed, with those of the British Navy, the foun-dation of our national pride," &c. Secondly, Lady Sale says, " When the 44th carrented from Sheergel's Fort, all were in amazement. The 37th ·N I sugked leave to go and take it, but were not permitted to do so," p. 60. "When the men of the 37th N.I. were pehraided for turning, they replied, "We only retreated when we saw the Europeans run, and know we abouth not be supported, " p. 100,-- " The enemy then, ame on the the whole square (of which the 44th formed a part), rose simultaneously and ran," p. 131.

1 fige upon you, Sir, in common failuses, to publish this and the former letter. Public matters attacked pubhely, may be, if they are capable of being, answered in the same manner.—Lam, &c. Junius.

January 10.

45th-The 2d Battalian embark immediately at Cork. n board the Apollo troop-ship, for Gibreltar. 48th—On arrival of the 2d Batt. 45th at Gibraltar, the 48th will proceed to Jamuica.

Royal Marines.—Capt. Miller has gone on leave for aix weeks for the henefit of his health.—Lleut, and Adjutant Jackson has joined the detachment at Pembroke Dack. Lieut. Coods from Plymouth is us orders, and will probably join at Rembroke this day. Lieut. Coode from Plymouth is under bröke Dack, Lieut. Coode from Plymouth is under orders, and will probably join at Rembroke this day.

ROYAL MARINE OFFICE, December 16, 1843.—My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty having of late observed that several Marines discharged at their own request, who have applied for possions after completing a service of 31 years, have borne very indifferent characters, and have been frequently under punishment for very serious offences; and as the regulations under which pensions are granted particularly aspectly that "molprido of time shall be altowed to be reckoned during which a Marine shall not have maintained a good character in the ship or division to which he may have belonged." Their Lordships are pleased to direct that whosever a man who shall have borne a bad character, particularly during the latter part of his service, shall apply to his discharge for length of service, such man's case shall, previous to his discharge, by brought under the notice of their Lordships, accompanied by a statement of the offence he may have been guilty of, and the dates on which they were committed, in order that their Lordships may decide whether his pension shall be disallowed, or ha shall be permitted an opportunity of retrieving his character, and recuvering the time he shall have foreitted from miscondust, by contingance in the service. In carrying their Lordships' directions on this subject into effect, you will perceive that, previous to any other step being taken towards the discharge of a man for long service, the Swisional Beard must make their report upon the character of the man agreeably to the 3d paragraph of the 3d head of inquire, as lift down in their Lordships' printed instructions to that behalt; and it then the stater portion of his service, found to be "Bad," then the report of the Divisional Board in which your remarks thereon, as above stated. But in other cases the flischarge certificate may be filled in, signed, and given to the man as heretofore,

By command if their Lordships.

John Owan, D.A.G.

Marines.

52d Depot-Capt. the Hon. C. Grey's company, at Portumna, is ordered to join at Nenagh, and will be re-placed by one of the 16th, from Birr. Capt. Vigor's company, from Nenagh, move to Killalue.

53d—Capt. Mansfield's co. has arrived at filigo, on detachment, from Enniskillen. The following Officers compose the General Court-Martial assembled at Newry for the trial of Lt. Parker : - Maj - Gen. Wyndham, Prosidenf; Lieut.-Col. Faddy, R.A.; Maj. Westenra, and a Lieut., 5th Dragoon Guards; Brev.-Lieut.-Col. Barlow, 14th; Maj. Fawkes, 27th; Brev .- Lieut.-Col. Dames, two Capts., and one Lieut., 66th; three Field Officers, and two Captsins, from the garrison of Dublic. David Walker, Esq. Deputy Judge-Advocate.

56th—A company is at Fethard. Major Passy is with the companies at Clonmel.

On the 9th inst., Capt. Laye, with 74 r. and f., proceeded by steam from Chatham to Speerness Garrison, 59th—A General Court-Martial is ordered to be held at Portsmouth, on Lieut.-Col. F. Fuller, relative to a most extraordinary charge, viz., requiring and receiving As. 6d. for granting the necessary official documents to men discharged from the regiment, such charges being contrary to regulation, and without the slightest precedent. believe that the amount received by the Lieut.-Colonel was under 31., and that on the error being pointed out he handed over the amount to the agents to be accredited to the public. Licut General Sir T. Arbuthnot is to be the President; and it is said the Court will be composed entirely of Officers in command of regiments. Lieut.-Col. Puller has been 38 years in the Service, and all the time on full-pay:" He was at the taking of Macassar, in the Island of Celebes, 9th June, 1814; and he served at the siege and capture of Bhurtpoor, in 1825 and 1826. His father was the late General Fuller.

60th, 1st Batt .- First Licut, the Hon. A. Hope has leave to 30th September.

60th, 2d Hatt .- On being relieved by the 48th, will proceed to Quebec, to relieve the 68th, which will be brought to Portsmouth.

60th, 2d Batt. Depot-The following distribution has recently taken place :- At ('avan : 2 companies, consisting of 100 r. and f.; at Monaghane 1 Captain, 50 r. and f at Belturbet: head-quarters, under Major Crombie.

65th—A company has been moved from Mullingar to Longford.

talion, 60th.

69th-Have sent their flint-lock muskets to Athlone magazine, under escort, baving received the new percuasion guns.

72d.—Maj. Jervis, Capt. Lacy, and Eus. Brandling, are stationed at Rock Mills, Kilderrery.

77th Depot-On Tuesday this depot, which has been stationed at Sheerness, was reliased by a detachment from the Chatham provisional battalion, consisting of seven () fficers and 150 r. and f., made up of men of almost every regiment in the Service. The 77th Ammediately marshed from the severy regiment in the service. mand of Capt. ed from Sheerman under the cot W. J. Clerke, and occupied Dover Castle.

78th-Assist-Surg. Mitchell, M.D., has two years

menced the new year by giving a dance and supper to the wives and daughters of their "benedict" comrades, to which some of the respectable inhabitants of Buttevant were also invited. The room was tastefully decorated, the supper excellent, and the amusements of the evening were kept up with great spirit until a late hour. The Officers of the Sist contributed liberally towards the entertainment. This is as it should be, and proves the good feeling that exists through all ranks of this gallant corps, as well as the estimation in which the Non-Commissioned Officers are held by their superiors.

86th-Captain Rattray has two years leave, to England on medical certificate.

The rumour was current yesterday that H. M.'s 86th, now at Belgaum, is to proceed forthwith to the Persian Gulf. The on dit is that this measure has been ordered for the purpose of re-occupying Karrack, and that it has originated in consequence of the intelligence received by Lord Ellenborough of the Persian intrigues at Candahar and Khelat. It is probable that the above information is true. The evacuation of Karrack is thought by some to have been much too precipitate, although it cannot be denied that it was effected after a long negotiation. The Persians are not a race in whom the least confidence can be placed; of their light character there have been multifarious instances before this one. The movement of the 86th will, without doubt, make some alterations in the reliefs of European Corps of this Presidency, which we shall lose no time in laying before our readers as soon as we can learn them. We give this intelligence as a rumour which will be confirmed within a few days .- Hombay Gentleman's Gazette, Oct. 28.

89th Dapot-Major Lewis joins the service companies. 90th Depot-Col. Spink, on the Staff of Ireland, and Major Power, 85th Reg., are in Carlow, investigating an alleged assault said to have been committed by Lieut. Mackenzie on Capt. Eld.

92d-The Jara transport, on her arrival at Portsmouth. having on board the 92d, is ordered to proceed with the regt. to Leith, and when disembarked, will he at the disposal of the General Officer commanding in Scotland; but we do not know at present how that Officer will dispose of it or of the depots 68th, 79th, and 88th, whose changes of stations have been "guessed" at by contemporaries.

95th Depot.—Moved from their quarters, in Dover

Castle, to the barracks on the heights, on the 11th inst.

96th Depot—Under command of Capt. Wilson, proceeded by steam from Chatham to Sheerness, on the 9th inst., to relieve the 77th Depot, ordered to Dover.

1st West India Regt .- One company under orders to proceed to Cape Coast Castle immediately. Mr. W. Fergusson, jup., 2d Writer in the Colonial Office, has succeeded Capt. O'Connor as Private Secretary to the Governor of Sierra Leone and Clerk of the Council.

Yeomanry-The Government has finally determined not to re-organise the Irish Yeomanry.

His Grace the Commander-in-Chief has been pleased spprove of Lieutenant the Hou. Charles Hugh Lindsay, of the 43d-Light Infantry, and of Cornet Sir William Don, Bart., of the 5th Dragoon Guards, being appointed extra Aides-de-Camp to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in succession to Captain Freeman Murray, of the 60th Rifles, and Captain Lord William Hill, of the 2d (or Royal North British) Drugoous—the former having been appointed Assistant Military Secretary upon the Staff of Ireland, and the latter having resigned.

The Barrackmestership of Trales is vacant by the death of Oliver Stokes, Esq., father of Lieut.-Col. J. Day Stokes, East India Company's Service.

RECEDITING STAPF. - The following changes disve taken place this quarter :- Lieut. Grant, 38th, from Maryborough, has relieved Lieut. Radcliff, 87th, in charge of the Randing subdivision; Lieut. Ricard, 75th, is ap-pointed to the charge of Bradford subdivision, v. Lieut. Spring, 53d; Licut. Adam, 72d, has relieved Capt. Feale, 4th Foot, in charge of Hertford subdivision; Lieut, the Hon. C. D. Pinnkett, 1st Poot, is appointed to Tonbridge sub-division, v. Liest. Adam, 72d, removed to Hertford; Lt. Bourke, 17th, appointed to Maryborough, v. Lt. Grant.

It is gratifying to observe that the sentence of death is not frequently carried into effect in the French Army, and in general only for the crime of marder. During the years 1838 and 1839 the mean annual number of years 1838 and they the man is about one per convictions in the French Army is about one per convictions in the French Army is about one per convictions in the mean of the cent. (0.97); and it appears, from the mean of the last three years of the return of corporal punishments in-flicted in the British Army, namely, 1832, 1833, and per cent. (194); the purishments, other than corporal inflictions, for the same period, being about eight per cent. (78); consequently about nine men new 100 are a new 10 sed in the British Army, and one man per 100 are annually the French Army.

PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c., During December, 1843.

Nov., 1841. 1st Dr. Cids.—Hen. Geo. Sut-

Nov., 1841.

1st Dr. Glds.—Hen. Geo. Suttan. Cor. by p. v. Cuild, ret.

1sec. 5, 1843.

2d—Livut. Tuthill, Capt. by p. v. Elliott, res., 5th do.; Lt.
Calvert, from 23 P. Lout. v.
Lord Aberdour, It Dr., 4th do.; Cor.
Robbins, Lieut. by p. v.
Tathill, 4th do.; John Carstairs, Jones, Cor., 18th do.

6th—Lieut. Dickson, Capt. by p. v. Scott, ret., 29th Dec.; Cor., 18th do.; Cha. Edw. Walker, Cor., 29th do.; Cha. Edw. Walker, Cor., 29th do.; Cha. Edw. Walker, Cor., 29th do.; Maj. Richardson, Lt.-Col. by p. v. Mills, ret., 22d do.; Lieut. Schonswar, Capt., 2dd do.; Lieut. Schonswar, Capt., 2dd do.; Lieut. Schonswar, Capt., 2dd do.; John Thomas Cramer, Cor., 22d do.

22d do.; John Thomas Cramer, Cor., 22d do. 2 do.

from 2d Dr. Gam. Lacut. v. Hale, Mitchell, ret., 22nd do.; Hans h.p. 41st F., 4th do.; Lieut. Robert White, Ens., do.; Geo. Wegueim, Capt. by p. v. Said.; St. Jullen Henderson, Ens. by ton, ret., 23th do.; Cor. Sandes, p. v. Johnston, 29th do. Lieut. by p. v. Wender Cavr.; Cornet, 4th do.; Cornet Noch., Cornet Noch., Leut. by p. v. Wegueiln, 29th do.; Fhomas Yorke Dallas, Cor., by p. v. Nocd., 29th do.; Staff, Ens., 22d do.; M. D., Surg. v. Chambers, Staff, M. D., Surg. v. Chambers, Staff, 29th do.; Staff, Leut. by C. Staff, 29th do.; Staff, 29

15th - Assist. Surg. Jee, from 57th F. Assist. Surg. v. Dr. Bis-

15th - Assist.-Surg. v. Dr. Bussett, exch., 22d do.

1st foot—Maj Peane, K.H.,
Lieur, Col by p. v. Mollen, ret.,
5th do., Capt. Montgouery,
Maj, 5th do., Licut. Neville,
Capt., 5th do., Licut. Neville,
Capt., 5th do., Licut. Neville,
Capt., 5th do., Licut. Neville,
Capt. Author, Ens., 8th do.;
Thos. Patrick Matthew, Assist
Surg v. Dr. Cierthew, 85th F.,
12th do.; Major Bell, Lt. Col
Ly p. v. Deane, cauc., 5th do.,
Capt. Author, fin h -p. sth Garr.
lin. Capt. v. Sampson, exch., 12th do.; Licut. Pionkett, Capt.
by p. v. Aubin, ret., 12th do.;
Pine Carlyth, Licut. by p. v.
Chailton, Els. by p. v. Carlyon,
22th do.

3d- Serj.-Maj, Wm. Colburn
Collum, Ens. v. White, 3d Dr., 22d do.

4th - Ens. Oxley, Licut. hy
availating fauseen Best, Ens., do.
Such—Licut. By, p. v. Raws storae, ret., do.) Walleane, Ro.
Spih—Licut. and Adj. Turuer,
fon h.-p., 3d W I. Reg., Licut.
25ch do.

4th - Licut. Holton, from h.-p.
6th do.
Spih—Licut. and Adj. Turuer,
fon h.-p., 3d W I. Reg., Licut.
25ch do.
4th - Licut. Bolton, from h.-p.
6th - Ens. Oxley, Licut. hy
availating fauseen Best, Ens., do.
Such—Licut. By, p. v. Haw storae, ret., do.) Walleane, Ro.
Spih—Licut. and Adj. Turuer,
fon h.-p.
6th - Ens. Oxley, Licut. hy
availate, ret., 12th do.; 14th - Capt. Samping diaty sath - Ens. Oxley, Licut. hy availate, ret., 12th do.; 14th - Capt.
Spih—Licut. Spin p. v. Ros.
Spih—Licut. and Adj. Turuer,
fon h.-p.
6th - Ens. Oxley, Licut. hy
availate, ret., 12th do.; 14th - Capt.
Spih—Licut. by, p. v. Ros.
Spih—Licut. and Adj. Turuer,
fon h.-p.
Spih do.; 14th do.; 14th do.; 14th do.
4th - Capt. Promeet, p. v.
All Capt. Author, fon h.-p.
Spih do.
4th - Capt. Ferry nau, Maj.

ROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c., DURING DROFRESS, 1843Army—Capt. Aubus, 1at F.,; Isjor, 10th Jan., 1897; Capt.
Filinams, 22d F., Major, 23d (ov., 1841.
1st Dr. (ids.—Hen. Geo. Sutting. Cor. by p. v. Child, ret.
1st Dr. (ids.—Hen. Geo. Sutting. Cor. by p. v. Child, ret.
1st Dr. (ids.—Hen. Geo. Sutting. Cor. by p. v. Child, ret.
1st Dr. (ids.—Hen. Geo. Sutting. Cor. by p. v. Child, ret.
1st Dr. (ids.—Hen. Geo. Sutting. Cor. by p. v. Wade, 23d do.
1st Dr. (comper, ret., 23d do.)
1st

Lovell, Rus. v. Venanics, svin F., 32d do. 2144—24 Lieut. Bolton, 1st Lieut. v. Wrixon, dead. 16th Sept.; Rob. Edward Peddle, 2d Lieut. 22d Dec. 28d—Capt. Williams, from Unatt. Capt. v. Bt. -Maj. Myers, exch., 29th do. Lieut. Powell, Cupt. by p v. M. Phec, ret., 15th do.. Lieut. Goldle, Capt. by p. v. Williams, ret., 29th do.; Ens. Capt. by p.v. m. race., ret., 18th ob. Lieut. Goldie, Capt. by p.v. Wiliams, ret., 29th do.; Ens. Carraw, Lieut. 18th do., Eus. Boileeu, Lirut. by p.v. Goldie, 29th do.; John Baidwin, Ens. by p.v. Boileau, 29th do.; Geo. J. Weld, Ens., 18th do. 23d—Lieut. J. C. Conolly, from h. p. 41st F. Lieut. v. Cal. vert, 3d Dr. (ids., 4th do. 34th—Ens. Williams, Ault. v. Hodges, res. Adjt. only, 19th do. 23th—Lt. Birch, from 6th F., Lieut. v. Bulguy exch., do.

Lleut. v. Bulguy exch., do. 26th-Lt. C. Cameron, Adj. v.

Johnstone, 1es Adj. only, do.; Kenneth Menzies, Assist. Surg. v. Pine, 58th F., do. 27th—Charles Adrian Webster

27th—Charles Adrian Webster Wedderburne, Ens. by p. v. Murray, cancelled, 8th do. 29th—Lr. Power, Capt. be p. v. Nicolay, ret., 29th de.; Rus. Johnston, Lt. by p. v. Power, do.; Eas. Dobbs, Lieut by p. v. Mitchell, ret., 2rnd do.; Hans Robert Wilte, Ens., do.; Geo. St. Jullen Henderson, Ens. by p. v. Johnston, 29th do. 31d—Lt. Robyns, Capt. by p.

Dec. G. Sath - Env. Oxley, Lient. by

Colum, Ens. v. White, 3d Dr., Lieut, by p. v. Madden, ret., 22d do. ath—Licut Bolton, from h.-p. 49th F., Lieut, v. C. S. Glazbrook, uppennted Adj. 49th F., to do., 5th—2d Licut, Getton, 1st Leut, by p. v. Wagner, ret., 3th do., Reglinsid Youge Shipley, 2d Licut, 5th do. fith—Licut Balguy, from 25th F., Licut, v. Birch, exch., 12th do., Licut, S. Birch, exch., 12th do., Licut, Adj. only, 12th do., 12th F., Capt. V. Simeou, exch., 12th do., 12th F., Capt. V. Simeou, exch., 12th do., 12th do.,

Bl. Maj. Hemman, rof. on full-pay, 29th do.; Ens Hewson, Lieut., do.; Win. Heuderson Maclean, Ess. v. Hewson, do. 23rd—John Harvey, Ess. by p. v. Isaac, retired, 12th do. 8 thi—Ens. Cassan, Lieut. v. Swayne, superseded, 20th do.; Gronge Vaughan Arbuckio, Eu-sten. do.

sign, do Sth.—Assist. Nurg. G. Cleri-hew, M.D., from tat F., Surg. v. Grifan, h.-p., 5th do. with.—Wm. Carpendale Saird, Kns. v. Bowen, dead, 22nd do.

91d.—Walter Odgreit Bar-rington Campbell, Ens. by p. v. Gordon, ret, ath do. 97th.—Lieut. Criagte, Capt. v. Lisie, doad, Nov. 1s. Engign Bigge, Licut., do.; Hedley B. J. Vicare, Ensign, do. 98th.—Capt. Grimes, from 5sth F., Capt. v. Whimper, exc., do. 2d W.I. Reg. — David Reid W.Kinoon, Assist. Surg. v. Dr. Tuthitt. res., 19th do.

M'Kinnon, Assist., Snrg. v. Dr. Tuthili, res., 19th do., 3d W.i. Reg.,—Lieut. Lymon, from lat F., Capt. by p. v. Seymour, Dec. 29, Cepl. Rif. Reg.,—LE. Brereton, from 76th F., Lieut. v. Brett, nnc., Nov. 5; Assist., Surg. v. Rwing, dead, 29nd do. Cape Mount. Rif.,—Barj., Maj. Who., Hartshorn, from 24th F., Ens. v. O'Longell, Jane., 29th do.

Ens. v. O'Lousell, oanc., 39th do. Unatt. —Bt. Major Dawson, from 73d R. Major Dawson, from 73d R. Major, do. Liest. Norton, from 15th F., Capt., do.; L4. Webater, from 95th F., Cap-tain, do?

LA. Websier, from 99th F., Captain, def Royal Milly, Colling. — Assist... Bury. Colling. — Assist... Bury. Colling. — Assist... Bury. Colling. — Bew. art, prom. on the Bidf, Dec. b. Royal Mill. Assist... Biff. o. Bury. Dec. b. Royal Mill. Assist... Biff. Coll. Peter Brown, Unatt., Commandant v. Liest. Coll. J. Williamson, dead, 18th do. Minical Department. — Bury. Chamber, from 11th Dra., Binf. Surg. 1st Class v. Dr. Bincleit, B.-p. do., hinf. Assist... Surg. on Class v. Cowen, M.D., Staff. Surg. 2nd Class v. Cowen, M.D., Staff. Surg. 2nd Class v. Cowen, M.D., Assist... Surg. 1st do., Staff. Surg. 2nd Class. Thought. Funces v. Jameson, 18th do., Assist... Surg. 1st do., Chapter. Staff. Coyl. Ref. Mag., 2nd do., Orderance Department.—Bi. Artil.—bec. It. Fluid, First Leatt. v. Bichard Harvey, dead, Ogt. 3s. Rt. Engineers.—First Lt. E. T. Fond, Rec. Capt. v. Bailey, h.-p., Nov. 181 Sur. Lt.

Rns. v. Bowen, dead, 22ad do.

88th—Captall Herbert, from Unatt., Capt. v. Ormshy, exc.,
29th do.

91st—Alex. Barclay. M.D.,
Assit.-Burg. v. Dr., Stubbs, res.
22ad de.

92d—Ens. Nicoll, Lieut. by p. do.,
V. Pratt, ret., 29th do., George
Warrender, Ensign by p. v.
Nicoll, do.

RESIDUATIONS AND RETIREMENTS. Licutomant-Colonels—Mills, 7th Dr. Gdu.; Mallen, E.H., 1st F. Major O'Neill, asth F. Captains—Elitott, 2d Dr. Gdu.; Ogilvy, 8th F.; M'Phee, 82d F.; Dillon, 22d F.; Thursby, 54th F.; Voshroke, 56th F.; Prover, 67th F. Licutenants—Blowne Cave, 1th Drs. Wagner, 5th F.; Macleod, 9th F.; Penny, 18th F.; Mitchell, 29th F. Biske, 24th F.; Rawaronic, 28th F.; Turner, 39th F. Corner and Knames—Cave, 1th F.; Edinell, 23d Knames, 2dd F.; Massy, 54th F.; Gordon, 9nd F. Assistant-Surgeon—Br. Stubbs, 91st F.; Dr. Tuthill, 2d W.J. Reg.

ADMIRAL SIR CHARLES EDMUND NUGENT, G.C.H.

THE gallant and veteran Others, who, it will be recollected, was an inmate of Charing cross Hospital some time since, to consequence of breaking his leg, by slipping of the kerb-stone near the Nelson Monument, expired on the 7th instant, at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. George Banks, M.P., Studiand, Doractabire, at the advanced age of FG. The following is an authentic record of his Naval career :-- hook, appointed Adj. 49th P., it all and of the Adj. 49th P., it all and Adj. 49th P., it all an entirely cleared, excepting the Commodore, who, together with all needs his command, displayed the most interput courage and resolution. Unfortunately, the Army under then, Cinton all this time remained inactive, not having been able to cross that part of the river which the guides had represented as tordable. Upon the approach of night, Sir Peter Parker finding all hopes of success at an east, exited off his shattered ships before the cub tide was two far apart, had retired only of reach of the enemy's abot. In this dreasted cambonade, which continued above ten hours, the Bristal had 111 man hilled and wounded.

The high opinion which Commodore Parker entertained at Liout. Nugent's exertions during the attack upon Stillivan's Island, is headened; expressed in his official despatches on that consistency expressed in his official despatches on that consistency, from which we make the following extract:—"Lioute, Onutfield, Molloy, and Nagent, were the Lieuts. on the Bristal in the section, they behaved so remarkably well, that it is impossible to say to whom the preference is due."

After this failure, the flost repassed the bar, and proceeded to New York, in the reduction of which town Lieut. Nugent was again activity engaged. On the 11th Bec., in the same year, his Peter Parker and Geu. Clinton were sent to reduce kindle listed. On the approach of the squadron, the Americans abandoned their strong posts, and the Island was taken possession of without the loss of a men. This was the last service of importance in which Lieut. Nugent was engaged during his step on the American station. In the enterior of Sir Peter Parker, who had by this time attained the rank of Vice-Admiral.

In the Autumn of 1779, the bay men on the Musquito shore, and in the bay of Houdura, being in great dancer of an attach.

Captain in the Poncom, of Figure, authored tighlo rank of Pont Captain in the Poncom, of Figure, authored at Jamaica, under the orders of hir Peter Parker, who had by this time attained the rank of Vice-Admiral.

In the Autumn of 1779, the bay men on the Musquito shore, and in the bay of Houduran, being in great danger of an attack from the Spaniards, who had landed at Rt. George's Cingy, the inhabitants of which they plundered and treated with great crosky, file Peter despatched the Percapene shop to co-operate with a detachment of trongs sent from Jamaics for their protection. About the same time the Time. Capt. Lattrell was detached with the Charon, of 48 gins, the Poncom and Laurenting Some register ships, in the bay of Duice. They took shelter, however, under the strong fortreas of St. Fernando de Chuon. It fortunately happened that Capt. Lattrell tell in with the Porcupace, and the troops that had accompanied her, returning, they having performed the service on which they had been sent, and sufficed the troops that had socompanied her, returning, they having performed the service on which they had been sent, and sufficed the troops, Matines, &c., which together did not exceed does men. As anything like a regular slego would have proved destructive to the anterprise, from the strength of the fort, and from the assentiants not having any heavy artitlery, it was determined to carry the piace by a warp de muse. Every requinted meaning the did the pith, a general artack book place by signal on the sea and land side. The fort having been carried by storm with very little resistance, the shipping in the harbour were immediately taken possession of, and proved to be of knoat value, their cargins being estimated at three milions of dollars. Two founds and slow of Hundlers and one being subscience were also found in the fort.

Prevenus to the supture of this important place, which is the key to the bay of Hundlers.

instablicity taken possessim of, and proved to be of goal value, their cargues being estimated at three millions of dollars. Two handred and fifty quistals of quickaliver were also found in the fort.

Previous to the sapture of title important plane, which is the key to the bay of Hondura, and where the Spaniards zend their register along and treasure fronglic actends in time of war, Capt Nugent was desputched by Commisione Luttrell to procure pidos at M. George's Quay, with orders to leave the Possess at anchrigat at M. George's Quay, with orders to leave the Possess at anchrigation colours lying. He immediately not off in his loat, to proceed to the Quay that it being now dark, we was soon aurounded by a number of Spania launches, and a actioner of a gone, that had been coinceled under the lee of the brig, which it now appoared had been taken and was agrofued to loard the Russiance, which were law and the remainder, with the solutions, and the proceed to the Russiance, which were law, and the remainder, with the solutions, obliged to sheer off with goat slaughter. With the solutions, obliged to sheer off with goat slaughter, with the solutions, obliged to sheer off with goat slaughter, with the solutions, a believe to the capt. Nugent was stripped to larn the Pomme. In the measurine Capt. Nugent was stripped to interface the province of Yucatan, who headed the exp difficulty capacital the log wood enters, may appeared, that the Governor of Bacular, a town of fire province of Yucatan, who headed the exp difficulty capacity the province of Yucatan, who headed the exp difficulty capacity the province of Yucatan, who headed the exp difficulty capacity the province of Yucatan, who headed the exp difficulty capacity, and the province of Yucatan, who headed the exp difficulty capacity the province of Yucatan, who had been were the province of Yucatan, who had been provinced to the capacity ingthe various operations I had to concert, have every 1 dry saumory. He served with the Mayal battanian at Mattingue,

Bt. Lucia, and Guadaloupe, and was present at many of the most important strokes." Capt. Ningent also received the thanks of the Military Commander-In-Chuef, Sir C. Grey, in public orders. From the spring of 17ps, until his presection to the trank of Rear-Admiral, which took place Feb. 29, 1797, this Officer commanded the Costa, of so guas, and was amployed principally in the Channet Ficet. On 1st Jap., 1801, herbecame a Vice-Admiral and in the summer of 1905, when the gallant Communia assaulted the chief command of first, he was selected by that Officer to serve as his first Captain.

At the public funeral of the hero of Trafsligar, Vice-Admiral Nagrant assisted in the procession. He became Admiral of the the Vicet 24th April, 1823, and was nominated a G.C.H. on 18th March, 1881. His half-pay as Admiral of the Flost was three guiness per dam.

March, 1584. His guineas per diem.

is a remarkable coincidence, and the fact is of itself singular in the annals of the United Service, that while Sir C. Nugent was the senior Admiral of the Navy, his twin brother, Sir George Nugent, C.C.B., who survives the venerable duceused, was the aemor General Officer in the Army. Sir James Hawkins Whitshed, Bart., G.C.B. (whose date of commission as Post-Captain is not 12 months subsequent to the late Sir C. Nugent), is now the senior Admiral of the British Navy,

NAVAL BONG.

Arinet, ashora, ahead, astera, Witn winds propitions or con-trary.

I do not spin as ille yarn,) Nu-mo, belay! I love thosy Mary.

Amidables -- on the Boutinck shrouds. Athwart the hawse, satride the mixen, watching at night the ficecy clouds.

Your Harry wishes you were his's.

Then let us heave the auptial lead.

iced, In Hymen's port our anchors weighing; Thy lace thail to the figure-licad Our able shall always be dis-playing.

But when old ago shall bid us luff, Our honget tack will never vary, But I'll continue Harry Bluff, And thou my little light-built Mary.—Punch,

Correspondence abdressed to the Editor.

NAMING OF ARMS.—No. VII.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gazette.

Sin,—Among such warlike people as the Norse-men, or Skaudinaviane, we may expect to find arms duly prized; and favourite weapons especially named. My reading of those regions and doings is very limited; but I have noted a few instances where heroic men bore approprints wonder-working arms; to which especial names are given. My instances are taken chiefly from that curious and valuable work Fritzger's Saga, by Transa, bishop of Wexia, as transleted by the Rev. W. Stransa, and published with very copious and curious notes, a few years ago.

"Opulence throughout the house gave to view its various treasures...

Youth with northern nectar stored—larders throughd with pondious visuas...

Laden pressurs—chests, gameen'd the rich spoil of many a connuest...

Jeweln, rune ongraven-gold, sliver, wrought with dextrade

Chiefest yet, of all bequests, three were doom'd of cost of thefe, a far-fam'd sword, long from sire to son

dosconded—

dagageordel—an 'twas hight, younger brother of the lightning—Forged in eastern land mar, 'tis a tale of old tradition—
Tomper'd by fire-working dwarfs; and by BLATAFR Broaw first Peristined."

"twistued."

The fortunate successors to this "younget brother of the lightning" are then commemorated, and their exploits, so armed. "Hoge unshapely giants, rough with bristly hair, and savage"—were, of course, "to the middle "cleav'd with single cut," and "weeping beauties saved." "From chased gold the hill was wrought—the blade with runes respindent—Wenderinh-not kenn'd it the north."

I lere we ugain find "the casternal and afar" resorted to, for runes or teichnes begann the texture the north!"

for runes, or tabulous legends " not kenn'd i' th' north,"
" That then glave next Tanasrus bore, worthy berrof such a

"That the again hear amastra upter, world not such a hero,
And the last his noble son. When he drew it the half glistoped,
As with share of lightning's flash, or the bright beresh bustre,"—
"Hi presseed his moteor blaze, giaring is the night of battle, Which was the weapon famed; "manyst northern nations pecticus.".
"Next to pire, scarce lass extell'd, was braceled's curious circle—" which is sorr most sally and conventionly statewished; but.

which is very poetically and romantically described; but, however inviting, is not within the scope of our present subject to extract.

After various vicinsitudes, THORBERN repossessed it, with the aid of Anguerardel—"younger brother of the lightning," and as in the case of that sword—" "Widely was the jewel famed—"monget northern nations per ricar?"

Let us here note that one of the fourteen jewels, or genry, restored to the world by one of the grand incarongens, restored to the world by one or the grain incarra-tions of the Hindu deity Visuave, was a wonder working jewel called he stabe, it is recollect aright. This incar-tions or descent, which is the meaning of avatur, of Visuave, was in the form of a tortotag, and hence called the Kagemavatur; and the fourteen gents are named chanda-verye, of which hundreds of descriptions are extant, and not a few in our language :-

"Third of these bequests, high-prices, came the magic ship,

This fe likewise, with her Captain and drew, and various direumstances, very postically and beautifully described; as before, winding up with—
"Widely was the war-thip sained—monget northern war perties."

But on this also I shall be very brief; noting, however, that among the "fourteen gens" shows mentioned was a offip, of which as much has been sung in Hindu mythologic legends as of Shield in those of Shandinavia.

A few other wespons, with individual names, among that race, we will proceed to notice. Claused with Angurvardel, if somewhat loss famed, we find Angreathill, which is translated the "ford of tribulation;" intimating, it is supposed, the blue transparency of its water-like steel. In an earlier letter it was mentioned that Indian or Damascus blades were prized for their aub, or water. In England, I believe, the wavey lines on Syrian blades

(imitated on some English blades) are called their " water."

Another Thundingrian blade is named Minungsethe shof-d'ausse of Valent, the Coryphes of the Norse forge. So sharp and keen was this, that, if the current waited a cable 30 feet (!) in diameter against its motion-ess edge, it would be severed.

The hero Tutoux wielded Eckisar, and, so sided, rescued Sinthant from the jaws of a dragon. Nagettring was the weapon of Hilbenhand. Dragoendill, of Guzi; this is pronounced to be the "best of swords." Brynthwari, "which haver lost its edge," was the weapon of Hraunovithis. Hogni wielded Sigurilomi. Rolf. Risanuutr-"heavy even to his arm-too huge to be faised by any other." One more—the two edged glaive One more—the two edged glaive of Haora — the unpronounceable Hregoridarnautr ; —"names," says a commentator, "almust as formidable at the weapons themselves."

Among these formidable names may be traced Sanskrit or Indian words ; disguised, it is true, by a barbarous and, perhaps, others.

But let us proceed to a conclusion of this letter, noticing, however, Misiner, the miller, the brainer of the great Thon, the mace which he hurled at his glant foes. muce possessed the convenient property of returning to the hurler's hand, after crushing the object of attack, "Convenient," but not singular; for a Hindu here had a weapon which did the like; hero or heroine, god or goddess, does not at this monreat occur to me. The mass in question was, seemingly, defective in proportions.

"O short is the shalt of Trongs thundering mace, Func's all conquering blade, but an ell;
'Tis enough! art a man! grappic close—face to face—
And a dagger would arm thee as well."
Good English salvies. Some suidiers—I was once among them—have desired to see a short, stout, good Roman-like blade in the hands of our English soldiery, instead of such things as I have before spoken of, even of our privates; "grappling face to face," " hand to fiet," where are those who would withstand tham?

Good advice, I say, for English soldiers. I am induced to quote the next verse, containing as good, for our sailors.

"When the tempest sings load, hold the top-gallast-sall, Reard the wave, as they from, foam, and frown; Let her drive, let her drive; none but coward would quall, thou strike a yard, founder and der

With all their barbarity the skull-cup heroes of Valhalla were generous :

halls were generous:

"Clear for bisarding and blood—Vigital's ship heaves in sight;
To ta-shield to shield—hilt to hilt—
He's an outsalt, who yields but an iron in the fight;
'The the law, no be bann'd if then wilt.
Hast thou won' be contented;—for quarter who prays,
Wears no sworts, is no longer a for.
If Falkalla. born prayer, her voice tremulous raise,
The brave hear;—the pultroon may say "No."

"More last words." Let me in conclusion notice a veapon -neither mythological nor fubuleus-in use at this day, which, by a carlous twist of the hand when harled, returns of itself, if not exactly to the hand, to the foot of the hurlor. It is the Bhumirang of Australia. early visitors of that region were reasonably surprised at this curious feat, but by practice some of our acquired the twist, and can perform it. I possess two genuine Bha-markage, but have not acquired the potential twist. The word is a pure Sauscrif compound. BANDOOK. December 0.

CAPE BYATION—SOUTH WHAT TOART OF AFRICA.

To the Kinter of the Natur and Military Carefly.

Sin,—As I have no doubt many of your resident are not aware of the great difference existing between the Cape Scation and that of the West Coast of Africa, I beg leave to offer a few observations thereon. Of the Cape Station, which extends from about 25 deg. of B. Lat. to 10 deg., the climate for the greecest part of the year is without the climate for the greetest part of the year is without rain, the sky clear, a moderate temperature, and the sea smooth, and during the months of June, July, and August, it is frequently mecanary to wear kine dothing. On the wood coast, which extends from the Cape de Verds to 10 dag. South, there are two rainy demonstrates the year, a constant damp atmosphere, with close, and welly weather nine months det of the twelve, and well it not for the tornadoes which blow with terrific vicinities, duroposes could not exist.

During the months of October, November, and Decemher, the whole coast is enveloped in fog, commonly called the Smokes, which extend for leagues to seaward, and causes a feeling of languor and depression scarcely to be endured; and sithough you may be fortunate enough to escape fever, the effects of three such seasons on the European constitution is easily to be imagined.

The comforts of the stations are not to be compared. On the Cape Station the cruisers have the Cape and St. Helena to refresh at, with the capabilities of affording everything that is requisite or desirable. On the West Cosst they have only Assension (little else than a floating thock-yard) to resort to, where there is no recreation for the crew, and Jack cannot even enjoy his glass of grog or the crew, and Jack cannot even enjoy his glass of grog or the crew, and Jack cannot even enjoy his glass of grog or the crew, and the crew and the cre his lass; whilst the solitary store is not unfrequently destitute even of the most common necessaries. On the Cape Station cruisers are permitted to cruise out of sight of land, and almost every capture has slaves on board; but on the West Coast a rigid blockade is kept up, consequently no full slavers can be captured; the only chance is to the run to and from Ascension, which occurs about twice in the three years. I trust, Sir, through the medium of your widely circulated Gazette, My Lords Commisthe privations and hard course of service of the Officers serving on the West African Station, as compared with those on the Cape, and, whether fortunate to liberate a pears' acresse, that promotion which, every one will allow, has been hardly enough carned.

A GUINEA BIRD.

THE "SEALARK," 16 BINS, AND THE NEW 12-GUN HRIGS, &c.
To the Editor of the Rural and Editory Gazette.
Sin,—My attention has been drawn to a statement which has lately appeared in the Hampshire Telegraph, to the effect "that the Editor had ascertained that the armament of the Seulark, new 16-gun brig, lately commis-aloned and about to sail for Africa, was composed of 10 miserable 9-pounders," subsequently asserted to be "8 miserable 18-pounders." Now, Sir, these are both startling assertions, and Each as, for the honour of the sountry and the gallant constructor of the Naulark, require to be fully proved and sifed. My own belief is, that the Editor of the Hampshire Triegraph has given a most unfair and false account-but we shall are.

I need hardly inform your readers that Neuluck is one of a very fine class of vessels, built on the exact model of the Pantalous (whose fame and good qualities are too well known to need any prame from me), to supersede the old and miserable class of 10-gun brigs, alias "coffins." Their tonnage is from 330 to 335 or 340 tons, with great beam and powers. The original armament was cight 18-pounder carronades and two long 18s; but when the armaments of our ships was increased and revised, that force was changed to eight 32-pounder carronades and two long 18s; since which the Rapid and others have carried eight medium 32-pounders and two long 18s. If I repulled right 18s bored up to 32s, of some 20 cwt., and 6 ft. long, and they carried such armament with PERFECT KASE. What, then, can the Editor of the Hampshire Telegraph mean by giving there a less armament than the old 10 gun brigs? He adds, they are within forty tons of the old 18-gun brigs, which carried sixteen 32 pounder car-ronades and two long 18s; true r but they carry in reality much heavier armament in proportion to relative size than the old 184, and I much question whether there are not many of our Officers who would not care to engage any French 18, of same size as our old 18s and armament, with one of the new 10s with their armament of this day; ay, and with every chance and hope of sucress. We fought at much greater odds a hundred times successfully, but who in their senses ever drenmed of our new 10-gun bags swaggering before the French or American currettes : Really this is too ridiculous, and only shows what that detestable party apirit will do. Have we not fine correties on every station to uphold our flag from any like craft of any nation? Lastly, I challenge the Editor of the Hump. shire Triegraph to prove his statement true / it will not be the first, by many duzens, of his statements which have been proved utterly felse.

There is a persuraph of like nature and value reflecting upon the Helma; new 16-gun brig. He cannot but admit her beauty and power, but then adds, "Will it be believed abe can only carry 63 tons of water—ambient for a cruise of two months?" Now, Sir, I am not prepared to stowed by the Molena, but I will venture to repeat that do not believe the Mampshire Editor's statement. I feel sure that the Halma carries an ample quantity for feel sure that has Flavon carries an ample quantity for her crew for any period that can ever be required of her, and that, with great pase. It for one, feel certain that flavous, of her class, will prove "the pride of the sea" in all evidence, and if her character is only equal to her predecessors,—Bittern, didagrass, &c., Sir W. Symonds may well to present at our. She is the largest brig in the Service of his build—cause size in Froic; and here!

may just say how exceedingly unfair the Hampshire Telegraph Editor is. When the last-named brig (projected by one of his friends) was commissioned, we were told what a fine powerful vessel she was, and how very superior she would be found to Sir W. Symonds' vessels of same class; but when put to the test she failed most miserably in all respects, and could neither carry her original masts nor armament, and was beaten greatly on every point by the Nautilus, old 10-gun brig; and even after her armament and masts had been greatly reduced, her performances were little better. Nevertheless, she was constructed under the very eye of her projector; and he told me personally, in answer to a question, "that he was perfectly satisfied with all arrangements, and that he had had everything as he desired." I observed that her masts appeared to me too much for her. He replied, " She is a very powerful vessel, and requires heavy masts, having a large body under water, and I feel sure will carry them easily."

Now, Sir, had one of Sir W. Symonds' versels of the same class failed so sadly, we should never have heard the last of it from the Hampshire Telegraph Editor. There would have been outcries and lamentations without end-"ignorance, intuitive folly, want of all proper professional knowledge, ridiculous experiments, shameful waste of public money, sic. &c. Hut the Frelic was looked at night." Too had this Again when the Examples of the profession of the state of the sta night." Too bad this. Again, when the Eurydice was built and commissioned, she was by same oracle bousted to be most superior to Sir W. Symonds' 26s; she took a cruise with Warspite and Greeian, 16-the latter a Symondian, just returned from a four years' cruice. Well, first we heard that Eurydice was besten by Warspile, in a run from Brighton to Portsmouth; then we heard that on a wind, in after totals, the Eurydier beat the Warspile considerably in all weather; but we were not told how much the Grecion, 16, beat Eurydies. Oh, no; that was not dreamed of: she, the brig, was too insignificant. But he that as it may, I do happen to know from those on board Warspite (whose rank and opinion are of no small value) that the Warsnite did beat Eurodice very much off the wind, and that the Eurydies had no ad vantage over bor on a wind during the trials, and that the seiling qualities of the Grecian were very great. On a wind particularly, Eurydica could not do anything with her. I had hoped to have seen a full account of these trials in your Paper, but was much disappointed to see nothing of the kind. Again, in a trial which took place between Eurydice and Pilot, 16, I know from a Naval Officer on board the brig, that in the trials the frigate Eurydier had no possible chance with her ;-indeed, the superiority of Pilot in speed and to windward was most extraordinary. Of all these things the Editor of the Hampshire Telegraph never deigned to inform us-no, all was secret; but had the matter only have gone the other way, what rours of exultation and triumph we should have heard even to this hour! Let every constructor stand upon the real merits of his vessel; give all fair play; but do not ever let us hear one raised (unfairly) at the expense of another.

And now for a few words upon the subject of the new 12-yun brigs in course of construction. Some few weeks ago I read with much pleasure in a provincial paper (the Hampshire Advertiser and Herald), a very interesting and good article upon the many rates of our Navy, in which the writer very properly objected to the great variety, and expressed his surprise at the additional new rated 12 gun brig. And no wonder; for, for what earthly purpose intended no one can divine—they are a nondescript class. Have we not already the std 18s of 380 tons, carrying 16 guns; viz., fourteen 32 carronades and two long medium 32s? Then there are the first 16s by Sir W. Symonds, as Racer, Lily, &c., of 428 cons, and having the same armument: then come the Pilot class_larger, viz., 494 tons, and having four medium 32s and twelve 32 carronades; and lastly, Helena class, largest, 540 tons, and carrying sixteen medium long 32s; then there are the new los, as before spoken of. Now, wherefore did the Admiralty sanction the xxw 12s if the present 10s were not considered suffi-ciently large and dignified for Commanders for Coast of Atrica? Why, in the name of common sense, did not the Admiralty nanuca all the old Iti-gun brige to 12s or 14s, having all medium guns, and, if thought requisite, some of the liacer class, and then replacing them by such splendid fessels as Helma? This would have been wise and a good plan to work up all the old weak vessels, as well as getting rid of so many varieties under the head of 16-pun brigs, which, in action with large French or American brigs, would be overmatched; (I mean old 15s and amalier 16s), the enemy never caring to show the difference in their force; all are borne on Navy List as 16 gun brigs. But instead, here we have a new class of 12-gun brigs, of a little more tounage than old 18s, and smaller 10s-what dimensions and armament is not stated if rich builders must exercise their skill, why not at ende have let them build such as Molena, a most splendid class. et Iplendid class worthy in every way as a model for competition? Really, other sations must laugh at us! It may be contended, that these new 12s are for a "particular service on Cosst and during peace; but this is sheer nonsense What possible service can they be required for, which the old 18s and smaller 16s could not perform? I will venture to say they will not east faster than Pantaloon. Racer, or Albetross classes ... neither better in any point for the service required. It is to be hoped that the agra-rimental vessels (8), will not be extended in number, but that all future brigs be of Helena class.

Again, it is to be hened that very few or no more corvettes of 18 guns be built. Neither French nor Americans Build any carrying less than 22, 26, and 28 gams, of from 800 to 1000 tons, with very heavy metal, as our Magicienne—a splendid craft. Dido class, though noble vessels, are too amail to multiply. The Coquette is to have 20 guns (same size), but no correcte now ought to be built to carry Lane than 22 guns, from 136 to 140 feet in length, by 39 feet beam. Many more of the old 38s, 42s, and ios, ought to be converted into fine corvettes and steamfrigates, as now they are useless, armed as they may be You see Far has failed decidedly: the contrast between her and the Iris, 26, one of Sir W. Symonds, in besting down channel to Plymouth, in heavy weather, is most extraordinary; the very principle of lengthening auch a class of vessels is absurd as frigates, with no increase of force. Cut them down (the best models) to corvettes, and the rest convert to steam-frigates.

And here I would mention two line-of-battle ships most perfect models, though now too defective in upper works to repair as ships-of the-line; I speak of Spartlan (French) and Doneyal, also French -former taken at Nile, other off the coast of Ireland. Why do not the Admirsky raze them to frigates, such as Warspite, a most noble vessel, admirted on all hands. To convert such ships as Donegal and Spartiate to hulks would be shameful, and we have not too many ranges. Convert them at once to powerful frigates, fast sailers they are sure to be, from their fine models, and replace them by Vanguards or Albions; of the last-named ship, all who have seen her are of one opinion, viz., that she is the most beautiful and perfect model, as well as the most powerful two-decked ship ever yet produced by any nation, and well does she merit the name as "Pride of the See." It is to be hoped that you will give EVERY possible particular in your value Guzette, as to her sailing and other qualities, so that the public be not misled by the false and prejudiced opinions of Sir W. Symonds' enemies.

And lestly, Sir, in conclusion, I do hope that in future you will take care that neither the Hampshire Telegraph nor may other paper, shall put forth fulse and malicious reports relative to Sir William Symonds, or his noble vessels, without exposure and refutation. I remember when you were the foremost in the good cause to prevent and expose such sets. And now, notwithstanding Sir W Symonds' fame is far too firmly established to fear aught from falsehood, yet it is neither right nor safe to suffer such to pass uncontradicted.

It would be interesting to your Naval readers at all times to know the results and particulars of interesting trials between ships.

THE FORTIFIED BARRACK AT PEMBROKE DOCK. To the Editor of the Naval and Millary Gazette.

Sin, --- This Barrack is no far advanced as to enable one to ve an opinion of its strength and merits. It is a loopholed building, standing within a square bastioned fort, having the parapets loopholed, and a ditch about 25 feet deep. The building is calculated to contain about 400 men, with ample storercoms and conveniences. The whole work is strongly built of limestone, and is solid enough to resist ordinary field-guns, or anything less then hactering gum, but I observe some errors in its construction, which I shall point out, and which I think ought to be remedied before the work is further proceeded with, and the masonry allowed to harden. In the first place, when standing on the creat of the glascie in front of the faces of two of the four bastions, I can see (through the loopholes and embrasures for the guns) the loopholes of the opposite faces and flanks in reverse, and also considerable parts of the banquettes behind the curtains; this I consider a great inconvenience, and I recommend that the faces and flanks of the bastions in question should be carried up about six feet higher, which would not only give better cover to the interior of the work, but would also give a better command of the glascis and surrounding country. On going to the side mext the dockyard, I find that, from the hill sloping rapidly down, neither the loopholes of the curtain not hose of the barracks will see beyond the crest of the giascia, and that the ground on this side is therefore only under the fire of the faces of the two bestions an loopholes over the gateway. As this work is built es-pressly for the protection of the dockyard, the communicution between them must be preserved, or the security of the latter endangered. We should, therefore, have the means of bringing a heavy fire on the ground and buildings between the two; and to effect this I suggest that a covered way be excited along this face of the work, so as to sweep with a musketry fire the glascis and roads to the dookyard gates.

There are some other alterations or additions which might be made without incurring great expense, but they may be deferred to a future day; those I have specified should have attention at once, or the labour of taking down the loopholed flanks and faces of the bashons to be raised will be much increased by delay; whereas, now, while the mortar is not set, it may be done without now, while the mortar is not set, it may be done without much trouble.

ALLOWANCES TO ACTING STAFF NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS OF DEPOTS.

To the Edster of the Namel and Mittery Gasette.

SIR,—Referring to Articles 298, 299, and 300 of the Explanatory Directions, respecting the allowances to the acting Serjeant-Major, Quartermaster-Serjeant, and the private soldier employed as Orderly-Room Clerk, whose wages are indeed hard-earned, I take the liberty in pointing out, through the medium of your valuable Gasette, that as the duties of Paymaster, Schoolmaster, and Hospital Serjeants, are generally performed by and Hospital Serjeants, are generally performed by privates, acting and effective Corporals whose duties are as equally responsible as that of the Orderly-room Clerks-and why not the recompense be equal which would not be considered as other than a fair renty. neration for their services in these situations; the line pital Steward, whatever rank he holds, receives del. per diem (and if a Serjeant he cannot complain). Now, Sn, if effective Serjeants upon the establishment of the regiment are not in every way qualified to discharge these duties in an efficient and proper manner, why should men of inferior rank be compelled to perform them without any reward (than perhaps the promise of further promo-tion at some future period)? and I think no one would, be so uncharitable as to suppose that they would not be entitled to an allowance of 4d. a day at least.

I make no claim for myself, but auxiously set forth what seems due to others; and in justice to them I ought to observe that in every successive promotion they are passed over, which of course must be very painful to the passed over, which or course must be to promise years feelings of mea who have for a period of so many years faithfully served in these offices ; and, indeed, it is senterly possible to imagine anything more incorrect than this. I have myself felt the inconvenience of being thus eltuated as Orderly-room Clerk and Schoolmaster, having continued to discharge my duties faithfully for a period of six years as acting Corporal, and was not considered entitled to promotion on account of being placed in so comfortable a situation; however, I have relinquished both situations (comfertable as they were), but not on account of any irregularity or misconduct. I will not inquire into the time that will elapse before (these) men employed as Orderly-room and Paymenter Clerks, Schoolmasters, and Hospital Stewards, can obtain promotion which is beind out as the inducement to enter the Service; but I would auggest that an allowance of 4d. a day, in addition to their ordinary pay, should be given. And I trust through the columns of your useful Paper, which are ever open to the enforcement and submission of the claums of justice, that my suggestions will not be considered undeserving of the notice of the Commander-In-Chief.

December 30.

London Lodgings .- Even where the lodgings fire dear and tolerably good, and the people of the house think it worth while to be civil, you seem planted in a spot to which you never can grow: the furniture and all the utensils intended for your use are so awkward, so heterogeneous, and placed in such inconvenient positions : they run so counter to your liabits, or your liabits to them. You are not acquainted with them, and they soum to have no Beaire to make themselves agreeable, or to accommodate difficulties ; and as for anything like familiarity, or cordisity, on either side the thing seems out of the question. Then your servants are so dissatited with their accommodstion, declaring that they can get nothing in the world they want? whilst the maid of the house, accustomed to the same complaints on every fresh arrival, turns a deaf ear to their remonstrances, knowing, from previous experience, that, in a few days, they will get used to things as they are, and resign themselves to evils they cannot redress. Then, how you are to be provided with food, and how it is ever to be cooked so us to render it estable, seems a problem worthy of Effectid. Breakfast appears difficult, dinner impossible. You hear something about a quarter of a pound of ten, and a pound of mutton chop's, and a few potatoes; and you are the maid servant of the house coming across the street the maid servant of the house coming across the aftert with a slice of butter in a bit of greasy white paper, and you wonder whether it can be intended for you. It is, you may rely on it; and so is the loaf she is carrying under her arm. You had better not look any longer, for these comes the little girl that runs of errands, carrying the milk in a white basin, and she is taking a my just as also turns the corner! In short, however the littles and these a mail making a tank to remain process of tank larger. chairs and washing stands may in process of tame become more amenable to reason, the freeling is generally beginners.

• Signatures to Letters in Type....." An Es.Dragoon," "A Com-missary," and "Artillero Visjo,"

To Readers and Correspondents.

"W. A." (Old Pancras Road) must enter as a Volunteer, and by good conduct and some influence he may obtain a Commission from the foreign Government.

"A Subscriber" writes—" What do you think of a promotion the other day in the 78th, at Bombay?—the Senior Lieutenant actually purchases his company, being then a Sub. of nearly 19 years' standing. In the same Gazette there is another in the Carabineers who purchases after being 113 years in the regiment. If e hear now and then of quick promotion in other ranks. In the 44th Regiment an Officer succeeds, by purchase, of course, to a Majority, after a total service of 91 years. respondent is in error: the promotion of the Senior Lieutenant of the 78th was without purchase. And in the 44th promotion cannot be considered as coming within the doctrine of chances.

We cannot uselet " A. G." (74th), as we have no agent

" A Constant Reader" inquires " Whether there was not an account in the N. & M. Gazette, a few weeks back, of an Officer having been tried by Court Martial for allowing himself to be kicked by another Officer and not resenting it! and, secondly, whether the widow of an Officer killed in a duel would not be entitled to her The Officer referred to mus struck not kicked. The widow of an Officer killed in a duel is not entitled

To "Africanus."-- We can have nothing to do with correcting the errors relating to the West Coast of Africa which have appeared in another publication.

To " A Civilian" (Ormskirk) .- We can find no such name as " Lawrence Nuttal" in the Army Lists of the period; nor is any such person included in the Official List of the killed and wounded at the taking of St. Luciu.

Naval & Military Gazette.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 13, 1844.

WHILET at press we have been gratified at learning that Vice-Admiral Sir John Chambers White, K.C.B., a distinguished Officer, has been appointed Commander-in-Chief at the Noic. Captain W. F. Martin (1824), son of Admiral Sir Byam Martin, will be the Flag Captain,

WE have been favoured with a sight of " The Queen's New Naval Instructions," and heartily congratulate the Navy upon this important adjustment of claims as regards service thoat. At present we can only furnish a short abstract of the contents, and shall select those points which appear to us entirely new. We some time since stated that a prest change was to take place as regarded the rank of Officers, and we have now the pleasure of confirming our former statement.

All Officers are divided into two branches-Civil and Military.

The Military to consist of :- Flag Officers, Commodores, Captains, Commundars, Lieutenauts, Master of Fleet (rank as a Lieutenaut); Masters, Mates, Second Masters.

CIVIL: -- Medical Inspectors (rank with Captains); Secretaries, Deputy-Inspectors (rank with Commanders) Chaplains, Surgeons, Psymasters, and Pursors (rank with Lieutenants), Assistant-Surgeops (rank with Mates, &c.) "The above are all " Commissioned " Officers. Those appointed "by Order" are Naval Instructors (who rank with Lieutenants), Midshipmon, Masters'-Assistants, Clerks, Naval Cadots (late first-class Volunteers), and Clerks'-Assistants; and the "Warrant" Officers are Gunners, Boatswains, Carpenters, and Engineers.

The regulations respecting pay are important. Captains are divided into classes, and paid as follows; viz. :-

First Class Contains of ships of the line, except flag stops

Second Class Captains of line-of-battle guard-stops of the Ordinary, and other auch establishments

Third Class Captains of regular flag-ships and fourth rates

Fourth Class other Captains

Commanderse and Lieutenants as before. Masters, 161. 6c. 88 in line-of-battle ships, and 141. in all other ships 4 r sloops. And store allowances as follows when in charge: - First-rates, Gi. 10s. 11d.; second-rates, 5. 19s. 10d.; third, 5l. 3s.; fourth, 3l. 19s. 1d.; fifth, 3l. 1s. 9d.; with, 3l. 2s. 2d. sloops, 2l. 17s. 4d.

Gratuities and pensions much altered. Pensions to widdles of Officers killed in action or drowned in the execution of their duty, as follows:---

f	Killed in Action.	Drowned, &c.
Widows of Captains	£200	£120
,, Commanders	190	99
" Medical Inspectors	90	R0
Secretaries to Com-	in-
Chief, and Depainspectors	80	70
,, Lieuts., Masters, and Ci	LP-	- turns of Marines	70	60
Chapining, Secretaries	to
d Junior Frag-Officers, Sura	M.,
Pursers, Naval Instructo	716.00
and First Lieuts, of Marine	. 60	60
,. Second Lients of Marie	100
and Assistant-hurgeons	50	40
,. Gunners, Boatswalus, C.	Aľ-
penters, and Engineers	35	30
Tindes and	1 1171 1

Under ordinary circumstances the Widows' pensions are the same as previously until after retired Commanders. The changes are, Medical Inspectors, Secretaries to Commanders-in-Chief, Deputy Medical Inspectors, Lieutenants, and Masters, 50l.; and the widows of Naval Instructors are to receive the same pensions as those of Chaplains, viz., 401.

The new scale for compassionate allowances and gratuities is highly honourable to the heads and hearts of its originators, whoever they may be. Mothers (if widows), and (unmarried) sisters of Officers killed in action leaving no widows, are under special circumstances to have pensions; and upon the whole, our casual glauce leaves a atrong impression that the changes are improvements, and that they will give general actionaction. The New Regulations will be issued on the first day of the Official year, and in them we have no doubt such orders will be given relative to uniform as will place the Commissioned Officers of the Navy in their proper, high, and honourable position.

THE intelligence from India, brought by the last Mail, fully bears out all we had anticipated; and our readers must have observed that those views of our Indian policy which we took last year, are, now, at the 11th hour, gradually being adopted by the most influential Journals of this country. The " Times " has taken up the true view of the question, and its able assistance will do much to bring the public to a right consideration of Lord Ellenborough's measures, so admirably calculated to strengthen the power, and restore the magic influence, of our name in the East. The vast means at the disposal of the Governor-General are about to be brought to bear on soveral points-in the Panjaub, in Gwalior, in Bundelcund, and in Soinds. The next Mail will further develop his Lordship's intentions, but it is quite evident that he had resolved on annexing the Punjaub to our Indian Empire, or so coercing that State, that anarchy and bloodshed and plunder shall cease, and that fine country be restored to peace and prosperity, either under our direct, or indirect, government of its Civil and Military resources. It is probable that just cause will be found for reassaming to Gwalior the power we so heedlessly yielded into native hands, to the manifest injury of the people of the country. The sooner, therefore, that British authority is again reasserted in Gwalior, the sooner will peace and happiness he conferred on that ill-fated province. We have too long attendited to rule through native Princes-liberty, and the blessings of liberty, are denied to every people under the Princes of India, and 'tis slove under the equitable rule of Britain that life and property in India are secure. We hait this coming change in our Indian policy, for in it we foresee the harvest of happiness for millions yet unborn, as well as for those long and eagerly looking to obtain rost and safety under our rule, from those who now reign only to oppress them. Civil war, with all its horrors, now desolutes Gwalior, and our Military preparations evidently indicate that it is at last resolved to purean end to it by resuming our authority there.

The cry about the unhealthy state of Scinde is childishly absurd. As reasonably might the press groan and whimper over the conquests we possess in the West Indies and on the Coast of Africa, because, forscoth, sickly seasons occur there. Scinde, we assert, is not generally unhealthy; 'tis true that it is occasionally visited—as what Indies and is not?—by seasons of great sickness. We will know that in Bombay sickness (and ishly absurd. As reasonably might the press groun and certainly mortality) has often prevailed to quite as great an extent as in Scinde-we speak of Bombay and Colaba as distinct, and not of the Presidency generally. Now, we have never yet heard of that man who proposed that we should relinquish the island of Bombay, though sick. ness has very frequently left out of 1000 European soldiers scarcely 200 to perform the duty of the island. Away with such abaurd whining then about Scinde and its late sickly season! The sickness has been great, and not sufficiently provided against only because unusualfor be it remembered we have bad troops, and not very unhealthy, in Scinde since 1838.

The able measures of Sir Charles Napier have already secured us from the aggression of the Beloochees, and it is now his principal consideration to select the most bealthy positions in the country for the troops which are to occupy it permanently. Had not the country been reduced by good government to a state of obedience - and willing obedience too-we should have heard of popular outbreaks; but this simple fact, that none took place while we had no means of resisting them, speaks volumes in favour of the British rule. In short, our occupation of Scinde has been the greatest blessing to its people, and they seem perfectly aware of the happiness and peace they now enjoy.

The day, we trust, is not far distant when British rule shall extend from Cane Comorin to the confines of Cabal-and between the Ganges and the Indus. In this extension and integral completion of the Indo-British empire, we see the extension and perfecting of civilization, and with it all its manifold meliorations of the condition of millions of our fellow-men,

WE invite attention to a letter from " Old Firelock." on the state of the Army in Ireland. We know from other sources that the troops are in the highest order, and in the most loyal spirit, ready and willing to prove their loyalty to Her Majesty, to whom they have taken the noble oath, so nobly worded, of fidelity to their Queon. Now, we may here add, that since the "Old Infantry of the Peninsular war," England has never possessed a finer Army for its numbers than she has in the United Kingdom. The regiments in England and Scotland are kept in the highest state of discipline and readiness for service; and even those detached over the country are held in readiness for being concentrated in a manner unknown of late years. The Duke of Wellington may be strict, very strict -hut he is wisely so.

To the Editor of the Nanal and Military Gazette. Srn,-Having once before given you a result of my observations on the appearance and discipline of regiments that have come under my observation. I now let you know what I have noticed during a recent tour through Ireland. It may be more interesting at this period than at probably another time. I happened to be in Dublin a day before the celebrated proclamation was issued, prohibiting the Repealers from assembling at Clontari on the 8th October Thinking that something might happen. I determined on remaining in that city a day or two longer than I intended. On the morning of the 3th Oct .- a Sunday-I sauntered towards that part of the town which leads to Clontarf. It was about 11 o'clock, and I fancied that something was to take place, by the people standing outside their doors, and hearing repeated exclamations of -" They are coming?" Who are coming?" I inquired, almost fancying that the Repeators had been fool hardy enough to intend smembling in spite of everything. The answer was-"The Army." Accordingly in a few minutes the Army came into view, with its advance guard of flussars. The troops out on this day were the Royal Horse Artillery, 4 guns; 5th Dragoon Guards; 11th Hussars; 5th and 54th Foot. The 36th, I was told, had been left in a large building, called Althorough House. I never in my life, Sir, beheld a body of troops move in the way these did. Although marching on a road, everything was conducted in the strictest manner. No marching at case or founging along the road, but arms charged, sloped, and trailed, and distances kept as correctly as if they were mention. They were as fit for work at 7 is the evening fore requested, as to when the Gevernor of a be-as they were at 9 in the morning.

In the course of a somewhat lengthened tour, I have seen many regiments, and I consider the 53d, 11th, 72d, 34th, 15th, 60th, 54th, and 5th to be in the highest state of discipline. I consider the two last to be in as fine order as any regiments I ever saw. I doubt whether any-thing equid be found to manœuvre better than these two last regiments. The Fusiliers are, beyond a doubt, superior in applicance to the other, both from their size and being older soldiers,—the other struck me as being mere boys. For neatness of appearance, both in dress and appointments, the 60th Rifles are greatly to be admired. I should much like to have seen their skirmishing, which I was told was quite equal to their appearance

If you have a corner in your paper, by the insertion of this letter you may quiet the fears of some by making known to them that the troops serving in Ireland are all in the highest possible order, and fit for any work.—I OLD FIRELOCK. am. &c.

London, January 5.

WE published on the 9th December last the Order of the Governor-General, announcing that medals had been granted for the victories of Fulialie and Dubbs, (better known new as those of Mecanes and liydurabad). We now add, with great pleasure, the General Order of Sir Charles Napier, to give currency and force to that official document; which we consider to be quite characteristic of the man, and as breathing throughout the chivalrous and gallant spirit of the soldier, in the highest sense of that word. We would most particularly draw attention to one paragraph.

" Her Majesty has a right to our best exertions without any other reward than the glory which beams from victory."

The more we consider this passage, the more inclined are we to wish that this had always been the case; the satisfaction of having done their duty was always enough to satisfy the honest pride of the British Officer and soldier; their own deeds were blended in the renown reflected on their country; it would have been their glory and pride to have been satisfied with this, and to have smiled at the gew-gaws hanging at the breasts of foreign soldiers; but this honest feeling founded on self-esteem, has been changed into bitterness and gall, by the partial, and, we may say, ungenerous, distribution of Military rewards; at variance slike with common sense and justice.

"The honour which the Queen and the Honourable Court of Directors have bestowed upon their faithful troops, must animate us all with gratitude and with pride. To do our duty in battle is a negative virtue, cowards and traitors alone desert their colours. Her Mainsty has a right to our best exertions without other reward than the glory which beams from victory. But the Sovereign has been graciously pleased to mark her approbation of the courage displayed by Her United Troops in attacking enemies at once so numerous and hardy. Let me then congratulate you all upon these glorious medals—the fruits of discipline and of those well-wielded weapons, the matchless musket and bayonet, which pour a double death upon an enemy-death by fire, and death by steel. It is when we receive honours and rewards, that we should recur to the means by which they have been won. Thus do our minds gather confidence from reflection; and if again we have the good fortune to meet an enemy, again we shall conquer.

"The above order is to be most carefully translated, and read and explained to each regiment and detachment at a special parade."

WE readily give insertion to a letter that has reached us, and shall endeavour to comply with the wish therein expressed.

To the Editor of the Neval and Military Gusette.

Sra,—In vol. vi, page 292, of Napier's History of the Peninsular War is the following paragraph relating to the defence of Pampeluna by the French under General Cassan :

"He (Caseen) broke off the negotiation, giving out that he would blow up the works of the fortress and break through the blockade. To deter him, a mensing letter was thrown to his outposts, and Lord Wellington being informed of his design, denounced it as contrary to the laws of war, and directed Carlos d'Espeña to put him, all his Officers and non-commissioned Officers, and a tenth of the soldiers, to weath when the place is sold be taken, if any damage were done to the works."

Col. Napier prosquents that this act of Gen. Cases had it been carried into effect) would not have been con-(rary to the laws off war; your opinion, Sir, is there-nieged place is not justified in destroying the works of a fortress when it is no longer tenable

January 9.

It is quite clear that had the Governor of Pam pelana blown up the works, and broken through the blockade, he would not have acted contrary to the laws of wall," and the opinion expressed by Napler in his history is generally considered correct. We have often heard this subject discussed, but we confess that we could never see anything in the situation of the fortress of Pempeluna at the time, to justify the directions of the Duke of Wellington to Carlos d'España. There may, however, have been matter known to the Duke, as yet unknown to the public, which may have justified the order. We have never yet heard that the fortress was at that time untenable; and nothing but its being manifestly in that state could, in our humble judgment, justify the order issued by the Duke of Wellington. This is the opinion of those best informed on the laws of war.

Our columns this week furnish a brief record of the services of another deceased General—Sir Hudson Lowe.

No man was more minunderstood and misrepresented than Sir Lludson. With a strict sense of duty and upright principle, be combined singular kindness of heart and warmth of feeling—qualities which, unfortunately, were obscured by a somewhat repulsive countenance and manner. The latter peculiarity appeared to justify the reproach of harshness, which it has been the fashion of the dly to ascribe to an excellent man. In his family he was a most kind and indulgent husband and father. His shildren, two sons and a daughter, attended his deathbed, but, we regret to add, remain with little, if any

The " Morning Chronicle" of the 8th instant has in its Leading Article printed an extract from a private letter of Sir Henry Pottinger to w" Mr. O. P. Q.," or some such person, said to be a friend of Sir Henry's, at Bomboy. "Oh! save me from 'my friends," may Sir Henry exclaim, if he ever sees this alleged extrast. We doubt its authenticity; and at all events we protest against its publication as a hook on which to hang Lord Ellenborough. Sir Henry Pottinger may have written as he felt, and we know from good authority the firmness and friendliness with which he treated the Ameers of Sciude, and the regret he bas felt at their hard lot as prisoners of war. But we think the publication of his private letter is a violation of good faith (if it he a bond fide letter of Sir Henry's), and calculated to do him a mischief as a public character. The eminent services of Sir Henry Pottinger cannot be deteriorated by private malignity, and the expression of his opinions as an individual must be separated from his public acts. We hope yet to see Sir Henry Pottinger placed in the position as Governor of Bombay, in which he may have the happy opportunity of releasing his former friends, the Ameers. from their present confinement, and permit them as much Sherty as may be safely granted to them. In every quarter the question is asked,-" What is to be done to reward Sir Henry Pottinger for his national services? 'Tis a question difficult to answer. We would say a peerage, and the Governorship of one of the Indian Fresidencies. A still more difficult question to answer, however, is, " Who is to supply Sir Henry's place in China?" Even rumour, and the quid nuncs of the Ciubs have not been able to name a fit man. Wasthere ever higher appreciation of the singular fitness of a Plenipotentjary, than that this great kingdom has not in it one man known to be as fit to represent Her Majesty in China, as Sir Henry Pottinger !

WE have been informed that Major Eldred Pottinger, C.B., the heroic defender of Herat, is the hearer of the additional treaty from China, by which Sir Henry Pottine ger has so wisely secured our future intercourse with Chinasfrom the intrigues and cabala of a host of Ambassadors and Envoys from, European States, and the " Repudiated States."

Wn believe the Infantry generally dislike the present Hospital, retires, after many years' servicede in that elta-chaco, but they are disgusted with the projected but ! The objection of " M. S. G." is one we have often heard, wat not the loss true: but we fear that the hat will be inflicted in spice of all, said, written, and drawn, to scout it. We must only hope for another change some time bance.

To the Editor of the Napal and Military Guertte.
Siz. — There can be, I should imagine, but one opinion relative to the last-ordered caps for Her Majenty's Infunity, view that it is most un-English in its appearance, and a most studious imitation of the French; so much an, that in the event of another war, and the two finest Armies in the world being again opposed to each other, it would be difficult to decide whather the cap of a skirmisher (just seen perhaps above a bedge-row), belanged to a comrade or an enemy. I am willing to admit it is an improvement on the monstrosity that made its appearener, most appropriately about Guy Fawkes' day, in last year, but why make it so very similar to the French? why not retain the form most familiar to the eye of the British soldier, and if made of lighter meterial, I will undertake to any most popular throughout the Line? The projecting leather behind might (if an improvement, and in tropical climates particularly, I am of opinion that it certainly is,) be still retained. Will the British Army eventually come to the blue cost, brick-dust trousers, and white guiters of our Chillie neighbours? Verily this head-piece looks like a commandement of the transformation.

Jan. 8.

"A PRIEND OF MERIT," whose letter we annox, is under a misapprahension. In the article to which he alludes, in one of our late Numbers, we stated several instances of Officers who were now arrying on full-pay-in the rank of Lieutenant, who had been reduced at the close of the war, and that the vacancies now caused by the appointments of Captains from full-pay to Paymasters of pensioners, would afford good opportunity for promoting in their room the old Sabalterns still serving as such in the various regiments. We had no idea that our remarks could be taken to apply to the many old Subsiterns on half-pay; if they could so apply, there are hundreds of even stronger claims than the Officers' brought to our notice. Our remarks had reference only to the Subalterns who had been reduced at the end of the war-had been long left neglected on half-pay, and then in a sesiden fit of Military economy, forced to serve on full-pay, or necessitated to accept a commuted allowance.

To the Editor of the Nanal and Milliony Gaartte. appeared relating to the old War Half-pay Lieutenauts as being likely to be brought into vacancy occurring, by appointments from corps to the pensioners, you sales named a few-of the above-neglected class of old and deserving Officers. I wish you had included amongst then an old brother Officer of mine, Lieutenant dames Bull I wish you had included amongst then formerly of ther Majesty's 3d Buffs, and afterwards of the lute 3d and 2d Crylon Regiments. I beg to state briefly as far as my memory enables me, a part of his services and if this should meet his eye, he can do the remainder hunself, and apply in the proper quarter, and where, I am sure, his claims will be attended to.

Lieutenant Bell was, I believe, born in the Service, and a soldier in heart and soul, and as good an Officer on ever stepped! His father died a flue old nateran, at the age of ninety, or mucty-two! And the son, along with the father, served in Holland, under His Royal Highness, the late lamented Duke of York, in 3d Buffs; and for a long time he served in the West Indies, promoted into the 3c Ceylon Regiment, date of his Lieutenancy, 1809; server in the Travancore War, and at the taking of Cand, it Ceylon. After the glorious Hattle of Waterlon, when economy was carried almost to penury in the Service the two fine Caffre Regiments, 3d and 4th Ceylon, wer disbanded, and although a company vacant at the tim (Lieutenant Bell's just right, as Benior of that rank) h was placed on half-pay, and afterwards brought into the 2d Ceylon, which soon after shared some fute as the other two Ceylon corps, who had to return to Frightin with a broken spirit as well as constitution, on his half pay as Lieutenant! Now, if this Officer is not deserving one of the vacancies spoken of, I know not who is sinds of the vacancies spice of the Room in the state of the sands of the state of the sands of London, Jonuary 6.

DR. JAMES DOMVILLE, Deputy Inspector of Greenwick

blishment, with his full-pay. He is succeeded by 1)r. Alexander Nisbet—a gentleman who by his talent is well fitted to take the place of his regretted and esteemed predecessor.

WE hope that some influential Naval Member of the House of Commons will call attention to the present inadequatepowers vested in the First Lord of the Admiralty to meet the claims of the war-veterans of the Navy. We have been so long accustomed to hear complaints of grievances emanating from this body, that the mind has grown almost callous to the truth, and a deaf ear is too often turned to the recital. A little examination will. however, suffice to show that they have good foundation for their complaints, and that some means should be at once adopted for the partial, if not entire removal of the neglect under which they labour. We made a statement some few months back, showing pretty clearly how very small a portion of rewards was allotted to the different classes of Officers, and particularly pointing out the disparity of good things enjoyed by Commanders and Masters, when contrasted with other classes. Yet even the most favoured rank, that of Captain, exhibits a sad falling off; and that only about one in four of those who obtained their rank during the war, has a chance of bettering his half-pay by any Government gift. A grant of a few thousand pounds would at once remove a stigms upon the national character, and cheer many a care-word Officer. Disease, disappointment, and natural decay have stripped from the Navy List many whose chines must have occasioned strange stings of remosts in the bosoms of those in power; but there are nevertheless, many left for whom a measure of relief is as loudly called for. And this would be afforded most agreeubly by the establishment of a number of good-service pensions. The necessity for this proceeding will be more apparent if we try back a ļiule.

In 1800, the claims of old Officers being pressing, the following were granted pensions, stylind, Ont. Pensions of Greenwich Hospital: "--viz., Ten Captains at 80% a year, fifteen Commanders at 65% a year, and fifty Lieutenants at 50% a year. At this time the Navy List comprised 600 Captains, of whom one only was of twenty years' standing. There are at present about 700, of whom 300 have for twenty years held the tank.

In 1806, there were 426 tonamulers, and forty of these had been twenty years on the list. There are at present near 850, of whom 291, exclusive of fitty retired with the rank of Captain, are of the same standing. Of Lieutenants," there were in 1806 nearly 2100, and 462 twenty years on the list; there are now about 2000, and 1500 of the same standing. Of Masters there are at the present time 250 of twenty years' standing, for whom there is no provision in the shape of retirement. So that we arrive by the above plain and indisputable made of calculation at the fact, that, although "the claims of old Officers have increased in the most surprising ratio, that with the exception of the breaking up of the Coloneleies of Marines into smaller pieces, and dividing their among a larger number of Captains, no addition whatever bus been made to the number of outpensions, or to the means of compensating Officers for unreported and unpensioned wounds, or for having been passed over in general or other promotions.

Having thus endeavoured to establish the assertion with which we started, viz., "that old Officers have good foundation for complaint," we again urge the consideration upon those to whom the appeal should come most home; and as the active Officers have been justly granted additional pay affoat, we trust that the old War Officers may likewise receive some substantial addition to well-carned retisement on shore.

To single out from among the above-mentioned Officers may pet and appear invidious; but if we were tempted to do so, we should allude to the Masters who have now no out-pensions of retiring rank, whatever may be their age, claims, or length of servitude; but we leave the subject for the pussent, in the hope that our arguments will not fall in obtaining for the most meritorious of our worn-out, blishment, with his full-pay. He is succeeded by Dr. shuttered relics of a war unparalleled in duration and Alexander Nisbet—a gentleman who by his talent is well importance, a sincerc and effective advocate.

THE Report of that excellent and ancient establishment, "The Royal Naval Benevolent Society," which we elsewhere publish, is matter of hearty congratulation. We rejoice to see the finances of an institution, whose funds are devoted to the relief of the indugent families of Officers of the British Navy, in an improving and healthy state; and we trust by renawed exertions the society will be enabled greatly to extend its relief to Officers, their widows and families. The Address to the Public sete forth—

"That those who, for their country's sake, cheerfully expose their lives and limbs to constant peril, are well cutitled to the public protection, is a proposition, to the truth of which the heart of every liriton bears a cordual teatimony; and it is equally true that the nation's care had, in several noble establishments, exerted itself in providing, in a general way, for the relief of this description of have suffereys. But every day produces case of particular distress and misery amongst that most deserving class of persons, the Sea Officers and their families, which cannot obtain a timely and effectual relief from the national purse, and whose habits and rank in society, while they greatly add to the polymancy of their distress, preclude them from many of those, resources which are within the reach of persons of their distress, preclude them from many of those, resources which are within the reach of persons of the condition.

"The necessary expenses of a Navai Officer, and the uncertied habits which his very profession and employment have a tondency to produce, rarely filmit of his providing for audien contingencies and fature want, while the hoarly jeopardy to which his life is exposed, necessarily increases the probability that all his life is exposed, necessarily increases the probability that all his life is efforts of economy may be intercepted by the stroke of death; to these causes it must in fairness be attributed, that Navai Officers, and their familiers, are, incre frequently than any other description of persons, thrown back upon the community without livelihood or resource.

"To allested the angle rivers of introns who after having dis-

"To alleviate the sufficient of persons who, after having discharged the duties of an hemograble service, and themselves reduced to misery and want; to rescue from powerly and wore the widows and orphane of our gallant defeuders; to snewer their urgent and daily-increasing cails on their country's gratitude, this fociety is induced to make the appeal, in the carnest hope, that by an accession of New Nuberrière, its diminished income may be made more adequate to give that rolled in many afficting eases which it is not at present possible to extend to them, in consequence of the material falling off in its annual receipts since the year 1836."

This forcible appeal should come home to the feelings of every British Sailor, and we entreat one and all to use every effort to promote the welfare, by increasing the subscriptions, of this really national institution.

We have received several communications on the subject of the terms, First and Second Class Staff-Surgeons. In reply, we beg to observe that they are simply financial designations, and not Military titles. No one thinks of addressing a Barrackmaster or a Captain of Attillery as a first or second class Barrackmaster or first or second Captain, although they are so financially classed. It is reserved for the Medical Department to degrade themselves by these petty insults. The word Class is altogether a very unmilitary word, and should be abolished; certainly, it would be sufficient to distinguish Staff-Surgeons by styling them First and Second Staff-Surgeons, which, in truth, is their proper designation.

The Queen and the Prince Consort, escorted by a detachment of Light Dragoens, stationed at Hampton Court, arrived at Claremont, from Windsor Castle, on Tuesday afternoon, in a close travelling carriage. The Princess Royal rods in the carriage with her illustrious parents. In the second barriage were the Marchioness of Douro (Lady in Waiting), Lord Rivers (Lord in Waiting), Colonel Arbuthnot (Equerry in Waiting to Her Majesty), and Major-General Sir Edward Bowater (Equerry to His Royal Highness Prince Albert). The Prince of Wates, with His Royal Highness's attendants, followed in another of the Royal carrieges.

Meeting of Partiament.—The following circular has been addressed to the Conservative members of the House of Commons:—

"Whitehall, Jan. 4, 1844 — Sir, —As upon the meeting of Parliament, on Thursday, the lat of February, public business of importance will be proceeded with immediately, I take the liberty of earnestly requesting your attendance in the Boune of Commons on that day.—I bave, &c. Robust Fam.,"

The Duc de Bordeaux on Wednesday visited the dock-

The Duc de Bordeaux on Wednesday visited the dockyard at Deptford, Sir John Hill, with the Officers of the various departments, explaining all the details of this vast establishment. The Royal visitor took issuedness at the house of Lady Hill, and afterwards embarked in Sir John's Hill's boat for Greenwich, inspecting first the Observatory. H.R.H. then went over the Hospital. The Royal hondurs were paid to the Prince, and the future tars of the country loudly cheered the Prince as well as the veterans. H.R.H. dired and slept at Monlynch on Wednesday avenus, and on Thursday at ten O'clock a.m., proceeded to the Royal Arsenal, and visited the foundry, laboratory, carriage, and other departments.

over which the Prince was conducted by the heads of the various establishments. At a quarter before twelve, H.R.H. visited the Ordnance Hospital, and afterwards the riding establishment, under the charge of Capt. Wingfield; the Ri. Horse Artillery, and their stables and barrack-rooms, under the charge of Licut. Col. Cobbe. On leaving the Horse Artillery square, H.R.H., accompanied by Maj. Gen. Sir Hew D. Ross, K.C.B., Brigade Major Cuppage, and several Officers, entered the mess-room, and partook of refreshments. H.R. H. afterwards visited the library of the non-commissioned Officers of the Royal Artillery, the guard-room, and one of the barrack-rooms, and then proceeded to view the Retunda, and repository grounds. On entering the Rotunda H.R.H. was accompanied round that interesting establishment by Col. Paterson, and seemed greatly pleased with the models and specimens of arms contained in it, and at half-past I proceeded to the dockyard. Capt. Sir F. Collier, Capt. Vidal, of the News steams-vessel, and Com. Smith, and several of the heads of the departments accompanied the Prince over the extensive naval depot. The first place visited was the machine room for planing and turning brasa and iron, and the powerful mills for rolling and per-forating iron of considerable thickness. If R. H. also visited the model and finishing lofts, and afterwards pro-Reded to the slip on which the Royal Albert, 120 guns, is in progress of construction, and remained about two minutes admiring the mugnitude of the dimensions and large timbers in this splendid vessel. On leaving the Hoyal Albert H.R.H. went on board the Sulphur, fitted up us an engineer depot, under the charge of Commander Smith, and appeared gratified on inspecting the drawings of a number of the young men under instruction in the prin-ciples of steam machinery as adapted to Naval purposes. H.R.H. next inspected the keel of the Sampson, a fine first-class vessel recently laid down, and the new dock in which the Sydenham is undergoing repair. After a short inspection of the smith's shop, H.R.H. went on board the Warrior, hulk, and examined the manner in which she is fitted up for the accommodation of about 600 convicts employed in the dockyard, and appeared surprised to witness the superior elegaliness of every part of the vessel, and with the table of allowances of victuals to that unfortunate class. On leaving the convict-ship, Capt. Vidal drew H.R.H.'s attention to the boat in which Capt. Ross returned from his memorable North Pole expedition. The Royal Duke partuck of some refreahment with Captain Sir F. Collier previous to leaving the dockyard, and returned to London with his suite shortly after 3 o'clock.

On Friday the Duc de Bordeaux arrived at Chatham Dockyard, and visited the various departments of this great Naval depot. His R. H., after inspecting the rope-house, saw-mills, and other works, which occupied some hours, and partaking some refreshment at the house of the Captain-Superintendent, Captain Sheriff, returned to London.

Death of the Governor of the Military Knights of Windser .- Windser, Monday .- Capt. Thomas Ferny-hough, Governor of the Military Knights of Windser, expired very auddenly this morning at his residence Governor's house. He had for some time past been afflicted with a disease of the heart, was taken ill with in-Suenza on Friday last, and this morning, while his medical attendent, Dr. Stauford, was just in the act of administering to him some weak wine and water, he was seized with spasms of the heart, and in less than two minutes be was corpse. Capt. Fernyhough-received the appointment in June last, upon the death of the late Governor, Capt. J. J. Cumming, and was greatly beloved and respected by the whole of the Military Knights, and an extensive circle of friends in the neighbourhood of Windsor and Rton. He entered the Army on 25th Nov., 1799, and was appointed one of the Military Knights of Windsor in 1827. He was no less distinguished as a soldier than as a man of high literary attainments. He was well known to the Biltish Museum as a genealogist, and has left some invaluable manuscripts, relating more particularly to the topography of the county of Stafford. He was in the 67th year of his age, and has left a widow and four children-two sons and two daughters. The vacant Governorship is in the gift of Her Majesty, upon the recommendation of the dean had canons of Windsor. The appointment may be said to be nearly entirely honorary, the Governor of the Military Knights receiving not more than between 3/. and 4/. per sanuas beyond the yearly stipend of the other Military Colonel Stadders Alies.—We understand that what they be considered authentic intelligence has reached town, to the effect that Colonel Studders is 'still alive, and at large, 'though strictly watched, by orders of the Khan of Bokhara. It is stated that he has been employed by that Prince in the drilling of his troops. We also learn, through the same generos, that Geptain Concily is dead; but whether he had the account to imprisonment and disease, or been put to district in not positively ascertained.—Globe.

Lieutenant Munro.—An account agent on the part Lieutenent Munro. An accretion agent on the part of Lieutenent Munro has been three or four times at the Horse Guards, to know the feeling of the Commander.

in. Chief towards his principal, and the answer which he has invariably received is that when his present leave of absence expires, His Grace will consider him as 'absent without leave,' and remove him from the Service altogether; an application for an extended loave of absence was met with a blunt refusal. In this dilemma, then, arends the accused ducilist-he will either lose the price of his commission, the regulation value being 1,600i., or have to take his chance of a trial. I have also heard, from another source, that since the vardiet of the coroner's jury he resided in lodgings in one of the streets off the Strand (Ceoil, I think), under the assumed name of Capt. Johnson, for several weeks, and that it was the accidental use of his name by his own wife, when visiting him there, that betrayed his incognite, and forced him to leave the place, and in two days after he had done so, Inspector Ages of the police got acent of his "where-abouts." So much for the vigilance of this over-puffel body.—Correspondent of Hampshire Independent.

Mails for Sydney.—A contract has been entered into by Her Mujesty's Government for the conveyance of mails, monthly, from the United Kingdom to Sydney. British newspapers will be forwarded free of postage. The State Trials.—The Government in Itsland is fully prepared to enter upon the prosecution of "O'Connell and others" on the appointed day. At a late hour on Monday night the briefs for the Crown Counted (thirteen in number) were ready for delivery. The briefs are partly printed, and partly lithographed, and each contains between 340 and 350 pages. The letter-press printing alone in each brief occupies 170 pages, so that it would seem there is plenty of one sort or another to be proved. All persons concerned are called upon by the Crown to be present in Dublin by to-morrow, Sunday, the 14th, at the latest; and on Monday, it is expected, the battle of the lawyers will in good earnest begin.

The London Joint-Stock Bank.—On Wednesday the half-yearly meeting of the shareholders of this bank was held in the board-room of the establishment in Princes at. Mansion house, George Tayler, Esq., in the chair. From the report of the directors it appeared that, after dis-charging all expenses of the establishment, and making ample allowance for bed debts, there remained a not sum of 16 470% los. 8d., arising from the profits of the hulfyear, and applicable to a dividend upon the capital of the The directors thought it right to make a divi-Company. dend after the rate of six per cent, per annum, which required them to take 1,529/. 3s. 6d. from the guaranteefund; but it was gratifying to them to inform the shareholders that, notwithstanding this deduction, the fund would suffer but little, as the half yearly inferest was nearly equal to the sum withdrawn. The total amount of both sides of the balance-sheet was 2,768,9964. 10s. Mr. Alderman Hughes thought it advisable, in the present state of the money-market, to discontinue, or greatly to reduce, the allowance of two per cent. as interest to es tomers, which led to a long discussion, the result of which was the question was left to the consideration of the directorse Five of the directors who totired were re-elected to whom, as well as to Mr. Pollard, the manager, thanks were voted, when the merting adjourned.

The Clobe states that the will of the late ecconfric Mr. Thompson, of the Priory, Hampstead, who left a large sum of money to Mr. Barnard Gregory, the Editor of the Satirist, and at present a prisoner in Newgate, is dispated, and the question is about to come before the Prerogative Court.

Unclaimed Dividends.-The late dischauses at the Mansion-house relative to frauduleut transfers of stock, have induced the authorities at the Bank to withhold all information for the present on the subject of montalmed dividends; and the clerks, baying strict injunctions on this head, refuse to norwer any inquiries made. Further alterations are likely to take place in the forms heretofore gone through when such claims have been urged and allowed, and already the Directors require, in addition to the profinction of the probate of a will, a burist extract to corroborate, in the strongest manner possible, the death of the party described.

Union of the Pacific and Atlantic Oceans .- A para graph has appeared in the Mexican papers, stating that President Santa Ana had directed anitable buildings to be created to excommodate the State prisoners, whose labour he proposed to employ in the constriction of a canal acres the Lethmus of Teleuntepee. Though comparatively little is known of the presider character of this route, the scheme, in the prosecution of which Sunta Ana segmento he engaged, will readily be seen to be one of the very l est importance. The isthmus referred to is in Mexico, partly in the province of Caxaca, and partly in that of Vern Cruz. The river Gussimonalco empties into the Vern Cruz. The river Guarananales empties late the Atlantic at that point, and, it is supposed, may be rendered navigable for large steps to such a distantiffican its month as to leave only about forty-first indicate in later vening land between the hold of ship nivegation and the Pacific Ocean. Sunt have project in nothing lass than to out a cenal serves this letheres, and thus open the path to commerce from one ocean to the other.

Buonuparte.-When the Emperor died at St. Halena t is well known that his beart was extracted with the design of being preserved. The British physician who had charge of that wondrous organ had deposited it in a silver besin, among water, and retired to rest, leaving two tapers burning beside it in his chamber. While lying thus awake, he heard, during the sliques of the uight, first a runtling noise, then a plunge among the water in the Setin, and then the sound of an object fulling with a rebound on the floor-all occurring with the quickness of thought. Dr. A -- sprang from his bed, and the cause of the intrusion on his rapose was soon axplained; it was an enormous rat, dragging the heart of Sanuaparte to its hole. A few mouents spore, and that which had before been too wast in its ambition to be satisfied with the sovereignty of Continental Europe, would have been found even in a more degrading position than the dust of Casser stopping a beer-berrel—it would have been devoured as the supper of a rat.—Globe.

Royal Money.—On Captain Crowdy, R.N., being recently presented to his Majesty at the reception at the Tuiteries, the King did the galiant Officer the honour to say that he always saw with satisfaction a Cartain of the British Navy ; Capt. Crowdy in acknowledging the compliment, reminded her Royal interlocator that he had had the honour of conversing with His Majesty on board the Volonisire frigate in the Mediterrangum, in 1808. "Al.," said the King, "you were First-Licutement of the Pilos, Capt. Walpole. How is my old abipments, Admiral Sir Charles Bullon I I hope he is well." This is an instance of correctness of memory really remarkable, sonsidering the length of time that has since clapsed (mearly 40 years). and the momentous events which have subsequently marked his Majesty's career, so arroughy calculated to oblitrate minor circumstances from the mind.

Salling Ment not fit for Human Food,—Rochester, Joh. 6.—The adjourned inquiry (see our last Number) into the case sgainst the Rev. Henry Winter, chaplain to the Fortifude convict-ship, and Mr. G. Basert, Army butcher, of fligh street, Custham, was resumed yesterday before a full banch of county magistrates. F The inquiry excited the most intense interest, and the court was densely crowded. Mr. Espinance was heard at length for the defendants, and the magistrates, after hearing further evidence, informed Mr. Espinance and the promecutor, that they had determined to discharge the defendants, and leave the prosecutor to indict at the sessions OF BASIZES or assizes.

Sausuges.—A police report has appeared this week in the papers which will, we suspect, three a gery powerful independent on the home trade in sausages. The facilities influence on the home trade in sameger. for frund afforded by the mysterious missellany of which a saurage is composed, have uncasioned a great variety of sproutative conjectures us to the probable ingredients of such an article. It has been roundly asserted that a cortain household animal has been sacrificed to the cupidity of sausage dealers -a statement we are really disposed to believe, when we find "a very respectable men" in the in the trade keeping on his promises calves that have died of disease, and beef "andt for the consemption of man" -the latter avowedly intended for conversion into sausage-ment. If respectable tradesmen do not scruple to employ anch materials in supplying the demand for way. sages which the public appetite creates, what may be ex-pented from designs who depend on the chespinus of their goods rather than the quality? It is much to be regretied that the discovery just made was not effected in time to save the causage-onling public from the extra consumption which occurs periodically at Ciristmas. We suspect that many a turkey would have come to table without its customary garatture if the police report in question had appeared a fortulght lifetore Christman day instead of a fortnight after. To speak seriously, the chief done to the public health by the sale of unwhole some food must be very great, and presuitions should be taken to prevent it. According to the police report, the "respectable tradeomen." draw a wide distinction between "beef or park sumares." and what are terroed ' large and small Germans, as well as black-puddings;" for he stemed to consider that by confining his business to the latter he might use what sort of meat he chose-anything in fact being good enough for the consumers of Germans, large and small, or black puddings. For our own parts, we think that a teste for these latter articles ought not to be wholly unprotected. There should be equal justice for the rich consumer of the high-priced Epping and the humble devourer of the low-priced savelny. It seems that a Garman assesse is not less genuine for being unwholesome, since the sausages saten in Germany by the Germans themselves cause mortal diseases, he we are told by of the public, and on that account we call attention to it.

—Globe.

The Temple of Juggernand.—The Bengal Government has just reported to the Indian Government at home, in answer to their long-punding inquiry, that no piedge whatover was originally given for the annual money of 6000% to the Temple of Jeggernaut, and, cone nual money-payment that there is no pretence for its continuance. landed revenue will, of course, continue, but its own votaries and patrons must henceforth supply the meedful, and not the British nation.

THE PERSON OF THE PERSON AS foreign and Colonial Entelligence.

FRANCE.—On Monday the Duc dn Broglie road to the Chamber the following draught of the address in replie to the King's speech.—(Nes N. J. M. Gasette, Dec. 30.)

"Bire,—The words which your bayesty has pronounced from the throne have filled our hearts with Joy. In receiving them with respect, we thank the King for the prespects of the country. Our loyal support will never be wenting to him. May brance display with confidence her fruitful stitivity, and follow her percently labours. May she assairs additional power are wealth among all nations; her furtire destinies are secured; the emples of the taw is established; facilities have been overclose, and the power of the state, disdaining their valls demonstrations, will be enoughed the state of the facilities the strength and solvity of Government. The Chamber of Suchances constitutes the strength and solvity of Government. The Chamber of Suchances but even the restriction application of subalances but even the restriction application of subalances but even the restriction of subalances of the matters made to attain that end. Distinctive to administ powers and constrain and appearance in the polaries the success of the afforts made to attain that end. Peace ralighs alread gaind there is every prospect of its direction. The relations between France and the foreign Powers are on a benevolest footing, we congruinate your Majorty on that reace religion abrived, and there is every prospect of its duration. The relations between France and the tevering Powers are on a benevolent footing, we meagratulate your Mejesty on that result. A sheer friendship insites you to the fluors of Great forting. A happy understanding his feen setafficied between your Government and high, in presents of the overte now passing in Spain and Greec that hereing was desirable. Our policy with regard to these two contribes inse ever been generalised and deinterpoled; it must not be altered. We entertain for them a real affections, may they, after as them convolutions only transcribing and order; hasy knowly field in tume friendly nations and in bandinace with public theories a new principle of gower and the regulation which your Mejesty follows with other Fowers, have for their billips. The trenties consisted with the King of Sardinia, with the regulation of Venezuela and the Ectador, and the negotiations which your Mejesty follows with other Fowers, have for their object for extend only controlled in duratry, by preserving to ospiring interests an equitable protection; it is a task worthy of your enlightened solicitude. In other to appreciate their results, we will swait the communications which your Government may be pleased to make to une we shall attentively study the laws claim of the worker of public utility. The law on secondary instruction is one of the consequences of the director in the study in the results. Were, "Fance decays hereif in society. Bire,...-Your family, is zere. France decays herealt estication is one of the consequencies of the diarter; the titteling intervention of the state in public met nection is instrumentally fur society. Sire,—Your family, is ours. France deems because hereoff happy to count, like you, an additional child in that young Petnices whose presence adds to the consolations which flod that reserved to you. Finice views with price, in the ranks of our heavy of Algeria, one of your sons, giving and receiving in turn the example of that undamnted courage and patterns which surmound the religion of that undamnted courage and patterns which surmound the religion of the times and patterns which surmound the religion of the finite and patterns which surmound the religion to the finite and of the latter, by giving to you callidren worthy of their failure and of the nation of which they are the midical supporters. The dynastics are consolidated and honds of affection are formed between Royal races and nations. Plogged faith and a mutual attachment render the indissolution the files, on agousting the targue, promined to devote to us his natice orantelace, to do receptions to reproduce the giot; and welfare of France; france promined to his historian who could forget or below his allegiance?"

The addices was passed by a majority of 11h to 14, with a passege relative to Pulsad, talling Louis Philippa, "That among the maiors dear to France, his Majorty

"That among the nations dear to Brance, his Majesty will, no doubt, not forget that there is one whose existence had been solumnly guaranteed by treaties." A deputation was next selected to convey the address to the Protector of Poland, and the Peers were enabled to repair to their dinners at a quarter-past Ave.

The Army .-- According to a recent decision of the Minister of War, no Officer of the Army shell in future obtain leave to matry, unless the person to whom he is to be united should possess a revenue of at least 1200f, per aimum.

The late General Comte D'Oreay died in the gross of his children, at his Chatesu de Rupt (lisute floane), warmly regretted by all the inhabitants of the surrounding Hin funeral gave rise to the most touching demonstrations, of public attachment, and to the most honourable teathmonies of grief and regret.

honourable tealmonies of grief anti-regest.
Injutient once more to see his country, from which the French, revolution had asparated him, Copits of Francy returned to Arance before it was permitted for the sudgest to do so. He was arrested, and conducted to the Temple, from which he only came forth at the intercembin of Madham Hashmarnon, after wards the Empress Josephics, who threw herself at the feet of largest to got in his pardon; he was then conveyed to the fronter. A few years after, profiting by the general annesty granted by Napoleon to the émigrés, he entered into theservice of France, and became chef de fastfailles in the time large of the Jime. He distinguished himself in the managing of life, making part of the corps of France Eugene, which joined will the Grand Army at the time of the bettle of Wagress. He was wounded at the taking of Runt by a shot in the sum, but will remained at the base of his widders fairing the rest of the company—he was the fine of his widders fairing the rest of the company—he was the backing of Real by a shet in the units, but will remained at the sindlers during the reas of the campaign—he was the first to enter the town. Some days afterwards the Emperor, graving buffer him, took off the own, trues of the Legion of Robins and proceeded it to him, anying, "Youse the Legion of the house and proceeded it to him, anying," "Youse the Luna." He also received at the him time the title of Barens, which the Emperor consistend upon him, with a perhaps of Barens, which the Emperor consistend upon him, with a perhaps of Barens, which is revolution had taken from him.

Applicated Colored of the 12th Regiment of the Line is Spain, he rejoined the devision of Bosanet at his buttle of his humanian in view of the whole Army he performed a mobil left of terms in taking at any speed one of the manufons of the Armylics, which he maintained against all the attacks of the opposing party. He then weiged the village of the Angelies, is like in dependend during feet body, and lost his make and twenty-two Officers. The General Marmont sent during the attack, to complimat colored d'Oran apon him brilliant conduct.

At the retreat of Vistorial he formed the rear-ganet of the whole Army and except the king Joseph, proom he pleased in the middle of a company of his Vultigeurs. At Pampeluna he received a ball in the kines, and was saved by the devotion of the Sappers of his regiment. The Emperor named him General of Brigade and Officer of the Legion of Honour.

After the abdication of Napoison, he aware allegance to Louis the Eighteenth. In 1976 the Emperor feath tone of his Addes-de-Camp to offer him the command of a division, but General d'Orsay finding himself bound by an oath, from which he could not free himself, would not accept these offers. On the formation of the guard, he took the command of the Second Brigade of the first division, and was afterwards named Lieutenant-General, Commander of the Legion of Honour, and some years later Grand Cordon of Mt. Louis and Gentleman of the King's Chamber. In Spain an important poet was confided to him. He commanded the line of theybro, and established his general quarters at Vittoria. Despit touched by his paternal administration, the town of Vittoria progented him with a sword of honour, as a proof of its gratitude. Offered hy an eventy, such a recomposse was the nebbest that an old soldier could desire.

From that epoch Lient. General Comba d'Orsay retired to his setate, where he did so much good that his name remains, with the memory of his henefits, as indestructible as the old Tower of Rupt, which is the most remarkable monument on the banks of the Banco. Here it was that he finished his accept of glory and chivalric loyalty.—La Presse, chivalric loyalty.-La Presse.

PRUBBIA .- Revival of the Order of " The Swan." "We, Frederick William, by the grace of God King of Prussia, &c. To all whom these presents shall come greeting. Anyong the many happy results produced by our time, under the blessings of a long peace (which God please to prolong) there is scarcely any that deserves greater notice and gratitude than the far-spread efforts to alleviate physical and moral suffering by the formation of Associations. These efforts are essentially coincident with the endeavours to give proofs of Christianity, not by dissents about creeds and external forms, but in its spirit and its truth by life and deeds. Deeply penetrated by the conviction that many of these respectable Associations cannot attain the entire effect of which they are capable, till they are united by a common bond round a directing contro, we have resolved to revive the most ancient order of our house, the Order of the Swan, founded exactly 400 years ago, by our ancestor, the Arch-Chamberiain and Elector Frederick 11., and never formally abolished, and to be re-organised in a manner suitable to the wants of the present age. The intension of the statute drawn up in 1443 is no other than 'to give proof of Christian truth We have ordered new statutes to be drawn by deeds. by decas. We have ordered new statutes to be drawn up, and a Council of the Order to be formed, the division of which into sections for the direction of the several branches of the operations of the Society shall be shortly arranged. Our first care to effect the practical operation of the Association of the Order of the Swan will be formed alone of an evangelical mother establishment in Berlin, for the care of the sick in great hospitals. We have made such changes in the insignis of the Order, as we have judged to be suitable to the present object. The members who act directly to execute the object of the Order namely, those of both sexes, who attend to the sick, to the penitent sinner, and t. the criminal, and also to the clergy, to whom the immediate direction of the establishments of the Association, and the care of souls in them, is intrusted, wear the insignia of the Order. The insignia of the Order of the Swan are not intended, like those of other Orders, as ornaments for the reward of merit or distinction; only the gold chain we shall in such cases give as a Royal mark of honour, to crowned heads and jugust persons. The Order of the Swan is to be 'an association' into which individuals voluntarily enter to exert themselves for one of its objects, and from which they may withdraw without any imputation on them, when they feel that they are no longer able to dedicate their time to it. The offices and dignities of the Order buly indicate the sphere of the activity of the persons holding them, and bow far they are near to or remote from its centre. Persons of both sexes, without distinction of tank or religious confessions, if they are ready to perform the duties of the society, may be re-ceived into it. We ourself have, with our beloved connort Her Majesty the Queen, taken on us the office of Grand Master of the Order and the superior directors of its operations. Only the institution and association proecoding from the Order are under the direction of us and the apthorities of the Order, but all others only where they desire of their own free will to be received into it, and the Order finds that they correspond with its own object. We should mistake that virtue which, with valour and fidelity, is the brightest ornament of our beloved people, if we thought to penetrate, with the splendour of an Order, into the sacred retreats of unsetautatious benevolence. Our sole object is, by united efforts, to effect good on a great scale in that fertile field which has been indicated. All depends on the blessing of God, whicheve invoke on our work, that the revived Order may flourish for the relief and remedy of numerous sufferinge, and that men and women of all religious per-suasions, clauses, and races of our people, may prove in a numerous association, and in the noblest spirit of emulation, that they are mindful of the words of our Lord-By their fruit shall yo know them.' In the conviction By their fruit shall yo know them.' In the conviction that the object which we revive, the Order of the Swan, that the object which we revive, the Order of the Swaw, philanthropy placed out at high interest."

The good one, directed entirely to the relief of manifest evils, and to the promotion of wholesome institutions, tract of a letter, written by a very intelligent resident on the Charch of Rome strongly insisted. It was thus we commend it with confidence and joy to the King of Kings. Under his blessing a truly noble company will take up and promote all that is great, salutary, and energetic in the tendencies of our times; but manfulls oppose everything that is injurious, not by contention and dispute, not by secret intrigue, but by that in which all Christian confessions may or ought to unite—by the active practice of what is God's will, in the certainty of the triumph of the divine love. The motto of the Order is, 'God with us.'-Given at Berlin on Christians eve, 1843. " FREDERICK WILLIAMS."

-The Constitutional has discovered MADAGASCAR. new ground of excitement in a report that the English have taken possession of the Bay of Diego-Suares, at the north-east of Madagascar. It says—"The report is perhaps premature, but it may be regarded as probable, as a Company for the colonization of Madageacar has for two years been in existence in England. It is astonishing that this island—as large as England, Scotland, and Ireland together-possessing large and safe harhours in every quarter, traversed by numerous and wide rivers, rich in all kinds of intertropical products, commanding the Indian Ocean, the South Sea, and the Atlantic Oceau, and visited each year by vessels of all nations, should so long have preserved its independence. The discovery of Madagascar by the Portuguese goes back 300 years, and up to the present day it has been able to keep itself free from the civilisation and arms of Europeans. If such be the case, we are compelled to confess it, France is in fault. Our reiterated but constantly ineffective efforts, from 1642 to 1786, to colonize this island cahibit another example of our want of tact in colonization. Although the treaties of 1814 did not consecrate our rights to the possession of Madagaşcar, we have never formally abandoned our pretensions to certain parts of the island. The ruins of the forts which we have built at several intervals still a ceat the temporary existence of our flag on this territory, Unfortunately, it is difficult to establish incontestably one's rights to an uncivilised country, except by absolute possession. Treatles passed with the native Chiefs, who sell and re-sell their territory to the first comer for a musket and a blanket, are excellent titles after conquest. Besides our Government has just added a new argument to those which our adversaries may object to us. In occupying the little isles of Mayotte and Nossi-Be, on the north-west of Madagascar, it appears to acknowledge that the colonization of the larger island is a matter beyond our strongth. be true that England has seized on Diego-Suarez without giving notice to our Government, our Government can only reprouch her with having been wanting in proper courtesy. In supposing that our neighbours' admit the reality of our rights to Madagascar, they could say to us, will you colonize? and, on our refusal, they would no doubt add, let others then do it. Let us add, that England formally contests our rights to Madagascar. France, says an English journal, has not had for the last 150 years an inch of ground at Madagascar lawfully belonging to her, either by gift or purchase, and the only claims which she can produce to the island are her attempts at colonization, which have wretchedly failed.' In tine, the great and decisive argument of England is her interest. In saizing on the Isle of France, Great Britain wanted to occupy a principal Military post on the road to her Eastern possessions. She cannot enoure that a rival sarion should found in a more important island an establishment which might become too dangerous to her. Aladagascar, besides, is the storehouse of the Isle of France, and the commercial relations established between those two points are exceedingly profitable and regular. have no doubt that in England at present Madagascar is looked on as an English possession. It remains to be ascertained what will become of the repeated protestations of Minuters relative to this island. 'Our claims to Madagasour,' they have said a hundred times in the Chamber, shall not be abandoned." Why have they not taken the proper means of claiming and maintaining those rights? The following are the protexts which England puts forward for occupying Diego-Suares:-The Queen of the Over, whom the English have assisted in sequiring the chief rule in the island, exercises a most true despotism over the inhabitants. This could be pardoned her, but she has gone farther—she has endeavoured to throw off the domination of England, and has driven the resident English from her states. Is there again in this affair one of those missioneries, who, like those at Otahaite, has contrived to carry commercial projects by the aid of his evan-gelical discourses? This is probable, for it was on the report of missionaries that an English Company for the Culonisation of Madagascar was formed in 1841. At present the English accuse the Queen of the Over of nfringing the provisions of the treaty concluded with Radams, her prodecessor, for the abolition of the slave trade, and it is in virtue of this accusation that they prepare to veize on her states. This is a fine example the island of Hong Kong, to a mercantile house at Liver-pool, under date of 21st Sept., that the insalubrity, of which such alarming reports are in circulation, is cither conflued to particular situations, or the result of personal imprudences, which, in a tropical climate like that of the southern extremity of China, cannot be committed with-southern extremity of China, cannot be committed without great danger:

"Although deaths have been very rife a' Hong Kong of late, it is some consulation for the living to be able, he every instance, to trace the causes. These are accural, viz., badly-built and damp konnes, impudent exposure to the aun, and unhealthy sites. The five foreigners who have died lived in a neighbourhood about two miles and a half from our place, and it is looked upon as full of malaria. Besides this, broken constitutions, damp houses, and imprudent exposure to the aun, had a share in some of these deaths. The deaths amongst the soldiery we take no account of, as they are indifferently lodged; they expose themselves to the sun, and drink freely of that poison samphu,—a spurit distilled from rue. It was the same at Chusan, when the 96th (Cameronians) lost nearly all their men; and yet there are, at this moment, Europeans,—soldiers and others,—on the same atte at Chusan, all perfectly healthy, merely because experience has taught the authorities to use precautions. We have one of the healthest altes in Hong Kong. Our house is dry, lofty, and airy; and we don't defy the sun, but make a point to have a conveyance if we go to a distance in the day time—either a boat, a sedan, or a carriage; and we are gind to say that we are free from sickness. The writer was ill for months before he left Macao. Now he is in the enjoyment of perfect good health; although some people who pretend to understand the matter, say that this season is unusually sickly; and that if people become ill, they must go to Macao to be cured. Bealin, which would have happened anywhere with the same causes, are casting a light of the Committee of Health, very recently appointed, will exert itself, and have its suggestions adopted in every instance, the place will be made quite at healthy as any other in this part of the committee of Health, very recently appointed, will exert itself, and have its suggestions adopted in every instance, the places will be made quite at healt steric and have its suggestions adopted in every instance, the place will be made quite as healthy as any other in this part of the world. All our immediate neighbours who are living in good houses, are quite free from apprehension."

Cape Coast Castle has been for many years only garri-soued by a Militia, and it is only since the Government has recently appointed a Lieutenant-Governor (Com-mander Hill, R.N.) that it has been decided to keep some regular troops stationed there, to be periodically relieved from Sierra Leone. The late Governor of Cape Coast Castle (Captain Maclean) holds the situation stipendiary magistrate at that settlement.

Lucram Nonces.

The Life and Times of the Good Lord Cobham. By Thomas Gaspey, Author of "The Lollards," &c. 2 vols. Cuoningham. Or Sir John Oldesstle, "the good Lord Cobham," whom

Walpole, in his "Catalogue of Royal and Noble Authors," justly describes as "a man whose virtues made him a reformer, whose valour made him a martyr, whose martyr-dom made him an enthusiast," little is generally known. Were the absurdities related of him, in the prejudiced pages of Dugdale, enfitted to oredit, we should regard him not only as an enthusiast—a truly noble character in -but as a traitor, a rebel, a fool, and a fanaa good cause-Lord Cobham was none of these. On the contrary, he was a man remarkable for the strength and soundness of his intellect, the fervour of his loyalty, the purity of his patriotism. That he was a soldier in early life—that he was one of the dissolute companions of Henry V. while That he was a soldier in early life-that Prince of Wales—that he is supposed, though erroneously, to have been the original of Shakepeare's Sir John Falstaff—that he became a zealous supporter of the doctrines of Wicliffe the reformer, and a leader of the sect named Lollards—and that, on Christmas day. 1117, he was hauged and burnt as a heretic, in St. Giles's-in-the-Fields, nearly at the cast end of what is now Oxford-street—are facts and circumstances of which history is cognisant.

Beyond this, however, as we have said, little is known. In bringing Lord Cobham more prominently forward upon the canvas, Mr. Gaspey has therefore rendered an important service to blography, and to the cause of the Reference Religion; the cause which Wiclisse first espoused, and for which John Huse, Jerome of Prague, Cobham, and hundreds of others heroically laid down their lives in attentation of their faith. Yet this is, perhaps, one of the least merits of Mr. Gaspey's work. It was for him not only to exhibit a portrait of Lord Cobham, but to present a picture of the times in which he lived—of the feelings and manners of his age—and, moreover, to show the connection which existed between Lord Cobham and the eminent Reformers, Huss and Jerome, whose charactern demanded a faller, or, at all events, a more lucid illustration than they find before received.

In the mass of curious and valuable material, here pro-. In the mass or curious and variety of sources, Mr. Gaspey stated from an infinite variety of sources, Mr. Gaspey has shown himself admirably qualified for his task. To the antiquary, the student of history, the theological inquirer, the investigator of life and manners, his book will prove equally acceptable. Our limited space precludes the possibility of entering upon any analysis of the work; but there are one or two points at which we must be allowed to give a limit the encrament of the altar," put by the Archbishop of Canterbury and the clergy, in the examination of Lord Cobham :-

the examination of Lord Cobham :—

"The faith and determination of the holy charch, touching the blesful secrement of the aulter, is this—That after the sacramentall words he ones spoken by a priest in his masse, the materiali bread, that was before bread, is turned into Christee very body; and the maleriali wyne, that was before wyne, is turned into Chrystes very bloud; and so there remayneth in the sacrament of the aulter, from the auforth, no materiali breads, nor materiali wyne, which were there before the sacramentali words were spoken."

With reference to the bread, Lord Cobham replied, that, after consecration "it was Christ's body in the form of bread." Hour this, the Archhishon (Arundel)

Upon this, the Archbishop (Arundel) form of bread." exclaimed:-

"'Nay, Sir John, you must say otherwise; 'to which Cobham replied, 'that he would never do, if God remained on his side, as he trusted be would to the end.'" he trusted be would to the end."

On this subject:—

"Huss admitted, what many subsequent reformers could never be brought to comprehend,—that the broad used became the identical body of the Saviour, which was born of the Virgin Mary, suffered death on the cross, and rose from the grave to sit on the right hand of God; but this was not going far enough for his examiners, who held that, because he did not consider the bread to be wholly annithlated, he meant to maintain the fearful heresy that material bread atill remained after the solemu, anetifying words had been pronounced."

The following, also insisted upon in the examination of Lord Cobham, may be regarded as a definitive settle.

of Lord Cobham, may be regarded as a definitive settlement of the often-mooted question, whether Roman Catholics actually wonstir images, or view them only as incentives to devotion :--Christen man to go on pigrymage to holy places, and there specially to worship holy relyques, and ymages, and saintes, aposties, martire, confessories, and all other saintes besydes approved by the Church of Rome.

In the second volume of the work, we find the clearest and most impressive condensed view of the proceedings of the memorable Council of Constance, and of everything relating to the trial and execution of the great Bohemian Reformer, John Huss, and of his friend, Jarome of Prague, that we have anywhere seen. It is simply yet powerfully written. The manner in which Lord Coblam met his fate, though given less in detail, is simply yet powerfully written. The manner in which Lord Coblam met his fate, though given less in detail, is very affecting.

"He was advised to confess himself to a priest, but he unhealtatingly replied that, "If the apostles Peter and Paul were there, he would not do so even to them, as one infinitely superior, God himself, was present, and to him he had, in all humility, confessed his sins. From his mercy he confidently hoped for pardon, and to none bestige would be make confession."

"The awful speciacle of the contrivances for tortuing him did not at all abate his courage. He was suspended to the cross-beam of the gallows by a chain passed round his medile. An old picture of the execution represents two other chains sustaining his head and feet, so as to keep his body searly in an horizontal position. A fire was made, and he died commending his soul to its Eternal Author, while the priests are represented to have acted the foolish and terocious part of calling on the pitying spectators not to pray for a man whom they scrapled not to declare was lassing to the infernal regions, for dying in obstinate rebellion to the Holy Catholic Church, the Cardinals, and the Pope. The persecuting spirit, which had desired to aggravate the horiors of burning to death, was in some measure disappointed. When the fire was applied, the smoke asconded in such a volume that it was believed Cobham had expired from suffocation, or was rendered insensible, before the flames reached his hoty. He was the result answered to their expectations need not be told. They had little knowledge of human nature who could persuade themselves that aspirings like those of Lord Coham and his friends, sentained by deep conviction and immortal hope, could thus be extinguished by mas's hostlirty."

Cordially recommending the work for the candid and liberal spirit in which it is written—for the extensive

Cordially recommending the work for the candid and liberal spirit in which it is written-for the extensive research which it displays-for, the graphic force with which many of its scenes are described—and for the deep interest which it involves, we conclude with its closing

lines;—
"Power may entist a host of minlom to assail and crush the cold individual who ventures to assail its stronghold, the champion may fall, but the cafae cannot be lost. The martyr may die, but cannot be subdued. As represented in the singular vision of John Huss, new images replace the one which has been obliterated, which can never be effaced. The mantle of the prophet finds a fitting wearer; his ashes become seed, from which a new harvest of truth is gained. The course of thought, though for a time interrupted, cannot be finally arrested. Will not a truth so obvious at length be understood, felt, and recognised by the whole family of mankind,—that those who feel constrained to differ in faith may at least tolerate each other and unite in charity?"

The Artist's and Amateur's Mugazine ; a Work depoted to the Interests of the Arts of Design and the Culfiva-tion of Taste. Edited by E. V. Rippingville. No. X. Longman and Coo

Ma. Rightmoille proceeds effectively with his new "Hypothesis of Beauty," and his "Four Years' Residence in Italy;" and he presents us with the commencing portion of an "Essay on Sculpture," by Count Hawks Le Grice, of Rome—a Letter, by the Author of "Modern Painters," strenuously contending that "Turner's modern works are his greatest "-and three or four

A Sequel to Don Juan. Paget & Co.

One of the most impudent—and of the most impudent—and of the most impudent and of the most impudent of the sage, this trush (five dentes of which we have before us) has been advertised as involving the exposure of a host of great names, male and female, from the highest in the land downwards. The author fells us, thut, should these centos " be received with favour, cleven more will shortly follow;" but, in the mean time, he "deems it predent to withhold his name from the title-page—with the promise, however, that he shall feel bound to reveal himself should the remaining cloven cantoe of his poem be called for."

Now, we venture to tell the author, that, if he be in realify "prudent,"—if he have one particle of self-respect remaining,—ht will never "reveal himself."

As for the poetry-or what is put forward as pontrythe thing, it is not worth a thought; all that it has Byronian about it, is its indecency. It is the profligacy, the profesences, the biasphemy, the obscenity, the filth and nastiness of the book that call for castigation—fo public prosecution.

Not choosing to render the columns of the Naval and Military Canette a receptacle of pollution, even in ter-rorem, we shall justify the severity of our remarks by a few passages of a different character.

r passages of a different character.

"Grabam and Stanley, turnously from your faith—
Knatchbull, who bilk each turnpike in your way—
Goalburn, on Peel dependent for the breath
Of Yory praise which gives you life to day—
Peel, by expedients saved from public death—
And, Wellington, the monderer of Ney—
How should you like to hear the dreated call
Of "A la lenterse" schodown Whitshall

"Humbug has placed Victoria on the throne,
And keeps her there; thumbug the Church sustains,
Though so intolerant and luxurious grown;—
Humbug has given Sir Robert Peel the relas
Of power, and taught him to derids the moan
Of those who safter cold and hunger's pains,

"All angient institutions totter. We

"All angient institutions totter. We Have fisard it said that Priests are on the wane;
And next the onward march of Liberty
Threatens with ruin all the Kings that reign;—
And in the solf-same pathway one may see
The World of Pashlon travel with its train Of Lords and Ladies-for the austroracy Will abortly be absorbed in the demoor

"Oh! for the power of Miraheau, to ring A death-knell to th' abuses of the étate! Oh! for the voice of Berenger, to stug, And lash in verse the follies of the great! Then all the fury of my wrath!'d bring, All my indignant feelings concentrate, To make the paople's grievances my own, And drag forth tardy justice from the throne?

" Shade of Charles Stuart It spirit of George Guelph is To ye my Muse shall dedicate her song,

Such are amongst the local intolerable passages of the book .- We abstain from all further comment.

The History of China and India, Pictorial and Descriptive ; from the Earliest Period to the Present Time By Miss Corner. Parts XI. and XII. Donn and Co.

An we have before had occasion to remark, this is one of the cheapest, nestest, and most elegant productions of its class now in the course of publication. Muss Corner has executed her portion of the labour with perfect success; and she has been well supported by her associate artists in wood and stone.

The Bastile. Part I. Newhy.

Tula, we find, is to be a romance, not a history; romance after the models of Dickens and Ainsworth. professes, however, to be "intended to comprise the secret history of the celebrated Bastile St. Antoine, from the time of its erretion to that of its demolition." For such a work, the material is abligant; and the writerjudging from the Part before us—seems to have made himself well acquainted with his subject. Robert Cruikshank's pencil is in requisition for the illustrations.

Payne's Universum; or, Pietorial World: being a Calagne a Onversum; or, Presonal 1) eral being a Cal-lection of Engravings of Views in all Countries. Por-traits of Great Men, and Specimens of Works of Art, of all Ages and of every Character. Edited by Charles Edwards, Esq. No. 1. Brain and Payne.

A QUARTO publication, of no slight protence, taining four highly-finished engravings on steel, with detaining four rightly-initiated engravings on steet, with the scriptive letter-press, at a price too insignificant to mention. The subjects of the present Number are:—Whalers attacked by Hears; the Casosts dello Marmore, near Teroi; Ave Maria, or the Evening Worship of the Viegin; and an emblementa Title-page. Some premiums, also, which we do not ware elected understand are held footh as which we do not very clearly understand, are held forth as inducements to subscribers e To avoid any misapprehension relative to this line, the author wishes it to be perticularly understood that he does not alinde to "physical death," but to annihilation as a Minister.

† No personal discrepant is here intended towards Victoria; the author is merely aliating to the office, and unit to the liftividual; and he is sico analous to express his memitigated disgust at the laws which allow a female to reigh over the country, I Charles the Second, as influence but a groot-hearted monarch.

S. George the Fourth, as influence but a groot-hearted monarch.
Not one angle redeeming thit sid this crowned monater possess;—he was a vile profligate, a miserable debusches, a faithless friend, as inhuman humband, and a bad King

Portraits of the Princes and People of India. By the Hon. E. Eden. Dickinson and Son.
Ws noticed in our Gazette of the 1st April, 1843, the exhibition at Meanrs. Dickinsons' of selections made from the "Sketch Book" of the Hon. Miss Eden, sister of the late Governor-General of India. of the late Governor-General of India. Those exquisite drawings have been frow lithographed by Mr. Lowes Dickinson, and as works of art are entitled to the Dickinson, and as works of art are entitled to the highest peakes. To those who take an interest in Indian affairs, this publication will have peculiar charms; but the work cannor fail to be prized by all the admires of lithography. The portialts of Dust Mahommed and the members of his family, of Runject Singh, Maharajah Shere Singh, and Purtab Singh, ass life-like pieces, remarkable for force and expression. The groups of Araba, Rakages (Littles, Thirtas Tartas The Besieve Paine Paine) Fakeers, Guides, Thibet Tarturs, Sec., &c., give a more correct files of Eastern character and contume, than can be obtained from any other work. To our Indian friends we warmly recommend a publication of such sterling

A MEMORIAL OF THE WAR IN AVA.

(Concluded from our last Number.)

The Army unhained about six months, to allow the mansoon to exhaust itself. The whole of this time was occupied in collecting stores, and making other arrangements for the ensuing campaign.

During the occupation of Prome, the Burmese expressed a wish to treat for peace; and after such repeated defeats, Sir A. Campbell thought they might be serious. Men of high rank, as Commissioners, were sent by the King of Ava.to meet some Officers of the British Asmy, on the part of Sir A. Campbell; and arrangements were agreed on for opening the negotiations. A place was fixed on about thirty miles in advance of Prome, at which place a house was erected for the Commissioners on both nides. Sir A. Campbell met here the Khee Whonghee, the first Minister of the empire, each with an escort of 1000 men. The whole affair was concluded fit a few days by a treaty, which Sir A. Campbell, who possesard an almost intuitive insight into the character of these people, felt would never be ratified, though the tness people, reit would haver be tatined, though the conferences were conducted with apparently the greatest frankness and sincerity. These properdings, however, introduced him to a perfect knowledge of the character and powers of mind of the enemy he had been so long contending with Stortly after the termination of these discussions upon peace, which the Burmess never intended should be conclusive, they commenced raising their stockades to aurround the Army as at Rangoon; and about October, they had at intervals thrown up field works, which formed around the British functionments a semicircle, commencing on the bank of the river in advince, and to fife north distant about seven miles, and ending to the rest and to the south ten miles. These stockades were fully manned and armed. With one exception, Sir A. Campbell appeared to allow them to proceed with his works, without harasting his Army by partial attacks, flepending on his power, when the country allowed of his breaking up, to crush them all at once, and proceed on his murch. e one exception was, four regiments of Sepoys, under gallant menawere sent against a particular atockade; the attack failed, its Commander killed, the second in command severely wounded, with considerable casualties, in December, 1825, the country, after the monsoon, allowing the Artillery, &c. to move over it, the Army broke up finally from its cantonments around Prome, to make its last campaign, and finish this war. No Army ever took the figid with greater spirit and alacuty, and with every union of good feeling, than did this under Sn A. Campbell. The means of its Officers in tents, and means of conveyance were very little improved since they left Rangoon; so that when they broke up from their good quarters, it was literally to take the field in actropical climate. India may learn, that the exuber-ance of canvasa, its inconvenient carriage, and heavy cost, may be very much reduced, and a sufficient comfort and cover maintained; and Sir A. Campbell's Army proved more than this.

The morning in December, on leaving Prome, the Army was early on the different routes to affack the enemy's works around it. The blow on this enemy was sudden, and entirely unexpected. A Burmele soldier to always at his post, and they made a powerful and creditable remnance to the assaults of the columns of attack; but the mind of the man they had to contend with, added to the unity of his troops, overgame all opposition, and in five days had dispersed an Army of more than 70,000 men from their strongholds, and destroyed their desences. The canualties of the British Army is these operations, of referred to, will best show the qualities of the summy Bir A. Campbell had to contend against.

The country was how open for the progress of the

Amy; and after proceeding about one hundred and lifty Sir A. Campbell came again upon the enemy strongly posted opposite the town of Maloch, at a narrow

On his taking up bis ground here, another offer to make peace was proposed by the Burmese to Sir A. Campbell.

Shortly after leaving Prome, a Civil Commissioner and an assistant joined the Army from Calcutta; but Sir A. Campbell was at the head of the Commission.

Negotiations commenced, and all Military operations consect. Valuable time was here lost; it turned out mere artifice on the part of the enemy to gain time, knowing its great consequence to the Army, as it increased its distance from its depots.

A day was given to the enumy for the ratification of the negatiation, which, if not returned from Ava on that day ratified, Sie A. Campbell would storm their works. The day arrived without the raufication. He kept his word; the works were stormed, and the country again open for the advance.

The Army was again in full route for the capital. was now about five hundred miles from Rangoon, where it reached the City of Pagodas, Pagham Mew. On its approach to this place. Sir A. Campbell was apprised that the enemy for the first time intended to oppose him in the field, and were in position a short distance in his front. Sir A. Campbell made his dispositions, attacked and routed them, to the amount of 40,000 men. The General continued his march, and on the same day stormed thoselry, with its armed pagodas. Here ended the Military operations against this brave and indefatigable people, who had disputed for a period of nearly two years, it may be said, every mile of ground.

Sir A. Campbell continued his march, and was met at "the town of Yandaboo, thirty miles from the capital, Adamerapoors, by Commissioners from the King of Ava. to conclude a peace on Sir A. Campbell's own terms and save the capital.

Here the Army encamped, and temained until a peace was concluded by Sir A. Campbell, as honourable to the Army he commanded, as it was advantageous to the country he served.

This meagre outline of the operations of a wer, in a country but little known, against a people us little known, and altogether wrongly estimated, must sadly fall to give a just impression of all the calls that were made on the mind and personal exercises of Sir A. Campbell, and which were never wanting to the occusion, for a period close upon two years; and no General at the head of any Army over more fully possessed the respect, the regard, and entire confidence of every Officer and soldier composing it.

Sir A. Campbell had some intelligers, and active Officors, of whose services he availed himself for several detached commands; but even their success was always best insured by strictly abiding as far as was possible by the insequetions they received from their Commander-in-

Chief.

Sir A. Campbell commanded the largest Army ever employed out of India on Forest Service, and the strong arm, added to the stout heart of the enemy, obliged the employment of a greater number of Brush soldiers than was ever attached, at any one time, to an Indian Army, to the number of ten European regiments. Sir A Campbell had also a respectable portion of India's beautiful Artiflery; his Cavalry consisted of only the Cover-nor-General's body-guard, about two hundred strong.

The Officers and semmen from three small ships of the Royal Nave were the soul of the water digision.

Had this Army been sent to Ave, so as to have arrived at Bangoon about the latter end of October, the end of the monsoon, instead of in May, its commencement, Sir A. Campbell would have carried through this war in six or eight months. He would have had the country open for his operations, whereas it was shut, by its inundations. The effect of the long monogon in this country is evident to the eye of every observer, as dwellings and all huildings are constitueted with reference to its inflaence; being raised from two to three feet above the surface for the water to flow under them. Had the Army arrived in October, the enemy would have had no time to have made preparations for their defence. A localthy and fine Army, though miserably wanting in equipment, world, under such a General, soon have ended the war.

The nore complaint of the expenses of this war, which is not yet forgotten, either in India or in England, amounting (it is said) to thirteen millions sterling, were not occasioned by the want of any exertion in the Army. nor of talent in its Commander, but, as will be shown, were entirely caused by the deplorable want of all information regarding the country to be invaded by the Government in Tudia ; in sending this fine force to land in Ava, in the "very conmencement of the monsoon, which paralysed its power, and destroyed its health, consequent upon open, wet, and bad quarters, insufficiency of and bad food, supplied by the Commissariat from ship stores; and this enduced for appeards of four months added to confinued exertions against the enemy, by land and water; the gesults were, dreadful sickness, and loss . of half the force by death.

This apornious sum may be divided into three portions, namely, lat, the transport service; 2d, the difference between the Army activing in October, after the monopon, with eight months' service before it, and the two years' service causing the extra sixteen months, which was the consequence of the Army erriving in May, at the commencement of the monscon; 3d, the common expenses of the war, which ought to have been of eight months.

Four millions may be put down to the transports; a large fleet of fine shipping lay in the Rapason River, at a heavy charge of tonnage, with manurous other ships, constantly on their passage between Rangoon, Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, for nearly two years.

Four millions may be sharged, at least, for the protracted time of sixteen months, which might have been saved by a wise ordering of the expedition, in the charge of the Commissarist, bire of conveyance, camp-followers, &c., &c., &c., added to which, the reinforcements neces-sary of European and Native Regiments, to fill up the loss referred to by deaths at Rangoon.

Five millions might have been about the cost of this war, had wisdom guided the embarkation from India, and one million of that was paid by the treaty with the Burmese.

Sir A. Campbell was appointed to the command of this Army at the elementh house, and he accepted it, with all its wants; and, as it has been before remarked, his appointment was the redeeming quality of the expedition, whose steady and indomitable courage, whose wisdom, whose resources, on all occasions of difficulty, rectified the errors and ignorance of his employers, and, by his brilliant suc-cess, rescued them from a defeat, which would inevitably have been the case had that Army been commanded by a General deficient in these general qualities to command success in this peculiar war. Its failure would have shaken India, as Ilhurapore was a strong indication.

The writer of this Memoir has not attempted accuracy with respect to times and distances; it was not neces in this general statement, the object of it being only to give a character to the war, with the qualities of the great mind of the General who commanded it, neither of which have ever been properly appreciated, or even understood.

LIEUT. GEN. BIR HUDSON LOWE. K.C.B. & G.C.M.G.

This distinguished Officer expired on Wodnesday evening from the effects of a severe attack of paralysis, from which he has lately been suffering. The name of Sir Illudson Lowe was, at one time, common in mon's mouths, and during the caile of the Empergr Napoleon at St. Melena this gullant Offices had the honour of being the best abused man in Europe, although most undeservedly no, as he excluted the disagreeable daties of an ungracious office with a kindness, courtesy, and delicacy, which even the Emperor asknowledged with an ill grace, in the midst of all the virulent abuse of those who relused to slacken the chain which bound him to the rugged rocks of St.

Our Military Calendar, published in 1820, has far-nished the Globs and the other daily papers with the following details respecting the Military cover of this Officer :-- the was an Ensign in the East Devon Militin, and served as a Voinnteer with the 38th Reg., in 1785, and 1785, nearly sixty very ago; and in Rept., 1787, was appointed Ensign in link reg., and Liout, in Nov., 1791. He served at Gibraltar Six years, and anosequently at Toulon and in Courses. He was greater at the attack of Martello Tower, the sterming of Convention Redoubt, and the steep of Residual and College.

and that. In Nov., 1791. He served at Ghraiter his years, and anbequently at Toulon and in Cousien. He was gristen at the attack of Martello Tower, the sterming of Convention Redumbt, and the siege of Bastia and Culvi.

Whilst holding the ranks of Lieut, and Capt., he had in succession the following situations.—Regimental-Paymaster, Assistant-Inspector of Foreign Corps.

He nest served in Portugal two years, and at Minorca one. He had then the command of acures of Corsicans. He served in the expedition to Egypt, and was in the Roserve under Maj. Clen. Moorc. He was green in the principal occurrences of that Amore. He was green in the principal occurrences of that Amore. He was green in the principal occurrences of that Amore. He was green in the principal occurrences of that Amore. He was green in the principal occurrences of that Amore. He was green in the principal occurrences of that Amore. He was green in the Principal occurrences of the Adjustinent of Ciains; he received a Majority in the Corsican Mangura, which was suit-dated the 1th July, 1900, and in less was reduced to half pay.

In April, 1803, he received a majority in the 7th Poot, and was appointed Pernianent Assistant Quartermester General in the Western district. He was afterwards ent, at the desire of Lord Hobart, on a secret expedition to Portugal, and subsequently on a similar mission to Sactions. He return and subsequently on a similar mission to Sactions. He return and subsequently on the corps of RI. Corsican Rangers, of which he was appointed Lieut. Col. in June, 1804. He served in Napise under Sie James Grangers to Capri, and was statuout there two years and a half. The French attacked this post with 3,000 men, and after a resistance of ten days, the walls belog breached, the green and a half. The French attacked this post with 3,000 men, and after a resistance of ten days, the walls belog breached, the green and a half. The French attacked this post with 3,000 men, and after a resistance of ten days, the walls belog breached, the green a in Finders.

In Finders.

In 1813 and 1814 he was attached as Commissioner to the Frustan Army, of which he reported the movements to the Bellett Covenment; and he was accordingly present at the second and early into Paris by the Alliest forces under Prince Reservances.

In January, 1912, he received the renk of Col., and the Coloneley of the Ri. Corsican Rangers, the 4th June, 1914, that of Maj. Gen. In 1914 the honour of kuighthord was conferred upon him, and in 1915 he was appointed to have the custody of the Emperor Mapoleon at St. Releans, in which charge he continued until the Emperor's death.

He was Appointed Lieut.-Gen, in July, 1830, and obtained the Coloneloy of the 50th Foot Nov. 17, 1842. He was K.C.B. and G.C., St. Michael and St. George. By the demise of Sir Hudson the Coloneley of the 50th is now vacant. See also our Loading Remarks.

" National" Postry .- The following specimen of Irish manufacture, being a compenion-piece to the exquisite lyric, 2 Papa, who is the Saxon?" given in the last Naval and Military Gazette, and from the same hand, makes its timely appearance in the Preeman of Thursday. It is ha aded-

"MILLIONS, TO THE RESCUE! "MILLIONS, TO THE RESCUE!"
"Up, up, to the rescue—the war whosp resounds,
And your bravest eye game for the Eassenech hounds;
Up, up, to the rescue, and rally to save.
Or ye boust not one drop of the blood of the brave.

Out tyrangy oft played the game with our sires, And they perished, aims! in rebellion's freed fires; But your tactics are now to await the attack, And you scatter, for ever, the Sassenach pack.

Rech moment of life is a moment of pain To the bondman who temptly submits to the chain, And comember, posterity honours his grave Who fights like the valiant, or falls like the brave.

Be true to your chief—hold the hell hounds at lay— shun treason and traitors, but shun suc the fray; Let the onset be thors, and each forest and glen shall rock at the rush of our warrior men.

Together, together, at and firm as yes, And fine flore defiance at tyrang; a threat; Uf, up, to the rescue, and rally to save, Or ye heast not one drop of the floud of the brave."

Trafalyar Square.--In our miscellancous news paragraphs of last week we inserted, from a morning paper, a paragraph stating that the equestrian statue of George III. had been removed to Trafaigar-square. This is not the case: it is still in Cookspur-street.

How to Write Clearly and Forcebig.-A man fully seasesed of his subject, and confident of his cause, may almost always write with argour and effect, if he can get over the temptation of writing finely, and really confine himself to the strong and clear exposition of the matter he has to being forward. Halt of the affectation and offensive protonsions we meet with in authors arises from a want of matter,—and the other half from a pairry ambition of being eloquent and ingenious out of place.-Lord Jeffrey.

ENGLISH FUNDS.

BIRTHS.
Jan. 7. at Heirs House, near Coine, Lancashire, the lady of Capt Armaros, late 6th Reg., of a daughter.—Jamary 6. in Upper Pembroke attect, Dublin, the lady of Capt. Coorga, stikes, of a daughter.—Jan. 6, at Hampstead, the lady of Capt. New W. F. Panav. E.N., of telps daughters.—Jan. 8, at Figuretend.common, Kent, the wife of Jas. Paraw, R.I. Artillery, of a son.—Jan. 6, at Hardway, the lady of Lieut. Markerus, E.N., of a son.—Af Guerney, the lady of Lieut. Markerus, Royal Irish Fusings, of a son.—Af Guerney, the lady of Maj. O'Brien, Royal Irish Fusings, of a son.—

MARKIAGES.

At St. George's, Heasver-square, Col. Sir D. Machougall, K.C.F., late Commanding the 78th Highlanders, to Hannah, widow of the late Col. Bisholson, of the Laucashire Milita.—Jan. i. at Edimburgh, H. Burle, Say. Campbelton, et Janz, daughter of Lieut. Militason, Campbelton.—At Winterborne Hasself, F. B. Griffon, El. Marines, to Caroling, daughter of Capt. H. H. Budd, R.N.—Jan. s., at Christ Church, the Rev. W. G. Nott, eldest son of Maj.-Gen. Sir W. Nott, G.C.S., An., to Annah, 2019 daughter of Maj.-Gen. Server.—Jan. s. at R. Mary's, Bending, G. T.F. Sowoom, Seq., of Reeding, to Caroling A., daughter of Col. Williams, of Belle Vue, Reading.

DEATHE.

Det. 2, at Buence Ayres, Lieut. B. A. ALEN, of H.M.'s ship Diphes.—Jan. 2, at Lymington, aged 18, H. Wesser Cleent son of Maj.-Geo. H. T. Roberts, G.B.—Jan. 1, at Burnathole, sped 18, the wife of Com. Cumar, E.N.—Jan. 1, at Mo. 3, Raton-place, Holgrave-au, Cupt. J. Epigen, B.M., In his feth year.—Jan. 7, at Studiend, Dorscheifer, Sir C. E. Nuagay, G.C.H. Admi. If the Fleet, in his softh year.—Jan. 8, Maj.-Geo. F. J. T. Jounnton, C.B. only brother of the Bet. Hen. Sir A. Johnston, of Carnsaloch, Durn-frannen.—Jan. 8, at the Governor's Tower, Wigners a stic, Capt. Frannencouns. Governor of the Mittary Kunghts of Wiedeor, aged 67.—Aug. 24, at Heaging, on beard the Hon. E. I. Company's cl., ves. Rilagets, in Six Sid year, th. A. F. Hannen, Eaq., late lyst. Lieut. of the Fortuneouth Division of the Royal Matinea.—Sept. 2, at Hong Kong, F. E. Foore, K.Q. Pep. Com.-Gen. only sen of the late Vess-Adi. Six E. J. Foote, E. C.B.—Nov. 2, 1843, of the Assimancement of Africa, Society of the Michaelespace, and Africa, Society is cleared of M.M.'s str. Widespiece, in Michaelespace, May, Late Cirk is cleared of M.M.'s str. Widespiece, in Michaelespace, M. M. Server Taylor. Foot, Gravesseod, Mary Rison Allen, the places to again of H. M.,'a ship Allert to join the Freque and Stranger of M. Maguardes, Req., 18th Reg. aged a years and a hast,—at the Royal Mempital, Stone-house, Mr. J. Privisa, Mark, R.N. DEATHS.

REPORT

ROYAL NAVAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

SINCE the Publication of the last List of Subscribers, at which period the election of a Naval Secretary took place, the marked and continual increase of the Society's finances is a subject on which the Court has to congratulate the Subscribers and Benefactors. By a reference to the "Annual Totals of Receipts and Expenses from 7791 to 1842," It will be seen that from the year 1820 to 1837, there was a progressive diminution in the lands of the Society, while from 1887 to 1842, the income has been increasing, notwithstanding the great pecuniary depression felt by all other similar Institutions. These advantages the Court attributes in a great measure to the assistance of the Press; which, while it reported the assiduous attention given by them to every case and the equity of their decision, has likewise extended the knowledge of the Society's existence to many who otherwise would have been unable to avail themselves of its bounty. The Court, however, regrets that the benevolence of the Society, which they have so much at heart, has in some instances been imposed upon, in consequence of Members having emitted to attend to the instructions in the Form of Memorial, which enjoin that they should be " acquainted with the case, and have the fullest reason to believe that the elecumstances therein set forth are correct." And the Court feels it incumbent to impress upon the Members, that the applicants to this Society, by their extensive dispersion over the United Kingdom and Colonies, are in so many instances beyond the Secretary's research, that exaggerated statements as to their distress can be advanced with impunity. It is therefore requested, that those who countersign Memorials will bear in mind that the Court has frequently no other means to guide its judgment in awarding the Grants, and also as to their amount, than the correctness of the statements contained in them, authenticated by the signing Mombers.

The Court has had the pleasing duty of repeatedly acknowledging the benevolent and gratuitous services of the Honorary Secretaries at the outports, and their zeal in promoting the interests of the Society among the Officers afloat, or residing to their neighbourhood.

Among the distinguished Vice-Presidents whose loss the Society has to lament, are those benevolent Officers, Admiral Frank Sotheron, Sir Josius Rowley, and Sir J. Tremayne Rodd, who were constant in their attendance at the Quarterly Courts; and the expression of the Society's regret at the loss of the latter Officer, as "its excellent and long-tried friend," was ordered to be recorded in the Minutes. The Society and the Service have also to lament, in common, the death of Admiral Sir T. Williams, the benevolent founder of the ROYAL NAVAL FEMALE SOHOOL at Richmond, which establishment was first formed under the Society's roof; being sided not only by the use of its Office, but also by the active exertions of a Provisional Committee, composed exclusively of its Members. Thus the operations of the Institution have not been confined within the limits of its own immediate sphere; but, by the energies of its Members, uided by the munificent donation of £1,000 from Sir Thomas Williams, the nucleus of an establishment has been formed from which 83 families of deceased mem bers and other Officers are reaping advantages, which to their daughters will be far more valuable than any opresent pecuniary rolled within the means of this Society. The Members will be gratified to learn, that at the Election of Wards to the Adult Orphan Institution, the Court has not restricted its efforts to merely polling the Society's votes; but in cases of urgent distress, combined with brave and meritorious services on the part of the parents, has employed an active canvass in their behalf. In addition, the assistance of the Society has enabled many deserving widows to defray the reduced charges for education at the Royal Naval School of Camberwell.

In conclusion, the Court trust that the example set by their brother Officers in attending the Quarterly Meetings, and devoting their personal exertions to the interests of the Society, will not be lost sight of by the Members in general, but that they will individually exert themselves in causing the principles & advantages of the ROYAL NAVAL BENEVOLENT SOCIETY to be universally diffused throughout the Navy & the Res "The Provisional Committee was common of the Miller of the Market of the Miller of the USTRALASIAN, COLONIAL, AND GENERAL LIPE ASSURANCE & ANNUITY COMPANY.
CAPITAL—#800,000—IN 2,000 SHARBS.

TO EMIGRANTS TO THE AUSTRALASIAN COLONIER who are assured for the whole torm of life, the Company offers the permission to proceed to and reside in any of these Colonies without extra premium, and to pay their premium; and to pay their premium; a charged. To all Persons the Company offers the advantages of the guarantee of an ample subscribed Cultain—of permission to retain one-third of the Premium in their own hands (the portion so retained, with interest upon it, being deducted from the Policy with interest upon it, being deducted from the Policy when it becomes a Claim—of Ascending, Descending, and other Scales of Premiuma, and of Participation in Profits.

Prospectuses and full particulars may be had at the Offices of the Company, No. 135, Bishopsgate-street, City.

DESEASED & MEALTHY LIVES ASSURED. MEDICAL, INVALID, & GENERAL LIFE OFFICE, 85, PALL MALL, LONDON. CAPSTAL, #500,000.

CAPITAL, #500,080.

VRESIDENTS.

Sir Henry Halford, Bart., M.D., C.C.H., F.R.S., F.S.A., President of the Royal College of Physicians, San, &c.

Sir William Barnett, M.D., K.C.H., F.R.S., Luspestor General of the Navy, &c., &c.

Sir/Matthew J. Tierney, Bart., M.D., K.C.H., Sa., &c.

PRUTASES.

Cha.Hopkinson, Esq., is in Thou. Phillips | AlfredWaddileve, D.C.L.

Blandrone, Bland, 249, Great Rurrey Street.

George Gan Hay, Esq., 249, Great Rurrey Street.

George Gan Hay, Esq., 24, Santh Audley Street, Yeller, F.R.S., 12, Santh Audley Street.

J Parkmann, Esq., F.R.S., 17, Wunpole Street,

J Parkmann, Esq., F.R.S., 17, Wunpole Street,

C. Richardson, Esq., 18, Bruton Street, Herkely Square.

Thomas Stevenson, Esq., 18, F.R.S., 26, Parliament Street,

Robert Bentley Tudd, M.D., F.R.S., 26, Parliament Street, Alfred Waddilove, D.C.L., Dioctors' Commons.

Algorithm.

Altred Wadditove, D.C.L., Doctors' Commons.

Aquituma.

John Pulskord, Esq., 7, York Terrace, Regont's Park.

Joseph Radford, Esq., 87, Cambridge Terrace, Hydo Park.

J. Stirling Taylor, Esq., 44, Up. Oloucater Pl., Dorset Square.

Martial L. Weich, Esq., Wyndham Esace, Brysnskono Square.

Standing Counsel—John Shapter, Esq., Lincoln's Ish.

Bangsas—Mesars. C. Hopkinson & Co., Regenfest.

Solicitors—Mesers. Richardson & Smith. 28, Golden Square.

DRAATHENT OF MEDICAL STATISTICS.

William Fart, Esq., General Registry Office.

Actuary—F. G. P., Neissun, Esq.

Thre Office is provided with very absgrately constructed.

This Office is provided with very ascarately constructed Tables, by which it can ASSINE UNSOUND LIVES on Equitable Perms.

The EXTRA PREMIUM DISCONTINUED on restoration of the Associated to Permanent Health.

A portion of the EXTBA PREMIUM may remain as a DEBT ON THE POLICY.

ON THE POLICY.

RURVIVORSHIP ASSURANCES where the Life in expectation suffers from Disease, effected at CHEAPER RATES than at any other diffice.

Rimiter Tables enable the Society to grant INCREASED ANRUTTES ON UNSOUND LIVES—the amount varying with the matching Disease.

Deficially Disease.

Members of CONSUMPTIVE FAMILIES ASSURED at EQUITABLE RATES.

HEALTHY LIVES are ASSURED ON LOWER TERMS than

HEALTHY LIVER WAS ACCURED ON ACCURED THE MADE AND ACCURED OF TWEIVE MORTHS' STANIFING ARE NOT AFFECTED BY SUICIDE, DUELLING, &c.,; and Assigned Police are valid from the date of the Policy, should death enough from any of these causes.

UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SO-CIETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON.

CIETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON.

Dinectors:

Eli Henry Willock, E.L.S., Chairman.

John Stewart, Esq., M.P., Reputy Chadrenau.

Major-General Sir Ed. Arm. strong, C.B. E.C.T. and S.
John Sagehaw, Esq.
Augustus Bosanquet, Esq.
Charles Dashward diruse, Esq.
Charles Dashward diruse, Esq.
Charles Dashward fire, Esq.
Raikos Currie, Esq., M.P.
The principle adopted by the Universal Life Assurance Society of an esmusi valuation of smets and invilities, and a division of three-fearthee of the proportion of profit to the parties why may wish to appropriate their proportion of profit to the reduction of future grammiums. The indusing Table will show the last division of profits, as declared on the 10th of May, 1v43, to all persons who had on that gay paid six assual premiums:

Ekedoned Date of Sam Chabeten (Samual Premi

Original Premium. Payable ta Annual Premium #219 6 8 #59 18 4 94 8 4 18 4 2 91 10 0 16 15 0 49 16 0 91 7 6 66 11 8 91 4 10 £1,000 1,000 1,000 #0 #0 40 On or before DAVID JOHES, Lotary order of the BORRE

POYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST INMA COMPANY, & GENERAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.—Office, 13, Waterloo-place, London.

PATROMERS.—Her Most Gracious Majeriy the QUEEN.

Assurances are granted upon the Lives of Persons in every station or life, and for every part of the world, upon particularly favourable terms.

Persons assured in this Office may change from one country to another without forfeiting their Policies.]

Board days every Thursday at One o'Clock, and every facility afforded for infecting Assurances on other days.

JORRING. BRETTELL, Secretary.

TOYAL NAVAL HENEYOLENT

DORAL NAVAL BENEVOLENT

BOYAL NAVAL BENEVOLENT

BOCKETY (LATH CHARITABLE).

The next Querterly Meeting of this Becklety for abording relief to Officers of the Royal Navy, and to their widows and tamilies under circumstances of misfortune and consequent distress, will be held at the THATCHED HOUSE TAVERN, St. James's.

Street, on Monday 15th Jamesry, at 12 o'clocks

Office, 18, Adam' at. Adeiphi.

W. H. DICKSON, Sec.

NASSAU STATE LOAN of 26,000,000 ASSAU STATE LOAN of 25,000),000 FLORINS, to be reimbursed with Dividends of Fis. 50,000 med,400—50,000—30,000, Rc. 59. GRAND PUBLIC HISTRIBUTION on the 1st February west at Wienhafen. Official bulletian thereof immediately forwarded to away Shareholder abroad. Price of the Sharen, beam-11 for 27, 28 for 180, and 48 for 701, its rings, people by Post-office orders or remittances, Apply for full particulars, without delay, to A. Jacona & Co., Bankers, Franklot-un-disting.

6. To make postages, all Letters addressed to Massra. Jacobs & 19., 24, Welvelose Squara, London, will be promptly forwarded.

IMPORTANT PATENT IMPROVE-

MPORTANT PATENT IMPROVEMENT in CHECOMMETERS and WATCHES.—E. J.
DENT, 82, Strand, who obtained the high distinction of receiving the Government reward for the unparalleled performance of the best Chronometer ever submitted to 12 snouths' public trial, longs to acquaint the public that the manufacture of his WATCHES, OHRONOMETERS, and CLOCKS, is seemed to him by three patents, respectively granted in 1835, 1840, and 1848, Silver Lavor Watches, juwelled its four house, d. da. each; in gold dasay, from 81, to 101 saxus, folds iterizontal Watches, with gold dish, from 82, to 126, 124, each. Deat's Appendix to his redent work on Time-keepers, is now ready for circulation.

VERLAND TO INDIA.—The new Patent improved Air tight and Waterproof OVERLAND TRUNK, made according to regulation; also the Folding Tverland Materian and Vallec, and the Condensed Wash-hand Applicates. Outfilters supplied with the above and every article of calin farniture, bullock trunks, sea and Navy sheets, cots, hammorks, iron and breas bedeteads, and every description of camp equipage, at the lowest prices, by JUHN SOUTHIGATE and Entry was nifetively and the later prices, by JUHN SOUTHIGATE and Entry was nifetively and the showt trade, 76 and 77, Wailing street, near Rt. Paul's.

A NOREW SMITH'S PATENT WIRE

A NOREW SMITH'S PATENT WIRE A ROPE for STANDING RIGGING.—This Rope has now been in use appeared of steven Years, being less than half the weight and size of homeon Rope, and about one third cheaper. The Royal Pacht Vectoria and Albert is gatirely fitted with Andrew Ruilth's Patent Wire Ropa, Metal Blocks, and Kerew Lanyards, together with a considerable number of other ships if the Navy, as well as in the Marchant Service. For further information apply at the Office, 3, White Lion-Court, Cornhill, The following is a copy by a testimonial. A number may be seen at the office; "Commercial Dock, Leadon, Aug. 2, 1842.
"Dana Brin.—As Capton and owner of the schooner Navashil, of Great Grimsby, I have much pleasure in stating for the information of the public, that it is now apwards of seven years since my vessel was entirely fitted with your Patent Wire Rope as assanding Rigging, and that it is, at this time, in an good a state as when first fitted, though the schooner has been, during the whole of that time, trading in the Baitle and Constways. I am perisetty satisfied of its great advantages over Hempen Rope for Standing Rigging, after the experience that I have had of it in all kinds of weather.—I am, Sir, your obedient Servant, (Signuch). "THOMAS MARSHALL.

"Mr. Andrew Broth."

R OWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL OWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, Royal Blanness Prince Athert, the Royal Blanness Prince Athert, the Royal Pamily, and the several Courte of Europe.—This degant, fragrant, and pollined in integral is integrated to the several Courte of Europe.—This degant, fragrant, and pollined in integral over the whole world. It preserves and responsible in unequalled over the whole world. It preserves and reproduces the hair, even at a late period of Mc; prevents it from turning grey; or it so changed, systomes it to its original colour, train it from sear mad imparity, and renders it soft, aliky, outly and glossy, and ratains its earl and other decorative form nonligibred by the vasiations of the atmosphers or the effects of the crowded satembly—facts which are abundantly proved by the numerous testimonials which may be seen at the Proglesions.—Its value is of course submoded by being used at an early partied of tite, that to children it is especially recommended as forming the basis of a beautiful head of Male. Price 3s. 64., 7s., Pamily Bottles, (equal to four small), the 6d., and double that size, 21s per hottle.

Carrinolo.—Each gentine hottle has the words heaven's Rowmann's Macassas Oil. "engraved in two lines, on the wrapper, and on the back of the wrapper pearly 1,800 times, containing 29,028. Jetters. Be sure to ask for "Rowland's Macassas Oil."

Read by the Propresion, A. Rowann and Son, 20, Hattongarden, London, and by themists and Parimers.

**CRATHORS SITCIFIC SOLUTION OF

MRANKS'S SPECIFIC BOLUTION OF TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF COPAIBA.—The efficacy of this invaluable Medicine is attented by Teathmonial.— From Bravesy Corege, Enq., F.R.B., one of the Connect of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Surgeons to fluy's Rospital, and Lecturer yn Austriny, Res.,—"Mr. Brakeney Coners presents his complainents to Mr. Gonath Paawes, and has great pleasure in hearing testinging to the fluorest of the Solution of Copaiba in Gouerfaces, for which disease Mr. Goner has nearthed the Solution in ten artwire cases with perfect success.—New Street, April 12, 1935."

"Prepared only by Gonaca Frances, Rurgeon, 90, Stackfriers Road, London, where it may be had in Britlers at 26, 94, 4a. dd., and 11s. each; and of all respectable Bringgists and Fatent Medicines Vendors in the United Kingdom.

Cauriers.—Unlesse "Grones France, Blackfriers Road," is engraved on the Government Stamp, it esame the gendles.

**Cauriers.—Unlesse "Grones France, Blackfriers Road," is engraved on the Government Stamp, it esame the gendles.

H. POTTER.

MARTIAL MUSICAL INSTRUMENT MAKER Co Mer Majesty, BRIGADE OF GUARDS, AND THE HONOURABLE BOARD OF ORDNANCE,

2. Bridge Street, Westminster, London.

INVENTOR OF THE IMPROVED RETTLE DRUMS .- BASS, TENOR, AND AIDE DITTO OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. ITLUTES, CLARIONETS, BASSOONS, SERPENTS, BASS HORNS, CYMBALS, &c.

VALVE PRENCH HORNS, RUSSIAN CORNETTO, VALVE OPHICLEIDE, ROYAL KENT BUGLE. TROMIONE, TRUMPET, CORNOPEAN, AND ALL SORTS OF REYED AND SLIDE INSTRUMENTS.

NOW READY, THE FOURTH AND LAST PART OF THE | |

| HONOURABLE E. EDEN'S

PRINCES AND PEOPLE OF INDIA.

PRICE 21s.; COLOUGED, #2 12s. 6d.

*, * This Work is now complete, and contains Portraits of most of the characters that have figured in the late disturbances in Judia, and is considered a Standard and National Work.

DICKINSON & BON, 114, NEW BOND STREET.

Preparing for Publication, in 2 vols. 8vo., with Maps and Hustrations, price 28s., bound, voyages and SERVICES OF HE N E N E M E S I S.

From the Notes of Her late Commander, W. H. Hatt, R.N.; and from Personal Observations made in China and other Parts,

From the Notes of Her late commanuer,
And from Personal Observations made in China and other Parts,
By W. D. Brannaro, Esq. A.M., &c.
N.B.—Those who may desire to secure early copies of this Work, are requested to send their names as subscribers, without delay, to their respective backsellers.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 13, Great Marlborough Street.

Now Ready, in 2 vols., small avo., 21s., bound,

WHIM SICALITES.

By THOMAS HOOD, Eaq.

WITH NUMBROUSE ILLESTRATIONS BY LERCH.

"These Whimsleslities furnish the best present book of the year. They are admirably illustrated by Leech."—Naval and Military Gusself.

"I let us recommend these volumes to all the property of the property of the present book of the year. They are admirably illustrated by Leech."—Naval and Military Gusself.

Milliary Gusselts.

"Lat us recommend these volumes to all lovers of fan and frolic."—Morning Chronicis.

"Original thought and able execution pervade the whole of this work; and a more pleasing holbits; literary recreation could not well be concorted."—Itterary Guselte.

"In this work are some of Mr. Hoogle best efforts. Things that will make the thoughtful wiser, and the unthinking merrier. Can any one read our hasty extracts and not wish to possess two volumes rich in wit, some, good feeling, and good pointry—with puns and extravaganoles for less exemplary tastes—and a number of humorous fancies from the panell of Leech."—Examiner.

"Henry Colburts" Publisher, 13, Great Mariborough Street.

MR. 61 0170 e NEW CLUE

Henry Colburn's Publisher, 13, Great Mariborough Stress.

MR. Gl E1G'S NEW WORK.
In two vols. awalfato., 31s., bound,

I H E L I G H T. D R A G O O N.

By the Author of "The Rubaltern," "The Hussar," "The Chelses Pensioners," Rc.

"The whole work is a moving panorama of moldent, and no one can read it without the deepest interest. It is a most taithful picture of a soldier's life."—Workly Chronicle.

"We point attention to these volumes as a necessary adjunct to every. Military library; and as a groug the most entertaining books of miscollaneous reading that can possibly be taken up."—Nacut and Military Gasette.

Hopy Colbum, Publisher, 13, Great Mariborough-street,

FOR SCHOOLS AND PRIVATE INSTRUCTION.
WHITTAKER'S IMPROVED EDITIONS.

WHITTAKER'S EDITIONS of PIN

NITTAKER'S EDITIONS of PINRIES, in 12mo.

RIES, in 12mo.

HISTORY of ENGLAND. The 24th edition, with numerous Embeliebments, Maps. Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &b. bound.
HISTORY of ROME. The 22th edition, with numerous Embelishments, Maps. Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &s. &b. bound.
HISTORY of GRPECE. The 18th edition, with numerous Embelishments, Maps. Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &s. &d. bound.
HISTORY of GRPECE. The 18th edition, with numerous Embelishments, Maps. Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &s. &d. bound.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Child's First Book. 18mo. 25.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's First Spelling Book. 18mo. 1s.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Explanatory English Spelling-Book. 12mo. 1s. &d. bound.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Exercises in False Spelling. 12mo. 14 &d.

Hook. 12mo, 1s. oc. counts.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Exercises in False Spelling. 12mo, 1a 6d.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Introduction to the Explanatory Roader, 12mo, 3s. bound.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Introduction to the Explanatory Reader, 12mo, 3s. bound.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Explanatory English Reader, in Frome and Verse, for Pupils above Neven Years old. Sixth edition, 12mo, 4s. 6d.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Arithmetical Tables. 12mo, 6d.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Arithmetical Tables. 12mo, 6d.

WHITTAKER'S Connock's Cyphering Books, 6to. Part 1., 1s.

Parts II. saul III. 2s. sach.—A Key, 3s. 6d.

N.B. Care should be taken to order WHITTAKER'S IMPROVED Entropy, as from the universal popularity of this aerics, unpincipled attempts have been made to autholiste works of a somewhat similar appearance. Measure, Whittaker's and Cohaving expended terry large sums upon the purchase of the copyrights and belving by the ance asive laboure of numerous eminent writers, perfected the various books to the very latest state of scheme and history, and rendered them, by-copious additions, as complete as elementary works can be, are determined to problet their property, and at the same time to prevent the public from being imposed upon by spurious similations.

DEDICATED TO THE QUEEK.

Now ready, to be continued on the lat and 15th of every month Part I. (with five Plates) of

! THE PEOPLE'S GALLERY OF

TO contain four beautiful Plates on Steel, quarto size, for One Rhilling, executed by the fret-rate Engravers from Originals by Sir Thou, Lawrence, Turner, Stunfield, Prout, D. Roberta, Allom, Chalons, Hayter, Parris, Maclise, Stephanoff, Cattermole, Bartlett, Leitch, &c. Edited by the Rev. G. N. Watour, McA. With selections from the writings of L. E. L., Mrs. Relie, Mary Howlit, Agues Strickland, Bernard Barton, &c. Pinher, Non, and Co., Newgato-street, London.

ARTIZA

with which the ARCHITECT, ENGINEER, & SURVEYOR is now incorporated.

The Number for January, completing the first volume, is this day published, price is., and contains Title page and Analytical Index. The first volume may now be had, bound in cloth, price ib.., with Atlas Plats of Direct Action Engines (gratis.)

All the Articles in "The ARTIEAR," are original, and are contributed by some of the first writers and most skillful gractitioners of the day. Simpkin, Marshall, & Co.

** ARQUEL TO DON JUAN.

** REQUEL TO DON JUAN.

** New ready, price ies. 6d., elegantly bound,

** SEQUEL TO DON JUAN;

** With Portraite of Lady Adeline Amundeville, Aurora Raby,

Rose Delacour, and Henrietta; Engraved aft.; the style of ** Finder's livron's Heauties, "by J. W. Cook.—The work takes up the thread of the narrative so abruptly broken off in the original of the noble author, and concludes the Adventure of Don Juan and the Duchoss of Fita Fulze. It then pursues the career of the Haro in his amours with Lady Adeline Amundeville, Russ Delacour, and Henrietta. It follows him into the midat of the Reign of Terror in France, and records the Adventure of a cer tam beautiful Lady with Fooquier Threllie, the Public Accuser.

The satircal portions of this Foem cuntain reference to Earl Pitrharding (Colonel Berkeley) and Miss Poote (now Countees of Harrington)—Sir Robert Pect, Sir Edward Knatchbull, the

Duke of Wellington, Sir James Graham, Lord Stanley, Nr. Gonl bura, and other Eminent Statesmen—Ladies Canterbury and Bleashigton—Queen Victoria sud Prince ...thert—and Lords

Prankfort, Huntington, Edward Thynne, Edward Paget, &c.

Notice is also taken of certain individuals well known in the gambling world; and in the notes revelations are male which will throw an extraordinary light upon the successful Career of Haron Rosenberg in that aphere during his sejounn in England.

Altogether, this Poèm, for which the Publishers have given an enormous price, and which emanates from the pen of a gontle man of high literary reputation, is calculated to produce an ex cibranent of an almost unprecedented nature, not only in the fashionable world, but also in the very Pages.

"With regard to poetwal composition, the Author is not ina dequate to his task, which is no slight one, bringing him, as it down, tato comparison with the granest poet of our time.

"The Author has boldly assailed the vices of the taging and given evidence of poetwal talent of a very high order."—Seminel.

"Un vivenge ma

"Un ouverge magnifique."—Journal des Desses.
"A voin of poetry, a trength of thought, such a power of satire, nearly, if not quito equal to the original. * * * It is poetry that certainly has not been equalled of tate years."—Ers.
London: Pagel & Co., Bury-street, St. James's.

**

METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH In the BRUSH and SMYRNA SPONGES.—This Tooth-Brush has the important seventage of searching theoreughly into the divisions of the teeth, and circumpthen is the most effectual and extraordinary manner, and is so note for the hairs not coming loose, is. An improved Cothes-brush, that closure is third part of the want line, and incapable of islinging the finest imp. Penetrating Hair-brushes, with the durable unbleached kuesian bristles, which do not soften like common bair. Fineshorashes of improved graduated and powerful friedom. Velvations of the properties of the most surprising sud-monastri magner. The genuine SHYRNA SPONGE, with its proberved valuable properties of absorption, vitality, and aperulisty, by means of direct importations, dispensing with all intermediate parties profits, and destructive obsching, and securing the jumping of the profits, and destructive obsching, and securing the jumping of the control of the BETTS'S PATENT BRANDY.

DISTILLERY, 7, SMITHFIELD BARS.

Motwithstanding the publicity for many years past given to the superiority of SECTI'S PATENT FRENCH DISTILLED BRANDY over every other Spirit, British or Fureign, it is yet but partially known: J. T. Barra & Co. therefore feel it a duty they owe to the Public and themselves to invite a comparison between the Fatest and the French Brandy, until every Family in the kingdom, in which Brandy is consumed, have made trial of their Patent Brandy,—and consequently discontinued the use of the Foreign article. Their respective merits are fairly developed to the following Textimonials, to which they again beg to refer—Estructs from Testimonials.

"I do not healtate to express my conviction that your Patent Brandy is fully as free from everything injurious to health, and contains as pure a spirit, as the best varieties of Foreign Brandy. "EDWARD TVANES, "Professor of Chemistry in the University of London."

"Professor of Chemistry in the University of London."
"John T. Betts, Saq."
"I am bound to say, and do assert with confidence, that for purity of spirit, this cannot be surpassed; and that your Patent Brandy is also quite free from those soids which, though minute in quantity, always contaminate the Foreign Spirit.

"J. T. Betts, Esq." "Chemist to His Majesty."
"Your Brancy is free from uncombined acid and satringent matter, which exists, more or less, in most of the Braudies imported from France.

"Joen Thomas Coopen, "Lecturer on Chemistry." " To Mr. Betts."

It is this perfect freedom from the above objectionable quali-ties, and its agreeable similarity in flavour to the finest samples of Cognac Brandy, that constitute the peculiar value of the PATRAT BRANDY.

PATENT BRANDY.

J. T. Betts & Oo. are, at length, enabled to give a distinct assurance that arrangements will be completed in the course of the present month, which will afford an unfalling protection to purchasers against the continuance of those frauls, from which they have inthetto so extensively suffered, as each bottle will be secured by a PATENT METALLIC CAPSULS, or covering for the oark, of solid metal, with their name, address and the words "Bett's Patent Branny" emboased upon it; the forgery of which subjects the guilty party to a Penalty of Fifty Pounds for every offence.

This scandal Solvit is assumfactured only at the Distillers.

This valuable Spirit is manufactured only at the Distillery, No. 7, Smithfield Hars, leading to St. John Street; where it may be obtained, either pale or coloured, in quantities not less than Two Guillons, at Eighteen Shillings per Gallon, for Cash on

Just published, the NINETEENTH EDITION, price is.; and sent free, on receipt of a Post-office Order for 3s. 6d.

A N II O O D;

IN THE CAUSES of its PREMATURE DECLINE, with plain Directions for its PREFECT RESIDNATION; addressed to these suffering from the destructive officets of Excessive Industrian choices of the control to those on the destructive of the control to the trated with Cases, Sc. By J. L. Cuaris and Co., Consulting Burgeons, London.

THE NINETEENTH THOUSAND.

Published by the Authors, and Sold by Burgess, Medical Bookseller, 28, Coventry Street, Barth, 4, Bryugesstreet, Bitandi, Mann, 89, Cornhill; Strauge, 21, Patermosterrow, London; Guest, 51, Buil-street, Birmingham, Sowler, 4, St. Ann's. square, Manchastur; Philip, South Castle Street, Liverpool, Vannin and Co., 41, Grafton-atrêct, Jublin; Boister & Co., Cork; Barnes, 39, High-street, Glasgow, Drummond, 5, Blair street, Edunburgh; and Solid, on a sented ensolope, by all Booksellers.

Charles of the Table Barnes.

Sy, High-street, Glasgow, Drummond, S. Blair street, Kuimburgh; and Sold, we acted envelope, by all Booksellers.

Opinions or the Parsa:

"This work, a TENTH Edition of which is now presented to the public, ten thousand sopic having been exhauted since its first appearance, has been very much improved and enlarged by the addition of a more extended and clear detail of general principles, as also by the insertion of several new and highly-interesting cases. The book, as has been already stated, is the result of very simple and daily-increasing experience in a class of diseases which, for some unaccountable reason, have been either altogether overlooked, or treated almost with indifference, by the ordinary medical practitioner; and we'leel no inesitation in saying that there is no member of society by whom the book, will not be found useful, whether such person hold the relation of a Parsant, a Preceptor, or a Clergyman."—Sun.
"Measurs. Curtia's work, entitled MANHOOD, mone of the few books now befare the public on such a subject which can lay leating to the character of being strictly professional, at the same time that it is fully intelligible to all who read it. The moral and medical precapits givels render it invaluable."—Magnet.

"The persual of Measurs. Curtia's book entitled MANHOOD has really autonished its by developing a series of maladies, the sever-failing consequence of the viewon habits of which it treatage the clear connexion pointed dut between the assigned cause and the effects is perceptible to every capacity."—Age.

"This is a work that we lear there exists too much need for to cause us to healtate to recommend it for general persual. Every branch'of those frightful maladies, whether the result of immoral habits of secret vices, is tere succinctly treated, and diverted of all medical technicality, plant and easy directions are given toy the best mode to be pursued, allosses, however complicated or apparently hopelees. To the married, as well as the directed of all medical technicality; plannand easy directions are given tor the best mode to be pursued in alloases, however complicated or apparently hopeless. To the married, as well as the aumarried, this little work alike adords consolation and cure in petulisi cases, and we are doing a service to society in recommending it to general notice."—Encas and Herta Herrury.

Means, CURTIS & Co. are to be consulted daily at their residence, No. 7, FRITH STREET, SOHO SQUARE, LONDON.

Country Patients are requested to be as minute all possible in the detail of their cases. The communication must be accompanied by the usual consultation fee of 11., and in all cases the most inviolable sebreay may be relied on.

Printed by Guoses Lans, of No. 18, South Parade, St. James's Printed by Gronou Lans, of No. 18, South Parade, St. Jamen's Park, Parish of St. Margaretts, in the county of Middlesex, Printer, at the Office of Measrs. Brausury and Evans, Lotaberd-Sephint, Protestreet, 108 the Precinct of Whitefrare, in the City of Jimedon, and Published by him at his Oprice, 19, Carianna, evident, Avanam, in the same County, where all Advertisements and Communications are to be addressed to the Editor-extension to this will save smach grounds.—Heliurday January 13, 1864.

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETI

East India and Colonial Chronicle.

No. 576.	SATURDAY, JANUARY 20, 1844	PRICE 8d.
CONTENTS OF THE PRESENT NUMBER:  Military Appointments and Promotions—Movements	"Artillerio Victo" un Steam Vescia  "A Stauried Private Soldier" on Raliway Travelling for Soldiere Wives and Families  "K." on the Sesienk, 12 guest, and the Newrisigum Srige 32  "An Old Ne Flux Ultra, [R.N." on Commandere Royal  Navy  "Mautilius" on the Veteran Lieutenants of the Navy  "A Dragoom Adjatant" on the Militia Staff  "wars." on Religious Instruction to the Aresy  "A Commissary" on the Commissariat  20  Editor's Notes to Correspondents	Air Henry Pottinger's Retirement Intelligence from Adeu Recruiting in Ireland the Pattory System and tha "Edinburgh Review"

A Sail on the 15th February, full ur not fall, the remarkably fast sailing. River-built Ship, ViGiLANT, A 1 460 Toos. J. Brown, Commander. Lying in the London Bocks. This Ship short an eligible opportunity, as from her Engagements at the Cape, she must keep hur time. Fur Freight or Passage apply to Messre. I. W. & A. Bonnandalle, 34, Fenchurch-street; or to T. Havinium and Co., Sun-court; or,09, Cornhill.

L'OR MADRAS AND CALCUTTA I WALFERS AND CALCUITA, has two good Cabins dissupaged, will find upnetually on the 1st February, and Portsmouth on the 5th, the well-known Teak hits LORD HUNGERFORD, 756 Tons per Register. W. Floott, Commander. Lying in the East India Rocks. This Ship has excellent Accommudation for Passengers, and carries an experienced Surgeon. For Preight or Passenge, amply to Messrs. Command. and Co., 8, Austin Friare; to Capitain Parquisamous; or to T. Havisins and Co., San-court, or 59, Combill.

LOR BOMBAY DIRECT .- To sail on the 10th BOWLISAX DIRROT ——To sail on the lion, the E. I. Company, having all her dead weight engaged, the alleadd teak built first clear ship ORIENTAL, 600 tons, William Wilson Commander, lying in the West India Docks. This ship has most excellent accommodation for Passengers, havings apsenced Poug, and is upwards of 7 feet high between docks. Will carry an experienced surgeon. For Freight or Passage apply to Rousert Baring. Req., New Cit? Chambers, Bishopsgate-street, or to T. Havising, and Co., San Court, or 69, Corabili.

T. HAVISION, and CO., Sen COURT, OF OF, COTREMI.

1844.

THE Selfowing superior SHIPS, belonging to Measure. T. and W. Sestra, of Newcartle-mon-Type, and basit by them for the INDIA TRADE, will leave Gravesend punctually at the undermentioned dates:

FOR BOMBAY.

COLOMBO, 604 Tous. John Thomson, Commander, to Sail February 15.

February 15.

FOR MADRAS AND CALCUTTA.

PERIN, 560 Tons, Rosser Laine, Commander, to Sail

ROBERT SMALL, 800 Tons, E. WILLIAMS, Commander, to MIL April 20.

ELLENBÖROUGH, 1,196 Tons, M. C. Closs, Commander, to BUCKPMALUS, 1,650 Tone, WM. BELL, Commander, to Sall

TUDOR, 1,159 Tone, M. J. Lav, Commander, to Sail Aug. 18.
FOR THE CAPE AND CALCUTTA.
PLANTAGENET, 1,000 Tone, JOHN-DOMETT, Commander, to Ball July 15.

POR MADRAS.

DUKE OF ARGYLL, 800 Tons, Henry Baissows, Commander, to Sail Asgust 10.

For Pavage apply to Sin J. Piris, Bart, & Co., 71, Cornhill; Ceptain Barsen, 17, 84. Mary Axe; Captain William Folcher, at T. & W. Smith's, 78, Cornhill, or Newssells-on-Tyne.

DENINSULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM

The Company hook Passengers for the following places, vis.:—
INDIA, via EGYPT (the Overland Route.)
BUMBAY.—By the Company's Stessmers, ORIENTAL sud GREAT LIVERPOOL, 1st of every Month from Southampton, and by the Hou. East India Company's accamers from Suez.
CALCUITTA.—Calling at Ceylon and Madras. By the Company's Steam-ship ORIENTAS, from Southampton, 1st March; and by the Steam-ship HINDOSTAN, from Suez, about 236
March.

and by the Steam-ship HINDUWIAN, from uses, source as March.
March.
MALTA, Alexandria falso Naples, Leghors, Genoa, &c., in conjunction with the Neapolitan steamers from Malm,) from Southampton int of every month.

Vivo, Operto, Liston, Codiz, and Gibraltar, from Southampton Decks every Thursday at 5 r.s.
ATHEMS, Syra, Smyras, Constantinople,—Occasional trips.
MADEISA.—One of the Company's steamers will run between Madeira and Gibraltar next Spring, for Pamengers protraing via the Pennisana, and will thus return to Southampton direct.

N.S.—Passetters brooking to Malta, Egypt, the Levant, or India, have the privilege of visiting Vigo, Opotto, Labon, Oadiz, and Gibraltar, by the Panisahar measurers, without any additional charge.

Apply at the Peninsular said Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Offices, 51, St. Mary Aze, London; and 57, Mary Minor Southampton; and at the Office, 50, 25, Regent Circles.

REQUIRED for the SECTE REGIMENT LA LIF POOT, at present additional at 21 caper, a MARTER TAILOR.—Applications, for the devre post to be made to the parter. Marter, the first post to be made to the parter. Master, the first parter post.

L. punctually on the 1st April, the fine Tunk Ship MSLLIAM, see Tons, J. H. Pawnerr, Commander, 13ing in the St. Katherine's Docks. This Ship has excellent accumulation for Passages, and capits on experienced Surgeon. For Freight or Passage apply to Mesers. G.Buatanes & Co., White Lion-court, Cornbill, or to T. Haviside & Co., Sun court, or 69, Curubill.

OR MADRAS DIRECT, to sail from Gravesend on the 18th, and from Portamouth on the 18th of March, the subsaid fast sathing, British infit stip ORESTES, A 13 years, 76s togs, Joan Panyers, Commander; incling in the East lodis Docks, This superior vessel, helt expressly for the India trade, has a handsome peop, with elegant and appelons accommodations for the convenience and conference of freight or passage apply to Capitin John Frawicz, on board; or at the Journal Commentary, Theodore, To Hanny and Calvert Tourney, M. Great & Halen's, Indopygate arrest.

Drum Majors' Trophics.—Registrer of Bind Masters.

TO GENTLEMEN, SPORTSMEN, perfect order.

MERGHANTA And MERCHERS, --Congravity on Saie, in perfect order.

Makers, Warrant Committee, and Platol Repository, 11, Repand, apposite the Guiden Gross Hotel.

Money advanced to any amenint upon every description of Valuable Property.

N.B.—Observe!—From the late OHARLES VAUGHAN'S.

PHILLIPS, NAVAL UNIFORM.

PHILLIPS, NAVAL TAILOR,

	PRICES FOR NAVAL UNIFORMS. Commanders' Coata 19s. less.	Commo- dores of the Second Class, Captains, and Com- manders,			Mantera, Surgenia,			Mates, and Mapters, Ameters Surgeons, a and Clarks,				and his Cinas Vo
		4	74.	4	la.	4	ta,	d			j.	4	1 4.	-		4
	Dress Coat	17	6$	٥ŧ	Ø,	5	øt	oli	10		èt	οđ	- 4	Ą.	34	ni	-
1	Undress Coat	2	10	. 4	10	2	10	• 4	4	2	10	- 4	0	10	14	. 1
-	Dress Tronsers	2	28 .	. 3	14	2	18	. A	10	ĩ	Ă.	ñ	14	::	77	7	::
.	Eugalettes, each .	12	Ã.	8	10	•	10	ě	ia
.	Sword, Kaot, & Belt	2	Ä .	4	14	ě	- A		i	3	ĩ.	::	10			• •	•
-	Dress Belt		•	·		7	to.			ĭ
. 1	Corked Hat														1
1	Cap and Gold Bend	7		7	- 1	2	17	-7	"7	-		- 4	14	L		• •
ď
١	SHIRTS OF BOOM	g U	Mis	٠,	witt	١ (	wali	100	>d:		it 3	Og.	1/6	7	OE	e II.	_

Officers joining fired out at a tew hours' notice, with every requisits for a voyage. Shirts, Chests, Eddding, Ac. &c. always ready; and every article warranted strictly regulation.
Cadets, Mittary and Implements Officers, firth out on the same advantageous terms. Full printed estimates of such on

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, BEST QUALITY, WITH FEATHER, FOR £3 34.

PURE AND COOL WATER. - Naval DURE AND COOL WATER.—Naval

L and Millary Officers will find one of LIPECONUE & Co.'s PATERT TRAVELLING WATER FILTERS a most destrable acquisition. They are warranted to remove crious, thate, and smell, from every kind of water, and to make hard water and smell, from every kind of water, and to make hard water and. They have been he extensive one for many years, and are well known to be the most effectual, convenient, and durable filtings over savented. In warm climation water gired whole, as they mater is seidon met with—they will be tound invaluable, they not only underthe most shanket water pleas not sparkling as the finest spring, but also know, the water very coolthey are most showed each of the first for the reservoirs of being just only independently as the finest spring of the cool,—Lipschung & Co., 92, Beginn's Quadrant.

Lieutument met continued against the numerous chemp filters which are offered for sale in man in pour towns, or they are omit mosts to inst a short time and are then utently worthloss.

ENT IMPROVE-MITOKIANI PAI EM IMPIEUV SMENT in CHRONOMSTERS and WATCHES.-E. J., DENT, 22, Strand, who obtained the high distinction of receiving the Government reward for the deparalleled performance of the best Chromometer ever subgilized to it stouthely public trial, high to acquaint the public that the maintineture of his WATCHES, CHRONOMETERS, and CLOCKS, its secured to him by three patents, respectively granted in 1875, 1840, and 1842. Stive Lever Watches, jewelled is four holes, of, de, each; in gold chasel from 81, to 104, extra Gold Horizontal Watches, with gold disalg from 81, de, to 126, 128, each. Dent's Approxita to his recent work on Time-keepers, is now wearly for directation.

: 4:

OPRESTI'S DUKE of GLOUCESTER'S' OPRESTI'S DUKE of GLOUCESTEM'S ANUCE.—This incomparable Sames for General Use, as prepared only by C. W. LOPERSTE, 130, Piccadily, many years thise frost to the late Duke of Generater; and from its find piquancy and unparaticled enonousy and excellence, entirely superardes the Oil and Pickle Shine Bauces, and other infersion compounds commency and Also LoPERSTI'S ANUHOVIAS for Fish and various pure Sentes for all purcoses, his real for Fish and various pure Sentes for all purcoses, his real for John Scholley, and other Under Engentings, Aromatic Sentence, Scholley, Michael Chicago and In Cookery. His "ECHNUMICAL RECEIPTS," price in Lorenzers, 199, Piccadily.

OVERLAND TO ANDIA. The new Patent VESTAGE NIFIT WENDIA.—The new Patent improved & tright and Waterproof OVERLAND TRUNK, made according to regulation; also the Ruding Overland Matters and Value, and the Condensed Wash-hand Apparatus. Outfilters supplied with the above and every scaled of same termiture, collock trunks, see and Navy steem, cost, insumeetic, from and brass bedsteads, and overy description of camp equipage, at the lowest prices, by JOHN SUITMIGHTE and More manufacturers of all articles required in the above brade, 76 and 77, Wathing-abreet, near St. Paul's.

HER MAJESTY'S DOCKYANDS.

SIR W. BURNETT'S PATENT LIR W. BURNETT'S PATENT

having undergone nine years' trial in ALL CLIMATES, is now in daily extensive operations in the above pational establishments, as well as by many public companies and private individuals. This PROCESS preserves TIMER from DRY-ROT, and, when desired, renders it notificammable. It is chery, innexious, and easy of application. It may be used in offlinary wooden tables, and does not, therefore, require hydraulic machines, saccept for the sinks of expenition. It snanons the greenest wood in a very short time, and renders the commonest dollous timber equal to the bestforeign. CANVAS, CURDA-12, CUTTON, and WOOLLEN, are got only preserved from EUT, MILDEW, and the ATTACES of MUTHS, but are unchanged in colour, and rendered even stronger than before.

Numerous specimens and centimorials may be seen, and every information upon its objects and application will be given, at the Company's Offices, No. 55, KING WILLIAM SPEKET LONDON BEIDGE.

the Company's Offi-LONDON BRIDGE.

OFFICERS in HER MAJESTY'S Service, Cadete and Antistant Surgeons, can be supplied at a sitest notice with the proper description of Lines, Malkary Accountements, Cahin Furniture, &c., requisits for an Outsit of the best quality, at Nichaeste Prices, by Challettan and RATHEONE, No. 11, Wignore-street, Cavendish-square.

Camp Furniture, Canteens, Overgand Franks, &c., &c. Estimates and Patterns sent on applications.

BASS'S EAST INDIA PALE ALE. This pericular kind of Ale is prescribed to invalue by the most celebrated Physicians. Dr. Preut, who has cancilled it, in his Work on "Diseases of the Stomach," So., after condemning common Ales, especially recommends this to weakly persons. In excellent condition, in casks and bottles, of any age, at their appointed Agenta', Hanny Britar and Co., 3, St. James's street.

LASE AND COMFORT IN SHAVING. ASE AND COMFORT IN SHAVING.

A Measrs, B. and S. COWVAN'S invaluable CASTON of HOP.

or QUADELLAIERAL CHINESE BAZOR SHARPENER, venagra the operation of Shaving no longer papellit to the most tender sails, say a very simple process the keepest edge may operating be given to the biusking result or peakelle. B. and s.
Cowver's peculiarly-terapered restors and sulving powder.
Speciases of the Stope are now exhibiting at the Royal Polytechnic institution mas Koyal Advisade theirery, Lowtherestrone, from whence the most flattering devisioning the seen as the invastors, B. and S. COWVAN, 16s, Fenchirch-affect, where the introp, Rec., may be notatively, as well as of alloresperiable Perfutners, Act, in the United Kingsom, page 2s. 6d., 7s. 6d., and ys. td. Also may be him, Cowver's t botton Saston Strop Paste, at 1s. per leaker, shering Powder, is 6d. per box. Lautem.—Rose are genuine except those marked and soult "B. and S. COWVAN."

Military Entelligence.

FROM THESDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.
East Essex Regular Militar Milety Eastace, Gent., to be Bis.

FROM PRODAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

FROM PRODAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

W. H. COPPE, Jun. 19, 1844.

2d Hie Gourds—H. W. Montgomery, Gent., to be Cornet and faub Lieut, by p. v. Vaccount Drambarrig, who returns.

1st Drag. Guards. Lieut. Col. H. A. Hankey, from h.-p. Inatt., to be Lieut. Col. H. A. Hankey, from h.-p. Inatt., to be Lieut. Col. H. A. Hankey, from h.-p. Inatt., to be Lieut. See p. v. Cheater, who ratire s. W. G. Deapt., Gent., to be Cornet by p. v. Cheater, who ratire s. W. G. Deapt., Gent., to be Cornet by p. v. Tathill.

3d El. Brageona-Leut. L. C. L. Peci, from 21st Foot, to be Asist. burg. v. Darfrell, permaned in all Foot.

7th Ll. Brageona-Leut. L. C. L. Peci, from 72d Poot, to be Lieut. v. James, who exchanges.

3th Font- visit Sorr. N. Darfrell, from 34 Lt. Brags, to be Burgeon, v. Partv. who retuces upon bulf-pav.

7th-Br. Maj. R. Wilbinshed, to be Gupt. by p. v. Baker, who retires, Lieut. A. F. Beauclerk, to be Cupt. by p. v. Wilbraham.

15th - Lieut. W. W. Turner, from h.-p. 26th Poot, to be Lieut. V. Cortan, pomoted.

42d - Lieut.-Gen. Sit J. Macaionald, K.C.B., from 67th Poot, to be Col. v. Ceo. Sit G. Murray, G.C.B., removed to 1st or Ri. Regiment of Post, Jacenary 16.

41th Cupf. R. P. Puleston, from 75th Foot, to be Capt. v. Mollan, who exchanges.

52th - Ens. G. D. Pat, from 48th Reg., to be Lieut. without p. v. L. Smith, cushleved by the sentence of a General Court-Marthal; Ens. S. Grant, from 76th Foot, to be Lieut. without p. v. F. G. W. Fizpatrick, cushleved by the acutomes of a General Court-Marthal; Ens. S. Grant, from 76th Foot, to be Lieut. without p. v. F. G. W. Fizpatrick, cushleved by the acutomes of a General Court-Marthal; Ens. S. Grant, from 76th Foot, to be Lieut. without p. v. F. G. W. Fizpatrick, cushleved by the acutomes of a General Court-Marthal; Ens. S. Grant, from 76th Foot, to be Colonel v. Lieut. Gen.

· Licut. Gen, J. Clitherow to be Colonel v. Licut. Gen.

J. Macronald, K.C.B., removed to 43d Faot, Jan. 15. fiste S. W. H. Hawker, Gent., 10 be Engige without p. v. erner, who resigns. 72d Lacut. E. James, from 7th Lt. Dragoons, to be Lacut. v.

Verner, who resigns.

72d Leart, R. Jrauss, from 7th Lt. Dragoons, to be Lieut, v. Perl, who exchanges.

75th Capt. W. C. Mollan, from 4th Foot, to be Capt. v. Pineston, who exchanges.

86th Liout. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, to be Colonel's Lieut. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, to be Colonel's Lieut. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, be Colonel's Lieut. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, be Colonel's Lieut. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, be Colonel's Gent. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, be Colonel's Allert. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, be Colonel's Allert. Gen. Capt. v. Read, Gen. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, from 81st Foot, Jun. 16.

83th - Lieut. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Cohnell, ppr. v. Foot. who retires a Binky T. Lieut. Gel. J. C. Bromer, of the Hon. E. Company's Setsice, to be Lod. in the Army in the East Indies, Nov. 16, 1813.

Countissancer Dep. Com. Gen. Gen. Hewston to be a Compussancer General Commissancer General F. B. Feller, H. F. Oriel, W. Looker, and J. M'Fasan, to be Assist Commissance General F. B. Feller, H. F. Oriel, W. Looker, and J. M'Fasan, to be Assist Commissance General F. B. Reiden, B. Clarke, R. M. Gardiner, F. F. Mutt, to Mondon, D. B. Clarke, R. M. Gardiner, F. E. Mutt, to Mondon Sona, P. Sigur and Adjr. A. T. Muoro, of the Rl. Reg. of Horse Guards. Blue) is Sperseded, being absent without leave, Jun. 14.

Jun. 11. OPPICE OF SENANCE, Jan. 18.
Corps of Rl, Engineers Stiff Licut. G. E. Ford to be Sec. Capt. v. Pottingal retired, on full pay; Sec. Licut. G. Ross to be First Eicht. v. C. E. Foid, Jun. 10.

CAYALRY.

7th Hussars-On Monday afternoon a steeple-chase between Sir Arthur Chichester and Capt. Bushe took place over two miles of country near Brighton, and attracted a large concourse of fashionable persons to witness it. Sir Arthur proved himself a bold rider, but his horse was not up to the mark, and was chaurved to awered at several of his fences. Capt. Bushe fell in clearing a fence, but austained no hurt. He went over a dauble fence in very good style, and won the race by about five or six lengths.

16th Lancers-The Hurkaru of 6th Nov states that the 16th Lancers have received official information that they will not return to Europe this season; this was con-veyed to them in a copy of a letter from the Governor-General to the Home Authorities, in which he stated that he could not at this prevent functure, dispense with the servic, s of the regument.

ORDNANOS CORPS.

Rl. Engineers.-Licut. Downes is appointed Fort Adjutant at St. Kitt's, vice Licut. Toppens, 47th.

INFANTEY.

$2th-We have to ann nunce the death of Maj. Sir Rubt. Andrew Douglas, Bart., of Glenberyle, which took place at the Mauritius, on 1st Nov. last, where he was in command of the battalion. Lady Douglas, with her three infant children, arrived from England ouly two days before a the said event. The decensed baronot, who had been 19 years in the Arms, was aldest son of the late General Sir Kenneth Mackenzie, who assumed the name and arms of Douglas say sign manual, and married the daughter of the late Joshua Rouse, Esq., of Southampton, by schom be has a son, Rugert, born 1867, and two other children. 11th—We find by the Bingston Advertises, of the 6th ult., that on the 30th Nov., St. Andrew's Day, the anniversary of the tutelary Saint of Scotland, the Society of Kingston and the St. George's Society met to celebrate the day. After marching in pro-ression and attending at St. Andrew's Church, the Societies direct together at Daley's Hotel. The Pipers of the 93d and the Band of the 14th were in attendance. The usual loyal toasts were given, and to that of the Duke of Wellington and the Army, Sir James Alexander, of the 14th Regiment, replied in the following terms :-- given, and to' that of this Duke of Wellington and the Army, Sir Jaures Alexander, of the 14th Regiment, replied in the following terms:—

Mr. Persiaent and Gentiemen,—Being unexpectedly called on the ratio thanks for "the Duken Wellisgton and the Army," I hope you will treat with indigence the few remarks with which still the trouble you. It would be quite superflowed in new may to enterge on the character of the treat the Duke of Weilington-the Great Captain of the spec-(Re lead of British glavairy, for the story of hie renown is indelibly engraven on it country's annals; let it suffice to any that he is ever cetities to our highest respect and admiration, and long may be continue to sid our helvest Storeging with his consects, and defend the Throne with his midwallable frames.' With regard to the British to midwallable frames.' With regard to the British to midwallable frames.' With regard to the British for maintain the integrity of Her Majeaty's dominions, heart in hand, and preserve involate the possessions of Great Britain, to which it is our pride and boast to belong. Added by the gallant Milliad Canadis among whom Sections bave been particularly distinguished, and whose mobile deads are recorded in the list story of the take war, and the more recent troubles, and feel on by such brave Commanders as Mr Alian McKab, we will derive the out-of war, with interest, on those who eligist needs to moise this prospersous land,—the land of your adoption. Yet I am convinced, from much personal microsures with the outgens of the other side of the bourders, that feelings of hospitaly do not exist towards as Annang the respectable portion of the community, their motion is "ive and let live." It is among the respectable portion of the community, their motion is "ive and let live." It is among the respectable of the outgens of the other side of the bourders, in the side of the continuent of the affair at Prescott, the religion of the other side of the continuent, and the religion of the first hinducent of the respectab

"Then up wi' the boung blue bonnet, The dick and the target and at."

And with regard to Scattish music in general, every true Scotch-mun kunwa full well that our native melodics touch the heart mun names run weit that our navier meloques token the near, and avgaken the over rectings of our native, Reposing then to be among my countrymes again, and transing stocerely that your career will be very prosperous in this fold of energy and enterphise. "May care and trouble nover tuch, but must had joy be welly on a "."

The song and glass went round with much glee until an narly hour in the morning, when all separated highly de-lighted with the evening's diversion, "Happy to meet, sorry to part, and happy to meet signin."

22d—On Wednesday Lieutemant William D'Oftey

Aplin, appeared to unswer an information before the county magistrates, Capt. T. Baker and Mr. Brysnit, for assaulting Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, Saiding in Chattann. The complainant said, that about $1 o'clock in the forenoon of Monday last, she went to Chatham Barracks. to No. 11 hous , and No. 6 rough, where she knocked at the door, and finding it was not answered, she kingeked again. She had her niece Emity with her. After waiting about half he hoer, some person asked inside "Who the h-was there?" and the door was afterwards opened by the defendant who asked berwhat above mored? She told him that he had her niece Angelina with bim, and she had come for her. The defendant said, "I'll he d-d if you aball have her." She replied, 'Don't say that, "if, for I will have her," and went forward into the rooms and the Officer then put his fist in her face, and the middle dher. She drew then put his fist in her face, and them his dier. She drew back, saying "you darestrikome." She then looked round the room, and pulling aside the hangings of defendant's hed found her niece with only her cap and chemise on. The girl is her sister's child, and was 17 years of age. She has had the care and bringing her up for the last seven years. She desired her place to dress herself and come away, when the Officer said " He would be d-d if she should," and then the girl refused to go, and the Officer had her turned out of the barracks by force. The niece left har house on the Sunday before Christmas-day last, and from inquiries made she received information that she was in defendant's quarters. Emily Skey, please of the last witness, and 14 cars of age, corrobocated her sunt's evidence, and thu Officer being called on to explain his conduct, admitted excrything that had been said, alleging that the girl and she would not go home. The assault being proved, the and 10s. costs, which he paid. The complainant, with tears, asked the Court how she was to obtain pussession of her nicor, at she was still in the Officer's quarters? The Court said they had no power to interfere, but recommended her to apply to the Commandant, Sir Thomas Willshire, who would render her every assistance. The poor woman, who was between 40 and 50 years of age, thanked the magistrates, and retired, orying bitterly. Times.

23d-Licut. Wynn is appointed Fort Adjutant at Demurara, vice Lieut. Gordon, 59th.

27th Deput—The Company at Teim moves to Navan, on bring replaced at Trim by a party of the Itifies.

28th—We understand that this regiment is utterly broken up from sickness. A large number of the Offi-cers are in a sickly state, and several are about to return to this country.

30th-The service cos. arrived at Cork on the 6th inst. (see our last No.), and have replaced the 45th Reserve, in barracks. The service and depot cus. have since been consolidated.

consolutated.

11.M.'s teoop-ship Resistance, having on board the 33d Reg, seriesed off Partridge I-land on Weinerday evening from Barbadova con Italijax, and came into the harmour on Thousday morning. About three o'clock is the alternoon the regiment disembarked in the sitem terry-board Verteria, were landed at the forey-banding, and, hended by the excellent band of the 30th, marched to barracks. The reg, consists of 527 r. and f., and 17 Officers, During the afternoon, the wamen, children, and baggage of the reg were seen landed by the same means. Our old said gathant friends, 'vie 30th, will embark early next week on board the troup-ship, and said limitatively for home. They are in most efficient order for any ser-sake the country may require of thems. May prisuperoon gales attend them to the "chalky chifs,"—In will long be remembered here by many pleasing associations, not inclosured which is in "the grel I left behind me."—Mt. John's Courser, tith Queenber. Courser, 16th December.

32d-The reg, are hourly in expectation of embarking at Liverpool for Dublin.

33d—Captain George Mundy has arrived on leave in ingland. Previously to his quitting Berbice, he had lost, England. of yellow fever, 40 men in the course of the last six weeks, of the detachment under his command.

35th Depot. Have moved from Youghal to Templenore,

Sith Dopot.—Have moved from Youghal to Templemore,

Sith Dopot.—Have moved from Youghal to Templemore,

Sith Assa, and the approach of His Exc. Sir High Googh, H.M.'s 29th and an avisation to Lady Googh to honour them with her company at a ball and engar, or her arrival at Agra.
Her Ladyship, he reply, said she would be happy to avail herself of the opportunity of meeting them, and faced Menday the 20th as the most convenient. Cards were accordingly issued, and a large party of beauty and fashion assembled had right to meet her Ladyship. Dancing was kept up with great spatt till past midnight, when the company adjourned to the supper-room, where an elegant report washint out. Lieut.—Col. Wright proposed the health of the faces in a bamper; sites which, he said he rose to propose the belith of Lady Googh and the ladies who had hominared them with their corepany, which was received with great applicates—Tune, "Anid lang syne". Sir fingh Googh, in feturning thanks, and, that the time which had been just played, could not fail to remind both Lady Gough and himself of the former hosphinity and kindaess they had received from the reywhen he dies joined it on his arrival in India; he knew that she feit the same sentiments as he himself did, and they recognised in the receiption they had need with tonight a mark of the greatest kindoess. He, therefore, begged to return his most hearty thanks; on the part of her Ladyship, for the honour they had done her. Col. Wright then called for a bumper to the health of lift Hagh Gough, which was responded to with the most enthusiactic appliance—Tion, "Ograry Owes." In rising to return thanks, the same her. Too. "Ograry Owes." In rising to return thanks, the moment in which it had been responded to with the most enthusiactic appliance—Tion, "Ograry Owes." In rising to return thanks, the same her, cold the boards to be been done to him certainly could not be said to be unexpected, yet, he must say, that the moment in which it had been responded to with the honour to co

and we are sure that had any other parties been set on fact in Agro, they would have been most happy to have lent their girl. A more cordial and pleasant body of Officers could not be found anywhere.— Agra Ukhbar, 21st Nas.

45th, 2d Batt.-Under Maj. Butler, embarked on board 11.M.S. Resistance at Cork, and sailed on Saturday for The liaitalion consists of I Field-Officer. 6 Capts., 1.2 Subaltorus, 1 Surg., 27 Serjis., 27 Corporals, 11 Drummers, and 250 privates. The 45th Depot proceeds to the Isle of Wight.

46th—Lieut. Moffat has succeeded Capt. Bunbury, 33d, na Dep.-Assist. Quartm. Gen. at Barbadoes.

51st Deput-Eus. Manefield embarks in the Eques, with the convict guard, for Van Diemen's Land.

524 Depot—Ens. Peel has succeeded Lieut, Corbett as Depot Adjutant.

54th.On the arrival of the Depot 1st Batt. Rifle Belgade at Athlone, the Serits of the Sath gave their brother Non-commissioned Officers of the Garrison, consisting of Rl. Artillery, Rl. Sappers and Miners, 4th Drug, Guarde, and the aforesaid depot, a splendid entertainment to their mess-room. On the cloth being removed, Serja-Major Hopkins, 54th, gave "The Queen, The Queen, God bless The Prince of Wales, Princess Royal, and Prince her;" "The Prince of Wales, Princess Royal, and Prince Albert;" "The Queen Dowager, and the rest of the Royal Pumily;" "The Com.-in-Chief, His Grace the Duke of Wellington, and long may the Army boast of having him at their head;" " Sir Guy Campbell, Col. Fanc, and Officers of the Garrison." These toasts were all prefaced by appropriate speeches, highly creditable to the worthy Serit.-Major, and were responded to till the building shool again. After which Quartm.- Serit. Marriott, 54th, rose and raid, "Brother Non-Commissioned Officers, the pleasing duty devolves on me of proposing the next tonet, it is one which I sm sure you will all appliet me in drinking with a right good will. It would be superfluous, nav. absurd to me to say one word in praise splendid corps to which those individuals belong, whose health I have the pleasure to propose, such corps as the Royal A-tillery, Royal Sappers and Miners, 4th Rl. I. Ding. Guards, and Role brigade, are above prince: I may be asked, What of these corps in particular --- what is there 'in a name?' I will tell you. Not many years ago, very few men or talent or aducation enlisted into any but such as were termod 'urack corps;' to fact, such man solding adopted the profession of arms at all in the ranks except from dire necessity. It is quite different now, such men now, enter the Army as a matter of choice, regardless of what e ros they enter. I am happy to may I can number round me many of my own corps whose connections and education would not disgrace any profession; and I think the absurd notion which I have often heard broughed that the most ignorate men made the best soldiers," has long since, like many notions of a lik mittae, been builed in the tomb of the Cambets. There has been of late years a great change effected to bet'er the condition of the Army; and it has, in a great me were, had the desired effect of introducing a better description of men into its ranks. I will not detain you In ger, but at once give the health of our guests, and may every branch of the British Army be as respected by their tionals in quarters as they are dreaded by their foes in Song..." Let every jovial guest unite." senar Non-commissioned Officers of each corps returned thanks on their health being proposed,... Capt Margary's contact his processing from Hallmanice.

-Br.-Major Higgins is in command of the cos. at Cinamel, Major Norman has rejoined hend-quarters .--

Copt Charlescool's co. is stationed at Pethard.

19th—The General Court Martial, (see our last.) is counteraunded. Ligut.-Col, Fuller will gell out, and redire fi on the Service.

illat .... There is no truth in the report that this regiment is to proceed to China to selieve the both. The bist conwo dd not be Chion, as we have good ground for asserting that only two regiments, the 18th and 98th, are to remain in China. The 55th will return probably in the course of 65th-A detachment under Capt. Do Toissier has arrived at Lunglord.

Ohl Copt. O'll alloran's go. has joined head-quarters at Careleine from detachment at Outgrand

77th Depot.—The guard of honour was furnished from this Depot on IPR II, the Duchess of Cambridge landing from H.M.'s steamer the Princess Alige, last Tuesday, 89th Depot-Lieut. Cookson commands the convict guard on board the Eques, proceeding to Yan Diemen's Loud.

both—The Boyne, with the head quarters, arrived at Antique on 27th Nov. Officers on board:—Captains Coape, Grey, and Bowes; Lieuts, Hay and Ross; Enus. Keye and Mainwarms; Pages, Thompsons, Lieut, and Adjatunt Knex ; Quartermaster Naille

Rifle Brigade, Int Batt., Depot-flend quarters, 3 000. ern arrived at Athlone, from Langford, 95th Depot.-There is not a shadow of foundation for the report, in a sentemporary print, that this depot ! is to proceed to Guerney upon being releved by the 77th Depot from Sherriess." The 95th Depot removed, as we atsted last week, from Dovor Castle to the barracks bu the heights on the ligh inst., and the 77th occapi Castle. There has not been a thought of sending the 95th to the Channel Islands. The friends of Officers are much inconvenienced by such groundless reports, and we have received, and replied to, several inquiries on the aubiect.

1st West India Reg .- Capt. Meelian has suggested Cant. Stewart, 12d, as Brigade-Major on the Staff at Barbadoes.

To the Matter of the Manual and Multary Gasette.

West India Regiments.—Six.—The late arrangements as to sending Officers of West India Regiments to Sierra Leone yearly, I suspect will be a losing game to Government. Bight Offices from each West India Regiment. regard. Light County-four, and to be sent every year to relieve a like number in Sierra Leone, who are to return to Florope, receiving top months' loave guid todging-money white at home. The passage money for jodging-money while at home. The passage money for twenty-four Officers to England will cost 35/cach—total 840/.; from England to Sierra Leone, 30/. each—total 7204; and the Officers who return from Sierra Leope to England, 720% quite in all, 2,280% yearly. Another e-gularion is, that the three West India Regispents are to be kept on the 'move herween the Windward Islands, Jamanca, Hundaras, and Nassay; so that at the end of the third year their change of quarters will be completed. This will also be a very expensive business, hesides the loss which may take place, one sayere loss having already occurred by the shipwirck of two companies 3d West India Rey, hat year. The moves are beginning to be made, as two companies of the 3d. West India go to Burbadone in January, from Hondures, and to be relieved by two companies of 2d West India, from Januaica; and this appears a strange arrangement, as it is not long since two companies of the 2d West India left Hondaria, jud more they are to return. I suspect all this manding and countermirching will not do, and that the old system will be taken up, which was to have one regiment espeenally for Africa; the expense will be so great of moving Officers and men, that the Authorities will find it a serious expense, and one which cannot be borne in these times of economy. The 3d West India Reg. are at present divided between Nassan and Honduras, and strange to soy, though a Major of the regiment is in the command. he is kept at Hondarns with two companies, while a Contain commands the regiment at Nassau. It may be considered necessary to have a Pield Officer in that begthy could not one be spared from the gulv place; if so, 2) West India? But no such thing could be wanted. as Colonel M Donald, the Superintendent, was on the sput, and in command of the troops; and this Field Officer was still kent at Hondinas, in place of taking the com-mand of his regiment. But where are the two Lieutenant. Colonels of the regiment? One is on lower, and the other Lieux, Governor of St. Vincent's. And it is a currons mediume, that the two Senior Lieutenant Colonels of the 2d and 3d West Judes Regs. have been Gavernors for years, researing their lull-pay; may, one, I think, has never done a day's duty with his regiment and has been made a Local Alajor-tiengral. my friend, Joe Musse, during this expenditure? he must be in a trance. It is reported that the two companies which were wrecked last year have not reenved their clothing; it is true it was sent out, but it tell into the hands of the Cautain Commanding offe realmout, who transferred is to the head quarter companies. notwilligranding the describte state the two composite were in for clothing. So much for the want of a Field Officer at the helm! The regiment has lately gut a new Colonel-and new brooms, it is said, sweep elem. But so it is; for the old pattern lattons, forage-raps, chara-shoulder-straps, shoulder-cords, and breast-plate, have all shoulder-straps, shoulder-cords, and breast-plate, have all indirigone a brishing up, and bluze with lingles (sixe) in front, rear, right, left, and contra-bocause, you must know, they are Light Intarrey; although the Commander-in-Chief and Colored Office do not acknowledge them as such, but a crely 3d West India Reg, and as the Army Bist will ahow. And why, then, try to dub them Light Infantry, and beloads them with lighter, wings, and a bost of tawdry bambles? Why, to take money on of the pockets of Officers who are little able to afford it. and transfer it in the purkets of a few very worth, tradesthen, who the Columb wishes to patroniae; and all this by a Columel, who, it is probable, will never see the regiment, cares less about them, and very likely in the next Gunette removed to a European regiment. see that the ciprising of his regiment was sent out repu-larly—that it will not one Lieutenant Colonel being on leave, and another source as a Lieutenant-Copyernor—one panies at Honduras, receiving 7s. per dien command-money, allowance for two horses, 7s. 10s. per dien., total, 14s. 10d., busides pay, -no had thing in them times of othem, were looked after by those to nuthinity, than brushing up buttons, engs, and attaps, &c. In conclusion; there is no doubt the old system will again be taken up, and one regiment kept in Africa; or let each of the West India Regiments take it in turn, remaining there five years. This would not cost the beary ospunse that is now incurred by moving Officers and men continually.

ZARA. Rt. Canadian Ride Reg, ... Col. Ellist and the Officers gave a grand ball and supper on Wednesday evening, at Butler's Burraphe, to a large assemblage of the gentry resident in this town and its vicioity. Everything west off with the greatest feat, and the guests were highly delighted with the gentlementy department and profuse hospitality of their autorations, while the bosts derived no less pleasure from the fact that their nodeavour to make others happy had then evidently and enumently successful. The ball-room was gorganisty docurated, the dance was spiritedly begun and maintained, and the supper—the best thing we can say of it is to quoid the remark of a gootleman who is a veteran in latitudes where gratronomy ranks simong than office suiceces - 1 It was the most magnificent supper I over set down to." The pleasure of the evening received no little addition from the aplendid manner to which the band of the Refer per-formed appear beautiful pieces of music, — Nongara Carpniele, Hih Dec.

Hones Guards, 28th Duc., his -- Recaustive Dycastisky of the Charles Manual and -- The Recaustive for the infancy of the Line will, mild further orders, by a oldered according to the standard prescribed by the Charles Menthandian of the Lith February last, viz. :- 8 facts of the Non-the Careford 25 years of Arc, and 6 net 6 for growing last, under 13 years of arc, for all regiments, with the exception of those serves to Inche. Chion and Now South Wales, which will take Remarks at 6 for the inche, but my uniter 18 years of Arc. Jone Macdonalia, A. G.

The Provisional Military Staff in Con de has been dis-

ROYAR MILITARY COLLEGE .-- The following have entered as students in the source department this month .- Copt. Brummond, Granadjer Guards; Capt. 1). Botts, Glat; Lieut. Ewart, 35th; and Lieut. Rooke, 77th, Alaine Medical Staff .- Ile. J. Hall has encoreded Dr. A. Shelan as Staff Surgami of the Craire Recuiting district; and Dr. C. Palmer ing succeeded Dr. A. Stewart in the Northern district.

BARRACES.—R. A. Daniel is app sinted Barrack-master. at Present and Brockville, Canada, in roun of T. Johann. Capt. Chetwynd has succeeded Light. Child at Halifax, and Lieut Chaid is appointed to Leeds.

An address was lately presented to Dr. Sopwart, who has for several years officiated in Newcy as Staff-Burgein of the district. It was accompanied with a splendisk service of plate, the get of a few of the respectable inbelievets of the town and neighbourhood. the compliment was well deserved, would be but to express the opinion, deep and leastfelt, entertained by the community of all classes, as to the projessional worth and personnel analyday of Dr. Stewart. Generously, indied, has be descried hunself, without fee or reward, to the refuel not only of the poorer classes, but of all to whom he had necess, and sine we are that, to whatever quarter of the world his professional daties may call him, he will be tollowed by the feregit good wishes and blessings of thousands .- Newry Telepraph.

CHARMAN, Jun. 18. On Monday carring, about 7 o'clock, being the time of the keepers looking up the unfortunate imagine of the Military Lunatic Asylam, Fort Clarence, nonsidenship constrainting pressiled at the absence of Caprain Charles Strangs, Unattached, and formerly of the 13th Light Diagonia, from his room, who had been an impact of the asylam for the last 14 years as a complete lumite. Every search was immediately unde for him about the establishment without sunages. It is surprising how the undermone man could have escaped as the fort and gardens are under ground, and surrounded by a deep trench, with brick walls nearly 20 feet in height, and at every convenient cutrance a Military guard is stationed sfor the prevention of according. The suppostationed for the prevention of accutence. In our particular is, that the unfortunate gentiems must have been suffer the well. During the ation is, that the uninturate generalism inter bows present assisted by some person in scaling the well. During the afternoon Captern Strange had been out walking, wearing his Military cap, which artoles he must have had on whom be made his except, those articles being missing. Captain berange's name is written in full-heagth on all the gen-The event lies caused considerable quality in the Adjusant Knox; Quartermaster Naille?

South—Captain Rattray, whose lasts to Bageast was see that the clothing of his regiment was sent out regular to have been based in the best the clothing of his regiment was sent out regular to have been based in the best larger to the States and every season of the States and specific season before the last the following of the South as Lieutenant-Covernor—one bus reflect. On appoint at the Fact, this evening no two of the last lieutenant-Lovernor—one bus reflect. On appoint at the Fact, this evening no the last lieutenant-Lovernor—one bus reflect. On appoint at the Fact, this evening no this last lieutenant lieutenant for the last lieutenant begins at the fact, this evening no the Officer had been received up to b o'clock. establishment and moglidourleand for the Officer's safety.

Nabal Antelligence.

Anamaraty, Jan. 8.

This day, in pursuance of Her Majesty's pleasure, Sir James Hawkins Whitshed, Hart., G.f.SB., Admirál of the Red, has been promoted to the rank of Admirál of the Fleet.

PROMOTIONS.

Commander—Prederick Wilmot Horton (for gallant conduct in the boats of the Undo against the pirates at Borneo).

Burgeon—Julia Bougles, M.D.

Burgeon - Join Douglas, M.D.

Captain - A. Ellice (1931), to be Second Captain to the Viviary, and Superingendent of the embarkation and departure of the foreign mails at houteampton.

Lieutennia- R. B. Æ. Macleod (1841), A. Anderson (1842), John Wilson (h), (1943), and John S. Ruberton (addit.), (1942), to Madia-mary Arthur B. Eingston (1840), to Vedge: W. H. Mawbiray (1843), to Milion (C. A. D. Pasco (1843), to Vedal: G. Giunn, to Hymelark, J. W. Oldmixon (1813), to Vedal: J. Compton (1834), to Frolin; C. E. Rowley (1843), to Gessen, Second Masters - W. H. Petch, to Penchys: W. Brodie, to Mt. Vincent; Wm. Balts, to Folgre; Charles Grigg, to Albion; G. H. Thain, to Sictoria and Albort, v. Fuz.

Mushipmen - J. F. Mantand, to St. Vincent; H. M. Elliot, from Salchitte, to Penchys.

Mushipmen.-J. F. Mattand, to St. Vincent; H. M. Emot, from Satelitts, to Panelope.
Assistant Surgeon.-Charles Coffey (1842), (addit.), to Albian.
Naval Cadeta-Hon..W. J. Ward, to St. Vincent; F. Stackhouse, to Sateliste; G. M. W. Castrugton, to St. Vincent.
COANT-GUARD.
Removals.-Lieut. John M.Nevin, from Dunbeg, to Cloggan; Mr. Goo. Ekina Spencer, from Bathim Island, to Cloghy; Mr. William Reffell, R.N., from Trebane, to Colarte.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, JANUARY 98.

OENERAI. PORT-OPFICE, JANUARY 28.

The mails for the West indies were made up on the 17th inst., to be forwarded by the Tweed steamer, via storthampton. For Oporto, Lishon, Cadiz, Oimaltar, Maita, and the Jonian Islands, on the 18th list.; and for Egypt and India will be made up on the morning of 1st February, via Southampton. By the overland closed mail, via Marseilles, on the evening of 1st Feb. Letters for Hong Kong wil, unless addressed "via Southampton," be forwarded in the closed mail, via Marseilles, and will be liable to the same rate of goatage as letters for India, viz., is *ud., eent by the closed mail through France, which protage must be paid in advance. Those letters, however, which are addressed "via Nouthampton," will be transmitted by that route, with the mail for Hombay, at the rate of is, the half-nines, &c. may be prepaid, or the letters may be sent unpaid, at the option of the sender. British newspapers, duly stamped, addressed to Hong Kong, may be forwarded, via Southampton, free of possage. Those which are forwarded on Marseille will be liable to a postage of 3d. sech. by nearly, New South Wales.—The Mary Sharp, for the mails of the vening of Stat lust. The rate of postage to be charged on all letters for New South Wales, not marked by "Private Ship," will be 1s, per half-ounce, which must be paid in advance. Height in evening of stat lust, which must be paid in advance. Height in evening of stat wales, und marked by "Private Ship," will be 1s, per half-ounce, which must be paid in advance. Height in evening of stat wales, und marked by "Private Ship," will be 1s, per half-ounce, which must be paid in advance. Height in evening of stat paid.

PORTHMOUTH, Jan. 18. - &From our own Correspondent.)-Penulops went out of Harbour on Saturday, as praviously arranged, and was absent until Monday, to try if any benefit had arlaun from the alterations made in her coal-bunkers, &c. Capt. Austin, C.B., was on board She went light, both in coals and water, and without shot She is to complete such to contain that she is a failure. She is to complete such go to Spithead this day for further orders. Allian has rain here, and since gone to Plymouth with Mr. Macaoley and his luggage, to be put on board the Hyperinth, for a passage to the coast of Africa. Hecute and Dwarf are in the harbour, and are to be paid wages, and proceed to the Shannon, and be under the orders wages, and proceed to the Shannon, and be under the orders of Captain Sir H. Blackwood, of the Fox. Volcano has arrived from Cork, and waits orders. Satellite has been moved to moorings off Blockhouse, has bent sails, and will go to Spithsad to-morrow or Saturday. The trans-Pestonjee Bomunjee and Princess Royal are in the harbour; the first goes to Barbadous, the other to Sheernous. Naptune, Hodney, Magicienne, and Prince Regent, are in dock; Firegrand in the basin, fitting for commission. Ships in Port-St. Vincent, Victory, Excel-lent, Victoria and Albert yacht. Penelope, Satellite, Herate, Dwurf, Folomo, and two transports, in harbour.

Healt, Duurf, Volumo, and two transports, in harbour.
Physiogra, Jan. 18.—(Frots our own Correspondent.)
—12th—The Voluya, 26, Capt. Sir W. Dickson, Bart., was hauled out of dock, having had her defects made good,
and will move into the Sound in a day or two. 13th—
The Crane packet, 6, Lieut.-Com. Thos. A. Lowis (s), was hauled into dock to have her defects made good.
Arrived the Resistance, 42, (troop-ship Com. G. C. E.
Pates from Cuk having harded mast of the Res. Patey, from Cork, having landed part of the 30th Reg. from North America, at that port ; she came into harbour I the 15th to rent. Sailed the Devon tender for Pembroke, with stores. 14th-Arrived Larne, 18, Com. J. W. D. Brisbane, from Sharmess; her crew were paid wages in advance the 18th. Arrived the Lansier, Dutch schooner, 6. Lieut. Bondyck Bustianes, Commander, from the Texal bound to the coast of Africa; when about mid-channel, she carried away her masts, and was drifting towards the rocks near Guernacy and Jersey, when she was discovered by Active, rev -cruizer, Lieut. Elvin, who boarded her, and brought her into the Sound. 15the-Albion, 90, Capt. N. shockver, was towed into the Sound by the Con-fidnes at., and proceeded for a few hours' cruise nutside the Breakwater: there being very little wind she returned and anthored in the Sound. She is a splendid ship, but carries her lawer deck-ports very low, and has not yet taken all her stores, water, and powder, og board, which will bring her still lower in the water. Satted the Helena, 16, Com. Sir Cornwallis Ricketts, for Jamaica, where she will land Mr. Baukhead, the newlysamaica, where sais will land har. Balanca, the hewly-appointed Minister to Mexico; the Halena proceeds from thence to the Cape of Good Hope. The arew of the Vestal, 25, Capt. Chas. Talbot, were paid wages in advance this day, and she sailed for New York the following day, taking out the Hon. Mr. Pakenham, Ambassador to United States; from thence the Vestal proceeds to the Brazils. 16th-The Acorn and Parsian, 16 guns each, were hauled out of dock, having been new coppered, and are getting ready for commission. 17th—Avrived the Alban st. from Woolwich on her way to Cork. Actaon, 26, and Ranger packet, 6, were hauled into dock; the former to have her defects made good, and the latter to be converted to a 10-gun brig. The Hamears, a new lighter, was launched this day. 18th—Twenty-five boys lighter, was launched this day. 18th Twenty-five boys have been entered this week, in the dockyard, as shipwrights' apprentices. In Harbour-San Josef, Voluge, Hyucinth, Resistance, Swift, Crans, Confiance, and Alban steamers; Adventure, N.T. In the Sound - Al-bion, Larne.

SHEERNES, Jan. 98 .- (From our ann Correspondent.) There has been little doing here this week. The Shann frigute has been moved into the Basin, and will be moved into dock to have her bottom conted with Jeffery's patent. House is also in the Basin, having her sheet-anchors stowed, previous to being put into ordinary. Crocodile is ready for commission. The clarks of the Camperdown ready for commission. are busy night and day in getting her books ready for paying off; it is expected she will be paid off by the first work in February. She will be immediately re-commis-sioned by Capt. Fanshawe Martin, for the flag of Vice-Admiral Sir John Chambers White, who is hourly ex-pected here, the Hart tender having gone up to London for him yesterday. On Thursday last, the 11th inst., the African stemmer returned from having towed the Larne over "the Fists," and the same day the Diagence N.T., Martin, Master, came down from Chatham and sailed for Portsmouth with stores. On Sunday the Hands st. passed down the Thames for Portsmouth; it was the Alban that went down the week previous: yesterday the Hart tender, and the African steamer sailed for Woolwich. In harbour-Camperdown, Ocean ; Raven and Speedy cutters. At Chatham-Poictiers, with the broad pendant of Commodore Wm. II. Shirreff, Commander-in-Chief pro tem. Comus is fitting for commission slongside a hulk there; she has her muste in. Thomas, late convict-hulk, in alongside the shears, having masta put into her and fitting up for a convict ship. Tertoise, Funtome, and Rover, are in dock, preparing also for commission.

4 P.M.—The Harftender, with Vice-Adm. Sir J. White on

A P.M .board, has just arrived in tow of the African st. His flag was immediately hoisted on board the Camperdown, and suitted by the Orean. Sir John was waited on by Cap-tains Brace, Fisher, and Shirrett, who accompanied him to Admiralty House. Commodors Shirrell's flag, which had been flying on board his yacht, was immediately atruck on Sir John's acrival.

MILYORD HAVEN, Jan. 17 .- (From our own Corre apondent.) - There have been no arrivals or saltings during the week. The vacancy for a Master-Shipwright at Pembroke still remains open. Though rumour, with her thousand tongues, gives the situation, as well as that of Commander of the Royal Sovereign yacht, vice Com. Higgs, whose period of service appires shortly, to numerous individuals, still nothing cerban is known on either subject. Those beautiful models, the Firefly and King-Asker brigs-philding of Peinbruks, are repidly progress-ing; they will be both launched by the latter end of May. The Rebecca disturbances are gradually subsiding, con-sequently it is to be hoped the detached parties of Marities will shortly be recalled to Pembroke, where the duties are onerous in the extreme. With the slightest canalty, the men are obliged to be on guard every other night; the system, too, of distributing the men in two and threes throughout the country is ruinous of discipline, and must speedly be altered,
DEAL, Jan. 18,-(From our own Correspondent,)

Friday 12th-11. M.'s brig Nautitus anchored in the Downs. 14th-H.M.'s steamers, Hecate and Dwarf, went through the Downe to the westward. 13th-Eniled H.M.'s brig Nantilus from the Downs to the westward. 16th— H.M.'s brig Nantilus worked through the Downs to the enstward. 17th—H.M.'s revenue cruisers, Ranger, Lion, and Sealark cruising in the Doune.

Woolwich, Jan. 19.—The Heads st.-v., Capt. J. Lapidge, and the Ducarf iron st.-v., with acrew propeller, Lieut.-Com. Nicolla, left Grawalthe, after having their compasses adjusted, on 14th inst., for Portsmouth. Sir Francis A. Collier, C.B. and E.C.H., superintendens of ther Majosty's dockyard at Woolwich, heisted his broad pendant (blue) as Commodors of the second class on the maismest of the William and Mary yearst. The Black Eagle st.-v., Master-Cow. S. B. Cook, made three are interested trips research to ascertain her speed, and the following above the results:—On 12th inch having deep in the water 1977 knots, or 12.64 stands willis per hour, as assertained by the measured miles in Long Reach. On 13th inst., still deep in the water, 11.39 knots, or 12.77 statute miles per hour. "On 17th inst., when light in the water, 11.407 knots, or 13.14 statute miles per hour. The Prometheus stew, is ordered to be brought forward immediately for commission by Lieut. Pascoe, formerly of Kite The Styr st.-v. has been ordered to be refitted. st.-v. This is the vessel recently employed at the Azores in the surveying department, under the command of Capt. Vidal. The Drake arrived at Woolwich yesterday.

DEPTURD, Jan. 14 .- (Prom our own Correspondent.) - Sailed Equestinar male convict ship for Woolwich, to embark male convicts for New South Warblington freight ship for Gibraltar, with Naval stores. Remain-Jupiter freight ship has completed her cargo of Naval and victualing stores for Malta; Kingston is loading with stores for Bermuda; Prince George and Angelina transports have been paid off out of the The Lords of the Admiralty, consisting of Sir Service. E. Seymour, Hon. H. Corry, Hon. Sidney Herbert, with Capt. Brandith, visited this yard on the 10th, and inspected the ropery and other branches of the yard.

Gibraltar, Jan. 6.—At anchor—H.M.'s ship Belvidere, and steamers Geyser and Locust. Gover arrived on 4th, with India mails from Malta. Lisbon, Jan. 9 .-H.M.S. Warapite, and the French brig-of-war Voluge. The Pusha spoke the Peninsular and Oziental Company's steamers-on 7th, the Oriental, 10 leagues S.E. of Cape St. Vincent; 9th, the Lady Mary Wood, off Oporto; and on 13th, the Liverprod, 2, off Ushant. No ship of war at Cadiz on 7th inst.; nor at Vigo, of any nation, on 10th.

THE NEW COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF AT THE NORE .-Vice-Admiral Sir John Chambers White, K.C.S., entered the Service 7th June, 1781, was made Lieutenant 22nd Nov., 1790; Commander, 28th August, 1795; Captain, 2nd August, 1799; Resr-Admiral, 22nd July, 1839; and Vice-Adidiral, 10th Jan., 1837. He commanded the Sylph sloop, from 1795 to 1798, during which period he distinguished himself on various vocasions, and captured several of the enemy's vessels of war and convoys, and assisted at the destruction of the French frigate Andromache; was afterwards Captain of the Foudroyant at the capture of Linois' squadron in 1806; and, in the Centaur, co-operated in the defence of Tarragona in 1811.

VICE-ADMIRAL SIR R. L. FITZGERALD. -Flag-Officer is removed from the Navy List, by the death of Vice-Admiral of the Red, Sir Robort Lewis Fitzgerald, Kat., K.C.H., which took place at Bath, on Wednesday last, in the 69th year of his age. Sir Robert antered the Royal Navy in March, 1786, was made a Licut. 21st Feb., 1794, and in that rank was on board the London, and took part in Lord Bridport's action off L'Orient in 1795. He was made a Commander on 13th Feb., 1797, and was promoted to his Post rank on the 24th Dec., 1798, for his gallantry, when in command of the Venuelus bomb, in which he assisted at the bombardment of Havre, and in the destruction of the French frigate Confiance, of 36 guns, in that year. He obtained his Fing promotion as Rear-Admiral on the 2d June, 1825, and as Vice-Admiral on 12th Nov., (840. He was nominated a K.C.H. on 18th January, 1835.

THE SURVEY OF TORRES STRAITS. - Intelligence has been received from the Torres Stratts Expedition, by which we earn that the greater part of the Burrier Reef had been surveyed, and preparations were being made for continuing the survey. The Officers and arew were in continuing the survey. The Officers and arew were in comparatively good health. One accident had occurred; a seaman, under a fit of delirium, had jumped overboard, and was drowned before assistance could be rendered.

PRACTICAL KNOWLEDGE OF NAVAL OFFICERS.—

It will scarcely be denied, that at the commencement of the Prench revolutionary war, in 1793, our Naval Officers were greatly deficient in practical knowledge. The late Captain B. P. Brenton, in his valuable Naval History obtaptes E. P. Brenton, in the valuable Pavet First or our server, in reference to this subject.—

"The British facet was remarkably well manaed, but the Officera were generally deficient from want of practice—the natural consequence of a ten years' retirement. Some of them had little idea of account a ten years' retirement. Some of them had little or idea of account a ship in her station, either in line of battle or order of sailing during the night or in blowing weather; habit, however, soon conquered the difficulty," &c. &c.

owever, soon conquered the difficulty," ec. so.
Now, if our Naval Officers were so deficient after a ten years' retirement, how much more likely are they to be so after a 27-years' peace i That the theoretical part of the that they are generally, much beter educated in every respect than formerly is must true, and highly creditable to themselves and to the country; but theory and science alone will not render a Naval Officer efficient without practical knowledge and experience at secwar at sea, cruising for the greater part of the year. This may be objected to on the score of expense to the country, but surely neither ministers, whether Whit of Tory, nor the country, would gradge such addi-This object then, would be to a very considerable extent, if not cathroly effected by our having an efficient and well-appointed squadron of his or eight salinf-the-line, and some frigates, with a few smaller vessels, to cruise, say from April to Nov.; the range of the centring ground de, thus embracing the whole of the British Channel and the Bay of Biscay, and beyond it. Such a squadron would combine admirable practice for our Officers, seniors and juniors, and serve at the same time as an experimental one to test the qualities of our ships; the squadron to be commanded either by an active and efficient Fing Officer, or a Commodore of the first cless, having a Captain under him. We have many noble ships ready to be brought forward, and they would be speedily manned, as there are abundance of capital seamen on al ships. A squadron of this description might be got read for sea in a couple of worths, if at once commissioned could thue start early in the spring .- Correspondent of Standard.

THE FLUET AT TARBERT. - Never since the closing of the old Parliament House in College-green were the il so brisk as at present in that town. Numbers of the Marines and sailors daily move slong the streets in all the pomp and security of glorious peace. A few days since about one hundred of them—boaring a soverign, each to be deposited in the safe keeping of the spirited supporters Excise spent a day in the most jovial menner. The victuallers are so pressed with the continuous demand for supplies, that additional hands have been called in; all is life, and bustle, and harmony. There are three or four war-steamers stationed in the river at present, and the only thing to be apprehended is that untoward events may cause their removal.—Kerry Examiner.

The China Fleet.—We have been favoured with the sight of a letter from Hong-Kong, dated 30th Aug., at which date the Cornwallic was lying there with the flag of Vice-Adm. Sir W. Parker, having no less than 150 of her ship's company disabled from fever, cholera, and diseases of the bowels; which is not to be wondered at, considering she had not shifted her moorings for seven months, had not been out of sight of land and muddy water for 19 months, and only under sail during this latter period for three nights! On shore, matters were even worse, and the 55th Reg. was suffering very consi-The Admiral keeps his health by retiring early to bed and rising still earlier, taking a long ride before breakfast. The thormometer ranged at from 55 to 88 during the day, and 82 to 84 during the night, netwith-standing which, as far as Sir Thomas Coehranc, accord in command, was concerned, double-breasted buttoned-up coats, strapped-down cloth trowsers, and boots. are the order of the day. In fact, but for rapid promotion, Officers could not manage to stand it. In the Corn. wallis (flag ship) only five of the original ward-room mess remain in her; every Lieutenant having been made a Commander, and every Mate a Lieutenant. The first Lieutenant's vacancy is kept for Lieut. Codd. The Recond Lieutenent's is vacant, Carter fs third, Horlage fourth, Phelps fifth, and Webster sixth. Wilmot is Flag-Lieute nant. Marines-Captam Graham and Lieutenant Pennington. Lieutenant Milbanke, first of the Childers, being dead, the vacancy has devolved upon Mr. Forbes, Mate of the Cornwallie, formerly in the Vizzn. Lieut, Fitzroy has left for India to join the Clio. The Admiral has had two Commanders' vacancies since the extensive premotion, which have been filled up by Lieut. Vyner, promoted and appointed to the Driver, and S. Morris, late of the relequen, appointed Acting Commander of the Wol rerine. The Cornwallis was to sail for Singapore early in October, leaving in China the Agincourt, with the flag of Sir Thomas Cochrane, the second in command; the of Sir Indian Cochians, the second in communa; the Cambrion, Dido, Harlequin, Sorpent, Wolverins, Driver, Visen, Pelican, and Proscrpins and Medusa East India Company's steamers, and Plover, Starling, and Young Uniperly research. The Cornwallis expects to be homeward board in July, 1844, when Admiral Parker's time of fureign service will have been completed. Mr. Campbell, Midshipman of the Cambrian, has passed his examination for Lieutenant. A fleet of merchant vessels with valuable cargoes, had collected at Hong-Kong, but altogether trade was anything but brisk.

eltogether trade was anything but brisk.

Malta, Jan 6.—In Malta Rarpess—The Jurea, 13e, bearing the flag of Vice-Admessis R. Owen; Copho, receiving ship, bearing the flag of Six Lucius Cortis; Maladar, 72; Verson, 80; Vrago war-ah; Remon and Magpie, surv-venecia, and Alcelo at-quelet. At Gibraltar—Revolders, 28, and Louas taltender; on her way thence to Malta Gener war-st. At Barcolona—Scout, 18, and Sarage, 10. Marsellien—Acheron nt-pariest. At Cortis—L'Aigle, 74; and on her way thither from Malia Greates, 12. On her way to Malta from the Jordan Islands and Patrus, Pulphener way to Malta from the Jordan Sanke, 16; and on her way thither from Malia Greates, 12. On the way to Athens from Malta, the Farma—Malad, 72; Vessales, war-stauner, and Sanke, 16; and on her way to Athens from Malta, the Farch, wife, t.

- The Overland Indea Shalls despetched from Rombey on 1st Dec., by the Violende, which reached huzz on 1gth, and Malha, by the Alcelo, on 37th, were sent on by the Alceronate Marselline early on the suctains of the Sith. Her endeavours to get out an the night of the Syth having bean manutousles, qualitative and eastward; and, indeed, the Franchisanment lumbiersellien was an east ward; and, indeed, the Franchisanment lumbiersellien was an east ward; and, indeed, the Franchisanment lumbiersellien was an east and then from the like sense. The heavy part of the India bean time from the like sense. The heavy part of the India bean time from the like sense. The heavy part of the India on by the Gegrer, which left on the 19th, as at the moment of departure on the day preceding, the Aleele was found to have a defect in her boiler. The Vieuge having delivered the Hisdaelen's Calcutta mail at Mutuellius, reterried on the 19th, having inoked in at Barreloha and Tonle, but bringing mothing of material importance from either place. The Polyphannes arrived from Gibraltar one day holore her time, on Tith, bringing the Lindon intersectiate mail of 16th December. The Polyphannes arrived from Gibraltar one day holore her time, on Tith, bringing the Lindon intersectiate mail of 16th December. The Polyphannes arrived from Gibraltar one day holore her time, on Tith, bringing the Lindon place, notwithstanding the riddinalnus alsom spreads a regarder peope, notwithstanding the riddinalnus alsom spreads a regarder her seaworttimesst gwing to her having only one singine is work, reached Alexandria on 22d, in 12t hours from Malta, thus averaging apwards of six miles per hoay, the distance being 238 miles. So indebted do the peacengers cansider themselves to the skill and determination of the chind engineer, Mr. Wright, that on their safe arrival at Alexandria they grownested him with a handawne testimonial. The Great Liverpool left Alexandria again with passengers of the Hindeelan, from Calcutta, and of the Victoria, From Bombay, altogether about eighty; and untwithstanding very hoisterous weating, the reached Malta again with passengers of the Hindeelan, from Calcutta, and conversable will meet the new intermediate Shaft from England. Her generaline will not expire muit the gli, but in the meanwhile the agent of the company to which she beings, has very considerately permitted the passengine to like on board free of cost, and has, we understand, infimated to them that such as may be unfwilling to await the Company's neglatemer for England will have their passengers on the Reck left on New Year's Day, (or Constantinopie, with privisions, and stores for England until railwed by Pigue or Sparten, both on their wa

Luerarn Notices.

The Unloved One. A Novel, By Mrs. Hofland. 3 Voles.
H. Colburn.
This is one of those strictly and thoroughly domestic novels which, if we do not greatly mistake, will stand their ground when the flashy "fashionable" sctions of the day are forgotten or disregarded. And the reason is, that the one class of works is founded in the real and permaneut principles of human nature, while the other owes its temporary attraction—nay, its very existence—to the conventional forms, and the passing fancies and vagaries, of artificial society. The flies that are preserved in the amber of a "fashionable" novel are for the most part nothing out flies; and though they are curious and pretty to look at in their spackling manuleum, we feel very little interest as to "how they got there," or what becomes of them or their gay recoptacle. But it is not so with the real men and women of such true fictions as "The Unloved One,"

They are the ordinary beings of ordinary life, and we feel towards them as we do towards the sound denizens of the actual world about us. The Mr. and Mrs. Frencheville; the Uncle Powis; the Aunts Marcy and Penelope; the "Madam" Hammond, and the two "Girls" of forty, her protegies; the Fieldfares; and above all, Walter Freacheville, "The Unloved One," whose career forms the main thread of the story; all these, and fifty more that we meet with in this povel, are real people of flesh and blood, about whom we are enabled, and indeed impelled to feel a sympathy which never once comes near us in connection with the glittering but cold creations of the "fashionable" novelist.

It is true this human interest is not obtained without paying a price for it; and the price is the sacrifice of that brilliancy of colouring, that ideal beauty of form, and that perfection of design, of grouping, &c., which are at the cheap disposal of those artists who make nature their lay-figure rather than their model. But what are these in comparison with the truth as it is in name, and in those types of nature which we meet with in the works of the Burneys, the Austens, and the class of writers to which Mrs. Hoffend belongs?

This new production of hef practiced and careful pen pleases us much more than the one which we had con-sion to notice some months ago...... The Czarina "—but timply because its scenes, being laid in the ordinary life about which we all-the writer included - have daily and bourly experience, they come nearer "home, to our busi-sess and bosoms," and we can better judge of their truth, than we can of those which busy themselves with the movements and interests of courts, courtiers, and the great ones of the earth. For this reason we doubt "The Unioved One" will greatly exceed will greatly exceed in popularity its more ambitious producessor.

The plot, as we have hinted, turns chiefly on the career of "The Unioved One" himself, and on the modifications and movements of the human character under circum-stances peculiar to the individual upon whom it is desired to concentrate the main interest of the reader. And the way in which this design is carried out by Mrs. Hufland in the present instance, while it shows a wide and various

We must not neglect to mention that, in the course of the hero's wanderings, an overland trip to India, when such an undertaking was anything but the easy and ordinary one it now is, affords a very agreeable and interesting vasiety, which greatly reliaves the "domestic's character of the work is a whole,

Memoirs of Robert William Elliston, Committan, 1774 to 1810. By George Raymond, Esq. With Illustra-tions by George Crutishank. Mottuner. We should be disposed to enter somewhat largely into the contents of this exceedingly amusing volume, were it not that, previously to their publication in a separate form, they had been retailed, by monthly portions, in Ainsworth's Magazine, and are, in consequence, already extensively known. The pledge that we have for their authenticity is, that the writer of the Memoirs, Mrs liny. mond, "received the greater part of the documents, let-ters, itc., appartaining to the life of Elliston, and since much theatrical matter incidental to the actor's time," from Mr. Winston, formerly one of the proprietors of the Haymarket sheatre, and who died in July lest. The prosent volume comes down only to the year 1810; at which time Elliston was moving between and earth, in the hope of obtaining a great for the erection of a third winter theatre. A second volume is to be published; but it will first appear, we understand, like the present, in the pages of Mr. Ainsworth's Magazine.

Mr. Raymond possesses considerable vivacity and spirit of style; and making due allowance for his outrageous love of superfine writing, and the frequent bewildermant. of his ideas amongst clouds of " dictionary words," wall and pleasantly qualined for his tash. Occasionally, however, he seems to be but imperfectly informed as to

Not long after his auccessful professional establishment in London, he applied to M?. Murray (the father of Mrs. Henry Siddons, an admirable scholar, a man of fine taste, and one of the most accomplished actors of his time) to read the part of Othello with him: Murray did so; and, afterwards, he strongly dissuaded Billston from attempting For a time, Elliston had the good the performance. sense to act upon his advice; and it was not for years afterwards, that he accusily adventured on the part.

Arnold's very discreditable arrest of Colman might have Arnous a very unposented and with a host of additional and most amusing particulars.

The drilling that Elliston was subjected to by Colman, previously to his performance of Sir Edward Martimer, Octavien, &c., at the Haymarket Massive, whould have been recorded.

been recorded.

"It is curious to remark," observes Mr. Haymand, 'that on the opening of the late theater, which cost 129,000L, an occasional epilogue, spoken by Miss Farren, meured the public that a conflagration could never take pines in that theatre, as they had water enough to drown authors, accors, anditory, and all their applicates, to bone is the conclusion M which, a shower of real water was produced, and an iron custom set down to algebr of the assured spectators."

The conflagram area marken of was mistaken and the conflagram and another of was mistaken and the conflagram and another of was mistaken and the conflagram and another of the market of the conflagram and another of the conflagram and conflagram a

The epilogue was spoken, if we mistake put, for the first three nights; but on the first night assuredly the from curtain was gut let down. A pause of some length occurred in Miss Parren's delivery of the ephlogue, in expectation of the descent of the curtain; but from some defect in the machinery at the time, it did not full as intended, and the epitogue was concluded without in aid.

The last time that we now poor Elliston -- once the gayest, of the gay, the most ardent and the most presentible of atege lavers— was at his house, in threatford-place, probably about the year 1829. He was then greatly debiliated, apparently from the freedom of his mode of living.

Mrs. Frederick Lover Inves of Emment Part L. Lover.
EMEMENT females! Why not eminent women. However, we are not disposed to quarrel with ladies for tiffer odd fancies. Alts. Lover as we inter from the prospectus odd fancies. Alsa Loves as we taler from the prospectus of her work, is exceedingly tensoious of the rights of her ear. We have always found the eleverest witners to be perfectly satisfied with the position which God and nature have assigned them is society. When they aim at suything beyond that, they idestably lose ground. Our fair satisfier is affirent in pronject it has performance prove faithful, the public will have abundant cause to be pleased. In her commencing memoir, that of Lady Rachel Rusgil, whose virtues are above all praise, she has given goods carnest of her stillty. So for as it has yet proceeded, for it is not finished in the trat number, the article is well and candidly written; but let the griter heware of politics! A portrait of Lady Rachel is prefixed.

in the present instance, while it shows a wide and various knowledge of human life and of society, never loses sight to Mirair Français; out Repertoire de la Littleuture of Just, sim at improving and informing, by means of the Research Contemporaine. Sherwood and Contemporaine, which is not ought to be—the principle of this is the first number of a very neatly-produced which all works of this nature are constructed.

student in modern French literature. As we learn from the "annexissamont" prefixed, contributions are to be levied on all the oblief writers of the day, in history, poetry, and rowance; and, historylingly, in the number before us, we find an able paper on the Life and Writings of Vanint, by Al. Victor Consin-Miteen chapters of a romance, by G. de Molènes—an interesting fragment from Paul de Musset's La Siacle en 1813—poetry, by Arcane Houseays—the first part of a tab, by Alexandro Dumas—mélanges, from versous sources—criticlims on the drama—reviews of books, &c. We shall be glad to see this work flourish. work flourish.

The Rubber's Cave; or, Four-horned Monn. A Drams, In Indiction and after the Munner of Shakspeare. In Five Acts. Nickisson.

HAS not the author of this play oblighnly informed us that he had written it "in thiration and ofter the man-ner of Shakapeare," we should have remained for over in ner of Shanspeare, we amount new remaines for ever in blissful ignorances of the fact. No penestation that we can boast would ever have achieved the injection dis-cavery. The place, though extractingly facilie is to combo sends and characters, and far from strong in those of a mole serious inture, is not attagether without morit; and if the writer be a youthful aspirant for fame, he may pur-nevers, with the hips of ultimate success. But—let tilin eachew all attempts at imitation.

Roberts's Viocos in the Holy Ended. Parts 11 and 12.

True new taken of the most attractive work of its kind that ever taked from the English press, comprises two entire parts Instead of one—in other words, two better, which, taken as d whole, may be described as at the very least eighal to any twelfth consecutive plates of the berren; neart equal so any swelve consecutive fittees of the briefs; and there are two or three kidding the number which strike us as being more carrially and expulsively claboureted, both in their details and their general effect, then any of their predecessors. The view of St. Jean d'Acre, from the Plain, the general view of Jaffa, and the graph view of Pyre, possess a sharpness and shrillances of effect that we have near between their such that we have a second and a brilliance of effect that we have nave before a graphical and armitarities of circles of production. The historical and cligious the creat of production. production. The historical and religious interest of spend of these plates is also unsurpassed by any that have going before them—those of Jells, for instance, around which tevery species of association is clustered — teaditional, edictions, and historical—uncient and registro. Here North is said to have built the ark; here Andromeda is gaid to have been chained to the rock; here Napalson is known to have ecomplitted a dead which half his historians had to the skies as his greatest act of hereform, and the other half denounce as the despect of his crimes!

This cloude part of Mr. Moon's great undertaking with give, if possible, an added inights to the leading which pronounced it the most be untiful as well as the most interesting protocul interesting protorial publication of its day.

Correspondence addressed to the Editor.

THE HAVINGVICK.

If the Editor of the Nigel and Military Mixette.

Sin,—It is hoped that you will, through your valuable antining, advocate the restoration of the giprious name of the " Bridsnick" to the list of the Royal Navy. It is not only the name of the Enling-House of these resime, but uf a afth swhich highly distributed herself in the last Prentile war. Incidently on the gloribus let of Tand. 1794, when commanded in Lord Halve's settle in the they by the late lamented and gallant Chipain Albertary. Surely, we should have a Flestrate, or at this a Second-rate, called the Briliswick."

[115 quite agree with our correspondent that the name and, perhaps, a more appropriate subject for a figure-lived in the boat of the gallant Harvey—whose fast words take, "the colours of the Bryassick shall here be struck " could not be found. ED.]

The CHN MBDAI.

To the Etter of the Number and Military Guestie.

Sin, in coulding over once of the late Numbers of your Curette, I hered vide an article (signed Saturether) about the China distole.

Maying just returned from China, where it was obvious that might addict prevailed monget a just of the squadron respecting the promises badge, I gain assert without fair of contradiction, that the pirit of your correspondents in the figure is quite in accordance with the southments generally expressed by all clauses in that quarter.

It is to be holed—in common fairness to militarious never-enting subject). I do not intend now to renew it, but therely to make some remarks upon the subject of the latter part of his letter in allesson to assumers. Certainly, the defence of the machinary is a very great object, and one of most difficult application; but quiess a steamer gets pader share batteries, she has not much to fear-or mosts one of her own species, then, like Greek meeting Greek, the tug of war would be great. Otherwise, I conceive the book of a steamer in an engagement would be to sindly sulling-vessels, by getting in such a position under their quarter or stern so as to take them, and having so much greater power of locomotion, she could, with one of the heavy howitzers which they now earry, soon cripple the heavy howitzers which they now earry, soon cripple the largest ship of the line. I think they generally carry a ten-inch gun on l'Atthan's or General Miller's construction, which cut throw a first of 92ths, weight with hugh grenter encuracy, said from a greater distance, than the other with country guns, and be quite out of danger of being exposed or injured literacly, and no ship could stand the weight of one of these shot fulling into her.

I was in Multa when the Rivell was browner in prince to

I was in Malia when the Bineli was brought in price to I was in Multa when the Miself was brought is, prize to the Victorious; they was enemy equal, and hey bicalized philic to eight other log mode hours, and it was surprising how little injury was done to elther; one would have surposed that, like the Kitkenny cits, they would have lightfroyed each other; but the French Commodore, who came bong in the same also with me, often hald that he find how strike to the French commodore, who brig, who, by means of empeque, placed bernett across her have and sated the part that a steamer would now. Hid the Weaste had one of these give instead of 18-pounder carrounder, the description on board the Rivali must have been tenfuld.

I have long thought that the best defence for the engines would be to have the outside covered with cork, is the shit would be likely to hound off, as from its clarificity it would not peristrate unless very user, as was the take the third in the cork-covered floating bitteries till General Effect ordered them to be heated. This a steinler would not have to fear much unless under a battery, and then him him the in a very buil predicastient if she could not soon but herself out of its range. The only other danger I consider the would be much exposed to would be from one of ber own species, or the large shells which I believe flight of our line-of-buttle ships how rairy, and which the desticity of the cork could not stand against. If round the part lifeer the chiral rooms a covering of a feet hind, as the part lifeer the chiral rooms a covering of a feet line, as a partition vision. I have long thought that the best defence for the RAILWAY TRAVELLING FOR BOLDIERS WIVES AND TAKE RESTOR OF THE PROBLEM DITTORY CONTROL PUBLIC P belong.

Our regiment was ordered from Portsmouth to Munthe regiment was ordered from Portumuta to Maler there, and some time after our serious at the latter place there came a charge, through the layers and a charge, through the layers and children of the regiment for our very ning, for the former 11. So, and used, of the latter was the layer of the latter of the layer of the latter of the very sign, for the former 11.5s, and wal, of the latter 12s Be, but in the course of a few days the charge was relimined to high the true course of a few days the charge was relimined to high the state of the beat as grant includen, although they in the lives charge, and beat omitted; likewise 7s, 2d, include the financial publish for converge of bright which him being the winds, a very the whole, would not exclude the weight likewell such that whole, would not exclude the weight likewell such the senser free of exclude. The cause of my altuilling principally in the charge for lithrits and largests is, that, attached the rentract was be half wide, this allesses the charge for lithrits and largests is, that, attached what is fully as minds as if they are offer half wide.

It really change condition that such it forms is made

The Elicon like Number of your Courtes, the highest and Alligary Quarte.

Sin, the working over one of the late Number's of your Courtes, I heriver and article (algred Subscriber) about the China dielol.

It wist high alighet prevaled morget a part of the siquation that which the promises badge. I aim assert without fair of the highesting the promises badge. I aim assert without fair to the highesting the promises badge. I aim assert without fair to the highesting the promises badge. I aim assert without fair to the highest a time, there extends the wife in a coordance with the weathermant generally expensed by all chases in the quarter.

It is to be holled—in common fairness to militarious fair to be placed didor the aloness of the fine probable, with the scaling of exclusion—is some fairness to militarious for all the present time to be placed didor the aloness of the fine with the scaling and the Martine fines while in the possession of it their hadry are approached by an an allowed to suppose the possession of the high probable of the finite of the probable of the suppose of the finite fairness of the fin travellies is as yet in its infinoy, I trust it will not be much longer worldtill to exist. Such in expense brings misery on that useful class of women in their place, Such an expense brings "Roldiers' wives," and prevents them from bestowing those comforts which are requisite upon their children, and renders themselves and their families a diagrace where they otherwise would be a credit to the regiment to which they belong.

I, however, ought to have before mentioned that the there i have alluded to is only at far as firmingham; the other, from Birmingham to Manchester, not having yet arrived, but is expected daily.—I am, &c.

A MANUTUS PRIVATE SOLDIER.

THE "SEALARK," 12 GUNS, AND THE NEW 10-GUN BRIGS, &c.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Queette.

Sin,—In your last Gasatte there is a letter from "C." on the Sealark. Much of that letter contains very good sense; but it may be doubted whether he is right is supposing that France big no small ships of war, with which such 10-gan brigs as Pantation Evild contend.

But it is quite certain that in case of a war with whatever marking power, there would be ample employment for 100 or more such anally seasels, for which they would be amply sufficient, and to which services to employ ressels of double their cost in building and expense in be simply sufficient, and to which services to employ bessels of double their cost in building and expense in managing, would be the most idle waste of public money. He pronounces the Warrington a most noble vessel as compared with what she was whon overloaded with an apper deck and guns which she was unable to carry. She certainly may be called nable, but abstractedly she no side deserves that title than the Builam, which is much the same sort of thing, and is noble only in the sums way.

I dividel saw a trial between Barkam, Curacoa, Stag, Panteloon, and Charybets, an old 10-gun beig, when it was blowing hard. At the end of the trial the Charybets was again solles to leeward of the frigates, which were as much to be ward of the Pataloon, which also outcarried them all. She carried both top-gallant sails, when the Burham only carried one, and the other frigates uone. But so far was the Barham from shewing great superiority, that she was beatch by the Curucua, and was not much

Probably the Ray.

Probably the Rayles is as good as the Warspite, though it is possible that the latter, being a little more powerful vaisel, being a little longer, and rather broader in proposition, may be rather more equal to carry 50 sums. But the lifterence can be but small.

COMMANDERS BOYAL NAMY.

To the Main's of the Nicoli and Million's Gasette.

Six.—Observing in your last Number some just remarks upon the disparity of good things enjoyed by Commendate when such estable with other classes," may 1 be permitted for a moment to call the renewed attention of yourself and readers to some of the proulter disadvantages under which subto dies of Officers are more especially placed.

The spirits stirring times of Britain's Naval glory in its spiritiant spiritially during the eventual war-struggle of flurupe, have long since pasted away, and by the rising generation is only ramembered in a tale that is told.
It ill the fact survives, that Orbat Inthin has obtained, and can only retain her high bearing and pre-commence among the nations by a due and whichful conservation of fact maritims supersority. This once departed, she sinks again into insular insignificance, and adds another to the many soleton instances which history affords of national selfdasti vetiču.

If a glunce is taken at the Army (not to mention the Rojal Marines or Bast India Complety's Services &c. Sec.)

If a glance is taken at the Army (not to mention the Royal Marines or Bast India Complete Service, &c. &c. ) it will be seen that when once in Officer has standard to the rank of Idajer of Field Officer—equivalent to that of Commander—his progressive advancement, without aby releasing his his Navy affine that we discover a corresponding pints by the Officer's professional entert, which, without summinding listerest, fixes him at onne in a see pine sifera conditions never more to rise, regardless of all services, we matter how building to be relied to his a mainty that had him across of all services, we matter how building to be relied to his a minity that had his another of a services, we matter how building to be relied to his a minity that had he had a high hopes was not sufficiently that had his had only by regulations which have a profession man, she he first pleatenants of our line of battly show that have a profession on the List; the man she he first pleatenants of our line of battly show and fragetic disting his war, bore the best wish had no been that the war, bore the best wish had no been that the breeze, when that to the curies when the light had been and lower. These men now, also the first law wind the breeze, when that to the curies which himselves had been touched disposite by hour halfs, then become that the law of the himself is mentally and for provider to promotion.

These many who were considered with head or provider to promotion.

promotion to Post rank. for years after they had attained, the rank of Commander, are, without any fault of their own, irredoverably prejudiced for the remainder of their days through this inconsiderate, this palpably unjust regulation.

True it is, that the late order in Council has place fifty of the oldest Commanders on the Retired List of Post Captains, at an entire cost to the country of 450t.
per sanum, and thus removed them from that accoming position, which still leaves it a question in society what is to be considered the Commander's proper designation.

But would it not have been an act more worthy of the authorities, and better adapted to the merits and oircumauthorities, and octor asspired to the meries and oricumstances of the case, if they had extended the boots to the 150 veterans on the Helf-psy List of ten shillings per diem?—thus performing as act of common justice at the least possible cost to the country.

By such an act—stapence per diem to 150 Commanders—the sum of 13500, per annum would have been the testal amount of increased expenditure; but the sesount of good to the Service by the encouragement thus afforded to all is incalculable.

Already we find that in the minds of Naval men (wh are the best judges in such matters; there is a decided re-luctance to place their sons in the Navy, while in the Army the very reverse of this is observable; and the question why? becomes a matter of national importance.

Happily there never was a time when the entire affair of the Naval department were more efficiently managed than at present, or when there was a more evident they sition to do justice to all than by the present Naval administration. Long may they remain in affec! The svili-thus heatily glunced at are of long diffation, yet this williout the possibility of remedy.

Should you, Sir, degree these few remarks worthy a place in your columns, you will probably soon hear again from An Old "Ne stoa Ultra," R.N.

London, Jan. 17.

THE VETERAN LIBUTENANTE OF THE NAVY.

To the Editor of the Navni and Military Quegte.

Str.,—As an old War Officer 1 thank you, in compact with many of my brethren, for your constant returned case to our neglected case, and yet I must in common justice couless that more has been done during the pregent Admiralty administration to remove abuses, reward mark, and relieve the sting of neglect, that under any other ministry in the same time, and it omnot be expected that the Augean stable can be cleaned at once. Much has been done, and I have no doubt much more will be done when a favourable opportunity offers; but, Sir, we are the only class who have derived no benefit from the various salutary measures adopted by the present Admiralty; the only bright spot in our prospect is the hope of obtaining the additional shilling a day, no great boon after forty years' servitude in Her Majesty's Navy, and this when the sand of hie is almost spent, when the health has been watermined by land service, and when the accumulating anxieties and expenses of a large family make even the faitry extra shilling a sum engerly and ardently prayed for.

I ame aware that the question has often been asked, extra shilling a sum engerly and ardently prayed for.

I am, aware that the question has often been asked, What can be done? how is the axil to be remedied? The cannot appoint them to ship, because, generally specifing, their standing would the them First Liventegant's and Captains choose their R abea, we give their Admandores, Ordinares, Grainstin am Burgrant Agencies, Dockyarda, and Hospitals. These and other situations amount to about fifty. And that is to become of all the rest? Might I suggest a pile which would astisfy their wants, remove a load from the Active List; said (as in all human probability they will be long semana, burden to the State) not materially distress every long Hump?—allow every year a certain member of Licuterants, of 30 years attaining, to relier on the rank and half-pay of Commanders; or do away who the six and seven shilling of list altogether, and give every Lieutenant, of 30 years standing, an additional shilling a day, increasing a shilling every tim years. Burely his would be no very great boon for long vervitude, and how would live bird to offor it. I am not a distantified mea; but when I see easily other class receiving some milities to their gar, or some recompense for servingle, I said that there is the Canters who bled when Nelson fall, and still remain Lielerinants, destrict something softing in a still remain Lielerinants, destrict something some milities to their gar, or some recompense for servingle, I said that their which riches in anger, nor experienced the bitter pages of namerical and side the whole still a sign of the side who have never had the good for some lives and a ship fired in anger, nor experienced the bitter pages of namerical has been a thought years "draw in a side that the beauty for a manufacture," draw it is ship which always the width ring and is the beauty ship when the beauty for a ship which a row is made the weath for a side of the side

I don't like to see an abuse in anything, Sugand the Mar. Office would do well to require a return to be made of the times when the Milith Adjutaits, as well as the Serjeants, appeared in their proper places, he I know several head-quarters where not only the Adjutants have also and the transfer of the serjeants and the serjeants of the serjeants. spenning themselves from their Sunday auty for years (beaving it to their Serjeant-Majors), but that Serjeants have been, and are now, permitted to act in other capacifies fully incompletent with their duty as middle's.

A return, nucle on I apeak of, would show how the day of the Militia-Staff is carried on, and for his promanent pay it surely cannot be too much trouble for the Adjurant to appear as he ought on Sundays.

London, Jan. 17. A DRAGOON ADJUTANT.

RELITIOUS INSTRUCTION IN THE ARMY. To the Feller of the Norm and Milliary Genelle.

Sin,—I trust you will allow me space in your valued columns for a few remarks upon the subject of a letter addressed by X., Commercial Traveller, to the Eillior of the Bun, stated Closmal, Des. 27th, 1848, wherein he points out the demoralizing inflicting of our Army, wherever, in these triping times of peace, they may be quartered; and although fully apprachating the generous sympathies and humano feelings which more generally pervade the breasts of British soldiers, I cannot but exisparvace the creats of British soldiers, I cannot but earlieful to the special to the special to the special to the necessity that the cell which calls for them should be removed from among us. In these enlightened times, when, in most of the paths of life, people are participating in the instruming advantages of general Education, but when religious departments are widdle. when religious adwestion, more especially, is so widtly disagninated. I do not consider that the British soldier has the like advantages held out to him with his cotum-poraries in other grades of life. He is (at the most exitted period of his existence) taken from his home and his kindred, and through entirely on his own resources, as far as the direction of his moral conduct is concerned and, at a time when the generous and floxible mind of youth tould be trained to all that is good, in how many date the gentler feelings smathered I even the first admonitions and primary dictates of religion forgotten and neglectell. and the victim falls a pray to the vice which is so abundantly pravailing around him. It is, at this time peculiarly, that the want of religious instruction is felt by our British ranks, though the deficiency is at all times manifest, and how easily night it be obvicted by the employ: ment of a few more Chaplains throughout the Army, and ment of a new more Chaptains throughout the Army, uncon-whose guidance and care, the troops of the several districts snight be placed. To dits one instance of neglect on this point: in a large gerrison in the south of England, there have been during the past year 400 or 500 Presbytschin soldiers, who for mouths lave not attended any public worship or joined in any private devotion. This has been enged by the absence of a minister of the church of Scot-bild, of which they are members, and would not, there-fore, attend any other form of worklip.

Prom this, I would not imply the possibility of neors-sity of providing ministers of all different erects, but with the exception of the Roman Catholic, other creeds which British troops profess do not so widely differ but that a inister of our Established Church would at least afford the means to the men of having those sound truths which the word of God can unfold proched to them, and which otherwise they may, as in the instance cited, be so long without hearing or profitting by.

A few additional possids in the Army Estimates of surely bear no comparison with the good that may arise from the me in it least being provided of promoting religious culture in the Army.

As in all other grades of society, the standard of me railty is progressing, do, pray, let not our brave coun-trymen, whose paths light the tumulty of War, by debarred from the participation of those privileges which their fellow-men enjoy; for, to one who has served in the British rapies, it is impossible to delude himself with the Blea that immorality does not these prevail to a great ex-tent if it is as clear as the moon-day and, and while I cannot but deplore it in the lower ranks, I only sincerely wigh that vitiating examples were less frequent in the upper.

THE COMMISSARIAT.
To the Rillor of the Mubit and Billiary Caselle.
Stu.—Amids! the supplies and protection you afford to every present of the United Service, and I may say every Conserving, Jon. 15.

This hilleria stare.

To the Moore feels substant angles to some the second of the Moore feels substant and the Militia Staff under the Moore feels substant angles to some the second of the Moore feels substant angles to some the more interested to substant angles to some the Militia Staff under the fact of the Moore feels substant angles to some the more interested to substant angles the fact of the Moore feels substant angles to some the more interested to substant angles the fact of the moore into the moore of the substant of pay substant angles the fact of the moore of the substant of pay substant angles the fact of the moore of the substant of pay sub the organisation and duties of the Department, which are very well defined in Harl's Army List; and by way of some home employment I would here suggest that Compileration home employment a would need suggest that Commissurious he oligible for and appointed to the Staff Paymastetships of Choises Pensioners, as a class of Officers well fitted for much duties, from the simple fact of the thousands of pensioners located in the different Colonius who receive their petitions from the Commissional Libers. But we are under a different Buard From whereas these appointments emanate-the Treasury, from which we receive but little ancouragement for a more scalous and active discharge of our duties. Merit, we are told, in the order of promotion out auties. Nivers, we are soles at any orner or promotion in positions to prove their merit? The Senior gets all the credit of his charge, his account passed at a smooth of his charge, his account passed at a time is promoted a he has probably obtained all he can get a his inflations causes with his promotion, er, if not it is exerted in a disease for the Demandment a and nutil we have a head ne more for the Department , and quitl we have a head of our own at the Treasury in London, as is the case with every other branch of the Bervines, the working Commisthey can expect little patronage from the Right Lioneur-able the Lords Chamiltoniers. What do their Lordships know about the Commissioners. Nothing, shadutaly puthing; the whole detail of the service being carried on by what is termed "the Germmissariat Branch of the Trensury "-the Assistant-Secretary to the Board being the organ whose various duties samuet afford him much lime to devote to the resential and extensive service of the Commissariet. Yat, Sir, he it is who directs the energies of so important a branch of the Service - accord to none for its stillty, men of intelligence and education: wheness she acreice of its Officers during the late troubles in Caunda. I mention thin as it happens to have been the last where opportunity offered for their services to-be ered on the Executives, 4 in, the Military Londers, Ace, pur excellence. What did the Commissions gain?—a patry Knighthood for its Chief?

By the way, we here of a large setablishment havings gone to Chius; this looks, will, and I hope one long we shall have a dominimary-in. Chief at the Transury, or also one in India. "What!" excludes the Chil-hile, "a Advance Commissariat in India?" Aye, and probably the discuss at Cabul Might have work a different unpest had there been Quoen's Commissuries with the Army!— However, let this pass. Who is Mr. Travelyan, the Assistant Secretary to the Bound of Frommy? (his predicts for was a Commissional Pilicer,) and what any he, or any other gentleman brought in to fill such an automatous position, trious about the Commissional?—anomalous from the variety of his duties and establish correspondence. He variety of his distinct and estunctes correspondence. He may be a very estimable and a good man of business, and be ably supported by the other gentlemen of "the brimph," but, even as a Civilian, can potasts liftle knowledge of the Officer of the Commidge of the Officer of the Commidge ist or their duties. We ought to have one of our own sentents to direct the detail—of course, without intelligation with the other duties of the Board of Treasury. Pray exert your influence to have not privation long titles curtailed. As we have fank with the Officers of the Lines-mover mind for what purthe Officers of the Line-mover usual for what pur-posses why not style us Lieutenant, Captain, Jand Mojor, ico, or Commissaries?—the latter aggnomen will never desert us; the odiers, from their uncleas length, are often confounded. Why not abolish the word Clerk, and style them Sub-Lieutenant Commissaries, or Gadets? Death vacanties are given in the West Indies : liberal provision! Why are not Treasusy Clerks serving there eligible to fill Why are not Treasusy Clerks serving there eligible to fill these?—for lifetands, when an Assistant dies as Deputy-Assistant is promoted "why not a Clerk to fill the pisse of the latter? Why have we not a Retired Liet? There are many old Officers, particularly smong the Assistantes who are quite until for active service, some of thom not having ground a horse these twenty years, who number more than 30 years' sethal service, who would willingly socept and on years acted service, who wages withingly accept a readonable addition to helf-per. And why have we not additional pay for length of aervice? The man who is promoted to-day receives the same pay as he who has been twenty or thirty years in the rank:—this is not so in any other branch of the Service! Look at the dates in our List 1821 and 1820, dates long since absorbed in every other branch of the Service. Verity, well might in our 4. lat 1821 and 1820, union very other brench of the Service. Verity, well might every other brench of the Service. Verity, well might still it is the Commissaries. You will oblige me with the couragement to the Commissation. You will oblige me by publishing these incubrations, and should you wish to the proposing these accorations, and anomo you wan to be sery improve to indigate you. My only object in referring to places or parties is with a view to produce fair play, as I know in the off either Mr. Trevelyus or Somerset, House — indulging only the desire to see the Department placed in a much better facting in every respect. It appears to me that the Medical Officers have had good cause to rejoice at bring

To Readers and Correspondents.

" Selrac" calle our attention to the many errors in th last Navy Liet, among which are the names of F. S. Hamilton, Major, Supernumerary Capt., Rl. Merines. F. J. White, Supernumerary Lieutenant, Royal Marines-as Ofwars of the Carnwallis; although the were dispharged from that ship in December, 1842, and have been nearly fine months in England.

Naval Architecture .- Our columns are open, withou fuvour, to Mesers. Edye, Chatfield, and Co., for their opinions upon the Report of the Committee appointed to inquire into the science of Naval Architecture; and thence establishing principles of construction and form which are deemed unerring. To Great Britain, more espeare deemed unerring. To Great Britain, more cop cially, the subject lif shipbuilding is of too great impo-to allow of any axioms taking root without most make consideration. It is true the Committee have dedicated five yeurs to their investigation and practical experiment. It is true the Committee have dedicat and they are, moreover, philosophers, and, as such, no likely to suffer themselves to be lightly led away by fa ciful theories; yet, itill, suitors require to be conv that a departure from long-existing systems is founded upon undeviating principles of improvement.

"K. [1." inquires—" What age must a person be before he sells out of the Army; that is to say, can an Officer retire from the Service ofter he has arrived at his The Regulation is, that Officers shall unt 60th wear 9 be permitted to sell out after they have passed the age of Go years: but this, as well as every other rule, is as sionally denurted from.

To "A Coustant Reader."—We have not heard of change "reported" in the dress of the Infantry of the !! ine.

To " A Subscriber;" Commissions in the Army ere ary celdom granted to candidutes who have passed the e of 20 years. The Coloneloies.—The Gazette of last evening confirm: der exclusive announcement a month since, vin., in our Paper of the 23d Dec., p. 803, of the appointment of the Adjulant-General, Lieut.-General Sir John Masse to the Coloneloy of the 424 Ml. Highlanders. Is will be eeen that the Colonelvice of the 67th and 80th Regiments have also been filled up; but the 80th has not yet been disposed of.

To "T."—The panket was desputched this day. The Buck Numbers and Volumes of the N. and M. Gazette can be had only at the Office in Catherine-street Strand. The volumes for the years 1837, 1888, 1839, 1840, 1841, 1842, and 1843, 1t. 17c. 6t. such, half-bound land may obtain this Paper from Mr. Yates, Library, Grafton-street, Dublin.

Nabal & Affilitary Gazette.

SATURDAY, MANUARY, 20, 1844.

WE are not of those who think that the dangerous crisis in the agitation-fever of Ireland has passed away. The late notice issued for a return of all who attended the great monater-meetings, and who reside near Dublin, appears to us a fresh scheme for curolling Repeal forces and, under the name of witnesses, to muster an Army, and intimidate the Judges and Jury as well as the Government. We have still fears that nothing short of the "ultime ratio" can put down this frentic demand for the separation of Ireland from England. If the Repeal of the Union were granted, separation must be the cousequence; and therefore, the real sud and aim of the Repeal agitation is clouked under the domand for a Repeal of the Union; but separation is the cause in which the Celts are yelling to fight the Sazons, and scarcely restrained from Rebellion by the adjurations of O'Connell, who too well knows that now is not the time. He, right craftily, only exhorts peace in Irrland till England be at warthen, then, he tells his admiring Columnian is the time to smite the Saxons.

We feel fully convinced that nothing but a strong and skilful occupation of Ireland by a large and well-organised Army can secure the Union of the countries, till a wise and beneficent Government our remedy the real evils and grievenous of Ireland-till, with the remedy of grievances, comes a little common sense, instead of a mad enthusiasm, among the people-and till they can see (for now they are blind to the fact) that the proportion of hidge is the greater, nationally, to Ireland than to England from the Union. It is the union of extreme wealth she new possesses-ruin her rishng tradeleave her a prey to internal feuds, Irish jobbing, a corrapt Perliament, and foreign intrigue.

How, then, can Ireland be occupied by a sufficient force, when, before this fresh demand, the British Army was found quite inadequate to provide even for the small number of men in the United Kingdom and the relief of corps in India and the Colonies? We must either have a large increase of the rank and file in every regiment, or we must suspend the sellefs of regiments in India and elsewhere. This is a hard alternative; for it ought not to be forgotten that there is the 55th in China, which left England in 1821, and there are the 3d, 13th, and 40th in India, which have been abtual more than twenty years, We, therefore, hope that in the present state of the country the estimates may include a very considerable increase of force. The Army is on a miserably low establishment of rank and file-used we have on more than one occasion invited attention to the fact, that the Infantry corps, on an establishment of 800 men, do not turn out in line on att average more than 600 strong. We hope to see every Infantry Regiment augmented to an establishment of 1000 men. The companies ought to be 100 men each, whereas now they can seldom parade sixty men fit for duty. The bands, &cc., &cc., &cc. of a regiment ought not to be included in the 800 rank and file. These men should be accounted for as the Drummers are, separately, for they are recognized as distinct, and the Government stops the Officers' pay for their support. If we are to have the regiments 800 rank and file on parade, the esta-Mishment must be anymented in every corps to 1000 men.

Preparations are made in Dublin for the reception of a considerable force, should it be requisite to strengthen the garchon at any time during the state trials.

By an unaccountable oversight we announced the issue of the New Naval Regulations as "Naval Instructions." The Instructions, however, are not yet issued, and it is to these we must look for the removal or annulling of certain objectionable clauses, which we have since discovered in the Regulations. The sing her errived for a more en-lightened order of things. Wavy has long ground under the weight of old one time and prejudious, many of which are happily destroyed by the new mode of classification. By the Old Regulations the rank of Parsers, Surgeons, Chapitins, &c., wavnot defined. The introduction of Civil rank, however, settler this point settlefactorily RELATIVE RANG OF UPFIGHTS SPOTES HAVE AND ARMY. Admirals of the fleet—with Field Marabals.

Admirals of the Steet—with Field Marshale, Admirals—with Generals.
Vice Admirals—with Lioutengot-Generals.
Ress-Admirals—with Major-Generals.
Commodores of the Virst class, Commodores of the Sectod lass, and Director-General of the Medical Department of the Navy-with Brigadier Generals.

Navy-with Brigadier Generals.
Captains after three years from the dates of their first commissions as Captains—with Colonels.
All other Captains, Medical Inspectors of Homelak and Fleets—with Lieutenant-Colonels.
Commanders, Scoretaries to Fing Officers Commanding in Chief, and Deputy Medical inspectors of Homelast and Fleets—with Majors.

with Majors.
Lieutenants, Masters of Fiest, Masters, Chaptens, Secretables to Junior Fiest Officers and Commodures of First dates, Secretables to Junior Fiest Officers and Paresrs—with Capteins.

Mates and Assettant Surgeous—with Electronic Master and Mashiphan—with Electronic Master and acerus from their store allowance mornly parties sion now is, that the "Instructions" to be forthwith issued will confirm this allowance to these is all cases where there is a bend side charge. The New "Begulations," however, distinctly negative our dress management of for at Chap, x., Art. 12, we find the following:—
"Masters who may have thurge of Basicwalus" and Carpenters' stores in the absence of the Officers, or in this in which no such Officers are alterned to be borne, thall, in consideration of the increased charge and ditty given to them, receive, in addition to their full pay, the allowance mentioned in the Table of Pag. Co. de. Nothing can be more uncatificatory than this clause as Nothing can pe more sussessment of the forthposing the patient it stands. Manters in the forthposing the patient Celtie poverty with vist Saxon wealth; and the Republic should either be released entirely from the respecting stores when the Warraht Official are on board, or they should have the same charge as they formerly had, and the amount of remuneration granted by the Order in Coupell of 1826. We have no doubt that many Musters would prefer the former alternative. But to make a formal notation in reference to a Master's emoluments in the Table of Sea-pay, and fritter away the substance of it by the Article shove queted, is a singular way of attending to the claims of these important Officers.

We mentioned the New Regulations in our last as an "important adjustment of Naval claims." A more minute inspection of them, however, compais the statement that the adjustment is anything but equitable, especially as regards Masters. The only real advantages to them are the increase to their widows' pensions, and equal pay to the Lieutenante in sloops, &c.

By the New Regulations, the Master of the Fleet during the time of holding such appointment, is to rank with instead of after Linutenants; so he is still liable to receive the orders of a beardless Lieutement (unless he is allowed to take rank according to his seniority as a Master, which is not distinctly stated but rather denied) and the Master, though a Commissioned and Military Officer, will have to undergo, as before, the same mortifications as heretofore. Justice and common sense forbid this cruel and unwise restriction in the Navy of England. Contentment cannot be looked for while it is retained in the Naval code, or will be looked for in vain. Masters will, without doubt, be found, for Her Majesty's ships, and in abundance too; but they will want bearts to proceed, and many of those who possess talents well fitted for the discharge of the important duties of their situation, will avail themselves of the sarliest possible opportunity of retiring to obscurity, and it may be comparative penury, rather than submit to the parelysing effects of this regulation.

The Master of the Fleet should be second only to the Commander. The Master should, according to the date of his Commission, rank as a Lieutenant-be eligible to promotion the same as a Lieutenant-have charge of stores or not as may be decided upon-but to have the allowance (stipulated for in a contingency that does not occur for six months to a Master in a large ship during a lifetime), if he has, and no charge without it.

These points we have long contended for, and shall continue to contend for, simply because we hold their concession to be essential to the well-being of the British

We have been, though his erro almost silent, not inattentive to the poculiar case of disutement Munro. The Civil power having falled in bringing this gentleman to trial, it is very unfairly urged against the Military Authorities that they should by pains aid penalties cause him to deliver himself up to be tried. Now, the Military leave granted to Mr. Munro was what has been usually granted to Officers who have been in a miliar difficulties. There is no wish to acreen from justice but there is also no wish to ruin the Officer who has been unfortunate. In the case, no wish to acreen from justice but there is also no wish to ruin the Officer who has been unfortunate. In the case, also, of Officers who have been arrested for debt, it has been customary to grant them save—thus letting the Civil power take its course, but no adding a Military penalty. During the leave granted to Mr. Munro, the Civil power and full opportunity to set a point him, as against any other individual. That it did not do not be not the fault of those at Horse, Guards. Recity, the key that is raised about the non-interference of the Military Authorities is absurd; and yet, how much he let had been the cay, if, by any chance, the Military power had in this case interfered with the Civil. We may the Civil, not the Military power was bound to catch and try Mr. Munro.

Tax promotion in the 17th Regiment in succession the Captala appointed Paymaster, to which we recently adverted, has led to a more general consideration of the principle ment which prombtion without purchase has been regional to late. The effect of the application of this principal to hear to refrequency greatetion without purchase almost to nothing.

There appears to agist a desire to discourage the admission of non-purebasing Officers in favour of wealthier men-to Officer the Army, in fact, entirely from the monied classes. Probably the view is thereby to make it the more certain instrument of Covernment for the preservation of good order, and the maintenance of the legal course of things and the stability of the Constitution. It is desicable that the Army should be such an obedient instrument; this every loyal subject will admit. The question is, whether the agutem of Officer ing the Army entirely from the monied clauses is the most likely means of attaining that end? It is argued that an Army Officered by nien who have comething to lose—who have what is called a "stake in the tountry?"—will be more obedient to the lightimate Government than one principally Officered by oldiers of forume, or men who have nothing but their avords. This is a point to decide which we must refer to what has already happened. in the world-we must go badd to history.

In France, under the ancies regime, none but Nobles were intrusted with commissions in the Army. By the regulations of 1781, one hundred years of nobility was made the essential qualification. How did the troops so Officered behave when the existence of the Government and even of their Sovereign depended upon their fidelity? In what degree did this restriction necure in the day of need the fuithful services of the troops, even those of the Royal Household? In the very earliest movements of the Revolution, the French Guards went over to the rebels, the soldiers traternised with the mob; and in the attack upon the Bastile, the assault was led by suldiers of the French Guards, and the cannon used by the insurgents on that occasion were pointed by these trattorous deserters. Compare the conduct of these men with that of the French Guard in 1830, which was formed from the old Imperial Guard, and the Officers of which were mixed, some of whom had earned their rank under the Empire, and when the former qualification of the hundred years of nobility had been forgotten. Without doubt, among the Officers of the French Guard in 1830, were many of the members of the noblest families in France, but they were mixed with many men who had served with distinction in the war, and who owed their rank to their services in the field, instead of mere family influence.

It may well be a question whether Differs who expect from interest or money to pass rapidly to high rankwho deem it a condescension to perform subaltern duties,—are ever likely to have that influence among their men, to possess that degree of estpem which is essential to giving a control upon the mind and action of the inferior soldier, which it is so desirable the Officer should possess, and without which be in useless tas a leader when the day of need arrives. By making money the sole qualification for promotion in the Army, matters are not put on a better-nay, perhaps not so said footing, as by the old French regulation of requiring the hundred years of nobility. The money qualification drives from the Army into other professions hundards of gentlemen of as good blood, of perhaps better education, of as loyal disposition, and of as much talent and seal as those preferred solely for their wealth. It dues be evident to every old Officer in the Army fow much liberalism has increased since purchase by been made the almost exclusive means of promotios. Nothing can almost exclusive means of promotion. Nothing can be more apparent than the increased freedom of expression in reference to the Institutions of the country, from the Sovereign inclusive, compared with what would have been tolerated by the Officers themselves at the close of the war, The conservative tone of the Army has been very considerably abated since the great increase of purchase promotions; and the soldier gervante attending at the meso-tables hear and carry to unanterest of their comrades, senti-the edification and amusement of their comrades, senti-ments and conseents upon political to less such as they mess-tables hear and sarry to their barrack-rooms, for omtades, sentiby others in the presence of Officer wone five-and-tweety Larie stor

Formerly, an Officer had, of course, his liking and dirliking for particular stations, as at present; but soldiers were not accustomed to hear their Officers say, if it were rumoured that the regiment was destined for Jamaian, or Barbadoes, or the East Indies, "Oh, I wen't go; I'll be d-d if I wouldn't well first. I didn't give £3000 for my company to be gaten by land-crabs or reasted in India." Most probably the gentleman has no more serious intention of selling or of refusing to embark then be has of the other alternative he has left himself, viz., being d-d; the whole may be but a flourish to simulate an independence of action which he never intended to practice; but the effect of such spirited shullitions, taisunderstood by those under them in being taken literally, must be precisely contrary to that which the authorities contemplated when it was determined to replace the nonpurchasing Officers by purchasels. Many an old war Officer has been worried and disgusted into premature retirement by constant supercession and hopolesaness of promotion, who in fitness for command, in talent, educa tion, and in loyalty to his Sovereign, has felt himself at least fully the equal, if in every point not infinitely superior, to the Officer of yesterday, for whose advances be bas been pushed saids.

There is no doubt of the fact that the general leaning of the Officers of the Army is Conservative: but if a classification were made, it would be found that the nonpurchasers are almost exclusively so, while the Liberals, though few, are increasing, and are almost as exclusively of the now favoured purchasers. English gentlement whatever their political leaning, are not slaven; nor is the most staunch Conservative, or Tory, less independent in mind than the more noisy and freely-spoken Liberal; but gentiemen who feel themselves attached permanently to the Military profession, will from conviction and the necessary order of things, possess that sense of what is due from the leader of soldiers in the way of example to those he has to lead, which, whatever the doctrines he had been reared in, will give him a Conservative tendency which the more wealthy and temporary Officer cares not

Another Another than a substantial than the photosing sys-tem not very consistent with what we see every day, nor very complimentary to the gentry and young nobility of England, namely, that by this means a higher class of society furnishes the Officers of the Army than would be the case if purchase were not allowed. Thus, they say, the gentlementy tone of the society of the mess-table is maintained. We may take are the gentry of England not as warlike us the same classes of Russia, of Prussia, of Austria, where no purchase exists t are they not as ready to adopt the profession of arms? We daily see the best, because practical, answer to this so-claimed merit in the Officers of the Artillery, Engineers, the Royal Navy, the Marines, the Service of the East India Company, labouring even as it does under the dissulvantage of not being in the immediate compley of the Crown. Are the gentlemen serving in these corps of less honourable conduct, of inferior birth, less educated, less loyal, less talented? On the contrary, do we notice among the purchasing Officers of the Line, men whose education hardly amounts to perfect reading and writing, and whose slender capacity is hardly equal to the dominand of a company in the drill of the battalion? Nayare there not blockheeds unable to pess the examination requisits on entering any of these corps, deemed fully mainted for the Line on paying 4501., the purchase-money of an Ensigney? Are there not gentlemen by handreds antique to put their sons into these corps ? Persaps the least desirable of these sergioes may be the Boyal Marines, on account of the re-curring ship, service in the irksome position of a soldier at sea; but inspect the list of candidates for that corps, ire there not son of gentlemen to be found there? It is a libel on the founger sobility and gentry of England to say that they would not enter the Military Sorvice of leant against promotion without purchase.

this country, unfeed british by, an unfair and partial syntain promotion. Many, doubties, who now would draw more Conservative, and to seems it through the life large, these temporary Officers, who merely lifesence of its Officers, it is not likely to be attained.

adopt the profession to find occupation for the years between leaving school and matrimony, might not choose to give their valuable services; but none who felt a desire for a soldier's life would be deterred because meris rather than money had become the qualification. And is it likely that the inferior spidier should feel any attachment for, or be influenced by, Officers who openly declare their intention—as the temporary Officers do Int. quently-of leaving him on the first intimation that the Service is likely to be attended with danger or risk?

The late Military Commission would not listen to the cialms of the non-purchasing Officels. The object of the Commission seemed to be to make purchase the sole means of promotion in the Army. The retirement of Field Officers upon full-pay in the Ordinace Corps and in the Merines was not to interfere with their advancement by the general Brevets; but in the Line, for fear of too many being induced to accept of the full-pay retirement, and so making promotion without purchase, this privilege of further promotion was denied. Again, Lieutenant-Colonels of long standing were induced to go out upon half-pay by an allowance of 100% per annum, the vacancy being generally filled by a Lieutenant-Colonel from half-pay who would sell; so probably advancing one of the favoured class, but never in any instance is such removal to give promotion without parchase, . It was proposed by some of the few who stirred in the matter when the Commission was sitting, that for every three general Officers who died, there should be one Colonel, the senior serving either regimentally or on the Stuff, promoted to the mank of Major-General, and that the vacancy so made should be filled without purchase. This would have been a small boon to have granted, but it was refused. It would, with the present unattached promotion, have afforded some chance to Officers to advance in the Service, without the necessity of purchasing every step ; but, lest it, should injure the monied classes in their exclusive possession of the senior grades of the Army, it was refused.

By the present system, Colonels are tempted to go upon half-pay, and to gemain there until they become Seneral Officers. Are these men more fit, then, for dentoyment then they would have been bud they been encouraged to remain in the active performance of the duties of their profession, in the actual command and management of Officers and soldiers? But the advantage of the monied class rather than the mere advantage of the Service was considered. It is perfectly about to say that professional merit, or ability, or assidulty in the acquirement of Military information can benefit an Officer in the British Service; the sole consideration is-har he the money ? Inowever great a dunce, the senior for purchase is sure of promotion, and however his grant of supacity bars his acquirement of professional information, it binders not his promotion while he can pay the price of his commissions. A great many of the wealthy Offcers of the Service are forced into the Army by their friends; they only-look forward to the moment when they may emancipate themselves from a life of restraint which they dislike. This class it cannot be expected can ever become good Officers. The Commissioners seem to have fancied that good and loyal Officers, gentlemen by birth and education, zealous honourable men, and fit to be entrusted with the command of her Majesty's soldiers. were not to be found except among the wealthy. The Commissioners were all of that class themselves were all purchasers, and they sertainly took good care of their own order; they not only neglected, but showed by their expressed contempt for the sentiments of the beautiful letter of Lord Barrington which they incerted for their Blue-book, an active hostility to the Officers of the " con-purchasing class.

In the foregoing remarks we have endeavoured to show, Int. That the policy of the Authorities for some time has for, taken exclusively from the wealthy, they would not be of a class to become attached to their men, which is an essential preliminary to the men becoming attached to their Officers;—auch Officers do ret submit to the annoyances and inconveniences incident to Military life with the same readiness and submission as may be expected from the gentleman of less independent property, who is bound to his profession; and impatience on the part of the Officer is certain of producing injurious effects upon his subordinates.

3dly. That it is desirable to encourage the less wealthy gentry to contiflue to put their sons into the Army, which can only be done by permitting these young men to have some chance of reaching the higher grades,—the present tendency of the policy of the Authorities being to make it improbable that all Officer, except by purchase, shall pass the rank of Captain.

So far apon public grounds. To descend to private interests :-- It is a manifest injustice to a large portion of the non-purchasing Officers of the Army, who are the sons and grandsons of old Officers, that they should be debarred from all promotion. The Army is a mongespending rather than a money-making profession. Any sufall younger non's portion which an Officer may bring with him into the Army, is pratty well expended before his grandson comes to bear the Quean's commission most probably it is all expended in preventing his own supercrusion by juniors, in the purchase of his commissious before it comes to his son's fine to serve. Had this old Officer entered any other profession but the Army, his son might look for a computency to start him in the world; but having been a soldier spending instead of making money, the old gentleman has nothing to give or to leave lilm. Is the youth been in the Service reared, it may be said, among soldiers, with the sound o the fleun constantly in his ear—whose fleet winds are Military terms—is such a man not likely to make a good Officer, a valueble soldier—loyal to the Sovereign, the atmay supporter of good order man his law of the land? The tensure of the present system from aloss against him tray change of that promotion which he has been taught to desire from the surface infancy, the sale object of his aret hopes; in face to drive him from the Service.

But the interest of such man giver entered into the consideration of the Military Commission; they could not like Lord flarrington in the letter already siluded to, consider the case of those " men who come into the Army with the warmest disposition to the Service, whose business becomes their pleasure—who distinguish themselves on every occasion that offers (" but who " are kept all their lives in the lowest ranks, because they are poor."

If the promotion to the rank of Major-General, as above suggested, were permitted—if forty Lieutenant-Colonels were allowed retired full-pay instead of twenty, and ex the footing of those of the Ordnance Corps and the Marina—these modifications, with the present Unattached promotion for every three deaths on the half-pay list, would give to the non-pussioning Officer some chance of ultimate advancement, and without much intrenchment on the monagoly of the wealthy.

A propos des battes. There is an Improvement in the Cours to be issued to the Army this year, which merita some notice from us. This consists in doing away with the long cross being up in front. The boots now are pulled on-being Blucher boots, and only laced in two or three holes to close the flips. The other improvement is in the heef, which is now hooped with fron instead of being short, and in the general shorts of the boots, which cannot fall to be much approved of by the soldiers generally. These may be trifles apparently, but of real importance. Old Marshal Saxe says, " the art of war lies in a soldier's legs; 's and if so, it is of no small importance to have the feet well fittid with an easy and diffable pair of boots. Victories derind on marches at mich as on fighting, and wherefore, then, should we only, land our change from flintlocks the fletonators, and not command an improdement in boots

We have seen a letter from a gentleman at Macao, deted in October lest, which states that Sir Henry Pottinger expected to leave China in March, and to reach England in May or the beginning of June next. Lord Aberdeen will find it ho saxy matter to fill Sir Henry's place, though he can readily appoint to it. A Governor of Hong Kong can be had, we doubt not p but the able Diplomatist and uncompromising Plenipotentiary cannot, it would seem, he discovered among the red-tape-folk of the Foreign Office.

We have seen letters from Aden, S. Arabia, which came by the last Mail. They give a cheering account of the general salubrity of the place, of our increased interdourse with the Arab Shiels, of their willingness to trade with us, and of a graving conviction that we only needed good-falth on their post to remain at peace with them.

Ir is said that the secreting in Ireland has fallen off of late, but our inquiries do not bear out the assertion. We have observed that the most successful parties in Ireland are those from regiment serving in India, and the large aumber of Irish recruits that embarked last year for India; and those now at Chatham, condras the remark. This may arise from two causes—a possible dislike at this jupoture in Commanding Officers of regiments at home to enlist men who must have had constant intercourse of late with the Repealers—and, possibly, a desire on the part of the recruits to enter regiments where they are not appeared liable to appear their countrymen and relations. We think no wiser measure could be adopted at present than to limit recruiting it freland—except in the north of Ireland—to those committee are serving in India and Australia. This may appear an illiberal estimate of the loyalty of the requirit jut, it is not so. In the present orisis we would profer much to enlist in England to the fullest extent. We have paying confidence in the disciplined Irish soldiers, but my sening expect that the recruits oun in a day forget what they have been hearing for the last page. We sterefue say, Enlist, but enlist fields.

for the last page. We meretone say, manus, our enterjudiciously, and with a wise to Frome and Rogago offidiagor.

We have been incrementally dispension not subjected covaintly—for we have long a need to explict good to onemate from such a source—but dispension expectively with an atticle in the "Edinburch Review" (No. 159), the writer of which endeavours with such ingenuity as he can muster, backed by a far deater share of assumance and disregard for truth, to project the attituous factory system a thing highly to be prized and encouraged muster, manuscrepurers the must beneated of beings—thus werespecial the happinest of the lipsethus werespecial to happinest the lipboneing class; and the like.

Incorporates of this object be reveale, first, with analysing effective; the day the cile stated to exist in the cutton factories; and, in the fact place, to set forth and subject enternity) to represent as till greater than those and subject enternity) to represent as till greater than those and subject enternity, the miseries of other classes of the abbourging pupulation; endeavouringly the abifining the greater load of objects; to screen his position favouries—the to those obothers, to screen his position favouries—the mushroom princes of Manchenter; is if the horrors and more mushroom princes of Manchenter; is if the horrors and more entry excass to considere for a horrors and snow were any excass to considere for a horrors and snow mities of cotton-mills—but they more to horrors and snow mittee of cotton-mills—but they more to horrors and snow religion, or even morality, is somether to military kind of religion, or even morality, is somether as military were solved in the behind the factories and reason while the military of the limitation auditors are regarded by the military of the limitation confidence nearesty to be problem to confidence nearesty to be problem to be considered in factories were after more falled in a section played in factories were after more falled by a reason that there was no reason to believe that there was no reason to believe the these three interests the report (new lowers of the same classific.)

Attitude the support of the same classific.

garded by those three persons, we have the testimony of simost all the medical men examined—most of them of the highest character—as well as that of several Military men employed on the recruiting service, to the fact of the lamentable physical degeneracy of this nuhappy class of persons—a degeneracy, moreover, which no person of common series could doubt must prevail; whilst nearly all the witnesses not interested in the perpetuity of the system depose to the still more spreitle degeneracy of morals, and this too exclusive of a fermer inquity some twenty years previously!

twenty years previously?

As a further specific instance of the resolute contempt for candour artificed by the Edinburgh Basiswar, he exhitingly contrasts with a comparative meditarement of the height of children employed in farming and colliery work (highly favourable to the stature of the foreier), a similar comparison between factory and non-factory diffidien, between whom but a slight difference in this respect was discoverable—diantity suppressing the fact that, in the latter case, the comparison was only between children alike the inflabitant of the same great towns and slike employed in the comparison work, in modes differing but little in their unfavourable effect upon the growth? Such measurements would have been much more to the purpose in every way if made between grown persons to the distribution of the weavers would have been far more apparent.

But the remedies—the remedies. Here, indeed, we have "a Daniel come to judgment!" Here, indeed, we have "a Daniel come to judgment!" Here, indeed, we have "to Daniel come to judgment!" The remedies for evile, directly and indirectly or sing from unbridled luxury and a stavish worshipping of commerce, are to be free trads—a still lower bowing of the knee to Mammon, and extended advention to the working people "—an education which—although the Reviewer tomics " that the unitivation of religious feelings, the applicant of religious truth, and the inculation of moral and social duties, must form a large, perhaps the largest (!) portion of its objects "—is mainly to consist in political economy! Yes, Resser, if you donot his, tain a page 155 of the Review,—political enoughth exiles the political enoughth exiles the political individual and the industrious, and retains and multiplies the pupy, the cowardly, the vicious, and the slothful—is not loss sight of.

Truly, the national happiness, the national vigeur (individually considered), and the national morals, are in an awfal state of description. The days of the Thirty Tyrants—or, parhaps, some Three Hundred—appear revived in the observance and bloated capitalists; and chief of these the Millioerats—more opposedive, though less daring two, then the most arbitrary flavious of the days of the Plantagenets; of whom, latered, the open of the Thirty Talks seem but to have been the types I For although the Colliberes—afthough the Millioners shops—afthough the Colliberes—afthough the Millioners shops—afthough the Solven-factories produce the greatest variety of will, and evil too that is inevitable as long as the system axists. For the labour in Colliberes, for instance though wholly unfit for women and shildren, might had a variety and under the most unfavourable circumstances, the sweets of brutality, pertainly. With respect to the Millioners girls, they are employed in a manifest suitable in chair say; the excess of the labour regional, and their say; the excess of the labour regional, and had a say artificial set, with as little of a state of the factor points are an artificial set, with as little of a state of the factor points, and their habits correspond. The labour, the many laters are an artificial set, with as little of a state of age, render it almost equally implement to the factor and age, render it almost equally implements.

The state of the s

much were then unless distinguishes nearly all of this class who have rectified instruction; feebleness of body, e, distinguishes nearly all of this restlessness of mind discontent, sit disaffection, will be inevitably entailed upon the whole body of them from generation to generation. A race they are, in a work, wretched and dispersus in prace, and fan a had been determined and dispersus in prace, and fan a had been determined.

generation to generation. A race they are, in a work, wretched and desperous in prace, and translationally uncerticeable in large and translationally uncerticeable in large and translationally.

The Court.—Her Mejerty reterned to Windsor Castle from Chromost on Teenday. According to present arthrogoments, filer Mejerty (who will open the charting setting of Parliament in person on the first proximo) will take her departure from Windsor Castle, for Bucking ham Paiace, on Turnday or Wednesday, the 30th or 31st irst. It is fully expected that the stay of the Sovereign in town will not extend beyond a week or test days, when the Court will return to Windsor, and remain at the Castle till a somewhat advanced period of the spring, most probably quali the middle of April. the spring, most probably quil the middle of April.

The Duchess of Combridge, accompanied by the Prin cess Mary, left Plankfolt on the 11th Inst.; crebarfed at Calais for Pover on Tuesday the 18th, and actived at Kew the mine evening.

We understand that in the House of Common Viscount Clive, the Member for North Shropshire, will more the address in situaer to Fier Majorty's speech and Mr. Cardwell, Member for Civiliroe; will be the

Sir Augustus D'Este.-We have secertained from the very best authority, and we are extremely hispiry to hear, that no opposition will be offered to his application for being allowed to take the title of his late father, 11/18 Royal Highness the Duke of Sussex, and that Her Mejenty expressed a desire that the question should be settled as speedily as possible.—Age and Argus.

Departure of the Duo de Bordeaux.—After the visit of his Royal Highness to Woodwich on the 17th, he was about to continue his tour, when lefters stached him from Germany, announcing the severe indisposition of the Duc d'Augenteme, whom the Prince has always looked upon as a father. His Royal Highness immediately desirable than the standard the second of the second devided upon abandobling his four itt England, afict ein emborfeling for Untend, on his way to Gories, which lie hopes to reach in a few days.

Sir Menry Pollinger.—Mr. Plavis, who formerly acted for a whole time as allicerain to the late Lord Nopies, or China, has been pricited by the Covernment to relieve Sir Henry Pottinger as the Quach's Representative and Governor of the new Artisticularly, Many Kong. Mr. Davis will Separt very shiraly on his lighly important mestion by the overland rains.—Eng. Paper.

important manifold by the overland rainte.—Eng. Paper.
Dard Lymphol.—The Historica Stablemen was more cofebrated for the doings than his mixings. Of the latter, however, one uttered in the battle field will long live in Military history... Spare your powder, my lads, but give them plenty of steel." Another at the festive board, although will known to most of our local readers, we believe him not yet appeared in print. It was on the occasion of the sistertainment given here, on his raterial from the Penturula, by the trailes of Porth; and, in the course of the evening, when the good cheer had begun to remove the restraint which the ratik and laune of the distingfished guest had at first imposed on his enterteiners—the tieseon of the Fleshers, getting familiar with the gallant Lord, ventured to sak in his most boasing manner. "Come; tibe, General, hoo many most may to has kill wi your sid hand?" "Ah, Dekkon," was the teld reply, "I have never shed so much blood to my life you! ""Pith Courier.

The Micquest of Hastings, one of those Martigus Nobles whose virtues contribute so turnelly to the splied does of their ligh escate, expited in Skrurdny eventure last, at Sighthachiron, diver an illness of three works' duration. It's landship's wisledy was irregular foul, accompanied by steak production of drength; but the immediate cause of death was a spassopide affection of the heart. The Marquess was the representative and lines descendant of a long life of nobles, that y of shoon have played a couplershous pier in the linity of this country. Notification of the Landship's varied siquirements, coupled with abilities of the highest defer, he refrained from taking any leading part, in politics, The Musquest of Hastings, one of those Huntri quirements, coupled with abilities of the lightest owner, he refrained from taking any leading part, is politics, but resided principally in famili princer grandest on his domains, dispensing the appendix dispirations to a "light circle of friends mid relativite, by allows he was beloved, addired, and chappendid. Bound few years plac, however, his landship was grapped fries his successful halls, and was competed to abstract his indicated to abstract the his public is staffance of his district has a date forme had been blighted. was compelled to shiftste himself before the public la defence of his states; whose fair fame had been blighted by the feat breath of slander. We have no define to the up the "tavelled aloose if one," or to before to the up the "tavelled aloose if one," or to before the other ments of the tomb which his blood file was a walled not been another and unfortunate lady Plain Haid and haid we distort her make hand with the public for their movements for their mercey while "they could be the make haid they will have a public they will done it distort by files and alabeled the states and the conduct of the Marques of Manuage on this fencial consists was such the made the world regret that his country was deprived of his services. The dignity and attalghtforward maniferent cited by his Lardship throughout the whole of these shoulding his Lardship throughout the whole of these sheeting proceedings were well worthy of his high lineage and success despend to deplote the exert which dragged fairly the mobie qualities displayed by the adule trother of the intermeterments Lady Kiora Hawings.

Captain Newson, R.N., of Lockington-house, whilst riding between Dorlock and Minchesed, was thrown from his horse on Saturday evening, and was saveigly out and braised. Captain Newton was carried to the Pasthers hotel, at Minchesed, and we are happy to find that he is non-pronounced to be out of danger.

The Military Rulphia of Window.—Windsor, Monday.—The funeral of the late Capt. Perceptionsh sook day.—The funeral of the late Capt. Ferrificusts took place this day at the new extraorder, at 2t. George's Chapel, with Military housers. The procession left the Governor's Tower between 12 and 1 s'clock; in the followtioversur's lower between 12 and 1 s close; in use concur-ing order :—The firing party, consisting of 3D privates and four Serjeants of the Grandler Courds, in garriets at Windsor, commanded by Capt. Lamberty spe band of the Grenadier Guards performing the Load March in Sour; the collin, upon which were planed the believe, exceed, are of the deceased Knight, the pull being borne by the Mili-tary Knights; the relative and medical attendants of the deceased Knight followed as enourners. His forces Eigunete Prince Edward of Sane Weimer, Lieut. Brucet, Lieut Lascellen, and Col. Stathope, Grounder Guards and the Naval and Military Knights in residence at Windsor, also followed the corpse to the grave. Tulety privates of the Granadise Querils and three Serjounts brought up the rose. The funeral procession satered St. George's Chapel by the western door, proposiding up the nave to the choir, where the first purion of the burish service was performed by the Rev. Lord W. Russell, the canon in residence. At its conclusion the coffin was taken to the vault through the northern entrande to the chapel and deposited in the newly-gonstructed catacologs at the north-east end of the sapral edifice. Three voltics were then descharged by the firing party over the remains of the deceased, and the fehreal worldge left the ground.

Captain Moore, lase of the 67th Poot, who received the appointment of a Military Enight of Winker, upon the death of Capt. J. J. Quinning, in June 1866, but been appointed to the Cuvernovally, in the room of the late Capt. Fernyhough. The new Hoverner being the Junior Knight, this appointment has been the cause of surprise.

Royal Negal Menevalue Scapey.—On Minday the quarterly general courts of the government of the charity, cambined in 1791, and other personner of Lord Nelson, for the refer of the widows and families of Officers of the Royal Navy, was held at the Thatched House Tuvern, in St. Jumen's attent, Capt. Feads, R.N., in the chair, supported by Community Houghton, Marshall and Bugue; Lieuts. Caser; Bedford, and Knevett; Dr. Rowlands, Impresse of Specia and hospitals, and other Officers of Her Majoniy's Bray. Commander Dickson, the secretary, reported that the ford number of Officers who had joined the society during the past year had been 90, while those who had sither died or citizerawn had 90, while those who had sithly died by eith rawn had appointed to 60. The total bilance in the light of the ociety, after the management of the which 300t, would be discussed in granutics if the amounted to 60. The total bilance in the total of the society, after the modified anterman with Table 10 using 300%, who the modified anterman in grantice is, the present meeting. The could be present meeting. The could be seen the light to import the decease of their distinguished Vice-President, Admiral Sir Graham Moore, G.C. M. and to simbones the cleation of the daughter of Capt. Nat., R.N., on to she funds of the adult original institution. The report juming been received and active in the wall in reviving the revenue of the charmy, and allow the outpout secuntaries. Thanks were likewise vident to Earl Manvers, for his liberal lanelactions to the darity. A resolution was then passed to the effect that Admiral Sir Willoughby Lake be requested to specify he offlow of Vice-President then passed to the effect that Admiral for Willoughby Lake be requested to accept the office of Vice-President of the society. The court elen proceeded to consider the claims of 80 applicants, and to apportion amongst them the 500L at their disposal. Upon the list of new cases brought before their motion, was the case of the orphan family of Capt. Tuelder, who perished in the ship Relieuse, on her young from the coast of Africa, and wifflet endemousings at the risk of the some life, to save that of a merchant Midstepann. The court then adjourned, after a vote of the hat to the gallant chairman. The Relieus Statue.—The Lords of the Admirally have purchased the "working midfel" from which the statum parchased the "working midfel" from which the statum motion for leet ten inches type, and is to be placed in a micha, it the vestibule of the Admiralty, simmediately facing so very much such asked and that building. The figure being so very much analog than the one wedged from it.

being so very much amalier than the one worked from it, ability that the one worked from it, ability that the mish and delitivitied being pitched on a lovel with the wise, shows maken group him departy in Desting. Not is that what of this continue, the in the winest of this continue, and it is the winest of this continue, with this take it the obloand work of art, here observable. It is, however, the wish of Lords of the Admiralty, and the intention of Mr. the Lorse or wie manurary, and the manufacture of the will any one who possesses the curtosity be enabled to compare, as is who possesses the curtosity be enabled to compare, as is were, the same senter understoo distinct circumstances of position. The original offer of Mr. Italy to complete the larger statue was D. 100ft., or guiness; but that artist connected to take the chance of the subscriptions arriving at that sum. This has not been the case, the aub.cription. not having risen higher than 1,180%

Income Tax.—Persons clausing allowance for empty-property, for the year ending the bth of April last, are required to make their clause on or believe the 1st of required

Rebeated next, or they will not be allowed.
The last Dr. Magina.—The last number of the DukAn Inversity Magnains contains a very Al-written memoir of the above unhappy and abla man, on whom we (Chirph and State Charte) would fain my a few words, Church and Sine Courte) would fain may a few words, recome his career and his late bear a more which is likely to interest all man, concorned in the wolfare and luppove-ment of their fellow-creatures. Dr. Magins was a showy more or cour renow-creatures. 2.17. Maging was a showy we believe we may rather say, he was an illustribusscholar. History, position, literature, slegging trifling, he illustrated them stil 1 they were as his familiar friends, and his intimacy was unfounted with each. He aprobably his intimacy was undoubted with each. He eprobably wrote as much as for more than any man of his day, and during the linus perthid; shope wrote with more sances; and one win more papeller; and yet the influence of Dr. Maginn on Recreature in general is exactly shickings he wrote for all parties, and we are afraid that his, takents were greater than his principles; perhaps we neight to sky, that his macrathics were greater than bits. The Illustrius, for wealth or takent, welcomed him to their homes and factive monthings; here he was the old. secred of all observers, his huguage was listened to with delight, his opinions were reversions, and the man was loved; and yet Dr. Maghin died dustitute and described, for we recken as nothing the tardy sciencus of friends that initis in to hay a shround, when it has neglocted the opportunity in give bread; Hr Itsheet Fred sent him manifement and whom his manifement and we know more than one friend of Maginu's who claims the subhorship of the letter which produced who carms an authorship of the latter when produced this noble, his manualling absintance. As we have mid, it came which even lious had turned side at the angest of certainty gathed in the driving by occasion and he whome presence had green been skipply contribed for by those whose anciety churching all who are perinted to origing if—he, again, whose bugst was over intellected to analysis. lower portion of nesisty, where he was not less maken'y sought after, and where he was not less frequently foliaid; he, the witty, kind-hearted, generouse good follow? In the shund acceptation of that term, drew his the breath, unhersted by the vast multivide of men by whim he laid once been idolised. Why was this?—the rich had long cessed to court him; not that he had served their pur-puse, and being no inager novel, was no longer describe; but that this unfortunate man had fallen into habits, to which we will not further allude than by saying ther, in our ophion, gonius is no excuse for any species of sin, as . aome men appear to think it is. The greater tig mind the less should be the inclination to vice ( way, even for the gentleman-like vices, as bord Chesterfield would have cuiled them, of the militonairs, we have as liftle respect, for the dirt and drunkenness of the districted liferateur.

Alleged Declaration of War against the Antis Corn-Law League .- A most extraordinary ramour & oulated in town last night, to the cilest that a government order had arrived, and had been read to the officerapor cintoms and excise, to the effect that all who were membeen of or had subscribed to the Auti Corn-law Leaven. were immediately to withdraw, on pain of instant disminant, and that a cimilar order had hern read to the

The State Trials .- At length Mr. Daniel O'Connell is, and he and the other traversors are, in a position to have their guilt or innucence established by the verdict of a jury. The Dublin Evening Mail of Wednesday states—
"It may be gratifying to our distant friends to learn that the city is perfectly tranquil. There is no excitement whatever in the attrets-no mobs, no processions, no riots. Excepting in the Court of Quent's Bench likel'. there is no appearance even of a growd; and the hall with all its puritous and approaches, both loside and out; pre-sents the ordinary appearance of our greey-day life. The sents the ordinary appearance of our grary-flag life. The traversers come to court and return from its without the aliastest copular attention."

Whether it be that nothing now has been brought forward, or that the previous emittement of the literal agitation had raised too much expectation respecting these trials—the fact seems to be, they their chief texture, or a mbuspaper who of them, is their dufficess. Nothing has occarried as yet to rucke any acrony feeling of surprise or dufficient on "" wonder, terror, or delight." The 14, of course, no fault in the judicist investigation, where the object is not to satertain the public, but formally to ascertain the truth; yet it is of importance, so far as regards the engagement and excitement of the public mind. It certainly was anticipated that even the meeting of Parif would no more then divide the public attenliament its tion with the Irish State Trials; but if the affair goes on as it has gone on hitherto, the public here may possibly cesse to remember that anything more than ordinary i occupying the time of her Majesty's Court of the Bench in that very curious part of the United Kingdom, called Ireland.

The Four Irish Buttles .- The Irish Attorney-General in his opening statement describes the " Repeal ourd" acribed with the names and dates o four battles being inscribed with the names and dates of four battles in which the Irish had been successful, and the remem brance of which was, of course, intended to stir up the Irish of the present day to similar exploits. Commemorating these events is another specimen of the ridiculous pretence with which everything attached to the Repeal agitation has been surrounded. The first—that of "Clontarf"—supposed to have been fought in the northern suburbs of Dublin early in the 11th century, was not at all a patriotic rising to expel the Danes, as it is pompously pretended by the poetical patriots across the channel. (It was an engagement between two parties of Irish, one of whom was assisted by the Danes o Dublin, as was at that time frequently the case, which latter party was overcome; and the gathering of Danes from Scotland and the Isles, of which Mr. Moore has made so magnificent an account, was simply a descent of wandering Danes under Brusdir, a sea-king, such as was frequently made upon the northern coast of England. was frequently made upon the northern coast of Eng. The "battle," isseribed, "Benburb, June 16, 1645," an affair which no English historian would waste his time in chronicling, and which, by a less magniloquent people than the Repealers, would be termed a skirmish. It was a partial success of Owen Ros O'Ninle, in command of the missreants who had engaged in the massacre of the English in 1641, and who fought as men usually do "with a rope about their necks." It had not, however, any effect upon the state of parties, and O'Niale, who it seems is, for the purposes of the present spitation, erected into a hero, but who had made repeated treaties with and as repeatedly betrayed, Ormonde for the interests of the Pope, died, it is said, from the effects of poison administered by some of his followers. The third "bastle" in the order of the speech is inscribed Beel-un-alha-Buidh, or "The Mouth of the Yellow-ford," and refers to the success of an ambuscade of Hugh O'Niale, the recreant English Officer who took upon himself the chieftainship of Ulater in the reign of Queen Elyabeth. O'Nisle having chads numberless submissions to the Queen, and been received each time juto the Royal (avour, at length been received each time into the Royal lavour, at length plotted an insurrection of some magnitude, and having fought a few unimportant dirmishes with the garrisons of Moneghan and other pades, at length was met at the Yellow-tord by Murshal Sir Henry Bagnat, whom he overcame, from the nature of the ground being such as to prevent the possibility of Cavalry acting. O'Niste upon this declared himself to be "in arms for liberty pad the Carbola culture it and so great an applicant had upon this declared numbers to be and the Catholic religion; it and so great an opinion had and the Catholic religion; the Pope of the guilibility of the savage, that he sent him a holy plume for his belinet, the feethers of which he alleged were "plucked from the tail of a phomiz!" Most of the informations of Mr. Bond Hughes against Father Tierney are taken up with the reverend gentle man's account of Hugh O'Niale. The fourth "battle" is inscribed "Limerick," and means, most probably, the defence of that place by the Army of James II., the facts of which are familiar to all readers of English, and the exaggerations on the subject to all readers of Irish

A steam-carriago-has at last been invented. Adapted in every respect for locamotion on common autopike-roads. The carriage for passengers is something like an ordinary is propelled by an engine on two stage-coach, and wheels, fitted closely to the rear of the carriage, but which can be disconnected at pleasure. The machinery is much simplified, and is rendered so compact that it can be placed upon patent springs of such a construction, that its liability to derangement from the unevenness of surface on common roads is entirely avoided. This appears to be a most important improvement, as it gets rid of the only obstacle hitherto found insurmountable in the way of succossful locomotion on common roads. It has already been run several thousand miles, over some of the worst roads in England, ascending and descending the steepest hills with facility and safety, and maintaining an average speed of fifteen miles an hour. A company has been formed to being it into use, of Man. This largentable occurrence took place on Sunday morning, between two and three o'clock. The whole day morning, between two and three e'clock. The whole of the splendid and extensive building has been totally destroyed with the exception of the Vice. Principal's house. There were about staty boys sleeping within the College at the time, who were obliged to escape in their night on this Royal Military Asylum, including all the amount of the war between England and China grant semination of the war between the control o occurred. The cause of the fire is attributed to accident. as far as at present known.

Destruction by Fire of King William's Collegs, Isig

Court of Common Pleas, Wednesday, Jan. 17.—Wotts

v. Luone.-This was an action by Mr. Alaric Watte, to recover the sum of 521. 10s., being the value of certain weekly contributions to a journal known as the Conservative Journal, under the following circumstances: It appeared that about the year 1838, the defendant and Mr. Spottiswoode became proprietors of a journal known as the Conservating Jours al, the defendant being the registered proprietor. Mr. Spottiswoode, having a due estimate of the talents of the plaintiff, entered into an agreement with him to supply a certain article for the journal in question weakly, at a selery of two guiness per week. The negotiation was carried on through Mr. Lyons. The invest beauty of the control of the c plaintiff, therefore, brought the present action against the defendant, the registered proprietor of the paper, for his remuneration as per agreement. For the plaintiff, Mr. O'Brien, the editor, was examined, who proved receiving and inserting several of the plaintiff's original articles is For the defendant, Mr. the Conservative Inurnal. Hyde, Mr. Spottiswoode's solicitor, stated, that it was perfeatly understood and agreed, that if the plaintiff was to be paid anything, he was to have been paid by Mr. Spot tiswoode, and not by the defendant; and that he originally consented to allow his salary as a set-off to a pecuniary claim of Mr. Spottiswoode; and further, that he have furnished the articles regularly. The printer stated, that the plaintiff never furnished the articles for more than five weeks altogether. The Jury having speut some time in deliberation, found a verdict for the plaintiff.— Damages, 10 guiness.—[Mr. Watts, in a letter to the Times, correcting some errors in the Report of this trial, observes, Mr. O'Brian has just recovered 1921, with heavy costs, from Messrs. Lyons and Spottiswoods for arrears of fulary as editor of their journals, 18% being the amount they paid into court.]
Two convicts lately made their escape from the Marine Heapital at Breat in which they were employed, by put-ting on the uniforms of two Naval Officers who were patients, and thus walking through the gate unmolested. Their evesion was probably suggested to them, and certainly rendered more easy by the recent death of the old porter, the new one not having yet, from habit, acquired the same vigilance. One of the fugitives, named Maurice, had gained the favour of the superiors of the bospital by his good conduct and information, so that they appointed him librariau.

Caoutchous -- On the 22d Dec. last, Lieut, George Walter, half-pay, Royal Marines, had the honour to lay before the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, specimens of his manufacture of planks (being a tochanical combination of caoutchese and corle is a try state) for the upper works of steam-boats and men of war, which from its lightness will give much buoyancy, increase the room for stowage of coals, and prevent animted from cannon shot. For paddle-box boats it is particularly decirable, as preventing them from being bilged or sunk under any circumstances. Mr. Walter is now laying down a considerable somes with his stable pavement in down a chasiderable senses with his stable passement in H.M.'s Dockyard at Woolwich, prior to the Admiralty Court-yard. Whitehall, being passed with the same material.

Anothra.—Names Destructs—A paper of passers—A paper of this distressing affection. The leaturer observed that deafness was more prevalent than was generally imagined—that there was a marked liference between parvous derangement and structural of anges, and that he believed the frequent failure of aurists in the cure of deafness arose from a total inattention to the difference between disorders arising from either mere torper or inaressed instability, and those to which were apperadded as well alterations. He called attention to the natural history, the—ations. bility, and hose to which were appreciated attentions. He called attention to the nighted history, chemical constitution, and medical properties of the artice, observing that having found is highly breakfaint in several distressing nervous affections, he tried it is nervous deafness, and had much pleasure in alleding to the cases of several highly respectable persons completely reheved by its use. Dr. C. then commended on the singulation practical terms of the reads. its use. Dr. C. then commended on the metiletien practised by some surists of remaining the night and glands of the throat, and remarked that operations of this kind tended, from the shock produced on the prevens system, to increase rather than diminish him disease, and concluded some highly interesting observations by stating that the College of Physicians omitted in their hand. "Pharmacoptes" this valuable resteins but hoped it would be restared in their next. Morning Post:

budget is 2,720,619 france, but from this sum must be deducted the expenses of the branch system of Avignon, which receives 595 invalides. The implements of the personnel of the establishment of the Hotel Royal des Invalides, amount to 162,000 francs. This personnel is composed thus:—The Marshal of Pance Governor, the Lieutenant-General-Commandant, the Lieutenant-General-Commandant, the Lieutenant-General-Commandant, the Lieutenant-General-Commandant, the Lieutenant-General-Commandant, the Lieutenant-General of the Administration consists of a Military Sub-Intendent, a Burvelliance-Agent, a Secretary of the Intendent, a Surveillance-Agent, a Secretary of the Archives, a Treasurer and Librarian (the library contains above 20,000 volumes, and more are added every year), and three Secondary Agents attached to the library. For religious worship there are a Rector and two Chaplains, an Organist, sixteen Chanters, and Choristers. In the Medical Department, there are a Physician, a Surgeon, and a principal Pharmacian; an Ordinary Physician and a Surgeon-Major, a Surgeon and a Pharmacian Aide-Major, aix Surgeons, under Aides, two Adjutants, twenty-six Sisters of Charity, eleven Barbers, who also superintend burials, and a number of garcons de sulle; there are also an architect, an inspector, a superintendent of works, a warehouse-keeper, twenty-three workmen, doorkeepers, or porters. Altogether two hundred and two persons. The food of the persons in this great esta-blishment is regulated with the utmost care. On the table of the superior Officers, and on that of the Officers, meat is served up twice a day, with various vegetables, and desserts composed of the fruits in season. The sub-Officers, Corporals, soldiers, and sieve drummers have, every week, five dishes of meat, seven times fresh and ave times dried vegetables, salads, or vegetables with oil, twice, eggs once, and cheese once. They are allowed thirteen centilitres of wine a day; the eléve drammers have but half that ration. But one quality of bread is used, and it is made within the establishment. There is also but one quality of wine admitted, and it is taken from the wines of Orleans, Banpol, and Narbonne. The brandy must mark forty-seven degrees at the alcometre, at the temperature of fifteen degrees of the centrigrade thermometer. There are four feasts a-year, namely, on the King's fête,, the third day of the anniversary of the Revolution of July. and Twelfth-day; to these have been added, Assumption-day, the fête of Napoleon, and we believe also the fêtes-kept by the Concordat. On those days, Bordeaux wine and poultry for the Officers, and ham and brandy for the soldiers, with twelfth-cake for all, are added to the ordinary fare. On those occasions also the plate is used which Napoleon gave to the Officers of the Hotel des Invalides. The firese conhists of a coat, great-coat, a veste à des and sleeves, trousers, a police cap, long cotton drawers, and a hat, and a casquette for the young drummers. The trousers and drawers must last a year, and all the other articles three years; new cookades are allowed every year. As for the objects destined for the alleviation of infirmities, they are distinguished for variety and ingenuity; the blind have sticks of all sorts, cers, rolling chairs, and prope to conduct or direct them ; there are wigs and toupets of all descriptions; mechanical legs and limbs, and artificial ones too. Let us not forget silver paletes, to which all are entitled who have lost those given them by nature. The infirmaries have their peculiar service. Poultay, and The infirmaries have their peculiar service. Poultsy, and in the best Burgindy, and Bordeaux vineyards, are dility consumed. The churity eleters have their tafe au land in the morning; meat soup, bouild, an entries, and desert at dinner p a regont and salad at supper. There is along particular marmine for the men, whose jaws are broken. The building is heated from the lat of October to the 15th of April, and, according to the temperature, this may be extended to the lat of May. Many of the Officera rooms are tastefully and elegantly ornamented; there are casemity rooms: in short, every thing has been May. Many of the there are assembly rooms; in short, every thing has been done a solace the defenders of the country in their old age and infirmities.

Major-General Wautier died at Clermonton and inst., if his eighty-seventh year. He served in all the campaigns of the Revolution and Empire, and was r-General Wautier died at Clermonton the 14th ms of the Revolution and Empire, and was of the 64th Regiment of the Line, which had don its colours this glorious device—"Ten inecrib Main.

Rossa, - Estters from Odessa describe the new tariff and hast year between Russia and the Porte as very cable to Russian trade. For some years past Russia legisoited no mouns of increasing her trade with atta gn comperies, especially with the East, and the numof Rousen merchants who settle in Turkey and Persia necessing. The Government favours this emigration for political is well as mercantile reasons. The powerful protection which Regala extends to her subjects in that cotton goods have been exported from Resola to China. Their manufacture has therefore greatly increased, and eggensive spinneries are about to be established, so as to obviate in future the accessity of procuring the yers from England. In spite of the unfavourable weather, great activity prevails in the herbour of Odesse. The corntrade, in particular, is very busy. The principal specula tions are for the English market in the ensuing spring.

may be placed, that there was not the slightest foundation for a statement originating in one of the Garman journals, asserting that the King of Hanever had specially invited the Duke of Bordeaux to the Court of Hanever. Had not the severe and slarming iliness of the Duke d'Angon leme called the Duke of Bordesax suddenly to Goritz, it was certainly his Royal Highness's intention to have visited Hanover, Brunswick, and Dresden in succe but with regard to the illustrious Prince's visit to the former capital, the King of Hanover, with every po respect to, and sympathy for, his Royal Highmoss of the exiled elder branch of the Bourbons, the Duke was informed, through Count Kielmanenges, the Hanovarian minister at this court, that his Majesty had thought proper to intimate to his Roya! Highness that having enproper to intimate to his Royal Higaness sunt maving sugged to visit the King of Prussia at Berlin, he could not be at Hanover to receive his Royal Highness, should it has his intention to come to Hanover. We are also inbe his intention to come to Hausver. We are also in-formed that the King of Hansver positively comes to England at the close of March, and it is supposed will ong his sojourn here till August.

NAPLES.—According to last services from Palermo, the explosion of the Etua has caused great estemities. Pourteen persons have lost their lives by it, including actor foreigners who had been attracted by so grand a sight.

UNITED STATES.—The following is the strength of the Army:—The regular Army consists of 716 Commissioned Officers, 12 Military Storeksepers, and 7,596 enlisted men (Non-commissioned Officers, artificers, assaiclate, and puvetes of Dragoons, Artificery, Infantry, and Riffemen), 40 Serjeants, and 250 enlisted men, of Ordnance, making an aggregate of 8,613.

Surveying Expedition.—The Phanix American eloop of war, Lieutenent Sinclair, is ordered by the American Government to proceed to Cubs, for the purpose of sacer taining and laying down the accurate position of an island called Bax-del-Combo, said to be situated in a chausel through which all the American West India vessels cruise, on the south side of Cubs, and near the notorious Isle of Pines. This island of Combo was thrown up a few years since many feet shove the level of the sea by one of those mighty and violent convelsions of mature which so often agitate and disrupt that delightful portion of the globe.

CANADA—Toronto—Nov. 31, 1843.—(From our our Correspondent) — The polity pursued in and towards this Colony is incomprehensible to mere lookers-on. The French party are dominant, and appear to be riding roughshod over the Upper Province, which has no Prough Canadians. Our Governor, Sir Charles Metcalfe, suddenly finds himself ill, and it is said "retirns;" if so, he does not approve of the measures which (we suppose) he is directed to carry out. The sentiment in Canada West, deep not loud, is, that rather than submit to French domination the Province should form a union with the state of New York; even the thought of such dismemberment, though it come to nothing, is portenteur. The Provinces, Upper and Lower, are united by act of Parliament alone; --difand Lower, are united by act of Parlianent alone; —dif-ferent laws, different exactions of tasation, difference in sentiment, religion, &c., eriet in cach; —two languages are spoken in the Legislative-bouss, many members of which know but one, either French or Edglish. A new bill for taxing Upper Caniffa is now in progress, the ostensible metive being the remumeration of loyal subjects who suffered in the late rebellion,—yet the French, who originated that outbreak, are not included in the tax, and they it is who have justifuted it and are noting man it. they it is who have instituted it and are soling upon it. Efficien members, a few weeks back, abruptly fasigned and returned to their western house comprising our and returned to their western stooms—comprising out-first men. There is also a musicipal-bill forall proper Canada only—a school-bill for Upper Canada only—the bill to tax income and property for Upper Canada only, &c., which saddle the inhabitants—the Loydints—with expenses from which the French Canadians are greener.

been passed in accordance with effetr petition, for sex weeks, terminating to January, 1864. The Governor is weeks, terminating in January, 1864. The Governor is a most able politician, and of the mandest principles of henour and integrity—a high-minded gentlemen who henour and integrity — a high-minded gentleman who much not issued himself a party to injustion or the deregation of his country. A little man-of-war discipline, after the qualting of the turbulent, might have been beneficial, and the English language made the only one for Parlia mentary departs. French laws should also be superseded by British-let is now too late. The strength of a nation is in the loyalty of its subjects, and not in their numerical strength; we have long shown this, in Iraland, where we Orangemen—in principle, though not at all belonging to Orange-clubs—few in numbers, have haver quaited to the physical force of Ribbonnen,—matther white-feet, black-less, peop-e-day boys, or Vinegar-hill invincibles.

Want chiefe the rogice? What dooks the fall ! In the land of the briggie? What takes no ball ! The rope: What stops the tongue Of old had young, What makin the here! Though Same on North Of old had young, Born to be bung? ling to Keto ! Then, hang grow, and hemp twist, date The rope Chorus.
Then, homp grow, and hemp twist, Is moraling son and midnight mist. What spoils revolt? Makes pairiots holt? Old Ireland's hops, Worth Price and Pape, For miliers of Corn Exchange Like dung from fork, Flings to Hew York The man from Oork? Then, hamp grow, and domp What sools Repeal ? Quicker than stool ? The tope What strips diaguise? What maker Pat wee. Whop he septes? Throws light on lies? The tope. Then, hemp grow, and hemp twist, for. The rope. Cools glowing trapes Of Roma's bign hopes From universe in copes What calme the land?
The rope Cherus.
Then, hemp grow, and hemp twist.
For raffien throat, and garry list.
For raffien throat, and garry list.
Traire to Dungangou,
Rebellion will vanish fike Midaustron, mest. What thins the band ? The rope. Of frol and koare. No inuger braze; Begger and slave ? The rope. Then, hemp grow, and hamp twist, &c.

East Andia Intelligence.

Colmal Stoddart and Captain Coffolly. The last areaunts received from Dr. Wolff are to the 28th of Nov., on which day he less Trebisond for Erezuum. He arrived at Trebizond on the previous day, accom-panied by the Shelk of Bokhara, Hoje Mohammed Shereef, to whom he was introduced by the Reis Effendi, at Constantinople, and by whom he was immediately recog nived as an old arqueintenes, the Sheik had promined to use all his hithuence in obtaining the release of Stoddart and Conolly. On going on board the ateam-boat the Doctor found that Sir Stratford Canning had even paid his passage. One page of the Doctor's journal is taken up with an equincration of acts of kindness of Sir Strattord and Lady Causing, and thingentlemen at sched to Her Majorty's Embany. On hooking about pas-sengars' book for fifth with the they were wanted of his friend Arthur Conolly, written with his own hand in the year 1839. At Trobizond the English Count opened a sub-cription, and 49400 plastres were immediately raised. of which the Russian Consul contributed 1,000, and the French Consul 400 plastres.—A letter has been received from Liout. Vineput Eyre, Bengul Artillery, duted Camp, Kernoul, Nov. 16, which states that the man Barenstein, who said that he had witnessed the execution of Stoddart and Convily, had been proved an impostor. Lieut. Egre further arates that an Afighau had arrived at Hyderabid from Bokhara, who left Stoddart alive and at liberty, he could easily sacupe if he had but the will. The Afginan says, that "Stoddart has accupies shout estuping without an order from the English Covernment, being a man of exceedingly strict motions of duty." Libert, Eyra raises upon this sutaligence, having soon authoritic documents. At Kar-unti 1,200 rapes (120L) were immediately raised for Dr. Wolf's mission.

Secunderabeth Father Mathew's Society. -Tuesday, Sist Office the Sheinty held in second teaperty in their news Temperance field, which was trate-fully fitted up for the occasion by the Teerstallers of the King's Own Regiment, with evergreeus, pointings, motions, &c., and at 7 v.M. ten, coffer, &c. was surved fly on a magnificent scale to appearate of 130 tentotaliers; an other Seignours of Canada East, contributed with Saidwill, mottoes, &c., and at 7 v.M. tea, coffer, &c. was saved up on a magnificent scale to apvared of 150 tectotaliers; an Hincks, and others, somewhat more than the province of the transcattle times. The Latter province applied by the Rev. D. Murphy, and on his left at the for protective interesting in the case was a strong disconnected that the latter into their intrinsic, and, as the case was a strong disconnected of the case o

The Queen, Prince Albert, and the rest of the Royal family; air—God save the Queen. 2d. Father Mathew, the great founder of our society; air—Patrick's Day, 3d. The testotallers at Secundersbad; air—British Granadiers. At intervals the health of the president and vice-president was given, which was received with three cheers, the band playing the Spring of Shiller. The mark treat that came from the other series. Isle. The next toast that came from the chair was the health of Lieut, Golonele Beston and Band, the former of the King's Own Regiment and the latter of the Artillery, two excellent supporters of the Society; sir.—Dake of York's March. The health of the Rev. P. Doyle, Roman Catholic Chaplain, Bellary, was given by one of the members, and received with a mound of applause from avery and of the room; the band playing Garry Owen. avary and of the room; the band playing Garry Owen. Several nonge, gives, due, were away in the course of the evening, and at 11 o'clock the party retired to their barracks and homes highly delighted with the prochedings of the evening. Nearly all the Catholica and a great number of the Protestants of the King's Own Regiment are now under Father Mathew's panner.

by a managene, and certainly, most betiliest Staff, rode to the general, and the regiment presented arms. After suadcy mangeners, the regiment was formed into a three-sided agence, and the Officers advanced regiment, in a line to the fourth side. His Excellency, then addressed them in a loud, soldier-like, and manly tone. He alluded to the former services of the regiment, when they saved flavelity, attacked by thousands, for which services they regimed the through of flavernment, and then make a marking and the marking and the staff agents. egived the thanks of Government, and then said semething regerding their services in the Burmese war, touched with regarding their services in the Burmese war, touched with feeling on their, disastrons campaign in Afgianistan, during which, he said, they had much distinguished themselves, and paid a high compliment to Capt. Meiville, the sale survivor of these war. Then tarning the subject from this, over which, he added, he would girdly draw a veil, he alluded to himself, said he always had taken argrest pride and interest in the Bengal Army, and only hoped he one gay would have the honour of leading them against the enemy, edding both to their learnes and his own; he doubted not that these colours he now presented to the leth Rher, would be foremost on the field of slore. to the 54th Reg. would be foremore on the field of glory. I can't remember all his speech, it was very long. A fter he had finished, he dismounted, and presented the colours. with a short speech, to the two Senior Native Officers, which an Officer present (I believe Col. Havelock) translated to them. Mel. Osborn then advanced and delivered his thanks cuem. mrg. croors there advantage and delivered his thanks in a most menty and elequent manner; a short, pithy speach, much to the point, and expressing the joy he and the other Officers of his regiment felt; in having their colours presented to them by so distinguished an Officer as His Excellency, hoped that he would kindly lead them where, mades his second of the second of t under his command, they might fread the paths of glory. The fine old warrior looked much pleased. There was then comb more manusuring, which will exceeded in a most splendid manner, doing more than credit to Major Osbora and his Officers. The Commander-in-Chief ex-presend whoh gratification at the fine Military bearing of presend man graincason at the una mittary bearing of the regiment.—Madrus Examiner, Nov. 20. The Shekawates Brigade,—It has refly fallen to our lot to record a more gallant and accessful action than that by which Mej. Forster, Commandant of the Shekathat by which Maj. Forster, Commandant of the Sheka-wates Brigade, made himself master, at the thad of three companies and ninety Suware, with four guns of his bri-gade, assisted by six hundred Naghas and two battalions of deppore troops, on the Otheinet, of the strong fort of Khetree, situated on a considerable and steep eminence, theire hundred feet high, occupied by an enemy full three thousand in number. The approach to the fort was by a pass of some difficulty extending to the very consi-derable length of five miles; this pass was strongly occu-pied by the insurgents, who, on the approach of the force, advanced to course them with a hold front. They were advanced to oppose them with a bold front. They were, however, soon driven from the heights which formed the pass, and from every other position they occupied, and forced to take refuge in the town and fort; the former was invested with as little delay as possible. The gons of the fort were immediately opened, and Maj. Forster lost no time in leading his party to a closer attack, which was made with such right good, will, ably supported by the gans of the brigade wherever they goods be brought to hear, that the insurgents very soon begged a trues, and profused to evacuate the fort within six house. This was granted, and during the night most of them dispersed, fearing to and corring the night most of them dispersed, fearing to can the risk of an attack. On the evening of the 7th, Maj. Forster marched into the fort, which was found even of more formidable strength than had at first been supposed. Indeed it once, reseated the langua Ameer Khan at the head of eighty thousand men, and since then all the attempts of the depose Overnment. The loss of the enemy in the short but decisive action that took amounted to about sixty killed and one hundred and fifty wounded; that of the British detachment to thirty-five men wounded, a few somewhat badly, and likely to die of their wounds. Amongst the slain on the side of the enemy were several Chiefs; and we have great pleasure in recording the individual gallentry of Capt. Forster, who boldly led a party in the last storning of a err ng hill position when seven of the chief leaders were cut down. Maj. Forster must have every reason to be proud of the achiev ment of his men, and speaks well, we hear, of the conduct of the detachment of Joypore troops which had been sent to his assistance. We sincerely con gratulate the gallant Major on the manner in which he has conducted and concluded the whole of these operations with his very small, we might almost say inadequate force, had it not shown itself fully up to its work, and are sure the Government will duly appreciate and reward his services. The rapid manner in which two forts of consequence, and some strong positions have been carried, all defended by hodies of memfar superior in number to those mendling them, and supported by guns, will doubtless have as good effect amongst the turbulent Chiefs of Shekawatee and we trust the brigade which has done such good zervice, will now be enabled to repose on its well-carned

The "Memoria"—A private letter from Bonday, dated Nov. 29, has the following passage in reference to the loss of this vossel:—"The general belief is, that most of the letters might have been preserved, as it is well known that the famil was strewn with torn letters and papers. Now as these letters were secured in fron boxes it is more than probable they were uninjured by salt water, and had any of the seamen or Officers of the vessel been present when they were renovered by the Arabs, many of our epistles might have reached their destination. Fifteen hundred letters have been picked up near the wreck of the Memnon, heades bills of exchange amounting to about 40,000L; these were conveyed by the sloop Ches to Capt. Haines, who no doubt will, if he has not already done so, forward them to their destination. The number of the letters taken from this by the Memnon exceeded 30,000.

Sir II. Pollinger and the America of Science.—From the following letter, addressed to the Educr of the Sun, it will be seen that General Napier's opinion colonides with ones, that the letter published by the Marning Chronicle, fulschood.

"Guernsey, Jan. 12, 1944."

HIDDEN THINGS.

Bigund gome are in the sea, And hidden masse in the sire Beauty which we mortule see not, Thrith around as everywhere. inden thoughts, how bright, how many! Break like bubligs in the sun,

Where the stream, unseen of any tinderscath wild flowers doth lugs, Tron-nics never brought to Presences never brought to light.

Live and vanish like the gleamings
Of bright metaors in the night.

ship,
Oh, how strong, how pure, how deep! Swell and flow like secret fututator. 6
Where the Wild hirds dream and sleep. Why are those, if pot to tell us That these proken links and In a chain for ever sparking In eteraty's deep light? Hidden loves and hidden dream Dis, how describes and droary tugs,

Hidden hith and hidden wor

God' if thou hadst never whis-Principle of the leads to Trace i DAVIS'E IMPRIVED PLEXIBLE CONCAVE HORES BRUSIL.—An Improved New Investigns.—A. Davis, Spenge Merchant and Russ Manufacturer to Hes Minjesty, Prince Albert, and near Politics (A. Family, e., Stand, and as 20, Regent st., Water, from J., 2 though the Richard mentified the Richard mynost, begre acquisited the Nobility and Gentry he has succeeded in making great suprovements in Horse Brusiles. The specialism ments of Davis's improved Horses' Brusiles. The prediction ments of Davis's improved Horses' Brusiles are combined by its fixing itself to every extremo part of the horse throughly searching into all the oscilles, being constructed on scientific principles, quite imported and interdirections, in assumed as the action is temperad by its nown leastfurly, not requiring any pressure, as common brusiles all projects in on the surface of the coat are equally closured, it having been tried on koises of all descriptions, with the minst Hawing been tried on koises of all descriptions, with the minst Horse least of coating properties of this estebrated Horse Least 10 apriled hyspitics, and cargor, grouped in between the upper and lower parts, being equally divined, foreas an observe concavity, so much ficalized, and intherto inchown has observed inventions. Arbiteness and principles in the minst incompact, at a saving of ar least in percent analog in the first parties, the administration of the heat quality, at half the angillors' places; chample horse-clothing of every justices, and every kinds, another horse-clothing of every justices, and every house, then spills, and felius, aftern leathers, and depriva-regulates for the use of the stables, at wholesale prious. All kinds of brushes, brooms, turnery, coogerage, rope and wood decrmats, usus, black had, acousing paper, and deggs for house-hald use, at Wholesale Prices. Days's a celebrated Tooth-brushes.—A. D. begs to acquaint the Foblity and Gentry, that he has succeeded in discovering a fastering for Treats-hundes, commeted of garden site, and Inda-rubber, by which it is impossible for the hairs ever to come loose in the mouth. For dirability, they will be found to excel any yet offered, and the only kind that can be wafranted from correcting. Persons frequently get had teath and gums from tiese causes, the corresion holes golden to the breath, and cancer to the gums. Also lavested of a new and improved Nail-break, made of unblenched Russia bristies, which do not soften by constant use. Improved Velvet clothes and this-breakes, in grout versety of paterose, at the Wibolesale Prices. The finest I diet and Russery Sponges, at half the Perfumers' prices. A. D. being an extensive importer of fiscoper and Bristler, enables him to offer the above articles at 40 percent, under any House in England. Families in town and country can have a list of his prices by a post-naid application—21, Strand, Observe, no consection with any House putting over their duor, "from 38." Mr. A. Devin's House has two windows at Strand. Observe, no consection with any House putting over their duor, "from 38." Mr. A. Devin's House has two windows at Strand. Observe, no consection with any House has two windows at Strand. Observe, no consection with any House has two windows at Strand. Observe, no consection with any House has two windows at Strands. Observe, no consection with any House has two windows at Strands. Observe, no consection with any House has two windows at Strands. Observe the No. 22, Strand; and at 29, Regent at. requisite for the use of the stables, at wholesale priors. All kinds Bolian Sea Signale. - Swother method of applying the waves of the sea has been secretly contrived which promises more practical results than the propelling scheme. The object is to make the breakers on a dangerous coast serve as their own warning signals to sailors. The inven-tor proposes to have hollow buoys moored near the dangerous coast or sand-bank, to which buoys-pipes some-what like organ pipes, are to be affixed. Metal-tongues, on the principle of accordings, are to be fitted to the pipes so that where the buoys are toward up and down by the breakers the air may be forced through, and cause them to atter warning sounds, which would become louder and londer as son raged more fercely, and the dauger in-creased. This invention seems capable of many improve-ments and adaptations to varying circumstances. It re-quires no great stretch of facey to conceive that as lighthofises have their distinctive lights, so these tongued-signale-may be made to give forth distinctive sounds, and eguarance or made to give torth naturalive seems, and call aloud, actually in the voice of the storm, the name of the coast or rock to which they are bound. Through darkness, and fog their warning cries would penetrate, guiding the bewildered martiner in his course when beaconlights and land-marks are nariess.

Waves of the Seu applied to Propel Ships.—Numerous have been the attempts to render the waves of the sea available for propelling machinery. Among other plans, an empty cask, of a raft of timber, floating on the sea has been attached to a long shaft on the shore, and the motion communicated to the shaft has been applied to turn a wheel, in the same manner as the beam of a steam-engine, Little use, however, has hitherto been made of the oscillations of the waves, but there is now a project on the tapis for bringing the nursely waters into subjection, and for making them propel ships instead of tossing them about. It is well known that the motion of the wayer is limited to the surface, and that the water below is trunquil even in the strongest gales. It is proposed, therefore, to have a large hospontal plans suspended from the bostom of the ship, by rods in the centre, to serve as a point d'oppui in the tranquil water. Other rods, fixed at each ends of the plane, are to rise perpendi-cularly on to the deck, and to these rods are to be fixed retchet-arms acting on toothed wheels, so that when the ruds are pulled down the wheels are turned raund. When the head of the ship is lifted by a wave, the ratchet-arm of the rod in the fore part gives the toothed wheel a turn and then the head pitches down and the steam is lifted, the wheel on the after part is turned; thus the ship mov-ing up and down, whilst the plane beneath is atassay, re-sembles the immense bosts of a steem-engine in alternating notion. The motions communicated to the toothed wheels are françaited to puddles or to an Archimedian acrew, and applied to propel the ship. It is grident that in deep water only sould such a plan be practicable; and, though feasible enough theoretically, it is very quantitionable whether the resistance of the submerged plans to the motion of the ship through the water would not equal any propelling power to be gained by its operation.

Fishing for Gold.—A Lieutenant Rammlett, of the Russian Navy, has adopted a plan of fighing for the precious metals at the bottom of the sea, or in may waters where metallic golden fishes ore to be caught. This tackle is where metallic golden fishes are to be caught. This tack is not of a kind recognised by ordinary puscifies, not does the nature of the game render it necessary to penceed no cantiously and cunningly as a deciple of lands Welton would deem essential to success. The rod of the gold-fisher consists of zinc and copper, in the form of a notation bestery: his lines are copper wires covered with silk and varnish; his indicating float is a magnetic needle, and his balts are knobs of metal. Thus equipped, he launches his best are discovered in these facts from the metallicities the metal. boat and throws his lines into the water, permitting the metal knots to drag at the bottom, but taking especial nero that know to area at the soltom, but taking especial core that they are hopt a shortedistance apart by some substance that will not conduct electricity. Thus he is guitance down the attent, wetching attentively his guitance which is to tell when there is a bits; or, in other water when the metal knows come in contact with a next through attence, which completes the circuit of the volume attery and deflects the magnetic needle. Having found his some he can accertain its size by dragging his lines backwards and forwards, and noticing when the voltage circuit is completed by the contact of the metal, and when it is broken. If the stroum be known to commin gold he may have some confidence that when the diver descends to secure the game, it will prove to be worth the trauble

"Justice to Ireland?" bold Wellington cries.
"You shall have it impaired and tree."
If Give justice to Ireland?" O'Connell replica;
"Arrah! then I'll be benggd if you do."

The death of the Downger Lady Clare, in Belgravesquara, took place under the most awful and distressing circumstances. On Tuesday afternoon, her Ladyship and circumstances. On Tuesday afternoon, her Ladyship and her slaughter, Lady scaled Fitzgibbon, were sitting by five-light, when the latter retired to draw for denier, and was absent about half an hour. Our sturning to the drawing-room her Ladyship found that lights had not been brought: as she sutured, she observed, "Mamma, I have put on your favourite gown," and receiving no answer me?" repeated it, adding, "Mamma, why don't you answer me?" Ales I on approaching the fire-place the aphytony daughter. Alas I on approaching the fire-place the unhappy daughter found her mother extended on the hearth-rug, perfectly lifeless. Mor Ludyship's grist and amazement are inde-scribable,—indeed, the whole family are weighed down by this sad event.—Court Journal.

MORE "NATIONAL" LYRICS. The Frequent gives the subjoined lyric under the head of "Lessons for Repeal Children, No. 2." The Evening Mail more correctly styles these loyal effusious as "The Child's Guide to the Callows:"-

"' Pana, who is the links of Wallington?"

"Ah! well may the blushes of shame, my child, O'ersproad thy young check at his mame, my child, The feliest of all the false tyrants on earth, and foresat in but to the land of his birth, The country that craftled his fame, my child.

The country that crafted his fame, my child.

When hight shome his destiny a star, my child.

And he tode upon Victory's car, my child!

The 'frish,' whose fury fisshed derrest in fight, Dashod fotward to seatter the foe in their might,
And they hied for his trophies of war, my child.

He indight be the boost of the ago, my child, list might be the boost of the ago, my child,
but dalkest of all the dark bloss in his shield,

A talkes or dat whe blesse to the he dalkest.

A traiter in detuge, he limps to the field, Foul war with his country to wage, my child.

When fortune deserted the brave, my child, And true greatness should true to have, my entite, And true greatness should true to have, my cidid, One moment of mercy ne'er softened his hate, And the 'bravest'?, 'owar dounted to the felon's vito fate, Whilst the murderer smilett a'er his grave, my child.

But vengennes will yet have its day, my child, and vengennes will yet nets its say, my chin. Fawn flattery now as it may, my chid. His southine of glory shall turn to gloom, And posterity's vote shall dishonour life tomb, When the recreate passes away, my child."

ENGLISH FUNDS.

RNGSABII FUNDS.

Nank Strick, 1pp 1 90

Per Cent. Red. Anna., 974 2

3 per Cent. Conz. Anna., 974 2

3 per Cent. Conz. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Cent. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Cent. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Conz. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Cent. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Conz. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

3 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

5 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

5 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

6 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

6 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

6 per Cent. Red. Anna., 1818, 10-3

18 per Cen

FOREICA: TIMDS.

Anarian, 1198

Colombian or Venexuela, 24

Colombian or Venexuela, 24

Danish, 47

Anarian, 1197, 228 3

Portuguese Converted, 458

Datto Acc., 486 2

Expansis 5 per Cent., 248 2

Ditto Acc., 486 2

Expansis 5 per Cent., 288 3

Expansis 6 per Cent., 288 3

Expansis 7 per Cent., 288 3

Expansis 6 per Cent., 288 3

Jan. 13, at 11, Upper Belgiuse &., the wife of W. Malle, Esq., R.N., of a hangular.—Ma., 13, at Bevorport, the indy of Capt. R. C. Limbs, 75th Rogs., of a seq.,—Jan. 13, at Cardiff, the hely of Capt. Pausingson, 73d Rogs., of a son.—Jap? 17, at hath, the lady of W. Hormen, Esq., R.N., of a son.

HARRIAGES.

Jan 18, at Trinity Church, Mayletone, Richard, cidest don of Richard Janpings, Edg., of Printand-piace, to Advas C. A., inty daughter of Flowers in Insulton, Bast, K.C. Jan 16, at Chessile, Englishment, E. Harnes, Seq., of Traity Cullege, to Casuling, daughter of Cast, Shark, S.C. BEATHS.

BEATHS.

College, to Causaine, dispablies of Cast. Shord, H.N.

BRATHS.

Jan. 13, at Loke, in the spir of White, after a long and palaful illuets, Lieut. J. VI. Phili, R.N., aged 4; ...Jan. 14, at Kongdand, after a few holder diseas. Domainment transact transfer, H.N., in the 7th year of the age...Jun. 15, at Waggerschill, Herks, Lieut. Colonel Bayrong Watte, late of the lopishiting Bragmons.—Rec. 27, at Reston House, Maj. Gen. John Cwallinger, Bragmons.—Rec. 27, at Reston House, Maj. Gen. John Cwalling Bragmons.—Bec. 25, at Reston at Arnus Replanation, Lag., and deligates of the 12 few cuts of Arnus Replanation, Lag., and deligates of the 12 few cuts of Arnus Replanation, Lag., and deligates of the 12 few cuts of Arnus Replanation, Lag., and Geodes, R.R. Shadan, R. & Thomason, Lag., China, W. H. Warding, of H.M.S. Sepsen.

TTO MILITARY OFFICERS and GEN. TIMEN FOINTY OF FIUERS and TEINTIEMEN FOINTY OF WITH THE SHEET AS NEW BOND STREET, LONDON, we the out Proprietors of the really Serviceable SENSTRAD, suitable to Military purpose. Upon any other construction they become ricketly by frequent tentural, if is protected by Leither Patent, and may be had in every variety, together with all Articles required for an Outst, upon the Lowest Terms possible and the Shortest Notice.
N.B.—Several Second-Hand SEDSTRADS and SEDDING to be disposed of upon advantageous terms, being for the most part of their own manufacture.—R.N. HAYBA, Agent.

MEDICAL, INVALID, & GENERAL LIPE OFFICE, 85, PALL MALL, LONDON. CAPITAL. #300,000.

CAPITAL. #550,000.

BURNINGSTON.

Bir Henry Halford, Bart., M.D. G.C.H., F.R.S., F.R.A., President of the Royal College of Physicians. Isc., 763.

Bir William Buract, M.D., K.C. H., F.R.S., 1 sepactor General of the Mary, &c., &c., Sir Matthew J. Tierney, Bart., M.D., K.G.H., &c., &c., Sir Matthew J. Tierney, Bart., M.D., K.G.H., &c., &c., PRUPTERS.

Chs. Hopkinson, Eq. [ 317 Thos. Philips [ Alfred Waddings. D.C. L., 100 College of the Margons.]

Chr. Hopkinson, Eq. | Sir Thos. Philips | Alfred Waddleve, D.C. L. DIRROTORS.

Edward Doubleday, Eq., 249, Great Survey Street.

George Gun Hay, Eq., 249, Great Survey Street.

George Gun Hay, Eq., 249, Stoams Street.

William Jeaffreson, Eq., 21, South Audley Street.

J. Parkinson, Eq., 18, Eq., 17, Wingole Street.

C. Richardson, Eq., 19, Bruton Street, Berkely Square.

Thomas Stevenson, Eq., 18, 24, 25, Toper Grosvesor Street,

Robert Bentley Todd, M.D., F.R.S., 36, Parliamant Street,

Alfred Waddlove, D.C. L., Boctors' Cognitions.

John Parssord, Eq., 17, Cambridge Terrace, Hyse Park.

Joseph Radford, Sq., 27, Cambridge Terrace, Hyse Park.

J. Stirling Yaylor, Eq., 14, Up. Glouwster Ph., Dutast Square.

Martial L. Welch, Eq., Wyndham Place, Bryanstone Square.

Standing Counce. John Shapter, Eq., Libratif's Ins.

Bankars—Messra. C. Hopkinson & Co., Régent St.

Solicitoran—Messra. C. Hopkinson & Co., Régent St.

William Parr, Raq., General Registry Office.

Actuart—F. C. P. Neimoh, Eq.

This Office is provided with very accuracity constructed Tables, by which it can Assure Unscound Liven on Equitable Therms.

The Extra Premium Discontinued on restoration of the Assared to Permanent Health.

A Dottien of the Extra Premium Biscontinued as a DRBT

table Tecms.

The EXTRA PREMIUM DISCONTINUED on restoration of the Assured to Permanent Health.

A portion of the EXTRA PREMIUM may remain as a DRBT ON THE FOLICY.

SURVIVORSHIP ASSURANCES where the Life in expectation suffers from Discase, effected at CHEAPER HATES than at any other Office.

Similar Tables enable the Society to grant INCHEASED ANNUTIES ON UNSOUND LIVES—the amount varying with the particular Discase.

Members of CONSUMPTIVE FAMILIES ASSURED at EQUITABLE RATES.

HEALTH'S LIVES are ASSURED ON LOWER TERMS than at most other Offices.

POLICIES of Travere Months' STANDING ARE NOT AFFECTED BY SUICIDE, DUELLING, Sc., and Assigned Policies are valid from the date of the Policy, should death caused from any of these causes.

Trom any of these causes.

Just published, the NINETERNIH EDITION, price 30., and work free, on receipt of a Post-office Order for 30. 56.

A N H () D;

The CAUSES of its PREMATURE DECLINE, with plain Directions for its PERFECT RESTINATION addynamed to those authering from the destructive effects of Excessive Industrial with Cases, Science of Syphilis, Congress, Gleet, &c. Illustrated with Cases, &c.

pann nivections for its PERFECT RESTURATION addyshed to those suffering from the destructive effects of Excessive Induspring from the destructive effects of Excessive Induspring from the destructive effects of Excessive Induspring Surgeons, London.

THE NINETEEN HT HOUSAND.

Published by the Authors, and Soid by Burgeas, Medical Spokseller, 2s. Coventry Birest, Barth, 4. Brylegen-strest, Strand, Mann, 29, Cornhill, Strange, 21. Parameter-row, London; Guest, 2t. Roll-street, Birningtone, Sowler, 4. Rt. Ann's square, Guest, 2t. Roll-street, Inteling, Botser & Co., Cork: Bandes, 20. High-street, Glasgow; Brunmonde, 5. Blait street, Edispow; Orrainno Or ras Prass.

Orrainno Or ras Prass.

"This work a TENTH Edition of which is now, presented to the public, ten thousand copies Asring bees exhausted state if farst oppostrance, has been very stuch improved and enlarged by the addition of a more extended and clear detail of general principles, as also by the insertion of several staw and highly-interesting cases. The book, as has been already stated, is the result of very ample and delay clean insert by whom the addition of a more extended and clear detail of general principles, as also by the insertion of several staw and highly-interesting cases. The book, as has been already stated, is the result of very ample and delay tested, is the result of very ample and delay tested in a clear of diseases which, for some imacquintable reason, have been either altegather overlooked, or tented states with judic ference, by the ordinary medical gractifluers and we seek no healtstook with not be found medical gractifluers and we seek no healtstook with not be found medical gractifluers and we seek no benefits work, entitled MANISOCH, more fully conserved by supplication of a Praent, a Praengist, which is received by the state of the period of Manis. Cursia's book capital Maniscoth, and the street is to character of benefits in subject which it receive and the effect of all medical benefits, and the process of all medical practical

POYAL BAVAL, MILITARY, EAST
IN INDIA DOMPANY, & GENERAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY.—Office, 12, Waterion-place, London.
PATROVERS.—Her Heat Gracious Mileste the QUSTEN.
Assurance are granted upon the Lives of Persons in energy station of 140, and for every part of the world, upon particularly lavourable terms.

station of 14th, and for every gases of the control forms. It was change that one country to another without forfeiting their Policies.

Board days every Thursday at One o'Clock, and every facility afforded for effecting Assurances on other days.

JOSEFH O. BRETTELL, Socretary,

A USTRALASIAN. COLONIAL, AND GENERAL LIFE ABBUHANCE & ANNUITY COMPANY,
CAPITAL—200, 404—in 2,040 Sparse.

Danectons.

Edward Hernard, Esq., P.R.E.
Gideon Colquings, Esq.
Henry Buchlo, Esq.
John Henry Capper, Esq.
Bolicito en—Algeer, Maples, Perse; Reygna & Co.
Hankens—The Bank of Australata (moorpoyated by Royal Chartes, 1833), No. 5, Moorgate-atreet.

Pavatoran—P. Frace, Esq., M.D. 63, Southfurdent.

Shernary.—Edward Ryley, Esp.
The following are speciment of the low rates at Respinant in Australasia.

UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SO-

CIETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON.

Disserous:

Sir Henry Wilcon, K.L.B., Cantrana.

John Stowart, Kaq., M.P., Deputy Chartenan.

Major-General Sir Rd. Arm., William Kitharn, Enq., atrong, C.B. K.C.T. and S., John Stagebaw, Kaq., M.P., Deputy Charten Gray Mayne, Req., Charles Dashwond Brugs, Enq., Charles Gray Mayne, Req., Charles Civary Mayne, Req., Charles Civary Mayne, Req., Charles Civary Mayne, Req., Charles Civary Mayne, Req., Charles Gray Mayne, Req., Capt. Samuel Theoremous, R.N., Endeed Control of the cont

Asnual Premium.	Policy.	Arenteg.		onie I			bie in
20	,	£1,000	£1	9 46	8	49	18 4
30	()a or hefore	1,009	2		4	12	4 1
40	toth of May,	1,000		1 10	0	16	15 0
$4)	1834.	1,600	1 #1	1 16	ø	91	7 0
Ģú	i	enga, s	đ	6 41	Ħ	33	8 10
Lisy o	หลีย์ เก เกต มีน	usel,)	TIÃV	W.	N.	Es. Ad	luury.

UNITED KINGDOM LIFE ASSUR-ANCE COMPANY, S. Wessido-place, Paul Mail, London, DIVISION OF PROPITS AMONG THE ASSURED.

Rarl of Errol Eart of Courbiwn Eart Leven and Melville Earl of Norbury Earl of Stair

it PROPITS AMORG THE ARREST.

Itonorary Presidents.

Ent Softers
Lord Viscognt Pakings

Lord Riphinstons
Lord Beliavan and Stonton

Dinecroas,

James Stante, Esq., Chairman.

Flananel Lie Castro, Esq., Heputy Chairman,
Charles Graham, Kaq.

Hamilton Blair Avarus, Esq.

Edward Boyd, Esq., Assist.

Resistent
Charles Downes, Esq.

Breatheat
Charles Downes, Esq.

Scantagy P. H. Thomson, Esq.

This Constant

Charles Downes, Esq.

Sicanta av.—Patrick Mucintyre, Esq.

This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect occurity in an ample paid-up Capital, and in the great success which has attended it sieds its commencement in 1834. The Company declared an addition to the Sharzholdens of specialit of their Stock, and also added al. per cent, per negroun, from the date of the policies, to those Parties who had inserted with Profits. The Pramaum, respectables, are set less much successed scale, and dely a monety need to paid for the first fee years, where the insurance is the Life. The amount observables shows the commencement of the Company in March 1836, to the state of fee, 1846, is as n Assured. Time Amured. E 1980 6 Years is Months. Nam addra to Policy. 4 Years. 2 Teurs.

1908 Teer. 20 0 0
Every information will be afforded on application to the Encioner, Directors, Enwann Burn, Eng., and E. Lennor Burn, Eng., and E. Lennor Burn, Eng., article of Waterloo-place, Phil mail, London, Persers-Street, attack of the Chico dally, about half-just Two o'Clock.

BRITANNIA LIFE ASSURANCE COM-PANY. No. 1, Princes street, Bank, Landon.

Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vis., cap. 9.

DIRECTORN. William Berigett, Req.
Banuci Sceington, Req.
William Pechney Black, Beq.
William Pechney Black, Beq.
Clearge Cohen, Beq.
Millis Country, Req.
John Brewelf, Esq.

oun.
Robert Eghutop, Fact
Ermmus Rt. F.-(co., Esq.
Alox: Hobert tryine, Esq.
Peder Morelson, Esq.
Henry Lewis Sinale, Esq.
Thomas Tool, Esq.

Millis Corentry, Esq.

John Brewell, Esq.

Auditors. J. B. Bovington, Esq.; F. P. Cockeril, Esq.,

Auditors. J. B. Bovington, Esq.; F. P. Cockeril, Esq.,

J. B. Bow, San.

Manetal Corrogn. — John Cleddinning, M. B., F. R. S., 16, Winspectives, Caverndish aquare.

Enanthe Cognes. — The Hop. John Ashby, Now. square,

Linculn's Inn; Mr. Horjeant Hurphy, M.P. Tempin.

Socitiving. — Willion Bream, May, 2 Gal. Jevry.

Baneras. — Houses I brewelt and Powier, Fringe-agreet, Uank.

This Institution is empowingd by a spacial Act. of Parliament, and is an constituted as to afford the hypothesis, and so claim to parliam are usually offered by other facilities and ageomomolaticostans are usually offered by other facilities and ageomomolaticostans are usually offered by other facilities and ageomomolaticostans are usually offered by other companies. The decided superiority of by place, and its claim to public preference and support, have been gaved, incontentibly, by its extraordinery and najveosophete succes.

Assurance may either be affected by Parliah on their own Lives, or by Parties interested therein on the Lives of others. —

The effect of an Assurance on a person's own life is be used at once a Property in Beveration, which can by no other means by tradiscip. Take, for instance, the case of a person at the age of Thirty, who, by the payment of M. S. d. d. to the Pritamina Life Assurance Company, can become at once papeassed of a bequestion prime acting the same payment quarterly, derruptle or remaining the acting the same payment quarterly, derruptle or remaining the same payment quarterly, derruptle or remaining of light Minitions works in the expeditive. Thus, by the caretion of a very slight degree of accommy cauch, indeed, as can secretly by felt as an inconvenience, he happened in degree of dispose of in any way be sky thick he can hequeath or dispose of in any way be sky think to contain the scale of the payment of the pay

PETER MURRISON, Resident Director.

A Board of Directors in althoughout thaily at Two o'Clock.

A liberal Commission although the Bolistics and Agents.

DRIMSH and FOREIGN INSTITUTE. PARRON-ILREST THE PRINCE ALBERT
PRESIDENT ARGIST HOR. THE KARL OF INVOY.
HIS ROYAL Highmens the Prince Albert beying practionally honoured the findings by pecogning to Ration, the graparations for a Public Opening of the Ratiolishment with the proposed with as rapidly as a dup regard to the completeness of the stellors will allow.

ments, and to the constart and convenience or its viewer win allow.

In order to effect this, sid, at the came issue, to admit of the attendance of the noble President, and those Years and Constantages who were among the culffest friends and supporters of the Association, the Congling will be deferred till the Meeting of Parliament; but this will stake no change in the date of the First Leature or the First Nolfee of the Season, each of which will be given on the Evenings originally announced—manually, the Lecture on the First Proposery and the finites on the 15th.

The Members who are now enrolled may receive their dards of Membership by personal application to the undersigned, at the Lianover-square kooms only (and not at the institute, a here no adminators can be graited till the regular opening; between the hours of Twelve and Four, after Monday, the 1sth of January, Phen number of the Thousand Members being now consplicted.

Jan 16, 1844.

Jan M. Bucamenas, Readent Director.

TEREMIC'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of OPUM, PREPARED at PATNA, in BENGAL.—The great merit of the preparation is in possible resistant which is not been limited by the properties of Opims, and has therefore been found available in cases where other forms have been limited starting the figures ayalom. The rest procured through its histromentality is directed of the heaviness and stagor nearly the effect of Opims, and the patient, though taking it continuously, is left in free possission of his faculties. It has for suveral years been supplied to the B. C. Dispeteury, by order of the Medical fload of Sengal, from its being found it most Cholera is india, beyond any merely that had been applied to this I falls disease. Captain Jaromic, from whose formula it is prepared, is well known to scientific agranous as the talented improver at the Patra Opium. It will be found not to countinate the bowels, and to keep any time in any cureate, it, seesedingly powerful in Cough, especially Communitation, such Candera in heaving. I will be found in the countinate in heaving. I have been proved in a countinate in heaving in hullians, Rhemanian, and Candera in Accombinate, Rhemanian, and Candera in Accombinate in the properties of the properation fave been proved by infances. The distinguishment is taken to proved by infances. The distinguishment of the halfest in Accombination of the Profession are on the mecanes of the halfest proved proved by infances. The distinguish of many talented province of the came are given here of those who have approved, viz.—Madra of the profession and of the Profession are on the mecanes of the halfest in Accombination of the Profession are on the mecanes of the halfest in Accombination of the profession and in the accombination of the profession and the profession of the profession. The Green of Physics, Clanger.

Dr. Bar, Moy Middeaux Hander, Clanger.

Dr. Hander, Profession of Physics, Clanger. EREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of

Dr. Youge, South Devon Hospital.

Dr. Hageron, Januar asserts to program.

Br. Stagered only by Francis Last, 27, George Street, Siymouth, and sold by thin he bods for dispersing, and in notices at 22, 50, 42, fid, and 11r, all stamped with the Greenmant Stager, he rough the singular work of tree, having his signature written to rea tak, without which more is generally—wald alandwhichevile by Mears. Series, 25, Farringhesten and Lawingheste by Mears. Series, 25, Farringhesten and Lawingheste by Mears. Series, 25, Farringhesten and Edwird Wissenstein, and Lawing Wissenstein, Fooder, Farringhesten & Son, Exeter, Rewis, head-william of the first street, Dahma sicost, Thompson & Co., Cajentia, Henry, Mearse, Tracher, Bombay, Mengaler & Co., Januage, William Make, Mintred, Canada; and retail by all respectance channels. Br. 36, 40, 40, 40, 411.

Now Ready at all the Libraries, in 8 vols.

SECRET PASSION THE

ay The Author or "Shakapeare and His Friends," "The Youth of Shakapeare,"

THE UNLOVED ONE.....A DOMESTIC STORY.

By Mrs. PloyLawn,

Authoress of "Catherine the First, or The Cyarina," &c. & yols

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 13, Great Marlborough Street,

BYBON COMPLETE FOR FIFTEEN SHILLINGS.

New and Cheaper Edition ORD BYRON'S POETICAL WORKS. With Portrait, and View of Newstead. One vol., rl. 8vo, 18e. John Murray, Albemarle street.

DOMESTIC COOKERY, BY A LADY.
Bizty-seventh Edition, greatly enlarged and improved, fcap svo

NEW SYSTEM of DOMESTIC COOKERY. A suited to the present advanced state of the art, but founded upon principles of economy and practical knowledge, and adapted for the Use, of Private Families.—By Mrs. Runnals. eae Of this well-known Work upwards of 280,000 copies here

John Murray, Albemarie-street; and to be obtained of all Book sellers in Town or Country.

FGR SCHOOLS AND PRIVATE INSTRUCTION. WHITTAKER'S ELEMENTARY WORKS.

HISTORY of the FALL of the ROMAN

TISTORY of the FALL of the ROMAN Dr. w. C. TAYLOR. 19mo, 6c. 5d. cloto.

HISTORY of FRANCE and NORMANDY. By Dr. w. C. TAYLOR. 19 Zeditos, 19mo, 6c. bonnd.

WOODBRIDGE'S ATLAS; exhibiting, also, the Religions, Forms of Government, Degrees of Civilization, Comparative Size of Towes, Rivers, and Mountains, and the Climates and Froductions of the Earth. Royal 4to., sc. half-bound.

WOODBRIDGE'S GROGRAPHY; illustrative of the foregoing Atlas. With summerous Engravings. 4th Edition, 18mo, 3c. 6d.

end. HISTORICAL EPITOME of the OLD and NEW TESTA-ENTS, 4th Edition, with Engravings and Maps. 13mo, de.

ound.

PLATT'S LITERARY AND SCIENTIFIC CLASS-BOOK;

runing Reading Lessons for Every Day in the Year. With lestions and Engravings. 19mo, is.

THOMSON'S FIRST BOOK OF ARITHMETIC; with goo

kamples. 18mo, 1s. 5d. A Key, price 1s.

AYRE'S YOUNG LADIRS' ARITHMETIC. 18mo, 2s.

BEASLEY'S DICTAPION SPELLING EXERCISES. 18mo. 2s.

DUNGAN'S ENGLISH EXPOSITOR; or, Explanatory Spei lug Rook. 17th Edition. 18mo. 1s. 5d.

DUNCAN'S ENGLESS MATCHES ARCISTER, 4to, 1s. newed. BARCLAYS SCHOOL MATTER'S REGISTER, 4to, 1s. newed. BARCLAYS RUBOOL MISTRESS'S REGISTER. 4to, 1s. ed. Whittaker & Co., Ave Maria Lane.

CHEAPEST ILLUSTRATED WORK EVER PUBLISHED. Part I., just out, brice is.

PAYNE'S UNIVERSUM; or, Pictorial TAYNE'S UNIVERSUM; or, Pictorial World. Edited by Charles Enwards. Eac. Being a collection of Engrathed of Views in all Countries, Portraits of Great Men, and Epschriften of Works of Art, of all ages and of every character: will be published in Monthly Pars, each containing FOUR HIGHLY-FINISHED STELL ENGRAVINGE from new plates engraved expressly for this Work, printed on demy-quarto paper, and will be accompanied with a to 12 pages of letter-press, uniform with China, America, &c.

Trans Prantiums will be given with the 4th, 8th, and 12th parts. (See Prospectus.)

Pagno's, Uninersum, or Pictorial World.—The first Number of this delightful Publication has just appeared, and certainly given ample proof that the work will be carried out in a manner that will redect the highest credit upon its conductors. There are four beautiful Engravings in it, which may well vib with any that have appeared before the world in this or any other form. If the other parts but equal that now under one consideration, they will amply deferve, what we are sure they will receive, the unlimited patronage of the public.—Moratog desertioer.

Brain & Payne, 12, Paternoater-row, and all Buoksellers.

Imperial 32mb., in an Illuminated Binding.

Imperial 32mb, in an Huminated Binding,

LARKE'S CABINET SERIES.

1. Tighe's Payche, or the Lagend of Love. 1st.

3. Bishop Heber's Palestine, and other Poems, 1st.

3. Longiellow's Voices of the Night, and other Poems, 1st.

4. Hemmis Domentic Affections, and other Poems, 1st.

5. Byron's Glaour, and Bride of Abytos.

6. Birife and Peace. By Miss Browner. 1st.

7. Hoffman's Vigit of Paith, and other Poems. 1st.

8. The Hamber Family. By Miss Browner. 2st.

1. Chapter S. Co. 45. Old Police.

London. H. G. Clarke & Co., 66, Old Balley

FRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SCIDUTION OF COPAIBA.—The efficacy of this invaluable Medicine is attested by Testimonial.—From Joseph Henry Green, Exq., R.R.B., one of the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons; Burgeon to St. Thomas's Rospital: and Profession of Surgers in Eing's College, London:—"I have made triat of Mr. Paanks's Bolution of Copaiba, at St. Tucmas's Hospital, in a variety of cases of discharges in the made and female, and the results warrant my stating that it is an effectious remedy, and one which dees not produce the usual unploasant effects of Copaiba.— (Signed)—Lagra Henry Urern."

"45, Loncoln's life Fields, April 15, 1835."

C *
Beanaged only by Gronen Franks. Suppose, 50. Blackfritzs

TO WHOLESALE PURCHASERS and FAMILIES.—The Directors of the NATIONAL JOINT:
STOCK LINEN COMPANY have opened a Retail Branch in Londen, for the Sale of their own Manufacture and Bleech.
Families in the country can have Samples or Parterns furwarded.
The following are a low of the leading Articles just received from Several cases Double Damask Table Cloths, full five yards s. d

Beveral cases Double Damask Table Cloths, full five yards s. s. long, at each Jong, at each
Jong, at each
Jong, at each
Journey Napkins to match, yard square, the dozen Joyleys', the dozen, Is. 5d.; very rich dign, 3r. 5d. Fish Napkins, the dozen, Is. 5d.; very rich dign, 3r. 5d. Fish Napkins, the dozen, 2s., 2s. 5d., and rkil Damask
Syards long, each
Inferior ditto, all Liften, same size, 3s. 9d.; 2 yards square,
Is. 5d.; 1½ square, Is. each.
The Nobility and Families can have their own creats made to Order on any size Table Cloths. A large stock of the richest Double Damask Gloths, with Napkins to match, now on sale, which will be found at half the price usually charged by realihouses.

irish Linens, extremely fine, warranted of the purest Flax, arms Livens, extremely fine, warranted of the purest Flax, 36 yards for Stout ditto, for Family use, 26 yards, 184., and a quality atrongly recommended, 26 yards for Servants' Liven Sheetings, double width, the pair Their extremely fine Sheetings, 3 yards wide, being only the pair liferlor ditto, same width, the full pair Sheeting Callenes for Charities, stout and wide, the pair 200 dozen of very fine Lawn Handkerchiefe, equal in appearance to French, per dozen Common Lawn Handkerchiefs, the dozen Callenes, ell wide, 34 yards for Superior quality, to measure, yard wide, seft finish, 40 yards for yards for Long Cloths, with the Company's Stamp, 2s. pd. to fe. the some yards, the quality at fs. being curiously fine. The Warehouses filli be also found to contain an immense stock of every description of Goods suitable for Household pur-puses. Prospectaces, containing full particulars of the Goods for Hale, and lists of Prices, can be had at the Warehouses, 185, Fleet-street, corner of Farringdon-street, of by post.

BETTS'S PATENT BRANDY.

DISTILLERY, 7. SHITHFIELD BARS.

Notwithstanding the publicity for many years past given to the superiority of RETTA'S PATENT FRENCH DISTILLERY BRANDY over every other Spirit, initish or Poreign, it is yet but partially known! J.T. Entra & Co. therefore feel it a duty they owe to the Public and themselves to invite a comparison between the Patent and the French Brandy, until every Family in the kingdom, in which Brandy in constined, have made trial of their Patent Brandy,—and consequently discontinued the use of the Freign article. Their respective merits are rairly developed in the following Testimonials, to which they again bog to refer—Entrock from Testimonials.

Entracte from Terrimentars.

"I do not hesitate to express my conviction that your Patent Brandy is fully as free from everything injurious to health, and contains as pure a apirit, as the best varieties of Foreign Brandy.

"Euwan Tunnes,"

"Professor of Chambery in the University of London."

"John T. Betta, Esq."

"I am Cound for say, and do assert with confidence, that for aburity of spirit, this cannot be surpassed, and that your Patent Brandy is also gette free from those solds which, shough minute in quantity, always contaminate the Foreign Spirit.

"J. T. Betts, Esq."

"Chemist to His Majesty."

"Your Brandy is free figm uncombined acid and astringent matter, which exists, more by less, in most of the Brandles imported from France.

JOHN THOMAS COOPER, "Lecturer on Chemistry. " Te Mr. Betts."

It is this perfect freedom from the shove objectionable quali-ties, and its agreeable similarity in flavour to the finest samples of Cognac Brandy, that consultate the peculiar value of the PATENT BRANDY.

PATENT BEANDY.

J. T. Burts & Co. are, at length, enabled to give a distinct sasurance that arrangements will be completed in the course of the present mouth, which will afford an unfalling protection to purchasers against the continuance of those framis, from which they have hitherto so extensively suffered, as each bettle will be secured by a PATENT METALLIC CAPAULS, OF COVERING for the cork, of solid nicksi, with their name, address, and the words "Bettle Patent Beauty" embossed upon it; the forgery of which subjects the guilty party to a Penalty of Firty Pounts for every offence.

This valuable Spirit is manufactured only at the Dintiflery, No. 7, Smithdeld Hers, leading to St. John Street, where is may be obtained, either pair or coloured, in quantities not test than Two Gallous, at Eighteen Shillings per Gallon, fer Cash on ROWLAND'S KALYDOR.—Under the DUNLAND'S KALYDOR.—Under the ROYAL PAMILY, and the MEURAL COURTS of EUROPE.

Composed of BALSAMIC EXOTICS derived citiefly from the East, and atterly pure and free from all mineral or metallic admixture. It exerts the most southing, gentle, cooling, and mustice secretary vessels, dispois all hoperations from the surface, allays every tendency to inflammation, and thru most effectually disalpates all Redmens, Tan, Pierrical Britisher, Spots, Preckles. Chiblaine, and other Cutangous, Visitations. The radiant bloom it imparts to the cheek, will the softness and detecacy it independent to every Toilet. Gentlemen and Seeks, reader it independent to every Toilet. Gentlemen and the peculiarity grateful in allaying the irritation of the Skin effect membering.

CACTION.—Each genuine bottle maths woods.** 20 WLAND'S.

CAUTION.—Each genuine bottle han the words "ROWLAND'S KALYDON" printed on the wrapper.—All others are SPURIOUS IMITATIONS !!!

MITATIONS: 111ger To protect the Public from Praud, the Hon. Camplishoners of Stamps have authorised the Proprietor's Signature to be engraved on the Government Stamp, thus-A. HOWIMAD and SON, 30. HATTON GARDEN,—which is affixed to encly applie.
Price so. 5d. and 8s. 5d. per bottle, duty inclined.
Ask for ROWLAND'S KALYDOR. Sody by their business.
Chemists and Perfumers.

Control of the second

DOARD AND RESIDENCE in a Small Private Family of the first respectability, living close to the Regent's Park, is offered to two Ladies who would occupy the same Bedroom. A fridow and her Daughtor, or two young Ladies berest of shaternal care, would find this a most comfortable home, and could impreve themselves in Music, Singing, French, and German, if agreeable, as the family is both cheerful and accomplished. There are so children or Boarders. Satisfactory references will be given and required. Apply, by letter, prepaid, to Z.B., at Mrs. Tichbourne's Circulating Library, 55, Paddington-street, Marylebons.

DATENT STOVES .- Sixth Season .-DATENT STOVES,—Sixth Senson.—The CHUNK, VESTA, and FYRIDON PATENT STUVES (of which, during the previous five seasons, nearly six thousand have been sold), are the only ones from which a pure and saturificas heat is radiated, having no doors through which the gazes or impure air can escape, as they do from stoves having doors (however well ground and sitted they may be), and having no fire in contact with the outer case, the air is only warmed, nor madery and unwholesone.—Fail particulars, with testimonials from all parts of England (postage free).—(hunk, 6ac.) Vosta, sas'; Pyridion, sac., i with many improvements.—Sole Makers, Rippon and BURTON, 15, Wells-street, Oxford-st.—Established 1840.—Catalogues gratia.

BRONZE SCROLL FENDER for 15s. A BIUNZE SUROLL FENDER for 158.

A RIPPON and BURTON are now offering the most extensive assortment of FENDERS in London, embracing every possible variety, at prices 30 per cent, under any other house. Iron Penders, 3 feet long, from 40. 6d.; 3 feet 6, 4a. 3d.; 4 feet, 6d.; ditto bronzed, 3 feet, from 6a.; 8 feet 6, 7a.; 4 feet, 8a.; rich Scroll Fenders bronzed, from 18a.; or with steel rod and moulding, from 31a.; polished Steel and Ormola mounted Fenders at proportionate prices. Fire-irons for chambers, 1s. 3d. per set; ditto Steel ditto, from 3a. 6d.; handsome ditto, with cut heads, 6a. 6d.; newest patterns, with elegant bronzed beads, 11a. 6d.—Detailed extalogues, with engravings, sent (per poet) free.

METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH ETCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH BRUSH and SMYRMA SPONGRS.—This Tooth-Brush bis the important advantage of searching theroughly into the divisions of the teeth, and cleaning there in the most effectual and extraordinary manner, and in famous for the hairs not coming lones, is. An improved Clothes-brush, that cleans in a third part of the usual time, and incapable of injuring the finest nap. Penetrating Hair-brushes, with the durable unbiasched Russian bristles, which do not soften like common hair. Fishbrushes of improved graduated and powerful friction. Velvetbrushes, which act in the most aurprising and successful manner.
The genuine SMYMMA SPONGE, with its preserved valuable properties of absorption, vitality, and durability, by means of direct importations, dispensing with all furtmeduate parties' profits, and destructive bleaching, and securing the lowery of a genuine Smyrna Sponge. Only at METCALPE'S, 130, S, Oxfordet., one door from Holles-sirect. Caution.—Reware of the words, "Irons Metcale's." selepted by same houses.

Defective Bight and Hearing Relieved.—

promes, and destructive bleaching, and securing the loxuly of agentime Emyran Spongs. Only at METCALPE'S, 190, B, Uxfordst., one door from Holles-attest. Caution.—Beware of the words, "trom Metcalfe's," sdopted by some houses.

IDFECTIVE SIGHT AND HEARING RELIEVED.—Newly-Invented Spectacles. Acoustic Instruments of every description, Powerial Telescopes, Opera Glasses, Bicroscopes, Ro.—Patronised by His Majesty the King of Hanover, Hor Screec Highness the Princess Estarhafy, the Princess Mary and Rosa, Her Grace the Dowager Duchess of Bedford, and their Graces the Archishop of Canterbury, Dukes of Devonshire, Mariborough, Argyle, and Manchester, Lord Hill, Llentennot. General Bit H. Bowerle, Governor of Maits, Generals Galway, Growenor, Maister, Sir E. Paget, Sir E. Lioyd, Brown, Clayton, Froderick Biggs, Rebow, Wolf, Dyott, Robertson, Murrav, Walker, Fox, Orrin, Olary, Vinsent, Price, Lindsay, and Mackenzie; Major. Generals Sir E. Elphinstone, P. Fyers, D. Macteon, Hamilton, and Wennyse; Lleut. Generals Sir J. Macdonald, Sir R. Barton, Sir T. Dallan, Lord John Hay; Adms. Sir G. Munday? Sir G. Martin, Sir J. H. Whitshed, Sir D. Gold, Sir G. Cochburs, Rosa, A. Curson, Tombinson, and Piercy; Vice-Admiral Sir F. Austen, and Rear-Admiral Brown, &c.—Messic, S. & B Solomona, Opticlans and Aurists, 39, Albemarie-street, Piecediliy, opposite the York Hotel, have invented spectacle Lenses, &c., of the greatest transparent power. Immediately these newly invented Spectacle Lenses are placed before extremely imperfect wistum, either by day orecaudicigits, that must and diluess which appear before the kyes are at once removed, every object becomes clear and distinct, violun becomes preserved and strengthened, and very aged persons are cambied to employ their sight, at the most minute occupation, and can see with those Lenses of a much less riagnifying power, nor will they require the frequent changes to further helps as the Spectacles new in the surface of ment of the conversation into the saret seatch as extent that in mos - Mesers. S. & B. Solomons have no connections with a person in the same nature in their immediate neighbourhood, nor with persons in any part of the country except as under. To prevent falstakes, by cautious and observe—only to be had at 39, Albertoner, Pincedilly, opposite the York Hutel, and of one of the firm, 3, Chapel-tow, Queen-square, Bath.

Printed by Grones Lane, of No. 18, South Parade, St. James's Perk, Farish of St. Margaret's, in the countr of Middlesex, Printer, at the Office of Mesays. Bransury and Krama, Louisand-attack, Single-attent, in the Precise of Whitestraps, in the City of London, and Published by him at his Dreich, 19, Carranton-branent, Arealist, in the again Country, where at Advertisements and Countributions that the Edder-attention to the Edder-attention to this will not a member of the Edder-attention to this will not a member of the Edder-attention to this will not be the Edder-attention of the Edder-att

Bast India and Colonial Chronicle.

No. 578.

SATURDAY, PEBRUARY 3, 1844.

PRICE 8d.

CONTENTS OF THE PRESENT MUMBER

Ultary Appointments and Propositions (anth Prot.—Address presented to the (anth Prof.—Letter of "Patryley") (Bl. Mandelle—Address presented by

.

Military Inhiligation
(Promotions, Associations, he daying Japuary) (Distribution of the Satish Arasis, Degenerate to this Naval Promotions and Aspointstonesse the West
General Fost-Office Notice
Stations of Nor Rejecty's Ships in Commission:
Naval intidigence
Battle of Waterico

POR THE CAPS OF GOOD HOPE, will have the the caps of the last state of the last section of the last sectio

FOR BOMBAY DIRECT. To sell on the 10th March, below adopt sugargement to the fight the L. I. Company, having all her dead middle engaged, the spinedile tenk bulk first classeshy Olikwyall, the bound which is without Commander, tying in the West Spile Deads. This ship into most excellent approximated for Passingers, having a dissioner Poop, and is upwards of 7 feet bigh between shelps. Will carry as experienced Euryson. For Freight or Passings apply to Rossar Banny, Esq., New City Chambiers, Bhoospiele-street, or to T. Haviston, and Co., San Court, in 69, Gurnhill.

FOR BOMBAY DIRECT, to follow the TOKEN, with immediate despatch, the line British half Ship JOHN ENOX, sat Tong, R. B. Gangano, Commender, how loading in the West India Expert Book. This vessel, has very superior accommodation for Peasangers, and carries a Surgeon. For Freight or Peasange apply to H. H. Livneak, it flow East India Chambers, Leadenhall Street.

NOTICE to SHIPPERS.—FOR CHIMA Direct, the fast salling Skip ERIN, 703 Tone, N. B. Maring, Commander, now loading in the London Bodie. All goods for shipment by this Versel must be down and cleared before Butter, day the 20th inst., as she will have the Books on that day. Fre-Freight or Passage apply to H. H. Lindon, S. New Best India. Chambers, Leedonhall Street.

FOR BOMBAY DIRECT, the fine first chies

CTEAM to CEYLON MADRAS, and CALCUTTA, via EGYPT, via po. Mapile. Spain Southenspiton.—For Presenters, Guesti, find Midnate, the Seasonstain and Oriental Steem Mayigarko Company's Steam alter Oklaholica, and one of Heliopstain, Capt. S. as oknown with the test of March alter and the Histopstain, Capt. S. as oknown with leave Seasons about the 2nd of March for the stoy of Leave Seasons about the 2nd of March for the stoye places. Apply at the Painter and Oriental Steam. Navigation Company of General Seasons and the Office, 32, Regent Crops.

THE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Mears. T. and W. Sayrin, or Newtonian apon Type, and built by them for the Liddle TEASE, will limit described punctually at the underministered delete.

Last thinging Day in the fact indic Depth Three Buy's previously.

FOR MINISTRY.

COLOMBO, 600 Teas. Jour Enquirity Community, in dail

Petriary 15.

PEKIN, 600 Tone, Rouner Laire, Commandit, 50 and Reservant 54.

ROBERT SMALL OFFIces. E. Winteres, Communication in Rail April 19.

ELLENBOROUSER, Jahn Tone, M. O. Confin Communication in Rail Buy 20. Sell Huy 20.
SUUCKS ALON, S.MA Time Was December 1.

SUCREMATOR, THE Time W. Bear, Commenter, while June 18.

GLORIANA, Joseph Dalloury & Dispers, was an analysis of the June 2007 County of the June 2007

Court supradicate

L. for Millers, Newyal Mayer

Afficiancy of Civity of this Royal Nayer

Markings of the Civity of this Royal Nayer

Markings of the Civity of the Landers in this I. S. Sympton

Millers, Rubbe th Court Mindstate

Millers, Rubbe th Court Mindstate

Millers on this heart to fill the good Security of the Civity of the County of the Cou FOR MADRAS DIRECT TOR MADINAS DIRECT and will mill see Tour Manile the fee appril, the fee Tour Manile Mallatell see Tour Manile Mallatell see Tour Manile Mallatell see Tour Manile Mallatell see Tour Manile Ma

DENINGULAR & ORIENTAD STEAM

The Ninguilla R. & ORIENTAD STEAM.

The Company with Paracters of the Interior places, virginity of Paracters of the Interior places, virginity of Paracters of the Interior places, virginity of Paracters of Paract

THE Name AND INSTRUMENT OF THE PRINCIPLE OF THE PRINCIPLE OF THE OTHER OF THE PRINCIPLE OF

PRICES FOR BAVAL CHIFORMS. Containment' Containment'	the second	ente, Mestere, Kurgetha, and Paredea		and and Class Vo-
Dress Coat	3 2 3 30	5 0446 10 1 10 - 4 4 2 10 - 4 10 3 10 - 3 10 3 5 - 6 10 1 10 - 6 10 3 10 - 6 10	5 0106 p 2 10 - 4 0 1 0 - 1 12 2 5 - 4 19 6 10 - 2 19	1 10-4 4 1 10-1 12 4 8-1 18

diska? or good quality, and well made, at two par dozen.
Officers joining atted out it a very hours' manne, with every specialty for a voyage. Shirts, therets, Reiding, see he, always made, and every article wayshafted satisfy regulation.
Therets, history and Distorbands difficers, which out on the high advantageous terms, but historical actions of each on the high advantageous terms, but historical actions of each on the high advantageous terms.

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT QUALITY, WITH TEXTHER, ROR 23 2.

VERLAND TO INDIA. The new Putent improved Air Lightimas Wainigricot Overlia Workent improved Air Lightimas Wainigricot Overlia Workent Martine and Value, and the Londing Overland Martine and Value, and the Londinged Wash, liked Apparatum. Conditions with the absorption with the absorption with the absorption of airs, humanistic little, but been actually and overlapserption of camp equilibrium, and comprehensive of a camp equilibrium, and comprehensive of a camp equilibrium of the lowest priority by JOHE MOUTHEATE, and SUR, manufacturers of all attains appoints in the above trade, 75 and 77. Westing street, sear E. Panty.

FO MILITARY OPPICERS and GREEN TRANSPORTED AND AND STREET, LONDOW, say the first properties of the reality and the reality and

Ayliamentery Analysis hat Anish hattiliganes for Anish Hattiliganes

hilling on the magning morant of the constant of the constant

OFFICERS in HER MAJESTY'S Service. Detain and Assistant Burgeons; san bis against a chart also with the proper description of Line). Military Accountment, deplay the proper description of Line), Military Accountments, deplay the property of the little and littl

ONEY Melblement, Gentionien, Military in the second of the Universities and release graphs of the Universities and release may be accommodated with Louis in my meant, for long or short periods. In a manimistor respects the law of the second of the second

MESSMAN.—Wented to Mess the Officers of a Logington of Department of Allers of Department of Allers of Department of Allers of Department of D

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARMY AND NAVY.

IT POTTER, MARTIAL MITRICAL,

IT HREEDERNT MAKER TO SEE MAJESTY, WAIGADE OF GUARDS, and the HOMODSABLE HOARD OF

ORDMANGE, a Bridge-erect, Westminster, London,

Inventor, of the Improved Rettle Brems.—Bade, Tenor, and Side ditto of every description—Fidits, Cistionists, Descript, Supplets, Base Berris, Cymbels, An.—Vide French, Horne,

Residen Unribte, Valve Ophicietal, Mysik Kept Lagie. Trans
Brems, Makers Troubles.—Resistant Band-Masters.

Brug-Majors Trophies, -Registigit & Band-Maxters.

PURE AND COOL WATER - Naval TOURE AND (OOL WATER. Navil and allitary Officers will find did of LIPECOMBE a Co.'s PATENT TRAVELLING WATER FITZERS a most do sitable acquisition. They are weighted to samme colour taste, and small, from every kind of water, and to make here water soft. They have been in extensive higher many year, and ye wall known to be the most effectively where gone whole sites ever invented. In warm climating—where gone whole stems water is subcoun not mith-where with obtain invalinable me they not only reader the most stagment water steer guid esact ling as the first spring, but also tagents water steer guid esact they are the first spring, but also tagents water steer guid esact

they are the first spring but also tagents water steer guid esact they are the first spring. See the they water very cond they are the the coverage. See the they water to go of seing put out of order,—they transport and are through deposite Quadrant.

See they to discret for sale in must eas, part town, as they are which are offsered for sale in must eas, part town, as they are which are offsered for sale in must eas, part town, as they are which are offsered for sale in must eas, part town, as they are which are offsered for sale in such eas, part town, as they are

TMPORTANT PATENTS IMPROVE MICHTANT PATENTS "IMPRICIVE."

MENT in CHEORYMETERS and Wartonen. C. DERN, es. Strand, who substitute the high distinction of receiving the commons reward for the imparticular performance of the inest Chronometer ever enterprises to be injusted by reformance of the free Chronometer ever enterprises to be injusted for injusting public first, begins a respectively granted in 1955, 1969, shall 1942. Silver enterprises are presented in 1955, 1969, shall 1942. Silver the the public first bloom the common the properties in four fishes a first shall be the common that is the sentence of the common the common that is the sentence of the common that is the common that i

Military Intelligence.

FROM TUESDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

Ordnance Modical Department—Surgeon Thomas Haswell Quigley, to be Senior Surgeon, v. Simpson, veired; Assist.-Surgeon John Atkins Davis, to be Sårgson, v. Qalgley.

PROM PRIDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

WAR-OFFIGE, Feb. 2.

RI. Reg. of Horse Caratis—Lieut. T. Brunt to be Adjt., v.

Munro, superacied, Cornet J. Brunt, from 3d Light Dragoons (Riding Master), to be Cornet, without p.

9th Lt. Dragoons—Cornet P. Actachus to be Lieut., by p., v. Dixon, who retires; C. E. Law, Gent., to be Cornet, by p., v.

Antrobus.

13th 1+ Presented.

v. Dixon, who retires; C. F. Law, Gent., to be Cornet, by P., v. Antrobus.

13th Lt. Dragoons—Lieut. R. J. Elrington, from 47th Hog., to be Paym., v. Leechtapp. to 9th Lt. Dragoons.
1st or Grengdier Reg. of Poot Guard—J. G. C. Disbrowe, Enq., Page of Honour to Her Majesty the Queen Dowager, to be Ers. and Lieut. without p.
4th Foot.—Lieut. J. Cumming, from 26th Foot, to be Lieut., v. Campbell, who exchanges.
7th—Ens. J. H. F. Stewari, from 24th Foot, to be Lieut./ W. Pakenham. promoted.

dit Font - Licut. J. Cumming, from 26th Foot, to be Licut., v. Campbell, who exchanges.
7th - Ens. J. 11. F. Stewart, from 24th Foot, to be Licut./ $\footnote{\text{Pip} \text{Pip} \text{Pip} \text{Parentains.} \text{promotest.} \text{listh-Ring. W. H. (if leves to be Licut., without p., v. Simmons. dec.; T. Mostyn, Gent., to her Sins., v. Graves; Assist-Surg. B. Stewart, M.D., from 26 Foot, to be Burg., v. M. Kinlay, dec. 24th-Kins. W. Hartshorn, from Cape Mounted Riffemen, to be Ensign v. Stewart, promoted in 7th Foot.
26th-Licut. W. M. Campbell, from 4th Foot, to be Licut. v. Cumming, who exch.; T. W. Andrews, Gent., to be Ens. v. De Montmurency, promoted in 7th Foot.
36th-Ens. J. T. Bettesworth, to be Licut. by p. v. Higrica, who ret.; W. H. Fortuscun, Gent., to be Ens. by p. v. Bettesworth. 59th-Br.. Licut. Cel. A. H. Trover, from 9th Foot, to be Eilet.. Col. by p. v. Fuller, who retires.
67th-L. Newman, Gent., to be Ens. by p. v. Orlebar, whose Sppointment has been cancelled.
98th-Cupt. T. St. Leger Alcook, to he Maj, by p. v. Trever, premoted in 59th Foot. Licut. H. O. C. Master, in be Capt. by p. v. Alcock; Ens. T. Davis, to be Licut. by p. v. Master; F. T. Patterson, tient., to be Ensign by purchase v. Davis.
1st West India Reg.—To be Licut. by p. v. Master; F. T. Patterson, v. Grant, promoted, Jan. 30; Ens. G. H. Robe, 2001. St. Licut. Col. A. H. Robe, 2001. St. H. Ro promotent Affred Crocker, Gent., to be Assis. Surg. to the Forces, v. Young, dec.

Royal Change an Lt. Intentry Baffallon of Militia.—Thomas builty Eaq., to be Lieut. Col., v. Morgan, dec., Jan. 27.

OA vis ty.

6th Dragoon Guards—Lieut. Col. Hay, we are happy to atate, is recovering from the effects of the unlooky accident, reported in our last.

7th Hussers -- Much excitement has pravailed at Brighton. in consequence of the examination at the Police Court (cargied on with closed doors) of a man named Lynch, a private in the 7th Hussans, charged with being accessary to the murder of Edward limitey, a gamekeeper in the service of Mr. Allcock, of Wilton, Westord, in March, 1839. This proceeding was occasioned by the receipt of a letter from the Hon. Captum Hay, a Wexford magistrate, to the Commanding Officer of the 7th, apprising him that some party who was in custody at Wexford on a charge of being concerned in this murder, had made some statements forplicating Lynch, who, it was understood, had subsequently enlisted into the 7th, in the oring. It was aspertuned at the termination of the investigation that the prisoner admitted he had lived in the meighbourhood at the time of the murder, and that he was present at Hanley's funeral; but he strongly denied any knowledge of the murder. The prisoner will be immediately sent to Ireland for examination.

9th Lancers - Cornet Lord James De Burgh Browns, son of the Marquis of Sligo, has embarked for the East

ORDNANCE CORPS.

Rl. Artillery-The Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland has appointed Lieut. G. D. Warburton, R.H.A., to be an Aide-do-Camp on his Excellency's Staff.
Rl. Engineers—Four Royal Engineer Officers are at Cologna attached to the Prussian Engineer department; their names are Capt. Williams, Lioutenants Symonds, Robertson, and fanshawe. They have been very landly treated by the Prussian Engineer and other Military Authorities, and have succeeded in making thouselves universally established and respected.

INFANTRY.

· •

Bth-On Monday last, in consequence of a threat from the colliers in the heighbourhood to force those at Hawarden to trike for an advance of wages, Lieut.-Col. Michael and the effective men of this reg. at Chester, marched in support of the civil power, but returned on the night of the 30th, having prevented the intended breach of the peace. Likett, Crowder and a small detachment has proceeded to Mold, at the solicitation of the thingistrates, and Likett, Unichester to side of the smaller villages in its vicinity. Captain Reed's co., from Stockport, arrived in Chester on the morning of the Blat uit., to supply the place of the men detached into Flintshife.

20th Depot — Lieut. Garstin, Euss, Beere, Anstey, Beatty, and Dowling, and 135 r. and f., from the Isle of Wight, are under orders to join the service companies.

27th Depot—Lieut, Johnstone has resigned the recruiting service, at Omegh.

30th-The following Address was presented to this 30th—The following Address was presented to this gallant vorps, previous to its leaving New Brunswick:

"To Lieut.-Col. Orthond, Qummanding H.M." 30th Foot.

"Sin.—We, the Sinyer, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of Saint John, in Consinen Council convened, have learned with regret that the gallant reg. under your command is about to embagk for Great Bridgin. Frompt as every Officer, Non-sequential lead of the South has been to render institution of the disease on all occasions or first, attacty as has been the character of the South has been to render institution of the Great South of the South has been to depart without tendering for such but linear uniform a his beek, the urbanity of its Officers, We Simnot allow the regiment to depart without tendering for such but linear thanks, and expressing hopes that their passage stay be appearly and pleasant. The Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonality, pray you, Sir, to convey to Lieux.-Col. Stade also their thanks for his services while here stationed with the regiment. "It. Donalpoon, Mayor."

31st—We have great pleasure in contradicting the report of the death of Colonel Churchill, C.B., Maj.-General in India. A Figle-Officer informs us, that he has received a letter from the Colonel, dated Nov. 19, the General in India. A Fight-Officer informs us, that he has received a letter from the Colonel, dated Nov. 19, the last day for the dispatch of litters from the part of India in which he was stationed. The report originated with a contemporary, but we did not give it insertion intil we had met with it in several papers, and, therefrom, supposed it was entitled to credit.

38th—Lieut.-Col. Mr John Campbell, and Capt. Woodshouse, are reported at about to retire. The latter is an old Peninsular Officer, and has been 35 years in the Service.—The 38th expans to move from Gibraltar to Canada.

44th,—Third letter

44th,-Third letter

To the Editor of the Navel and Military Gazette.

Sir From the tenor of the letters which appeared in your Gascie of the 13th instant, and of the authorities they quote, it appears that, in the opinion of the authors of those letters, it is the duty of Col. Shelton to permit of those letters, it is the duty of Col. Shelton to permit himself and H. M.'s 44th regiment to be scandalleed and calumniated, and on no account to question the truth of the statements, or to express his opinion either of the conduct of his own regiment, or of the troops to which the calumniators belonged. Not a word must be said censuring the Sepoy troops by any one; this is so delicate and dangerous a sabject to handle, or even to hint at sthat any Queen's Officer, however much he may have been written down in the must unquelified and area differential language, is forecoth to be tried by a Could Martial, if he ever dures, upon a very proper occasion, and in a pertinent manner, to vindicate his own corps, or state one single fact, out of a hundred which might have been given, tending greatly to the immortal honour of his own well-abused regiment, but certainly not to the honour of those who have pretended to give a faithful, impartial account of the campaign.

Whether Col. Shelton's silence has been influenced by any attent feeling, or any other of probably a more delicate and rational nature, it is not in my power to state; but if the assailants against his rogument and himself desired his silence, they have assuredly had it to their heart's con-tent; for, until the late occasion, he appears to have held s contemptuous silence, and neither abusive letters, with which a portion of the press of India amound their readers, northe books miblished in England, have ever drawn from northe books published in Engiand, have over drawn from him one word of public notice that I have over highest of. As an individual, I beg to assure you that I have ever highest of dearly connected with the Company's as well as the duern's Service, and hold the one is at high extination as the ether; but I cannot, as an important idealcon, avoid feeling that no sooner is a Queen's regiment called into active service, in the field in India, but it becomes the subject of attack in the Indian press, appropriately under the influence of, and deriving its inhomation from the Company's Officers. This should not be said no man who loves his country will recovered it.

who loves his country will encourage it.

Your convergement "A," as well in """ "seeing," makes use of most threatening and substituting languinge foughts purposes of fair discussion; and it has seemed to teach the links of Wellington wher he country such to depresent to the sentiments he has expressed at the presentation of the colors, and to couradiet Col. Sherton in his tion of the colors, and to contradict Col. Shelten in his assertions regarding the conduct of the regimble. I conclude both your correspondents must be knowned corporate who, in disguise, accompanied the troops in the Affghan temperature, and know all injusted in the Affghan temperature, and know all injusted it makes better than Col. Shelton dows, or the two great Military authorities I have referred to, who have probably mathematical into the truth, and will not be led away by probably into the truth, and will not be led away by probably into

First, we have " General, A.," who writes some non First, we have "General A.," who writes some noncense about Col. Shelton making an apology for the foul appersion he has dared to cast upon the Sepoys. The words dibibilit having reference to an individual are somewhat personal. If they are foul aspersions, they are, I conclude, false statements, and have been very properly described; but this no one can for a moment believe; and if they are true, pray what is the position of "A.," who ventures to call them foul aspersions? or what confidence is to be placed in any of his dominuminations? In effect, "A." does, in a subsequent part of his letter, admit the truth of what be has, in the commencement of it, called a feel aspection; for he writes regarding the expression what the Senova for he writes regarding the expression when the Sepoys deserted us, "This alledes to the retreat after all the mischief had been done, and when the gillant Colonel, and he a party to the objection, had deserted Shah Soc-jah." The fact of the tention is here udmitted ; and I jah." The fact of the mention is now wanted fact he sak then, how can the mention of an admitted fact he camplained of as a foul aspersion? But says #A." "It was after all the mischief had been done." This isidness too to think "A." could not have been there, or he must have been one of the early hostages, or he would have known that a great deal of missiled was done after the period alluded to, for many a galitist fellow of H.M.'s 44th Regiment after this fell in delibbe of their colours. He might, with greater propriety, have said that all the mischief had been done before Col. Shelton joined the force in Cantonments, as shown by my second letter in your Gazette. But "A.," like all Col. Shelton's assailants who have yet appeared in print, practice in the safe and cautious school general assertion, and falls to fix the period at which all the mischief was dotte. As to the describe of Shah Scolub, and such a charge being made as a prominent feature against Col. Shelton, it is so absurd as to be scarcely worthy a denial.

The desertion of Shah Soojah, and the desertion from the colours, are two very different matters; but I deny that he, or any of the force, did desert Shah Soojah. Shah Soojah might have accompanied the force in the ratrest; and if he did not choose to do so, be deserted the retreat; and it he did not encose to do so, he deserted the force, and not the force him. Had the poor man accompanied the force on the retreat, he would have found himself indeed deserted by all but II.M.'s 44th Reg., the gallant 5th Cavalry, the Artillery-men, and a few Officers of conspicuous bravery. If "A." will take the trouble to quote the date of the Naval and Military Gazztie he refers to, as containing the Memorandum in General Bi-phinstone's hand-writing, I will refer to it, if Colonel Shelton does not comply with his request, which, judging from the past, is not very likely. I maintain that Colonel Shelton is quite right; neither himself, nor the 44th, nor any Officer, nor soldier belonging to it, over surrendered to the enemy, or ever for a moment thought of doing so, atther as prisoners or hostages. The Rag. to a wan died with arms in their hands, and undauntedly disputed every inch of ground with the enemy. This does not look like surrender to Akbar Khan. It is asked by "A." why did he (Colonel Shelton) not second General Eiphinetone in times of difficulty and danger? to which I answere that Colonel Shelton did all that any man could have done inder the same circumstances, and to use, therefore, " A.'s" own words, it is a foul expersion on Colonel Shatton to apply any such a gharge sgainst him. The highly com-plimentary remarks anuexed to the sentence in his; Court plimentary remarks asserted to the sentence in his court Martial, and his present position as Culonel of his Reg. is a sufficient session. And is General Elphinstone's order books found at Landid, he, under date of 24th Nov., 1841, status, 4 The Maj. General begs Brigadier Shelton will accept his most cordislathanks for his able conduct and exercions perfectory, as well as upon former occasions, and day the seasonstition assistance he has invertibly reand for the unresulting agistance he has invertably re-ceived from blin during the inte trying circumstances. It is plaused a loss of time thus to snawer in detail is string of such unfair disingentums questions, tending to make a faire trapression on the mind tif any casual reader. You will not fail as both intuition by a clique of the Company's Offi-cers. He said act estimates it. The provention is all cers. He shid not constitue it. The prevention is all on their part, and the retreat heiring both referred to both by Sir Herotiles and Lady Peksaham at the ceremony to which "A." alludes, Colonel Shelton merely stated a simple fact to show how little the 44th Reg. deserved consure from any Officer who was in that retreat; and that any such Officer, with the least pretensions in graticule, while feature. served consure from any Officer who was in that retreat; and that any such Officer, with the least protections to graticule, uranly feeling, or illiparticity, should have passed ove he had principled to the appetites of a hungity public, by discensing, with so much enginees and meartlessness, the groundless attacks tipon the muserty of as brave a act of man as ever full in defence of H.M.'s colours, under objectablesses of difficulty, horror, and privation, which are unprecedented in the armsite of Web. I have the bosour to the Sir, your very homale intrinst. Maintenant files. The Armys. Affecting the second of the letter of "Justices" and the letter of "Justices" arrived at the letter of "Justices".

Officiar 19th Jan., after the extraordinary pilled panears d de days from Cork.

46th Depot companies umbarked at Cork on board the teather Alban on Stat January for Portamouth. 46th Depot...Br. Edg. Martin, Lieut. Young, and Ens.

Lyons, with 60 r. and f., have marched from Boyle to Stigo. Br. Marin has been 40 years in the Service, and we indiron "Hart's Army List" their prior to entering the regular Army, he served nearly two years in the Northighton Resident. requiar Army, as served nearly two years in the Notthightan Penjibles; subsequently, he served sight judgs in the felj in Saily; the campaign of 1807 in Egypt; taking of Genomic 1814; two campaigns in the United States of North America, including the triving of Castine and its dependencies on the river Posisioner.

To embark at Gibralter ou 24th Jan., on bodes

the Apollo, for North America.

Rl. Marines—Soc. Lieut. Usher has six weeks leave RI. Marines—see. Laux. Usuar nus aix. week? lave, after which he joins thin Comperdison, 104.—Liout. Cdl. Swale has been sent to Plymouth Division, to assist in the Field-Officer's duty. The detachments at Haver-fordwest, Fishguard, and Narbeth have not yet been balled; but as Rebecca and her children have beome more peaceable, it is expected their services will tome more peaceable, it is expected their services will be shortly dispensed with. Major Whytoch's party will probably go to Ireland; Captain Dawse's will certainly return to Pembroke, where their services are greatly wanted. The Victoria Barracks will be ready for occupation early in the ensuing autumn. We with pleasure publish the following address and reply I-

"To Captain Buchanan, the Offiner in Command of the Detuch-ment of Her Majory's Royal Marines on duty at Deptord, on Thursday, the 11th of January, 1814. Sit, "We, the indering and View, Rector, Churchwardens, and inhabituals of the particles of R. Nicholas and Rt. Paul, Deptord, Rent, desire to express our smeere thanks for the prompt and effective endertance rep-of St. Nicholas and St. Paul, Depitord, Rent, desiré te expressour sincere thanks for the prompt and effective assistance reserves assistance reserves an experience of the fire prompt and effective assistance reserves and men under your command, at the signal and the officers and men under your command, at the signal and the fire which occurred in High-arrest, Depiters, on the 11th mat, and our admiration of the fifteepidity and nederly and additivition confusion was arrested, and the two indictions were convinced a very great loss of praperty, if more disfinition was a contracted and the words of your communicate to those of your will acquee for yournels, but however a comment of communicate to those of your corps to much meeting, this varies of our feelings of gratitude towards you and them. We remain, &c."

"Royal Marine Barracke, Depitord. Gentlemen, —I have the honour to arknowledge the receipt of a document bearing your signalures, together with many others of the respectable inhabitants of Deptord, expressing their gratitude to the Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and privates, under my orders, in remember and any opping the fire which broke out on the storage of the 1th inst., in High-arract, Depitors." I have to request you will be pleased to convey to them the high gratification I fiel that the detection of convey to them the high gratification I fool that the detection of the property was threatened with destruction, "Trans' flags with aways meet their approbation under samplar and any other circumstances. I have, etc.

"To the Vicar, Rector, and Churchwardene of st. Fault's and St. Nicholas."

53d-fld.-qrs. are expected to move to Dublin in the

59th See With Depote

Glat-The Grenadies company under Capt, Campbell, marched from Limerick on Monday for Klilaloe, to be here stationed. Lieut. Brickdale and Ens. Wickham recompanied the detachment. Private M'Kensie who lost two fingers of his left hand at Newcastie, whilst angaged with his comrades at ball practice firing, by a shot

March 31.

82d Depot-Capt. Talian's co., from Clare Carlle, has replaced Capt. Eccles' co. in Engis, which latter has joined hd-qrs.

95th Depot-This crack depot loses the services of its much-estremed Major, Bt. Lieut. Col. Trevor, who has we are happy to find, been specially selected for the point mand of the 59th, in succession to Lieut. Col. Fuller.

Lieut. Col. Trever served in Germany and Holland in 1913 and 14, including both situets on Manness, speculous in front of Astwerp, and the starming of Bergan, ap-Room. Served and the companys of 1848, including the action at Guara Bress, retreat of the 17th June, battle of Waterion, udvance to and capture of Paris.—Harf's Army List.

opture of rara.—Herr's Army List.

199th.—The Gilmore trensport from Bagland had rived at Van Diemen's Land in September just, with Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Desperd and Haughters, Ens.
Wright, and 50 r. and do, in charge of 250 convicts.
Licat. and Adj. Desting, Quester-Master Macdonald, and family, with 50 r. and do, had arrived out in the Creeny, with the new Gevernor, Bir E. Wilson.

To the Editor of the Navat and Military Canadia. at India Regiments.—Bir.—Tour porture To the Editor of the Navat and Miditary Canadia.

West India Regiments.—Reg. Kour correspondent "Zara," whose letter appeared in your less week's Gassets, I pleasure has never had the planejers of herving on the West Coast of Africa, otherwise he would not, I think, be so loud in his outary about the intransiti schoolitare arising from the late rotation system considered for the Tribing from the late rotation system considered for the West India Regiments, or he may possible the important plane, of some such structure, quantum and the constant plane.

and would, therefore, prefer adding the recessibility and of an Affidia Colonial Corps. I should be born to think this bay our who him made himself sequenced with this that any our who has made himself expected with this new arrangement, has willingly last eight of the main principle upon which it was head, "estimous humanity." The plan was, I believe, auggested by the present Secretary of lithite for the Colonies, and I would venture to affirm that his name will not readily be forgotten by those having relativity or friends, who, from want of a little interest, were doesned, but for this giow system, to unlimited Service on the West Coast of Africa. I say, on the saver of common buttenity, was their to other readily. the score of common humanity, was there no other rea-son, some such plan has been long called for. Refer to the martiality in the Colony of Sierra Leono alone, for the last ten or fifthen years, and let me selt, was it reasonable to expect Officers willingly to attach the haddown to a regi-theme persentently stationed at such a place, or to be deduced, as your orizonpundent suggests, to a Service of even five years? I know your opinion, fir, full wall, from the many feeling remarks upon the subject which have appeared in your valuable Gassette, and I will give you the opinion of one of the most intelligent Medical Officer in the British Army, who as Principal Redical Officer in the West Gasset of Africe, with an unequalied African Service, but more experience of the effect that the score of common humanity, was there no other rea-African Service, but more experience of the effect that court has upon the European constitution than any other mun living;—it was with reference to a War Office Circular man living,—it was with reference to a War Office Circular which appeared some years leaft, granting leave of absence for Officer to return to Europe, tree of expense to them selvist, after having completed fire years' epishmulve forvied in Africa, and to the effect, that this same act of liberality might as well have been infe slowe, as there was no chance of any one ever availing himself of it,—that there have been Officers who with the most scrupulous care of, and estention to, their lieskib, able to weather they years' survice I will not dony; but such instances are few and far between, and when sempared to the numbers ave years saysice I will not dony; but such instances are few and far between, and when sempared to the numbers that have fallen victims to that pestilential coast, with others whose constitutions have been ruined by African Service, they are as about one to a hindired. The grave-yards on the Coast of Africa coutain the remains of many a gailant fallow, who, unable to make set an existance on histograph, has been demand ables to make set an existance on helf-pay, has been forced elither to assept the full-pay of the African Corps or a commuted allowance for his commission; and this plan was notually necessary in order to get Officers to serve in Africa. Many are the tours of the widow and fatheriess children that would have been spared, if an arrangement such as we have been referring to had been framed a few years back; and, instead of the Army generally turning up their some at the African Corps, and looking at the Officers on uponing it as some-Corps, Corps, and looking at the Officers osupposing it as some-what beneath them, there would have been that feeling of equality exicting, so desirable usings all branches of the Service, and which the recent retailor system has leaded so much to establish. Something remains yet to be said in reply to other purts of the letter referred to, more par-ticularly as regards the improvement in the silicitons of the force in Africa from the new plant and I sain historm your correspondent "Zara," who thinks it inexpedient that a detachment which he has, referred to, in the West Indian, should be under the command of a Captain, inalises equalled, if not exceeded, in numbers in Africa, and under the command of a Subaltern of not three years standing. the command of a Subsitern of not three years' standing, with an Busing just appointed, to carry on the duties; and it has frequently occurredictat the hand-quarters of the African Corps has been under the command, of a bubsitern, with two of three Officers effective for duty. The redution system, from requiring Officers to remain only twelve mentiles, will insure a proper number for each company being present.

Assistantus.

Jumpary 25.

The Army in Ireland consists of 7 regs. of Cavalry, 17

The Army in Ireland consists of 7 regs. of Cavalry, 17 regs. of Infantry, 15 Infantry dupots, 9 complinies of Ed. Marines, 1 troop of Ed. Horse Artillery, and détachments of El. Artil., forwing my effective strength of 25,000 men. Fromertion yank the Ranks.—Sixtees Non-commissioned Officers were presented to commissions in the Cavalry and Infantry last year.

Major Hatherford empired the Army in 1868, and was placed an hiddening in 1868. He served in the Peninsula, and was present at the despice of Cadis in the series of Salvagal; the build of Function D'Onor; first diags of Salvagal; the build of Function D'Onor; first diags of Salvagal, and halden of Nivelle, Orthes, and Taulouse. He subsequently served in the war in America.

He subsequently served in the war in America, his person with Chine, he's had not be supplied to the war in America. Whi Chine, he's lead that, he is had not be supplied in the supplied of t periods they may have been accesses to the cases to which the list is days.

"Longitudinative with his beauth for any such cases to which the Cellabor high substitute to be dispersed beyond the period specified to the contract of the period operated to, on the supress condition that the contract that the contract that he will chance when two companion of more they be the contract that the heavy to the contract the periods of the periods of the contract that the heavy have the contract the periods of the periods of the contract the periods of the peri

Y. New

PROPERTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c., DURING JANUARY.

Army—Chyb. T. Hamilton, dat Foat, Major, July 22, 1680; Cage. Ambin, 1st F., Maj., Jen. 16, 2607; Cage. Radi, May 28, 1641; E. Maj., Jen. 16, 2607; Cage. R. Williams, 1842; E. Maj., Maj. 1943; E. Maj., Maj. 1944; E. Maj. Maj. 1944; Cage. Colonel, Moy. 29, 1943; Cage. V. Colonel, Moy. 29, 1943; Cage. V. P. Miping So., 1844; Cage. Maj. Maj. Jen. 20, 1846.

188 Maj. Gala.—Hugh Williams Manalgement, 2047; and Muh. Lient: Sy B. V. Vice, Draming. Tolkend, 19th do. 188 Mr. Gala.—L. Col. Standard, 19th do.

Cloud by S. v. Vien. Dramina.
Ref. restred, 19th do.
18t Sr. Gyle.—Lt., Col. Stanley Gyle.—Lt., Col. Stanley Gyle.—Lt., Col. Stanley Gyle.—Lt., Col. Stanley Gyle.—Visit. Livet.—Vol. v.
Bis.Col. Stanley C. Gyle.—Lt., do.; Win.
Ref. Stan. Gyle. Cor., do.; Win.
Ref. Syle. Cor., do.; Livet.
Ref. Syle. Stan. St. Licket.
Richert. Bon. 34th do.
6th. Dr. Get. —Lt., Licket.
Ref. by s. v. South ser., Bon.
Ref. by s. v. South ser., licket.
Ref. Syle. Ed. Weller, Licet.
Ref. Syle. St. Ref. Licket.
Ref. Syle. V. Furtan, ret., do.;
Col. Fillips, Licet., do., fraven.
Ref. Syle. V. Furtan, ret., do.

Ref. States.-Surg. v. Unctsoli, still F., Jun. 18, (1944, 1-10).
Ref. Syle. Frest. 1st Dr. Con.

Line States.-Surg. v. Unctsoli, still F., Jun. 18, (1944, 1-10).
Ref. Syle. Syle.
Ref. Syle. Syle. Syl.
Ref. Ref. Syle.
Ref. Ref. Syle.
Ref. Ref. Syle.
Ref. Ref. Syle.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref. Syle.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref. Ref.
Ref. Ref.

Asia v. James, exes, 19th do. Bitto Paym. Levels, thom 18th Jr., Paym. Enight, h.p.

dis. Little-Liller. Weguelin, Capt. by by Watton, rela-, her by by Watton, rela-, her by saids Car. Hun. G. J. Heal. Links, do., Thun. Gerke Dallan, Cay. Bus J. Madr. Renge Hen. Class Dr. E. Whattagers, prom. on Staff, do. Jet Frage. Majer Hell. Licut. Chi. by p. Duning, prom. nation, did hip, f. Gen. the hight Hun. By Chen. Links Hun. By Chen. Lyandowh, El-U.B., shad, sight story Lyandowh, El-U.B., shad, sight story. Danks Anthony. Danks Anthon. Pont. (Arr. Lyandowh, El-U.B.), shad, sight story. Bast. Anthony. on m. Berr., Capt. V. Hantpeon, um So.: Lieut. Hon. C. D. Plunket

Jack. Capt. v. Hamboon, uns. do. Liefet. Hone. C. i. Flushent, Capt. hyp. v. Brev. Maj. Aubin, 19th. do.; Rus. Carlyon, Lieux., 19th. Carlyon, Lieux., do., 18na; Carlyon, Lieux., do., 4th. e-Amist. Harg. Bartnell, from Bd Br., Stein, Harg. Bartnell, from Bd Br., Stein, Formun, from Sth. F., Lieux. hyp. v. simplem, 19th. Sp., 1842 Lieux. Lucitrane, Capt. by S. v. simplem, 19th. Box. 20, 1842 Lieux. Lucitrane, Capt. by S. v. simplem, 18th. De. Monunovency, from Sth. F., Lieux., do., 18, 1844 Eng. De Monunovency, from Sth. F., Lieux., do., 18th. Maj. v. Barg. Milconti, do., 18th. Maj. Wilbenham, Rajor by S. v. Rahw, ret., 19th. do., Lieux. Beanchair, Capt. do., 18th. Maj. Wilbenham, Rajor Lieux. Branch Branch Capt. Local phinetone, 46.5. H., from h.-p. kt. Sing. Corps, Capt. v. Faget, exc., 18th. do., 1 Lieux. Hon. W. Pukenham, Capt. by p. v. Local Expirination, 74th. 15th.

v. Lord Eiphinstone, rat., ito. 8th — Assist. Surg. Flames!, from Staff, Assist., warg. v. Tice, Staff, Dec. 29, 1223.

a t. Lord Elphinstone, ser., sp.

6th - Assist. Surg. Flamed!

from Staff, Assist. Nurg. v. Tice.

8thiff, Dec. 19, 1843.

10h - Major v. Wetenhait,

#Ran. do.; Cipt. Frames, Major by p. v. Wingfields, 1ct., do.;

#Ridger v. Wetenhait,

#Ran. do.; Cipt. Frames, Major by p. v. Wingfields, 1ct., do.;

#Ridger v. Wetenhait,

#Ran. do.; Cipt. Frames, Major by p. v. Wingfields, 1ct., do.;

#Ran. do.; Cipt. Frames, Major by p. v. Wingfields, 1ct., do.;

#Ran. do.; Cipt. Frames, 1ct., do.;

#Ridger v. Wetenhait, M.D.,

#Ran. do.; Liebt., do.; Edwin p.

#Ran. v. Portal, canc., hit do.;

#Ridger v. Mercon, prom., 19th do.;

#Ridger v. Mercon, prom., 19th do.;

#Ridger v. Mercon, prom., 19th do.;

#Ridger v. Mercon, do.;

#Ridger v. Mercon, do.;

#Ridger v. Mercon, do.;

#Ridger v. M. Williams, from br.

#Ridger v. M. Wi

Ems. Telbot, Liont., do., Wil-liam Warry, Emr., do. dath—Charles Ruberts, Enc. V. Woodward, doed, do. 4,190—Enc. Rawlins, Liont. by p. o. Madden, get., Dec. 19, 1513 Jaties Edmilla Goodwyn, 1843 Julius Edmill's Goodwyn, Ens. Jan. 5, 1846, 424 - Lieut. Com. Hir John Mandonald, E.O.S., from Syth F., Col. V. Con. Sir Gan, Marr-rny, (I-C.H., appointed this let F., Lith do. 4th.—Cart. Paleston, from 75th F., Capt. v. Molian, aguin, 19th do.

7stb R.; Capt. v. Molion, sgun., 19th do. 4stb.-Capt. Munitrie, from 7stb P.; Capt. v. Simoon, exch., o Rec. 59, 1943. 4dth-Capt. Labbjan M. Pher-ton, from Duat., Capt. v. Rich-metaco. Ann., do.

auri-scrie. Leerigen H Ther-sem, from Unat. Capt. v. Rice-sem, from Unat. Capt. v. Rice-settis—Ramanna Parke John-on, Ens. v. Bitt, Ayth E., Jan. 16, 1846.
Asth-Liest.-Sieft. Sir John Gardiner, R.C.B., from Sic. V., Col. s. Sir ii nahon Lawe, R.C.B., drami, moth do., Sail-Liest. and Adj. Brown-leys, Capt., by p. v. Jarva, Chr., 189h do., Mns. Carrain, Licit., 180h do., Mns. Carrain, Licit., 180h do., Mns. Carrain, Licit., 180, Payn, Leenh, do., Mns. Payn, Leenh, do., Licit., Ros. Payn, Leenh, do., Ext., Stin do., Kns. Payn, Leenh, do., Ext., Licht. v. L., Licht. v. Leenh, do., Arthur Cash., 18th do., Mns. Crant, from John 18th do., Mns. Crant, from John

Syth-skus. Pitt, from 44th F., Liestt, V. Lasstand, Smith cash., 19th do., 18m, Grant, from 74th F., Liestt, V. Kingarrick, cash., 19th do., 18th Sangarrick, cash., 19th do., 19th Sangarrick, 19 do., Lieut. Amos, from Pitt Ir., Lieut. V. Paci, evo., Jan. 19, 183d.

7ath.—Ungt. Sinecon, from 48th
P., Capt. F. Monitris, exc. Des., 20, 1843, Capt. Mollan, from 44th F., Sapt. V. Fuleston, 6xc.,
Ján. 12, 1844.

78th.—John W. m. Preston, 6xc.,
Ján. 12, 1844.

78th.—John W. m. Preston, 6xc.,
77th.—Lieut. V. Herbert, From 18th
F., Lieut. V. Herbert, Prom.
21b do.
77th.—Lieut. Lamiert, Capt. V.
R., M.J. Henrians, res. Felipay, Dec. 29, 1843, 28th Rew.
2001, Lieut., 4n., Ven. Thienan
Henderson Maniena, Bin., do.,
Anuer. Surg. M. Kingson, 100m
26, 1444. 36, 1414. Both - Lleut, Gen, Sir M. C.

noth: Lieut, Geth. Sir M. C. O'Loundi, K.C.H., from Siek F., Coll. v. Sir John Taylor, K.C.H., dend, 18th do. Sir L. S., Gend, 18th do. Sir L. S., Beckely, K.C.S., Gol. v. Land. Gen. Sir M. C. O'Connell, apprinted Crd. of 19th F., do. halk.—Eus. Capann, Lieut. v. swayne, asperanden, Doc. 39.

D.v. Bt. Maj. Dundaa, ret., 18th do., 7 Rab. Masey, Liest., do., 10th. Win. Muart KROX, Ens., 19th do., 20th Masey, Liest., do., 20th Masey, Liest., do., 20th Masey, Liest., do., 20th Masey, Liest., do., 20th Masey, Capt. D. Herbert, from Unatt., Capt. v. Ormsby, exc., Doc., 20, 1843.

Doc., 20, 1843.

Doc., 20, 1843.

Syd.—George Agar Thompson, Knu. by p. v. Campball, 72d F., Jan. 3, 1844.

Jan. 3, 1844.

Jan. 3, 1844.

Jan. 3, 1844.

Jan. 1, 1844.

J

MAJOR RUTHERFORD.—On Tuesday evening a jury of 17 gentlemen were impanelled before Mr. Higgs, Deputy Coroner for Westminster, at the Keathers, Dukaste, St. James's square, to inquire into the death of Maj. William Henry Rutherford, late of Her Majesty's 88th Regiment (Unattached), who died on Monday afternoon under the following circumstances:—Thomas Hodges, hall-porter at the Army and Navy Club, said the deceased was a member of the club, and came there about one o'clock on Monday, saying to witness that he expected a gentleman to come to see him about half-past two o'clock, and directing that he should be shown up stairs. The gentlemen came at the time appointed, when deceased could not be found in any part of the house. Search was in consequence made, and he was at length discovered in one of the closets, which had been fastened on the isside and burst open. When discovered he was in a stooping position, kneeling on one kneet and quits dead. Mr. William Parry, Surgeon 4th Foot, said he was called from the reading-room of the dub to attend deceased. He found him quite dead, and the extremities cold and rigid. no doubt that death resulted from the bursting of a blood-vessel near the beart. Dr. George Shaw Rutherford, of Devoushire-st., said deceased was his cousin. He had called on witness on Saturday last, and complained of uncasiness in his chest. Witness suggested that heshould luse a little blood, but the decreed objected, and having prescribed a little medicine for him, it was arranged the witness should call at the club yesterday afternoon and witness should call at the club yesterday afternoon and bleed deceased if necessary. Witness called as the first witness described, and after waiting nearly an hour was present when his body was discovered in the closet. Witness found in one of deceased's pockets a small phial with a cgrk in it and quite smpty. Witness did not remove the cork, but took it to Mr. Taylor's, the chemist, in Pall Mall, who carefully examined it, and pronounced it as his addition that to him and australized are increding this interest. ofinion that if had not contained any ingredient injurious to life. The deceased was about 58 years of age, and witness had no doubt that his death arose from the rupture of a blood-vessel near one of the vital organs, most proof the deceased, were present.

HAND GRENADES.—We have seen and examined a | may be inspected at our office.

bably the heart. This cloud the evidence, and the Jury supressing themselves satisfied, returned a vardict of "Died by the visitation of God." The indust-room was crewded, and several Naval and Military Officers, friends of the figuresed, were present:

| Died by the visitation of God." The indust-room was crewded, and several Naval and Military Officers, friends of the figuresed, were present:

DISTRIBUTION OF THE BRITISH ARMY.—Consecrate to this Day.

[This Document (which is different, in material respects, from all others) is prepared exclusively for the "Name! & Milliony Gasette."

_
		Stations of	STANDER	hate of	Returned	1		Bustions of		Date of	Returned
,	Corps.	Serv. Troops	) of	going on	from	Whence	Corps.	Service	- 07	Eulnic ou	trom	, Whence
	" "	and Comps.	Depots.	For. Berv.	For. Berv.	Returned.	•	Companies.	Depots.	For, Herv.	For, Serw	cturned
						j
	19t L. G.	Windsor	1		Peb. 16	France.	38th Pt	Gibrelter	Hull	4 Nept. 40		ì
	2d do	Recent's Pk.	1		Feb. 16	Prance.	39th 40.	Bengal	Chathem	July 26		i .
	R.H.O.	Hyde Pork			2 Feb. 16			Bengal	Chathan	Dec. 23
	tat D. G.	Regent's Pk. Hyde Perk Capterbury Ballingcollig		1		Canada.	41AT do.	Canterbury	40		8 July 43	Madras.
,	2d ditt	Ballingcollig		1	A Not. 18	France.	42nd do.	Malla	I.us Wight	13 Jan. 41		ł
·	ad do	Doblin			25 Jan. 16	France.	Hes. bat.	Maite		97 NOV. 49		1
	4th do.	Longiord	1::			Portugal.	4ard do.	Montreal	Cashel	4 June 35		}
1		Dundalk			19 July 14	Hpain.	44th do.	Wipchoster.	ι.		May 43	E. Indies.
	Oth do.		1	L		Bu. Ayres.	45th do,	C. of G. Hope	Portuntb.	25 Feb. 49		1 .
	70% 404	r - A Bane	Majuston	April 43				Gibrultar	1	Dec. 43		•
	lat Dra.	Newheldge Ipewieh Shagai Antier Nottingham		1	15 Jan. 16	France.		št. Lucia.	Boyle	20 Bept. 37		1
1	ad das	Insuink		1 • •	19 Jan. 10	France.	471h do.	Gosport	, ,		Jan. 44	Antigua.
1	ad L.do.	Elmont.	Maldeton	July 87			ith do.	N. America	Guernsey	19 Sept. 38
.1	400 1. 400	Trains.	- Marie		Mar. 42	Bombay.		Portsmouth	,		24 AUE. 43	Chips.
ŀ	6th Dra	Westingham	•		Mor. IA	France.	seth do.	Bengal	Chatham	July 31		Ì
1	7to Has.	Acherica Belebton	1	• 10		Canada.	Stut dis.	Van D. Land	Chatham	18 July 38
1	Bill do.	Tark.			May 25	Henral	sand do.	N. Brunawk.	Nennch	10 May 36		}
ı	Ath tan	Banael	Maldston	June 42		menter.	53rd do.	N. Brudewk . Newry			10 June 40	Ionian Isl
٠	oth Jan. 10th He.		1		War. 60	Portugal.	seth do.	Athlows	l		27 Aug. 40	Madras.
1	116b He I	Professor.					sath do.	China	Chatham	Dec. 21
ı	山肿粉	Maria mastas	• • • .	• • • •	23 June 34	Portugal.	soth do.	Cork			21 July 42	Canada.
١	Table 1 Th	A with the latest and a	•		22 Jane 40	Mades	87th do.	Maures	Chathan	Jan. 25
	140	Danishe -	100.64-0	. W				Custian	1		23 Jane 39	Caylon.
1	1740-100	Hunnelow Bombay Madrus	Madeston	54 May 41		'	sath de	Portemouth	1	•	17 Dec. 43
ł	1744 775		Maldaton	11 July 19		1 "	60 Int be				p June 40
ļ	ioth La.		Maidston		W	Bambar	ga he	Jamaica	Belturb.	15 Dec. 35	2
1		Bizmingham		1	#3	Bombay.	Aret do	Jamuica Limerick Bangal			4 Mar. 40	Cevlon.
J	Gr. Gus.	Min Manne		j .		Portugal.	Bond de	Hahara T	Chatham	June 30	2	/.4
ł	The Sar-	The Tower Mortman St. Winds, & Br.		, .			63rd do.	Maden	Chatham	Oct. 28
i	23294	Marchall Mt.				Canada	beth do.	Wanden			26 July 43	Hallfar.
١	14.9	A ROUGE OF DL.			WOAK18	France.	deth do.	Mullinger	•		22 July 41
ı	Columbia	Winds, & Br. Willington B	1				doth do.		•: :		2 Dec. 40
1	100 000	Mairulacou n	• • •	) · · .	26 July 14		ooth do.	Manahartan	• •	• •	13 Dec. 44
1	50. AM 1	出た・子のわけ オルトも			28 Oct . 49	Cabada.	9714 90.	Manchester	Chatham	Bept. 34	13 Dec. 42	CHIMINA.
ı	So- Mite	La Cala	3	1		I	DNIN GO	Canada Custiebar		Bept. 34	16 Sept. 42	N Dennam
1	168001	Winchester			July 14	France.	oyth do.	Capticial.				Canada,
ł				• . •	1888	Portugal.	70th do.	Greenede '	T completely	20 Apr. 19	July 43	Calleus,
1	184 Barris	Land State	1_ / 	1: :		1	7185 00.	Granada :	2,04 Pright	13 Aug. 42	į	عطيف
ł	105,000	Gibraliar	Traice	96 Nov. 30			Res. bat.	Canada	1	13 Aug. 42		C ~(C) W
ı	34 WW	Guebec. "	Londond.				74nd do.	Permay	• •			C. of G. H
₹	3040	Hombay	Chatham	4 Feb. 25		-		Newport 5W	Kinsule	16 Oct. 31	6 July 41	CRIDAGE.
ŧ	74 40.	new t er	Chatham	June #1	1 '	,	71th do.	Montreal	W trients	10 Oct. 31
1		Madras	Chatham	14 Apr. 82	1 .		78th 40.	Plymonth Devonport Jamaica			12 Sept. 43
ł	sth do.	Dublin .			IE May 48	Gibralian	70th do.	Devonport	Dever	''	20 Oct. 48	maniax.
ı	oth day	Chester		1	14 Jan. 43	Hombay.	77th 40.	JERUAICA	Chatham	21 Nov. 27		[N.S
ł	7th do.	Gibyaljar	Brecca	6 Nov. 49	) ^^		70th do.			April 42
1		Holton	5	1	26 Dec. 41	M, Scotis.		Gibraitar	Chathan			1
1	oth do.	Bougal.	Chathan	34 Nov. 23				News. Weles
į	'leth do.	Bong al	Chatham	April 49	4		Stat do.			28 May 30
ı	11th do.	Killianisy	*	1	19 June 40	Capada.	asnd do.	Gnepte	CIMITO CAL	12 Jan. 37
į	2 sth. do.	Bongal Kilkinsy Mauritius	THE PERSON	10 Aug. 37			eard do.	Northump.	Mb. 44	A	July 43	Canada.
Ì	Marie marie	us mart frame	, ?	[]0 NOT. 42	1		estil do	MANICAL	Chatham	Apr. 42		i
ţ	isth do.	Bengel'	Chatham	3 Jap. 23			ssen do.	Harbadoes Bombay	Newbr.	a July an		ł
ı	14th do.		Armegh	19 Feb. 36	1		.45th, 40.	Hom bay	Chalham	May 42	0.00
ł		l'emplemore		14	26 June 49	Canada.	with do.	GILIGOW	0.1		25 Sept. 43	M an rus
١	16th do.				19 Apr. 41	Bengal.	seth do.	MAIIA		30 Nov. 40
١	17th do.	Aden	Chathan	1830 anda1			89th do.	Canada		21 Oct. 35
١	16th do.	China	Chatham	10 Jan. 37	, ,	l i	99th do.	Ceylon		16 Nov. 35
1	. 19th do.i(	Cephalonia ]	Jerrey	Lt Rent. 40	!		pist do.	Capp & St Hol	i.ofWight
١	soth do.	Bermuda	i.ofWight	$7 Bept. 41	1		Res.bat.	C. of G. Hope	J	27 May 42		l
ı	Bus.bats	Bermoda	,	th onu Cat	1	1	gand do.	Trinklad¶	Dundee	21 Pcb. 31
Į	sist do.	Bengal	Chatham	cabra sest	1		ostrá do.	Canodia	Carliste	22 Jan. 35		l
ı	#2d do.		Chathan	26 Jan. 41	į i		gath do.	Madras	Chatham	4 Oct. 98		l
1		Barbadoes	LofWight	22 May 34		'	tusta do.	CCAION	Daver	12 Oct. 35		ļ
J	Res. bat.			13 May 43	1		tooth do.	News. Wales	Sheet ness	25 Mar. 41
ı	24th do.	Dublin	i	ł	25 July 4).	Canada.	97th do.	Corfu	LofWight	30 JAN. 41		•
ı	25th do.	Madras	Chatham	191 Dec. 90	1		Res. bat.	1Corfu		20 Nov. 42
ı	26th do.	Edinburgh C. of G. Hope	,		2 July 42	E. Indies.	dath da.	China	Chatham	20 Dec. 41	' 1
١	27th do.	C. of G. Hope	Drochedu	6 May 24	,,		geth do.	News. Wales	Chatham	Sept. 4:	. 1
١	seth do.	Hombay	Chatham	AUE. SA	}	1	DIG . U.	1			. 4
١	19th do.	Bengal	Chatham	April 49		, ,	Let be	Corfu	Atblone	10 Nov. 40	1
Į	auth do.	Cork		Print 43		N.Brupsk.	ed be	Halifax, N.S.	Lof Wight	14 Beut. 41
١	Slat do		Chetham	Jan. 25		· · · der amag ·	Hea. but.	Halles, N.S.		13 June 4: I	- 1
ł	Singledo I	Manchester			18 Sept. 41	Canada.	l		COLONIA	L CORPS		r
Į	38d de.		Limerick	20 Ont. 10			1st W.1.	Reg., Demere	ITA, Ac.	Cane Mted	Rifics, Car	e of C. ST
ı	Wath do it	Distribution .			22 Júly 41	Canada.		Jamaica and		RI.Canadi	in Ride Reg	Canade
Ì	asth do.	Manzitina	Templem	4 Jan. 87			ard do	NAMAO, S. Le	one, &c.	St. Helena	Reg., St. H	.,on::Rum, ı	and dall	Dabito	- hindred		on Mau. så	N. Americ	Corlos	life Res., Ce	lon.	R. Newf. C	on ps. Net	wionedia
۱	Arth do	Dabita Newcon-T	[5] [1]	• 11; •	25 May, 48 17 Jan. 48	Halifa WE	,, '	Royal Ma	ita Fencia	e Regiment	Multo
Į			اند تسبیرت	أحصيينك		***********	:
ı		•	I A THUMBS	Dat Maskad	-			1	4 Un bas	want home.

Mabal Entelligence.

Lientenant—Pickard.

Asynimmeters.

Commander—W. Fightistic (1996), to Terricise, as Governor of Ascension.

Lieutenants—T. Gresbam (1996), to Permissalis (F. E. Porbes (1838), to Children (J. E. Gresbyr (1838), to .m. Prag. Lieutenant to the Commander in the More; John Burrough (1871), to Terrigis. Children.

Mates—W. A. E. Lee (1996), to Escalled. The following are to join the Naval College lings Escalled. The following are to join the Naval College lings Escalled. The following are to join the Naval College lings Escalled. The following are to flow the Naval College lings Escalled. The following are to Record Haster—W. Escalled Escale (1839), Secured Mater —W. Pellow, to Figure, v. Main, removed to Royal steam-yacht.

Mayal Emiste—J. F. Lloyd, to Alben,
Assistant-Eurgeon—L. C. Urguhart (1839), from Compardown, to Encourage The Roy. G. Richingto (1838), to Phiory.

Ehverness-yard.
Chaplein—The Kev. G. Richineta (1618), to Victory.
Raval Instructor—P. Robertson (1618), (elidit.), in Escalisat, Paymaster and Purser—John M. Artine (th. (1802), to Tevistic, and Storekeeper at Association.
Clorits—T. Messum, to Institute J. D. Jardine, to Communication
Crouch and A. Price, to be the control of Communication of Chief at the Nore.

Doctri-and the Communication of Communication of Communication of Chief at the Nore.

¶ On passage home.

R.C., v. Liout. Charles Henry Beker, R.N., removed to Fulren steamer, v. Liout. William Crispin, promoted; Liout. Charles Douglas O'Brien, to be Lioutenast of a station.

Removals—Commander Douglas Curry, frontNewcastle, Castlewellan, to Ryde district, v. Commander Robert Kerr, to Weymouth, v. Commander Douglas, primoted; Lient. Hen. Crocker, B.N., from the Saudirerk, R.C., to Prince dibert, v. Liout. Philip Nind, primoted; Bleut. Samwell, from Gorran Haven, to Mevagissey, v. Liout. J. Riddle, R.N.; Lieut. Charles Goldsmith. R.N., from the Dolphin, R.C., to Shamrack, R.C., v. Lieut. Crocker, Liout. Thomas Edward James, R.N., from Happisbargh, to Lyme Cubb, v. Liout. C. R. Johnson, resigned.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, PERSUARY S.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, PERSUARY 3.

The mails for Maits, Greece, the Ionian Islands, Egypt, India, for., vis Stockhampton, were despetished from the General Post-Office, the Helpe. The next mails, &c., for India, vis Marseilles, will be despetched on Monday next. Sth Feb. The Jeris takes out the Indian mail of 1st Feb., A mail for Sydney, New South Weles, was trade up 1sit Jan., and all letters and newspapers addressed "By private chip." The rates of such mail, solves addressed "By private chip." The rates of such mail, solves addressed "By private chip." The rates of such fine the South Weles by this conveyance are 1s. for a letter not exceeding the General Comments of the South Mails of t

STATIONS OF H.M.'S SHIPS IN COMMISSION. With the Years when Built, and the Dales of Commission of the Officers in commund. Corrected to this Day, and Preparal Engineinsin for this Paper.

BARTHAN, D. (1982), A. BERT, C. M. P., GERVEN, LEAD), Modificary, BRACON, G. M. (1981), Chem. E. Ped. (1984), Chem. B. Mudge (1818), Movel BRACE, Chem. C. (1982), Loud. L. (1982), Modification, C. (1982), Cont. Mod. Rev. (1982), Lieut. Com. C. B. Vale (1982), East Indice. Carrown, 120 (1983), Modification, C. B. Vale (1982), East Indice. Carrown, 120 (1983), Modification, C. (1983), Modification, Modification, 120 (1983), Modification, C. (19

Madria, 4 (1828), st. t., Crim., F. Wurden (1828), Mediterrangen, Musika, 8, et. v. (1846), Matt.-Com. W. Smithett (cot.), Liver, Musica, 8, et. v. (1846), Matt.-Com. W. Smithett (cot.), Liver, Musica, 8, et. v. (1826), Lt.-Com. Z. F.-Fhilippe (1818); Livery, Musica, v. t. v. (1828), Lt.-Com. E. Kome (1814), Livery, Charlest, Manne, 1811, Livery, Com. E. Kome (1814), Livery, Callest, Manne, 1811, Livery, Callest, Monawis, 10 (1827), Don., Microser Smithe, (1847), Mouth Asserte. Monawis, 10 (1827), Don., Sci., Madria W. 1812), Mouth Asserte. Monawis, 10 (1829), Sci., Sci., Madria W. 1812, Mouth Asserte. Monawis, 10 (1829), Lt.-Com. J. Tyses, (1827), Labe Eric.
Monawis, 10 (1838), Lt.-Com. W. Trimpi, Labe Eric.
Mayrita, 10 (1838), Lt.-Com. W. Trimpi, Labe Eric.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Lt.-Com. W. Trimpine, (1838), Porten.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Lt.-Com. W. Trimpine, (1838), Porten.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Matt.-Com. T. M. Smithen (1837), Val.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Matt.-Com. T. M. Smithen (1837), Val.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Matt.-Com. T. M. Smithen (1837), Val.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Matt.-Com. T. M. Smithen (1837), Val.
Naurita, 10 (1838), Matt.-Com. T. M. Smithen (1838), Porten.

Talboy, 3D (1824), Capl. Mil'l. Thompson (1837), South America. Tagmanes, 25. (1836), Capt. 11. T. Auslin, C.D. (1839), (Sec.), Iveling.
Thermal and the control of the con

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. I. — (From our corn Correspond-ing).—There is not a single visual fitting in the Port. The Firefrand, Megicianne, and Lily, are preparing for spramission, and in the bands of the artificers. Satellite athianission, and in the hands of the artificers. Satellite palied on Saturday for the Branits, taking out deepatches and supernumeraries for the ships on the station. Curlos certived on Sanday from His, but without any news. The let to be paid off in this Harbour, and will be really to death on Saturday; she has been apwards of four years in commission. A Court-Marthal will he hald next week, on board the flag-ship, on Lieut Dyke, late of Isla, on charges preferred by Capt. Lee, R. M., velating to some occurrences at the island of Asconsion. Reary Admiral Parkey, C.R., to be President. Victoria and Alfary yiels will be in dock for a month or two, to have the alterations made in her boilers. Neptune will be really out to be brought forward, and so soon as her docks and line is to be brought forward, and so soon as her docks and line is to be brought forward, and so soon as her docks and line is to be brought forward, and so soon as her docks and line is to be brought forward, and so soon as her docks and line is to be brought forward, and so soon as her docks and line is the general epinion is, that and laid, she will be masted; the general spinion is, that St. Finoens will be the next sing-ship in the Meditoria. Hence will be the next sing-ship in the Meditoria. Report trainport is in the Harbour, taking in storas for the Eastern dockyards. A spacious bout-house is in months of evention on the site of the old must-house adjoining the Architectural Culiege; the pond is to be oferrowing and mode deeper, and a tunnel cut under the right to Ship the boats through. Exceptors are clearing tout the mid, he, by contract, and are allowed one mouth to perform the work. Ships in Post-St. Fineent, Victory, Exceptor, Post-of, Victoria and Albert yants. Curter, Fineent, Fig. 1.—(Free our con Carrespondent,) Institute Arrived Pendops atoms-frigate Capt. V. Jones, heavy action, and came into Harbour the 31st, to have some states and a made good which she scattaingle during her late wrote. Arrived the Turioise tender, from Liveryool, heavy overhauled the moorings of the Languette's at that Interpretate. Arrised the Torioles tender, from Livergool, hashing overhoused the moorings of the Langerstie's at that gone, 28th.—The Volage, 26, Capt. Six William Dickson, moned from the Herbour into the Sound; her cree were paid water on the Sist. The following Officers will substitute in her for a passage to Cork, where they will be brandferred to Irie, 25, Capt. G. B. Mundy, for convey-ance to Coina, viz.—Libuts. Alex. Anderson and J. S. Engineers, Mr. Waske and son, for Cornwallie , Engineers : Mr. Weeks and Miss. Pege, for Cerawalle : Engineers: Mr. Weeks and Mr. Mr. Pege, for Driver; Mr. Dutt, for Vixen; and Mr. Williams, for Episeful. Perselver brigantine, 3, has been sold but of the Service. We have had as strong gale the last two days from NN.W. 31st—Arrived Calcidonia, 120, Capt. A. Milne, from Cork; the flag of Adm. Sir D. Milne was shifted from Sylph tender to Calcidonia. Peb. 1st—Belled Voluye, 25, Capt. Sir Ww. Dirkson, for Cork. In Harbour. San Joseph, Resistence, Peneluge, Capt. Sur Conference of Landier Dutch schemes. In the Crane, Confiance st., Lanvier, Dutch schooner. Sound -Caledonia SHERRIESS, Feb. 1.—(From our own Correspond-dent).—On Friday last, the 25th ult., the Gypsy tender arrived from Portamonth with volunteers for the Frome-these steamer, fitting at Woolwich; arrived, also, the Princess Royal transport from Partsmouth; she is now in the basis, unloading stores. 26th—Sailed the Hope ten-dar to the Blazer stramer, having completed her repairs. 31st—The Compersons was paid off this day; it may be mentioned as a remarkable fact, that more apparaumeracles than there are seamen in the American Navy, have passed through this ship during the three years and jour months that she has been in commission (the number is upward of 7000). The Woolwich division of her Marines left in the African steamer the same day. The Chatham divi-sion remains, but will leave in a few days. The Camper-decon was re-commissioned this morning by Commander doon was re-commissioned this morning by Commander J. W. Morgan for the flag of Vice-Admiral Sir John White. With the exception of the Captain, Commander, and Chaplain, and the Senior Assistant-Surgeon, Mr. L. Lirquhert, who is appointed to this Yard, v. Dr. Honglas promoted, the same Officers are to remain in her, being re-appointed. The Speedy outter, Lieutenant Commanding George Beauloy, sailed this morning also for Partenaouth. In harbour—Camperdmon, Ocean, and Haven cutter.

DEAL Seb. 1.— From our own Carrespondent.

DEAL, Feb. 1.—(From our own Correspondent.)—Friday, 26th Jan.—As the barque Hosteri came into the Downs from the rider, a man in the act of heaving the lead fell overhours, by the breastrope breaking; a Dual galley was towing alongside at the time for the purpose of landing the pilot, the erew seeing the man fall overbeard immediately dropped the galley astern to pick him up, but he either had hold of the lead-line or was entangled with it; the vessel having so much way through the water at the time, that the galley could not row as fact as the yearst was going, and before the way of the vessel was stopped the lead-line broke, and the poor fellow sunk and was drowned;—be has left a wife and family to deplore his loss: 28th—Arrived the Forhound Bouthseaman, 25 months out, full ship and some barrels over. Some-it.M. 's revenue-cuter Lively came into the Donoule and Parameters. Slat The thips Robert Small and City of Poonak arrived from Calcutta and anchored in the Dogna, and several more homeward-bound vessels. 1st Feb.—14. M. 'a revenue-cutter clively proceeded to the westward; several homeward-hound vessels still lying in the Downs; we nomeward-nominal variety breezes here these two days past.

Described, Jan. 30 — (From our sign Correspondent.)—Sailed Equestrian male convicts ship, to embark convicts from Woolwigh, under a guard of the 70th and Both Regiments of Foot. Kingeton freight ship, with Naval and victualling stores for Bernuda. Lively lighter, (Hartfreild, Master), with attres for Portsmouth Rochester lighter (Grandy, Master), for Plymouth. Arrived the Greenlaw, to fit for male-convicts to convey to New South Wales. Remain Jupitor freight ship, for Mults. City of Derry freight ship is louding in the London Docks for Hong Kong, with Naval stores. Prince George transport, unloading old stores from Ascension.

PRESERVE .... The remains of the late Dr. Noott, R.M. were interred with Military honours at Pembroke Dook, South Walss, on the 29th Jan. The Ri. Marines fur-nished the funeral guard. Sir W. C. Pell, the Capt. Superintendent; has one month's leave of absence; Capt. Higgs, R.N., is therefore in charge. An optrage at Eglwyserw has caused a small detachment of RI. Marines to be again stationed at that place.

A Court-Mertial was held on 28th Feb. last, on board H.M.S. Aginoourl, at Hong Kong, to try Lieut. Edward H.M.S. Aginocuri, at Hong Kong, to try Linth Edward Lee Hoblyn, of Wolverine, for repeated acts of drankenness, and conduct unbecoming the character of an Officer. The charges having been proved, he was sentenced to be dismissed the Egrvice. The Court was somposed of Respanden. Sir T. Cochrane, Capts. Bruce, Richards, and Kingsome, and Commander Justice. On 12th Sept. last, another Court. Martial was held on board the same ship. on Robert M'Intyre, First Engineer of Spiteful st. v. ; first, for quarrelling with and beating the Acting Engineer; eccond, for superring on the guarantee deck in the control of the con second, for spencing on the quarter-deck in a state of introlucation; third, for insolutes and costemptuous language to his commander; and fourths for disobedience of guage to he are the second of t arders, in not having reported a defect in the hot-well. He was found guilty of the three first charges, and sentenced to be dismissed, and be for ever rendered facepable of holding any place on other in the Manual Continues. of holding any place or office in the Naval Sertice. Court was composed of Rear-Admiral Sir T. Cochrane President; Capts. Bruce, Bichards, and Quin, and Com-

President; Capis. Brace, Richards, and Gun, and Commander Hayes. E: Walter, Esq., Secretary to Sir T. Cochrane, officiated as Dep.-Judge-Advocate in both eases. DEPARTURES FROM SIMON'S BAY.—H.M.S. Caster, Oct. 27, for liong Kong; H.M.S. Thunderkell, Nov. 18, for the West Count; H.M.S. Bittern, Duc. 3, for Port

Natal.

Orders left the Admiralty on Friday evening, 28th alt, for the selling of Iris frigate, Capt. G. Redney Mundy, from Cerk to Hong Kong direct. This young Officer is a son of General Mundy, and grandson of the late calsibated Admiral Lord Rodney.

The Admiralty have directed that tobacco shall not be issued by 16s Parsey to the crew of any ship while in Port, it having come to their knowledge that the greater vert is ammerical on above, and the duty washed.

part is amuggled on shore, and the duty evaded.

The "Paralors."—A vast deal has been said about this ship, now made of the especity of 1616 tens, whereas this still, now made of the capabilities as a salling 36-gun frigate, was 1091 tons; she has been called a failure—she has been called unfit for any service—she has been called dangerous; now we join not in any of these cries until we leave from how we join not in any or these cries unit we transformation to be; did he intend her to be particularly swift—did he intend her to be particularly nowerful—did he intend her for extraordinary capabilities of carrying troops to digitat stations—did he intend her to be a good troops to distant stations—did he intend her to be a good sen-boat under alkoirounstances, whether localed or light, whether under stam or steam? If he intended her for speed under steam, he has succeeded, when her coals are nearly exhausted. Did he intend her to be powerful, he has only partially succeeded, as her broadside throws 592 lbs. of iron, or if we give her both her pivot gaus, 634 lbs., instead of her frigate's power, which would he 708 lbs.; if he edited at eachling her to sarry troops, he has succeeded, in giving her a deck which we will admit is competent to carry 1000 men—but they must take the changes of all carry and creather, as also could only afford cover for 300, and that at most unuque or said only afford cover for 300, and that at most unuque or wellence, as her stowings for her own grew (ast reduced) is shortened by shout 30 feet, compared with her frigate's accommodation. We: will suppose, therefore, she can accommodate the All subtractions to Chineten and the second of the state of the second or the sec accommonation. We will suppose, interested, and san take 300 soldiers to Gibraltar—sho can go no farther; for her coals would be one; she cannot go across the Atlantic, for she cannot carry more than 35 days' fresh water for her crew and the said 300 soldiers; and as the could only atoms eight or also days, she ought not so he put to the rick of running such a number short of so necessary an article; a ship of 500 tons confessedly would be the more convenient and cheap conveyance, and probably as quick which the conveyance, and engine is put, which comples 30 feet, and weighs with its large gar, and bollers filled $49 tens; add to this 500 ton of coal, and the old frigate will at once be seen to have 440 tens of dead weight added to her proper complement, and about also of 20 ft. of accommodation. With all this we have not began to lead her as a frigate, although we have angressed 440 tons out of her eriginal tenuage. We have engressed 440 tons out of her eriginal tenuage. hereig merely put a few queries, and we have added an-awers as far as we san, with fairness, and on the best foundation. It will be seen from the result of this cruise, foundation. It will be seen from the result of this cruize, what asselve she is really adepted to. On leaving the harboux his drew 20 feet 1 inch aft, and '19 feet 1 inch forward, her midship port being 6 feet 11 inches out of the widtes. Her armament is 22 game only, namely, two pivot 12 sounders, of great weight, and throwing shot or shell farther than other game yet cart, with tan 62-pound astronadones the upper deck. On the main deck she has eight long 68-pounders, and two 68-pound carronades; she had two carronades, one howiter, and one field-piece for haste. Her weights on board again.

Ton. cwt. qr. lb., 181 18 3 0 18 4 10 18 Wite signing Carpenter's stores 145 7 77 4 60 4 448 0 Water Ditto in the holler Machinery Englager's stores Coding including 00 tons Grant's fact Man and effects : 11

Hen said effects

On fer trial on Sauday last, not more than sine knots could be get out of her; but, though she had only 500 to me of and the had only 500 to me of a sea at the back of the laind, she took the san in on both sides. In giving the above draft of witter, it should be understood the Fenelope has no false had, consequently her hull is deeper in the sea by six or mine linehes than if she had the false kedden. It will be shen the carries only 77 tons of water, while the Fox, a wister ship, takes 16 tons, and an armament on board of guint, shot, and powder, weighing 1223 tons.—Hampshire Felgyagih.

Navat Aremyranum.—The Report on Ship-building, founded on a series of appriments during four years, ing, founded on a series of experiments during four years, conducted by the late fir James Robinson, of Edinburgh, and John Scott Russell, is of the highest interest to the Natur Service. The Robinson of the commitment NAVAL ARGRIPHOTURE.—The Report on Ship-building, feanded on a series of apperiments during four years, conducted by the late Bir James Robinson, of Ediaburgh, and John Sosti Russell, is of the highest interpret to the News Bergins. The Soldent of the Jepsey States was the measure of the Jepsey States was the measure of the Jepsey States was the measure of the group of the same time, the qualities necessary for a good sea-boat.

The procedural distribute reasons for a good sea-boat.

The procedural distribute was conseased the oil plan of operatorising of themselves the progress was allowed and of the moin specified to those stay Science and a service of the same in the first part of the moin specified to those stay Science and a service of the same and the consequence of the same specified to the same specified as range ass. One provide the season for encountering a range ass. One provide the season for the same seasons for the same of the same seasons was to a relate the same seasons were the same seasons and the same seasons for seasons and the same seasons of the same seasons and the same seasons of the sa

The Officers and company of H.M.S. Gureços, W. Pre

Richen, of the queen, memorie, days.

In Port.—The Queen, Ceylon, Malabar, Vernon. Savage, 1
Belican. Stammen.—Alcalu, Palyphanue, Acheron, and Geyser.
Gibraltar.—The Belviders and Lucust (at.). The Coast of Spa
—The Scout. Corks.—L' digle and Greetes. Physics.—The Ind Spanishable, Snake, and Resembar (at.). Macri.—The Medea (at.)
Compagnitudge.—The Bevastation and Hools (ate.). Beyrout
The Types. Tusis.—The Privage (at.) has just arrived in port ordinary......). The Time. To Elock b.m.).

BATTLE OF WATERLOO.
ADDRESSED TO THE SECTION OF THE "UNITED ARE VICE MONTHLY MARKET!"
London, Jan. 15, 1844.

London, Jan. 15, 1844.

Min. Howen,—I am a Navil and Military amateur, we was born at a seaport before the French revolution, pass mylyouth in witnessing the exciling events of the war whit followed, used to cheer with by schoolfellews at Fren frigates slowly wending their was between the island and to Main in Plymouth Sound, shathred, dismasted, black a bloody, with the tri-color and Ft. George; and I ha sayar lost the feeling of flavy for the United Service shrip life, and have all the cole thorough-bred delight Britain's beating every charmation in the world, a cannot possibly believe and will be ever beaten herself, I the world last as longuage like to do.

In disquesting the Maintell Waterloo with a Fren Officer, who argued apoleon had beaten the Duke caking ha Haye Sainte, because it was his (the Duke caking ha Haye Sainte, because it was his (the Duke chintre, and who was incredulous when I proved it was the source, but a farm-house it advance of it; and will when I said, "Mais, Monsiem la Garde Impériale ét battue," drew up as high as St. Paul's, and declared is winder the market the college of hundre it the college of hundre its college of whith I shift, "Mais, Monsians in Garde impériale ét hattus," drew up as high as St Paul's, and declared is spice of thunder, "Que c'était pout-d-fait Eurosamen. I resulved to go with common space into the facts of thattis, and try if I could not prove that the Duke v meent beaten, or had failen beel one inch-that he ner meter benten, or had fallen bash one inch—that he ner was in denger of being bested; and what is more, Blucher had not some up, could have kept his ground i must day; and if Groundy had come first, Blucher velose amough to have prevented my other result than we happened. May I take the great liberty of intruding definitions, though mot a Military man? Never was being fought with such extraordinary results to mank! at that of Waterloo! Never the a victory won where meany attempte have been made, so many insinuations sensite—so many felsehoods to, or so knay ingenuit tool forth to personale the word that the Conqueror; not conquer, and this all Franco believe, and will belief for over.

for over.

With Military men in Germany and Prussia, from a perpetual discussions which have taken place, and from a silical statements put further to fositions and movemen the questions of changes and dequered have long air the period of the parties. And the first formed; here, atili, ma fillitary main algebra is indicated factors, who were in a matter, atili, chains understand if the maintain the glory the Duke, and perpetually quality all preise with an a

why becomes, being in an isolated paint, and mobble toize in the whole field during the battle, they estudiated of probable result from their orn number of liftled or approach in their own particular againment.
Taking the centre of the Brightly position to be in the approx La Lays Sainte, he against gift was Rielle, the grown left Chain: at both free probabilities were strong brisions placed.—at Balless and appropriate aurences of extreme left Unain: at both messing maintenance of the right, and at Chair of menting against surpress on the right, and at Chair of messing for the junction of Blueber, as an attack from Chair y. Had the day gone against as for one instant utring the battle, or had the Duke foreness the alightest probability of giving way, the divisions thus placed would have been recalled; as a contract in enticleation.

divisions thus placed would have been received; as a vestiguard in anticipation.

Did they, as whalls divisions, move the whole day?

never, till the Gid Guard were three bipts, and hispicen's positions were carried. The these divisions moved icen's positions were carried. The these divisions moved icen's positions were carried. The these divisions moved icen's positions were carried. The these divisions and the French here, which the French has destruction of the French here, which the French seem has facts; to a cound understanding, not hillitry!

File, vis., that the divisions me being wanted in divisions, there was no need of their hid; and if there was no need of their aid, there can't have been any denger of defeat. "Ah! but," faid my French Officer, "Napoleon heat the Duke at manually for he farced his centre, La Haye Sainte, divided his wings, and laid diven
the road to Brussels."

contre, Le Haye Sainte, divided his utings, and laid them the road to Struscia."

Now, again and again it shall be researced, "Le Haye Sainte was not the centre, but divin in advance of it?", and though the brave Germans, but they are stine of the saint was completed for a time, did Napoleon keep it?— Sevainly not. He tried, but could not keep it, but was it was but by the fire at their real centre of the British behind it; and thus, it has Duke were besten because he loss. Haye Sainte, the Duke was also victorious because he regulated it.

Napoleon said, at St. Helen, the Duke showed no genius because he fought with has dodle in his ress, on the Forcet of Soignled. How I ind is the grantest gasins when irritated by defeat and fail we!

The Duke fought Waterloo of the one defile in his rear, therefore, the Duke is no Mulitary genius! hat Napoleons fought the battle with these calles in his rear, what grains then must Napoleon b? "As I but Napoleon hid dot choose his own deld?"—Granted. But is there to Military genius in forcing bour enemy to fight you, where you find it convenient. At Leipsio, Napoleon chose his own ground, and theb he chose a field with a defile over a morase, only a mild and a helf breed, end, which was the urincipal cause of his rein. defice over a morane, and vame as cooks a state with a deficie over a morane, only a mile and a helf broad, and, which was the principal cause of his rain.

If deficiency of genius he posted by the number of deficiency of genius he posted by the number of deficiency of genius he posted by the number of the state of your rear. Nepolecki a trely has, in legic, the wester of the

All this is the mortified during of a gallant but beaten assimilar was at Zama.

When Sir. Walter Scott was at Paris, 1816, he was permitted so talk, and he slid task that following questions, it his Grace's table, relating to Waterioo; and I repeat them as Sir Walter decided them to me at my own:—
"Suppose, your Grace, Blackes had not come up?"
The Duke replied,—

"I could have bept my ground all next morning."

"Buppes Grossly had come and had been occupalled."
"Blucker world have been direct ledned him."
"Bucker world have been direct had been occupalled."

"Bucker."

to retract?

It is outh have taken position in the Forest of Subpairs, and defined all fill the allies joined.

Was there any part of the day your Grase despaired?

When there my part of the day your Grase despaired?

Whis is the reply of this first in command.

In 1935, the writes of this first line day at Lood Palants again's on his right and this latter blined at Lood Palants again's on his right and this, he his Lordship lived near the entrings with Lord Hill, is membering what fill Walter high alliened of this Duke a confidence, in which we want the say part of the day is Waiterloot my Lord, you ever despended as to the remail.

Disponded? It made Lord Hill, I never to There mayor was the least paring a special land with my anaequent I great dayle; of the evening. Dry, there was not a managent in the least of the result.

That, here are given, from anticatio sources, the opinion of the first and author in parallell, and have the made on his particular.

the light doubt of the sensit."

That, lette are given, from gathers to source, the opicion of this five and setted in possessing; and been the source, or acquired, or man Acceptable english to be applied as a sensition of the letter, was a part of the first or activates, and or far the bettie, and whether sensited or British, in several to be letter, and another or activates to be applied on British in glary," an apart of the bettie, and chether sensited or British, in gary," an apart of the bestie o

Cortainly not; our wing of cloud wards his telepat for light to the ball whole Nappleso was don Successor with Del Nappless with Being only inactive with Being, and front, in seve theself, which Date tags to his pine from he thought proper, as if on a majer of confusion, which in the bottest part of the the Dalmanni mid. blied the things the whote head in subject to last, head whom a first to last, he appeal when barade, deposit languages into lucker supplement.

Blucher Samplares. day: Bered Tement rode up his is set the book Army you

In the hottage, part of the day, Barry Tennes rode up to the Dulmand mid.—I his is not the belonder up to the Dulmand mid.—I his is not the belonder up to the Dulmand mid.—I his is not the belonder up to the Dulmand mid.—I his is not the belonder of the new point had been for all his the last the first belonder. To conclude, Rapoleon my fact, bright was the and better to all his intends his Old General shocked and determ down by our non-more Caugal, fittly and bornetly, and he did not reside the highest through as his position a mount of the paralle great, a never forgat, and repeatedly at any in paralle great, a never forgat, and repeatedly at any in paralle great, a never forgat, and repeatedly at any in paralle great, a never forgat, and repeatedly at any in paralle great, a never forgat, and repeatedly at any in paralle great, a never forgat, and repeated the did not write bit on Dispersion; and Hower seems the third and the strength of the dispersion of the Livershall and the did the order is not present by Newson! Scott did all Great belong the many present by Newson! Scott did all of the order his as an in the School, who he drove his applicant from the last great and the strength his City paralle is a stationary of his not the station of the Livershall and the station of the last and the station of the last and the station of the last and t

Marine, ROYAL WAY!

Agent the Better of the News and Nithern Genetic.

Brill—In your Payer of but Saturday a Forrespondent observed that News Ciffeen are surred to Picture; their sons in the Mary, and agent the question "gray." It one of sectional importances. Our there really le a question withy " In the what of applicationals." If so, let him mak, over the Hernard Medical, and when the parcial van the palacity of the land. He as 30 on that agentially black-list, I high the will had him easy answered most affectable, I high who set sorting in the Coast Grant boyung the preparation of one is year? I fee, the land one premoted will have served in Mark and Mill upwards of Mary, for years, a givent playings ! Poon fallows! they have no trigings ade; they had some ones, but they are gene.—all good:

have served as Make and Mid. upwards of Mays, for your, Aspirest pleasant. Post follows! they have no frighted uses; they have been ones, but they are gent—all golds; they have been convicted on the clearest evidence of the crime of wint of interest, and are expectable to the more thought of.

And they fire, I trust I shall not get in vain for a middle for the remember as well as for some of that amounting the manufacture of the amounting the manufacture of the consideration a rigid comparation between the sawrices of the 30 tenior Musics, and make it, an investigation into the claims of the old Mates, so that some ment is faint and influence may be indused to play their nations, for and influence may be indused to play their nations, and the some ment is faint and influence may be indused to play their nations, be the one struke in their lies.

[A reference to one back numbers should satisfy this percentage of the Did Makes.—En.]

The claims of the Qif. Make. ED.]

Fan. 23.

CERRIE OF THE ROYAL NAVY.

To the Exists of the Mand and Military Guestic.

Sin.—In the pictual of the Rev Regulations towards think so much improvement was looked for as regards the ploting the quarter-shock Petry Officers in a rank geresponding with the sister dervice and with each other, imprevous disappointment has been felt by one class of these Officers, namely the Ciarts, particularly passed Clarks, and "Clarks in sharps," who had been led to sope that their dishine would have been asknowledged, and their services may justly appreciated.

Allow no to sek, so he Ciarts of a well as other Officers) have to pass through preliationary grades before they receive their commitmions, for the wardroam, why they should not, equally with others, squance in rank with leave to pass through probletionery grades before they receive their conspiliations for the wardroam, why they should not, equality with others, advance in rank with such step they take? The Gullet, after serving his title in that capacity, gains five steps in rath on bequaing a Midshipman, and when he nasher for a Lieutenant advances free steps mace. Also, the Master's Amintant gains two steps in rank when his posses for a Second Master. But the above-named Comerc retrin the rank they have so acquired, sweatened in rach case with an increase of may. Pot so the Clerk; he serves his time, passes for a Frener, but in an increase of Parser, but in an increase graph, neither to rank nor pay; he may obtain a surrant from the Admiralty as a "Clerk is sharpe," and whiles in that unjunty shares in principality (in cases only officingle-handed captures) must to the Commander of his vessel. His position is thus probled for the time, but, alia! when that "accupation is gone," senk takes wing with it, and he has to fall back so his wild position.

Sank takes wing wan as an all position, and superionced Clerk is of all That a well-educated and experienced Clerk is of all That a well-educated and experience every. Officer who have to an addition most value to the Ruvil Service every. Officer who has to the keeping of the ship's books and accounts, his du-ties are of a highly responsible nature, and his services are palled for on many important points. He is the porare patien for on many important points. Ato is the per-son first referred to, as possessing a thorough knowledge and therefore hear able to afford ready explanation on the general duties of the Service—he is the Captain's confidential adviser in all his correspondence—often of a secret, and not unfrequiently of a diplomant, character.

There is another fantare in the New Regulations which tends to humiliate this class of Officers. I alludo which tends to hunfiliate this class of Officers. I allude to the qualifications (page 28, Art. 21), all therein required for a Clark, on his first admission is, "that he quited for a class and good hand." Surely, a highest against of attainments than mere writing simulated that distinguished for a almation that pught only to be hespewed on gagues gentleman of good abilities and character. In the leading attack of your last work's Journal, you were pleased to gave easie the cause of the Clerks, and in that pinns let me entire the cause of the Clerks, and in that pinns let me entire a continuation of your good offices, figures and degraded by the new Code of Regulations.

The Unitage skervice GAZETTE.

MARINERO.
THE UNITED SERVICE GAZETTE.

For the Metter of the Result and mettery transite.

Sin 4-in reference to a recent equitation to the Court of Changes, (Warre v. Arctriawood and Mydd, in the course of which I was made to appear to have been the welter of the "Londing Articles" of the "United Service Guarite," will you perfeit me to any that such is not the fact. The only Articles of mine which have appeared in that Journal shock April hat, and witch have appeared in the Journal shock April hat, and witch have appeared in the Journal shock appeared in the Vice-Changeline, have been on political topics; and have never, so the an I am ewere, formed the "Leading Articles" of the Paper. They have, moreover, been published, almost inversely, in a mutilated and informed state.

Bince April hat, ob or revetadw guidton bad sval

Since April had. There had nothing whatever to do with the Eddforable of course of the Paper, nor heed in my way confided with it beyond that of furnishing (aloos the letter shall of June last) an article, moully brief, on the political affairs of the week. I am, Mo., Frd. 2d, 1844.

The Residence of the week. I am, Mo., Frd. 2d, 1844.

The Residence of the Warra.

The Military Gastler of the Penelope slage the last best copyetted into a first-rate steamer, that I should feel much obliged to any of your correspondence who would know me with an impartial and correct dente scho would favour me with an importial and correct dente echo would become no with an impartical and correct accommend in her qualities as a sea-boar. That her steam power is great, so one can doubt, and that her armoment is passeried in equally certain; but I conceive a quantitor of mamentous importains to be, is she a shelection of mamentous importains to be; is she a shelection to distribute and did so from the start moment that I saw, her pe Chatham, south mounts aime, and previous to her staring; to me she had the appearance of a deep laden vessel, dangerously deep in the same and more like a half-tide cust that a lively the water, and more like a helf-tide rock than a lively buoyant vessel. I then expressed my opinion that she buoyant vessel. was too long and too much immersed to five in a heavy town mitteed that various afterations have sen; and I have initied that regions afterations have been and still are making to give ber inure liveliness in a sea; at least, I suppose that is the metive for lightening her. I should have thought that equie of the firbuilt air-and-thirties would have newworld the purpose better than Personner; sign, I remainder, always an low on the water; such friguism at the Orlando would have nearly better; the wat fiving along the out of the water, with atores and provisions on board, and could afford to be broadly down heread her willing boarders the structure of the water. with stores and providing large smaller and should be brought down beyond large smaller bearings by steam-inachinery, &c., &c. I merely name this, and should be glad to bear the opinion of those who have made steam their study, for our course it is an aim on which the success of another war will most securelly dependeffective with her heavy sums atmeriently formulable and effective with her heavy sums atome-why cumber her with comparatively useless ones, to increase her draught, without adding to her force? for it must be recollected that such a wassel can alwans and the mark by recollected that such a vessel can always choose her distance and play at long balls. Until she has duabled her opponent abe has no business within sinist blank anno his has been a long balls. and the no business within point blank range, for how-aver formidable while unanjured, the toss of her of many would make a material difference in the effectiveness of a atenmer. I merely wish to show that there can be no occasion to put any but powerful guns into the fire-class steamers to make them dangerous customers. I am suc you will excuse my troubling you with these random remarks; they may elicit discussion, and indirectly be of service. I believe the Penelope has not experienced any bed weather simbs her voyage to freland so test her powers; it I am mistaken, perhaps some one of your numerous correspondents will knodly set me right and give me the result of his observations on the sconners. ebárnou: in a gair. Capterbury, Jan. 28.

Elgrantares to Letters in Type. "An Er Dragnon," "C. Bal-linguls," "A Would be Commodore," " Justice," " Familiared and Banket," " Handook," and " hervitor."

To Meaders and Correspondents.

The letter of "A Constant Reader" (Greenock), is hardly adapted for publication; but if he will take the trouble to state his views carefully and concisely, we shall be happy in submitting them to our readers.
"Cerissimus Debitor" has our shanks: ue are always glud to hear from old friends.

"A Master, R. N.," will observe by our leading columns that we are not unmindful of our former promise. If he refers to our hack Numbers he will find that we have all along advocated the removal of the grisvances he men-We desire aroument rather than complaint: for while the latter is unavailing, the former may be productive of good results. *

To " Miles." — We noticed last week the statement seri to us by Mr. I. Wheeler (Rochester), about boy enlist-ment, a capy of which has been published by some of our contemporaries; and we have only space this week further to observe, that there is no understanding whatever between the Authorities at Horse Guards and the Unions. When a boy in a Union wishes to become a soldier, he is brought to the Garrison Orderly-room, and if he to found eligible, an authority to enlist him is applied for in the usual way, and it is not even known whether the boy is from a Union or not.

If "A Constant Reader" (United Service Club)

fers to our book Numbers he will find that in the 44th controversy both sides have adopted the anonymous.

"A Blue Jacket" can obtain the back Numbers, not out of print, at the office in Catherine-street; we cannot of print, in the other object.

The publication of the letter of " Pair Play for a Soldier" (Chatham), might subject us to an action for libel. We are sorry we comnot meet the request of Mr.

Waldron.

"A. I. G." (Eyham), inquired. "Whether the late Thomas Fernyhough, of the Military Knights of Windsor, was over in the Rieffordshire Militia?" He formerly held the rank of Brevet-Captain in the Siafford Militia.

....P. W. D." inquires -- What length of service gives -- three who the Army Officer a claim for half-pay—say those selve served on actual service in the late war?! Formerly there was no limitation as to length of service; all Officers being entitled to half-pay if reduced, even those who never joined regiments. But now it is different, and who never joined regiments. But now it is different, and our Correspondent is referred to the Warrant of the 1st Outober, 1840, for every information on the subject.

writes-" Are the Medical Officers of the " Curiosity" Army to wear the now hat, or merely to have a few altera-tions and additions made to the one at present in use?" The Medical Officers of the Army will continue to wear cocked hale, but somewhat reduced in dimensions.

1. A. A. (i." has our thanks t the facts have been some time before us, and will be subjected at a fitting oppor-

"A Subscriber and Friend to the Oppressed" shall have early attention.

The letter of a "Half-pay Lieutenant of a 10-Gun

ig' (Guerneey), will be forwarded to the authorities. The Back Numbers and Volumes of the N. and M. Rrio' Guzene can be had only at the Office in Catherine-street, Strand. The volumes for the years 1837, 1838, 1839, 1840, 1841, 1842, and 1843, 11, 17s. 6d. each, half-bound. Subscribers in Ireland may obtain this Poper from Mr. Yates, Library, Gratton street, Dublin.

Naval'& Military Gazette.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY $, 1844.

THE position of the Army in Ireland is a present one of vast national interest; and yet it is strange how little interest is expited regarding it. We fear that this gallant body of men must, are long, give one more proof of the decided superiority of discipline over enthusiasm. We dread this, only because this new proof is to be adduced by a Gwil War. Warlike as we admit the Irish people to be, madness alone can lead them to try their brute force against high discipline, superior tactic, and equal courses; for we hold that the most martial people must fall before a regular Army, unless that people have more than mere courage and onthusiasm.

We are aware that in any civil struggle in Ireland our soldiers will only be a small disciplined force against a large undisciplined mass of men; we also know that every advantage will be taken of surprise, local know ledge, ambushes, and cutting off small parties in detail. But all these will be guarded against more efficiently than many suppose. On the very first outbreak; s concentration of columns would be effected, and the rebellious multitudes buld find that to win " Ireland for the Irish," would require the defeat of those moving columns. If the lopeal rubble can imagine themselves able to defeat the Armies of England, they must have reflected little on that motes have effected in any age against disciplined tropps. We shudder to think of the result of such a coefficient for let the Trish offer the of the result of such a conflict—for let the Irish offer the most united national registance in the issurrection, we see what the end may be puquest of the country—Military law—strong is interested the country—and all the legal horrors which close the scape of rebellion overthrown.

"To avert this rebellion was the only one means. The issued as must render the highest by such a commanding force as must render the highest while thus awad into wholly, thoroughly, hopeless While thus awed into peace, let a wise Government act besevolently, redress grievances, and make the Union of the countries the mutual wish, as it is even made the mutual interest, of Saxon and of Celt. Saxon and of Celt.

The organisation of the Pensiquers in Ireland is rapidly going forward. More than eight thousand of these veterans see already enrolled, of whom a large proportion are fally empetent to the duties proposed to be exected from this oription of force. Unless the system is to lose half its value the Pensioners must at once be called into service, and relieve the line of a portion of the task they are now performing. They must assist in the Military occupation of Iroland. By the should all the smaller towns and barracks be garrisoned, and thus the regiments of the Line might be concentrated at important points: and such of them as are now scattered, and their afficiency marred by being frittered away in insignificant detachments, would be united.

We subjoin a list of Staff Officers of Pensioners in Ireland.

Wa subjoin a list of Sign Officers of Pengioners in Ireland.

Division: Ind.-gra., Dubline. Got-attibus.— Rathfarnham, Bray, Blessington, Nana, Maynsoth, Leinig. Lecas. Bwords. Civutarf. and Bulbriggan.—Listit. Rodgetts, Sad.-gra., Drogleda. Gut-attona.—Dunler, Ardes, Dundalk, Garlingford, Navan, Trim, Siane, Athboy, Raile, and Danekasphile.—Capt. Furlong: Ind.-gra., Wareford. Quat-atations.—Pilk Town, Kikenny. Tenboron, Arthurstown, Tagamon, Westord, Subst. Resiscorthy, and Tramore.—Lieut. J. G. Rojers, Ind.-gra., Kikenny. Outstations.—Callen, Gowran, Rathdowney, Ibhastown, Thomastown, Gorenbring, Thuries, Kilenaul, and Castleoomer.—Lieut. Webster; Ind.-gra., Carlow. Outstations.—Athy, Bailleckmoyler, Thulow, Tunholy, Rathdrum, Baillingtons. Govry, Ingrastrown. Cone Disparity.—Capt. Brown; Ind.-gra., Cork. Outstations.—Kinsale, Bandon, Clonakity, Skibbersen, Macroom, and Dunmanway.—Chat. Meredith; Ind.-gra., Farmoy, Outstations.—Mallow, Kantark, Gnarleville, Mitchelstown, Cloyse, Middleton, and Youghal—Lieut. Stokes, Ind.-gra., Table. Outstations—Listowel, Killarney, Keumare, Cahirciveen, Bingle, Castlebown, Skull, and Bantry.

Ayshon Deraror—Capt. Muleverer; Ind.-gra., Athlone. Outstations—Meliculan, Ballynings, Relementy, Philiptown, and Carls.—Capt. Kingsley; Ind.-gra., Parconstown. Outstations.—Sortumes, Staribally, Ballican, Bullynitts, Abbeylsix, Elifarni, Houstath, and Borrie Indoor.—Mountmailick, Portarington Edmanles, Stanibally, Ballican, Bullynitts, Abbeylsix, Elifarni, Houstath, and Borrie Indoor.—Capt. Merchami, Handelli, Banavar Didwaror—Capt. Beckham; Ind.-gra., Barghon, Cettations.—Granare, Cantlepolard, Rathowen, Castlepolard, Cuttations.—Isborn. Navanomaria.

and Horrie in Ossery—Capt. Beckham; ind. ules, Sangingst. Outstations—Granard, Gaatlepolard, Rathowen, Challe ingens Delvin, and Michill.

Busyaur Disquiror—Capt. Cartan; ind. ups. Bushat. Outstations—Lisburn, Newtownards, and Carricthrygis — Lisut. Stations—Lisburn, Newtownards, and Carricthrygis — Lisut. Tittle; ind. que, Ballymens. Outstations—Anapies, Ardmoy, Ballymens. Outstations—Anaphe, Strakens, Rameleos, Bunersona, Candonagh, and Newtown-Lismushy—Capt. Beautoy; ind. que, Kondonderry. Outstations—Raphe, Strakens, Brockburn, Florence Court, and Swanlinbar—Capt. Beautoy; ind. que, Capt. Beautoy; ind. que, Capt. Beautoy; ind. que, Capt. Beautoy; ind. que, Capt. Beautoy; ind. que, Armagh Outstations—Newtown, Hamilton, Ballisay, Castle-Binney, Market Bill, and Keedy—Capt. Beauting; ind. que, Capt. Bushat, ind. que, Capt. Beauting; ind. que, Capt. Beauting; ind. que, Capt. Bushat, ind. que, Capt. Bushat, ind. que, Capt. Bushat, ind. que, Capt. Bushat, ind. que, Limiton—Kullsoftanders, Baiturbet, Bally-Jameaduff, Gapad-Rockort—Newtown, Market Billy-Jameaduff, Capt. Bushat, Outstations—Europeanors, Cootehill, Strauone, and Billiannes, Carrichman-Capt. Calter; ind. que, Limiton. Outstations—Capt. Russell, Elimanich. Outstations—Capt. Que, Elimanich. Outstations—Capt. Que, Elimanich. Outstations—Capt. Que, Elimanich. Carrick-on-Spir, Cashel; Cahir, and Tipperary.

Ir is matter of much surmise, in the wood of a conviction of Mr. O'Connell and the other Rep trial, where they may be confined. We have them to said that they or at least Mr. O'Connell will be put on board a ship of war and taken to the Tower of Loudon; while others say that, if convicted, the traversers will be conveyed by see to Carrickfergus, and there confined. We hold a different opinion, and heli-they will not be taken out of Dublin.

Wz have not the slightest doubt that much consideration was bestowed upon the changes recently promulgated in the Naval Regulations, and that there existed a deeply-seated desire in the minist of those engaged in making them, to do justice and, and far as might be, give satisfaction to the Service is at a weight be, give satisfaction to the Service is at a weight the predisposition to act fairly and to please his been very unsuccessful in operation. There is also evidence of much inconsistency, some instances of which we shall point out.

The pension of the fidew of a Medical Inspector killed in action is to be 290, of if drawned or meet a violent death on duty, £80. The pidow of a Commander-in-Chief's Secretary, or of a Depicy Inspector, will be entitled under tion was bestowed upon the changes recently promulgated

Secretary, or of a Deputy Inspector, will be entitled under the same circumstance; to £80 and £70; while the widow of a Lieutenant, Master, or Captain of Murines, is to have of a Lieutenant, Master, or Captain of Marines, is to have £70 and £60. But this distinction cesses if the above descriptions of Officers die quietly in their beds; for in this case the widows of all are entitled to £50 only. It is vaio to seek for any principle in the above, because there cannot, we think he say; but if the framers of the new achiene considered that holding additional temporary rank, as in the case of the Secretary to the Commander-in-Chief, afforded a claim to a higher rate of widow's pension, should the population of the Master of the First not included in one or other of the classes specified $\frac{1}{2}$. of the classes specified

The reduction of pay to the Captains of the Ordinary The reduction of pay to the Captains of the Ordinary will, we think, cause much dissatisfaction among the old Officers who have been exclusely looking forward to such a command, after, perhala, buffeting the winds and waves for many a long year. Appointments of that kind, to which highly important duties are annexed, have generally been given as a set of reward for long and good services, and a reduction in the pay to the amount of £200 a year will be for as a hardship. It not unfrequently happens that the command of the port devolves on the Captain of the Ordinary; but independent of this has a station to maintain for which the pay of a First he has a station to maintain for which the pay of a First Class Captain is certainly not a fraction too much.

But the mode of dealing pursued with reference to the Masters is so remarkable, that we cannot resist making another expose of the femalestem.

It has been generally the ambition as well as the in-terest of a Master to endeavour to obtain a large ship; but if guided only by the latter feeling, he will, in future, but if guided only by the latter realing, he will, in luture, seek a small vessel, where his responsibility and expenses will be infinitely less and his pay much higher! To prove this it is necessary only to turn to the article of the New Regulations, squared in our "Gazette" of the 20th uit., which runs thus — "Masters who may have charge of Boatswains and Garpenters' stores, in the absence of of Bostawains and Carpenters stores, in the absence of those Officers, or in this which no such Officers are allowed to be dorse, whill, in consideration of the increased charge and day gign to them, receive, in addition to their full pay, the allowance mentioned in the table of pay, &c." The repuls whose names are subjoined do not, we think, pour Warrant Officers :-

Blance Fearhein, Horast,
Linnet,
Magide,
Mastiff,
Penguin,
Potorei Shearwater. Skylark. Tarteres. ENTONS.

but believe it to be entertainly true.

Consequently, the Masters employed in the above-named ships will begintitled; includes the same." named ships will helicitied, including the store allowance money, to £219 $\footnote{1}$ (4d per emans, (not a sixpence too much, he it observed) while the Muster of a first, second, or third rate, is to be in the receipt of £212; and the Muster of a fourth fifth, and sixth rate, of £182. It is next to impossible for a Muster of a large ship to be three ment to impossible for a Moster of a large ship to be three months at one time in charge of even one Warrant Officer's stores, for there is stores a plentiful supply of qualified Petry Officers always a plentiful supply of qualified Petry Officers always at the flag-ship of each station to all a recently in plantiful it course. We very much question if a great influence of the plantiful accuracy to the Master by the transfer of the solice willing it like. He is at present responsible for any deficiency of stores, while, at the same time, he has no actual control over the expenditure; and as his pay is apw liable to stoppere for the extravagance or carelessuess of others, it would only be fair either to give him the allowence, or to relieve him from all charge.

Now that Parliament has again amembled for the despatch of business, and when we may presume that the different departments are about preparing their cati-mates for the new year, we think it but our daty to remind them of the great discontent which exists m the married Officers of the Army in consequence of that most unjust regulation which withholds the small and pitiful weekly allowance of coals and candles, when such Officers are obliged from dire necessity to live in lodgings -we say, dire necessity-for it is absolutely so; as it is utterly impracticable for a married Officer to live in his one room in barracks, which is the only accommodation he is entitled to there.

We have for years, again and again, brought this matter under the observation of the Anthorities; but unfortunately, we are as yet unable to gratify dur own feelings, or the feelings of the Service at large, by being enabled to say that we perceive any favour able symptoms of this most obnoxious segulation being rescinded. We, however, pledge ourselves never to relax in our humble endeavours to point out the shame and disgrace of it. We now appeal to the present most illustrious Commander-in-Chief, as well as to those most gallant and excellent Officers-the present Master-General and Secretary-at-War, to take this important matter into consideration, in the hone of their making an official inquiry as to any evil (Heaven save the mark!) which the permitting married Officers living out of barracks receiving their allowance of fuel would create, or if it would in any way or manner be detrimental to the Service; -- and certain we are that if such an inquiry is instituted, there is not one Regimental Commanding Officer in the Army who would not state the very contrary to be the fact; indeed, we have only to point out the case of a married Non-commissioned Officer, about to be raised from the ranks, who as an Ensign would only have a daily pay of 5s. 3d., and as a matter of course and necessity must leave the barracks and go into lodgings the moment he is made an Officer, (as he could not possibly in that rank sleep, eat, and cook his meals in one small miserable room). See this poor fellow, not only obliged to pay fer the said lodgings, but to pay for his coals and candles also! This is no imaginary case, but one of every-day occurrence in nearly every regiment in the Service-and why should it be so? Why, we ask, are married Officers allowed the coals and candles when living in lodgings in consequence of there being no room for them in barracks then they not only receive their fuel but lodging money also? Is this not a most strange anomaly? We have not time to say more on this subject at present, but we shall return to it sgain and again, in the hope of drawing the attention of the Authorities we have named to fale most creal and unjust regulation.

THE late discussions in the India House have failed to THE late discussions with India House have failed to induce the public to look upon our occupation of Scinde as flagitious. From the very first we have held and boldly declared four opinion, that saidom has there been a more just conquest, more lenient measures to the conquered people, or more pecited retribution than what has fallen on the Americ of Scinde. H. Lord Ellenborough had done no other act a make the name of England respected in India, his rightly wagesness on their scinners of all who value the empire of opinion by which we refer in the East. It is cultivated in large the falsely comin the East. It is quite tickening to hear the felsely com-passionate whinings utilized at the hard fate of the Americane to whom the materies of their just subjects were subjects were only known, to be therefore made greater to will was a stranger—who ofly splinged the poor and industrious to prosper and begans sittle, to feeture and pillogs them. How can was a stranged of the impute 1900, not once more became en la ential mercy—a means of civilisation and has reigned from slavery a whole aution by one glotions victory. A bright prospect opens for Schole; and the time is not remote when British will introduce into Sounds all the arts and blessings of Peace and Happiness.

The admirable arrange conte of Sir Charles Magiter sinds he became Governor of cinde have related much fully the assertions that he has ignorant of the mobile for thank he included. whose he legislated. We engre struck with the judiclose chelos flit Charles Napi, same of those to serve under him. He seemed well wary that the Mahammadana could not apparate Civil i an Military Government, as we could not asperate Civil from Military Government, as we have too often tried to do a finding and we observe that he has placed mentin Scinde who, with the ready had unhabitating obedience of soil lers, have the morning habite peculiar to their profession. This choice, and the profession determination to make as sittle organic change at possible in the machinery of the Government of Scinding while in fresh congrest, prover Sic Charles Napler to be a manual write in his civil, canasticular Governor as he had been whe is his civil especity of Governor, as he has been skifful and guillant as a General.

The press may groun—he would be wise most of the Bast may make long specifies—and a few may he led to falsely compassionals the Ameers—but so long as the putting down of tyriting, and the release of a nation from slavery, are objects of a pittable, no long shall be land the deposition of the Ambers and the establishment of British rule in Solade. We may feel some regret that a stern state movestry, compade, the Government of India to retain the Amsers wider retraint as prisoners of war, but we feel satisfied that this patraint will be removed when it can be done with existy.

Wn reprint from the Sun' a letter from Major William Pottinger, of the lik Regiment, which we conceive, ought to and all correspondence on a subject arising out of the very doubtful althoutisity of a private letter from Sir Henry Pottinger to a friend-if such he may be called at Rombay. The total of Major Pottinger's latter is manly and temperate. ...

is many and temperate.

"Mit, ... Circumstances over Phich I had no control, buyer prevented the from seeing or no bring density the vortespendence and remarks arising out of letter hald to be written by fir lieury Pottinger, and published in the Merming Chronicle of the thin into The last mail brong in the project particularly former latters, which cambles me to deay or arise from an interior in the last republished, as they make no all mich by whatever.

"I must be permitted to add, with reference to one latter published by you, that any one upon one imagine that, under may alreamentance, hir Henry Pottinger could propolate a falsehood, combine me to deay or admit the authenticity of the letter so sublished, as they make no allowed to it? whatever, "I must be permitted to add with reference to one letter published by you, that any one was one imagine that, under any streamstadees, it? Henry Pottelier sould precialm a falsehood, proclaims himself utterly iguidant of the truth, innour, and inserting of my brother, and ha, in semmences, imagined that which must prove destinate of fouristion. I have the honour to commin, your most obedient agreed, Major, 6th Royal Reg. "Stockportsbarracks, Charles of Parishes, 3s, 1844."

The particular letter referred to appeared in the Naval and Milliary Gasette of the 20th uit., p. 46. -B

STEAM-VESSELS are now so numerous in the Servi e that ell espeditions will in future wars be steaded by them and we shall be able to bring large bedies of troops close to any portion of count we may select for your operations with rapidity and secrecy, even in the calingst weather; but Chave not sufficiently provided for their disembarkation. and much time would be lost in getting the men on shore in bosts unless we make some improvements upon our present errangements.

We take it for greated that, at all places where there is either a good kerbour or an extensive beach free from antfand favourable to debarkation, an enemy will always have some means of resisting an attacking force, and thus obligates to fight our way on shore, causing us to lose many men before we effect out objects; and, what is of still more importance, wasting much of our valuable time. Hat on even the most inaccombia court there are email points of rock, or small hays, of from 10 to 30 feet beach, which cannot be constantly guarded, and to these we would call the attention of Officers, as we are couand industrial that, with proper productions, we might, during a sand industrial to the party of the period of the

At present, suppose we have a beach of 30 feet of the nost favourable description, and that steamers with troops are lying within 400 yards of the shore; we have 30 bouts cerrying 1500 men, we have only room to beach three beats at one time: our account will stand thus:--

To elear the boats
To bull off to the steamers
To bull off to the steamers
To bull back to the beach
To class . 10 minutes.

or one hour and five minutes for 3000 men, and 55 minutes for every subsequent 1500; and this would be charg work, and overy one must be well acquainted with what he has to do

We will now consider what we might effect, and how We might throw out a Electing Plot from a 10 feet rock or beach. Take a line-of-buttle-ship's bonts-that is to My 1-

274

Define 01 tons for the weight of the planking, &c. and we have 28 tone at our service for loading; this ought to spread (allowing for the wash of the sea) about 170 feets :

Prepare the plat in herbour by mooring the barge 50 feet from the Laungh, the planese 35 feet from the parge, first outter 20 feet from planace, second outter 20 feet from first cutter, and a reft (protected below on the Aids next the shore by a stant framing, to prevent the casks being bilged) 20 feet from the second cutter; stretch tant over them five, siz, or eight inch hewsers two feet apart, plank over all with two-lock plank one foot wide, id 10 feet long. The planks to betwo inches from each other, to break the force of the nes in case of a swall. To prevent too much spring, and to keep the planks in their places, lash along over the planks to the outermost hawsers on each side, boats, ours, maste, small spars, Bec. Be.

Ap affair of this kind having been once fitted, and the men acquainted with its constrantion, may be put together about two miles from the shore and towed in. When the lending is to be made, send a couple of hundred men on shore as a covering party; bury two anchors on shore as make-fasts, drup a sleop-of-war's bower anchor 100 fathoms outside where the launch is to be at low water, as an cutar hauling line, and for steamers to hold on by an anchor on the launch's outer how, and another on her onter aparter: when the raft is about 12 ft. from the shore hank wall taut on the sahors-fasts and the anchors, and the pier is fit for use. It will bear a six-pounder fieldpiece with all its stores.

Some of the small iron steamers, such as Namesic, only draw five or six feet water, though they will carry Giff or 700 men; such a one might go alonguide the pier at most places, the having an anchor outside to hand off by, thoughe the would not be safe so close in on a dark night if waiting for boats.

In many places there is water enough for steamers of any size, 160 feet from the rook or shore; and in all cases the sides of such a pier are available for boats landing men, while guns, stores, &c. are landed from vessels at the cad of the pier. We cannot say what amount of awell or surf such a pier would stand : from its Marible nature we do not think it could be easily entried away. Experiments testing its capabilities might be tried at small expense by the Officers of the Excellent at Portsmouth. The arrangements of the hawsers for equalizing the strain will suggest thomselves to any intelligent Officer. The pier must be houled in or out at the tide rises or falls. It is important to deep water that the meliors be placed well out to seaward, as bringing a weight on the plantends to slack up and give too much play.

A GARR of a Soldier v. a Cirllian came hefore some maristrates of Chelmsford, in Bases, on Friday dast, of which the following are the particulars:

A Recruiting Serjeant, sectous in the cause of the Series, good-naturedly put his hand on the shoulder of a countryman, soliciting him to enlist, when the fellow-struck the Sorjeant, and nearly knocked him down, and afterwards made use of very abunive language to him The Serjeant deserves the greatest praise for his extraordinary forbearance; as, although by far the most powerful man of the two, he did although by far the most powerint man is the way most mot return, the blow, but quietly obtained a summost against the man, stating to the magistrates that he had abstained from taking the law into his own hauds, considering it his duty to keep the peace instead of breaking it, and he felt assured they would give him every redress. But notwithstanding its coming out in evidence that the countrymen had bousted in a country pot-house that he had atruck the Serjeant, the case was dismissed by these worthy Solons of the Bonch ; and the Serjeant had eight shillings expenses made out against him, because he comanillings expenses made out sgainet him, because he committed the first assault, by good-naturedly putting his hand on the man's collar. O tempera! O mores! Had the case been reversed, we fer the soldier would not have got off so easily. It is cases of this sort which make soldiers commit outrages; for they naturally think some short-sighted paragons are maintend assignt them. short-sighted persons are prejudiced against them.

short-sighted persons are prejudiced against them.

We commented last week on the insolence of the cancullo towards soldiers, and our remarks have brought forth the following letter from un old correspondent, Un'Anoten Boldut.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gazette.

Sin,—It was with feelings of pleasure, commingled with rigret, that I perused the able article in the Gazette of hat Saturday, adverting to the treatment saidiers meet at the hands of the "great unwahed" in the metropolis. at the hands of the "great unwashed" in the metropolis." I was pleased that the spiteful opwardly major of worth-less vagalonds, calling themselves British I seems and, may be, citizens, had been exposed in your columns, but regretted you had not in a more translant style disselved and annihilated the pairry seum, whose base ignorance alone prevents their due appreciation of the defenders of their "hearths and homes." In my mind, though I may be wrong, prejudice of any sort engendered and avinced against a class of persons bespeaks in the demonstrator of such, a low, victous, and cowardly natures; but where of such, a low, victous, and cowardly nature; but when it is maintested, as you have so truly set forth, against a caste whose acretes have been fraught with such honour and agnst success to the British name and character, and but for whose bardy prowess, undaunted bearing, and chivalrous courage, coupled with our worthy atless, the indomitable blue-jackets, there aclisame enserers at and acoffers of "the cloth," would, at the present moment, be grouning under the galling bash and degrading slavery be growing under the galling hast and degrading stavery of the foreigner; their wives, maters, daughters, and mothers, long since endeating earthly perdition and lasting contamination from the forest embraces of their licentious but Actorious soldiery. When such, to us well-known horiors, and other equally portentous evils, have been happily and sudditifully warded off this fair isle and its inhabitants by that adamentate abold, the Services, whose hort, though desimated and sought to be crushed by investigating to the crushed by unavailing numbers, have still risen superior to all trule, and natural difficulties have only appeared to be the more easily and rapidly overcome by them: when such breasts whose sours shone all in front are made taigets, at which senerices wittidgins, vulgar abuse, unseemly cowardice, with impunity, level their shafts, it becomes time for "good men and true," not only to un-dergo the pannial and humiliating ordeal of "bluebing" for their common country's sake, but by word and deed, if to their natural inaignificance and ignominious ineptitude.

The 'unwashed,' Sir, may date the Military, but 'they' fear them equally; and se an instance of the innais gowardice of such some I will narrate a fact I witnesses last summer :- Coming to the Horse Guarda with a frien through the l'ark, our attention area diversed by a spec-through the l'ark, our attention area diversed by a spec-tionous yelling and howing behind me, where the stipe of the York column, towards which we from the to assertate the gauss of the uproar; we behind first luchions wights, a Corporal and two privates of a regiment of Foot Guards, aurrounded by a mob of 250 to 300 persons, of 'all shades and characters, whose unsuluity was alone evinced by and character, whose unaritative was some expect by their singular disregard of decempy and secorum in hooting at and abusing the sublibra. I inquired of a respectably-dressed member of this mob the reason for such hostility and disgraceful outrage being shown towards the men; he replied, they were 'audgers' and half-beiled lobsters, and as such richly mented more even than the tender mercles dealt out to them by the 'free citizens' surrounding them. They had committed no crime nor fault, but simply as soldiers, had clicited the fifthy hellowings and blackguardly abuse of a gang of dissolute vagabonds. I looked about abuse or a gang or dissolute vaganuses. A source under for a policeman, but in vain; beware, meing a couple of the smart-looking youngsters of Cardigan's Hussers, I directed their attention to their commades' plight, stating my distribution of their commune: prignt, staring my distribution to their commune; prignt, staring the action to the word, an 'Ay, Ay, Sir," out came their swords f om their scabbards, and rushing through the mob they arrived at the Foot soldiers, whom they exhorted to ax beyonets and follow them, which was to charge the mab; and it did my greeight good to not these five golinat fel-without further molestation.

York steps, and then peaceably estire to the Horse Guards without further molestation.

The lower cleases, as well as a vast sprinking of the middle cleases, in sities and towns, are proverhially a dissolute, idle, abusive set; add to these "virtues" that of cowardice, and you have the craw and froth of those Englishmen who disgrees their country and name by their unseemly chullitions towards he Military, who, were they to inflict signif chastiseme it on half-a dozen affenders some day, it would wine the wil; but not till then, rely upon it, will it be exadicated. I possilect evening and hearing the liattalion of Guards under Sir John flurgoyne, who were marching through ligant-street, an rouse to Euston-square, to "grouped by trailway to the disturbed districts in the morth, present of on and hooted by a mach of some thousand blackguards, in front, flank, and rear, who laughed at the mildness and forbearance shows towards them by the Military, and impeded their progress in every way till, at just, Sir John gave the word, "Battalion, fix bayonets?" the saddeness and rapidity of the axecution, with the alleking niles, alone electrified the "masses" and they interpreted draw back to a respectable distance, and sine left of howling; hungry as the arrange fact, but one I have seen more then once verified, that a mob paye more discrepted to a Dragoon than to a fout-solder; whether the sabre carries the argumentum lad hominem appeal with it more foreibly than the bayonet. I leave it to those indicated with the mania of to a foot-soldier; whether the sabre carries the argumentum lad hominem appeal with it more foreibly than the bayonet, I leave it to those influed with the magic of making curious discoveries to find out and determine. Some years ago I had a spleadid charger whom I invariably mounted on mob-state becauser; he was an invaluable auxiliary in quelting a riet; and dispersing its much good carries, that I have cleared a space singly in no time; and were bettee the ribs or dentals of those coming within the fling of my gallant bay, "Old Ribt Act." I remain, your old correspondent and spheriher.

U. S. Club, gamery 31.

The Irish State Trials.—The case for the Crown having closed on Friday, the diffenes was opened on Saturday in a spooch by Mr. Shell hich excited great interest. It was chiefly a review of ortain interesting points in Irish History as treated by propular authors, and was delivered in the most fervia and impassioned manner, At the conclusion Mr. Shell has greated with a tremedicase obser. On Fussday, the Attorney-General for Irishand was led by what he considered the parsonally offensive language of Mr. Fitzgibbon, G.C., and Counsel for the traversers, to demand from that individual eithes an apology or the sort of activitation which has long been usual among gentlemen when partonal offence is given, and an apology or manin a friend to adjust matters differently, applied to the Court, and easuplained that the demand for an apology he began made pisted in hand. The Judges of the Court, con identing the grave position which they hold, and their official responsibilities as leade of the criminal judicature, and grandines of the public peace, could do nothing the hear approve Mr. Attorney-General for allowing himself the betwayed into the course which he had taken. Mr. Fitzgibbon, explicited that he had not conjured the Attorney-General for the conducting public matter, though his brokers was to the effect that what the Attorney-General had done he had done from the selfish matter did desiring to retain office. Eventpally Mr. Fitzgibbon discussed having imputed dishonaurable motives to the Attorney-General, and that gandings withdrew the hostile note which he had written. The trial then proceeded. Generies Appointments—Mr. Gipalein John Biohapp tile note which he had written. The trial then proceeded Gaucite Appointments—Mr. Gladein John Richard Wynyard to be Page of Honour to Hay Malesty the Chean Downger, Mr. Albert Dayy to be Consul at Lacde; and Mr. Thomas M. Guire to be Casul at Gladein to the United States of America; George Danne, Eaq., as one of Her Malasta's Romannella.

gow for the United States of America; George Dames, Esq., as one of Her Majesty's Hapourable Corps of George man and Arms, v. Talman, who relieve.

We find the following rumous in the German papers, under date Dreaden, Jan. 20.—"Queen Victoria will want Germany in the apringer-fiest the Pression Court. She will come to Dreaden in the legioning of May, and then go to Gotha to visit her father-in-law. By much is now decided, but it is possible that her journey hay be further extended."

further extended."

Lady Carr, widow of the undertunete Right Hee.

Spencer Percival, died on Segurday leet, after a short illness. The decreased, who was second daughter of Sir Thomas Spencer Wilseh, Bark, married 19th Aug., 1790, Mr. Spincer Percival, and in Jung 1815, se-married Sir

Mr. Spinoer vertival, and in dama away, remains on the Henry William Carr, K.C.B.

Mr. Richert Gibbings, father of Vissemness Company mere, died last work at Camburgage Abbay, Cambire, in his Sath year. He was on a visit to the galleting option from Prof. Read of Machington.—The California above profession of Prof. s Porm of 6 Sympathy? Million a deed profession in nearly half a ceitury ago, singularly prophetic of this noblemen's water-proof fitness as a Pilot to preside over the hardy, generaus, sympathetic sons of the ocean, and who so intely strately out a helping hand to keep the wap to interpretage out a negling near to steep the heads of nome sheet water who have been long struggling in the depths of ladigence.

Page 148, "We beare e'en peril for a stranger's good,"

"It is with plessure I draw an illustration of this sen-timent from an inteldent which happened in Scotland in the timent from an intident which happened in Scotland in the Autumn of 1800. That amiable young nobleman, Lord Binning (now Equi of Haddington), a name dear to Posts from the patronage which the family bestowed on Thomson, happening to be riding by the side of a deep riser near his paterna; east, saw a poor weman who had been carried away by the atream, and was in imminent danger of being drowadd. He immediately threw himself off his horse, plunged into the river up to his neck, and dragged the perishing victim to land, while some unfeeling persons, who had witnessed the satestrophe, remained estant spectators of the woman's danger, and would have suffered her to sink without an effort to says her. From this instance of gaugins sympathy for the sufferings of his kind I draw the happiest presages of the future character of the neble youth who is the subject of the nebt, as I am assured by one who knows him that his goudud on of the nebla youth who is the subject of this note, as I am assured by one who knows him that his goudact on this occasion was exactly what might have been expected from the generous philanthropy of his Lordship's heart."

The Duke of Brunswick.—On Monday the Court of Queen's Bench passed judgment on Thomas Holt the printer, and George Frederick Brander the Registered Proprietor of the Age newspaper, for libels on the Duke of Brunswick; the faceser was sentenced to 12 months' and the latter to 3 months' imprisonment in Newgate.

Pault of Major Makennie. Fodderk.—It is with Double of Major Macheneris, Folderty.—It is with deep regrat that we have to appende the death of Maj. Mackensie. The Major was an eminent agriculturist, and may be said to have introduced the modera estentific system of culture into Res-shire, and the first who ap-plied lime to the soil. The Major had been alling some Pure usus to the son. The Major had been alling some months, and died in his 75th year. He was universally respected for his honesty and benevolence, and his death is greatly deplored.—Reas-shire Advertiser,

The Military Enights of Windsor.—At the recom-

The Military Enights of Windsor.—At the recommendation of the Duke of Wellington, Captain Arthur Wellesiey Cassan, late of 65th Regiment, has been appointed a Military Knight of Windsor, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Governor, Captain T. Fernyhough. Capt. Cassan served twenty-six years, and lost his arm when in command of the advance of a storming party, in the East Indies; and his name on the occasion for gallant conduct, in when Home Secretary, was, not to appoint any gentlement who had "cold out," as a Military Knight, upon the ground that, as he had made the most he could of commission, there were others more entitled to have the favour conferred upon them. Captain Allen officiates as Guvernor until the arrival of Mejer Moore, who received that appointment about three weeks since.

The Nelson Statut.—At length this status is visible from its statute opation in Trafalgar-aquare, apparently completed as it is "to go down to pusterity," as well as attnd the criticism and inspection of the present age. It is, undestreadly, much improved from the alterations and "eligpings" it has undergone, the coil of rope, on one side, being much dispinished, and the left hand tail of the "display." It has undergone, the coil of rope, on one side, being much displinabled, and the left hand tail of the soas being likewise lessened, so as to remedy the curious sides produced, by its pervious form. Rapid progress is now high, the progress in a pay high state to the completion of the square, which, heing sparly paved, looks very advantageously. The displeacing and unsightly boarding will, consequently, be soon removed, as also the clever and curious confolding that a present surbunds the column, and presents such a satisfact an architecture of interestics.

poon removed, as also the clever and curious confiding that at present currounds the column, and presents such a striking specimen of ingenuity.

Prince Wrongs.—On Wedgesday, at 'Change time, which the impression was the membership of the presents, to impress upon the membership of the present of an expressed in a memorial, that their cause should be sanctioned by supplyers generally, so that by resort to an economical and honest registry as one would be taken out of the hands of those who lake exerbitant charges for shipping them, for cashing the notes, supplying them with alcibling, do. Their claims were listened to with much attention,—Liverpool Stankerd.

Outrage at San.—At the Levi pool Police Office, on Saturday lest, Oner, Pettic, of the bark spelia, and who had home life Majesty's Committion in the R.N. until the year 1817, was charged with literally mowing down lines however, as American, and one of his crew, on the homeword bound voyage from the Brands. The evidence showed that the complainant had knecked the Capinia down in the first instance, but that there was no muciay on bough, as, however, the offense of drawing a nach suttley a man in the dark was proved, Capthin which and suttleys man in the dark was proved, Capthin Malanda & the Lylagian Chart.

The premises which have seen the best at the past Admirally Business & the Lylagian Chart.

Prints and Surveys Assets of the premises which here seently been littled up to the past in George St.,

Hanover-square, were thrown open last evening, for the first time, for the reception of visitors. Prince Albert honoured, for a short time, this inauguration soirés with his precence.

Non-Variation of the Compass.—Recent experiments have been made of a new invention for attaining the important object of steadiness in the compass; a problem that has remained unsolved for centuries, and, it would appear, with a good prospect of snacess. Lead attraction has been hitherty a serious obstacle in the way he iron-steemers, and it is needless to remark that instances could be multimited where leases in ordinary yearsle—a. could be multiplied where lesses in ordinary vasuals—second case is that of the Premier at Quebec, are splein recent the title of the resister at quanto are spirity attributable to uncertain variation. By more accident, a wonderful discovery would seem to have been effected. Mr. Been, the projector of the "Light for all Mations," has already expended 10,000% in various experiments bearing spon that and other inventions, by chance took down with him into the air-chamber, under water, of his query with him into the air-channer, under water, or his calishon, on the Goodwin, a mariner's company and to his great surprise, found no variation in it from the true North; though when he brought it up again to the tap of the caisson, he perceived a variation of 10 or 12 degrees. Upon this discovery, he has since been instituting various experiments, and has pow taken out a patent for England, the perceived after countries. The simplicity of France, and several other countries. The simplicity of the invention consists in the effect being produced by strongly-magnetized steel-bars, tabes, or when, which draw the local attraction to one common centre received into the magnetised bars, and hung on a universal joint. These bars are upright, and are not affected by the motion of the ship, the card and needle revolving herizontally on the point of the bar. Experiments have been made at Woolwich Dockyard in a loft, and twelve feat under it. seventy feat to the south, and thirty-six feet west, there were upwards of a thousand tone of iron and steel-bare to affect it. On the floor were three iron-tanks and tenbar magnets, to put the compass to the greatest test. The first experiment was less aglisfactory than was anti-cipated, owing to the bars not being strengly magnetised : but the second one with the Covernment n edle and card. and the third, with the inventor's needle, showed the results, showing in the one case an average of four dees, and in the other sig degrees ten minutes, in favour of the superiority of Mr. Bush's invention over the common compass.

Insolvent Deblors' Court, January 30 .- In to William Gunn Mahon.—The Insolvent, lete a Lieutenant in the Rl. Marines, was opposed by his creditors; amongst others by a watchmaker, who stated that he had obtained from him a pearl suit and head-dress, which he said was for a lady of large property to whom he was going to be married. The Insolvent declared that he lost his commission, the marriage was broken off, and he was rained from his in-volvements, which arose out of bill-transactions between him and Mr. Morgan John O'Connell, M.P., and son of Mr. Daniel O'Connell. The debts in the schedule were, in the aggregate, about 60007., for which consideration had elved for about 2000/. There were about 17 for which the insolvent had become liable for Mr. M. J. O'Connell. After a lengthened examination on three different days, the learned Chief Commissioner said, a different days, the learned Chief Commissioner said, a great part of the inquiry might have been thought irrelevant, but that there was a chance of obtaining seme benefit for the creditors. He could not hat regret to ace a person of the insolvent's class in his prisent position, as he had noticed during his experience that there was nothing low, nothing mean, nothing shelly in the conduct of the Navy. The watchmilter's case being ended by the restitution of his property, he would not he detained in prison. With respect to the dealings of the insolvent with Mr. M.J.O'Connell, the learned Chief Commissioner hoped that the insolvent was mistaken in some aircumstances. that the insolvent was mistaken in some circumstant that the insolvent was mistaken in some disguestimens. The judgment of the Court was, that he was entitled to the benefit of the set and to his discharge forthwith.

Adelphi Theatrs.—A piece in three acts, called "Indith of Ganera," written by hir. Morelen, was played here for the first time on Monday sight. It is full of stirring interest, and has a well-developed plot. The whole was well received, and the cartain fell amidet load and unanimous applaces. mous applants, mous applease,

The Lyerum.—A new management, and a new company, attracted an overflowing humper to this house on Monday evening. The First Pert of "King Henry the Fourth" was that salested for the primal effort. It infrades to the primal effort. It infrades the three principal being. Mr. Harver Tackett, who undertook the weights character of Mr. Harver Tackett, who undertook the weights character of Mr. Harver Tackett, who undertook the weights character of Mr. Harver Tackett, who undertook the weights character of Mr. Harver to delinear tion of Olderfack was originally itself. Rothing like it was over seen before on the sings, but the andiance was very, very friendly, and seemed estigated. Of Mr. Medical ford's and Mr. Westwerth's performance it estimates to say not a word.

All gaussian little symmetric contined "The Miner's Dansielle is interested the anticur company will have bell's very sheet mount.

Barliamentary Analysis.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

THURSDAY, Fan. 1.—This day the Imperial Farliamant was opened by hier laiding the Queen in person. The Years and Prince Albert left the State rooms at bull-past one o'clock. As the Royal procession massed along it was greated by the growds assemblied in the Park, and by the well-driessyl persons who througed the numerous bulconies and standing places eracted in Parliament-street. The peating was magnificent, such as it ever is when Queen Victoria purposes to go absented. The interior of the Chamber of Fairs presented a brilliant appearance. The Fairstoness and ladies who lad obtained dickets were beliefed in the horse of the rainbow, and their beauty, in maky chars, anhanced by sparking jewels and nodding plumes. The corps diplomatique also mustered strong. The Graics of Wellington trais, as usual, betimes at his part, and in his Field Massehal's uppointed hour of two a thought make known the Royal coming, and, preceded by the mass official State personages, and har Household. Her Majesty entired, with Prince Albert, and took her seat on the thems, the Prince being estend an her left, and the chair on jagright, destined for the Filme of Wales, being vacualt. Her Majesty appeared in remarkably good health. After a few minutes delay, the Commons numbered the Royal summons to attend, and appeared with the Beester at their head, at the her Languary delivered the following meant practices appears to

"He Lagine and Gimbriamen,
"It affords my great splitched again to meet you is Sarliament, and to lave the open similar procedure by your soldiname and arbon."

"I entertain a conditest hope that he general peace, an accasary for the happings and products of all uniteds, will continue ustraterapted.

"My friendly relations with the King of the French, and the good understabiling happily established between my Gregoristal and that of his blajesty, with the continued essentance of the preparit and sintosite dispositions of all Frinces and Sasley.

"I there directed that the treaty which I have seneduced with the Emperor of China-shall be tald before you, and I rejudes to this that it will, in the results, grove bignly advantages in the tracted of this content." Introductor while considerations with the Growerspect of Ohna, I have uniformly disabilized the wish for any anisales a departages. It has been at Meeter that requal favour should be shown to the industry limitation of the tracted to the annexation of a considerable portion of that centry to the Fritch poseditions.

"The hostificial which took isless during the past year in ficinds have bed to the annexation of a considerable portion of that centry to the Fritch poseditions in the Rest. In all the Military operations, and saperbally in the battless of Meanes and Europeach, and the akill and gallantry of their distinguished Commander, have been most epispienoba. I have directed that solditional information, axplangtagy of the transactions in Section 11 and phale of the constitution of the same tingli with a dist mandated that solditional information, axplangtagy of the transactions in Section of the manufaction of the pastic spread of the relation of the engineers of the ways been properly after the state regard to consonry, and at the same tingli with a distribution of the pastic spread of the country. "I many substant of the financial concerns of the country, the will been an individual with the appropriate of the financial concerns of the country. The su

The stream of the same of the of county voters, and that it may be advisable on that account or county waters, and that it may be advisable on that account to sensider the state of the law with a view to an extension of the county-franching to freisand.

"I commit to your deliberate consideration the various important questions of public golder which will necessarily come under your seview, with full confidence in your layely and window, and with an effect prayed to Almighty (ind to direct and figure; your efforts to promble the welfare of all classes of my people."

and appears in property which pludges the Royal word to To that paragraph which pludges the Royal word to the Union between Great Britain and the maintenance of the Union between Great Britain and unai-Ireland, her Majnety imparted a tone of fixed and unalterable resolution, in which there was no muchke!

After the delivery of her Most Gracious Speech the Queen and Prince Libert retired from the Chamber in the same order as they had entered. As they passed through the streets and park, on their way back to Buckinghath Palace, they were saluted with the same loyal constitute as they had present as they had present the same loyal through the streets and park, an their way back to Buckinguith Palace, they were saluted with the same loyal greating as they had previously received.

Impudiately after the departure of her Majesty, their Lordships adjourned to five oldows. At five o'clock the Peers measured their sitting, and the Lord Chanceller having read her Majesty's Speach, Lord Stopen moved the hiddrens in reply to it, which was, an usual, simply an esto of the Royal words, except that at its clock he drew attention to the case of Lieut. Munice, as a subject which and not been mentioned in the against from the throne.

"Their toriships would received the draidful nonversage which took place last year, of an Ablest, high in that Majesty's review, failing by the hand of his hydrer Gilbert, who was nearly related to him. He feared there were little purpose of any measure being carried to prevent a measure flat majesty's reviewdishing by the hand of his hydrer flow the latesty's reviewdishing by the hand of his hydrer flow that the times of the reconstruct that the times was obliged by leave flow Majesty's reviewwhit was unfanting the that Holde to provent the reconstruct outed he brought light that Holde to provent the reconstruct
outed he brought light that Holde to provent the reconstruct
outed he brought light that Holde to provent the reconstruct
outed he brought light that Holde to provent the reconstruct outed he provent by the nountry, and the service would not be deprived of many conscipat Gilberry. It was having pusible to the hid made a widow. Event that for the hide would not pass any measure, the expression of their Jardships would not pass any measure, the expression of their dissection would be very thenkfully received by all classed."—Lord liteut, in a few worde accountain the advisor.—The Marquess of Nouname reviewing the taglite of the advisor, be which he had no opposilion to make, giver upiter that our the lith had no opposilion to make, giver upiter that our the lith had no hour and the relief on the land of

ROUSE OPCOMMONS.

The times of Commons, after hearing the Queen's speech djourned to a quarter before lour. At that bour the Hous

Committee of the whole House to consider the state of Ireland

Committee of the whole House to consider the state of Ireland. (Cheers.)
Ordance Office.—Mr. Divarr gave notice that, on $th Yebe, he would move an address, praying that Her Majesty would be graciously pleased to dismin Mr. Bonham from the situation, which he held in the Ordangee-office as Surekeeper. (Langhter.).
Thanks to the Army in Science.—Sis T. Franssamer gave species, that, on 12th Feb., Nr R. Peel would move that the timbes of the touse he given to Sir Charles Napier, the Orders, and mess, engaged in the late Military operations in Science.

Science —Mr. Rorsucce gave notice that, on 19th Feb., he would move for a select committee to inquire into the circumstances out of which armse the aggressive wer in Science, with a yiew to check the grasping policy which placed the Armies of Great Britain in such a position.

Enlistment of Hoys —On the motion of Mr. HALL, a return of the number of paners children employed in the Army, from the pasting the Army cross the supported in a neat and moderate speech. Mr. Canavana, seconded the motion, tonding judicionaly on the several triples mentioned in it. Mr. Isuas moved, as so affected the motion, tonding judicionaly on the several triples mentioned in it. Mr. Isuas moved, as so affected the without several content in the effect—that the digitum of the bountry was ownerthing to the effect—that the digitums of the course of the Science and Ireland and the certinates, which had for its object the withholding of their amplies until alleged givenance were redressed. Mr. Parksonstein econded this amportance. Mr. Lumb Militar and J. Respective and the course of which, and in Arica.

necessary increase in taxation was a great evil. Mr. B.Chaw. punn also moved an amendment on the paragraph selecting to the extinates, which had for its object the withhelding of the anapplies until alleged grivenece were radressel. Mr. Faminage accounted this amendment.

A lengthy debate followed, in the course of which, and it animover to the observations of Mr. Joseph iftune and Lord. John Russell, Sir Robert Peel twice stated, is his must supported tonce, that fier Majasiy's Government have sed readempleted, and tonce, that fier Majasiy's Government have sed readempleted, and tonce contemplates, any alteration in the pressed law substitute that the duties spen the emport of farting greats.

The House divide—for Mr. Grawford's amendment, 26. Mr. liquides amendment was then put—for the amendment, 26. Mr. liquides amendment was then put—for the amendment, 26. Mr. liquides amendment was then put—for the emport of an amendment apon the bringing up of the region.

Friday, Fux. S.—Mr. Charles Malesteff—in subjet to questions from Mr. S. Wertley and lard John Rissell, Lord Startzar almounter that the policy pursued in Canada Sad the entige approbation of the Government.

The Ordannese Startzarder — Sir R. Peel cliffied from Mr. Bombar of surfaceper. — Sir R. Peel cliffied from Mr. Bombar of surfaceper. — Sir R. Peel cliffied from Mr. Bombar of the Covernment.

The Ordannese Startzarder — Sir R. Peel cliffied from Mr. Bombar of surfaceper. — Sir R. Peel cliffied from Mr. Bombar of the Lowest Control of the Lowest International of the surface of position."

After a long continuance of this irregular discussion, the flows divided on Mr. Orawford's amendment—For striking out the paragraph, 3A; against it, 142;—Majorsty, 107.

The Address was agreed the:

The Address was agreed to.

The Hattle of Meaning.— By his desire "writtee the Editor of the Course Merches Menthly Megalihis." we insert the following letter from Major-Gaserille.

W. Napier, which, we much confess operational as i'we insert the following letter from Major-Gaucett.

W. Napier, which, we made confess, occasioned us considerable surprise, as charging us with an applicant wish to raise his brother's character at the existance of Lord Ellenborough. Being perfectly consideraths we never had any such intended, we referred at once to our remarks in the Number of May lest, when our conviction was strengthened by finding that his hord-ship's name is not once mentioned in the article in our Portfulio. The passage from which the inference seems to have been drawn runs that the possesses that have for the last four or five years emanated from the Government of India, and here we produce another example of unjustifiable seglect. Mostr Charles Plapier had reflected on this passage, he would have seen that our remarks embraced a period of time long antecedent to the period of Lord Ellenborough's accession to the Government. of Lord Elienburdugh's accession to the Government,— that they were of a general nature, and not meant in the least to be personal to his Lordship ; indeed, so for from having any feeling hostile to the present Governor-General, we have the many occasions stood forwird to defend his character against the numberless attacks of the Press, both in England and India.

Press, both in England and India.

"With regard to the conquest of Science, our remarks were founded on that was notorious, the assemblage of a large Army on the Sutledj. We were also awars that an Army, under Sir Charles Napier, was sent to Solidae, which, in comparises with that of the Sutledj, was looked on as small, and saurely adequate to the object in view. Sir Charles says that the force he had was sufficient and he has so far provide it, by his immediate suscess. At the same time, we cannot see that we minds any gross misculation in considering three thousand four hundred men insufficient to the task of conquering a sequity, that now requires hearly five times that number for its maintenance.

that now requires bearly five times that number for its maintenance.

"We hope that after this explanation, the gallant Governor of distance will not torment himself with the idea that we wish the same his bharacter at the expense of that of anothers. "Before that his bharacter at the expense of the first of anothers. "Before that he mederate he expense of tranquilly on his limited."

"To the Electron of the Violent derrite Medicates, with many you like, at he wand your article on the Battle of Meanner, putilists of him wand your article on the Battle of Meanner, putilists in him wand your article on the Battle of Meanner, putilists in him is neady you article on the Battle of Meanner, putilists in him him him is to be receive callet upon you to retract? your manager of the Governor General of Endia, for spring bill, and Same vinety means that he procured, to indust a first. To the governor General of Endia, for spring to freely entered in a little gave for C. Happing anyther britances, in his littlinery operations." The small manager of troops employed in the battle of Meanner, was this result of circumstances, over which Lord Gilenborrough had be sented. If it was an error to hape to fee that error was Biold Mapier's. He had sany more troops in the country.

"The canadiant his having so few in the battle, they want that error was Micho Bapier's. He had many more troops in the country.

"The canonical this having so few in the bettle, (they wanter much fewer risks the public and yourself suppose,) are too numeroes and trie intricate to explain now. When the proper time country the fall the state of the large the fall that is any view of the public at the fall to fire C. Napier, but in any view of the public of a tree is not public blame to Lovi Elunborough. The fall the risks are supported better by a Government then the Charles Napier was by Livi Ellenborough dubing the emparies in tiones. Honour bealt him for it success has:

'I ought to have sent you this letter for your Jamery Number just reaching, not necessary, here is the wind, prevented me.

'Enacing that you will published in your manual me.

'Enacing that you will published in your manual or Enact as induced, whose until the surgery, agently, and miggoenimous development. It is a success, the large of the Country of the large of sail only admit of an outrack front sile. A support letter tothe Governor-General, dated 17th July 1845.

"As me draw your Lordahip's attention to be deep the con"A. That the Ameeradid not want to have general the two were significant of victory, and had no unated the lays Polymay; and they admit narrow of Meannor-Thambly the 17th Polymay; and they admit hat they could not queen he their full force of School mer tallitha night of the 17th, of the magnific of the ista of Pohruncy.
This elect all their siphomacy of distinguishing, propositionion, and protestation, was put in rover to district Major Outran, and abigin a piedge that I should halt, 15 only for a day. I kinch have no singuistic any mining without any constitution in the give any plange without any comment.

"That this weather is a molyleting file alleger yeshibited by the Ameers to suspend my sagaril I ship the day, is sufficiently algorith therefore the draft Transy. On the contrary, to sign this heart would enable the Ameers of one to discuss and formally to pytest against any use, genry pay, of it; while, it would relieve them at uncertain the aspents of one to discuss and formally to pytest against any use, genry pay, of it; while, it would relieve them at uncertain the aspents of one to discuss and formally to pytest against any use, genry pay, of it; while, it would relieve them at uncertain the aspents of my troops. They were confident of victory and wanted to fight. There will they were confident of victory and wanted to fight. There will they were confident of victory and manted to fight in my arrived at the problem is a groat measure right.

"A Had I been planned of habit while district they thought would nate brought us into the hot assents, which they thought would another great antally relieve the assents as a sure is districted to the troops, and another great antenne right.

"A Had I been planned of the draft party fines they thought would another great antenne right.

"I had I been planned of the draft party in the serior of the a

Forrign and Coloulal Intelligence.

France.—It appears from a table published by the Speciateur officiers, that course attempt, from the year 1931 to 1961, it required My rate arrive from the rank of Sector arrive from the rank of Sector 1961, bother of Col., 35 years in the Georgiantele's 42 in the Arrive Col., 35 years in the Georgiantele's 42 in the Arrive Col., 35 and Engineers 1 46 or 12 Infantes', so III in the Arrive Arrive Marchal Drimas, prunt a Sector 1961 in the Arrive avenue.

We connect Atract what was never 1961 in the Arrive Col. 1961 in the Arrive o'clock of Friend Manning, in the 79th year of his age. He had been supplied for many years from a catarrhal affection.

He had her with the formany years from a caterrhal affection.

Russia.—The Empurer of Russia has sent to Prince Bibeses the order of St. Anna set in diamonds; and to Stir Boy, the Prince's brother and Minister of the Interior, the order of Stanishas second class. They were accompassed by a letter from Count Nesselrade, in which heavys—The Empurer hopes that this mark of his esteem, priving the sympathy with which you have luspired his Mijesty, will ancourage you to persevere firmly in that path you have the approbation and support of Russia."

(From the Nomen, Jan. 10.)—The late diameter of the Russianan the Counses have caused, as far as they are known, a great nestero. It cannot be denied that are known, a great sensation. It cannot be denied that the mountaineers display a degree of perseverance and energy against which all the Military skill and the courage of the Russian suddiers have not been able to effect any-thing decisive. These disasters have not indeed broken their courage, yet they have occasioned a certain alarm in the Army, especially on account of the cruel treatment which awaits those who fall alive into the bands of the mountaineers, especially of the Tacherachenses. The mountaineers, especially of the Tacherachenses. The prisoners are employed in the meanest service, for which among civilised dations only entile are used. To hinder them from escaping, the soles of their feet are gashed with sinizes, and chopped straw put into the wounds, which are then suffered to heal. In consequence of this operation every step gives these poor people pain, and it is quite simpossible for them to go to any great distance on feot. It may be conjectured that the Avares lately carried off by the Techerachenses have, at least in part, then treated in the same manner. With all this it is very autorising wherea the robels phish the amounting aurnrising whence the rebels obtain the ammunition becessary to continue the contest, as their own powdermills and foundries are very imperiect, and are hardly able to afford a sufficient supply. It must be presumed that they receive supplies from other countries; though the appulations of the treaty of the Durdauelles, it they were strictly observed, would make this very difficult. With respect to these circumstances, those persons are, perhaps, not much in the wrong who believe that the germs of differences between Russia and other Powers are more likely to be found in them than in the affairs of Greece, or the principalities on the Danube.

LYRICS FOR ANTI-BEPEAL CHILDREN, THE CHILD'S "GUIDE TO THE GALLOWS."—No. 1.

Child—MA, was it lanears?
Ma—Bold breignd in Engineer's spolit child, my dear,
Contanterious, way word, and wild, my dear,
And too long in the achool
(Af initialgent misrule
Now by mildness to be reconciled, my dear.

Bha's had far too much her own way, my dear, But there dawns a retributive day, my dear, In the which she will sigh For the toys she cast by In the years of political play, my dear.

Poor land! her once innocent breast, my shild.

Now with lawiess dissension's possest, my child—

By wild demons rent

On the bankshing bent

Of the Powers that watch over her rest, my child.

The three surpents are fair to the night, my child, spaint is the means in the tolls. Whi suscare in the tolls. The fair gillering colls. The way that eachs the fairs light, my child.

mile office it may yet be to see, my child,
Missethralife by the sure own's that be, my child,
Missethralife by the sure own's that be, my child,
Missethralife bend
Desire country as bleat as she's free, my child.

FOR THE " NAVAL AND MILITARY GASSTER." uid He yan Chieftein! Strike the proudest tone of thy bold harp, Green fele! the New is thing own," BALLAD B my Mo. II, op "Lessons you Repuat Critogen." insuring af 200. He or "Lussage you Repeat Cultures the will heat thou atriction that you, Green late! And well heat thou honored thing own Green late! This heat had the voice of the walling, and bruke Print the next of the manness the long him d-of yoke Willing Helbert to the hand clone, Green late! The Helbert hand the lone, Green late! And Helbert hand the heats more. Green fals! these measures the philidren's heats more. Green fals! These heating the young affairing to spure at his hanne, Wals wears for try shall the one blot on his fame.

Which show might no mortal reprove, Green late!

Ella both heart was honest and true, Orece lale! So ment of the was thy borom too, Greek lale! The hydron share cattlened thine honestr—in value; He brille, and the healtest refactor the chain. Those detailing too sidly we rue, Green lais!

range greating too saily we run, unevented to the property of the prevent and best, Green Isle? I there aims to they because Green Isle her so, the property of the property o Both, 19d January, 1844.

Literary Molices.

I. An Heraldic and Genealogical Dictionery of the Landed Genery of Greet Britain and Ireland. By John Burke, Esq., and John Bernard Burke, Esq. Part II. H. Colburn.

John Burke, Eaq., and John Bergarg Burke, Eaq. Part II. H. Colburn.

II. Heraldic Illustrations, comprising the Armorial Bearings of the Principal Families of the Empire, with Pedigraes and Annabations. By the same. B. Churton, As the universal testimony of the public press in fayour of the First Part of the Dictionary has as faily satablished the value and interest of this elaborate undersking, not merely to those individuals and families, whom it mass immediately consuran, but to all the British community, and especially to all the most important divisions of the community, we need only say of this Second Part, that it amply fulfile the promise of the First. A secondary in any similar work, except that one, by the same compilers, to which it forms so appropriate and haronetage of England. As the progress made in this Second Part indicates that about one half of the work is completed, we may infer that the whole of is will be comprised in four Parts. comprised in four Perts.

comprised in four Parts.

Of the volume of Heraldic Illustrations, we are sertials it is by far the most splendid thing of the kind that has yet been undertaken; in fact, it is the first attempt to produce a uniform collection of Heraldic Engineerings. The Plates are exquisite works of art. We extract from the "Explanatory Pedigree" the notice given of a wall-known.

Officer-Colonel Gurwood:-

Officer—Colonel Gurwood:

"John Gurwood, Zaq., Depaty-Governor of the Tower, Colonel in the Army, and Exquire to Field hierabal the Duke of Welling-ton, under whom he served during the whole of the Peninsular War and at Waterloo, bears the Ancient Arms of his ancestow, the Gorrewoda, Cogates de Post de Vaux en Brews, with an nonourable augmentation graited to him by the Bart Marshel for having led the augmentation to Hope at the assemble of Cindad Redrigo, in Spain, on the 19th of June, 1815.
"Colonel Gurwpoid was horn at Roddesdon, on Herbs, 7th April, 178s, his progenitors having, for seven generations, resided at Baraby Moor and Langton, on York. June de Gorrewod, who served with his cousin, Laurent de Gorrewod, afterwards Couste de Pont de Vaux, under the Duke of Savoy, in Sphing against the French at the great battle of St. Quentile in 1857, east wounded and conveyed to Calais, then in the possession of the English. He except from that town graviously to the autrender of it in 1858, and arrived at Eingestowne-upon-Hull, in Yorkshire, where he matried and estiled af Saraby Moor. "His son, John Gorwood, having succeeded to property at Langue, near Maiton, belonging to his mother and chiest hadden Renry from the name derived from the Chalten de Gorrewod, a quarter of a mile from Pont de Vaux, near the tiver Saone, in the country formerly valled in Brease, which, being one of the conquest of Lovig XIV, was ceded to France in 1665 by the treaty of Aix is Chapelle, "Arms.—Ax. a chev, or, and for honourable augmentation, the Shield of the Town of Cindad Rodrigo with the Sword of the

XIV. was ceded to France to 1005 by the treaty of Ais is Chapelle.
"Arma.—Az. a chev. or, and for honourable augmentation; the Shield of the Town of Cludad Rodrign with the Sword of the Governor, whom Colonel Gurwood took prisoner, being placed in pretence." Crest.—A Unicorn's head az maned and horned or, being placed for augmentation on a breached tweer, with the words over 'Follow mo.' Mutto.—Poor a jamais."

From this specimen our readers may form a just estimate of the letter-press of this superb work.

The Comic Album: 1844. A Book for avery Table. Orr and Co.

The Comic Album: 1844. A Book for avery Table.

Orr and Co.

As a drawing-room book, so far as fun, drollery, and humour are concerned, "The Comic Album" is decidedly the brightest ater of the season. Its first andegrated feature is the late "Royal Trip to France;" "Its cutton of which, the artist has contended with the ours for the palm, and, according to our laney, has borne of the palm. Several of the sketches by Alfred Crowquill) are capital, especially that of the blumm which is "to be erected mid-channel, when the find a good foundation for it." Sustained by the golumn itself is a group composed of Louis Philippe and He Majesty Queen Vistoria, locked in the embrace of friedliship. Contrasting with this smicable presentation, of the entablature of the pedestal are seen the English bull-dog and the Uslilio cock, with a bone between the seen to contest. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do on the contend. Two to one, however, may be safely be do not the contend. Two to have a safely be do not be safely be.

The "Roper of the Majer of the Majer of the saf are amaging versions under at Aution's. The illen-tichlarly apiring and indi-ted Smith's "Extraordist in the Commission of the Com-ion of the Commission of the Originating also in the fancies revery of meamerie pre-of minimum, the story of "The Airial Bargler," by the Author of the "Couple Letin and Comic English Grammatic," is one of the best prose skatches in the visions. "Fashionable Absurdities" constitute implied exposures of the absurdities of fashion, in contains, tools and found; Another capital shatch of Blanchard's, most affectively certised out, is his "Foung England." a fiost of nursery juveniles—minaged them overhead in one insuis."

"You it is Young England, to the insuis. Selectively certised out, is his "Foung England," a fiost of nursery juveniles—minaged them overhead in one insuis. As he comits take, onto, and bawis—as he issued. Selective, attribute on the fashion of the description of the individual of the table, and injuries of the individual, together, its individual, together, its individual of the table, its individual, together, its individual of the individual of the individual of the table, its individual on thinks from potential of individual to individual, together, which was a single of the individual of the proper individual of the indiv or as it asset, mer non Custonen's status, with indicinctible."

We are north the hare not room for the matter papers and, unitedlify we cannot give any fine in the matter of lithographs, of which there are, in the matters, or hundred and Mily. These, and the variously-tinted papers and the righty-ornamented straheaque blading, impart high attractions to." The Comic Album.

The Server Passian. A Novel. By the Author of "Shake-apeare and his Friends," &c. 3 vols. "The Shakespeare Novels," as they are now called, are no generally known and so justly appropriated, that, although a new work from the same author must necessarily scales interest in the reading world, we are at a loss to account for the non-adoption of a title to the present Novel which for the non-adoption of a title to the present Novel which is would at once have pleased it in the category; to which it belongs, and which had been incomplete without it. "The Searest Peneton" is, in fact, the fixed, and of course his hat of "The Shakespeare Novels." Shakespeare being historial with hone of its predocessors,—namely to farnish a living picture of "The Life and Theses" of our great Review, only in a moral vather than a filteral and mechanical action the picture. And it may be more than doubted whether the imaginary delineation of these Times which is fermined; by Mr. Folkstome Williams in these three Novels, is not, at the very lens, as there as that which can be more with and of more well and the state of the safety o would at once have placed it in the category to which it belongs, and which had been incomplete without it. "The

The truth is, that these "Malespeare Novels" are a valuable addition to that portion of our literature to which they belong, and the two preceding divisions of the design age rendered sloubly valuable by this completion of it, which devries us on to the slows of the Bard's felicitous career, (for such, with all in violationes, it must unquestionably be deemed), and shows places before us (to borrow the comprehensive words of an exteemed contemporary), "not Shakespeare the Post, but Shakespeare the man "—Shakespeare in his labit as he lived". Shakespeare the host, the youth, the son, the brother, the lover, the husband, the father, the friend—Shakespeare the actor, and the companion and friend of actors—Shakespeare the manners, the play-wright, the wit-about-town, the courinterests the pisy-wright, the wit-about-town, the nour-land of the world—and finally, Shakesperre in retirement on the banks of his dear Aton, bits (for he was but man, after all), and his illustrious gatere had occased to be a match for those 'eating cares' which agone or later will come, as if to laugh to soom which agone or later will come, as if to laugh to soom that draws of the perfectibility of man's nature, of which no trace is to be found in his works."

Without taking off the adge of the reader's pleasure by entering into any of the minute of this concluding portion of the "Shakespoard Novels," we must say of its generally, that it is fully signal in apirit, vivacity, and truth of walesting to its number neaderman. truth of palating, to its popular prednossors; that it is equally rish in incident, action, and sharacter; and that those readers who have not hitherto mat with the previous portions of the indertaking will ad well to take this opportunity of acquainting themselves will the accumulated fund of entertainment which the completed design now places before them.

Wanderings in the Highlands and Islands, with Shetolos faken sie the Scottish Burder; being a Sequel to "Wild Sports of the West." By W. H. Manwell, Esq., Author of "Stories of Waterloo," &c., Bailey & Co., Wirmour affecting minuteness of description, or the mapping out of couter these volumes are worth fifty Guide-books; of which, indeed, they may be segarded as exceedingly picturesque filastrations. They professedly originated in "Letters addressed to a Kineman, as an inducement to visit the fer North." And, says Mr. Maxwell, whose mane we always estimate as a letter of credit on a bank of exhaustless amusement and informs ation,—

"A unique disposition less the author of these fixtches fato the sense which have produced them. To trace out half-forgettes, but less selles, and view the request of a feutist-keep or Border prelicular sit among fulls where once 'tip belle were man, and the same who are not, in evening gray, throw moti or dispose as a stream which there its ruiniess most troper has grossed at midnight, the binates become in his rear arging him onward to some with factours, wherein to secure his most with factours, wherein to secure his most wind factours, wherein to secure his spail, or shelter from the vengentics against dead of violence had just provoked."

provoked."

A gentleman and a scholer, a soldler and a sporteman, Mr. Maxwell has quite the right feeling, physically as well as mentally, for a despitory tourist—always ready to make the most of any advanture that may chance to cross als path. We could not wish for a more intelligent, more Toyons, more delightful compunion, either in an actual Toyons, more delightful companion, eitherein an actual executaion or on paper. His freshuess and colloquial familiarity of style, as well as his views respecting the present state of Ireland, stay be seen by the following extract from one of his introductory Epistics to his friend and kinsman in that happy country :-

Here is a smart anecdote, in its way, of an irritable, thin-akinned Majur one whom a quack's puff would put out of temper for the day, and an advertisement of George Roblins all but drive crazy. Once upon a time, however, he was fairle taken in.

be was fairly taken in.

It awas a memorable epoch. Napoleon had been end to Eise, and the English lottery was to be drawn the following week. The Major took up the Jimes, which has perfected, and then allimmed a column over in search of a paragraph that about please him. As he always both read and thought atomit for the sufficient or a very body within ear about it was idle for any one to attempt it for hissaid while the Major honodred the measurous with his presence. On went the Commander thus...

It is generally whispered in the best-inference circles, that the Court will make a short visit to the Pavillon.'

" The trausseau presented to the Marchioness mar—

"I — n her and her transeaut!"

"Parting interview of Nannicon and Masia Louise,"

"Al some sense in this—Poor Nop.,!"

"The Bujor was what the Yankees call 'a sympathiser.!

"It was late in the evening when Caulinovier led the young Empress into the private apartment where Napolicon had secilided himself. He paced the room backwards and forwards, apparently leat in bitter musings, and for some time was quite unconscious that the object equally of his love and his ambition was beside him. Overwhelmed with grier, the Empress burst into twins as Napoleon caught her in his arms, and pressed her with arding to his heart."

that the object equally of his love and his ambinion was belief.

Impoleon caught her in his arms, and pressed her with ardinar so his heart.

"Pon fellow! Pon my life, very affecting!"

"Pressed her with ardinar to his heart!—For an investment of the deepest aging convinced Napoleon's ship, but, by a wonderful exertion, he recovered his self-possession, hut, by a wonderful exertion, he recovered his self-possession, hut, by a wonderful exertion, he recovered his self-possession, hut, his about an innated colutionance.

"Wasp not," he sald, "my beloved one. "The for their should his pale but animated colutionance.

"Wasp not," he sald, "my beloved one. "The for their should be reach of fate."

"That is pulson," observed the Major with a significant wink. "I always said he would certainly commit swiede—ay—beyond the reach of fate, For I have sectured a ticket in the Bugish lottery, which consists of one prize of thirty thous—"harmation!" exclaimed the Major, in a francy—"Humburged by a ruscally puff," and throwing the faper into the fige, he stafuped on it with the hele of his boot, until not a vestige of the Thunderer remained; and then, rushing from the room under an ipproximate burst of laughter, in which even the eventual maters are provertious burst of laughter, in which even the eventual could his spartmant, where he suscend innest it is the dismertirum had beaten—histing lettiny-office keepers in general, and ernore particularly—Blah of Cornhili."

This is very startling, though we have met with something like it before. It relates to the hasardous officing in the event his rope until he requires he wing histabil into a renew of the city, he seemed his rope until he requires he wing a histabil into a renew of the city, he seemed his rope until he requires he wing a histabil into a renew the rope he was about to assen dipped from his holes, and outlined into empty air! These was, w.a.t Mr. Paff, in the Critic, calls "a situation!" Hopelean imprisonment in the bowels of a precipite, until death from hunger moment came; the fowire aprang desperately into air; grasses the frail rope as it tremblad ere it swept from his reach for every mand he was saved!"

(To be vandiewed.)

H. B.'s .- No. 791 .- " First catch your hare" -H. B. converts her Majesty's Ministers ento a corps of cooks not, we would fain hope, from any irreverent recollection of the proverb, that "too many cooks spoil the broth," ambs; presents them as in full preparation for the due casing and roosting of some hare in posse. The absence of the principal performer is accounted for by two pictures on the wall of the Michen—an odd place for such things, but the Chef is known to be fond of placers. One of these raintings allegorically represents the hounds at so many counsellors learned in the law, pugzling on an unsuecessful scent, while the other shows the hare—and a fat old jack he is—getting away baseathes. Bir Robert Peel on the Chef, is testing with considerable guilo the sauce for the yet unprovided dish, thoughes shade of doubt is transable in his ejaculation. We have not eaught him yet." The Duke exclaims wate eno, "I am ready," whilst he is suppleyed in being she steel that is to provent the have from sguin playing his wonted gumbols, Sir James Graham as the kitchehmaid, stirs the fire while even the ugly fawhing turnspit—to which, with more of appropriateness than of flattery, the features of Lord Brougham have been given-looks up in humble supplication to be employed in any, no matter what mental, service.

"We do not rhyme for that sult elf, "Who cannot plotuse to himself," that the impracticable here is no other than Daciel O'Connell; and that point having become apparent to the intelligent reader the story is told.

No. 709 is madely another transfer to the story in th

No. 792 is merely another count of the same indictment the venue, indeed, is changed from the land to the water, and what was a hare in the last case it a fish in this. A whole boat's crew are employed in the "Angling Extraordinary"—a thing that would have elected us for their success in bygone days; though since Mr. Jesse's discovery that the piscine genus is universally deal, the presence of seven men-Members of Parliament to boot, and consequently given to talk—leaves as under no apprehen-gion that they will "frighten the fish." There is always, nowever, the chance of unskilfulness on the part of the angler; for, be it remembared, it is mot every puddlepokers who can be called a fisherman. In the sketch before us Sir Robert Peel holds the rod, but that gircumstance does not deter the Puke from giving him somecs-ceedingly sound advice. v Give him plenty of line," quoth the cautious old man; and that Sir Robert has anticipated this recommendation mobody can reasonably doubt. "But," contidues the Puke, "when you begin to wind up, do so quickly."

"The late threatened upset near Windsor," is by far the best of the scries. It is fall of keen political active, conveyed in a really pictorial form. The recent ancident to the Queen is still fresh in the public recollection, and is on this incident that H. B. has composed his shatch, is on the majority in the well-known pony phaeton, with the Robert Peel as postillien; and the latter has contrived. The recent accident Robert Prei as postillion; and the latter has soutrived—it in not for us to say how—to get off the photo-and what may be called a flouble-actioned entestrophe in the consequence. The next hind-wheel is fast against a post, on which may be seen the word "Irshand;" while the fore-wheel on the same side is upon a steel descent, marked "aliding-scale," is the bottom of which is a ditch, where, even at the bright, the ponius are already up to their house. Assuredly the situation is writted clear the post, and the facilite disposance descent becomes inavitable get the nego off the "aliding scale," and still there is the dead lock of "Ireland" In short, 'tis—

dead lock of "Ireland." In short, 'tis—

"" attl' those two internal questions,
That with our week, our simbles site,
That whit our week, our simbles site,
Steries cost and Catholics!"

The Duke of Wellington—though diagnified as us old woman—sees simply that without a Gusen there would be a want of facility in "estrying on the Gusen's Government," and he therefore bands Her Majority in to terrise from a leaving the neatificity in to do his best in artificities. firms, leaving the postilion to do his best in extricating the carriage from the two " great difficulties" that beast it will what success thus only can show.

DIEUTERANT. GEREER I SIR WILLIAM JOHRSTON, K.C.S., COLUMBI, OF THE GILD REGIMENT.

BIFUTENART. GERERAL SIR WILLIAM JUHRETON, K.C.R., COLUMNIA OF THE 68th REGIMENT.

THIS Officer, who expired on Tuesday, the 33d instabl, as such instably in the 18th Prot, and June, 1791, and from July following find Oct., 1793, he harped at Gibraiter; he then established fully toulon, and we probage at everal effects of outpeak, and at the action on the beightly effect Recent O'three was stade at the action on the beightly effect because to Gibraiter. The 7th Jun., 1794, he was applicately bleat, in the 18th Foot; he served in Corsica, and was present the expected to Gibraiter. The 7th Jun., 1794, he was applicately bleat, in the 18th Foot; he served in Corsica, and was present the expectation under the late General D. Wemyas to Tuescay, and in 1797, returned to England. In 1798, he was placed on halfpay; he served in Iraland during the rubellion with the 7co-maint copps. The 17th Fib., 1808, he was preduciant to Mallority in the 68th Foot. In Jun., 1801, he was preduciant to Mallority in the 68th Foot. In Jun., 1801, he was preduciant to Mallority in the 68th Foot. In Jun., 1801, he converted for the West Indies, and commanded the fault companies on the expedition hagainst the Danish What Endis Liannes. At the peak of 1802 he returned to England, and in 1803 was bancies on the expedition with the regiment till it was ordered home. The 80th April, 1988, he obsaided the Brevet of Liunt. Col., and 18th July, 1809, a Lieut. Coloneley in 68th Foot. He embarked has regiment at the steps of Fusiching. He acreed in Spiln and Portograf, from June, 1811, to March, 1818, and was present with his regiment in all the principal utfairs of those years, including the hatles of Salamantes, Viltoria, and Others, for which he had the principal utfairs of those years, including the hatles of Salamantes, Viltoria, and Others, and was present with his regiment in all the principal utfairs of those years, including the battles of Salamantes, Viltoria, and Others, for which he had the proposited to the Chioneley of the 36th Regiment

A project has been brought forward for cutting a," cannot of the Pyreners " to connect the Maddistrations with the Atlantic, and avoid the circultous route by the coast of Attentio, and avoid the circuitous regits by the coche of Spain. The plan, as it at present stabile, was first entured by M. Galabert, Member of the Eventh Chember of the Internal Legislature, frauted to a company that was to carry it into executions, the property in perpetuity in the band, with several other advantages, but required a deposit of 3.000,000r, until the cot was gasted.

psychicy in the moods, with average dear advancesses, and required a deposit of S.000,000, until the act was passed.

DAVISE IMPROVED FLEXIBLE CONCATE HURSE BRUSH;—An interest New Inventions—1. Davis, Spower Mergania and Brash Manufacture to Her Blacky; "Jobes Alterit, and item by shiftle St. Family, 33, strand, ancien it, horsent-it. Waterhoof, zhoops from Jermyn, st., hega tradeguitat the Nobility and Gentry it has interested in making grad index regardless, Spower Brushes, The pseuliar merits of buyls a singley of School Brushes in some argumentation of the strands are combined by its fallagit stell for every Blacks dust in the horse, therefore prevent troublesume irribution. This movel Brush, bring constructed on scientific principles, gathe movel Brush, bring constructed on scientific principles, gathe movel Brush, bring constructed on scientific principles, gathe apprendent all other inventions, inflamment as the action of the movel Brush, bring broom trial on the narrace of the south of the movel Brush, bring broom trial on the narrace of the south of the movel Brush, buyle in the ring bloom trial on those of all demandings, and the movie, all projections of the authorist, will be sufficiently sidested, it having bloom trial on the souther, buyle and bring the format by springs and terrico, Brushes, and the movies and beautiful sidested, it having him trial to format by springs and terrico, Brushes, and the movies of the south of the substance of the south of the south to the breath, and canon to the game. Also inventor of a new and improved Nell-bruth, made of indeached Russia bristies, which do not soften by constant use. Improved Velvet viotaes and list-brushes, in great thricty of patterne, at the Whelesale Prions. The Robat Tollet and Russery Springes, at haif the Perfement prices. A. D. being an automotic importer of Russian and Bristies, chimber him to offer the above articles at 46 percent. Under Any House him to offer the above articles at 46 percent. Under Any House him to offer the prices by a post-paid application,—at, Rivand. Observe, no observes by a post-paid application,—bit strand. Observe his An., A. Davis's House has two windows, 28, Burand. Observe the Ma., 25, Strand; and 28 po, Regent.at., Waterioù-place, Iwo doors from Jermyn-atmed.

ENGLISH FUNDS.

Bank Stock, 128
3 per Ct. Red. Anne; 34 4 75 8
3 per Ct. Cons. Anne; 37 6 7 8
36 per Ct. Anne, 1888, 1886
46 per Ct. Anne, 1886 18 8
56 per Ct. Anne, 1888 18 8
56 per Ct. Anne, 1888 18 8
56 per Ct. Anne, 1888 1888 1888

g Anisa., Etji Jan. 8, 1000, 12 14-15 13 18-19 ting Anna, 60 Years, Exp. San. 5, 1880, 124 9-16

Traffic Stock, 476 Cousols for Asc., 971 8 74 Canada Guntanteed Dibt anda 1194 Exch 1794 Exchequer Bills, 1,0002., 13d., 07 9, 14d., 07 9 pm. Ditto, 5004., 13d., 69; 14d., 69 pm. Ditto Small, 13d., 69 7; 14d.,

POREIGN FUNDS.

Bratilian, 224 B Ditto Naw, 78 Basuos Aires Asc., 244 4 Chilian Defetrad, 58 Commbian an Venezuela, 128

Spiniah s per Cont. Acc., $25 823 Ditto Passive, 57 & Ditto Deferred, 123 & 13 Ditto S per Cont. Acc., 324 13 Ditto a per Cont., 382 pg. Yanesquela a per Cent., 382 pg. Franch Rentes, a per Cent., 12ef. 78c. Suchange 55f. 80c., Dutch 26 per Cent., 542 Ditto 2 per Cent., 1014

Commbian an Venezuela, 125
Marican, 1837, 385
Marican, 1837, 385
Mitto Deferred, 185
Perustan Anth, 385
Perustan Anth, 385
Bitto Deserved, 185
Bitto Converted, 185
Bitto Convert

MARRIAGES.

In London, Francis William Rayre, Seq., of the Additoffice, Sumered Boune, to Remerca Livera, daughter of Sambel Office, Esq., R.N., of Subsex lettace, Old Broupton, Middlesex.—Jan. 22th, the Rev. John Griptipa, Cheplain on the Bounbay Stablishment, to Prantes, Guith daughter of Captain Mortlock (inte lapiain of the H. E. I.C. & Naval Sprice.—Jan. 22d, at Evete, Haway Mayne, Seq., 49th Regt., to Reserva Jane, without of Samena Yale, Seq.—Jan. 17, at Stuke, Mr. Charles K. P. Hall, of H.M. & Albon, to Basan Blanty daughter of the Inte Mr. John Pagna, of Devonport.—Jan. 18, at Kingston, Middlesex, Coloniel H. P. Davison, in Swarland Park, Northumberland, to the Ifun. Candinam, swoond daughter of the late, and alter of the present Lord Graves.—Jan. 18, at Kingston, Mr. J. W. Mandder, Penney, R.N., to Jane, staghter of Mr. G. Geary, in Hom. Sif S. Buynes, son of Luri Bundbuyas, to Usanta Elizabeth, Gasph, Petteronib.—Veb. 1, at Titalinis, Hamp, the Hom. Sif S. Buynes, son of Luri Bundbuyas, to Usanta Elizabeth, Gasph, the Rev. Str John Page, Bart., of Mystole Park, Kent.

DEATHS.

Jan. 17, at Bulfatt, the Ron. Makes Anaput Scott, Raughter of the late and distort of the present Lord Polwarth, and who of Capt. G. C. D. Lewis, M. Engineers.—Jan. 25, at rus 68, Great Spriland-Spreet, Capt. G. R. Annaan, at the advanced ago of Frontand-Errer, Unpt. 4: R. Airan, at the avances ago of F. years, "They opened with the Schiur Communier in the H.E.I.C.'s intermediate Service.—Jan. 29, at Eginus, Chot. R. Bronan, Jair Edit Ray, aged 50.—On his passage to England, on board the Sity Flux Lan, or yellow fever, four days alter leaving 5t. Binshipt, Signatio Nandon Budg, R.N., Midshipsian of h.M.'s brigainties Shifts, sun of Capt. H. H. Buds, B.N., of Yestarbasium Mastert, Wets.

Richer Beitliery Chillery, -Licut.-Genn.-dir II, Intitio, R.C.S., G.C.M.W. Col. of Sit F., London, 19th Jan., 19th Str. Wm. Johnston, E.C.H., Co. of Sith F., London, 19th Jan., 19th Str. Wm. Johnston, E.C.H., Co. of Sith F., Southampton, Sac. Soc., Cuninghister, E.I. Competerer, Edinburgh, 19th April, 19th May., 19th Str., London, 19th Jan., 19th Jan., 19th J. C., Serv., Dublin, 2nd Jan., 19th F., J. Johnston, E.B., do., 5th Jan., 19th Col., Ch., Miller, C.R., Uller, C.C., Serv., Dublin, 2nd Jan., 19th F., J. Johnston, E.B., do., 5th Jan., 19th Col., Ch., Miller, C.R., Uller, C.C., Ch., Uller, C.C., Serv., Dublin, 2nd Jan., 19th J. C., Serv., Dublin, 2nd Jan., 19th J. C., Serv., Dublin, 2nd Jan., 19th J. C., Serv., Phys. Rev., Drink water Shint, Str. Dec., 19th J. Miller, Chiller, J. Miller, Landon, 19th J. C., Serv., 19th J. C., Serv., Haller, J. Miller, L. Miller, Miller, Miller, Miller, J. Miller, Mil su, do., 30th Ang. Ru., Wyod, b. 20th Sopt. 1213; Sauth, Se W. L. 20th Sopt. 1213; Sauth, Se W. L. 20th Sopt. 1213; Sauth, Se W. L. 20th Sopt. 1214; Sauth, Se W. L. 20th Sopt. 1214; Sauth Se W. L. 20th Sopt. 1214; Sauth Sopt. 1214; Sauth Sopt. 1214; Sauth Sopt. 1214; Kang. dh. 20th. 1214; Sauth Sopt. 1214; Lamboth, 1214; Sauth Sopt. 1214; Lamboth, 1214; Sauth Sopt. 20th S price of the price

POYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST TO THOSE COMPANY, & GENERAL LIPE ASSURANCE SOCIETY, "Office, 19, Waterloo-piere, London. Paradinate, in the Most Gramons Majorty the qualities. Associations are friends upon the Lives of Particular in every stations of 19to, and for drivey part of the world, hyper particularly favourishle beings."

Particular stational forbidding their Policies.

Board Ships every Thursday at One of Clock, and every mobility assured for allesting Assurances on other days.

JOSEPS Q. BRETTELL, Sunjointy. THE MARINERS & GENERAL LIFE ABBURANCE COMPANY, EXPRESSLY RETABLISHED FOR INSTRANCES ON THE LIVES OF MARINELS.
(Whether Stein of the Agral or Managerile May),
MILITARY MER AND GENERAL ABBURERS, It is to be noted that the Policies of the Collegent will corpe toyages of every description and service in every first the Globe. Globe.
The Lives of Frehermen and Boatthee also Industria.
High Rasts of Pressium have hitherto operated signifies, thind of Americane, but as the Rasts now adopted will be found low as are consequint with the risks, it is believed that this accepted with other diventages, will indust a great morest transmiss. UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOgenreis. Deferred Annuillies granted to Mariners upon visy moderali remitains. GIRTY, KING WILLIAM BYARRY, LONDON.

Bir Henry Willesis, E.L.B., Chairman.

John Stewart, Ray, M.P., Depoly Chefricain.

Major General Sir Ref. Arm. William Kilburn, Eng.

John Regebaw, Ring.

Augustus Spangarist, Eng.
Charine Delaweding France, Say.
Charine Delaweding France, Say.
Charine Delaweding France, Say.
Charine Delaweding France, Say.
Francis Bunnetts, Rig.
Francis Bunnetts, Rig.
Charite Ctway Mayun, Reg.
Charte Ctway Mayun, Reg.
Charte Ctway Mayun, Reg.
Charter Ctway May premiume.
The Frontuma his Galligial Akturances are heard upon a librad sate Table of Moriality.
Ten per cent, of the Frontis to be applied in making provisio for Destitute and Disabled Mariners. or Destitute and Disnilled Mariners. Wes. M Wran & Manuager. Arthur Birest, East, Loudon Bridge. Sishain a kratter Live Leithe Original Januar From Premium. Assumble in Premium. Gadwood 7 Policy. Bishopkinson, Esq. | Est Thos. Phillips | Altrew | All P. D. L. |
Bishopsis. | Bishopsis. | Bishopsis. | Bishopsis. |
Benjamin Phillips, Bish. | P. R. S. | 17; Wimpels Street. |
Benjamin Phillips, Bish. | P. R. S. | 17; Wimpels Street. |
Benjamin Phillips, Bish. | P. R. S. | 17; Wimpels Street. |
Benjamin Phillips, Bish. | Bishopsis. | Bishopsis. |
C. Richardson, Esq. | P. S. A. | 37, Uppel Browthor Street. |
Robert Bentley Todd, M. D. | P. R. S. | 36; Parliament Street. |
Althrewish. |
Althrewish. |
Althrewish. |
Baseline | Bishopsis. |
Bishopsis. #1,000 1,000 1,000 # 19 6 8 #4 9 4 #1 10 0 ## 18 0 60 11 # Ob ar better IN COMMER OF THE BUSINESS. DAVID JUNEAU AND DRITANNIA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPARTY, No. 1, Printers direct Such Acquisite to Revision of Parliament, 4 Vis., ing. 5.

William Baregott, Esq.
Samuel Borlogton, Esq.
William Ferbury Black, Suq.
John Brightman, Esq.
George Cohms, Seq.
George Cohms, Seq.
Henry Lewis Emill, Suq.
Thomas Tabl., Seq.
Thomas Tabl., Seq. ADDITUM.

BANKERS—Messer. C. Hughinger & Co., Report & B.

BOLICITUM.

Messer. Richardson & Smith, 28, Gomen Square. Empirished by Special and of Parliament, & Val., ints. d.

William Bardgett, Esq.
Ramuel Berlogton, Esq.
William Pachacy Black, Esq.
John Brightman, Esq.
Henry Cohin, Blat.
Millian Covening, Bay.
John Brightman, Esq.
Henry Lawin Rand.
Manica Coppusa.
John Brightman, Esq.
Manica Coppusa.
John Chamilanty, M.D., P.R.S., Bay.
John Brightman, Esq.
Manica Coppusa.
John Chamilanty, N.D., P.R.S., Its, Wimboth Int. Mr. Serpani Burphy, M.P., Rad, its, Wimboth Int. Mr. Serpani Burphy, M.P., Templa.

Scalifors—William Sevan, Esq. Uld Javey.

Raskus,—Bessel. Brissel Burphy, M.P., Templa.

Scalifors—William Sevan, Esq. Uld Javey.

Raskus,—Bessel Burban Bevin, Esq. Uld Javey.

Manicus,—Nessel Burban Bevin, Esq. Uld Javey, Makus,—Bessel Burban Bevin, Esq. Uld Javey,
Makus,—Bessel Burban Bevin, Esq. Uld Javey,
The limitation is depostered by a specific Act of Facilianisht, and is no constitutes at to affect by a specific Act of Facilianisht,
and is no constitutes at to affect by a specific Act of Facilianisht, ye is extrantiony, and appoli, layer been proved, incentive tack
Apparances may other be efficied by Parties on their own Lives, of by Farties interested affering an the Lives of others.

Apparances may other be efficied by Parties on their.

The effort of an Ammunite sale present on the first own
Lives, of by Farties interested affering an the Lives of others.

Apparances may other be efficied on the Entennia to confidence with the case of a present the reThe effort of an Ammunite sale present on the Britannia Life Anadiance Company, can be specific and to the Britannia Life Anadiance Company, can beighte at once present of the gradiance of the life—a condition, which can't pure qualitary. Thes, judged, as one person by the paying the specific paying and present the present and properly and present and pres DEPARTMENT. RICHARDON & South, 29, Gomes Square.

DEPARTMENT OF MEDICAL STANDSC.

William Fart, 200, Genneal Raghiny Office.

Acruary P. B. P. Nelstin, 200,

Tables by which it can assure unaburd lives on Equitable Terms. table Terms.

The EXTRA PREMIUM DISCONTINUED on systemation of the Assured to Permanent Itealth.

A portion of the EXTRA PREMIUM may redshin as a DEST ON THE POLICY.

SURVIVARHIP ABSURANCES where the Life in expectation estates from Discase, effected at CHERPER BATES them at any other Office.

Similar Tables enable the Speciety to great INCREASED AN.

NUITIES ON UNBOUND LIVES—the amount varying with the marifectin Discase. particular Disease.

Members of CONSUMPTIVE FAMILIES ASSURED at EQUI-TABLE SAFES. HEALTHY LIVES are ABSURED ON LOWER TERMS that thost other DM-44 HEALTHY LIVES AND ABSURED ON LOWER TERMS their at those today office.

FOLICIES of Twelve Months' STANDING ARE NOT AP. FECTED BY SUICIDE, DUBLISHO, Sec.; and Assigned Folicies are valid from the data of the Policy, about the state about from any of these causes: TNITED KINGDOM LIFE ASSUR ANCE CUMPANY, e, Weterloopiere, Felt Muli, Loui Division of Propries Among the Assumed Library Prepries and Malaita Land Table Destroys Earlie Courtown A Board of Directors in attendancedally at Two o'Clock.
A liberal Commission allowed in Millestors and Agents. Earl Leven and Melville Earl of Norbury Earl of Stair Lord Elikatione Lord Elikaten and Ste USTRALASIAN, COLONIAL, AND BENERAL LIFE ASSURANCE & ANNUITY COMPANY. Diai toks. Dringtonia.

Jianah Binari, Raq., Chipirmah.

Mantania De Charito, Raq., Dapaty Chairman.

Martin Martina.

Charille (Iraham, Raq.

Charille Mattiand, Esq.

Oyd. Raq., Rasilena.

E Boyd, Zaq., Amist.

R.

R.

R.

R.

Millian Railtonia. Raq.

John Bitchia. Raq.

F. H. Shotheton, Esq.

F. H. Shotheto, Raq. Samuel Anderson, Esq. Hamilton Blair Averse, Esq. Edward Boyd, Esq., Rivillent L. Lenson Boyd, Esq., Amist L. Lenson Boyd, Esq., Amist Downer, E.Q.

Geor myn.py...Partick Hadistyre, Rea.

Downency, established by Act of Parliament, affords the ricol security in an ellipsic pall-up. Captini, and in the second which has although it had in the minustrement is 1884. the Company declared we edition to infilliation leader of one-half of their stock, and they folded at, per limit, per manu, from the date of the publish, being parties who had increase with Profits. The Principals, histography meet, he paid for the most newfrite stock, histography meet, he paid for the first two years, while the laboration is not true years, while the laboration is profitted in the communication of the first of the follows.

The Americal Trace to Manage

Seem added to Policy,
Economic State 125, ed.

Seem and added to Policy,
Seem and Seem Seem

98, King William-street, Charlog-Gross.

ORIGINAL DEPOT FOR RAVAL & MILITARY RQUIPMENTS.

A MUEL: LEVY, late of Hemming b-row, being now to inform his Mayal and Milliary Friends, that he has removed to increase packets and eigenst Premises, where they will find a minute attainable Rappity of every article sold by him, at even lower prices than formerly. He begs to assure his Friends generally, last the same plunctuality and attention to their repeated by the first and attention to their mark his fargin dealings with their.

Portable Backstands, Bolis, Camberdia, and Camp Furniture of every deadription and beat manufacture, at furty per cent, under the charges of any histon in the trade.

Fortable Charles house in the trade. 28, King William-street, Chating-cross. ry description and best manufactive, at furty per centhrages of any bities in the trade.
Portable Chast. Drawers
Portable Camp Tent. Bedatond, Hedding committee a Solid Lealber Portmantenu
Towns made Requisition Award
Infantry Sach, all fills Captains' Spaulettes, best quality, per pair
Waist Salte
Bhostier Ditto
6. L. has no unpression with any other house in to s. I. has no unnexion with any other house in town, TODGSON'S POTTED WELCH SAL-LA MON.—The most delicate and delightful preparation, for sergaping any articles of the kind over yet introduced to the public for sandwicket, toust, &c., is now will bundedene resom-monded to epicures, travellers, and invalida, as a great asquifi-tion to the breaking, inschinging or support table. Find its pairs at its, ad., and 2s. 6d., wholesels and retail, at 2. Hodgete's British wine warehouse, 37; Urion Januar bust, bush, consequently she for retail by all respectable offices, granters, druggates, and fast-mongree, to town or manufactor. Superior littles wines, 16a. per dozen, warehold four years oft. DANKLIBANON IRON WORKS, and MAKER STREET, TO STREET, AND STREET, COLORER, LONDON, "Gentlemen about to turning, or butiling abrind, are respectfully invited to the above establishment, where they will find the largest assurement of CREEK, AL PURNISHING PARTY, and Iron Cooking Heaville, Sainstelling of Till, Oppper, and Iron Cooking Heaville, Desire Exercy, west shoulded Plate, Riverman diver wares, Papier Rivery, itset shoulded Plate, Riverman diver wares, Papier Rivery, itset shoulded Plate, Riverman diver wares, Papier Aliands, Showler, Med. Colle, vipular, Planging, Acc, together with Drimmonulal trois and Wire Walk, the Conservatories, Lawin, Acc, and Carden Engines. All articles are selected of the Very best description, and offered at exceedingly jow prious for cash only the piles of each utilish being marked in plain figures, affording advantages which are rearly offered. Now that the season of annula feativity is about to terminate, and the respective boarding-achnola be re-instated by the huny throng of yearing against, the personal common and artractions of whom become partirally an object with friends and relatives of great solicitaits. Summand's Macassa 136, for some leveling the growth and for preserving and dentitying the factor, for preserving the skut and complexent, and relatively begins for preserving the skut and complexent, and relativity of the latter beats, in preserving the skut and complexent, no instanting the Twell, and preserving the skut and complexent, to instantifying the Twell, and preserving the skut and committee of the decorative repository. The angust participage conceded by all the servicings of England to these dreative encounting specifica, and conditionation, by experience, of their intentitie efficiency, in we characterised them with perfection, and given thism a colourity uniqualities. TLOSE OF HOLIDAYS.unpapersum, the UTION,—Brigatous Instations are frequently offered for sale, as the real articles. It is, therefore, imperating on purblue-ors to see that the word "BOWLAND's" is on till Wrapper of-sach. For the protection of the Public from festil and imposation, the Houserable Commissioners of her Angelog Stages have authorised the Propersure's Symmuse to be ungraved on the vernment Avenu. that *** All others are PRAUDULERT COUNTERPEITS ! LI

A: BOWLAND AND HON, BO, HATTON OARDEN, which is affixed to the KALYDOR and ODONTO. Hold by them soft by Chemists and Perfamers.

PASE AND COMFORT IN SHAVING. ASE AND COMPORT IN SHAVING.

Le Mears, B., and B., GOWYAN'S invaluable CANTON STROPS or QUADRILATERAL GHTMESE RACIR SHARPRIBE, rensher the operation of Shaving no longer painful to the most tander skin. By a very shaple process the heavest edge may operatily be given to the Suntant razer or peakentle. B. and S.
Cogyan's presidently tempered rasors and Shaving powder.
Specimens of the Shape are now exhibiting at the Boyal Polytechnic heightelon shad Boyal Adolated teniors, Lowther Areade, from whende the most interior certificates have been earthy this same to sken at the laventure', B. and S. CUWVAN, 164, Penchurch-Strop fracts the surge, So, may be obtained, as well as of all respectable Pertunera, So, in the United Eingelon, price as, 68, 72, 68, and 52, 63. Also may be had, Cosyvan's Canton Easter Strop Fracts, at 1s. per Parteri, Shaving Powder, 1s. 6d. per loca. Chiefen.—None are genulae except those marked and spall "B. and S. GHWVAN."

TO GENTLEMEN, SPORTSMEN, TO GENTLEMEN, SPORTSMEN,

MERCHANTS, and ITTIREN, --Constantly on Sale, in perioctorice, Gund, Riples, and Pistolis, by all the first-rate Makers, Warsamed, -- Old times, Stc., taken in szchange.

M. WHISTLER'N, Gun, Side, and Pistol Repository, 11; Strand, opposite to Gibbert Unios Stotel.

Money advanced to any amount upon every description of Valuable Property.

M. B. -- Observe' -- From the inte Charles Valuables.

1) ASS'S EAST INDIA PAIR ALE.—
This particular kind of Ale is prescribed to invalida by the most calebrated Physicians. By. Prout, who has examined it, in his Work on "Discusses of the Riomach," as, after bringaming someons Alea, especially freedomental this to weakly permone. In execution, the mosts made footner, of any age, at their appointed Agents', Haway Beakey and Co., 5, St. Sames's states.

Preparing for Publication, in 2 vols. evo., with Maps and

VOYAGES AND BERVICES OF NEME

From the Notes of Her late Commander, W. H. Hale, K.N., And from Personal Observations made in Chica and other Parts, By W. D. Bernann, Esq., A.M., &c.
This work, besides containing an accurate description of the numerous interesting localities visited by the Namesta, (the first iron-armed straner that crossed the Line, during the period above-mentioned, will comprise a Compagna Hiagony of the

ORIGIN, PROGRESS, AND TREMINATION OF THE LATE EVENTS IN CHINA.

Detailing all the Operations of the War, with Remarks upon the Character of the People, and the Prospects of our future in tercourse with them.

A PULL ACCOUNT OF THE COLONY OF HONG KONG, &c.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 12, Great Marlborough Street.

The PRESULT NUMBER OF COLEDAN'S UNITED SERVICE MAGAZINE,

UNITED SERVICE MAGAZINE,
AND NAVAL AND MILITARY JOURNAL,
Contains the following Interesting Papers — A. Gisaids upon Spain, with a Recollection of the Siege of Cadlz, (Blustrated).—
An Excursion to Zahwan, Tunis.—A Gisards at Indias Affairs, Reirospective and Frisspective.—A Fortaight's Furlough.—
Rerrors and Faults in oar Military System. By Coloned Friespace.
Three Weeks' Craise in the Guiff of Mexico.—Narrative of the Niger Expedition.—Historical Eketeh of Military Fanishments.
By Dr. Maraball, (Filhatrated).—The United Revises.—Five Days 'ketreat of the Turkish'Army.—The Battle of Waterloo, the Duke, and Lord Hill.—Penjanula Medal.—Military Reformation.
—The Queen's Rew Naval Regulations.—Anecdotes of Lord Esmonth.—Military Operations in India.—Letter of Maj. Gen. W; Napier.—Naval Arabitecture, the Ellow-Jointed Pail Parenase.
—Distributions of the Army and Navy.—Promotions and Appointments, with all the Professionel News of the Month, &c.

11enry Colbura, Publisher, 15, Great Majrhorough Breet.

DAYNE'S UNIVERSUM; or, Pictorial world, with four jhighly fluished engravings from take

We predict a brilliant career for this beautiful and interest

HER MAJESTY'S DOCKYARDS.

SIR w. BURNETT'S PATENT Aving undergone nine yaker' trial in ALL CLIMATES, is now in daily extensive operation in the above national establishmente, as well as by many public companies and private individuals. This PROCESS preserves TUMER from DET-KOT, and, when desired, freeders it unfailmentable. It is chosen innoxious, and gasy of applications. It may be used in ordinary wonden tanks, and does not, therefore, require hydraulio magnitudes, and the same of the present wond in a very front time, and while, accept for the sake of expectition. It essents the greenst wond in a very front time, and while, a CORDAGE. COTTON, and WOOLLEN, at not only preserved from ROT, MILDEW, and the ATTACKS of MUTHS, but are unchanged in colour, and rendered ever attronger than before.

Numerous specimens and testimonials may be seen, and every infilmention upon its objects and application will be given, at the Company's Offices, No. så, KING WILLIAM EFREET, LONDON ERIDUES.

the Company's Offic LONDON BRIDGE.

METCALFES NEW PATTERN TOOTH METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH LABOR BRUSH and SMYRNA SFORGES.—This Tooth-Brush has the important advantage of searching thoroughly into the divisions of the tech, and cleaning them in the most effecting and extraordinary mannage, and is famous for the hatre not coming loose, is. An improved Clothes-brush, that cleans in a child part of the usual time, and incemble of injuring the figure may, Penetrating Hair-brushes, with the durable unbleshed fine printers of improved graduated and powerful Richina. Valvethrushes, which act in the most surprising and accompliants manner. The genuine SMYRNA SPINDER, with the preserved valuable properties of absorption, vitality, and durability, by means of direct importations, dispensing with all intermediate parties fronts, and destructive bleaching, and securing the lexury of a genuine SMYRNA SPINDER, with the preserved valuable properties of absorption, vitality, and destructive bleaching, and securing the lexury of a genuine SMYRNA SPINDER, with the properties of absorption of the words, "trom Metcaire's," adopted by some houses."

J. AND D. NICOLL, 114, REGENT. TO STREET, LONDON, submit a List of their Friesa, and respectfully beg that OFFICERS WILL, CONTRAST IF WITH PREVIOUS CHARGES FOR THEIR UNIFORMS, and as regards the excellence of material, the skill, and rich lace used, they will bear comparison with any; and in many points, as silk linings, fineness of cioth, superior workmanship, &c., will excel-

•			8.
Bupotfine	Regulation	Infantry Ceatres (richly laced) 6	13	6
Do.	Do.	Intentry Trousers	14	۵
No.	Ho,	Blue Undress Frack 3	ik	Ă
110.	i 100.	Scarlet Shell Jacket 3		Ă.
Do.	Do.	Do. Cachmere for India s	Ä	ĭ
110.	Military D	rill Trousers (by the dozen) a	15	6

ENTIMATES PREPARED for every Regiment in Her Majesty

Service.

Equalcites Swords, Silk Sashes, Beits, Sword Knots, Chakos, he is only of the first criter, and at prioce as moderate in proportion to the above, for which, on application, a prime estimate will be admitted comprising every necessary. All the sew improvement in Camp Funiture archept at their extensive preminant ready for inspection; Allitury Bedsteads, Chairs, Barrack Drawers, Cantegns, Valleys, Sc., complete.

CADERS for INDIA have now the opportunity of being fully equipped with only size best materials (H. J. & D. N. have no other choice), and at the moderate prices which THEIRBYSTEM FOR CASH PAYMENTS induce.

H. J. & D. Nicoti, 114, Regent Street, London.

BETTS'S PATENT BRANDY. Just published, the HINTERNTH EDITION, pricess., and sent Distributed, 7, SMITHPHELD BARS.

Notwithstanding the publicity for many means past given to the apperiority of HETT'S PATENT PRESON DISTILLED HEADNLY over every other Spirit, British or Foreign, it is get but partially known: J.T. Berra & Co. therefore feel its duty her, owe to the Pablic and themselves, bi lavike a companion between the Patent and the French Brandy, until every mainly in the hingdom, in which Brandy is communed, have made tried of their Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of their Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, which consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, and the consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy, and the consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy and the Consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy and the Consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy and the United Brandy and the Consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy and the United Brandy and the Consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy and the Consequently discontinued the use of the Patent Brandy and the Consequently discontinued the Consequently di Entructe from Testimanials.

From Franks from Testimaniate.

"I do not healtabe to suppose my conviction that your Patent Brandy s fully as from from sweething injurious to health, and contains as pers a spirit, as the best varieties of Pareling Brandy.

"Professor of Chamistry in the University of London." Tohr. T. Betts, Reg."

"I am bound to may, and do assert with confidence, that for purity o spirit, this region be surpassed, and ther your Patent Brandy is also quite feet from those acide which though minute in quantity, always against subsub the Foreign Spirit.

"J. T. Bofts, Reg."

"Your Brandy is a free from uncombined acid and astriogent matter, which estates since or less, in most of the Brandics imported from Franks.

ported from France, water or late, in most of the Reading im-"To Mr. Betts."

"Lecturer on Clientistry."

It is this perfect readers from the shore objectionable guilla-ties, and its agreemble similarity in flavour to the Short samples of togono Brancy, that constitute the pactiles Julius of the Parast Baanes.

Parant Beause.

J. T. listra & Ch. saw, at length, bushled to give a distinct assurance that are suggested will be completed in the contact of the present mouth, while will afford an numbiling prolection to purchasers against the continuance of those frauds, from which they have hitherto so extrastively suffered, as acti bottle will be secured by a Registra Muraline Careston, we corresting for the out, of soils within, will their name, address, and the words "Berra's Registra Heavier" emboused upon it; the foregry of which subjects the guilty party to a Penalty of Fifty Pounds for way? adjusts.

This valuable lightly is manufactured only, at the Bestliery, No. 7, Smithfield Bars, leading to St. John Street, where the may he obtained either pale or coloured, in quantities not lead than Two Gallons skillings as Shillings per Gallon, for Cash on dolivery.

SILVER SUPERSEDED, and those corre-

SILVER SUPERSEDED, and those corroples and injectous Series, calted Nickel and German Silver, supplanted by the introduction of a new and perfectly sustained
ALBATA PLATE.

C. WATEON, 41 and 48. Bathican, and 18. Northe Polgate, aided by a person of Ricerce in the analguantion of Metals, has succeeded in the injects in the analguantion of Metals, has succeeded in the injects in the analguantion of Metals, has succeeded in the injects in the analguantion of Miver in appearance, which all its derivative and therefore with the parties of weetness in size-maderpoing, as it there, with the parties of weetness in size-maderpoing, as it there, a Chebnical process by which all that it makes use in mixed Metals in entirely efferencedresisting fill solds, may be cleaned as fitters; and inflamous purelitio overy Article for the Table and Sigleboa A.

Threadel. King's s. 35 Table Spoons and Forks name spross An Desert Spooss Tes Spooss Sait Ditto Fish Knives Sauge Ladies Gravy Spoose

O. WATSON begs the Public will understand that this metal is paculiarly his own, and that silver is not more different from gold than his motal is from all others; and ou its intrinsic merit alone in which it to be tested. C. Watson's handsomely limstrated Catalogue and Price Current is published, and families who regard economy and elegance should possess them will the meetal book, which may be had gratte and post free from the above address.

this useful book, which may be had grafts and post free from the above address.

THREE PAPIER MACHE TEA TRAXF 356, as set of three Gothle-shape slife (including the largest size with 35a.; three Gothle-shape slife (including the largest size with 35a.; three Gothle-shape slife).

Is, ; and every article in furnishing slardware unassabily low, TABLE KNIVES, ivery handles, entrantel, its. per dozeny Teasterts, 9a.; Carvers, 4s. per pair; a most extensive stock en select from, with balance handles, 5a.; 6a.; and, 7a. the song set of fitty pieces; white bone and uties handles, 3a. in 13s. the 3s pieces; stag-handled carvers, 2s. 4d, per pair. The establishments of C. Warson have ranked pre-generate for 30 years for their appeared Table Cuttery, the whole of which is marged with bis sating and address, and ablest to exchange if $00 approximate.

ble sume and address, and apagers to accoming a most ap-proved of.

"SOLAR AND CANDUR LAMPS,—A Scale Lamp to burn com-mon all without mocks or ameli, risk filely in Prince's Parent Candle Lamp, to give the legic of two noishis appeller, with grass study, in., Most-water Dishes. for Verilines, Seef-stock, of the ex-—a set of six Landon-made Patent Mich. Sovers, 1m. od., The Iron, m. of., and every article in faricaliting that ware., Soul for his Cattlegue, which may be had Graftly and Postage free.

PRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF "COPARS.— The efficacy of this invitable Medicine is attested by Teekmonthi.—From Lobings History Grann, Eq. F.R.S., one of the Connell of the Royal Sollyc of Surgeman; Sergeon to St. Thomas's Houstral; and Medicine of Surgeman; Sergeon to St. Thomas's Houstral; and Medicine of Surgeman; Sing's Column.—I have made "this of Hr. Transara" Solution of Copalina, at St. Thomas's Hospital, in a variety of cases of discharges in the male and finele, and the results warrant my shaling that it is an embassions remaining, and more which there not produce the usual unpleasant of the Copalina.—(Signed)—Joseph Hanny Garan."

"45. Lipscolp's Lon Fields, April 18, 1935."

Premarad only to Donna Frances. Sorgeon, 56, Blandytein

Preparati cally by Dronan Frayens, Sorgens, 68, Blackfriet.
Road, London, where it may be had in Bottleb at 20, 24, 45, 56, and its. each, and of all respectable Braggists and Franci Madiciae Vengus in the Dailed Kingdom.
Caverow—Unique "Groner Frayers, Madicials, Steel," is angraved us the Government Stamp, in the Carlotte of Covernment Stamp, in the Carlotte of Carlotte

The CAUGES of the PREMATURE DECLINE, with shift Directions fig. is BERFECT RESTORATION; addressed to those maffering from the destructive of the of Excessive Indiagence, fightence, fightence, gallery, Rabbinger Lafections, tollowed by Observations on the present of Expedition of Control of the Control of deligence, Baltery, Hebita, or Infection; followed by Observations on the bathant of Syphilis, Gonnam, Glost, &c. Itinetration with Gibes, &c.

By J. L. Custre and Co., Consulting Surgerus, London.

This Hungermant of By Burgers, Medical Bookseller, 2st, Caventry Street, Barth, 4, Brydgue.street, Strand, Mann, 39, Cornellis, Strange, 2h., Teterscoker.row, London; Gluest, 51, Bull-freet, Birmingham & Govier, 4, &t. Ann's-square; Mann, 39, Cornellis, Strange, 2h., Teterscoker.row, London; Gluest, 51, Bull-freet, Birmingham & Govier, 4, &t. Ann's-square; Manchester; Philip, South Castle Street, Everyout; Fangin and Co., 41, Graftus, street, Bublis, Booksellers, Cov., 10, Graftus, street, Bublis, Booksellers, Cov., 11, Graftus, and Street, Bublis, Booksellers, Cov., 11, Graftus, Street, Manney, 11, Graftus, Street, 11, Graftus, 11, Graf meaning it to general notice. — Large and new new test means. CURTIS & CA are to be consulted daily at their real-deace, No. 7, FRITH STREET, SOHO MQUARE, LONDON.

Country Patients are requested to be as minute as possible in the signal of their mean. The communication must be accompanied by the usual consultation fee of it, and in all cases the most inviolable necrecy may be relied on.

JERRMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of TERRMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of OPTUM, FIRST PREPARED IN PATNA, is BENGAL.—The great merit of this preparation in its peculiar freedom from the noxious properties of Opium, and has interfore been from a wall-able is cases where other forms have been inadmissible, from its not disturbing the revenue systems. The rest procured through the instrumentality is divisated of the heaviness and stuppy usually die effect of Opium, and the pathilit, though taking it continuously, is left in first possession of his faculities. It ima for several years been supplied to the H. C. Dispensary, by order of the Medical Board of Bengal, from its being found to great Cholera in India, beyoned any remedy that had been applied to that fatal disease. Explain Jerrenie, from whose formula it is prepared, is well known to actentiate persons as the telented improver of the Palan Opium. It will be found not to constitute the bowels, and to deep says time in any climate; it be exceedingly powerful in Courth, chartily Consumptive Court, wherein many have found its griss? Methog, in Lottuessa, Court, The Doulourens, Cholera, and to the Courth, chartily Consumptive Court, wherein many have founding by interfet Complaints, Shemasulem, and Canoers in Accountering by interfet Courth, wherein many the desirable. The acceedingly phicologies groparties of the preparation have been proved by interfet of a few weeks old having taken it, without any cerebral such structure and the surface of the systematic and the amore any given here of those who have approved.

MEDICAL BOARD OF BENGAL.

Masigar Boars of Breas.

Rie David Dixon, Royal Naval Mashital, Plymouth.

Dr. Cookworthy, Physician, Plymouth Dispensary.

Dr. Warism, Brisdissez Hospital, London.

J. Griferry, Bargeon, Founding Hospital, London.

Br. Ras, Rayal Hospital, Chatham.

J. E. Martin, Ras, (last of Calcutta), Grosvenor-st., London.

Dr. Lastson, last Apothecary-Beneral, Bengal.

Dr. Traves, Mosta Mountus, Dublin.

Br. Tabili Crampton, Dublin.

Br. Tabili Crampton, Dublin.

Br. Tabili Crampton, Dublin.

Dr. Hannay, Professor of Physic, Glasgow,

Dr. Yunges.

Dr. Hospiton.

South Devog Hospital.

Preseared safer by Francia Lean. 27 Ganzas steat.

Friend by GROROR LAME, of NO. 18, South Parade, St. James's Laylah of St. Margaret's, in the country of Middlesex, st. Lawrence of Middlesex, st. Lawrence of Middlesex, st. Lawrence of Middlesex, Louis Control of Middlesex, Lo

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETTE

9 (9) 9 87	Easi	India and Colonial Chroni	cle.
No. 579.	82	TURDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1844.	Price 8
CONTRICTS OF THE PRINCEST RAYAL Promotions and Appointments General Post-Office Notices Naval Intelligence Match Intelligence Multirer Appointments and Promotion (atth Posthillatings of "A Queen date of Wateries") Williamy Intelligence Poreign and Columnia Intelligence Rembies along the Styx. Correspondence "A Would-be Commodore" on N	of the West 45	"Bank with Equisions" on Cligate - The Education of States Regulations of C. On St. M. S. Shice 27 "C. On St. M. S. Shice 27 Editor's Name of the Inflattry Stat 37 Editor's Name of Correspondence 28 Editor's Name of Correspondence 28 Editor on St. Name of Correspondence 28 Editor on St. Name of Correspondence 28 Editor of States 28 Editor of Teating States 28 Editor of Teating Editors of Editors 28 From Colleges Visions and Orphana 29 Editors Visions 29 Editors Visions 29 Editors Visions 29 Editors Visions 20 Editors 20	Rettor on the Army Sriver of Major Martin, King's Dragor Courts the Associates to the Command in the Pacific the Resolution of Greece Court; Farnish, and Constal Nava Parliamentary treatypes Lyries for Anti-Repair Children Rept India Intelligence (Lishtary Associatements) Promotion, Str.) (Chilary Associatements) Promotion, Str.) (Chilary Associatements) Promotion, Str.) (Chilary Associatements) Promotion, Str.)
THE following superior to Messes. T. and W. Berten, and built by them for the INDIA Th. penctually at the undermentioned de Last Shipping Day in the Rest India D. FOR BOME. COLOMBO, 500 Tona, June Tao. February 15.	of Mrevisulle upon Tyne. ADE, will leave stavesend true.  Description Depositionally. AV.  Description Chimmanilles, to Ball	POR BOMBAY DERECT, to follow the L. TORRE, with immediate despatch the time that the book ship Delly Enox, e. S. C. and y. Santanader, now loading in the West India Export Dock. This milled has very superior accommodation for Passengers, and carries a Surgrou. For Francis or Passengers, and carries a Surgrou. For Francis or Passengers, it is Limitated, to New Entit India Diagnosers, Landenbuil Street.  LNOR BENGAPORE, with immediated apparent.	THUIA.—OUTFITS for CAPE  I AMETANTSURGEOMS, and others, applituded to it completely active, businers, gloves, light clothing. Militar employments, inniba, subia furniture, den, are supplied a windiscale cash prices by THRESHER and GLENNY next it bisierest House, Mrand, where this at oachie, both for and by the loverists group, with prices and every pictically ise had no pre-public application.—N.H. Thresher's averland can be procured at 183, greated, but at no other house in Lo-
FOR MADRAS AND FEEIN, 800 Tons; ROBERT LA, February 24. ROBERT SMALL, 600 Tons, R. V. Sail And 90. ELLENBORDUGH, 1,100 Tons, M. Sail May 20. BULEPHALUS, 1,600 Tons, V. J. June 15. FOR CALCUTTA GLORIANA, 1,100 Tons, J. S. V. July 8. TUDOR, 1,150 Tons, M. J. Lav, C. FOR THE CAPE AND PLANTAGENET, 1,000 Tons, Jus Sail July 13. FOR MADR DUKE OF ARGYLL, 800 Tons, Jus Manufer, to Sail August 10. FOR PESSAGE SUPLY to Capt, BARSE WE, FURCHER; or T. E. W. Butty, 7 I Sail on the 15th February, for familiang River-built Ship, Viginal Sail on the 15th February, for familiang River-built Ship, Viginal Magnas, Lombander Lyling in the affords an etigible opportunity, sail Cape, she must keep her time. For Messry, I, W. & A. Bokmanallen, 2	Fig. Commission, to Sall- VILLIAMS, Demanader, to C. Charles Commander, to Ball, Sammander, to Sail, Binister, (MRA, Commander, to Sail, commission, to Sail Aug. 14, 1 CALCUTTA. IN DOMETT, Commission, to AS. HENRY BASTOWS, Com- in, 17, St. Mary Ame; Capt. S, Cornhill. GOOD HOPE, will for not fail, the remarkably (LANY, A 1 400 Tons. J. Lonston Books, This Ship, on the congagoments at the Freight or Taxing unpy to	This feet-balling Clyde-built Brig DAUID, A. J. If years, 341 Mans, Jossun Brechis, Commander, more insiding in the West India Docks. "Her confictable accompagnation for Paisage gare, For Fraight or Passage apply to Mesers, Feetart, Heisbang, and Co., St. Melon's Flace, or to H. H. Lindsky, J. Hew East India Chambers, Leadenhall street.  I CTICE to SHIPPERS.—FOR CHINA Direct, the fact antiling Ship KRIN, 262 Tone, J. S. MAINE, Compander, now loading in the London Docks. All goods fact antipment by this Vessel must be down and cleared before Satisfact the facts and sharping the thin tage, as she will leave the Ducks on that day. For Freingt or Passage apply to H. L. Lindsky, S. New East India Chambers, Mill shorter Meanuryment Commingers, Mill shorter Meanuryment Commingers, Mill shorter Meanuryment Combined Service, Sufficient St. P. Lindsky, Landenhald Street.  Por H. H. Lindsky, S. New East India Chambers, Landenhall Street.  DOYAL MAII. STEAMERS.— Pleatwood, 2017 Menday, Wednesday, and Saterthy Meanury to the London working the landenhall Street.	OVERLAND TO INDIA.—The new Paramagnet of the property of the p
T. Havisus and Co., Sun-court; or R. L. Company, having all hes dead we teak-built first class whip OR IRNTAL Commander, lying its the West India accellent accommodation for Passen, and in upwards of 7 feet high let wee perion cod burgeon. For Freight market, Esq., New City Chambert Havisus, and Co., Sun Court, or T. Havisus, and Co., Sun Court, or D. M. Havisus, and Co., Sun Court, or The Tous, J. H. Fawusyr, Commandering's Docks. This Bhip has excell sengers, and Carries an experienced Passage apply to Meeter. Glesserand Cornbill, or to T. Havisus & Co., i	Sp. Cornkill.  CCT.—To sail on the gagement to the Hon. the reight engaged, all uplendid, his tone. William Wilson. Ducks. This ship has most yers, having a specious Foop, a decks. Will carry an expression of the control of the con	new loss states ships PRINCE of WALES and PRINCESS ALIUE, inking the mainte from Manchester and Peratup for Seliest. For LONDONDERRY, every Frisky formoon, the favourite stanner ROBERT NAPIR.  For freight or passage apply to Mr. Hunge Shires, Fleetwood; or at the Company's silics, s. St. Swittin's lane, Lundon.  THE NEW NAVAL UNIFORM.  PHILLIPS, NAVAL TAILOR, 28, La. STRAND, begs to inform the Officers of the Royal Sary: that be has all the Patterne of the Alterations anaticous by the Signs of the Admiralty, which be summitted for the best quality, at the following low prices was created ante, Masters, Masters, Masters, Class Vo. Cities, Captains, and Company of Copie 10s. Iss.	in now in delly extensive approximate in the above natural lishments, as well as by many public companies and, individuals. This PRECESS pressived Transfelt from ECC, and, when desired, renders it unindependent in the introduction, and easy of application. It may be used to revoce makes, and does not, therefore, require in the chimes, except for the sake of expedition. It measurements are the monomous to the common or the monomous to the monomous to the monomous to the host foreign. It always the monomous to Commendation Lieuten-dores of Ante-threscood Masters, Custaine, Surgeous, and Com-Pursers. oten, ist and and Chas.Yo-PRICES FOR NAVAL lanteurs Commanders' Conte (u. less. Andres Andres Clerks.

Dreas Coat . 7 stag 25. stop 16.7 stop 33 stop 4 stop 16.7 stop 31 stop 4 stop

DENINGULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM

DENINGULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM

NAVIGATION COMPANY.

The Company book Passengers for the selfowing pinces, visionINDIA, via EGYPP (the Overland Roste).

BOMBAY.—By the Company's Stampers, ORIENTAL and GREAT LIVERPOOL, let of every Month from Southampton; and by the ilou. East india Company's steamers from Secs.

CALCUPTA.—Culling at Caylou and Madras. By the Company's Steam-ship ORIENTAL, from Stattaggroup, set March; and by the Steam-ship HIMDOSTAN, from Thes, about was March.

pany's Steam-ship ORIENTAL, from Bustnesspron, see energy and by the Steam-ship Histochtan, from Bust, about use March.

March.

MALTA, Alexandria (also Naples, Leghors, Gines, &c., in conjunction with the Maspotian steamers from March, from Southeampton 1st of every month.

VIGO, Operes, Lisbon, Cadis, and Gibralter, from Southeamy VIGO, Operes, Lisbon, Cadis, and Gibralter, from Southeamy Docks every Thursday, of P. s..

ATHENS, Syra, Smirres, Constantinopis,—Constituted tripe.

MADEIRA.—One of the Company's transfers with run between Matoria and Gibralter next Spring, for Passedigers returning with the Pennous, and will then return to Low, sont direct.

N.S.—Passengirs hooking to Maleji Might the Levant, or India, have the privilege of visiting Vigo, Lipseto, Lisbon, Cadir, and Gibralter, by the Panisachier steamers, without may additional charge.

onal charge. Apply at the Penturules ond Colestal Stern Tuvigation Con-usy's Offices, St. M. Mary Axe, London; and St. High Street, statempton; and at the Office, No. 23, Report Circus.

STEAM to CEYLON, MADRAS, and December of the CEYLON, MADRAS, and December of the CEYLON, MADRAS, and December of the Ceylon of Parish, the reministed and Oriental Strain Savigation Company's Stemmonic, O'LIENTAL, Capt. J. 80°, will leave for American to the still a terministed and and the His DOSTAN, Oage E. H. Savigation of the still a terministed and the His DOSTAN, Oage E. H. Savigation, and Chicatal Stages Savigation of the Contract o

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, BEST QUALITY, WITH PEATHER, FOR £3 3s.

DANK BIBARON IRON WORKS,

Indicating MADAMS TUMBAUDIN, Se, BAKER-STREET,
PORTHAR N. NOUARE, LONDON.—Gentlemen about to fairbin, or selfing abroad, are respicifiedly tayted to the above estable Machinent, where they will find the largest assortment of ERNERIAL FURNISHING INCOMEDINGENT ever affected to the public conserting of Han Copper, and Iron Cocking Utendia.
Table Cuttery, best Enchold, Place, Gégrean Silver Wares, Papier
Mache Tra Trays, Tea and Coffee Uron, STOYE GHATES, KITCHEN RAMAGER, Fanderst and The Irons, with Batha of all higds, Shower, Hot, Cold, Vignus, Plunging, Ac., toppelsor with Ornamental Iron and Whe Works, friedomer-vatories, Lawns, Re., and Garden Engines. All Artistics for selected of the very best unsufficients, and offered at given silved for writch, for cash only, this side of each artistic being marked in plain figures, affecting Sandaninger which are received of the plain figures, affecting Sandaninger which are received of the plain figures, affecting

CADETS. general to lufte appetitude of lufter, billion and lufter account of the control of the control

PRICE 8d.

: 14 #

The new Patent JIO ROW PATCHE VYBELAND TRUNK, Iding Overland Mat-lah-hand Appareton, y article of callifur-ite, cots, hammoges, ription of cump equi-"FRIGATE and SIDN, o apove trade, 70 and IMPROVE-WATCHES.— R. J. Istinction of recurring d performance of the state public trial, begang of his WATCHES, and to him by three to, and 1812. Gives to then, with gold date, with table recent work live.

PATENT I ATENT I in ALL CLIMATEN, show naturnal catalcompanies and in the artistic at the cheap, ag he used in ordinary squire hydraulic man anomoreat domestic age of the age unchanged in store age unchanged in store.

nore. My he seen, and every frin will be given, at WILLIAM AIREET,

TH, King William-street, Charing-cross, ORIGINAL DEPOT FOR NAVALEMILITARY RULLIPMENTS The North Market of Hemming errors, Charles of Hemming errors, to a MUEL LEVY. Integrate Hemming errors, to began now to inform his Naval and Military Friends, that has removed to more specials and elegant I comises, where her willish a most extensive and elegant I comises, where her willish a most extensive and elegant I comises, where they willish to ever lower prices than formarily. He brigs to make the theory of the angure his future destings with them.

Fortable Bedateleds, Sofas, Contress, and Camp Furniture of every destription and he a manufactors, at farty per cent, under the charges obsery house in the trade.

Fortable Camp Tentaledstead, the deing estimates of a Solid Leather Portnounts at 2 2 9

Townsmade Regulation Eword 2 2 9

Beliantry basis, ell Still. 1 3 9

Captains Expendittes, test quality, per pair 3 4 9

Waint Belte 6 6

Bunder Ditte

Waint Belto 6 6 6 Blungleer illite 8 L. has so compositor with any other bones illite we.

M ETCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH

METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTII

M. BRUSH and SEYBNA SPONGES, "This Toute Brech has the important advanage of searching thereughly his the disistion of the teeth, and cleaning them in the most effectual and axtraoromacy memory, and is language for the bulls not complete from the teeth and the part of the teeth and third part of the sand time, and home but of mining the high thisp. Peretraine Hair-irrashes, with the durable arbitraries Bassian bristles, which do not adoled like common from I beck
Bassian bristles, which do not adoled like common from I beck brushes, which act is the most surprising and successful manner.
The genuine SMYRNA SPONGE, with the preserved valuable properties of absorptions. Studies, and derability, by means of direct importations, dispensing with all intermediate particle growing severus Sponge. Only abbifically K's, 15, B, Oxford stopic direct from biodisa-street. Cautton — Beware of the words, "from Metcalie"s," adopted by none busines.

Mabal Anteiligence.

Rear-Admiral—W. F. Wise, C.B., to be Commander-in-Chief in Rear-Admiral—W. F. Wise, C.B., to be Commander-In-Chief in the Pacific.

Commander—James W. Morgan (1811), to Comperdown.
Lieutenants—J. R. Baker (1825), to Tortoles; Heary Eden (1867), (addit.), to William and Mary, to study steam and engineering on heard the Sulphar, at Woolwich; E. M.E. Blehardson (1842), to Communitin; J. E. Cabburn (1815), to be Agent is a mail pacific, at Routhampton; W. Thomas Bellairs (1819), to Ocean, v. Cabburn; A. Anderson (1943), J. Robertson (1818), Hon. P. P. Pellew (1844), Brook Young (1849), and Stathews Compily (1842), to Communitie; John Stephen (1818), to Resis, v. Sheilis; J. A. St. Leger (1841), R. J. D. Waddilows (1843), R. B. Creyke (1812), and H. B. Gray (1844), all additional, to Penclope steamer.

R. B. Creyke (1813), and H. B. Gray (1825), all admitional, to Penelops stement.
Master—J. K. Martyn (1826), to Provides.
Mater—H. T. N. Chonsyre (1820), to Provides ; P. W. Coventry (1837), from Chien, to Verson, as Acting hientenant: Albeyno Bland (1849), to Excellent; E. B. Rice (1849), to St. Vincent.
Beand Master—Forbes Machaen, to Excellent.
Assistant.:hirgcons—J. L. Montolith (1843), and R. Montolith (1843), and R. Montolith (1843), and R. Montolith (1843), to K. Vincent, R. Clarke, M. D. (1840), to Provides; W. Rac, M. D. (1840), to Maden; W. Davis (acting), (addit.), to Camperdown, for dury in Melville Hospital, Cinatam.
Chaplains—G. Bellamy (1840), to Tortolee; G. R. Levin (1833), to Compendown.

to Comperdown.
Navel Instructors—Charles Stark (mathematical) and P. Robertson (1812) to Excellent.
Clorks——Green, to Victory: W. H. Mellish, to St. Vincent.

Clerks — Green, to Victory; W. H. Mellan, to St. Viscons.

60Ast-61Ash.

Appaintmelts.—Lieut. Win. Fuller, R.N., to command H.M.'s

R.C. Dolphin, v. Lieut. Goldsmith, to Shamreck, R.C.; Lieut.

Charles Douglas O'Brien, R.N., to the Newrown Staten, v.

Lieut. Gray, appointed to the Penelops, Lieut. Charles Byth, R.N., to Ballyhabert Station, v. Lieut. Win. Faller.

Remonts.—Commander Goffrey L. Wolley, from Clifton, to

N. weastir District, v. Commander Douglas Curry, to Ryde;

Lieut. Watson T. Biobes, R.N., from Kessengland, to Sampishurgh, v. Lieut. James, to Lynn.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, PERSONNEL 16.

The next mail for India, &c. via Marasiles, will be dispatched from hence on 4th March. The Cipic will take out the West, Indian mails of the morning of 17th inst. The Calcionia, for thee American mails of the March. The Naperior, for the New South Wales mails of 29th inst.

On and from 1st March next, the postage on letters addressed to the Ionian Islands, marked to be forwarded "via Southampton," may be paid in advance, or not, at the option of the sender. It must be distinctly understond, that this regulation applies only to letters conveyed by packet, via Southampton. The postage on all other letters, via France, addressed to the Ionian Islands, must be paid in advance, as at present. The postage on letters, via Southampton, In. 7d., via Marsellies, Is. 3d. On and after the 15th iost, the postage on letters peated in the United Kingdom, and addressed to India, marked to be forwarded "via Southampton," may be paid in advance or not at the option of the sender. This regulation applies easy to letters for places within the territory of the S.I. Company, conveyed by packet, eigh southampton, the postage on all other letters addressed to construe begond India (the Colony of Hong Kong cabapted), by whatever conte they may be not warded, must be paid in advance, as at present, or the letters cannot be tot warded.

PORTSMOUTH, Febr 8. - (From our own Correspondent.) - Curlew was paid off off Saturday. She will have her maste removed, and put in dock, for inspection; possibly, her ultimate fate may be sale by public acction. Java transport, from the West Indies, having the 92d Highlanders on board, arrived on Sunday morning, and having completed provisions and water, proceeded on Tuesday to Letth. The Java left the West Indies on Obsistance day. Nautilus has returned from the coast of Sussax, and is retiting of Blockhouse. Gipsy tendar has been here with the furniture, &c., of the late Sir Edward Bince, to be landed at Farcham; and Speedy entier with men, taking back sommen gunners for the Camperdawn. After a complete refit of two months, the Irtish, Russian corvette, has sailed for Kamtschutka; the Irish, Russian corvette, me server to the Officers of this sing, and those of the Dutch corvette Dordrecht, which put in here on her soyage from Surings to the Adminst Six Charles to Autwerp, were to have dined with Admiral Sir Charl Rowley on Tuesday, but the weather being favourable, both vessels put to sea. Album stemmer brought the Depot of the 45th to Gosport on Monday, and has since returned to Iroland. Prometheus arrived at Spithead on Tursday, but did not anohor; after communicatingwith the Commander in Chief she went on to Plymouth. and Albert yacht will be taken into dock when the Firebrand gues out, next week : some arrangement is to be made in the yacht, to prevent the offensive small which prevails when she is occupied, and an alteration in the botters. Firebrand is to be reported ready for Commission on the 14th. The Court-Martial on Lieutenant Dyke, late of the Iris, is expected to commence on Monday next. Princess Royal transport is in the harbour, taking in stores for Sheerness. There is not a ship fitting in the part. In the Harbour—St. Vincent, Victory, Excellent, Royal Yachb, Naufilus, Fearless, Gipey, Princers Royal.

Prinourii, Sch. 7.—(From our our Correspondent.) 2d—Crone packet, 6, Lieut. Com. & Lewis (a), was Limbel out of dock, having been new coppered, and had life defects made good. Si-Arrived Emerald tender to the M. Fincent, with supernumeraries from Portsmouth, and bailed fram the 7th, on beareturn, with supernumesupplied. In her passage to this port, she experienced very Schuregous weather, and carried away her bowsprit and copiestrees; one part of the latter fell on the head of an Chaper, who was a passenger, and wounded him severely; he was conveyed to the Rl. Naval Hospital, where he lies is a very precurious states. Arrived the Albeit st., Elent. Com. J. Jenyes, from Cork; having coaled, site sailed for Portsmouth the following day. Arrived Diligence, N.T., Mr. W. Martin, 2d Master, from Portsmouth, with stores for the dockyard. Sch.—Coledonia, 120, Copt. Milne, was towed into Murbour by the Configures at. Sha was only twenty-six hours on her passage from Cork. Sha left 100 supernunciary Marines and fifty of her own complement at Spike Island. America, 50, was own complement at spine intend. America, 30, we brought from her moorings alongside it be jetty, to be fixed for a Flag; it is said the will relieve Dublin, 50, on the South American station, and will be roudy for commission the latter end of the present month. 6th-Permission the scier and of the present month. One pro-sion and Acorn, 16 gung each, were masted this day, and expected to be commissioned in the course of next week. Rechester tender arrived from Woolwich and week. requester remote arrived from weathers at, Lieut.-Com. W. M. J. G. Pasco, from Woolwich, last from Portsmouth, on her way to the Mediterraneon. The Gracian, 16, was bauled into dock, to have her de-The Albion, 90, Capt. Lockyer, arrived at Cork the 29th ult., from this port, after a bolaterous massage of seven days. In Harbour.... Calescent, San Jeef, Penelope, Resistance, Crane, Prompthous and Confiance attempts, Diligence, N.T., Lancter, Dutch schooner. In the Sound-None.

Sound—None.

SHREENERS, Feb. R.—(From our own Correspondent.)

—The Valuer steamer, first class, arrived here on Friday last, from Woolwich, to be fitted for Commission; it will take two months at least before the pennant can be holsted on board her. She was taken into the Basis on Saturday with difficulty, on account of her great leagn. The same day Vice-Adm. Sir John White returned from leave, when his fing was again helsted on board the Cumperdown. Few seamen have entered for the Camperdown, which was re-commissioned on Thursday last. The Speedy cutter, Lieut. G. Besnitzy, which left last week for Portamouth, returned to-day with man for her. The Pnincess Royal Naval-transport, having landed her stores, soiled on Tuesday for Deptierd. The Gipsy tender, Wilson, Master, sailed also for Portemouth, and the Goscamer tender for London, during the week. Ganger, 84, is in No. 2 Duck, having her decks renewed; and the reof of this dock is being covered with a composition of zinc and lead. Shannon, 44, is also in dock, having her bottom cauthed, previous to being govered with the new blavine The workmen are proceeding rapidly with the sompost. In working the proceeding rapidly with the Alarm, 28-gue ship. In Harbour—Camperduen, Ocean, Rosen and Speedy cutteres and African steamer.

Milrond Haven, Feb. 7.—(From our own Correspondent.)—The only sailing their the week has been the Deson lighter, with unserviceable stores for Plymouth. Lieut, Wilson, R.M., being first for sea service, has been recalled from detachment duty at Playerfordwest, and relieved by Lieut. Adair; he remains at Pembroke, matil succeeded by Lieut. Forebrook, ordered from Plymouth to the depot at Pembroke. The Flying Pich—one of the new brigs building at Pembroke, on the plans of Sir William Symonds, to sail against those of Mesers. Blake, White, &c. —will be launched early in April. The Com-Inrion, 80 guns, will also be launched there this statemer. The office of Master Shipwright at the Agreed still remains enfilled.

DEAL. Pub. 8 .- (From our own Coursepondent.) Sunday, 4th Several sail of outward-bound ve the Downs to the westward, 5th-H.M.'s st. Prometheus went through the Downs to the westward and several sail of outward-bound vassels. 6th—H.M.'s reveaue-ceutser Liesly anchored in the Downs, 7th— H.M.'s catter Speedy went through the Dewns to the eastward. Sth.-There are several sail of outward-bound resects lying in the Downs : strong winds westerly.

DEFFORD, Feb. 7.—(From our coun Correspondent,)—Sailed Duclus freight-ship for Bombay, with stores for the Naval Department. Jupiter freight-ship, with Naval and victualiting stores, for Majer Keenkin Granden. gueras and vicualizing stores, for major, remains, Greenlan, fitting to convey male convicts to New Spirit Water. London has been taken up for a conjude hills. Prince George transport is refitting for foreign carried. Prince steamer is in deck, undergoing a thorough repair felter which she will be compleyed in the sacreting service under the land his property to the foreign which she will be supplyed in the sacreting service under which she will be employed in the serveging service sucher Capt. Beachey, now of the Lauffer. The Passepine steamer, building in this pard, is dedergine as completed as soon as possible; she is on a similar plan to the Victoria and Albert yanht.

Wookwoon, Feb. 9.—Several werkmell have been selected from the Woolwich hook-yard to proceed to the island of Assension, for the purposit of metablishing a small steam factory for the repairs of this manificary of the steam-versels of the Royal Navy employed upon the African Station. It is expected them man will leave about 18th inst., and proceed from Gratham in the Tartoise store-this. Master Com. J. Wood, going out to Ascension to be sentioned there as a retaining whip, The Promethers at v. L. Com. W. J. E. M. Promethers at v. L. Com. V. J. M. M. Promethers at v. L. Com. V. J. L. M. Promethers at v. L. Com. V. J. L. M. Promethers at v. L. Co

The Avist st. v., Mail. Com. L. Smithitt, arrived at Woodsfield from Dover on Wednesday, and her crew will take back the Charon st. v. to Dover to morrow (Saturday). The Adventure transport arrived at Woolwich foom Sheerness on Wednesday, to load for Pembroke. The And will sail early next week for Portsmouth and day). Plymouth. The Rattler st. w. with acrew propuler, was tried down the right to-day with a new serem formed of three distinct pieces in the dismuter instead of two, the number previously used. The new serew is a beautiful pless of workmanship, and is thickly sheethed with brass.

RECENSION ISLAND, December 18th, 1843.—(Promour own Correspondent.)—Hier Mejesty's steamer Hydra, Commander H. B. Young, arrived at this island from Madeira on the 7th inst. On 13th arrived H.M. et. Medayasear, Capt. Foote, Senior Officer, accompanied. by II.M. b. Heroine, Lieut-Com. H. Foote, from St. Relena. Madagasor is stripped, refitting preparatory to her returning to England on the arrival of H.M. et.

Penelope, which is expected here to relieve her about the middle of Junuary. On the 14th inst. arrived H.M. b. dista, Com. Bosanquet, from England, via Sierra Leone, and the W. Coast of Africa. She had been in company with H.M. b. Spy and H.M. b. Repid, the former cruising in the Bights off Wydah and Lagos, the latter at ce's Island. Spy had taken a small schooner fitted for slaving, and sent her to Sierra Leone in charge of the Gunoar. Rapid had taken a Slaver with upwards of 300 slaves. This is the third full Slaver taken by Lieut.-Com. Earle, who has liberated upwards of 1200 slaves during his service on the coast. This evening, the 18th Dec., H starts for St. Helena, and from thence to St. Paul de Loando, to land Capt. Thomas, slave commissioner, and Mr. Clinton, Arbitrator. Hersing also leaves for the Bights and Prince's Island. She takes down Lieut.-Com. 8. O. Wooldridge, appointed to command Apy. This Officer is the son of the late Capt. Jas. Wooldridge, who distinguished himself so much in command of the Medi-ator, at Basque Roads, under Lord Cochrane. It is generally supposed that this Officer will soon be promoted. from his strong claims on the Service for his father's disfrom his strong claims on the Service for his father's distinguished services, as he obtained his first step in 1837 for the galhing copture of a Slaver. H.M. b. Alert also departs for Sierra Leone and the Gambia, taking Lieux. Com. Dan. Woodruffe, appointed to command Albert at. H.M. b. Espoir, Com. Morrell, and H.M. b. Rapid, Lieux. Com. Barle, are stationed on the south coast, about Loudo Cahenda and that part. H.M. b. Ferret, about Loudo Cahenda and that part. H.M. b. Ferret, and Com. Oakea, as stationed of Sierra Leone, Gabras, &c. Mr. Gibbon, acting Master of Alert (and who is the Officer who was mt kendurably acquitted when tried by Officer who was so honourably acquitted when tried by Com. Robithard of Sonflower), is invalided, and returns to England in Modaganear. Mr. Taylor, 2d Muster of to English in Monagement. Mr. 18300, 20 Master of Madeinascer, in appointed acting Master of Alert. An inquiry Waking place on the conduct of Harvey Morris, Eng.; Surg. of the Island of Ascention, having been accused by Lieut. Prayer, R. M., the Ady., of neglecting his. Liout, F.'s. whild when sick. The day before Mudagasour arrived here, a Marine stabled a Midshipman in the side with a knife. The only reason assigned for the act is, his supposing himself suspected of being a tinef by the Mid., whose servant he had been. Licut. Free, lat Licut., F. H. Nikley, Esq., Master, and Shirley Apthorp, Esq., Mate, all Midlydra, are left sick at Ascension Hos-

JAMASCA,-Illustrious, 72, Capt. J. B. Ecckine, (eith the flag of V.Adm. Sir C. Adam) arrived at Port Royal from the Bergandas, on 12th ult., after a pressage of seven-teen days. She was remaining there on 31th ult., understy geing a thorough refit prior to her departure for Vera Crus. The Admiral was expected to leave immediately this ship had equipteted her refit, and proceed, in company with Mar Majorty's ships and vecpany with Her Majesty's ships and vessels remaining at Pert Royal, for Vara Cruz, to co-aperate with the British Minister's Minister's Minister of the British flag at Mexico. Sperien, 26, Capt. the Han. C. G. B. Mitter, anchored at Port Royal from Prince Edward's Island on 21st alt, after a very short passage of twelve days. This ship will form one of the squadron to assemble at Vera Cruz. The Sperien was lying at Port Royal on 24th ult, replenishing her recovarious with the sky and undergoing a pertial reput was 17 ing at 1881 Mayer on 24th oil, replentating her provisions, which, and undergoing a partial resp. 18, prior to her denistate for the Gulf of Maxico. Rose, 18, Com. H. R. March, thereign completed with provisions, water, itch to at much as the could stow, sailed from Port Regulation 20th alt. for Vern Cruz, where she was to await the infibed of the Commander in-Chief. Incomto swalt the active at the Commander-in-Unief. Incomment, 36, Capt. C. Frommander, arrived at Port Royal on 14th ult. from St. Domingo and the Aux Cayes. She was restrictly them on 24th ult. and would accompany Illustrians to Vers Cros.

Captain the Hom. George Grey, R.N., who obtained leave from the Admirably to come from Gibraltar to see his trighted mobile father, Earl Grey, during his resent memory districts, his embarted at Southempton, to remain his second memory of the Releidan, attained at Gibraltan.

"PROMETEREDS" AND "RATTERE "On Saturday,

the 3d inet, a trial of H.M.'s etterner Ruttler treat place at the measured dictains in Long Reach, in order to determine, an correctly as possible, her rate of going, as compared with that of bet sister ship, Proposition, which had been ascertained by the Government authorities the day before, by a similar trial. The Resteler having been built for the purpose of testing the meries off, the secon propeller with those of the pudile-wheeler is gonerasted an nearly as possible upon the lines and model as the Propositions; they have both the union strongs of engine-power, viz.—300 houses, both vessels were been to the same draught of water, viz.—11 ft, 5 in., the steem pressure in both cases was regulated exactly after these are regulated in fair one was daily attended to. Utiles these are cumulances mere than ordinary interest was analysis. everything that could be conveniently. Using these sire trul a fair one was duly attended to. Using these sire comstances more than ordinary interest was analysis amongst the Navat and Engineering Officers consensed with the Woolwich Dockgaid establishment, by whom with the warious trials of both vessels were now. with the Woolwich Dackyard establishment, by whom the results of the various trials of both various were most, minurally mored, and in the end augment of the Ribber, to the the general expectation, in lavour of the Ribber, to the extent of nearly half a knot per hour, their relative speed being as follows:—Prometheus, 8,757 knots; Rattler, 9,240 knots, or within a fraction of 123 statists miles per hour. The Prometheus is one of the third elegawar steamers recently introduced into H. M.'s Navy by the present surveyor, Sir William Symonds.

The "Janus."—The layout of this standard water.

THR "JANUS."-The launch of this steam-frigute Ten "Janus."—The launch of this steam-frigate took place on Tuendry afternand, at Charham Donkyard. Being a vessel of peculiar cufferaction, designed by Tire-Admiral the Earl of Daulonald, who, at Lord Gochrehe, is universally known in the Service, as might have lists auticipated, curiosity and the fine weather list a vest number. her of persons to the spot, to witness the executory and view the ship. Among the number of preferences mes present were—the Noble Lord most intermed, the Earl of Dundonald; the Right Hon. T. H. L. Corry, one of the Lords of the Admiralty; the new Continuadersia-Chief at the Nore, Vice-Adm, Sir J. C., White, K.C.B.; Capt. Sir W. Symonds, Surveyor of the Navy.; Capt. Brandreth, R.E., Director-General of Works; Capt. Shirrest, Superintendent of Chatham Yard; Colonel E. Lawrence, C.B., Commandant of Ri. Maritime Commander Burton, of the Pointiers; Mejor Buith, Barragh-master, &c. The ceremony of christening the vessel was performed with great tolks by Miss Clara Shirres, the daughter of the Captain-Separintendent, and the Janus went of the stocks in gallant style, at a quarter to 2 r.m. the donkyard hand playing " God save the Queen," w was responded to with hearty goodwill by all the spectutors. After the launch she was taken charge of by the Master-Attendant, and was warped alongside the sheer hulk, to have her machinery fitted. The form of body of the Janus, which nearly resembles that of a wedge towards the extremities, is precisely similar at both ends, and is consequently capable of moving in either direction with equal facility; her capabilities of advancing and retreating in narrow channels, for the purpose of offensive warfare are thereby made perfect. The following are her dimen-

 •
Length between the perpendiculars	o in.
Breadth, extreme
Breadth, monided	š
Depth in hold	ì
Tunnage, old measurement . 761 $3.94 labelided land-draught of water, with 960 tone of cohia
Wasn inunched bor draught of water faith 40 tons of ballast on hoard; was-Forward 7	5 .

Abait . . . . . The Jenus is fitted with a rudder at each extremity: but on ordinary occasions one only will remain in place The tillers work on deck. She has two capstans, and is provided with a pair of hawser-holes abaft as well as forprovided with a pair of lawser-holes abaft as well as for-yard, but only one pair of riding-bitts and one pair of catheads. Her armament will consist of a ten-inch gen at each extremity, throwing hollow shot of $6 lb. weight, and she will also be capable of mounting two 42-pursular gams. The engine by which this vessel is to be proposited is an invention of the Gallant Earl who designed her. It is to be a rotatory engine, which, it is said, will not decemp more than one-sixth of the space required for the communi-reciprocating engine. It may be missed as how as to be more than one-sixth of the space required for the commun-recipreenting regime. It may be placed so low so to be out of robels of gun-shot; it will have no beams, creates, side-rods, parallel motions, layers, fig. 2 million may be fixed in less than a quarter of the time stew required for fixing Marine engines. While its first out if readsiderably cheaper, it may be made easily keps in repair, in the opi-nion of the projector, than, the steem machinery now in use on bear's venicle of wer. The Januar will be taking into dock as soon as the Thomas convict-ship is ready to come out.

Arming of Books. The manistrous afterations and very great improvements which mine been lating made in greating vessels in his Majoray's New', has residered it similar improvements to activity below attached to ships and was elementally, and the following in the groportion of guns similar includings which have been resolved upon by the Authorities, to be used in the boots.

of cach alone of ship and reason in her Majesty's Service. The assessmitten and atorse for the asses to be proposed at Woole'sh, similar to a plus submitted by Col. Lacy, Inspector of the Royal Carriage Department; Lieute-Col. Denden, C.B., Inspector of Artillery; and the Store-keeper at the R. Arasnal; and approved by Capt. Sir Thomas Hastings; of the Essevicest, gasningy-ship, at Poteinnouth:—

South of Fired, Remod, and Niked Raim,—One Separated by Capt. Sir Thomas Hastings; of the Essevicest, gasning straight of the Store-wat Inspection of Fired Remod. and Third Raim,—One Separated by Store has the Store beauting in an infiliable plane, and if it actions he fitted for both perpense a coosed by Will haveguired. One Separate threadling citrings possible her beauting in an infiliable plane, with bottom to secrete the tother of the secretic based in Secretic threadling citrings possible that the for aring toto ships one; One Separated the carbonian; If went, top to be used in Sect. One Separated the carbonian; If went, top to be assed in Sect. One Separated the carbonian is such to the used in both for diving one operation is such heat to receive the top, for string land all in tops.

Roots of Respire and Fifth Rain—One Separater light brasses purchased services of the seal public of the seal public of seal, and one section is such bear to receive the tips, for string that althor tops.

Reads of Amerikania Fish Rele.—One s. pounder light bears gan, 6. out., in Relativistic gavelling carriage, nomplets with lember, top is be used in back, with begins, pounder with lember, top is be used in back, with legacy to peak the top, for firing into thisse tops. Two 14 pounder trees services in, 10 cept, each; top to is used in back, then for manifold and distinct on the control of the cont looked for at Plymouth.

The "Prinner"—An account of the bounty money granted to the Pylania, 16, sloop, for the destruction of a piratical junk on the ceast of China, by Commander S. V. Anson, and the lafe Officers and crew. on 29th July, 1840, will be deposited in the registry of the high-Court of Admiralty on or before the 2nd March hext.

18.L.'s Sloop "Accoun," 18.—An account of the proceeds arising from the site of the Portuguese slave vessel, Mineral, cantend by the Acorn on 31st Day, 1841, has Mineron, captured by the Acorre on 31st Dec., 1841, has been registered.

Cureoca, 24, Capt. Sir T. Fasley, arrived at Bable, from Pernambuco, 18th Nov.; and selled on 30th for Rio Jamiro, where she will complete her provisions, &c., and probably receive orders to proceed round Cape Horn, Biltern, 16, Com. W. C. Aldham (Act.), errived in Table Bay, Cape of Good Mope, 8th Nov., from 8t. Helena. Commander E. Peel has assumed the command of this brig.

The Hydra steamer, Commander Young, arrived at St. Helenin, from Cork, on Christians day; and the Sapphe sloop of war arrived at that inseed on the same day; from sloop of war arrived at that island on the same day, from the African coast.

"Coast-Guan.—Lieut. Beolog, R.N., and Officers and crew of the Greyhound, B.C., have received from the Provoet and Parliamentary Commissioners of Aberdeen Herbeur, and from the Beard of Management of the Shipercoked Fishermen and Birtimers Benevolegt Bockety, an manimous vote of thinks for the pratueworthy, humaine, and successful expetious in saving the cover (53 in immber) in the fishing-bears belonging to that day said seighbourhoud on the consider the late storm on the list, him. The lutter-manned Board have added, that it him is in the province of this institution to do more than record their source of him since maritorious conduct of Lint. Doolog, and Officersaine stray of the Greyhound on this depasion.

of Linut. Declay, and Officerating stray of the Greyhound on this segusion.

Marra, hap, me.—The Grew, having shifted the Communiter-in-Chief's fing yer ten, to the Afginber, saidd an 18th for the westward, in scimpany with Virida, which latter was to proceed in the Art place to Capitari, in Sardinia, to retext 35 tens of comb seguited he the Viridal, and the coession of her lately putting in these short of less, and afferwards goes on to Gibraliar, each theads of the station to England. Although the sould prefer has severe had no achieve of the Variate, and the vertical and the gring star to no said of soundees and compettures, still it appears this moon had no achieve the fine vanish, and the vertices at any infiling harboar is considered. The Green having returned to yell the grew of the Green, we assessibly when her prolonged stay in the green of the Green, we also easily when her prolonged stay in the green of the green, we are exacted in staric wast took places in the greatest from Marra to the place in the modeling district of the green amount of damagne flow Marra to the place in the first her departure from Marra a fire breeze sprang up from the New, when top, Rich, of the Queen (as the junior), anked permission of Captain Walpule, of the Ferman in chase to windward, which was immediately accorded, but soon after this latite almounced by against that soon of the Ferman trip, mast ringing had give carried away, which proceed the former trip. The disease, and that in case of actualization, Chase how was to be the rendervalue, whace, perhaps, the ferman titil awalts has connect, the fewards the avening the house feeders de a stiff gale, with fracty equals and that the weather, and during the night the two ships partied compone. The gale eliminous until the moraling of the 19th, when it understied authorises until the moraling of the 19th, when it understied authorises until the moraling of the 19th, when it understied authorises until the moraling of the two of the nile and had been affected to the home-being the latite quienties, the log was facte, when it was almost that the dwarf and the latit the home-being at the time close health, which will single rected to paths, to have the shift the the time close health and workers of the latit to have the surfaced of the latit the path of the time which and workers had not the path to the westered of the latit, the recent of which a path of the time are seen as a second of the latit the stiff of a thirt to second to the latit from the tweeder had ever before a gale inneadin the time which the surface of the latit phish of a thirt to second to the latit from the tweeder had ever before a gale inneadin to the latit from the tweeder had ever before a gale inneadin the time which the surface of the latit phish of a thirty to second to the hadden and the surface of the latit within the second to the hadden and the surface of the latit which the surface of the latit which the surface of the latit within the surface of the latit which the surface of the latit which the surface of the latit which the surface of the latit where the arrived on the surface of the latit he manners and the surface of the latit where the surface of the latit of the surface of the latit of t sparty, successive and Natlett, of Mulidar, were foul to the disease. Minds and Natlett, of Mulidar, were foul to the disease. The Sample lift for Trippil and kinder on 2 ith, at which latter port she will, probably, refleve the Sample. Not conveyed Lient, lighten, it, it is made to for Foreightel Athens on the Sam, and Mr. Migum, Midshipman, it join Indee, from which it would appear that this value is now for the present to leave Foreight would appear that this value well to have the two ships of the Line and the the made drink to have the two ships of the Lien Line in the distance on the Constitution to be sampled. The Demandation, from Constantingly and Marth, arrived on the attention of 1711 134, a she also gailed of the River Xunthus, and height stane in the two she are gailed of the River Xunthus, and height the track of marbles collated by the Expedition, which, from all languages transport from Plymonth, with Linet, Constant, and Means, Ballyman and Regiment, it N., two Engineers, and two brys, distributed and Red End and the N., two Engineers, and two brys, distributed and the date and and it is the first from the date and and the made for the little and to Cora on with.

Military Entellmeme.

FROM PRIDAYS MILITARY GAZETTE.

North Somerset Ragt, of Yeomany Cavalry.—Count II. St.
J. Made to be Linet., v. Bruce, resigned; W. H. M. Colston, dest., to be Cornet, v. Miss, promoted; J. E. Geib, Gegel, to be Cornet, v. Bes, resigned, Feb. 3.

Newset: Troop of Shorwood Hangers Yeomany Cavalry.—Juhn Henry Manners Sutton, Keq., to be Capt., v. Thomas Spangging Goodrey, resigned, Feb 3.

CAVALEY.

let Life Guards-On Thursday evening the Officers of the lot Life Guards and titenudier Guards gave an annateur performancy at the Windoor theatre, the prothe fews. Never was the theatre graced with so instinut and fashionable an audience as on this occasion. The parfoguences commenced with the "Dienin at Sea," Laures Lynwood, by M. Bener, Beg., Grenndter Gunde, was personated with all the energy and effect of an old renced stager. A. C. Colclough, Equ., was the very total in "Townsy Tinkle," the village musilinexperienced stager. A. C. Colclough, Esq., was the very Buckstone in "Tommy Tinkie," the village muffirman; his peculiar gast and quaint style of expressionsonvolved the hodes with laughter. C. Bentick, Esq., gave an admirable personation of Alley Crouker. Black Balph, the wrecker, was performed by — Bolhand, Esq. II. W. Boldton, Esq., 1st L.G., gave a gentlemanty representation of Richard Pendrill, and Viccional Scalam, as the Vorride did tue bust which could be done for that cha-The part of Trecanion was approrted by J. T. Clifton, Eag., and that of Trewoof by H. hitroribeld, bag. lat Life Guarde. Mrs. Nishett appeared as Heddy Nucle, and her stater, Miss J. Mordunat, as Anne Trecomm, and Miss Williams as Maryaret. Everything went off adisinably. The entertainments correlated with the performation of the buriesque barietta of "Otyello Tvavota."
The following were the characters:— The Dukanf Vence. The following were the characters:—The Dukunf Vencer, J. Latie, Eaq., 1st Life Guarda; Brabanto, Vencer, J. Latie, Eaq., 1st Life Guarda; Brabanto, Vencer, Eaq., 2. April 1988, 1st Late Guarda; Ladonico, ti. Caveno, s., Lond Giamia; Ist Life Guarda; Ludonico, ti. Caveno, s., Lond Life Guarda; First Poligeman, 11, Lawrent Usq., 1st Life Guarda; Second Puliceman, six W. W. Wynn; Boodemona, M. Bruce, Eaq.; Emitu, Mem Nobett, M. Bruce and A. C. Colclough, Eagla, were the managing directors.

46th Dregoon Guarda. There is a report of two regiments of heavy Cavalry being destined for India, and that the Carabineers were to be one of the two.

3d Light Drags.—Lieut. Wood has leave to let Nov. 1841. - Lieut, Penton, ditto, and Assist.-Burgeon Franklin to lat May, 1844, to Landour, on med. sert.

to lat May, 1844, to Landour, on med. sert.—Last. J. E. Codd, to be Captain in East Indies only.

7th Hussars—The magistrates of the Brighton Benefit were engaged for upwards of five hours on Monday with a charge of riot and assault, preferred against six soldiers; viz., Corporal Hubbard, Privates M'Intyre, Westen, Williams, Baldwin, and Kean. According to the evidence, the suddiers, between 1 and 2 o'clock on Thursday moraling, the trade of the control little and the state of the control little state. broke open a house in Thomas-street, pulled some little Italian boys out of their bods, then proceeded to an adjoining room, and served three women and children in the same way, and, moreover, stripped the beds, and broke the bedateads on which the females slept. maeter of the house, who slept next door, being awoke by the disturbance, ran to the spot, when both he and his wife were struck with fragments of the broken hedstends; the womer received a severe injury in the back, and her husband sustained a compound fracture of the arm. The soldiers then attacked the windows with bludgrons, clothes-props, brickbats, stones, and other missiles till scarcely a whole pane was left in the house; and then, having discovered a couple of planes or organs used by the Italian boys about the streets, they designed the instruments into the streets, and utterly demolished them. The injury to the house was estimated at near 20%, and to the pianus at about as much more. An affice was attampted on behalf of Baldwin and Kean, but it utterly failed. We on behalf or haldwin and Keen, but it utterry same, we understand that the provocation which gave rise to die outrage was an attack made upon one of the regiment by parties connected with some prostitutes, for whom the etrect is a rendezvous, and that the injured soldier's comrades, in endeavouring to take vengence, mistook the house. All the prisoners were committed for trial at the adjourned sessions; but on the following day, the Colonel gave half for the appearance of Corporal Hubbard, who was consequently discharged.

9th Lancers...Lieut. Colville, A.D.C. to Lord Ellenborough, has arrived in England this week from India.

14th Lt. Dragoons-Capt. Tonge bes leave to England for one year from 1st January last.

15th Hussars—The death of Lieut. George Arthur Rdk, at Madras, on 20th Dec. last, is reported in the ludian papers.

16th Langurs-Lieut. F. T. Meik to be Captain be Brevet in East Indies only. Assist.-Surgeon Pillean has leave to England for two years on caedical certificate. ORDNANCE CORPS.

-The death, from fever, at Magao, on the Rl. Artillory-Ri. Arithery—The coath, from rever, at massis, on the fith. Nov., of 2d Captain and Lieut. Col. John Knowles, C. B., is reported in the papers received this week. He had been upwards of 25 years in the regiment.—By letters from Graham's town, Caps of Good Plope, the troops stationed there are represented to be in excellent health. On 28th October last the Lieut. Governor inspected Maj. England's demi-battery. The men appeared on the parade ground in field battery order, with one light 6-pounder gun, a 12-pounder howitzer, and a rocket carriage with 12pounder and 3-pounder rockets, and went through their avolutions in a highly creditable manner, and the Lieut.-Governor expressed himself pleased with the soldierlike appearance of the men, and the admirable condition of the horses. His Honour passed a high suiogium on Maj. England, the Commanding Officer, and slieded to Capt. Buchanan, the Second in Command, as an Officer to whom the Service was under obligations for the zeal and ability with which he performed his duties. The Givernor also noticed the excellent menner in which the non-commissioned Officers, and gunners and drivers, performed their exercises, which would have been deserving of praise had they taken plant as Woolwigh.

THEATTHE.

Fusilier Guards, lat Battalton—A panie, equal to that which spread smong Napoleon's Emperial Guards 'at Waterloo, secred this battalion, stationed in Winchester, on Sunday last, the consequences of which were, forfun-ately, more ludicrous than injurious. It seems that they were attending divine service in the leaby of the county hull .--

"Their custom always in the aftern and the Chaplain had just delivered his text-" Why stand we in jeopardy every hour," when a door leading from the vanils under the Crown Court suddenly opened with a violence that prestrated a tall Sujeant standing near it, and a forth covered with dust and soot, and quite as appailing to the Military congregation as that which " drew Pram's curtain in the dead of night" stood before them bellowing, gs well as freght and ashes would allow him, cut for your lives, cut for your lives. At thege appaling words, and on looking at the spectre who uttered them, a universal paner seized Officers, non-commissioned Officers, and privates. "Same qui peut" became the order of the day wild a most transaction made and made to the the day, and a most tremendous rush was made to the only nutlet to the place. All distinctions of rank and subordinate were for the time lost, and Officers were overturned and frampled ou with as little consideration as Drummer-boys. The fright was fully perticipated in by the Reverend Chaplain himself, who threw off his surplice, jumped over the front of the pulpit into the hall, and jumped over the front of the pulpit into the hall, and fought his way to the deer with a vigour that aboved his apprehensions to be aqual to those of his congregation. Fortunately, all gained the outside of the building without loss of life or limb, the only danger sustained being some few bruises and torn regimentale. It appeared the hubbub was caused by some triding derangement of the hot-water apparatus that warms the building, and which was caused by the instantian of the attendent the master whose apparatus that warms-the building, and which was eaused by the inattention of the attendant, the spectre, whose audden appearance said ominous warning wa have before alluded to. We understand that it is next to impossible that my very serious mighleut can arise from the apparatus in question; and it is small necessary that it should be me, as an accident and a panjo such as that of disaday last, happening at an Assissa, with a crowded Court, would be a very serious matter.—Manyschire Independent.

lit Foot-Lieut. Col. Bell has arrived in town, from Gibraitar, and proceeding to Quebea to take command of his old corps: they will up on to the West Indian on the opening of the navigation of the St. Lewrence.

2nd—This corps in undergoders for Bausbay and Paona.

Lieut. Tobin has legge to Calcutta to Sist May.

3d—Lieut, Browner has leave to Culcutta to cippear fore a Board of Manifest Officers, Capt, Cunyaguane nefore a Board of Maghical Officers. Capt. Cunyaghane has leave to England for one your.

7th Fusilises—Capt. Eir W. O'Malley, late of this regiment, has acrived from Gibraltar.

10th—Lieut. the Rion. P. F. Lysaght has leave to Moulmein and Agracus, on medical certificate; and Englishment and Agracus, in medical certificate; and Englishment to Educate Hashing has leave to Calcutta, to appear before a Medical Begind.

' 18th—Capts. Kengledy and Call have 2 years' jeuve to Espland on Mudical Cortificate.

20th. The detachment ordered to proceed to Join the service-ces. will emberk at Portsmouth, on board the Prince George transport, about the 15th or 18th inst., for lier must.

21st — Colonel G. W. Walker (Major General), in the Bast Indies, died at St. Thomas's Mount, of spacemotic tholors, on the 4th Dec. last. He had been 45 years in the Service, and all the time on full-pay. He was present at the siege of Agra and battle of Lauswarree, in 1803; the siege of Bhurtpere, in 1805; and campaigns of Lord Lake; slee at the siege of Hatrans; and at the siege of Kaloongs, under Major-General Sir R. R. Gillespie, who was there killed.

22d-Lieut. Stopford has arrived from India, on leave

23d—Lieut. Stopford has arrived from India, so leave for Tyears.

26th—Capt. Layard acrived this week from India.

28th—This corps has moved to Poons.

28th—This corps has the himself in the harracks at the recommentation of a Medical Board.

22d—A goldler shot himself in the harracks at St.

Elmo, on Wednesday evaning last, about half-past 6 o'clock. Although a number of soldiers were present in the room, this unfortunate man, By name Charles M'Swinning, only 24 years of age, contrived to clarical his purpose without being observed, by placing the batt of his musket firmly on the ground, and with the mussle close under his chip, the being in a standing position, with his foot he touched the trigger. The ball passed through the roof of his mouth, carrying away itset of the brain and the whole of his forehead, and he fell deed in an instant, a horrid spectacle to beliefd. No one was hear him, not did any one see the act teelf, which was only known by the report of the axplosion; the musket was found leading against the wall, close to which the deflaced goest have been atending when he sometited the soldiers in the room had thrown a tunder at the Berjeant, but it could not be found out who beaminted this acricha necessar. The next dev a strict inquire into the fact was but it sould not be found out who committed this serious outrage. The next day a strict inquiry into the fact was made by the Officer of the company; and the other then, in miles to exemente themselves from such as act of issubordination, fixed it upon Mississims with almost a cortilaty. Built, as there was not positive proof against him, no proceedings were as yet taken significant him. It is supposed that the fear of the punishment and disgraps, which fif he were really guilty) must have followed the orime, operated so strongly upon the single him being generally a will-conducted man, as he single him to the drading act of, suicide, to the knifer of the News one guilting General.

3 the Knifer of the News one guilting General. but it could not be found out who committed this a

To the Editor of the Navel on Spilling Spirits, and, another signed "At," in your Paper of the Esth January, reflecting with great bitterness on the conduct of the 44th Regiment and its gallant Chief, I chief from your fhands that strict impartiality which you always have professed, and beg you will give insertion to this letter. Your correspondent says that the 44th Regt, is only known as its having failed in the West—at New Orleans, and in the Est—at Afghandstan. Assertion best Badajoz, Selamanca, Quatre-Bras, and Westley, has 49.5

familiar to the British Army than New Orleans, th they may be so perhaps to the Company's? but even then, Bladensburgh should not be overlooked. Is it not named and angentrous to go hack to what person at an instant and angentrous to go hack to what person at New Orleans nearly 30 years ago, and to bring before the public again an occurrence metally, if not entirely, attributable to the Officer in consecute of the 44th Regiment at the time! How hose New Orleans affect the question of the recent disenters in Cabal, except that it enables your excrespondant of specials, Company's Officer—to of the recent disesters, in Cabel, except that it enables your correspondent it quactude a Company's Officer—to show his unpouquerable feetings of dislike and jestousy toward the Queen's Army, and is detract from the merits of the finest croops the burd ever new—I mean the Peninular Army. Without any wish to detract from the merits of the Company's Officers, or to undervalue them, I must say I would rether take Column Shelton's version of the Cabal selfair then that of any other person. Many reare have clapsed since I was the lefth Regiment. Col. Shelton I have seno once, and there is only one Officer of the regiment that Lain acquainted with. On the bad the regiment that Lain acquainted with. On the had taste of your correspondent in writicising the speech of Gameral Pakesham, there cannot be two opinions amongst Military men ; and equal fealt might be found by him in maintary men, and equal reus magns or sound by mm in the two Commenders in Chief, in giving all the promotion in the 44th Regiment as vacancies have occurred ever since Cabpil. Colonal Shalton's was a manly and a gentlement spaceth, replace with good feeling, alike orgalizable to his head and hearth but his having told the plain truth, that the Sanara as absent both in the Sanara as a share in the Sanara as a share with the set of Sanara as a sanara as a share with the set of Sanara as a sanara as a sanara as a share with the set of Sanara as a sanara a sanara as a that the Sepoys as shown both by Lady Sale and Lieut. Byrs were useless, and that to the 44th Regiment was left the arduous task of commending against a numerous and barbarous same of companing against a numerous and barbarous success, appears to have elimited from your correspondent those renourous feelings against the noble Shelton and his gellant, regiment. Vegue assertions are me proofs, and we have none that the 44th Regiment were inferior to any of the other regiments. If a gallant Peer and a General in that Army is to be believed, no regiment and a listeral in that Army is to be believed, no regiment was in a worse state than that he oues commanded; and yet how, well they fought, and how nobly they behaved! Let joulousy and had feeling, he allowed to subside. Cabu: was fraught with disester and misery. The feelings of the relatives of those who felt might well be spared; and it would be batter, instead of faming the flame or opening the sore, to amother unkind and angry feelings, and bind up the wounds with mollifeing circumstr. I dule approximate the superior of the sore of the superior of the sore of the superior of the sore of the sor up the wounds with mollifying cintment. I duly appreciate the great corvices of the Indian Army, but I cannot forget the still greater ones of the Royal Army; and centuries must elapse, and fresh generations of men exist, before the former can solipse the great and glorious deeds of the latter. A QUEEN'S OFFICER.

February &.

To the Editor of the Naval and Milliery Gazette.

Six,-In your Gazette for Saturday the 3rd, I peresived a letter signed Fair-play on the subject of the conduct of the 44th at Cabul. Without denying the tribute to bravery, and awarding "honour to whom bonour is due," will your Correspondent have the goodness to fevour us with his comments, or rather explain away, if he can, the following rather unfavourable passage in reference to the conduct of the 44th. It cocers sege movement to the conduct of the sath. 12 occurs the page 90, in Lady Sale's Journal, and runs thus:—
Major Scott in vain tried to rally the 44th: excited to tegre; he called to rolunteers to follow him, when a private, named Shart, was the the only man who offered to go, and for which, was the the endy man was offered to go, and for which, on its reaching the Envoy's notice, to go, and for which, on its reasons the knows in notice, he wat, by Sir William's sermest entreaty to Shelton, promoted Sergeant;" again at p. 92, "When the 44th turnel and fact to sky;" and at p. 182, "On Shelton's asking Capit. Troup if he did not think the 44th had behaved nobly, "that: Officer plainly told him he considered all had beliaved shamefully." A similar occurrence p. 158; here is one disgraceful instance of cowardise.

'in Transpar of the enemy," from the many others.

Perhaps, your Correspondent Fair-play will emplain the reason.

A SOLDIER OF WATERLOO. Fat. 24. 1844.

43th —2d or Beterre Batt. See bur last.—(From a Cor-teppindent,)—Gibraitar, Jan. 27.—The Reserve Bat., a new command of Maj. W. H. Butler, embarked on board respirition. — Gibrature, Jan. 27.— In a reserve pair, and command of Maj. W. H. Butler, embarked on board M.M. e.S. Apollo, at Cove, on Tuesday the 9th inst., and salled at 4 r.M., en Friday the 12th, and after an unprecedented short passage, landed at Gibraltar on Friday afternoon, the 13th, and were most minutely inspected by Gaingel Sir Robert Wilson, in the Almada, at 3 r.m., on Sanday, while his Governor expressed to the Commanding Officer his most unqualified approbation of the minutely inspection. manding Officer his most unqualified approbation of the appearance, uniformity, and steadings of the Battalion. The Raginest marched past in along and quick time, and filed by companies in succession for his Excellency's inspection. The Battalion are to move into the Town Range Bartacks, on Monday, the 29th, vacated by the 38th Regiment, ardered to occupy the Casemate Barracks, just vacated by the 18th, which Regiment sailed in the deliberated by the 18th, which Regiment sailed in the deliberated by the 18th, which Regiment sailed in the deliberated by the 18th, which Regiment sailed in the deliberated by the 18th, which Regiment sailed in the 18th and 18th and 45th Depot.—Arrived in the steam-packet Albert, on the prisones of so many of the filters of Book daughters in instant, from Cord. t, from Cork.

48th—(See 45th). Paym. Penningthe remains at Gibbraiter, on sick laws.

RL Marines-Lieut. Col. Swale has been temporari Rl. Marinas—Lieut. Col. Swale has been temporarily appeinted to the Plymouth division, to sagint in the Pint Officer's duty.—A highly-ornamented cilver salver, weighing 176 ounces, has been presented to Dr. Parkin, on his retirement. The salver beers the following inteription: "To Dr. Parkin, Royal Navy, F.R., C.S.E., Deputy-Inapector of Hospitals and Fleets; by a body of Officers who had the pleasure of sessing with him, while for a period of twenty-one years he hald the appointment of Surgeon to the Woodwich Division of Marines, presented on his retiring from the Service as a token of their high respect and attentions. But January, 1844." Dr. Parkin has been for fifty years associated, and for 21 years identified with the corps.

Parkin has been for fifty years associated, and for 21 years identified with the corps.

RI. Marine Artilley—At bend-quarters, Portsmouth—Lt.-Col. Menzies, K.H., Commanding; Capts, J. H., Stevens, Henry; and Wesley; 1st Lieut. and Adj. Savinge; 2d Lieuts. Barnard and Hall; Assleamt-Surgeon Simmic; 1 Serjeant-Major, 9 Serjeants, 3 Corporais, 4 Bombardiers, 7 Drummers, and 116 Gusbers. Embarked in H.M. s ships—4 1st Lieuts, 1 2d Lieuts, 6 Serjeants, 11 Corporais, 3 Bombardiers, and 156 Gunners. Serving in Ireland—1 Brevet-Major, 5 1st Lieuts, 6 Serjeants, 7 Corporais, 2 Bumbardiers, 2 Drummers, and 60 Gunners. and 60 Gunners.

... With reference to the lete affair at Newry (see N. & M. Gazette of 27th nlt.), we have great satisfaction in stating that Eusign Noel was not included in the reprimand, but, on the centrary, he received commendation for his conduct. The Lieut.-General Commending in Ireland pronounced, "That throughout the whole affair Eusign Noel behaved himself in the most praiseworthy and becoming manner."

worthy and necoming manner."

55th.—Sickness continued very prevalent, and H.M.'s

55th is represented to have suffered very much; and the said that sending the regt. on heard ship for a change had not been attended with the good hoped for, as many new cases had occurred on board, and as many deaths as who the regt. was on shore.—Macae, 30th Sept. 57th—Lieut. Hunt has leave to England for 2 years. many deaths as when 57th—Lieut. Hunt has leave to England for 2 years.

59th—Ensign William A. Murray Prior, who met with a melancholy accident while out wild-fewl shooting, the gun exploding and lacerating his thigh, died at Portamouth on Monday, 5th inst., of Lockjaw, and was interred in the Garrison Chapel of that piace, with Military honours, on the 8th inst. A great number of Naval and Military Officers attended the functal.

60th 2d Ret Deportment lant Wardenton ordered a de-

60th, 2d Bat, Depot-Lieut. Warburton ordered a detachment of his men out of Monaghan chapel, on Sund se'ennight, when the Priest began to offer up prayers for O'Connell and the other Repeal traversers on trial.

64th—This regiment had new colours presented to it on the lat inst. by Lleut.-General Sir Richard Bourks, K.C.B., Colonel of the regiment, who arrived at Weedon the evening previous. The weather fortunately proved favourable, and a great number of ladies and gentlomes were assembled to view the imposing swemouy. The gallant General arrived on the ground at 12 o'clock, and was received with a salute from the Line, which afterwards formed three sides of a square, having the new colears in the centre. The Rev. J. H. Hunt, the Viens of Weeden, performed the office of consecration, and delivered a most elequent and impressive discourse. The Lieut.-General then presented the new colours in due form, and addressed the regiment in a most admirable and gonpilmentary speech, to which Lieut. Col. Stretton made a subable reply on behalf of the regiment. Three hearty cheers were then given for her Majesty the Queen, in which the numerous spectators most cordially joined. The regiment afterwards marched past and performed several movesents. The General visited the school, hospital, library, Sc. and saw the men's dinners. The messes were most liberally supplied by the Officers of the regiment with good old English obser, and a sufficiency of John Barky-corn to wet the new colours. The Officers entertained a numerous party of indicayand gentiemen assembled on the numerous party of ladies and gentlemen assumment on the ground, with a most elegant collation in their mean-roots and the gallant General honoured the mean with his presence at dinner. The Serjeants had a tiell suit suppose the following evening in their species most room. on the following evening in their spacious mess-room, which was gully and appropriately designed with Mili-tary trophics, which had as imposing store.

tary tropasse, which had an imposing strop.

75th—On Friday evening, the 2d inst., the Officers of the 75th gave a grand hall and supper to about 280 of the nobility and gentry of Hymouth and its neighbourhood, in the splendid hall-ready of the Royal Botel, Plymouth, which presented a more brillipat seems than has ever been recallected there before—a notice that will long hold a in the splendid ball-room of the Royal Hotel, Plymonth, which presented a more brilliant scene than has ever been recallected there before a name that will long hold a understaing exertion in the comfort of the soldier is most place in the memory of all who half the honour of Jorge presenentity.

Ing one in it, and thought of a six synching analysis of its honour of Jorge presenents.

Society and Colonial. Intelligence, each of the present of the property of in the extreme distribute how looked truth and their greets.

We will be the color of the property of the prope

The grand statement was two firelocks, with their beyonate count; on each step were two firelocks, with their beyonate fixed, and a lighted was condict to each; and every one on missing the hall was immediately struck with the northly and brilliancy of these deadly weapons when converted into creaments. The buildream was most brilliantly lighted and tratefully decorated with wreaths of year growns and flowers and the very manual of the fath Regiment, with draws and warlke interpreted a fath Regiment, with draws and warlke interpreted a warded by the good eactinets, presented of the father a Isth Regiment, with drawn and warlike interminents, presented or the pro-sentinels, presented or the principle is besuifful as well in a very imposing effect, and presented raid for the arringument. The oranders was formed by their aid for the arringument. The conditions was formed by their was oranded by their was of the present of the Royal Marines. Ind by Mrs. Hope have. It do not be sentiful quadrille beart of the Royal Marines, and by Mrs. Hope have it is a sentiment of the party in the resemblage was conquested to partitle of a most spokeroke repeat. The tables were arranged to appear module resemblage was conquested to party at one time, and presented every luxury and delicacy of the segment. No trouble or expense had been spored, and the style of the whole was sampluous and elegent in the apternation. No trouble or experies had been spared, and that style of the whole was nemptuous and slegant in the style of the whole was nemptuous and slegant in the state states. Champages and sther could wines in abundance—and the decorations of the tables were in the first of tents. We particularly notions the Tiger—the distinguishing heave of the regiment—displaying his glosey stripes smooth the fellow and next, and prenounced the feet exceeding the fellow and next exceeding the fellow mid next leventy with greater appearable to have been unequalled him. Dancing man required after suppose with greater apicit them before, if penalths, and continued most layeasty till, the hour of five, when all bade good night to their gallant hosts, highly pleased and gratified with the delightful evening they had enjoyed.

Colonal Sir Richard England, K.C.B., came from Canterbury for the purpose of accopting an invitation to the Ball, and of visiting the reguent, of which he hid, so long held the companed; and the reception he mat with from the corps fully proved how well the worth of this gallant soldier was appreciated by them.

78th—The left wing has removed from Bombay to Kurraches.

86th. This corps is under orders for Sainde. E. R. Stuart died on march between Dhoome and Punwar.

91st—This gallant corpe, stationed at Graham setown, Capa of Good Hope, under the command of Lient.-Col.

Lindsay, was reviewed by the Lient.-Governor on 30th Oct., and went through their exercises to the entire satis-Coc., and west tarrings their exercises to the entire satisfication of Col. Hare, K.H., the Lieut.-Governor of the Eastern District. The gallant Colonel afterwards proceeded to Fort England, and inspected the messes and harracks, with all of which, and the excellent appearance of the men dusing the day, he expressed himself highly antisfied. In the svening the Liquit-Governor dined with the Officers, and many pleasant source reminded them all of their netive land.

92d—20 Officers and 540 mas, on board Java troopship, arrived at Portamouth from the West Indies on the 4th instant, and proceeded on Toppday to Leith.

98th—Capt. Riferton has two years leave to England on Medical Certificate.

A Court of Luquiry, consisting of five Officers, has been A Court of Luquiry, consisting of two Officers, has been althing to investigate an outrage committed on 28th January by some soldiers of the 31st, 58th, 62d, and Rl. Marings, at the Swan public-human, Chatham; and the Commandant, Sir Thomas Wilishine, has issued in order to the Commanding Officers of the several corps to penish the men as they may see proper, regimentally.

The Cascanent Barracks at Brownston, Chatham, which has been used for several corps to penish the men as they may see proper.

The Casement Barracks at Brompton, Chatham, which have been used for some years as the store-plans for powder, have been ordered to be fitted up for the reception of troops. Workmen have been thally employed in removing the powder, and the barracks are sow undergoing considerable alterations, and overy expedition is used to get them ready as early as possible. These barracks are largeded principally for the exceptation of the invalid solutions from India, the under measurement of Fort Pitt Establishment being found to be very unleading, and therefore will be shut up. Fort Pitt Man year long condemned, both by Officers and men, and when wait was only studied as fort to protect the Modway Street. The alteration of the casements at Brompton will afford additional accommodation for upwards of 800 mas, consequently they will be expensions at Brompton will afford additional accommodation for apwards of 800 mas, consequently they will be livelished for some, of the Provisional Battation making room in Chatham Servedue, which is much required, as the Batrack-rooms now are interventially broaded with restains, who are posting in daily for the regiments now stational in India. These additions will add considerably.

This distinguished Officer took an honourable part in the compaigns of the Empire. In 1792, he surviled him-self in a pattellon of volunteers: seven years afterwards the compaigns of the Empire. In 1792, he survilled himself in a battalion of valuateers: seven years afterwards he was figured. In 1803, he was appointed General of Division. This rapid advancement was the reward of his activity in several Military operations with our Arasise heyond the Rhimas. He fought at Jens and at Friedhald, where he rendered important services, particularly in the former field, where he contributed to the defeat of the Frience of Wartengberg, who commanded the Oth Corpe of Arasic in Again. Amongst the superson he obtained, he forced the British General Hill to retreat to the walls of Lisbon, and overled by assault the ool de Aforga, notwithstanding. It was vigorously defended by the Spanissia. In July, 1813, he was one of the Lieutesapte of Marchal Boult; and when the British Army invested the South, Expanished at all the affairs with the Pulce of Wallington, with Robbin at the battle of Topiquae. After the first restoration, he presided at the first Council of War, which sequited Excelmans, who was necessary of having corresponded with Murat, ex-King of Naples. After the 30th March he was named Poer of France by Nagolean, who intrusted him with the command of the first Corps of Armés, at the head of which he performed prodigies of valour as Rieurga and Waterlov, which were, unforemately, unclease, He afterbards assumed the command of the right wing on the Army, under the walls of nforemately, unclean, his afterwards assumed the pummand of the right wing on the Army, under the walls of Paris, and retrogged, after the aspitulation of that capital, behind the Loise. For this remon he was persecuted, and behind the Loise. For this remon he was personted, and called by the Government of the Restoration.

General Merimans with releations rigour the remains of the herois generation of the empire. The tomb of Mershal Drougt D'Erion is sourcely closed, when the country has to deplore a still more mouraful loss. The fatthful friend of the Empire. The companion of his labours and long exile Empires, the companion of his labours and long exile, figures the fatthful friend of the Empire.

Betternit, acrong as a National Guard, on the fifth of August. 1792, joined as a National Guard, on the fifth of August. 1792, joined as a National Guard, on the 19th of August, 1793, julied a battalien voluntarily marching to the Tutleries to protect the King. He shortly afterwards entered the corps of Engineers, rapidly rose to emineuce, accompanied the expedition to Egypt, where he fortified several places, deserved the confidence of the General-in-Chief, Bungparte, and received almost at the same time the Brevets of Lieutopant-Colonel, Colonel, 2nd General of Brigade. After the battle of Augerlita, where General Beytrend governd himself with glory, Napolson took him as one of his Aidesdescrip. He equally distinguished himself at Spandau. at Friedland, but particularly at the construction of the bridges on the Danshe detined to facilitate the passage of the French Army advancing on Western. That converge, and the employee of Russie, placed his talent and courses to so consesses a light, that the Emperor named him Grand Marshal of the Paisce, after the named him Grand Marshal or the amount were as death of Marshal Duroc. His achievements were as sustained a check at the passage of the Elbe against Blucker, it must be ascribed to the fortune of our bridge of the buttle of linear, which was beginning to waver. It was liertrand, however, who protected one retreat afters the bloody battle of Leipsia, by seising on Weissenfeld and the bridge of the Saalh. His services were not less important after the buttle of Hanan. On those two occu-stone, and in circumstances which followed the departure of the Emperor for Paris, Count Bertrand displayed the greatest sativity in saving the remnants of the Army, and generally saw his plans and efforts crowned with all the success which it was possible to espect amidat so many disastrous events. On his return to Luris in 1814, General Bertrand was appointed Deputy Major General of the National Guard, fought throughout the campaign of France, so as fluishing by its sucresses and reverses, and followed Napoleon to the island of Etha. Having returned with the Emperor on the 20th Murch, he served him with his wanted devatedness. Subsequently to the fatal day of Watering he never quitted him : he accommuniced him in his last exile, shared and southed his misfortintes, and only returned to France when he had received his fast Breath. General Bertrand haited with happiness the revolution of July, and the triumph of the national colours. illustrated by so many victories. It was with a deep emotion that ten years later he saluted the return of the ashin of the Emperor, brought back across the ocean by the Prince de Jouville, and that he beheld France paying the France of Seneral Bertraid was associated in that?

The fame of General Bertraid was associated in that?

homega to the name of the Emperor, as the name of the Emperor, as the name of the Emperor. model of honour and fidelity. It will remain united to it in future ages. History had seldom to record so plans a devotion, so inmovable a fidelity, so pure and noble a memory. It was not enough to have illustrated filmed by his own labours, and the services he had rendered his country—Bertrand, by the worship he dented to genius and misfortune, has alerated binacel to the high regions in which the glory of Napoleon sours—that glory will save him from oblivion." The funeral took place at Chitesurous, with every pomp of circumstance.

Sweden.-Letters from Stockholm, dated January 25, bring intelligence of the King of Sweden having had a fit of apoplaxy. His Majesty, who has nearly completed his first year, was engaged in business with his Franco Mi-nister until helf-past 9 o'clock on the night of the 24th. At 6 o'clock in the morning of the 25th he rang his bell, and on the entrance of the valet the King was unable to speak. On the morning of the 25th the members of the council of State, the Governor of Stockholm, and other high official personages, assembled at the Palace. We rejoice to say that according to the latest bulletin, the King was recovering. The opening of a vein was followed by the most satisfactory symptoms. It appears that the King had never before been bled, having in all his provious indispositions objected to the operation. In the present in-stance, the medical attendants having declared it to be necessary, the King was bled, with the consent of the Crown Prince.

Crown Prince.

SPALN.—Another Insurrection.—Advices from Madrid, which extend to the lat inst, state that the evening helium, at eleven, the President of the Council, M. Conzales Bravo, on receiving a message, hastened to the l'home Office, where an extraordinary Council was held. Dispatches were then submitted to the Ministers, announcing the insurrection of Alicante, and the installation of a Junta in that town. The Ministry immediately adopted energetic and most serious measures. Numerous across were forthwith proceeded to, and smong the perthe Chamber of Deputies, Manuel Cortine and Passual the Chamber of Deputies, Manuel Cortins and Passual Madoz, and their colleagues, Garnica, Verda y Pesez, J. B. Alongo, and Garredo. They had all been temporarily convened to the Caral de Corte. The whole garrieon was under arms, and during the night all the posts had been doubled. A column of troops had also left the capital in water to proceed by forward manufact to Walanda and and the Caralla and and a column of troops had also left the capital in order to proceed by forced marches to Valencia and reinforce the troops stationed in that province. Various other measures have been resorted to by the Government, which had abstained as much as possible from publishing the details of the insurrection at Alicante-

Intelligence was received at Paris on Saturday, 3rd inst., that the Infanta Louisa Carlotta, consort of Don Francisco de Paula of Spain, had died at Madrid. This lady, who for some years past has had a considerable hare of influence in the affeirs of Spain, was the sister of the present King of Naples and of Queen Christina, and was born Oct. 24, 1804.

Queen Christina has intimated her intention of entering Spain by way of Barcelons and Valencia. She is expected in Madrid before the end of February.

EGYPT.—Alexandria, January 24.—His Excellency Boghos Youssout Bey, Minister of Foreign Assirs and of Commerce to Mahammed All, Vicarcy of Egypt, died in the afternoon of the 10th instant, at the age of about 71. He had been all for several days, but one would have been led to supplish that he did not care about recovering, as he would not receive his doctor when most required, nor would be attend to his prescriptions. His funeral took place on the following day, attended by the majority of the European residents at Alexandria, and the Consuls. The ceremony was, however, very simple, there being no guard of honour ner any display whatever to denote the high rank of the deceased, and not a single Turk was present, although Boghos Bey was considered the highest person in Egypt after Mahommed Ali and his family.

OLDENBURG, Jan. 27.—A most afflicting for has most enexpectedly fallen on the Grand Ducal family and the whole country. This afternoon, at four o'clock, the Grand Duchess expired, after a short but severe illness, is consequence of her accouchement. H.B.H. was a daughter of the late King of Sweden, Gustavus IV. She was born June 22, 1807, and married the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, May 5, 1831.

RAMBLES ALONG THE STYR. a (Continued from No. 277, p. 244)
"I BELIEVE, Colonel Havresack, you are lately from the opposite bank," said Captain Blazzaway, an old Minthe opposite same, said Captain places way, an oil Make den Officer, "and can, I dare say, give me some information on a point that interests me desply; the new hat which (it is whispered here) is about to adorn the craniums of the British Infantry. It will be a cooked one, I hope; and in the re-adoption of that admirable head-gear, I half with her the first appropriate affairable head-gear. with joy the first symptoms of a return of a most becoming and convenient style of dress which, I am told, has been so unaccountably discontinued for many years, and in times when, above all others, it was most desirable that it should exist in all its glories; I mean the period of (what I have heard termed) the great struggle in the Peninsula.

May leask," said Ned Havrosack, " what kind of contume you allude to :"

"What kind of coxtume Sir? Why, what kind can I possibly allude to but that which we were in the glorious I possibly allow to but that which we were us one grorous days of Minden? In that bloody battle I got my quietus by a bepound shot, and a speedy passage hither. Yes, Sir, in those days we did dress and look like soldiers; and so beautifully tight were our leather inexpressibles made.

that it required the assistance of my servant and another that it required the assistance of my servant and assettion man of my company to pull them on, and an equal degree of force to drag them off again. Then, Sir, over a head of hair well greased and powdered, and tied so tight at the back of the head, that I have often seen many eyes start out of their sackats, was placed a large cocked-het, put on square to the front. There are men, Calonal Harranack, in all communities and in all professions, ever prone to find fault; and I have heard maintain accompanie agreement the of the resimful pales in complain somewhat impatiently of the painful pokes in the eyes which they presided from the nats of the men on their right and left hand; and I have known instances on their right and left hand; and I have known instances also of eyes being fairly punched out thereby; but no reasonable being would condemn so extremely convenient and comfortable a hand-dress for each trifling reasona. What could have induced she Duke of Wellington to allow his men to throw aside also long block gaiters, thickly studded with gift buttons (the putting on of which seldom occupied monajthan twelve minutes) and to substitute for them those gife, ugly, uncomfortable, inconvenient, unsoldier-like loose trousers? I am somewhat incredulous, Colonel Thurspacek (accuse me for aurine so) nient, unsoldier-like hosek trousers? I am somewhet incredulous, Colonel Hangeson (excuse me for saying so) and cannot place implicit raliance on the thousand-and-one stories I have heard related by massengers who arrived here hearly shiring the Penisular contest. Pray, let me sak you, if the Bench had also become so degenerate as to give up westing cocked-hats, tight shorts, long gaiters, powder, pennsysts, and other ingredients, so indispensably necessary to the efficiency and high discipline of an Army?"

Deginerate or next a suithout such mattern, and tranhle-sid contrive to est on suithout such mattern, and tranhle-of an Army?"

"Degenerate or neat," replied Havresack, "the French did conteive to get an mithout such matters, and treathle-some enatomers we altern found them."

"Then, Sir, the singular is at once explained," said the Minden veturar, "for had the French study to their original style of dress, the lightest Army must isovitably have been driven with ignorming their banners on the soil of Frence, as I am told they schully did."

"Adien, Captain Bissasway. Let us steell converses, and pray de tell me who those are in such serness conversation, examining the opposite bank with as much attention as if they contemplated throwing a pontoon-attention as if they contemplated throwing a pontoon-bridge across. I am certain I have seen some of them when on the other side of the Styr."—"To be sure you have, and likewise on the banks of the Tague, Guedlana, Douro, Torman, Ebro, Bidaeson, and a hundred ether rivers. They are British Officers who were in the Povrivers. They are not of whom drew immensely valuable prizes in the lottery, which gave them a lift of fifteen or twenty years at least; and sept them with a hop, skip and a jump over the heads of handreds of vaterans who and a jump over the heads of handreds of vaterans who thought proper to stick to the British Service, many of whom had been warring for years against this worst and most deadly of tropical climates before the war in the Peninsile commenced. Much credit, most in the due to them for putting into good folius a more rebble (for so the Portuguesa Arms was helpen Belish Office.) (for so the Portuguese Army was before British Officers organized it.), and for enabling it, when fighting in con-junction with its British Allies, to contend with the troops of France. I am not, however, one of those who go the whole hop, and like some of yonder group grassiy assert that the Portuguese troops were equal to the British! No, no, Ned; very few who served in those days will give

No, no, Ned; very few who served in those days will give much oredence to that; and you and I; who have had some experience in the Peninsular way, know the full value of sinch opinions."

"When in India, Harry, I've often heard the very same opinions expressed by Officers of the Company's Service, who pronounced the Sepoys quite as good soldiers as the British, and superior to them in some respects. I semember once putting a question to an Efficer of Sepoys II the following effect, and it merially puzzled him not a little to answer it:—'If you were ordered to attern the breach of a fortense, and to select five hundred method for the purpose, would you, if you had your choice, take five headered Sepoys, or five hundred British?'

"To this plain, intelligible, and simple question, I received only an evasive reply, in which the sobriety of the Sepoys and their obedience to this Officers were highly openwended and much dwelt one interesting are so now qualities are (and all Milliary men innesting are so) now.

commended and much dwalt one hit valuable as those qualities are (and all Milltary man throughful are so) nomething more is requisite for men to four their, way up a breach under a untriarous fire of grade, muching, and thing more a requirement fire of graph, manager, and breach under a marrierous fire of graph, manager, and hand granades? "Look, flarry, look! is not that hall granade be minaken."—"You're quite right, Ned; 'the his, an sure as siggs are eggs; and I've agreat notion his has receively been ferried across. I never could clearly aspectain why till a same was given him by his old comrades. Some are insitined to think it was in consequence of the graph number of Frenchmen annihilated in various battless by his histolies; and others attribute the appellation to his own institutes in every campaign, and recruited again with desprising manifety."

"Ay; they were real resurrection boys; alike its way, and rejoining their buildion the ment."

"There's Jack Beargraen, or my name's not Havrenck. Let us join him and essectain how long he has been on this side the river."

"Welcome amongst us, my dear Jack! You've been a long time coming, and almost all your Peninsular and Waterloo friends and courades are here before you.

What sent you seroes to us at lest?"

"Thereby hange a tale, Med; and you must allow me to tell it in my own way. You must know, then, that in spite of the rossting, teasting, grilling, and broiling, of West India and Spauleh laws, the trifling silments occuwest india and spanish mws, the triming sumeries some slaued thereby in the shiepe of yellow and other malignant fevers, agude, &a., &a., and the grape and mulestry of the Franch, I cantrived to hold on tolerably well on the other side the Siya, and I firmly believe I should on the other side the Siya, and I firmly believe I should on the other side the Siya. on the other side the figur, and I firmly believe I should have continued there some time longer, but for one untoward occurrence. I had been indisposed for some days, but my medicon assured me, in the most positive terms, that there was no organic disease, no irrequiar action or irritation of the neuralgic system, ne predisposition to obssity, that my make was regular, and beat 187 times only per minute, that the vertebral region was uninjured, that there was me splanetic affection, and that, is short, I should som be all right again. They did not mercular, success sutting me into the recomprise that, he more, a manage mean be all right again. They did, one meaning, suggest putting are late the mesmorio trance, and they talked also of applying entaplasms, to both of which I gave a positive rate. In this state of things my blockhood of a servant walked up to my bod-side, and gave me a printed drettlar from some confounded undertaker, the contents of which were to the following effect:

"That he continued to furnish funerals at extremely mederate prises, a list of which would be found underneath. An elegant codia covered with superfine cloth, de. d. decorated with superfice black farniture, containing an inner shell and lead-codin, woulded and lined with alls, with mattress and pillow, complete

A handsome ditto, covered with superfine cloth, de. d. 15 of A prespectable ditto, do. do.

2 10 of Messeyon, then, much wonder at my experiencing a sudden and serious relapse, and appearing here amongst my old and much-valued Peninsular and Waterloo companded." I took assessing and same to give nesitive directions. rades? I took aspacial good ages to give positive direc-tions about my funeral, and to insist on being interred in a respectable coffin, the cost of which was to be 2t. 10s. i but that the undertaker, who had been the cause of my being handed over so suddenly to Old Charon, should furnish neither coffin, nor anything connected with the funeral."

"Jack, Jack, you've not yet forgotten your old tricke; and this case of yours closely resembles a ficultious one and this case of yours closely resembles a ficilious one which, by some means or other, you contrived to have laid before an assemblege of Medico-chirurgical bigwigs at Estremos, soon after the storming of Badajoz. They vowed vengance against the concoctor of that comd case, so replete with misery and distress; and offered a large restard to any one who would bring the offender to light, but so wall did your emissary manage the business, that they could never make head or tail

"It's a true hill, Ned. I certainly pussled and excited the bile of the Medicos pretty considerably on that as well as on many ather occasions. I like to look back on those days; and we'll have a little discussion about them

(To be continued.)

Correspondence addressed to the Editor.

MAVAL RANK AND UNIFORM.
To the Retter of the Need and Military Genetic.
Sin.—Your able columns have so often expected the absurdity of moschant-seamen presenting to seame any part of the Naval Uniform, that my adverting to it may part of the Naval Uniform, that my adverting to it may appear a work of supercrogation; but such glaring instances of it have lately come under my observation, that I beg to state them. The asymptom of it, I submit, ought to be under his his to the asme penalty as hoisting a paginat, or wearing an emaign they are not entitled to; and if the power of preventing it does not exist, it should be appended as a "rider" to the Act.

payer of preventing it does not extet, it should be appended as a "rider" to the Act.

The matter of one of the Benlogue steamers (who styles himstelf Captain T. on a large, brase plate on his does"), always wears a bright Naval Captain's gold hand of inch-and-a-half wide lacu, and he is not the only one that does so; for even the spenterd, dr., sport Naval gold hands. News, on a Captain of the Navy (Sir Andrew Green) his one of the Directive of the Company the boats belong to, I am astonished he should allow it. If the wearing a gold hand cannot be prevented (though by the same rule they hand same to prevented (though by the same rule they hand same to prevented (though by the same rule they hand just at easily went the Captain's cost). I would suggest the following Naval cap: instead of a gold bend, Sc. hany the crown and menter emissoidered on the front, and in gold builtien tuft or tausel on the top; Captain and Costantinique the same, without the wreaths of lands of the Silerteenths, itc. the same, but the fast or tausel of the same in the top plate. Again, I beg in inflicants that exists of lands that the land of lands in discuss the Captain in the Novy should have some differ a gold lands. Again, I beg in inflicants that Captain in the Novy should have some differ a gold lands.

fallow is a Captain in our days); they should be all styled Commoderes, and all rank with full Colonets, and when mearing a broad pendant of the first class, Chief Commodores: and of the second class, Commanding Commodores. Commanders to be will called such, and to rank with Licot. Colonels (sutting the Navy on a per with the Marines, and having no rank of Major), wearing the crown on the epaulettes; and do away with the term Captains in the Navy altogether, leaving it for Master Mariners. Jan. 30.

A WOULD BE COMMODORE.

CLERES.—THE NAVAL REQUILATIONS.
To the Eigher of the Navel and Military Gunstin.
Sin,—On neveral points I agree with your correspent Marinero relative to Captain's Clerks i and if he ent Agermany relative to Captain's Claims; and it is con-positing the New Naval Regulations, they had been antitled to some increase of pay, after having passed their exami-nation for Pursers, and in the same manner as Mates are so entitled, it would have been but fair towards that usefel body of young men; but I cannot go quite so far at Marinera, when he states that " no (the Captain's Clerk is the person first referred to as possessing a thorough knowledge, and, therefore, most able to afford ready or montrage, and, therefore, most aut to make a ready as-planation on the first duties of the Service; "or that "he is the Captain's confidential adviser is all his correspond-ence, not unfrequently of a diplomatic nature."

A long experience in the Navy warrants me in saying that Marinero has made rather too sweeping an assertion an this head. If the long service of a Captain has not supplied him with antiliciat knowledge of "the first duties of the Service," I fear there are very few Captains' Clerks competent to advise him thereupon; and there are Officers in every ship much more likely to be of service is the Ceptain in such matters than his Clerk, who, narticularly in matters deploantique, cannot be supposed to be very well informed. I am glad to see that Marinero does not insist upon the epaulettes, but confines himself to insist upon the epaulettes, but confines himself to have of much more consequence to his prairies—an lease of much more consequence to his prairies—an lease of the lit was the intention of his head and entered to account passes (Clorks any, as Clorks in shargs, also your the intention of his being a stepping-stone to promotion. I do not now if this is closely advered to.

Bromyard, Fcb. 4. RANK WITH EFAULETTES.

(We have another etter, dated the 2d. from "Rank with Epaulettes," replying to the letters signed Justice and Fairplay, and a Commonder on Maif pay, but as it contains allusions little calculated to allay excitement on the one hand, or to amend the public feeling respecting rank and consultetes on the other, we think we shall be exercising a epaulettes on the other, we think we shall be exercising a proper degree of Editorial authority in giving insertion to the above only.—ID.]

M S. ALBION.

I.M.S. ALBION.

To the Editor of the Naral and Military Gasette.

SIR,—I have with freat attention read and learned dil I could upon the salect of this noble ship, up to the latest date, and have come to a firm conviction, that die it was with Vanguald and Queen, so it is with Albien I Whoedoes not remember the falsehoods propagated when these superb ships were commissioned? All this blind prejudice could invent was circulated, and, strange to say, the then reports began yet gely in the same way as now, viz., "that those ships were coming down like lighters, would never carry their lower lock ports the proper height from the water, that their loss lights for sea were quite different to their constructors' calculations—in fact, that they would be all wrong, and failures. These, and a hundred other equally wise and fiberal reports were circulated—we sit know hose they were faitilled. P squeen's midship-pouts were? feet from the water, and is half a gale she was able to carry her lower-dock game report, with perfect case and fit for battle; when Bellevellon was compelled to close her lower ports, her stability, wastherliness and speed were are great, and apperion to any vessel with which she ever tright. All these are facts which her Captain, the present Admiral Bouverie, has recorded and can testify to, as also Sir Thomas Pellowas, her Second Commander, and leastly. Sir David Dunn her the Captain. M. Oness. Admiral Bouvecie, has recorded and can testify to, as also Sir Thomas Pellowes, her Second Communier, and lastly. Sir David Duan, her fath Captain. Of Queen, I believe in the Mediterranean there is but one opinion as to her fine qualities as affect bailer and fine man-of-war, having beaten all the two docked ships she tried with, and the Admiral, Sir Edward Owan, having reported most highly of her. All these forts, then, should prepare us to reache with extreme souths the testion reports of contained about Albiens why, every him their fire William Symbols has built has run the same reinstell of abuse—all in their turn have "failed j" and sally, if we did not know better, we might suppose he had built nothing but vessels fit for transports it.

But now for nome faceal. After all the outers about transports? But now for some facts. After all the outery about lowness of lower-deck werth failure, he., due, what some out? Why, that all the correspondents are obliged already to qualify most materially hade reports, to wit; "The reports have been much employed; to wit; "The reports have been much employed; he was likely nor all, when she started firms by materings, were it was seven inches from the much a florating Herald. Virginial Admitting likely are all and hardly the posted to do. If her part state are a lacked to do.

the weter, the metantes of her gene will be at loss from a sighteen to twenty inches higher, thus bridging her guns a clear eight feat from the water; for the half nort of mob a chep easanct he less than eighteen baches in height, I presence. Now, eight fest is pretty well, "I recken," for the midship guns on lever deck of such a ship; her guns fore and of will be much higher. On looking it official data, I find that the Reday and her class are religioused in Mr. Edys's Book of "Navel Architecture, Displacement," So. to carry their midship pasts seven feet from the water; fore, fight feet two inches; aft, eight feet two inches; leed line, forward, twenty-three first them inches; aft, twenty-four feet three inches i aft, eight feet two inches; leed line, forward, twenty-three first them water; fore, fight feet any, one thing is clear, that the cost of the calculations; what the cetual facts were in Research way to judge of the reaspenting merits of these two classes of ships is to send back out together, with one or two of the best enting $4.5, and them let up get, in a deathle or trable-needed topsall brights had lead ages, which ship then carries her lawar-dayle years the highest, is meet weatherly and steady; in Reot, which sould fight and sall the best under all christmanances. In my fore maind there reats no death, for I firmly believe Roday would have no charterly and steady; in Reot, which sould do nothing with Farguers, and her Giotair, lir.— Parker (now Admiral Parker, I hellevs.) have his highest testimony as to Farguers, and her Giotair, lir, ship carries her ports in Auriour or meeth water, the ship carries her ports in Auriour or meeth water, the her pitter, when her when the the test is not hew high a ship carries her ports in Auriour or meeth water, the the water, the unisales of her guns will be at least from hip carries her ports in Aurious or smooth make, but how when mader a press of sources and in a high sea; and the former might prove most inferior to the latter in that respect; and I suspect there are few Naval Office; who will not at some absentially admit that night feet in ample beight for the missibip guns of lower deck for any line-of-builte-ship in existence. What other matter in the world has any line-of-battle-ship carrying their lowerthe world has any line-of-battle-ship sarrying their lower-deak gams equally high I Mose that I know of, as you are likely to agree presently. With Albion's splendid beam and immesse stability. I believe she will be superior to any ship in the Service under canvas; but to show your needers how satisfy ridiculous all this repositing is, I give you, from an official document furnished by an American Naval Officer of high rank at their hard noder his name hand the haints of by an American Naval Officer of high rank at their Navy Board, under his own hand, the height of ports of their first class line of battle ships on two dacks, of their first class line-of-battle ships so two dacks, carrying 100 gues and 2600 tous barthan (American measurement—about 2800 Eaglish, I suppose). Ships, so North Carolino, Ohlo, Delaware, &c.: 2 Average height of lower-deak ports, anidship, from water, when ready for sea, 5 feet 5 inches; draught of water, load line, 24 feet, fore and aft; mean space batwace ports, 7 feet 5 inches; height between decks. 7 feet 16 inches. These ships carry long 42s, weighing 68 out. 3 qrs., on lower decks; long 32s, of 60 out., on middle dack; and 42-pounds; carronned of 24 out. 1 qr. on upper deck; and 42-pounds; her rather less than our $2s, as Rodney, but more beam in proportions, being the same within 4 inches. and senger in rather loss than our $2s, as Rodney, but more boan in preparties, being the same within 4 moles, or $4-33. Here, than, we have those boasted American two-deckers of largest salah, and so long cried up as pattern-ships for the world, proved, by their sun showing, inferior to our Rodney that; and how mode more so to Albien! Albion ! .

The American accordicians line-of-battle ships carry their lower midship posts only 6 feet from water, as Washington, Columbus, i.e., they are 2200 tons, 188 feet on lower dock, 51 feet 28 extreme breadth, and 22 feet 5 inches draught of water, mean; armament—32s of 60 out. on lower deck, medium 32s or middle 32s carronades on opper deck; guns, $6. Their first-class frightes, as Columbia, Cumberland, $60, carrytheir main-deck ports but 7 feet from water; they are $80 feet on main deck, entreme breachth, $6; dringst of water, 2) feet; tous, 2700, 7 feet between decks. entrems breadth. 46; draught of water, 2) feet; 10us, 1700; 7 feet between degins—as also are account-class line-of-battle. Their first-class corvettes of between 700 and 800 tons carry their porter and delines but 5 feet from water.

"These are no doubtful desprisons, but mothers of Jack while I hold in plain black and white under the hand o one of their highest Navas Officers, whose nume of give you.

I need hardly observe that the French have nothing equal to the Albion—their Bre-of-hattle ships are large, eavy, anwieldy-looking graft-shale former beauty has heavy, unwickly-looking and to their former heavy has passed away, they are how nearly wall-sided, like the American packets, and just god work heavily.

It really is most pittable to see the desparate nonsense which some people are tamped to write, and others to believe; there is in the Marning Herald of the 18th ultimo, a most absurde letter upon the subject of Allien, which, amongst other wise things? says, "An old Officer of the Navy (one whom sixty people says, "An old Officer of the Navy (one whom sixty people says, and an home and foreign deckyards, constitute in matherity) who watched Allien very minutely from Derit's Point, as the passed into the Bound, declares that, so fer as he has seen, he does not like her appearance as well as the does the Rodney, 92, like her appearance as wall as he does the Rodney, 92, and the Nile, of same class; and he considers those two chips superior to the Athion. Now, really, this is rather the bad,—as old Octogramming (for such he must marry be, having " seen sixty years' active service") whose prejudies appear shout as affong as he everght and judgment are weak, pretending to judge Albion's qualities by areing her pass into the Sound, and then coully compares her with two other ships with neither of which has she over been tried: the one, Medney, proved lurrall decidedly in-ferior to Fanguard, Ed, a ship built by the constructor of Roducy; and the other, Nie, has never been commis-sioned!! What, in the name of common some, could the ald grantenan air and know of Albion's qualities y But ald gentlemen size and fracts of Albien's qualities y But dean see him, with his given, and hear him grumbling at each look, and declaring "that such ships are inferior to the ships of his day—too large, overgrown, unfit to block—wite, its, its." How many old Diffuses do delight in such speeches, and set their flaces against BM improvement! Wall, wall, whatever he may think of untried Nice, and of Medicy, so often varioushed by Fanguard (both fine ships, no doubt,) his opinions shout Aldies are just worth "all." I have more soon this phip, but I have now her I have never seen this ship, but I have seen her model, and I confine I mover new a more exquisitely beautiful mould thus has appeared; which, if it gives not both good sailing and other good qualities, why, it is hard what will.

The American ships of the Hea all sail very heavily, and work 93.00

One fact I have health from an esteemed Naval frient, viz., that her height between stocks is not sufficient, being less than Reducy or Nike's, which he proved by actual management. New, this is to be greatly regretted, and I hope Sir William Symonds will avoid so serious as error hope the William Symethic will note no serious an error in all his succeeding chips of this clear. They out to the best in their, as are the Amerikans—in this respect alone, superior. It is most essential to have pleaty of height on all the fighting-decks, for working heavy mutal, as well as for health; this very defect is stated as "the regions why Addion has not the armament of her longs that the additional all through the state of the state of the longs." dock as originally intended, vis., long the all through. Now, her armanism is wated as the same as Rodney's, with two gens less? Blow is this 7-rather stacking fact, if true for the Albian is 500 tons larger than 2711. the Albiga is 560 tons larger than Nile class; and for what purpose, if not more powerful? The American 30s on their lawer and middle dooks carry o much heavier armament than here, (and there the battle will be fought,) though their upper deck is inferior; and they are 500 tous less. Surely, then, she ought to carry long 42s at least !! Her draught of water appears to be very near the constructor's calculations -- as near as such coloulations gonerally can be got at.

I would wish it remembered that I am no apologist for any proved foilings in this ship; by no ments; let any and all found be reatified in the next of her class. But it is surely must wrong and anitair to run down and condemn this noble ship, heford shoolas been fully and fairly tested, in all weathers and circumstances, with other reputed good an an weasure are circumstances, with other reputed good skips of a like slices. I cannot believe that the gellant constructor, with such success to Queen and Funguard, can fell, as report would vay be how, in Albion.

And now, basing thrown some light upon this most

And now having thrown some light upon this most prejudiced letter, I will take my leave of this proud daughter of Albian—" Albian," well named "Fride of the Seas;" and may many, many much as her, ene long be seen Boating on our waters, to guard our shores and carry terror to the foe!

THE INFANTRY HAT.

To the Righer of the Newd and Military Searcit.

Sizk,—I read in your Paper of the 27th ult., us the subject of the Infantry list, that a Pression Infantry Release had been deposited at the United Service Museum, and the comparison drawn between them appeared in favour of the latter. The circumstances under which the Helmet came to be lodged in that meritorious collection Majors came to be longed in that meritarious conjection would, I should hope be in the form of a "curionity." Buth it and the Hat are had enough, but, in my humble opinion, the Mat is the better of the two. Having seen the Pensainn Infantry in their new Molmat, I can assert that it looks very badly; and I am acquainted with some Infantry Officers in that Service who have deprecated it themselves most justly, and for one, among many other reasons, that the hind peak interiers so, much with the present system-both in Prussia and England-of rulling the great coat on the top of the puck, as to render neces eary the abglition of that practice. In England the great coat is solid to heavy-marching bedse; in Pruesis, in review order only:—now, in the latter order, it might be possible to aubmit to the incommences alluded to for purposes of review, but when it becomes a question of service, as in the marching order, the mane differs. With us, therefore, the Prussian Helmet, according to our present system of rolling the coat, would not snewer, unless we adopted also their mode of carrying the coat in heavymarching order, namely, horse-collar fashion, of en-

The French Infantry Cap is the best cap which I have agen, and the list would not be unlike it, had it a Military peak to the front only instead of the rim.—I am, &c. FRAN DIEMET.

To Readers and Correspondents.

"G. F. R." spriles-" Can you inform me when copy fautenings or copper for bottoms was first introduced into the Navy, as I find Naval Officers much at issue on this subject ?" - Copper sheathing was first tried upon a small frigate in 1758; but copper fastenings were not adopted at the same time, nor until the spil effects arising from the oxidation of the iron was full. The improvement became general in the first American war, and by 1783 copper fusionings and sheathing weers universal in all became general in the first American war, and an excoper fusionings and sheathing were universal in all whips built for the Navy.

Poetage.—We must decline in figure receiving letters from abroad, unless sent through agains or private hands. Some of our correspondents, especially Non-commissioned Officers and private soldiers, constantly subject us to very heavy foreign postayes, for packages in which we have far less interest than the writers. This week we have been so favoured by several in India, at, the ways of Good Hope, in the Mediterranean, &c. &c.

in the Mediterranean, &c. &c.

"Constant Roader" (Bristol) will find the stations of regiments and depots in our last Number. The stations of detachments are not of sufficient interest to justify us in devoting the space they would regime.

To "Miles."—We have of luterpherved that when practicalle, the national regiments of return from abread are sent to the country whanou they draw their regratic, The 26th and 92d are instances in point; and, we believe, the 87th will be sent to Ireland from Scotland on a the 11th will be sent to Ireland from Scotland on a similar principle.

"Trident," "Blue Japket," "A.R.," "A Conservative," "W. M. E.," "Civilian," "P. S.," "A Wat Officer," "A Commander, R.N., h. 3.," "N. Z.," and several other correspondents, whose lefters cover our table, animal verting on the New Navel Regulations, must have a little patience. Our space vola not admit of ongtwentieth of the letters addressed to use we have ender-voured to show the defects in the Regulations, and doubt not that they will be fully discussed in Parliament when the estimates are brought forward. We will, honover, find room for a passage in the letter of "Ben Block." who, with reference to the Veterans of the Navy, willes : " The old Captains, Commanders, and Lieutenants, wh have borne the heaf and burthen of the two last vores, ap-peur to be quite neglected. Look, for instance, at the Captains—what says their standing from Capt. J. Clavell, promoted in 1808, to Capt. F. C. Mainwaring, 1810—the former 36 years, the latter 33 ? With the Communders, first, 1794, 50 years, and to the close of 1813, 30 years? The old fagging-Liektonants, ever up and ready, with those I have before mentioned, from 1781—the dute of the first Commission for the present quarter to the close of 1807, of the first—will it be believed? 68 years as a Commissioned Officer ; and of the latter 56 ; and is nothing in contemplation for all these noble fellows ? As yet, nothing but the fold hope that as the benefit is indeed great to the rising generation of Navalherors, the day may not be very distant when those of the old and good school, at the Admirally, will enable the old War Officers to luff up a few points for the remainder of their days, by alther a promotion from the top of the several lists, or a large retirement for the Captains, and a more liberal one for the Commanders and Lieutenafts. Nelson died Communder-in-Chief at 46; Wellington commanded at Assaye at 29. We have now Midshipmen as old; and what can an Admiral or General be expected to achieve at 70 and upward ?"

Enlishment of Boys. - We have reason to believe that there has been a practice of late years in some regiments and depots to culist hops without sufficient inquiry as to their ago. Indeed, in very many instances, the ages are not known, and the chirf guide has been the boy's height, appearance, and stamma. We we not aware that it is umbent on the enlisting Officer to harsh out the parish registry, nor are there any orders which direct such in quiries to be made. The instructions from Horse Guards are well understood to mean that boys under the uge of 14 ure not to be enlisted. In the Allestation and descrip-tion the words used are "age apparently." This, see This we believe, is invariably the case; and every lay enlisted, if younger, is apparently 14 years of age. Our female younger, is apparently 14 years of age. Our fevent Mr. Wheeler, if Rochester, can eather himself of this by reference to a form of attestation, and he will clearly see that errors must often, though unintentional, be mad by Officers in the age of the boys. The faults, if any, lie with those who bring the boys for enlistment, and conceal their roal age.

"Onega" will be always resicons.—" Salamanca" next week.

To "Nauticus."-The Admiraity have determined upon commercing the works of the proposal new esta-upon commercing the works of the proposal new esta-blishment at Morice-Town, Derapport, for the manu-facture of machinery for the Naval steam-cossels, &c. "Observer" & Leicester) Whould have authenicated his statement: however, as the horsewhipping affair at Leicester and the imputed crim-con will probably come lafore the courts of lair, we think it far bester to wait their judgment than to comment on ex-parte and anonymous reports.

"Waterloo" writes-" At what period of service are Officers who have never purchased any Commission, and who are not disabled from wounds, age, or infirmity, ullowed to sell their Commissions—and is it usual to allow such Officers to retire by sale of one or more of their Commissions?"—Buballern Officers of 12 years their Commissions?"—Buballern Officers of 12 years' service, and Officers of higher rank of 20 years' service, are permitted, by the Regulations of the Army, to sell out, receiving the full value of their respective Commissions; such are the Regulations, but they are constantly departed from and we believe that, in most cases, Subalterns of seven and Cantains of 12 years' service would be granted the indulgence in its fullest extent : under these periods of egrates allowed a portion of the regulated p hey are only

They are only allowed a portion of the regulated price—a half, or two-thirds—according to circumstances.

"A Constant Roader" puts the following question—in any Colony under the British Crown, can the local Commander-in-Chief effiche troops, whatever his rank is, carry a sentence of death into execution, awarded by a General Court-Martial, on a voldier for a Military offence, without reference to, and obtaining the samption of the Civil Power ?!"—Biffers sentence of death can be carried into effect, the samption of the Governor of the Colony must be obtained; in most cases, however, the Governor is also the Commander-in-Chief. Governor is also the Communitar-in-Chief.

The Mediterraneon Resiston next weeks also " Judex."

Naval & Military Gazette.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1844.

Tun news from India is singularly meagre. As yet, no decisive steps appear to have been taken, though we have good ground for believing that a decision has been formed respecting our future influence in the Punjaub. fleers Singh's authority cannot hast we know how sandy is its foundation-and the safety of Dhulson Singh would not be insured at the highest premium by any man acquainted with the Punjaub, its Chiefs, and its Army. Lena Singh has sere this probably fallen under some assassin; and the life of Heers Singh hangs upon a thread. Nothing but the times, interposition of British authority can put shead to his state of anarchy, and we feel impuliant for an anwait more in the cause of humanity.

of rumanity.

The largly distorbed atute of swallor has obtained some hope of future tranquillity from the advance of our troops. But on the ultimate segment of this province into quiet and order, we saver all a magnetic a doubt. We had been by a former Mall informed of the certain murch of our trucps, and we will know that in India an Army is generally a peace-mater. It absuredly is an excellent ambusedor, and, like a hippor-war, take in a language well understood, without diplomatic interpretation and delay.

Soinds was tranguil when the last accounts were received at Bombay. The sickness the sperus sickness -amounting almost to a plague, had swent of a large number of our soldiers and Sipabets; but if proof were needed that our rule is acceptable to the people, this opportunity for insurrection got being scized on is the most convincing. Within all the borders of Scinde, the wise and firm Government of Sir Charles Napier was gratefully respected by the people. For any symptoms of interruption to this most designle state of things, especially in a recent conquest, we must look far from Scinde itself. In Moolten, indeed, some intrigues and preparations were going on for an attack on Scinde. That attack will be a good opportunity for introducing into Moolten a little respect for British coffnexion, and we think we may safely promise Sewan Mulifa visit from a division of the Army. As for the Beloocheen, they are robbers by profession, cruel exectors of Back mall, and time and leisure will be needed to reduce them this honest Highlanders and loyal subjects.

In a word, the News from Jodie, though meegre, is favourable. Peace actual, and maisures for future peace, sam up the News by this Mail.

In the Papers on Soinds receivily subselted to Parlia ment, there is a very remarkable detter from Lord Ellenborough to the Secret Committee, dated 30th June, 1845. We think that any man who will dispensionate well the admirable State Minûte, must be convinced in the section of the conquest of Beinde. We assume to ourselves some credit for having from first to last taken the same view of the question, though mearly surgular in doing so, as His Lordship has done. We cannot understand the outeryunless it proceeds from ignorance of facts—that has been raised; because we have all along been kept well informed of what was doing in Science, from a source in Hombay that has never yet failed in supplying us with the truth. Lord Ellenborough's letter is long, but the whole case, in all its bearings, has been gone into, and for lucidness we know few State Papers to which it can be compared. Our limits do not admit of its being reprinted, but we beg our readers to refer to it in the columns of the " Morning Chronicle " of last week.

LASTERS from all parts of Ireland lead us to believe that the quietude which pervades the country, and the slience of the Repealers, have their source in a full persuation, on the part of the population, that Repeal will be granted, or that an appeal will be made to arms. One of the strangest facts connected with this state of things in Ireland, is the reserve and evident caution with which the neasantry address the gentry. This is so contrary to their natural character, that there must be a lurking secret at heart. Indeed, the organization of the people is too certain, and they all seem waiting for a concerted signal to rise. We pretend not to know the leaders, but leaders there must be: and this we believe that not one of the traversers are men who would take the field against the inst, of the regulation which a prives Married Officers of the Army of their weekly allowance of coals and candles when living out of barracks, we have received several latters and communications on the subject, all pointing out how excessively cruel and obspatious the measure is; and in fact we verily believe then is not one dissentient voice in the Service, either married or unmarried, who does not feel indignant at such a meah and paltry regulation.

From the many letters lying on our table we select the following, for the authenticity of which we can vouch, and it places before the public energy the several instances of this most iniquitous measure.

of this most iniquitous measure.

To the Edder of the Neval and Military Gazette.

Siz.—I return you my best thanks for the great kindaces you have done to the marrie. Officers of the Army, in bringing that most shameful regulation, of not allowing us our weekly coals and candles, under the notice of the Authorities; and I hope that uit only them, but also that Her Majesty Queen Victo z, will read what you have said, as I feel confident the if the Queen was aware of such a cruel find barbarous legulation, she would at once give hat commands to have it rescinded, especially if the knew how, hardly it passes on those married Officers, who have been reised by their good conduct from the ranks; indeed, Sir, the sole reason of my at present addressing you is, that neverly and husband are in the precise situation which you accordity brought forward in your Paper of the 3d instant except, indeed, that we have three shildren, which ade to the picture. My husband has now been an Engan for upwards of three years, and I assure you we wen far better of when he was a Serjeant than we are at passent, as then we accould live in our one room in the barracks, and have our coals. live in our one room in the barracks, and have o and condies; but ever since he has been made an Officer, we have been under the necessity of living in lodgings, and far most part of the time to buy all our fuel, although for the first year we had our chils and candles continued to us; but about that time some "pood-natured" person write no test into the time some "pood-natured" person in the same provide and candles although living in lodgings; and the Geogral Commanding was erdered "to investigate such a dereliction of the rates of the Sarving." The Commanding Officer and Quartermaster more forthwite catled upon to account for allowing it, when they both fully explained the circumstance of any hasband being very lately raised from the ranks, and having only his any of 5s. 3d. per diem, with and condies; but ever since he has been made an Officer, very lately raised from the y of 5s. 3d. per diem, with stance of my hasband being very lately raised from the ranks, and having only his any of 5s. 3d. per diem, with a solve and three children to support; and he living not more than a few panels from the barrack-gate, they were indeved to penals his receiving the weekly allowance of cools and his living a planation was of no use, as they support the gulanation was of no use, as they considered the support of their humanity, and we lott. The support was a living to the living living the living mand for their humanity, and he! What I want to know, men in subjectly are debarred id science of the control o

"a pleasuring" from their source or apartments, which they have five of expense; such as the Royal Hospital in h as the Royal Haspital in have five of expense; Dublin, the Master-Genera of the Ordnance's House in

Will the public believe uch a circumstance as is bere set forth? Will it believe that such a system is garaged towards those excellent man, who from their maritorious conduct are promoted from the ranks to an Officer's commission? Alse ! it is too true. And every one, both Civil and Military must agree that such a meat both Civil and Military must agree that such a mean and pitiful regulation or to to be at once reschided. There is no excuse for its continuance—there is no plea whatever to just to it, as it is quite a farce to say that "giving coals are candles to Officers living out of barracks would encourage them to do so, and thereby be away from the men." We repeat, to bring each reachnaforward as an excuse for such berbarity is a farce; for migried Officers have a choice left, as live out of barracks they must, it being utterly impossible to reside in one room in them; theofore all such arguments are worse than futile. And then the Ordnance Estimates are this year being voted we hope to find Lord Arthur Lennox and Captain Byard, as usual, in their places, and calling upon the Sutborities to account for not attending to the unanimus wishes of the Ardy and the country, which the public press has so frequently brought to their notice.

Ir is very gratifying to the journalist to be complimented on exertion used to benefit any individual belonging to the Naval or Military Service, but more so when his utmost has been exerted in the cause of the Officer's Widow and Orphan when friendless and in need:-- :-

"And the poorer the more he would encous distress."

We are pleased to hear that the article in our Gazette of the 2d December last, " on the injustice of requiring Letters of Administration from Officers' Widows and Orphans," was recently road at a meeting of the members of the Royal Naval Benevolent Society, to whose generous hearts we emphatically appealed for the influence which they must possess as a benevolent body, in obtaining a revision of the law which so afflictingly exacts a large amount from the Widow or Orphan of a Naval Officer to recover his half-pay, or other public moneys, if a fraction shows $32.

We have been privately invited to bring this subject again before the British Navy, which we cannot do bette than by referring that gallant community to the article in question, to rouse their odmpassionate souls to action against this heartless law; yet we say for quiet but immemediate action, as the more effectual; therefore we carnestly offer our deferential augmention to the members of the Royal Naval Benevolent Society, that the Lords of the Admiralty should not be petitioned on the subject. but their Secretary, armed with their manimous voice, to nersonally represent the bardship of this law to Lord Haddiagton private Secretary, who, with his usual sounds scension, would lay the respectful resolution of the society before his Lordship, whilet his George Cockburn's interest could at the same time be moved by the appeal of his brethren in arms, to nafetter their Widows and Orphans from a law which keeps them weeks in misery's bondage. How deeply this iron of the law must enter the soul of the panniless Widge or Orphan, on reading a letter from the Admiralty disjoing Letters of Administration to be taken out to obtain her husband's or father's half-pay-infact, pay down some fire, six or seven guiness before we will give you thirty have younds, because there is one farthing above that sum the to him- a British Naval warrior, though he lies fieed, shroudless and week coffined! Ye British legislators on framers of just and equitable law, can ye steel yell hearts against making faithful picture of wee and destination.

The appointment of County of Repart William Garrett to the mentoy in Greenith Maspital, caused by the death of Commander Williams, has been made during the past week. It will be some solane to the name rous unsuccessful candidates for this appointment, that strong Naval claims, and not interest, his softented the first Lord of the Admiralty in making the salection. Commander Garrett-very close to the top of his list-was wounded as Lieutonaut of the Mars at Trafaigns, present in the same ship at the esptare of the French frigates by Bir Samuel Hood, and prometed out of the Quer for capturing the Dutch brig of war (late British) Manly. While claims bear rais, disappointment is rabbed of its chief sting, and Naval Officers have good reason to be satisfied with the decisions of the Noble Esti who new presides at the Admiralty, Tun numerous deaths which have taken place in th Senior Banks of the Army since the last Brevet of November, 1861, would lead the sangulon to hope that some rule should be satisfished for giving a Brovet. do not ourselves think it probable that any role will be cetablished. Some happy afant seems to be the some cause of a Bievet, and we campot foresee any such svent. We have no Royal Metriages to look to-and the Palage of Wales is a shild.

Tun Amèrica, 50, is ordered to be commission the flag of Regr-Admiral W. P. Wise, C.B., who is selected by the Admiralty to succeed Rear-Admirals Righard Thomas in the South American Command.

Chapterstant Habitan of the Sid Light Despite line proposed in a special experiency journal a long correspondence erising not of a transaction that took placerous the 18th of Displace Lab and which we had hoped had been build. The publishes. We depreciate the bringing back late light time a transaction; but as the Letters have been print it, wayen scarpely decline giving them a place in our application. Regarding the framewition. them a place in our and matter. Regarding the framewiton itself there could be interest spinion, the in part leaguest Lieutenant Hawker was have placed fitness before the Officers of his present re ment in a far more favourable es vottled by his Bolones and the Dake of Welltogton at the Dake of Welltogton at Ea. L.—Casterbury, Cht. 2 which occurred has night, wider occurred has night, wider occurred has night, with occurred has night, with a sensor with 1 conselve, in the Army, it not fully investigated as the sensor with most of the leading a linear most of the sensor with most of the leading a linear most of the sensor with most of the leading a linear most of the leading a linear most of the leading and leading the lead in the Army, if not folly in the Le debungs with most off tended a management built had movernation with a famale will wan insuited by Hajor Hanting arm in a rea with me person in question was religious he conceived her to be. Me reaction with religious most insulting manner, and reaction off, air II. Walk off, air II.

ne conserved her to be. My remost insulting manner, and his off, air it walk off, air it manner. I then obeyeds socil fattle Al-Manh, for Arm. In the Dragoom Guarda, and several city. I breaky disclam any interior Rajor Marin: he from our removes as well as by the Articles of Walter of the Commander of the request that you will have the file force the Commander of prepanded, allow a Field Officer, insulting a Junior in language the insulting a pulse by the latter in the state of the commander o

J. B. HA The Holl the Hom George Cathin No. II.—Cantastury, Oct. 1s., 1s that I had the homog to forme to neath that I have easiest in metermination until this morn Capt. Hammerdey on he-past, and he always seen it in the rightest that he should never the sightest action of us, all the he always seen it in the rightest that he should never the sightest action of us, all the health was the health of the health with the health was the fattering instantion; and this option of several wise were placed in a situation of should salight but hory and the control of the health of the several that is cannot sive shalter me, if her most destination and the myself in the hands of the To Gol. the Hon George Cati myself in the hands of

we were instortunate affair, any interments uniform by every thing place before Glucto of other man the open to the talk of every interpolate passes that talk of every interpolate has a discouped in the 1 kines that the intermental, in the greatment of two Officials for eightfung I can know to I wood not remind 70% ley, and that the dect. de Malterwards Appeared.

an male considerably here my feelings of proposition as an entition; and was in factoring of the Sparteger, 2 strain, to factoring the sparteger, and was in a single strain, and was in a single strain, and of the wheat sparteger sin to depict, as the factoring sin to depict, as the factoring sin to depict, as the sin in damend." In a limit to half, giv. Walk, a single seem in ad effected by single seem in ad effected by single seems to the factoring single seems to the factoring seems of the seems of t

The investment of the one together of here, at, at, at the together of the control of the contro this is have disectine the same relating, but I has distinguished the collection of the collection of the contrary, my reputation might have been called in question, for not having had recording to five usual mode of setting disputate between equals. The shadeof will not end here; hat is all probability a garbled statement will reach the Military Clubelle. London, and the story attach is the thiggent life.

Should I not obtain the red for thing, fully expect from your lifes across of justice and hund; I shall I four, he compelled to saw there of justice and hund; I shall I four, he compelled to saw there yours a few of promoting, and highly for an exchange into another porgs; for I feel that here an an league nerve under the immediate command of Major Artin, because the property of the beam interiors by a gratileman of the neighbourdrood, why is present on the personnel Major Martin what was the raw? To while the later spatial, "Of, he is during what was the raw? To while the later spatial, "Of, he is during what was the raw? To while the later spatial, "Of, he is during the Army discussing in particle of a brothing Officer with a second?" I will not say of word as to the propriety of a Major in the Army discussing in particle of a brothing Officer with a horse, dealer, but will cont. Emprey from a supplier she is the fact states, so the as my general conduct is consected, and it was a later to the consected, and it was a supplier to the content of the later states. he weed!" I will not say a in the Army discussing the horse, dealer, but will don't fact stated, so fir as sty go tion to this partionar inst ne, and I call upon seajor gentin to cases.

J. S. Hawens, Lt., E. Dr. Gles.
cks. Oct. 45, 1641.— Spr., 16 genocker, the the union tonals affair historess seriously louked at by you. My own lying land I had no intention of off-cityon concurrent testimony I am not beat I had no intention of any the used irrinating language. I can no that I should lave asted or said a la the slightest degree: With the property of the large season of the transport of admit myself to have ing that I supposed you were drainly, by that mot provided any conviction of that not rest regret at having giving utterlayer, the To Ori, Hon. Growthen No.111.—Cantarbery in Ro.111.—Cantarbery in Rocate the pale; East a time you and myself has been a consistence warrante that I make convinced that I make convinced that I make convinced that I make convinced that I make to the property of the put capted to the lady-not have found here. I not make T. Manvin, K. Drage fids.

To Lient. J. H. Hawkeel.

No. IV.—Conterbury. Ch. 22, 18th.—Br.,—I have the humour to neknowing the vector of the pose letter of this day's dain, containing the vector of the on a recent occasion. I emaily with yourself great like phintul position in which we are both placed; in d. I the thin opportunity of apprising you, that us the lesselt official was was of such a public nature, and has been the subject of to mean convergation in one of the Myllery Clubs in Loudon positility servinents; to my character, it may become magness to emblish your apology at some furture petiod.—I have, as, ..., ..., J. E. Hawke, Lieut., E. Brag. Gds.

To Major Marcha, King's Braggoon Guards.

Improvipioner as is the position which Gre present concedes emongst European nations, the revolu-tion of which that kingdom has recently been the thesite ment is descring of consideration, both as to the may giring ther attention in more respects than one. manner in which it was effected, and the results likely to apring from it, in reference to the Ruler and to his subject

Happily, owing to the spreed of knowledge, the humanreapply, weng to the apress of knowings, the definite files of the arts of files, and the gradual decay to that forecity which rushed unscrappionsly to its and through bloodshed and came, revolutions are becoming less terrific in the means and mode of their accomplishment, without, perhaps, being less beneficial in their result.

A dynasty is overthrown a new state springs up and appears on the man. Mighty political changes wrought, in leach succeeding instance accompanied fewer horrors and less sacrifice of life and property.

Since the massacres of the first French Revolution, sub successive struggle for freedom of institutions has been compassed by means ut any rate less objectionable than the preceding one; until at length we errive at the bloodless revulution of which Athens was recently the Seldom, perhaps, had a people been more disappolyted in their just expectations, and never certainly was dissatisfaction expressed with more moderation con nlad with firmness and energy, then by the patriots of Greece in September, 1843. The nation spoke out, not by the September, 1843. The nation spons out, may be released demagogues and political adventurers, but is the land of th velop of demagogues and political adventurers, but in the persons of men of character and influence, who had an interest in the preservation of order. No extravagant nor unreasonable demands were made, but such only the public opinion had long declared to be necessary the prosperity of the people, and the stability of Gresce as a kingdom. No personal antipathies were sought to be gratified, no private revenge was wreaked upon any individual. Public feeling was unanimous. Civil and Military combined to put an end to a system which had outsiled national bankruptcy on a state whose capabilities were ample, and only required development by a course shined to put an end to a system which rational lagislative measures.

We shall nearests he enerty be accused of injustion to the character of Other I, when we say that the selection made by the protecting powers in 1833 has not proved a yery happy one.

latellectual powers of a mean order, the slenderest abilities for government, and an intense selfishness of character are the qualities which a seven years' rule have brought to light in the person of the Sovereign of Greece.

These evils or mistortunes, when occurring in the ordinary course of hereditary succession, are sufficiently to he lamented: but they are more than counterbulenced by the acknowledged advantages of the hereittary prin-opple. But, in adecting a tovereign, some regard might be had to personal qualifications, instead of satrificing coarything to the jealous fears of international policy. If it be desirable so far to remain the interests of other powers, as to guard against a hopeful praised springfug up into a dangerous and troublesome rival, still there is sensiting due to the people, whose interests and happiness are so much dependent upon the ruler whom they may receive.

In 1833, King Otho, heing then 17 years of age, commenced his reign under the tubinge of Bavarian Ministers. Hie entered his new Kingden with a Bavarian Army, Bayarian Aides-de-camp, and Bavarian Contt. During the first four years of his reign he was scarcely responsible for the misgovernment of his langdom; he was only, as it were, serving his apprenticeable to the trade of royalty. But had he been a youth of the ordinary parts, and of good dispositions, he would he employed that time in studying the art of Government, he might have fearnt the advantages, may the necessity, of sopular representation in the management of a people of stituted as are his subjects: he might have discovered that his best hope of auccess lay in dentifying himself ath the nation which he had been selected to rule over—by tworking the outward t working the ontward apote, but seeking the acts, by the steady and had been selected to rule overchange of enduring the fees and good will and confidence of his en errate; affording proof heir Sovereign he was reverse of all this was systematic advancement of their that from the moment he becam less a Bavarian than a Greck. the course adopted by Otho. to that he came among endeavour to impress on the Gr them for his own benefit and n self and provide for his hungr cllow-countrymen and Upon Bavarians w all offices of honour, d. Bayarian Officera adherents. profit, and responsibility, confe proof, and responsibility, contemporary, and decorations. Was to the kingdom attended to? Was buted? Were roads planned a colucation extended and industry one of these things was done: Military appointments internal ec ommerce of exection equally distrithe kingdom attended to? Was anxation equally distributed? Were roads planned and constructed? Was education extended and industry incouraged?—No, not one of these things was done: at a costly palsoc was built for the King—an edifine mod apacious than Buckingham palace!—as though the horsreign of modern Greece might not have been contended with a parious and attic for the next ten years; or, at any rate, till he had paid the date, the cost of his outfit, and adopted some achieus of finance for rendering his expenditure conformable with his revenue.

We are not prepared to go the length of the " Morn ing Chronicle," which long ago authoritatively pro-nounced Otho I, to the an idiot. We have our suspi-cious that he has a few of the attributes of the character commonly supposed to be opposed to a tool. If he have not inherently despotle propensities, he has at any rate had the mistortune to graduate in a school most fitted to pad the misjortule to gradint gan a school most litted to generate or encourage them. A young man, unfetted to by responsibility, and with no care heroid spending the money supplied to him by exhers, would not be the most likely person in the world to sequire habits of reflection and moderation. So a boy sking, whose treasury was heaped with a logn of two and a half millions, with "pro-tecting powers" to keep him on his throne, and no tecting powers? to keep him on his throne, and no popular institutions to control his will, might well imbibe the inclination, and finally assume the right, to play

In $37 Otho assumed, personally, the reins of Government; he had perfected himself in king-craft, and with the confidence and presumption of youth, he under-took to be his own Prime Minister! The results have been such as might have been anticipated—national bank-ruptry—the loss of the affection and confidence of his subjects—the scorn and ridicule of foreign states. We are only surprised at the forbestance of the Greeks. We pity and admire them. Remembering the miseries of Turkish rule, and the anarchy which followed their successed struggle for independence, they haded their sovereign with pride and gladogus, as a pledge of order, repose, and national improvement. Patiently they haired, and well did they parform their part of the en gagement.

Never did people pay taxes with greater chearfulness obey the laws with more ready alacrity, nor labour more carnestly to improve their social condition. The thirst for education and a desire to take place with the refined and civilized amongst nations, was never more strongly developed than by the modern Greeks. Un-complainingly did their warriors behold themselves superseded by strangers and allens, whose inferiority in the field was more than once tested. The merchant and field was more than once tested. The merchant and the agriculturist saw their interests neglected or sacrineed to support the extravagances and frivolities of a thoughtless court; all classes waited patiently and hoped for better times. And those times have come; but it was not until the conviction had come home to all men that no hope existed of a spontaneous concession of their rights, and that upon themselves devolved the duty of extorting that which should never have been denied them. Othe appears to have submitted to the terms imposed on him in September, with as good a grace as might be expected in one whose arbitrary will bed been so long undisputed. Still, if we are to credit the statement regarding his fregiment of Colonel Calege, who took an active ment in the revolution of September, his autifuractive part in the revolution of September, his antisfac-tion is more feigned than real. The incident to which we allude, and which appeared in the "Semaphors de Marseilles," created a painful sensation throughout the public; and though, to allay this irritation, the King subsequently expressed regret, and bestowed a command upon the Colonel, this reparation, offered by the Severeign from motives of policy, cannot efface the impression made by the spontaneous ebullition of the feelings of the man.

It is rurely that sovereigns profit by the instruction of theis subjects, in whatever form it may be conveyed to them. Firstory, we believe, does not afford us au example of a prince receiving in good part the admonitions ample of a prince receiving in good wart two memorations of the popular voice. Not one has been content to make concessions of prerogative, to alter his views of Government, or even to forego a pleasure or sacrides a favourite.

The reconciliations between rulers and their subjects, when such have taken place, have been but skin deep; and if the Soversign of Greece prove an exception to this rule, it will be nomewhat to his credit, and a nource of congratulation no less to his well-wishers than to his subjects at large, The Committee of the National Assembly appointed The Committee of the National Assembly appointed to frame a Constitutional Charter has closed its proceedings, and a draft of this important document has this week appeared in the "Times." Its provisions assem admirably adapted to accure the liberties of the subject. The King's prerogative is clearly defined, and the responsibility of Ministers assorted. We trust that this Charter may not be emasculated before its ultimate adoption, and that its inviolability will be practically preserved. Let swil befail that party (be it King or neonly) which first assiss to encroach upon the rights of neople) which first seeks to encroach upon the rights of King Otho's epeech on opening the National Assemb was highly curodistory, liberal in profession, frank an cordial in manner. The enthusiasm with which it was received is indicative of a corresponding feeling on th received is indicative of a corresponding feeling on the part of the nation. We accept the as an analysis of father good, and are withing to nacribe the complete father wides except these of the complete father with such anticipation and staces desire to atom for the pilvisers. cation of his own interests with such anticipations are an entire confidence in his new as yielded to conviction. Time alone can show whether ining power of necestallacious—whether the Prince his, he has been merely of error, or bent before the constituter misus acuter: "aity and State policy —if, in shortfull of difficulties to acting upon the maxim, "reculosizer to the Sovereign, in the latter case, a filture opens and the demogratic in the latter case, a fature open, and the democratic the Greeks, and programs with distall the efforts and If a collision between the kings will avail; for these kingdom, nor create a stability in the suprame and moral and united the power take place in Greece, friendly interposition of the A cannot bring internal peace to e to look round Europe reveude where there is a wat a Sovereign of greater whom the people have cuch a ane only can have rapid growth of repub-ing ambition of the heads power, and an absence of vigo the Executive. Better would or haply to seek in Greece, weight of character—one or never obtained a victory; to a chance of checking the is entitled to free institu-tion as yet in her infancy. dicunism, and curbing the as of a popular faction.

Lies control and protection Grovee may fairly claim, tions; but liberty is in that In this condition also requir of a vigorous directing are and permanent existence. Without this salutary a corrective power, freedom and spendily degracentes of the former he gard in mill, a representative conron of the arts, and healed?

heats end liberality in the heat Coheng; the Chade: Albest was horn; of the great School of tional Theatain. He was aghter of Augustus. Date by whom he had lette relevant Date, and Frince

by whom he said rince reigning Duke, and Prince Actaination, daughter of by whom he has left no a suddenly carried off by el des Doubles el Aless despotism. is licentiousness in diagu Cobarg and Gotha expired in Royal Elighness was unde in father shift-pines Albert, to Belgian Mikhthe Duchess and his 60th year. He succeed his 60th year. He succeed from his billeg in areas reclaimed from possessing berry until 1813. He coming farmer, and Mayence was or his restain from the Conjugation, were deveted to the surptinal superintandence of to the former he garp in will, a representative con-

The reigning Duke of Se auddenly on the 20th ult, and father in law to the Qu and brother of the King of of Keut. He had just recooded his Inther in 1806. against Nepoleon, he was himself of his sequestered pi manded the 5th Corps of the surrendered to his arms. grees of Vienna, his time at welfare of his people, and to of the education of his two the year 1019, of his own fr atitution. He was a warm behind him manuments of its crection of the River and the teaux of Roseneu, where I Calenberg, and Reinbardah Gotha, and the two splendid into the worst description count, and me eve spiendid mairied first to Louise, only i of ferse Goths and Altenbu Ernest, Hereditary Prince, no Albert. He married second Alexander, Duke of Mecklenb issue. His Royal Highest are observing the atmost plansbridge is cojourning at melancholy and unexpected coster, let Life Guards, Colume! Prince George of cinee's Staff, and heating Rome, with Lieut. Lord derile's bounds and Capt. Mecdonald, on the nearly at an end. Mr. the Campugna with Lord Caption, and the Solicitor-The Irish State Tries at the expected, would be the solicitor of the state of the solicitor of the so

Her Mejesty, Privos Alb

The Irish State Tricle at, it is expected, would O'Connell has delivered his by, to afford time to the General has replied. The Charge to the Jury. A adjourn from Friday until Made and imprisonment the Judges to consider respecting this venerable Nobleman conviction seems certain, and this second son, Lord patishment.

Depoterable, where his second so and patishment. house, at Brighton, and a at the advanced age of died on Saturday, at the as de Mauley, at Canford House in his titles and estates ennon.

Lordship had arrived from 1 sank under the prevalent influ
86. His Lordship is successful by his eldest son, Viscount feel Military Knights of Mrs.
This morning Major phapel - Windsor, Tuesday.overnor, during divine The Rev. W. Canning Foundation, was inaughes, who administered the oaths service, in St. Georgemacy, the new Governor was the Canon in p. By the two senior Knights, Capt. administered the oaths was the Canon in p. By the two of allegiance and omming, then led to his solonel Wyndbi then led to his solonel Wyndhan, M.P. for Sussex, has Allen and Cape to the Scoretag of the Royal Agriculton Lape Bagland, desire that his name may be addressed, the list of members of the society, in consecutor of the recent deciaration of favour of Anti-Cornaw League principles by Lord Spacer, sho is President of that society. of that society.

The Dust as Camden Town.

The Duel at Camden Town.— leutenant Grant, one of the accords, has signified his attention to surrender and take his will, at the present ession of the Central Criminal Court. The trial will, it is expected, come on next want next week.

Pardon.—Her Majesty's Government has issued a free pardon to Valentine Marshall, one of the rioters who tree parson to valentine Marshall, one of the rioters who was transported for life at the special Reform-riot Commission at Nottingham, in 1831, for setting fire to Colwick Hall, the seat of Mr. John Musters, Nottinghamshire, and from the effects of which Mrs. Musters, the famous "Mary" of Lord Byron, met with her death in the shrubbery Breach of Promise of Marriage .- Yesterday, in the Court of Queen's Bench, the doughter of Lieut Leaver, R.N. Commanding the Semaphore Establishment, at Beher, obtained 1500. damages from Lieut. Wells, R.N., who had befused to perform his promise to marry her.

An Old Soldier .- On Saturday Mr. Baker beld an inquest on the body of Joseph Emmerson, aged 70. Deceased resided in Summer-at., Whitechapel, and lived upon a pension of 26t. per annum. He had served in the 10th Foot, and fought in Egypt under Sir R. Abercrombie, until be was blisded by the sands and sent back to England. On Thursday, whilst sitting by the fireside, he fell back in his chair insensible, and the Surgeon, Mr. Edwards, who was immediately called, could do nothing for his ratiof. He died in about an hour, and in the opinion of the Sargeon his death was caused by a sudden attack of paralysis. Vordict, "Natural Death.

The opening of the South-Rastern Railway to Dover took place on Tuesday. All the French anthorities, Mayors and Corporations, from Boulogne and Calais, had come over to honour the ceremony, and were attended by a numerous French band belonging to the National Guard of Calais. At four o'clock the special train was put in showment from Folkestone, bringing the Directors, and such notabilities as had arrived from town, to witness the ceramony. A finer day could not have been bespeken for the corporary. Ten minutes sufficed for the train to clear the road and tunnels under Shakspeare's cliff, and in leaning from the last archway it was greated by a salute of Artiflery, and the huzzas of a crowd of English and Freach mingled. The profession went in order through the streets, the French band and its colours leading the way, followed by the Mayor and the authorities of Dover, way, followed by the Mayor and the authorities of Dover, Calais, and Boulogas. A dinner of 250 covers was given by the town council in the theatre.

Wednesday, the 23d

arm's Mospital Society .- On Wednesday, the 23d semest's Eropeses Sourcy.—On wennessey, and some should meeting of the committee of this Society, took place at the effect in King William street, City. The chair was taken by John Labouchere, Esq. During the past year there were 2,778 patients admitted on boing of the Dreadcought, and retief had been dispensed to 2,053 outside the committee of Breedought, and ratiof had been dispensed to 2,953 out patients, which, added to the number of patients relieve up to the date of the last report, gives 67,419, the total number of seamen of all nations who have received assistup to the date to an analysis who have received assurance, the hospital since its institution. The commence that the donations and sample and the hospital second that the donations and sample and the second that the donations and sample and the second donations being only 4,0407. 19s. to must an outlay of about 5,0008, a page. MER MARKETY'S THEATHE.

BRILLIART as was the past scasen; the present certainly hids feir to selipse it in every point. That touchatone of operation fallium and secones, the before-Easter scases, opens with the predection of Herold's Easter scases, opens with the predection of Herold's Easter, "Esseps," supported by Barmaser. Formism, Signor Corell, I new Tenore, its, dan, and the Ballet of "Essevalde," adapted from Victor Mugo's "Notre Dame de Paris," and supported by that delicines dansante, Cariotta Grisi. To commant more such an opening would be superfluous. Its novelty and strongth gives it its value, nor floss the repersoire of the session fail to gratify, and to bear out the aspectations which such a commencement is calculated to rates. Grisi, Lablache, and Mario will, of course, form the festions of the Opera, and Guy Stephan, the beautiful Frasi, Garilae, Fanny Elseler, and Taglioni, with Perrot and St. Less, will units with Carlotta Grisi in rendering the force of the Ballet unexampled. May successantised Mr. Lausley, the enterprising and able manager.

Haymarket.—On Theoday avening a new counts drama, entitled "Used Up," was produced at this theeter with camplete success.

complete sucus

Barlinmentary Analysis.

MONNAY, Frs. 1.— Januer to the Address.—The kinnt CharCellor Communicated Mer Majesty's surver he the Address :
"My Lards.—I think you for your loyal and staidful address.
The first object of my whiles is to promise the his Address :
"My Lards.—I think you for your loyal and staidful address.
The first object of my whiles is to promise the his district of my poople; and I rely with conflictence on your assurance of support in the ming anch measures is the interest of the constry may require. "
Slase Trade.—Is reply to a question may by Loyal, Snavengas, the Earl of Assurances based desired certain modifications to be made in the freshes grighing between the two couplies in respect to the right of rearch, which singlet reader them more equipment to the right of rearch, which singlet reader the most reposit may larvier. Though he could not predict the fate of these preparations, Lord Aberdson assured the House that nothing should be didly that would limit to the ripple our exertions in patting dawn the slave twise. The Noble Lord strongly impodited the shanges made on the other side of the channel, that an insighting on the right of actual, we sought any commercial, Naval, or other seides advantage.

Amy in Friend.—At the insignate of the Dake of Will Liverous, the Earl of Friend-Livia shoulted from making any remarks is accreain periods, and of the sums recently employed in Editory works in that country—these returns not being objected to by, the Government.

Operations in China,—The Long Chanceless making the second works in that country—tress systems are allowed to the Government.

Operations in China.—The Loun Charcalas states to the House that he had received a letter from Admiral Etr W. Parker, acknowledging fine vote of thanks of that House for the gallant conduct of Her Najesty's Naval Porce under his command, engaged in the operations in China. His Lordship runs the letter, as follows:—

Operations in China.—The Loan Chamunaten study to the Mouse that he had received a letter from admired Ru W. Fratur, acknowinging the vote of thanks of that Hotses for the galinging acknowinging the vote of thanks of that Hotses for the galinging on the operations in China. His Lorching was the letter, as follows:—

"M.M.S. Corements, at Hong Kong, June 14, 1821.

f "My Lord.—I have had the high gradification of receiving and communicating to the Naval Portes under my command, your Lordship's letter of the 26th Feb., transmitting the distinguished honour conferred on Léept. Gos. Sir High Gouch, Bart., G.C. H., Commotors Sir Gordon Bramer, K.C. H., and my-relf, together with the Officers and men of the cash Jedn Gough; havy relying under our offers, who, by the resolutions passed in the Houle of Leitin on the 1st for that north, are included in the ground distriction of their Lordship' thanks and approhetion for the services performed on the coast and inhand waters of China.

"Fermit me, on the part of the Naval branch of the Forces, to assure your Lordship of the grazies feelings with which we receive this most homourable residence. "W. Parran, Vive-Admiral."

"To the Right Hon. the Lord High Chancellor, dec."

"The Karl of Mirry's Envire Had not beam conferred dyon Admired Parker. He conserved that he beam conferred dyon Admired Parker. He conserved that he beam conferred dyon Admired Parker. He conserved that he beam conferred dyon Admired Parker. He conserved that he beam conferred dyon Admired Parker. He conserved that he beam conferred door Admired Parker. He conserved that he would commander, as he does noted in the case of the Army.—The Barl of Hammander had been noted in the case of the Army.—The Barl of Hammander had been noted in the same of the Army.—The Barl of Hammander had been noted in the same of the Army.—The Barl of Hammander had been noted in the same of the Army.—The Barl of Hammander, as had been noted in the same of the house the house of the Hammander of the house of the house of the hous their very high means of the gallent deeds which had been perfected both by the Army and Nayr.—The Earl of Militro said that the observations he had made were morely statistic by the letter from the gallant Alemand, which had been since if the Noble had Learned Lord on the weekend; and therefore he gast per that he did not consider that he was bound to give the Noble had he did not been could be made and the state of the House could do nothing more unconstitutional that, allowable the House could do nothing more unconstitutional that, allowable the groupely or the imprepriety of the Crown beatwards had been appeared to the country of the Crown beatwards had not more. All that he had said was, that Her Majosty's Government had left unrewarded a result factorished Offices's Government had left unrewarded a result factorished Offices's Government had left unrewarded a result factorished Offices's Government had left unrewarded he nest disclosurable of Hadesty's Country on the West of the had glebase, made a species after made allowable to the west of the had person of the Result of the notice of Gallion—was appraished Militer was the Earl of Militry with the facility of the factorist was the second and difficult arrives integration. While the facility of the Halvy balley strong Creak of the Halvy balley strong Creak of the Filips of the Halvy balley. The Dakes of Rights of the Second and difficult arrives that had here to the head here of the Filips's Young a spring stone of the Results of the Rights, or restrain a spring stone of the Rights of the Second and difficult arrives integration. The Dakes of Rights of the Filips's the made had one of the second and difficult in an advantage.

MONDAE, Fra. & Majorty's against to the Address of

MONTIAT, Fran. & Majeary's camering to this haddress of this Manae;

Estimate you from this deliful and loyal Address. The shallo-reation that you are similated to no operate with him in any citizent desire to premote the unitarie of my propie is most greatlying to my failule. It is the invarying object, and the domain's three of my life. To premote the happiness, and to merit the invariance, of my failuled studyees. The invarying object, and the domain the failule three is not the failule of my failuled the report that Man Majer Majerty and its debt, had any foundating;

Mis B. Part, regular :-- I may greatly emprised the life floo. Manaber should be the originate shat any near who the jam's the section thinks May Radgety he housed from the deliverancement of the signs to the region to the region to the region to the region. It is not the species, the first the sufficient of the failule of the failule of the failule of the soft. I can ensure the Monting for the soft. I can ensure the Monting for the soft. I can ensure the Monting for the region to the region to the region of the soft. I can ensure the Monting for the region to the soft in the species, and Maie Monting to the soft. I can ensure the Monting for the soft is not but of the Monting for the soft in the species, and Maie Monting to the soft in the soft of the soft in the soft of the soft of by referring to shar negates stone, to give the case positive to ingentitivian, and this eliminate that here is not her either she shar either in Gentitivian, and the eliminate that here is not her either in the respect, sent like the Alaienty is not an either she shilling in atreas."

This search, the head that the positive was received with lord sheep,
This as the law he had been entered in the analytic of elition and young persons in incircit. This will will limit this tabout of military and prompt shilling and the employment of celliform and young persons in incircit. This will will limit this tabout of military women beauty in the law and it will be realisted by it to at head in ship in the her head and young persons indicatories. This will be realisted by it to at head in the ship in shour, and like manufaguates, will be confused to it hours, will, wood, and lak manufaguates, will be confused to it hours, will, wood, and lak manufaguates, will be confused to it hours, will, to all many legislates. On the order four gloing latts it countries of a stopping of the limitation. The four had intended to be it the acture of a stopping of the limitation. The four had intended to be it the acture of a stopping of the limitation of the four and intended to be in the acture of a stopping of the limitation of the four and latter the countries of the share of the four translation. All, Warning and completed of the secure will share the companion of the four translation of the share of the share of the secure of the share of the sha of yes Seatern desitions.

Ar. Jammeor Thereard Charles the authenticity of the letter published in the Chronical that appearing to be writted by the Emerge Political appearing to be writted by the Emery Politicars; and ruleting to despite each to prove that, so he from the Ameers having burn fillful and sincers in their produced friendship with the Hop and ever been treasherrous justified in the major in the letter the religiorations, amonth, and modisty of Mr. Ended in the hope of the Private Constitute the religioration, against, and modisty of Mr. Endeder. Aft R Par. delicard that inching could justify their first the religioration of the adjustify but he was whigh to major by his Modis Friend, Lord Ashtey, but he major to the modisty of the adjustify to helps into honoideration the attention and measurable of the Ameeric of Reinig. To the remainder he obtained income it would be a with of generare on the consistent of the Government in India. — Lord Jacutyn supported Lord Ashley's motion.—Sir G. Narran appeared it.—Lord J. Russell would not take an himtelf the reponsibility of voting for the motion; but even if it were not carried, the Noble Lord who proposed it would have the quescistion of knowing that if there had been originally no inhantion of showing proper sessect towards the Americ, this motion weigh save to effect that object.—Lord Assile not being wilding to accept the compromise offered him by the Premier, went to a fill-thook, when there were.—Vor the motion, fig. against it, hely meightly, i.e.

Ordinance Marchesper.—It. Direct moved an Address in the Queen, praying her to dightly be recent and the recent from the wide of Storingeger of the Ordinance. The Mon. Member's charges, which were made a midst repeated point of the Contexpeller and the sharped him with being he confidential electionsering agent of the Contexpeller sate, jet heing the emiddential rises of the his services, the nikes of argument sharpes, and a reward for his services, the nikes of argument sharpes, with having found concepts constructions in nikes of argument sharpes, with having found concepts construction in second of the services, with having found concuting and or admits and or cents, with having found concuting and or admits and or cents, with having found concuting and or admits and or cents, with having found concuting and or admits and or cents, with having done the amagreeshie with a secondar, his medica for the grand middle much in the reconstruction.

Lynness the latter of the secondar, his medica dail to the grand and a secondar, his medica for the grand and a secondar, his medica for the grand and a secondar, his medica fall to the grand and a secondar, his medica fall to the grand and a secondar, his medica fall to the grand and a secondar, his medica fall to the grand and a secondar, his medica fall to the grand and a secondar, his medica fall to the grand and the secondar his middle secondar his middle secondar his middle s

LYRICE PAR ARTI-REPAIL CHILDREN,
ARTI-REPAIL CHILDREN,
ARTI-REPAIL CHILDREN,
ARTI-REPAIL CHILDREN,
ARTI-REPAIL CHILDREN,
ARTI-REPAIL
ARTI-

Of each low meeters's bear, peculiar vice."

A willy, papintical file, my child,
Who in all above. "Inscitotic knucks a," my child, flerves, the flee dath five priest,
And the peculiar and they priest.

While they line all born meeticant box, my child,
A gready predening it old hits, my child,
And the hell best, and they
Who are hit bett, and they
Who are paint, are hit prey,
When he wrings me that hard sarred mits, my child,
A siy wolf in spec shoundin array, my child,
Who decount the gharn lambette natray, my child,
Prophy wide the first
With which small sible in what way, my child,
Whith which simul sible in which way,
With which simul sible in which is a

For a here in timidity he, my child.

Will be first from the danger to fire, my child,
And abadon file troops
Of infature dupes
To their fato—an you'll specify see, my child.

To their fato—as you'll speedily see, my child.
Meanwhile, like the tame tiger, brood, my child,
Thomarilles, but canneing and chrewd, my child;
The, to claw being stocket,
Like passe in the table,?
Lets "dere not mills wait upon " would," my child.
Mark the viser of reachous touth, my child,
Mark the viser of reachous touth, my child,
As it eshibate the cowers,
The counterful image of trath, my child.

The counterful image of trath, my child.

The considered image of reach, my child,
When to weep quroid wrings, ho appears, my child;
And poers the loud rant
Of his designation cant
in the people's wild cradulous cars, my child;

in the people's wild crassions ears, my child, it was the cherapiers of Eric's high meed, my child, Frote the repelly his land to have freed, my child, Heights (Root's—would to Clad.

He could enter from the end,

This new people, and all his fell seed, my child.

We acquise the implantions traversor of being four of these "Young Em-eyed disputants, who does this words."

In points of faith more cirquent than words," on Moure telegand, or of having much in common with Butler's arch, militants.

whom Moure talks Church militants.

Charch mittants.

"Who proved their dootrines orthodox

By apostolic blows and knocks."—If addings.

† "Would'etliye a coward,

Latting—I flare not wast upon I wrests.

Like the poor out! the usage."—If are shifted of its analysis of its a supervision of irising that the II. Patrick externational the from all ones, touch, and venousous things with which the country before abounded."

East Endia Entelligence.

THE OVERLAND MAIL.

THE, OVERLAND MAIL.

The latest dates are—Calcutta, 21st Duc.; Coylon, 23d Duc.; China, Macao, 28th Nov.; Chinan, 16th Nov.; Hong Kong, 1st Dec.; Lahora, 18th Duc.; Manila, 25th Oct.; Scinde, 26th Duc.; Singapore, 7th Duc. The London Mail of Nov. 4 reached Bombay, per Berenice steamer, 11th Duc.; Madran, 17th; and Calcutta, 20th. The intermediate mail of Nov. 13 reached Bombay 23d Duc., by the Akhan.

resched Bombay 23d Dec., by the Akbar. Genelies.—The "Army of exercise" he has done its spirising. A very large demonstration has been made before a very small for, and the latter, seeing resistance meless, has whelly given in. Lord Eilenberough arrived at Agra-Ress Calcutta on the 11th Desember, and the Army being in residuese to move, the first brigade, under General Valunt, of H.M.'s 40th, marched the next day towards Dholpere. On the 13th, 14th, and 15th the rest followed. The left wing also marched from Jhanses; and about the 19th intelligence reached Gwallor of its arrival it Chaud-Effit intelligence reaction dwartor of its arrival at Canadapore Sconbarce, while the main body had appeared on the bank of the Chumbul. The nourage of the adverse party at Gradier now ouzed out at their fingers' cude; the Hase, whose wordy valour had shamed the most accomplished of Scindent's warriors, became, gentle and pasce-loving, end at length the great "book of contention," Dada

Khasgee, was marched off to Dholpore, under an escort of 50 troopers. Here General Valiant's brigade found him on the 17th, and he was immediately sent to the Governor-General's and thence to Agra, where he is now confined. The surrender of the Khasgeewalla is an important feature in the negotiations with Gwallor, as re-moving one great impediment to the settlement of salairs; ect is the submission of the Base and the Durbar. who have agreed to the terms imposed, but confess their inability to disband the troops, for which purpose, therefore, the Army continues to advance. The Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief arrived at Dholpore on the 19th, and orders were issued for the advance of the Army in the following order:—

The vauguard, under the command of Maj.-Gen. Valiant The vanguard, under the command of Maj. Gen. Valiant, K. H., consisting of three troops of Horse Artillery, No. 17 Light Field Battery, the 3d Brigade of Cavelry, and 3d Brigade of Infantry, to cross on the morning of 22d. On 23d, the Commander-in-Chfel's camp, No. 10 Eight Field Battery, and 4th Brigade of Infantry. On 24th, the 5th Brigade of Infantry, with a pertion of the Artillery, and Engineer Park. On 25th, the 5th Brigade of Infantry, and Engineer Park.

The Governor-General would cross either on the 23d or 24th, after sending off despatches by express. The or 24th, after south the Army will pass, is only three fast three inches deep, with good firer faoting, so that there would be no trouble in crossing the Army; the advance column would halt on the right bank until the whole had crossed over, when the Army would more on to a place called Hinganas, where it is expected that the Base and Durbar would meet the Governor-General to tender their submission, when, no doubt, a proclamation will be lasted calling on the soldlers of the Gwallor Raj to submit under pain of being treated as rabels. The report current in camp as to the future arrangement of the force at Gwalior is, that a 2d contingent will be brigaded under Brigadier Stacey, and the Sippres contingent increased, so as to have two separate bodies of 5000 men in each of all arms -but this is more rumour.

The Army was encamped at Dholpore, on a splendid plain, on which an Army of 50,000 men could have manocuvred with ease. The Rana of Dholpore, not to be outdone by so insignificant a force as the Army of the Chumbul, sent some of his teg-rag-and-bobtail, with a couple of old guns, one iron and the other brass (to show that he possessed both kinds of metal), to swell its numbers, to do honour to the Governor-General, and to pro-tent the English Artillery during the night, in case some secret enemy should steal ou it unobserved and annihilate it.

They were talking in camp of the probable time they would be back at Agragand what was to be done after whether to remove to the Sutledj, or settle down again quiatly. Whispers were chirent that the former was the more likely move; and words falling by accident from the lips of authority, were greedily picked up and specu-lated on. This is all pleasant enough in camp, where the smallest hint serves for an exciting discourse at the mess-table. Among other sayings which had been discussed, was one of a rather peculiar maure, as connected with the Ponjaub, but which may be taken in a double sense; "there is plenty of time to look after the Pun-jaub." This may mean, let us first settle this affair, and then we can mind the other; or it may mean that the Punjaub pear is not ripe enough yet, and therefore there is plenty of time to think of it. Be it as it may, the opinions of many are decided thatmoms interference the Punjant is contemplated in high quarters—and there the matter may rest in the mean time.

The Punjaub .- No renewal of disturbances has as yet taken place, but everything seems conding to a further outbreak. The most important events that have happened since the date of last mouth's account are, attempt to run off with the Maharajah, made by Jowahir Sing, his maternal uncle; violent quartellings between Soochet and Heria Sing; and the sudden and somewhat mysterious departure of both Soochet and Golab from Labore. The two latter occurrences seem to have Hera Sing has never been liked by the Khalsa (or united Saikh people), and that a rather strong party has for some time past existed, whose object is to get rid of the Minister, and raise Kashweer Sing, an illestitude som of Russians to the theory party in the contract of the Minister. gitimate son of Runjeer, to the throne, putting Dhuleep, the present occupant, to death. Chand Koor, the Maharajah's mother, a shrowd woman, of energetic tempera-ment, seems to have suspected the two older Rajahs of having abetted at least the latter part of this design; and her brutfler, sloubtless with her concurrence, attempted on 25th Nov. to frustrate it by carrying of the young prince from the palace. The thing, however, was badly managed, and failed. Jowahif Sing was caught, confined in chains, and his property confiscated. Soochet Sing, who it is supposed was gognizant of the proceeding, joined Chund Koor in remonstrating against the severe punish-ment inflicted on her brother, and this occasioned a fresh and violent quarrel with Heera Sing. Golab Sing, after many ineffectual attempts to recognile his brother and many ineffectual attempts to reconcile his brother and nephew, at length succeeded in persuading Soochet to quit nephew, at length succeeded in persuading Soochet to quit Lalore. This was agreed to, however, only on the condition of Golab accompanying him. They both left on the 4th, Golab having seen Chund Koor, prior to his departure, and informed her that he was about to visit Jumboo, but would not make a long stay. Soochet, it was supposed, would go to Rannuggur. It is difficult to understand the circumstances attending the departure of the Rajahs. It is not likely that in contemplation of a speedy rather to Lahors they would have taken the whole of their derstand the circumstances attending the departure of the Rajaha. It is not likely that in contemplation of a epecdy return to Labors they would have taken the whole of their troops with them; and what object could be suswered by their prolonged absence it is not easy to conceive. There seems some probability for the armise that they propose cetabilebing a state in the hifs independent of Labore. It is said they have carried off a large quantity of jewels and treasure belonging to the Maharajah, all collected in pursuance of a proconcerted plan, and that their expedition is with the view of putting this property in a place of safety! The rumour carried his property in a place of safety! The rumour carried, that the cannot between the state of public feeling at Labore, does not appear worthy of credit. worthy of credit, Lahore.—The latest pocounts are to 18th Dec.

Delhi Ganette of the 23d gives detailed advices down to the 12th. The only item of impurtance is the despatch of reinforcements to attack Mulick Futteh Khan, who was creating disturbances in the territory of Tank. It was announced at the Dephar on the 12th that this Chief was amounced at the Derbar on the 12th that the Unier had sustained a reverse, having fled from the Fort of Muttesh to the hills. "There is certainly," says the newseriter, "an improvement in the bearing of the Scikhs, and they now profess themselves ready to only the orders of Rigers Sing." General Ventura has left Lahore for Lodianah. Bome say that he has quitted the Punjand for every others that he has quitted the Punjand for every others that he has proceeded on a political errand to the British Authorities. The former is the more likely to be the ease. The Bombay Times states that "the European residents who were about to cross the frontier, and east shelter in the Campany's dominions, entertained as Joseph that the British Government would very shortly be compelled to interfere." Warlike proparations continue to be made; and there can be little preparations continue to be made; and there can be included that the Seikha are really apprehensive of an attack from the British troops on the other side of the Suitedj. The greatest anxiety as to our proceedings continues to be manifested. We hear nothing further of the treaty be manifested. We hear nothing further or the treaty and it have been some time and proposed to the Selkin Durber; and it is attange that in me one of the letters of the Native newswriters employed to communicate intelligence, has there been the alignment intimation govern-ng 4t.

Seinde.—Our intelligence from Scinde this month again this relates to the sickness and sufferings of the troops. Hyderabed and Sakkur have been for some time past converted into vast hospitals; and Kurraches, though itself comparatively healthy, presents, from the number of sick constantly brought there from the upper stations, much the same apparance. It is nomewhat comforting to know that arrangements are in progress for the with-drawal of the invalids, the whole of whom, to the number of 3,000 or 4,000, are to come to Bounkey. Their place, it is said, is to be supplied by a brigada of Madras trope; but probably, now that Gwallor is srangulified, the Bengal Regiments originally ordered to garrison the province will be permitted to proceed to their destination. The Bombay Government has latterly evinced the greatest activity in furnishing Medical sid; and after despatching every Surgeon and Assistant-Surgeon of the Company's Service who could by possibility be apared, at length advertised for the temporary services of private practitioners. Of the latter not one could be obtained; and nine Doctors were ultimately procured from the Madras Presidency. "General Napier," says the Bombey Times, "is said to have expressed his determination to part with no troops, whatever their condition, milligalaforced by a corresponding number of efficient map."

corresponding number of efficient says."

Movements of Troops:—The left wing 21st Nil. has dropped down the Indus from Hyderabed, and proceeded to Kurrachee. The right wing will fellow, and the whole come to Bombay. The remnant of 2d Europeans has been withdrawn from Mandavis to Kurraches. Some norther of the men have arrived in Basskiw, whither the m of the mon have arrived to Bo whither the portion of the men have arrived in Boulday, whither the whole regiment is to come, preparative to proceeding to Belgama, to take the place of H.Mfs. 56th, which relieves them in Scinde. The head district wing of 16th N. I. has arrived in Bombay from Barode; for embarkation to Kurrachee, and the left wing—now at Khow—will soon follow. The remainder of the 78th Highlanders with 18th N. I. Testing the control of the 18th Highlanders. relieves them in Scinde. The head-dustric wing of 16th N. I. has arrived in Bombay from Harode; for embarkation to Kurrachec, and the left wing—now at Khow—will soon follow. The remainder of the 78th Highlanders leave with 18th N.I. Leslie's troop of Horse Artillery and Whitlie's buttery have returned to the Presidency, and the former has proceeded to the Decoar. The 18th N.I., sent some time since from Bombay, has arrived at Hyderabad. H.M.'s 13th Light Infantry is an result to Sukkur from Percepture. The papers teem with accountry of the wretched state of the troops both at Myderabad and Sukkur. The 10th N.I. had lost 60 in the sentence of the hands of the purpose substitute at the hands of the purpose the Bungush and Sukkur. The 10th N.I. had lost 60 in the sentence of the hands of the purpose the Bungush arrived at the hands of the purpose the Bungush and Sukkur. The 10th N.I. had lost 60 in the sentence of the hands of the purpose the Bungush arrived at the hands of the purpose the Bungush and Sukkur.

two months; out of 164 European artiflerymen, 70 had been buried since they left Ferozepore: the 9th Light Cavalry had suffered fearfully, as had Chamberlain's and Jacoba' Horse. Details are not given, but about 400 belonging to the Bengal Army had died in 50 or 60 days. There were in all 2774 meet in hispital. Shortly before There were in all 2774 men in hospital. Shortly before There were in all 2774 men in hospital. Shortly before this the Sukker brigade turned out as muster—14 men of 9th N.I., 30 of 10th R.I., and 73 of 55th N.I., some half-dozen of the Artillery, and a dozen of Irragular Horse—out of a force of 5500 men, 350 alone were fit for duty. Among the Officers who had died were Major Roberts, Dr. Pollard, and Capt. Woodburn. The latter expired on 20th Dec., on board the steemer in which he was preceeding to the mouth of the Indus, for the purpose of analine to Rombay.

coming to Bombay.

At Hyderabad on 27th Nov. the 21st Bombay N.I. had 815 men in hospital out of a total of 955; as fever left them on the advance of the cold weather, dysentory began to appear, till the regiment became so hopelessly disorganised from disease, that it was sent down in steamers by wings to Kurrachee, on its way to the Presidency. By the steamer Auckland, four European and three Na-tise Officers, 228 r. and f., and thirty followers, were brought to Bombay on the 30th. By the 14th Dec. the 12th had 536 mentia hospital, the 15th 736. The Medi-cal Officers had been almost all unwell. The 13th N.I., which left Bombay in the middle of Nov., were attacked with illness almost immediately on their arrival. Whitlie's Battery, when it reached Bombay, had four men only fit for duty out of 100, its original strength; Leslie's Horse Artitlery, forty slive, and eight fit for ser-vice, out of 150. The portion of the 2d Europeans left at Mandavia, lost thirty men while waiting to be re-moved; 480 have arrived at Bombay, all sick. Of Military movements, or political events, there is little to tell General Simpson, who went across the Indus with the 25th N.I., and the 8th N.I., two guns and fifty horse, for the purpose of punishing some Beloochee plunderers and cattle stations, as well as to settle the boundary on that side of the river, returned to camp on the 11th, having met with no enemy save fever, by which eleven out of his thirteen Officers, and many of his men were prostrated. The expedition was admitted to be, in every respect, a complete failure. It appears that our delectable ally, Ali Moorad, is playing us false. He is reported to be in correspondence with Shere Mohamed, reported to be in correspondence with shere Monamen, who, after residing for some time with Dewan Sawan Mall, of Moultan, has at length made his appearance in the neighbourhood of our position in Upper Scinde. There is every reason to apprehend a renewal of hostilities with this Chief, and if Ali Moorad join him, as is not a superior of the state of the unlikely, our sickly and debilitated troops may find it difficult to repel him.

The Governor of Scinde is about shortly to return to Hyderabad from Kugrachee. He now has the northern division of the Army immediately at his disposal.

Wordt.—The three nephews of Yar Mahomed, late Visier, but now apparently Ruler, of Herat, have quarrelled with their uncle, and joined the two sens of the late Shah Khamran against him. The followers of the five young men assembled their followers, and he-sleged Herst. A conflict ensued outside the walls, the result of which gas, that " the Sirdars and Princes, being victorious, succeeded in shutting up Yar Mahomed in the fort."

Nepaul and Oude.-There have been some bostile collisions between the people of Oude and the Nepaulese, and the disputes between the two Governments are of a nature as agricus, that it is believed the interference of the British will be necessary. A short time ago the troops at Campore were ordered to hold themselves in immediate readiness for service, and it was believed hos-tilities were contemplated. Nothing, however, was done. The Delhi Gazette of 23d Dec. intimates that orders have been issued for the instant march towards Stawah (on the Junua, in the Donah, between Gwalior and Oude) of the following troops:—" A wing and headand Oude) of the following troops: -- "A wing and head-quarters of the 11th Infantry, an effective troop of H.M.'s 9th Liquests, another of the 11th Light Cavsiry, and two 9-pounder gime, manned by a detail of the third com-pany's 7th Battalion, the whole under the command of Licut. Col. Scott, of the 11th Infantry." The 12th In-fantry, and the right wing of the 18th, are likely also to leave Luckings for Etawah. Sir William Nott has temporatly realigned the Residentship at Lucknow, on the access of Mehabith, and Sir G. Pollock has suc-ceeded him.

country. Ilkhur Khan has returned to Cahul. His object in proceeding to Jellalabed was not to attack Fash awar; nor does there seem any likelihood of such a movement at present, either out his part or that of the Dost. The Walloe of Kholoom has arrived at Cabul on a visit, and was received with all honour. It is said he came to remove, by personal communication, an imputation which had been cast upon him by Ukber Khan, to the effect that he had entered into an allience with Boat Mahomed's inveterate foe, the King of Bothara. Judging from the inveterate foe, the King of Bothara. Judging from the was effectually disabuned of the strongous impression thus entertained; for, on his departure (on 13th Nov.), he took with him two newly-raised lufantry sprps and a troop of Cavalry, which had been made even to him by Dost Mahomed for the purpose of enabling him to allack the Bokhara Chief. Dost Mahomed and Ukhar Kham both purpose going to Jellalabad, but they have not yet started.

The Bokhera Captilies.—We have greet measure in aunouncing that letters from Trebizond of the 13th of December aunounce the arrival there on the 13th of some Bokhera merchants, who report that Colonel Stockart is Bokhara merchants, who report that Colonel Stoddart is, still alive, and holding the appointment, under the Emie of that place, of Commundant of a fortreal faring beam compelled to embrace Islamism under the nemis of Abdee Semet Khau. The same persengers Bravelse state that Colonel Stoddart has under him a young man, who note as his secretary, who, according to their description, is supposed to be Captain Conolly. Later dates from Trebiscond, to the 31st of December, mention that these reports had their confirmed by other persons arriving there from Bokhara on their pilgrimage to Mesca, and who had left Bokhara between five and six sports previous. Bix. Wolff had reached Erserones on foot from Trebisons, a distance of one hundred and fifty miles. distance of one hundred and fifty miles.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS. 40.

arch Bath. v. Brinst i, 18, Lt. W. E. Warner yo, buckel, nor Gr. Mand. to cith Batt. v. Walker, perm. to reage age? 1 set Lt. Bt. Copt. Z. M. Mallook report on the Batt. in 18th Cap 12 Med. C. Bt. Voydo, have to plants for an Massociation on this Blow, 18th Gr. Lt. Bt. Copt. C. at Massociation on this Blow, 18th Gr. Lt. Bt. Voydo, have to plants for it redulate, on mad. cart. 3 Med. Lt. H. J. B. Machend Leave to Fretchapere, and to the billing brotch of the Briton. On control of the Briton. In the Copt. In the Copt. Copt. The Copt. Copt. In the Copt. In the Copt. In Briton. In the Copt. In the Co MILITARY PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, do.

MILITARY PROMOTIONS, do.

MILITARY PRO

Niami's Army. 4th Lt. Cav,—Lt. Orr confirmed an Adj. Inf. 4th Reg.—Capt. De Ranney app. Capt.—Condt., and posted to bis sorpe.

Boffin Av.

Svapy.—Capt. J. E. Parsone, 11th N.f., app. Sup. of backers at Poone, v. Morrie, who vacates to prom.; Lt. F. Panning, 9th R.I., app. Ase, to Sup. of flav. Surv. in Boothern Mahratta country; Col. B. Hugher, C.B., Comm. at Deema; Lt.-Col. Manny, C. B. Comm. at Aumedinggat, and Lt.-Col. James, Games, in Considerab, app. Brigadiers of 2d class.

Least Gavalar.—2d Regt.—Lt. W. F. Hunker, farl. to Regions on med. part. Mo.-Capt. E. Walter, furl. to Europe for benefit of health.

Anvillanc.—The ist or "Lealie's" Tr.-House Art., and 2d Co. 2d Batt. have arrived in Bomber from Suinds; Capta. W. Beert and F.J. Pontardest, ret. to day from Suinds; Capta. W. Beert and F.J. Pontardest, ret. to day from Suinds; Capta. W. Beert and F.J. Pontardest, ret. to day from Suinds; Capta. W. Beert and F.J. Pontardest, ret. to day from Suinds; Capta. W. Beert of the Committy; Lt. J. B. Womann, to Bac. Capt.; Capt. (Et. Lt.-Col.), T. Leslie; C. B., to Europe on first.; I. A. W. D. Aitkin, trausif from 3t to 2d Tr.-Horse Art.; Capt., T. Pontardent, to join tet Sait. at Almedinagur; Bl. Mal., E. Pottinger, C.H., den. at Hong Kong on 18th Nov.; 2d Lt. J. D. Woodcombe, to be ist Lt., v. Pottinger, dee., 2d Lt. J. D. Woodcombe, 10 he ist Lt., v. Pottinger, dee., 2d Lt. R. St. Registing posted, v. Woodcombe, prom.

Essissague,—Lt. G. Wingete, ret. to day from farlough to Europe, Sec. Lt. W. Endali, to act an Adj. of Sappera and Miscratis for Presid Wennes.—Las. J. A. Cowper, 22d Mal. J. Willinghly, 2d Eur. Meg., and Dickinson, Engineers, app. Sec. La. J. Margary, to day from farl, to Europe.

Bergers Lt. A. J. Margary, to day from farl, to Europe.

Bergers Lt. A. J. Margary, to day from for Dees; Lt. Bergers Lt. S. Kenball and H. A. Adams, Officiating Assistantaness.

Sond-had Tank Spart, placed at disponel of Com.-to-Chert.

Bergers Lt. A. J. William and H. A. Adams, Officiating Assistantaness.

Las J.

THE Notes of the content of the cont

The present advices extend to the lat Dec., having been brought by H.M.'s steamer Spiteful, which left Hongs Keng on that day. The Impat prominent points of the intelligence are signing of the supplementary treaty, the occurrence of a large and destructive fire at Canton, and the death of Major E. Pottiager. The treaty was signed on Sunday, the 8th October, in a building practed for the occasion near the Anunghor fart, and not far, it is said, from where the opinm was destroyed by Lin. Sir Henry Pottinger had proceeded thither the previous evening, accompanied by his suits and several other gentlemen; and after the signatures of the two Chiness Officers, the Imperial Commissioner Kefing, and the Unvernor of Canafter the agnatures of the two chinese conters, the kin-perial Commissioner Kepfing, said the Governor of Can-tion, Ke-Kung, together with that of her Majosty's Pleni-potentiary, had been duly affixed to the document, the whole party were regaled with a diener. They returned to Macao Roads the same night. The Emperor had con-scuted to ratify the treaty without waiting for her Masentet to ratify the treaty without waiting for her Majesty's ratification, and a copy was accordingly desputched to l'okin for that purpose. This on its return would lift despatched to England; and it was expected to be received by the 20th December. Major Eldred Pottinger, who had arrived in China on a visit to Sir Heavy, was selected as the bearer, and would have left in that capacity, had he not nuhapply fallen a victim to disease at Hung-Kong. He applied at Government House, Victoria, on the 15th Bovenber. "It were needless," says the Friend of China, "to pass an eulony upon the character or medic of the Horo of less," says the Friend of Called. to plan as an en-logy upon the character or marks of the Hero of Herat and Cabul; his name will be enrolled by posterity amongst the foremost of these who, by their prudence, talent, and bravery, have served their country in emergenetes which had appalled less noble minds."

The only deaths of note beyond that of Bajor Pottiager, intimation of which is given in this papers, are those of Lientenant-Colonel Knowles, and Doctors Grahame and Dell-the latter belonged to Her Majesty's steamer Spiteful. It appears doubtful, however, whether the colony will ever gove healthy, and we fair it will be long ore the appellation beatowed upon it, of Victoria Infelix, will hesfound uncharacteristic. From the number of low outpast Chinese who had located themselves on the island, robberies, incomitary fires, and other outrages were frequent. Efforts had been made by the l'ortuguese to obtain for Manao the privileges of a free port, but with what syccels is as yet unknown.

The Consuls for Amoy and Shanghai have arrived at their destinations. Henry Gribble, Esq., is Consul for Amoy; Capt. G. Baifour, of the Madras Artillery, for Shanghai. R. Thom, Req., has been appointed efficiating Consul at Ningpo, and by the last accounts had proceeded, or was about to proceed, to the some of his duties.

Serious misunderstandings are said to have occurred betwirt Sir H. Pottinger, Lord Seltonn, and Sir W. Parker—the last named of whom was about to start for Calcutts on hoard the Cornwallis.

Calcutta on hoard the Counwallis.

Arrivals in England this Wesk from India: — Lieut-Col. Graham, Reugal Art., from Calcutta; his. and Men. Pools, child, and signant, Madras Inf., from Midras; Capt. Gifford, N.I., from Engla; Lieut. Orr, Company's, Englacers, from Calcutta; Lieut. Elaks, 11th N.I., from Bombay; Lieut. Mossay, Bengal Art., from Bombay, Lieut. Oglivic, N.I., from Madras; Lieut. Briggs, 19th N.I., from Bombay;

N.I., from Rombey: Gazette Appointments, Downing street, Feb. 9, 1844. Ganctic Appointments, ... Downing-street, Feb. 9, 1844.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint J. F. Davis, Esq., to be Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and ovar the colony of Hong Kong: John Welter Halme, Esq., to be Chief Justice of Hong Kong: the Hon.
Frederick Wm, Adolphile Bruce, to be Secretary to the Government of Hong Kong: Brevet-Major William Caid, to be Police Magintatic, Sheriff, and Provont-Marshal for Hong Kong: Rahastic Financiae Com. Han., Writer to the to be Police Magistrate, Sheriff, and Provont-Marshal for Hong Kong; Robert Dundas Cay, Esq., Writer to the Signet, to be Registfar of the Supreme Court of Hong Kung; Alexander Gondon, Esq., to be Surveyor-Goneral of Hong Kong; William Padder, Esq., Lieutement in the Royal Navy, to be Mathema-Master of Hong Kong.

Lieut., Gon, Cumplaghame.—This gullant Officer, whose demise has been officially reported at the ladginuse, had been in the Service half a century, and was promoted to the rank of Lieutemant-Getteral, 25th June, 1830, (the coronation hypert).

AT. VALIBUTINE'S MORM.
Miss Jane from her executed by day break people.
Hoped her find night would not disappoint her;
But for Jane River ride up a great butcher's buy"No matter," cried Jane, "there's a jointer."

The Haymarket Physperize.—The number of plays sent in to Mr. Webster to compete for his premium of 500% for the best have appeared to only one hundred and seven. Of these the ways too late; the remaining 101 are submitted to the decision of the umpires who have ac-ocpted aftico.

An Uniquestionable Black-Balling.—"I understand," said one, "that at the Athenseam the other night " a had a black-halling is black as my hat." "Black as your hat!" excluteed the party addressed, " aye, and with a orape round it."

ENGLISH FUNDS.

Stock, 1924 3 | Long Anna., 26 Yells, Exp. Jun. 3 per Cent. Come. Anna., 96 85 | Ludis Bonds, under 1,800£, and 3 per Cent. Come. Anna., 974 1 | Ludis Bonds, under 1,800£, and 3 per Cent. Best. Anna., 1934 | Compos for Acc., 974 2 | Compos for Acc., 974 2 | Exchequer Bills, 1,8007., 124., 24 2 | Exchequer Bills, 1,8007., 124., 69 7 1 144., 69 7 men. 69 7; 13d., 69 7 per. 2 4 2 Long Anon., Exp. Jan. 5, 1260, Ditto 182 12-16 ntro, source do 7 pms. ittor Smisit, tifd., do 7, idd.,

Long Anna., 20 Years, Exp. Dittop Oct. 10, 1959, 12 11-16 69 FOREIGN PUNDS. IN PUNDS.

Portuguese Connected, 47
Ditto Acc., 474
Spatibles for Cert., 325
Ditto Acc., 48 bg 55
Ditto Science, 58 g
Ditto Science, 58 g
Ditto Science, 58 g
Ditto Science, 58 g
French Science, 58 g
Ditto Science, 58 g
Ditto Acc., 58 g
Ditto Science, 58 g
Ditto FOREIGE Belgian Boods, 106 Brazilian, 70 s Bustim Ayres, Acc., 34 Chilan Depercel, 413 524 Columbian ex Venezuele, 121 2 ere Corrected, 47 Mexican, 1837, 844 Mexican, 1837, 844 Ditto Deferred, 11 Pernytan, 154 Ditto Acc., 10 11 61 of 6

Disco New Long, 161:162

At Spring Genve, Jersey, the lasty of listing Funzum, 1610 7900, of a son—At Alkol-greecent, Ediobardu, the lasty of listing Funzum, 1610 7900, of a son—At Alkol-greecent, Ediobardu, the lasty of Listin. Col. Sit J. Camerella, Birth. 28th Reg. of a sun and help-Jode, 181, etc. Windsor Terrord, Bloke, the wife of F. W. Barneand, Boq., Master, Com. H.M. S. Rernes, of a daughter, Jan. 29, at Stone-house, the lady of Copt. Parcon, R.M., of a daughter, 28th Stone-house, the lady of Copt. Janual Boys, El. Hab Fuelitere, of a daughter, still-burn.

Rangal.—At Bangur (Central Indigh, 18th Rev., the lady of Capt. Enswire Managory, Control Copt. J. Prajum, 18th Rev., the lady of Capt. Towars Elizabeth, Meanthrytons, Sth Lot., the lasty of Capt. J. Prajum, 18th Rev., the lady of Capt. Thrond, the indy of Capt. J. Prajum, 18th Mr., of a sin—At Kussowise, 18th Rov., the lady of Capt. White, 18th at Pringe Albertis Lt. 18th, Oak ann—At Lucksow. His May, 18th or Pringe Albertis Lt. 18th, Oak ann—At Lucksow. His May, 18th or Pringe Albertis Lt. 18th, Oak ann—At Lucksow. His May, 18th or Pringe Albertis Lt. 18th, Oak ann—At Lucksow. His May, 18th or Pringe At Campuos, 6th Mye., the lady of Capt. White, 18th Apr., the lady of John Barutnerson Francis. Bass, ath N.J., of a daughter—At Sanna, Eng., ath N.J., of a daughter At Newmore, 18th Nov., the lady of Link, R. W. Winger, the Indy of Dr. Nasarit, Gerrhon Europe, of adaughter—At Cammpore, 18th Nov., the lady of Capt. E. Managore, 18th Reg. Irregolar Cavelry, of a daughter—At Nasarited, 18th Rov., the lady of Capt. E. Managore, 18th Reg. Irregolar Cavelry, of a daughter—At Nasarited, 18th Rov., the lady of Capt. E. Managore, 18th Reg. Irregolar Cavelry, of a daughter—At Nasarited, 18th Rov., the lady of Capt. E. Managore, 18th Reg. Irregolar Cavelry, of a daughter—At Nasarited, 18th Rov., the lady of Capt. R. Managore, 18th Roy., the lady of Lady E. Managore, 18th Roy., the lady of Lady E. Managore, 18th Roy., the lady of Lady E. Managore, 18th Roy., the

B. BROWN, Arth., of a desphere—At Meeret, 2d Dec., the legy of tippt. M. 15. Halles, 18th La. Cavalry, of a desphere—At Ferrangers. 3d Dec., the legy of Capt. Lindbary, Adj. 2d Lt. Cavalry, of a son—At Delbi, 9th Diec., the ledy of Licet. C. B. Vigura, Engineers, of a son son histowal Umballah. 3d Dec., the ledy of J. Herderson, of a son and histowal Umballah. 3d Dec., the ledy of J. Herderson, Sth. Lt. Cavalry, of a daughter—At Sultanpore, Benares, 18th Kov., the lady of Bt. Capt. T. L. Harrington, 8th Lt. Cavalry, of a daughter—At Benares, 5th Dec., the ledy of Licet. Capt. T. L. Harrington, 8th Lt. Cavalry, of a daughter—At Benares, 5th Dec., the ledy of Licet. B. C. Tyrles, 3sth Lt. Inf., of a son—At Meeret, 11th Dec., the ledy of Dr. Moneca, 3d Bengal Entropsish Regit., of a son—At Garden Rassh, 19th Dec., the ledy of Capt. J. B. Assert, Senior Assist.—Compositioner, Arrason, of a daughter.

Bairne.—At Bangalors, Nov. Sl., the ledy of Lifet, Henry F. Gistram, 6th N.I., of a son—At Medra, Nov. St, the ledy of Capt. Userson, 6th R.I., 18th Ledy of Licet. Loudow, of Engineers, 3d a son—At Nadres, Nov. St, the ledy of Gapt. Womersa, of a daughter—At Jaulauh, Nov. 16, the ledy of Gapt. Userson, 10th Reg., Nizaria Cavalry, of a con—At Bengalore, Dec. 7, the ledy of Capt. C. M. Pakaus, 16th R.I. of a daughter—At Bolarum, 10st. Sl, the ledy of Capt. C. M. Pakaus, 16th R.I. of a daughter—At Bolarum, 10st. Sl, the ledy of Capt. C. M. Pakaus, 16th R.I. of a daughter—At Jaulauh, Dec. 18, the ledy of Licet. W. Commissions of a son—At Hisper, 18th R.I., of a daughter—At Jaulauh, Dec. 18, the ledy of R. J. Rankin, Ed., Assist.—Bengalor, of a son—At Bellary, the ledy of Capt. Ranks, Assist.—Bengalor, and home. Dec. 6, the ledy of Physics At Mhow. Dec. 18, the ledy of Capt. Ranks, Act., Assist. Covi Engineer at Candish, of a daughter—At Delbis, Dec. 18, the ledy of Capt. Ranks, Act., Assist. Covi Engineer at Candish, of a daughter, at Illustrim—At Tana, Dec. 18, the ledy of Gapt. His Trunna, Engineer, of a daughter—At Ball

MARRIAGES.

Jau. 26, at Fevergham, Kent, Lieut. C. E. Warren, R.N., son of Chapt, Warren, K.N., to Herritary Mary youngest daughter of Lieut. Ross Connor, R.N., -Pet., S. at High Littleton, Major Parusaick Serve, R.M.F., to Miss Langford, of Montvaleof Lient. Ross Connor, R.M.-Feb. S. at High Littleton, Major Prederick Benye, R.M.F., to Miss Langford, of Montvale-Rosso, Somerseishira.

Bengal.—At Simis, Nov. 15, Col. G. Moors, 35th Lt. 1of., to Constance May Openera Oliver, the eldest daughter of Lieut.—Col. J. Oliver, 10th Bengal, N.L.—Nov. 21, Br. C. J. Ross, Esq., Agalst., Surg. Bl.C.S., to Islandla, fifth daughter of the late R. Sandden, Esq.—At Bythet, Nov. 15, H. Rasan, Esq., 35th Reg., sop of the late Col. W. Raban, Bengal Army, to Lydia Kino, eldest daughter of J. Baker, Esq., H.B.M.S. Nuscully—At Be nares, Nov. 27, J. R. Punne, Esq., Lieut. 47th N.L., to Jans Loura, eldest daughter of C. B. France, Esq., Sarg. of the same Reg.—At Burtwan, Duo. 5, Lieut. I. A. Coor, 35th N.L., to Amelia, daughter of the late Lieut. A. Cameron, Assist. Com. of Ordinance—At Barsilly, Oct. 16, J. H. Sharkle. Assist. Burg. 42d Lt. Iof., to Amelia, third daughter of H. T. F. Beckeley, Esq.—At Barsilly, Dec. 7, H. B. Janes, Esq., 4th N.L., interpreter and Guertermaster eth N.L., to Lavatta, 4econd daughter of H., J. F. Barksly—At Barsilly, Nov. 25, Mr. J. B. Farthous, on of Capt. B. Fenkhome, of Barsilly, to Miss Bobara, daughter of H., J. F. Farrel.

Adudna,—Dio. 1s, at St. George's Cathedral, H. G. Bich, Reg., At Kurnsol, Dec. 5, Lieut. F. C. Barbara, 29th N.L., to Chaip-tiana, daughter of Lieut. W. Taylor, Mairas Army—At Veltors, Reg., 16, Capt.—H. T. Hillyator, 14th Reg., to Hannietta, Now, 16, as Trincomalee, H. O. C. Maavan, Exq., of H. M.'s 95th Reg., to Baira Massiut, oldest daughter of J. Hoggs, May, E.M.

E. Inf.—Nov. 18, at Pincomance, H. O. C. Maaten, Ed., of H. M.'s spik Reg., to Baika Marsier, eldest daughter of J. Higgs, May.

Jan. 22, at Somerby, near Brigg, L. E. Whator, Riq., aged 71, formeply Duch in 11th Lt. Dragoons, with which Reg., he served the campaign of 1782 in Fundors, under the Duke of York—At Aunglet, in France, lateut. Col. J. Parce, late 28th Reg.—Jan. 12, at Forgues, E. R. Warnis, aged 77, roliet of the late Col. G. L. Wardis, of Hart's-heath, in the county of Eent—Jan. 1, at his best. Cappanhabas, R. Mayer, En. 16 entered the Army in Early life, and served with his Regiment, the 28th, at the habis of Keoge, and at the taking and served the Army in Early life, and served with his Regiment, the 28th, at the habis of Reoge, and at the taking and served the Comminguage, on the retrect to Corsum, inder the late Bir John Moors, and on the expedition to Walcheres—Jan. 27, at Flymouth, aged 23, Dendrika, widow of the late General G. E. Vinicombe, E.M.

Bengal,—Brownest whilst bathing in the Calcuta River, opposite Markenspie's Dock, on the svening of 21th Nov., Kenvov, youngest son of Lieut. G. F. Parsons, E.N., aged 17 years—At ea, us boast the Suckingsian is 12th Aug. Inst. Curanter Harristry, and on the following morning Francusca Evan, colliders of Capt. Bowss—At Bullit, 2nth Nov., the Wife of Assat. Con. of Ordanese G. M. Dahakab—At Bussmotie, Shi Nov., Capt. O. Buss, of the Invalida, commending the station at Choure—At Disapore, at Heavalia, commending the station at Choure—At Disapore, At Merch, 18th Role, Andrews, Markey Browner, At Rollingory, 2th Nov., Ens. W. E. Pascon, 12th K.L.—At the Wife of Good Hope, 2d Regt., Analet.—Sur C. Canans James Cours, Bows, At Richinopoly, 2th Nov., Ens. W. E. Pascon, 12th Rolling, Mr. Pascon, At Bussmoth, Shi Nov., and the Bengal Airny—At Madura, 19th Deu., the Wife of Capt. Bengal Airny—At Madura, 19th Deu., the Wife of Capt. Bengal Airny—At Madura, 19th Deu., the Wife of Lieut.—Col. B. Cussingham, jat La. Cavalty—At Markey Mr. Andrews, 18th Deu., Andr DOYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST NOTICELY. - Office, 13, Webstice piece, London. - Parmonesa. - Her Most Greecoms Majerty the QUEEN. Americes are greated upon the Lives of Persons in every station of life, and for every part of the world, upon particularly fewoments better.

faction or top, and top favourable terms.

Fernous sesured in this Office may change from one country for mother without forfeiting their Policies.

Board days every Thursday at One o'Cleck, and every facility afforded for effecting Assurances on other days.

JOHEPH C. BERTTELL, Secretary.

AUSTRALASIAN, COLONIAL, AND GENERAL LIFE ABBURANCE & ANNUITY COMPANY.
CAPITAL—STRANGE OF BLACKS.
DIRECTORS.

CAPITAL—STOCKED IN S.500 REARIES.

BERETORS.

Edward Barrand, Zeg., P.B.S. | Gideon Colembers, Reg.

Robert Brooks, Eng. | C. E. Minagies, Reg.

Henry Huckle, Eng. | Richard Conslow, Eng.

John Menry Capper, Req. | William Walter, Reg.

Boluttons—Meuris, Maples, Pearse, Stavens & Co.

Harrens—The Linuon Rush of Australiata (uncorporated by Royal Charter, 1838), No. 2, Monigate-Struck, Paysiclass—P. France, Roy. B. D., 83, Cullefield M.

BECHETARY—P. France, Roy. M. D., 63, Cullefield M.

BECHETARY—Edward Ryley, Eng.

The following are systimens of the low rates of Francisms for the Americace of dies, which the method of Investment in Australian andopted by this Company, enables it to offer to the justile in Age. | 20 | 20 | 40 | 40 | 40 |

Ago..... ) 20

Ann. Prem. 1 21 10 21 27 0 71 27 1 51 26 1 1 1 20 3 2

TO EMIGRANTS TO THE AUSTRALASIAN COLONIES who are assured for the whole term of life, the Company offers the Bernalssian to proceed to and reside is any of those Colonies without extra premium, and to pay their premiums there. For Residence in New Zeeland a moderate extra premium is charged. To all Persons the Company offers the advantages of the genrantee of an ample subscribed Capital—of permission to rotain one-third of the Pramisson in their own thends (the portion so retained, with interest upon it, being deducted from the Polley when it becomes a Chain—of Ascending, Descending, and other socies of Fremiums, and of Participation in Profits.

Propertures and full particulate may be had at the Offices of the Company, No. 126, Rishopegate-street, Cky.

UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY, RING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON,
DIRECTORS:

Sir Benry Willock, K.L.S., Chairman.
John Stewart, Eaq., M.P., Daputy Chairman.
Major-General Sir Rd. Arm
strong, C.B. K.C. T. and S.
John Barshaw, Eaq.
Augustus Boasquet, Eaq.
Charles Dashwond Brabes, Eoq.
Raikes Currle, Eaq. M.P.
The principle adopted by the Universal Life Assurance Boalety of an annual valuation of search and liabilities, and a division of great advantages, especially to thuse parties who may wish to appropriate their proportion of profit to the reduction of furnities. The Indiowing Table will show the last division of profiting an declared on the 18th of May, 1843, to all paraous who had on that day plats six annual preminan:
Reduced

Reduced Annual Premium,	Date of Policy.	Sum Assured.	Original Premium.			Appual Prem. payable in 1843.
20		£1,008	£19	0	8	, ,	Z9	13	4	-
30	On or before	1,000	94	8	4	۴	14	4	1
40	coth of May.	1,000		10	0		15	13	ø
FO	1839.	1,000	. 42	16	P		18	7	6
60		1.000	66	11 1		1	3.3	- 5	10

BRITANNIA LIFE ASSURANCE COM-PANY. No. 1, Princes-street, Bank, London. Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 9.

(By order of the Board,) DAVID JUNES, Actuary.

Li Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 9.

Bitscross,

Kuburt Eglinton, Esq.

Erascaus Rt. Foster, Esq.

Alex. Robert frrise, Esq.

Pêter Murrisor, Esq.

Henry Lewis Smale, Esq.

Thomas Teed, Esq.

PANY. No. 1, Princes-afrect, Bank, London.

Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 9.

Bibble Condents, Eq.

Samuel Rovington, ideq.

William Burdgett, Eq.

Samuel Rovington, ideq.

William Fuchney Black, Eq.

John Brightman, Eq.

George Cohes, Eq.

Millis Coventy, Eq.

Auditors.—J. B. Bevington, Eq., Peter Mourisor, Eq.,

Auditors.—J. B. Bevington, Eq., P. P. Cockeril, Eq.,

J. D. Dow, Eq.

Lincoln's Inn; Mr. Serjeant Marphy, M.P., F.R.S., 16, Wimpole-atreet, Cavendah, equare, Enarmon Counse.—The Hon. John Ashley, Rew-square,

Lincoln's Inn; Mr. Serjeant Marphy, M.P., Tompis.

Bankers.—William Buras, Sec., Chi Jewry.

Bankers.—William Buras, Sec., Chi Jewry.

Bankers.—Hears. Drawett and Fowler, Princes-atreet, Early,

This Institution is empowered by a questal Act of Parliament, and is a constituted as to afford the benefits of Life Assumpce,

In their futured extent, to policy hadders, and to pursest greater facilities and accommodation than six manily offered by other companies. The decided aspectative of its plan, and its claim'to public preference and support, have been proved, incontestably, by its extrausfersty and unprecedented success.

Assurance Company, and unprecedented success.

Lives, or by Farties interested therein on the Lives of others.

The effect of an Aspurance on a person's own life is to equal to once a Property in Severises, which can by add other manes be realised. Take, for instance, the chief of a person at the age of Takity, which, by the payment of St. sc. 4, to the Britanich Life Assumates Company, can becque at once a property, amounting to 1,000, selection of the condition of his challenge wealth in his expenditure. Thus, by the greation of a very "light sugges of accounty—watch, indeed, as nan scarcely be felt so an inscription, the deport.

A Board of Directors in astaleticism, daily of These.

PETER MURRICUM.

A Board of Directors in astaleticism, daily of These.

A Board of Directors in astaleticism, daily of These.

To Numel and Military Man and others, the future Provides for white Panisline depend on the Scientify and but Use to which a Life lineans can be applied, the Plants of this Office are pairies—largy economy, that had could be desired to the Experiment of the Land would be desired to the Experiment of an Americal Sum of Manage.

TATIONAL LOAN FUND LIFE ASSURANCE, 26, Corndill, London.—Capital, 200,6006.

Empowered by Act of Parliament.

The many novel and varied Advantages bestowed by this fastitution, bott in its life Assurance and befored Assacing Dipartments, particularly the photo to Borrow Two thirds of Funditums, whiches expense or forfeiture—the great Reduction of Ratio on high Follows—the Option of selecting immute and encreating Policies so no best to suit the Interest or Nucreality of the Pathrybolider during life, an west so to affect the fail. Seedit is all Pamily at theth—and Anness division of Produc—kerre already been so well appreciated by the Public, that the Society's great Boocen and grounder Property enabled the Birmiteen, at life General Meeting in May lock, to add to each Policy up the Fraftcoals a Bussus avanging it per cent. On the Ampute identification leveled's and the Birmer, escenting to an equitable each, one pitther be paid in Cash, or agained in reduction of future Freeniums.

EXAMPLES.

	}			Antropi Premium.			x .
1887	39 114	59	1,000	172 IA 8	132 to 6 190 0	# 2. 4. 50 10 10	8 18 4 18 9 7

Another Bennet will be declared in the present Your.

Another Bernst will be destared in the present Year.

Burbaume Armstrase.

The best and must varied provision for after life lithiests offered. Every light, per mained particular, for after life lithiests offered. Every light, per mained paid tree thouse of an amounty of at 41, 164, 364, per 2014, holder the choice of an amounty of 471, 164, 364, per 2014, per 201

F. PRESUMON CAMBOUR, Socretory.

UNITED KINGDOM LIFE ASSUR ANCE COMPANY, & Waterion-piace, Fall-Mail, Lor DIVISION OF PROFITS AMONG THE ASSUMED.

Harabarr Fari of Errol Earl of Courtown Earl Lovel and Melville Earl of Nurbury

Fausmanns,
Earl Somers
Lord Vincount Palkings
Lord Riphinstone
Lord Bildhayen and Stanton

Brasevous,
James Steatt, Eq., Chairman,
Itananel De Castre, Eq., Deputy Chairman, nterson, Seq.
Slair Averles, Eq.,
(Charles (raham, Esq.
(Charles (raham, Esq.
(Charles Mastiand, Eq.

Samnet Anderson, Esq. Hazaiten Bistr Averke, Req. Edward Boyo, Eeq., Resident & Leanox Boyd, Esq., Assist.

ok Masintyrs, Esq.

This Company, established by Act of Parliamont, affirth the most perfect security in an ample paid-up (suital, and in the great success which has attended it since its commencement in 1954. In 1841, the Company declared an addition to the Shareholders of one-half of their Block, and also added if, per cent, per annua, front ine date of the politics, to those Parties who had marked with Profits. The Presidents, nevertheless, are on the most mexicants scale, and usify a saniety need to paid for the first try years, where the lamanages is for Life.

The sement of booms added the pulless since the commencement of the Company in March 1865, to the 21st of Dec. 1849, is as follows:—

Bum Assured. Time Assured. Sum added to Policy.

21000 0 Years 10 Months. 2136 13. 4d.

1005 4 Years. 60 0 0

1006 3 Years. 50 0 0

1006 1 Year. 50 0 0

Every information will be afforded on application to the Resident Directors, Euwann Sorn, Eaq., and E. Lennox Huys, Eaq., of No. 8, Waterloo-place, Fell mell, London.

Froderick Halv Timmon, Reighburgson, 4s, Seraers-atreet, ettenda at the Odice daily, about half-past Two o'Clock

Patronicot and annelioned by MEE MAJESTY the QUEEK, H.R.M. PRINCE ALBEST, the SOYAL PAMILY, and the several COURTS of RUSOPE.

POWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, Powering and Bendifying the Human Heir.

Namen Hair.

Price 2s. 6d.—7s. Fundly Botties, featast to Pour small,) 14s. 6d.

and double that size, 91s.

CAUTION.—The words "EGW LAND'S MACARRAN CIL."

are suggisted on the Wrapper of bids genuins bottle; nod on the best of the Wrapper 1,400 thinds, destaining 29.020 letters.

Wilson's this " Ross and Graviens."

ELTWEAND'S EALYDOR, for Ingerving and Beautifying the Bills and Complexion. Price 4s. 5d. and 4s. 6d. per bottle, duty included.

included.

EOWLAND'S OBONTO, or FEARL DRETTERICE, renders the Treeth beingthilly White, said preserves the Gume. From the St. St. ger hox, duty included.

CAUTION.—Springs fund furthering are frequently offered for sale, as the real articles. It is therefore imperative on purchasers to see that the word "MOWLAND'S" is on the Wrapper of sact. For the protection of the Public from frees and imposition, the fiscanous Rice Communication of the Majesty's himps nave authorized the Proprietors' Mignagare to be engraved on the Coveriment Strup. IAMS—

A. MOWLAND AND ROW. 28. RASTON CARTIEM. which the Government REALLY LAND AND ROW, M. RATTON GARDEN, which is affect to the Eally DOS and OHORTO.

Soll by there, and by Chemistr and Perfumers.

LE others are SPORTOUS INSTATIONS.

THE MARINERS & GENERAL LIFE

ASRUGANCE COMPANY.

EXPRESSLY ESTABLISHED FOR INSURANCES ON THE LIVES OF MARINERS,

(Whether Members of the Boyslest Marcanite Navy.)

MILITARY MEM AND GENERAL ASSURED.

It is to be noted that the Policies of the Company will cover voyages of every description and Mervice is every part of the Choice.

Voyages or every severy and floatman also featured.
The Lives of Fishermen and floatman also featured.
High Races of Francium have hitherto operated against this hind of Assurance, but as the flates not adopted with be found as low as are consonant with the risks, is is believed that this hot, complete with other advantages, will induce a great increase of repr. Merred Assocition graphed to Mariners upon very B premiume.

The Frenchises for General Assurances are bothed upon a new adjusted Table of Municity.
Thu per cent, of the Profits to be applied in making provision for Desittute and Dimbind Mariannia.

Wm. M'Ninch, Manages,

Arthur Street, Best, London Skidge. SILVER SUPERSEDED, and those corre-

alve and injurious Netale, called Nichel and German Silver, amphabed by the intruduction of a new and personly malichiem ALBATA PLATE.

C. WATEDN, it and 48, Bashloan, and in, Norton Folgate, aided by a person of sociece in the manighmention of Metalaghas and-cooled in integring to public notice the most beautiful article ever yet offered a possessing all the rindocar of silver in appearance, with all its durability and hardinism—with its perfect appearance, with all its durability and hardinism—with its perfect appearance in use—undergoing, as is dues, a Chembon prince by durable all that is manusculas to infined. Metala is cultically extraord—resigning all actide, may be stronged as Silver, and is manuscular and into every Article for the Table has Sideboard in Threaded. Sincre.

			-		Pi	MA.	Thro	eded.	Kim	ď.
A	•	-1			į.	ģ .		d.	4.	4.
Table Spooms and	20	A R	,		10	Q.	96	8	85	9
Dessert Spoons					18	4	25	0	80	0
Ton Spanis .					- 8	4	13	6	M	6
Balt Disto .			•	٠	6	*	13	fi.	12	4
Flats Knives .		٠.				d each	17	ď	18	6
Bauca Ladles .					3	6 pair	7	6	7	6
Gravy Mpinina				٠	4	6 much	. 7	đ	7	6
. 7.7

and the latest the public will independ on the internal factor of the model for the properties of the public will independ the latest form and the filter in not many different from probling his north is from all time filters; and not many different from probling in the model is from all times and the filters; and not it can those mark filters are the publisher, and faultary who regard spondary and friends because the creating of the second brook, which may be had grait and place the street from the above address. MACHE TEA TRAYS, that, a set of three firstless hape filts (indicates the first street into the circles shape allow a discount to the firstless and avery or index in Firstless and avery or index in Firstless, and avery or index in the index, and the long set of first pieces, white, belies and other limited, so, to 12s, the 94 pieces, are indexed and average for the part. The establishment is a model for the pieces, white, belies and other limited as a variable their supersor Table Culters, the whole or which is marked with their supersor Table Culters, the whole or which is marked with the property of the firstless, and address, and spiles to obtaining a line approper of the All Mall and All the latest to the part of the property of the firstless, and spiles to obtaining a line approper of the firstless and the firstless and the property of the firstless and the firstless and the property of the firstless and the proved of.

ROLLE AND CANDLE LAMPS.—A Rolly Lymp to have commore til without smoke or nearly, 22r. 6d.; a Paimer's Patent Candle Lang, to give the light of two quantic andles, with glass hand, ps.; Hol-water bidne for Venson, thei-steak, or hiswa —a set of six Landens-made Patent Dish (weers, 19c. 6d.; PreLymp, 2s 6d.; and every article in incohaling Haydenado. Sand for his Catalogue, which may be had Gratin and Postage free.

DETTS'S FATENT BEARS.

Botwithstanding the publicity for main years past gives to the superiority of BETE'S PATENT PRENTS BARS.

Botwithstanding the publicity for main years past gives to the superiority of BETE'S PATENT PRENTS BEELDED BEARS by over every other Boist, Billioth or Borelge, it in-yet that parishly known. J. T. Barra & Co. therefore don't be about they public and themselves to invite a comparison between the Patent and the French Brassy, until every Pamily in the kingdom, in which distandy be consumed, have made the of the Poreign article. Their respective merion are fairly defected the ton tollowing Testimonials, to which they again beg to refer — Extracts from Testimophale.

Extracts from Traitmostate.

"(do not healths to express my conviction that your Falset.

Brandy is fully as froe from every thing subtions to health, and contains as pure a spirit, as the best varieties of Foreign Bready.

"Frofessor of Chemistry in the University of London."

"John T. Besti, Eq."

"I am bound to say, and do assert with confidence, that for purity of spirit; this cannot be surprised; and that your Falsat brandy is also quite free from those solds which, though minute in quantity, niways configurable the Foreign Spirit.

"J. Betts, Eq."

"Jour Brandy is free from uncombined acid and astringent matter, which exists, more or less, in most of the Brandies imported from France.

"Jour Thumas Course,

"To Mr. Betts."

"Lacturer on Chember,"

It is this perfect free-long from the above objectionable qualities, and its agreephs similarity in Sevent to the finest anaples of Copper Branch, that constitute the popular value of the Parker Branch.

of Cognet Brandy, that constitut the pacetian value of the Parker Brandy.

J. T. Berth & Co. arc, at length, confided to give a distinct assistance that arrangements will be prompted in the continuous tree present month, which will afford an unfailing protection to participates against the continuous of these france, from which they have littlette an extensively affords, as each bottle will be secured by a Parker Markethic Carsulas, or cavering for the work, of which more illustratively and the words, "Barra's Parkethic Carsulas, address, and the words," Barra's Parkethic Carsulas, address, and the words, "Barra's Parkethic Unit Barra's manufactured only at the Distillery, No. 7, Smithshill Barr, leading to St. John Street, where it may be contained, either pale or coloured, in quantities and least than Two Cailons, at Eightspe Shillings per Gailon, for Cash on delivery.

In a few days, in 2 vois., post 8vo., ATSWOR Or, THE ROMANCE OF A WEEK.
Relied by R. Plumin Wash, Esq.,
Author of "Tremaine," " De Vere," &c.

THE SECRET PASSION. By the Anthor of "Shakapeare and His Friends, of hakapeare," &c. Three vols.

Just Ready. WILD SPORTS IN EUROPE, ASIA, & AFRICA
By Lleutenant-Colonel Narran,
Author of "Scenee and Sports in Foreign Lands," Sec.
Two volumes, small 8vo., with Illustrations. 21s. bound.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 18, Gwat Bearlborough Street.

BYROR COMPLETS FOR PIPTURN SHILLINGS. A New and Cheeper Edition of ORD BYRONS POETICAL WORKS.

With a Postesit, and View of Manager Poetics. With a Portrait, and View of Newstrap Abser. One volume royal svo., 15s. John Murray, Albemarie Street.

RYRON'S LIPE FOR FIFTERN SHILLINGS.
New and Chesper Edition of
THE LIFE AND PROSE WORKS OF

I.ORD BYRON.
With his LETTERS and JOURNALS.
Collected and Arranged with lituarrative Notes.
By Tennas Moose, Eq.
Portraits and Viguette. One volume, royal syb., Etc.
John Murrsy, Albemaria Street.

CAMPBELL'S PORTS FOR FIFTEEN SHILLINGS. Third and Cheaper Edition of EAUTIES of THE BRITISH POETS, with BIOGRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL NOTICES.

By THOMAS CAMPBELL, Ess.
Portrait and Vignetic. One volume, Toyal 8vo., 15s. John Murray, Albemaria Street.

Now Ready, with Frontispiece, Fcap. avn., 2s. 6d., c THE MASSACRE of BENARES. -L Chapter from British Indian Flatory. By John Pranofs Davis, Eq., Author of " China and the Chinese." John Murray, Albemarie Street.

SANDHUMAT COLLEGE MATHEMATICS. Published this day, in I thick volume, syn, price its, boun

Published this day, in 1 thick volume, 8vo, price 16s. bound,
ILDMENTS OF ARTHMETIC AND
ILDMENTS OF ARTHMETIC AND Mathematical Professor of the Edyst Military College, Sandhurst.
Also, in 2vo., with many Diagrams, 16s. 6d. bound, Raphantin OE Glacobe Practical for the first Four, and the Sixth, Socke of Edwid, chiefly from the Text of Dr.
Robert Simens; with the principal Theorems in Proportion, and a Course of Fractical Geometry on the Ground. Also, FourTracts relating to Circles, Pipalos, and Solids; with one on SpheJien! Geometry. By John Nabshus, F.E.S., R.A.S., Professor of Mathematics, Eoyal Military College, Sandhurst.
London: Longenton, Brown, Green, and Longenson.

London: Longuine, Brown, Green, and Longmans.

DAYNE'S UNIVERSUM; or, Pictorial World, with four kighly datated engravings from

"We predict a brilliant career for this beautiful and interest ing work."—Sunday Times.

London: Brain and Payse, 12, Paternoster-row; and of all booksellers.

Three premiums will in given (gratta) with the first volume. Bec Pruspectus.

FOR SCHOOLS AND PRIVATE INSTRUCTION.
WHITTAKER'S IMPROVED EDITIONS.

WHITTAKER'S EDITIONS of PIN-NOCK'S ADAPTATIONS OF GOLDSMITH'S HISTO.

NOCK'S ADAPTATIONS of GCLDSMITH'S HISTO-RIES, in 1200.

HISTORY of ENGLAND. The 34th edition, with numerous Embellishments, Maps, Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &c., de, bound.

HISTORY of ROME. The 22d edition, with numerous Embellishments, Maps, Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &s. &d. bound.

HISTORY of GRERCE. The 18th adition, with numerous Embellishments, Maps, Tables, Exercises, &c., &c., &s. &d. bound.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Child's First Sound Epok; or, Monterian Primer. 18mo, &d.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's First Spelling Book, 18mo, ts.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Exercises in False Spelling. 12mo, 1s. &d. bound.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Exercises in False Spelling. 12mo, 1s. &d.

WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Exercises in False Spolling. 12mo, 1s. 6d.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Juventile Reader, for Children from Four to Seven Years old. New edition, 12mo, 1s. 6d.
«WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Introduction to the Explanatory Reader. 12mo, 3s. kound.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Explanatory Egglish Reader, in Prose and Verse, for Pupils above Seven Years old. Sixth edition, 12mo, 4s. 6d.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Arithmetical Tables. 12mo, 6d.
WHITTAKER'S Pinnock's Cyphering Books, 4to. Part 1., 1s.—Parts 11. and 111., 3s. cach.—A Key, 2s. 6d.
"N.B. Care should be taken to order Weightaken's Infraorem Entropy, as in the Inversal Popularity of this Series, unprincipled attempts have been made to another works of a somewhap similar appearance. Mosers. Whitaker and Co. having expended very large sums upon the purchase of the Copyrights, and baving by the aucquasive labours of numerous Emindat Writer's, perfected the various books to the very latest state of Science and History, and rendered them, by conjour additions, as Complete as Elementary Works ask be, are determined to protect their property, and at the same time to prevent the Public from being temposed upon by Sputious Imitations.
Whittakes and Co., Ave-Marin Dase.

| ASS'S EAST INDIA PALE ALE.

This particular kind of Ale is prescribed to investes by the most celebrated Physicians. Dr. Front, who has examined it, in his Work on "Diseases of the Stomach," &c., after condensing common Ales, singuishing recommends this to "wently persons, is excellent significant in eachs and sottles, of any age, at their appointed Agents", Hannay Branz and Co., 5, &t. James's street.

TORATT'S OWN MILITARY and OVER
I. LAND SEPETAD, and EAST CHAIR (Just Completed) is particularly recommended to the effly notice of the Mebility and Gentry visiting the Ouatinent, or Johnseying hygies Deverant Route to India, and Officers in the Army, as it folks up in an incredibly made income to the simplicity of construction by which a comfortable, many Chair, either with or without leg rest, in obtained, made income the description of the EARPACE, CONTINENTAL Finite, and the Hispingaphs is the Barrace, Contributal Fall Invite, and the Hispingaphs,—cans now be viewed at PMATP'S CAMP and THAYELLING EQUIPAGE MICO-ROOMS, 125, New Bono Stange, and 10, Cockaput Stranz, where a large assortment of every meeting the order of the Millow-ROOMS, 125, New Bono Stange, and 10, Cockaput dight Overland Taukir, made in a very imprise manner weight only 18 lbs. Erati's fatent Compendium Fortmanteen aurpasses all intherto invented, and continues to give entire actionalism. Inving four comparismants, to ever entire actionalism. Inving four comparismants as executable, packing choice without pressure, including an expanding Bag for Boots and Shoes, all accessible at one departed extensively already. Invine for the obtained at Faget's Truck and Military Outching Warellouwe, 128, New Role Mirest; and 19, Gookspar Street.

The Charles of the Military of the Charles of the SAL-DRATTS OWN MILITARY and OVER

LI ODGSON'S POTTED WELCH SALmon The solat designe and designing preparation, for surpassing any sellect, of the fatter of the full for sendwidness, seant, &c., in now withsoutherest secondmended to spicoures, beaveliers, and levalide, as a great acquinition to the breakfact, function, or support table. Build in poin at is, 3d., and 3s. 6d., wholesale and retail, at J. Hodgson's, Bristale wine warehusses, 72, Union, street sear, dislanguist-street, and retail by, all respectable citizen, groove, druggists, and Schmongers, in from any adaptity. Superior British wines, 16s. per dozen, warranted fesse years ald.

J. AND D. NICOLL, 114, REGENT-The BTT, LONDON, submits List of their Prices, and respectfully beg thek DEFICERS WILL CONTRACT IF WITH PREVIOUS CHARGES FOR TERM UNIFORMS, and as regards the angularism of material, the skill, and rich keep said, they will bear comparison with any; and in many points, as silk lisings, successed distinguisher worksmoothip, &c., will stook.

Entile See Preservation of the States, Built, Sword English, Spaniettes, Swords, Sift Saches, Bailt, Sword English, Scanes, Beauteries, Swords, Sift Saches, Bailt, Sword English, Sword E

M. J. & D. NIGOLI, 114, Regent Street, London.

LASE AND COMFORT IN SHAVING.

LA Motera, B. and S. COWVAN'S invaluable GANTON STROP, or QUADRILATERAL CHINGRE RAZOR HARPENER, renters the operation of Shaving no longer patient to the most tender skin. By a very simple process the keenest sign may speedily be given to the bluntant ranor or seminife. Be and S. Cowvan's pecultarly-tempered razure sind flaving powder. Specimens of the Strops are now exhibiting at the Royal Polytenbule institution and Rayal Adelaide Gallery; Environ Tempered and Strop are now exhibiting the Royal Polytenbule institution and Rayal Adelaide Gallery; Environ Tempered Control May be seen at the Involunce, B. and S. COWVAN, 16s, Fenderic May be seen at the Involunce, B. and S. COWVAN, 16s, Fenderic May be seen as the Involunce, B. and S. COWVAN, 16s, Strop Paste, at 1s, per Packet, Environ Power, 1s, 6s, per box. Caution,—None are genuine except those marked and spoit "B. and S. COWVAN."

PRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF Leaves of the invaluable Medicine is attended by Tastimential. — From Basinest Octobra, Enq. F.R.S. one of the Council of the keyal College of Bangsons, London. Surgeon to Gay's Hospital; and Lecture's the Anahomy, &c.:—"Mr. Banass Coopen presents his significants to hir. George Franks, and has great pleasure in highly sentimony to the efficacy of his Bolution of Counts in Goneraldia, for which channed Mr. Cooper has prescribed the facilities lightly or two cases with perfect aucesas.—Now Street, April Lagilla."

Propered only by George Franks, Burgling, Mr. Dischfeing, Boat, London, where it may be had in Bacilité at R. S., de the and its, each, and of all respectable Distributions. Placet Medicine Venders in the United Kingdom.

Caurities:—Ulbeks "Grown's Franks, Mischigfers Boad," is engraved on the Government Stams, Cananot by genulase.

*** Mr. Franks may be consulted until Two scients delig.

TAMMERING, &c. Parsons to avail themselves of Mesers. HARTHROP and HUXLEY'S most successful Mede of treating this digressing Flaveous Arberton will be referred to Families of the highest inspectability two of Children and Friends, though peanets high based under their care, now femaciate with ease und finely. Mesent, HARTHROP and HUKLEY continue to be changing and James's between the Hours of 13 and 3 o'clock, at 3, draft James's Street, Bedford Roy, on every species of Defining This was.

Just published, the MINETERNTH EDITION, price is. ; and sen free, on bussipt of a Post-office Order for as. 6d.

free, on Nessigt of a Post-office Order for 2s. 8d.

A N H O O D;

The Calvars of its PREMATURE DECLINE, with pipe Directions for its PREMATURE DECLINE, with pipe Directions for its PREFECT RESTORATION; addressed to Those suffering from the destructive effects of Exceesive Indiagence, Solitary Habits, or infection; followed by Observations on the trialiness of Republish, Gogorators, Ulgert, &c. (liustrated with Cases, &c.

By J. L. Drawers and Ca., Consulting Surgeons, London.

Park NINETARNET THOUSAND.

Full inhed by the Asthers, and Soid by Burgan, Medical Bo k-seller, 28, Coventry Strees, Sarth, 4, Brydges-street, Strand, Mann, 29, Gornbill: Strange, 21, Paternoster-row, Lendon; Guest, 51, Ball-street, Birmingham & Sowler, 4, 52, Ann's-square, Manchester; Philip, South Costle Street, Liverpool: Fannin and Co., 41, Grafton-street, Davlin; Boister & Co., Cork; Barnes, 29, High-street, Glasguay, Denamond, 5, Bisir-street, Edinburgh; and Soid, 6: a second empriser, by all Booksellers.

29. High-street, Glasquer, Dressmond, 6. Bisir-street, Edinburgh; and Solis, to a stable encelope, by all Booksellers.

"This work, a "EMTH Bittion of which is now presented to the public, for thesessed popule having been achainted since its first expenirance, had been very much improved and enlarged by the addition of a more-adimented and dear death of general principles, as also by the addition of a more-adimented and dear death of general principles, as also by the insertion of several new and highly-interesting outes. This book, as has been already stated, is the result of very ample and delily-increasing experience in a class of discuss which, for some amageologistic reason, have been either altergather investoried, or treated aimost with indifference, by the ordinary medical practitioner, and we test no healtstipn in anying, that there is so member of society by whom the book will not be found seeful, whether such person hold the relation of a Parent, a Proceeptor, or a Olorgyman."—bun.

"Hearts. Curties" work, entitled MANHOOD, in one of the few books now before the public on such a subject which can isy distinct to the thereter of being strictly professional, at the same time that it is fully intelligible to all who read it. The moral and modical procepts given render it liventants."—Magnet.

"The perusal of Massers. Curties" book entitled MANHOOD has really activitabled us by developing a series of malanics, the never-falling possequence of the victors habits of malanics, the never-falling possequence of the victors habits to omach aced for to cause us to healtafte to ecommend it for general perusal. Every branch of those frightful maladies, whether the result of immoral habits or accret vices, is here succinety treated, and alwasted or all medical technicality plans and easy directions are given for the best mode to be pursued in alleases, however complicated or apparently hopeless. To the married, as well as the augurated, this little work alike affacts consolation and cure in peculiar cases, and we Mesars, CURTIS & Co. are to be consulted daily at their resi-lence, No. 7, FRITH STREET, SOHO SQUARE, LONDON.

Country Patients are requested to be as minute as possible in the detail of their sases. The communication must be accom-panied by the musi consultation (see of it, and in all cases the most inviolable secrecy may be relied on.

TEREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of OPIUM, FIRST PREPARED at PATNA, in BENGAL.—The great merit of this preparation is its pseudiar freedom from the maximum proporties of Opium, and has therefore been found available in cases where other forms have been inadmassible, from its not disturbing the nervous system. The rest procured through its instrumentality is diversed of the heaviness and stoper usually the effect of Opium, and the patient, though taking it continuously, is left in free possession of his faculties. It has for several years been supplied to the R. C. Blapensary, by order of the Medical Board of Hengal, from its being found to meet Choiera in ladis, begind any remedy that had been applied to that fatral disease. Captain I remely from whose formula it is prepared, is well known to scientific persons as the talented improver of the Patna Opium. It will be found not to constipate the bowels, and to keep any time is any climate; it is exceedingly powerful in Cough, especially Consumptive Cough, wherein many have found it a great bisesing, in Influence, Gout, Tic Dopicureux, Cholera, and Bowel Compilaints, Rheumadism, and Cancers in Accouchements, and all cases where Opium may be desirable. The exceedingly issuations properties of the preparation have been proved by infamili of a few weeks old lawing taxen it, without any cerebral infamiliar and the envisore of the betters—a few only of the finance are on the envisore of the betters—a few only of the finance are given here of those who have approved, viz.:— TEREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of

. MERICAL BOARD OF BENGAL. e Mangcal Board of Sungal.

By David Digot, Royal Naval Hospital, Plymouth, Dr. Cockworthy, Physician, Plymouth Dispensary.

Dr. Watson, Middlesex Hospital, London.

J. G. Ferry, Surgicos, Poundling Hospital, London.

Dr. Reis, Reyal Hospital, Chatham.

J. B. Martin, Boq., (lare of Calcutta), Gravenor-st., London.

Dr., Jackins, late Apotheasty-General, Bengal.

Dr. Graven, Mosth Hospital, Dühlin.

By Faitin Capangton, Dablin.

Dr. Haingt, Fachusor of Physic, Glasgow.

Dr. Yinggh.

Dr. Haington,

Jonith Devon Hospital.

Penikadi asis by Francis Lean, 27. George street, Plymoulb,

Dr. Hingaton,

Prephred eath by Francis Lean, 27, George aircet, Plymouth, and sold by him in built for dispension, and in bottles at 22, 94, 45, 46, and like, all stamped with the Government Stamp, having in the hody of it "ference's Sed. Bol. Opil., by Fran Lean," with directions for use, having his signature written in red hit, without which, many is genuine.—Sold also wholesale by Meanra, Barcilay it Song, 9, Farringston, street, and Edward Winstanley & Hon, 7, Pholity, London, Evans & Bon, Exercy, Bewiey, Sackville street, Builting Scott, Thompson & Co., Calcutta; Binney, Maaries; Zunneiter, Builting Houses & Co., Jameien, William Make, Montreel, Chunda, and rotall by all respectable chemista. 2c, 93, 4c, 56, and 11s. each box; post free, 3s., as, and 17s.

Printed by Green's Lawr, of No. 18, South Parade, M., James's Park, Popids of St. Margaret's, in the county of Middlesex, Printer, at the Office of Mesers. Brannuny and Hyana, Lombardserged, Printer, in the Precinct of Whitefriers, in the James and Markott, and Published by him at his Owner, 10, Carles of Markott, and Published by him at his Owner, in the same County, where all the County with the County of the Markott of

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETTE

East India and Colonial Chronicle.

No. 580. Price 8d. ŠATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1844. Literary Notices:—"Wandetings in the Highlands and is lands, with Sketches taken on the Scottish Border."
By W. H. Maxwell
"Vindication of the Proceedings of Admiral Lord Notion In the Bay of Noples." By Com. J. Miles, R.N. 169
"B'Horsay; or, the Follies of the Day"
Correspondence
"C. D. P., Twelve years in the West Infles and Two in Capada." In Norleants' Meason of Infantry Regis. 110
"Seatier in dain Hanket." on the Commissioning. 110
"Servitor." on the Old Subaltories of the Army 110
"New Tile." on the Infantry Chacu. 110
Funds, Rittle, Mariages, and reason. 110 Minary Appointments and Vrome floos—Movements
(Ri. Arillery—Court Martin! on Lieut. B. Willia (Pool Guana—Letter of An Old "Geatleman's Son
(44th Prot—Letter of "Fariplay")
(W. I. Regts.—Letter of "A 3rd West India Sub.")
Military Intelligence
(Rewards for Distinguished Services)
(Army Estimates)
Memoir of the late Major Ridred Pottinger
Naval Promotions and Auxointments of the Week 101 Army 108 ; Court, Fashion, and General News eval Promotions and Appointments of the Week Parliamentary Analysis
Foreign and Colonial Intelligence Memoir of the late Vice-Admiral Edward Stirling Dickson Funds, Rirths, Marriages, and treatus

CONTRACTS FOR OILS, SOFT SQAP, AND ROSIN. Department of the Storchoper General of the Navy, Somerset Place, 14th Feb., 1444.

THE COMMISSIONERS for EXECUT-ING the OFFICE of LORD HIGH ADMIRAL of the UNITED KINGDOM of GREAT BRITAIN and IRELAND, do Hereby Give Notice, that on TUEBDA', the 27th instant, at ONE of thock, they will be ready to treat with such persons as may be writing to contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with a property of the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with a property of the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with the contract for the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty's Dockwork with the contract for the contract for the contract for aupplying Her Mujesty Dockwork with the contract for the contrac

OIL, LINSKED.

OH., LINSEED.

GALLIPOST.

NEATSFOOT.

NEATSFOOT.

SPERMACETI.

SOFT SOAP AND RUSIN.

Distributions of the Articles, Samples of the Soap and Rusin, and Forms of the Tradits, may be seen at the said Office. No Tender will be received street One O'Clock, on the Day of Treaty, nor any noticed, unders the Party attends, or an Agent for him dair authorized in writing.

nor any noticed, unites the Party attends, or an Agent for him daily authorized in writing.

Every Tender must be addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, and her in the left hand corner the words. "Tender for "Tender for must also be delivered at Somerset Place, accompanied by a Letter signed by Two responsible Persons, eagaging to become bound with the Person tendering, in the Sum of 25t, per each, on the vame, for the due performance of the contract, it exceeding 2000t., and by one person if under that sum.

THE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Messis. T. and w. Saitts, of Newcastle upon Type, and built by them for the INDIA TRADE, will leave Gravesend punctually at the undermentioned dates, and embark Passengers at Portamouth a week after.
FOR BOMBAY.
COLOMBO, 500 Tons. John Transon, Commander, to Sait February 17.

February 17.

FOR MADRAS AND CALCUTTA.

PEKIN, 650 Tons, Robert Laise, Commander, to Sail

February 27, ROBERT SMALL, 800 Tous, E. WILLIAMS, COMMUNICATE, to Sad April 20.

ELLENBOROUGH, 1,109 Tons, M. C. Cross, Commander, to Sail May 20. 1-UCEPHALUS, 1,010 Tone, Wm. BELL, Commander, to Sail

FOR CALCUTTA DIRECT.
GIORIANA, 1,100 Tous, J. S. Webs, Commander, to Sail

TUPOR, 1,150 Tone, M. J. LAY, Commander, to Sail Aug. 15. FOR THE CAPE AND CALCUITA.
PLANTAGENET, 1,600 Tone, John Domett, Commander, to

POR MADRAS. • DUKE OF ARGYLL. 880 Toles. HENRY BEISTOWK, Commander, to Sail August 10.

For Passage supply to Capt. Barbers, 17, St. Mary Axe; Capt. Wm. Felense; or T. & W. Sults, 78, Copubill.

PENINSULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM

PENINDULAR & URIENTAL STEAM

NAVIGATION COMPANYa

The Company book Passengers for the following places, viz. —
INDIA, vis EGYPT (the Overland Route.)

BOMBAY.—By the Company's Steamers, ORIENTAL and GREAT LIVERPOOL, lat of every Month from Bonthampton, and by the Hon. East India Company's steamers from Suez.

CALCATTA.—Calling at Ceylon and Madras By the Company's Steam-ship ORIENTAL, from Southampton, 1st March, and by the Steam-ship HINDOSTAN, from Suez, about 22d

March.

March.

MALTA, Alexandria (also Maples, Leghorn, Genoa, &c., in conjunction with the Neapolitan steamers from Malta,) from Southampton 1st of every month.

Vily O. (porto, Lisbon, Cadiz, and Gibraltar, from Southampton Ducks every Toursday aws r.m.

ATHEMS, Syra, Smyras, Coustantimple.—Occasional trips.

MAREHA.—One of the Company's steamers will run between Madera and Gibraltar next Spring, for Passengers returning visite Ponimula, and will then return to Southampton direct.

N.B.—Passengers bocking to Malta, Egypty the Levant, or India, have the privilege of visiting Vigo, Oporto, Lisbon, Cadiz, and Gibraltar, by the Penimsular steamers, without any additional charge.

nd Gibraitar, by the Feminauiar ateamers, without hey must-onal charge.

Apply at the Peninauiar and Oriental Steam Navigation Com-any's Offices, 51, St. Mary Axe. London; and 57, High Street, outhampton; and at the Office, No. 38, Regent Circus.

POR MADRAS DIRECT, and will sail punctually on the int april, the fine Teak Ship MELLIANI, ase Tons, J. H. Fawcarr, Commander; Iting in the Ri. Katherine's Docks. This Sup has excellent accommodation for Passengers, and carries an experienced Burgeon. For Resident or Passenger apply to Mesers. Gunnaranes & Co., White Lidsbourd, Cornhill; or to T. Haviston & Co., Sun-court, or 69, Corshill.

CALCUTTA, via EGYPT, by or March, from Nonthampton.—For Passengers, Groods, and Parcels, the Pennsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's atteam ship ORIENTAL, Capt J. Sov, will leave for Alexandris on the lat of March next, and the HINDOSTAN, Capt. S. Munssay, will leave successful or about the 22d of March for the above places. Apply at the Pennsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Offices, 57, High-street, Southampton, and 61, St. Mary-axe, London; or at the Office, 33, Regent-circus. TEAM to CEYLON, MADRAS, and

FOR BOMBAY DIRECT.—To sail on the 10th March, being under engagement to the Hon, the R. I. Company, having all her dead weight engaged, the aplended teak-built first class ship ORIENTAL, fine tons, William Wilson Commander, lying in the West India Bocks. This ship has most excellent accommodation for Passengers, having a apacitous Paop, and is upwards of 7 feet high between decks. Will carry as experience Burgeon. For Freight or Passage supply to Romes Barny Eq., New City Chambers, Bishopagate-street, or to T. Havising, and Co., Sau Court, or 69, Corntill.

POYAL MAIL STEAMERS.—
Best route to BELFAST and LONDONDERRY, via Plectwood, every Monday, Wadnesday, and Saturoacy evening, after the arrival of the London receiving train, by the superior new from steam ships PRINCE of WALES and PRINCESS ALICE, taking the mails from Maschester and Preston for Belfast.
For LONDONDERRY, every Friday foremon, the favourite steamer ROBERT NAPIER.

Por freight or passage apply to Mr. HENNEY SMITH, Fleetwood; or at the Company's office, 8, 81, by thing's land, London.

THE NEW NAVAL UNIFORM.

PHILLIPS, NAVAL TAILOR, BTRAND, begate inform the Officers of the Royal Navy that he has all the Patterns of the Alterations sanctioned by the Lords of the Admiralty, which he submits of the trest quality, at the following low prices.

Common Limiters Mater and Midehip-

PRICES FOR NAVAL UNIFORMS. Commanders' Coats 10s. lets.	dorea of ants, Masters, and Class, Captains, Suggestus, Hurgeons, Lunders, and Clerks. Assets Assets Continued on the Class Captains, Suggestus, Hurgeons, Lunt Hunders, Assets,	Ynd Vo. ecra, lera*
	A. C. C. C. B. E. C. C.
Dress Coat	7 Olok pis ning 10 5 Olog pis pli	) 4
Undreaffiont	4 10 -4 10 2 10 -4 4 2 10 -4 6 2 15 -	3 14
iress Trousers .	2 16 - 3 15 2 10 - 8 10 1 6 - 1 12 1 6	1 12
Epaniettes, each .	4 0-3 10 2 10 - 2 16;
Sword, Knot, & Belt	8 6 4 16 3 6 4 10 3 6 4 70 3 9 -	4 10
Drens Helt	2 2 - 3 10:1 10 - 2 10:1 10 - 2 10:
Cocked Bat	1 10 4 4,3 10 -3 10 3 0 . 3 10
	a 10 1 La 15 1 HA 15 1 Ala 18

SHIRTS of gront quanty, and well made, at 30s. per dozen.

Officers joining fitted out at a new hours' notice, with every requisite for a voyage. Shirts, Cleats, Bedding, &c. &c. always ready; and Pery article corrasted strictly regulation. Cadets, Silling and Diplomathe Officers, sitted out on the same advantageous terms. Full printed estimates of each on sublestion.

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, BEST QUALITY, WITH FEATHER, FOR £3 3s.

OVERLAND TO INDIA.—The new Patent VERLAND 10 INDIA.—The new Faterit improved his tent and Waterproof OVERLAND TRUNK, made according to regulation; also the Folding Overland Mattress and Value, and the Consequed Wash-hand Apparatus. Onthiters supplied with the above and every article in cabin furniture, indicak tranks, sea and Nawy chasts, cots, hammorks, iron and brans bedsteads, and every descripts in of compaquipage, at the lowest prices, by JOHN SOUTHGATE and Son, manufacturers of all articles required in the above trade, 75 and 77, Walling-street, near St. Paul's.

OFFICERS in HER MAJESTY'S Service, Quieta and Assistant Surgeons, cardie applies at a more motice with the proper description of Linen, Military Accourtements, Cabin Formurae, Ros, requisite for an Outil of the best quelity, at Wholesare Prices, by GHEISTIAN and RATHBONE, No. 11, Wignord-Street, Cavadish-Square.

Camp Furniture, Carteens, Overland Tranks, Ro. Re. Estimates and Fatterns and on application

MESSMAN WAINTP. 17 INT THE COLUMN STATE TO THE FORTY FIRST REGIMENT.—Application to be cade to Captain Maynorall, President of the Mess Committee, dist Regiment, Centerbury.

The highest testimonials will be required. MESSMAN WANTED for the MESS of

THE ANNUAL ARMY LIST FOR 1844, with an Index, is now in correct of publication, and may chail in the Military Library, Whitehall.
War Office, 16th Feb., 1844.

A BAND MASTER.—WANTED, by the Ath Regiment, a BAND MASTER, fully competent to Arrange for, Instruct, and Lead the Band. The tergus will be liberal; it is therefore requested that no Band Master will offer library unless he can produce the most satisfactory Testimonials. Applications to beaudifessed to the Band Committee, 47th Regiment, Gosport. No applications can be entertained coming from Band Masters now, or about to be, engaged by any other Corps. BAND MASTER.-WANTED, by the

TO MILITARY OFFICERS and GEN-TLEMEN JOINING. -WIFFELD & SIMMS, M. NEW BOND STREET, LONIGN, are the only Proprietors of the really nerviceable BEDSTEAD, autitable to Military purposes. Upon any other construction they become ricketly by trequent removal, it is predicted by Letters Patent, and may be had in every seriety, together with all Articles required for an Outfit, upon the Lowest Terms possible and the Bhortest Notice N.B.—Bewern! Necond-Hand BEDSTEADS and BEDDING to be disposed of upon advantageous terms, being for the most park of their own manufacture.—R. N. HAYDS, Agent.

MIDSHIPMEN IN THE MERCHANT SERVICES.

TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS,-YOUNG GENTLEMEN desiring of going to KEA, may always hear of Bettin in First Rate East India and China beligs, belonging to Owners of the highest respectability, and commended by experienced Capather, For Terms, Outlie, &c., apply to Mesars, Am. ETT & Go., 57, Cornhill.

MPORTANT SPATENT IMPROVE-MPORTANT **PATENT IMPROVEMENT in CHRONOMETERS and WATCHEN-E. A.
DENT, 22, 80 and, who obtained the high distinction of receiving the Government reward for the unparabled performance of the best Chronometer ever submitted to 14 months' public to 16, flegs
to acquaint the public that the manufacture of his WATCHES, CHRONOMETERS, and ULD KS, is secured to him by these patents, respectively granted in 1845, 1840, and 1842. Silves Lever Watches, pevellicity four hides, 6f fle cach; to gold cover, from 86, 16, 104, extra, Gold Horzyntal Watches, with gold diala, from 86, 86, 16, 124, each. Deat's Appendix to his resent work on Time-Reopers, is now ready for chemistion.

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARMY AND NAVY.

POTTER, MARTIAL MUSICAL INTRUMENT MAKER TO HER MAJESTY, BRI CAHE OF GUARDS, and the HONOURABLE BOARD OF ORDNAN CK. 2, Bridge street, Westmitoster, London, Inventor of the Improved Rettle Brooms - Bass, Tenor, and Side ditto of sever secretain. Finish, Carlonoirs, Bassalons, Respents, Bass Horns, Cymbols, Rec.—Valve French Horns, Rossian Cornetto, Vsiva Ophichicale, Royal Keul Bugia. Trombone, Trumpet, Cornopsan, and all sorts of Key'd and Slids Instruments.

Brum Majors' Trophics .-- Registrar of Band Masters.

DURE AND COOL WATER .-- Naval and Military Officers will find one of LIPECOMBE. R. Co.'s PATENT TRANCILLEGE WAFER PHYERS a most destrable acquisition. They are warranted to remove colour, taste, and smell, from every kind of water, and to make hard water only. They have been besterable use for many years, and are well known to be the most effectual, convenient, and do whis are well known to be the more effectual, convenient, and do while filters ever injected. In worm climates—where good whole some water is action met with—they will be found invaluable; as they not only render the most stagmant water clear and spars, ling as the finest spring, but also keep the water very colliner are most convenient in one for travelling, and are horspalue of being put out of order.—200. each,—Liras man & Co., 93, Regent's Quantant.

Association and continued against the inginerous rices filters

suggest's squarratt, to time the state of th

II ODGSON'S POTTED WELCH SAL-kurpasang any article of the kind grow with introduced to the public for samewith s, it sat, here, is new with confidence treemi-mended to specific, it can't for, and invalida, as a, real wequisi-tion weight consists, line mean, or supportable. Such in most at we dit, and is add, with deale and retail, at I is again is Briffin wine watern one, if, l'isometries of see, hypogenic form, and retail by all respectable offseen, general graphs, and fish-mongers, in town in volutry. Supering British which, for per dozen, wereant of our years old.

(Military Phielligence.

FROM TUESDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

The Queen has been pleased to appoint Maj. Henry Creswicks Rawlinson, of the 1st Hombay Grenadicta, in the service of the East India Company, to be a Companion of the Bath.
Royal Glamorgan Light Infantry Battalion of Militia—John,
Nicholas Lucas, K-q., to be Major.

FROM PRIDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

FROM FRIDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTE.

WAR OPPICE, Fub. 16.

4th Drag, Guards - Cupt J. T. Bowdolu, from 19th Ft., to be Capt. v. Clerk, who exchanges.

1st Drags. - About. Surg. J. Grogan, M.D., from 66th Ft., to be Asist. Surg., v, Drummond, who resigns.

6th Drags. - Surg. Wm. Milligan, M.D., from 76th Ft., to be Burg., v. W. Dauny M.D. who retires upon h.p. 7th Lt. Drags. - Lieut. E. G. Cubitt, from 73d Ft., to be Paym., v. M'Carty, dec.

17th Lt. Drags. - Regimental Serj.-Maj. J. Stephenson, to be Adj., with the rack of Cornet, v. Lindsay, dec.

1st, or Greenature Regt. of Foot Guards -- Lieut. and Capt. the Hon. A. F. F.-ley, to be Capt. and Lieut. Col., by p., v. Lord W. Thynne, who retires Ens. and Lieut. H. B. Trelawny, to be Lieut. and Capt., by p., v. Foley; Ens. H. F. Pousonby, from 49th Ft., to be Ens. and Lleut., by p., v. Trelawny.

1st Foot -- Lieut. C. F. Mackenzie, from 41st Foot, to be Lieut. v. Wells, who exchanges.

v. Wells, who exchanges.

3d W. J. Macfarlane, Gent., to be Assist.-Burg. v. Stevenson, 3d W. J. Macfarlane, Gent., to be Assist.-Burg. v. Stevenson, promoted in 18th Foot.

7th.-Fis C. W. W. Lord Langford, from 85th Foot, to be Lient.
by p. v. Reanclerk, promoted.
9th.-(apt. C. R. Shuckburgh, from h.-p. Unatt. v. Bt.-Maj. W.
H. Hartman, who exchanges, receiving the difference; Capt. J.
Johnstone, from h. p. 70th Foot, to be Capt. v. C. R. Shuckburgh, who exchanges; Llout. v. V. Ballard, to be Capt. by p. v.
Johnstone, who retires; Ens. E. Morton, to be Lieut. by p. v.
Ballard; C. R. Richardson, Gent., to be Ens. by p. v. Morton.
12th.-Capt. W. Bell, to be Maj. without p. v. Sir R. A. Douglas, Bart., dec.; Lleut. F. G. Hamley, to be Capt. v. Bell, Nov. 2.
11th.-Capt. M. Glerk, from 4th Drsg. Guards, to be Capt. v.
Howdoin, who exchanges.

resigna.

41st - Lieut. G. G. Wells, from 1st Foot, to be Lieut. v. Macked-dist - Lieut. G. G. Wells, from 1st Foot, to be Lieut. v. Mackonzle, who exchanges in the Capt. H. H. F. Clarke, from h.-p. Unatt., to be Capt. v. Lachlan M'Phorson, whose appointment has been cancelled. byth.—R. A. Cog., Gent., to be Enc. without p. v. Pior, dec. 71st.—Ens. A. C. Parker to be Lieut. by p. v. Parker. 7th.—Capt. A. Campbell, from h.-p. 72d Foot, to be Capt. v. G. P. Pickard, with exchanges, seceiving the difference. sath. Serj. Major S. Dunning to be Ens. without p. v. Mills, app. Quarterm., Ens. T. H. Mulls to be Quarterm. v. Mills, dec. gorth.—Capt. F. H. Hart, from h. p. 84th Frot, to be Capt. v. J. D. G. Tulloch, who exch.; Lieut. C. M. Chester, to be Capt. v. J. V. W. Hart, who ret.; Rus. J. W. B. Peddio, to be Lieut. by p. v. Chester, T. G. Mercdith, Gent., to be Tha. by p. v. Peddio. gorth.—Assist. Nurg. C. Cowen, from 1sth Foot, to be Surg. v. Bardin, dereased.

Rife Rigade—R. Heaviside, Copt., to be Sec. Licut. by p. v. lin, promoted.

Bardin, deceased.

Rife Brigade—R. Heaviside, Gopt., & be Sec. Licut. by p. v. Glin, promoted.

Cape Mounted Riffemen.—Bt.-Maj. A. B. Armstrong, to be Maj. without p. v. W. Burney, who ret. upon full-pay; Licut. G. E. Gabrion, to be Capt. v. Armstrong; Kas. J. T. Bissett, to be Licut v. Caunon; C. E. Philpséka-ticut., to be Ens. by p. v. Hertshorn, appointed to 24th Foot.

USATTALERO—To be Licut.-Col. without p.: Bt.-Col. R. B. Macpherson, from Maj. h. p. 71st Foot. To be Majors, without p.: Bt.-Col. R. Licut., p. 71st Foot. To be Majors, without p.: Bt.-Col. R. Licut., p. 71st Foot. To be Majors, without p.: Bt.-Col. R. Licut., p. 18th Lt. Drags.; Rt.-Licut. Col. J. Jones, from Capt. h.-p. 18th Lt. Drags.; Rt.-Licut. Col. Sir J. S. Lillie, from Capt. h.-p. 18th Lt. Drags.; Rt.-Licut. Col. Sir J. S. Lillie, from Capt. h.-p. 18th Lt. Drags.; Rt.-Licut. Col. Jan. 10, 1837; Capt. V. H. Hart, 20th Foot, June 28, 1838. However.—To be Majors in the Army—Capt. J. Johnstone, 9th Foot, Jan. 10, 1837; Capt. V. H. Hart, 20th Foot, June 28, 1838. However. Staff-Surgeon of the First Claus. G. Barchay, M.D., to have the local rank of Doputy-Inspector-General of Rospital in China.

Office of Outhance, Feb. 14.

Rl. Reg. of Artillery — Nec. Capt. J. W. Ormsby, to be Adj. v. Warde, who resigns the Adjutancy only, May 26, 1843; First Licut. C. W. Smith, to be Sec. Capt. J. W. Ormsby, dec., Nec. Licut. A. C. Pigou, to be first Licut. v. W. Smith, Nov. 8, 1843.

CAVALRY.

1st Drag. Guards—Licut. Travers has joined head-quasters, at Canterbury, from Cork. 3d hight Drags.—Licut. J. H. Travers is on passage from India, on loave.

ORDNANCE CORPS.*
Rl. Artillery.—Lieut. Col. Darby has joined the garrison at Woolwich from St. Helena, on alek leave, said he intends to retire ou full pay in April next. Lieut.-Col. the Hon. W. Arbuthnot stands next to succeed him in the Command of the Island of St. Helens, and Lieut .-Col. Macbean will relieve Lieut.-Col. Browne in the Command of Gibraltar. It is also said that Licut.-Col. Whitty, Licut.-Col. J. Gordon, Capt. E. Morgan, Capt. Dyson, and Capt. Luand, intend to retire on full pay at the usual annual period of retirement of Officers of this corps in April next. Major Hornsby's company is under Land to proceed to St liclens, and will embark at Wool-

Littles to proceed to St Helens, and will embark at Woolingroup the course of the present month.

Law E. Morgae's company, 5th Batt, has been placed will be deer to leave ballincollig, Ireland, on 27th inst., Landbushn, en route for head-quarters at Woolwich, whose will shortly embark for foreign service. Capt.

Law and 28 men are on passage to England in the law anake transport ship, having been invalided hone from Hong Kong Capt. Wikon, with 14 gunners and lieut. Binney. Rl. Engineers, with one woosal and 43 men of the Rl. Sappers and Miners, have embarked at Woolwich on board the Prince George (which transport sailed on Thursday), for Bermuda, to fill up the vacancies at that station becasioned by the late fatal epidemic in the West Indies.

A Court Martial assembled at Kingston Barracks Jamuica, on 27th Dec., for the trial of Lieut. Browns Januara, on 27th Dec., for the trial of Lieut. Drowne Willis, R.A. The following Officers formed the Court:—
President—Lieut.-Col. Warren, D.Q.M.G.; Major Grierson, R.E.; Capt. Gifford, 2d W.I.; Capt. Tomkyns, R.A., Capt. Elliott, foth Rifes, Capt. Carden, 2d 64th Rifes, A.M.S.; Capt. Whittiefit, 2d W.I.; Lieut. Armstrong; Lieut. North, 2d 66th Rifes, Act. Deputy Judge Advocate; Capt. Jones, 2d 66th Rifes.

After the customary forms, the following charges were read by the Deputy Judge Advocate:-

read by the Deputy Judge Advocate:—

First Farge.—For scandalous and infamous conduct, highly unbecoming the character of an Officer and a gentleman, in dishonsetly secreting two cards from a pack used for the purpose of deciding a but between him, Lieut. B. Willis, R.A., and Staff. Assistant Surg. Thomas Halliday Young, in the presence of the said Staff Ausist. Surg. Young, and of Lieut. J. W. Lovat Fracer, 22 W.I. Rept., in the quarters of the said Lieut. B. Willis, R.A., at Port Royal, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, P.M., On the plant of with the Lieut. BM.

at Port Royal, between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, P.M., On the night of 8th Dec., 1843.

Ascond Charge.—Por scandalous and infamous conduct, highly unbecoming the character of an Officer and a gentleman, at Port Royal, on the night of 8th Dec., 1848, in submitting to be charged with the act stated in the first charge, and to be taxed repeatedly with ungentlemanilke and binging arrive conduct by the aforesaid with ungentlemanilke and binging arrive conduct by the aforesaid J. W. Frazer, 2d W.I. Reg., and the aforesaid Binf Assist.—Burg. T. H. Young, without either repelling the said charge and the language used towards him, or reporting the same to his Communiding Officer, Lieut.—Col. Lloyd Dowse, R.A., or taking any measures to exculpate himself from charges so derogatory to his character. to his character.

to his character.

Third Charge.—For scandalous and infamous conduct, unbecoming the character of an Officer and a gentleman, in stating a direct falschood to his Commanding Officer, Lieut.—Col. Lloyd Duws, R.A., when called upon by him for an explanation of the transactions as contained in the first and second charges, by asperting, in a letter addressed to his said Commanding Officer, dated the 10th Dec., 1842, that he did not recollect any such language, as stated in the 3d charge, having been applied to him, either by the said Lieut. Frazer or Assist.—Surg. Young, whereas he the said Lieut. Willie did on the 9th Dec., 1842, admit to Capt. James 8t. John, R.A., that the said language had been applied to him, with a certain proviso, namely—"If it was true,"—or words to that effect.

[ We have not space this week for the evidence and detence .- ED.]

INFANTAY.

Grenadier Guards, 2d Batt. - From Portman-at. to St. George's Barracks, March 1.

Grenadier Guards, 3d Batt .- From Windsor to St. John's Wood, March 1.

Coldstream Guards, 1st Batt .- From Wellington to Portman-street, March 1.

Coldstream Guards, 2d Batt .- From St. John's Wood to Wellington, March 1.

Scotch Fusilier Guards, 2d Batt .- From St. George's to Windsor, March I.

To the Editor of the Noval and Military Gazette.

The Foot Guards—Sir,—Having heard in passing through town lately, from some old brother Officers, that the Guards in London are more sickly than other regts. and having a sincere regard for my old corps, I am induced to submit the following observations, thinking that possibly the cause of the reported mortality having been discovered, a suitable remedy may be provided. Therefore, without pretending to assert that the duty with them runs harder than with other regts., I put the case hypothetically as follows :-We will suppose a battalion in Portman-street barracks -two nights in bed, one on duty-march to the General Parade, Horse Guards, in round numbers, three miles; guard mounting eight reliefs a quarter of au hour each including time for relieving, two hours-six miles; sight hours on scutry, where, if he wishes to keep his blood in due circulation, he must walk at the rate of three miles an hour at least, for starving with ordered arms in his scutry box will do his health no good; march back to Portman-st., three miles; making 36 miles in that tuen of duty, exclusive of the Adjutant's previous harrack parade, standing whilst the arms are piled on the General Parade, some men, if employed as formerly, going up to Portman-st. for the messes, guards turn out, with visiting rounds, &c., gives the man with cold feet more on his legs than talls to the lot of any other class of her Majesty's subjects. I have thought that the heavy showers in May, which wetted the men from the knee downwards, were very pernicious to their health. In the hottest weather I have observed the men more or less wet in the feet from the mud the reliefs go through, from the excessive watering of the streets, and during the winter season their feet are never very dry on sentry, and I am not sure whether much of this is not attributable to the present clothing. When the soldier wore white breeches and long black gaiters, he could easily get of the latter, and make himnelf comfortable at the fire to his heart's content, whereas if the pantaloous get wet they must dry upon him; moreover his head was more comfortable at night in the old foraging cap than it is in the present bearskin; and I do not know why we should not follow the example of many Foreign nations, where the men mount in knapsacks containing everything to make themselves comfortable while on duty. Fours, An Old "Gentleman's Son,"

4th—Capt. Teale receives command of the Depot st

Chatham from Capt. Bell, who embarks with the next draft for India. Lieut. Bond has arrived on two years' transport sailed on Thursday), for Bermuda, to fill up the leave from Secundarabed. There has been but one promotion, by purchase, for the past three years. Lieut. Ruxton was the only Officer who sold out.

5th-It is reported here-I know not how correctly that Col. Sutherland will shortly resign the command of the Fisiliers, and be succeeded by Lord C. Wellesley, from the 15th Regt .- Correspondent of Times.

• 12th—Capt. Granet has succeeded Lieut. Staveley, 87th, as A.D.C. to Sir W. Gomm, at the Mauritius.

-At Templemore, is under orders for Limerick. Major Smith is about to retire from active service.

26th—On Saturday evening last, Corporal Thomas lock, at the foot of the Little Mound. It appears that he had taken off one of his boots, and pointing the muzzle of the musket to his abdomen, had drawn the trigger with his toes. The ball entered under the ribs on the right side, passed through the lungs, and came out at the shoulder. He died on Sunday evening. It appears that he had been accused of stealing some money from one of his comrades; and that on Friday evening he left the Castle with his muster concealed under his great-coat. He was not seen again during the whole of Saturday, till he was found lying on the ground by those who were attracted by the report of his musket. He was a young man about 22 years of age.—Scotsman, 14th Feb.

27th Depot—Under Maj. Fawkes, at Drogheda, are under orders for Naas. Eus. Hamilton joins the Depot. 30th-Were minutely inspected last week by Sir Octavius Carey. The regt. musters 36 Officers and 850 men. 33d Depot—Ensign Rotton is appointed Adjutant, v. Lieut. Walker, gone to join the service cos.

38th—Capt. Lecky has leave to England.

40th-From the General Orders by the Com.-in-Chief, we derive some farther information as to the appointments on the Staff of the Army of Exercise. The most important is the substitution of Major-General Valiant to the command of the 2d Division, in the room of Major-General Dennis — the latter, we believe, not being in sufficiently good health to enable him to undertake the duties of the command. It must at the same time be a matter of congratulation to the Army in general, and to the Division in particular, to have the exchange; and certainly no one deserves the command of a Division better than he who undertook a long and dangerous journey to be with his regiment. Lieut. Nelson is General Valiant's A.D.C.; Laeut. Cowell, 3d Dragoons, is Sir Joseph Thackwell's A.D.C.; and Capt. Harris, 70th N.I., is Gen. Littler's. Capt. Lennox, 43d L.I., is placed in charge of the Military Chest; Lieut. Dodgson, 31st N.I., is appointed ggage-Master, and Capt. Lamb, of the olst N.I., Post-Master.—Agra, Ukhbar, Dec. 2.
Agra.—This morning 11.M.'s 40th Foot marched into the station, and a fine spectacle it was to see their old companions in Candahar, the 10th Grenadiers, drawn up along the road, welcoming them with hearty cheers .- Ib. 44th - To the Editor of the Nural and Military Gazette.

Stu. — Before any maswer was published to the letters of either "A." or "Junius," your following Gazette contained a joint attack of Mesers. Lawrance and Makenzie upon Col. Shelton, by way of preface to a lengthened apology of Light. Eyes for his book. In the one Gazette "A." gallantly tilting at the Brigadier, and "Junius" at the Lith Regt., both with their visors down, stigmatizing it for conduct alleged to have taken place 30 years ago, but of which the whole official accounts prove it to have been innocent, and, if they did not, there are Officers now living who could. The bare facts of Col. Shelton's enemies being driven to such a desperate shift as to endeaveur to injure him in the public estimation by such means, will, I hope, meet with its own reward, and tend to open the eyes of all impartial judges. In your next Gusette we have the tilt of Mesers. Lawrence and McKenzie, with their visors up. The Colonel's assailants, by this, evidently hunt in couples, like the London policemen. I couclade Messrs. Lawrance and McKenzie know nothing of "A." or "Junius," but include them in the class of anonymous calumniators to whom they refer in their letter. I have no objection to urge to either of the three reasons given by Messrs. Lawrance and McKenzie, as influencing them in declining a newspaper controversy; but it seems that notwithstanding these reasons, the temptation to abuse Col. Shelton, and to praise the book, recording their own heroic deeds, was too great, and that the three reasons, like the three wishes of old, have been valueless to them. The most amusing part of their letter, however, is their cool attempt to throw discredit on the assertion of an Officer, whose rank and known character are such as to stamp any statement he may make with unimpeachable integrity, and whose assertion is fully sup-ported by such other testimony as to compel even his enemies to believe it. Where is the evidence of which Mcsers. Layrance and McKenzic speak, and what is the What are the names of the whole Board of evidence? the nurshies and what are the names of the distinguished Officers they siller to? Does the evidence go to the verseity of the book, the joint production of those whom it principally lauds to the skies; if so, let us know to what points each or all the witnesses will testify, for I have already shown, in my second letter, that the book is full of inconsistencies, and displays in its own pages a ismentable want of veracity so far as Col. Shelton is concerned, and " Miles," and others, who have entered more fully into the matter, have shown it to be equally inconsistant and contradictory in its statements and conclusious regarding the Queen's Regt. The death-bed testimony stamp I shall have thing to say upon before I have finished, and I willingly bear testimony to the late Maj.-Gen. Elphinstons's being as noble-minded a man as ever lost his life in her Majesty's Service.

We shall see how kindly and generously Gen. Elphinatone in his lifetime, and his memory since his death, have been treated by Lieut. Eyre in the apology for his Lient. Eyre commences his apology by referring to my letter in your Gazette of the 12th August last, and states that he considers it his incumbent duty to take up the cudgels without loss of time in defence of his four friends whom, he says, he can fully exonerate from what he designates extraordinary and unjustifiable insinuations of tained in my letter, and then he informs us that the characters of these four Officers of the Cabool force have hitherto stood, and, he ventures to predict, will ever stand deservedly high in public estimation, "in respect of their supposed connession with his Narrative." He also states that I have not only rejected some of his most important facts, but even held up some of his chief witnesses to the acorn of mankind, as a pack of unprincipled conspirators, and that I wish to impress upon my readers that his narrative of the Cabool disasters is a regulah compound " envy, hatred, malice, and all uncharitableness."

Now, Sir, that your readers who take any interest in this matter, may fully understand how fairly and manfully Lieut. Eyre has grappled with the contents of my letter, and given satisfactory explanation tending to shake any impression it may have made, I beg they will refer to it, bearing in mind that the correspondence was not sought by me, but so far avoided as to allow Mr. Eyre's letter of the 8th July last to pass unnoticed, who, not semafied with my silence, must needs tout me, in a triumphant atrain, for having found it convenient to forget, &c. &c. Lieut. Eyes proceeds to state that he utterly disclaims the idea of having been influenced for a aingle moment by any hostile feeling against Brigadier Shelton, with whom. from first to last, he continued on excellent terms, and that not even an unpleasant word had ever passed between them; and that he was on such terms of intimacy with Col. Shelton, that it he (Lieut. Eyre) might judge from the Colonel's own verbal assurances, the Lieutenant might well believe that he was regarded by the Colonel with that dogree of favour and good-will, that, had the Lieutenant shosen to sacrifice sincerity to become his partisan, would have induced him to further the Licutenant's interests to the utmost of his ability. I can scricely understand what this means, unless it implies that the Colonel was aware of the Lieutenant being engaged in writing a book for publication, and hoped to be mentioned in it as one of the hand of heroes; for how could the partisanship of the Subaltern sesse the Brigadier-General? And are there not bundreds who can safely uffire that Col. Shelton is quite inespable of inducing any one to energine their sincerity to become his partisan. Lieut. Eyre then refers to his criticisms on the Colonel's conduct, which have given so much offence to his friends, and writes; "I admit that this circumstance demands explanation, in order that I may stand acquitted before the world of hollow-hearted treachery and overweening presumption." Here, then, is an admission from Issett. Eyre himself, that, in regard to Brigadier Shellon, he has been, litherto, fairly open to an imputation of hollowhearted treachery and overwerning presumption, which he will now explain away. This is admitting a much gracer charge against him than any made in my letter at which he seems so angry; and what is singular, that so far from finding, in what followskin his own, anything in the shape of explanation to do away with his self-accusation of hollow-hearted treachery and overweening pre-sumption, the statements he makes do quite the reverse. It might, however, have been some astisfaction to this young centieman, had I, who have taken some pains to ascertain the truth of the statements published by him affecting the character and conduct of Col. Shelton and Her Majesty's 44th Ragt., by following the motto of your able correspondent Miles, and hearing both sides, assured him that I had not, before his publication in your Gazette him that I had not, before his publication in your cazers of the 27th ultimo, drawn any such considers of his hollow-hearted treachery, as he himself considers I should have been justified in doing. I beliased he was little better than a pupper, the wires of which were touched by hands belonging to more diplomatic and willy heads than he has on his shoulders. His everweening presemption has certainly been prominent, and sould not have escaped the notice of the most common observer. The first six, books of his Narrative, says Liest. Eyrs, were written between the 10th March and 10th April, 1842, and though Gen. Elphinstone "was prestrate on his bed, no one could exactly foresee that he would die before obtaining his release." At this time (writes the Licutenant) "Brigadier Shelton made no secret among his fellow captives of his intention to cast the whole onus of blame for our disasters on his unhappy Chief; and this it was, which seming to my knowledge, determined me, at every risk, to make known to the world the whole unvarialised truth." Whether this is intended by Lieut. Eyre as a reason for his having been induced to write his Narrative, or as a reason for abusing Brigadier-Gen. Shelton and Her Majesty's 44th Rogt., or as the promised explanation by which his self-accession of hollow-hearted treachery is to be proved groundless, I really cannot make out; but it matters not, for it is equally uncless for either purpose, and I hope Liout. Eyrs will excuse me for hinting, that as "it was (only) coming to his knowledge, he was rather too credulous—that it might have gained, in its "coming," and that what the Colonel really did say, if he said anything upon the subject, was perverted before it arrived with the Lieutenant. Lieut Eyre proceeds to state "that it has been seen that my leading and original object was to shield Gen. Elphinstone from what I teared would be the fatal consequences of indiscriminate Bume, apparent as it was to me that Brigadier Shelton, at all events, was not the man to cast the first stone." Here we have an explicit admission, that his object in writing the book was to shield his General from indiscriminate blame. Is this overweening presumption? And how does he carry out that object? Let the book speak for itself; and by way of example read that which was written before his death, (see p. 28.) "He had, indeed, but one unhappy fault as a General—the result probably of age and infinity—and this was a want of confidence in his own judgment, leading him to prafer everybody's opinion to his own, until, amidst the conflicting views of a multitude of counsellors, he was at a loss which course to take." These qualities (he writes) were not redeemed by the second in command. And almost immediately after the General's death (p. 144) the Lieutenant, upon informing the world that he was homoured with the General's friendship, applies to him the following pathetic and feeling quotation by way of elegy :-

"From Marihorough's eyes the tears of detage flow,
And swift expires a driveller and a show."

And swift expires a driveller and a show." This is a strange way of shielding General Elphiustone by not only abusing him while living, but insulting his memory when dead; asserting that his only equal in imbecility and for incompetency to command, was the second in command, Brigadier-Gen. Shelton. Is this also overweening presumption in Lieut. Eyre? Equally strange it is that such "a leading and original object" should produce a book at all, as it was so apparent to the auther, "that Brigadier Shelton was not the man, at all counts, to cost the first stone." This is an unnecessery mnuendo, which may mean anything had as regards the Brigadier, which the reader's imagination may think proper to present, but I know not what it can mean; it is certainly quite at variance with the former statement of the Lieutenant, that the Brigadier made no secret of his intention to cast the whole blame on his Chief. The next subject of the Lieutenant's long letter is the sore point of the Cabool cabal, or joint authorship, and have we are condescendingly informed by him to what extent contributions were made by Mesers. Pottinger, M'Kenzie, Lawrance, and Troup, by which it appears he was rather too laviah of praise in the admissions made by him in the preface to his book; that is, provided he gleaned no information or materials with which to form his Narrative from either of these gentlemen, beyond what appears in the statement in his letter. It is as well slav to state the fact, that Mesars. Eyre, Pottlager, M'Kenzie, Lawrance, and Troup, were all witnesses for the prosecu-tion in Brigadier-General Shelton's Court-Martial, and that Capt. Bygrave, of the Company's service, an Officer whose conduct during the whole Afghan campaign it is impossible to praise too highly, was examined on the defence. Now comes the ground of the Lieutenant's alleged apology for his book, ushered in with all the pomp and flourish of verboatty, which is at once to prove the kind-hearted simplicity and generosity with which he and his friends have acted towards Colonel Shelton—that fully justifies all that has been written against him, and was an instrument by which he might have been crushed on his trial, and which—thanks to me, an unknown and humble individual—is now harled at him by Licut. Eyre and his co-authors and co-witnesses, as a thunder-bult, which by their sapient prediction, must inevitably do for the Colonel what Affghan juzuils, knives, and treachery, failed to accomplish.
"Parturent montes nescetur ridiculus mus."

It is a pity, however, to deprive this gentleman of one ta of the praise which is due to him and to his friends for their past consideration and delicate conduct towards their vecond in command, and I give it therefore in their own words:-- But I am now about to produce a document mener before published, which proves that even General Ephinestone himself, on his dying bed, was tempted by the father of lies to lend himself to this hidsons cabal-Credite Romani scriptores, credite Gouli. Brigadier Shelton must now feel deeply indebted to his friend, who by openly impuguing my veracity, and by attributing the basest of crimes to gallant and honourable men, has forced me in vindication of myself and them, to adduce this damning testimony against him of which I have, perhaps, too long forforms to usual ingests. This paper consists of straggling notes, penned at intervals by General Elphinstone at Buddesbad, in vindication of his own character, from the aweeping aspersions which Brigadier Shelton's hostile tone and demeanour in prison led him to anticipate would be formally cast upon him by that Officer on his release. At the period in question, General Elphinatone shared in the accommodation of a small hill tent with Major Pottinger and Captain Bygravet It was a tent with Major Pottinger and Captain Hygraver II was a most painful exection for him to write, which sufficiently accounts for the disjointed style of the composition. The paper was brought immediately after his death at Teescen, to Major Pottinger, by private Moore, of H.M.'s 44th, who attended the General in his last moments, and was forwarded by the Major to the address of Colonel Etchhostoms a brother of the deceased, residing in Page. Eiphinstone, a brother of the deceased, residing to Eugand. Of this paper I now present to the public a true copy."—And then follows the "memorandum found among the effects of the late Major General Elphinatone, C.B., in his own hand-writing." I will not unnecessarily occupy your columns by setting it out in this letter, although to underwind the matter properly it ought to be at hand for reference by those who may read these remarks. In the very first somenee of the above flourishing presemble, licut. Eyes makes an assertion as fact, which appears to me is not correct.

This is unfortunate for him; but fortunately for Colonel Shelton and the honour of her Majesty's 11th, quite in keeping with his Narrative. He says - But I am now about to produce a document never before published."

This is not atrictly true; for no time was lost in forwarding a copy of this precious production to the Authoritles, if the Major did forward the original to the address of Colonel Elphinstone, and Lieut, Eyre knows full well that no pains were spared to twist it into a destructive missile as against Col. Shelton, but that it was rejected as being innocuous.

This act of itself was a publication, last an alleged copy of it has been seen by several, and referred to long ago by the Indian newspapers. "This paper," says Liont Eyre, (and he mays very truly, if it is a genuine document and written when General E. was in a sound state of mind,) proves that even General Elphinstone himself on his dying hed was tempted by the father of hes to lend himself to this lideous cobal. Wg are in the next sentence but one told that it consists of straggling notes panned at intervals by General Elphinstone at Buddenbad, in vinit-cation, &c. Pray, how does Licutement Kyrs happen to know in the one sentence that it was written by the General on his dying bed (he died at Tagzeni), and in the next that it was penned at intervals at Ruid-deabad? It is not assumed that the paper bears either date or algorithms, but it does appear that although "never published before," it is upon the second day after Cica. Elphinatone's death surefully certified to be a tens copy B. Pottinger, Visjor Assistant, Cabul Mission, and R. Wailer, Brevet-Captain, Beagal Artillery," Was Lieut. Eyre in the confidence of Gen. Elphinstone an much as he has told us he was in that of Gen. Shelton? Did he see Gen. Elphinatone writing this at intervals, or is it another fact that has come through others to his kno#ledge?

Nay, he not only tells us that it was written at integvals, and during what period it was written, but he also kindly informs us why Gen. (Sphinstone wrote it at all; riz., notfor the purpose of beinging charges sgainst Gan. Shelton, but in viadication of his own character from the aspersions which he anticipated Gen. Shelton would formaily cast upon him. I sould very easily go through this document in detail, and prove, that, as evidence, it would not have been off any weight in establishing any charge against Col. Shelton, even had it been signed, dated, and rwarded officially by Gen. Elphinatone; but I will deal with the subject upon a broader busis, and maintain that Gen. Elphinstone never could, so long as he retented his intellect, have penned that document.

Gen. Elphinstone was a pentleman, in every sense of the word, and would never have penned that decument with a recollection of what he had stated of Gen. Shelton in General Orders, and in his despatch to Government of the 23d February. It is very true, that at the time it is alleged this paper was written, the Order-book and every document (except a few which it seems Lieut. Eyre and his friends occasionally enlighten the public with, when it suits their purpose) had been taken by the enemy, and there was no reason to believe it would ever again fall into our hands. This fact might have had an iffiliance on some minds, but Gen. Elphinatons was shove it. Order-book was, however, found by our Army, in September, 1842, at Istalist, and so late as the 24th November, 1841, Gen. Elphinstone, in this Order-book, recorded times his death, "Legs Brigadier Sheken will necept his most cordial thanks, for his able conduct and exertions yesterday, as well as upon former occasions, and for the unremitting assistance he has invariably received from him during the late trying circumstances." Compare, Sir, during the tate trying circumstances." Compare, Sir, this Order with the alleged letter of Gen. Elphinstone, whether such letter was written on his dying bed, or whether it was penned at intervals at Buddeabad, and I ask whether it is not a gross libel on his memory, to assert that he could, unless deranged, have ventured to pen that document, upon a knowledge of the Order-book being lost.

t this is not all : for we are informed by Lient. Evre that the original of this "true copy" was written at Bud-desbad, where they arrived on the 17th January, and left on the leth April, 1842. Now, Gen. Elphinstone's deon the feth April, 1022. Now, 1000 Emphasized we appatch to Government is dated from Buddenbad, on the 23d February, 1842, accompanied by a memorandum of the events of the whole campaign; in neither of which is there one word of censure regarding Gen. Shelton, but on the contrary; for, after alluding to the destruction of his entire Staff, and all official documents and memorands, and that he had only been enabled to remedy the deficiency through the assistance of Mesars. Pottinger and Lawrence, who had aided him with fucts and dates : he writes, " I beg to be allowed to express my sense of the gallant manner in which the various detachments sent out were led by Brigadier Shelton." Is it likely that any man in his senses would venture to write a despatch to Govern ment containing the above testimony regarding Col. Shelton, and within a face days of the date of it, or perhaps upon the very same day, write the alleged letter at Buddeabad? for it was, by Mr. Eyro's account, written at Buddeabad, where Gen. Elphinstone arrived on the 17th January, left on the 10th April, and wrote the despatch the 23d February intervening.

Assuming, however, that this was, as affirmed by Lieut. Assuming, however, that this was, as affirmed by Lieut. Eyre, written by Gen. Elphinstone, at Buddenbad, the inference is that it was written after the 23d February, at a time when he was in a debilitated state, both in mind and body, and, in preparing it, was sided by some kind friends of Col. Shelton, both as to facts and dates; for it is full of the latter, and had it been in existence before the 23d February, there could not have been any occasion for Gen. Elphinstone, when he wrote his last despatch, to seek essistance from others as to detes, whatever there may have been as to facts. I strongly suspect that this very certified true copy, that was never before published, reached the despatch, and is one of those referred to by Gen. Policek in No. 304 of the Blue Book, but which back evidently has emitted many documents. Lieut. Eyrs, however, and his political friends, appear to have understood better than Col. Shelton did the policy of being provided with conn coi, sneiton did the policy of being provided with certified true copies of even unsigned and undated scraps. Why was the original memorandum sent to the address of Col. Eiphinston, and a certified copy forwarded to the Government? Wastilis out of kindness and compassion to Col. Shelton, for fear so important a document might Norush "him? Did is ever reach its destination, and to what extent are the friends and relations of Gen. Elphinstone indebted to those who have brought it thus before the public upon the flimay assertion that it was hitherto kept in the back ground out of mercy to Gen. Shelton? Towards the latter end of his letter, after endeavouring to impress his reader with a belief that this important de ment—"this damning testimony"—of which he had too long forborne to avail himself, he writes, "In January, 1843, I believe, the above paper was made the groun work of an investigation by a Court of Inquiry, assembly He belleven-why, he knows it was at Ferozepoore.' He tells us he was called as a witness in the Court of Inquiry. Pray, by what right, or in what manner did Lieut. Eyre become possessed of a certified true copy? Did he ever see the alleged orginal? What object could be have had in procuring it? Having Brigadier Shelton's confidence, did he show it to film? Was the alleged original, or the copy, ever shown to the Brigadier during the time he was a prisonner by an account of the time he was a prisonner by the same her and the same that the same her and t the time he was a prisoner by any one; or was it kept a sung secret from him, that his confidential friends wight take credit to themselves for having forborne to avail themselves of it when they might have "orushed" him with it? All these are very natural questions for an unprejudiced inquirer to ask, and upon the answers given will the motives be construed which induced Licut. Eyro to exert his great influence in obtaining a copy of a doment not in any manner affecting him; which, it is probable, the only person whose name is offensively mentioned in it was not even made acquainted with its Again, referring to the Court-Martial on Brigadier Shelton, he asks, whether, "if a cabal had really existed to rura Cor. Shelton, we had not an opportunity to exercise our demoniacal power to crush him when symmoned as witnesses on his trial? whereas it was a subject of general remark that each one of us seemed rather to view every-question put to him in Court in the most favourable acceptation of the terms employed, as though our joint object had been to shield rather than to bonvict him. And Deput Paymagter, v. Thurlow.

such truly was the Teeling of every one of us," &c. I cannot pretend to affirm or deny what the general remark was, but this I can say, that if "one" and "each one of us" did really endeavour to shield him as stated, that he must have result entered to spice with seeing, or he would never have lashed such kind-intentioned friends in the language he used in his defence, when commenting on their evidence. "We" "and each one of as" were upon the trial at any rate, evidently acting in concert, as shown by Lieut. Eyre's own admission; but it was for the benefit of Col. Shelton and to protect him from a conviction ;—the same benevolent motive that induced the Lieutenant to write him and H.M.'s 44th Reg. down in his book, for fear poor Gen. Elphinstone should have been convicted and executed upon Brigadier Shelton's evidence. There is no difficulty, however, in answering Licut. Eyro's ques-tion. Neither he nor his friends to whom he alludes had the power to crush Brig.-Gen. Shulton on their evidence, or to convict him upon any charge, except that most extraordinary and unprecedented one of obtaining food for his starving horses; although nearly all docu-mentary evideffee had been lost, and all the Officers of his regiment had been killed—except Capt. Evens, who was left at Cabul in charge of the slok, and Lieut. Souter, who seved the colours--yet there was ample evidence, both oral and decumentary, to eathly so high a Court as tried him of the charges against him being groundless. There is yet one point which I have overlooked in Lieut.

Eyre's letter, and which, on account of other parties, I feel I ought to notice, although not of much importance. viz., that I never knew what Miles was before Mr. Eyrn's letter informed me. That I do not now know who he is. I always thought, by his writings, that he understood the matter well, and must have been one of the Force in Affghanistan. The eccurate knowledge which Miles displays of the subject upon which he writes is now accounted for by Lieut. Eyre in a very satisfactory manner. Even at the risk of being a conspirator in the estimation of the Lieutenant, I should be proud of feeling that I am collisted with such able men as Miles in defence of a gallant soldier, and the memory of a noble regiment, against the attacks of their calumniators,

I believe I have now remarked upon all the points of Lieutenant Eyre's letter; and I hope I have done so fairly, avoiding offensive language, and using only such terms as are consistent with a discussion through the medium of vour Gasette.

You will not. I think, either in this or in any of my former communications, find a single statement as facts unsup-ported by evidence, and to which evidence every one can, if they will, refer; and if parties, by their own written and published testimony, lay themselves open to what they may fall calumnious suggestions-but what I, and many others, I hope, call fair deductions upon their own showingthey must take the consequences. The book is offered for sale, and I purchased and read it, with an unprejudiced desire of arriving at the truth; and, although speciously and pleasingly written as to style, I find it, as I in my former letters, so lamentably partial, contradictory, inconsistent, and, consequently, inaccurate, as to be satisfied I cannot esteem it as a work of any historical

The abuse of Brigadier Shelton and Her Majesty's 44th Regiment is too palpable—it is overdone. This was always my impression; but I little thought, until his ' appeared in your Gazette, that the author's reason for abusing his second in command, whose confidence he had, was to shield the Military Chief from evidence which ome of the author's friends induced him to believe would be given by Brigadier Shelton against the late lamented General Elphinstone.

You will, I trust, Sir, pardon the length of this letter, which I have endeavoured to make as concise an answer as the apology of Lieut. Eyre would admit of .- I am, &c.,

Maidetone, Feb. 5.

Rainetay.

48th—Capt. Hamilton has leave to England. The fellowing Garrison Order was issued prior to the service cos. leaving Gibraltar for North America:—

48th Depot.—Lieut. Massy is ordered to the service see. at Jamaica, and Lieut. Pullerton Joins the Depot. Rl. Marines—Marine Cadets appointed to Excellent,

ris. :- Francis H. Noot, N. Pyne, and H. S. Baynes. 50th-Lieut. Lovett has succeeded Lieut. Pakanham 7th Fusifiers, as Recruiting Officer at Mullinger.

floth let Batt.—At present forming part of the Dublin garrison, have reseived a letter of readiness for the pro-

A 200 3

61st—Capt. Campbell's co. is stationed at Killelee since Monday.—New colours were ordered last year for this regt. by Licat.—Gen. Sir John Gardiner, new of the 50th—and these beaners inscribed with "Sphinx, Egypt, Kalavers, Salamanca, Pyrencea, Nivelle, Nive, Orthea, Toulouse, Peniasula, and Maida," will, it is expected, be presented at the New Barracks, by the Hon. Miss Burgh, daughter of Maj.—Gen. Lord Downes, K.C.B., on 10th April next, the anniversary of the battle of Toulouse (1814), in which the 61st were eminently distinguished. Lieut.—Col. Burnside, has week, presided at a Court of Inquiry at Newcastle, into the conduct of Serj. M'Alpin, on charges preferred by the privates of the company 61sb-Capt. Campbell's co. is stationed at Killalos on charges preferred by the privates of the company stationed in that town.

-The service cos. will return from Quebec early next summer, by the Apollo troop-ship.

69th-Major Blackbarne's detachment, at Ballinrobe, oyth—Major Blackburne's detachment, at Ballinrobe, was called out of burracks at midnight, on Sunday, by the noise of a great body of country people, collected with torches, sticks, and horns, who drove through the town on foot and horseback, in the greatest tumult and conflicion. The Military were accounted, and stood to their arms in ten minutes; but the Major ascertained the country people had thus disturbed the "stilly night" to celebrate the marriage of a Repeal warden, John Madden, whom they were at that hour escorting to the priest's whom they were at that hour opening to house! This imposing array of the Repeal masses was happily attended by no other effect than temporary alarm to the inhabitants of the town; but it proves the Military will not be caught napping, or instentive to the call of duty, though O'Cennell has thrown out the invidious , that " there are before me as good breasts covered taunt by frieze as ever wore scarlet or blue.

79th Depot moved from Aberdeen to Stirling on-12th inst.

85th Depot-Ensigns Walters, Filder, and Knox, and Surg. Clerines, are under orders to join the service cos.

88th Depot marshed into Paislemon Wednesday, 14th inst., relieving two companies of the 87th, under the command of Capt. Duckett, consisting of 2 Subalterns (Lieut. Rich, and 2d Lieut. Taylor), 6 Scricants, 123 rank and file, 10 women, 14 children.

1 at W.I.R.—Ens. Wood is under orders for Barbadoes.

To the Editor of the Naval and Milliary Guzatte.

Sin,—In your Paper of the 20th ult., I perceive a letter from a correspondent who, under the name of Zara. has commenced a most unwarrantable tirade against the 3d West India Regt., and as I have the honour to be connected with that regiment, I feel pryself bound to say a word or two in its defence (however poor the attempt may be), and trust I shall not be deemed to trespass too on your valuable columns. After exclaiming against the expense Government will be put to in removing the West India Regiments to and from the Coast of Africa, and in which he is rather out in his calculations, and seems to know very little, if anything, of the arrangements on that score, Zara "commences firing" on the Colonal of the 3d West India Regt., because he has exercised his right of Colonel in altering the buttons, &c. of the regiment, when changed from Royal African Corps to 8d West India Zara says that the 3d West India Regt. " try to dub themselves Light Infantry, and bedaub themselves with bugles, wings, &c.. and a host of tawdry baubles, and blaze with bugles (silver) in front, rear, right, left, and centre, because, you must know, they are Light Infantry, although the Com.-in-Chief and Colonial Office do not acknowledge them as such, butmerely as 3d W.I. Reg.," &c. I beg to state that this is wholly without foundation, as the regiment has the positive order of our late respected Commander-in-Chief to retain the appointments, &c. (in-cluding the blue feeings) of the Rl. African Corps, which had been a Light Infantry reg. for the last 30 years, Zara then comments on the impropriety of allowing a Major of the regiment to remain in command of the two companies at Honduras; but he forgats, that, with the exception of those two companies which the Major took over from Sierra Leone two years ago, there has not been, till lately, another man of the regiment in the West Indies.

From the tone of Zara's letter, he seems to think that great injustice has been done to the let and 2d West India Regts., by allowing the 3d to share with them the glory (9) of serving in the West Indies; but surely they have no right to complain, as the 3d (or R.A.C.) have been in Africa for 30 years, and have done nothing to be exiled any longer, as they have never mutinisd or in any other way disgraced themselves.

A been of ten months' leave of absence is a small recompense to Officers who parit their lives in Africa for twelve or eighteen months; and it is very little indeed for one who has served, as I have for five years, continuously at that elation, where, in addition to having the climate to sentend with, we are obliged to live quits in an exemitical style, while our confiders in the 1st and 2d are enjoying themselves in the comparatively salubrious climate West ladies, in such a manner as to attract the at-light and excite the semarks of the notelist (vide Marsystem Frank Mildmay," Chap. zviil.). Trusting it will be unnecessary to revert to this subject, and that the regient may be spared from such effecious se Zore's, I A 3d WEST INDIA SUB.

publishing a second letter from "Africanus," unless that oppresent will oblige us by confining himself etrictly to points not already noticed,—En.]

Orders have been issued from the Office of the Cou Orders have been issued from the Office of the Communder of the Forces in Ireland, for the multilishment of a Military station at Tyrrell's Pass, the force to consist of 40 men. This is the first time since the rebellion of 38 that a soldier has been quartered in this ratired village.

Lieut...Col. Pritchard, Unattached, Brigide Major on the Staff of Canada, has successed the late Lieut...Col. Dickson, as Daputy-Adjutant-General at Queber.

m J. Hall has succeeded Dr. Roe, as Staff-Surgeon to the London Recruiting district.

CAVALRY.-We annex the recruiting Memorandum regeon to the London Recraiting district.

CAYALNY.—We annex the recruiting Memorandum referred to in our Gazette of 27th January.

Recruiting Department, Horse Gazeta, Jun., 1844.
(Crnoulan.—Immorary.)—Mem. for the information of the Impecting Field Officers of the recruiting districts.—M further recruiting for the Cayalry Regiments serving in the United Kingdom to be forthwith discontinued. By the Com. in Chief's Command, N.B.—The parties of the above regs. to rejoin their corps.

The Irish Staff.—All the Colonels now specially employed in Ireland, hold the appointment of "Colonal on the Staff." This is a regular defined Staff appointment, superior is grade to that of Assistant Adjutant-Mental, and, indeed, on a per with that of Deputy-Adjutant, or Deputy-Quartermester-General.

Thoors in Irishamo.—Total Rank and File of all Arms in Ireland, on the 1st Jan. in wach Year from 120 to 1344 inclusive; 1830 1840 1841 1851 18,701 1806 17,906 1841 14,807 1832 19,901 1827 1840 1843 14,907 1838 19,901 1827 18,601 1843 14,407 1834 23,934 1839 1849 1843 14,407 1834 23,934 1839 16,934 1844 21,334 Adj.-Gen's Office, Feb. M. 1894 John Macrowalle, A.G.

COURTS-MARTIAL,—Ena William Regimeld Davis, 18th Madras N.I., was the in Nov. 1sst, on charges of intoxication and uttering falseboods, and dismissed the Service, Licut. W. B. Gray, 28th N.I., was tried in October last, on charges of insulting Assistant-Surgeon J. L. Lowery.

Lieut. W. B. Gray, 26th N.I., was tried in October last, on charges of insulting Assistant-Surgeon J. L. Lowry, M.D., of the same regiment, and sentenced to be suspended from rank and pay for two months.

Hono-Kona.—Letters of Dec. 21, 1843, from Hong-Kong, give a melancholy detail of the great number of deaths which have recently taken place at this unhealthy station. Of the 55th Reg. 400 had died previous to 21st. Dec., and 47 of the Rl. Artillery. Mae of the Rl. Sappers and Miners were in the hospital, and one dead.

REWARDS FOR DISTINGUISHED SERVICES .- The following additional names are included in the Hallmates for 1844-45:-

lowing additional names are included in the Hatlanetes for 1844-45:—

Major-Gen. Sir Henry Watson, 2001.—commanded a regiment of Portuguese Cavalry, and was badly wounded at Salamance, where he made some very successful charges.

Major-Gen. Sir Dudley St. Leger Hill, 2001.—he has five Command-medale, and his services in the Peninsala at the head of a Battalion of Portuguese Cayadoras were frequently noticed by the Duke of Wellington as being to highly distinguished cheracter. Major-Gen. Sir Richard Armstrong, C.B., 2001.—eerved in the Peninsula frug. 1806 to 1914, and was in all the battles and singes in those countries, and frequently distinguished; severely wounded in the battle of the Pyraneos; serveri also in the campaigns of 1825 and 1826, in Burmah, as a Brigadior; stormed and carried the Stockades near Prome, in Bec. 1825; has received three medale for Busseo, Vittoria, and the Pyranega.

Major-Gen. James Pergusson, C.B., 2864.—eerved in Portugal and Spain 1808 and in 1899; Walcheren, 1809; and Peninsula from 1816 to 1814; was in all the great actious and eleges, and was wounded three times.

Major-Gen. Thomas William Brotherton, C.B., 2001.—served in Egypt, Peninsula, and America, was wounded at Salamanoa; was taken prisoner near Bayonne.

Major-Gen. Alured Dodsworth France, C.B., 2001.—served in Holland in 1799; Copenhagen, Bweden, Portugal, Busin, Welcheren, Peninsula, South of France, and America. Gen. John Maeteazie, in addition to his present allowance or 1901, 2101.—has been 65 years in the Bervice of the Crown, and served in Holland, in the Kast Indies, at the Onye of Geod Hope, shd in the Meditarransan.

Major-Gen. Heller Touzel, 2001.—ins been 42 years on full has been 65 years in the Bervice of the Crown, and served in Holland, in the East indies, at the Cape of Good Hope, shd in the Mediterranean.

Mijor-Gen. Heller Touzel, 2004.—has been 45 years on full pay, and has served in the West indies, Jamaica, Holland, the Coast of France, and Spain, and in the superition to Walcheren. Major. Gen. Jemes Hay, C.B., 2004.—was 29 years on full pay; served in the Peatinwila, and at Wateriso where he was severely wounded, and he commanded the 16th Light Dragoons in two general actions.

Maj.-Gen, William Wood, C.B., K.H., 2007.—has been 47 years in the Bervice; he served for a considerable time in the West Judies; in the first campaign in Spain; and at the battle of Blandensburg, in America, he received so nevers a wound as to oblige him to go to half-pay.

Major-Gen, Lieusey Burrell, C.B., 2008.—has been questantly employed for 48 years; he served is the West Indies, and the campaign of Canada in 1914; and he commanded the temops that were first east to Chitan and in the attinck and enpure of Cheman; and was engaged is the operations before Canion, and was left in charge of the dencehannia occupying Heng Hong.

Major-Gen. Sir Bohart John Harvey, C.B., 2004.—has been above 69 years in the Bervice, and served in the Pennicula from 1925 to 1914, on the Staff of the Perniquesis Army; was attached during a great yeation of that time to the hend-quarters of the Commander of the Forces, and was position in nearly alt the battle of the Perniquesis Army; was attached during as great yeation of that the Officean mental for the of the ther perniquesis and injuried a meant for the fortee.

M.R. The Resulem of the Officean mental for the of the perniquesis and injuried a meant for the fortee.

be the sea were better of the Pyresen, and previous a seem for that of Orthes.

N.B. The Services of the Officers previously please on the List, will be found in the Manning Military Gaustic of 25th Feb., 1843.

							M A		ابنند				i
March, 1946	Deduct Appropriations in Aid	of Regiments in India, and the Ch definited by the Bast india Comp	The March of Hornes and	A Unprovided Services (of former yes	_	Royal Military Callege	M Parke Departments	Land Forces in the United Kingdon		SERVICES.	•	ARRY ROTTH ATER.—Abstract of the Reliences for Reflectes. Seen the 1st Ageil, 1804, to the 1ste Napole
1	ig.	1	130.007	11	. t	1	11	 	-		 k	Abdrack of the Religances for Reflective from the 1st Agell, 1844, to the 51st Majed
2,782,487	3,910,493	959,986	200,000	7.27	13,744	27		Ĭ.,		0		the State M
	127,166	999,960	1,067,000	11	: , L ,	Die A	Ç.	ž "		and local	1	des Army
-				ě	12,48		i i	1	Service.	2	to be from idea	arricas for S
3,788,487			•	1,647				A	Ci a	Totals of		***************************************
	Total of Mos. Minutive Services General Total of Hibstive and Nos. Fig. close Army Services	Total of Effective Services	Deduct Appropriations in AM	Name here and Charge to the Stot March, 1945	Stongstrate And Out Fourierous of Chebres Hospital	and Pensions for Wounds	Conveniente Allevaces, Donat Wattach	Fall-pay for Retired Officers Hall-pay and Milhary Allagrances	Rewards for Milkary Service		BERVICES.	Abstract of the Estimates of Non-Riberts 1944, of th
	1 1	1 1	T	77.88	71,550	ا د	1	į.	. 1	and Mer.	O Mo. of	re Army Services for 365 Days, from the e Slot March, 1845.
	1 1	1		39,915	1,371,240	į		21	Ž.		Charge.	for 36s Days	-
	1 1	i 1		E :	14,48	ł	ñ.	.	14	is Aid.	Appara	from the MEMORANDUM. — By the Act 4 Geo. IV., c. 71, n sum of Se,0001, per Annum is paid into Her Majoury's Exchaquer by the Best India Company, on account of the Charge for Retiring Payand Fendione, and other Expenses of that nature, ariting in respect of Har Majoury's Forces serving in India. This Sum is applied towards the general Expenses of the State.

War-Other, February 7, 1844.

M. Managnes.

ĭ

1,301,607 1,713,607 1,301,607

THE LATE MAJOR ELDERS POTTINGER.

THE LATE MAJOR ELDINED POTTIMGER.

This esteemed Officer was born at his father's seat, in county Down, in August, 1871; his mother was consingurant of that celebrated Officer; file mother was consingurant of that celebrated Officer; file Robert Rolle Gillegia. The bubject of that dering and desided disposition which distinguished him in after years, and a predilection for the Military profession. At an early age he was sent to the Military College at Addiscombs, where some fells pranks showed that love of afterprise which marked his subsequent cureer. In 1825, he proceeded to Reserve as an Artillisty Codes, and divoted himself intendiately to the study of the imagnages and his profession; at the same time participating in field-sports. He afterwards zerved in the discussion of Katch for some years, where his attention to the participation of Katch for some years, where his attention to the participation of the participation, and his accided disposition, made him it individual deposition. In 1833-33, he was appointed to a ucrative Regimental Staff situation at the Presidency, but this was not congenial to his bold spirit; and at his nest entresty, he was nominated second in command of the Irregular Hores in Katch by the Earl of Clare, then Governor of Bombey. In this employment he continued about two years, during which time he offered several times his services to explore the difficult Passes in the great clusio of mountains to the westward of the ladge. At cleain of mountains to the westward of the Indus. At length, early in 1830, his services were mosspled by the Supreme Government, and he started on his expedition in stignies, and accompanied by some faithful fallowers from his own corps. After many dangers and privations he reached Herat, just before the Persian Army set down before that city. He was superpoted by the infamous Vinier Kamran of being a spy and favourable to the busingers, and threatened with imprisanment, or at least expudsion from the place. His olear intellect and decided mind at once saw the great disolear intellect and decided mind at once saw the great disolear intellect and decided mind at once saw the great disolear intellect has decided mind at once saw the great disolear intellect has been of that important fortrans; and although alone, and utterly ignorant of the wishes of the Government he served, he offered his fervious to finatruct the people in the defence of the city. For nine mounts the siege continued, during which period the Garrison suffered incredible hardships, and during which time Lieut. Puttinger directed the construction of all the defensive works, and on several occasions was engaged Lieut. Fothinger structure ton countries was engaged defensive works, and on several sociations was angaged band to hand with the enemy in repuising attacks. The sleep was finally reised on the 9th Sept., 1837, and the Order issued on the occasion by the Sovernor-General of India will for over mark the remarkable and distinguished part taken by Lieut. Pottinger in this schlevement. He returned to India, on being compelled to laws Herat by intrigues of the surrounding States, and remained some time at Calcutts. On the death of the lamented Mr. Lord, Lieut. Pottinger was chosen to succeed hid as Agent in the Kohistan, or Hill country; and was stationed at Charukur with a Ghorka Regiment, about a thousand strong, having several Officers under him. In this situation, his penetrating judgment soon dispovered the code of that insurrection which afterwards discovered the eases of that hausenection which afterwards ended so terribly, and he made frequent representations to the superior authorities at Cabui, which were all utterly disregarded. The insurrection at length broke out; and Major Pottinger and his companions, after the most heroic defence, were abliged to evenuate the forts and seek safety by retreating to Cabel. During the might, however, the small body, enfected by fumine and disease, were attacked by thousands of infuriated Afighans, and after a desperate struggle the whole were drawinged with the exception of Major Potlinger, Lieut. Houghton, and one poor Sepoy. Both Officers had reserved dreadful wounds, and Lieut. Houghton had lest his arm. In this terrible situation, surrounded on all sides by the watchterrible situation, surrounded on all sides by the watch-free of the enemy, and by blood-thirsty fenctics seeking their destruction, the presence of mind and daring spirit of Major Pottinger saved himself and his companie During their journey over fastnesses and wirds of the most fearful description, Lieut. Houghton, overcome with agony and weakness, fell from his horse, and carnestly implored and wearness, tell from his norse, and carnessly amplored to be left to die. His companions, with a noblemess of heart which is probably unparalleled, dismounted, and awore never to leave him. This generous devotedness was rewarded, for in an hour or two Mr. Houghton was enabled to resume their journey, and by the most singular soulness, resume their journey, and by the most singular scolless, presence of mind, and intrepldity in passing directly through the sentincis of the enemy, instead of endeavouring to make a détour, they arrived safely in the British samp, where they were welcomed "as people arisen from the dead?" The murder of Sir W. Macnaghten speedliy followed, and Mejor Pottinger was called to the head of the political department. He energetically denounced all attempts to negotiate with the Affghen Chiefs, and proposed to seize the citadel called the Bula Hissar, and there defend the fleshers to the opening of the season, or to march one of the season, or enemy. His plans were, however, all overruled, and the fearful tragedy which followed is too well known. The remarkable words made use of in the Despatch to and remarkable words made use of in the Despatch to Government amouncing the arrangement for the melancholy tetreat, show what were the impressions of Major Pottinger. "Here ends," says he, "the Comedy, or rather Tragedy of Errors!" During the time he resmained as one of the captives, his efforts were continually directed to the release of himself and fellow-captives, and to this heart was to make in a section. ally directed to the release of himself and fellow-capitives, and to this happy event he was in a great measure severary. The moment he was released he appeared once more in active service, and accompanied the Force to Charuber and Istalif, where he did good service, by his limbuledge of the country. On his return to India Major Pottinger had a Court of Inquiry on his conduct during the disastrous events in Cabul, and the result cetablished his fame more firmly than ever.

Instant of being received by the Government, which he had so well and so faithfully served, with houser and distinction, which his noble conduct deserved, he was doomed to neglect, and remended to his corps to do regimental duties as a Lieutenant! There is too much fear that this most unworthy treatment preyed upon his noble spirit, and his shattered frame was still further shaken by this unmerited treatment. His wound continued to discharge pieces of hone and cloth, and his health was pompletely broken. A change of climate to China restored his health in a trifling degree, and enabled him once more to accept public employment, and he was about to return to England with the Supplementary Treaty with China, when the prevalent fever put an end to his short and glorious career. He died in his thirty-second year, in the flower of his age, leaving behind him a reputation which, had he been spared to mature it, promised to be second to none of those brave spirits by which the renown of England has reached its present climax.

Nabal Antelligence.

APPOINTMENTS.

Rear-Admiral—Bir Thomas Cochrane, Knt., C.B., to be Commander-in-Chief in the East Indies, v. Bir William Parker.
Captain—Henry Ducic Chaig, C.B. (1828), to be Commedore of the Second Class, and to hoist his pendant on board the mérian. manders-4George A. Frazer (1841), to Lucifer; James Wolfe (1843), to Terferm.

Lisutenants—II. R. Crofton (1842), and Richard Hooper (1810), to Terferse.
Lisutenants—II. R. Crofton (1842), and Richard Hooper (1810), to Terferse; W. F. Fead (1828), T. C. O'D. Whippis (1840), and Robert Hull (1843), to Camperdown; H. Ainalie (1830), to Escellent; G. T. C. Smith (1841), to Lacefor.

(Lists—F. K. Hawkins (1841), Acting Lieut. of Geyser; W. C. Harbert (1841), Acting Lieut. of Urestar; G. W. Preedy (1886), to Geographysics. to Camperdown. Naval Cudets—F. S. Dallaton, to Torioles; B. W. Hallowes, to 8t. Vincent.

Assistant-Surgeons — James J. Paul (1839), to Greenwich Hospital, v. Clarke; D. Booth (1837), Andrew Lillie (1839), Andrew Coates (1837), and Rhenezer J. Bruwn (1868), (addit.), to Coates (1837), and Roenezer J. Brown (1848), (andit.), in Penelops.

Chaplain—G. Bellamy (1840), to Island of Ascension.
Mavai Instructor—G. J. Bourne, to Esculent.
Clerks—J. Thornton, to Prometheus; D. Gordon, to Terteiss.
N.B.—The Assistant-Surgeon appointed to the Pyomethes (see our last), is Dr. Robert Whitmore Clarke (1886).

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 15 .- (From our own Co ent.)...The only circumstance relating to Naval affairs which has transpired in the port this week is a Court-Martial, which was held last Monday, on board St. Vincent, on Lieut. P. H. Dyke, late of the Iris, on charges preferred by Captain Lee, R.M., formerly Commandant for a short time at Ascension. The transac-tions occurred in July, 1842; and Capt. Lee having heard that Lieut, Dyke had publicly stated that he, Capt. Lee, had destroyed some letters and papers left by his predecessor, which were intended for Capt. Tucker, of the Iris, and also that a box of sundries had been broken open, and the contents not forthcoming, he requested the Admiralry to order a Court-Martial, to investigate the affair and clear his character. The expressions attributed to Lieut. Dyke, which formed the first charge, were declared by the Court to be in part proved, but uttend without a malicious intention, and he was admonished to be more circumspect in his language in future. The second charge, relating to expressions said to have been used about the box of sundries, was not proved. The Admiral-Superintendent of the Docknot proved. The Admiral-Superintendent of the Loca-yard, Rear-Admiral Parker, was President; and with him were Captains Henderson, Rowley, and Sir T. Hastings, of the Victory, St. Vinnent, and Excellent; and to make the requisite Court, it was necessary to have Commander Wilcox, of the Victory, as one of the members. There is not a ship or vessel fitting in the port. Nautitus is to return to her cruising station of Brighton; Firebrand will be moved out of dock next week, to make room for the Viotoria and Albert yacht; Nop-Platory, Excellent, Violoria yaoht, Nautilus, Fearless.
Platours, Facellent, Violoria yaoht, Nautilus, Fearless.
Planouth, Feb. 15.—(From our own Correspondent.)
—9th—The crew of Prometheus st., Lieut.—Com. Pasto, were paid wages in advance, and proceed to the Mediterranean in a day or two. 13th—The crew of San Josef, 112, Capt. Burgoyne, were paid wages down to six months. 14th—Arrived Devon tender with stores from Pembroke. On her passage to this port, she was forced to put into Scilly the 4th mat, by a very heavy gale, in which she spring her mainboom, and split two of her sails. Grecian, 18, was hauled out of dock, having been new coppered, and expected to be commissioned as soon as her defects are made good. Forts, 44, is ordered to be taken to Deptford, to be broken up; Forth, 44, will supply her place as a breakwater at one of the jettles, where a new sea-wall is in progress. Fanguard, 80, has been inspected by Superintendent Rear-Adm. Sir Samuel Press, and reported to the Lord Commissioners of the Pym, and reported to the Lord Commissioners of the Admiralty at what time she will be ready to receive men. 15th—dmerica, 50, was hauled into dock to have her copper cleaned; there are not any Officers appointed har ay yet. Caledonia, 120, Capt. Milne, will be hauled into dock in a few days, to have her bottom examined, and to be new coppered; having touched the ground while at Cork. Renelope at., Capt. W. Jones, moved from the harbour, and proceeded on a trip round the Eddyatone, to tay her machinery. Sailed Noticy tender, with supernumeraries for the ships on the Irish station. In harbour, Caledonia, San Jasef, Ponelops, Resistance, Crans. Prometheus, and Confiance sts.; Diligence, N.T.; Lancier Dutch schooner.

SHERRERS, Feb. 15 .- (From our own Correspondent. The African steamer went up the river yesterday to search for an anchor the Cyslops steamer lately dropped there; she has not returned yet. The Gipsy tender, Wilson, Master, has just arrived from Portsmouth with supernumeraries. The Bounc, Naval transport, arrived in the morning with stores for the dockyard; she will come into the Basin on Saturday to unlead, when the Waterloo, 120, will be hauled out and laid up in ordinary, the alterations of her magazines having been completed. She has been in the Basin nearly 12 months. Vulture, lat class steamer, is progressing slowly for being commissioned; it is reported that a Captain will be appointed to her in three weeks. Her engines were proved yesterday at half speed; it was calculated that her progress was seen knots an hours about the progress was seven knots an hour; she was in the Basin and lashed fore and aft. In Harbour—Camperdown, Ocean; Raven and Speedy, cutters; and Boyne, Naval transport.

and Speedy, outcors; and Boyne, Navat transport.

Milrond Haven, Feb. 14.—(Prom our own Correspondent.)—There has been no arrival or sailing of Her Majesty's vessels during the week. Mr. Latr, now at Bombay, has been appointed Master Shipwright of the Dockyard up at Pembroke, vice Edge; and Mr. Roberts (1810), Surgeon of the Royal Sovereign yacht, v. Noot, deceased. Mr. F. Noot, son of the before-mentioned Surgeon Noot, on Monday last received his appointment as Marine Cadet. The contractor is proceeding rapidly with the new boundary wall at Pembroke-yard, as well as the pickling pond, for which the south-western boundary of that areenal seems formed by nature. A survey of the Haven, under the inspection of Capt. Beechey, is shortly to take place, for which purpose be has been appointed to the Firefly steamer, now fitting at Deptford.

DEAL, Feb. 15.—(From our own Correspondent.)—Saturday, 10th—Sailed the outward-bound vessels from the Downs to the westward. 11th—No. 11 transport went through the Downs to the eastward. veral sail of vessels came down from the river and ans chored in the Downe. H.M.'s revenue cruiser Lion anshored in the Downs. Not a single man-of-war has passed for the week that I am aware of.

DEFFORD, Feb. 14.—(From our own Correspondent.)—8th — Arrived H.M.'s steamer Myrtle, Bryant, Master, from Woolwich, and returned the same day with Master, from Wootwich, and returned the same day with stores. 9th — Prinages Royal transport, from Portsmouth and Shearness. Hemain—Blumdell, to fit for convicts. London remains fitting for convicts, for New South Wales. 14th—Sailed Prinaees George transport, for Bermuda, with victualling stores. Forts frigate is ordered to this yard, to be broken up. A vacancy has occurred in the Upper School of Greenwich, by the death of Mr. Graham, Second Master. The Lucifer steamyeasel was commissioned at Woolwich on Tuesday.

NORTH SUNDENLAND. Feb. 6.—The Janet and Ann.

NORTH SUNDERLAND, Feb. 6.—The Janet and Ann, Prophet of Leith, from Ellie, for Leith, with a cargo of wheat, put in here on Thursday last, the 1st inst., with loss of mainboom, and pumps choked, and otherwise damaged, she having slipped from her anchor in Berwick Bay. It is feared she will have to discharge her cargo and undergo repairs before the can proceed. The Master desires to return his sincere thanks to the Commander of the Mermaid cutter, now on the Berwick station, who sent a carpenter and part of his crew on board to assist him.

Newcastle Advertiser, Feb. 8.—[We are always happy to insert proofs of the disinterested services of Naval Officers in command of Revenue cruisers to vessels in distress, or requiring temporary assistance. In this instance the Officer's name (by Navy List, Lieut. Howes, R.N.) was not even mentioned to the Master of the vessel assisted. -Ep. N. & M. U.]

PORT ROYAL, Jan. 8 .- The Ringdove brig, Com. Sir W. Deniell, arrived on the 27th ult. from Port-an Prince, in five days, and returned to that port on the 5th inst., in company with the Griffon brigantine, Lient. Jonkin. The Hermer st., Lient. Carr, agrived on the 30th Dec., four days from Honduras. The Pigus frigate, Capt. Hon.

Stopford, arrived on 4th, seven days from Barbadodi.

A Court-Martial was held on board the Imaum, at Port Royal, on the 26th and 27th Dec., to try Lieut. Morrish, Royal, on the 26th and 27th Dec., to try Lieut. Morriah, late of H.M.'s steamer Appn, on that station, on charges preferred against him for flogging a Petty Officer, &c. The following Officers composed the Court—Commodore A. R. Sharpe, C.B., of the Inseque, President; Capt. C. H. Freemantle, Inconstant; Capt. J. E. Erskint, Illustrious; Capt. Geo. Elliott, flavydice; Hon. C. G. J. B. Elliot, Specian. The Court, after hearing the evidence on both sides, ordered Lieut. Morrish to be reprimended. CHINA.—On AUTON HATTA.—On Monday at the ordered China.

o'clock, a previous notice having been given by order of the Governor and Directors of the East India Company to the Officers and scamen of the several men-of-war, frigates, steamers and scamen or the several man-of-war, frigates, steamers, and other vessels which had been engaged in the hostilities against the Chinese, that a district betton of donation betta would take place at the Bast Indis-house, many of those who had shares in that war attended there for that purpose. The donation batta, which had been ordered by the Governor-General of India to the Military and Naval forces, in consideration of the extraordinary and great services rendered by them in the subjugation of the Chinese empire, consists of an addition of pay according to the time of service. The addition of pay according to the time of service. The vessels serving in that war were—the Welliesley, Blenheim, Melville, Blenheim, Algorine, Allipator, Calliege, Columbine, Conway, Cruiser, Druid, Herald, Jupiter, Leva, Sagnarang, Starling, Sulphur, and Veluge, with the Nomesia and Queen steamers. The distribution was an increase of 6, 12, and 48 months' pay. The vessels were called alphabetically, when a batch of 12 were admitted. The men produced the certificates showing the vessels they belonged to, when they received a cheque for the money. Those who had assignments, and soveral females had some, attended with them. Between 84 and 96. had some, attended with them. Between 8t. and 9t. were paid to each; many, however, it is expected will receive more. This will cause an addition to the expenses attending this war of several thousands of pounds. The Military received their batts at Calcutta, the money having been taken there by the Calliope. The Officers and men are yet to receive the prize-money for that war, and which will be paid at Someraet-house.

H.M. S. Curacos, Craness, and Cockatries, were at Rio Janeiro 24th Dec. Alfred, Commodore Purvis, st. Gorgon, Pearl, Daphne, Racer, and Ardent, were at Video 18th Nov.

H.M.'s brig Flying Fish, 12, building at Pembroke, will be launched on 3d April, and brought round to Plymouth, to be fitted for commission. She is to be one of the experimental squadron, to assemble in May, for the purpose of trying the several brigs building on the various plans lately submitted to the Board of Admiralty.

Mr. G. Hempstead, Mate, is the young Officer alluded to in our Plymouth letter of last week, who was taking a passage in the Emerald cutter to join the Vestal. This promising young Officer has passed for a Lientenant now six years, and it is to be hoped the severe accident he has met with may further his claim to promotion.

THE NAVY ESTIMATES.

WE annex the abstract of these estimates for the year 1844-45. The sum required for the whole Effective Service for the year 1644-45 is 4,292,404f., and for the year before it was 4,358,892f., being 66,474f. less in the present year than in the last year, when the war with China was hardly brought to a conclusion. Some of the greater charge, than otherwise might be necessary, is no doubt caused by the ships and by the Marines employed in Ireland. The demand for wages during the present year is 1,196,997L, last year it was 1,298,642L. The charge for victuals in this year 594,377L, last year it was 669,058L, a reduction of 74,681L. The wages for artificers for 1844-45, amount to 649,104L; whilst last year they amounted to 591,951%.

they amounted to 591,951.

Wages to Seamen and Marines, 1,196,997.; Victuals for ditto, 594,577.; Admiralty Office, 136,856.; Office for the Registry of Merchant Seamen, 2,980.; Scientific Srauch, 49,653.; Her Majesty's Betablishments at Home, 139,986.; Her Majesty's Retablishments Abroad, 24,450.; Wages to Artificers, &c., employed in Her Majesty's Establishments at Home, 649,184.; Wages to Artificers, &c., employed in Her Majesty's Establishments Abroad, 48,4680.; Naval Storoe, &c., for the Building and Repair of Shipa, Docks, Wharfs, &c., 1,999,732.; New Works, Improvements and Repairs in the Yards, &c., 398,866.; Medicines and Medical Storge, 32,660.; Miscellaneous Hervices, 60,147.; Total for the Rective Service, 4,992,484. Half-pay to Officers of the Navy and Royal Marines, 743,296.; Military Pensions and Allowances, 164,557.; Total for the Naval Service, 5,692,883. For the Service of other Beogarisments of Government:—Army and Ordnance Department (Conveynors of Troops), 182,900.; Home Department (Conveynors of Troops), 182,000.; Home Department (Conveynors), 488,841.; Grand Total, 6,421,599.

Admiralty, Feb. 8, 1844.

PENSIONS GRANTED IN 1844-45, FOR GOOD AND MEmironious Survices, vis.:—Resr-Admirel Sir Charles Bullen, K.C.B., K.C.H., 8901.; Major-General Walter Tremanheers, K.H., 3001.

Bullen, K.C.B., K.C.H., 8001.; Major-General Walter Tremesheete, K.H., 3001.

Sir Charles Bullen entered the Service, 16th Feb., 1779; Lieut., 5th Ang., 1791; Com., 26 Jan., 1792; Capt., 29th April, 1802; Rear-Adm., 16th Jam., 1837. Sgived in the Legalist at the reduction of Charleston in 1781; was Lieut. of the Culleden at the attack on Martinique in 1793; was Lieut. of the Remellier in Lord Howe's actions of May 28th and 29th, and also in the Heatle of the 1st June, 1784; was Sen. Lieut. of the Romensia at the Battle of Camperdown, for his services on which occasion he was promoted; was Capt. of the Britismic at the Battle of Trainigar; in 1837, when in sommand of the Velentsire, was actively employed in craising off the coast of Catalonia; in 1819 and 1811 was actively employed in the operations on the Conat of Catalonia, during will nevice he received a severe wound from a battery on about 7; years; of this period has served about 6 years and 8 months Superintendent of Pembroke Dock. Yard.

Majer. General Tremenheers was appointed Sec. Lieut., 1st Jan., 1795; Major 25th March, 1812; Lieut., Col., 4th Jan., 1814; Gol., 28th Dec., 1825; Gall. Gen., 23th March, 1812; Lieut., Col., 4th Jan., 1814; Gol., 28th Dec., 1825; Gall. Gen., 23th Word, 1941. In 1791 commanded the detection of the Battle of the Digger Bank; in 1792, while still serving in the Clopadra, welling settled in the hout of that ship in an attack on a Privater to discuss the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commandiation desired in the boats of that ship in an attack on a Privater to discuss the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commands the decomments of the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commands in the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commands in the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commands in the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commands in the Standary and Custoon and its Dependenties; in 1800 commands in the Standary and Custoon and brought to action in the outer Road of Brest. Has served on full in the Incomeant the Island of Gorce, on the coast of pay in the El. Marines nearly 50 years, during 7 of which he comAfrica, with a garrison of 300 men; and in the same ships manded the Chatham Division.

brought to action in the outer Road of Brest. His served on full pay in the El. Harines apply 55 years, during 7 of which he commanded the Chatham Division.

Further Pensions granted in the Year:—
To Capt, Sackett Hope, in lieu of a pension granted on account of an injury received when a Midahipaman, which wha discontinued on promotion to the rank of Lieut., 61; Com. Curyndon Spattigne, in lied of a Out. Pension received when a Midahipaman, 94; Lt. Daniel Shewon, in lieu of a Pension granted in consequence of a wound received white serving as a Midahipaman, but which had ceased on promotion, 61, 1t. William Laster, in lieu of a Pension from Greenwich Hospital, 41, 1t. Robert Bates Matthews, in lieu of a Pension granted in consequence of a wound received while serving as a Midahipaman, but which had ceased on promotion, 41, 1t. Frederic White, in lieu of a Pension received whon a Petty Officer in the battle of Trabigar, 61, 1t. Jumes St. Quintia, in lieu of a Pension received from Greenwich Hospital, on account of injuries received in the Service as a Petty Officer, 81, 1t. William Venna, in lieu of a Pension for an injury-received when serving as a Midahipaman, which caused on promotion, 41, 1t. William Venna, in lieu of a Pension for an injury-received when serving as a Midahipaman, which caused on promotion, 41, 1t. John Rainer, granted in consequence of a wound received when on Midahipaman, 61, 1t. William Henry Goddard, in lieu of a Pension granted in consequence of a severe injury sustained by his foot having best hieleft arm while serving as a Midahipaman, but which had ceased on promotion, 41, 1t. John Rainer, granted in consequence of a severe injury sustained by his foot having best hieleft arm while serving as Midahipaman on board the Desire in lieu for a Pension received when serving as a Midahipaman on board the Severa, 45. 11e. 3d., 1t. John Douglas, in lieu of a Pension granted on account of a Levis of the Africes, lieured and the several severe injuries, 814, 1s.; 1t. Antew John B. Hannby, of the Pensions granted in the Year to the Widows and Rela tives of Officers slain :-

taves of Omoors stain:—
Caroline Emma Uniacke, St.-Major's Widow, 1881.; Margaret Mosse, Captain's Daughter, 331.; Eliza Hewitt, Lieut.'s Mother, 401.; Elien Sophia C. Lingard, Lieut.'s Widow, 601.; Eleanor M.
H. Mallard, Master's Widow, 451.; Charlette Bound, Bontawain's Widow, 351.; Ann Pendlebury, Bontawain's Widow, 251.; Sophia
Ann Goldie, Gunner's Widow, 251.; Mary Thomas, Gynner's Widow, 351.; Ann Perry, Carpenter's Widow, 251.

PRIZE-MONEY .- The Officers and company of H.M.'s brig PAIRE-MONEY.—The Officers and company of H.M.'s brig Waterwitch, Licut. Henry James Matson, Commander, will be paid their respective proportions of slave and minuage bounties and proceeds for the undermentioned slave-vessels, at No. 22, Arundel-at., Strand, on Thursday, 39th inst., where recalls will be made on Wednesdays and Thursdays only, for the three fol-lowing months:— Maris Rita, swized 13th July, 1840.—Licut. and Commander, 474, 32, 56; 24 class, 324, 69, 36; 36 class, 114, 62, 15d; 4th class, Maria Illia, soured 12th July, 1860.—1, mat. ma. 441. 34. 641. 34 class, 111. 6a. 14d.; 4th class, 71. 6a. 9d.; 3th class, 121. 6a. 3d.; 3th class, 111. 6a. 14d.; 7th class, 14. 4a. 54d.

Donna Francaca, seized 20th Oct., 1861.—Plag, 5l. 15s. 11d.; 7th class, 14. 6a. 14d.; 12d. class, 4d. 6a. 4d.; 3d.

Donna Francesca, selved 20th Oct., 1841.—Plag, 31. 15c. 11d.; Lieut. and Commander, 10f. 17c. 4d.; 2d class, 4f. 6c. 4jd.; 2d class, 4f. 5c. 4jd.; 2d class, 4f. 5c. 2d.; 3d class, 4f. 6c. 4jd.; 5d class, 9c. 2c. 2jd.; 4th class, 1c. 4jd.; 5d class, 9c. 2d.; 7th class, 4c. 9jd.

Bella Indiana, seizeni 7th Aug., 1842.—Flag, 10f. 19c. 8d.; Lieut. and Commander, 30f. 13c.; 13d. class, 3f. 10c. 5d.; 4th class, 2f. 7c.; 5th class, 1f. 3c. 6d.; 5th class, 18c. 8d.; 7th class, 2f. 7c.; 5th class, 1f. 3c. 6d.; 5th class, 18c. 8d.; 7th class, 2f. 16c. 3d.; Lieut. and Commander, 3ff. 8c. 8d.; 2d class, 16f. 15c. 3d.; 3d class, 6f. 7c. 7jd.; 4th class, 3f. 11c. 9d.; 5th class, 1f. 15c. 10jd.; 5th class, 1f. 3c. 11d.; 7th class, 1f. 11jd.

VICE-ADMIRAL EDWARD STIRLING DICKRON.

Another veteran Officer, whose name has been frequently identified with our Naval triemphs, has ceased to Vice-Admiral E. S. Dickson entered the Service in 1772, in his seventh year, and was present in the Action at the attack of Charleston, where she was destroyed by the batteries of Sullivan's Island, under which led. Transferred to the Bristol, was at the capture of New York, and afterwards joined the Ectus, in which he assisted at the capture of the Prudents, French frigate. In 1780 was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant, at the unprecedented and early age of 15, and appointed to the Artois, a captured frigate. In the Sampson he assisted at the relief of Gibraltar, and in the battle be-tween the combined Fleets witnessed the fall of his Commander, Capt. J. Harvey (afterwards killed in the Bruns soick) by the windage of a shot, a fact frequently disputed. He was wounded on the glorious First of June, while Second Lieutenant of the Covar, which led the van; and in the West Indies, while commanding the Frederick cetter, beat off a privateer of very superior force, which gained his promotion as Commander of the Victorieues. Stationed of Trinidad, he suggested to Admiral Sir H. Harvey the facility of capturing that island, and led in the Fleet, which reduced this important colony in 1797. In conveying the Trade to St. Kitt's he encountered of rape two Republican privateers, who laid him is, one of which he captured and the other decaped. alongside. alongside, one of which he captured and the other escaped. He took the towar of Carrupano and Rio Caribe, on the Spanish main, destroying their fortifications, and while hearding a privater, pretected by them, he was again severely wounded in the head. The immortal Picton, then Governor of Trinidad, with the English inhabitants, asknowledged these services by presenting him with a sward worth 160 guiness, while Earl Spenier rewarded him by his premotion to Peet Renk. In 1864 he re-explained on the Guernesy station, commanded a squadron for the blockade of St. Male. In 1809 he was sant out in her to the lale of Prance station, but unfortunately grounded to the northward of the Cape of Good Hope, by an unusual set of the currents; he repaired the damage by heaving her keel out in Table Bay, and righting her when the swell set in, and this for several consecutive days, a fest, of seamenship denounced as impracticable by Commiser Shield, th success of which, however, drew forth from Admiral Bertie his admiration in Public Orders to the Officers and Ship's company. In the Stately he commanded the Navel Forces at the siege of Tariffa, and received the thanks of the Admiralty. Admiral Penrose, who at Gibraltar witnessed the operations, at a time of the year generally severe, but which during the siege was uncommonly bolstsrous, thus estimated them: "You have had to contend against obstacles too many to suumerate in a letter, but sufficient to call forth the most ardent seal and the most skilful seamanship, and the result has proved that you made use of both in an eminent degrae, as neither a moment's time nor a man's life has been lost. Those under your command have well seconded your exertions. If an additional motive could exist to induce me to write you this letter, it would arise from my baving observed, on the perusal of the public letters of the Commanding Officer of His Majesty's Porces, that there was an appearance of his being unaware of the numerous difficulties which the Naval arm ordered to co-operate with him had to surmount, and perhaps it is only a Naval with him had to surmount, and perhaps it is only a reaval.

Officer who could duly and fully appreciate them; still I have the pleasure to assure you that his Excellency, Licutenant-General Campbell, has most cordially expressed his spies of the difficulties you have had to contend with and your manner of surmounting them." This arduous and anxious service procured him the command of the Swiftsure, line-of-battle ship, under Lord Exmouth, at the blockeds of Toulon, where he form frequently one of the in-shore squadron, which continually, under the batteries baffled all attempts of the French Fleet to escape. In the Rivoli, on the escape of Napoleon from Eiba, he was most actively employed in the Mediterramenn; he blockaded Naples, and observing the Joachim and Capri line-of-battle ships at anchor in the bay, under the Fort of St. Elmo, determined, after consulting Mr. J. M. Davison, his Master, to run alongeide the outermost, and carry her by boarding: for this purpose she went in with a favourable wind, but to their surprise found that both ships, apprehending his intentions, had sheltsred themselves inside the mole. With unshated vigilance he prevented the escape of Napoleon's mother and sister Pau-line from Castel del Mare, who, emburked in L'Inconstante, were there awaiting that purpose, and thus intercepted and captured at his own risk, after a spirited resistance, the Melpomens frigate, bearing the tri-coloured flag sent by Napoleon to convey them to France, an act of hostility in time of peace censured by Napolson, but which our Government approved by giving her as prize to the captors. He then took command of the expedition cantors. against Naples, under General M'Farlane, which becalmed on the Calabrian abore, and welcomed by the peasantry (ever hostile to the French conscription and Government) bonfires, thus apprised Murat of the impending danger of his dynasty, and produced his immediate surrender to the Tremendous, Captain Campbell. Beleeted by Lord Exmouth at Naples, he commanded the expedition against the Fortress of Porto Ferrajo, and thus reducing the Island of Elbs, had, as recorded by the historian James, "the singular honour of striking the first and last tri-coloured flag of the Hundred Days' War;" he was subsequently employed on a diplomatic mission to Tunis, and returned to England with his prize. In 1831 he was appointed to the Ganges, of 80 guns, at Portamouth, where he received the rank of Rear-Admiral, which termithe old school, he carred out his estate by his own sword and energies, but his early exploits being previous to the Peane of Amiens and the Peninsular eampsigns, were subject to the stringent rule of exclusion, thereby debarring him and many others of those decorative honours to which they were so pre-eminantly entitled. The Vice-Admiral died on the 28th of last manth.

MUSINGS IN CAMP .- No. V. YOLUNTEERS WANTED FOR PARTICULAR SERVICE IN CHIMA.

[For the Naval and Military Gazette.]

Tuz population of China, when the people were last numbered, amounted to three hundred millions of souls. We talk of millions, without really having an adequate idea what even one million is. But that we may in some measure comprehend what this wast multitude of three measure compresent wast this vast multitude of three hundred millions is, let us suppose them paraded in line, and see what will be the length of their alignment. Twenty-two inches are allotted to the standing of each soldier in the ranks; but as a large portion of the people in question must be children, let us calculate on only sighteen inches for require one yard.	each Wel	ind I, th	ivld:	ıal,	00 10	y t	hat	two will

The number of yards	in a :	mile	is	•	•	•		1750
Number of persons in Circumference of the			mlie	ei e	queto:	•	:	25,000
		•	•					176nu ouo 7010
Number of persons real at the equator, star						eart ·	h }	FU,000,000
Ditto, three deep . Population of China		:	:	:	:•	:	:	264,000,000 300,000,006
H.Kuena	•	•	•	•	۰,	•		26,000,000

We may now have a tolerably clear conception what the population of China is; for we have see that if it were population of China is; for we have use that if it were drawn out three-deep, R would not only engines the earth at its greatest diameter, but that there would yet be a corpe de reserve of thirty-six millibue—that is equal to about double the population of Great Britain.

But, Christian readers—you who believe, on divine authority, that through faith in Cunrar your sina are blotted out, and that you are destined for a glorious immortality when you is have fought a good fight," and your wearfooms much on earth is ended—know, and remember too. that these three handred millions of immortal souls. too, that these three hundred millions of immortal souls, somprising one-third of the whole human race, have the unrepealed sentence of everlasting punishment hanging over them, and yet have never heard "the open Nates given among men whereby they must be saved." I ask, atand at ease, while you see so many fellow-belong alceping, as it were, on a mine, which Death will assuredly apring, and will you make no offert to save them? What esn you plead at the Great Day of account for such neglect?

In China "the fields are white to harvest,"—all is,indeed, ready for "the gathering in;" the sickle is at hand. But one Soversign rules throughout the length and breadth of the land; the Nation acknowledges that they, have from generation to generation been retrograding, and are still retrograding in wisdom. They are a reading people; but one lenguage is written and spoken throughout the vast empire. Well, then, the entire of Holy Writ, with the Liturgy of the Church of England, is already translated into that tongue; and as quickly as a field-piece could be discharged, the Bible Society could throw off copies of the secred volume, viz., "four per minute,"—the order need but he offen minute,"—the order need but be given.

What, then, is wanting to resp this harvest from this extensive field?—Why, for ENGLAND, blessed and highly-privileged England, to "send forth Ishourers into the field;" for the LORD of the harvest deigns to employ His orestures in the work; in other words, to send Officers regularly commissioned in the Army of Chaus- men of honest report, full of the Holy Gleest and wisdom".... men "wise as scripents and harmless as doves," who are ready to "essiture hardness as good soldiers;" that, under the benners of the Cross, they may march from the coast to the Great Wall, with the already-translated Word in their hands, proclaiming our Heavenly Father's gracious message of pardon and reconciliation to all who put faith in the atoming sacrifice of the blood of Incarnate Con.

Brother soldiers, to you I appeal—you who are in the prime of life—you who do feel what the Saviour has done for you-you who are read in Holy Scripture-you who have some slight classical attainments, and have a facility in acquiring languages, to you I say, volunteers for wanted for important service in China. When were volunteers ever called for to storm a breach, and British addiers hung back?-never. Remember, then, that it in the Captain of Salvation who now wants your services. Is there at least not one among you who will lead the Forlarn Hope !-no, not forlorn, for an immortal grown awaits you -one who will present himself to the Church Missionary Society and seek ordination at the Bishop's hunds, and then go forth amidat England's prayers, olad in "the whole armour of God," "to pull down the strongholds of Satan," hitherto inaccessible in the vast territory of China? And you, too, fellow-soldiers, who are ever ready to subscribe to commemorate the noble achievements of some gallant soldier—you who may not feel qualified for, although interested in, this important service—will not although interested in, this important services you give at least one day's pay towards equipping volunteers for the Missionery cause in China?

Would to God that I may learn that I have been the humble means of "stirring up the gift" that is in some red-coat or blue-jacket, to undertake that glorious service which I meanly am by see and want of attainment. which I myself am, by age and want of attainment, enqualified for. MATRORK.

Bignatures to Letters in Type....." Ad Ex-Dregnon," "Han-cok," "Fix Hayousts," "G. Ballingall," "C.," "H.," and

To Readers and Correspondents.

The space occupied by the long and interesting Debate in both Houses of Parliament on the Votes of Thanks to the Army in Scinde; the Army and Navy Estimates, and the Discussion on the Conduct of the 44th Regiment, obliges us to postpone our Leading Remarks on several topics; and to crave the indulgence of many esteemed Correspondents, whose letters are in type and shall appear the first opportunity.

We could not reply to the question of "A West Indian"

We could not reply to the question of "A West Indian" (Longford), respecting a recent regimental appointment, without lacerating the feelings of an Officer who has already been severely punished for his misconduct.

"M. S." (Adde de College) should again address his

"M. S." (Adde de College) should again address his claims to Messrs, Cox and Co., who will do what is necessary: up have done all in our power:

"A Constant Reader" (Greenook) shall have early attention.

'An Old Soldier" resident at Devenport asks—" What is the reason that the plun and estimate for building a Military chapel for the Carrison has been so long shelved? The present excellent Secretary-at-Wur cannot be aware that the Board of Ordnance directed such to be made about four years since, but the order has not been acted upon; he is two much alive to the good of the Service.

to allow such an important part of his duty to be neglected if brought under his notice."

To "M. D. B." (Sheffield).—The Noble Lord referred to was nover tried by a Court-Martinl; consequently, the passage in dispute could not have formed a part of the alleged senionos.

'A" Subscriber," Le. will observe the strong hint contained in our columns of to-day, in reference to the subject of his letter. We advise him to petition the proper Authorities.

"Complainant" cannot have read the "Naval and Military Gazette" lately-indeed the date of his letter (Jan. 9) proves that he has not; he will therefore excuse our not giving insertion to his communication.

A Correspondent writes—" Can a Field Officer retire on full pay after 30 years' service, part of which time he was on half-pay (not from choice), his regiment being disbanded in 1816?" He must have served 30 years on full-pay to be eligible. The pension of a Lieutenant-Colonel's widow is £80 per annum.

We have not heard of the existence of any such order as that to which "A. B." refers; and cannot say whether any measure of the kind is in contemplation.

Naval & Military Gazette.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1844.

THE many letters we baye received, all complaining more or less of the New Raval Regulations, demand some notice from us beyond that which we last week gave to them in our replies to correspondents. Many appear to have expected too much from them. Complaints of want of promotion and of insufficient retirement are out of place when finding fault with the Regulations, which it should generally be known relate exclusively to the Service affoat. That there remains much to be done before old Officers of all denominations can be considered to have had ample provision made for them, is but too true; and we have repeatedly advocated the establishment of an additional number of out-pensions, if order to enable the First Lord of the Admiralty to meet the strong claims which daily press him from within and without.

The one class for which there is no such provision whatever, we have so often endeavoured to benefit, that we almost fear to have seemingly incurred the charge of partiality; but if such a supposition has been indulged in, it is quite erroneous. Regard for the Naval Service and for neglected merit has alone induced us to befriend those who appear most to want our aid. For this simple reason we have brought forward on all occasions the Masters' disabilities, and now make another appeal in their behalf; hoping to induce some influential Naval Member of Parliament to acquaint the Legislature with the grievances of which these Officers have so long complained—apparently in vain; and to impress upon the Admiralty the propriety of instituting a commission to inquire into their claims, as they did for the purpose of adjusting those of the Pursers.

We now propose to show the disproportion of official situations enjoyed by Masters, when compared with those Officers with whom they were formerly classed, Surgeons and Pursers. But in this we would not be misunderstood.

Talent, humanity, and professional knowledge, together with all those qualities which, united, form olever Officers and gentlemen, are the marked characteristics of Naval Medical Officers and Pursers; and we would not, therefore. willingly be charged with the most distant desire to curtail the number or value of the appointments which their abilities and meritorious services have been the means of acquiring for them. We freely admit that the most able men should be, and are, secured for the Haval Service as Surgeons, and that men of good education, and of knowledge as Accountants are equally desirable fill the situations of Paymesters and Pursers; but it is no less requisite that the best seamen, most skilful navigators, and men of quick foresight and energy, should be secured to conduct our ships; and whose interest it should be to give all those talents and energies to their duties. But if we sak to what extent this course has been pursued with reference to Masters, the answer must be -scarcely at all. It is true that men well fitted to discharge these important functions are in the Service, but what actual interest have they in the successful result of a contest, or in helpingto bring to a favourable consummation a long series of difficult operations? Let the answer be read in the Navy List. Look to the list of Masters, in order to find there the veterans of fifty years' standing - relies of Nelson's battles, and of every expedition down to the Chinese war. If services of another nature are in question, look at the names of the Masters who have sem all their messmates and shipmates promoted for parilous Arctic and Antarctic voyages, while they alone have remained in statu quo. But to our figures.

There are 405 Medical Officers on the Active List, exclusive of 200 who will not be called on to serve, and 42, who, preferring, wisely enough, a good shore practice, have retired on a commuted allowance of half-pay.

Of the above 405 there are employed as-

Inspector-General of Hospitals, &c. at 1,000/, s-year.
Inspectors of Hospitals; one at 786/. 10s., three at 603/. 5s.
Deputy-Inspectors; two at 58s/., one at 565/.; six at 501/. 7s.od.
Surgeons of Hospitals, Dock-yards, &c.; five at 500/., three at 450/., one at 400/., one at 393/., one at 274/., two at 300/.

Total

Beneficial and Full-pay Retirements.
Physicians
Deputy-Inspectors
Surreons
52

27

41 68

. 22

85

Pursera—Total, 598.

Comptroller of Victualling, at 1,000/.

Royal Yachts ; one at 500/. two at 500/.

Greenwich Hospital; one at 500/. three at 500/.

Secretaries to Commanders in Chief; at 400/.

Superintendent to Victualling Coast Guard; at 500/.

In Victualling Yards; one at 500/.; two at 400/.; two at 700/.

Naval Hospital; one at 400/.

Dockyard; one at 500/.

Total

Beneficial Retirements.
Secretaries to Commanders-in-Chief
Senior Pursers; at &c. 6d.

Total

Masters—498.
Masters Attendants of Victualling and Dockyards; two at 680f.; four at 480f.; one at 450f.; one at 460f.; five at 380f.; one at 380f.

Beneficial Retirements—None.
Aggregate nums to the three classes; Medical, 18,9201.;
Parsers, 19,5001.; Masters, 6,2701.

Suppresent praise cannot be bestowed upon the present Board of Admiralty for their wisdom in throwing open to competition the merit of producing the best description of vessel for Her Majesty's Service; and any one at all conversant with these matters can alone tell the hostility and impediments of every sort which a Board of Admiralty are subjected to and hampered by, who make an attempt of this nature. However, most fortunately for the Public Service, the present Board of Admiralty have persevered and overcome these difficulties.

We shall shortly see the five new twelve-gun brigs ready for trial, and, although we could have wished that the various builders had been totally free from all interference," yet we believe that the five brigs may be considered as offering a very fair specimen of the particular ideas of the various builders entrusted with their forms. tion. We trust, however, that the greatest precaution and fairness will attend the trials of these brige. We have so often seen the most erroneous reports given to the public of the merits of Her Mejesty's ships, that we earnestly hope, upon the present occasion, every symptom or shadow of favour and affection may be avoided, and that we shall see no Commander of any one of the brige under trial "topping the senior Officer" over the others, and making signals to make or shorten sail to suit his own vessel's point of sailing; and that we shall read no reports (such as we saw a short time ago)+ about one of Her Majesty's frigates thrashing down Channel, and beating another frigate by so many days into Plymouth, when it was very well known that the frigate reported as beaten had never put to sea until the weather had moderated. We hope to see an experienced Officer appointed to superintend the trials of these brigs, who shall not sail on board any of them, but who shall take their bearings every hour, having diagrams of the same made, which will tell their own story.

 We have no means of exceptaining the emoluments of these situations with precision, but believe the above to be under rather than over-rated.

Whilst on this subject we cannot do better than call the attention of all who are interested in Naval Architecture, to the following official Return of the ships whose magazines have been altered, and how often; and of the ships whose aterns have been altered, and how often, between the 1st day of Jan., 1830, and the first day of July, 1843, and the expense attending the same.

RETURN OF THE SHIPS WHOSE MAGAZINES HAVE BEEN ALTERED.

(Rate.	Gans.	Name.	Reasons of al- teration, and by whose plan.	Year.	How often	Ex- pense.
1	126	Britannia	New Plan by Admiralty of	1942		2
-	_	St. Vincent	Ditto by Bir P.		_	1,450
	_	Trafalgar	Ditto by Admi-	1840	-	1,350
2	92	Rodney	raity of Completion on		_	72
-	84	Calcutta	P. Malcolm's Parts removed,		-	240
_	-	Powerful	building new. New Plan by	1838	-	400
2	76	Achille	Admiralty of Ditto and Sir P.	1943	once.	1,250
4	80	Vernon	Hestings . Shifted while	1840	-	684
	_	Vindictive	under repair. Ditto on Capt.'s	1837	-	233
5	26	Pique	application . Altered from	1841	-	981
•	30	Lidge	midship to	1842
Steam	Vessel	Gorgon	Enlarged while	1943	_	903 fitting, in con-
1		•	increase of armament .	1838	_	20

RETURN OF THE SHIPS WHOSE STERNS HAVE BEEN ALTERED.

	-		144		·
1	1130	St. George	Mr. Ro	oertë (	i bien	1	1039	١	$50
		PrincessCharlotte	Quarte	L Balle	ry .	ı	1836	1	85
2	93	Nile	Mr. Re	berts'	s plan	ł	1#32	1	480
	1 —	London .	Mr. Fu	icham'	s plan	1	1840	1	507
-	84	Monarch .	Quarte	r galler	ies a		1340	Ι	60
-		Powerfal .		litto		1	1830	once
	80	Collingwood .	l. • .		•	1	1840		49
_	1 ==	Gollath	i :	•	•		1840	i''	200
3		Indus .	Mr. Per		la '		1822		730
	70	Benbow	Quarte	me by	un .
-	78						1936		50
-	ı —	Edinburgh .	ª	litto	٠,		1883		. 80
							1834	5	637
	70	Boscawen .	•	•	• •		1940	7-5	95
				•			1842,	2	194
_	-	Cumberland .	, '				18427	٠	348
4	56	Chichester .					1630	i. *.	266
_		Warmite .	While 1	azeein	•	ı	1839	١	30
5	44	Meender			•		1885	1: :	108
		Melempus			•		1884	1: :	448
_		Merroad	• '	•			1931	١	135
		Cambrian .		' '	• •			once
_			• '	•	• •			COCE	, , –
_		Centur	• •	•	• •		1833		197
6		Calliopa	٠.	•	• •		1823		40
DOD	18	Rover		,			1632		98
		Boout .				i	1946		35
team		Informal .				1	1849	. ]	15
		,	•		•		30 )	· 1
		· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·

Peb. 5, 1844. Jour

JOHN EDYE, for the Surveyor.

* Such, for instance, as submitting their lines to the inspection of the Surveyor, who is himself a competitor against them. † The frigates Fas and Iris. The latter was lying very quietly at anchor at St. Helen's for two days, whilst the former was blown away to Dunganess, and this was called a trial!

Our " Gamille" of the 3d instant contained a report of the example of Mr. Mahon, an Irish gentleman, before the Insolvent Court; and the circumstances which transpired were peculiar.

Mr. Mahon, as shown by the strongest testimonials, had served with credit in the Royal Marines for som years: he was under the gallant Colonel Owen, in Spain, and elsewhere. In 1840, he exerted himself to obtain the appointment of Adjutant; and being acquainted with Mr. John O'Connell, M.P., he requested that gentleman to back his petition to the Admiralty. The then Member for Athlone, introduced Mr. Mahon to his cousin, Mr. Morgan John O'Connell, M.P., who understood these matters better, and had more influence than himself. Mr. Morgan John O'Connell took up the case with so much zeal, that in a short time he obtained for Mr. Mahon from the late Board of Admiralty, not only the appointment of Adjutant, but also that of Paymaster, and absolutely became Mr. Mahon's security, and induced one of his friends to join in the bond. In gratitude for such kindness, Mr. Mahon asserts that he was induced to lend his acceptance to a batch of bills, amounting to upwards of £6,000 !!! which the Member pledged himself to pay as they became due. The bills were dishonoured the Adjutant and Paymester was pressed and sued by the holders: he became deficient in his public accounts to the amount of £250; and being peremptorily called upon by the Admiralty to make good the deficiency, was advised to resign.

Lieutenant Mahon being thus deprived of his commission, thrown penniless upon the world, and quickly incarcerated, was compelled to take the benefit of the Insolvent Act. The Chief Commissioner (Reynolds). who presided at the hearing of the case, said in his concluding address, that "during his many years experience in that Court, he had invariably remarked amongst the number of persons and various classes of society which came before him (and there were some of all classes), he always found the Officers of the Navy were more tenacious of their honour than any other class of men, and he was happy to say, that in the present case he saw nothing mean-nothing shabby nor dishonourable, and, therefore, the Court considered the insolvent entitled to the benefit of the Act, and ordered him to be discharged forthwith."

Although we consider Mr. Mahon, like all other acceptors of accommodation bills, highly blameable, still his case seems to be deserving the consideration of the present liberal Board of Admiralty, and we hope to find him re-instated in the Service.

WE regret to find that Gentleman Cadet Black, of th Royal Military Academy, Woolwich, has, in consequence of ill treatment received from some of his companions under the vile system termed fagging, absconded, and has not been heard of since Saturday last. We may have something more to say on the very important subject of fagging in public schools; in the meanwhile, we carnestly trust that this particular case will be thoroughly probed by the Authorities of a Commander to Greenwich Hospital claim the cordial assent of overy Naval Officer, even of the disappointed many, whose too sanguine hopes have been blighted by the decision.

Wz give insertion to the subjoined letter, signed "An Unsuccessful Candidate," with much pleasure; and it must, we think, be a source of gratification to the Noble Earl who dispenses the few good things in his gift with so stern a regard to the Naval strvices of the claimants, to find that even an unsuccessful candidate can acquiesce freely in the justice of his Lordship's decision in the instance referred to. We further assent cordially to the view taken by our Correspondent, as to the necessity of making some more extensive provision for meeting the claims of the Old Commanders. We have already shown in strong colours the inadequate number of out-pensions allotted to them, and hope, with "An Unsuccessful Candidate," to find the humane Nobleman at the head of the Admiralty devising some further plan for their benefit. To the Editor of the Naval and Military Canette.

It is a fact well known to some, and sught to be nown to all, that it cost his Lordship at the head of the Admiralty much patient inbour and investigation into the various argent claims pressed heavily upon his notice, before he decided in favour of the successful party. And ent must necessarily be fult by all, although disappoints more especially by those who in addition to strong service-claims as Officers have large families to support upon very inadequate means, there is a satisfaction in knowing that all the candidates obtained a deliberate share of his Lordship's best consideration. It is to be hoped that the "First Lord" having thus become more minutely acquainted with the strong and unrequited claims which the old Commanders have upon their country, will be indused to devise some farther plan for their benefit.

No class of Officers in Her Majesty's Service have served better; and, assuredly, none have been more neglected. On this subject I quite concur in the senti-ments of your correspondent, "An Old No Plus Ultra, hich appeared in one of your recent Numbers Perhaps you will be good enough to give insertion to these few remarks, offered as a bumble tribute justly due to the Nuble Lord, who happily presides with urbanity and good feeling over our Naval affairs; more especially as they proceed from one who, with no pretensions, experiences more of regret than ground of complaint, in signing himself

London, Feb. 12. AN UNBUCORSEFUL CANDIDATE

WE believe that the following circumstance, though trifling in itself, illustrates very forcibly the comments we offered in the Gasettes of 27th January and 3d inst. upon the unmanly and ungenerous prejudice of the civilian classes in England against the Military, and the decay of generous patriotism, and gratitude to those who have bled so freely for the national honour.

e who have seen the bustling Military spectacle of Waterloo at Batty's, late Astley's, Amphitheatre, will perhaps remember that the dislogue is here and there interspersed with a few appropriate and generous sentiments, and, among others, that Corporal Stedfast, when accepting Molly Maloney's invitation to a glass of her comfort, pro-poses a toast somewhat calculated to awaken a latent spark of national anthusiasm in the breasts of a British audiance if such yet lurked in the sordid bosoms of those of present day :- "To the memory of those galiant fellows she have fallen in defence of the liberties and honour of their country by Sea and Land ! "

The speaker, upon the delivery of the sentiment, pause as if in anticipation of some response from his auditory

What would be the reception of such a soul-appealing toast delivered before a French audience? We need no attempt to describe how the chivalrous enthusiasm and ardent love of their country's glory and Military honour would have burst from the bosoms of Frenchmen! nor to portray that even of a German audience, with all their reputed phlegm, upon such an appeal! What, however, reputed phisgm, upon such an appeal! What, however, is that of a British audience; of the contemporaries and their sons, of those whose glorious memory is thus appealed to? As cold and void of generous sympathy patriotism, as though the memory of Homer's heroe had been pledged! Not a tongue responds; not a voice re-schoes or applauds the heart-appealing sentiment !-- not a foot or hand is moved in demonstration of gratitude to or admiration of, the fallen brave who shielded their necks from the yoke of the foreigner; of those to whom they owe the freedom of their hearths from the blood-stained footsteps of ambition !

Truly we are a degenerate and ungrateful race, whom a coarse jest and Molly Maloney's sliusion to "l'argent can sione move to a repturous applause!

If there is a task more ungrateful than any other, it is that of serving a community whose members are not only meanly chary of rewarding the merits of their servants, and readily forgetful of the importance of their services, but who, when these are no longer immediately required, visit them with contumely, distrust, and humiliating brutality. Yet is this the confirmed habitual mode of treatment which the British soldier has to endure from the majority of the several classes of his civilian countrymen, at whose hands, when reward or distinction is achieved, i is wring by a sense of shame, or doled out sparingly through the tainted medium of that vicious party influence, which has been so long the bane of this country. When we consider the fact of this existing public prejudice, we cannot, however, visit the grammen of our re-proach so much upon the "wanteded" of our community, as upon the professional, and particularly upon the commercial and trading grades of English society; and, for this reason, the debased moral condition of the farers, who, in the words of a parepicuous forriguer, "if they were sanguinary would be the most ferocious people in Europe," cannot, in justice, he laid to their own door. for, sensible that they have great reason to be dissatisfied with it, as one which has been studiously imposed upon them by neglect, and not in keeping with their real capa-sition, they are naturally apt to misdirect the expression of its sense, and visit upon the Military, the fancied instrument of their depression, the ignominy of that recentstrument of their nepression, the ignominy of that resemb-ment which is merited elsewhere. Not so, however, with that portion of the British community which Sir Robert Peel has so well defined by the appellation of the "rich vulgar," the classes of all others who derive, continually, the most immediate benefits and protection, abroad and at home, from the ill-requited devotion of the profession they affect to despise; yet, in comparison to which, despite the advantages attendent on their position and meens, their own morale is, upon the whole, of a much more equivocal stamp.

In fact, Mercury, with all his attributes, has set his seal, with metallic impress and sharpness, upon their souls. In this metropolis, the Pandemonium elect of his sordid votaries, where the worth of the man, and of his station, is estimated alone by the weight of his purse where the vulgar and daily-fraudulent, who know not the discipline of honour, brave the opinion of the world with impunity, and receive, despite their known turpitude, the fawning homage of the crowd that worships, like them-selves, the personification of wealth under any garb—it is tantamount to an impossibility that any slove mation of honour, Military or other, can be expected. With them a long peace has been percented to the culture of the most debasing passions of the human breast, and the nobler attributes of individual and national character have resolved-into what ? into the virtue of the breschespocket ; while patriotism and love of country-sentiments that state policy, in all ages, deemed it advisable to foater and expand-are become even subjects of ridicule in the British senate.

It would seem that the civilian in this country imagines that the soldier, having subjected bimself to the discipline of his profession, abandons thereby every communal right and privilege measured by himself as a member of a free community. It is not so; and it must speak volumes for the virtuous influence of discipline, and the sentiments It is not so; and it must speak volumes inculcated in the school of arms, when that profession stands forth, as it does, an example of honour and in-tegrity to their fellow-citizens, and capable of resisting the peruicious influence of a gross administrative and social system, some features of which are even grafted upon its own constitution. We are not asserting too much, when we say that the mass of English civilens, from the trader upward, are far behind the majority of the men they so gratuitously insult; and the qualifications of the latter for public exteent, and their real position and character as Officers and soldiers, are so unintelligible to their fellow-citizens, that it appear for those a vast in-feriority in the social scale. They can understand the necessary qualifications for the pulpit (such as they are scorpted and commonly exhibited in the present day), for ), for the Attorney's office, the counting-house, and the shop ; but they cannot imagine that the character of an Offic requires augthing further than those qualities of the imply that term in the every day and on. Their intellects cannot grasp, the gentlemen which worldly acceptation. Their intellects cannot grasp the wide sphere of noble duties and delicate responsibilities which the profession of arms imposes; they cannot consider that it demands not alone a high cultivation of obseracter, a thorough development of every espability and active principle of the mind, but also a varied and extensive range of knowledge as well as mere tactical skill. And. Indeed, to whom is a higher sense of honour, love of duty, and exalted patriotiem, more necessary than to the soldier? Who is more frequently placed in situstions which demand that unrestricted neif-donial, say, that full submission of the will of self, so doer to man, to the dictate of the superior? Who requires energy of mind to make him rise superior, more in the moment of danger, to the thousand various nonflicting feelings, which are the heritance of all alike?to look unembarrassed and calmly at peril, and therein atili unswervingly pursue the object in view, or the order received? There are moments with the soldier in which the most exalted enthusiasm, forgetfuluess of self, dovotion, and martyr-like resignation, are supremely necessary, in order to the attainment of efficient results, in which, as it were, the overflowing of the soul's nobility, the aurea spiritualis of the man, can alone lead to a decisive achievement of the public weal. Yet, even under the influence of such feelings, so stimulating to a vigorous line of condurt, moments arice when everything depends upon judicious foresight and consideration, requiring a rapid transition from cool presence of mind and collectedness of judgment to intensity of feeling and devotional action, as again from the latter to the former, which is indeed a natter by no means so trivial. Much strength is requisite to resist the power of those feelings in the moment of ection, that the voice of reason be not neclected-in the process of consideration, and during the action of the judgenent, to be still espable of passing rapidly to the ex-contion of its dictates ! How widely different are all these from the qualities of mind and heart necessary for the pursuit and accumulation of pounds, shillings, and pence!

In conclusion, we would advert to the error in judgment committed by a people (supposed to be jealous of their libertles) in thus deporting themselves towards the Military part of the community, a portion of its composi-tion, without which, whatever may be the Utopian ideas which some affect upon the subject, it could not exist. There is a grievous and brotal want of justice, as well as a blindness of common polics, in this line of conduct, which, should circumstances ever deteriorate the virtue of the Army, (and who can foresee events?) may retort a severe return for the long-inflicted slight and contumely heaped upon a meritorious and, in a collective sense, exemplary body of men. And in our opinion, it should rather b the true interest of the civilian classes in this country to win by courtesy and brotherly bearing the friendly sentiments of the soldier, whereby he is divested of all personal incentive to become the blind instrument of coercion in the hands of any rulers disposed at any time to overstep the bounds of the constitution,

The Court .- In consequence of the recent becayemen in the Royal family, namely, the demise of the Duke of Saxe Coburg, Her Majesty and her Royal Consort and illustrious family are not expected at Buckingham Palace for the senson until after the Easter recess, the second

The State Triple Our anticipations last weak were correst—verdicts of Guilty have been recorded against Mr. O'Connell and the other conspirators. The Court stands adjourned till the 15th April, and the traversers re-main out as usual on their recognizances. On that days fourday rule for judgment will be served on the traversers, and its expiration the Attorney-General will pray the judgment of the Court on them. It is understood, however, that before the expiration of the four-day rule, a motion on the part of the traversers will be made in arrest of judgment. Should the Court decide against this motion, judgment will be passed, and then a writ of error will be sued on the part of the traversers, which will be argued before the twelve Judges; and should their decision be adverse, an appeal will lie to the House of Lords. The question is, ether, pending that appeal, the Court would proceed to carry judgment on the traversers into execution? earry judgment on the traversers into execution? The grounds of the application in arrest of judgment will be—

1st. A misdescription of a juror's name. 2. The omission of proof of any unlawful act done by the traversers in the county of the city of Dublin. 3. That no judicial act should have been done after twelve o'clock on Saturday night by the Court.—Mr. Daniel O'Connell strived in London on Thursday, and took his seat in the House of Commons.

Foreign Office, February 9.4-The Queen has been graclouely pleased to appoint John Francis Davis, Esq., to he Her Majesty's Plenipotentiary and Chief Superintendent of British trade in China.

The Duke of Wellandon's Health.—London, Fob. 16, 1844.—" Field-Marshal the Duke of Wellington presents his compliments to the Editor of The Times newspaper. It will save the Duke some trouble if the Editor will be so kind as to announce that there is not one word of truth in a paragraph of The Times news-paper of this loth instant, headed "The Duke of Wellington." The Duke has not been in better health Wellington." The Duke has not been in better hearth for the last 20 years than at present. He was not on horseback on Wednesday. He went to, and returned from, the Horse Guards on foot through the streets, followed by his groun with his horse, which was not mounted on that day.

mounted on that day.

**** The paragraph was couled from an evening paper, and is manifestly one of those vile fabrications by which the press is occasionally duped. We cannot, however, in this case regret the error, as it has elicited from the illustrious luke so gratifying an assurance upon a point which must be one of interest

Mr. Henry Sibley Hodgson is appointed one of Hor Majusty's Honourable Corps of Gentlemen-at-Arms, vice Bluwitt, who retires : and Mr. Francis Straith, vice J. N.

Smith, who retires.

The King of Hanover has presented Colonel Sir Noel Harris with the decorations of a Knight Com-mander of the Royal Hanoverian Order, in consideration of his meritorious services with the Allied Armics in Germany and Hanover, during the campaigns of 1813

Viscount Sidmouth died on the 16th instant, at the Wnite Lodge, Richmond Park, in the 87th year of his age.

The Earl of Cardigan and Lord W. Paget .. lowing is the answer returned by the Duke of Wellington to an application from Lord W. Paget to His Grace, as Commander-in-Chief, praying that the subjects of difference between him and the Earl of Cardigan might be made the subject of a "full, complete, and searching" Milkary inquiry, and inclosing copies of certain corre-Spondence: —

"London, Jan. 30.—Field Marshal the Duke of Wellington

"London, Jan. 31.—Field Marshal the Duke of Wellington presents his confinition is to Captain Lord William Paget. He reserved last night his Londship's letter of the 30th instant, and several inclosures marked No. 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, relating to, or giving cause for, questions between Lieutrannt-Colonel the Earl of Cardigan and his Lordship. The cupy of the better to the Earl of Eastdington, referred to by his Lordship, was not sent. The questions are all of a social character, and are properly cognizable by a court of common law; and it appears that one in which able by a court of common law; and it appears that one in which the Earl of Cardigan was defendant was under discussion before a competent common law tribunal, but the record was withdrawn by his Lordship's desire. In respect to the other, of more recent date, in which the Earl of Cardigan is plaintiff, it appears that the Earl has commenced proceedings before the competent common law court, which proceedings near take their conress. Even if Colonel Lord Cardigan, as plaintiff, was to apply for the interference of a Military tribunal in these proceedings, such application could not be compiled with, as his Lordship, Lord W. Paget, the defendant in these questions, is not lable to the mediation. Under these circumstances, Field Marshal, the Duke of Wellington begs leave to decline interfering in any masser in these questions.

Capt. Lord W. Paget, R.N., 238, Oxford-st., London." An application preferring the same request to Lord Haddington, as First Lord of the Admiralty, received the Lord W. Paget v. the Earl of Cardigan. Crim. Con.— In this cause, which was put down for trial in the sittings in London after last term, it will be recollected that the record on the morning appointed for the trial was with-drawn by the noble plaintiff, on account of the principal witness being absent. During Hillary term a motion was made on the part of Earl Cardigan to enter up judgment in his favour, in consequence of the withdrawal of the record, but on the plaintiff undertaking to go to trial in the present sittings after term, it was not granted. The cause has been definitively fixed for trial, by a special jury, before the Lord Chief Justice, in the Court & Common Plans, at Guildhall, on Wednesday, the 21st inst.

The Military Steeple Chases.—These races take place in the neighbourhood of Northampton on 26th March. the day preceding the Spring Races, under the stoward-ship of Lord Cardigau (11th Hussars), Sir George Houston (Grenadier Guards), Lieut.-Col. Bradshaw (37th Regt.), Msj. Lawrenson (17th Lancers), and Capt. Barber (Inniskilling Dragoons), J. Wilkinson, Esq. (17th Lancers), officiating as Secretary. The following are the entries :

Lancers), officiating as Secretary. The following are the entries:—

The Meany-weight Eugepelakes of 18 sove. sach, A.ft., with 100 sided—Mr. Catur (M. Horse Artillery), ms. Rival, Mr. Morrett's (Royal Artillery), Prima Donna, Mr. W. Crofton's (Rl. Artillery), The Prolitest, Mr. Barnett's (Scora Greys) Bookkeeper, Mr. Arkweight's (14th Id. Bragoons) Oyrus, Capt. France's (Carabineses) Hreads, Capt. Thompson's (Inniskilling Pragoons) Hamlet, Capt. Shirley's La Gatana, Mr. Butler's The Lord of the Isles, Sir W. Russell's (17th Hussars) The Great Western, Capt. Lowndes's Gth Hussars) Hatchet, Mr. Mostyn's Baulf, Mr. Brown's Brien O'Linn, Mr. Jenkinson's Knight Templar, Mr. Cooper's ns. b. g. Manfred, Mr. Thompson's Witney, the Earl of Cardigan's (11th Hussars) Waterwitch, Mr. Williams' Thunderbolt, (12th Lancers), Captain Hamilton's (18th Lt. Dragoons) The Fighter, Mr. Maitock's Oakstiek, and Mr. Whitehead ns. Orwell, Major Lawrenson's (17th Lancers) Pipedey, Captain Broadley's The Romp, Capt. Scobell's Humbug, Mr. Househerst's The Impostor, Mr. Hamilton's A. P., Mr. Miles's The Colonel, Mr. Taylor ns. Diana, Mr. Orayshay's Fire King, Mr. Hobson's The Litter, Mr. Innes's Speculation, Mr. Haworth's Blued, Mr. Blathwayt's Dreadnought, Capt. Markham's (28d Reg.) Coatham, Capt. Boyd's (3th Rl. Irisn Fusiliers) Mallard. Se Sabecribers did not name. The Light Weight Sweepinkes of Saeus, each, p. g.; 11 e. each, 4 Miles.—Mr. Cator's (8l. Horso Arth.), Ganymedes, Mr. Willan's ns. Conspirator, Loud W. Hill's (Scota Greys) Gameboy, Mr. Barnett's White Stockings, Mr. Grant's Warwick, Capt. Francis, The Fair Penitent, Capt. May's (Inniskilling Dragoons) Gammon. Mr. Davidson's Don Juan, Mr. Hessining's Manager. Mr. Fitz-ingram's ns. Renedict, Mr. Shute's Sweet Bisecit, Capt. Sutton's Jessy, Sir W. Russell's Pussy, Capt. Jenkinson's (8th Hussars) Pitzmanired, Mr. C. Smythe's ns. Fioncer, Hon, James Band-ingram's us. Benedict, Mr. Shute's Sweet Biscuit, Capt. Sutton's Jossy, Sir W. Russell's Pussy, Capt. Jenkinson's (8th Hussard) Fitzmanfred, Mr. C. Smythe's ns. Pioneer, Hon. James Bandinand's Brother to Blinks, Mr. Thomson's Witness, Capt. Little's (9th Lancers) Pickwick, the Barl of Careligan's Patron, Mr. Sutton's (18th Lancers) Creele, Capt. Tacespoou's (18th Light Bragoons) Mermeld, Mr. Whitehead's Gurassler, Maj. Lawrenson's '17th Lancers) Pipelay, Capt. Broadley's The Tod Rider, Capt. Scohell's Crock Rohin, Mr. Boucherett's Wizard of the North, Mr. Hamilton's A. P., Mr. Benson ns. Biped, Mr. Taylor ns. Diane, Mr. Crawshay's ns. The Baron, Mr. Lyon's ns. The Romp, Mr. Hobsout's Gangrens, Mr. Innes's Ratontcher, Mr. Raworth's Marengo, Mr. Bisthwayt's Dreadnought, Capt. Markham's The Boldier, and Mr. Boyd's The Pusy. Three Subs. did not name.

Hillingdon House, near Usbridge....A. fire, which has st name. Hillingdon House, near Unbridge...... fire, which has resulted in the destruction of this house, the country man-sion of R. H. Cox, Esq., of the firm of Cox and Co., the Army agents, and one of the Magistrates of Middlesex, broke out on the morning of Sanithy last, while the family were preparing to attend divine service. Altogether the damage is estimated at upwards of 15,000L, which will appear the family was the family the service of the s the future, the bringing of such actions. It is provided that proceedings commenced by common informers for penalties incurred by playing at or betting on certain games shall be discontinued on application to the Court or a Judge. In future no action to be brought for playing or betting at the games mentioned, without the consent of the Attorney-General. The following games are specified: "Horse-races, foot-races, boat-races, regattes, rowing-matches, sailing-matches, coursing-matches, fencing-matches, golf, wrestling-matches, cricket, tennis, fives, racquets, bowls, quoits, curling, and putting the stone."

Swimming.—Charles Frederick Latse, the inventor of the new swimming-machine, by means of which the useful art of swimming is acquired on dry land in a few hours, and to which we alluded some time back, has been afforded an opportunity of exemplifying the merit of his invention and system of instruction by the General Commanding the Prussian Guards; upon which occasion several men belonging to the 2d Reg. of Foot-guards, after 14 lessons, awam, each with great case and readiness, the distance of nearly 600 yards upon their first immersion in the water.—[Would not the introduction of this machine be water.—[Would not the introduction of this machine be worthy of the attention of our Military Authorities—no soldier ought to be ignorant of the art—at home or in the field of incalculable advantage?—ED. N. & M. G.]

Contral Criminal Court—Wednesday—Duncan Trevor Grant, the gentleman who acted as second to Lieutenant Munro in the fatal duel at Camden-town, was placed at the bar, charged with aiding, abetting, and assisting Alexander Thompson Munro, in the wilful murder of David Lyner, Kaweett.—He was also charged, under the coro-Lynur Fawcett. He was also charged, under the coroner's inquisition, with the wilful murder of David Lynar Fawcett. The Attorney-General, with whom was Mr. Waddington, Mr. Chambers, and Mr. Johnson, conducted the prosecution. The prisoner was defended by Mr. Wilkins and Mr. Wild. The Attorney-General stated the case for the prosecution, the facts of which have been so fully and frequently placed before the public that we think it unnecessary to repeat them. After hearing evi-dence nearly similar to what was produced before the hat was produced before coroner, Mr. Wilkins addressed the Court for the de-fence, and in the course of his speech observed, that he avoided the consideration of the question of duelling when it was avoidable; or when it was scereely to be escaped. He was not about to justify the law of duelling, but he could not avoid commenting upon the despotism of society, which impelled men to have recourse to such a means for satisfying their injured honour. And when he heard his learned friend the Attorney-General describing the duellist as a murderer, he could not help recollecting that men whose names occupied the brightest page of our history had bowed to this despotism. The leagned gentle-man then alluded, in a most eloquent strain, to the Duke of Wellington, Sir Robert Peel, Lord Winchilsea, and several other eminent men, and then proceeded to comment upon the state of things when the first officer of the law in this country described as murder an act which the first law officer in the sister kingdom had felt himself compelled by the despotism of society to have recourse to. He then proceeded to the consideration of the effects of this law of society upon his unfortunate client. He (Mr. Wilkins) took no particular credit to himself for the act, for any of his learned friends who surrounded him would have done the Came; but he falt bound to inform the Jury that if he were absent on this day, that unfortunate man would have stood at the bar without a defender. meant not to but his feelings, but he should say that but for the kindness of one true friend he would not have a decent goat on him this day. He had lost a valuable Government situation to which he had been appointed, and his friends and connexions, connected though he was with one of the first families in the kingdom, had deserted him. Mr. Justice Creawell summed up the evidence, and the Jury, after consulting for a few minutes, without leaving box, returned a verdict of " Not Guilty." Mr. Graet was immediately discharged.

Augmentation of Church Livings .- Brery friend of the Church will be gratified to learn, that the Ecclesiastical Commissioners for England have resolved, in conformity with the intent and meaning of the Acts 3 & 4 Vict., c. 113, and 4 & 5 Vict., c. 39, to recommend to Her Ma-jesty in Council, that grants be made, either in augmentation of the incomes of, or towards providing fit houses of residence for, the incumbents of certain benefices and churches, with cure of souls, that is to say, being either period churches, or churches or chapets with Army agents, and one of the Magistrates of Middlesex, broke out on the morning of Smilky last, while the family were preparing to attend divine service. Altogether the damage is estimated at upwards of 15,000L, which will principally full upon the Sun Fire-office.

Captain Petric, of the barque Lydie, and Lieutenant in the Royal Navy, whose case appeared in our Ganette of the 3d inst., p. 74, has been sentenced by the Central Criminal Court to imprisonment in the House of Correction for 18 calcular months.

Gaming (qui tem). Actions.—This bill, which has passed the Lords, is to discontinue certain settlems under statutes for the prevention of excessive gaming, and to prevent, for pulation amounting to 500, income 100/. 1 population be low 500, income 804. The second class to consist of grants, as well in augmentation of income as towards providing fit houses of residence or sites for such made to benefices or churches, whether in public or in private patronage other than as aforesaid, upon condition of such grants being met by benefactions from other sources. This class of grants to be for the present limited to cases where the income is below 2007. The third class to consist of grants, either in augmentation of income, or to counse of grants, either in augmentation of income, or to provide fit houses of residence, made to benefices or churches; such grants not, in any cass, to exceed the actual value of the tithes, lands, &c., in respect of which the same shall be made. In meeting beneficities, whether in augmentation of income, or towards providing a house of residence, the Commissioners will, as a general rule, make a grant, equal to the benefaction in the case of a church in public patronage, and in the proportion of two to three to the benefaction in the case of a church in private patronage.

British Institution.—The thirty-ninth exhibition of the British Institution, in Pall Mail, is now open. If the assemblage of paintings with which its walls are enriched be not the most brilliant that they ever could boast, it is Denty has a single picture worth a host — Calypso's Grotto; the goddess weeping the departure of Ulysses, This is not only the finest picture that Danby eyer painted, but one of the noblest productions of the egs; a produc tion that would reflect honour upon any artist of any tion that would reflect honour upon any artist of any time or country. No one who ever saw Danby's Enchanted Island, exhibited meny years ago, can have forgotten that glorious effort of genius, full of poetry, beauty, and loveliness. The present painting is in the same style, but larger, and more highly advanced towards perfection. We regret that we are without apace in which to describe it. The only fault we can possibly find in this magical creation is, that the figure of Calving is somewhat deficient in voluntum paragraphy. figure of Calypso is somewhat deficient in voluptuousness. Poor Von Hoist, who died only two or three days ago, in the prime of life, and rising in fame, had contributed two subjects—the Apparition that appeared to the second Lord Lyttelton, and a smaller piece. l'atten's picture from Dante (19) is striking, though without much of originality. Amongst the productions of young aspirants for fame is a landscape (262). It is very sweetly painted, and constitutes an exceedingly pretty picture; but, unfortunately, it is at too great a height for its merit to be generally appreciated. We understand it is by a near relation of the late lamented Mr. Hofland. Roberts, Creswick Lee, Huristone, Lauce, Haydon (with his Napoleon mus ing at St. Helena), Martin, and assny other esteemed favourites of the public, have successfully contributed to this exhibition; but this passing notice must, for the preaent, suffice. If possible, we shall return to the subject.
At the meeting of the Ethpological Society on Wedneeday, two Papers engaged the attention of its mem-bers until a late hour, " On the Ancient Peruvians, by bers until a late hour, "On the Ancient Peruvians, by Dr. de Ischudi," and "On the Natives of Senegambia, by Staff Assistant-Surgeon Tomère." The author of the former had spent many years in the country, during which time he had carefully investigated the various relies which the former possessors of the sail had be a lies which the former possessors of the soil had left of their architectural talents, whether in the form of villages, temples, or tombs. He described houses of different constructions, all remarkable for the pradigious solidity compared with the size, of the chambers. The largest consisted of three stories, of difficult access from such other. each other. The ground-floor appeared to have been that chiefly occupied by the family, whilst the upper-most occasionally served as a receptacle for the dead as well as for a store-room. In noticing the mummies of the ancient Peruvians, the most remarkable part of the description related to the attitudes of the dead, which were not unfrequently those in which they had been engaged during life. The different forms of the Peruvian head, and some anatomical peculiarities Peruvisa head, and some anatomical peculiarities attributed by Pentland and Tieddeman to peculiarity of development, but now known to be caused by artificial means, were pointed out in a mode which raised considerable discussion. The Poulahs, the raised considerable discussion. The Poulahs, the Jollofs, and the Mandingos were described in Mr. Ton-Jollofs, and the mandingos were macriment, has nere's paper. The former, in his whole deportment, has the dignity and gravity of the Asiatic, and is fine featured. The Jeliofs are the first link in connecting the Founda and Negro, and of black races are by far the most handsome. Negro, and of black races are by far the most handsome. They are very intelligent, and have attained to greater perfection in the arts than any other nation. In the Mandingos there is a stronger tendency to the Negro, yet he does not yield in intelligence to either the Foulah or Joliof, and in energy of character is superior. The Government of the Mandingo is a limited momerchy, sometimes elective, and always remarkable for a morthligen surfer. Their and always remarkable for a republican sprit. Their language differs completely from those spokes by the Jollots and Foulahs. It is more harmonious, and well suited for poetry, but it is not pure, being mined up with Arabic. Dr. Andrew Smith, of Chatham Haspital, the African traveller, and Mr. Alexander Simpson, the American and Polynesian traveller, addressed the meeting upon the physical and intellectual character of the races alluded to in the papers, and Mr. Major alluded to many points of interest regarding the pottery of the ancient Peruviune.

Adelphi .- Orr Monday night was produced at this house, before a very crowded audience, a burlesque of "King Richard the Third." Judging from the occasional uproarious merriment to which it gave rise amongst the spectators, the Adelphi transformation of the production of Shakespeare is not wanting in the humorous, although it is of very unequal merit, with here and there some good hits, interspersed with a good deal that is dull and medi-oors enough. The burlesque is produced on a scale of very broad extravagance, and abounds with ludicross enschronisme.

Warliamentary Analysis.

HOUSE OF LONDS.

HOUSE OF LOWDS.

MONDAY, Fas. 12.—Thanks to the Army in Scinds.—The Earl of Rivers showed a vote of thesels to his Charles Napier and the Officers and men who saved unter his command in the late hillitary operations in Scinds. In doing so, his Lordship strictly abstated from enunciating any opinion upon the policy that destand, or lost to, the brilliant activersmesh performed by the gallant General and his little Army, contenting hieself with giving a brief but well-digasted narration of those deshing exploits which have shed so, sauch lustre on our arms. He paid a just that to the judgment, the decision, and the boldmen displayed by Sir Charles Napier in the critical position in which he was placed; he gave dem meed of praise to the Officers who served under him, for the native, scalous, and hearty obedience and co-operation they afforded their General, and he passed a high entogism on they afforded their General, and he passed a high entogism on the privates, both English and Native, for the courage, discipline, and high fidelity manifested by them in the most trying emergousies.—The Karl of Auvillants seconded the motion, declaring that is "cardally and without qualification" concurred in this vote of thanks.

**Second Courage of the Malland of Malland Courage of the last.

**Second Courage of the Courage of the last.

**Second Courage of the last without qualification of concurred in this vote of thanks.

in a gave name meet of praise to the Officers who severed under him, for the active, Sealues, and heary obtailence and co-operation they afforded their General, and he passed a high enlogican on The privates, both Rangils and Nature, for the occurage, descipline, and high ficility manifested by them to the meat trying emergencies.—The Ray of Avous, any secondard the motion, declaring that he "cardially and without qualification" concurred in this work of thanks. We have reversely the heart and a series of the properties. The Duke of the fills and without qualification "concurred in this work of the fills of t

TUERDAY, Frs. 13.— State of Protonal—The Manyals of Noggasthy brought forward a series of resolutions, which were detailed on this and the fullowing day, when they were rejected by a majority of $7, after an encounter of routemace between that mished pair of suche paiglishs and learned ricents, Loris Hanussan and Caupskal. As it will probably be interesting to "the faury" to knew automativity the bite view and taken by the accomplished Covinghans we will endeavoor to describe them:—Lord Racursan,.—By noble and lessower to describe them:—Lord Racursan,.—By noble and lessower to estate the delayed the adjournment on Tuesday, onget to have resoured the delayed from regreting; the lowest feating him is to me on row strass, pointment.—Lord Caupsan,., combine up to the scratch withshock of mischief—My Nobles and Learned Friend is quite regularly. I expected he would have apoken on this subject, for there is not one single subject throught before your Lordships on which these not space as counsel tog the Noble Lard on the wildsack, by whose side he sits. My Noble and Learned Friend Say he is not carry that I did not speak. I believe that he is not every pury when a serve he addresses to your Lordships sentiments, which, I am sorry to say, he tan orders now does, sentiments containing principles departing entitley from those principles for which I concearned.—Lord Ranusan, and principles from the woodsack, and planting himself in an attitude of savages attack, beat an annihilation—lave here charged by ny Noble and Learned Friend American Principles from the woodsack, and planting himself in an attitude of savages attack, beat an annihilation—lave here here the same and undended to point of fact than that charge I have never happened in my life to hear with friend and the carried Principles. The control of the principles departing entitley from those with it may be a series of the point of the principles of the pr stones to Navai purposes. The polition was laid on the table.

BATURDAY, Fan. 10.—Military Culruge.—Mir H. Handings growthed (aptain Pechell to have an inquiry made into the truth of an ontage allegal to have been committed by some soldiers of the 7th Hussars at Highton.—(Mee nur last 80.)

Pear Lang.—Hir Janus Grangas brought in a lilli to amend the present Poor Law Act. By this Bill the mode of proving the birth of diegrimust children is altered, in all cases giving an appeal to the Questre Hessiana. Exequires corresponding may similar indigetimate as destitute rhildren. It allows the mother to have summary application to magniferates for the august of her childrents application to be made forty days after its birth, and the maximum allowance to be 4e, per week- in most respects following the law of Scoffand no this aubject. It makes considerable alterature in the law of settlements. It likewise provides that anytones shall be upseed for one night to destinate persons, in order that their cases tony be inquired into, and also for a second might, to able time to assartain the right of settlement. The firms here class stated that the question of the generation of main and wife in union workshouses was ander consideration, and would be attened to, side that the a proper time he should move for a select committe a to inquire into the present operation of the Act.—The Bill was read a true time.

MONITARY Free 18.—Milliary Outrage.—Hir Husser Harntness informed Capt. Feedel that he had inquired into the meanit and riot in Brighton, in which five molders were implicated, which he found to be incepsible of Yindienklon, but as the parties stood accused before the civil irributal, and as the Commander in Cigar has decreated it unoccessary to remark upon it to that House.

Theaks to the Army in Science—site R. Pass. moved a vote of thanks to Bit Charles Napler, and the Officers and men. English and Septor, of the Army in Caded—site R. Pass. moved a vote of thanks to Bit Charles Napler, and the Officers and men. English and Septor, of the Army in Control of the Charles Napler, and the Officers and men. English Army in Science and Betonchistan. The actual operations in the work of the Charles Napler was directed over a period of time which in the same year. That period of time includes the advance upon Khypror, and the battle of Mesense and Hydershad was fongsit under very pointie or Mesense and Hydershad was fongsit under very bed into Mesense. In the battle of Mesense, the Charles of Mesense and Hydershad was fongsit under very bed into the Section of Mesense, in the battle of Mesense, and the Charles of Mesense, in the battle of Mesense, the Charles of Mesense, in the battle of Mesense, the Charles of Mesense, in the battle of Mesense, the Charles of Mesense, in the battle of Mesense, and the commanded, and undertacted the strength of the forces to which he was opposed, in the life of the Army 25, 600 men, while he recknowledge the Mesense and the same of the Mesense and the same of the Charles of the Charles believed that those who lore that name were always animated by the example of lifely profecessors. They hove the same sheled, they continually exhibited the same coarge and the same passories of the control of the Armyle had still the great in the control of the control of the Armyle had still the great in the control of the control of the Armyle had still the great in the control of the control of the Armyle had still the great in the control of the control of the Armyle had still the great in the control of t they found him next at the battle of Fuentse d'Onor, where he secaped for once in his life (a laugh). At Cordacia, although he excaped, his two brothers were wounded. Hu next exploits were performed under the gallant Admiral Cockburn. Here, to be sure, the fighting was not so regular as in the Peninsula, but attill there were very hard and extraordinary services to be performed. He next served as a civil Officer in Caphalonia, and no man ever performed more effectual service for tital country during the time he was connected with it, than fiir C. Napler (hear). They next heard of him commanding the Military in a district in the north of England, and although he was a Radical to a considerable extent (a laush), and in opposition to the government of the day, he conducted the Army in tha north of England, at a time when the difficulties to be encountered were embarrassing the Ministry, in such a manner as to keep the whole of his district in the north of England, at a time when the difficulties to be encountered were embarrassing the Ministry, in such a manner as to keep the whole of his district in his last extraordinary exploits in Science. He had evinced through-not unbroken energy, Military courage, and skill. He (Commodore Napler) also approved as much of the policy he had pursued as of his "fighting propensities." Lord Howesh had instituted a comparison between the battle of Navariso and those of Mesance and Hyderabed. But the battle of Navariso was brought on a general "blaze" from the Piect. But the "accident" at Mesance was on the side of the Ameers, who attacked the Residency at the "care had a serve and the side of the Ameers, who attacked the Residency at the serve had a serve had a serve had a serve had generally the climate would cut up an Army in a few days; and nothing but promptitude saved his gallant relative from were not the practice now-a-days; we fought with Chian five years without a declaration of war. Science was heard to entile force eut off. Sir Charles Napler histing on his own judgmen

the Yeomanry.

FRIDAY, Feb. 16.—State of Ireland.—Lord Joux Russell on Tuesday evening brought forward a motion for a Committee on the Affairs of Ireland, which has been debated on each succeeding evening, and is adjourned to Monday

Foreign and Colonial Entelligence.

FRANCE. - Military Statistics .- The French Army is composed of 75 regiments of Infantry of the Line, and 25 regiments of Light Infantry, each composed of 3 batta-flons; 10 batts. of Chasseurs of Orleans; 2 foreign regs.; 3 batts. of African Light Infantry; 5 batts. of Zouaves; and 3 batts. of Riflemen, raised amongst the natives of and 3 batts. of Ritiemen, raised amongst the natives of Africa; 3 regs. of Marines; 30 cos. of Marine Artillery; and 6 cos. of Operatives in the sea-ports. The Cavalry is composed of 2 regs. of Carabineers, 10 regs. of Cuirassiers, 12 regs. of Heavy Dragoons, 9 regs. of Lancers, 13 regs. of Chasseurs, and 9 regs. of Hussam, each composed, of 5 squadrons; 4 regs. of African Chasseurs, and 15 regulates of regs. of 5-squadrons; 4 regs. of African Chasseurs, and 15 squadrons of regular Spahis, besides the Cavalry School at Saumur. The Artillery is composed of 14 regs., of from 10 to 15 batteriesseach, and 4 of 14 batteries; 1 reg. of Pontonniers, 12 cos. of Artillery Operatives, and 3 squadrons of Artillery Drivers. The Engineers consist of 3 regs., 1 batt. of Operatives, and 4 squadrons and 4 cos. of Drivers. The Veterans consist of 8 cos. of Subalterns, 4 cos. of Cavalry, 10 cos. of Funtiers, 13 cos. of Cannoneers, 1 co. of Engineers, and 2 cos. of Undarmest. Neither the Firemen of Paris, nor the Municipal Guard or Gendarmeric of the Departments, are included in these or Gendarmeric of the Departments, are included in these statistics.

"Paris and its suburbs," says the Reforms, "are at present guarded by the lat, 11th, 13th, 23d, 24th, 40th, 47th, 50th, 63d, 69th, 70th, 71st, and 74th Infastry Regiments of the Line; 2d, 5th, 10th, 16th, 17th, and 23d Regiments of Light Infantry; 2 batts. of African Chasseurs, 6 cos. of Engineers, 9th Cuirassiers, 5th Dragoons, 4th and 8th Lancers, 3d and 7th Hussars, 4 cos. of rans, 4000 Gendarmes and Municipal Guards, presenting an Effective Force more considerable than that of Napoan affective Force more constuerable than that of Napoleon when he conquered Italy. But, independent of this force, there is an Army of Reserve, amounting to 30,000 men, quartered at Fontainebleau, Melun, Mesux, Besavaig, Eureux, Rambouillet, Orleans, and Rosen. So that the capital of the civilised world is garrisoned by a force of 100 000 men. of 100,000 men."

Russia.-A disagreeable event in the Military school at St. Petersburgh is said to have caused an extraordinary sensation among the Russian Nobility. One of the mesters having the rank of a General, who had something mesters having the rank of a General, who had something odd in his manners, was laughed at by the pupils in his class, all of them some of Noblemen. He complained, and at length laid the matter before the Emperor, who went himself to the laidstation addressed the class very samestly, and threstened all with very senious punishment. Every wouths declared themselves to be the builty martin. They youthe declared themselves to be the guilty parties. They received each 50 Mows with the case, and were cent to serve as common soldiers in the Army of the Caucasus. The Nobles consider the first part of this punishment as a violation of their privileges.

Spark.—Queen Christina left Paris on Thursday

afternuon on her way to Mudrid.

PORTUGAL. -- A serious insurrection has broken out The whole country is in a state of siege and disorder and persons of considerable rank and influence, and others, as well as the Editors of Lisbon newspapers of the Septembrist party, are compromised in the rising. Some have been arrested, and the press, as at Madrid been silenced.

Sweden, -We rejoice to find by the last advices from Stockholm, that the King of Sweden is considerably better. A royal ordonnance has been issued, conferring the Tall exercise of the royal authority on the Crown Prince until the first of March, when it is probable that His Majesty will be quite restored. The King signed with his own hand both this ordennesses and a similar one for Norway.

Literary Notices.

Wanderings in the Highlands and Islands, with Sketches taken on the Scottisk Border; being a Sequal to "Wild Sports of the West," ByW. H. Maxwell, Esq., Author of "Stories of Waterloo." Bally & Co.

(Concluded from p. 78.)

Under the designation of the hymeneal statistics," we find the following information-important, possibly, to some of our readers-at Coldstream :

"The first house you encounter on the Scottish side [of the Tweed] is an unpretending edifice, one story high and roofed with ties. Humble as its exterior may be, pass it with reverence—for that is the temple of Hymen, and there his chief-priest resides. I know, my itear Jack, that you are no fortune-hunter—but still, should it please the Lord to promise nowly (as they call it in Ireland) throw some lady of Miss Angela Coutta's callibre in your way, why, I suppose, the lady's charms would overcome all other objections, and you would take her with all incumbrandes. Strand and Stratton-place inclusive. In such cases about fireting it common place—and let Coldatream be your destination. First house right hand out of England, mind that; priest of the order of St. Crispin, tacks noise together in the movining, and souls i'th' 'atternoon;' ordinary charge, ten shillings; time, five minutes; certificate printed, making the thing genteel, and conveying an idea of correct hymeneals to the irritated family of your lady wife, when some forty-second consin ventures to be restlested and residence and the residence for the residence of the r your lady wife, when some forty-second consin ventures to breathe your name with proper caution, lest the mother should become hysterical, or the pape apopiectic."

In another locality, the same subject is thus further illustrated:—

"It appears that 'confiding woman' has been occasionally deceived, by being married at the wrong-aide of the gate. The kitchen is on Scottish ground, and if the job is done there, it's 'right as a trivet; but it 'convex off' in the 'coo-house,' the thing's 'no go,' having been effected on the wrong side of the Border. For this valuable information I was indebted to my one-armed friend, the pensioner.

"I mind, Colonel, having a wee-bit apree at Lamberton, before I lost the arm, and I'll tell ye how it was. I cam home on leave, and as I had cax-weeks allowed, I thought I would be the better of a wife, and as it was fair time in Berwick, I went into better of a wife, and as it was fair time in Berwick, I went into the High-street to see if I could match mysel. High! before I was long on the Look out, I falls in wi's strappin haste, 'Wod ye be for a husban?' says I; 'I wid no matter it,' says she—so is we goes, drank a noggin o' whiskey, and then we set out for the bette goes, drank a noggin o' whiskey, and then we set out for the her to get spliced. At the Bootch gate I meets a comrade, 'Wharare ye goin, Jock?' says he. 'To be married to that lassie is the red shaw!,' says!. 'I know her wee!,' Says he, 'a smart gir!. Egad, I didna think she was back agen, for she went off only a fortight ago, wi' a cart-maker. 'That was rather agen her, ye know—sae I thought it would be as weel to marry in the coo hoose as the kitchen—for then if I didna like the bargilo! could draw the splice. When we cam to the bar, I colled the fellow out that —sae I thought it would be as weet to marry in the country method it is a supplied. When we cam to the bar, I coiled the fellow out that was waiting there to marry folk, and tauld him the job must be don bend him he differ, any I—and in we goes to bring out the bride, 'Where tild are ye gaen ?' says abc. 'Am rather bashfull,' says I, 'and there, so we'el hae it quictly done outside.' 'Is it in the coo-hoose?' says abc. 'Jist ro,' says I. 'Ah, then young man,' says she, 'ye mann get anither Jo, I guesa. Nose of y'er oro-hoose marriages for me—I was don this way this time twaimouth, and I'll no be taken in a second time in the coo-hoose, I promise ye.' So," waid John, "Colonel, we jist cam back as we went, ye ken—she wad na marry in the coo-hoose, and I wad na marry in the ktolen."

Of a very different and truly affecting character is the following anecdote of a soldier:—

following anecdote of a soldier :

following anecdute of a soldier:—
"During our tedious passage to the north, I remarked among the steerage passagers, a man who seemed to keep binneal the steerage passagers, a man who seemed to keep binneal apart from the rost. He wore the uniform of the front Artillary, and sported a Corporal's stripes. In the course of the atternion, 1 stepped before the funest and entered into sonversation with him, learned that he had been invaluded and sent home from Canada, had passed the Board in London, obtained a pension of a shilling a day, and was returning to a Border village where he had been born, to sucertain whether any of a family were living, from whom he had been separated for nineteen years. He casually admitted, that during this long interval he had held no commendantion with his relations; and I set him down accordingly as some with experience, who had stolen from a home, whose happiness his folice had compromised too often. He showed he his discharge—the character was excellent—but it only west to prove, how much men's conduct will depend upon anover me is distingt—the character was excellent—but it only west to prove, how much men's conduct will depend upon the circumstances under which they act. He had been nineteen years a solider—a lean 'under authority'—one obsident to another's will, subserviont to strict discipline, with nearesty a free agency himself, and yet, during that inog probation he had been a useful member of the budy politic, sustained a fair reputation, and, as he admitted himself, been a consisting and a ent to prove, how happy mans. He returned home his own master, and older by twenty years. Alas! It was a fatal free agency for him, for time had not brought wisdom. The steward told me that he had rus rict while his means allowed it, had missed a passage twice, and had on the preceding evening come on buard, when not a shifting remained to waste in dranten disappation. I desired that the poor read should be supplied with some little conford that the poor read should be supplied with some little conford that the poor read should be supplied with some little conford that the poor read should be supplied with some little comford that the poor read should be supplied with some little comford that the poor read when we included at Berwick, I gave him a trifling sum to assist him to reach his nailve village, where he had obtained vagure untelligence that some aged mombers of his family might still be found.

"A few evenings afterwards, I was sitting in the parlour of one of the many little inns I vivited white rambling on the banks of the Tweed, when the waitress informed me that 'a sodger was spearla' after the Colone!" He was directed to attend the presented and my fellow worker, the Artilletyman, entered the spearia' after the Colonel.' He was directed to attend the presence—and my fellow voyager, the Artillerymen, entered the chamber, and made his Military salaam,

""I thought you were now at Jedburgh."

"I went there, Bir, but there has not been any of my family for many a year residing in the place. I must an old packman on the road, and he tells me there are some persons to this village of my name. I came here to make inquirica, and hearing that your honour was in the house, I made bold enough to sak fog you."

"Have you walked over!"

""The a long walk. Go down and get some supper before

" "Tie a long walk. Go down and get some supper before you commence inquiries.'

"The poldier bowed and left the room, and presently the host entered to give me directions for a route among the Cheviots which I had contemplated to take the following day. I mer tioned the soldier's errand.

tioned the soldier's errand.

"'liste snough,' returned the host, 'there are an auld decent couple of the name here. What is the sodger called?'

"'William,' I veplied; for by that name his discharge and pension bill were filled up.

"'I'll all p across the street to the auld folk,' said Boulface, 'and ask them a few questions.'

"The spiecde of humble life that followed was afterwards thus described to me hy mine host.

"He found the ancient couple arated at the fire—the old man reading a chapter in the Bible, as was his custom always before he and his aged partner relited for the night to rest. The land-lord explained the object of the soldier's visit, and inquired if any of their children answered the description of the wandars."

of their children answered the description of the wonderor.

"It is our Jock!' exclaimed the old woman passionatrly, and the pair neer-do-weel has cam have at last to viose his maither's eyen."

"'Na,' said the landlord, 'the man's name is Wolly,' "'Then he's nee our bairn,' returned the old man with a Savy sigh.
"'Weel, weel.—His will be done!' said his helpmate, turning her blue and faded eyes to heaven; 'I thought the prayer I so often made wud yet be granted, and Jock wad come hand and get my blessin' ere I died."

my blessin we I died." exclaimed a broken vulce; and the soldier, who had followed the laudiord unperceived, and the soldier, who had followed the laudiord unperceived, and listened at the extrage door, rashed into the room, and dropped stessing at his mother's feet. For a moment she turned her eyes with a fixed and glassy stare upon the returning mandewer. Her hand was laid upon the head—her lips parted as it about to programe the promised blessing—but no assunds issued, and sic slowly leaned forward on the bosom of the long lost prodigal, who channed her in his arms.

clasped her in his arms.
"Mither! mither! speak and bless me!" "Alse; the power of speech was gone for ever. Joy, like grief, is often fatal to a wors-out frame. The spirit had calmly passed—the parent had lived to see and bless ker lost one, and expire in the arms of one, who, with all his faults, appeared to have been her earthly favourite."

Will any of our Military friends recollect the heroine of the little story that follows?-

Will any of our Military friends recollect the heroine of the little story that follows?—

"I remember we had a virago attached to the Grenadiers through the whole of the Peninsular war. She was materigitic and stature qualty remarkable; and, though a brigand in conduct and appearance, atill a corner of the heart was womanly. Amid the rolling of muskeiry, Big Mary would plunder the dying and the dead without companiotion, while the next day she would traverse thirty miles of country to procure a rabbit or a fowl for a wounded Officer. Four liege lords she builed during the campaign—two husbands exiting on the field, and the other twain in hospital, seduciously attended inght and day to the last, by this wild, but warm-bearted personage. In every action givers the colours of the galiant—th were uncased, Mary was fedimanly land where the divagaders. All and trought ford were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she ford were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she found were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she found were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she found were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she found were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she found were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she four were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she four were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she four were deep, the night dark, and the weather desperate, she was all and helieved) more than a thousand dollars. I met her, years afterwarfs, the owner of a public-house in the flouth of freinnd, and, for the fifth time, a widow.

"I'll niver marry again, bisjor O'Fingherty!' said the mouraner;" into but i have had offers from two penilineers and a police-sepant. Six me, that never even listened to a light-bob, and wouldn't touch a battalion-man with the longs i—me, with my four alsahing healsones stretched, the Lord knowe where, in the Peninswis, and Tom Corrigar, the last one, anny in th them together.

Here is a parallel batween Rob Roy and O'Connell; an insult, by-the-by, to the manes of the former to-ame them together.

"Areades ones—both traded in Black mail'—Rob—God be good to hiny!—putting his faith in the claymore, while Daniel trusted in that enter tool, the begging-box. They ived, dust, or will die—Rob, game to the last—and Dan, a capital Christian, denouncing breaches of the last—and Rauon unsurpation to the last, and munidicantly bequeathing his all—five-and-forty young O's—a present to the country."

We conclude with the concluding advice of the author to his krusman :--

"Parawell, Jack t You will probably expect some parting commerl. You may receives when old immines they low route had come, like an affectionate parent, he summen heir-apparent to the bed-side.

"" Peter,' any be, 'I've no money to lave ye."

"" Pon my sowl, father lewel, you would have surprise by you tould me that ye had,' returned the afflicted som.

te surbrised me

"But maybe I can give you some advice,"
"And that same," observed Peter, "may be useful."
"If have lived sixty-sight years in the world," said Mr. Daly, "and I'll give ye the result of my experience. Now, mind, Peter, what I'm goin' to say—Nesser at with your hank to the fire, or mis y'er tiquer, and the simil kinerif won't put or under the saids
"To this admirable advice I particularly direct your attention, seems withins a rider to it. In the present state of that land of

"To this admirable advice I particularly direct your attention, morely adding a rider to.t. In the present state of that lend of Goshes, where you are abiding, don't make any inquires after rent—and he sure to 'keep your pander day.'

The reader must not, however, suppose that he will have to encounter much of politics in his perusal of these volumes; on the contrary, we believe we have attheted nearly the whole which they contain of that commodity. As may be inferred from what we have given as spenimens, they abound in humour; with a store of ancient legends, modern unecdotes, sporting incidents, &c. There is a certain "stout gentleman" who yinkes his appearance at intervals, and thereby contributes much to the lively interest of the book. From circumstances of his early life, which are most spiritedly and graphically related, the said " stbut gentleman " had the greatest possible borror of horses, and eke of WOMEN ! However, he has the misfortune-or the blowing-of fracturing the tendo Achillis-in luid up m an Oreadian cottagein love with the daughter of his host-marries--and ha comes a wiser and a happier man!

l'indication of the Proceedings of Admiral Lord Nation in the Boy of Naples. By Commander Jeaffreson Miles, R.N. Embellished with a steel Engraving of the By Commander Jeaffreson Nelson Monumbnt. A. H. Baily and Co.,

WE fancy we see many readers of the above aunouncement giving an incredulous shake of the head. When the gallant writer of the "Vindication" commenced his task in this Gazette, our misgivings were among those of others; but observing, as we did, letter after letter, such containing atrong assertlons, upanswered, and, as we now believe, managerable, we no longer looked to the old Sea Officer's communications with the dread of finding our brave Nelson's name indelibly stamped as the suther of a cruel and unjustifiable act, but rather with anxiety to sen some now argument adduced in his favour. It is therefore with possibler pleasure that we introduce this neatly-printed little work in its entire shape to our readers, and ask for it a fair and unbiased reading. Nelson is England's own; he was, without doubt, and is—for the effects of his achievements are still evident-her greatest Naval benefactor, and nothing less than the benest ingratitude can allow an Englishman to disregard anything detracting from the Hero's fame. But when it is seen that falseboods, dark and aboptinable, have not only been permitted to be uttered against him, but fostered and encouraged by those whom he benefited, at a time whom a small amount of common discernment would have enabled them to discover the venomous source from which they were drawing cover the venomous source from which they ward drawing their information, our surprise has only be equalled by our indignation. Yet such is as plainly demonstrated in the compass of Commander Milra's 60 pages, as that Mr. Brougham "the enemy of Pitt," and Lord Brougham and Vaux the "defamer of Nelson," are one and the same individual—that Mr. Southey, post laureste, wrote and lived, and that Lord Nelson, their caluminated beneficated did for his popular. factor, died for his country.

Every possessor of a life of Nelson, or of a history of the British Mavy, should purchase a copy of this work; it is invaluable for the correctness of its dates, and the clearness, strength, and vigous of style which mark the arguments throughout. The "Vindication" commences with a plain, dispussionate statement of the facts as they occurred between the 22d September, 1798, and the 29th June, 1799. In this he shows that Captain Foote had no power to sign a treaty, but that he was morely left in charge of the small vessels in the bay of Naples while he (Lord Nelson) proceeded with the ships of the Line in search of a Spanish squadron of 17 or 20 east of the Line of which Earl'st. Vincent had sent him information; and that Captein Foots was commended, in the meanwhile to address his letters to his Lordship through the British Ambassador. He proves quite satisfactorily that the garrisons had not quitted the castles in consequence of the capitulation, when Lord Nelson arrived in the bay and annulled the treaty; and his arguments are convincing that Nelson could not have done otherwise than disallow the disgraceful terms which Captain Foots had been a party to the concession of, in justice to his own high character and to the power reposed in him by Earl St. Vincent and the King of the Sicilies. He further proves that Caraccioli was not an accidental but a deliberate rebel and traitor, to whom leniency could not be extended, and to make an example of whom was necessary in order to deter others from the like conduct.

The "Old Sea-Officer," after giving a plain unvarnished tale of what really happened, proceeds to unmask the false historians and biographers who have from time to time disbursed their specious trash to the world. He begins with Miss Halen Maria Williams, classing her with Captum Edward James Foote; and he afterwards deduces the whole mass of slander which has been heaped by every succeeding biographer upon the head of the devoted Nelson, to these goodly people.

. Outside the he

That Miss Helen Maria Williams, who could walk with unmoved feelings over the maked mangled bodies of the Swiss Guards, massagred by the infuriate monsters of the French Revolution; who could forsake the land of her forefathers, and become, as files described her, "in every particular a Frenchwoman;" that she who swowed her authorities for the atrocines she attributed to Nelson disappointed French Republicans and traitors, should be believed, and her statements quoted and considered in the light of satisfactory information, is strunge indeed, but not more strange than true; and these and various other equally starting facts are brought to light in the "Vindication" in a plane, consistent, and incontrovertible form. The writers willose productions figure in the "Vin-dication" are, in addition to the above, Mr. James, Robert Southey, L.L.D., Captain E. P. Brenton, Mr. Ralfe, Mr. Alison, Lord Brougham, Sir Jumes Macintosh, &c. &c.

We conclude our notice by complimenting the "Old Sea Officer" on the imperishable monument which, while anxious only to clear Nelson's fame from spot, he has raised for himself.

D'Horsay ; or, the Follies of the Day. Nos. I. and II Strange.

THE principle upon which these details of scandal and satire is written is, to select popular and notorious individuals—to invest those individuals with names so alightly altered from those which they actually bean that no one can mistake the party pointed at-and to string together, with a little dressing up, such anecdotes and transactions as the public have already been made tolerably well acquainted with through the medium of the newspapers. The merit of the publication, if it be one, consists in the grouping in the construction of a set of scenes and pictures. The portraits are struck off with a rough, coarse hand, and, generally speaking, with an inveterate or cariculared resemblance of the originals. It must be remarked, however, that, with some protension to humour, the author is influitely more at home in his delineations of low life than in those of high life. A few lessons from Lindley Murray, or some other respectable grammarian, would prove of incalculable service to him.

Correspondence addressed to the Editor.

SERJEANTS' MESSER OF INFANTRY REGIMENTS.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military disastic.

Sir,—For a number of years have I watched (and with some auxisty) the Serjeants' messes of regiments, and it having been my fortune to serve in four different corps, as well as to have lain in garrison with some 20 or 30 others, now enable me to come to the conclusion, that they are not only beneficial to the members which partake of the comforts to be enjoyed, but I feet assured that if auch a boon was taken away from the Army, the respectability of the Non-commissioned discors would be greatly lessened. That such should be the case I have no reason to apprehend, but that the messes should be placed on a more solid foundation, I have every reason to wish.

Serjeants' messes are tolerated, in fact ordered, by the Government; little indeed does that Government know the expenses which attend them; neither am I desirous of entering into a detail, for to all thinking minds it will at once appear evident that funds must be raised to pay for newspapers and other periodicals, mess utensils, servents, carringe of baggage, and fifty minor items, which I consider uncless to, at present, enumerate.

And who pity for these expenses? Why should I ask so foolish a question? to be sure the Sesjeants themselves. And out of what? out of their pay, which is but trifling, after they have paid for their messing, clothing, washing stationery, &c.

To remedy this evil, and which is much felt by the Serjeants of the Army, the Government ought to make an annual grant towards defraying the expenses of measutensils for the Non-Commissioned Officers, (say from 20% to 30%) Mr. Hume himself, would not object to it, -and then the Serjeants could have no excuse as to the respectability of their mess-rooms; but until then I fear much that the great difference which at present exists amongst them will continue to go on. 250% is voted every year as Regent's allowance, to each Officer's mess, (quite little enough,) and surely 201, or 301, will not be considered too great an addition to the expenditure, for one belonging to so unful and deserving a class of Non-commissioned Officers as the Serj. ants, and to be atyled the Prince of Wales's allowance!

Since writing the above I am given to understand that the Officers of the 44th Reg. have made their Serjeants a most handsome and costly present of glass, &c.; but such acts as this appear to me to he so rare that I cannot yet alter my opinion regarding a fixed Government allowarks What is so requisite is, that they should be all as nearly uniform as possible, and with the sum stready stated, to be laid out in gree-ntensits only, backed by a trifling monthly subscription from each Serjeant, would very soon be found to answer the object which has induced one to trouble you.

Really, Sir, it may appear trange that such a proposition should be started in 1844; yet as a great deal remains to be done for the Serjeants of the Army, I feel more than confident that should this suggestion of mine be enter-tained, that the gratitude of the Non-commissioned Officers of the Service will be not only due to the Government, but to yourself also, who is ever ready to advocate the soldier's interests.

Twelve years in the West Indies and two in Canada. Winehester

THE COMMISSARIAT.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gazette.

Sin,—I am much amused with a letter signed Commissar; in your Canelle Jan. 20, in which he regrets that his brethren of 1821 and 1825 are not absorbed like those in every other branch of the Service-does he wish to expose his brothers of the quill to shot and shell, to night-duties, and their consequent fevers, cholerss, and agues? He wishes them to be placed in command of the Pensioners who have escaped these cells with life, but probably minus limbs, and with shatfered, frames and broken constitutions—how gratifying to those veterans to be so com-manded !!! He asks what did the Commissariat gain in Canada, and answers his own question, but only in part ! -that "paltry knighthood" was the only title bestowed except that on Sir John Colborne. And does he presume to compare the duties, services, dangers, and wounds of any Commissary to his? But he also forgets that John Banner Price was deservedly promoted to Deputy-Commissary General for his services then in Canada. He forgets to mention the emoluments of a Commissury, and to compare them with the other branches of the Service. He forgets to mention that when that Chief who received the "pairy knighthood" was comfortably enjoying himself in his good house in Monfresh, with war-pay and allowances exceeding ten guineas per diem; the other branches of the Service were not only fighting, but what was far worse, enduring the fatigue of long marches, up to their middle in either mud, soft snow, or lying out in a Canadian winter without food or cover He forgets to mention the amount of public money, allowances, &c. drawn by the family of that Chief who received the "pairy knighthood," and the emoluments of the Commissariat department generally, compared with the hard-working executive part of the Profession of Arms to which he seems anxious to lay claim to a brotherhood with. -- I am, &c.

FEATUREBED AND BLANKET.

THE OLD SUBALTERNS OF THE ARMY. To the Editor of the Numi and Stilling Gazette.

Sig, -After looking over your very excellent remarks on the Purchase system of promotion in the British Army, I was led to examine Hart's Army List, from which, I flud that on the 1st January, 1814, there were serving on full pay, in regiments of Line alone, one hundred and sixtytwo First Lieutenants, of 12 years' service and upwards, viz.:—18 of 12 years; 38 of 13 years; 24 of 14 years; 18 of 16 years; 14 of 17 years; 15 of 18 years; 15 of 19 years; 1 of 20 years: total 162.

Of this number, (il are the senior Lieutenants of the regiments to which they belong, and the chance of pro-motion, therefore, from this class for the annuing year, (if promotion, either with or without purchase, were made general throughout the Service, instead of confising it to the regiments in which a vacaucy may occur,) might be calculated as follows :-

follows;—
38 Death vacancies
38 Death vacancies
18 Refrenients on full pay
96 To Unattached Companies
6 Selling out
6 Deaths
20 Purchasing

100

Thus 100 of the oldest Lieutenants might annually be promoted, whereas under the present system, if a purchaseable vagancy occurs in a regiment, and the senior Lieutenant is unwilling to purchase from length of service, or unable to do so, a junior steps over his head, and thus leaves the number of old Lieutenanta throughout the Service undiminished.

It ought, therefore, to appear plain, that while a Lieu tenant in any regiment of the Service is willing to pur-chap a company, that a junior ought not to be allowed to take precedence of him on account of the vacancy contr ring in the regiment in which the latter served, or in the event of a non-parchaseable vacancy in any regiment, that the senior of the next rank in succession shelld be called upon to fill it up, no matter in what regiment he was then serving. If these suggestions were acted upon, in the course of a few years "an old subaltern" would be unknown in the British Army.

Sunvivor.

Glasgow, Jan. 25.

THE INFANTRY CHACO.

To the Edder of the Name and Military Gasolte.

Sir,—thad not the Cap argument been already decided,
I do think that the best and handsomest headdress for the Infantry soldiers would, have been the old Pusitier Bearskin for battalion regiments, no alteration being stade in the bearskin cap of Groundlers or Fusiliers. bearskin cap appears much heavier than it really is; bei made of wicker-work and covered with skin, the soldier is protected from the heat, has not that hard pressure that a chaco gives to the forehead, nor attracts that intense heat to the head that the patent leather does. The Light Infantry and Rifles should have a handsome forage cap, such as is worn by the light troops of the Basque provinces of Spain; the cap being the colour of the facings of the regiment. This description of cap requires no chin-strap, is handsome, and the very best for service that our Light corps could wear; an extra one for a nightoup, en bivouce, does not take up much room in the knapsack, supposing the Light corps to have a smaller knapsack, which they ought, comething like the French.

The obsco now decided on appears to me as absend and unserviceable as the one with peak fore and aft. The rain NEW TILE. does not run down a bearskin.

* English' funds.

** ENGLISH* FUNDS.

Bank Stock, 19834 4
3 per Ct. Red. Anna., 901 2 3
3 per Ct. Cons. Anna., 192 2 4
3 per Ct. Red. Anna., 193 2 4
2 per Ct. Red. Anna., 193 2 4
2 per Ct. Anna., 193 2 5
2 per Ct. Anna., 193 2 1
2 per Ct. Consols for Acc., 972 2 2
2 Canada Goaranteed Dubt, 11t2
Exchequer Bills, 1,0001., 12d., 79 69 70
Ditto Small, 12d., 79 69 70

10, 1849, 123 1

METHE

Peb. 11, at Mount Clements, near Stanmore, the lady of Capt. Palarane, late 29th Regt. of a daughter—Peb. 11, in Park-st., the Lady of Liout.-Col. Bannane, Grenndler Guards, of a son.

the Lady of Leut.-Col. Barnanu, Grennder Guards, of a son.

MAKHTAGES.

Reb. 8, at 8t. Martin-in-the-Fields, by the Rev. Septimus Ramsey, Henny Barddick Yulk, R.N., son of the late Commander, John Yule, R.N., to Frances Runkcea, youngest daughter of Capt. Byrne, formerly of the Scotz Finiler Guards, and grand-niece of the late Earl of Crawford and Lindsey-Feb. 13, at 8t. George's, Hanver-square, the Hon. Capt. Denman, R.N., to Grace, daughter of J. W. Russell, Req., of Ham Hall, Staffordshire-Feb. 8, in Dublin, J. Panney, Esq., R.N., to Martina, Gaughter of the late Capt. G. W. Hamilton, R.N.

Tilda, daughter of the late Capt. G. W. Hamilton, R.R., to Matilda, daughter of the late Capt. G. W. Hamilton, R.R.

Feb. 13, at Hythe, near Southampton, the youngest daughter of Commander W. Paowar, R.N.—Feb. 13, at Worthing, Maj., Gen. W. Nedham, Colonel of the late 4th Veteran Battalion, aged 74—Jan. 21, at Fochabera, Mrs. Loban, while wo of the late Gen. W. Farquhar, of the R.I.C.S.—Feb. 1, at Stockbridge, Edinburgh, Maj. C. Douwas, late of 46th Foot-Jan. 23, at Edinburgh, Capt. T. Ivner, R. N.—Feb. 18, at Grave-house, Twickenham, Diana Harsourr, widow of the late Maj. T. Harriott, in her 83d year—Feb. 8, at Kingsdown, in her 70th year, R.Ekanoa, reliet of the late Capt. J. Morley, of the H. E.I.C.S.—In Dec., at St. Helena, Lieut. C. J. A. Warour, late Commandant of the St. Helena Reg., E.I.C.S.—This Officer had seen much service, having been employed with the St. Helena Reg. at the expedition to South America, afterwards served with bis reg. in India, and was subsequently. At the taking of the Cape of Good Hope. He had retired from the Barvice previous to the disbandment of the St. Helena Reg. by Hor Mejesty's Government—Feb. 6, at Plymouth, Mrs. Price, relict of Commander W. Price, in her 71st year—Feb. 8, at Falmouth, Lieut. A. R. L. Passingram, E.S., Purser, R.N.

DAVIS'S IMPROVED FLEXIBLE CONCAVE HORRE BRUSH.—An Improved New Invention.—A. Davis, Sponge Mer-chant and Brush Manufacturer to Her Majesty, Prince Albert, and nearly all the Ri. Pamily, 33, Strand, and a 30, Regent st., Water-ACVISTA—An improved Now Invention.—A. Davis, Sponge Merchant and Brush Manutacturer to Her Majesty, Prince Albert, and nearifall the Ri. Family, 33, Strand, and at 20, Regent: at., Water-loopil., 2 doors from Jermyn.-st., begs to acquaint the Nobility and Gentry he has succeeded in making great improvementaln Horse Brushes. The peouliar merits of Davis' improved Horse Brushes are combined by its fixing starl for Davis' improved Horse Brushes are combined by its fixing starl for every extreme part of the horse, thoroughly searching into all the cavities, bonding itself in all directions, to prevent troublesome irritation. This novel Brush, being constructed on scientific principles, quite supersedes all other inventions, inasmuch as the action is tempered by its now elasticity, not requiring any pressure, as common brushes; all projections on the sprince of the coat are equally cleaned, it having been tried on belves of all deveriptions, with the most satisfactory results. The yielding properties of this celebrated Horse Brush is formed by springs fand catgut, grooved in between the upper and lower parts, being equally divided, forms an elastic concavity, so much desired, and hitherto unknown is all other inventions. Noblemen and gantlemen, in town and country, supplied at wholesale prices, and the goods sent, carriage free, any distance, with the following articles for the use of horses and carriages, with the following articles for the use of horses and carriages at a saving of at least 40 per cent. under any house in England:—Haive and carriage brushes of every kind; sponges of the best quality, at half the saddlers' prices; chamols horse-clothing of every pattern, horse himmels for the mes of the saddlers', necessary, house in England:—Haive and carriage brushes of prushes, broome, turnery, cooperage, rope and wont door. mate, enag. biank-lead, securing-paper, and sloves for house-hold use, at Wholesale Fricas. Davis' and materny, that has successed in discovering a flater-tuber, by which it is improved Mail

Earl of Errol Earl of Courtown Earl Leven and Melville Earl of Norbury

James Stuart, Eq., Chairman.

Hananel De Castro, Eq., Deputy Chairman.

Kamuel Anderson, Eq., Charles Graham, Beq.

Hamilton Blair Avarne, Eq.

Hamilton Blair Avarne, Eq.

H. Charles Maitland, Eq.

William Ealiton, Eq.

John Ritchie, Eq.

F. H. Thomson, Eq.

Eugason—F. Hale Thomson, Eq., 48, Berners Street.

BURGEON-F. Hale Thomson, Kaq., 49, Berners Muret.
This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect security in a large paid-up Capital, and is the great success which has attended it since its commencement in 1884, its Annual Income brine Upwarus of 60 0006.
In 1841, the Company declared an addition to the Shareholders of one-half of their Stock, and also added a bonus of 3f. per cent.
per annum on the sum insured to all Policies of the Participating Class from the time they were effected.

The Bonus added to Policies from March 1824, to the Sist of Dec. 1844, in as follows:—

c. 1846, is as follows:

2 Years.

The Premiums nevertheless are on the most moderate scale, and only One-Half many as party fourns First Five Years, where the insurance is for Life.

Every information will be shorted on application to the Resident Directors, Roward Boys, Esq., and E. Lennor Boys, Esq., of No. 8, Waterloo-place, Pall-mail, London.

PANY. No. 1. Princes street Bank Landon PANY. No. 1, Princes-street, Bank, London. Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 9.

Empowered by Epscial Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 9.

DIRECTORS.

V Siam Bardgett, Eaq.

William Feehney Binck, Eaq.

William Feehney Binck, Eaq.

Millia Coventry, Eaq.

John Brightman, Eaq.

Mentrors.—J. B. Bevington, Eaq., Henry Lewis Smale, Eaq.

Mentrors.—J. B. Bevington, Eaq., Y. P. Cockerill, Eaq., J. D. Dow, Eaq.

Mentrors.—J. B. Bevington, Eaq., Y. P. Cockerill, Eaq., J. D. Dow, Eaq.

Mentrors.—J. B. Bevington, Eaq., Y. P. Cockerill, Eaq., J. D. Dow, Eaq.

Mentrors.—The Bion. John Ashley, New-square, Lincoln's Inn., Mr. Serjeant Murphy, M. P., Temple.

Solicitos.—William Bevan, Eaq., Old Jewry.

Banera.—Mears.—Trewett and Fowler, Princes-street, Bank, This Institution is empowered by a special Act of Parliament, and is ao constituted as to afford the benefits of Life Assurance, in their fullest extent, to policy-holders, and to present greater facilities and accommodation than are usually offered by other companies. The decided superiority of its plan, and its claim to public preference and support, have been proved, incontestably, by its extraordinary and unprecedented success.

Assurances may either be effected by Parlias on their own Lives, or by Partics interested therein on the Lives of others.

The effect of an Assurance on a person's own life is to create at once a Property in Reversion, which can by no other means be realized. Take, for instance, the case of a person at the age of Thirty, who, by the payment of St. 3c. 4d. to the Britannia Life Assurance Company, can become at once possessed of a bequesthable property, amounting to 1,0004., subject only to the condition of his continuing the same payment quarterly, during the remainder of his life—a condition which may be fulfilled by the remainder of his life—a condition which may be fulfilled by the remainder of his life.—a condition which may be fulfilled by the remainder of his life.—a condition which may be fulfilled by the exertion of a very slight degree of economy—such, indeed, as an accarcely be felt as an inconvenience, he may at on

A Board of Directors in attendance daily at Two o'Cluck. A liberal Commission allowed to Selicitors and Agents.

USTRALASIAN, COLONIAL. AND A USTRALADIAIN, OULGARAN, GENERAL LIFE ABBURANCE & ANNUITY COMPANY. CAPITAL—#200,000—1H 2,000 BRARBS.

CAPITAL—200,000—1N 2,000 BHARES.

Disscross.
Edward Barnard, Req., F.B.S. | Glideon Colgebour, Req.
Robert Brooks, Req. | Glideon Colgebour, Req.
Henry Buckle, Req. | C. E. Mangles, Esq.
John Henry Capper, Req. | William Walker, Keq.
Bolicitors—Mesers. Maples, Pearse, Ravens & Co.
Barkess—The Union Bank of London.
Colonial Bankess—The Bank of Australasia (incorporated b Royal Charlot, 1837, No. 2, Moorgats-street.
Pavaloiaw—P. Fraser, Req., M.D., 62, Guildford-st.
Becartary.—Edward Ryley, Req.
The following are speciments of the low rates of Promisers of

The following are specimens of the low rates of Premiums f the Assurance of a 100, which the method of lavestment is As tralasta adopted by this Company, eachies it to offer to the publi

-	 	-
4
AET	 	1 40	, 15	1 68
VL6	 		1	J
Ann. Prem.	 1479 07	1 20 16 4	1 40 1 5	1-26 1 0

TO EMIGRANTE TO THE AUSTRALASIAN COLONIES

TO EMIGRANTE TO THE AUSTRALASIAN COLONIEs who are assured for the whole term of life, the Company offers the permission to preced to not reade in any of those Colonies without extra pressium, and to gay their premiums there. For Residence in New Zealand a molestus extra premium is charged. To all Persons the Company offers the advantages of the guarantee of an ample subscribed Capital—of permission to retain one-third of the Premium in their own hands (the portion on retained, with interest upon it, being deducted from the Priley when it becomes a Calles)—of Assending, Descending, and other Roules of Premiums, and of Privileyation in Prefix.

Prospectuses and full particulate may be had at the Offices of the Company, No. 126, Relapopants-street, City.

UNITED KINGDOM LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY, e, Waterloo-place, Pall-Mail, London.

Retablished by Act of Perhampat in 1884.

DIVISION OF PROFITE AMONG THE ASSURED.
HONORARY PRESIDENTS.

Earl of Errol
Earl of Courtown
Earl Leven and Melville
Earl of Norbury
Earl of Norbury
Earl of Norbury
Earl of Stair

DIRECTORS.

James Stuart, Eq., Chairman.
Hannanel De Castro, Eaq., Deputy Chairman.

Charles Graham, Eq.

Charles Graham, Eq.

Charles Graham, Eq.

LIVER OF MARINERS & GENERAL LIFE

ASSURED.

EXPRESSLY ESTABLISHED FOR INSURANCES ON THE
LIVER OF MARINERS.

Whether Members of the Royal or Mercantile Navy,
MILITARY MEN AND GRIERAL, ANSURERS.

It is to be noted that the Policies of the Company will cover vigiges of every description and service in every part of the Goldon.

The Lives of Friedmann have hitherto operated against this kind of Assurance, but as the Eakse now adopted will be found as low as are consequent with other advantages, will induce a great increase of Insurers.

Deferred Annuities granted to Muriners upon very mederate premiums.

The Premiums for General Assurances are based upon a new adjusted Table of Mortality.

The per sent, of the Profits to be applied in making provision for Destitute and Disabled Mariners.

WM. M'Ninila, Manager.

Arthur Street, East, London Bridge.

POYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST INDIA COMPANY, & GENERAL LIFE ASSUMANCE SOCIETY.—Office, 15, Waterloo-place, London.

PATROFERS.—New Most Gractions Majority the QUEEN.
Assurances are granted upon the Lives of Persons in severy station of life, and for every part of the world, upon particularly favourable teams.

atation of life, and not every favourable beams.

Persons assured in this Office may change from one country to another without forfeiting their Policies.

Board days every Thursday at One o'Clock, and every facility afforded for effecting Assurances on other days.

JOSEPH C. BRETTELL, Secretary.

To Nanci and Military Men and others, the future Provision for whose Families depend on the Reamony and best Use to which a Life-Income can be applied, the Plans of the tiffies are particularly re-momented the calculated to Insure all that could be desired in the Invasiment of an Amual Sum of Nancy.

NATIONAL LOAN FUND LIFE AMBURANCE, 26, Cornhill, London.—Capital, 800,5007.— Empowered by Act of Parliament.

Empowered by Act of Parliament.

The many novel and varied Advantages bestowed by this Juntitution, both in its Life. Assurance and Deferred-Annuity Departments, particularly the power to Borrow Two thirds of Premiums without expense or forfeiture—the great Reduction of Rates on short Policies—the Option of selecting Renefits and converting Policies on as best to suit the Interest or Necessity of the Policy-holder during life, as well as to afford the full Benefit to his Pamily at death—and Ansmal division of Profits,—there already been so well appreciated by the Public, that the Society's great Success and growing Prosperity enabled the Directors, at their General Meeting in May last, to add to each Policy on the Ppofit, scale a Bonus averaging 55 per cont. on the Amount already Invested, and this Bonus, according to an equitable scale, may either be paid in Cash, or applied in reduction of future Premiums.

EXX MPLES.

EXAMPLES.

Entry	Policy No.	Age	Sum.	Anna	al B	onus ded.	Cash Bongs,	Prem. reduged.
		-	 	# 1.	4. 4	1. d	# 1. d.
1837	30 114	39 56	1,000	67 W	4 134 a 1996	14 6	172 n U	# 4. d. # 19 4 16 0 7

Another Likus will be declared in the present Year.

Another Biblius will be declared in the present Year.

DEPERRED ANDITIES.

The best and most varied provision for after-life hitherto offered. Every 2l. 12c, per annum paid from the age of 30, will, at 65, give the pulicy-holder the choice of an annuity of 4f. 16c, 6d., or 399l. 14c cash, or policy at death of 46fl. Smiller advantages at 50, 66, and 60, through an increased annual payment. Two-thirds payments leat at any time, and two-thirds returned to representatives in case of premature death.

N.B.—Naval and Military Men not in active foreign service anamed without extra charge, and showed to go abroad without forfeiture of Policy, on payment of an extra Premium, according to Climate; Assurances also effected on the Lives of Residents in the East and West Indies, and all Porsign Climates.

P. PERGUNON CAMBOUR, SECRETARY

)ESTITUTE SAILORS

WELL STREET, LONDON DOCKS.

The severity of the weather, and the continued want of employment for seemen in the Port of Innion, obliges the Committee to solicit the kind assistance of the friends of the "Deatitute Salbors' Asylum." The number of the sellors in the house last night was 19. 22,300 sallors of 421 nations have received food, lodging, and cluthing, since the Asylum was first opened in the winter of 127?.

Research

(Signed) Rosent Office, 23, Well Street, London Do ROSERT JAMES BLLIOT, Hon. Sec.

Union, 23, Well Street, London Docks,
Pelymary 14, 1844.

Domations and Subscriptions with be thankfully received at the Banking-houses of Messra. Williams and Co.; Messra. Brummond and Co.; by Mr. Nishet; Messra. Hatchard; Mr. Skinner, 32, Sackville-street; at the Record Office; and by Captain G. Pierce, E.N., Secretary.

EASE AND COMFORT IN SHAVING Moore, B. and R. COWVAN'S invaluable CANTON STRUP, or QUADSILATERAL CHINESE RAZOR SHARPENER, resior QUADBILATERAL CHINESE RAZOR SHARPENER, renders the operation of Shaving no longer painful to the most tender skin. By a very simple process the keenest edge may opacify be given to the blustest razor or penissite. B. and b. Cowvan's peculiarly-tempered razors and shaving powder. Specimens of the Strops are now satisfying at the Royal Polyteshaic Institution and Stoyal Adelaide Guilery, Lowther Arcade, from where the most fattering certificates have been sent which may be seen at the inventors, B. and S. COWVAR, 164, Fencharrest, where the Strops, &c., may be chained, as well as of all respectable Perfumers, &c., in the United Kingdom, price he, &d., 7a, &d., and ps. &d. Also may be had, Cowvan'n Canton Emerging Powder, 14. &d. per box. Canton.—None are genuine except those marked and spect "B. and S. COWVAR."

I NIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SO.

UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SODIESCOON:

Bir Henry Willock, K.L.B., Chairman.
John Stewart, Eq., M.P., Deputy Chairman.
John Stewart, Eq., M.P., Deputy Chairman.
John Bagshaw, Eq.
William Killsuri, Eq.
Francis Macoaghten, Eq.
Charles Otway Mayne, Eq.
Charles Dandwood Bruce, Eq.
Charles Dandwood Bruce, Eq.
Ellis Watkin Cunliffe, Eq.
Raftes Currie, Eq., M.P.
The principle adopted by the Universal Life Assurance Society of an annual valuation of assets and liabilities, and a division of Arre-fourthary file propertion of profits to the reduption of future great advantages; especially to those parties will may wish to appropriate their proportion of profits to the reduption of future premiums. The following Table will show the last dylainon of profits, as declared on the 18th of May, 1643, to all persons who had on that day paid it amount premiums.

Reduced Annual Premium.	Date of Policy.	Sum Assumd,	Original Premium.	Annual From. payable in 1 143.
	On or before 10th of May, 1828.		#19 6 % 94 H 4 31 19 6 42 18 0 66 11 H	#9 18 4 12 4 2 16 18 9 81 7 6 81 8 10

TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF COPARA. The affiness of this transfer. TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF

COPAINA.—The efforcy of this involuable Medicine is attested by Testimonial.—From Joseph Hanar Games, Esq., P.R.S., one of the Council of the Royal College of Burgeona, Surgeon to St. Thomas's Hospital, and Professor of Burgeona, Surgeon to St. Thomas's Hospital, in a variety of cases of discharges in the male and female, and the results warrant my stating that it is an affections remedy, and one which does not produce the useal unpleasant effects of Copalba.—(Signed)—Joseph Henay (Insma."

"63, Lincoln's Inn Fields, April 13, 1835."

Perpared only by Gamous Franks, Burgeon, 90, Blackfriars Road, London, where it may be had in littles at 22, 9d., 45 dd., and 11c. each, and of all respectable Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the United Kingdom.
Caurions.—Unless "Giorons Franks, Blackfriars Road," is engraved on the Government Stamp, it cannot be germine.

"68 Mr. Franks may be consulted intil Two o'clock daily.

METCALFES NEW PATTERN TOOTH A ETCALFE'S NEW PAPTERN TOOTH MANDERS AND STATEMENT OF THE TOOTH THE STATEMENT AND STA

J. AND D. NICOLL, 114, REGENT-To STREET, LONDON, submit a List of their Prices, and respectfully beg that OPPICERS WILL CONTRACT IF WITH PREVIOUS CHARLIES FOR THEIR UNIFORMS, and as zegards the excellence of material, the skill, and rive lace used, they will bear comparison subtracy; and in many points, as silk imings, finoness of cioth, superior workmanning, Ac., will excel-

Haperine Regulation Infantry Coattee (righly laced) 0 16 0 Do. Do. Milanty Trousers . . . . . 1 is 0
Do. Do. Bow Underes Frock . . . . 3 is 0
Do. Do. Scatter bleil Jacket . . . . 3 3 0
Do. Military Drill Trousers (by the dozen) . 6 in 6
ENTIMATES PREPARED for greeny Regiment in Her Majesty's

ENTIMATER PREPARED for overy regiment in rive majority and service.

Equilettes, Kwords, Silk Bashes, Balts, Eword Knots, Chakos, & &c., only of the first order, and at prices as moderate in proportion to the above, for which, on application, a printed estimate will be submitted comprising every necessary. All the new improvements in Camp Furniture are kept at their extensive premises ready for implection; Multary Bedsteads, Chairs, Barrack Drawers, Canteens, Valisca, &c., complete.

Drawers, Canteens, Valisca, &c., complete.

CADETS for IRDJA have now the opportunity of being fully equipped with only the best materials (H. J. & D. W. have no other choice), and at the moderate prices which THEIR EYSTEM FOR CASH PAYMENTS induce.

H. J. & D. Nicoll, 114, Regent Sirect, London.

DRATTS OWN MILITARY and OVER-

LAND BEDSTEAU, and EASY CHAIR (Just Completed) to particularly recommended to the early notice of the Nobility and Gentry visiting the Continent, or Journeying by the Overland Route to India, and Officers in the Army, as it folds up in an incredibility small compass, which, with the whole of its fittings, is contained in One Value. The simplicity of construction by which a comfortable, easy Chair, either with or without leg rast, is obtained annut over iterity advantagement to the Beautiful Continuation of the which a constoriante, easy Chair, either with or without teg reat, is obtained, must prove maply advantageous in the Baracca, CONTINNEAL INC., INDIA AND the HINDLANDS—can now be riewed at PRATI'S CAMP and TRAVELLING EQUIPACTE SHOW-ROOMS, 123, New Bond Branny, and 19, Courseous Strangs, where a long associated are now arranged, including the light fiverings Trook, made in a very susperior manner, weight into particular transfers are now arranged, including the light fiverings Trook, made in a very susperior manner, weight only 18, the. Pratt's Fatent Compensions Portmanteau surpasses all hitherto invented, and continues to give entitle activation, taying four compartments, so vascuital for packing-drinks with the presenter, including no expanding ling for hoofs and Shoes, all accessible at one opening—is extremely strong, porfibles and of great use for Mintary cottons, Ladjavintesses, the Overland Joursey to India, Railway and Steamboat travelling. Only to be obtained at Paarc's Trank and Military Outfitting Warshouse, 123, New Bond Street; and 19, Cockapur Street. Now Ready at all the Libraries, in 3 vols., post svo., ATSWORT Or, THE ROMANCE OF A WEEK, Rdited by R. Philmer Warn, Req., Author of "Tromaine," " De Vere," &c.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 13, Great Mariborough Street.

BYRON COMPLETE FOR FIFTEEN SHILLINGS.

LORD BYRON'S POETICAL WORKS With a Pontrait, and View of Newstrad Abbry. One volume, royal 8vo., 15s. John Murray, Albemarle Street, BYRON'S LIFE FOR FIFTEEN SHILLINGS.

Newand Cheaper Edition of

THE LIFE AND PROSE WORKS OF

LORD BYRON.
With his LETTERS and JOURNALS.
Collected and Arranged with Illustrative Notes.
By Tuomas Moors, Esq.
Portraits and Vignette. One volume, royal avo., 18s. John Murray, Albemarie Street.

CAMPBELL'S POETS FOR PIPTEEN SHILLINGS.

BEAUTIES of THE BRITISH POETS With BIOGRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL NOTICES.
By THOMAS CAMPRELL, Esq.
Portrait and Vignetto. One volume, royal 8vo., 12s.

John Murray, Liberarie Street.

TO BOOK SQUIETIES AND CIRCULATING LIBRARIES. RITISH LIBRARY, 24, Cockspur Street. M. I. CAWTHOEN here to inform the Managers of Book Societies and Circulating Libraries, that she has on sale most of the Popular Works during the last year, consisting of Travels, Momoirs, and Novels quite perfect and clean for binding, at very raduced prices.

> MRS. TROLLOPE'S NEW NOVEL Just published, 3 vols., post 8vo, 31s. 6s.

THE LAURRINGTONS; or, Superior People. By Frances Trollors, Author of "Widow Bar-

A People. By Frances Trollors, Author of "Widow Barnaby," Re.
"Mrs. Trollope gains upon Bublic opinion, as a novel-writer, by every successive production of her prolific pen. Her new novel, "The Laureingtons," is vasity superior to "Widow Barbaby," on which we conclude, from its being associated with her name in the title-page, she founds her pretensions to public regard. The plot is a simple, the characters comparatively few, and their positions, sayings, and dollars, perfectly in keeping. The work will be a favourite with the novel-reading portion of the public."
—Globs.

Landon: Longman, Brown, Green, and Longmans

BANDHURST CULLEGE MATHEMATICS.

Published this day, in'l thick volume, avo, price 16s. boun

Published this day, in I thick volume, ave, price 16s. bound,

LEMENTS (OF ARITHMETIC AND

A ALOGRA. By Wiscorr, Req., A.M. F.R.S., Recond Mathematical Professor of the Royal Military College, Sandhurst.
Also, in evo., with many Diagrams, 10s. fel. bound, ELEMEN'S OF GEOMETRY: consisting of the first Pour, and the Sixth, Books of Ruelid, chiefly from the Text of Dr.
Rebert Simson; with the principal Theorems in Proportion, and to Guirse of Practical Geometry on the Ground. Also, Four Tracts relating to Circles, Planes, and Solida; with one on Spherical Geometry. By John Narrien, F.R.S., B.A.S., Professor of Mathematics, Royal Military College, Sandinest.
London: Longman, Brown, Green, and Longmans.

This day is published, 19mo bd., Plate, 2s. bd., 1s. 9d. bd., and 1s. 6d. bds.

VINDICATIONS OF ADMIRAL LORD NELSON'S PROCEEDINGS ON THE BAY OF NAPLES. By JEAFFRESON MILES, Esq., Commander, Royal Navy.

By Jeaffreson Miles, Esq., Comments

Also,
In 2 Vols., thick 12mo bd., numerous Steel Engravings, price 14. Is.

HATTLES OF THE BRITISH NAVY, from the Norman Conquest to the Present Time. By Joseph Allen, Esq., Greenwich Hospital.

A. H. Bailey and Co., Cornbill.

A PARTMENTS to be LET on suite, with extra fied Rooms, if required. The House is modern, genteelly furnished, and close to most of the Clubs and Offices, advantages not usually to be mot with in a longing. Members of Parliament, or those who require a genteel contortable about in town, will and this worth their notice. 15, Bary-st., St. James b.

Town, will find this worth their notice. - 15, Bury-st., St. James's.

28, King William-street, Charing-cross.

ORIGINAL DEPOY FOR NAVALE MILITARY EQUIPALENTS.

AMUEL LEVY, late of Hemming's-row, bega now to more spacinus and elegant Premises, where they will find a most extensive supply of every article sold by him, at even lower purces than formerly. Its bega to assure his friends generally, that the same punctuality and attention to their orders which for an many years betained their approbation shall mark the future dealings with them.

Portable Redsteads, Sonas, Cantenia, and Camp Furniture of every description and best manufacture, at forty per cent, under the charges of any house in the trade.

Portable Chest-Drawers

Portable Cang Tent-Hedstead, Bodding completes a 0 gaild Leather Portmanteau.

Town make Regunation Sward

Town make Regunation Sward

Town make Regunation Sward

Town make Regunation Sward

2 2 0 Intantif Bash, all Sills.

Captains' Epaulettes, best quality, per pair 3 3 3 Wast Bolts

Bhoulder Plitto

S. L. has no connexion with any other house in town

shoulder Ditto

8. L. has no connexiou with any other house in town.

SINGLE BOTTLE OF BETTS'S PATENT BRANDY may now be obtained in a perfectly genuine state. This convenient arrangement for both vendor and purchaser, and their mutual accounts against deception, is effected by the use of HETTE'S PATENT METALLIC CAPSULE, made of pure and SOLID METAL (not The Poil), which completely cocloves the curk and mouth of the bottle, and is embraced with the words "BETTB'S PATENT BRANDY, 7, 8MITHFIELD BARS," the fac-simile of which is engraved on a label smixed to each bottle.

a label smixed to each bottle.

In the present day it is impossible to produce anything new and useful without exciting the capidity of imitators. Already attempts are made to mystify the identity of the original and genuine article, by foisting upon the public the contents of buttles having a Tin Foil covering, falsely denominated "a neat metallic capsule." J. T. BETT's & Co. therefore deem it easential to impress upon purchasers the absolute necessity of comparing the Embassed Capsules with the Labels, as an infallible mode of detecting fraudulent aubstitutions.

BETTER PATENT BRANDY thus protected may be ob-

BETTS'S PATENT BRANDY, thus protected, may be obtained of the undermeptioned Wine and Spirit Merchants, at is. 6d. per Bottle, Bottles included; or at less per Gallou, as heretofore, at

Ilishopsgate Street W. Stovens, No. 78 & 80
Blayawater a. Charles Simpson, 23, Bayswater-terrace
Blackfriars Road Silcock, No. 1
Brixton . . . S. Hawks, Brixton Washway .
Camber Town George Roberta, 91, High-street
Raberry Hane . Nichs, Walker, No. 111
Edgware Road Edgware Road Edgware Road Clayton, No. 118
Euston Square . Thomas Oliver, Drummond Street
Exacouth Street . Benjamin Brooks, No. 27
Greenwich . John Chester, Croom's Hill
Hampstead . William Friest Camberwell
Drury Lane
Edgware Road
Euston Square
Exmouth Street
Greenwich
Jiampatend

Greenwich
Hampstead
Haymarket
Holborn
Haymarket
Holborn
Hongs Cross
Kingsland Road
Knigsland Road
Lambeth
Limebouse
Munster Breet
Newington Butts
New Road
Oxford Breet
Plunico
Hagent Street
Plunico
Hagent Street
Southwark
Somers Town
Kraud
Hong
Charlet, Stones' End
Charlet, Stones' End
Charlet, Stones' End
Charlet, Stones' End
Whitechapu
Walworth
Walworth Road
Westminster
John Shurt, No. 333
High Street
G. Potter, 10, Beckford Row
Walworth Road
Westminster
John Shurt, No. 338
High Street
G. Potter, 10, Beckford Row
Walworth Road
Westminster
John Shurt, No. 338
Wan Coates, 35, High Street
G. Potter, 10, Beckford Row
Wan Garrett, 14, Bolinghroke Row
John Shurt, 17, Great Chapol Street
Robort Shaw, 10, Gilbert Buildings

HER MAJESTY'S DOCKYARDS.

SIR W. BURNETT'S having undergone nine years' trial in ALL CLIMATES, is flow in dully extensive operation in the above national establishments, as well as by many public companies and private individuals. This PROCESS preserves TIMBER from DRY-ROT, and, whon desired, renders it uninflammable. It is cheap, innoxions, and easy of application. It may be used in ordinary wooden tanks, and does not, therefore, regains hydraulic machines, except for the sake of expedition. It assums the greenest wood in a very short time, and renders the commonest domestic timber equal to the best foreign. CANVAS, CORDAGE, COTTON, and WOOLLEN, are not only preserved from ROI, MILLDEW, and the ATTACKS of MOTHS, but are unchanged in colour, and rendered even stronger than before.

Numerous specimens and testimonials may be seen, and every information upon its objects and application will be given, at the Company's Offices, No. 55, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON BRIDGE. PATENT DONLAND'S ODONTO, or PEARL DENTIFRICE.—Specially Patronised by Her MAJESTY, H.R.H. PRINCE ALBERT and the ROYAL FAMILY, and the SEVERAL COURTS OF EUROPE. A FRAGRANT WITTE POWDER, prepared from Original Herbs of inestimable virtue, for strengtheding, preserving and eleaning the teeth. It eradicates the facilities formation of tartar, and by the removal of that extraneous substance, lends assurface of the teeth the spins to the gums. It removes from the surface of the teeth the spins to the gum. It removes from the surface of the teeth the spins to incapient decay, polishes and preserves the Enamel, substituting for discolour and the aspect of impurity, the most pare and incipient decay, polishes and preserves the Enamel, substituting for discolour and the aspect of impurity, the most pare amberting qualities, it gives swectness and perfume to the breath, herhowing at these cleanliness, and the appearance and resulty of finalth. Price 2s. ye, per box, duty includes.

CAUTION.—To protect the Public from Fraud, the Hon. Commissioners of Her Majesty's Etables have authorised the Proprietor's Eigenture to be engraved on the Government Stance, thus.—A. ROWLAND and SON, E. HARTON GARDEN, which is affixed to each Box.

is affixed to each Box.

is affixed to each lion.

ROWLAND'S EALYDOR.—This elegant and fragrant Preparation thoroughly credicates all Plapess, Shots, Redness, Tan, Preckies, and other Defects, of the fixth, and renders the Arms, Hands, and Neck, delicately fair and soft. Price 4s. 6s., and 8s. 6d. per liotite, duty included. 1 gave.

CAUTION.—Each genuine Bottle has the words "ROW-LAND'S RALYDOR" printed on the Wapper. The Government Stamp, as on the ODDINTO, Laghand to each Bottle? Besure to mak for "ROWLAND'S Artibles."

*** All others are FRAUDULENT COUNTERFEITS !!!

BASE'S EAST INDIA PALE ALE. This particular kind of Ale is prescribed to invalide by the most celebrated Physicians. Br. Proes. wim has examined it, in his Work on "Discuss of the Bigingch," Ro., after condemning common Ales, especially recommended this to weakly persons. In steellent condition, in cashs and bottles, of any age, at their appointed Agents, times to Busan and Co., i. Re. Immer's attest. TEREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of OPIUM, PIRST PREPARED at PATNA, in BENGAL.—The great merit of this preparation is its peculiar frection from the noxious properties of Opium, and has therefore been found available in cases where other forms have been inatinishile, from its not disturbing the networks system. The rest produced through its matrumentality is divented of the heaviness and support smally the effect of Opium, and the patient, though taking it continuously, is left in free possession of his faculties. It has for several years been supplied to the H. C. Dispensary, by order of the Medical Board of Bengal, from its being found to meet Cholera in india, beyond any remedy that had been applied to that fatal india, beyond any remedy that had been applied to that fatal disease. Captatu Jeromic, from whose formula at its prepared, is well known to accentific persons as the talented improver of the Patna Opium. It will be found not to constipate the bowels, and to keep any time in any elimate; it is exceedingly powerful in Cough, especially Consomptive Cough, wherein many have found tha great blessing. In Influenza, Gout, Tie Douloureux, Cholera, and Bowel Complaints, Bheumatism, and Cancers in Acconchements, and all cases where Opium may be desirable. The exceedingly innoxious properties of the preparation have been proved by infants of a few weeks old having taken it, without any cerebral disturbance. The toximonuals of many talented genicesen of the Profession are on the envelopes of the bottles—a few only of the names are given here of those who have approved, viz.:— TEREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of

MEDICAL BOARD OF BENGAL.

MEDICAL BOARD OF BRUGAL.

Bir David Dixon, Royal (Naval Hospital, Plymouth, Dr. Cookworthy, Physician, Plymouth Dispensary, Dr. Wateon, Middleage Hospital, Landon, J. G. Perry, Surgeon, Founding Hospital, London, Dr. Rae, Royal Hospital, Chatham, J. R. Martin, Esq., (late of Calcutta), Growengest, London, Irr. Jackson, late Apothreary-General, Bengal, Dr. Graves, Meath Hospital, Dubin.

Bir Philip Grampton, Dubin.

Dr. Hannay, Professor of Physic, Glasgow.

Dr. Yonge, Manyl Desput Capation.

Dr. Yonge, Dr. Hingston, | South Devon Hospital.

Dr. Hingston, J Souis Devon Hospital.

Prepared only by Francia Lean, 27, George street, Plymouth, and sold by him in bulk for dispensing, and in bottles at 22, 2d., 4z. 6d., and 11z., all stamped with the Government Stamp, having in the body of it "Jeremie's Sed. Sol. Opl., by Fraz Lean," with directions for uac, having his signature written in red lisk, without which none is genuine.—Sold also wholesale by Mesars. Barchys & Son. 7, Poultry, London; Evans & Son. & Etward Winstanley & Son. 7, Poultry, London; Evans & Son. & Exter; Hewley, Sackvilla street, Dublin; Scott, Thompson & Co., Calcutta; Binney, Marrars, Tracher, Bombay; Mesairs & Co., Jamaica; William Blake, Montreal, Canada; and retail by all respectable chemists. 2z. 9d., 4z. 6d., and 11z. each lon; post free, Jr. An, and 12c.

Just published, the NINETERNTH EDITION, price 3s., and sent free, on receipt of a Post-office Order for 3s. 6d.

N H O O D:

The GAUNES of its PREMATURE DECLINE, with plain Directions for its PERFECT RENIORATION; addressed to those suffering from the destractive effects of Excessive Indulgence, Solitary Habits, or injection; followed by Observationson thetreatment of Syphilis, Somorsheen, Gleet, &c. Illustrated with Causa, &c.

By J. L. Cuntis and Co., Consulting Surgeons, London. THE NIRETEENTH THOUSAND.

Published by the Authors, and Sold by Burgoss, Medical Brokseller, 28, Coventry Street; Barth, 4, Stydges-street, Strand, Mann, 39, Cornbill; Strange, 21, Patermoster-row, London; Juest, Al, Sull-street, Burmongham; Sowier, 4, St. Ann's-aquare, Manchester; Philip, South Castle Street, Liverpool; Fannin and Co., 41, Grafton-street, Dubin; Bolster & Co., Cork; Barnes, 39, Migh-atreet, Glasgow; Drummond, 5, Blast-atreet, Ediaburgh; and Sold, in a sented employe, by all Bookseliers.

39. High-attest, (ilasgow) Druamond, 5. Blar-atrect, Edinburgh; and Sold, in a sevied employ, by all Bookseliers.

Opinions of the Parks:

"This work, a TENTII Edition of which is now presented to the public, ten thousand capies having been exhausted since its first appearance, has been very much improved and enlarged by the addition of a more extanded and clear detail of general principles, as also by the inscition of several new and highly-interesting offers. The book, as has been aiready stated, is the result of very ample and daily-increasing experience in a class of diseases which, for some unaccountable reason, have been either althgether overlooked, or treated almost with indifference, by the ordinary medical practitioner; and we teel no hesitation in asying, that there is no member of society by whom the book will not be found useful, whether such person hold the rejation of a Parent, a Preceptor, or a Clergyman."—San.

"Messra, Eurite's work, cuttled MANHOOD, is one of the few books now before the public on such a subject which can lay claim to the characte of bring strictly protossional, at the same time that it is fully intelligible to all who read it. The moral and meducal precepts given render it invaluable."—Happer,

"The person of Messra, Curtie's book entitled MANHOOD has really astonished us by developing a series of mainding the never-failing consequence of no victous habits of which it frats. The clear donnexion polyted out between the assigned cause and the effects is perceptible to every dajacity."—Agr.

"This is a work that we lear there exists too much need for to cause us to hesitate to recommend it for general manders the best mode to be pursued in aliceases, however complicated or apparently hopeless. To the married, as well as the immoral habits or secret vices, is here succlarily treated, and divested of all medical technicality, plain and easy directions are given by the hest mode to be pursued in aliceases, however complicated or apparently hopeless. To the married, as well as the

Manne, CURTIS & Co. are to be consulted daily at their redesive, No. 7, FRITH STREET, SOHO SQUARE, LONDON.

Country Patients are requested to be as minute as possible in the debit of their cases. The communication must be accom-patied by the weak con-ultation fee of 11., and 16 all cases the most laviousble secrecy may be relied on.

Printed by George Lang, of No. 18, South Parage, St. Jamen's Fark, Parish of St. Margaret's, in the county of Middlesux, Printer, at the Office of Meters. Brausury and Evans, Londard-attest, Float-attest, in the Preciset of Watterman, in the Day of London, and Published by him at his Oppics, 19, Carriellius-staner, Strand, in the same County, where all additionants and Communicationants to benduressed to the Editor attention to this will save much trouble, Materialy, Publisher, 1944.

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETT

Wast Andia and Colonial Spronicle.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1844 No. 581. PRICE 8d. Sir George Baltingall, M.D., on Schools of Instruction for Military and Navai Surgence for a Sobus to Correspondents ter on the New Mayal Regulations—Case of the Lieu-tenants CONTENTS OF THE PRESENT NUMBER -Farilamentary Analysis
Foreign and Coloniat Intelligence
East india Intelligence
Memoir of the Intelligence
Memoir of the Intelligence
Memoir of the C.R. 114 114 116 Memoir of the Into Lient.-General Sir Gregory Holman Broadley Way, Kat., C.B.

Broadley Way, Kat., C.B.

Howards of the lang Major-General S.A. Goodman, C.B., K.H. 194

Memoir of the lane Maj. Gen. Fred. George Heriot, C.B.

Literary Notices:—"Memoir and Correspondence of Mrs.

Grant of Laggan." Edited by her fion

"Chetworth; or, the Romance of a Week." Edited by

R. Flumer Ward, Reg.

"The Art of Latter Writing simplified by Procept and Example"

"Domastic Scenes in Greenland and Josiand"

"Boundoir Lyrice." By Florence Wilson

"The Artist wand Amsteur's Magazies."

126

Rambies along the Styx

Fundo, Births, Marriagos, and Deaths on the New Advan Augustatus—Case of the Lacants

- Thanks to Sir Charles Mapier and his Gail ant Army
- Agitation in Irviand, and the Army
- Camps of Exercise in Irviand
- Merit overlooked in the ledian Army
- Sir Henry Pottinger and Admintal Sir W. Parker
- the Gid War Officers of the Penlasular Army
- (Letter of "Salamanca")
- Grievandes of the Commanders of the Navy
- (Letter of "An Old Me Pius Ultra," R N.)
- the late Dual between Colone! Fawcett and Mr. . 118 118 Manro (Letter of " Un Ancieu Soldat")
118 Court, Fashlon, and General News SHIPWRECK FISHERMEN AND MARI CONTRACTS FOR OILS, SUFT SOAP, AND ROSIN. Department of the Storekeeper General of the Mavy, Somerset Place, 14th Peb., 1844.

1 THE COMMISSIONERS for EXECUTING the OFFICE of LORD HIGH ADMIRAL of the UNITED KINGDOM of GREAT BRITAIN and ISELAND, do licroby Give Notice, that on TURBDAY, the 57th instant, at ONE o'Clock, they will be ready to treat with such persons at may be willing to contract for supplying Her Majesty's DockYards with:— THE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Mears T. and W. BRITH, of Newcastle-upon-Type, and built by them for the INDIA TRADE, will leave Graveseed punctually at the underreseationed dates, and embark Passaugers at Portsmouth a week after. MREST BENEVOLENT HOCHTY.

MR. HENRY BENEVOLENT HOCHTY.

MR. HENRY PELSIFE will have the honour of giving, under the especial patronage of H.R.W. the Duke of Cambridge.

Adm. the Rt. Hom. Sir B. Micheley, G.C.B., (I.C.M.C., Governor of Greenwich Hospital.

Major. Gen. Sir J. Cockburn, Bart., G.C.H.

Adm. the Right. Hon. Sir G. Cockburn, C.C.B., M.P., Lord of the Admiralty.

Gep. the Right Mon. Sir G. Murray, G.C.B., G.C.H., Meaber-Gentalm, Sir George Beymour, G.C.B., Lord of the Admiralty.

Rent-Adm. Sir George Beymour, G.C.B., Lord of the Admiralty.

Rent-Adm. Sir George Beymour, G.C.B., Lord of the Admiralty.

AW HOUR WITH DEBDIN. AWE A MICCELLANEOUS ACC. FOR BOMBAY.

COLOMBO, 500 Tone, John Tromeon
Whyman 17 PERIN, 600 Tons, Rosset Laws, Commander, to Ball Pebruary 27.

ROBERT SMALL, 600 Tous, E. WILLIAMS, Commander, to Sall April 50.

ELLENBOROUGH, 1,100 Tous, M. C. CLOSE, Commander, to Sall May 30.

BUCEPHALUS, 1,610 Tous, WM. BELL, Commander, to Sall June 15. OIL, LINSERD.

GALLIPOLI.

BERMACETI.

SOFT SOAP AND ROSIN.

Distributions of the Articles, Namples of the Seap and Rosin, and Forms of the Tenders, may be seen at the said Office. No Tender will be received after One o'Clock, on the Day of Treaty, nor any noticed, unless the Party attends, or an Agent for him duly authorised in writing.

Every Tender must be addressed to the Secretary of the Admiralty, and bear in the left hand corner the words, "Tender for "and must also be delivered at Somerset Pince, accompanied by a Letter signed by Two rasponable Persons, engaging to become bound with the Person tendering, in the Sam of 261, per cenf. on the value, for the due performance of the contract, if exceeding 20061, and by one person if under that sna. OIL, LINSERD. Consent of the Ordnance.

Reat-Adm, Bir George Seymonr, U.C.B., Lard of the Admiralty.

AN HOUR WITH DIBDIN, AND A MIBCRLLANEOUS ACT, ON BATUSDAY EVENING, MARCE S, 1844, in aid of the Funds of the shove Scotety.

Programme.—Part 1.—The Songe of Charles Disden.

Bonge Pour Jack
Ballad I'm Joily Disk, the Lamplighter

Songe Two Bootling

House Air Two Boats Meridian

Between the Purta Mr. T. Walsery will perform a Panyasia on the Marc.—Part S.

Sonse The Creenwich Pensioner

He had Man Recitative and Air The Light of Other Pars

Trink Lied I'm Herb'st Da Music, man, Trinken Bong The Fitot

Eung Koulin Hough

Adminston, St. 64, Recover of Health of Other processely. Ticks to be hed at the Hannversquare Rooms, the Music thous, an of Mr. Envany Way, Recretary of the Shoot y, Shiph Leahury.

TO MILEDAME AMBRESHMENT CARRES. FOR CALCULTA DIRECT.
GLORIANA, 1,140 Tons, J. B. Ware, Con July 8.

TUDOE, 1,186 Tone, M. J. LAY, Commander, to Sail Aug. 18.

FOR THE CAPE AND CALCUITA.

PLANTAGENET, 1,886 Tone, John Donatt, Commander, to Sail July 18.

FOR MADEAS. Sall July 15,

FOR MADRAS.

DUKE OF ARGYLL, 100 Tone, HENRY BRISTOWS, Commander, to Sall August 10.

For Passage apply to Capt. Bansks, 17, St. Mary Axe; Capt. Wm. Fulches, et T. & W. Smith, 76, Cornbil. TOR MADRAS DIRECT, and will sail punctually on the 1st April, the Sac Teak Ship MELLISH, see Tone, J. H. Pawerry, Commander; lying to the St. Eatherine's Docks. This Ship has excellent accommodation for Passenges, and carries an experienced Surgeon. For Freight Passenge apply to Messre Generaums & Co., White Lion-court, Cornhill; or to T. Haviside & Co., San-court, or Sp. Cornhill. OYAL MAIL STEAMERS .-Best roote to BELFART and LONDONDERRY, vil Fleetwood, every Monday, Wednesdey, and Salarday evening after the atrival of the London growing train, by the superior new from stanse white PRINCE of WALES and PRINCESS ALICE, saking the malk time high disable man freeton for Bullon, i For LONDOL MARRY, every F. Mar. I research, the typeseries greater ROBERT NAPIES. of Mr. Enware, Wave, Necrotary of the Modely, 46, Bisphinshury, Mr. Enware, Charles and Canada Charles.

H. ABLETE AND Co., ARBY AND CO., ARBY AND CO., ARBY LAND CO., ARBY AND CO., ARBY AND CO., ARBY AND CO., Consider An analysis of their Artistes with safer Homeon, in error than they may now 15 to no per cent. Every artisps were resisted to be made up to attent departments with the regulations at the Mart listin theorem. Our star department with the regulations at the Mart listin theorem. Our star department with the regulations at the Mart listin theorem. Our star department on the american improved Waterproof Transact for the Egyptian Russe, 5s., per pair.

1 Regulation tich Lind Spaulettee, 84s, per pair.

1 Cown.made word, 5s., to 6s.

1 Crimon Bilk Mach, 1se. to 22s. 6s.

2 Crimon Bilk Mach, 1se. to 22s. 6s.

3 Prog Reit, 7s. 1 ming Bett.

4 Handroider Balt, 1se. 6s.

5 Handroider Halt, 1se. 6s.

6 Coin thousing Coria, 7s. 6s.

1 Presapping, 1s.

Course, spenty laced, 148s.

8 Heal Jackets, 6s.

6 Hell Jackets, 6s. LOR BOMBAY DIRECT.—To sail on the 10th March, being under engagement to the House the E. I. Company, having all her dead weight engaged, the spicaldid teal-built first class thip ORIENTAL, 500 tons, William Wilson Commander, lying in the West india Bocks. This ship has most excellent accommodation for Passengers, having a spacious Poop, and is upwards of 7 feet high between decks. Will carry an experienced Nurgeon. For Freight or Passage apply to Roment Barny, Esq., New City Chambers, Bishopagate-street, or to T. Havising, and Co., Sun Court, or 69, Combill. For whitely or general apply to Mr. Harry Surra, Flore, and or at the Company's office, C. St. Swillia a land, formation. THE NEW NAVAL UNIFORM.

PHILLIPS, NAVAL TAILOR, 28,

STRAND, begs to inform the Offents of the Royal Navy that he has all the Patterns of the Aberations associated by the Lords of the Admiralty, which he ausmits of the best quality, at the following low prices:

| Milebitu-Midehtu-men, Ist and Sud Chas Vo-PENINGULAR & ORIENTAL STEAM Commo-doren of theliccond Claus, Captains, and Com-mauders, NAVIGATION COMPANY.

The Company book Passengers for the following places, viz.:—
INDIA. vià RGYPT (the Overland Route.)

HOMBAY.—By the Company's Steamers, ORTENTAL and GREAT LIVERPIOL, let of every Month from Sonthampton, and by the Hon. East india Company's steamers from Suez.

CALCUTTA.—Calling at Ceylon and Medras. By the Company's Steam-ship ORIENTAL, from Southempton, let March, and by the Steam-ship HINDOSTAN, from Suez, about 22d March. Mates, 2nd PRICES FOR NAVALUNIFORMS. Surgeon Clerks. Contre, gobiy laced, 1484. Shell Jackets, ade, Bine Parede Frock Cont, 524, to 884. March.
Ma "Blue Parect, 100.
"Trowners, 200. to 24.
"Trowners, 200. to 24.
"Trowners, 200. to 24.
"Closh with waterproof Cape, to 300.
"Castinger Sirch Jeachet, 550.
"Castinger Sirch Jeachet, 550.
"White Lines Drill Trowners, 7s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.
Phin of White Lines Drill Trowners, 7s. 6d. to 12s. 6d.
"White Lines Jackets, 5s. 6d. to 7s. 6d.
"Trowners, 5s. 6d. to 7s. 6d.
Blue Cambet Jacket Shd Trowners, 26s. to 27s. 6d.

Blue Cambet Jacket Shd Trowners, 26s. to 27s. 6d.

Blue Cambet Jacket Shd Trowners, 26s. to 27s. 6d.

Morning tenwan, 2s. 6d. to 14s. 6d.

Bananny on Weled Plannel Verbus, 2s. 6d. upwards,

"Jo. Drawers, 2s. 9d. to 2s. 6d.

Calleo Brewnen, 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d.
Calleo Shite, 16s. to 20s. per 10s.
Denn Dis, 5se J. 10s. Per 10s.
Denn Dis, 5se J. 10s. Per 10s.
Denn Dis, 5se J. 10s. per 10s.
Wegitation Stocks, 2s. to 1s. 6d.
Regulation Stocks, 2s. 6d. to 4s. 6d.
Pairs Brown or White Cutton Half-Bone, 2s. 6d. doz.
"Wortest or Laminawood, 1s. to 12s.
"White Leabers Chapter Clares, 4s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. doz.
Jawa Dos, 3s. to 16s. doz. BHIRTS of good quality, and well made, at see, per demen. Officers joining fitted out at a few histor's sotion, with every requisite for a vergage. Shirts, Chesta, Bedding, &c. &c. atways roady; and every srticle warranted strictly regulation.
Cadeta, Military and Diplomatic Officers, fitted out on the same advantageous terms. Full printed satismates of each on tional charge.

Apply at the Penimular and Oziental Steam Navigation Gompany's Offices, 51, 5t. Mary Are, London; and 57, High Street, Southampton; and at the Office, No. 23, Report Octube.

Patronised and sanctioned by HEE MAJESTY the QUEEN, H.R.H. PRINCE ALBERT, the ROYAL FAMILY, and the several COURTS of EUROPE. application.
THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, BEST QUALITY, WITH FEATHER, FOR 23 Sc. HER MAJESTY'S BUCKYARDS.

GIR W. BURNETT'S PATENT

b. having american sine years' that in ALL CLIMATES, is now invalid extensive operation in the above automat extensional ex HER MAJESTY'S DOCKYARDS. W. BURNETT'S CALCUTTA, vià RGYPT, lat of March, from Southampton.—For Peacengure, Goods, and Parodos, the Peasengure, Goods, and Parodos, the Peasengure and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Stansa-ship ORIENTAL, Capt. J. Sov, will leave for Alexandris on the let of March act, and the Hindostan, Capt. R. Monanar, will leave fear a short of about the sad of March for the shove places. Apply at the Peansaular and Orientia Steam Navigation Company's Offices, 57, High-atreet, Southampton, and $1, St. Many-axe, London; or at the Office, 33, Regent-circus. Good Flook Butteres and Bolster, 6s. 4d. to 16s. 4d.

— Helr Do.

— Bo., 12s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. 10 2ss.

Patra of Stoot Blankets, iss. 6d. to 14s. 6d.

Patra Catton Sheets, 2s. 2s. to 2s. 6d.

Pillow Cases, 6d. to ps.

Gabin Wash-hand Table, with Fiftings, 15s. to 18s.

— Lamp, 4s. 6d. to 18s. 6d.

— Futding Chair, 2s. 6d. to 2s. 4d.

— Futding Chair, 2s. 6d. to 2s. 4d.

— Futding Chair, 2s. 6d. to 2s. 4d.

— Baylong Concless. Chairs of Drawers and Bullock ins. Canteson, 1ron Bedstende, &c. MESSMAN WANTED for the MESS of The FORTY-PIRST REGIMENT, ... Application to be made of captain Maximumal, President of the Mess Committee, slot agreement, Cantachury.

The highest testimonials will be required.

schury. Mimonials will be required.

Nabal Intelligence.

PROMOTION.
Lieutenant-Prederick A. L. Selwyn.

APPOINTMENTS.

APPOINTMENTS.

APPOINTMENTS.

Captain—Hon. John (iordon (1818), to America.

Lieutenants—John Reid (1842), to Agincour's Thomas W. Purver (1841), to Penelope: Humpirey J. Julian (1840), to Cornealite; Gabriel Johnston (1841), (addit.), to Prometheus; Lieut. G. Marriott (1843), from St. Vincent, to Formidable; Lieut. C. E. Rowley (1843), from Queen, to St. Vincent.

Midshipmen—J. E. Kiloy, to St. Vincent; H. Rogers, to Camper-down.

Seignigmen—J. E. Milly, to St. Finens; R. Rogers, to Camper-down.

Raval Cadeta—A. W. White, from Excellent, to Strombell; J. W. D. Macdonald and G. A. Walet, to Camperdeyen.

Surgeons—James H. Steele (1843), to Resistance; Harvey Morris (1848), to Teriolae; Archibald Riliott, M.D. (1841) and John Androws (1841), to Toriolae, for service on the cont of Africa. Apaist int Surgeons—John King (1840); to Toriolae, for service on the fisland of Ascension; John G. G. Balantine (1886), to Toriolae, for service on the coant of Africa, John Reid (1838), to Devonport Dock-yard, v. Newman, to Lucifer; H. H. Mackenzie (1839), (addit.), to Caledonia; Mobert Douglas (1811), to Crane.

Naval Instructor—F. W. Fowler, to Excellent, to qualify... Clerks—James Winstanley, to be Secretary's Clerk to Rear-Admiral Rowles, at Cork; G. Hickman and John Hay, to Toriolae.

jon District. J*ambal.* – Lleut.Wm. Long, from 24, Tower, to Gorran Haven, amwell, to Movagiascy.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE, FEBRUARY 24, 1844.

The Mentruse took out the Peninsular mails of the morning of 23d inst. The Oriental, for the India, &c., mails, of the morning of 1st March. The Caledonia, for the American mails of March. The Superior, for the New South Wales maile of 19th

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 23 .- (From our own Correspond ent.)—The Magpie surveying vessel, tender to the Bea-con, has arrived from Malta, being unfit for further service. She has been sent to Woolwich for the convenience of landing her astronomical instruments, &c., and it is expected that Commander Brock, and the other surveying Officers, will be transferred to a more commodious vessel. The Des steamer has arrived from Ireland to have some defects made good, and is in the harbour for that purpose; she is to return to Cork when ready. No other ship or vessel has arrived. Nautitus returned to her cruising sta-tion, off Brighton and Shoreham, on Saturday. Prince George transport has arrived from the eastward to embark about 130, Officers, men, and women, of the 20th Reg. for conveyance to Hermuda; they will go on board to-morrow, and probably sail nextday if the weather moderates. America isordered to be commissioned at Devenport. Firebrund is out of dock, and read for Officers and men, but there are not any orders down to commission her. St. Vincent is fitting her rigging, &c., in readiness to go out of harbour when ordered. Victoria and Albert yacht is not yet in dock; her Captein has been down to point out what filterations are to be made. On the Lity being undocked, a first-class steamer is to be built in the dock. At present there is not a slip in the yard to build on; the Royal Frederick and Princess Royal occupy the only two. Five new ones are forming by contract, but will not be fit for use for some months. The alterations and additions at the north and of the yard will remove two slips entirely. Daring and Osprey are building in deck. Totoise store.ship is to embark her passengers at Portsmouth. Ships in Part. St. Vincent, Victory, Excellent, l'ictoria and Albert yacht, Dec, Fearless.

 PLYMOUTH, Feb. 21.—(From our own Correspondent.) -16th-Arrived, Des at, Mast.-Com. Driver, from the count of Ireland, with 100 Marines belonging to the Plymouth division, which were left at that island when the Caledonia returned from Cork to this port. The Dee Calcidonia returned from Cork to this port. The Dee sailed for Portamouth the 20th, to have her defects made good. 17th—Sailed, Drake tender, with stores for Portamouth dockyard. America, 50, was hauled out of dock, having had her copper cleaned and repaired. Express packet, 6, Lieut.-Com. Herrick, arrived from Falmouth, and came into harbour to refit and flave her defects made good. 18th—Sailed, Goodwill tender, with stores for Woulerth dockyard. 19th—Sailed, Panelope steam frigate, Capt. W. Jones, for the coast of Africa, to relieve the Madaguscar, 44, Capt. John Foote; also sailed the Prometheus st., Lient.-Com. W. M. J. G. Pasco, for the same station. 20th—Sailed, Crosse packet, 6, Lient.-Com. T. A. Levis (A. Capt. John Challength, and mit there in the coast of the Sailed Capt. The Lieut.-Com. T. A. Levis (A. Capt. The Malacette, and mit there in the capt.) Com. T. A. Lewis, (a), for Falmouth, and waits there to take the next Brazilian mail. 21st-Arrived, Netly tonder to the Caledonia, from Cork. Arrived, Larne, 18, Com. J. W. D. Brisbane, from Cork, which place she left the Furn. The Allion, 90, Capt. N. Lockyer, was to leave Cork for Lisbon the 21st. The Larne wants some defects made good, and will come into harbour for that purpose. In harbour—Caledonia, San Josef, Resistance, Express, Diligence, Contance, N.T., Lancier Dutch schooner.

upd-large.

from the flag ship has been lent to her for the cruise, who will return on her actival here; and on the Royan's next trip be succeeded by another. The same arrangement will be followed in the Speedy and the other cutters attached to this station. Sir John wants to make sallors of the young gentlemen in reality, and gentlemen of his Officers, for none are allowed to come on shore without their cers, for none are allowed to come on shore without their swords and enablettes. He went on board the Camperdown lately, had inspected her most minutaly. Waterlee, 120, has been laid up in ordinary. Boyne, N.T., has been taken into the Basin; and Vulture steamer into dock during the week, Cetera ut antea. In Harbour—Camperdown, Ocean, Speedy, and African steamer.

DEAL, Feb. 22.—(From our own Correspondent.)—Friday, 16th.—Sailed the outward bound vessels from the Downs to the westward, wind N.N.W. 17th.— H.M. autter Raven anchored in the Downs. 18th .- A light collier got on the Goodwin this morning, and was got off again with the assistance of a Deal French mail packet landed her mail here this evening, the wind being too strong to get to Dover. 19th.—The Prince George transport and several other vessels from the river anchored in the Downs. 30th.—Salled H.M. outters Emerald and Raven, and several of the outward bound vessels, from the Downs to the westward. -H.M. brig Nautilus anchored in the Downs, one of H.M. cutters went through the Downs to the eastward. 22d,—Sailed the outward bound vessels from the Downs to the westward; the ship Orval, bound to the Cape with coals, in getting under weigh got foul of the wreck of a brig burnt in the Downs some time ago, and was obliged to slip from her anchor; she has been supplied with another from Deal; strong breeze at East; H.M. brig Nautilus at anchor in the Downs.

DEFTYORD, Rob. 21.—(From gur own Correspondent.)—16th—Arrived the Cadet to fit for tumale convicts to convey to New Bouth Wales. 17th—Myrtle steamer to receive to convey to New Bouth Wales. 17th—Myrtle steamer Bryant, Master, with the Lonisa, victualling hoy in tow, and returned the same day. Remain Princess Royal transport, Lieut. Edward Griffiths (1815), agent refitting. Amphibile freight ship loading, with victualling atores for the Island of Ascension. London convict ship in fitting, to convey male convicts to New South Wales. Blundell convict ship is fitting, to convey convicts to Van Diemen's Land. Sumatra freight ship is loading with stores for Trincomalee. Vigilant revenue cutter, Gowland, detained a schooner from Jamey with contraband goods on board; the Captain was sentenced to 4x months' imprisonment. 19th—Arrived Duck lighter, from Chatham, with stores. It seems by the estimates for this year, that this yard will be established on the Let of April with an establishment of 500 artificers and workmen.

Cove or Conk, Frm. 9 .- H.M.S. Iris, 26, Capt. R. Mundy, sailed this morning for China. Capt. Sir W. Dickson, Bart., arrived here yesterday morning, after a very bolaterous passage from Devonport, and was towed to her anchorage by Meleor steamer. For, Capt. Sir Henry Blackwood, will shortly leave the Irish coast, to relieve Thalia, 42, on the East Indian station.

H.M.S. Vindictive, 50, Capt. J. T. Nicolas, arrived at

Callao, from Valparaiso, Oct. 18th. H.M. brig Pilot, 16, Com. Jervie, arrived at Rio Janeiro 10th Dec., and sailed on 17th, for the East Indies and China. H.M.S. Aginomeri. 72, Capt. H. W. Bruce, bearing the flag of R.-Adm. Sir T. Cochrane, arrived at Hong-Kong 24th Nov. last, from cruising for the health of her arew. H.M. troop-uhlp Alligator, 26, Master Com. R. Browne, having had a thorough rent at Trincomaics, sailed thence for Hong-Kong, China, on 3d Nov. last. H.M. aloop Herlequin, 16, Com. Hon. George P. Hastings, arrived at Singapore 13th Nov. last, from cruining after pirates. She sailed on 1st Dec. for the Straits of Malacca, to cruise in company with the Wes

The Sparrow cutter, 6, is urdered to be sold out of the service. She was formerly employed on the Jarsey station. H.M.S. Malagascar, 44, Capt. John Feote, was lying at Ascension 21st Dec. Rapid, 10, Lieut. C. Earle, was cruising on the Line. Hydra, st., Com. Young, had gone to the southward. Hirrina. 6, Lt. R. Foote, and Spy. 3, Lt. S. O. Woolriga, were off Whydah. Rapid and Spy had taken two prises. Ferret, 10, Com. Oake, and Alert, 10, Com. Bosanquet, were off Cape Palinan. Albert, st., Lt. D. Woodraffe, was off the River Gambis, 4th Jan.—all very healthy, and the weather heautiful. The Shannon (the victor in the even-memorable and The Sparrow cutter, 6, is undered to be said out of the 4th Jan.—all very healthy, and the weather heautiful.

The Shannon (the victor in the ever-momerable and brillient action with the American frigate Chrosposho) is in dock at Sheerness, having her bottom sixed with the in dock at Sheerness, having her bottom sixed with the French Royal Navy, and Monsteur Adam, an Officer in the dock-yard at Cherbourg, both of whom have been sent to England by the French Minister of Marine, are kindly permitted by the Lords of the Admiralty to witness the application of the bomposition to the bottom of the French dockyards.

Commander Sharpe, with specie for the Commissariat, arrived at Halifax, N.S., Jan. 18, after the long passage of fifteen days from Bermuda. The Columbia, aury. at., arrived at St. John's, New Brunswick, from a cruise

The Bloom, on the Sth Jan., and sailed for Grenada on the 19th. The Bloom, on the Sth Jan., and sailed for Grenada on the 19th. The Bloom, Capt. Darley, arrived at Barbadoes from La Guayra, on the 25th Dec., and sailed for Demerars on the 11th Jan.

The Pique, Hon. Capt. Stopford, sailed from Barba-does on the 26th Dec., for Jamaica, where she arrived on the 4th Jan., and sailed on the 10th for Mexico.

The Inconstant frigate, Capt. Freemantle, left Port Royal for the Havanus, on the 6th Jan., and the Hermes ateamer, Lieut. Carr, sailed on the same day for Houduras.

The Piekle subconer, Lieut. Bainbridge, arrived at Jamaica, from St. Juan de Nicaragua, on the 16th Jan.

WILLIAM HAY WARDROP .- This promising young Officer, the second son of the eminent Surgeon, died of malignant fever on the 10th of last Sept. at Amoy, in Chine. He was a young man of first-rate abilities in his arducus profession, and at the time of his death was Acting-Lieutenant of H.M.S. Serpent, of which he was Mate. His Commander and brother Officers have furnished the greatest consolation to his family under their deep affliction, by bearing testimony to his high character as an Officet, and his honourable estimation as a gentlemen; nor have they been satisfied with words only, but have marked his grave in that distant land by a handsome and appropriate monument. He was only 23 years old at the time of his death.

H.M.S. Caledonia was to have been docked on Tuesday the 13th, but there was not sufficient water to do so. We are glad to find that this ship has not touched the ground, as stated last week by our Plymouth Correspondent, but is going into dock to have her copper cleaned and examined.

GOVERNMENT CONTRACT FOR NEW STRAMEUS. circular has been issued by the Lords of the Admiralty to the chief of our engineers, to send in on or before the 5th of next month, tenders for four new steamers, two of the first and two of the second class. The weight of the machinery, inclusive of the boilers filled with water, is to be 350 tons for the first class, and 300 tons for the second. The first class coal-chambers are to be capable of holding 400 tons, and for the second 350, taking each ton at 48 oubic feet. After giving a variety of necessary directions, the invitations to the engineers conclude by stating that those tenders which place engines of sufficient power in a space less than fifty-five feet, and give the largest stowage of coals, will be preferred.

THE XANTRUS EXPEDITION .- " H.M.'s steam-vessel Medea, Jan. 20.—Mr. Fellowes and party, from the British Museum, have been very successful in their last survey on the banks of the Xanthus, for which purpose they embarked on board the Meden, at Malta, in Nov. last. One of the most valuable relics of antiquity of which they have possessed themselves, is that of a Chimero tomb, the discovery of which is contrary to the general opinion of antiquaries, that such a thing could not be found in Asia Minor. It is composed entirely of marble, and the tomb is covered with figures of men and women. and several animals. One of the figures attached to it is supposed to be Bellerophon taming an animal, palled by the ancients a Chimere, formed partly of a goat, lion, and other animals. This animal is said in fulled history to represent the volcanio mountain of Lycis. On the top of it are lions, in the middle pastures with goats, at the root of it serpents; whence it was called a monster spitting fire, with the head and heart of a lion, the belly of a goot, and tail of a dragon, said to be slain by Bellsrophon, because he made the mountain habit-able. The whole of the tomb is as perfect as when first able.' The whole of the tomb is as partect as when first executed, which must have been some thousand year, since. The Designation et.-vl. has arrived from Constantinople to convey several of the specimens to Malta, taking them from the Medea. We are lying about 35 miles from the Kanthus now. We shall run up there on the 12th of Misch, as after the 16th of that month all the party engaged in the discoveries, who are at present in luts or houses on shore, will sleep on board the Medea, the change of elimate about that time being very injurious to those alsoping on shore, rendering such precaution neces-sary to avoid the severities which were experienced by the dition engaged in the survey in March last. By the first week in April Mr. Followes and party will have com-pleted their speculations, and when we have embarked the produce of their labours, we shall start with them for Malta, touching at Rhedes on our way thither. After that we shall be for England."

*Ma. Bidplecombe of the "IMAUM."-We learn with great pleasure that Admiral Sir Charles Adam, the the application of the composition to the bottem of the Commander-in-Chief of the station, has been pleased to Shennon frigate, in order to facilitate its adoption in the light has provering and indefatigable young Officer, french dockyards.

Shens on Formes Stateons.—M.M.'s cloop South, a chronometer presented to him by the Hosourable S.

Jaballas, the Spanker, and numerous Mombers of the Hon. House of Assembly, together with the principal merchants of this city, as a mark of their respect, and alms of their approbation for his services in surveying and buoying the Ship Channel from Port Rayal to King-aton, which has already proved of essential benefit to the mercuntile interest and others concerned. Kingeton, Jumaica Journal, Jan. 8.

THE SLAVE TRADE.-The Government has resolve to adopt the most active measures to put an end to the traffic in slaves on the African coast, and the French Government has also determined on the same course. The Penelope, 22, steam-frigate, Capt. W. Jones, and Prometheus, Lieut.-Com. W. M. J. G. Pasce, and two er three other steamers, are about to be despetabled to the coast of Africa, which they will scour in those latitudes where this notations tradic is carried on. The smaller steamers will go up the rivers, and examine every inlet and creek where it is possible for any slaver to be con-cealed, and the search along the coast will be so minute, that it will be impossible for any vessel to escape the vigliance of the squadron. Three Brench stammers are being equipped for similar service on the African coast. and there will be the most cordial co-operation between the French and English cruisers in every plan resorted to and there will be the most cordial co-operation between the French and English erubers in every plan vesorted to for the effectual suppression of the slave-trade.

PRIZE MORRY.—To the Officers and company of H.M.'s brig Carles, who were present at the supture of the Asian Grand slave vessel, on M. April. 1841, will be paid their respective prespections of the fourage bountres granted for the slave vessel, on Tuesday, 3th March next, at No. 34, Mobolog., where all charge not then paid will be recalled for three housthst—Flag, 6d. Mc. 10d.; Commander, 12d. 16c. 65d.; Recond Class, 6d. 12a. 1d.; Third Class, 8d. 6b. Edd. Pointh Class, 2d. 4c. 4d.; Flat Class, 8d. 6b. Edd. Pointh Class, 2d. 4c. 4d.; Flat Class, 1d. 12a. 1d.; Third Class, 8d. 6b. Edd. Pointh Class, 2d. 4c. 4d.; If the Class, 8d. 4c. 1d. 3d. 3d. Eseventh Class, 8d. 12a. 1d.; If the Class, 8d. 1b. 1d. 2d. 2d.; Reventh Class, 8d. 7d. 4d.

If the Anistan Nov., 30th, 183 —The ward-room Officers of H.M. a. Minden have, at their sole expense, erected a heat minument to the memory of their presentate, Mr. 7d. 4d.

If the Master of that ship. About 100 men have invalided from the mutation, and leave for England, in the Intelligenthe traship. The I commellis, Dido, and I form str., will sail as soon as the two malls which are now the strice. The Minden has been moved about two miles further out from the town for the benefit of the sick, amounting now in all to 7a, 25 of whom a long to the Minden. The Ratitionate has about 4d of the saih Reg. on board, the Rapphire shout 4a, and the Landser more. Aim, Sir. W Parker will leave here on tat Nov. Measar, Allen and Rogers, asstal, adjacous of Minden, go to Keafand in charge of the isvalida in the Ratitionate. The Commellis Sugardied in charge of the isvalida in the Ratitionate. The Commellis Sugardied in the last week, and about 10 are espected met to receiver. Recognize to may that, although the Admiratty have filted out the Minden hospital, ship, with every constort, the lines have a great drant of helps aent to

Lt. Wade, of Somecone, is in the Mindon's humbial.

I.f. Wade, of Ramarang, is in the Minden's humpini. If, lieard, of the same ship, has been thrown from a harne ship dragged along the ground, which disfigured him very much, but he was not at all dangerounts hart.

Mr. Suillean, Maiter, is appointed Consul at Amoy. Mr. Gordon, Mate of Gramwilla, is appointed acting it, of Starling; Mr. Spreat, Master, com. Rattleanske, has invalided, and is emperacied by Mr. King, Master of Agments; Mr. Alten, Master of Vien at, to the Dady Mr. Giles, Sec. Master of Starling, to Vien at, to the Dady Mr. Giles, Sec. Master of Starling, to Vien.

There has been a survey held on board Samarane, surveying. vessel, Capt, our S. Beleiter, her copper bring all us, it is bertain that the destructive worms of three Sees will soon thake great moved in her, and the Osficers have recommended that she shall that the d-arnetive worms of threat Seeg will soon table great marce in her, and the Officers have recommended that she shall be hove down.

MALTA, Feb. 7.—Histribution of the Mediterranean Fleel,—In Malta Harbour—Queen, 110, bearing the Bag of Vie-Aalm. Sir. C. Owen, Com.-In-Chief. Coglan. receiving the Bag of Vie-Aalm. Sir. C. Owen, Com.-In-Chief. Coglan. receiving-ship, hearing the Sug of R. Adim. Sir L. Chrith, become in commanda Mulaber, 79; Warspide. 30) Decemberian and Gryber, war-ni.; Rescon, surveyses; and Alexan, at pucket. At Livinatag—Beflurer, 30; and Locust, at.:lender. At Curin—L'Aigle, 24; and Greere, 18. Dater way to Corin, Enney, and Patras—Acheron, at.-packet. At Alhena—Formedole, sq. Indus, 78; Vermiss, war-vi.; Sunky, 10. and Sconce, 10. At the Frage, war-st. At March, the Medea. And at Constantinophy, Bacia, war-st. at March, the Medea. And at Constantinophy, Bacia, war-st. at March, the Medea. And at Constantinophy, Bacia, war-stammer.

The Polyphonus was despetched to Marchilles on 19th wit. with the overiant mail for England from India, brought by two Garnele, which proveded on her voyage to England on two casual, sight. The Royal Tar, which arrived from London on 28th, want sin to the Levant on 18th, after transferring to the Great Liverpool the new intermediate shalt brought for her, and which having bean refitted, she will be the day surveyed by the angineer of the dock, yard, so an Los feeds to the Levant with a fall cargo of British genda, chiefly for Countantuople. The Warpile came in from Lisbon, after a look passage, on 31st ult., and allege from Glysaltar, with the mill form England on a latter to make the same accurate many passage and parts. Frage has taken in and, shoring, day, for the expedition in the valley of the Kanthat, with which she proceeded on 8th for Macri, calling at Rimser. We have account from the appeliation to 19th ult., but nomention in mande of any new discoveres; and, indeed, the operations appear for a rea at a stand still. Demagazine by the Kanthat, with

Military Intelligence.

FROM TURBDAY'S MILITARY GREETTE. Royal North Gloucester Reg. of Militim—Gout. Bir Michael Holes Hoke Beach, Bart, to be Lieut, Coi., v. William Beach, Bart, to be Lieut, Coi., v. William Beach, resigned; Robert Arthur Fitzburding Kingscote, Ray, to be Capt., v. fir Michael Hicke Hicks Beach, presected. Mansaarmus.—Her Majecty has been graciously pleased in approve of the Leicesterable Reg. of Youtnerry Caratry being designated by the title of "The Prince Albart's Own."

Wirrunall, Teb. 18—The Queen has been pleased, to grant unto Edward Senders, Esq., Liont. Col., in the kniny m the East Indies, Ma), in the corps of Engineers, in the service of the E.I.C., Rengel Establishment, and Companion of the Sath, permission that he may accept and wear the migrat of the Senting shap, othe Order of the Dorande Empire, which his late Majordy Shah Shoohand. Moolk, King of Afighanistan, was pleased to confirm upon him, in testimony of His Majordy's approbation of the est-vices from time to time rendered by him during the campaign in Affghanistup.

FROM PRIDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTR.

WAR-Oppics, jeb. 32.

17th Lt. Bragoons.—Bec.-class staff-Surg. J. B. Gibson, M.D., to be Sagg. v. Pilinington, principed on the Staff. Scope Fusilier Guards.—The Jions J. W. Forskesse, to be Rus. and Lieut. by p. v. Redney, who retires.

1st Foods.—Eos. F. Carter, to be Lieut. by p. v. Lysens, prom. is ht West India Reg. j. W. II. S. SharpenGent., to be Ens. by p. v. Carter.

v. Carter.

2d — Maj. C. E. Eston, from 19th Foot, to be Mad. v. Barr, who exchanges, Bro. 13, 1443.

30th — Liout. W. Frith, to be Capt. without p. v. litrick, dec.; Rec. J. E. Jackson, to be Lieut. v. Frith, Jan. 3; J. E. Donne, to be Energy v. Jackson.

810t — Payth. G. P. Erekine, from 48th Poot, to be Payth. v. Jean, decased.

Bist-Payer. G. P. Erskine, from 48th Poot, to be Payer. v. Jean, deceased, SEd.—Capt. D. R. Smith, to be Maj. without p. e. W. Rabas, who red. upon fall-pay: Lieut. W B. Kelly, to be Capt. v. Smith., 28th—Lieut. H. T. Watker, to be Arif. v. Priestly, primoted. 28th—Assist.Swrg. W. Home. M D., from the hinf, to be Assist.Surg., C. Menzies, who resigns, 28th—Capt. P. Adams to be Maj., without p., to Parker, dec., Capt. G. R. Cummin. from 78th Proot, to be Capt., v. M'Murdo, who exchanges, Qet. 30.; Lieut. E. Lugard, from 31st Poot, to be Capt., v. Adams, Uct. 29; Enc. J. A. Mucdongell, from 62th Foot, to be Lieut., without p., v. Mao Laoh. lan, deceased, Nov. 13. ingent, from the freet, to be Lieut, without p., v. Mao Lach-in, deceased, Nov. 13.

Syth-Maj, M. Barr, from 2d Foot, to be Maj., v. Eaton, who exchanges, Bes. 18.

28th—Rus. C. D. Oliver to be Lieut., by p., v. Broome, who rettras R. M. Madesay, Gent., to be Kns., by p., v. Olivel.
40th—A. R. Randis, Gent., to be Kns., without p., v. Roberts appointed to find Pont.

sponsess to the Form. 19th-W. B. H. Vers, Gent., to be Eas., by p., v. Pousouby appointed to fish Force,

, agtin—W. E. H. Vera, Gent., to be Rus., by p., v. Pousonby, appointed to list or Grenader Reg. of Foot-Guarda, Seth—Lieut. R. E. De Montmurency, from 7th Fort, to be Lieut., vice Clarke promoted.
Sath—Lieut. H. Edwards to be Capt., without, p. v. De Ravil.
Lieut., dec., hept. 7, 1841; Ens. T. R. Hinkson to be Lieut. without p., July 16, 1643. Eas. W. J. J. Smith to be Lieut. v. Edwards, Sept. 7, 1643. To be Kon. without p. Q. J. A. Camporon, tiant.
v. Hickson; G. R. Horne Gent., v. Smith be Lieut. J. Frend to be Adjetant v. Magrati, doceased, July 4. dots—E.C. Etanhope, Gent., to be Ens. by p. v. Auslin, prom.
62th—E.C. Reshinge, Gent., to be Ens. by p. v. Auslin, prom.
62th—Ens. C. Beberts, from 40th Foot, to be Rus. v. Macdograll, promoted in 28th Fupt.
65th—W. Kimpson, M.D., to be Assist. Surg. v., Grogan, appointed to 1st Dragoons.
67th—Capt. F. W. Lause, from 3d West India R.g., to be Capt.
v. Vane, who exc., Feb. 22; Capt. R. Hare, trian h.p. Unatt., to be Capt. v. G. A. Curfie, who exc., proviving the differences Lieut. H. Collette, to be Capt. by v. Hare, who retires; Rus.
R. Jong, to be Licut. by p. v. Goliette; J. C. Murray, Gent., be be Kas. by p. v. Jones data—Maj., Gen. Sir E Gibbs, R C.B., to be Col. v. Lieut., Gen.
Sir W. Johnston, K.C. H., deceased, Fub. 21.
yoth—Major E. J. White, to be Lieut.-Col. without p. v. J.
Reisall, who retires upon full pay; Capt. W. Tayto, to be Major
v. White; Itent. J. P. Castobadie; P. W. Dowes, tent., to be Eneign v. Filder.
7th—Capt. W. M. (4, M'Murdo, from 29th Foot, to be Cast. v.

v. White; Lieut. J. P. Castobadie; to be Capt. v. Taylor; Enc. J. W. Philer, to be Lieut. v. Castobadie; F. W. Dowse, Gent., to be Rusign v. Fitder.

Tath—Capt. W. M. G. M'Murde, from 28th Foot, to be Capt. v. Cammin, who exchanges, Oct. 28th, 1843.

38th—Capt. W. M. G. M'Murde, from 28th Foot, to be Capt. v. Cammin, who exchanges, Oct. 28th, 1843.

38th—Cap. S. t. H. K. Kawards to be Lieut. without p., Drc. 48, 1843.

1843. C. B. Browne, Gent., to be Ros. v. Edwards, promoted; Lieut. P. T. Wade, to be Ail, v. Orinshy, prom. Dec. 18, 1843.

38d West India Rag.—Capt. C. B. Vans, from 67th Foot, to be Caputh v. Lane, who exchanges, Feb. 28.

Cape Mounted Riflemen.—Rag. J. Borrow to be Lieut. by p., Le Touzel, who ret. 1 Ens. R. G. G. Camming, from Rl. Newfoundined Cos. to be Ens. with p. v. Bianet, prom.; J. B. Francia, Gent. to be Eas, by p. v. Borrow, Al. Newfoundiand Cos.—W. J. Cosn, Gent., to be Eas. without p. v. Camming, appointed to Cape Mounted Riflemen.

Bawer.—Capt. R. Hare, of 67th Foot, to be Ras. without p. v. Camming, appointed to Cape Mounted Riflemen.

H. Bawer.—Capt. R. Hare, of 67th Foot, to be Ras. Without p. v. Camming, appointed to Cape Mounted Riflemen.

Bawer.—Capt. R. Hare, of 67th Foot, to be Ras. in the Rrmy, November th.

Honstyn.—Brars.—Harperby, General of Hampitale M. Rope, M.D. with Iocal rank, to be Laugector. General of Front. is, Oct. 2; Bladf-Bargeon of the First Cless, v. Barciag, prob. Feb. 16.

Bouth Balopian Yeomanry Cavelry—The Hon. O. G. C. Bildge. sum, summonly called Lard Viscount Newport, in be Capt. v. W. Lloyd, dec.; J. Rucke, Usri, to be Cornet, v. R. Coriett, dec. West Comprise Reg. of Yeothansy Cavelry—W. Mised, Esq., to be Capt. v. Ord, reagned; F. F. Bouveria, Cant., to be Cornet, jone Maker, rearged.

DAVALBY.

Let Life Guards-On Tuesday avening the public were admitted, at reduced prices, to a dress rehearsal of the amateur perfermences of the Life and Poot Guerde, at Winday, when the house was growded. The performance, with addition of an interlude of "Two in the Berning," were the same as last, and want of sales. There here been several judicious changes unde in the cent of the "Dresm'at Sea." Viscount Scalasm takes the character of Black Ralph; in the room of A. Archer, Esq.; J. Leelie. Esq., that of Alley Creeker, is the room of G. Bentick, Esq.; the Earl of Muniter that of Tremest, in the room of H. Streatfield, Esq.; and H. De Bathe, Esq. (who is exceedingly elever), of the Soute Fuellige Churche, has taken the part of Red Nervie, in the room of Vicanus Nasham. In the hardener of Vicanus Nasham. Viscount Seaham. In the burlesque of "Othello Tra-vestie," Capt. Grant taken the character of Othello, in the vestie," Capt. Grant takes the character of Othello, in the place of G. Bentick, Esq.; H. De Bathe Krq., that of lape, in the place of A. Archer, Req.; and Capt. Hudson takes the part of Cossie, in place of Lord Giantia. Some heautiful new accesses, he have painted for the occasion by H. W. Boulton, Esq., lat Life Guarda. Capt. Bulkeley, let Life Guarda, on this occasion acts as managing director. There will be two noves amateur performances immediately after Kaster. 6

On Thursday the serond amateur performance took places, when every thing went off admirably, and the una-place, when every thing went of admirably, and the una-nimous plaudits of the audience evinced a gratifying tra-timony of their approval of the praiseworthy exertions of these gentlemen in the cause of charity.

ORDNANCE CORPS.

Royal Artillery.—A general Court-martial was held at Woolwich for the trial of general and driver William

The property Biske, 6th Butt., for descrition and robbery. The primune was found guilty, and, knowing that his punishment would he transportation, reported himself sick, and was admitted into the guard-room ward, and during the period of his confinement managed to loosen the fastenings of the lock of the outer door of his room, leading into one of the Massages. At ten v'elnek on Thursday night last he was shut into his room, and a sentry posted over him as usual; but about half-past ten o'clock he managed to sluds the centry, and made his way into the passage. The scutry at the outer door seeing sumebudy pass from the guard. room ward gave the starm, but before any assistance could be obtained, the prisoner jumped upon the water-wink and but at the passage window into the back yarr, and escaped over the outer wall, and has not been heard A court of inquiry was held in the Royal Octof since. nance liespital, on Saturday, to investigate and erport on the circumstance of the escape of the prisoner; and on Tuesday a Court-martist was held on gunner and driver Swinfield for having permitted the escape of Blake, over whom he was placed as sentry in the Ward-room of the Ordnance Bospital. The decision of the Court was that gunner and driver Swinfield be imprimmed for two months for orgisoting his duty.

In addition to theoreticement of Lieut,-Col. Darby. who has recently returned to Woolwich, on suck leave, from St. Helens, Lieut, Col. the Hou. W. Athuthout, whose routing of service placed him first for the command ar that atation, has signified his intention to retire, and, it is said. Lieut.-Col. Frazer will proceed to St. Helyna. Lieut. Col. Machenn, whose tour of service placed him frat to relieve Lieut. Col. Browne in the automand at Gibraltar, has also algorited bis intention of retiring, but his successor has not yet been named. Liant, -Cal. Whitey also ratires, and the vacancies opposioned by the ratire-ment of the four Lieutenant Colonels above named, will be filled up in April 10.88. by the promotions of Maj. J. W. Wood, Maj. W. E. Jackson, Maj. G. Durnford, and Maj. Dalton, to be Leat. Colonels. Pour Sect. Captains Ma). Dallon, to be Lieut. Colonells. Four even, Copinius will consequently, be proposed to be First Captains, and four, if not more, Lieutroants, to be Captains, as there are several of that rank about to retire on full pay in the course of April next. Lieut Colonel Channey, the enterprising traveller, School routine of duty gave him the command of the Ruyal Artiflery in China, has agrived at Hong Kong, and assumed the command of that branch of the Service, and ranks as Braceduc-General, This galance Officer, immediately on his seried, ordered the commencement of our rations to unelsorate the unlealthy state of the island, and has given metructions to death the land, and build hospitals on the north or most healthy side, and it e works were commenced at the date of the latest is ters from that quarter.

Capt. Freet's comp., from Dublin, religion Capt. E. Morgan's comp. at Ballinesity.

Coart-Martisi on Lieut. B. Willis, concluded fro a our last :--

Column Downe, the pronecutor, briefly addressed the 10th, and that he had then placed him in arrest. I immediately addressed a leiter to Lt. Willis, requesting him to afford me an explanation of the transactions with which he was charged. I call upon the prisoner to produce that leiter. [The leiter was produced and read; it contained a brief statement of the sharges mow browpht against Lt. Willis., At a Colonic of the sharges, not having received any reply from Lt. Willis, I discend Lt. Rogers to walk on Lt. Willis, and to atte that I would explain. It however the me and that he are and it is a state of the sharpes of th at any other time, nor call upon me to retrect the same.

Cross examination.—I do not remember going into Lt. Rogers's room before coming into my room. I was in my room.—Dr. Young and Lt. Willis might have gone in, but I did not. I do not temember saying in my room, it was a nulsance, I had no brandy, and saking if Lt. Willis had any. They (Mr. Willis and Dr. Young) asked me if I had any brandy. I told them I had not. Lt. Willis tried to persuade us to go to his room to play at cards. Lt. Willis tried to persuade us to go to his room to play at Dr. Young, and that is enough for yon; I will full you, Lt. France, by and by where you made the mistake in conditing the pack. I'm. Young did not in my room propose to easil to the mess for some wine, to be paid for out of the st. he had was from the pisoner; I did not say in my room to Dr. Young, that Lt. Willis had only concealed the cards; It. Willis hid persist in seriously denying that he had lost the bet.

Rythe Court.—When It. Willis had the cards in his possession before my counting them, he had not an oppurumity of concealing the two cards out of the pack I first counted, which was the white pack—he might have out of the other pack, which was coloured.

The prisoner did not exhibit any independent when the words.

white pack - he might have out of the other pack, which was coloured.

The prisoner did not exhibit any indignation when the words were applied to him; he must have been aware of their being applied, unless he was perfectly deat.

The written statement of the late Staff-Assist.-Surg. Young, taken on his death-bed, signed by himself, and sworm to be fore a nuglistrate, was tendered in evidence by the presentator. The prisoner objected to its being received in evidence, he not having heen present when the statement was taken to expense manning. The Court was cleared, and upon being received the was stated the Court was cleared, and upon being received the was estated the Court was cleared, and upon being received the was stated the Court was cleared, and upon being received the first passed the first passed which was stated that, it willis, R.A., Dr. Basseulville, R.A., Ogge. Honstom, R.N., Staff Sasist.-befg. Young and myself, and Mr. MiGowan, clerk in the dock-yard; I am not quite cartain as to Dr. Dassinist in the dock-yard; I am not quite cartain as to Dr. Dassinist being present; I left the mean about 19 o'clock; 12. Willis was poble when he left the mean about 19 o'clock; 12. Willis was poble when he left the mean about 19 o'clock in the Officers' barracks; I was perfectly sober; I saw Staff Assist.-

Surg. Young on thet evening; seet him at the mess, and a wards went into the Officers' barracks and I saw him again th

I west to my room and to bed; some time in the signific them; I west to my room and to bed; some time in the signific Staff Assist, Gurg. Young spaid came to my room. The witness was shout to bethe what took pishon between shamed and Dr. Young, relative to the prisoner, when the prisoner adjusted to the evident that time, and Dr. Young's estemant on each staff of the control of the time, and Dr. Young's estemant on each staff of the control of the cont pack used for the purpose of deciding a bet between [4. Willis and Shaff Assich.-Surp. Tennag." That oridense consist the carefa and died them perfectly carrect, but did I then edited that his flading was incorpact? Mo, I had only then changed the last from pounds to childings. I took up some cards and then said? I shad the said of the control of th ridence. The Courtwins then eleced.

The Court was then elected.

Root-Guardo-The half-yearly change of quarters of the underscationed Battalions of the Brigade of Foot-Guarde, will take pince, as we stated last week, on let March, us follows:—Gremalier Guarde, 2d Batt., from Fortman-at. Barracks to St. John's-wood Harracks; 3d Batt., from Wiledsov, three Cos. (bead-quarters), to St. John's-wood Barracks; one Co. to Kensington Barracks, 420-50. 40 Magazine Barracks, one Co. to Buckingham Palesty Barracks, one Co. to St. George's Barracks, and use Co. to Wellington Barracks. Geldstream Guarde, 1st Batt., from Wellington Barracks to Port.

man-st. Barracks, 2d Batt., from St. John's-wood and in the hearing of several persons, that he was guilty of detached Burracks to Wellington Barracks. Scots Fusilier Guards, 2d Batt., from St. George's Barracks to Guernay Ster, Feb. 13. detached Burnaks to Willington Barracks. Sects Fusilier Guards, 2d Batt., from St. George's Burnacks to Windsor. The change of the let Batt. of Grenadier Guards and let Bett. of Scott Fusilier Guards will not take place before 6th March, in consequence of the at Winche

6th—In consequence of the disturbed state of the county of Flint, detachments have recently bein employed in aid of the civil power at Holywell, Northep, Mold, &c. A company from Stockport and a company from Preston re moved to Chester by reliway, to supply the place of the above detackments at head-quarters.

11th—From Kilkenny are on rease to Athlene, and are expected at Galway.

14th—Extract of a letter from an Officer, "Kingston

Jan. 22, 1844.—I dare say you were surprised at our sudden move: it has been particularly hard upon us having been afficially told that Lendon would be our station for the ensuing year. We received the route to move in two days; the expense has been ruinous to the married and young Officers. The former had made them-selves comfortable for the cold season, and had to sell at an enormous loss or carry their furniture (which would cost more than its worth) with them; the latter to pay all their bills end sell what they could at a moment's notice, or leave it to the mercy of an suctioneer to remit the value; while other corps have been four and fire years without moving once. We now hear we are to move without moving once. We now hear two are to move afain at the opening of the navigation."

16th—Are under orders for Dublin, to replace the let Batt., 60th Rifles. A report has been current that repeal cards have been discovered among the men of this corps. We have reason to believe that the report has no better foundation than that one man --- servant to th Paymaster—was found to be in some way connected with the Repeal movement. The removal of the regiment from Birr has no connexion with this matter. We be-lieve the 16th is as loyal a regiment, as any in Her Majesty's Army. jests's Army.

18th—A detachment of this corps, which embarked for China per Lady Amherst, on 13th June last, consisting of Braigns Graves, Farrer, Graham, James, Kelly, Irwin, and Assist.-Surg. Ferguseon, 82 men, 5 women, and 6 children, under the command of Captain Bruce, arrived off Angier, in the Straits of Sanda, on the 30th October, and sailed thence for Hong-Kong on the 3d November. Officers and men all in good health. Capt. Call, and his father, Paymester Call, return home on sick leave.

20th—Capt. Brook died at Bermuda, on the 2d Jun.; he had been 16 weers in the Sarries.

he had been 16 years in the Service.

36th—Last week Col. Maxwell and Officers entertained at dinner Sir E. Blakeney and his Staff, Gen. Wyndham, at dinner St. Diazoney and his Stan, ces. wynanam, the Earl of Cardigan, with the General-Staff of Ireland, and Heads of Departments at head-gray, the Dublin District-Staff, Col. Trevelyan, 60th, and others. Light Pratt has been removed from the Recruiting Staff at Limerick to 48th Depot-"A soldier of the name of Fossey, belonging to this depot, now in garrison in this Island, was, on 20th Jan., tried and convicted before the Royal Court, for having committed a violent assault on the highway, on the evening of the let of that month, and was thereupon sentenced to an imprisonment of two months. It appears that his Excellency the Lieut.-Governor, disapproving of this sentence, represented the matter to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, and in consequence of such representation, a free pardon was obtained from the Queen. The pardon, under her Majesty's sign-manual, addressed to the Lieut.-Governor, and the keeper of the gool, was, it is understood, received in Guernesy this morning, and its consequence his Excellency, in full uniform, accommanied he Main Associatory, in full uniform, accommanied he Main Association morning, and its commence his Excellency, in the trai-form, accompanied by Major M'Cleverty, commanding the 48th depot, Major Bainbrigge, Fort Major, and Mr. W. Brown, the Government Schwary, presented himself at the gool at noon (at a moment, be it observed, when it was at all the civil authorities were attend the funeral of a deceased magistrate), with the Queen's pardon in his hand, and demanded the immediate liberaparton in his panu, and communes too memoranes over-tion of Foassy. Mr. Berbet, the gacler, unaccustomed to doorments of this nature, said that he could not liberate the men without the order of the Court by whom he had been committed. The General hereupon told Mr. Harbet ion, and desired him at his peril to refuse instant obedies to give him the keys of the prison, telling Mr. Barbet that he ought to know that the Queen's order was parameted, and east out to find some of the efficient of the efficient desirated, and east out to find some of the efficient of the efficient desirated, and east out to find some of the efficient of the efficient advice, upon which his Excellency ordered having undergone no alteration whetever; and most to find the property of the first desirated departed upon this mission, when Mr. Barbet, considering that he was not required to make any further difficulties in the face of the threatened exercise of, force, delivered in the face of the threatened exercise of, force, delivered his method is inform Zore that it does not follow that he was not required to make any further difficulties in the face of the threatened exercise of, force, delivered his method is inform Zore that it does not follow that he was not required to make any further difficulties in the face of the threatened exercise of, force, delivered his method is inform Zore that it does not follow that he was not required to make any further difficulties in the probability of the General ever seeling his mightened, of the being removed to a Major Mt-Cleverry, be commanded. Officer, and the whole party then, left the good, and the advance of the troops or respectability, so long as he remained at the head of it. No proof, however, is required on this head. to give him the keys of the prison, telling Mr. Barbet vee the 15th at Templesson

Sith—Relieves the 15th at Templesone. 56th—Liout. and Adj. Lacy has judand at Cork, from 74th—Lt. Walinutt has reconsided Lt. Pratt, 36th, on 74th—LA. Wallingt has reconsided LA. Pasts, 36th, on the Recruiting Staff at Limerick. 79th Depot—Arrived at Stirling on Tunning afternoon, under the command of Hajor Lawrie, to replace the 58th. The depot left Abardees on Monday in the Duke of Richmend steamer, and arrived at Alice on Tuesday, where they disembarked, and proceeded by land to the Castle.

Castle,
Bith Depot This depot left Stirling Castle on The Bith Depot.—This depot left Stirling Castle on Tassday last for Paleley. With the aposption of the tires men who robbed the house at Clay Toll, the beliaviour of the corps has been as unexceptionable since their return from Parth, as previous to going there. The entire demonstration of the Officers and men has been upon the whole, most penticuanly and soldierlike, and quite examinary for Military men—a decided proof that the disciplies of the regt, is in excellent working order. We have heard it stated that it is many years since the Castle was kept in so clean and orderly a manner.—Edinburgh Observer.

92d—It is reported that the gallant Highlanders, under the command of Col. M'Douald of Deichessie, which arrived at Pertuncult a few days ugo from the West Indies, and now on their way to disembark at Leith, will be stationed at Parth, Dundes, and Aberdeen—the Pair City being the head quarters of the regiment.—

will be stationed at Parth, Dundes, and Aberdeen—the Pair City being the head quarters of the regiment.—
Porth Paper. The 92d arrived at Leith on the 18th inst.
Ride Brigads, let Bett.—Lieut. Lord Adelphus Vane, son of the Marquess of Londonderry, he joined at Corfu.
98th.—The Cornwell trensport, with Lieut. Col. Gregory,
Capt. Gordon, Lieuts. Viscount Suirdale and Michmond;
Emeigne Edwards, M. Coy, Batt, and Sgroad; Ansist.—
Surg. Weld, and 370 men, arrived off Angler, in the Straits of Sunda, on the 29th October, and salled thence for Hong-Kong on the 26 November.

1st West India Rag.—A company has sailed in the Albert steamer, under Capt. Robeson; Lieuts. Popponi and Anton, to re-garrison Cape Coast Castle, agreeable to new arrangements. Assist.-Surg. Mas Kardy is to be in medical charge, and Mr. Ross in charge of the Commissariat. Stati-Surg. Tergusson also prioried to the Gold Coast, to report on the state of the Military buildings, and open an hespital.

total court to report on the state of the mintary buildings, and open an hespital.

2d West India Reg.—Maj. Cobbs, Lidut. Rockes, i Serj., I Corporal, and 12 privates, with Staff Assist.-Surg. Dickson, Mr. Wildman, Barrack-master, called ou an expedition up the river Gambia, in the ill-fated Wifterferor, on 20th Oct. last, and returned in a deployable force, on 26th Oct. last, and returned in a deplorable state of health on 28th Nov. following. The "Smokee" were very heavy in the moraings and evenings, and every "White" became dangerously ill. Since their arrival the two Gunners, Wilmot and Lumaden, died; Maj. Cobbe and Mr. Wildman had a difficult recovery.

3d West India Rag.—Private Pensonby, & noted bad character, descrited from Fort Bullen while on guard on 3d Nov., taking his firelock and the charge of powder for the evening gan; two days afterwards he was brought to hospital by the crew of the Flifet bout from Bird Island, with his firelock burst and his left hand completely blown away. The would was black with gaupowder, incerated, considerably evollen and painfully exerustating. The arm was immediately amputated below the allow joint, the stump appropriately dressed, and healed without a bad was immunicity impairing agow the allow joint, the stump appropriately dressed, and healed without a bad symptom. The following Officers of the 3d West India Reg. have arrived in England from Namou, and are under orders for service in Africa;—Capt. Heining; Lioute. Magreth, Fitzgerald, and Davidson.

Magrata, Fingerale, and Davidson.

To the Editor of the Numi and Military Gasetic.

Sin,—In your last week's Gasetic there appears a letter from a 3d West India Subs, written with much spirit, in defence of his regiment, the insertion of which had experieded the necessity of publishing my succeed letter to you on the again-public it severtheless, as there are still some parts of Euros inter which remain annewered, I trust not will access my interestable management. trust you will excuse my waspessing sgala upon your Zora's attack upon the Colonel of the 3d West India Zara's attack upon the Calenci of the 3d West India Regiment, is as unwarrantelia as it is unsated for; that the gallant General in sanctifuling the alterations he has dippe, in the dress of the Officers, was actuated, as Zara states, by a desire of patronising a few "very worthy tradement," is perfectly abourd, a number of the articles he has negred having undergone no alteration whatever; and such as have been altered it has been in the most tri-Sing manner, and not in any way such as would affect the postets of the Officers, or be of beautit to those worthy intelement.

Zero's "respectful" suggestions about the clothing of the regiment, and the distribution of the Field Officers, as deabt he thinks very knowing; but he happens in a former part of his latter to have admitted that the cloth-ing had been properly senfout. Who then is the party to blame that the companies for whom it was intended did not receive it? Most certainly not the General, nor did not receive is? Most certainly not the General, nor has he the power in any way of preventing a similar unforescen occurrence taking place.

I think it will require a more clover fellow than Zara to teach the General how he is to prevent Officers being an leave upon sick certificates, or prove the propriety of distailing to the Commander-in-Chief whicher he shall renowmend an Officer on full pay for a government, or show that he has the power of interfering with the Officers commanding the troops in the West Indies, with a view to prevent a Major being in command at Honduras, receiving 14s. 10st. a day, which, by the by, I doubt if Zara would have completed of had he been the said Major.

The General, I fancy, has taken a lesson from our respected Commander-in-Chief, "who never interferes in matters over which he has no central."

in matters over which he has no central."

I have a shrewd guese that there would be no difficulty in finding Zere in the ranks of a West India Regiment, which, from having no claim to Light Infuntry, makes him a little jealous of this same "blowing of bugles." 3 must, however, remind him, for his future guidance, that the 3d being Light Bobs, are at all times prepared to throw out their skirminhers in defence of their General or their regiment.

One word more in defence of the increased expenditure incident upon the new rotation system. Every branch of the Military on the West Coast of Africa, save the Regimental Office, very some advantage for service there, in the shape of promotion, extra pay, or allowances. The Ordnance get what is termed Climate Rick, and other allowances; the Commisseriat a step of promotion after twelve mouths' service, with additional pay and allowances. In it, therefore; just to make an outpry about a pditry sum expended to secure to the Regimental Officer some little boon for his African service? Divide the politry sum expended to secure to the Regimental Officer some little boon for Ms African service? Divide the actual expenditure incurred between the number of Officers for whom it is paid, and it will show that less is actually expended for the individual benefit of the Regimental Officer them is paid in the shape of climate pay, &c., into othe pockets of the other branches of the Bervice during the same period. I say not this with a view of detracting from the propriety of fiving the Staff Officers additional emoisment for African service; on the contravy, I contend that every Officer serving on the West Coast, of Africa is deserving of some advantage for the risk he runs in that abominable climate. It is a very easy thing for Zere to my, Let each West India Regiment take a service of five years. I contend that such a plan is impracticable, if the force is to be kept in an efficient state. An Officer going out under the present system for twelve months, makes up his mind to remain there his regulated time; send him out for unlimited service, or five years, and he makes up his mind to remain there his regulated time; send him out for unlimited service, or ave years, and he cares not how soon he gets a touch of fever—for he must get it sooner or later—and then comes the Medical Board, and of he goes to England for twelve or eighteen months. Look at the state of affairs under the old system; nominally there were recruiting companies for the 1st and 2d West India Regiments, but there were very seldom Officers from those regiments on that dufy; for why I san't say; it was always, however, understood that they would have preferred—the majority of them—retiring from would have preferred—the majority of them—retiring from the Service, to taking their tour of recruiting in Africa. And verily it looked very much like it; for during the last twelve years there have been only eight Officers sent out from those regments; four only of the number remained out beyond swelve months; the remaining number went home clek in a very few months. Too much praise chance he given to the Medical Officers on that coast, for their kind consideration in cases of indisposition; but I think under the present system they will not be so much troubled with Medical Boards as in former times.—I am, &a. APRICANUS.

London, Feb. 20.

DEVONPORT MILITARY CHAPEL .- A correspondent. with reference to the notice in our last Gazette on this subject, suggests that the Military shapel ought to be built in some central situation between Devonport and built in some central situation between Devonport and Plymouth, and not at the former plage; hecause, if midway, the troops in the Citadal at Plymouth could national Davine Service at the came time with those stationed at Devonport, each party having only to march about three-quarters of a mile, and the whole garrison attend tegether. That there is not shareh accommodation at present is a fact well known and damented by the days of the country of the citage. prities; the small chapel in the Citatel is not suffchartylarge for the regiment quartered there, and who have to attend by wings morning and afternoon Services; whilst, at Devenpers, accommodation for the troops there is paid for at St. Aubyn's chapel by Government, which could be saved if a chapel were built.

THE IRIUM STAFF.—We have much pleasure in giving insertion to the following very gratifying tribute, addressed to Col. St. John A. Clerke, K.H., and which appears in to Col. St. Juhn A. Clerke, K.H., and which appears in the Cork Constitution of the 15th instant:—

"Bandon, 28d Jam., 1844.—Dear life,—We, the Magistrates attending the Bandon Petty Sevantons, and others, Inhabitants of Jiandon and fix vicinity, avail pursolves with much pleasure of the opportunity of your recent appointment on the Irish Staff, most cordially to congrainiate you. At the same time we cannot conceal our regret at your removal from this neighbourhood, where, since your residence amongst us, you have gained the good opinion of all classes, by your upright and consistent conduct as a Magistrate, and by your mids and consistent conduct as a Magistrate, and by your mids and consistent conduct of your family, we bid you farewell.—We are, dear Sir, very sincerely yours, " (Signed) Bandon. "Benjamin Sweie, Restor and our as a Genlieman. With sincere wishes for your welfare and that of your family, we bid you farewell.—We are, dear Sir, very sincerely yours, Bandon.

Gerbery. **
Bernard. Gerbery. **
Bernard. Rectos and Prebendary of Kilbrugan.
Herbert Molesworth, Curate of Kilbrogan. [Ardfeld.
Wm. H. Molesworth, Curate of Robert T. Heicher, J. P.
Richard N. Perry. Curate of Wm. H. Merry. Pressyt. Minister.
Robt. St. Lawrence, Rector of Robert T. Heicher, J. P.
Heliard T. Meade, Rector of Robert Gibbings, Curate of Kilbrugan. [Stillowen. James Splaine, J.P.
Henry Gillman, Curate of DeRichard L. Coaner, Cick, Downdaniel. [Ballymodan.
Henry F. M'Cliatock, Vicar of
And upwards of 10e inhabitants of all sects and classes.

MELL.
"Trales. 12th Feb., 1844.—My. Lords and Gentiemen.—Permit

And upwards of 100 inhabitants of all sects and classes.

"Traice, 12th Feb., 1844.—My Lords and Gentiemen,—Permit me to offer you my warmest acknowledgments for the kind and gratifying letter you have done me the honour of addressing me. I thank you must alsocrely for your congatulations on my return to the active duties of my profession; I am justly proud of your approval of my conduct whilst residing amongst you, and I am very grateful for your good wishes for the weiters of my family and of myself. I cannot but feel very sensibly the pain of separating from friends and fellow-Lowannens oblighly respected sud regarded, and this parting testimony of your good-will and kindly feelings cerves but to increase my regret. That you may long continue in the sulcoyment of health, happiness, and prosperity, is the unaffected and expect desire of —My Lords and Gentlemen, your very faithful servant. St. John A. Clerke, Col.

tiemen, your very faithful servant, St. John A. Clerkh, Col.*

By the abstract of the Army estimates, given in our last Gassits, it appears that the total estimated amount to be provided for the Army services for the year beginning on the 1st of Aprile next, is 5,984,994. This amount compared with that estimate for the year ending on the 31st of March, shows a decrease of money to be provided of 340,5794. this amountbeing 222,0934 less than 1843-44 for the effective acylece, and 18,474, less than the present financial year for the non-effective services. These estimates, when compared with those for 1843-42 show a reduction in the total of 1816-45, transferred to the Commissariat, Ordnance, and Nevy estimates, which reduce the real decrease in the Army estimates it 18,194. only; but a new charge to the amount of 1816-44 and 1844-45 if therfore, 55,034.

Errsorver Survices.

the estimates of 1843-44 and 1844-45 left Hierarce, $5,934f.

Errorrve Burnicas.

Number of Men.—The number of Officers, Non-commissioned Officers, and rank and file, which it is proposed to maintain for the service of the United Kingdom of Great Hiritain and ireland (exclusively of the troops employed in the East Indies), for the year, from the 1st April, 1846, for the Sist March, 1948, is 1ec, 398, hains $81 less than the number voted for the present financial year, from the lat April, 1844, to the Sist March, 1943, is 164,395, being 551 loss than the number voted for the present financial year. The number to be employed in the East Indies for the annuing year is 99,383, for or equinents of Cavairy (one additional to the force for the present year), and 32 regiments of infantry, the expenses of which are defrayed by the East India Company, Beling an increase of 747, amounting in all do 3901 Officers, 9400 Non-commissioned Officers, and 114,376 rank and file. 129,677 of all ranks.

Being an increase of the control of the control of the control of all range.

Non-commissioned Officers, and 114,376 rank and new. Copyright of all range.

Hopel Military College.—No parliamentary grant will be required in aid of the charge of the Royal Military College for the year anding the 21st March, 1845. The charge is defrayed by the bubscription of the gentlemen cadets.

Volunteer Curps.—The cetimates are less for the Volunteer Corps for the vosating year by nearly 20,000. In this year's catimates 19,000. was applied to defray the axpenses incurred for daty in sid of the civil power in 1843943. There is contingent and dothing allowance for fifty men of a new troop about to be formed.

, Non-Respective Survice.

Non-Respective Survices.—By the three-little of the mount which has reverted to the Government by the garries Rewards for listinguished Series.—By the three-fifths of the amount which has reverted to the Government by the garriage appointments which have become vacent; and by the pensions which have fallen in hand on the deaths of Gen. Sir T. Browns, and Lieut.-Gen. Mark hapier, and the appointment to regiments of Lieut.-Gencals Sir J. Pearnon, Sir W. Machean, Sir G. H. Way, K. Lindany, and Sir G. C. L'Estrange, the following distinguished/Officers, it is proposed, shallbe retwarded:—General John Mackensie in addition to his present allowance of 1904., 1104; and Maj.-Generals Sir H. Watson, Sir D. St. Lagre Hill; Sir R. Armstrong, C.B., J. Ferguson, C.B., T. W. Brotherton, C.B., A. D. Paunce, C.B., H. Tousel, James Hay, W. Wood, C.B., K.H., G. Burrell, C.B., and Sir R. J. Sirvay, G.B.

The number of General Officers to be provided in 171, less that the present year by 27. The rothred Officers out full pay are 360, less by hine than 1433-44. There are 183 less to be pro-edited for on half-pay and Military allowances; and 16 less on foreign half-pay. For widows possibless $864, more are required; butten the compassionate allowances there is a reduction of Sunot.

tion of 2000.

CHRISTA, HOSPITAL.—There is an increase here on the whole charge of 19,594. The number of out pensioners are less by 151. The total shirper of 71,500 pensioners with 14,000, probable amount of payments on account of Burmess prise-money, and unclaimed shares of Army prize-money, is 1,225,3164, 1884 that the astimate for 1849-499 y.484. 112. 54. 1884 the balance in labour of that year's estimates is caused by the new charge of 37,000. for the Military organization of 19,000 enrolled pensioners. In the superamnuation allowances there is a decrease of 2500.

Correspondence addressed to the Editor.

ARMAMENT OF OUR NEW 10-GUN BRIGS, &c. &c. To the Editor of the Nanal and Military Ausella.

Sta,—I have just read the letter in your last Gauette by a correspondent signing himself "K.," in which he notices my letter on Sealark, &c. First; let me express notices my letter on Sealark, &c. First; let me express to him my thanks for his complimentary-opinion. If I have done any good, ever so little—if any of my remarks shall be found worth any attention, and cause reflection and investigation, then shall I be well pleased. "Amer pairies" is my motto; the love of and anxious desire to see "that glorious flag, which for a thousand years has braved the "that glorious flag, which for a thousand years has braved the battle and the breeze," ever triumphant, and never again subjected to defeat, either from neylect or over-confidence, as was the case in last Amagican war, from 1812 to 1815. Becondly, let me beg "R." to re-peruse my letter carefully, and I am sure he will then see that he has greatly mistaken my views on many points. I never said "that France had no small ships of year with which such 10-gun brigs as Pantalom could contend." I spoke of that class as a very beautiful description of craft, equal to anything brigs as fantateen coura content. I spoke of tune cures as a very beautiful description of craft, equal to anything which could be required or espected of vessels of their size and armament. But I did most seriously question to the course of the course o truth of a statement which appeared in the Portamouth Telegraph—a Naval organ whose opinions are at all events supposed to carry some weight with some people, viz., "that Scalark (a sister vessel to Pantaloon) was armed with only eight 18-pounder guns"—mediums, I aupone, were meant—but admit long 18s, of 64 or 7 ft., I questioned the truth of this; but, if proved true, it did strike me as a very serious matter: for by the late change in our armaments, the grand object was to place our Navy on a perfect equality with the other Navies of the world—to get rid of the varieties of shot, and to arm all our ships with the heartstanders. ships ships with the heaviest metal they could safely and conveniently carry, & carry less guns of heavier calibre, thus as formerly, many of lighter; if possible, to have nothing best than a 32-pound shot thrown, from the 10-gun brig up to the 120-gun ship; and in the building all future vessels, to keep ever in view this point, with good room; duarters, and great height between decks-most important considerations, both as regards efficiency in battle and health and comfort at all times. And most wise and excellent views these were, deserving of the highest praise although long delayed.

At this moment there is no such gun as an 18-pour

At this moment there is no such gun se an in-pounter used in any of the French or American ships-of-war, (revenue craft excepted), of the latter I have the official statement from one of their Commodores at the Navy Board, in which I find their schooners of war carry 10 Board, in which I thus their sensoners of was carry a 32-pounders; of the French I have never seen any brig with 18-pounders, of late years. Why, then, abould we? and least of all in such beautiful craft as Pantaloon class. with 16-pounders, of late years. Why, then, should we? and least of all in such beautiful raft as Pantaloon class, well able to carry $2s, offs proper weight, not carronades either; for, willingly, I would not have one in the Service. I never supposed or said "that in the event of a war we should not find ample employment for 100 or more of such amall vessels as Pantaloon, though I greatly doubt that we shall ever require so many of that class under any circumstances, now that steep the property of the class of the country of the class of the cl cumstances, now that steam forms so prominent a force for conveys in future, and other purposes for which small orafts were used formerly. I meraly deprecated the fact of building another new class, as now on the stocks, to be called 12-gun brigs. I maintained, for whatever duties can called 12-gus brigs. I maintained, for whatever duties can ever be required of them, the present Scaler's class are large enough, if properly armed. Why, then, between them and the 16s need we have 12s? a little larger, with different masts and yards, &c.! If for any particular motive it be fequired to send a certain number of small that the state with Communities I said mask years and the brigg to Africa with Commanders, I said, work up all the OLD 16s (formerly 18s), by reducing their present armament of carronaces to 12 medium 32s, and replace them by such vessels as Helena, of 550 tons.

The Americans in their official list, before me, have no brigs. Under that head appears "None," but they have three or four surreying-vessels, brigs; their small oraft are principally schooners, carrying B and 10 guns, and of 260 tons; their next class being skip-sloops, carrying 16 32s carronadus, as Date, &c. * K* is in utter error ing 16 32s carronades, as Dale, &c. "It" is in utter error as to the idea of supposing that "I would employ resselved double the cost of the 10-gun brigs for services they could well perform." Quite the reverse. I contended that the present 10s are quite sufficient (properly armed and manned) for all purposes that opsid possibly be required of thim, and I therefore deprendent the building another class of rather larger dimensions, yelept 12-gun brigs, at a great expense. But it is cartain we shall meet neither American or French brigs, at he count of fabroic onoraer class of valuer larger dimensions, yelept 12-gun brigs, at a great expense. But it is certain we shall me neither American or French brigs on the coast of fafreis or clowhere squal, of their class, to our beautiful new 10-gun brigs; but we shall also find that neither netions 10-gan orige; but we man also mu that number neutons will carry 18-pounders in any of their vessels. Since the treaty for the suppression of the slave trade, this Americans have purchased and built a few small bright to said to the coast; in them there will be found no 18-pounders, and if our brigg (which I still must doubt) of 10 gains he so armed, then do the Admiralty deserve great blame, for no one can tell how soon Jonathan may desire to embroil himself with us on that most ticklish matter of "the treaty;" some of his pot-vallent Nayai heroes may "dare the deed" with "the Britisher," and when blood is once drawn who knows how and where it will end? Such would be most knows how and where it will end? Such would be most unfair to our gallent Officers and men. The American Officers would indeed rejoice at the sight of 18 pounders, on board our 10-gun brigs, and swagger largely to the tune of "Yankee doodle dandy oh!" "For they never met their match, till the Yankee did them catch; sing, Yankee doodle, dandy, oh." But it is not so I believe. Sir W. Sysnonds never built such beautiful craft to carry only beggarly 18-pounders, in this year A.D. 1844!! In my next I will reply to "E." touching the "rezees."

VINDICATION OF LORD NELSON.

To the Editor of the Newsland Military Gaught.

SIR,—As one of the people for whom Nelson fought and conquered, and fell, allow me to return my warm thanks for your notice of Capt. Miller' triumphant "vindication" of the fame of our great Communder.

Of the viscour, the clearness and the man's tone of that

Of the vigour, the clearness, and the manly tone of that notice I will not say anything, but I feet that if Capt. Miles has laid every Englishman (who merits the name) under an obligation, the Editor of the "Naval and Military Gazette" has imposed another, by the manner in which he has brought into notice the valuable labours of the gallant Commender. Allow me to subscribe myself, Sir, your obliged and obedient Servant, R. Mongaa, Chapelfield Grove, Norwick, Feb. 18, 1844.

DETACHMENTS IN IRRIAND.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gusette.

Sta,—Permit me to inquire, through the medium of your valuable pages, if it is not customary and usual in regiments to keep a roster of the Captains and their companies for detachments? If it is not usual to keep one, and it is left to the discretion of Commanding Officers of regiments and depart to select whomsenesse they please. regiments and depots to salect whomsoever they please, then I should suggest it be directed by the florse (ingristhat a roster shall be kept of Captains and Officers for detachments in all regiments, as is done in the case of detachments in an regimente, as is since in the case of Officers at depots who are next for foreign service: this, with a view to prevent "any favour or affection," for such things will exist "in the best-regulated families," particularly if there be a "Mrs. Sword" at the best of a family, of a few married Captains in a regiment. At this most unhanne island recipants present moment, in this most unhappy island, regiments are called upon to give many detachments. Detachments are called upon to give many detachments. Letaenments in Ireland are at most times an unpleasant part of the Officer's duty; it has now been made more so, by the marchings and countermarchings in aid of the Civil Power, the frequent escorts with prisoners, stores, and ammunitiem, which now-a-days come pretty beavy on the men. The anxiety caused to the Captain, should be lucklessly be The anxiety caused to the Captain, should he lucklessly be detached in the heart of a thoroughly priest-ridden and repeal district, where he will have lears of the inhabitants of it, endeavouring to create a sympathy in those of their own religion; the difficulty of keeping the men away from the whisky-shops, where it is often supplied gratis by the civilians, no doubt sometimes accompanied with a "Now boys, give us a sheer for 'Den and Repale,' "which some foolish young Irish recruit or very young soldier, more drunk than sober, shoute out—perhaps in his most sober senses knows not what it means: the police, who are now employed to know everything, hear of it, report to Government that the "Soldiers" have been heard to shout for "O'Connell and Repeal;" then follow official correspondences with half-a-dosen "big-wige." But I need not multiply further instances which counternat the pleasures "of little brief authority," and make detechments in Ireland of it, endeavouring to create a sympathy in those of their tiply further instances which counternot the pleasuras "of little brief authority," and make detachments in Ireland now not very agreeable. Suffice it: let there be a resure, let every Captain in his turn take his chance of the good and bad; all General Officers commanding districts should be called upon to see that a prefer one is kept, and the selections not left to the whims and fencies of Commanding ers. A des observance of the rester would caus every Officer to be prepared to take his tour of detactment, and there would be no unpleasant feelings of being sent out of lows.

MAMING OF ARMS.—NO. VIII.
To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gassile,
Siz,—In a former letter we have read of missiles having Siz,—In a former sector we nave read or minimum maying the convenient quality of returning, when they have effected their object, to the hand, or foot, of the hurler.

Another description of weapon is now to be noticed, which flow from its nogboard, apontaneously, on the ap-which flow from its scabbard, apontaneously, on the approach of a fee; or in the presence of a secret one.

It is thus recorded in that beautiful poem "The Lady of the Lake," and may be considered a sequel to our earlier nation of Standinavian namings;

"Thy filling"s battle-brand, of yore
For Trustman forged, by fairty love,
Walt time he leagued, no longer fees,
Life flender spears with Horse such better,
Life flender opears with Horse such better,
The tool sup of a secret too. "Cheste 21.

American Naval song |

And in Note X. we read of the wonderful sword Sings nung, wielded by the celebrated Hager Kaara, which rtain occasions, when unskilfully handled, emitted on certain occasions, when unsertainty manages, station a hollow groan. On other occasions a worm pretruded itself from the hilt. A number of mysterious matters were connected with the mode, right or wrong, of managing Skeffathø.

Another sword is mentioned in the same note; which hanging among divers other weapons in an apartment in Germany, fell from its coabbard, on the entrance of a Germany, not from its scannard, on the entrance of a certain young nobleman, taking shelter from a storm. The host started, with such a marked expression, that the young man could not help inquiring the reason. "I am," answered the man, "the public executioner of this city, and the incident that you have observed is a sure city, and the incident that you have observed is a sure augury that I shall, in the course of my duty, one day out aff your head with the weapon that has now unsheathed 'tself.'' The nobleman hastened away; but, some years after, engaging in some political plot, was decapitated by that very man and instrument.

Lord Lovatt is said, on Scotch authority, to have affirmed, that a number of awords hanging in the hall of his family mansion, leaped of themselves out of their scab-bards, at the instant he was born. The story passed current among his clan, and, like the preceding, pro unfortunate omen.

Taking leave of the "Lady of the Lake," I will not refrain from thankfully noting the gratification that I emperienced in the fine autumn of 1842, of gliding along Lake Katrine, with that lovely poem in my hand. The boatmen joyously recited many of its striking passages, as we passed the objects named; and we, perhaps, by our recitations, may have taught them some more.

In the Legends of Sir Bavis of Hampton, we read of bis famed aword named Morgiage—and a terrible account is given of the combat, in which, so armed, he slew a very Such an exploit was common to formidable dragon. Such an exploit was common to many valorous knights, in almost all the countries of Christendem. In his conflict Sir Bzvzs tumbled into a well, and having refreshed himself with a copious draught,

"He then lepte out with right good will, And with Horgings, his brand,"

he assailed the dragon-

"Who would have flowen then awaye...
But Havis with his good Morgleye
Hit him sore under the wing,
Up to the hilk Morgleye yode,
Through barte, liver, bone, and blade," &c., &c., &s.

to a very tedious length, it must be confessed, to ordinary mudern readers.

So St. George slew his dragon with a sword nam Askalon; touching which I find ne farther notice in my memorands, although I have no doubt much is chronicled thereon in the chivalrous relations of that redoubted warrior.

In Wales we find the custom of naming awards was once prevalent, but I do not find any individual designations. In "Cambrian Popular Antiquities" we are told that "it was the custom among all warlike nations to give names to their swords. The ancient Britons took a particular pride in adorning theirs. The polished handles were made of the teeth of animals. Their warliks disposition, and love of the sward, was such that it was the custom of the mother of every make child to put the victuals into its mouth on the point of its father's sword, and with it to give her first blessing; and wish that he might die no the doubt doubt her her than he at a small. other death than by the sword. Nay, this nation, from long struggling in defence of their country, had got to such an enthusiastic pitch of warlke medness, that, as I have read, in an ancient British MS. it was customary, when a man grew very old and infirm among them, for his children to pull him out of bed and kill him, lest the enemy might have the pleasure of that office; or that he should die cowardly and cordidly, and not by the award."

ancient Britons, are said to exist to this day. On Sumatra. MAREDEN, in his valuable History of that island, relates, that a tribe in the interior have the habit of killing their aged, useless parents. And, not only killing, but eating them; choosing the season when the lime is ripe, for a relish to their unpatural banquet. This barbarous tribe is named Batta. Humonorus, in his account of Symatra, is named state. Hundborus, in his account of Symetre, has a similar relation. He calls the people practising this abominable rite, the Bettei. Some sects of Hinder are known to carry their agod parents and relations to the water of the holy Ganger, that they may have the benefit of dying in that purifying stream. Let us hope that such practices will soon cause, wherever the British name and hand have influence. practices win such hand have influence.

the information of your readers. In transcribing it I see I have omitted the date, but this can easily be supplied by any one interested in the matter, on reference to the general orders, or correspondence, about the period of the capture of St. Lucie, which are no doubt registered in the office of the General commanding in the Windward West Louis lands. MATROSS. India Islands, Feb. 19. Casy of a Letter from the Secretary of hir Charles Gree, K.B., Cam.-in. Chief of the Trouge in the Windowsel and Localed Ig-leads, to the Charmandous of Rt. Lucia. Str...-In consequence of the usage and customs of war.

elle in elle that bells in all conquered countries, towns, churches, convents, and other places, taken from the enemy by furce of arms, of right belong to the Commanding Officer force of arms, of right belong to the Commanding Officer of the Ri. Artillery,

His Excellency, Sir Charles Grey, K.B., Com.-in-Chief of all Her Majesty's forces in the Windward and Leeward Islands, is pleased to direct that you cause an exact state of the number and weight of the bells in the different parishes and districts to be sent to Col. Paterson, Com.-in-Chief of the Artillery at Morne Fostune, without delay.
Lieut.-Col. Paterson will be ready to receive a compensation in money for the bells, provided it is mearly equal in value. (Signed) Giro. France, Secretary.
To Sir Charles Gurdon, Commandant of St. Lusia.

air george Ballingall, M.D., on Schools of in-etruction for military and naval surgeoms.

To the Milter of the Naval and Military Gasette.

Stn.—In No. 421 (Jan. 30th, 1841) and in No. 448 (August 7, 1841), of the Naval and Military Gasette, are two important articles on the instruction of Military and Naval Surgeons, the only fault of which is that they are too complimentary to me. But looking to the spirit and object of these articles, I cannot doubt that the comtents of the inclosed letter will prove interesting to you. and therefore take the liberty of forwarding it, with many spologics for its not having been sent sooner, and remain. Sir. mower, dec., (iso, Ballingall. main, Sir, pours, Ac., Edinburgh, Jan. 28,

To the Right Hon, Sir Robert Peel.

29 are sugar stem our never a ret.

Etinburgh College, 18th Hept., 1842.

Sin,—To your patronage I am indebted for the situation I held to this University I and to you therefore I venture to address myself on a subject which necessarily occupies much of my Sitention,—the instruction of Medical Officers for the Army and myself on a subject which necessarily occupies much of my sttention,—the instruction of Medical Officers for the Asmy and Kavy.

3 have recently visited the Clarison Hospitals of Paris, the tipos Calilon, and the Val de Grace, with the School of Medically attached to the latter, and if have, within these few days, returned from a professional visit to the Military Hospitals in Prussia, in Austria, and in Belgium.

I have been much struck with the liberal provision made by some of these foreign atates, particularly Prussia and Austria, for the education of their Army Surgeons, in comparison, with the very sonaty provision made for the mans purpose by our own Gargaranest. Take liberality in the more requarkable, in proportion as it appears to me the less called for.

With the single exception of the Franch Surgeons serving in Algeria, the Burgeons of the continental armies are exclusively occupied in the treatment of diseases occurring in their own climate—diseases which are familiar to every practitioner of experience, whether in civil or in Military life. What again is the are constantly occupied in the treatment of formusable and fatal diseases, incident to soldiers and seamen or in right stations and in tropical climates,—diseases with which neither practitioners not teachers in this country are, of necessity, practically acquainted. While, then, on the continent, where little pecular for his education abound; in this country, where the duties deready of hastruction is required by the Army Surgeon are of a poemica devolving on the Army and Navy Surgeons are of a poemica devolving on the Army and Navy Surgeons are of a poemica desources description, little facility is given for his epocial tograction.

Of the "Hospitale of Instruction" for the Medical Officers of oint of its father's sword, and with it to give or first blessing; and wish that he might die no chart of the first blessing; and wish that he might die no chart of the first blessing; and wish that he might die no chart of the first blessing; and wish that he might die no chart of the first blessing; and wish that he might die no chart of the first blessing; and wish that he might die no chart of the first blessing; and wish that he might die not control, and got to such an anthesiastic pitch of warlie made one could be such an anthesiastic pitch of warlie made one of the castomary, when a man grew very old and infirm mong them, for his children to pull him out of bed and ill him, lest the enemy might have the pleasure of that fills, some of the castoma above attributed to the neith of the swear. In India, some of the castoma above attributed to the neith of the swear with france, and the greaters it the security files; or that he should die cowardly and cordidly, and at by the sword."

In India, some of the castoma above attributed to the neith of the swear with france, and the greaters it to be suprised as an annual capture of provide for the Preint Houghtain in a definition, and in the neither in the interior have the habit of killing their ged, usclass parants. And, not only killing, but eating hem; choosing the assesson when the lime is ripe, for a lish to their unpatural banquet. This barbarous tribe man; choosing the assesson when the lime is ripe, for a lish to their unpatural banquet. This barbarous tribe on an anod Batte. Handbory in his seconant of Egracies, as a similar relations. Because in the war with france, and to great a supply of well-deuested Bargeon." The Second in the first the special true to the holy dense to the him to ripe, for a lish to their unpatural banquet. This barbarous tribe because in the subject of large in the professor, who are a similar relations to the patural relations to the late of the holy Gengee, that they may have the beautiful properties and have influenced to the men in the vigour of life, who, by prompt and efficient treatment, may be preserved to the Service; but are, in many instances, the cases of men already lopt to the Service, in consequence of confirmed and knowlable ergante disease.

But even admitting, to the follest extent, the utility of these the cases of men already lost to the Service, in consequence of confirmed and incurable organic disease.

But even admitting, to the fellest extent, the utility of these Museums and Hospitals to young men entging the Army. I would ask how far they are available to enother and very important class of pupils,—to men upturning from a provated absence on foreign statuous, with first double purpose of ronovaling their health and renewing their professional knowledge. I know well what it is to have served in the distant regions of India, serluded for yeage from the companicachin of books, and from all intercourse with the lights of the profession. I have seen, with much pleasure, the facilities so jadiviously afforded, by the present distinguished Heads of the Medical Departments of the Army and Navy to gentlemon an altusted, to resume their professional studies,—a clear index of their opinion of its necessity; and I have witnessed with delight the avidity with which these gentlemen avail thomselves of the opportunities here offswed of recovaring their lost ground, and qualifying theseselves to take their place amongst the well-informed harmborn of the profession. But it is not to Chathen, to Portunosh, or to Plymouth that such seen will record. It is not not to Chathen, to Portunosh, or to Plymouth that such seen will record. It is to the Metropolitian eitles of the Empire to which they will naturally look for the most astisfactory, and the most astisfactory and the most astisfactory and on the improvements in Medicine which have taken place duging their absolute of the Empire to which have taken place duging their absolute of Medicine and Eurgery, as delivered in the Medicine which have taken place duging their absolute of Medicine and Eurgery, as delivered in the Medicine which have abund the in each of the three divisions of the Eurgery and the Government, to which they may resert as a meater of right, where they will have which constitute the purchase of their avoid, and from intercourse with whom mutual beself from foreign service might freely equiuminate their observations."

The Cunic of Military Surgery in this University was instituted in the person of my immediate gredecessor, the learned and in the person of my immediate gredecessor, the learned and venerable in: Thomson, suther of a teach-actement work on "Tafammation," and of a "Report of the state of the Waunded in pelgium after the listile of Waterion," Its institution was, I believe, originally grounded on a member addressed to the First Lord of the Admiralty, after the bettle or Campendown, by the intel Mr. John Hell,—a neemoty, avery work of which I might quots with adventage to my present object, but I only advert to the very necarate conception which the author had formed of the duties of a Professor of Military Surgery, to say how perfectly it colonides with my own. After alluding to the essentials of Anatoury, and to the great principles of Surgery, Mr. Itself goes on noobserve, "These general principles of the selence must next be applied to the poculiar duties of the Military Surgeon; the Professor must tench executive the poculiar nature of gun-stell wounds.

ue. e must deliver a short code of Military Medicine, ex-ng the fevers, fluxes, spasma, infectious diseases, and all plaining the fevers, fluses, spanns, infectious dispasses, and all the peruliar dulies of the semp and the hospital; he must also explain the scurvy, uicers, and all the disorders most frequent ships of war. ' He must teach Medical Geography; the climates, seasons;

coasts of various countries, it is manner of conducting soldiers on a foreign expedition; the general care of their health; the choles of encampments; the forming of hospitals on a hors; how to convert churches, granaries, public indicinate, into occasional hospitals; how to attend an Army in the field, how to lay the wounded in besieged towns; how to carry them off the field in a secondary term.

to sonvert churches, granarios, public haildings, ipto occasional hospitals, how to attend an Army in the field, him to lay the wounded in besieged towns, how to carry them off the field in a retreating Army.

"Along with these must be taught Military Economics,—diet, sucreles, clothing, general medicing, and all methods of preventing disease. Without this knowledge, no man is entitled in serve. How few are there who are not conscious of those blugs and blots in their general advantum, which mu diligence of their own odn ever do away!

"The last and not the least imperiant duty of the teacher should be to point out for his pupils a future plan of study, tog make for them a selection of books; to deliver critical and practical observations on those which are to be most used. The must select objects for their future study. He must taken them this truth, that where education is only begun, and that the heet of their studies general and the truth that where education is only begun, and that the heet of their studies, and them he may hope to reap in this truth the fruit of their inhures, and live to see their observations and cause published mader his own size."

Within these few months, the Sentats Academieus of this University has, upon my recommendation, proposed for the instruction of this Claas, and for the use of the Medical Students generally, the valuable collection of preparations, made during the resent campaign of the Sritish Legion of Spain, by Mr. Rutherford Alecch; a collection almost exclusively lituatestive of gene shot wounder—so lar at know, quite unique in its kind—and which, with the small collection of preparations, by Mr. Rutherford Alecch; a collection almost exclusively lituatestive of sea soft wounder—so lar at know, quite unique in its kind—and which, with the small collection of preparations, by Mr. Rutherford Alecch; a collection almost exclusively lituatestive of sea soft wounder—so lar at know, almost the brodesor is future years, to conduct the business of this class with increased adv

(To be continued.)

** Bignatures to Letters in Type,-" Handwok; " Jetter;" " Hi, j" An Ra-Dragoon; " and "A Well-Wisher to the Mary."

To Readers and Correspondents.

We regret the disappointment of several subscriber who neglected obtaining their papers in time s-owing to the increasing obculation of the "Naval and Military Gazette," our last Number was out of print on Monde

We have not the slightest recollection of "D. T. S. and cannot devote our columns to political discussions.

The Conqueror of Scinde.—Last Session Sir Robert Peel said in the House of Commons, that there had not yet been sufficient acknowledgment of Sir Charles Napier's Surely, then, Her Majesty will ennoble the soldier who, on a noble stem, has engrafted "personal nobility." Net the least gratifying part of the Debates in our last to Sir Charles, will be the honourable mention made by Sir Hobert Peel of his brothers, to whom he is so devotadly attached.

Military Brevet.—A Correspondent (N. America), writes.—" As the Army are looking forward to a Prince (Duke of York), it is to be hoped that a small Military Arevet will follow, taking in two years, 1820 and 1830; and as there are only $2 Capts. at this present moment serving on full-pay, of that standing, in the whole British Service, the expense would be but very trifting to the Governs on such a glorious oscasion: then, say, allowing the old Brevet Majors to retire on full Major's half-pay, with the option to sell out, would no doubt be halled by the Army with enthusiasm, and likewise be the means of bringing forward many old meritorious Subalterns, who as the present have not the least prospect of getting pro-

I [" Militer" (Trinidad), writes—" If a soldier is tried by Court-Martial (say General or otherwise) for a crime of which he is innocent, at the same time appearance militating against him, and he receives punish militating against him, and no reverves pursuament, waste is his best method of seeking redress, in case that afterwards the guilty party is found out?"—A correct representation of all the circumstances to his Commanding Officer, and, if necessary, to the General at the inspection.

To "E. G." (Mount Radford, Earler).—No abatement is allowed: in many cases quite the contrary.

Our friend "Bon Brace" shall have attention next week: after which he will best judge of the policy of 'urther agitation. We are at his service.

In reply to a correspondent, "Capt. T.," in Canada,

'The Christian Soldier's March, and Redocate and Musjackets," by Matross (alias Ubique), are to be had at Matchard's, Piccadilly, and at Seeley's. "The Réveillé" is in the press and will shortly appear.

"A Guernseyman" should have authenticated his letter: what has Mr. Roebuck to do with the matter? at all events an explanation from Major, General W. Napier in ancwer to anonymous and ex-parte statemente could hardly especied. o "An Old Soldier" shilled address himself to the Score he expected.

tary at the East India House, if his relative belonged to the Company's Army.

Erratum in our last, p. 105, 2d col., l. 8 from the bottom, for "farmers" read former.

The Back Numbers and Volumes of the N. and M.

Cazette can be had only at the Office in Catherine-street Arand. The volumes for the years 1837, 1838, 1839, 840, 1841, 1842, and 1843, 1f. 17s. Ed. each, half-bound Subscribers in Ireland may obtain this Paper from Mr. Yates, Library, Grafion-street, Dublin; and in Scotland from Mr. Redpath, High-street, Edinburgh.

Naval & Mailitary Gazette.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1844.

On the promulgation of the New Naval Regulations, we submitted our observations that a happy opportubity existed to increase the pay of the Lieutenauts in separate command, as they necessarily incur expenses for their table for beyond the First Lieutenants of rated ships, whose mess does not exceed the amount of that of the junior members. But if, under such circumstances, the pay of a Lieutenant-Commander of one of Her Majesty's vessels under the Admiralty, is considered throughout the Navy as inadequate to the support of his rank and command, how far less is his brother Officer remunerated when in the command of a Revenue Cruizer under the Treasury ! We admit the possibility, with the greatest precaution, of the Treasury Lieutenant in command of a first-class cutter, realising at the expiration of two years, by pay, table-money, and pursery allowances, the day-pay viz., Ils. per diem of the Admiralty Lieutenapt; but the latter is certain of his quarterly bill at the end of eightyfour days, and on his joining his vessel may draw the first quarter ig advance, which accommodation proves to many the ready-banded friend so much needed on a first About. Not so the Tressury Lieutenant ; he must wait | duties, and the firm yet mild rule over a people lately in full four months on his first appointment to a Resence Cruizer, she having, on an average, a month's pay in arrear on each quarter pay-day, before he receives a fraction. As figures, however, draw the mind's eye more powerfully than words, we will place the advantages of the one against the disadvantages of the other.

Admirally Lieulenans,
On duty, 11e. per diem.
On leave, 11e. per diem.
In hospital, 11e, per diem.
In hospital, 11e, per diem.
In advance on first appointment.

No stamps required for quarterly hill.
No detertion of manual testing stopped.
Reparate stamps required for each measy.

terly hill.

No detention of payment of Pay detained at the last quarter quarterly bill at the end of the of the year, until pursery acof the year, until pursery ac-counts are passed, six to eight weeks after it is due.

By all these delays of payment the Treasury Lieutenant is inconvenienced, even if in health, and on constant duty, to receive 9s. per diem, whilst his brother Officer, the Admiralty Lieutenant, is in full receipt of his 11s. per diem, at the expiration of every eighty-four days, and his bill can be cashed immediately at any place; whilst the Naval Lieutenant under the Treasury may be exposed to a further vexatious delay by the absolute power of the Superintending Officer of the district to which the cutter belongs, to keep her at sea whilst the order for the payment of her crew remains in the Custom-house.

But surely the Lords of the Tressury an dAdmiralty are not aware that the Licutenants of revenue cruisers are kept months, in some instances twelve, after the passing of their annual pursery accounts, before an order is sent for the payment of the balance bill, which may be from 1e. 6d. to 2s. per diem, and is supposed, with the 9s. previously received, to make up 10s. 6d. or 11s. per diem, the pay of the Admiralty Lieutenant.

We doubt, even with the greatest precaution, whether the Treasury Lieutenant will ever in a secondclass cutter receive more than 10s. 6d. per diem, a reduction of four or five men having recently been made in first and second-class cutters; hence the hardship of the Lieutenauts in command of these ressels not having been included with their brother Officers in the Coast-Guard in the increase of le. per diem additional pay-a hardship so apparent, that one would suppose the gallant Captain at the head of that department has only to represent it to the consideration of the Lords of the Treasury to have it instantaneously redressed—the more so, when there are not more than twenty-five Lieutenants in such command. And are twenty-five shillings per diem to be the pecuniary barrier against the redress of the greatest grievance under which the Naval Lieutenants of the Revenue Service suffer and complain?

Tux recent motion of thanks from both Houses of Parliament to Sir Charles Napier and his gallant Army, elicited commendation from men of all parties, warm, cordial, and aincere. Where the voice of Parliament and the nation has been nearly unanimous in its thanks, it may seem idle in us to notice an absurd petition, presented from a few individuals by Mr. Bright to the House of Commons. However party may sway opinion, we really are surprised that persons can be found so obture as not to distinguish between the thanks due to our soldiers for gallant conduct in the fleid, and approbation of the policy of those who sent them into the field. We are prepared not only to join in the general preise of that heroic veteran, Sir Charles Napter, and of his soldiers, but to approve of the subjugation of Scinde, and every measure consequent thereon.

From information on which we have perfect reliance Scinde is already enjoying the first fruits of upright and fostering Government. An admirable system of local police has been uncetentationaly, but generally introduced and supported out of the revenue of the country. The perfect certainty of the security of preperty, the certain detection and immediate punishment of crime, the total abalition of slavery, the opening of trade by relinquishing the endless demands of transit and other a state of turbulence from insufferable oppression these have made the Scindians at once, and without hesitation, willing subjects of the British empire.

We again and again repeat, that the unusually sickly season of 1843 has been, under Providence, the most unexpected means of testing the feelings of the people of Scinds towards those who deposed the Ameers. The Army for many months had been reduced to a mere handful....the whole camp was an hospital; but not one solitary popular expression of even dislike was expressed, and not an outbreak throughout all Scinde. This one fact ought to convince the people of England that Scinde felt already our rule a blessing.

THE accounts we receive from Ireland are not such as to remove our fears of an insurrection. The lull in the storm is not always indicative of its approaching cosession, and we have reason to believe that at no period ought our troops to be more vigilant. The history of rebellion and insurrection, in all countries, teaches us that an Army, however brave, however numerous, unless in a constant state of preparation for attack or defence, is liable to be cut off and overwhelmed. It is impossible to credit that the spirit of disaffection has ceased, and that the present silence of the Repeal leaders is indicative of any change in opinion. We feel satisfied that the main body of the population is not only organised under the Repeal wardens, and other officers, but that a large quantity of concealed arms has been provided; in short, that the Repealers are abiding their time. At present they are restrained by O'Counell, but it will not be in his power to keep so unruly and turbulent a people long undercontrol, for they will find that his promises are vain ; that Repeal of the Union is as distant, may more distant, than it seemed to be a year ago; and that, despairing of the success of agitation, they must yield, or try the issue at arms. We all know what disappointed masses will attempt: even though the contest is unequal, these deluded men will be induced to try it. " Furor army ministrat."

We again intreat our soldiers to be vigilant; to keep themselves aloof from all association with Repealers; to distrust their peaceable and conciliating bearing; and to be prepared by obedience, reserve, and sobriety, to effectively prove their loyalty.

It is said that during next summer one or two large Camps of Exercise will be formed in Ireland. We can remember when Camps were regularly formed almost every year, and the most excellent results followed, by teaching men and Officers those duties which a barrack life never can. The troops in the United Kingdom have seldom any opportunity afforded to them of learning to act in large bodies of all arms; and this defect in our Military system has probably been, under present circumstances. rendered more obvious, and means will henceforth be taken to remedy the defect.

Wz have not had, of late, time or space to devote to what we consider a singular case of merit being overlooked in the Indian Army. We allude to the Commanding Officers of the 42d and 43d Regiments of Bengal Native Infantry, who have not been noticed for their pervices in the 2d Infantry Brigade of General Nott's Army. A very tardy justice was done to Lieutenant-Colonela Brown and Simmons, of Her Majesty's 41st Regiment, and we had hoped that equal, though tardy, justice would have been shown towards Major Clarkson and Major Nash, of the 42d and 43d Bengal Native Infantry. These two regiments had been actively employed about five months before Her Majesty's 41st reached Candahar. The 2d Brigade of Infantry was formed in May, 1842, and from that time, the duties, we believe, were shared alike by Her Majesty's 41st, and the Company's 42d and 43d Regiments. We happen to know that the 43d formed the Bear Guard of the Attiring Army-s post of honour-from Candahar, from Ghuance, from Isteliff, from Cabool, and from Jellalabad. Assuredly the Majors

* Compandors fit Charles Napler, in the debate on the state of release this week, said—" I look upon the Repeal to be perfect seasons, and I will say that, when Mr. O'Conseil agitates that matter, be done not himself believe in its pointfullty!!?"

of the 42d and 43d Bongal Native Infantry ought to receive like honours as Majors Brown and Simmota. We believe that General Nott is the person to apply for the conferring of these honours—and in justice to his own service he ought to do so. We, however, cannot see Major Clarkson and Major Nash passed by, and not state their claims. We would advise these Officers to memorialise, and samex to their memorial, documents proving their plaims.

Wz have the very beet authority for contradicting rumour, that serious disputes had taken place between Sir Henry Pottinger and Admiral Sir William Parker in China: the report of a dispute with Lord Saltoun is equally groundless.

WE have for a series of years, and at infinite trouble, fought the battle of the old War Officers in our columns until we have begun to despair of any results; we, how ever, give insertion to the following letter, and should be happy to assist the writer's views in anything we thought might conduce to the object; but we much fear that at present there are no hopes of success. As to the General Order issued thirty years ago at Bordeaux, that may indeed be called an " old almanack," and no hope should be grounded on anything of that kind: every one knows that these valedictory addresses to troops are mere matters of form meaning no more than a passing compliment for the moment, and never thought of afterwards. With respect to the project of Officers meeting to petition, the fate of a previous movement of that kind ought to warn from the attempt; beside, we think such a step would be to com promise the dignity of the Officers who should adopt it; their claims are perfectly well understood and notorious and if they were now to petition, and their prayer be not attended to, they would be in a worse position than at present. Now they have the privilege to rail at the mushroom honours of the day, and to console themselves with the consciousness of having done their duty without

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gazette, SIR,—Permit me to draw your attention to the lettere of Badajos in the United Service Mayasine for the present month on the subject of a Peninsular medal.

His suggestion of petitioning Her Majesty on the subject, and calling on the Field Marshal the Commander-in-Chief to present it, is worthy of serious consideration: to carry it out, I should recommend that the Officers who serve in the Peninsula, now in London, should convene a meating for the purpose of preparing a petition and appointing a Committee. The petition should be made public, and the Officers scattered over the kingdom invited to send in their written sanction, authorizing the Committee to attach their names to it.

The kindness the Duke has invariably shown in beston ing his favours on old and meritorious Officers who served under him, sanctions the belief of Badajos, that he will not forget his farewell promise to his Army.

I need not say how much your advocacy will be approinted by the neglected band. Remember, Sir, "B dat, qui oito dat." I am, &c... ui oito dat." I am, &c., SALAM annex the Duke's farewell General Order.

"GENERAL ORDER. Bordeaus, 14th June, 1814.
"1. The Commander of the Forces, being upon the point of returning to England, again takes this oppor-tunity of congratulating the Army upon the recent events which have restored peace to their country and to

The share which the British Army has had in producing these events, and the high character with which the Army will quit this country, must be equally satisfactory to every individual belonging to it, as they are to the Commander of the Porces; and he trusts that the troops will continue the same good conduct to the last.

" 3. The Commander of the Forces once more requests the Army to except his thanks.

"A Although circumstances may alter the relations in which he has atood towards them, so much to his satisfaction, he assures them that he shall never coaps to feel the warmest interest in their welfare and honor; and that he will be at all times happy to be of any service to those to whose conduct, discipline, and gallantry, their country is so much indebted."

Tuz following sensible letter so completely embrace the grievances of the Commanders of the Royal Navy, as to leave us little to say by way of recommendation or comment. By promotion to the rank of Commander, it has been too generally considered, that an important step towards attaining the highest position in the Navy has been gained; but with how little truth, the " Old Ne plus Ultra " clearly demonstrates. Unless the Officer is fortunuts enough to possess very peculiar slaims, or strong interest, the road to advancement becomes virtually shut to him the moment he is placed on the Confinanders' list; and, if he has passed the boundary line of age which renders him incligible for a coast guard appointment, he may, on obtaining his promotion, consider himself, shelved. A glance at the Commanders' list shows that a select few are all that can expect commands; but even if, for once, he obtains a ship, the chances are against his being paid off a richer man, but very much in favour of his having, while serving, incurred serious liabilities with his agent. Such being the case, a change for the better appears loudly called for; and we hope the arguments in our correspondent's letter may meet with the attention they deserve.

To the Editor of the Naval and Military Gazette.

Str.,—Admiring the frank, impartial, and independent spirit of your Gazette, I am induced to renew my correspondence on some points connected with the interests of the Nava man the Navy, more especially as touching the peculiar and isolated position which Commanders occup-in Her Majosty's Service. Assuredly there exists not of the face of the globe a country more dependent upon Naval pre-eminence than Great Britain. Our Military strength, whenever and wherever it has been called into action, has abundantly proved that by land as well as by sea, the sons of Britain are of one and the same material and will invariably present the same deuntless front to their country's foes. It may nevertheless be truly said that to our Naval superiority, with all its attendant advantages, England owes her very existence as a great nation Some of my contemporaries may well remember the period in our history, when on the opposite coast in the narrows of the British Channel, the heights were whitened with the countless tents of the vannted "Army of England;" and many were the fears and misgivings of multitudes of our population, notwithstanding the armed hosts which the midst of all this alarm, a mere squadron of British ships of war were sufficient to preserve our native homes in security. That which proved a panic to our nation, was but aport to our brave seamen: for not a vessel of the fog's assembled armeds of prasms and gunboats, &c. &c., oald move from under the close and strong cover of their numerous forts, without capture or destruction Nor would it be difficult to prove that (humanly speaking ) but for the intervention of Britain's Navy, the great Goliath of Gaul might have established his undisputed empire over the Western, if not the entire world.

Well, then, it becomes Great Britain to cherish this right arm of her strength. In nothing, perhaps, may this bedinors essentially accomplished then by affording due enconrecement and impartial reward to merit; for by this alone may we hope to see raised up future Nelsons and s, &co., as a sure defence to our native land. In my last" I gave the fullest cradit to the present Naval administration for their landable desire to remade the n for their laudable desire to remedy t abuses which have crept into existence under their p cessors, and which have materially altered the features, and bid fair, if not attended to in time, to impair the character of our Navel Service.

The rule established respecting Commanders not being eligible for promotion without two years' active service affect, obtained sanction under Lord Melville's premiership at the Admiralty, a few years after the close of the wer. Whether our present able and distinguished sonior sen Lord then held a seat at the board I know not; but, judging from his admitted talent, and watchful conservation of the Navy's interests. I would fain hope he had no sels of that day. share in the coun share in the counsels of the uny.

If this disqualifying law had been merely prospective, it might have been discouraging, but it would not have been uniust: but when it artended over the whole list, and included those who had been Commanders years before, and according to previously-existing rule were before, and according to provide or promotion, then it mudd in every way duly qualified for promotion, then it mudd no argument to prove that a stretch of mere power, as pelpably unjust as it is unsound in policy, has been exerqueed to the prejudice of a meet Officers, whose was asset cised to the prejudice of a most meritorious class of Officers, whose war services and loyal fortearence, if faith-fully pourtrayed, would ensure them the warmest approval of a grateful country. But even as it regards the junior Commanders, the policy of such a rule is very questionable, whilst the grievance and consequent injury to the profession is undeniable. To withhold the advancement of an Officer who evaded of refused setive employ. would have been both politic and just; but to consign on sees the whole body of Commanders to this conditional disqualification, is to make misfortune, and not demerit, the victim of this sweeping official mandate. At no period has there been found a lack of Officers willing and desirous to command ships; even in war time it required some interest, or extraordinary merit, to obtain a command; but in peace, nothing short of a glauship with aupreme power, or some equivalent good fortune, can hope to secure this favour. For what real purpose this od has there been found a lack of Officers willing and regulation has obtained sanction and been perp would be difficult to determine, unless inde ad to secure a greater amount of the limited petroange of peace esta-blishments in the hands of power; whilst the wound inflicted is rankling and deep, producing mortification and disgust. One cannot lungine a reason why so marked and invidious a distinction as exists between our One cannot imagine a reason why so Army and Navy should ever have received approval, or have been allowed to continue so long; and well would that patriot deserve of his country who should be the first to remove this stumbling-block out of the way. For illustration sake, we will suppose (no uncommon thing) illustration sake, we will suppose (he uncommon thing) two isde starting together, perhaps from the same family, into the busy scenes of life; the one enters the Army, the other the Navy. The one, in due time, attains his Majority, by purchase or otherwise, without ever having been brought in front of a fee; the other, through many a blood-stalled acene, bearing his scers about him, gains the rank of Commander. What follows? The one is sure in due time, if he lives, to have his name enrolled in the list of Generale; the other, if he has not mowerful interest, will remain a Commander all his days.

Murely, it is in vain that the progress of science and the erts should be introduced and oberished in our Navai Departments, if that encouragement be withheld which should stimulate to emulation, and be the means of raising up future effective sone of Britain's glory.

In vain shall we improve in gunnery and machinery, or apply the vast power which ad lence has brought to our bands; the weapons these afford, however impossion themselves, can be wielded as effectively by other enlightened nations at by ourselves; and the wer-struggle alone, which sooner or later must come, will decide which sooner or later must come, will decide which among the rival powers have most improved these advan-tages. It is not in these that Britain's strength ever did or ever will consist; but in the animus that gives energy to the whole, and establishes her vainly-disposed empire on the ocean-in the ()fficers who direct, and in the brave sons that man the wooden walls of Old England. Whatever may be the number of our ships, or the promptitude with which the favoured few, rich in patronage, may present themselves to run the rapid race of promotion, let but this spirit be wanting, and of England it may be said, her glery is departed. I am no crusker, Sir, but a true lover of that profession which, from no other causes than those already glanced at, has doomed fas to an unwilling s professional inactivity, and left me no life of hopele alternative but to subscribe myself,

London, Feb. 12. AN OLD "NE PLUE ULTRA," R.N.

In perusing the following letter, our readers will at once acknowledge that the writer is actuated by the most humane and praiseworthy motives, and that he apraka from the "fulness of the heart." His arguments, hazed on religious motives, are unanswerable, and we hope that they will make the impression he desires. We cannot, however, agree with blm in the inferences he has drawn with respect to the late duel between Colonel Fawcett and Mg. Munro; as, in this particular case the prejudices of the world could not be brought forward as a defence or excuse for such an action. We armly believe that had the provocation been a great deal more than what we understand it was, Society would have cared little about the family quarrels between two men connected by marriage

O' Mn. Entron,—The achievements of the Army of Scind have justly called forth the achievations of the world, they archronicled in brass, and the posterity of England will long self in triumsh over the bright pages that record the victories of he children; but, if grateful to a nation these victories, how doubt in triumph over the bright pages that record the victories of her children; but, if grateful to a nation these victories, how doubly dear do they become to these who shared in the dangers of the day, to feel, and know that, however linked to the national givey, they will be able, individually, to hand down to their day noendants, a taugible and potent proof of their presence, on each of those evenful days. A mudal has been awarded, and there is not a soldier of the empire, who does not glory in their reverse. But to whom are they indebted for this granious recompense? I hast it be attributed to the Governor-General of India, or to the illustrione Duke at the head of the Army? But it matters not, it is done, the Rubicon is passed, a protedent has been established, and the veterans of the Poticanala may now holdly some forths, and crave their mighty Chief, to advocate their cause with Her Mest Graciess Highest for a like boos. Let, therefore, Br. Editor, a position he prospering set forth the emidation which such a reward segmenter is the heart of every honest esidier, tril how it must kindle in the heart of every honest esidier, tril how it must kindle in the heart of every youth, when he sphelde on the breat of the veterna head, now emerging from the shades of obscerity, and abset to be embodied, a symbol of their glory, a resond of their honestrates have been in the Paninaula, and let us trust to his Grace to do the remainder, for he wishing hold us, in his furswell additus, that he would 'be at all they had us, in his furswell additus, that he would 'be at all they had us, in his furswell additus, that he would.' "Rapales."

and would probably have bestowed honour and praise on Colonel Fawcett if he had refused a challenge under such circumstances. As Mr. Munro is still amenable to the law, we will not say anything that might henceforth act to his prejudice; but with respect to his second, he has had his trial and heen acquitted, in which we think he has been very lucky. Most likely the details of his misfortunes, by his counsel, had some influence on the jury. We bineerely pity that gentleman's situation, but we must acquit Society of exercising any despotism in this case. Whatever Mr. Grant suffers, he has no one to blame but himself. If he could not effect a reconciliation between persons, so nearly connected-separated by a hasty word-he should have at once declined going out in such a cause, and thus have acted the part of a true friend. If Mr. Munro could not have procured a second, there would have been no duel.

To the Kattor of the Naval and Milliary Gasette.

Sin, - Wore it only necessary to advance temporal motives for the inhibition of that deadly sin, duelling, it would suffice to call attention to the melancholy facts narrated by Mr. Grant's council, at that gentleman's trial last week, by which he appears to have been sunk to the utmost misery and degradation. Cast off by all his relatives, and denuded of honourable employment, and without resources any kind it would seem; marked as the friend of him who shot his brother-in-law in a duel-fairly conducted, though unfortunately concluded,--Mr. Grant's position as a man of bonour and sensitive feelings must be so cruelly painful, that to denote its intensity by mere words it is impossible, -it can be felt only,anguish cannot be deploted, yet great as his sufferings must be, what can they after all be in comparison with his still more unfortunate friend, Mr. Munro, those of whose earthly comfort and prosperity lie entombed with poor Fawcett,—doubtless a most unwilling and deeply labented sacrifice to the despotism of society, which drives men first to the commission of a crime, and afterwards with equal rigour not only closes its arms to the offender, but fromus down the poor wretch to utter desolation and destruction, cutting off every avenue of sympa-thy and pity towards him who has religiously followed its behests instead of manfully combating its prejudices, and following the mild precepts of a moreiful Saviour, who alone can truly sympathise with erring mortals, for whom his precious blood was shed on the cross, and to whom alone the heavily burdened can look for comfort and relief.

From my soul I pity these unfortunate gentlemen, towards whom society comports itself much too severely; but, as out of evil sometimes issues good, so I trust will their melancholy position prove a baseon to others, whose rashness and folly might impel them to appeal to the duello, and run counter to the express command of God, who says, "Thou shalt do no murder."

An author of no mean repute, in talking of duelling, says, "Let us consider negative justice in regard to the bodie This forbids us to do wrong and violence, the of men. highest degree of which is killing the body, and is the sin forbidden in the sixth Commandment, and which means, Thou shalt neither by open violence, in defiance of the laws of God and man, nor by any other private means whatever, take away the life of thy neighbour; and again, whoever excites or prompts another to such a pitch of anger and revenge, or promotes dissension between others, he ceftainly cannot be guiltless, but must expect part of the punishment, if it ends in murder. Duel fighting in private quarrels, are breaches of the Sixth Commandment, because disallowed by Divine Authority; consequently the guilt of murder is chargeable upon persons engaging in them; for the plea of self-preservation is utterly foreign to the utterly foreign to the conditions and circumstances of him who formally gives and accepts a challenge, and adds to the sin of making an outragoous attempt upon his neighbour's life, by throwing himself unnecessarily into the utmost danger of losing not only his own life but his soul also; for those who die in such engagements go into the other world not only void of charity, but glowing with wrath and fury; and when these qualities have the last possession of their souls, what society of spirits can be which their souls are qualified for in the next world ! And, provided they do not perish in the conflict, is it worth a man's while to run the heard of suffering eternal misery for the sake of redressing an injury or resenting an affront! Consequently, all the arguments of human invention to countenance such a wickedness, must be evenive and deluding; and to fear men more than God is the most dishonourable misapplication and degeneracy There is nothing which Religion does more severely forbid than this revenging of injuries in a private way; nor is there anything more strictly enjoined than forbearance and forgiveness; so much so, that we cannot without hypocrisy say our daily prayers, unless we be in charity with all the world; therefore, whoever engages in duels through fear of suffering little calumnies and re-proaches, which, in the judgment of the wisest men, are not really such, does at once forfelt all just protentions to true courage, honour, and generouty of mind, and all claim and title to eternal life. If the guilt of this transgression be taken from the indignity offered unto God, or from the injury done to man, or from the punishments expressly denounced against it, or from the angulah of horror which it is and to leave upon the mind, we should find resson to assign it a place amongst the loudest of crying sins, for it is ever followed close by perplexity, oppression, and despair; and that weight of confusion, which natural conscience scarcely ever fails taying upon such sinuars, must be increased by the expression of God's indignation. The Lord abhors the blood-thirsty, has expressly forbid the showing any mercy or compassion to such and will sceept of no satisfaction for his life—for, in the image of God made he man. Besides, there are special aggravations in the injury done to man, as well as the indignity thereby offered to God; other injuries may be repaired, or admit of some antisfaction; but this is utterly irreparable, tiepriving the sinner once for all of every temporal satisfaction whatever, proving fatal to his soul as well as body; consigning him to the first and second death, by depriving him of that space to repent which might have been suffi-cient to the accomplishment of his salvation; or, if it should not fall upon him under a state of impenitence, and press him down into everlasting destruction, yet, must the weight of it, even in relation to this view of that sternal state, fall heavily upon him; for, who can bear the thoughts of being thrown beadlong into the other world instead of moving thither through the common course of Nature and Progidence? Even the best of men would be glad of a few minutes at the last, to review and mourn over their miscarriages and defects; for a little space of time in the conclusion of their lives to prepare them for their appearance before the glorious and unspotted pre-sence of God; and if these advantages be so desirable, how grating must that injury be which deprives men of them? Shall they, then, escape the Almighty's justice, them? Shall they, then, except the Almighty's justice, who thus dare to wrest as it were the power of life and death out of the hand of God ?-No, indeed, for every age produces sufficient evidence that no murderer can esc His just wrath. Let us, therefore, take care neither to snoourage nor contribute to that contention which may take away life; and so shall our bands be innecent from blood that is shed against the commandment of God.—I UN ANCIEN SOLDAT.

U. S. Club. Feb. 19.

THE Regulations of the Army contain a scale of the prices of commissions, as the exact sums to be paid and received; and in page 50, two extracts are given from the Act, 49 Geo. III., cap. 126, sees. 7 and 8, denouncing beavy penalties against those who shall " pay or agree to pay," or who shall " take, accept, or receive, directly or indirectly, by any device, &c., beyond the regulated price or value," in the purchase or sale of a commission in Her Melegty's Forces. In the same page we have as follows :

22.—" It is hereby declared, that in all cases where these legulations shall appear to the General Commanding-in-Chief to ave been infringed or evaded, the promotion or exchange will be at once cancelled."

And in the next following paragraph (23) there is a further declaration to support the law in prevention of such infringement.

In the Appendix to the Report of the Military Commission we find....

Q. 1999.—" The Regulation as to price is not strictly adhered to at present, is it? No, I apprehend not."

The Adjutant-General replied, " He know that wealthy men bribed with large sums the old Officers to retire, and that few commissions were sold for their Regulation price He was aware that poorer Officers were deterred putting the impediment of offering but the regulated price in the way of the promotion of their more wealthy juniors; and the Commissioners were equally aware of the consequence, namely, the placing the monopoly of promotion in the hands of the wealthy."

The Adjutant-General had been advising the increase of the price of a Lieutenent-Coloneley of Infantry to 6,000/. (answer to Q. 1902.) The following exestion and answer are numbered 1912:-

answer are numbered 1912:—

"Would not the opnequence of such an asymmetation of price as that he a check to promotion, excepting in the case of one, two, or half-a-denes individuals, who might be able to afford to give those very large prices for commissions? It appears to me that it would be likely to have that effect, but I must at the same time observe, that even with the junior rapids of the Arps, as far as my humble experience goes, and even amongst those who are not themselves table to purchase, a change of any hind in the regimental society to unpopular as he who preclaims his determination mor to exceed the regulated price, thereby standing as an obstance to promotion by plumbase in the regiment to which he belongs."

Q. 1905.—"At precent the power Officer is protected by the Regulation; being the Senior Officer for purchase, no more wealthy Officer can purchase over his head?—That is the regula-

Such is the cautious answer of the Adjutant-General, who had already pretty plainly told them that such was not the practice.

not the practice.

Q. 1924.—"Therefore, if the other augmentions which you have made were acceded to, you would not increase the price of commissions, having reference to the general benefit of the Army?—My favourite arrangement being that of encouraging the old Officers to rettle, and having an impression that regimental promotion, upon any terms, is not so unpopular in regiments as many believe it to be, I am not sere that advancing the price of commissions would, taking the Service collectively, be an unpopular measure in it."

Q. 1924.—"But would it not be a memopoly of the honours and promotion of the Army, to enable only a few of the most wealthy classes to purchase reak, excluding a great number of the most respectable classes who might not be able to pay those exceptiant prices !—"Itaat is the great difficulty attending the measure."

Q. 1938.—" Then, if I understand you rightly, notwithstanding measure."

Q. 1938.—"
Then, if I understand you rightly, notwithstanding the inconveniences which it has been stated would attend it in exclading certain persons, you would still rather have the advance of the price of commissions than not :—I do not think the advance of the price of commissions as a benefit could even be a just completed to the exclusion of the class of persons which his Henry Hardinge has described from a participation in the honours and benefits of the Service. There can be no doubtent, taking them as a body. They are an useful not respectable to. that, taking them as a body, they are as useful and respectable a class of Officers as any other in the Service."

It is to be regretted that the Commissioners did not propose a remedy to the evil they so plainly saw to exist in the present sale of commissions, in fact to the highest bidder, for the protection of the poorer Officers, who are deterred by the fear of that unpopularity, so well known to and described by the Adjutant-General, from holding out with the Regulation price, and having it thrown at them that they are atopping the promotion of the regiment-a cry in which are joined not only the parties immediately interested by being actually promoted, but also their juniors of each grade, who, dazzled by the idea of getting a step, never stop to consider how or how far the encouragement of such a system may remotely injure their own prospects by-and-by...

Our limits compel us to break off, but we shall resume this important subject in our next.

Har Majesty and her Royal Consort still maintain a strict seclusion, which is only interrupted by visits from Her Majesty's nearest relations.

Her Majesty, with the most gracious kindness and consideration, has granted an apartment in Hampton Court Palace to the Misses Pottinger, sisters of Sir Henry Pottinger, Bart., and also to the orphan family of Sir Lionel Smith, Bart., and Lady Smith.

The whole of the unused cut pieces of bread collected throughout the various departments of the Royal residence, daily amounting to a very large quantity, are in future to be given to the inmates of the several almahouses within the borough of Windsor, amount-ing to nearly thirty. The distribution, which commenced on Thursday week, will take place on three days in each week, and will considerably add to the comforts of the poor recipients of the kindiness of the Sovereign.

The Queen has appointed John Grey Porter Atthill. Req., to be her Majesty's Attorney General for the Island of St. Lucia.

The Queen Downger has appointed the Murchioness of Ormande to be one of the Ladies of her Alajesty's Bedchamber, in the place of the Counters of Mayo, deceased.

The Leipsic Gazette, a Journal generally cancious and well informed upon Home affaire, states that the late Duke Ernest of Saxe Coburg and Gutha, has left personal property to the amount of twelve millions of florins, and has not disposed by any will or testament of this large fortuns. According to the laws of inheritance in Sugony, personal property left by a father is equally divided between the children, and there only being the now reigning Duke Ernest, and His Royal Highness. Prince Albert, the latter's chars will be about six hundred thousand pounds, if the statement proves correct.

The Duke of Beautyrt, when out hunting on Tucaday, was thrown from his horse, and fractured a rib.

The Countess of Cardigan has arrived in town from

The Countess of Cardigan has arrived in town from Deene Park, Morthemptonshire, but returns early next week, and her Ledyship intends to reside there till Easter. Cours of Common Pleas.—The case of Lord Paget v. the Earl of Cardigan, is fixed for Tuesday next.

Captain Strange, late of 13th Light Dragoons, who escaped from the Military Lunatic Asylum, Fort Clarence, Chatham, on the evening of the 15th of last January, has been discovered, in custody, at the town of London, in Chambire, a distance of 160 miles from London. London.

Installation of a Military Enight of Windsor....The patallation of Days. A. W. Cassen, formerly of the 95th foot, who supposited to the vacancy constitued by the lunion of the late Capt. Fornyhough less month, took place during the merning service at St. George's Chapel on Monday; the Rev. W. Canning, the canon in resi-dence, officiated at the ceremony. The newly-appointed dence, officiated at the ceremony. The newly-appointed Knight was introduced by Capt. M'Lackien and Emeige Lamb, the two junior Knights in attendance.

Sir E. L. Bulwer, Bart .- From a notification in the Gazette of Tuesday night it appears that this gentleman, in compliance with a direction contained in the will of his late mother, Elizabeth Berbara Bulwer-Lytton, of Knehworth, will bereafter use the surname of Lytton, in addition to and after that of Bulwer.

At a meeting at the Duke of Richmond's, on Saturday last, his Greec was appointed President, and the Duke of Buckingham and Chandes Vice-President, of a Matro-politan Society forused for the Protection of British Agricultura.

Windsor Military Steeple Chases. - The Military steeple chases at Windsor, which will come of over as excellent line of country, selected by the stewards, in the immediate vicinity of the town, have been fixed to take place on Easter Tuesday, the 9th of April, and the following day. The stewards are Viscount Seeham (1st Life Guards), Lord Glamls (Grenadier Guards), and Albert Ricardo, Esq., of Titness Park. There will be five races during the two days; and even at this early period upwards of forty entries have been announced.

Dublin Garrison Plays .- The Military amateurs commenced their dramatic campaign with considerable color on Wednesday evening, the 14th instant, at the Adelphi Theatre; and although some of the "stars" which shed their brilliant light over the scene last season, had, like the celebrated "Captain Smith," the perfidious lover of the celebrated "Captain Smith," the perfidious lover of the "unfortunate Miss Buily," taken their departure to "country quarters"—Mr. Conolly and Captain Bulton amongst the number - vet the heat for recruits was most aucocraful; and the Adjutant-General commanding in the green-room has no reason to be ashamed of his muster, nor need entertain any apprehension that the members of nor need entertain any apprenension that the members of this corps will be ranked amongst the "awkward squad." At a few minutes after half-past eight o'clock, 8ir Edward Blakeney, accompanied by Lady Blakeney and his Staff, entered the theatra, which were a signal for "God save the Queen;" His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, and Patron, having (we deeply regret to state), intimated to the Manager his inability to attend the evening's amusements through indisposition. The entertainment for the even-ing was commenced by the delivery of the following witty and pointed prologue, by Captain Leicester Smith, who is also the author :-

"All the world's a stage, and all the men And women merely players." Is it then strange to behold our Theaplan flag unfurl'd, And us prepared to act like all the world! strange that our leader's cry. like Hall's of yors, "Once more unto the breach, dear friends, once more," should tempt us to these boards—with beating heatts—where "each men in his turn plays many parts!" If strange, 'this true! Yes, here sgain we stand Or rull—the judgment lyir g in your hand. Our trial this—here you as judges sit—If doubts arise, give us the heneft.

Last year the "Houvies" were our leading stars, This year "the Lights"—the Rifler and Hussars. The sit Dragoons have masch'd—yet stay those tearse, We have replaced them with the Fusiliers, Numbers "a," "37," and "61," c
Like last year's snow, have thawed away and gone. What then—wa've "3s," and "56,"
With "$4"—all three well used to mix Numbers "a," "3," and "61,"

Like last year's anow, have thawed away and gone.

What then—we're "Se," and "36,"

With "34"—all three well used to mix
In access theatric. To our Roacian syns

Th' Artillary furnishes some more "great guns."

Whilst to insure you the jocund laugh,

"The' last, not least," "we lean upon the Syary."

All, all, are piedged their atmost powers to tax,
And minle "die with harness on their backs,"

He yours the task to check dull genui's dawn.

Spite of our efforts should it prove too true,

That we but "waste our tedousness on "you,

"Time and the hour run thre' the roughest cay."

The cutertainments were "The Brigand," and the lively farce of "X.Y.Z." Both were admirably well performed. Captsin Frepman Murray was the here of the first piece, and his Allessandro Masseroni was a correct and beautiful piece of acting. Since the departure of and beautiful piece of acting. Since the departure of Captain (now Lieut.-Côl.) Hankey, from amongst his brethren of the buskin, Dublin Garrison could not boast of a Neddy Bray; and therefore the gratification was great, and the astonishment not a little, at finding, in fts representation on Wednesday ovening, that Capt. Everard possesses comic powers of the highest order, and not only lost nothing by comparison with others—professional or amateur—but imparied new and original humour to the character. The following is the cast of the parts in the two pieces:—

The Brigand,—Prisice Bianchi, Governor of Rome, Capt. Guy

The Brigond.—Prisce Bianchi, Governor of Rome, Copt. Goy, ath Fonliure; Abert mud Theodore, Blodents of the French Academy, Nean. A. Chichester, Ath Findlinets, and Mr. Wodelman, 24th Reg.; Elecit, Steward of the College of Arnalph, Mr. Ashey, Cardinel, Secretary. Maj. Best, 24th Reg.; Count Carafin, Mr. Spring, 24th Reg.; Fibio. Capt. Kelty, 34th Reg.; Duke Toflondo, the Banker, Mr. Rigmed, 66th Rider; Allemandro Messarousi, Tan Burkarm, Capt. F. Mutray; Rubaldo, his Lieut., Mr. Tucarens, R.H.A.; Spoicht, Britand, Mr. Gretten, 24th Fostisers; Otheria, cer of Shiri, Mr. Campbell, 66th Rider; Otheria, the Governicit's Rices, Min. Cooke; Matth. Grand, Mr. Sannanani's Wiles, Mr., Res.

rett; Bripanda' Wives, Mrs. Harry, Miss Panson, and the Misses Evenevil. Servents, Prasents, Brigands, Cuesta, Ro., &c.
X.Y.Z.—Capt. Galliard, Capt. Reyanda, 1th Busses; Moddy
Bray, Cupt. Everard, Soth Ridse; Grubbiston, Mr. Beket, St. Yustigers; Ruscias Aldries, Capt. Laug. stin Reg.; Doudde, Capt.
Mailignd, 24th Reg., Ruiph Hompsend, Capt. Hutton, Bith Rog.; Mr. Demephins, Mr. Campell, Soth Ridse; Mr. Rosswithmat, Mr.
Flyming, 24th Reg.; Mr. Fritforia, In Lawyer, Mr. Rosswithmat, Mr.
Flyming, 24th Reg.; Mr. Fritforia, Lawyer, Mr. Rosswithmat, Mr.
Ridse; 18th Waster, Mr. Higaud, Soth Ridse; M. Walter, Mr. Misman, Mis Tunilien; 3d Wajter, Mr. F. Spring, 24th Reg.; Maris, Miss Cooke; Mrs. Mouser, Mr. F. Spring, 19th Reg.; Maris, Dorn Muerweil, Mrs. Barett.

Phillipp's Hobrow Missinger. We were such gratified, a few evenings upp. by hearing the commencement of an

a few evenings age, by hearing the commencement of an illustration of ancient Rebrew Melodies, by Mr. It. Phillips, assisted by Mr. Louis Leo, Mr. Anest Leo, Miss Leu, and Miss Emma Lucombe, at the Music Hall, Store Street. The words (by Mr. Frederic Luw-Hall, Store Street. The words (by Mr. Pressure some names) are modure; but the airs themselves are said to be, under some modifications, those which have been handed down from early periods of Jewish history. As matters of more curiosity, the melodice possess considerable interest to the musical etudent; appendied to which several of them have much intrinsic beauty; and the atyle in which they were executed by Mr. Phillips and the conductors was highly effective. A slight commeting marrative, in their action, materially aided the inserset.

Drawy-Lane.—On Saturday last a most eplendid now Beliet, called "The Beauty of Ghont," was produced:

its reception was most flattering, and it has aluse drawn crowded bouses.

Haymarket .- A new piece, evidently adapted from the French, was brought out at this theatre on Thursday aven-ing, under the title of "first to the Mill." The admi-rable acting of Mudama Vestris in a character pseudarly anitad to h er talents, carried the whole through mos triumphantly.

Barliamentary Analysis.

ROUBE OF LURBS.

THUREDAY, Pam. 92.—Chaholie—The Rav! of Amandam stated, in reply to a quanton from Lord Brougham, that he believed the requirts respecting the late occupation of Otahute by the French were perfectly correct, and added that he had heard of the event with great regret; but, as he had not had time to commandent with the French Government on the subject, he was unprepared with such explanations as would esting their commandent with the French Government on the subject, he was unprepared with such explanations as would esting their country deopted by the Prench journals in amounting it.

Of note Personalities.—Lurd Montracus moved for returns relating to the appointment of the Rev. Hager Warraut to the desacry of Dromore, and in doing so mad statements for the purpose of proving that the deanery was not an appointment of honour solely, but that it was a profitable benefice, and also that the Rev. Gentleman, on account of some evidence of his given before a committee in 1856, in which he declared himself am old Orangeman, was unfat to be appointed to any office either of homour or emolument.—The Marquess of Westynnara, following the bad provedent intelly introduced into their Lordahjus' House by the noble and learned most Acadines of the Opposition bench, torgot himself so far as to attack Lord Monteagie premanaly. In what pranton, he angrily acclaimed, do the noble Lord Linnelf stand with regard to the public purse? A right hop, Gentleman, whose physical powers unfitted hirs for the fulfilment of the distant was producted for him, and the result was, that the noble Lord was now deriving 2000. A year from the substances. gard to the public purse? A right hop, dentleman, whose physical powers unfitted that for the fallment of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the dation of the fallment of the dation of the dati

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

MONDAY, FRE. 19. The demy to Chine. The Synamus an-canced to the House that he had received the following letter

MONDAY, Firs. 19.— The Army to China. ... The Byrarum ammonated to the House that he had received the following letter from Major-General Rr G. Burreit;...

"Matoke-terrane, Devouport, Feb. 16, 1644.—Sir—I have the honour to-acknowledge your letter of, the met Feb., 1645, converge to me the very gratifying and fastering outs of the House of Commons for services readered in China. Permit me in odge my stacere thanks for the very kind mainer in which you have communicated the honour conferred by fine House, but which only reached me a low days above.—I have, Rr...

"To the Right Hon, the Speaker," MG. Burnell, bisj. Gen."

"Titu Raday, Fus. 22.—Underlie.—In answer to his id. (inav, lir S. Para nated that despatches had been received, confirming the report of the fundible compating of Tahirt. He drepy regretted it; the affair had taken places without the previous tanction of the subject, for which there would be fereater abused and opportunity.

ension of the subject, for when there would be Recenter about dead opportunity.

FRIDAY, Fan. 22.—State of Systems.—The adjourned debate on Lord John Russell's motion, a juristy party one, stragged its dionic many hours on Monday, Tapping, Wednesday, Twareiny, End was at laught terminated at Raff-part two this (Setterday) morning, when I division notice june. For Lord J. Ressell's motion, 220; against 2, 24; majority, 59.

Foreign and Colonial Engeligence.

FRANCE,—The chief subject referred to in the papers is the seizure of the Society Islands by the French, "ren-dered necessary," as the Presse says, with its usual accu-racy and liberality, "by the intrigues of the British Con-sule".—The dethronsment of Guesa Pomare is sudden, unexpected, and on every principle of international equity unjustifiable. The Times very justly observes, the out-querors of Leopuld and Frederick can gain no glory from the submission of Queen Fomers; the sictors of Jens, and the submission of taucen Fomars; the sigtors of Jana, and marsugo, and Austorlitz, can resp but little honour from the annexation of Tahitt. A nation of wild man and women, missionaries, concounts, and pretty shells, is hardly worth the cost of a single frights, and still less worth the fuse of a diplomatic squable. We do not doubt but that the examinate in the the little Comments in the cost of the first of the cost of th diplements equabble. We do not doubt but that the cram-ple set by the British Government in the affair of the Sandwich Islands, will be followed by our neighbours in the present instance. The Sandwich Islands were selected and annexed to Great Britain by the capricious investon of an irregronsible Officer. On the notification of this foolish transaction to the Home Government, they were restored to independence, and this country was saved the expense of retaining a possession neither honourable nor profita-Why should not the French Ministry act in the present case as we did in one precisely unalogo Advocated.

Advocated. Ocnoral's Department.—3 Brigadiers, 9 Calonels, 12
Llout. Colonols, 15 First Commandants, 15 Noc. ditte, 36 Captains,

. Liputa. Infibity. -- 31 Rega. of a Balta. each, 93; Batt. of Couts, 1; rovincial Balts., 51.

Provincial Batte, 81.
Catedry.—19 Regs.
Artitlery.—1 Provincial Institute Generals, 8 Melgos, Artitlery.—1 Province General, 8 Inspector Generals, 8 Melgos, 11 Apr.
Commandants, 185 Captains, 1es Lieute, 148 Neo. Lieute, 8
Regs. of Poot Artill, 8 Brigades House Artill, 2 Mountain Brigades.
Employees.

Brigades.

Kupingure.... Director-Geneval, 14 danpectur-Generale, 16 Columnia, 18 Lieut.-Culonels, 8 Majore, 38 Captains, and 37 Lieute. Caradingeros, or Custom-hone Seiders...... 18 Brigades distributed over the quantry.

Nary... Officers on active service....... 12 Captain, 8 Editors, or Commonders, 18 Brigades, or Commonders, 18 Holgaders, or Commonders, 18 Fost Captains, 8 Commonders, 190 Lieuts., 124 Mates.

Particular Commonders and Captains, 20 Commonders, 190 Lieuts., 191 Particular.

PRUSSIA.—Grand Ducky of Pusen, Feb. 4.—Orders have been received here for all Polish emigrants who took part in the revolution, and most of whom have come to us from France, to quit Prüssia within a fortnight. In this order it is positively declared that no petition for be mitigation of the measure will be stituded to. Only those who find it absolutely impossible to settle their affairs here will be allowed to remain a fortnight longer. This measure will very severely affect many emigrants who have resided for years among us. Many have been received into the families of Prussian subjects; others have acquired landed property, which they will now be obliged to sell at any price. Though notice was given to all of them, both on their arrival in Prussia and when they made purshases of linided property, that they sould not by that mount acquire any right of settlement in Prussis, yet an order to quit so suddenly seems very hard. This makes it appear more certain that our Government must have son righty reasons for this step .- Hamburgh Papars, Fab. 13.

HWEDEN .- The latest accounts from Stockholm represent the King of hweden as continuing in a very precarious state; sometimes improving and sometimes relapsing. There is no change in the state of the foot and leg, but the King securs to rally considerably when he passes the night in tranquis sleep, which, however, is so seldom, that those most intimately connected with his royal person entertain the despest fears for the ultimate result. All the little incidents that occur during the illness of the august invalid are the subjects of kind and affectionate curiosity in society. Amongst other items of the sort, it is related that, on the 28th wit., having taken leave of his is related that, on the 29th oil. having taken leave of his family, he said to Count Brahe, "An fait, as jour on want bien un natre pour mourir—o'est l'unniversaire de la mort de Charlemagne." Proving that he still retained his wonderful memory, and his well traceured-up historical lore. He was then persuaded of his approaching dissolution, and nobody appeared to estactain the slightest hope of his recovery. But theroupon he fell into a dose, which lusted four or five hours; after which he felt himself much better, and said, "Co matin je oregois mostrie. Eh bien f do me trompuis, je orne que j'en revisudret; " and the sent morning he ordered the despatches just arrived to be read to him.

Egypto-Death of Il. E. Boghos Boy .- () Pite 10th inst, (writes a friend from Alexandria) this extraordinary man, after an illness of 22 days, breathed his last. He was in his 70th year, and was deservedly esteemed by his Highness the Pacha, for the seal, talent, and abtivity displayed by him during his long service. The next morning he was burled.—Malin Paper.

THE GAMBIA. On 21st Oct., 1848, the long-looked for "Charter" for this Colony was proclaimed by a royal salute and fou-de-joie by the troops in review-order. Governor Ingram dined with the Heads of Departs in Government-house, when the happy event was halled with a flight of 21 rockets amidst the general rejoicings of the evening. The "Charter" confers on the Gambia a Legislative and Executive Council with a Judge. Its final separation from Sierra Leone will enhance the legal and fiscal business of the Settlement. The prompt execution of the minimal law at brief intervals instead of years, will dissipate a den of French and indigenous thieves that have so long and daringly infested the place with impunity.

SENECAL.—M. Bouet, the acting French Governor at Senegal, when he came first out some time back, brought a troop of mounted Arabs from Algiers, to let loose on the natives in their occasional wars in the interior. In a recent successful beligerent excursion, these brigands coolly decapitated their prisoners and tied the bloody heads to their saddle bows, and galloped into Senegal with these dreadful trophies dangling round them, to the utter astonishment of the better-informed French.

East Andia Antelligence.

EAST INDIA HOUSE.
On Wednesday, an adjourned court of the proprietors of India stock was held at the India House, for the purpose of considering the papers relative to Scinde. The chair was taken by Mr. John Cotton, and the minutes of the last court having been read, he rose and said: At the last meeting of this court we ware favoured, and I am sure I may say gratified, with able and forcible speeches from two Hon. Gentlemen who have signed the requisition just read. It is by no means my intention to trouble the court with any lengthened observations of mine upon the statements contained in those speech or on the question of policy that has been pursued in Scinde. The papers which have been laid before the court on this subject embrace all the proceedings that have taken place in Soinds, whether under the government of Lord Auckland, or under that of Lord Ellenborough. Gentlemen, I have no hesitation in saying that I see in those papers great cause for regret in much that has oc-curred. We have now before us the question of the expedition to Afghanistan. That is gone by. But it is to that expedition that we must ascribe the first coercive proceedings towards the Ameers. Then, egain, we have not now before us the question of the retirement of the British forces from Afighanistan, yet, undoubtedly, the account course of coercive proceedings towards the Ameers is necrobed to that step. In both cases, it appears to me, that we ought, in reason and in justice, to make due al-lowance for Governor Generals acting at such a distance from home, under a softing responsibility to do what may seem to them, on the whole, best in view to the great interest committed to their charge. Lord Auckland was of opinion that it was of the utmost importance to the interests of British India to secure a barrier in Affghanlatan, and thence he deemed it necessary to occupy certain positions in Scinde. Lord Ellenborough, on his arrival in India, had to encounter the Affghan disasters; and, determined to withdraw the British Armies from Affghanistan, he, in his view of the interests of India, came to the resolution that he ought not also to withdraw them from Seinde, and thence ensued those negotiations with the Ameers which have ended so fatally to them. Such, gentlemen, I conceive to be the plain facts to be deduced from the papers before us. I do not state them for the purpose of justifying the proceedings of our Indian Government. On the contrary, I repeat that there is much in these proceedings, of which, whilst I consider with respect the patriotic motives which have undoubtedly influenced the Governor-General, atill I cannot approve On the other hand, I am not prepared to concur, as an act of this Court, in the proposed resolution. And I must earnestly entreat the Court to pauce before they pass a resolution which is calculated to paralyse and weaken the Indian Government at the very time it requires all the aupport we can give it. Neither does the resolution appear to me to be necessary; its practical effect is a reference of the subject to the Court of Directors. Gentlemen, the attention of that Court has long been given to the subject. Your Court of Directors have felt, with much regret, that they could not consistently with their much regret, that they could not consistently with their duty, approve of the general course of proceedings in Scinde. Whilst the question of the annexation of Scinde to our possessions in the East was pending, the Court of Directors did not fall to enter into communication with Her Majesty's Ministers, and state their views on the subject, the question, of course, resting with Her, Majesty's Ministers to decide. And now that the question is decided, the Court do not counted that their duty is ended. They were now engaged in reviewing the whole of the proceedings, and, above in reviewing the whole of the proceedings, and, above all, they will give their serious; consideration to the cause of the deposed Ameers, with the view of ameliorating their condition, especially such of them may be free from any imputation of treachery. Under these circumstances, I would aubmit to the Court these circumstance, I would submit to the Court the propriety of abstaining at present, as a body, from expressing an opinion on the subject; they had better, I think, leave the matter in the hands of the Court of I think, leave the matter in the hands of the Court of Directors. Before I sit down, it is proper that I should apprise the Court-that there is, at present, no question regularly before them. The question at the last Court raised by an honourable proprietor previous to the discussion, was for an adjournment; the resolutions proposed by the requisitionists have not, consequently been formally moved. From what I have said, the Court will understand that I think it better these resolutions should not be moved, and that our best course will be to adjourn. Still beg to say that I have not the slightest wish to prevent discussion, which may take place as well on the motion of adjournment as on the resolutions, if they should be formally moved. I am myself prepared to move an adjournment, but I will not do so until the requisitionists have had an opportunity, should they think fit, of first proposing their resolutions. The discussion on the resolutions formerly moved was then resumed; and after Mr. Sullivan had replied, the Chairman moved that the Court do adjourn. Mr. Sullivan withdrew his resolutions, and the motion of adjournment was carried.

Col. Staddart and Capt. Genelly.—We regret to have to state that accounts were yesterday received at the Foreign-office from St. Petersburg, stating that the Russian Envoy at Taheren, in a dispatch dated 15th (27th) Dec., had reported to his government that the information which the had indirectly abstract from the Foreign tion which he had indirectly obtained from the Envoy of the Amer of Bokhara, who had arrived in Tebesan, had only too surely removed all uncertainty as to the tragical end of Capt. Cenelly and Licut. Col. Stoddart, for he positively asserted that the first had been executed for having shown on many occasions great partiality for the Khan of Kokan, at that time at war with Bokhara; and the second in consequence of the discovery of a secret correspondence which he kept up with his countrymen at Cabul, through the channel of Indian merchante established at Bokhara. The Russian Envoy adds, that, although the truth of these details can hardly be questioned, an Envoy from the Schah of Persia, who is about to proceed to Bokhara on a special mission, will be expressly instructed to collect on the spot the most precise information as to the details which accompanied the death of the two. Earlish Officers. The Russian Envoy further positively asserted that the first had been executed for ation as to the details which secompanied the death of the two English Officers. The Russian Envoy further says, that the agent from Bokhara, whether from fear or from delicacy, had evaded Lieut.-Col. Sheil's attempt to obtain information from him as to a catestrophe which must painfully shock the British representative.— Times.

THE LATE LIEUTEMANT-GENERAL SIR GREGORY HOLMAN BROMLEY WAY, KHT., C.B. THIS distinguished Officer, who has been residing at Brighton for several weeks past, was attacked at the close of last week with influenza, and expired on Monday, in the 68th year of his age. We annex an authentic record of last week with influenza, and expired on Monday, in the 68th year of his age. We annex an authentic record of his services:—

Appointed in 1797 Rns. in 26th Foot, and captured on his pagangs to Join that corps in Canada, he was detained prisoner in France one year. The 2d Nov., 1799, he procured a Lieutenancy in 28th Foot, and with that corps served two years in the Mediterranean. The 13th Aug., 1893, he syms promoted to a Company in the 38th, and on the reduction of the corps is that year, placed on half-pay. The 20th Jan., 1893, he obtained à Company in the 38th, and on the reduction of the corps is that year, placed on half-pay. The 20th Jan., 1893, he obtained à Company in the 38th, and served in the expedition to Hanover in 1895, was shipwreaked on the Dutch coast, and taken prisoner. Our his exchange he served in the expedition to Hanover in 1895, was shipwreaked on the Dutch coast, and taken prisoner. Our with Maj., Gen. R. Crawfurd, and subsequently went to Rt. Helena, the Cape of Good Hope, and 8outh America. He served an Ansist. Quarterm. Gen. to the Forces under Lieuk. Gen. White-locke, and at the storming of Buenos Ayres led the right wing of the Infinity brigade. The 38th Feb., 1885, he obtained a Majority in the 29th Foot. He served under the Duke of Wellington in Portugal. He was present at the battle of Roleis, and taken prisoner in storming the heights with the Grenadiers of his corpalite subsequently commanded all the Infinity of Lieut. Gen. Stewards hirjande, which led the advances of the British Army in the actions of the 19th, 11th, and 19th. Jan, at and mear Oporto, passage of the Duty, at Talavera, and en the bill commanding the left of the British position, which was so gallantly carried at the point of the British position, which was so gallantly carried at the point of the British position, which was so gallantly carried at the point of the British position, which was so gallantly carried at the point of the British position, which were so gallantly the foreured as gen-served as Dep

THE LATE MAJOR GENERAL GUODMAN, C.B., E.H.
Tess Officer cabered the British Army in Oct., 1794, se Ensign in the 68th Foot. In 1795, he obtained his Lieutenancy in the ame regiment, and proceeded on foreign service. In 1884, he embarked with his regiment from Misorca, and joined the force under the command of General Sir Charles Start, destined as a British contingent for the battle of Marengo. He subsequently served at the surrender of Malta, in 1995. In 1892, he obtained his company in the 48th. In 1990, he joined the Army of the Peninsule; was present at the bard-fought battle of Talavera, and commanded the light enumerates of Major General Richard Stewart's brigase in Lord Elli? division during the first right of that battle. Subsequently to this action he was appointed to the Staff of the Army as Judge-Advocate-General, and Assist-Adjatant-General. As Captain Goodman, he took a part in the surrible slere of Bedgjos, whe present at the taking of Fort Pleorial, and was then placed in the responsible position of taking charge of General Philippon, the Governor of Badajos, whom he was ordered to modust to Elvas. In 1812, Capt. Goodman received his Majority, and in the operations at Madrid. On the march from Madrid to Eurgus, Maj. Goodman was appointed to take charge of the Adj. General's department, bwing to the absence, from alchines, of the Adjutant-General—a very fattering distinction to confer on so young an Officer. Is this highly responsible post he served at the slege of Burgos, and during the marketly retreat of the British Army from before that city to the frontier of Portugal.

In consequence of the Robove services, Maj. Goodman was appointed Judge Advocate-General to the Army under the Duke of Wellington. These brilliant active services refered from the Army of the Peninsula to America, which appointment, however, was subsequently changed to that of Judge Advocate-General to the Army under the Duke of Wellington. These brilliant active service, were closed by his being present at the battle of Waterloo, and continuing with the Army of occupation until it removed from France; having previously attained the rank of Lieut.-Colonel, which commission he received in 181

Coloneloy; and by the subsequent Brevet of 1842, the rank of Major-General.

We cannot take leave of our subject without recording, that though appointed to a purely civil situation in British Gulana, the old soldier's Military services were not withheld when required by the intestine disturbances of the colony. In 1823 he was called upon by the then Governor of the colony, Lieut.-Gen. Murray, to serve in the Militia, at the breaking out of the servela revolt. He organised and commanded the Militia during that period, for which services he received the thanks of the separate colonies. Since that period, up to the disbanding of the Militia, Gen. Goodman continued to serve the community in which his lot had been cast as a Brigadler-General of the Militia, and an Inspector-General of the Province. The galiant deceased has left a widow and cleven children.

THE LATE MAJOR-GENERAL F. G. HERIOT, C.B. ...

THE LATE MAJOR-GENERAL F. G. HERIOT, C.B.
Thre Officer shed on soth Dec., at Comfort-hall, Drummond-ville, Capada, after a protracted illaces. He was appointed to an Ensigney, 28th Aug., 1881, at the age of 15; became Lieutenaut, 3th Oct, 1801; Captain, 1813; Colonel, 22d July, 1839; and Major-Gen., 25d Nov., 1841. He was engaged in several of the stirring ovents in North America during the last war. At the attack on Sacketts Harbour be commanded a detachment of Capadian Voltigeure, and also in the suggements at Fort George, 3th Aug., and 6th Oct., 1813; a division of Voltigeure, and one of Frontier Light Infantry, at the attack upon Platteburg. He received a medal for his service at Chrystiers Farm, and was further rewarded with the Companionship of the Bath.

Literary Notices.

Memeir and Correspondence of Mrs. Grant of Laggan. Edited by her Son, J., P. Grant, Esq. - 8 vols., Longman and Co.,

Or the habit of publishing Letters we never did and never shall approve—unless with the distinctly expressed apn of the writer. Whether such warrant can be adduced for the appearance of the collection before us we know not; but we think they might, by judicious omis-sions, have been properly compressed into a smaller com-pass. Some ought not—others need not have seen the pass. Some ought not -others need not mave soon valight, relating as they do to matters with which the public light, relating as they do to matters with which they public have no concern—although viewed as private letters there is not one which the authoress need have been ashamed to have written; whilst, taken altogether, we think her already well-setablished reputation will be increased by their appearance. A person of fency and imagination-accomplished writer, Mrs. Grant was known to be. accomplished writer, Mrs. Grant was known to be. The present volumes, we think, establish her claims to the possession of a judgment, in most instances, sound and discriminating. It was her fate to outlive nearly the whole of a numerous family, as well as most of her intimate friends, and unless the aketches of their respective characters, which occur in these volumes, he calcured by excusable partiality, few have been at once so blessed and so wreathed in their passage through life, if to be allied in excellence, and to be deplorably asparated from it, is a shief ingredient in the cap which meetals must const.

We proceed to endeavour to make good our opinions by proofs, although our first quotation will certainly not be regarded as avidence of mgacity by the political ieta.

commists.

"I had the pleasure of both your letters; I can't be exact about the quantum of your ley friend's "ogf-jewants" but this I am quite sure of, that they carried an enemy in their traits i am quite sure of, that they carried an enemy in their traits worse than any they went to combat: the French wa shely hope to repel, if not avarcome; but luxury will assuredly observed us. I am sure Mr. Rrown is perfectly of my opinion; My, so clear am I on this Boint, that I consider this war as a salutary drain, and those high tarea, the operation of which is shely confined to the rich as public bleasings. He who thisks wine too dear may drink leas; and he who gradges the carriage-tax may ride on horse-back, or atsy at home. Were there not come little canals cut for draining away the superface of laking, it would inundate the lend, and when it such (as it neto-sarily must), its louthenes dregs and sediment would freed a worse plague than that of Egypt, imputed to a similar cause. When a wealthy people cyese to be warritte, they are the helpless prey taken it into my head to be very sugciests and political to-day; but jou must give me some credit for itsersity, when I tell you that I am recently amarting from the income-tax; but that, you will say, is no reason for taxing your patience." tly smarting from the income to reason for taxing your patience."

The following sentence, written in 1808, is singularly prophetic :-

"Great abilities are called forth by great exigencies; and if a giorious struggle in Spain is to succeed, some Mariborough, Peterborough, will arise, to direct the thunderbolt to its itined aim."

The conquering genius required did arise, but though for Spain, he was not of it.

Mrs. Grant (Letter 66, &c.) has also been too propheti with respect to Theodore Hook; but as an evidence o the partiality from which none are exempt, whilst lenie to his vices and errors, she is severe, if not unjust, upon those of Byron—almost the only person of whom she apeaks in terms of hurahness. We must, however, except Napoleon also.

The subjoined remarks are very just :-

The subjoined remarks are very just:—

"I think the cause of religion is sometimes as such burt by its friends as by its enemies, and there are but a chosen few to whom its defence can safely be entrusted. Even a very good, well-meant, heavy book is more an encumbrance than a help, for who reads it but those who do not need conviction! But the book which does most good is that which is most read, and this is written with such ability, and really affords such entertainment, that I should suppuse it would produce much effect, were it only by making people think more deeply and clearly on the subjects it treats of.

We conclude with a high-minded leaves.

We conclude with a high-minded letter, addressed to her eldest son, which is worth volumes of the vegue and sometimes impracticable lessons in morality too often bestowed upon their offspring by well-meaning, but calcustowed upon their offspring by well-meaning, but calculating parents—

"I must now tell you of an additional and very strong motive that I have for keeping your sistera independent of you. I regard with very great complassion most men who are desilied to spead their lives in India. Far from home and all its sweet and social conforts, and burdened perhaps with relations who keep them back in the paths of independence, hery seek a resource in forming temporary connections with the natives. These, I am told, are often innocent and even amiable creatures, who are not aware of doing anything reprehenable in thus attaching themselves. In the meantime, the poor woman who has devoked herself to him secures his affection by being the mother of his children: time runs un; the unfortunate-mother, whom he must tear from his heart and throw back to misery and obbition, is daily forming new ties to him. The children, born heirs to shame and sorrow, are for a time foodly cherished, till the wish of their father's heart is fulfilled, and he is enabled to return to his mative country, and make the appearance in it to which his ambitton has been long directed. Then begin his accret but deep vexations; and the more honourable his mind, and the more affectionate his heart, the deeper ere those sorrows which he dare agot own, and cannot conquer. This poor rejected one,* parhaph fatilital and fondiy attached, must be thrown off, the whole habits of his life*must be broken; he must guy the debt he owes to his progenitors, and seek to remew the social comforts of the domestic circle by soliciting, with little previous acquaintance and no greac attachment, some lady glad to give youth and beauty for wealth and consequence. The forsakes children, once to his progenitors, and seek to renew the social constorts of the domentic circle by noliciting, with little previous acquaintance and no great attachment, some lady glad to give youth and beauty for weith and consequence. The forasken children, once the objects of his paternal tondeses, must be banished, and have the aims of their fathers sorely visited upon them.

"I will spare myself and you the pain of finishing this picture, which you must know to be a likeness, not of an individual only, but of a whole tribe of expatriated Scotchmen, who rature house exactly in this manner. This, my denr son, is what I dread in your case, and would fain avoid, that is, prevent it if I could. All that remains for me is, in the first place, not to burden you gift encumbrances that may check the freedom of your will; and in the next, to assure you that if any person whom it would be decent or proper for you to consect yournels with by honous able ties should gain your affections, your mether and your sisters will be ready to adopt her to theirs. Difference of nation or even of religion would not nilsonate us from any wife that you we've married to one that we knew and esteemed; but we should far rather make room in our kearls for a stranger who was should and well principled, than see you in the predictment I have described."

Chairmorth; or, the Romanos of a Work. Edited by R. Plumer Ward, Eng., Author of "Tremaine," dec.

Is we have aught in us of prophecy, the common voice of reader and critic will pronounce this work to be among the most remarkable productions of the day—if, indeed, its verdict should not recognize it as the most remarkable—of course we mean in the class to which it belongs. We employ the term work advisedly; for, although this publication assumes the form of—and in fact is—a movel (and in its most "feshionable" sense too), it is not marely a movel. So far from having its characteristical limited to those of the productions which in the present day are held to possess the most legitimate also as that it is the substance before as an identification. claims to that tirle, the volumes before as are the instruments of a direct cannote against the principles upon which the vest majority of such preductions are written—a crusede, too, which can hardly fail, magner or later, to succeed, insamuoh as these volumes are in themselves a triumphent illustration of the validity of the aghetitution which their author desires should be made in place of the religion of these

of the reigning dynasty.

To some to particulars, the book to which the philosopher of aristocratic life—the illustrious author of "Tremaine" and "De Vere"—has become a sort of literary godfather (fur we presume not to hint that he has an further responsibility in the matter), is a collection of tales, which, on account both of their spiritual and formal analogy to the primitive productions of their sham, emineatly deserve to be styled Romanous. There are, in all, six of these stories, each of them sufficiently differing from any of the seer, as regards subject and treatment, to give variety to the whole, but all of them essentially unlike anything else in modern Action.

These remances, again, and connected with each other by a brilliant frame-work, uttarly different in style from themselves, and which earlies the reader at once into the heast of fashionable and aristogratic life, and keeps him there during the amount of one entire volume out of the three. This heterographic constitutes, indeed, one of the most remarkable and attractive features of the book; for though the form which it assumes is much too excellent to be new, the treatment which that form required has, for the first time we think, been thoroughly comprehended and supplied by the writer of "Chatsworth." In all other works of a similar construction that we can call to mind-not even excepting "Lallah Rookh" (for, let it be remembered, the distinction between verse and proce is strictly formal)—the setting and the things set are more or less homogeneous—paste in glass, instead of precious sienes in precious metal. Not so, we repeat. is it with " Chatsworth," into the more ima and character of which we quest now attempt to give our readers some insight.

The library of the " Palace of Art," whose designation has been chosen for that of the present performance, was aptly selected by its author as the spot upon which he could most consistently bring together the supposed sarrators of his romances. Whether those narrators, each rators of his romanoss. Whether those narrators, each of whom possesses a vivid existence per se, are as completcly fictional as their marrations, we undertake not to decide, but leave that question to be solved by the wite of a "discerning public." Our own desire to seggest recombiance we will suppress, rather than inour the risk of being accused of reading with "a lust to misapply." That the aforesaid "discerning public" will follow so judicious an example is more than we can answer for; suffice it, he characters introduced are drawn with admire ble skill and consistency; all—male and female—are members of a literary world (whether or not of the literary world at present in substantial existence—whether i esse, or only in posse—we repeat that we will not undertake to decide); and, need we add, all of them are fashion-able people. Their degree of ton is at once stamped by the fact of their presence as guests at Chatsworth Palece.

The result of the library conference of this distinguished ceteris is, that by the bantering eloquence of tingui one or two of its leading members—chiefly the "genius" of his day, Mr. Tressyllian Town, and its "admirable Crichton," Reginald Beltravers—the whole body are tricking though most of them are themselves three-vo-lume novelists), to admit the literary is well as the social propriety and necessity of proceeding practically against the system of three-volume nevel-writing, which they themselves have so mainly assisted in establishing in publie favour. This they accordingly do; and in the course of a week are written and read alo ed a series of romances which are throughout illustrative of the rules concerning style; subject, and length, which have been laid down by the unanimous consent of the assembled literati. And very charming productions them romaness are in every respect worthy of the class of writers to whom they are attributed, and of the "high and teader Muses"—their impirers. Each story is perfect in finish as a Greek mapriers. - main story is persect in mind as a Greek status snight have been, but for "the old tragte necessity, which lessess yet upon its brow," and forces as to regard it with somewhat of the same emotion with which men less upon the temperate that is often seen amidst the temperate part which he its form areas on heaviful never fails. apon the scoory tent is occur agen amount the temperature of the which, be its form eyer so beautiful, never fails to elicit their solf-congratulation that they are not inhabitants of the frozen regions to which it properly belongs, at once to expand and to conglitie our analogy, those stories are like Greek statues, not christened, but chrisstories are new trees assures, not conveneed, put constitutionised; that ie, they are antiques, because of their parfection of earthly or formal beauty; but are, moreover, lit up most gleriously with the colestial "light that never was by sea or land," with which all Christendom is of ought to be familiar, but with which the Greeks were only pertially and indirectly illuminated.

Our extremely limited space forbids the lengthened de-tail into which we are inclined to go. We must however, direct particular attention to the concluding tale, called the Particular is which only necessary the form of necessary is which only necessary is the form of necessary is such as the form of necessary is not as the necessar w." which only requires the form of verse to render passages, watern only requires the power of verse to render it one of the noblest poems in existence. Indeed, in many passages, we could hardly, had we wished it, rid ourselves of the notion that we were reading some high strain of immertal verse. And this effect has been gained by its author, without in any one instance atooging to the valuer resource of "metrical proce;" a phrees, which ude (as it is) exceedingly like a contradiction in n terms. and which, in nine cases out of ten wherein it has been employed, might be more saltably characterised as " proce 157048 run mad." This story alone would be sufficient to render the presence of "Chatsworth" essential to the completeness of every standard, as well as circulafing, library in the kingdom.

We must confine ourselves to an extract comprising one among the many brilliant portraits which figure in these sparkling pages.

sparking pages.

"What a noble head is that, bending alightly saids and downward, as if the face (which we cannot see) were directed to the ground, in token of some absorbing thought, that presses on the mind within! The rich outle (Shigh as night) that cluster over it, the attitude, and the fixed regoes of the whole figure, give to it the leok of a clothed Antinous.

"Who is it days to indage in a brown study, in such a company as this? It can only be, and it is, the 'genius' of his day of the day in which, but for him, genius would be a dead letter—so affectually does its would be mure, Civilisation, swaths, and dandle, and polleh, and portriy it, during its intancy and non-age, into the ordinary and accepted form and boaring demanded by the exigencies of social life; so that now-a days we meet with persons whe, having been intended by assure for guidese, are only gestlemen.

persons who, having been intended by matter for guinance, motionly gestlemen;

"The personage before us, Mr. Treesyllan Toms, is not our of these: he is a genius, and therefore no gentleman;

"In the code which regulates the stiquette of a Court like that now assembled at Chattweeth—a Court which acknowledges an aristocrapy but that of intellect—Genius, under whatever name and form it present thesif, and whatever garb it wear, claims the pee of all other pretensions: and Mr. Trestyllian Toma is, as we have said, a genius. To Mr. Trestyllian Toma, therefore, we begt to introduce the reader personally, drat and foremost of our gay and brilliant company.

to introduce the reader personally, dras and turemost of our gay and brilliant company.

"Was there ever such a jumble of anomalies and contradictions as Treasyllian Turns! His name, (as names, somehow or other, not seldom do-probably because they have a hand in the matter) is some surt promounced his character; which was an incomprehensible Olif Podride of all imaginable contradictions. He was at once a post and a petilipmative, a philosophic and a fashine-monger; a true wit and a trifling word-datcher; a coshpound of wisdom and folly, of highlance and hundering, of sense and consense, of elegance and awkwaidness, of institutive fedicement and Batural valgarity.

"There was a 'contradiction in terms,' even*in the physiognomy of Treasyllian Turns; if you looked at him en profile, he remissed you of a Roman heart of past times, or a Greek robel of present ones; if you net him one the Reper of a mean-gerie of wild beasts—the man who puts his head into the liqu's month.

"For the rest,—Mr. Tressyllian Toma dressed like a pinyer, hardagued like a mountehanh, thought like a sage, felt like a hero, and wrote like an angel—or if not, certee like to other more busess mortal."

"For the rest,—Mr. Treesyllian Toma dressed like a player, harangued like a mountehank, thought like a singe, felt like a hero, and wrote like an angel—or if not, certes like no other mete' human mortal."

"We have said that Mr. Treesyllian Toma was a fop and a fashion-monger; but the sagacious reader will not have so mis taken our estimate of his character as to suppose that he was either of these, or that he was anything size, in the ordinary acceptation of the terms. We have described him generally as 'a genius;' consequently, whatever form or garb that attribute might assume for the nonce, it was always put on 'with a difference 's an emerkable. If Mr. Treesyllian Toma paid ellegiance at the toutstead of Pashion, it was in the manner in which a certain class of modern lowers pay court to their mortal mistreases,—by thwarting all their desires, and antitug their most solemn decrese at defance. He followed the fashion, as a cockney sportams follow the housed—by running over them. If the ungracious truth must be contissed, Mr. Tressyllian Toma was something of a cuckney in most things.

"If, again, our friend was, intellectually as well as physically appaining, a fop,'it was only because he objected to think, to do, or to be, asything like the real of mankind. If his lot had been cast in the dark ages of the humarmind, or in those sent-bright ones which preceded them, he would have been the fundater and the prophet of a new religion, or a new code of morals,—a Mahomet, or as Ignatius Loyols. Living in a peried when the existence of a Delay has been reduced to a mathematical demonstration, and a fature would in the necessary corollary from a present one, he fancied (and to his private iriends proclaimed) islensed an Athelet!

"R may be anspected that in all great geniuss there is an infusion, and a fature would in the necessary corollary from a present one, he fancied (and to his private iriends proclaimed) islensed and thereof on the day, sevarally and one of Coleridge, Caglicates, and Admirable Crichton, reli

A young Officer at Chathem is recently said to have declared that if the unimpry victim of his seduction came to him he would take care of her; and a clerical magistrate present is said to have pronounced this after very "diagraceful." We would not the Reversed guittenian (supposing the tens correctly reported), whether it would have been less diagraceful if the offices had ve/sed to take care of the unfortunate girl in question. Bedeation under any circumstances in a militantity editors (hough too common) crime, but neduction accompanied by describes is worthy only of a fiend from an key bell.—Ke.

The Art of Latter Writing simplified by Precept and Example; embracing Practical Illustrations of Epistolary Correspondence, of every Age, in every Sta-tion and Degree, and under every Circumstance of Life. With a Variety of Useful and Essential Inform-Cradock and Co. ation.

"Let the heart speak," exclaims the Author of this excel-lent little manual; as "m this brief sentence lies the whole art and mystery of Letter-writing," We have here, in only 64 pages, more useful information, more valuable practical instruction, than are frequently to be met with in volumes of five times its size and pretension. Besides systematic yet simple rules for the composition of letters, from the humblest to the loftiest grade, -superior to any that we have before seen—the author has given us a complete Grammar in a couple of pages—the "Art of Punctuation"—all the most recently arranged postal regulations -- a vast variety of other mattereverything in short connected with epistolary communication, down to the folding, sealing, and superscribing of a letter, to whomsoever, or of whatsoever runk, it may be addressed whomsoever, of of whatsoever tank, it may be sugressed. The examples given in illustration—most of them originals—are of the shappiest order. It would be difficult to imagine anything more touchingly beautiful than the letters of condolence at pages 35 and 36.

Domestic Scenes in Greenland and Iceland, Van Voorst.

A'veny pretty little volume for the "juveniles," and, like all Mr. Van Voorst's publications, very prettily illustrated. We have seen nothing so well calculated to give children a correct notion of the countries mentioned in the title-page, and of the manners and customs of their inhabitants.

Boudeir Lyrics. By Florence Wilson, Author of "Lyrics for Leisure Hours" Smith and Elder. We learn from two or three of these pleasing and graceful Lyrics that the youthful writer of them Ifan been counselled by the "worldly wise" smong her friends to abstain from employing her time in this "idle" fashion. They would doubtless prefer to see her paring over a frame of Berlin work, or making placuations for a Fancy Fair, or (like Werter's Charlotte) cutting bread and butter for her little brothers and sisters. They want to know what is the use of Poetry. Also! it would not be of much use, if the world were made up of them and their utilitai ianism.

Miss Wilson is wise to laugh at such people; or, if she is too kind for that, let her write in spite of thom, in the hope that so she may help them to grow younger, and to thow better. In the mean time she has written a volume of Lyrics, which demonstrate the advanced and advancing condition of the poetical tests of the day, and one that, if it had been produced 80 years ago, would have been hailed as a literary wonder from one so young.

The Arilat's and Amabur's Magazine : a Work devoted to the Interests of the Arts of Design and the Cultiva-tion of Tuste. Edited by E. V. Rippingille. No. 11. Longman and Co.

We know not to what extent Mr. Rippingille intends to carry his "Essay on Bosuty," sud, from its increasing interest, we care not. It is a paper that may be studied with advantage alike by the artist, the oritic, and every person of taste, "An Essay on Sculpture," by Count llawks Le Cirice, of Rome, is continued; and the Number before us contains other valuable matter. The Editor is very perverse and obstinate on one point, and notwithstanding all that we have said, over and over again, he will not indulge us with a monthly table of "Contents."

RAMBLES ALONG THE STYX.

(Continued from No. 479, p. 86.)

"I 've been exceedingly romiss," said flavresack, "in not sooner introducing you to each other. Evergreen, this is an old and much valued comrade of mine, Captain Harry Bugle, who fought in many a bloody field in the Peninsula and South of France, and whose accounts on the other side the Styx were settled in a summary manner by a musket-ball at Waterloo. And this, Harry, is a very dear friend, Colonel Jack Evergreen, who was at the storming of Monte Video, and in the bloody business at Buenos Ayres, where he got a drandful crack in the caput and a splinter of a shell in the leg; he is one of the oldest hands, also, of the Light Division of the Peninsular Army, and a Waterloo man to boot."

"This introduction," observed Evergreen, " is per-feetly unnecessary; for if I am not greatly out in my reckoning, Captain Bugle and I have frequently met before. Were you not a Lientenant in one of Picton's Light Companies in the Peninsular war? To be sure you were; I could have sworn to it. Our two divisions were so constantly engaged together, in the landable employment of breaking freuchmen's heads-and thus anceasingly supplying Old Charon with such heavy cargoes that he could scarcely contrive to ferry them across without assistance—that we may at once claim acquaintance. You shave beard, Ned, what sent Bugle and myself across this un-re-pessable stream, and now let us know what brought you here."

"I'll put it in as small a compass as I can."

Havesack's reply, " and here it goes:—
"I carried the King's colour of my Regiment in Egypt, and was wounded in the glorious action of the 21st of March. Went for a souple of years to the West Indies, where I patronized dignity and all other kinds of balls; smoked cigars, drank sungares, sangarorum, cold punch, porter cap, and every sort of fluid, (aold water, weak tea, and amult beer excepted); bestowed male dictions unceasingly on musquitors, evernions, contipodes, tarantulas, woodslaves, and an infinity of other reptiles which appear to have been created for the purpose of adding to the numerous blessings and comforts with which the Torrid Zone abounds; had a desperate attack of yellow fever, and narrowly escaped being devoured by land-crabs. Exchanged to a regiment in the Mediterranean, and was in the Light Brigade at Maids, where the mustachies of Regnier's Veterans did not save them from a good hiding. I fought next at Roleira and Vimiera, and had the proud astisfaction of seeing that French Army, which merched from Liebon for the express purpose of driving the English into the sea, beaten to its heart's content, and I3 pico its Artillery taken. In the retreat to Coroma, and in the battle fought near its walls, I next figured. Six months after our return from Coroma, Welcheren brought us up; and there we had a far more deadly and destrucenemy to contend with then swords and bullets. nearly fell a victim to that direndful murch fever by which so many thousands til our brave fellows perished miserably. No sooner were our ranks recruited, than we were again sent to the Peninsula; and as both of you were actors in that bloody drama, I need not enter into particulars or remind you of the time we spent amongst the ungrateful Spaniards and Portuguese, whose complete hibration from the yoke of France we succeeded in obtaining for them, after a long protracted struggle against such continual privations, hardships, and deagers, as can be comprehended only by those who participated in them. They were such, my good friends, as neither the British Army nor any other ever had to contend with before, or, in all probability, ever will again. I was wounded in the right arm at Badajoz, and received a musket-ball at Orthes, within an inch of the carotid artery, which nearly Orthos, within an mon or the caronic array, finished me. I next went with the expedition against New Orleans, but returned to Europe in time to be presuit at the battles of Quatre Bras and Waterloo. walf having now been driven from the door, reduction on a large scale was the order of the day in both our Fleet and Army (the Household troops excepted, who remained intact), and I found myssif a Captain on half-pay. On being anbacquently placed on the full-pay list, I was appojuted to a regiment in India, where, between Burme savages, stockedes, cholers, and other devilments, I was in due time reduced to a misurable sallow akeleton, and being placed, pro tem , hors de combat, got a furlough to England. I had then been in the Army five-and-twenty years, and as those years had not been spent in a state o nactivity, I flattered myself that I should be allowed to succeed to a Majority, by purchase, in some regiment or other; but on making application for that step, I was given to understand that my services did not by any means entitle me to it, and that I had better rejoin my regiment in India as a Captain.

"What?" said Evergreen, indiguantly; "your claims not such as to entitle you to a Majority? You, who saw more fighting in aix months than three-fourths of the general Officers in our Service had ever seen until the Peninsular war commenced? Why, surely your claims to a Majority, or even to the rank of a Major-General, must have been at that period twenty times stronger than those which any members of fashionable and privileged corps, Officered principally by solone of the aristocracy, could produce t who are, nevertheless, gazetted in considerable numbers every Friday evening to Lieutenant-Coloneleies, without ever having served one hour out of their native land. Are you aware that a great many of our old Peninsular Generals were not more than forty years of age when they commanded Divisions and Brigades, and that many of them reached the rank of full Colonels in eight, tan, or twelve years,-or, is other words, in half the time that we three were serving as Subalterna, or Captains? With these fauts storing people in the face, it is really earrying the joke too far to tall a man who has been shot at like a target in every quarter of the globe for a quarter of a century, and braugh the worst of tro-pical climates, that he has no shiften to a regisficuted majority, with or without purchase! Why not speak at once, and tell the applicant in plain terms, that, as he is unconnected with the influential and the great, he must make up his mind to be passed over in every Gazette by those who are, and that he need not saleulate on his long and faithful services? But, pardon me, I pray, for inter-

"Back to Indis I accordingly west; and the Burnese wer being at an end, I speat many jutes in the enjoyment of the luxuries of the East, ties, eating curries, and other spised dishes, sufficiently hot and strong to embalus and convert into a mummy in fifteen calendar months any human being; living in hungalows, ventilated and cooled by Pankaha; drinking therein sundry bettles of Hodson's pale ale daily; riding on elephants, and shooting from the Howdahs on their backs at everything in the shape of game, from a quail to a tiger, bos-conin the shape of game, from a quait to a tiger, bos-constrictor, buffalo, or wild hoar; tragelling Dak from Campore to Barruckpore, from Barruckpore to Bangalore; riding from post to pillar; sometimes with and sometimes without gram for the horses; faunking hookahs, and hlowing up hookah-hadars for neglecting to keep the smoking apparatus in proper trim. Add to these an occasional touch at chicken-huzard, écarté, &c., &c., and you know how the twelve years of my life were spent in India the second time I went there. At length I succeeded to a Majority in my regiment by purchase, after having served almost entirely on foreign stachase, after having served almost entirely on foreign sta-By this time old Charon began to speculate on having me as a passenger, but he was out in his calculation as to the time when. I struggled on for some years against a complication of disorders, brought on by the severe trials I had undergone; and a short time before I joined you here, a Brevet made its appearance, which Ble vated me to the rank of Lieut.-Colonel; and now you know my history."

"The same thing, my good fellow," said Bugle, "long has existed, still exists, and will-continue to exist until the people, through their representatives in Parliament, express their disapprobation in the strongest and most decided manner, of a system which awards rapid prometion and every description of favour to certain privileged corps, whose scruices are principally confined to their own country at the immediate expense of the real work-men of the Army, who live, die, and rot amongst the tropics, and whose regiments are too often made the stepping-stones to rank for men of wealth and interest. But the English, as a nation, are so inconceivably ignoant of and indifferent about everything connected with the Army, that there is no chance of amelioration from that quarter. That it should have been so long tolerated is extraordinary enough, but it is still more so that men should be found who, although not members of particufaily favoured or privileged corps, are ever ready and willing to defend (to attempt to defend, I should rather say) so unjust a system. There is, however, no paneity of men who exist but in the smiles of the great, and who prize a nod from one of them far more than they do the upple of their own eye. Let us postpone further discussions on these matters for the present; and now, Evergreen, do let us have some account of the devilties which you Light Division follows were everlastingly playing off, when an interval of rest from marching and fighting offered opportunities; and as you, Jack Evergreen, were, if reports are to be credited, a notations tostigator of those pranks and frobes, no one, either on this or the opposite bank of the Styx, is better able than yourself to enlighten us on those matters."

(To be continued)

ENGLISH PUNDS.

Bank Stock, 106 5 3 per Ct. Red. Anns., 981 4 2 3 per Ct. Cons. Anns., 972 4 2 35 per Ct. Red. Anns., 1035 3 35 per Ct. Auns., New, 1034 5 Long Anns., Exc. Inc.

3g per Ct. Anne, 1042 2 3g per Ct. Anne, New, 1003 4 2 Long Anne, Exp. Jan. 5, 1800, 124 13-16 5 Long Anne, 30 Years, Exp. Oct. 10, 1889, 128

PORKIGN

Brazilian, 707 Bucnes Ayres, 354 Columbian ex Venezuela, 134 # 3 Межісан, 1837, Агс., 342, § 4

Duto Delerred, 124 Peruvian, 304 4 Ditto Acc., 204 4 8 Portuguese, 78 Ditto Conv. Acc., 454 5 Spanish 5 per Ct., 24 32 A FUNDS.
Long Anna., 30 Years, Exp. Jan.
5, 1895, 72 y 16
India stock, 278
Ditto Bonds under 1000/. 87 pm.
South Sea Old Anna., 9 4 7
Consols for Acc., 974 4 4
Exchequer Halls 1000/., 14d., 71
64 nb.

69 pm. Ditto 500/ , 14d., 69 pm.

Ditto 8001, 14d., 69 pm.
Ditto 8mail, 14d., 71 69 pm.
Ditto Advertised, 14d., 67 g pm.
FUNDS.
Spacish Acc., 24 3\(\frac{2}{3}\) 2\(\frac{1}{3}\)
Ditto Passive, 3\(\frac{1}{2}\)
Ditto Deferred, 13\(\frac{1}{2}\)
Ditto Acc., 32\(\frac{1}{2}\)
Ditto Acc., 32\(\frac{1}{2}\)
Venezuella 3 per Ct., 30\(\frac{1}{2}\) Venezueiu 2 per Ct., 308 Dutch 24 per Ct., 55 42 5 Ditto Acc., 354 D tto 5 per Ct., 162 4 12 24 Ditto New Loan, 1014

BIRTHS.

Peb. 1s, at Plymouth, the lady of Lieut.-Ool. John Caurebeau, of a sout.--Feb. 4, at Pisa, the lady of Dr. H. G. BROCK, R.N. of a daughter.--Feb. 16, at Jalington, the wife of Hazzkian Harsouth Esq., of a daughter.

Gaughter, of a daughter,

MANKIAGES.

Feb. 17, at Lyminster, duesex, R. F. B. Rusunnounn, Esq., Capt. Scott Fusilier Guards, cliest and of Col. Rushbrouke, M.P., to Albitita, daughter of T. Evans, of Lyminster, Esq.

to Albitis, daughter of T. Evans, of Lyminister, Esq.

DEATHE.

Peb. 21, at his residence in Portsmouth, J. S. Hullburt, Esq.,
Pursor, R.N. (1799): he was Secretary to Admirals for Reger Gurlis, and Sir Richard Bickerton, during their respective commands at Portsmouth, in the last war.—At East Reford, in his 94th year, Mr. W. Hindley. He was at the battle of Bonbor's Hill, 17th Jace, 1775, and is supposed to have been the last surviver of those who were there present.—Peb. 1, at Windoor-terrace, in het fist, year, Mrs. Eliza Ginson, raids of the late J.
Gibson, Esq., of the 17th Dragooms, and sister of Col. Nichle,
E.B.—Peb. 14, in Pinsbury-place, Phasbury-quare, J. Mazcess, Esq., Surghos, R.N., of Newtown, Messgemeryshire, aged 6.—Ac Lamishumary, Skye, (N.B.), while on a visit to a near relative, Mr. C. W. Carrenos, second son of Maj.—Gen. Sir A.
Carreton, E.C.B., of Inversiort, aged 20.

BRITANNIA LIPE ASSURANCE COM-

PANY. No. 1, Princes street, Rapk, London. Emmowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 5 BIRECT

William Bardestt, Esc.

PAS.

Robert Egliston, Saq.

Rrasmus Rt. Foster, Esq.

Alex. Rubert irvine, Esq.

Peter Marrison, Esq.

Heary Lawis Smale, Bsq.

Thomas Tend, Esq.

Empowered by Special Act of Parliament, 4 Vic., cap. 5.

William Bardgett, Esq.

Eamuel Reviugton, Esq.

William Fachney Blach, Bsq.

John Brightman, Esq.

George Cohen, Esq.

Austrone.—J. B. Bavington, Esq.; F. P. Cosherill, Esq.

John Drewett, Esq.

Austrone.—J. B. Bavington, Esq.; F. P. Cosherill, Esq.;

John Drewett, Esq.

Austrone.—John Clendiaming, M.D., F.R.E., 16, Wimpole-street, Cavendish-agaire.

Exambing Counex.—The Hon. John Ashley, New-agaire, Lincoin's Inn; Mr. Merjennt Marphy, M.P., Temple.

Boliciton.—William Betan, Esq. Old Jevery.

Bankum.—Hessers. Drewett and Fowler, Friess-street, Eank.

This Institution is empowered by a special Act of Farliament, and is ac constituted at to afford the benefits of Life Assurance, in their citiest axises, by policy, holders, and to resent greater facilities and accommodation than are massly offered by other companies. The decided superiority of in plas, and its claim to the public preference and support, have been proved, incontentably, by its extraordinary and unprecedented success.

Assurances may either be effected by Parties on their own lives, or by Parties interested therem on the Lives of others.

The effect of an Assurance on a person's own life is in create at once a Property in Reversion, which only has other means be realized. Take, for matunce, the case of a person at the age of Titirty, who, by the payment of Al. Sc. 4d. to the Britannia Life Assurance Company, can become at once possessed of a bequeatiable property, ammuning to 1,000., subject only to the remainder of his life—a condition which may be fulfilled by the more asving of Eight Shillings weekly in his cappandrare. Thus, by the exertion and a very single degree of sonosany—such, indeed, as can acarety be felt as an inconvenience, he may at once realize a capital of 1,000., which he can bequeate or dispose of in any way he may think proper.

PETER MURRISON, Resident Director.

A Board of Directors in attendance daily at Two o'Clock.

A liberal Commission allowed to Bolicitors and Agen

A Board of Directors in attendance daily at Two o'Clock.
A liberal Commission allowed to Solicitors and Agents.

To Namel and Military Men and others, the fature Prevision for whose Families depend on the Economy and best live to which a Life-income can be upplied, the Plana of this Office are particu-larly recommended as calculated to Insure all that could be desired in the Investment of an Annual Sum of Money.

desired in the Investment of an Annual Sum of Boney.

ATIONAL LOAN FUND LIFE
ASSURANCE, 26, Cornhill, London.—Capital, 500,0001.—
Impowered by Art of Parliancent.
The many novel and varied Advantages bestowed by this Institution, both in its Life Assurance and Deferred Annuity Departments, particularly the power to Borrow Two thirds of Fremlume without expense or terfeiture—the great Remetton of Rates on short Policies—the Option of selecting Benefits and converting Policies so as best to suit the interest or Necessity of the Policy. holder during life, as well as to afford the full Benefit to his Family at iteath—and Annual division of Profits,—have already been so well appreciated by the Public, that the Rogesty's great Success and growing Prosperity enabled the Directors, at their General Meeting in May last, to add to each Policy on the Profitsesic a Bonus averaging 55 per cept. on the Amount stream cities be paid in Cash, or applied in reduction of future Premiums.

EXAMPLES.

Entry Policy Age			Hum.	Aunual Bonus Premium added.				Ca Bon	eb us.	Pretts. reduced.
-		-		e	.	-	a. d.	-			 s. d.
1937 1434	39 114	59 64	1,000	67 8 176 16	4	182 296	9 7	38 123	19 9 0 6	16	19 4 9 7

Another Burus will be declared in the present Year.

Bergaran Declared in the present Year.

Dergaran Declared in the present Year.

The best and most varied provision for after-life hitherto offered. Every 21, 12s, per annum paid from the age of 20, will, at 6s, give the poice holder the choice of an annuity of 471, 14r, 6d., or 349f. 11s. coah, or policy at doath of 460f. Similar advantages at 50, 55, and 6e, through an increased annual payment. Two-thirds saymests sent at any time, and two-thirds returned to representatives in case of premature death.

N.B.—Naul and Military Men and in active foreign service assured without extra charge, and allowed to go abroad without forfeiture of Policy, on payment of an extra-framium, according to Climate Assurances also effected on the Lives of Residents in the East and West Indies, and all Foreign Climates.

F. Pergousov Cambooux, Secretary.

UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SO-CIETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON.

CIETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON.

DIRROTOR:

Bit Henry Willock, K.L.S., Chairman.

John Bewart, Esq., M.P., Hepuly Chairman.

Major-Georni Sit Rd. Arm.
Stront, C.B. K.C.T. and S.
John Baybaw, Esq.

Augustus Bosanguet, Esq.

Charles Dushwoft Bruce, Keq.

Rills Wakin Caniffe, Esq.

Rathe Currie, Esq., M.P.

The principle adopted by the Universal Life Assurance Society of an annual valuation of assets and liabilities, and a division of farer-fourike of the prafes among the assured, is admitted to offer great advantages; especially to those parties who may wish to appropriate their proportion of profit to the reduction of fature premiums. The following Table will show the last division of profits, as desired on the 19th of May, 1445, to all persons who had out that day paid six angust premiums:

Beduced Date of Russell (Russell Premium)

Aphqui Premium.	Date of Policy.	Bum Assured.	Original Premium.	fantual Prem. payable in 1648,
20 30 40 80 60	On or helory leth of May, 1436.	£1,000	#19 6 8 $4 9 4 $1 10 0 42 15 0	## 18 4 12 4 2 16 18 0 81 7 6
(My C	nider of the M	100	AAVIN IN	· Contraction

POYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST INDIA COMPANY, & GENERAL LIFE ABSURANCE SOCIETY.—Office, bz., Waterloo-place, Londée.

Paragaras.—Her Most Gracious Hallesty the QUEEN.
Assurances are granted upon the Lives of Persons in every station of life, and for every part of the world, upon particularly favourable torque.

bation of fire, and my every personal program of the program of the Office may change from one country of another without forfeiting their Policies.

Board days every Thereday at One o'Clock, and every facility florded for effecting Assurances on other days.

JOSEPH C. BERTTELL, Secretary.

THE MARINERS & GENERAL LIFE

LIPE MARLINERS & GENERAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY,
EXPRESSLY ESTABLISHED FOR INSURANCES ON THE
LIVER OF MARINERS,
(Whither Members of the Royal of Mercantile Mayr.)
MILITARY MEN AND GENERAL ASSURESS.
It is to be noted that the Policies of the Company will cover voyage of every description and service is every part of the Slobe.

Clobe.
The Lives of Fishermen and Rostmen size Insured.
High Rates of Premium have hitherto operated against this kind of Assarance, but as the Eates now adopted will be found as low as are consonent with the risks, it is bulleted that this feet, coupled with other advantages, will induce a great increase of paying wan deal manufacture of the Mariners upon very moderate against the Mariners upon very moderate

Deferred Annalties granges to manages premiums.
The Premiums for General Assurances are based upon a new adjusted Table of Murtality.
The per cent. of the Profits to be applied in making provision for Destitute and Disabled Mariners.

WM.-M'Ninell, Manager.

Arthur Street, East, London Bridge.

GREAT BRITAIN MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE SCRETY.
14, WATERLOS PLACE, LUMBON.

The Chishoim, Chairman.

The Chishnim, Chairman.

William Moriey, Kaq., Deputy Chairman.

John Brighman, Raq.

John Inglis Jerdala, Raq.

John Inglis Jerdala, Raq.

James John Kinicah, Raq.

Rapert Powar, Raq.

Robert Powar, Raq.

Auditana John Clemainning, Raq.

George Fluoman, Raq.

John Clemainning, M.D., 17, Wimpole Street.

Bankrase—Union Hank of London.

Admentages of the Justication.

BARKER--Union Bank of London.
Adventages of the Institution.
The whole of the Profits divided samually among the Holders of Policies on which five Annual Premiums shall have been paid.
Create allowed for the Brit five Annual premiums, on authoritory security being given for the payment of the same at the expiration of dve years.
Creating liven for half the amount of the first five Annual Premiums—without security.
Transfers of Policies effected and registered (Without charge) at the Office.
Claims on Policies not ambient to be hittered.

at the Office.

Claims on Policies and subject to be litigated or disputed, except with the sanction, in each case, of a General Meeting of the Assured, to be specially convened on the occasion.

Helders of Policies of tose, entitled (after payment of five Annual Premiums) to attend and vote at all General Meetings of the Assured, who will have the superintendence and control of the founds and affairs of the seciety.

Full particulars are detailed in the Prosperius, which, with every requeste information, may be obtained by application to A. E. Lavine, Managing Director.

EREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of e) OPIUM, FIRST PREPARED at PATNA, in BENGAL.—The great merit of this preparation is its precitier freedom from the noglous properties of Opium, and has therefore been found available in cases where other forms have been fluorinisable, from its not disturbing the nervous system. The rest produced through its instrumentality is divested of the heaviness and stoper usually not disturbing the network system. The rest produces incomplicate instrumentality is divested of the heaviness and stepor sensity the effect of Oplan, and the patient, though taking it continuously, is left in free possession of his faculities. It has for several years been supplied to the R. C. Dispengary, by order of the Medical Board of Bengal, from its being found to meet Cholera in india, beyond any remedy that had been applied to that fatal disease. Captain Jeromie, from whose tormula it is prepared, in well known to scientific persons as the talented improved of the Patas Oplum. It will be found not to constipate the busies, and to keep any time in any eliments; it is exceedingly powerful in Cough, especially Consumptive Cough, wherein many have found it a great blessing, in influence, Guit, The Douloureux, Cholera, and Bowel Complaints, Stheematism, and Cancera in Accouchements, and all cases where Oplam may be desirable. The exceedingly innoxious proporties of the proporation have been proved by infents of a few weeks else having taken it, without any curebral distarbance. The testimonials of many talented gunlemen of the Profession are on the nevelopes of the bestles—a few only of the names are given here ultimose also have approved, viz.:—

MEDICAL BUARD OF BENGAL.

Muncal Stand of Bargat.

Bir David Dison, Royal Navai Haspitai, Plymouth.

Dr. Cookworthy, Plymouth Dissemary.

Dr. Watson, Middlesen Hospital, London.

J. G. Perry, Surgeon, Fusinding Hospital, Condon.

Dr. Rac, Royal Hospital, Chatham.

J. R. Martin, Raq., (late of Calcetta), Greavence-st., London.

Dr. Jackson, into Apothesery-General, Sangal.

Dr. Graves, Menth Hospital, Dublin.

Bir Philip Crampton, Dublin.

Dr. Haspan, Professor of Physic, Glasgow.

Dr. Ybage.

Dr. Hispaton, Manth Devon Hospital.

Dr. Hiegeton, f South frevol.

Propored only by Francis Lean, 27, George-sirest, Plymouth; and sold by him in bulk for dispensing, and in bottles at 22, 34, 42, 564, and 110, all standard with the Government Stamp, having in the body of it. Serember Sed. Bol. Opt., by Fran. Lean, 2 with directions for saw, having his signature written in red ink, without which mone is genules.—Bold also wholesals by Mesers. Serelay & Sons, 65. Partingtion.—Bold also wholesals by Mesers. Serelay & Sons, 65. Partingtion. Street, and Reverte Winstanley & Sons, 7, Poulitry, London; Evans & Son, Exeter; Bewley, Sack. ville street, Dubtin; Scott, Thompson & Co., Calcutte; Hinney, Sack. Placeton; Planting; Mesers. Co., Janualen; William Sinke, Meetweel, Cuntiles; and retail by all respectable distincts.

20. 3d., 46. St., and 11c. each box; post free, 2c., 8c., and 3m.

Just published, the NINETERNTH EDITION, price &c. ; and seat free, on reselpt of a Post-adice Order for As. Mr.

N A H D 0 O The CAUSES of its PREMATURE DECLINE, with plain Directions for its PERFECT RESTORATION; addressed to those suffering from the destructive effects of Excessive Indugence, Solitary Habits, or Infection; followed by Observations on the treatment of Syphilis, Gonurance, Gleet, &c. Little trated with Cases, &c.

By J. L. Cyaris and Co., Consulting Surgerns, London THE NINETERNTH THOUSAND.

Published by the Authors, and Rold by Burges, Medical Book, seller, 24, Coventry Street, Sarth, 6, Hrydges-nivet, Strand, Mana, 38, Corphili, Strange, 51, Patermeter-row, London, Guect, 61, Bull-street, Hirlenigham, Sowier, 62, A. Am's square, Manchester; Philip, South Castle Street, Liveryout, Faunia and Co., 41, Grafton-street, Dublin; Beister & Co., Cork: Barnes, 39, High-street, Glasgow; Brammonoph & Hini street, Eduadough, and Sold, in a realest annelspe, 49 all Soutacliers.

UPINIONS OF THE PARESIA

OPINIONS OF THE FARRED.

"This work, a TENTH Edition of which is now presented to the public, for thereind super horize from enhanted since its first appearance, has been very much improved and onlarged by the addition of a more extended and clear detail in general principles, as also by the insertion of suveral new and highly-interesting cases. The book, as the been already starts, is the result of very ample and daily-increasing experience in a class of discourse which, for some interestible reason, have class of discourse which, for some interestible reason, have class in discourse which, for some interestible reason with indifference, by the ordinary inclination of member is another by whom the book will gut to toned wells, whether such person hold

"Masara Curtis's work, entitled MANEGOLIs none of the few books now before the public on such a subject which can be claim to the character of boing stronty protessional, at the same time that it is fully intelligible to all who read it. The moral and medical procepts given reader it invalidable."—May net.

"The permaint Masses, Carlie's book entitled MANITODS has really astonished its by developing a series of mainties, the sever-failing consequence of the victors lighted at shirt it reats. The clear contesting pointed out between the assigned cause and the effects is perceptible to every expectly."—Age.

the effects is perceptible to every expactly."— Age.

"This is a work that we lear there exists too much need for to cause us to indistant to recommend it for general peticul. Every imagels of those frightful majorica, whether the result of minimum habits or secret view, is here accountly treated, and discated of all medical technically prints and earl discretions are given for the best made to be pursued in allowed, heavier, complicated or apparently hopeless. To the married, as well as the augmented, this lattle work give affords complations and care in peculiar cases, and we are doing a service to account it commending it to general matter."— Ease up I flet himself, when the commending it to general matter. "— Ease up I flet himself, and

Misses, CURING Co. are to be consulted daily at their wiscones, No. 7, FARTH STREET, SOHO SQUAME, LONDON.

Country Patients are requested to be as minute as possible in the detail of their cases. The communications must be accom-panied by the usual consultation fee of 11, and in all cases the most invisible secrecy may be follown.

SINGLE BOTTLE OF BETTS'S A SINGLE BOTTLE OF BETTS'S patents state. The concentral section of the perfectly gentaline state. The concentral section is not both venture and purchaser, and their method sections gentless of describin, is effected by the use of BETT'S PATENT MEVALLE GAPACLE, under of pure and STLID METAL-100 THE Foll, which completely encloses the cork and mouth of the bottle, and is not been with the words. "BIGTE'S PATENT BRANDY, 7, RMITHYSKID BARS," the for-similar of which is engraved on a label affined to each bottle.

a latel affixed to each bottle.

In the present day it is impossible to produce anything new and useful with it exciting the supidity of mitators. Already attempts are made to madely the identity of the original and genuine article, by forsting upon the public the contents of bottles having a Tin Foll covering, marely denominated "a near metallic capatile." J. T. BETTS & Co. therefore deem it exemited to impress upon previously the adoption between the almost covering the Embrased Capatiles with the Labets, as an infallible mode of detacting frauditient substitutions.

HETPER PATENT HEANDY, thus protected, may be obtained of the undermentained. Who said Spirit Merchants, at Se. 6d per Buille, Butten tustaded; or at its. per failon, as herst-store, at

Bistore, at History, and Histor livery Lane Adgivery Road Ruston Aquato Exments Atrock Benjamiu Beorks, No. 27 John Chester, Croom's Hill William Priost Millians Priest
James Carter, See, 42
Heavy Pinest, 13, Mittella Row
Wijtians Sorker, 1, Albion Piace
James Smith, No. 181
John Jones, 186 High Row
J. St. Watchern, March Casta
A. Watchern, March Casta
Thomas Thompson, No. 35
William Moule, 9, High retest
J. Arbeid, curser Hampstead Kond
James Thompson, No. 361
James Thompson, No. 361
James Watcher, 1, Gravenor Row
Geograf Rich, Glass House Street Hollorn . King's Cross Kingsland Road Kuightshridge I a mueth Settendanst. Minuter Mree Newington Butta New Road Uzlord Street James Watson, 1, Grovenor Row Cleargh Rich, Glass Huste Street Gen, Garrell, Retried Sal.
Charles Temple, Wa, Chariteft Street Jose Sharion, 21, Pickett Street Jones Sharion, 21, Pickett Street Rd. James Toung, No. 188
Was. Coates, 15, 1845 Street G. Pottor, 18, Beckford How Was. Garrett, 14, Helingbroke How John Jones, 2, Rochester Row James Watson, 2, Great Chapel Street Robert Shout Show, 16, Giftert Swildings Pinilico . Regent Sirest Houthwesk Bomers' Town Strand . Trittenham . Rd. Whitechapel Walmerth Walworth Road Westminster

Ditto Wastminuter Road

Now Ready at all the Libraries, in 8 vols., T S W O R ٨ Or, THE ROMANCE OF A WEEK. Edited by R. Plumen WARD, Esq., Author of "Tremaine," " De Vere," &c.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 13, Great Mariborough Street.

Now Ready, in 2 vols., small svo., with Illustrations, 21s. bound, IN EUROPE, ASIA, AND AFRICA.

By Lieut. Culonel Napler, Author of "Scories and Sports in Foreign Lands, &c."

NARRATIVE OF THE LATE VICTORIOUS CAMPAIGN IN AFFGHANISTAN,

UNDER GENERAL POLLOCK.
By Liout Jonney Gunfawoon, of Her Majesty's Stat Regim
I vol., small Stor, with Houstations.
Henry Colburs, Publisher, 13, Great Mariburough Street.

18, Great Mariborough Street.

18, Great Mariborough Street.

18, Great Mariborough Street.

19, Treet Mariborough Street.

AND SERVICES OF THE "NEMESIS,"

From 1840 to 1943, is preparing for immediate publication, from the Notes of her late Commander, W. H. Hall, E.N. And Observations Sade in China and other Parts,

By W. D. BERNARD, Eag., A.M., &co.

In 2 vols., 8vo., with Maps and numerous litustrations, price 38s. hound; and those who may desire to secure Early Coriss of the work, are requested to send their orders without delay to their respective Booksellers.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 15, Great Marlborough Street.

MURRAY'S COLONIAL& HOME LIBRARY Vic Complete Works already, Poblished:—
Nos. 1. and II.—BORROW'S BIBLE IN SPAIN. &s.
Nos. III. to VI.—BIBHOP HEBER'S INDIAM JOURNALS.

2 vols. 10s.

John Murray, Albemaric Street.

In the Press, post svo., price 10s. 6d., sloth,

N. G. L. I. S. H. P. R. O. S. E.,

Being Selections from the Works of English Proce Writers,

With Notes of their Lives.

James Moore, 4, Carthusian Street, Charterhouse Square.

COLLIER'S BHAKESPEARS COMPLETED.

COLLIER'S BHAKESPEARE COMPLETED.
Now ready, awo, price 12r., cloth lettered,

V. ()L. I. of SHAKESPEARE'S PLAYS and PORMS. An entirely New Edition. By J. PAYNE COLLIER, Eq..—Containing the LIFE of SHAKESPEARE, the HISTORY of the STAGE, &c.

This edition of Shakespeare's works (plays and poems), flow completed, is very varietly and handsomely printed, and comprises the Text formed from an entirely New Collation of the Old Editions, with the Various Readings, Explanatory and Bluliographical letroductions and Notes, a History of the Early English Stage, and a Riography scalected flow new and authorize documents. In # vols. Evo., price 41, 16s., handsomely bound in aloth.

electi.

N.B.—Subscribers are particularly requested to make up their acts immediately, as the volumes will not be sold separately beyond those now subscribed for. The affection of booksellers and the public to this point is urgently requested, to prevent disappointment hereafter.

Whittaker and Co., ave Maria-lane, London.

MR. MAUNDER'S FEW THEASURY.

On Tuesday, March 5th, will be published, fop, 6vo., with Engraved Title and Frontispices, 10s. cloth; bound 13s.

THE STREASURY OF HISTORY;

Lieu elikerioutty OF HISTORY; Acomprising a General Introductory Outline of Universal History, Ancient and Modern, and a series of separate Histories of every principal Nation that exists; their Rise, Progress, and Prasent Condition; the Moral and Social Character of their respective ishabitants, their Religios, Manners, and Customs, &c. By Panuel Mauners, Author of The Treasury of Knuwledge.

Knowledge."

By the same Author,
THE TREASURY of KNOWLEDGE. Fourteenth Edt. 8s. 6d.;
bound, 10s. 6d.
THE BLOGRAPHICAL TREASURY. Fourth Edit. 8s. 6d.;
bound, 10s. 6d.
THE SCIENTIFIC and LITERARY TREASURY. Third Edition, 10s; bound, 18s.
"These works are indeed becommutes on the railroad of the mind, tubring with speed and profit the eager traveller to the terminus he must long week in vain by any other course."—Alles.
Also, by Mr. Maunder, Just published.
THE UNIVERSAL CLASS EQOK. "13so, 5s. bound.
London: Longman, Brown, Green, and Longmans.

THE PENINSULAR HEROES. MESSER. HENRY GRAVES AND COMPANY.
Her Majesty's Publishers, have the bondur to announce that the newly elected Royal Academician, J. P. Knimer, Eq.,

Her Majesty's Publishers, have the honder to announce that the newly elected Royal Academican, J. P. Knisser, Esq., has just completed his great work of the Assembly of "THE HERGES OF THE PENINSULA," at the "United Revice Club," discussing the Plan of the Battle of Vittoria; containing the most admirable whole-length Portraits, from the life, of Sir G. Murray, the Duke of Baunfort, Sir Lowey Cule, 'Land Lynedoch, Sir John Magdehald, Viscount Commercier, Sir William Anson, Lord Keens, Major-Gen. Wm. Napier, ford Catheart, Sir R. Arbuthnot, Murquees Tweeddale, Sir Hercules Pakonlam, Lord Aylmer, Sir T. Bradford, Marquees of Londonderry, Colonel Nickle, Sir James Barnes, Viscount Heresford, Sir A. Maciaine, Gen. Harnes, Gen. Harne, Sir William Lumley, Gen. I ambort, 51r William Racebean, Sir C. F. Smith, Sir C. Colville, and other distinguished Officers, who figured in the Campetins of Spais and Portrags, mone of whom were present at the listile of Waterloo, and consequently do not attend the Waterloo Banquet; and the Public are cautiqued not to mistake Mr. Rnight's magnificent Work for any other Picture connected with the Battle of Waterloo, as the same Charactess are not portrayed.

This splendid Work of Art, so emmently displaying the great talent of Mr. Knieser, R.A., will be Exhibited (av workers onky) on Monday the Sten, and during the Weeh, at the Galiery of Mesars. Gaaves and Co., 6, Pall-Mail.

Now Ready, post Syu., cloth, lettered, price 14s.,
R. STUCQUELER'S HAND-BOOK TRAVELLER, and a Companion to the STRANGER and the TRAVELLER, and a Companion to the RESIDENT.

London 1 Wm. H. Allen & Co., 7, Leadenhall Street.

INITED SERVICE INSTITUTION MIDLE SCOTLAND YARD.

Members are respectfully informed that the THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY MEETING will be held at the INSTITUTION, on SATURDAY, the 2d March.

The Chair will be taken at Two o'clock precisely.

Hy Order of the Council,

Haway Downes, Com., R.W., Hoo. Divector,

S AMUEL THOMAS, 133, Regent Street, Importer of HAVANA CIGARS, respectfully informs the just received— 10,000 1st Class Acosta Cigars 20,000 Manuel Amorés Small Trabucchin original Boxes, and 20,000 Esculapio's Pauecilles, and solicits an inspection.

J. AND D. NICOLL, 114, REGENT-PTREET, LONDON, submit a List of their Prices, and respectfully beg that OFFICERS WILL CONTRACT IT WITH PREVIOUS CHARGES FOR THEIR UNIFORMS, and as regards the excellence of material, the skill, and rick lace used, they will bear exemparison with any; and in many points, as silk lipings, fineness of cloth, superior workstanking, &c., will excel.

Buperdue Regulation Infantry Coattee (richly laced) 6 5 6
Do. Do. Infantry Trousers . . . . . 1 15 0
Do. Do. Bus Undress Frock . . . . 8 10 0
Do. Do. San Do. Cachimere for India . . . . 3 0 0
Do. Military Drill Trousers (by the dozan) . 0 15 6
Extrimates Prepared for every Regiment in Her Majesty's

RETIMATES PREPARED for every Regiment in and company, Berries.

Epaulettes, Swords, Silk Sashas, Belts, Sword Knots, Clinkos, &c., only of the first order, and at prices as moderate in proportion to the about fire which, on application, a printed estimate will be submitted proportion and pricessary. All the new improvements in Only Furniture are kept at their extensive premises ready for impleation; Military Bedstands, Chairs, Barrack Trawers, Canteens, Valisse, Str., complete.

Observed, Canteens, Valisse, Str., complete.

Observed with only the best materials (it. J. & D. N. have no other choice), and at the moderate prices which THEIR SYSTEM FOR CABIT PAYMENTS induce.

H. J. & D. Nigoli, 114, Regent Street, London.

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARMY AND NAVY.

POTTER, MARTIAL MUSICAL

INSTRUMENT-MAKER TO HER MAJESTY, BRIGADE OF GUARDS, and the HONOURABLE BOARD OF ORDNANCE. 3, Brit pa-street, Westininster, London.

Manufacturer of 1 dams, Clarionets, Basenons, Sergents, Base Borne, Cambaia, & ... Valve French Horne, Resulan Coractio, Valvo Oghielelo. ... il Rest Bagie. Treushone, Tvoimpes, Cur nopean, and all sogis of Key'd and Mide Instruments.—Heas, Teuer, and Side citto of every description.

Inventor of the Improved Kettle-Drume.—not Patent.
Drum. Majors' Trophics.—Registrar of Band. Masters.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY, AND THE BRITISH ARMY AND NAVY.

J. KOHLER'S NEW PATENT LEVER INSTRUMENTS. KOHLER having brought to perfection and obtained Her Majesty's Letters Patent for the above invention, which he has applied to the CORNOPEAN. TRUMPET, CORNETTO, TROMBONES, and FRENCH HORNS, he can now with great confidence, after an experience of Five Years, in bringing the action to its present state of perfection, recommend them to Her Majesty's Army and Navy, and all

Professors and Amateur The advantages that this Patent gives to these Instruments

are:—

1. All the Tones and Semitones produced by the Patent Lever are quite as perfect has the Natural Notes on the Finatrument.

2. The intervals in the Diatonic and Chromatic Stales are perfect, the compass greater, and the most rapid and difficult passages may be performed with a precision, freedom, and fulness of tone, and comparative case to the performer.

3. Combinations in harmony, which never before could be performed at all by any Brass Instruments, may now be executed with perfect case, and Teo or Twelve Instruments on this principle, can produce a more rich and sonorous effect than Twenty-into four could do on the old principles. The harsbess of tone in the former Brass Instruments is entirely done away with, and a let of these Instruments heard together, produces military and harmonious effects never before heard.

These Instruments are now in use in Hara Marsett's Patvara narmonique effects never before heard.

Those instruments are now in use in Her Majsett's Private Band, First Lipe Guands, Royal Hoars Guands, Grandster Guands, Forther Guands, &c.
Testimonials, Drawings, and Prices, forwarded on Application at J. KOMLER'S. Manufactory. 35, Henristta Street, Covent Garden, London. Pebruary 20, 1844.

NDIA .- OUTFITS for CADETS. ASSISTANT.SURGEONS, and others, appointed to India, comprising shirts, boslery, gloves, light clothing. Military accountrements, tranks, cable intrilure, &c., are supplied at the wholesale cash prices by THRESHER and GLENNY, mext door to Somerest House, Strand, where lists of opitie, both for ship and by the overland route, with prices and eyery pasticular, may be had on pre-paid application.—N.B. Threshoft's everland trunk can be procured at 132, Strand, but at no other booss in London.

BAND MASTER.-WANTED, by the I I AND MASIER.—WANTER, pully competent to harrange for, instruct, and Lead thelland. The terms will be theral; it is therefore requested that no Bend Master will influenthated unless he can produce the most astisfactory Testimonials. Applications to be adjected to the Band Committee, 7th Regiment, Gosport. No applications can be entertained coming from Band Masters now, og about to be, engaged by any other Corne. imdia and chima silk damarks, brussble carpets, Chintzes, etc.

CHINTZES, ETC.

SEWELL and Co. beg to call the attention of notionen and Families farnishing, to a purchase of several hundrad pieces of beautiful Rich Chintzes at Ls. per yard; likewise a magnificent lot of the 4s. 9d. quality in Brussels Carpets, which they can offer at 8s. 6d.; India Damasks in every shade of eather; Spitialfields Sikk Damasks, of superior quality, at 8s. 6d.; Bills Tabareta at 2s. 11d. and 2s. 3d.; a new material in Broche Cashmere for Drawing-room Curtains; Wool Damasks in initiation of Silk, Sos. the piece; French embroidered Tablecovers, one galace; Coroleo and Sofa Chintzes, 4dd. per yard; a large assortment of Aubusson, Turkey, and Anninets Carpels, German and Paisley Window-adviating, &c. Compton House, 44 and 48, Old Compton-street, and 46 and 47, Frith-street, Soko.

ORIGINAL DEPOT POR NAVAL & MILITARY REQUIPMENTS.

ORIGINAL DEPOT POR NAVAL & MILITARY REQUIPMENTS.

AMUEL LEVY, late of Hemming n-row, begs now to inform his Naval and Military Friends, that he has removed to more specious and elegant Fremises, where they will find a most extensive supply of every article sold by him, at even lower prices than formerly. He begs to assure his Friends generally, that the same punctuality and attention to their orders which for so many years obtained their approbation shall mark his future dealings with them.

Portable Bedstands, Rofas, Canteens, and Camp Furniture of every description and best manufacture, at forty per cent, under the charges of any house in the trade.

annual na an and second on total standard
Portable Chest-Drawers	4	14	4	0
Portable Camp Tent-Bedstead, Bedding comple	eto		•	0
Solid Leather Portmenters		2	2
Town-made Regulation Sword	:	•	7	ě
Infantry Sash, all Slik	:	ĩ	3	ō
Captains' Epaulettes, best quality	•	i	7	Ä
Lieutenants' Epaulettes, bost quality, per pair	•	:		×
Waist Belts	•	4	2
	•	ŗ
Shoulder Ditto	٠.	•	. 9	0
X I. has no commercion with any other house

TIODGSON'S POTTED WELCH SALMON.—The most delicate and delightful preparation, far eurpassing any article of the kind ever yet introduced to the public for sandwiches, toast, &c., is now with confidence recommended to epicures, travellers, and invalids, as a great acquisition to the breakfast, luncheon, or supper table. Sold in pois at is. 3d., and 2s. 6d., wholesale and rotail, at J. Hodgson's British wine warshouse, 27, Union-street east, Bishopgate-street, and retail by all respectable oilmen, grocers, druggists, and fishmongers, in town or country. Superfor British wines, 16s. per dozen, warranted four years old.

METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOUTH BRUSH and SMYRNA SPONGRS.—This Tooth-Brush has the important advantage of searching thoroughly into the divisions of the teeth, and cleaning them in the most effectual divisions of the teeth, and cleaning them in the most effectual and mitracedipary manner, and is famous for the heirs not coming lance, is. An improved Clothes-brush, that cleans in a filled angles she maint time, and incapable of injuring the finest map. Personalizing Hair-brushes, with the disrable subbleshed Burelon brilling, which do not soften like common hair. Home-brushes of the overlay and successful manner. The genuine Shi Yaki MgDNGE, with its preserved valuable properties of absorption, vitality, and durability, by means of direct importations, dispensing with all intermediate parties profits, and destructive blueching, sid securing the interpy of a genuine Smyran Sponge. Only at METCALEE's, 180, 5, Cubordst, one door from Hulles afreet. Caution.—Beware of the words, "from Metcalfe's," sloped by some houses.

OWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL, POWLANDS DIA CASSACTION AND BOAutifying the for the Growth, and for Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair.

Price 3s. 6s.—7s. Family Bottles, (equal to Your amail,) los. 6d.
and double that Size, 2is.
CAUTION.—The words "ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL" are engraved on the Wrapper of each genume bottle; and on the back of the Wrapper 1,560 times, containing 29,628 letters.
Without this "Rows ans Ganurau."
ROWLAND'S EALYDOR, for Improving and Beautifying the Skin and Complexion. Price 4s. 6d. and 8s. 6d. per bottle, duty included.

RUWLAND'S ODONTO, or PEARL DENTIPRICE, renders the Treth beautifully White, and preserves the Gums. Price 2s. 9d. per box, duty included.

CAUTION.—Spurious Imitations are frequently offered for sale, as the roal articles. It is therefore imperative on purchasers to see that the word "ROWLAND'S" is on the Wrapper of each. For the protection of the Public from fraud and imposition, the Honourable Commissioners of Her Majesty's atamys nave authorised the Proprietors' Signature to be engraved on the Government Stamp, thus.

A. ROWLAND AND SON, 20, BATTON GARDEN, which is affixed to the EALYDOR and ODONTO.

Sold by them, and by Chemists and Perfamers.

**A At others are SPERIOUS IMITATIONS.

FRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF TRANKS'S SPECIFIC SOLUTION OF COPAIRMS—The affects of this invaluable Medicine is attested by Testimental.—From Beanasy Coopen, Edg., P.R.S. one of the Council of the Royal Collegeof Surgeons, London, Surgeon to Guy's Rospital; and Lecturer on Asstomy, &c.:—"Mr. Branner Coopen presents his complianeurs to Str. George Fannes, and has great pleasure in bearing testimony to the efficacy of his Solution of Copains in Gonorhous, for which disease Mr. Cooper has presenthed the Solution in ten or twelve cases with perfect success.—New Street, April 13, 1935."
Prepared only by Ginosen Fannes, Surgeon, 90, Blackfriars Road, London, where it jusy be had in Bottles at 2s. 9d., 4z. 6d., and 11s. each; and of all supportable Druggists and Patent Medicine Vendors in the United Engadom.
Caption:—Unites "Ginosen Fannes, Blackfriars Road," is engraved do the Government Stamp, it cannot be genuine.

*** Mr. Frances may be consulted until Two o'clock daily.

**Princes to Graggest Lamit, of No. 18. Bouth Parede St. Levante.

Printed by Ground Lame, of No. 18, South Parade, St. James's Park, Parish of St. Signaret's, in the county of Middleson, Printer, at the Oldes of Mesers. Brannary and Evans, London, Printer, at the Oldes of Mesers. Brannary and Evans, London, and Published by him at his Oppics, 19, Carsanna-strant, Strands, in the same County, where all Advertisements and Communicationeare to be addressed to the Midse-attention to this will save much troubless-Saturday. Published by Allessee and Advertisements and Communications.

NAVAL & MILITARY GAZETTE

East India and Colonial Chronicle.

No. 582.	SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1864.	Price 86
ALON KOTTO OF THE PREMIENT NUMBER :-  Military Appointments and Promotions—Movements 150 (III. Marines—Distribution of the Batmines in Resident) 150 (Bistribution of the British Army, "Corrected to this day) 2.33 (Promotions, Appointments, &c. during February) 681 Military Intelligence 121 (Ordinance Estimates) 123 Navai Prohestions and Appointments of the Week 137 General Post-Office Motics 138 Stations of Her Majesty's Ships in Commission 183 Navai Intelligence 123 Rambies along the Styr 134 Bir Hudson Lowe and Bonaparte 134	Correspondence  Bir George Bailingall, M.D., on Schools of Jastrostics for Military and Navif Surgeons  "One who is Impartial" on H. M.S. Addison 128  "Au Old Sailor" on China Donation Batta 128  Bilitor's Hotes to Currespondents 128  Bilitor's Hotes to Currespondents 128  Recensity of an Augustation of the Army 128  Calling out the Peachmers 128  Calling out the Feachmers 128  The Royal Mayal School 189  Additional Cavairy Engineet for India 122  Additional Cavairy Engineet for India 127	Editor on Purchase of Regimental Commissions  ———————————————————————————————————
DOYAL MAIL STEAMERS.—  Best route to BELVAST, via Fleetword, every Monday, Wednesday, and Saturday evenings, by the new iron steams. ships PRINCESS WALES and PRINCESS ALICE. Passengers leaving Loudon by the Birmingham Saliway at 16 Am., will be in time for the steamers, and arrive at Belfast the following suffining.  Apply to Mr. Humuy Smiye, Fleetwood; or at the Company's office, s, St. Swithia's-lone, London.  JOH MADKAS DIRECT and will suit panetually on the 1st April, the fine fuelt Ship MELLISH, 180 Tona, J. H. Fawgurt, Commander; lying in the St. Salbe-	A BAND MASTER. — WANTED, by the At 47th Regiment, a RAND MASTER, fully competent to Arrange for, Instruct, and Load the Band. The terms will be liberal, it is therefore requested that no Band Master-will-affer hisself unless he can produce the must satisfactory Testimo- nials. Applications to be addressed to the Band Committee, 47th Regiment, Gospiort. No applications can be satisfained coming from Hand Masters now, or about to be, engaged by any other Corpe.  TO MILITARY OFFICERS, and GEN- TLEMEN JOINING.—WINFIELD & HIMMS, 36, NEW	THE NEW NAVAL UNIFORM  I JO STRAND, beggs to inform the University of the itoyal Naval that he has all the Patenne of the Admiralty, which he submits of the best quality the following low peters:  PRICES FOR NAVAL UNIFORM Common dores of the Recent Annials. Chiam Engenus, Surgeous, Sur
rine's Dopks. This Ship has excellent accommentation for Pensengers, and carries an experienced Surgains. For Prolect or Panages, and carries an experienced Surgains. For Prolect or Panages apply in Mosers. Generature & On., White Chan-court, Cornhill, or to T. Havisias & Co., Sun-court, or 6g. Cornhill.  FOR BOMBAY DIRECT.—To sail on the R. 1. Company, having under engagement to the Hun. the R. 1. Company, having all her dead weight engaged, the optended trait-built first class ship ORESITAL, See tons, Wilslam Wisson Commander, joing in the West India Docks. This ship has seast excellent accommodation for Passengers, having a spacious Porp, and is upwards of 7 feet high between deeler. Will carry on experienced Surgain. For Project or Passenge apply to Roman.	BOND FREET, LONDON, are the only Propriators of the really Berviousble BEDSTBAB, unitable to Military purposes. Upon any other construction whey become ricketry by frequent removal. It is precised by Leidenz Paierni, and may be had in every variety, together with all articles required for an Outfit, upon the Lumest Turms possible and the Shortest Notice.  N.B.—Several Second-Head BEDSTRADE and BEDSING to be disposed of upon advantageous terms, being for the most part of their own manufacture.—R. N. Haves, Agent.  DURE AND COOL WATER.—Naval and Military Officers will find one of LIPECOMBE &	Contenanders' Goats 10c. join.    Contenanders'   Contenanders perienced Surgeon. Far Fivight or Pessage apply to Rommy Ranny, Eng., New City Chambers, Shinopaguse-street, or to T Havreien, and Co., San Coert, or Sp. Carobiti.  TEAM to CEYLON, MADRAS, and Calcutta, via EGYPT, 1st of March, from Scuthempton.—For Passengers, Goode, and Paresla, the Feedantita and Oriental Steam Navigation Company's Steam-skip ONIENTAL, Capt. J. Soy, will leave for Alexandrie on the 1st of March next, and the HINDONTAN, Capt. S. Nousesy, will leave Serz on or about the rat of March for the above places. Apply at the Renterman Bull Oriental Steam Ravigation. Company's O'Roca, vy, High-street, Sungigania, Lopdon 1 of St.	Co.'s PATENT TRAVELLING WATER FILTERS a most de- sirable acquisition. They are werranted to remove colour, tasts, and smell, from every kind of water, and to make land, water spit. They have been in autrensive use for many years, and are well known to be the most effectual, convenient, and duruble filters ever in cented. In warm climates—where good whole- some water is selected must with—they will be found invaluable; as they not only render the most stagmant water steer and spati- lings as the finest spring, but also keep the water very cools they see most consenting in size for travelling, and are inceptable of longing put out of order,—with cools—accounts & Co., 94, legaling Quadrant.	SHIRTS of good quality, and well sands, at see, per doner Officers joining fitted cut at a dell houte notice, with a requisite for a voyage. Birth, Chapts, Bottler, See the alv ready; and every seciels templated delicity regulation. Codets, Military and Estamatic delicate, Stad out on name advantageous terms: Tall printed estimates of such application. THE NEW MILITARY COCCAD HAT, HES. QUALATY, ESTI PEATHER, FOR 28 3c.
DENINGULAR & ORIENTAL STRAM  NAVIGATION CONTROL PARKAM  The Company book Paquenegra for the Control of places, viv.:  INDIA, via EGYPT (the Overall of the Control of the C	Middlemon are cautioned against the numerous cheele fitters with are offered for sale in most asspert towns, as they are only under to lest a short time, and are then utterly worthless.  I. J. AND D. NICOLL, 114, REGENT-L. STREET, LONDON, salemit a List of their Friess, and respectfully beg that OfFICEAS WILL CONTRAST IT WITH PREVIOUS CHARGES FOR THEIR UNIFORMS, and as regards the excellence of material, the skill, and rich lace used, they will lear comparison with any 1 and in many points, as slik fluings, shoness of cioth, superior workenauship, &c., will exect.	OFFICERS in HER MAJESTY'S Servi Caden and Assistant. Surfices., can be supplied at a st notice with the proper description of Lines, Military Assessments, Cabin Purintare, &c., requisite for on Quilit of the squality, at Wholesale Prices, by CHRISTIAN and RATHBO! RO. 11, Wignore-preed, Cavandish-square.  Camp Furnitare, Canteses, Overland Trunks, &c.
March.  Mal.TA, Alexandria (also Nuples, Leghorn, Genoa, Sc., in one- junction with the Nespolitze steamers from Malta,) from South- ampton 1st of every month.  VIGO, Oporto, Lisbon, Cadis, and Gibraltar, from Southampton Ducks every Thursday at B F.M.  ATHENS, Sysa, Smyrna, Constantinopia.—Occasional trips.  MADRIRA.—One of the Company's steamers, will run between Madeira and Gibraltar next Spring, for Passengers returning vis the Peninaula, and will then return to Southampton diract.  N.B.—Paisengers booking to Malta, Egypt, the Levant, or India, have the privilege of visiting Vigo, Oporto, Lisbon, Cadis, and Gibraltar, by the Peninaular etsemers, withbut any addi- tional charge.  Apply at the Peninaular and Oriental Steam Navigation Com- pany's Offices, 81, St. Mary Axe, London; and 87, High Street, Bouthampton; and at the Office, Ne. 31, Report Circus.	Supersine Regulation Infantry Coatton (richly laced) 6 15 0 Do. Do. Infantry Trossers	having undergone nine years' trial in ALL (H.IMAT' is now in delty extensive operation in the above notional ear lichments, as well as by many public companies and privindividuals. This PROUSES preserves TIMBER from 19 BOT, and, when desired, renderedt unindamentalis. It is the inactions, and case of application. It may be used in crain wooden tanks, and does not, therefore, require hydraulic chines, except for the sake of expedition. It ensets the hydraulic chines, except for the sake of expedition. It ensets the green wood in a very short time, and renders the communication in the sake of expedition. It ensets the green wood in a very short time, and renders the communication and the TACKE of MOTHS, but are unchanged colong, and rendered even stronger than before.  Namerous appointes and testimonials may be seen, and evintorialism copon its objects and application will be given, the Company's Offices, No. 36, KING WILLIAM BIRELLONDON BRIDGE.
THE following superior SHIPS, belonging	solve shalons and at the recularate erichs which Tillia systems i	CAMUEL THOMAS, 135, Regent Street

H.J. & D. NICOLL, 114, Regent Street, London. MPORTANT PATENT IMPROVE-

MPORTANT PATENT IMPROVEBENT in CHEONOMETERS and WATCHER.—E. J.
BENT, so, Strand, who obtained the high distinction of regaiving the Government reward for the augmentation of policy trial, begs to acquaint the public that the manufacture of his WATCHES, CHEONUMETERS, and CLOCKS, he accord to him by three patents, respectively granted in 1838, 1849, and 1842. Silver Eaver Watches, headed in forth roles, W. de., sant, in gold cances, from at, to 164, catra, Gold Horizobtal Watches, with gold disjafrom at, so, to 174, 120, each. Dest's, apprimate to his recent work on Time-Leopers, is now ready for circulation.

GLORIANA, 1,100 Tone, J. B. WESS, Commander, to Sall July E.

TUDOR, 1,130 Tone, M. J. Lav, Commander, to Sall Juny E.

TUDOR, 1,130 Tone, M. J. Lav, Commander, to Sall Juny E.

PLANTAGENET, 1,000 Tana, July Dameyra, Commander, to Sall July 15.

PLANTAGENET, 1,000 Tana, July Dameyra, Commander, to Sall July 15.

POR MADRAS.

DUKE OF ARGYLL, 900 Tone, Bestly Bestly Britoner, Commander, to Sall July 15.

POR MADRAS.

DUKE OF ARGYLL, 900 Tone, Bestly Bestly Britoner, Commander, to Sall July 15.

Por Frances sport to Capt. Mannes, 19, 10, Mary Are; Cont.

Por Frances sport to Capt. Mannes, 19, 10, Mary Are; Cont.

We. Frances of T. & W. Entry, 75, Commander.

AL TAILOR, 26, the Officer of the Royal Mary Alterations conciloned by the outsides of the best quality, at

PRICE 8d.

and Africa." My Light.

139 . 130

. 141

. 142 . 142

PRICES FOR 'N A VA L. UNIFORMS. Continuadors' Conte 10r. leta.	Commendate dores of the Served Cinina, Captaina, and Commendate, mandate,	8466	and	and and
Drene Trousers Epauletjes, sach Sword, Kust, & Belt Dress Helt Cucked ligt	7 0to0 0 0 10 -4 70 1 15 -3 16 3 8-8 16 1 5 -6 45 2 18 -8 10 3 10 -4 9 16 -7 1	# 19 .8 10 # 19 - 8 16 8 4 - 4 19 1 39 - # 10 6 10 - # 18 6 18 - 1	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	# stoc & # 14 - 9 15   14 - 9 16   14 - 9 16

fact kente notice, with every legis, Boiding, &c. do. always d strictly regulation. le titlenus, fitted out on the printed estimates of such on

AJESTY'S Service. uns, rative atpolied at a store of Lives, Milisery Associate, distribution Quest of the best driver and earth bone, square. Friend Trunks, &c. &c. Esti-

BER MAJESTY'S DOCKYARDS.

SIR W. BURNETT'S PATENT

having undergone mine years' trial in ALL GLIMATES, is now in delity extensive operation in the above national cratablishments, as well as by many public companies and private individuals. This PROCES preserves Timber from DRYROT, and, when desired, renderfit usinflammable. It is cheap, ismachines, and easy of application. It is not be used in ordinary wounder tanks, and does not, therefore, require hydraulic machines, except for the asks of expedition. It seasons the greenest wood is a very short time, and renders the geometrised domestic timber equal to the best forcign. CANVAR, CORDAGE, CQITON, and WOLLERS, are not only preserved from ROT, MIDEW, and the ATTACKS of MOTHS, but are unchanged in colour, and rendered even stronger than before, Rusperum specimens and testimonials may be seen, and every information mon its objects and application will be given, at the Champany's Offices, No. 36, KING WILLIAM BIGHET, LONDON BRIDGE.

SAMUEL THOMAS, 135, Regent Street, Manufer of HAVANA CIGARS, respectfully informs the Admirers of Sensine VURLTA DE ABAJO TORACCO, that he

Annivers is anniver of the second of the sec

METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH

METCALFE'S NEW PATTERN TOOTH BRUSH and SMYRNA-SPONGES.—This Truth-Brush has the important advantage of searching thoroughly into the divisions of the seeds, and circuing them in the most victual and attractalizery manner, and in famous for the lairs not conting looks, is. An improved Ciches-briesh, that cleans in a time part educate usual time, and incapable at implicing the flucation, with the durable unblanched Russian brightes, which do not soften like commune halt. Finshmakes of improved graduated and powerful ribition. Velvetbrushes, phief act in the most surprising seal austershift maffirer. The granting 184 YRNA SPUNGE, with its offenerved balanche graperion of absorption, citality, and directing, or means of direct importations, dispensing white all interpredate pfirited profile, and destructive bleaching, and securing line issue; of a grantine Resyrma Sponge. Only at METCALFK'S, 15c, H, Oxfordst., one door from Holies street. Caution.—Heward of the works, "trues Metcale's," adopted by stone holies.

IS44.

'I'HE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Meters. T. and W. Smith, of Newcastle-upon-Type, and built by them for the INDIA TRADE, will leave discressed punctually at the undermentioned detun, and embark Passengers at Potentiation week after.

FOR BOMBAY,

COLOMBO, 800 Tous, Joun Transach, Commenter, to Sail February 17.

February 17.
POR MADRAS AND CALCUPTA.
PEKIN, 600 Tons, ROUGHT LAIMS, COMMISS

GLORIANA, 1,100 Tone, J. B. WESS, DOI

ebruary 27. Rijhert Small, 200 Tous, E. Wiliands, Con

ROBERT SHALL, 500 TODS, S. WILLASS, COMMEN BAIL APIL 20. BLIENBORGUGH, 1,100 Tone, M. C. CLOSE, Comme BAI May 30. BUCEPHALUS, 1,460 Tone, WH. BELL, Commender,

Military Intelligence.

PROM PRIDAY'S MILITARY GAZETTS.

PROM PROAY'S MILITARY GARETTS.

WAR-OFFICE, Feb. 21.

MEMORANDUM.—Her Majesty has been graciously pleased to permit the 52d Reg, to been upon its second or regimental colour, and likewise upon its appointments, in addition to any distingations largeful from a likewise upon its appointments, in addition to any distingations of the gallant conduct by the Rog, in the operations connected with the passage of the "Nive," on the 10th Dec., 1872.

WAR-OFFICE, March 1.

4th Drag. Guarda—Capt. W. C. Forrest, from 11th Lt. Drags., to be Capt., v. libetson, who exchanges.

2d Lt. Drag.—Ser. Maj. J. Rathwell (Riding Master), to be Cornet, without p., v. Brunt, ap. to Royal Horse Guards.

11th Lt. Drag.—Capt. C. P. Ibbetson, from 4th Drag. Guards, to be Cant. v. W. C. Forrest, who exchanges.

Carnel, without p., v. Brint, an. to Royal Horse Guards.

1th Lt. Brag.—Capt. C. P. Bibetson, from 4th Brag. Guards, to be Capt., v. W. C. Forrest, who exchanges.

15th Font—Lial. R. Bills, from h.-p. Unatt., to be Maj., v. W. R. B. Smith, who exchanges, recaiving the difference.

20th—Ens. It. R. Cowsi to be Lieut. Without p.; G. W. Taylor, Gent., to be Eas., v. Cowell; Lieut. E. G. Hallewell to be Adj., v. Smith, dec.

41st—Capt. R. Duff, from h.-p. 27th Foot, to be Capt., v. I. Bilgabburn, who exchanges; Lieut. R. Butler to be Capt., by p., v. Buff, who retires; Ens. W. Minchin to be Lieut., by p., v. Indier; J. M. Cooke, Gent., to be Ens., by p., v. Minchin. 76th—Asalu.-Burg. A. Maclean, M.D., from 11th Lt. Dragoons, to be Surg., v. Millian, app. to 4th Dragoons, 78th—Asalu.-Burg. W. Buwis, from 20th Foot, to be Assist.-Surg., v. Allman, dec.

However.—Markey.—Asalet.-Burg. E. W. Burton, from 38th Reg., to be Steff Surg. of second cleas, v. Gibson, app. to 17th Drags. To be Asalut.-Burgeons to the Forces.—W. T. Hoakin, M.D.; R. Browne, Gent.; W. G. Watt, Gent.; and W. Batley, Gent.

Bakway.—Lieut., W. G. Watt, Gent.; and W. Batley, Gent.

Bakway.—Lieut.—Col. E. Hay, of the Hon, the East India Co.'s Depot, at Warley, to have the temporary rank of Col., during the period of his being so employed.

MEMORANOUS.—The Christian memes of Capt. Clarke, 46th Reg., are William Henry Hardy Forbes. The app. of Ens. Cum-ning to the Cape Mounted Rillemen is without p., and soc with p., as previously stated.

2d Res. of tucks Veromanry Cavalry—A. G. Robarts, Esq., to p., as previously stated.

2d Reg. of liucks Yeamnury Cavalry...A. G. Robarts, Esq., to 221 Reg. of mean Yelmanry Cavalry—A. G. Robarts, Esq., to be Capt., v. B. Fuller, resigned, Feb. 17. Southern Rog. of West Riding Yeomanry Cavalry—Cornst W. Johnson Fox to be Lieut., v. Sheardown, res., H. Boyataa, Gent., to be Cornet, v. Fox, prom., Feb. 26.

CAVALILY.

2d Drag. Guards-On the 22d ult., Col. Chatterton and the Officers of this reg., gave a very elegant enter-tainment to the Hon, Baron Pennefather, the Hon. King Harman, High Shariff, and several members of the Grand Jury, at Longford.

7th Hussars—At the East Sussex adjourned sessions on the 23d ult., Corporal Robert Hubbard, Privates Wilhams, Baldwin, M'Intyre, and Weston, and John Keen, groom to Sir W. Russell, were all indicated for having at Brighton, on lat Feb. (see N. S. M. G., 10th ult.), unlawfully and riotously assembled to disturb the peace, and fully and riotously assembled to disturb the peace, and being so assembled, for unlawfully and cidently assaulting Lorenzo Lourions and other persons, and damaging their house and property. All the prisoners, except the Corporal, had been builted out by the Officers. The prisoners (except Williams) were all found Guilly. The Earl of Chichester, in passing sentence, said the five men had been guilty of a most serious offence, and one which called for the infliction of heavy pluishment. He regretted the discredit which to some extent their conduct must throw on the regiment to which they belonged. He had known the 7th all his life. The regiment had been distinguished altho for its services in the field, its conduct in garrison, and the abilities of its Commanders. He had no doubt that the prisoners had received provious provocation, and that they were labouring under excitement, for under no other circumstances could be believe that British soldiers could commit such an outrage. Still they had disgraced themselves, and thrown discredit, on the distinguished regiment to which they belonged. The peaceable inhabitants of Brighton must be projected against such outrages, particularly from those who were stationed there for the purpose of aiding the civil power in the preservation of the peace. The sentence of the Court was, that they be committed to the House of Correction, and kept to hard labour for ten months. The case terminated at midnight, after occupying ten hours, during which the court was dunsely orowied.

ORDNANCE CORPS.

Rl. Artillery-llis Green the Commander-in-Chief has been pleased to approve of First Lieut. George Drought Warburton, R.H.A., being appointed one of the extra Aides-de-Camp to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant. The Non-commissioned Officers lately gave a ball in the Artillery Barracks, Montreal, which were decorated with splendom, Military trophies, and other ornaments.

The whole of the men of the Royal Artillery at Woolwich off duty were assombled yesterday morning (Friday), to witness the infliction of corporeal punishment to the extent of 150 lashes upon Gunner and Driver Davis, of the 6th Battaffon, who was tried by a Court-Martial, and Yound guilty of breaking open one of the barreck-rooms, and stealing a communan, value 5to, the property of 1.t. Col. Colguboun. The prisoner, on leaving the hospital, will be excharged from the regiment with ignorality. Had he been killed by the civil powers for a similar offence, he would, in all probability, have been sentenced to seven years trapsportation, or for a longer period.

INFANTRY. Root Guards—Yesferder the hange of quarters of the Household Brigade of Infantry, announced in our last, took piece.—On Wadnesday next the las battalion of the Granadier Guards will move from the Tower, and will be relieved by the 1st battalion of Scots' Fusilier Guards from Winchester.

lat Foot, 2d East.—The non-commissioned Officers of the right wing of the Royals at Quetes, entertained their comrades Serjeants of the 68th Lt. Inf., at the City Hotel, in return for the great kindness of the 68th on the ship wreck of the Royals in St. Lawrence, when bound for the West Indies. The toat of "The Serjanus of the 68th Light Infantry" was responded to by Col.-Serj. Reid, of that corps, in a very appropriate manner. The duties of the chair were ably filled by Quarton-Serj. Thumpson, of the Royals, supported by Act. Serj.-Major Hayes.

6th—The detachments recently employed in Flintshire have been withdrawn, except that at Holywell, which still remains there in aid of the civil power. Lieut.-Col. Michel and Maj. Pottinger have leave to the lath inst. Capt. Brook's co. has returned to Preston from Chester, its services being no longer required in Wales.

12th Depot—Capt. Gillman, Ensigns Dundas and Littlehales are under orders for the service sompanies.

19th-Lieut, Franklin is to be appointed Paymaster of Chelsen Pensioners, instead of Paymaster to the regiment. 10th-The head-quarter division left Birr, on Monday, for Dublin, where it arrives this day.

20th—Licut. Richard B. Smith died at Barmuda on 21st Dec.; he was promoted from the ranks in July, 1841. after more than 20 years' meritorious services. He has left a widow and three daughters.

left a widow and three daughters.

"We must pause for a moment to add a tribute in which we are sure the whole community will join, namely that of unqualisted approbation of the conduct of the Commandant, Joett.-Col. Hutchinson, commanding the 20th Regiment during the prevalence of the late epidentic. Not a day passed but saw this benevolent Officer and anxious soldier (except when engaged in the like duties at fit. George's and Ireland Isle), visiting the hospital in our town (Hamilton), administering to the wants of the sick, southing the last hours of the dying, and thusescouraging by his pressure, self-exposure, and example, the dispirited. The heat of our long summer days was no obtacle to his unwearied exertions: his sympathy in the sufferings and at the loss of his brave men and excellent Officers fully attested his gauerous disposition."

— Bermuda Gazette.

20th Depot—The draft for the service cos, is embarked in the Prince George transport.

in the Prince George transport.

23d—Licut Donkins, acting Paymaster, Reserve Batt., in a fit of insanity, ended his existence by outting his throst, at London, Upper Canada. He had been 18 years in the Service.

23d Depot-Lieut. G. Philippe, one Serjeant, and 260 r. and f., are under orders for Canada.

27th Depot-Under Major Fawkes, have moved from Drogheda to Nass, where Capt. Williamson's company, frour Trim, joins. The latter is relieved by the 60th Ruller.

Capt. Watson's company remains at Drugheds.

33d Depot—Lieut. Winnington has joined from the service coa. Surg. Drysdale has left, and with Ensign Pachell, and 21 rank and file, embarks at Cork for the morvice cos.

42d Depat - Capt. Guthrie is ordered to command.
Rl. Marines - We have to report the death of Colonel Robert Moncroiffe, at his residence in St. Thomas's-st., Portsmouth, on Saturday last. This gallant veteran entered the corps 20th Nov., 1776, and, after a service of 50 years, retired from the command of the Portsmouth Division. He was held in the very highest estimation and respect by every Officer and man under his command. His entire career in the Service, but more especially as Commandant of the above division, was marked by a anidiar-like fortitude and most gentlemanly deportment.— Capt. Anderson, recruiting at Chelmsford, is removed to Aylesbury .- Capt. Lee, of Chatham Division, proceeded on Wednesday to Derby, on the Recruiting Service. Lt.-Col. Pilcher, R.M., has detached Lt. Spratt from Pembroke to Cardigan, to assist Capt. Griffia in the duty at that place. It. Rosbrooke has relieved Lt. Wilson at Pembroke, Lt. Adsir has been detached to Haverford West. Major Whylock remains stationed at the workhouse at Narberth.

Distribution of the Buttalion in Ireland, Rebruary 24, 1844.

	Dgrait.	Field-Officers.	Captaine.	Estalterus.	Adjetent,	PRy & Lyanneron,	Bacgcon.	Aurist. Bergeen.	Stad Seryents.	Serjeants.	Corporals.	Drummers.	Privates.
Effectives		ī		1	1	4	1		2	8	6	- 8	128
))	. Haulbowhne .	. ;	; 1	1	••			••			*	••	12
je 1	, Camden Firt .	١.	٠٠.	1 31	••	•••	•••			1	3	••	27
•• •	Carlisie Fort .	. • • 1	٠.,	1 1	• •		••	••	••	1		٠:	119
	Duncannon Fort		, 1	3	•••	•••	••	٠.	••	4	•	١,	79
••	, Pigeon House ) Fort, Dublin	[ ]	2	4	••	- 4	••	••	• •	7	8	8	147
"	, Charles Fort, t		1		]			ı		. 4	4	1	80
 1	Youghal .	1			[					3	4	. 1	64
	Photo man was	1 1	٠,		1	" [		•		9			81
13 9	COL - William II				٠٠١	٠.,		•	•	17		٠.,	08
"	, wericia a .	!			•••	•••		• •	••		•	•	Ne
	Total	•	0	18	7	1	4	1			12	14	720

Distribution of Royal, Artillesy,	Mai	RIMB	Brevet-Majort.	Captains.	let Lieubenente.	2d Lieutodanita,	Serjeants.	Corporate.	Trumpeters.	Bomberdiers.	Gunnera.
Cove of Cork Spike Island Carinie Fort, Cork Harbour Camien Fort Charles Fort, Kinsale Kilrush, Lower Shaanon Tartiert Forts on the Shaanon	•	•	 		1	- : : : : : :	4		1	-:-::::	1 4 4 4 4 1 1 36
Total .			1		3	-		7	3	"	60

Lieut.-Col. Wm. Moulium Buston, Commanding Battallon, Ireland.

52d Depot-A draft, consisting of one Officer and 92 rank and file, will join the service companies.

34th-Maj.-Gen. Sir Guy Campbell reviewed this Rag., previous to leaving Athlone for Birr and Templemore, and expressed himself well pleased with their discipline and efficiency.

60th, 2d. Batt. - Lieut. Fitzgereid, Paymester, whilst travelling on horseback, on the Camp Road, Jamaica, was fired at from the bush on the road aide, and on galloping up to the direction, the rescal flung down the piatol, and eluded pursuit.

. 60th, 2d Batt. Depot-A draft, consisting of one Officer and 64 rank and file, are ordered for the service cos.

Glat - A private suffered corporal punishment on Monday, for being drunk on duty.
67th—See the Military Gazette of last evening.

71st — Major Myers is on leave. 71st Depot — Capt. Speer, Ens. Halkett, one Serjt., and 30 rank and file, are under orders for the service cos.

31st Depot-Paymaster Nixon exchanges with Paym. Dunlevie, 74th. Capt. Edmonstone has joined the Depot from leave. The Officers at Buttevent muster very strong in horses, and turn out six or seven red ducts pretty constantly for the Duballow bunt.

42d Depot-Lieut. Diggle and Ens. Robertson embark with the spring draft for Quebec.

85th—Lieut. Lethbridge walked from the barracks, Brimestone-hill, to Basse Terra, a distance of 12 miles, and back again, under a tropical sun, in 4 hours and 23 minutes, beating a Corporal who was backed against him Such a feat for an European has not been by two hoors. erformed within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant of St. Kitt'a.

#5th Depot-Ensigns Williamson and Mauncell, with a detachment, are under orders to join the service cos. at Antigua.

On Priday evening, the Officers of the Royal Irish Fusiliers, stationed at Fort George, Inverness, and a few gentlemen of that part of the country, gave a ball in the Union Hotal. The number of invitations issued amounted to about 120, and included the nobility and most of the gentry in the neighbourhood and town. Lieut.

Vigors is appointed to the recruiting Service at Omegh.

90th—The reg. have moved from Columbo to Kandy, and the 95th from Kandy to Columbo.

90th Depot—A draft, consisting of 1 Officer and 32 and f., is ordered for the service companies.

91st Depot—One Serjeant and 80 r. and f. are under orders for the service companies.

91d-Two cos. of this gallant corps, under the command of Maj. Atherley, arrived at Perth on Saturday last. The remainder of the regiment soiled from Leith last week for Aberdeen, where its head-quarters are in the mean time to femain; and two cos. are to be detached to Fort George. The appearance of most of the men indi-cated the unhealthy climates in which they had lately cated the unibality cumates in water they may easily served. Of nearly 600 young and solive men who composed the regiment when it left this country for foreign service, nearly ten years ago, only 143 have returned. It was peculiarly unfortunate in most of its stations. Shortly after its arrival at Gibraltar, the cholers broke out, and carried off 50 from the ranks. At Malta a similar visitation next year caused the loss of 25 in a few days. At Dominics, and other of the West India Islands, the yellow fever proved very fatal, so much so, that it did not complete the usual period of three years' service in that quarter. Lieut-Col. M'Donald, who accompanied the gallant corps in all its services, is a native of the Porthabire Highlands, in which he has extensive estates; and his tenentry, just week, celebrated in true Highland atyle the safe return of that gallant Officer, with his lady and family, from the trying vicisaltudes of foreign service. —Perth Courier.

93d Depot-Fifty-two r. and f. are under orders for the Riffe Brigade, 2d Bett., Depot—Capt. Beregford, Licut. the Hon. P. Berrington, 1 Serj., and 25 r. and f., are under orders for the service companies.

St. Helma Reg.—24 r. and f., at the Depot, Iale of Wight, are under orders for St. Helma. Wight, are under orders for St. Hesena.

Provincesal Bettalion—The storagth of this battalien in Chatham garrison, from the returns made, appears to consist of the depots of 30 different regs., viz., 2d Queon's, 3d Buffs, 4th, 9th, 10th, 13th, 17th, 18th, 21st, 22d, 23th, 28th, 29th, 31st, 39th, 40th, 50th, 51st, 55th, 57th, 62d, 63d, 78th, 80th, 84th, 86th, 94th, 96th, 98th, 99th—making a total of 3947 men. Twenty of these depots have not yet completed their required strength, still wanting 790 men; the 31st spaces to have 10th successions. 729 men; the 31st sppears to have 105 supernumeraries, the 50th 94 supernumeraries, and the 98th 104 supernu-meraries. These troops will embark for India during the approaching season, to fill up the vecaneics of the regients, occasioned by deaths and other pasualties.

MOYAL MILITARY ACADEMY—Gentleman Cadet John Brack, who was admitted to made at this institution for the first time after the last Cariffman vacation, having considered himself aggrieved by the conduct of some of the other Cadets towards him in consequence of their having been longer at the Acidemy, he left as stated in the Naval and Military Gazetic of the 17th ult., and went to the residence of his prest. On Monday last he returned to the Academy, and in Tuesday a committee of the heads of the department entered into a minute inquiry as to the cause of his leaving, and on the evening of the same day he again lift the Academy and returned home. Further inguiries having been made, Gentlemen Cadets W. L. I. Smith and F. W. Bennett have been dismissed from the institution as a warning to others not to follow their example. It is surprising that young gentlemen of good family should be so thoughtless and indiscret, as to not towards any of the juniors in such a manner is to cause their own expension from the Academy; amont is to be hoped, the destrict sion from the Academy; and it is to be larged, the destrive steps taken by the hoods of the departments, in which they are not only sanctioned, but strictly enjoined, by the present Master-General, if act presently epon, will be the means of preventing or aplaints of a similar nature in fature; and if the young similaren atill at the institution have any respect for the relings of their faulties, they will be earsful of their or fluot, or they may ant only give them pain, but completely may their own prospects, of being an honour te the direct they have adopted.

ment wing at Barbadons

Capt. Jervis, Lieut. Floimes, Quarterm. How, Mast, Griffin, Lieut. Event, and Lifett. Prendergast, are selected to command the invalid cos. formed from the Military pensioners in Limerick.

The Resistance transity has been ordered to Portamously.

The Resistance traship has been ordered to Portsmouth and Cork, to take on buard the following detachments, and Coff, to take on board the following detachments, to Halifax and Quebec, to join their respective corps in North America:—33d, 52d, Rifts Brig., 2d Batt., North America:—33d, 52d, Rifts Brig., 2d Batt., 71st, 2d Batt., 14th, 43d, 60th, 2d Batt., 81st, 82d, 89th, and 93d, Quebec. The Prince George transport, with detachments on board, which satisd on the 27th Feb. from Portsmouth, after a bointerous night in the Channel, was driven back to Spithead, and will sail again as soon as the wind is faile. as the wind is fair.

DISTRIBUTION OR THE BRITISH ARMY, -- COMMERCED TO THE DAY.

and Cohips. Depots. For. Serv. For. Serv.	(This De	ocument (whi	ch in diver	ent, in mate	ipaqeen Lein	s, from all	officers) is	m T .——Cumu prepared excl	usively for	the "Nava	* Military	Ganette, "
Section   Companies   Compan							1
Section   Part   Colorada   Section   Part   P	Corps.									for Serv.		Whonce
		·
2   12   13   15   15   15   15   15   15   15							HER PL	(House)				• at D. G. Canterbury and D. Can	R. H. G.	Hyde Park			2 Veb. 16	France.	toth da.	Bengal as and institutional property of the control of the	ist D. G.	Canterbury			4 Aug. 43	Canada.	dint do.	Chuterbury		1		Medres.
State						France.			f-mM/Ep	18 Jan. 41		Į.
April of Spain.  Bis Bis Ayres.  April of Spain.  April	4th do	Longlord	1:::				148rd do.	Montreal	Cashel			ł rib do., C. of G. Hope blandsdon  July 25  July			• •		July 14	Spain.	M4th do.	Winchester.		l	May 43	L. Indies.
13 Jan. 16   France   4   16 do   5   16   16   16   16   16   16   16			Mandaton	Anglia	1200	Bu, Ayres.	Rest land	C, of G. Hupe	Portanth			ì
Mart, et Blomboy, the Continuation of the Cont	ist Dra.	Newbridge		April 40	15 Jan. 10	France.	4fith do	St. Lucia.	Boyle .			1
Hill. Los, (Excert  Abl. Dre.) Nottingham  The Fine, (Fright)  Bangal  June 49  Mar. 26 Portugal,  June 49  Mar. 27  Mar. 26 Portugal,  June 49  Mar. 26 Portugal,  June 49  Mar. 27  Mar. 28 Portugal,  June 49  Mar. 28 Portugal,  June 40  Mar. 28  Mar. 2	2d do	Ipswich	la de la constante		18 Jan. 16	France.	47th do.	Gosport		1	Jan. 44	Antigua.
133: Dr. 19 Nortingham 134: Dr. 19 Nortingham 135: Dr. 19 Nortingham			MEIGERON	July 87	Mar. 42	Bombay.			Grainsel	19 Sept. 35	#4 Anv. 4#	Chine.
thit do.   Vork   Maideton   June 69   Mar. 28   Portugal.   35rd do.   Newry   18 Jane 60   Indian   27 Aug. 49   Madras   35rd do.   Athlone   23 Jan. 36   35rd do.   Athlone   37rd do.   Athlone	6th Drs.	Nottingham		1: :	Nov. 19	Pranco.	tauth do.	Beugui	Chathan	July 34
Mar. of Portugal   Safe do, Newry   Safe do, Safe do, Newry   Safe do, S			1		Dec. 43	Canada.	sint do.	Van D. Land	Chatham	15 July 84		1
22 Jane 40 Madras  Maliston 12 Jane 40 Madras  Maliston 13 Jany 41 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mar	oth Lan i	Rengal	Maldston	June 43	1	naugér.	133rd do.	N. Mrunews. Names	testralia.		iù June 4a	Ioniau lal
22 Jane 40 Madras  Maliston 12 Jane 40 Madras  Maliston 13 Jany 41 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mary 12 Mary 14 Mar	i Oth Hs.	Cahir		1	Mar. 28	Portugal.	Marb do.	Athleine			27 Aug. 40	Madras.
Mile   District   March   Maldaton   1 July 29   March   1 Maldaton   1 July 29   March   1 Maldaton   1 July 29   March   1 Ma			• •	1	133 1400 34	E. India	BALL GO.	China	Chatham	Dec. 21	21 [11] 44	d'anada
All do. Bombay  Mailatton   24 May 49  Mailatton   13 Jay 59  Mariadon   13 Jay 59  Mari					32 June 40	Madras.			Chatham	Jan. 98	at ania 43	Canada,
35th La.   Bourgal   June 20   Jun	4th do.!	Bombay	Maidston	24 May 41
1829   Portugal,   Oct. 42   Canalia   Oct. 42   Canalia   Oct. 43   Canalia   Oct. 43   Canalia   Oct. 43   Canalia   Oct. 44   Canalia   Oct. 44   Canalia   Oct. 45   Oct.	Isth Ha.	Madras	Maldaton				igth do	Portamouth	1
1829   Portugal,   Oct. 42   Canalia   Oct. 42   Canalia   Oct. 43   Canalia   Oct. 43   Canalia   Oct. 43   Canalia   Oct. 44   Canalia   Oct. 44   Canalia   Oct. 45   Oct.	7th do.	Birmingham	'M WTG BEOM		May 23	Romber.	2d hn	Aukenny	Heltuch.	IA Dag. 85	Angue 40	toman ist.
3d bin 3d John's Wolf Canada Nov. 19 France.  3d bin 3d John's Wolf Canada Nov. 19 France.  3d bin 3d John's Wolf Canada Nov. 19 France.  3d bin 3d John's Wolf Canada Schild do (Wolfard Deletat Schild do Canada	ir. Gds.		' '		,		dist do.	Limerick		, , ,	4 Mar. 40	Caylon.
3d bn. Weilington B			1		1936	Portugal.	band do	Bengul
Ist bn. Portman St. 3d bn. Wellington B ( Fun 1					Nov. 18	Capallu	oard do.	Madra	CHETHER		an Inte du	ilalifa v
ad his, Portman St	Cords.G		1		1
Canada   Chatham   Sept. 30   Sept. 30   Chatham   Sept. 30   Sept. 30   Chatham   Sept. 30   Sep							dotta do,	Bellast
ad by Windurg at Pri.  al Pri.	sa on.	AA CITITIE COID ID				Canana.			Chathan	Rent As	15 Dec. 42	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
as Pr. Gibraltar Jatha. Gibraltar Jatha. Gibraltar Jatha. Gibraltar Jatha. Gibraltar Jatha. Gibraltar Jatha. Gibraltar Joudond. S July 28 Chatham Jadarae Loudond. S July 29 Chatham Janaritia S July 29 June 29 Chatham Janaritia S July 29 July 43 Canada S July 29 Chatham Janaritia S July 41 Canada S July 40 Canada S July 40 Canada S July 40 Canada S July 40 Canada S July 41 Canada S July 43 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 45 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 45 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 45 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 45 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 45 Canada S July 44 Canada Carlola S July 44 Canada S July 45 Canada S July 44 Canada S July 45	latbn.		]	•	July 14	i rance.
Jaff Dec.   Apr.   Ap		Windsor			1624	Portugul,	74th do.	Lectio			July 48	Cunuda.
ad bo.   Quebec.   Condond.   E. July 28   Chatham   Chatham   Jones 23   Chatham   Jones 24   Chatham   Jones 25   Chatham   Jones 25   Chatham   Jones 25   Chatham   Jones 26   Nov. 36   Chatham   Jones 26   Nov. 36   Chatham   Jones 26   Nov. 37   Chatham   Jones 27   Jole 40   Chanda   Sunday 27   Jones 40   Chanda   Sunday 27   May 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 27   May 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 27   Joly 45   Canada   Sunday 28   Jones 40   Chatham   Jones 29		Gibraltar	Tralas	JA May 90	1		7 lat de).	Grennan	TOUR MIRE	20 Apr. 24
Hombay   Chatham   4 Feb. 25   12 Sept. 43   Chatham   4 Feb. 25   14 Apr. 28   15 May 43 Gibraltar   14 Jan. 43 Hombay   77th do. Jeroport   77th do. Jeroport   77th do. Jeroport   15 May 43 Gibraltar   16 Oct. 30 Oct. 49 (Inlifex   16 Apr. 28   16	sd ba.	Qirebec. *	Loudond.	July 25							6 June 46	C. of G. H.
th do. Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal							their dec	Nomental HW			6 July 41	Canada.
th do. Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal				June 29			74th 40.	Manteel	FILMETO	10 Oct. 34	14 Kent 41	C.of O. H
th do. Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal Ith do Bengal Ith do Athinne Ith do Bengal	th do.	Dublin			th wall at	Gibraltar '	76th do.	Devenport				iialifex.
th do. Bengal th do Athlone 2			Daggar		14 Jan. 48,	Nombay.	77th do.	Jamaica			•	{K.$.
th do Bengal th do Athinna 2th do Mauritius can, bat. Vanuritius Sth do Bengal Sth do Rengal Sth do Rengal Sth do Rengal Sth do Canada Sth do Rengal Sth do Canada Sth do Standa Sth do			Discou	0 NOV. 30	of Dec 41	W Kentla	79CH GO.	Hound
tith do Athlone 2th do Mauritius ca, hat. Vaniratius ca, hat. Vaniratius cath do Bengal cath do	th do.	Bengal			- D. C. T.	··· MCDMM.	Buth dr.	News. Wales	Chatham	Mar. 27
25 July 45 Canada 26 July 47 Canada 27 July 48 Canada 28 July 49 July 49 Canada 29 July 49 Canada 29 July 49 Canada 29 July 49 Canada 29 July 49 Canada 20 July 49 Canada 25 July 49 Canada 26 July 49 Jul			Chathem	April 49			Blet do.	Contra	Buttevant	28 May 30
ca, bat. Mairitias Sith do. Reingal Sith do. Canada Sith do. Sermada Sith do.		Maurities	LefWight	10 440 27	19 June 40	Canada.			Clase Cat.	13 Jan. 37	Inlv 44	Canada.
Sin do. Semingar (Statham Armugh 18 Peb. 26   Mauriti do. Femplemore (Statham Armugh 18 Peb. 26   Mauriti do. Femplemore (Statham Armugh 18 Peb. 26   Mauriti do. Femplemore (Statham Statham	les, bat.	A PRILYCIAN		16 Nov. 41	i i				Chatham	Apr. 42
10 do.   Femplemore		Bengal	Chatham	3 Jan. 29	ł		#8th do.	Antigue		4 July 20
th do. Aden Chatham Chatham Chatham Chatham Chatham Is Jen. 27 If Hept. 48 It do. China It sept. 49 It do. Bernuda It do. Bern	oth do.	remulemore	VIEWARI	13 POD. 35	M Long to	Conudo	HOID NO.		CUSTURIA	May 43	25 Sunt. 49	Maoritius
Chetham China Distribution Compalers Chetham Chetham Chetham Chetham Day of the Corphalors Chetham Day of the Day of th	Mb du.il	Duhlin							Painley
Pri do. Cephaloida phi do. Bernuda it. June 4			Chatham	1 C bases 1	. 1		syth do.	Canada	CHER	21 Oct. 88
sth do. Bernada st do. Bombay cas.bat. Carnada di do. Bartadogs cas.bat. Carnada di do. Carnada		inna inna	Jarrov	18 Jats, 27	Ì							} ist do. Bombay di do. Bombay do do. Ratham life Jan. 41 lof Wight 22 May 28 life do. Dublin life do. Macros  Chatham life Jan. 41 lof Wight 22 May 28 life do. Coris  Salay 49 life do. Coris  Salay 40 life Br.  Salay 40 life Br.  Salay 40 life Br.  Salay 41 life Br.  Salay 42 life Br.  Salay 41 life Br.  Salay 41 life Br.  Salay 41 life Br.  Salay 42 life Br.  Salay 42 life Br.  Salay 43 life Br.  Salay 44 life Br.  Salay 43 life Br.  Salay 43 life Br.  Salay 44 l	eth do. I	Hetmudu.	Lof Wight	27 Sent. 41	· di do. Bombay 3d do. Barbudoge at hat Canada (Chatham 1 of Fight 32 May 32 de do. Barbudoge at hat Canada (Chatham 1 of Fight 32 May 32 de do. Barbudoge at hat Canada (Chatham 1 of Fight 32 May 32 de do. Barbudoge at hat Canada (Chatham 1 of May 32 de do. Barbudoge at hat Corfu (Corfu (Co	les.bat. !	PUI MOGEL /		IV Jane 491	ĺ		gand do.	Aberdeen			Yab. 44	Privided
1. of 9fight 32 May 38 at last 42 May 42 Manager 4 April 42 May 42 Manager 4 Ma	ad do.	pompas sentar	Chathan	1495 and 33			yaıd du.
th do. Dubin th do. Mangas th do. Coris Too Man Chatham th do. Coris Too Man Chatham th do. Coris Too Man Chatham Aug. 35 April 42 6 Jan. 44 April 42 6 Jan. 45 April 42 6 Jan. 46 Aug. 35 April 42 Chatham April 42 April 43 April 43 April 43 April 43 April 43 April 43 April 44 Aug. 35 April 42 Aug. 35 April 43 Aug. 36 Aug. 37 April 42 Aug. 37 April 42 Aug. 38 Aug. 37 April 43 Aug. 38 Aug. 37 April 42 Aug. 38 Aug. 38 Aug. 47 Aug. 38 Aug. 38 Aug. 37 April 42 Aug. 38 Aug. 37 April 42 Aug. 38 Aug. 47 Aug. 48 Aug	II. on bE	larbedos	Lot Wight	32 May 24						12 Ciet. 38
the do. C. of G. Hope Mana Chatham 71 Bec. 29 The do. C. of G. Hope Mana Chatham 72 Bec. 29 The do. C. of G. Hope Mana Chatham 72 Bec. 29 The do. Contained Chatham 73 Bec. 49 The do. How Bengal Chatham 74 The do. Cork 14 The do. Cork 15 The do. Manchester 16 The do. Manager 17 The do. Manager 17 The do. Manager 18 The do. Manag	les.bat, (	Jeness 7	" -	is May 49			yeth do.	News. Water	Sheer ness	28 Mar. 41	. 1
th do. C. of G. Riope Mana Rh do. Lond G. Riope Mana Rh do. Rousbay Chatham Chatham Rh do. Bengal Chatham Rh do. Bengal Chatham Rh do. Bengal Chatham Rh do. Bengal Chatham Rh do. Rousbay Chatham Rh do. Rousbay Chatham Rh do. Rousbay Chatham Res. bat. Halifax, N. H. (of Wight) 14 Sept. 41 Res. bat. Halifax, N. H. (of Wight) 14 Sept. 41 Res. bat. Halifax, N. H. (of Right) Res. bat. Halifax	Stin do.	dadras	Chathan		35 July 41	Ganuda.					1
Chatham Ang. 25 Ref. do. Notabey Chatham Ang. 25 Rit do. Cork List do. Cork List do. Bengal Chatham April 42 Long do. New Bruntaw Limerick List do. Bengal Chatham Chatham Limerick List do. Bengal Chatham Limerick List do. Bengal Chatham Limerick List do. Dublin Chatham Limerick List do. Nov Bruntaw Limerick List do. Nov Bruntaw Limerick List W.L. Reg., Demersar, sec. LoLONIAL Chipped Chatham List W.L. Reg., Demersar, sec. List W.L	ßth do∵l	CONTRACT I	1	21 Mag. 29	S July 41	E. Inferior		China	( "hatham	20 NOV. 43	i
April 42 April 42 April 42 April 42 April 42 April 42 April 43 April 44 April 45 Apr	th do. C	of G. Hope	Name		J = 41 42	re-airem,	gyth do.	News, Waler,	Chetham		1
tit do. Cork ist do. Bengal nd do.Munchestur id do. New Brunaw id			Chatham	Aug. 25	!		Wiffe Br.	1	. 3		1 nst do. Bengal Chatham Jap. 25 16 Sept. 41 Canada. Res. bat. Halifax, N.B. COLONIAL CORPS.  10 do. New Brunaw Limerick in do. Dublin Templem Jap. 25 Louis July 41 Counsile. See do. Japanica. S		ork		APRU 42	6 190 446	T.Bruns	ist bn.	Coffs × × × i nd do New Brunaw Limerick 10 Out. 16 Sept. 41 Canada. 14. W.I. Reg., Demerara, &c. Colonial, Completed Rifez, Cape of G. H. 16. Dublin 1. Templem 15. July 45 Conada. 2nd do., Janaica. 2nd do., Janaica. 3nd do.,	ist do. B	lengal	Chatham	Jap. 25	Te   1			Halifax, N. H.	1	13 June 42	ı
th sto. Dublin  15 do. Manufaus  Templem  4 Jan. 37  25 May 27 N. America Screen, Re. 54, Nelcon Reg., 18, Helen. 18, 18, 18, 18, 18, 18, 18, 18, 18, 18,	100 GO.()	Lunchester	Umanie !		18 Bept. 41 (	enade.	,		OLONIA)	COMPS.
th do. Manrikus Templem d Jan, 37 and description of the later of the					o Inde el 14
un do. Dubita	th do.'3	fauritius 1	emplem	4 Jan. 37	-w7 41 il		ana av., d	functo, B. Lec	me, ke.
17 Jan. 49   Walter Fencille Regiment, Malta.				/2	3 May, 42	Americ.	Ceybon &	ille ke.t Uet	KAL. I	E. Nowf. C.	THURS. NAME
the art of the state of the sta	· · · · · ·	C #5(M-1)		-	17 Jan. 49 🕸	ING. W.		Berrui Mai	ta Fencible	Regiment	Malta.

PROMOTIONS, APPOINTMENTS, &c., DERING PROBLEMS.

Army—Capt. J. Johnstone, 9th P., Maj., Jan. 19, 1897; Capt. F. Hart, 98th P., Maj., June 28, 1838; Capt. R. Mare, 67th P., Nov. 23, 1841.
RI. Horne Gda.—LA. P. Brunt,

R. Herene Gida.—L. A. P. Brunt,
Ad. J. Mignro, supersended, Phet.
2, 1944; Cor. J. Brunt, from 3d
Dr. ((1dich Matter), Out., do.
4th Br., God. V. Cherk,
1st Br., Chen. — Research,
1st Br., Chen. — Research,
1st Br., Sheric. V. Dr. Denut,
1st Br., Sheric. V. Dr. Denut,
1st Br., Brunt. Dr. Millight, from 18th P., Brunt. Dr. Millight, from
18th P., Brunt. Dr. Millight, from 18th P., Brunt. Dr. Millight, from 18th — Chr. Androbus, Lieut.
17th — Cor. Androbus, Lieut.
17th — Cor. Androbus, Lieut.
17th — Chr. Androbus, Lieut.
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
17th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Seri., Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Mal. John
18tephenson, Adl, Bald Cor.,
18th — Reg. Mal. John
18th — Reg

Seth-Capt. Cuntain, from 78th P., Capt. v. M'Mardo. 8th. P., Capt. v. M'Mardo. 8th. P., 19th. v. M'Mardo. 9th. do.; 1th. aga Adj. Lugard. from 3th. F., Capt., do.; Eigend. from 5th. F., Capt., do.; Eigend. v. M'Lachtan, sand. Nov. 12.

Myth-Maj Burs, from 3d. F., Lient. v. Liber. 15th. Chief. C., 16th. Major v. Enton. 6th. C., 16t. 3th.—15th. Chief. Lient. v. L. G. F. Broome, ret., Feb. 33, 1844, Robert abadys Luddenny. Energy, 600.

Lieut. by p. v. Harriss, ret., ad do; Win. Hamilton Fur-tenene, Ensign, do.
48th — Althorough Richard Rundle, Ens. v. Hoberts, Eni F., 82d do.
418t—Lt. Wells, from 1st V., Lieut. v. Machensis, exc., 16th sist do., Matthew Fanning, v., Grund, do., Pep. 1; Was. No., burtaun Spratt, v. Caluou, do.

burtson Spinti, v. Giffuou, do. 3d do. 3d W. I. Reg.—Thus. Parker Wright, Eys. v. K.P.T. Smith, dead, do.; Christopher Marartney, M. B., Assist, Sargens v. M. Einson, 7th W., do.

W. Kinnon, you way, white Will W. I. Rig, or Riss, Witz Gerald, Licut. v. Butcher, does, General Way, Seminal neign, doe 20tu — Ensign Bettesworth, Cunning, Em., Feb. 2, 1944;

Capt. Vane, from 67th F., Capt.
v. Lane, exch., 22d do.
Cape Mounted Rifes — Bt.,
Major Armstrong, Maj. v. i.t.,
Major Miller, S. Bt. Col.
R. B. Marpherson, C.B. K. H.,
Majors withoutpurchase — Bt. Col. R. Lluellyn,
Col. Bissett, Lieut., do.; Cha.,
Edw. Philipetts, Ens. by p. v.
Hartshorn, 24th P., do.; Ens.
Horrow, Lleut. by p. v. Let.
Tonkel, ret., 22d do., 1 Kos. Commoling, from Royat Newt. Cos., Ens. v. Bissett, do.; John Skinner Francis, Ens. by p. v. Berrow, 24th do.
Ri. Nawf. Cos.—Li, Col. R.
Law, K.H., from Unity Lleut.
Col., Feb. 3; Wm. John Coen,
Ens. v. Cumming, Cape Mount.
Rifles, 23d do.

RI. Newf. Cov.— Li. Col. R. Law, K.H., from Unit, Lieut.— Col., Feb. S.; Wm. John Coen, Ens. v. Comming, Cape Mount. Riffer, 23d do.

Orden v. Green Department — RI. Art. 2d Capt. Ormsby, Adj. v. Warde, rea. Adj. only. May 26, 18121—1st Lt. C. Weiber Smith, 2d Capt. v. Bt. Li.-Col. Knowless. C.B., dead, Nov. 8; 2n Lt. Pigon, 1st Lieut, do.; 2n Lt. Pigon, ret., Jan. 24, 1844; Avist. Surg. J. A. Davis, Surg., do.

Counci, Feb. 16, 1844; Surgeon Pilkington, from 17th Drs., to be Staff Surg. 1gt Class v. Dr. St. John, pronti, 2d do.; Staff Surg. 2d Class W. M. Ford, to be buff Surg. 1st Class v. Dr. Barclay, prom., 16th do.; Alfred Crocker, to be Assist. Surg. to the Forces, v. Young, dead, Jan. 26.

Surg Quigley, Senior Surg. v. Jan. 26.
Simpson, ret., Jan. 24, 1844;
Assist, Surg., J. A. Davis, Surg., do.
UNATTABLED.—'To be Lieut.
Colonels Without purchase—
Orlohar to be Eins. in 67th Foot.

FERGUARTIONS AND RETTREMENTS, Lieut. Colonels — Lord W., Physics, Gren. (18.; F. Fuller, 52th F. Majors – J. John Sone, 9t. F., R. Hare, 67th F.; H. F. Hart, 90th F. Lieuts. — 10x00, 9th Drs.; Rodney, Sonts Fus. Gits.; L. G. F. Broome, 10th F.; Harrier, 36th F.; Dance, 71st F.; Le Touzel, Capes Mounted Riffes, Engine Hydr. 22d F. Assist. Surgeous—Dr. Drommond, 1st Drs.; Menzles, 46th F. Mem.—The Queen has permitted Lieut. Henry John Baker Tower, 4th Dr. Gits., to take and use the Surgeous of Baker only.

Tower, 4th Dr. (160s., to take and use the Surhame of Baker only.

Man. "War Office, Pab. 15, 1844." The Secretary at War acknowledges the receipt of an annoymous letter, signed "Omega," and dated from the Camberland Hotel, Clifton, Bristol, Peb 11, 1844, inclosing a Post office Order for 4t. 3s., which sum the writer states, like conscience would not allow him to retain. The said sum of 4t. 3s. has been paid into the Bank of England, to fine account of the Paymaster General, for the service of the public.

Monthly Military Oblinary. Ident, General Sir G. H. B. Way, C.H., Col. of 1st W. I. Reg., Brigaton. Major Generals.—Heriot, C.H., Dum nondville, Canada, Goodona, C.B. K.H., Bemerara, Needbam, of late 4th Vet. Hatt., Worthing. Colonel Walker, 91st F., St. Thomas' Mount, Madras. Lieut.-Colonel Knowles,

C.B., Rt. Art., Macao, China Sus. Majors—Crofton, late of $2d F.; Pearse, late of $9th F.; Rol erford, Heatt, London; More, E.; I. Comp. Serv. Bombay; Eld of Pottinger, C.B., E. I. Comp. Serv. Hong Kong. Captains—Lock, 20th F., Bermada; D. Lee, late 9th Ri. Vet. Batt.; J. Johns une, h.-p., Ri. Art., Fisa. Lieutenauts—White, 3d Drs., Cann Jinballa, Bengal; Rde, 15th Husears, Madras; Lindsay (Ad) 17th Lancers, Manchester; Smith (Ad), 20th F., Bermade Deakins, 23d F., London, Canada West; Stuart, 85th F., ist of 29th F., Calcutta; Tapp, late of Rl. Art., Jersey; Schaedile Lleut, 6th Bn. Lin. Germ. Leg.; Holbermann, Lleut., ist H s., do. Engin-Prior, 5th F., Portsmouth. Quartermesters—I. Hoath, h.-p., 50th F.; Jas. Hill, h.-p., East and West Lothian onc. Cav. Medical Department—Surg. Bardin, 9th F.; Surc Paton, h.-p., Staff; Surg. Egan, h.-p., 13ist Foot; Assist. Surg. Dr. Devitt, h.-p., 47th F., h.-p., Fauthampton; Assist. Com, Un. Sunford, Caps of Good House Sasat. Com. Gen. Nighting r., h.-p., Ludiow; Assist. Com. Gen. Leggatt, h.-p., Capada.

Theors in Irreann.—It appears (see Official Return N. & M. Gaseits of 17th ult.) that the total rank and file of all arms in Ireland, on the 1st day of January in each year, from 1830 to 1844, was as follows:—In 1830, 20,408 rank and file; 1831, 16,701; 1832, 19,301; 1833, 23,998; 1834, 23,035; 1835, 18,962; 1836, 17,906; 1837, 18,480; 1838, 16,420; 1839, 16,264; 1840, 14,956; 1841, 14,687; 1842, 15,191; 1843, 14,476, and 1844, 21,251. This gives an annual average for the above 15 years of 18,069 rank and file. The annual average during the period of Earl Gray's Administration, from 1830 to 1835, amounted to 20,689; the average during the Melbourne Administration, when Lords Normanby and Ebrington held office in Ireland, was 16,810; whilst the average, during the two years of Earl De Grey and Lord Eliot's government of the sister kingdom, was not more than 14,818. This, of course, is exclusive of the addition made to the Irish Military force last autumn and winter in consequence of the turbulent agitation for a repeal of the union. Even, however, if the average for three years be taken, it only amounts to 16,972, little more than the average of troops during the Normanby and Ebrington dynasties, when little or no agitation existed.

Capt. O'Fry, Barrack Master at Limerick, has obtained an additional allowance of 451, per annum, and a permanent clerk, in consequence of the increased duties of his appointment.

ESTIMATES OF THE OFFICE OF ORDNANCE FOR THE YEAR 1844-45.

•		•			Amount	Amount	184	 I-45.
	ORDINA		•		to be	Voted in		1-40.	į
ORDNANCE	Civil Wa	Teulioni C	exnts.		Voted in the year 1814.45.	the year 1843-44.	Mure.	Lens.
Towarand Pall-Mall	*			 .			j
Day and areas for the section but a		•		. #64,653)	e'	#	£	Æ	!
Out Stations in the United	Kimedoin	•	•	. 8,697 ( . 20,85.1 (	127,043	124,861	3,182	-
Foreign Stadons		: :	•	33,540)	} }				•
	NER MILET	ARY COB	PA.		i I	'			1
Royal Engineers and Sappe	rs and Min	ers .			111,707	110,770	DSW		i
Royal Artitlery				. 248,974)	1 1				j
Detachment of additional F	loyal Afric	an Artillo	ry Gunne		1 1
at Jamaica, per Warran Royal House Artiflery, &c.	it, dated in	tit April,	1842 .	1,748	i I
		• •		. 80,064 }	843,559	342,407	1,085	-	1
Field Train		• •	• •	1,395	1	·	1 1
Medical Department	•	: :	: :	10,847	1 1		1
Royal Military Academy	: :		: :	Nil.	1		. }		l
BARR	ACE BHTAD	LIBD WAN	r. ·		1 1		, 1
balaries to Barrack Muster	s, &c., in t	he United	Kingdon	39,713	39,397	89, 185		169	}
Ditto . ditto .		Foreign	stations	. 15,584 ]	29,391		, ,
	Total of	the Ordin	ary .		621,590	617,172	4.195	804	£4,627 more.
•						-		·	Ì
	RAORDII		O.J	la.	1		1		i
Ordnance Works and Repa	ire, paiceu	Kingao	n ana to	. 111,210)	1 1		1 1
Sific krepers' Expenditure	. aiti		ditto	111,519	{ }		! !
Buildin; and Repair of Bur	racka diti		ditto	27.4,026	!	_	;
Barrack Masters' Expend	iture. Alli	Wances		ek	621,615	 	104,496
Musters and Serjeants,	and Lodgi	ng Mour	y to Office	rs	10.11.010	820,119	104,490	_
in the Hartart Kimmilton.	und the ft	ulcustee.	•	מיים איים	i i	- 1	1
Pay of Clerks of Works, Fo	remen of	Works, M	autof Arti	in.	1		1	!
cers, &c., in the Patte	i Kingdom	and tho	Colombes	. 41,954 /	1 1		1
Military and Civil Continge	ncies, incl	oding Si	irvey a of	the United			1
Kingdom, Barrack Ac	commodat	ion, dir	e or Buil	dings, and	166,796	191,600		28,010
Allowances in hen of Ordnance	dusters	ADPORG,	. cransici	Len to the	1		! i		1
( Ordennes		• •	•	160,880 \	أغممها		1
Storen   Ordennee Military Store Bran	nch .	: :	: :	, 69,600 }	229, 180	269,000	ŀ · · ·	30.430
		•	• •				!!		Į.
	otal of the	Extraord	inaries		1,020,091	281,918	104,496	67,484	#27,066 more.
Unprovided		• •	• •		NII.
Superannuated		, .			169,660	167,162		4,172
Commissariat Supplies					174.6 AM	194,798	,	20,104
	// A The aire							-	ì
Ordinary	CAPIPUL	TION.							ŀ
Extraordinaries	• •				621,809	617.:72		_
Unprovided			• •		1,020,001	$87,925	37,066		1
Supernuduated .	•			• • •	N11.	167,939		4,178
Commissariat Supplies .		: :			174.848	194.793	( ; j	20,105
•	•	•	(	•			}		{
•		To be Ex	pended		1,990.938	1.964,143	41,093	31,277	1
Deduct Credits.					1		16,		More to be expended
By Suic of Old Stores, Ren	ts of Canto	ens, &c.	•		140,894	113,000	35,8		More credits.
1 - 10 - 10 - 10 - 10 - 10 - 10 - 10 -	· . 1	o an Vo	TRD	4	1,840,064	1,849,142	p o	 7R	Less to be Voted.
Office of Ordnance, Fel	Tuncy 19. I	844.				J. Page	N. G. u.	2000	F. R. BONHAM.
•							U. D	,

Nabal Intelligence.

Retired Captain—W. Style.
Commanders—Richard W. Pelley, C. F. Schomberg, C. B. Hamilton.
Ljeutenant—T. Davies.
Master—H. D. Burney, to Bioseom, for rank.
Appointmants.
Commander—E. W. Garrett (1809), tof the Mars, at Training, and promoted for his gallantry when Section of the Imps, at the capture of a Dutch brig-of-war), to Greenwich Hospital.
Lleutenants—A. La Touche (1840), from Imaum, to be Pirst of Soylia; John B. Marsh (1830), Colin W. Lindmay (1837), and F. H. short (1843), to America; Rich. Bhops (1840), to Torbine.
Master—Robert Fuller (acting), to Stromboll.
Matter—Robert Fuller (acting), to Stromboll.
Matter—Robert Fuller (acting), to Interior.
Second Masters—A. O. West, to Lucifer; James F. Beckett, from Lightning, to America; W. Turton, to Prometheus; A. S. Nanwell, to Tarlarus; John Imric, to Rhudamanthus; F. Matchesa, to Tortuise.
Midsulpman—G. D. Ersking, th Flamer.
Nuval Casicts—N. B. Weplembe, to Camperdown; Hon. D. Ward, to America; A. B. Poolek, to Fox.
Surgeon-John Gordon (1837), to Penelope; Hen. H. Turnbull, M.D. (1833), and Wh. Hoggan (1849), to America.
Baymaners and Pursers—B. Wickham (1835), to Tortoise, as Storekeeper at Acconsion, v. M'Arthur; John Taylor (1804), to America.
Clerk—J. Winstanley, to Victoria and Albert.
Coast awarica.
Clerk—J. Winstanley, to Nictoria and Albert.
Coast awarica.
Clerk—J. Winstanley, to Allington, Deeby, Durham, Leads, Leacoster, Nottingham, Rotherham, Sheffield, and York.
The Overland Mail for the 4th March is detained till the 6th.
STATIONS OF H.M.'S SHIPS IN COMMISSION.

STATIONS OF H.M.'S SHIPS IN COMMISSION,

STATIONS OF H.M.'S SHIPS IN COMMISSION.

With the Years when Built, and the Dates of Commusion of the Others in cummand.

Corrected to this long, and Prepared Exclusively for this Paper.

Achbridge, 1st. ves., 2 (1538), Lt. Com. B. Alpin (1811), Mediter.

Adding, 1st. ves., 2 (1538), Lt. Com. B. Alpin (1811), Mediter.

Adding, 1st. ves., 2 (1538), Lt. Com. B. Alpin (1811), Mediter.

Adding, 1st. ves., 1548), Lieut. Com. C. A. Petch (1828), Psymborks.

Advice, 1, st. ves., 1525), Mast. Com. J. King (acting) Sheerness.

Aoingourt, 72 (1811), Eart. Lord C. K. Paget, Mediterranesn.

Alban, 1, st. v. (1826), Lt.-Com. J. Jeayes, Ireland.

Alban, 1, st. v. (1826), Lt.-Com. J. Jeayes, Ireland.

Alban, 1, st. v. (1826), Lt.-Com. D. Woodfuffe, (1828) C. of At.,

Albion, 90, (1842), Capt. N. Lockyer, C.B. (1815, Lisbon.

Alker, 6, (1835), Com. C. J. Bosanquet (1839), Com. of Aftea.

Alban, 26 (1811), Commodoro J. B. Parvis (1899), Brazile.

Addiated, 26, Capt. Hon. John Gordon (1841), Gibraiter.

Apollo, 11, (1895), Com. Wid. Maclean (1841), Gibraiter.

Arrick, st. ves., Master Com. Luke Smithit (acting), partic. ser.

Annow, 6(1823), sch., Lt.-Com. W. B. Robinson (1877, Cape.

Aur. St., V. Leett. Com. W. W. (180 (1828). Portourick. ARIEL, St. ves., Master Com. Luke Smithitt (acting), partic. ser. Arnow, $6(1823), seh., Lt.-Com. Wid. Robinson (1837), Cape. Aur. st. v. 1, Lieut.-Com. W. W. Oko (1825), Portpatrick. BA-1618K, $6(1824), Lieut. St. B. Hunt (act.) (1835), bouth Amer. Bracon, $6, sur. v. (1823), Com. 1. Graves (1841), Mediterr. Bracker, at. ves. (1837), Lieut.-Com. R. Mudge (1815), Dover. Bracker, at. (1809), Capt. Hon. G. Grey / 1834), Mediterranean. Birrken, 16 (1836), Com. E. Peel (1841), Cape of Good Hope. Black Eagle, st. v. (1831), Mast. Com. S. B. Cook (act.) (1838), that. serv.

part. serv.

Blazer, 3, st.-v. (1884), Capt. J. Washington (1842), Surveying.

Blowerra, 3 (1836), Lt.-Com. E. K. Gray (1827), Chatham.

BRAUBLE, 10 (1822), Ideat.-Com. C. B. Yule (1842), East Indias.

CALEDONIA, 120 (1808), Adm. Sir D. Milne, G.C.B., Capt. Alex.

BINKETA, 3 (1830), LL.-Com. E. K. Gray (1927), Chatham.
BRAYMER, 10 (1929), Listl.-Com. C. B. Yule (1942), East Indies.
CALROONIA, 120 (1808), Adm. Str D. Milne, G.C.B., Capt. Alex.
Milne (1879), Plymouth.
CAMBRIAN, 36 (1841), Sapt. H. D. Chady, C.B. (1823), K. Indies.
CAMBRIAN, 36 (1841), Sapt. H. D. Chady, C.B. (1823), K. Indies.
CAMBRIAN, 10 (1814) Lt. Com. G. M. Hunter (1819), Woolwich.
CAMBRIAN, 10 (1814) Lt. Com. G. M. Hunter (1819), Woolwich.
CAMBRIAN, 36 (1841), Capt. Lord George Paulet (1822), Brazils.
CASTON, 36 (1823), Capt. Charlos Graham (1830), East Indies.
CAYLON, 3 (1810), Lieut. R. Curtis (1818), F. L. rec. sh., Maita.
CHAROM, 51 (1824), Com. J. Clavell (act.), South America.
CHAROM, 51.-V. (1827), Soc. Mast. E. C. Rutter, act. (1837), Duver.
CHILDERS, 16 (1827), Com. G. G. Wellesley (1841), E. Indies.
COLAPATRA, 36 (1813), Capt. Chur. Wyrill (1842) Cape of G. H.
GLIO, 16 (1867), Cam. J. Fitzjanse (1842), Kast Indies.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., IA.-Com. J. Harding (1816), North America.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., IA.-Com. J. Harding (1816), North America.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., IA.-Com. J. Harding (1816), North America.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., IA.-Com. J. Harding (1816), North America.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., ISST), Sec. Mast. J. Jagno (act.), Devemport.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., ISST), Sec. Mast. J. Jagno (act.), Devemport.
COMBRIA, 8t. V., ISST), Com. G. A. Frazer (1811), Ireland.
COMPINNCE, 2, St. V. (1827), Sec. Mast. J. Jagno (act.), Devemport.
COMBRIAN, 5, 8t. V. (1827), Com. G. T. Gordon (1849), S. Amer.
COMBRIAN, 5, 8t. V. (1828), Capt. Bir T. S. Pasley, But. (1831), Brazils.
CVCUCRO, 8t. Ves., Lieut.-Com. A. Parke (1813), Wyymouth.
Devasym, 9t. (1839), Capt. Sir T. S. Pasley, But. (1831), Brazils.
CVCUCRO, 8t. Ves., Lieut.-Com. R. White (act.), Bouth America.
Darbeit, 9t (1838), Capt. How. H. Keppel (1837), Friamouth.
DEVASY, 8t. Ves., Master-Com. J. Grey (acting), Houth America.
Durbeit, 9t (1838), Com. C. D. Hayes (1838), S. America
Dovara, 8t. Ves. Master-Com. J. Grey (acting), Houth America.
Durbeit, 9t (1838), Com. A. Darley (18

PROUMEN, 48 (1818), Capt. J. A. Duntze (1879., S. America, M.A.MER (1821), Lieut. Curn. C. J. Postle (1828), Ireland. Fly, 18 (1831), Capt. F. P. Binch wood (1838), East indies. Fourit, 16 (1831), Capt. Sir C. Bullivan, Bt. (1841), par. serv. Fux, 43 (1832), Capt. Sir C. Bullivan, Bt. (1847), Ireland. Fronic, 16 (1842), Com. W. A. Withs (1832), South America. Grames. st. vec. (1841), Com. E. I. Carpenter (1877), Mediter. Gleranes, st. ve. (1841), Com. C. H. M. Bucktee (1837), Mediter. Gleranes, 6.st. v. (1842), E. Com. C. Hotham (1832), South America. Graveles, 6.st. v. (1841), Com. C. H. M. Bucktee (1853), South America. Graveles, 6.st. v. (1841), Com. C. H. M. Bucktee (1853), S. America. Graveles, 6.st. v. (1841), Com. C. H. M. Bucktee (1853), E. Ind. Harris, 18 (1837), Com. C. Bell (1839), East Indies. Harris, 4 (1837), Com. C. Bell (1839), East Indies. Harris, 4 (1837), Com. J. Duffill (1839), Mediterranean Hilder, 18, Com. Sir. C. Richetta (1831), West Indies. Herman, 18, Com. Sir. C. Richetta (1831), West Indies. Herman, 18, Com. Sir. C. Richetta (1831), West Indies. Herman, 6 (1841), L.-Com. H. B. Foots (1842), Coust of Africa. Hommer, 6 (1831), L.-Com. H. B. Foots (1842), Coust of Africa. Hommer, 6 (1831), L.-Com. B. B. Miller (1837), West Indies. Hydrames, 18, 1832), F. Soutt (1831), Coust of Africa. Hubban, 6 (1831), Com. H. B. Young (1827), Coust of Africa. Hubban, 6 (1831), Com. H. B. Young (1827), Coust of Africa. Hubban, 78 (1836), Capt. Sir James Stirling, Rt. (1812), Jam. Inconstant, 36 (1836), Capt. C. H. Freemantle (1838), W. Ind. Industrian, 26 (1836), Capt. Sir James Stirling, Rt. (1812), Mediter. Issa, 26 (1840), Capt. Sir J. Marshall, Rt., K.C.R. (1812), Gape. James, 21 (182), Capt. Sir J. Marshall, Rt., K.C.R. (1812), Gape. James, 21 (182), Capt. Sir J. Marshall, Rt., K.C.R. (1814), Miller. Lioutsing, 3, st. v. (1840), Lieut.-Com. J. Laur. Hubban, 1813), Mediterr. Lucives, st. v., Com. George A. Frazer (1841), Woolwich. Marster, 2 (1830), Lieut.-Com. J. W. Brisbane (1831), Hubban, 1814 (1

Tringham (1920), Portamouth. NERRUA, store-ship (1821), Mas. Com. F. W. Bateman (1937), Val-

NETIEV., 8, Second Master F. H. May, Devenjort.
NETIEV. 8, Second Master F. H. May, Devenjort.
NETIEV. 8, Second Master F. H. May, Devenjort.
NETIEV. 80 (1828), Com. F. H. H. (Illeas (1818), E. Indies.
NORTH STAR, 26 (1824), Capt. Sty J. E. Home, Bt. (1837), E. Ind.
OLEAN, 80 (1803), Capt. Sup. Peter Visher (1814), Sheerness, ORENESS, 18 (1804), Com. E. St. Ledger Cannon (1834), Mediter.
OTHER, 8t. ves., (1814), Com. H. P. Jones (1814), Holyhead.
PANTALUON, 10 (1831), At. Com. C. H. Lapidge (1814), C. of Af.
PEABL, 20 (1828), Com. E. J. topford (1830), bouth America.
PALILAN, 16 (1812), Com. P. Justice (5), 1824, E. Indies.
PRIBLOUGH, 8t. vos., 24 (1829), Capt. W. Jones (1828), G. of Africa.
PRIBLOUGH, 6, (1842), Com. B. J. Kulivan (1841), Beazils.
PICELE, 2 (1827), Lt.-Com. J. A. Bajabridge (1816), Pembroke.
PIGE, 1, st. ves., (1827), Lt.-Com. C. Autridge (1816), Pembroke. Phony, J., at. ves. (1827). Lt.-Com. C. Autridge (1816), Pembroke. Pirks, 1, st. ves., Lleut. Com. A. Boyter. 1815). Portpatrick. Pircy, 16, (1938), Com. W. H. Jervis, (1833), East indies. Pigus, 36 (1834), Capt. the Hou. M. Stopford (1825). N. America. Prover, sur. v., Capt. R. Collinsbn, C. S. (1812), East Indies. Proversists, 72 (1869), Com. Sup. W. H. Shirroff (1809), Chaham. Polyphemass, 1, st. v. (1809), Lt.-Com. T. Spark (1812), Mediter. Princass Alice, Mast.-Com. Smithett (acting), Dover. Promotherus, st. v., Lt.-Com. W. M. J. G. Pacco, (1826), C. of Af. Proversig, 1, st. v. (1829), Second Master P. Rundle (acting). reserve packet, Pembroke.

Quent, 140 (1829), V. Adm. Sir E. W. C. R. Owen, K.C.B. G.C.H.

PROSPERG, 1, st. v. (1829), Recond Master P. Rundle (acting), reserve packet, Pembroke.

QUERS, 110 (1829), V.-Adm. Sir E. W. C. R. Owen, K.C.B. G.C.H. Capt. G. F. Rich (1823), Modiferranean.

RACER, 16 (1823), Com. A. Reced (187), Brazile.

RAPID, 10 (1829), Lt. Com. E. C. Earle (1812), Const of Africa.

RAPID, 80 (1829), Lt. Com. Bolin Replien (1814), Sneetness.

RAYEN, 4 (1829), Lt. Com. John Replien (1814), Sneetness.

RASHINA ROSE (1804), Com. Tifos. Revis, 1829), Liverpool.

RESISTANCE (1804), Com. E. Liardet (1848), Portembulth.

RESISTANCE (1812), Com. Bir W. Daniell, Kl. (1825), N. Ameri, RONNEY, deput (1814), Lt. Com. B. McGire (1827), Havanipah.

RONNEY, deput (1814), L. Com. B. McGire (1827), Havanipah.

ROVAL SOVERRICK (1804), Cap. Sup. Sir W. Pell. (1813), Perabroka

ROVALIST, Lleut. Com. P. Chelwode (1822), Rast Indiess.

SALAMANDER, 4, et. v. (1822), Com. A, S. Harmond (1828), S. Amer.

SALBMANDER, 4, et. v. (1827), Com. A, S. Harmond (1828), S. Amer.

SALBMANDER, 4, et. v. (1827), Com. A, S. Harmond (1828), S. Amer.

SALBMANDER, 119 (1783), Rear-Adm. Sir Banuel Pym, K.C.B., Capt.

F. W. Burgeyne (1813), Plymouth.

SAPPHILE, v. sh. (1827), Mast. Com. J. R. Fittock (1897), E. Ind.

SALBME, v. sh. (1827), Mast. Com. J. R. Fittock (1897), E. Ind.

SALBME, v. sh. (1827), Mast. Com. J. R. Fittock (1897), E. Ind.

SALBME, v. sh. (1827), Mast. Com. J. R. Fittock (1897), E. Ind.

SALBME, v. sh. (1827), Mast. Com. J. R. Fittock (1897), E. Ind.

SALBME, v. sh. (1827), Mast. Com. J. R. Fittock (1897), E. Ind.

SALBME, v. sh. (1814), L. J. Com. J. H. Scripter, 1815, Medicerenaes.

BAPPHO, 10, (1827), Com., Hon. G. Hope (1841, Cape of Good Hope. BAPAOB, 10 (1820, I.t. Com. J. H. Howker (1815), Mediterraneau. SATELLITE, 18 (1826), Com. R. H. B. Rowley (1842), Bratin. SCOUT, 18 (1832), Com. Hon. J. R. Drummond (1836). Mediter. SATELLITE, 18 (1976), COM. M. H. B. Rowley , 1902), Brailis. SCULT, 18 (1812), Com. Hon. J. R. Brummond (1838), Mediter. SCULLA, 16 (1809), Com. R. Shappe (1820), North America. SKAPLOWER, 6, CHIL (1830), Com. N. Robilliard (1843), Jersey. SKALARR, 18 (1813), Com. T. L. Geoch (1892), Const of Africa. SKEPBRY, 16 (1832), Com. W. Nevill (1825), East Indien. SKEPBRY, 16 (1832), Com. W. Nevill (1825), East Indien. SKERARWAYER, 2, st. vec. (1836), Com. C. G. Robinson (1833), surv. SHERM, 16 (1841), Com. W. Smith (6), (1825), East Indien. SKERARWA, 4 (1826), 5.4.-Com. G. Morris (1826), part. serv. SNARW, 15 (1828), Louis. Hon. W. S. Devereux (1836), Mediter. SNIPR, 3 (1828), Louis. Com. G. Margmond (1835), Ireland. SEARTAY, 76 (1841), Capt. the Hon. C. G. J. B. Kilset (1841), W.Ind. SFERRY, 2 (1826), Louis. Com. R. E. Pym (1815), South America. SFIREFUL, st. v., 8 (1843), Com. W. Maithne (1842), East. Indies. SFIREFULY, 1, St. v. (1833), Mest. Com. J. P. Mron. act.), Holyh. SFI. S. (1841), Lt. Com. S. O. Wouldridge (1817), Const of Africa. SFIREFUL, Capt. R. E. Rowley (1816), Portsmouth. SC. H., Capt. R. F. Rowley (1816), Portsmouth. STABLING (1829), Loca. B. J. W. Bunlop (1825), Coat of Africa. STABLING (1829), Loca. h. S. J. W. Bunlop (1824), Kast Indies. STABLING (1829), Loca. h. S. J. W. Bunlop (1824), Kast Indies. STABLING (1829), Loca. A. T. E. Vidal (1824), Woolwich. SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. B. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. C. Sherlock (acting), Dover, SWALLOW, 1, St. vec., Mast. Com. C.

STATIA, 6, Lt. R. E. Ternus (1842), tender to Senfamor, Jersey. TALEGY, 26 (1824), Capt. Sir T. Thompson (1872), South America, TALEGY, 26 (1826), Capt. Sir T. Thompson (1872), South America, TALEGY, 20, 1914.

THALIA, 42 (1839), Capt. C. Hepo (1826), East Indice.

THOMDERS, 6, St. v. (1842), Com. E. Beracett (1836), W. Indice.

THOMDERS, 6, St. v. (1842), Com. G. N. Broke (1846), C. of U. H.

TURTOISE, 13, Com. W. P. (1830), Challam.

THER, 56 (1830), Capt. W. N. (1840), Challam.

THER, 56 (1830), Capt. W. P. (1830), Morth America. C. C. C. A. (1842), Capt. William Walpsile (1818), Modiferranean.

VERTAL, 86, (1832), Capt. C. Talhot (1830), North America. C. VERNON, 86 (1822), Capt. U. Talhot (1830), North America. C. VICTORIA AND ASBURY, 19, (1843), Capt. Lard A. Flucturence, (1831), Pottsmouth.

VICTORIA AND ASBURY, 19, (1843), Capt. Lard A. Flucturence, (1831), Pottsmouth.

VIRLE, 6, 5t.-vec. (1841), Capt. Nicolas, C.B. K.H. (1838), Pottsm.

VIRLE, 6, 5t.-vec. (1841), Capt. Michola, C.B. K.H. (1838), Pottsm.

VIRLE, 6, 5t.-vec. (1841), Com. G. Giffard (1840), East Indice.

VOLAGE, 26 (1823), Capt. Sir W. Bickson, Bart. (1837), Cork.

VOLAGE, 26 (1823), Capt. Sir W. Bickson, Bart. (1837), Cork.

VOLAGE, 26 (1833), Com. H. Bagot (1838), W. Indice.

WASP, 16 (1813), Com. H. Bagot (1838), W. Indice.

WASP, 16 (1813), Com. H. Bagot (1838), W. Indice.

WILDERSDER, 21, 1841), Lt. Com. A. Barby (1841), East Indice.

WILDERSDER, 21, 1841), Lt. Com. A. Barby (1842), Bover.

WILDERSDER, 21, 1841), Lt. Com. A. Barby (1842), East Indice.

WILDERSDER, 21, 1841, Lt. Com. B. Bart (1841), E. A. Collier, Knt. C.B., K.C.H. (1869), Rear-Adm. the Hon. J. Percy, Capt. C.

Eden (1841), Cape of (1860) Hope.

WILDERSDERS, 21, Linders, Com. W. T. Bare (1841), East Indice.

WOLF, 18 (1848), Com. A. Vyner (1841), E. Bart Indice.

WOLF, 18 (1848), Com. A. Vyner (1841), E. Bart Indice.

WOLF, 18 (1848), Com. H. Com. H. Bare (1841), E. Indice.

WOLF, 18 (1848), Com. A. Vyner (1841), E. Bart Indice. BYLVIA, 6, LL. B. E. Turnnur (1842), tender to Soufavor, Jersey

HER MAJERTY'S PARKET BRICE AT PALMOUTH. CRANS, Lt., Com. Lewis (1821). PRESUN, Lt., Com.W. Leelle, Express, Lt., Com. E. Herrick. Prynnel, Lt., Com. T. Cress. Linney, Lt., Com. J. Douglas.

PORTSMOUTH, March 1 .- (From our own Correspon The Prince George transport, with detachments of the Artillery, and 20th Regiment, for Bermuda, went out of harbour on Tuesday, but could not make head down Ghannel, and has anchored at Spithend, to swait mode rate weather. Dee atcamer is the only vassel fitting in the port; she will be ready shortly, and then returns to Ireland. Daring will be moved out of the long dock on Monday, and complete her fitting in the basin; she is Mr. White's build. Osprey has been caulked and coppered sufficiently high as not to sustain injury by being floated out of the same dock, and go back again to be finished; she is Mr. Blake's build. Lily is to be moved into the Osprey's berth, and have her defects made good and prepared for recommission. In the dock about to be cleared of Lily, a new steamer, the Scourage, in to be She is to be an improvement of the Firebrand, is said; certainly, she is to be 10 feet longer; that steamer is quite ready for Officers and men, but there are not any orders to commission her. For is ordered to Devonport, to complete stores and provisions, and then proceed to India to relieve Thalia. Torgoist has not arrived, but expected in the course of the week. Resistance arrived this morning from Plymouth, and is to embark some troops for the depots, in the Isle of Wight. Prince George transport has sailed. The weather is most tempestuous and wet. The Victoria and Albert yacht is to be taken in dock to-morrow, and the Magicienne displaced, and go up the harbour. Ships in Port-St. Veent, Victory, Excellent, Royal Yacht, Fourless, Dec. Ships in Port -St. Vin-

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 29 .- (From our own Correspondent.) 23rd -- Arrived Raven cutier, Lieut .- Com. Stephen, from Sheerness, with men to navigate the Forte, 44, to Dept-ford, where she is to be taken to pleces. Luncier, Dutch schooner, 6, having had her defects made good, moved from the Harbour into the Sound, and is expected to sail as soon as the wind moderates for the river Gambia coast of Africa. The crew of the Caledonia, 120, Capt. Alex. Milne, were paid wages down to six months. 24th .- Larne, 18, Com. J. W. D. Brisbano, was towed into Harbour by the Configure st. v., to have some defects Grecian, 16, was hauled into dock to be re made good. Falmouth tender was hauled out of dock, having parroa. Paimouri sequer was assured out of docs, making had a thorough repair. 25th—Arrived Aid tender, with atores from Portsmouth. 27th—The grew of Resistance, 42, troop-ship, Com. C. G. E. Patey, were paid wages, and she sailed on 29th for Portsmouth. 28th—America, 50, was commissioned this day by Lieut. Colin Wm. Lindsey, for Capt. Hon. John Gordon: she is to have a complement of 500 men. By letters from Cork, we learn that Albion, 90, Capt. N. Lockyer, having emberked 50 additional Marines, had sailed from thence with sealed adultional Marines, had sailed from thence with scaled orders. Sailed Diligence, N. T., Second Master W. Marsin, with stores for Woolwich and Deptford Dockyards. Arrived Rima, 6, Lieut, Com. C. G. Butler, from Liverpool, to be paid of. 29th—Sailed Rasen cutter, for Sheerness. In Harbort—Caledonia, Sun America, Etna, Larne, Express, Confiance at .. v. In the Sound-Lancier.

SHERRNESS, Feb. 29 .... (From our own Corre -The Lightning steamer arrived here on Friday has with the Chichester newly-built frigure in tow, from Woolwich. She will be taken into the Basin short and fitted as an advance abip. The Gipsey tender, Wilson, Master, sailed on Monday with supernumeraries for Portsmouth. The Boyne transport on Tuesday for the same part, and the African steamer to-day for Wood-The Tortoise will not leave Chatham till next week, when several men from the dockyard here will go round in her to Portsmouth, to a-sist in bringing the Forte frigate here to be broken up. The Fulture steamer is not in dock as stated in last week's report : she is now in the Bestit, having her ballast taken out previous to being docked. The Vicomte de Chahonne, Captain in the French Royal Navy, and M. Adam, an Officer in the Royal Dockward at Cherboury, visited the Dockyard here last week, and witnessed the application of the marine compost to the bottom of the Shangon frigate. In Harbour-Compersionen, Ocean, and Speedy cutter. In the Basin-Vulture and Crocuille troop-ship.

DEAL, Feb. 29th .- (From our own Correspondent.) -23rd...The French mail panket Inded her mail and passengers here; the weather was to beisterous that the mail could not be landed for some time after she came Into the Downs. 24th-Sailed, the outward bound vessels from the Downs to the westward. 2hthe The outward bound vessels returned to the Downs, the Boulugue at. landed her passengers, the French mail packet Exterette, her mail and peasengers, the French mail pocket Exiginal mail packet Widgeon, her mail and passengers from Ostend, the barque Burbara Gordon came Downs, having lost her fore-topment and two men off 26th-An American barque came into the Dunganess. Downs, with loss of mainmast, which she lost three days after she left Boston. 27th-Salled, saveral of the outward hound variate from the Downs to the westpard, some having slipped from their anchors ; strong breeze northerly. 28th—H.M.'s revenue cutter Lively went through the Downs to the westward; the American barque that lost her mainmast was taken in tow by a tug atommer for the river. 29th—HaM.'s brig Nautilus salled from the Downs to the westward, afterwards bore up and run through to the eastward; several bunteward bound vessels have gone through to the east coast.
Durryoud, Feb. 27th.—(From our own Correspond-

Dispreyond, Feb. 27th.—(Fram our den Cerrapond-ent.)—Sailed 23—Amphiteite freight ship, with victual-ling stores, for Tringomales. Remain—Cadet female convict ship, for Hydney, New South Wales. London male convict ship, fitting to convey male convicts to New South Wales. Hintell male convict fitting, of Van Diemen's Land. Princess Reval transport, Lieut, Grit-delle man and Princess Reval transport, Lieut, Gritfithe, was paid off on the 21st inst. The shipweights are that progressing with the Firefly steamer; her deck a are now being paid with Jeffery's Glue, instead of pitch. All seamen and agrificers who are paid of from H.M.S. and henr a good character from their Commanders, are to be entered as blend workmen in H. M.'s Dock Yards home.
Sir Baldwin Walker has been formally dismused the Turkish Service by a communication to the British Em. bassy. Sir Baldwin now insists upon receiving half-pay, and being placed upon the same footing as Turkish Officers in retirement. These demands are resisted by the Porte, and form the subject of a negotiation between Sir Stratford Canning and the Turkish Government.

The Admiralty have resolved on adding several new steam-vessels of the first class, exclusive of those now building, and ordered to be built, to the list of the steam They also purpose building some new 50 gun Navy. frigutes like Formon, Raleigh, and Leander; some 80-gun ships upon the model of Fanguard; several 90-gun ships like Albion; and some three-deek ships upon the model of Queru.

The steamosquadron to be placed under the command of Capt. W. Jones, on the court of Africa, for the more effectual prevention of the slave-trade, will possist of Penelope, Prometheux, Hydra, Albert, Hecute, Thunderholt, Wilberforge, Soudan, Firebrand, and one other vessel. making altogether ten steam versels. Penelope and Prometheus are on their passage to the Coast; Hydra, Albert, Thunderbolt, Wilberforce, and Soudan are already there ; Heeste is to be disputched from Ireland, and Ferebrand, nowat Pertimouth, will be commissioned for the service.

The "Boscawen," 70 Guna,....It has been finally decided, and orders have been issued by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that this fine vessel is to be launched at Woolwich on Wednesday, 3d April next.

The French Transaclantic steam-vessels will be ready for sea early in the spring of the present year, and the French Government has decided that the whole 14 are to be manned, armed, and equipped as vessels of war.

The Hyacinth sloop of war of 18 guns, Commander Francis Scott, sailed from Plymouth on Tuesday evening, the 23d of Jan. ; and on that day week shortened sail to double-reefed topsails lowered on the cap, going five knots; and in that way goo into Funchal, in the Island of Madeirs, on Wednesday morning, the 31st. The Apollo was just going out—all well. The Husanith left Funchel on Priday the 2d. The U.Secorvette Navaloga, also of 18 guns, was at Punchal, that the difference between the armuments of these two vessels, nominally of equal force, is excessive. The Suratoga carries 12 guns of 64 lbs. calibre, and 6 of 32 lbs.—guns, not estronades —300 men, and 1000 tons burthen. The Buruloga carries 12 guns, NAVAL MEDICAL OFFICERS. - The following have recently obtained the Degree, and become Members of the Royal College of Physicians, of London:—Oliver Evans, Deputy-Inspector, Jamaica Hospital; James Alian, Haslar Hospital; William Loney, Woolwich Hospital; Richard Tobin, Plymouth Dockyard; Lewis C. Urquhart, Sheerness Dockyard; Thomas E. Ring; Walter T. Bellantine; Robert Grahame; and John Robertson, late Surgeon of H.M.'s Terror.

The Admiralty have given instructions, that while the new-class brigs are to be built upon the lines or draft of the respective constructors, the specification of the matescantling of the several vessels are to be all the same; that the frame shall be of oak, the beams of African timber, and the planking of oak, larch, &c. Each vessel is to have the same complement of men, the same masts, yards, spars, sails, rigging and stores, to carry the same weight and armament, and to stow the same quantity of water and provisions as the others. The only difference that will be made will be in the ballast, of which each concel will cerry that quantity which its constructor may conceive necessary to give his vessel the proper stability.

They are all to be ready and ataunt by May,

Admiral Gali, one of the eldest Admirals in the Rus-sinn Navy, has just died, at the age of 84. . He was an Englishman by birth, and has been sixty years in the Russian Service.

The Verhon, b0, Capt. Walpole, after touching at Gibratar, from Malta, will come direct to Spithead, and not fo Lisbon, as reported. She will be dismantled at Sheerness.

Letters from the Vindictive, 50, Capt. Nicholas, of 24th Oct., from Callao, report all well, but expect to be detained in the Pacific for some time, owing to the pro-ceedings of the French aquadron at the Society's Islands, whither the ship was hourly expected to depart, being held in instant readings for service. R.-Adm. Thomas was at Valparaiso.

It is reported that Vice-Adm. Sir F. Auston, K.C.B., is to succeed Sir C. Adam in the N. American and W. India command; and that Hastings, 72, is to be the flag ship, to relieve Illustrious, 72.

The Indus, 80, Capt. Sir J. Stirling; Malabar, 72, Capt. Sir G. Sartorius; and at. Vesuvius, Com. Ommancy, are ordered home from the Mediterranean, to be II.M.S. Cleanairs had arrived in Simond's-bay, bringing with her two slave-rigged vessels captured in the Morambique, while deserted by their orders. The Sociedade, condemned by the mixed commission at the Caps, had been sold, with her cargo, for $600.

RAMBLES ALONG THE STYX.

(Continued from No. 5st, p. 185.)

Now, Evergreen, let met ask if you were personally acquainted with an Officer of the light Division, who was the sole inventor of that singular and lagenous mode of smoking bacon in the most expeditious manner possible?

or, as he termed it, firing a pig ?"

"Oh, yes," replied Jack, "I not only was more intimately acquainted with him throughout my life than with any other person, but I knew perfectly well the whole process, which was as follows:—An embargo having heen laid on the first large pig that could be found, a tube sufficiently long to reach from his head to his tall was manufactured with numerous folds of the thickest and stoutest brown paper, strengthened with sords; it was then filled with gunpowder, moistened with water and made into a paste, which caused it to burn like a sky-socket. This done, the tube was tied to the tail of the pig, brought horizontally along his back, the end of it placedebetween his ears and fastened round his neck, which gave him much the appearance of a unicorn. But let me digress for a moment, and observe that the most enthusiastic supporters of Martin's praiseworthy Act, passed for the Protection of Animals, would have had their risible organs excited if they had witnessed a scene which I am about to describe; for although the grunter was always much autonished and somewhat frightened, he was never injured by going through his flory ordeal. Market-days in Spanish villages were considered par-ticularly well adapted for those becom-smoking operations. To some narrow lane, therefore, leading into the square, the animal being taken and a match applied to the tube. off he went at the top of his speed, grunting and screenly ing vehemently, looking neither to the right nor to the left, but charging furiously in amongst the market people, the crater of the volcano in the vicinity of his nose inces santly issuing forth itre and sparks in abundance, and endangering everything ignitable which happened to be in his line of march. Picture to yourselves th a scene of confusion and dismay occasioned by his sudden and unex-pected appearance, running full tilt at old women and young ones, muleteers, ecclesiastics of all grades, rendors of garlie, onions, bucon, savinges, eggs, fruit, earthen-ware, bread, obsenuts, hogs lard, and a variety of other sorts of merchatdise; and, after upsetting everything which obstructed his forward movement, bringing up in me stable filled with mules, donkeys, and shopped straw. Often have I heard every asiat in the calendar invoked and curses loud and deep liberally bestowed on heresical, pig-firing Englishmen, in an incredibly short space of time after the entrance of this porcus unicornic into the plaza. On one occasion I really thought my commission not worth half-an-hour's purchase; for I was mainly instrumental in igniting and starting a pig through the market-place of Fuente Guinaldo, when it was unusually crowded; and after my omissary had made a practical breach clean through the multitude, he boited into a stable filled with straw, with the volcano on his snout in full play. Por-tunately our soldiers contrived to extinguish the fire in its infancy, and there the thing ended for that day. Had it been otherwise, your friend Evergreen would never have reached the rank of Colonel; but, in all probability, have been cut short off in his career by the sentence of a Court-Martial, for giving roving commissions to inflammable awine in the dominions of our ally. Perdinando Sep-timo, of Spain, Nightening his subjects nearly to death, and endangering their houses and property. There was in fact, scarcely a village, between the rivers Coa and Agueda, that was not at some period or other in imminent danger of confiagration, by the frequent repetition of those matimes. But one of the most ludicrose scenes of the kind that ever occurred, was in Fuentes d'Onora, the year before the battle was fought on that spot. The gallant chief of my old corps was listening with great delight one chief of my old corps was listening with great delight one fine evening in the month of. May, to the hand playing a favourite air of his, "Here's a health to those far away." I contrived that a sig absuld be ignited and started from behind the ruins of an old tower which, both of you remember, atand some way up the hill leading down to the house of the priest of the villegs. The animal took precleely the direction I wished; and just at the momen when the bend were executing with considerable taste and feeling that part of the air, "When perhaps we are saying farewell for ever," he charged right through the villagers farewell for ever," he charged right through the villagers and soldiers, who formed a sirele round the musicians, put a sudden stop to their farther proceedings, and caused put h suduen stop to ment seement by our can perhaps conceive, but to which I am quite unable to do justice by any attempt at describing. 'That's Evergreen again at his attempt at describing. 'That's Evergreen again at his old tricks, I'd bet a hundred dollers,' exclaimed our chief; but although I could see plainly enough from behind the ruins all that passed below, none of the amateurs of music could see me; so that it was never actually brought home to the real offender."

"Come, come, Evergreen," ex-exclaimed Bugle, " have as good as acknowledged yourself the inventor of that novel mode of clearing atrents and market-places, and I have a atrong suspicion it was you also who devoted so much valuable time to the instruction of a certain so much valuable time to the instruction of a certain Hibernian volunteer in geography and other accomplish-ments. When this volunteer, after one of the bloody battles in the Poninsula, had obtained a commission, and was ordered to proceed to the Depot in England, in charge of a few worn-out men, was it not you who drew out a or n rew worn-put men, was it not you who drew out a route which you assured him was by far the most easy and pleasant from Valladolid to Oporto, wid Jerusalem, Otahelte, Kamtachatcha, Circussis, and Berlin, and that when he reached the Po, he could easily pass to Oporto by the canal which unites that river with the Douro, and these embark for Faciland 2 and but for the time transcript. there embark for England? and, but for the timely interposition of one of the Deputies or Assistants of the Quartermaster-General's department, would not this accomplished geographer actually have applied to Sir George Murray to be allowed to proceed by that simple and practicable route?"

"I plead guilty," said Jack, " as I do also to inserting in the Orderly Book of my company a general order for 600 men of the 3d, 4th, and Light Divisions to assemble next morning at daybresk for the purpose of cutting a canal from the Mississippi to the Ganges. They were to take with them three days' rations, ready cooked, and to receive instructions from the Chief Engineer, who would meet them in the plain between El Boden and Ciudad Rodrigo. My own corps was to furnish fifty men, one Captain, and two Subalterns; one of whom I took good oare should be the Hibernian (now no longer a volunteer but an Ensign) who, on reading the order, instantly fell to work to serape together food wherewith to sustain nature for three days and nights; but as in those times nature for three days and nights; but as in those times prog was not superabundant, we were obliged to put a positive veto to his proceedings, which, by satirely denuting the scanty larder of my company's mess, would have caused the loke to be sgainet ourselves. Regimning at length to smell a rat, off he trotted to hisperit the Original Control of the control of t derly Book of some other company, and finding mothing in it touching the fatigue party of 600 men, the fessible plan I had sketched for bringing Asiatics and Am together so easily, and making them, as it were, one and the same family, fell to the ground.

"Having candidly confessed a few of my passedilies, let Waggon Train, supported by the 14th Light Dragoons mounted. He rapidly promulgated this important intelligence to every one he met, and an arrangement which the Communder-in-Chief very possibly wished so be kept secret until the moment of action arrived, thus became known to all hands of the Light Division, and, for aught I know, to all the other troops which composed the besieging Army."

(To be continued.)

SIR HUDSON LOWE AND BONAPARTE.

Siz Hudson uniformly treated Bonsparts with all the deference and attention in his power; and he endeavented to carry out the instructions of his Government wented to carry out the instructions of the covernment with every possible deficacy. For instance, he was directed to style the captive, General Bonaparte; but he yielded to the wishes and feelings of the ex-Emperor so far as to term him Napoleon Bonaparte in his official communications; steadily refusing, however, to call him communications; atenany returning, nowever, to one time Napoleon alone, as was ungently pressed by General Bertrand,—of course under Boneparte's direction. Again, Sir Hudson never sat in the presence of Napoleon Boneparte without being requested to do so, His conversations with Bonaparte were all in Italian; and in addressing him he invariably used the third person singular, Let, which is a polite mode of expression, and may be employed in nat language to persons of any rank.

Sir Hudson had altogether but four interviews with Bonsparte, and on two of those occasions Napoleon's language and manner were not only very violent but also personally insulting to Sir Hudson; who, however, re-garded his violence as the roarings of an encaged tiger, and calmly suffered his fury to exhale without retort. Rear-Admiral Sir Pultoney Maloolm was present during the lest, and I heard him say that Bonaparte wholly for-got the respect which he owed to himself, as well as what was due towards a British Officer and a gentleman; while the Governor's conduct was perfect throughout. this I heard Sir Polteney Malcolm mention at his own hospitable board; and I think on the same day that the occurrence took place. I was the only Military man pre-sent, but many Naval Officers mest still be slive who can corroborate my statement.

I have not a doubt that Sir Hudson Lowe's papers will be found to contain, nearly verbatim, his conversations with Bonaparte; and very ourious ones we shall find them to have been. And here I cannot help expressing my deep regret that he did not publish a full account o Governorship, immediately on his return from the island. I am well aware that he felt very great delicacy about publishing certain official documents without the sanction of Government, as he entertained peculiarly strict notions in regard to the conduct of a public servant; still, as his acter had been assailed by systematic calumnies, put forth under the most artful forms; and, as the subject of Napoleon's treatment in captivity was of universal interest, I think that, not only in justice to his own reputation, but also for the credit of our country, he ought to have spoken out. I am, however, very far from considering that the libels themselves were worthy of a direct reply from himself. Sir liudson Lowe's conduct throughout the whole of his government, had received the most unqualised approval both of his Sovereign and the British Ministry; and for a man of his station and character to descend into the arena of controversy, and character to descend into the arena of controversy, and combat such antagonists as were his assailants, would have been—and Sir Hadson felt it so—improper and undignified. The Quarterly Review, however, espoused the cause of Sir Hadson Lows—and of truth; and in a very able article which appeared in October, 1822, completely destroyed the credit of the principal libeller, by farnishing documentary proof, ast only of the malice and vindetiveness which actuated him, but also of his ingralous meadarity. mendacity.

Napoleon is said to have remarked—in reference to libels against himself, which he was arged, while at St. Helena to answer-" Where are now the libels against Conser? sconer or later all calcany must die." Sir Hudson Lowe likewiss insisted that truth would eventu-ally prevail. But he did not consider the force with which any prevant. But me ain not someter the force with which calumnies are proposed by party and political spirit, nor low powerful is prejudice when once despit rected. The calumnies against him will assuredly die; but the present generation meat first pass away.

Had Sir Redson hid a full statement of his conduct

Had Sir Mudout hild a full statement of his conduct before the world, he would thereby have changed the wone of historians in reference to it. Writers of general history as well as Bosanariu's hisgraphers, necessarily dwell more or less upon St. Heluna occurrences; and historians—like all animals—if they cannot obtain good wholesome food, are compelled to put up with the best they are able to procure. Possibly for Hudson Lowe did not foresee precisely what would be the full effect of his treasuring up

"Having candidly confessed a few of my peocedillon, let
"Having candidly confessed a few of my peocedillon, let me acknowledge, are we proceed to distints other multers, that I was the calpuls who, the day before Cludid Rodrigo was assaulted, assured the volunteer (confidential) that the troops destined to atoms the breaches, when the Royal mult humsel is the process of the Petersoy Makesha.

truth for posterity; but I suspent that each minocentre historien rather emplemently reminded him of what I always considered to be his great mistake, and that others of his friends think as I do, I have reason to know.

of his friends tains as 1 ao, 1 neve passon to know.

In justice to Bonsparte I must here mention that on his destin-bed he felt compunction for the wrange which his line of policy had done Sir Hudson Lowe; and it was his dying command to Count Bortrand, who had been the principal medium, through his public letters, and the support he gave to Mr. O'Moure's insidious practices, of support he gave to Mr. O'Moare's incidious practices, of carrying forward his master's unworthy plans, that he should omit no means to become reconciled to the Governor. Count Bertrand accordingly made overtures to him with this view, which were not by the generosity and good feeling which at all times characterised Sir Hudson Lows.—Major Basil Jackson's Tributs, in the U. S. Magazine for March.

and Lows.—Major Basil Jackson's Tribute, in the U. S. Blagasine for Merch.

Davis's INPROVED FLEXIBLE CONCAVE HORSE BUBH.—As Japroved New Invention.—A. Bavis, Egonge Merchantanid Brush Manufacturer to Her Majenty, Prince Albert, and searly all the Rt. Pandly, 28, Strend, and at 28, Regent. M. Waterloupi., 2 doors from Jernyn. 21., bega to acquaint the Nebility and Gentry he has subcased in making fruit improvements in flower are combined by its fixing intell to every extreme part of the horse, throughly searching litte all the cavities, besting livelf is all directions, to prevent troublement irritation. This sovel Brash, being constructed on scientific principles, quite separades all other lavontions, leaguned as the action is tempered by its own elasticity, not requiring any presents. as common britaben; all projections on the surface of the cost are equally classed, it having been tried on horses of all descriptions, with the most entifactory results. The yielding properties of this celebrated though and lower parts, being equally divined, fortune as elastic concavity, so much desired, and hitherto submoves is all other inventions. Noblemen and gentlemen, in town and country, supplied at wholesale prices, and the groots sent, carriage ray, supplied at wholesale prices, and the groots sent, carriage ray, prose in the set of horses and carriage, at a saving of at least 4s per curt. under any house in England:—there and carriage brushes of every kind; spenges of the best quality, at half the addillers prices, channols horse ciothing of every pattern, horse blanksts, head etalis, and relus, stlerup leastiers, saddle girths, composition for harsees, carrage would not, half the addillers prices, channols horse conting paper, and sleves for household me, at Wholesale Prices. Bavie's selebrated Truth-brushes, composition for harsees, carrage would not, had not every the description of the surface of the conting paper, and sleves for household net and carret to come losse in the mouth. For durshility, they will be fo

Correspondence addressed to the Editor.

Cottespondence addressed to the Coltor.

BIR GRORGE BALLINGALL, M.D., ON SCHOOLS OF INSTRUCTION FOR MILITARY AND NAVAL SURGEONS.

To the Right Heat Six Rebert Peel.

(Coughted from p. 119.)

There is one other searce of information for the Medical Ottours of the Army and Many, to which I would briefy allude, and with which you, Bir, as a Member of Parliament, must be estimated.—I steam the "Statistical Reports on the Statistical Reports on the Statistical Reports on the Health of the Navy." There have been proposed at an energona modest of labour to the Admiralty, and at a very considerable pecuniary exponse to the public. All this shows, all the expense with, I confidently senert, be in a great measure limit to the Revice, unless means are taken to conventrate the valence health and impressive form, and to keep it constantly before the present and the raing generation of army and Ravy Suppense.

Having now, I believe, noticed all the sources of information inpectally adapted to the Medical Officers of the Public Service, I would observe that the fact, the General Hospitals, are in a great measure unavailable to a sumerous and important body, the Medical Officers reduced to the Profession, not as were lability, or to be carried about with convenience, what he had in the process and important body, the Medical Officers reduced to the Right; and that the fact, the Contact Hospitals, are in a great measure unavailable to a sumerous and important body, the Medical Officers reduced to the Right; and the thirty, or to the Profession, not as a matter of right; and that the third, the Statestical Esports, are in their process days to relatively to the Right; and then their the Right body and a summariant to be businessed as the Control Reports of the Right; and the third, the Statestical Esports, are in their process of Military Bargery in the King's body and a summariant to the public.

Line was the substance of Military Bargery in the Right and the substance of the second to the second to the second to the second tof corrier." "Wee, must all his designations and expressing senses, are doubtless installings said to be desired; take he to both, mattens and installings to his principal against the or and calamities. If any despinguisation is more means.

nary than election, it is that, the object of which is to displaying the name of the property of the wardenne or in accompanity advancants on those engaged to Military sell Markichiles.

I am also a ware that is advancating such esphalishments, I have professional prejudices to encounter. Privations and lide stroptions have about halom to the very term 'Military sell Markichiles.

I am also aware that is not controlled and subsequence of the warden of the term is the common farigity. It is not not a near that am precise from common farigity. It is not not a near that am precise from common farigity. It is not read to the term in the common farigity. It is not read to the term in the common farigity. It is not read to the term in the control of th their profession."

For the present, however, I would contemplate the institution of only one Protectively at each of the meropolitan accords, not doubting that many men will be found quite compress to instruct the younger part of a class in all that is essential to the preservation of the health of addisors and accords, and, at the same time, note to inform the seniors, who may have fulled the progress of Surgery, of every solid improvement which taken place in that holle set. I would restrict our appointment exists place in that holle set. I would restrict our appointment exclusive files can relative be wanted, nor one time provinced actions they can relative to a wanted, nor one time be advantageously conducted.

there may be the metropolitic effect in the provincial actions they can relater be wanted, mor can they be advantageously conducted.

The endowment of such Professorahips would be a marter of little expense, inannucle, as the offly men qualified to fill then with advantage, are those who have gained supprisence abroad in the vervice of their outsity, and who, house quently, have established a claim use the public to inflicing, as aboutment of the same amount as the stream of in the claim is the University, and insided a year, in addition to this half-pay, and the teen of public qualifying themselves in become cancillates for reasonableous in the fervice, let raik, at the same time, going on progressively with that of his contemporaries, would form a sufficient industrial for a liberarie. It would form a sufficient industrial for each mingipalminent. It would greatly enhance the importance and uffirm of the time and supprisement, at afficient, to have account along with his public, writers, witness the heightest of the time in, by the distinct largeous energing in Richards, and in the bird and flexibility industrial for the contemps and the public apparentialty of generality industrial for interior. Such industrial largeous nerving in Richards, and in the bird and flexibility industrial to a propose to have a prest been might be continued in the Richards and propose of detail; my cannow will be from a principle of all tray bright into the Richards of generality of the distinct and one to be public. What then would be the additions of meturally and or effective and such a propose of the public and the Richards, and a speak beam might be continued in the Richards, and speaked one to the public apparent, and a propose of propose of detail; my cannot be addition so meturally and or effective and such a propose of the little exposes, and and addition so meturally and or effective and such a propose of the little and the public apparents have some of the little and the public and the public apparents have some of the

H.M.S. "ALINOR."

To the Estier of the Neval and Middley Gazette.

Sta,....As much has been said to depthalate the Albien, which you have most appropriately named the "Pride of the Sea," I have wentered to offer the following brief characterists on the subject.

Being on the apot when the Albien was in duck, I subreced the opportunity to inspect her, and can unhasitatingly essert that I have never som a more beautiful bottom, or the perfection of the carved lines, in every direction, more correctly preserved. And when we consider the immense stability which the form of the Albien produces, and which necessarily admits of the application of a very great impulling power to overcome a gampuraeller the immenes statement were now we was excess produces, and whith rescentily admits of the application of a very great impalling power to overcome a comparatively small direct resistance, it is evident she will prove to be a very superior enjoy-indeed, so carriers in this that that a trial is not necessary in decide it. And there is nothing in her form to indicate that she will be an uneasy ship.

It has been reported that she will be an uneasy ship.

It has been reported that the sile of the midship ports are very low, and not so high as the Rodney's. It has, however, been admitted that the sile of the midship ports of the former were 6 feet I inches above the water when she salied from Plymouth—a pretty good height for the ports of a ship possessing immens muhility. And it is not only not actually measurement at the ports of a ship of very great stability should be so high as those of one whose stability is much less, but the probability is, when tender sail on a wind in a strong breeze, that the less ports of the latter, sithough the reverse may be the case when the latter, sithough the reverse may be the case when the ships are upright and at rest. We are informed that the Athian, going 9 and 6, close-houled under double-resterd latter, sithough the reverse may be the case when the ships are upright and at rest. We are informed that the Albins, going 9 and 6, close-hasied under double-rested topsails, healed only four degrees; and, hir, if you were to publish the inclination of the Rodney under similar eigenmataness, the height of her midship ports above the water when upright, sad the breadth of each ship, we should see iff which the let putts are highest under the cremmances just mentioned. Moreover, the greater the cremmances just mentioned, and, consequently, the sees the method on a vertical times and each in working the gues.

the greater the facility and entery in working the gues.

It has also been reported that the Albion is too fit between decks. I stand full b feet with buy hat on, the crown of which did not reach the beauts when wiking there, consequently, the distance from deck to deck must be full seven feat or more. If this is sufficient—and we cannot suppose Sir W. Symonia had not assistantly reasons to consince him that it is so—it would have been an injury to the ship to have made it greater. For, to have transported the high telegraphy. have increased the height between decks, or that of ports above the water, would have increased the height and surface of the hell shove the water also; and thereby the stability would have been dominished, the lee-way would have been increased, and the miling of the ship on wind more impeded.
Now a lare ment be caught before it can be dressed,
And a ship must be caught before it can be through

Therefore, that the sailing qualities of a ship may not be injuriously affected, the post- or between docks must not be unnecessarily high; and the mere assertion that the that the least height of the two is not sufficient.

We have, however, an Allien, of which every British scanes ogist to be good, as she exhibits a gratifying and exulting proof that Britain no longer follows, but is now capable of taking the feed in the improvement of Navel construction; and that a kind frortdense may long pre-sures her to se as a pleasing memority of it, and as a model to improve out it possible, is the singers wish of

ONE WHO IS IMPARTIAL!

CHINA BONATION MATTA.

To the Editor of the Navid and Military Guzette.

Sin,—The Betta for the Chinese was liaving been paid. am at a loss to know upon what principle the ships fines been classed, as some I find have received six, and others twelve, and eighteen months' batta.

A slip (her have I could meeting, having a son who acreed in her) was on the station before the commence. ment of heathitles; she was engaged in the first she's of the barriers—at the attick on the Bogue Forts—at the capture of Canten, and the taking of Amoy-yel only shares six inonths' Batts, although she was upwards of two years on the station.

An One Sattum.

Well-Widge to Type-" An Ex. Trageon ;" " Bandock;" Well-Widge to the Barry ;" " C ;" " britainism ;" " A field your " Gazette ;" " Justice ;" " H. ; " and " ft, G. F.

OLo Manbers and Correspondents.

"D.T. 8," misled us by referring to a different signa ture, via. "Scrutator:" we oun hardly be expected always to bear in mind the initials employed by some hundreds of unknown converpondents; and therefore "D. T. 8." may be assured that we meant him no als-

We cannot answer the inquiries of "T. G.," but remmend him to address them to Mr. Gandy, Princ Beaminer, Somereel House.

Our remarks on Sir Charles Napler's speech render unnecessary the publication of "Droit's" letter.

We have several further complaints resp. inaccurate and careless manner in which the Navy List is compiled. In the List of Officers for the present quarter, Furser John Toylor, 1804, is officially defunct, as nume actually removed from the Lists Alphabetical and Saniority. It appears that meens have been deviced to restore life,—perhaps the all-powerful gage resuscitating apparatus has had the desired effect, as he may now be n figuring away in full possession of health and facul ties, as Paymenter of the America, at Denouport. of his companions in early life met him, and at Aret thyed him, but Anding all right, congratulated him on his renim, our innung air right, congratutated him on his vesurrection, and interrogated him as to the secton's and undertaker's fees being refunded.

"D. B." inquires—" What emoluments apportain to the command of Pensioners, and whether appointments are made by the Eggretary at War or Commander-inChief also whether an Officer who has restreed as the half-Chief ; also whether an Officer who has retired on the half Chief; also whether an Officer who has retired on the half-pny, receiving the difference, would have to repay the same in the event of his being appointed to the charge of Pensioners, and if he would continue to receive his half-pay ?!—The emolument, in addition to half-pay, is—for a Captain, 10s. per diem, and for a Lieut., is. Three appointments are in the gift of the Secretary at War. An Officer on half-pay, who had received the difference, an uld be abliged to reason the same to be admitted for the would be obliged to repay the same to be eligible for the appointment.

(Glasgow), inquires..... Whether the troops Quisi employed in China in the second operations, viz., from August 1841 to the end of the war, are to recrive either Prize-money or additional Batta for their services during that period, and if they are, when will they be likely to obtain it? Returns of those engaged there were called -Nothing has as yet transpired for some months since as to the intentions of Government on this subject.

as to the intentions of Covernment on this subject.

'A Constant Ronder' (Newry), inquires—" Whether a Commanding Officer of a reging at his in his power to award a soldier the heavy funishment of 60 days' omfinement to barracks, with heavy merching-order drill?"

any Commander in-Chief, or at the Admiralty.

To " One who has served in China" (Portemouth). -medale long since ordered.

Naval & Military Gazette.

SATURDAY, MARCH 2, 1844.

In the simple character of Journalist-the friend and advocate of the interests of the United Service-we have but little reason to espouse the cause of this or that Ministry-to evince a preference for either Whiz or Torysince we have not observed that either party has exhibited a sincere desire to introduce beneficial reforms in either branch of the profession of Arms. If the inclination exists, we have only to lament that performance lags so far behind.

Amidst all the changes of Ministers—the triumph of Conservative over Liberal, or of Liberal over Conservative-whether Wing prevail against Tory, or Tory displace Whige-still we have ever and always the same result. The public interest, the welfare of the profession as a body, is less consulted and provided for than that of the individual. The many must yield to the few. Personal friendship, nay, even party policy and Ministerial necessity, are more potent to open the avenues to honour and promotion, then professional merit, or faithful service. The long purse, and the strong friend, carry all before them.

It is not, therefore, from party prejudices or prepossessions that we would advert in terms of reprobation to the spirit in which the recent debate on the affairs of Ireland was introduced and conducted by Lord John Russell and his adherents. The motion was merely a pag upon which to hang an attack upon the Ministry for their prosecution of the most mischievous man of his age. For our own part, we see not how Mr. O'Connall was to have been deelt with, otherwise than by trial. Before that course was adopted, loyal men of all parties concufred in condemnation of the course he was pursuing, and the language he systematically employed in addressing his infatuated countrymen. If he had been left unmolested, that would have been the Opposition grievance. The Agitator was rendered accountable by the only justifiable meens-the law; and that, too, is twisted into matter of complaint. If this be not a per verse and factious opposition, we know not what is.

The perfect fairness of the trials, and even a more than ordinary share of indulgence towards the traversers personally, has been satisfactorily proved. Such offensive personalities as marked the State Trials, all emenated from the counsel for the traversers; and in imitation of their bad example, Lord John Russell in debate went out of his way to vilify an absent nobleman-a course utterly unworthy of a statesman and of a generous mind.

As for that miserable olique who welcomed with boisterous acclamations O'Connell, the convicted consultator. on his entrance into the House, we can only regret that they should have selected such a place for offering an insult to Her Majesty in the person of her Ministers; and still more must we lament, that amongst the Commons of England should have been found men capable of conduct so little creditable to themselves as gentlemen or as subjects.

Ireland was acknowledged to be the difficulty of the present head of the Administration. The duty of loyal subjects was to assist in overcoming that difficulty, not to throw every obstacle in the way, and hamper every step towards a pacification of the country. This last has been the tactic of the Opposition, from the selfish motive of succeeding to office, without at the same time possessing the means of carrying on the government of the empire.

It has been shown a thousand times-nay, it is selfevident to the most casual, as to the closest observer—that the evils of Ireland are too deeply rooted, and of too long a growth, to permit of their immediate redress; that in their very origin and nature they are such as to render any audies or rapid amelioration totally impracticable.

That Ireland has her grievances, and serious ones, is indiaputable ; but the redress of them-the healing of her wounds-must be a work of time. No Administrationne man, nor set of men-could suddenly convert Ireland into a rich, a peaceful, or a contented land. We firmly believe that there is no party in the State that is not sincersivenzious to ameliorate the condition of Ireland and her inhabitants; but the impatience and violence of the latter render this a more than ordinarily difficult task.

The absurd imputation that Sir Robert Peel desires to hold Ireland by Military force is a mere party aspersion, unfounded in fact as it is contrary to reason and good policy. We have seen the refutation of the assertion. that the Army there during the last two years has averaged more than during the reign of the Whige. The conduct of Mr. O'Connell rendered indispensable the presence of an imposing Military force, solely for the preservation of the peace. None knew this better than he did himself, and none rejoiced more that such a force was maintained there; for, without it, he dered not have proceeded to the extremities he did. The demanages had raised a demon which he had not power to control. Having the troops in Ireland, half his sparshensions were calmed: he knew their discipline, their courage, and their fidelity; and if these defeated one of his purposes, they suswered another. With unconquen ble perversity-ever ready to turn even disappointment and failure to favourable account, whilst complaining that his country was inundated with troops be congratulated his countrymen upon the advantage they derived from the additional shillings spent amongst them. Still, whilst thus exposed on either side to taunts and reproaches, the Government would manifeetly have been oulpable in neglecting any of the Military precentions which they adopted.

The first great step towards the pacification of Ireland was taken by the prosecution of O'Connell-the avowed determinution of the Government to assert the law-to be no longer bullied by a demagogue. The Repeal press strove hard to instigate the people to more energetic resistance-to imbue their minds with a rabid hatred towards England; but the effempt was comparatively futile. The first excitement soon died away; and though the same inflammatory treatment was untiringly pursued through the wearisome lyngth of the trials, the national sympathics seemed to dag rather than to raily. The momentary impulse cocasioned by the promulgation of the verdict, has been already succeeded by indifference and apethy. Where are the dreadful results with which we were threatened upon a conviction? Happily, newhere. O'Connell and his fellow-conspirators have been fairly tried and justly convioted: it only remains to sentence them to the punishment due to their disloyel practices and mischievous attempts; and we must add, to inflict that punishment to its fullest estent. Let there now be no trifling nor vacillation, or all has been done in vain-

" Finis coronat ones."

WE cannot but lament that an augmentation of the rank and file of the Army has not been proposed this year. Is the state of England more settled in her coul and manufacturing districts? Is the state of Irrland such as to lead thinking men to expect a decrease of the Army can take place in that country? Can troops be safely withdrawn from India and our far apread colunies? Are our domestic and foreign affairs of such an sapect as to remove all fear of outbreak at home or aggreesion abroad? When these questions can be answered with truth, so as to prove we have an adequate Army for home and foreign service, we will admit that no augmentation is required, as well as not called for. But, unfortunately, the situation of our affairs, both abroad and at home, is not of that peaceful character. and a large available force ought to be prepared against reheltion or war.

The relief of regiments from long foreign service must be again suspended: the duties must be multiplied largely on the few who have to perform them; and vast credit will be taken for not increasing the burdens of the State, at the expense of those who best serve it. We cast no reproach on the Secretary at War; indeed, we bardly know on whom to lay the blame : but we deprecate this crouching to the pseudo-economists, to the iniury of the nation and the over-working of our Army.

Tue delay in calling out the Pensioners for a few days' training has solely been caused by the arrangements for clothing and arming them not having been completed. Indeed, the season of the year is unsuited for the purpose; and unless there were very urgent necessity, we see no just ground for exposing our veterans to the severity of the climate, wheat is a mouth or two more, there will be better opportunity for refreshing their recollection of the soldier's duties, without detriment to their health. In the organisation of the Pensioners we see the first step towards establishing a Reserve Force—a sort of Nation-1 Guard-so long required in this country, where the jealousy of a standing Army is so great, that people blind their eyes to the glaring truth, that without an Army their liberty would not be worth a month's purchase. We sak these jealous men, have they ever felt easy, on the breaking out of local disturbances, unless the Military were called out by the Civil Power? When has the Civil Power of itself quelled any riots on a large scale? In all cases of branch of the peace, actual or threatened, the very men meet jeulous of the Military are the first to call Yor their aid. It tells volumes in favour of the Officers and soldiers of the Army, that on all occasions they act with ready alterity in aid of the public, though, in England, too often alighted by the public.

The chief feature in the Parliamentary Debates of the week is the speech, which we have given at length, of the gallant. Mainter for Maryichous, on Monday night, who appears dispesed to family, an entital treat to the House, by his motion on the constitution of the Admiralty." The gallant Officer's speech was, as usual with his Parliamentary orations, " a minried web" of good and avil: he commenced by condemning the aid Navy Board, and approving of its abolition: he then explained the nature of the machinery by which the various departments of the Navy are at present governed, and made a fatile attempt to prove its inefficiency. His proposition for exclusively employing worm-out Sergeants of Marines and Masters-at-Arms, in the situations of magine &c., would, we think, be found wery objectionable in practice. Such men are already eligible, and it is in the power of the Admiralty to bestow appointments of that nature upon candidates with Naval claims; but more than this would not be prudent. To est, spart situations, such as those alluded to by the Commodore, exclusively for old sailors, would create much inconvenience to the public service. The accessary requirements for the right discharge of the duties of messengers, are such as are not likely to be gained in active service affect ; and much as we wish to see good Naval claims amply rewarded, we have no desire that this should be accomplished at the expense of efficiency.

Sir Charles next took a most unfair view of the Naval Promotions. It is true he proved that the rule of making one promotion in three vacancies had not been acted up to: but for what reason he made the calculation-worthy only of the Honourable Member for Montrose-unless to please his radical constituents of Marylebone, it would be difficult to say. Sig Charles must have been fully aware while making his statement, that the regulation had only muenced by disting at some length upon the hance of the numerators and the load of Augmenter, muenced by disting at some length upon the abuse of the numer the old Navy and Victualing Boards. All sorts of times were committed by those budies. Let time only load extraordinary lancy of Lord Maiville's, the construction dock and a Shound of the construction. filtres were committed by those busics. Let titem only look it extraordinary fancy of Lord Malville's, the construction docks and at Necesses. It has docky and was built on a lead, in an unwholesome swamp, just in such a position that up could get out of it in the winter menths; it was hullt on brew how many piles of wood driven into the sea; it was just at a time when steam was emking such as edvance, it was clear to every reasonable musical map, that is a few nor largest ships would be towed with the greatest case to position up the Thaures; and, above all, thus yard was in such a position that it was left entirely exposed to the sy, and was even now quite isdufensible. (Hear.) That was seen on the draw yatas, and of Lord Metville's tiful administration. Set James Grainen did quite right to yasaba a yatas, and was the question to brigg under s good or had was the question to bring under that persons employed on the Coast Guard, who distinguish themselves in saving the lives of their fellowcreatures, should be rewarded by good Government appointments.

He next apoke of the Masters, as follows:—

"By late regulations the Master of a first-rate—of a three-decker—not having charge of stores—and he never deals line charge of them, because if a Warrant Officer died another was immediately appointed; the Hearter in such a ship received first.

a-year, 7t. less than the Master of a small vessel having charge of stores, though the value of all these stores might be, perhaps, not mora, than 100t. Was this fair? But it was not the only injustice. Was it fair that a Lieutennah, who had perhaps only two man hadren laft his mother's sproh-hitrings, should rank at ohen. Justice. Whe is fair that a Lieutescal, who had perhaps only two years before left his mother's spron-strings, should rank at ones above a Master of many years' tried shifty and experience. He (Commodore Napier) would wish to see the distinction shoulshed, and see Masters called Shifting Lieutenants, had be qualified for promotion in course of seniority to the rank of Commonder. The gatter of the Master wave most carrows and responsible, and he (Sir C. Napier) would not take sharps of a measuf-new for a single hour unless he had an efficient Master under him."

In this opinion we entirely coincide, and we hope to see the subject under further discussion when the Navy Estimates are again brought forward.

Sir Charles described his own plan for the formation of an efficient Admiralty; and then adverted to the department of Surveyor of the Navy. With some little exaggeration he showed proof of the failure of the Penelope ; but as it was an experiment which, if successful, would have saved a large amount of public money, we think the attempt even was laudable. His remarks upon the Aibles were true, for although the ship was designed to carry 66-pounders, she mounts only 42-pounders ; still the Albien must be admitted to be a noble ship, and, carrying her lower-deck ports nearly seven fact from the water's edge, with the heavy armament she now bears, she n be considered, with all her feelts, "The Pride of the Se

Mr. Sydney Herbart, in reply, made a very able defin of the constitution of the Board of Admiralty; and took a fair view of the cicies of aid manage-which will, we hope, frequently be ested upon-and of Officers qual-for chose attentions; but showing also the inscession of giving Officers places on shore when they still looked to service affort for their reward. His reply respecting Masters was lame and inconclusive. He stated that Masters had been made " Commissioned Officers," but omitted to add that they had only been commissioned in common with other classes their inferiors in rank. He stated also that some had been made Lieutenants, but did not say when, and that one was now Commander of the Queen's yacht. He could not have known that Mr. Hall had to give up his Master's seventeen years' services and claims to take the last place on the Lieutenant's list, and that his services were of an extraordinary class, and not performed as Master of one of Her Majesty's ships, or he would not have alluded to the latter instance to prove the good feeling of the Admiralty towards those Officers. His attempt to defend the Penelope failed; for facts speek for themselves; and, to term the Penelope anything but a failure is contrary to sound reason. The Albion fured better; and, upon the whole, Mr. Harbert gave a satisfactory unswer to the Gallant Chainsodore.

The further debate of last evening, on the Navy Estimates, we shall notice next week.

Ar last England will have a Royal Naval School. Her Majesty is the Patron, and Prince Albert the Great Mason, who laid the foundation-stone on the last anniversary of Lord Howe's victory. This School, situated at Now Cross, near Deptford, will be capable of admitting 400 boys, and they will receive the best electical and mathematical education, founded on the established religion of the Church of England. The children of those ers who have fallen in the service of their country will be educated and boarded almost gratuitously-and those of other Officers for the trifling sum of 25% per annum.

The centre of the building, one wing, and the infirmary are completed; but we regret to any the funds.already subscribed are inadequate to carry out the views of the Council, and to finish the building according to their intentions. It is with the hope of obtaining further aid that we now introduce the subject to our readers. Surely we may venture to ask from each Officer of the Navy and Marines who has not already subscribed annually, the trifling sum of one day's pay-only one day's pay-to contribute towards the education of the sons of those old companions who have perished in the service of the country. Here is absolutely a great charity; for what can better support the orphan through life than an education which may enable him to overcome want, and rice above the grovellings of ignorance? By such charity you give a chance to the poor unprotected boy to rise by his own exertions-you call into action all the powers of his mind-and, from being despised and almost entirely neglected, place him in a position to be useful to his country, and the stay and support of his family.

To all Officers whose pecuniary resources leave them independent of this charity, we appeal in the name of those brother Officers to whom fortune has been less propitions: to those who have risen to high fame, rank, and distinction, we appeal in behalf of those children whose fathers have fallen in their country's service; and to that country, the fame of which has been enhanced, and whose honour has been upheld by the brilliant achievements of her Navy, we appeal with confidence in behalf of those who may hereafter adorn the pages of history, and who look to that country for support and education as a recompense for the great services of their parents.

By the Army Estimates for the present year we find an additional Cavalry regiment placed on the Indian establishment, and as our territory has been much increased in that country, we think there can be but one onlylon as to the utility of this messure. At the clubs in town it is reported that the Third Dragoon Guards is the regiment to be selected for India; but as we know from unquestionable authority that His Grace the present Commander-in-Chief has made it a positive rule at the Horse Guards "that all Regiments of Cavalry, no matter whether Heavy or Light, shall in future take their regular | anspises.

turn of foreign duty," we think that it will be the Sixth Dragoon Guards (or Carabiniers), as stated in our Gasette of the 19th February, which will be ordered on the present secusion to the East Indies; and in order to point out the fairness of this measure, we shall annex a list of the Cavalry Regiments at present on home duty, with the year they respectively returned from fareign duty.

It is a singular circumstance that the new helmet for the Heavy Dragoons is as nearly as possible of the same pattern as the one which our Light Cavalry formerly were in India. and which His Grace must well remember ; and as all the Cavelry saddles in that country are pudded outes, the same as the Heavy Dragoons use in this country, there will be no occasion for making the linery Regiment, about to proceed to India, a Light one, although the Third and Fourth Heavy Dragoons, when they were sent out to India some few years ago, were made Light for that Purpose, and continue to be en.

List of Coonley Regiments so they returned from Furniga Bernise.

Stron writing the articles in our Gazette of the 3d and 10th ult., respecting disallowance of coals and candles to married Officers in the Army during the time they live out of Barracks, we have received numerous communications requesting us not to leave off agitating about this most obnozious regulation until it be rescinded; and although we are always anxious to obey the wishes of our friends, whenever they have a just cause of complaint, we think, on the present occasion, we had better leave the matter where it is. Now that we have forcibly brought the whole circumstance before His Grace the present Commander-in-Chief, as also before the present Mester-General of the Ordnance, and the Secretary at War, we have not the slightest doubt but that those Authorities will take the matter into their favourible consideration, being convinced that it only requires to some under the notice of such humane and most excellent soldiers, to have such an univet and paitry regulation at once resulted.

In our last we noticed, in a passing way, the foreible occupation of Otsheits by French troops, which, had it not been an act of injustice, would have been only ridiculous. particularly from the way the intelligence has been received in France, where it is announced as a cort of triumph of Gallie prowess, by a party which seizes on every passing occurrence that gives the smallest hope, of a rapture with this country. They boast, by means of their organs of the press, that the French Admiral had beffled. by his address and decision, the intrigues and summing of the English, who were justous of the appearance of the French squadron in those seas; forgetting, amidst this nonsense and bombast, that we have the claim of first discovery, and for a long course of years have exercised no other influence on this island, than what tended to the sivilisation of its inhabitants, and reclaiming them from barbarism. We firmly believe, also, that any attempt to usurp possession of the island in our own name, and superseds the simple and patriorchal form of government there, would have met with the decided reprobation of the people of England. We are strengthened in this conclusion by the approval that has been given to the Executive Government, in disavowing and cancelling the measuren taken by a Naval Officer with regard to the Sandwich Islands.

La gloire de la France is falles from les high estate, and some to "feed upon garbage," when it endesvours to add to its triumphe the overthrow of a poor defenceies momen and her half naked and half berharous subjects; while the only benefit that could arise to the lalanders, would be to ingraft the licence and diess of the French subdiery on the simple manners of the natives, and obliterate in them all the fruits of the peaceful and religious instruction they have been enjoying under our care and

We sincerely hope that the French Government will see the matter in this light, and disavow the act of Dupetit Thouars, though at the risk of bringing up all the hostility of the party who are ready to plunge their country into war, to gratify their hitter hatred and revenge against England. We have the less doubt of the course that will be pursued by the Ministry of M. Guizot, when, independent of the injustice, and even ridicule attending such a conquest, it is considered how perfectly fruitless it would be, entailing or France a great expense without any return to repay f., and having no resconable or sensible object in view

Sings the above was in type, we have had the matisfaction to see that our prediction has been fulfilled. The French Government has disavowed the ast of its Officer.

In these days of intense respect for the conscientious scruples of all conditions of men, it surely behaves our rulers to legislate for that influential sizes-the purchasing Officers of the Army-who plead to be relieved from penal enactments, as useless as they are arbitrary. The traffic in commissions is in a tolerably thriving state, but it is, purhaps, susceptible of extension. According to the popular doctrine, all attempts to impose or perpetuate unnatural restrictions on any branch of commerce are detrimental to the public interests. Such obstacles only give rise to a contraband traffic, which entails a dead loss on the one party, and plays the deuce with the conscience of the other. It is end to reflect upon the risk and moral guilt incurred by nine out of ten out of the selling and purchasing Officers of the present day, in setting at nought the stringent provision of Act 49 Geo. III., cap. 126, sections 7 and 8.

Why not repeal all this, and let gentlemen legally drive the best bargain they can for their commissions?

At present, the system practically is, for the seller to get as much as he can, and for the buyer to give as much, and sometimes more, than he can afford, above the

All this was known to every olie, and acknowledged by the Adjutant-General in his examination before the Military Commission. Why, then, not legulise that which is tolerated, not merely as in exception, but as the general practice ?

If, on the other hand, the Military Commission had been desirous of maintaining the regulated prices of promotion as a reality and not a name, there appears to us to have been a simple and a fair mode of effecting that end.

Nothing would have been more easy than to have put a stop to the trade. Promotion without purchase by selection, out of the ordinary course of regimental seniority, is never made in the regiment to which the selected [Officer belongs; he is promoted invariably into another regiment; why should not the same rule be applied to purchased promotion?

A list of candidates for promotion by purchase, taken from the Regimental Returns, should be kept in the Commander-in-Chief's Office; and from that list should be taken the successor, when an Officer applies for leave to retire by the sale of his commissions. In no instance should such promotion be allowed to go in the regiment, except where the purchasing Officer was the senior of his grade.

This Regulation would prevent all evasion or infringement of the scale fixed for the authorised price; it would ensure that observance of the Regulations which the General Commanding-in-Chief declared his resolution to enforce; and it would spare old Officers that "infinite distress" so well described by Lord Berrington, in his selabrated letter, which, it is to be hoped, the non-purchasing Officers of the Army may yet find duly appregiated at the War Office and the flores Guards.

It is a mistaken notion to suppose that the very wealthy Officers of the Army, who give large sums for their commissions, have no eventual prospect of recovering the money which they so advance, to enable them to pos the honours and promotion of the Service, and of which, as matters are now managed, they may be said to posse a morfopoly. Let us suppose the case of a young man, whose Lieutenant-Colonelcy may cost what the Adjutant-General, in his answer to question 1911, before the Military Commission, considered "an enormous prientfor an Infantry Commission," namely, 80001., that is 35001. beyond the Regulation.

The pay of a Lieutenant-Colonel is 18s. 1d. a day, including his non-effective allowance of 201. per annum; he gets 3s. for commanding his regiment, which makes 21s. 1d. per diem=384l, 11s. 5d. per annum; to which may be added, at a low estimate, for his quarter's feel, servents, forage, &c., 1151., 8s. 7d., making in all, 5001. as his yearly income. The interest at 3} per cent. for 80001, would be 2801. The difference, 2201., is what the Officer receives for the risk of the purchase-money on his

After enjoying the pleasure of command for some three four years—when, in fact, he hegins to tire of the posor four years session of the toy-he turns to his regiment, and requires some 2001.. or perhaps more, to be given to him, to go out on half-pay, retaining his rank and progressive pro tion ; his immediate auccessor being a man to sell for the Regulation, who never joins and who is found by the Horne Guards. In the same Gasette se notes the exchange, appears the promotion going through the regiment.

The Lientenant-Colonel is quietly on half-pay, his commissions then costing him 6000%, or perhaps 5500%; or if he should have been so fortunate as to find equally wealthy juniors to himself, he may have had back the whole 3,500f, he gave, and so have his commission for the Regulation. He has had his rank at an early ago, he cannot be pessed over by others, he in due time reaches the grade of General Officer, obtains employment with its attendant emolument, gets a regiment, and soon repays bimself all the principal, with good interest for its risk.

We have received a copy of the printed athtement of Receipts and Disbursements of the Coast-Guard Compassionate Fund, during the year ended on 5th of January last, published for the information of the subscribers

During the last year the receipts have amounted to 19317. 14s. Gd., whilst the disbursements during the same he period, in payment of gratuities varying from 5% to 26%, between the inmilies of decrared authorithms, has not es The expense for management during the year is stated to be 1041. 4s. 6d.

The total available sum on 5th January, 1844, appears to be 4292/. 18s. 6d., being a balance in hand of 242L 18s. 6d., and 4050s, invested in the names of Trustees for the Fund in the New 31 per Cents. Considering that this Fund has only been established during four years, we congratulate the aubscribers on its very flourishing state, and we shall hope to see its capital sum soon doubled.

Departure of the Court from Windsor,- Her Majesty, accompanied by His Royal Highness Prince Albert, and the Royal Family, will leave the Castle this Saturday afternoon, immediately after lancheon; a special train having been commanded to be in writing at the Slough station to convey the Court to town.

The King of Sweden.—The latest accounts from Stockholm are of the 16th uit. It is deaply to be regretted that the bulletins of the King's health seem only to indicate the constantly uncessing debility of the August patient.

Prince George of Cambridge, attended by the Hon. Captain James Macdonald, Aide-de-Camp, has returned to Corfe from a tour in the Neaphiltan and Papel States; he passed three weeks at Naples. The Prince's estahment at St. James's Palace is kept up on a reduced scale, and his Royal Highness is expected on a visit to this country late in the season.

Sir George Murray.-We are happy to stake that this distinguished Officer, who has been suffering under sather severe indisposition during the last few days, is sufficiently, recovered to enable him to resume, his ufficial duties tak the Board of Ordnance.

The Merchant Seamen's Orphan Asylvan:-The halfyearly meeting of the governors and Janbacribers of this institution took place on Monday at the London Tavern, Bishopagate at., Capt. Henry Nelson in the chair. The Bishopagate-at., Capt. Henry Nelson in the chair. The object of this charity is for the board, clothing, and education of orphans of merchant scamen, and thurs are now in the establishment 70 boys and 35 girls. After the meeting had been addressed by several gashlemen, a ballet took place, at which four boys and two-girls were elected. Mr. Frederic Purefoy Honre is appointed one of Her Majesty's Honourable Corps of Gentlemen at Arms, vios Price, who retires.

Court of Common Pleas, Tuesday, Feb. 27 .- Lord W. Paget v. the Earl of Cardigan.—This case, which has greatly excited the curiosity of the public, came on this day for trial before a special Jury. We cannot poliute our columns with the vile evidence produced on the accusion; sufficeit toquote some observations of the Solicitor General, es published in the Times. He said, "that an uniable lady had been finds the victim of an atrocious attempt to extort money from the defendant. It was impossible not to see that this was a scheme and plan to get money, although at the sacrifice of the honour and reputation of the woman whom, as her husband, the plaintiff was bound to for life. He repeated, that the whole was an atrocious plan concected from the beginning, and that there was no one step of it to which Lord W. Paget was not a party. He dined with his wife one half-hour after he was told the side committed distinct with the distinct of the side committed. that she had committed adultery with Lord Cardigan! After that, too, Lord W. Paget went to the Opera, and to Lord Cardigan's box, and there he met Lord Cardigan with his usual manner upon the evening of that day. He (the Solicitor-General) said that they could not believe so ill of human nature as to believe that Lord W. Paget had given credit to the story, and then gone in a friendly way to Lord Cardigan's box. It was consistent with that fact that a threat should be made in order to produce money from Lord Cardigan. Lord W. Paget had slept with his wife as usual, having spent the evening with Lord Cardigan. Lord W. Paget cared not for his wife; he cared net for the infamy which would be brought upon the mother of his children, if he could obtain the object for which he was seeking—viz., to extert money from a wealthy nobleman unpopular with the public. That was the conclusion to which the Jury must come." The Fore-man of the Jury said that they might neve the Chief Justice the trouble of summing up, for they were unanimous in finding a verdict for the defendant, which was received throughout the Court with an applains which the criers found it difficult to subden.

gression abroad? When these questions can be answered with truth, so as to prove we have an adequate Army for home and foreign service, we will admit that no augmentation is required, as well as not called for. But, unfortunutely, the nituation of our affairs, both abroad and at home, is not of that peaceful character, and a large available force ought to be prepared against rebellion or war.

The selief of regiments from long foreign service must again suspended: the duties must be multiplied argely on the few who have to perform them; and vast bredit will be taken for not insection about the Riemond Park.—The Duke of Cambridge has appointed Sir James Reynett Deputy Ranger of Richmond Park, in succession to the late Viscount Sidmouth.

Doctors versus Lawyers.—" In the course of a case which was tried at the Old Bailey yesterday, a medical witness in giving his evidence used the word 'tumefaction,' upon which Mr. Justice Coleridge said, "I suppose by 'tumefaction' you mean awelling." Witness,..." Yes, my Lord." Mr. Justice Coleridge..." Then it would be much better to use plain English than to speak that sort of mongrel Latin." Such is the purport of a paragraph in the Times of Wednesday, or rather such is the paragraph itself. Now we must say, that, if correctly reported, Mr. Justice Coloridge was most absurdly hypercritical: ner. Justice Colerings was most absurdly hypercritical; we deny that 'timefaction' is mongred Latin, or even a pedentic expension, and we think it rather too good that the Lawyer, should think of correcting the Doctor for a fault which the world at large regard as per excellence, the folial of the gentlemen of the long robe.—

Marked Gamette. Medical Gaustle.

The Late Irish Debate .- Cabalistic coincidences : The detate mated 9 nights, and naturally became a 9 days' racer.

The speeches in all amounted to 63
Divinish.—Noss . 234 6+3-9 3+2+4-Nose 234 Ayes 285 Majority 99 9×9-81 8+1-9 $9×09-9601 9+8+0+1-16 1+8-9 Majo Mil eiter risp tyle x 123 syle x 50 120 x 50 #72,900 -- or 16 added laterally, 1+8 -- 32,076--- or 18 ... 1+6 -ar 18 m22.274-46 × 566*

Mombers das vice -61,142-or 18

Orophy - Mr. Adams has engaged the Lycoum delivering lectures on Astronomy on Wednesdays 1+8 9 sping legistres on Astronomy type during Lant, and this west he commences and the during Lant, and this west he commences and the The diarnal revolution of the quest, the change seepes, the phenomena of tides and edippies, and the red arrangement of the solar system, formed the all arrangement of the solar system, formed the general arrangement of the solar seabjects of the levent of the

* The National Announces that it is intended to open a subscription at Paris to purchase a sword of honour to be presented to Admind Dupelit Thours; "who has been disavewed in a coveredly a manager by M. Guint. If this idea be carried into execution," It aids, "we are certain that it will be warmly supported in all points of France."

transparent diagrams, and by a large precry, pa maint every planet was represented of proportional magnitude.

The Faset of Landerne.—This grand Chinese annual festival is now exhibiting, for a limited season, at the Chinese Collection. The large room is decorated with a countless number of lanterns, variously painted, which produce a most enchanting effect on the first entrance; and the brilliancy of the numerous dres the specimens of the ingenuity of the people of the Celes-tial Empire, on which the variegated light falls, gives a splendour to the seven that could not, we may venture to say, be equalled in any feast of lanterns within the empire

General Tom Thumb.—The tiny prodigy who has lately been exhibited at the Princes's Theatre is now holding a series of levess at his residence in Granton-st. noting a series of reves at his rendence in General persons.

These receptions have been attended by several persons of rank and distinction who have the privilege of the stress, all of whom have expressed the greatest astemishment and admiration for this interesting little strugger. The real name of this diamond edition of humanity is Charles Stratton. The renowned Sir Geoffrey Hudson was a Brobdignagian in comparison with this Lilliputian. That valiant knight attained the height of three feet nine inches, whereas Tom Thumb weight only fifteen pounds, and is only twenty-one inches in height. A carriage is now building for him on the smallest scale:

"His chariot an empty hand net,
Made by the joiner equired or old grah,
Trace out of mud the fairles' conshanker." He appears to have been a prest favourite for a man of his inches with the ladies of New York, and he bosses that he kissed six thousand of them during his stay there -a feat of osculation which stands without apparallel in these decemerate days.

Parliamentary Analysis.

BRILIAMENTARY SUMMINES.

HOURS OF COMMONS.

Hours of the boar the conditions of the Record of Adminity.

He commenced by dilating at some length upon the abuside of the system once the old Navy and Victualling Busche. All corts of should the work of the construction of the dockyard at Sheerness Tast dockyard was built on a least on the condition of the condition of the dockyard at Sheerness Tast dockyard was built on a least position that no rhup count get out of it in the winter months; it was built on find knew how many piles of wood driven into the cast, it was built just at a time when stooms was making such as advance, that it was clear to every reaswable musted man, that is a few years our largest ships would be towed with the greatest case to a safe position that it was lest entirely expused to the recent, and was even more quite indeferable. (Hear.) That was built in auch a position that it was lest entirely expused to the recent, and was even more quite indeferable of their. That was a specimen of the old Navy lloard system, and of Lord Meiville's to destroy such a system, but whether the machinery which he substituted for it was good or bad was the question to bring under consideration. The Right Hon. Baronet usided the government of the Navy into five branches—the Egyreyer of the Navy, the Accountant-General, the Stockhesper Buseral, the Vectualing Hepartment, and the Modical Department, and appointed an additional Lord of the Admiralty, to take all that duty is addition to the duties they had before. But there were varyous objections to the duty and the substitute of the Admiralty, who easte is not keep the admiralty was carried on the business he well admiration and and the Admiralty, who easte is not keep to the department have not be admirably was carried on the business he was a great membe descing the same bines was 20 Chaptains, at Londonachum, and 72 Lifestinantich, At the one of jike, in the 18th year, there were 22 Crimmandian, made (Laphains, and Licebourne inside). Constituting the size Michillymen mode Lifestinants. The abstract and size Michillymen mode Lifestinants. The abstract and size Michillymen mode Lifestinants. The abstract and size Lifestinants. After that the his man for Commandiants and sizes Lifestinants. After that the his man for Cognation. There will be a size of the constitution of

from the water, and that her matths, when we planned it had in the water, while, to work! elibelionity, they capit not to havy her more than 1 feet in the water. They was now building a steam, whip at Chafflann; it was advantable that her padder wheels have been more than 1 feet in the water. They was now building a steam, whip as Chafflann; it was advantable on the they was considered that the padder of the control of the

made to the sintement of Bir Charles Napier. He therefore went into various professional details, in order to prove that the made to the statement of Bir Charles Rapser. He surveyers went into various professional strails, in order to prove that the defect of due supervision, in the huild of our men-of-war, the manning of the Ravy, &c., rendered a change necessary. The system of presention of Officers employed in the Const Guard was exceedingly inadequate and defective, particularly considering the risks they frequently ran in saving life and property in cases of shipwreck. He begged in know how many of those dishodient vessels (hear)—the 10-gan brigs—were left in existence 10-DR, Bowarns complained of the imperient manner in which the Estimates were presented to the House, and which was incompatible with good accountancy.—Caprials Promangue laid before the House several complaints of the masters of the Navy.

They complained first, that they only ranked as Lieutenants, secondly, that while Paymasters and Pursers could obtain set, that they only ranked as Lieutenants, according that the could only obtain 7s., and thirdly, that after an action the only promotion the Master of a fleet could obtain as at the of Lieutenant, whilst he ought to be eligible to be made a Calisin.

be made a Captain.

Newy Listimates.—Mr. Swynew Hernauer rose to propose the May Estimates. As great a reduction had been effected as was consistent with the efficiency of our Newy, and the production of our interest in all pusts of the world. It is the intention of Government to re-establish Deptivor as a building-yard schools are established for the interaction of youths in Newsla sweltecture, and various changes have been made in order to render the whole of our Newslay are more effective, and maintain our slip-building superiorly. After running over the different classes of items, explaining where there had been increase, and where reduction, he moved a vote of $6,000 ment and sole longs for the placed severior. After the Maintain our slip-building superiorly. After running over the different classes of items, explaining where there had been increased and slow, and the severior of $6,000 ment and sole longs for the placed severior. Williams agentioned the slow of the severior of $6,000 ment and sole longs for the placed severior of $6,000 ment and slow of the severior of $6,000 ment and sole longs for the placed severior of $6,000 ment and slow of the slow of

to all again, TURPAT, FER. 2.—Obshelle,—In maswer to Mr. Hindley, It was intimated by hir Rosent Pens, that there was every reason to believe that the French Government had deliberately, and of their own voluntary feeling, disarowed the proceedings of the French Admiral, Dupett Transert, in taking possession of Tahiti; and that, therefore, the excellent men, our Protestant membershearies, to whom so much was due, would be freed from all asurebensions.

failed to take this important ambject into their consideration, but they are not prepared to bring it any mere legislative emectaness in reference to deadling. It is more than the process of the law, and lier Majesty's Government greatly doubt whether any good object can be promoted by altering the letter of the law, and lier Majesty's Government greatly doubt whether any good object can be promoted by altering the letter of the law, and lier Majesty's Government, parting that one of influence and authority, during the recess, a disposition to discourage the practice of ear as it could be discouraged by the Executive Power. The feeding which has lately exhibed on this subject, has been excited in a great degree by the unfortunate result of a doel which took place leax year, but at the same time it is impossible not to see that the practice of deadling is on the declar. that this influence of elvilication was producing its necesser effect, and on this associate he almost deprecate any interview of the course. The foreign of the declar, that the influence of elvilication was producing its necesser effect, and on this associate he almost deprecate any interview of the course of the declar of the declar, that the influence of elvilication was producing its necesser effect, and on this associate the course. The foreign of the declar of law of the declar of Admiratty were most anxious to do all they could for them. At present the pay of a Master of a first-rate ship-of-war was greater than the pay of the first Lieutenant of the same ship; and is lesser ships the pay was squal to that of the first Lieutenant. The subject, however, was under the consideration of the Shard of Admiralty, who were most anxious to see what they could do in it. As to the Archimedean screw, the fact was that it was known that they could do in it. As to the Archimedean screw, the fact was that they could do in it. As to the Archimedean screw, the fact was that they could do in it. As to the Archimedean screw, the fact was that they could do it that the Admiralty wanted was to find out the best invention. At present, all the experiments that had been made showed the sorew to be very inferior to the paddles; but he did not mean to say that officently an improvement whould be made manifest, it would be unwise for the Government to go to any expense in fitting align with the serow; which however was not the object of its Navy, who had himself commanded a strant vessel, called at the Admiralty, and told him that he had seen the other day at Edinburgh a small standers fitted with a horizontal wheel at the bottom which propalled the vessel seven and eight knots an hour. Under these circumstances, until some of these inventions should be brought to a permanent point of success and utility, the Admiralty could come to no definite conclusion. With respect to the Secretaries, the Gallant Officer was mistaken in that respect. In 1838 an Order was made that the Clerk to the Commander-in-Chief at Woolwich, and the Clerk to the Plag Officer on the coart of Africa, should receive a salary of 1304. A-year sach, and receive a salary of 1304. A-year sach, and receive a salary whilst in that position. With respect to a particular The third production of the control Haddington that if they took Officers who had been a question of a century on shore, and put them in commend of ships, shelving those who, though younger, and hees doing active duty, the First could not be efficiently Officered. The shameful way in which even line-of-buttle ships, with five or six hundred men, sometimes went through their movements, was enough to draw tears into one's eyes. The vassels of the hiddistrustens First were, some time since, shout to perform evolutions, but the ships get fool of each other, and they were glad to give up the evolutions, and get out of the acraps as well as they could, and this was the case while Firstch vessels performed their innetions admirably. He had heard objections to making Officers who were not old enough Captains of line-of-battle ships, and the Galiant Admiral (Sir G. Coekburs) said two years ago, in allusion to him (Capt. R.), and Commedors (Robert), that young Officers might talk about commanding faces, but that when they came to he (Sir G. Coekburs) time of life they would think differently on these matters. Now the Galiant Admiral had commanded before he had arrived at his (Capt. Rope's) age. He (Capt. R.) was now in his 30th year, and it appeared was not old enough to give an opamos. In other services men were allowed to have arrived at years of discretions at it servain time, but not in the history till they could not see with their ears, nor chew lier Jaigsty's bleenit (Laughtve.) Since 1815, 2,800,561, had been spent in building what were called admirable vessels, most of these were now to be seen in the shape of hulks in the different deckyards, and only it for firewood. In 1800, when he (Capt. R.) went to ace, the 74's were considered the bestablps in the different deckyards, and he would venture to say, nearly quite uspless. He was for real improvement, and here at present was fir William Symonds building vessels writh the short ridiculous hows so long in use, and only it for firewood. In 1800, when he (Capt. R.) went to ace, the 74's here were co more noble and gollant Odicer inservived, and who was a son of the Pirst Lord of the Admiralty, declared that they had spulled a magnificent brig to make a very bad ship. Every a Umpt was made in vain, by letters private and public, to make him retract his opinion. Two years afterwards when it was understood that the Admiralty had no longer an interest in the ship, there was not a dissouthent voice in the Navy as to their worth lessness. Just in the same way they now heard extravagnat praises of the Pienetope, and other favouritaships of the Admiralty. The Water Witch, built in a private yard, by Mr. White, was the fastest and best fault in the Bervice. When repairs or atterations were required, the Government dockyard estimate was fasted and best fault in the Bervice. When repairs or atterations were required, the Government dockyard estimate was fasted and best fault in the Bervice. When repairs or atterations were required, the Government dockyard estimate was fasted and the the form for half the sum.—Sir G. Cockwan and offered to complete them for half the sum.—Sir G. Cockwan in question was, that he hoped the House would not reture to hear an old Officer (meaning limited), Sir G. Cockwan, Mr. Bloard could take more pains than the present to promote real and complete improvements in ship-building. The present Surveyor of the Navy had made great improvements, and the Navy was indebted to him, but he (Sir G. Cockwan, do) not think his ships were prefect. Hear, hear, hear, is was true, too, that when people took anything up themselves they were apit to get very much artacled to it. The Admiralty therefore, with all their respect for Sir William Symonish, kept a cheek on him. They had, for instance, called aggether Master strond the dockyards, to ende-vour to find out the most persect most or building sterns. Sir W. Symonds differed from these persons, and the nearest approach to perfection provably lay between the woods. on him. They had, for instance, callengagether Reaster from the dockyards, to ende-avour to find out the most perfect mode of building sterns. Bir W. Symonds differed from these jeronins, and the nearest approach to parfection promity lay between the two paries. The Admirally had also taken three of the most talented Naval architects? educated at the public expense, and fent them to Chatham to examine the mode of building. These inree individuals sent in an elaborate statement, declaring ection-tifically the reasons why they thought perfection had not here attained, and they were now employed building, to prove presentically whether, after their education, inquiries, and scientific knowledge, they could produce the best slops in the words. Improvement was constantly going on. The Ferson trigate was of as large a tunnage as the ships of the life with which our victories were gained in the law war. The Galiant Officer, and alloaded to a French squarron in the Mediterranean getting under weigh and attacting out to a a winn an English ship rould not do so. Buf, on the other hand, the tunmander of one of our ships, the Asia, had told him the tunnader of our ships, the Asia, had told him the tunnader of the same place, the Asia was the only one that was able to get out. If an English and a French squadron were off first in agale gt wind, he did think the galiant member would find that English Officers have how to command their ships, and that as much skill as ever would he displayed by these. (Cheers). They had not, certainly, as much practice as during the war, but Officers were would by turns, with a view to weild find that a much skill as wer would be despised by them, ships, and that as much skill as wer would be despised by them. (Cheers). They had not, certainly, as much practice as during the war, but officers were employed by turns, with a view to give general practice, and by wint he (Sir G. C.) had seen, he believed them to be as zealous and usuals as very, out that the British Navy was as well asin as before to maintain its superiority over those of other nations. (Cheers ;—Capt. Pacnusa never despaired of seeing the ships of England, under any circumsumace, doing their asty, the Navy-of this country, to his opinion, was never better than it was at the present moment.—Sir C. Raytes said Mayal Officers on both hides of the House combined to reform and correct the acts of every Admirality, Whig or Tory. Nothing could be better for the country, not-withdanding the Bight Hom. Buroace at the head of the featurements had said lest cention, in reference to his (fifs C. Napisar's) motion, the'r nothing could be more dangerous. With respect to the Precious steam-irigate, he said it was no origins that the was never dry; and last see has a large the was never dry; and last see he was a fright with ports eyemen no more than four feet above the was relied by the anipor life porpoles, longer than when she was a frights with ports eyemen of their out of water. The Admirality, in his opinion, had no right to try the experiment of lengthening the Pensione. She had the tone of space added to her; but her coals and apacitable; compled 1600 tone. He then entered into a comparative estimate of the tonnage and cost of the Africa, Redays, Pensey's, and elies trigate security built, to prove that they were not altequate to the purpose for which they were handed. He maintained that, though their magnitude was sourmoun, their efficiency was not preparationably greater than that of smaller vessels; and, in his against, the best thing that could be done with them was to break them up. With respect to the constitution of the Admiralty, he (see C. Napler) required a distinct around from the hom, and gallant Officer appealing that the system worked well,—Sir G. Connaran and he should give no opinion on the oparatitution of the Board of Admiralty. With regard to the Penselope being a wet sim, he had a latter from Bir. Rowley when he was at sea with her, which stated that, will be the Penselope was under his command, there was a heany see, and he directed has to be steered to windward, which was accomplished by her without pitching, and she appeared to be perfectly stry.—Sir C. NAPERS said Sir C. Rowley was not on leard of her, and therefore could not judge.—Admiral Dunnas not eater a captain of the Penselops had written him a letter to say that he thought she had porterly succeeded, and was the best see-boat he ever saw. (Hear.)—Zire several votes were thou agreed to after some discussion.

Bast India Antelligence.

Thanks to the Army of Swinds.—A special Court was held, convened for the purpose of laying before the meeting resolutious of thanks adopted by the executive body of the corporation, in reference to the recent Military operations in Soinde. The chair was taken by Mr. John Court be given to Muj.-Gen. Sir C. Napier, G.C.B., for the eminent skill, energy, and gullautry, displayed by him in the recent Military operations in Scindo particularly in the two decisive battles of Messues and Hyderabad. Resolved quantimously, that the thanks of this Court be given to the several Officers of the Army, both European and Nativo, serving under Maj. Gen. Sir C. Napier. for their unwearied seal and completious gallantry. - Resolved unanimously, that this Court doth highly approve and acknowledge the brave and meritorious conduct displayed by the Non-commissioned Officers and private sudders, both European and Native, engaged in the operations of Scinde; and that this resolution be signified to them by the Commanders of the several corps."

The Chairman said that, after a most distinguished cereer in the Paninsular war, Sir Charles Napier was placed by Her Majesty on the Staff of the Army in India, and that he was removed in Aug., 1842, from the quiet station at Poons to the important command of the British forces in Belooghistam and Science. Whilst executing this Military command, he had to lead his troops against the Helocolees; and is the performance of his duty he dis-played remarkable vigour and skill, and understed courage, and obtained brilliant and decisive victories over large boiles of a brave and determined enemy, under areumstances of unusual difficulty and dauger. The battles of Meanes and Hydurabad may be conandered as northy of being ranked among the most brilliant achievements of the British Army. The stanch brilliant achievements of the British Army. qualities of the British soldiers and Sepoys were seldom exposed to greater trials or more auderstfully established than in these battles, and the medals for distinguished acretes in the field were never better or more gallantly earned than those which are to be conferred on the brave troops engaged on these memorable occasions.— Sir James Law Loshington said that to ensure ununimity, the resolutions had been tramed so as to avoid discussion, and that the thanks to St. C. Napier and the Army of Schude hight he presed without opposition. For himself be could not sufficiently express his admiration of the undainted courage, skill, and perseverance that had been displayed by that gallinis Office (cheers). He had, indeed, shown himself a master in the art of war. His Grace the Duke of Wellington had expressed bimself in the strongest terms as to the manner in which Sir Charles Napier had conducted the great operations in Saude. That gallant Officer was not only entitled to the thanks of the Court of Proprietors, but to the lasting grantede of his country. The promptitude that had been exhibited in the streek of the Scindians at Meanes and Hydershad, without scarcely an hour's de-iny, deserved the utmost praise. As to the valour of the troops, both European and native, there could be but one opinion. Their courage had been equal to that of the best of the British Army. He could not but feel proud in having belonged to the Nation Army, which, when led by such a brave Officer as Napier, must always produce taxourable senate.—Mr. Sullivan said he must object to the resolutions, to which he would give his most strenuous opposition. The war was a bloody and wanton one, and therefore he could not thank Sir Charles Napier or his Army. There had not been, he contended, the least necessity to move a single troug-He trusted the proprietors would not some the records of their cours by having inserted upon them the resolu-

Mr. Twining said there had been a combination of Mili-tary skill and humanity, which is so distinguished a fea-ture on the part of English Commanders.—Bir R. Campa ture on the part of English Commanders.—Eir R. Campa bell (a director) considered Sir Charles Napier felt himself perfectly justified in the course he had pursued. Sir Jeremish Bryant strongly eulogised the character of the Sepoye.—Eir. Halt Mackennie would give the gallant General thanks for his Milkesty, but not for his civil acts. No Army would secopt thanks, if a leader, such as Sir C. Napier is, was excluded (hear).—General Galloway (a director) spoke in lavour of the motion, though he did not approve of the civil acts of Sir Charles Napier. If ever they had a great Military man, such a man was Sir Charles Napier (cheers).

On the question being put, the first resolution was

On the question being put, the first resolution was curried by a large majority. Only four halids were held up against it. The second and third resolutions were arried ununimonely.

Lucrary Nouces.

The Chinese War; an descent of all the Operations of the British Forces from the Commencement to the Treaty of Nanking. By Lieutenna Juin Quehierluny, P.O.S. of the Madres Engineers into Auting Engineer at the New Bettlement of Hong-Kong. With Fifty-three Illustrations, from Original Drawlogs by the Author. Saunders and Orley.

This is not one of those elaborate performance which demand critical analysis. It is something, however, of at less qual importance-operatively such a work as have been long wished for, though perhaps it coulé not have been reasonably expented at an earlier period. With-been resoundly expected at an earlier period. With-out absolutely aspiring to the dignity of bistory, though quataining an invaluable mass of historic material, we e here, in a handaume popuro volume, of more than 500 pages, one lucid continuous parriture of the ista conget in Chim, from its summencement to its slues. Previously to the appearance of Lieuteness Cuchter-long's book, we had abundance of Information, in demaked parcu , but the parte were equipmed here and there, without anything to connect them one with another; here, we find a beginning, a middle, and an end —a compact whole—a bird's-eys view—a perior 'pa-

Having premised this, we plunge at once in mediae res, without the necessity of further comment.

After a retrospective summary of our relations with the Chinese, the surrender of the opium, and the preparations for active heatilities, our sulhor, in a few words, puts the Chinese, the surrouder of the option, and the preparations for active highlities, our stathor, in a few words, puts the option question in a clear and proper light.

"The novel war which was thus in a measure proclaimed was not very propolar in England, alifecthers were many who could not divert their minds of the troncoun idea that it was maderaken to enforce upon the Chinese the continuous of a traffic whose tendency upon the morale and welfars of the people was of the most professional tiod, and that it was a dominessing and diagrancial attend to compare the imperiation of an article strictly irrelided by their own laws; and further, that the norths most vermice had intenses the littleh (coverance) to apposit to arms is support of the enrighteous cause of the option desires, ought to be held in abhorence the littleh (coverance) to apposit to arms is support of the enrighteous cause of the option desires, ought to be held in abhorence as wholly assuriny of that standard which was now about to be amfuring against a race whose onle offence was a desire to maintain their own institutions, and to withdraw from all internourse with a people who had apared no exertion to overturn and set them at definere.

"But plausible as this view of the entirety may appear, and you had a pared no exertion to overturn and set them at definere.

"But plausible as this view of the entirety were equally obvious to all who, from extravive personal internourse with a people of opinion spray plat miler of the industry were equally obvious to all who, from extravive personal internourse with the Chinese, and from the means and opportunities of forming correct opinions appear plat milered of our means are apart, blown into a more proposed to the opinion appear and united the original part of the important the opinion appear was a unhappy one, and for many reasons had been granted to promounce upon the marks, which gailes the truly, be styled the cause of the branch gone of the proving a superior of the aparetine of the war than can be a dispinsion to the presentative of the presentance of the case."

Advancing in his narrative of the presentance of the case."

Advancing in his narrative of the presentance of the fire, Mr. Ouchterlony states, that—

"Admiral Sillot sailed from Clausen in the Peloge, on the 7th Incominer, is is. Until the inter sold of this mouth, pegotiations proceeded between Carlain Ellint and Seether in a satisfactory manner, and from the trinear of some of the communications may into the public prints, it appeared that the policy of Keedhen was decidedly pacific, and that, if left to the difficulties in the way of a aptiducity accommodation would be penuamently removed. But, unfortunately, juditical lutrigue was at that time too preserve in Pelant mannerous phytomes of Isa, and many involutable to a war with the laked foreighers, topast the Emperor with representations as false as their tendency was evil, and existince. Excuses were found for the automosys condect of Lin and interactive; and one councilior, more vident than the length of petitioning the Emperor, to grape the helicia of the primare was allowed to the theory of the single of petitioning the Emperor, to grape the helicia of the graphoners at Ningou to be atrack off, and to direct that the trade of the English, whose conducts of guis and men view with intense for, and whore every man that while "all the objects foreign mathems also also also desire foreign mathems also also be allowed to trade as formerly, any of their ships found carrying cargo for the English should be selzed and

Having described the attack upon Cauton, and stated the particulars of the ransom of that city, in May, 1841,

Having described the attack upon Canton, and stated the particulars of the rensom of that city, in May, 1841, the writer observes, that—

"These tayers were much criticised at the time, and have since afforded matter for warm discussion amongst those who, from long acquaintance with the peculiar tribe who inhabit the Canton grevince, could not but anticipate with the despete interest and anniety the completes thussilation to a city, whose gates had ever been inhospitably closed against them. The humbling of the provincial capital was decimed incomplete; and it was contended that, in casideration of the extreme provocation which the treachery of the Chinese authorities and the arrogance of the people had caused, no terms of accommodation should have been listened to, until the British flag had been planted on the ramparts of the hitherto inviniate city.

"But the considerations which influenced Captala Rillict were of great weight, and may be thus shited. The total numerical strength if the force under arms before Canton, on the murning of the 27th May, did not exceed 3200 men of all arms, while within the city there were not less than 20,000 men, after making a very large allowance for exaggerations by the 'confidential agents,'—fearful odds to be encountered in the pent-up space of a closely-ballt city, where a knowledge of the localities would have given the Chinese abundant opportunity to molest our troops. Schnessy consequent upon the dreadful weather to which the troops were exposed, as well as though the avowed confidence of Sir Hugh Gough in the discipline of his Officera and men was groat and well founded, yet it must be admitted that Fis Excellency's position in terrorem, within an assaulted but yet unconquered city, filled with a reaccrous and vindictive populace, and opposed in front by a regular force, and in rear by the armsed population of the surfluending villages, would have been anced difficult on the surfluending villages, would have been most lived on the reason which a boundard on in mind, t

"The troops runnined in position before the walls whist the delivery of the ransom money was going on, and Captain Rilint baving, after a lapse of four days, notified to the Commander-in-Chief that five millions had been paid, and the remainder accounted for in proper saccoritios, the force was re-embarked, and dropped down the river to the Begue, where the deturiments of infantry and Artillery which formed the garrison of North Wangtung were received on board, and conveyed to the general rendervois at Hong-Kong."

The death and funeral of Sir Le Figning Senhouse are thus noticed tem.

North wanguing were succeived the country free and successful to the force to the Bay of Hong-Kong, "
The death and funeral of Sir Le Figuing Senhouse are thus noticed :-- "Bhorily after the return of the force to the Bay of Hong-Kong, a serious and most deeply-deplored loss was experienced by Her Majesty's Bervice, in the death, by fever, of hir Le F. Ren-house, the Officer upon whom hat devolved the entire chappe of the Naval portion of the expedition during the combined attack questions, and who, in the conduct of all operations counceted with his branch of the force-specially in his admirable arrangements for the conveyances the Army to the place of their debarkation—had displayed a Edgment, zeal, and energy, which had earned for him the respect and admiration of all who shared in the enterprise. The remains of the veteran were conveyed to Masso, from the Blenkeiss, on board of which he had been the his last, and were interred in the Protostant burial ground of that settlement, attended by the Plenipotentary, the Community, by whom the high qualities which had distinguished him had been justly appreciated."

Regarding it in a Military light, the storming of the batteries at Amoy is not without interest.

"It was found that the batteries along the shore contiguous to the laland of Amoy had been opiniderably areagathened since the visit of the Alligator in the presenting year, and on Ko-lang, soo, an Island situated near the castern opening of the bay, some girong and well-designed works had been thrown up. A number of war-junks and gue-hoats had also been moored so as to cover the entrance to the harbour, and the whole line of defence coougled by the Chinese troops appeared to briefle with cannon. The two peventy-fours were laid alongside the great shore batteries, to altence that figs previous to our man being landed to clear them of the troops by which they were complete, the Drud, Blonds, and light-drangsht vessels engaged the batteries of Ko-lang-soo, wille the steamers were employed in landing the tro

Inciding the troops, and destroying the war-junks and ganficilita.

"The ongagement was a fine speciacle, but beyond the picturesquences of the scenc afforded he point wurthy of comment, wave that it furnished strong vridence of the excellence of the Chinese batteries, upon which the fire of the seventy-feura, though maintained for fully two hours, produced no effect whatwer, not a gan being found disabled, and hut few of the oncesy stilled is them when our troops entried. The principle of their construction was such as to render them almost impervious to the effects of horizontal fire, even from the 22-pounders of the seventy-murs, as, in addition to the solid iness of masonry, of which the parapets were formed, a hank of earth bound with sods had been constructed on the outer face, liaving to view unly the serrow mark of the embrasure.

"After the bumbardment, the troops were landed at various publish, and the enemy specify driven out of their works, the resistance being gifting, save at one gioint, where an officer of the Cameronikus, Captain Gregg, coming unexpectedly at the landerenikus, Captain Gregg, coming unexpectedly at the parapet disner; of numbers, and totally routed them.

"In the esculng the troops bivousafied on some beights near the city of Amory, the attack on which was deferred useff the following addring, whan it was contered without opposition, the ensumy having abandoned it in the night."

After the cannonade of the citadel of Chin-Hae"Heamstell in an all sides, and contains and con

After the cannonade of the citadel of Chim-Hee"Hemmitt in un all sides, and crushed and operwholmed the are of a complete semicircle of musketsy, the hapless Chino rushed by hindreds late the water; and while some attempted to escape the tempeat of death which roared around them, by consigning themselves to the atream, and finating out beyond the range of sire, others appeared to drown themselves in despair. Every effort was made by the General and his Officers to stop the batchery, but the lengtes had to usund the 'cases fring' long and otten before the fury of our near could be restrained. The 55th Regt. and Madras rifes, having observed that a large body of the senery west specific from this scene of indiscriminate alangher along the opposite bank of the river from the citadel and batteries which the Naval Brigade had storaced, separated themselves, and pushing across, the bridge of beats, severed the retreating solumn in two, and below the Chinese could be prevailed upon to surrender themselves pricesers, a great number were shot down or driven into the water and drowned.

drowned.

"The ines of the Chinese was immense in killed and wounded a vast mob of prisoners was captured, besides numerous pieces of cannon, many of which were brass, an immense quantity of camp equipage, animinition, arms, and stores of all descriptions, and a considerable number of junks and armed boats. The prisoners were all set at liberty on the following day, deprived of course of their arms, and some also of their talls, which, though an arcident easily remedied so the butterlies of their talls. comes of their arms, and some and of their talls, which, though an accident easily remedied by the humblest of their tomors (by plaining a new tall into the root of the old one), was a mark of disgrace that did not fall to the province of the victors to inflict, and was a wanton ourrage on the feelings of the Chinese, which could only serve to exasperate them against their layauers."

This involves an amusing and highly characteristic anecdote:

hastly drew his kith agrees the victimized tall, exclaiming that it was a pity the fellow should have the langual against the rest."

Another, anecodes of a different stamp :—

"Hy an interesting coincidence, it changed that the troops were quartered, on the night of the occupation, in the identical building which one year previously had contained the angives of the brig Kite; and Major Amstruther, who marched as a conqueror at the head of the Major Amstruther, who marched as a conqueror at the head of the Major Amstruther, of the prison, found the losthnome cage is which he had been tortured, still standing in the yard, and the marks of his pencil still on the walls, elt is not undeserving also of rescord here, that during the tedions in our undeserving also of rescord here, that during the tedions in carceration audored by Mrs. Noble, Major Amstruther, Lieut. Bouglas, and the other unfortunates of the Kite, a scheme was proposed to the Major by his brother Officers at Chusan, for the relief of himself, Dr. Douglas, and Mr. Witts (who were confined in a prison apart from the rest), to be offected through the agency of a native of Ningpo, upon whom, from his fidelity in the conveyance of letters and other missives to and from Chusan, the subriqued of "Blonds" had been confirred. The proposal was listened to with gratitude, but refused on the ground that even should success attend the bold attempt, the horrors of imprisonment would be increased towards their fellow captives, whom Blondel (owing to the unlawourable position of their prison) could not undertake to set free at the arms time. The sentiment of generosity which dictaked this refusal of an offer so temptus needs an comment.

Having reached the close of the year 1841, when "peace seemed still far distant," we shall postpone our further remarks and extracts till next week; when we shall return to the subject with increased interest, by far the most important portion of the volume yet remaining for notice.

Wild Sports of Europe, Asia, and Africa. By Lieut.-Col. Napier. 2 vols. H. Colburn. This work is a worthy and an indispensable sequel to the same author's Scenes and Sports in Foreign Lands, and each will illustrate the other. If no less desultory than its predecusor, it is to the full as entertaining, as various, as vivid, as full of life, and as free from the affectations and fineries of style, and of critical art. Nor is it an atom the worse for not being written on the spot and at the period to which several portions and departments refer. In fact, we have no great opinion of the plan of writing an account of an explait, or an adventure, at the moment of its performance. Few things are more dry, meagre, and unsatisfactory, than travelling "Jour-nals" so concocted. The truth is, one never remembers a thing properly fill one has forgotten it; as, indeed, the phrase implies—to re-momber or re-collect. In the present phrase implies—to re-member or re-collect. In the present instance, Col. Napier has re-collected his muterials in the quiet of his study—re membered them at his leisure; and he now gives them to the world twice as entertaining, we venture to affirm, and not a whit less real and true, than when he told them over the after-dinner table of the day on which they happened.

The work opens with an animated account of "The Sportsman Aftest," in a voyage from the Coast of Coromandel to Bordsaux: including some pleasant details of sporting at the Isle of France, she Cape, St. Melena, &c., where the vessel touched on her way.

We have then some spirited sporting scenes on the Rock, and in the Andalusian Porests bear it, including some capital runs with the Calpe forheads, in dompany with Prince George of Cambridge, who was in garrie

The third department of these amusing volumes takes us on an excursion from Gibraltar to the caset of Africa, for purposes rather of general pastime than of "sport," in the technical tense of the phrase. This deficiency, however, (if it be one) is made up for by "A Few Days' Sporting in Berbary," in a letter to the author from a friend.

The sepend volume, after treating us to a very amusing and instructive sojourn at Malta, carries us first to the far-famed island of Calypso, with its grotte, where the wise Ulysses wisely wasted away the best years of his life at the feet of beauty'; and then calls upon us to accom-puny the author to Egypt and the Holy Land, where we must with much measive and antertainment.

meet with much novelty and entertainment.

The great merit of this work is, that it will prove quits as attractive to general readers, as to those to whom its title may seem especially to recommend it.

The Life and Adventures of Jack of the Mill: o called Lord Uthmill; created, for his Eminent Services, Baron Waldeck, and Enight of Kilcottie. A Pireside Story. By William Homist. With Furty Illustrations on Wood by G. F. Sargent. 2 vols. Longman & Co. Ma. Howert, when he meddleth not with politics or raligion, is ever a most pleasant writer; and in nothing is he more at home than in vivid descriptions of rural scenery, ancient castles, and antiquated baronial balls. Such, mized up with the most romantic and atirring adventure, constitutes the staple of these spirited and amusing volumes. With some peculiarities of physical conformation, and of westel and moral character, "Jack of the Mill" is, from the commencement of his adventures to their close, a most lucky dog. This work, though designed chiefly for the perusal of children, may be read with pleasure by adults also. Mr. Howitt's continental travels, especially in Germany, have given him advantages of which he has not neglected to avail himself. Amongst other points, the nature of the persecutious of the Lollards, or followers of Wickliff, and the intrepid conduct of those suffering people, in the early part of the 15th sentury, as well upon the Continent as in England, is elv well sketched.

We have little to complain of on the score of exeggeration; but it must be confessed that the encounter with the ruffian robber, Von Stein, is sadly overdone.

We have said that Mr. Howitt is a pleasant writer; and so he is ; yet, for looseness of composition, and grammatical inaccuracy of construction, we verily believe that "none but himself can be his parallel." It would require It would require he consideration to make out the meaning of the ful-iowing sentence—if it have a meaning :—

"As he once more, however, breathed the free air; and having purchased horses for their purpose, as Othmill went on trom day to day, while they pursued their journey, to inform him both of what had taken place at home since his departure, and what in Prague, he began to show that ardent and enthusiastic spirit which animated him."

And, at page 52 of the 2d volume, there is something about "boiling water," so exquisitely ridiculous that we dare not quote the passage.

II. B.—We have some further specimens from the pencil of this incomparable artist. "The Liou and the Mouse," No. 725, is excellent; O'Connell, to be sure, is the Lion—a character very foreign to his propensities and feelings, but given to him, perhaps, to indicate that as a rabble-leader, he may be considered in some sort as a king of beasts. He is caught in a not, in accordance with the old fable; and still following Alsop's version of the story, there comes a tiny suimal—known to Naturalists as a strange compound of timidity and impudence, and a terrible enemy to farmers—and this small thing nibbles away at the net in order to curry favour with the rearing monster, taking especial care at the same time to keep well out of reach of his paw. The story tells itself. The "wee, alsekit, cow'rin', tim'rous beastie" as little Lord John, and the nibble at the net is his late speech in the House of Commons. The idea is capital, and it is well carried out. The face of O'Connell has that happy mixcarried out. The sace of Colonical and that happy musture of the ladienous and the pathetic which seems proper to Irish orators; and that of Lord John is actually his own "done in small"—a difficult undertaking, by the way, but H. B. has accomplished it successfully.

In No. 722.—"Twa quarrelsome dogs who are slways snarling, but don't fight '.—Lord Brougham and Lord Campball, the twa dogs, are admirably drawn. That they are not strictly handsome, they could not help, pour things! No doubt if they had been consulted they would have made they would be the consulted they would be the standard this are well as other matters that this consulted they had been consulted they would be the standard this are well as other matters that this consulted they had been consulted they would be the standard this same well as other matters that the same sections of the sa have reformed this as well as other matters, that did not stand so much in need of it.

BIRTH.
Feb 34, at Pau, the lady of Lieut.-Col. F. Dovolas, of a sou.

Fro Me, Mt Pau, the 1807 of Licut.-Col. P. Dovolas, of a souMarkia Chil.

Feb. Mi, at St. Mary's, Bryanstone-sq., A. H. Champauke, Req., son of the late Gen. Sir Josias Champagné, to Catherine, daughter of E. T. Garden, Esq., of River Lyons, King's County, Irland.—Feb. 12, at Pau, Basec Pyrenées, Champaner the Hop.
Bruon Carv. E.S., to Section, daughter of the late Rev. P. Fox, of Fux, hall, Longford, Ireland.—Feb. 26, at St. Savious's, Jessey, (Capt. J. Ancher Absort, E.N., to Mary Ellie, the eldest dangater of Cart. J. Agreew Stevens, R.N.

danghay of Cast. J. Agricov Stovens, R.N.

Jan. 18, at Gangina, Canada West, aged three years and a haif, Aginab MARY, youngest daughter of Captain William Roundlier, R.M.; said on 22d, aged 32, Capt. William Bountains, R.M.; both of seatlet ever—Feb. 28, in Chester-oq. the infact age of Captain and the Hon. Mrs. Charles Staart—Feb. 18, at Sarpiton, Lieut. Paancin Incomp. R.N.; aged 35—Feb. 7, at Formanath, Anna Masta Williams, Alexa of the Inc. Colonial Mr. Bittariams, R.C.E.—Feb. 16, at Edinburgh, Danamatra, second thoughter of the inte Lieut.-Col. Cubitt. M. Arthiere.

MILITARY, EAST

POYAL NAVAL, MILITARY, EAST POPULATION, A GENERAL LIFE ADDITANCE SOCIETY.—Office, 18, Waterloo-place, London.

Parmentan.—Her Most Granican Majority the QUEEN.
Assurpances are granted upon the Lives of Persons in every station of life, and for every pirt of the world, upon particularly forceases the terror.

etation of life, and not every a few particles of the same country favorable terms.

Persons manyod in this Office may change from one country to another without forfeiting their Poticies.

Board days every Taureday at One Officet, and every facility afforded for effecting American on other days.

JOREPH C. BRETTELL, Secretary.

UNITED KINGDOM LIFE ASSUR-ANCE COMPANY, 9, Waterlon-place, Pail-Mail, Lon Retailther by Act of Participant in 1844. DIVISION OF PROFITS AMONG THE ARRUMEN.

Earl of Breol
Earl of Courtown
Karl Leven and Melville
Earl of Norbury
Earl of Stair

FORTH AND PROBLEM MEGUAL

FROM SOME PROBLEM SOME PARTIES

Lord Viscount Palking

Lord Relieves and Stans tres and Manten

James Beart, Eq., Chairman.
Hannetel De Castro, Eq., Deputy Chairman.
nuel Anderson, Esq.,
nitton Blair Avarne, Esq.
tennox Boyd, Esq., Assist.
Lennox Boyd, Esq., Assist.
---Liant

DIEKOTURN.
Chairman.
Charles Bratisman.
F. Charles Matthews.
F. H. Thomson, Esq.
F. H. Thomson, Esq. DIRE Hannus Anderson, Raq. Hamusi Anderson, Raq. Mamiiton Blair Avarno, Raq. Mamiiton Blair Avarno, Rasident

Resident
Charles bownes, Req.
SURUMON—F. Hele Thomson, Req., 49, Bernere Street.
This Company, established by Act of Parliament, affords the most perfect security in a large past-up Capital, and in the great success which has attended it since the commandement in 1834, Its Annual Incums asing Upwanue op 60,000.
In 1841, the Company declared no addition to the Shareholders of one-half of their Stock, and also added a bonus of st. per sont, per annum on the sum insured to all Policies of the Participating Cleas from the time they were effected.
The Bogue added to Policies from March 1834, to the 31st of Dec. 1848, is as follows:—

The Premiums nevertheless are on the most moderate scale, and out One-many ners at part per two Franking that February where the insurance is for Life.

Every information will be afforded on application to the Resident Directors, Enward Boyd, Esq., and E. Lennox Boyd, Esq., of No. 8, Waterlou-piece, Pall-mail, Lundon.

UNIVERSAL LIFE ASSURANCE SO-

CIETY, KING WILLIAM STREET, LONDON.

Directory Willock, K.L.S., Chairman.

John Stewart, Esq., M.P., Deputy Chetrmen.

Major-General Sir Rd. Arm.

John Hagshaw, Eq.

John Hagshaw, Eq.

Charles Dashwood Bruce. Esq.

Ellis Watkin Cuntiffe, Esq.

Raikes Currie, Esq., M.P.

The principle adopted by the Universal Life Assurance Society of three-fayering of the profits annual valuation of sweets and liabilities, and a division of three-fayering an especially to those parties who may wish to appropriate their proputtion of profit to the reduction of futures premiums. The following Table will show the last division of profits, as declared on the 10th of May, 1843, to all persons who had on that day paid siz annual premiums:—

Reduced | Data of Lance | Annual Premiums | Premiums

Original Annual From Premium. Payable in. Reduced Date of Policy. Lagual Assured. Premium #19 6 8 #9 12 4 24 0 4 13 4 3 31 10 6 16 16 16 42 16 0 21 7 6 65 11 0 22 5 10 £1,000 On or befor oth of May 1438. By order of the Hourd.) DAVID JUNES, Activity.

GREAT BRITAIN MUTUAL LIFE

CREAT BRITAIN MUTUAL LIF

ABBURANCE SOCIETY.

14, WATELOP PLACE, LORDON.

BERGEORS.

The Chicholm, Cheirman.

William Morley, Esq., Deputy Underman.

John Brightman, Esq.

John English Bredein, Esq.

Lames John Kinloch, Esq.

Lames John Kinloch, Esq.

Robert Pewel, Esq.

AUDITORS—C. E. Rais, Esq.; T. C. Binsucces, Esq.;

George Thumas, Esq.

Puvsician—John Chedinning, M.D., 17. Wimpule Street.

Boliciton—Waller Priceaul, Esq., Goldsmith's Redi.

Baness—Baion Back of London.

Administratory of this Institution.

The whole of the Profite divided annually among the Hudde

ANELSE—Histon Sank of London.
Administra of the Institution.
The whole of the Profits divided annually among the Holders of Polisies on which five Annual Premiums shall have been gaid.
"Credit allowed for the first five Annual premiums, on calleting or security being given for the payment of the same at the exintration of few years.

my security using given for one payment or one some interests.

Credit gives for helf the amount of the first five Annual Frehings—without accurity.

Transfers of Policies effected and registered (without charges)

Transfers of Potteres structure and expensive at the Utiles.

at the Utiles.

Claims on Policies hat subject to be litigated or disputed, except with the stanction, is emple case, of a tieneral Meeting of the Assured, to be appealing sourced on the occasion.

Holders of Policies of 19881, existing (after payment of first Annual Propiums) to attend and vote at all Lieueral Meetings of the Assured, who will like the experience and countries of the orderly.

Full particulars are detailed in the Propincies, which, with every requisite information, every he classical propilestics to every requisite information, every he classical Dissettly.

USTRALABIAN, COLONIAL, GANDRAL LIPE ABBURANCE & ANNUTTY COMPANY.

CANTAL -- 600,000 -- IN 2,000 BRANDS.

Brward Barnard, Han, F.R.S. [Gideon Colymbons, Esq. Bettert Brackle, Esq. C. E. Mangles, Esq. Hunry Buckle, Esq. Richard Onditory Esq. Flower Conjunction Makers, May Wilson Wolfer, Esq. Suntantone-Makers, Mayles, Fengue, Stream & Ga. Barnara-The Union Beak of Leiston.

Culoural Barnar-The Bank of Australiais (Ricorporated by Etysi Charter, 1821), No. 2, Munryane-atreet.

Fravallar-P. France, Esq. M.D., 6a, Guildford-at.

Bacqueganv.—Edward Ryley, Reg.

The following are appointents of the low rates of Fremisma for the Assacance of §164, which the method of investment in Americal States of the Company, canalise if to colyric to the public Company, canalise if to colyric the public Aga.

Age...... 99 | 60 | 60 | 60 | 60 | Ann. Prom. | 41 | 10 | 142 | 0.7 | 47 | 10 | 46 | 1.8 | 46 | 2.5

Ann. Prov. 1 of 1 to 8 1 of 1 of 1 of 1 of 1 of 1 of 3 g
TO EMIGRANTS TO THE AUSTRALAMAN COLONIES who are secured for the whole term of tite, the Company offers the permission to proceed to and restee is any of those Colonies without entry premium, and to pay their premiums a there. For Estidence in New Esseland a moderate extra premiums is observed.
To all Persons the Company offers the advantages of the genrantes of an ample subsoribed Capital—of permission to retain on-third of the Framison in their own hands (the portion so retained, with interest upon it, being deducted from the Policy when it becomes a Claim)—of According, Descending, and other besides of Framission, and of Participation in Fraids.

Prospectures and full particulars may be had at the Offices of the Company, No. 125, Eshopagute-street, City.

ROWLAND'S KALYDOR-Under the DOWLAND'S KALYDOR.—Under the ENVERAL COURTS of MUNDER, the ROYAL FAMILY, and the SEVERAL COURTS of MUNDER, Composed of BALBAMIC EXOTICS derived chiefly from the East; and starty pure and free from all mineral or metallic edministrate. It exerts the most enothing, genela, cooling, and parilying action, on the likin i and by its apercy on the pores and mineral exercitory vessels, dispets all imparities from the purises, pileys every tendency to infammation, and thus most effectually dissipates all Rediness, Tan, Pimples, Blotches, Spots, Frackles, Chilbians, and other Cutaneous Visitations. The radient bloom it imparts to the cheek, and the softsess and delicacy it induces on the Hands, Arms, and Book, render it indispensable to every Tollet. Gentlemen will find it possiblely greatful in Minying the treits of the Skin after chaving. "CAUTION.—East giannine bottle has the words." EOWIAND'S ILAUTIONS !!!

By To protest the Public from Fraud, the Hos. Commissioners

MITATIONS: 11
ST To protest the Public from Fraud, the Hon. Commissioners of Stamps have authorized the Proprietor's Signature to be engraved on the Government Stamp, thus—A. RUWLAND and SON, 20, HATTON GARDEN,—which is affixed to sadd bottle, Fries 4s. 5d. and us. 5d. per bottle, duty included.
Ask for ROWLAND'S KALYDGE. Sold by them and by Chemists and Perfumers.

THE PATENT CAMPHINE LIGIT.

Notice is hereby given, that the manufacturing or salling of the above article is a piracy and infringement of a sole and patent right of Measrs. ENGLISH and WATEDN. of Mult; and that if any pene shall, after this notice, and without their hospice, manufacture or vend- the name, proceedings will be taken, as intimated in the following correspondence, which is here set torth for the information and guidance of parties in that hehalf. Applications for the article may be made to Measrs. Expos and Burnyn, 13, Wells. wheel, Oxford-attect. Correspondence:—"22, Bucklersbury, Feb. 2n, 1846. Gentlemen.—I beg to inform you that I have instructions on behalf, as well of Mr. W. O. English, the patents, as of his firm of Neura. English and Watson, of Mult, patent camplaine manufacturers, to apply to the Court of Chancery for an injunction to restrain you from wending an article under the mannout Camphine," or "Patent Camphine," which they claim the exclusive right to make and vend under that name. You will have the groundess to consider this as a formal notice, and that unless I receive a communication from you in the course of to morrow of Your intention to give up the using of the above, proceedings will at once to taken, and I shall, in that case, he giad to be favouras with the name of your solicitor. Yours, very obsciently, G. F. Hadaon, To Measrs. G. and J. Deane, King William street, Loudon-bridge," "46, King William-street, Loudon-bridge, Feb. 2n, 1844. Sir.—We beg to acknowledge the macepit of your letter on the subject of the alleged asia by us of an article under the name of 'Camphine,' or 'Patent Camphine,' which your request, decline salling any article under the mans of 'Camphine,' or 'Patent Camphine.' We are Str., generalization of 'Camphine,' or 'Patent Camphine.' THE PATENT CAMPHINE LIGHT.

THE Directors of the National Linea Com-The Directors of the National Lines Countainty, in giving publicity to the unprecedented prices at which they are selling Lines MANUPACTURES, bug to apprise families residing either in town or mountry, that goods are forwarded for approval previous to payment. A few prices are annexed, to which they respectfully invite the attention of families, hereis especially invite the attention of families, hereis and hereis on the clothe, five yards long match, yard square, 12s. del. per deciding sommon table clothe, pard and histogramer, to refer the season, 10s., in the property of the property of the party of the season, 10s., in the property of the property of the price of the yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and stout, 25 yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and stout, 25 yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and stout, 25 yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and stout, 25 yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and stout, 25 yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and stout, 25 yards for 12s., idito, flow, 25 yards, 27s; and very flow and store, and sommon laws handkarchlefs, 4s. de. 2s. de. can decide. The Company's yards flow at the flow of the flower treet, very description of goods antitable for household paryease. Prospectanes, comming full particulars of the various goods for sale, with flow of prices, can be had at the wardshouses, or by polf. Real softmanes, less greater on any size table-clothic. Various apprice designs hely in the stout.

PRITANNIA LIFE ASSURANCE COM-PANY. No. 1, Princes street, Bank, London. appreciated by Special Act of Parliamont, 4 Yes., cap. 8.

William Bardgett, Eng. Samuel Bevington, Eng. William Fechney Mack, John Brightman, Edg. George Chies, Bag. Mills Coventry, Eng. John Drawstr, Kng. Hop. ...

Dinburgue.

Babert Egiinton, Reg.

Braumus Rt. Funter, Baq.

Ates. Rathert trying. Esq.

Pater Morrison, Esq.

Henry Lowis Brauls, Esq.

Thomas Topd, Esq.

John Drewert, Keq. 4: Auritora. Rig. 5 E. F. Coekerill, Reg. ;
Medical Officer.—John Christianing, M.R., F.S.S., 16, Wimprications, Covendial-square.
Standing Counsy.—The Hos. John Ashley, New-square,
Lincoln's line; Mr. Serjeant Murphy, St. F., Tample.
Scalation.—Filliam Reven, Eng. 31d Serry.
Banksen.—Mosers. Drewett and Fowley, Frischettest, Rank.

Bouleves.—Filliam Revan, Red, and jewey.

Baumen.—Moore. Event and Fould, Table jewey.

Baumen.—Moore. Event and Fould, Table jewey.

This invitation is empowered by a special Act of Parliament, and is so constituted as to affect the hassilts of Life Assurance, in their foliate extent, to policy-haiders, and to sequent greater facilities and about shap are usingly affirmed by other facilities and about shap are usingly affirmed by other companies. The desided superiority of to plan, and the claim to public professors and support, have been proved, inconstantly, by its extraordinary and supersondented superson.

Assurances may either he affected by Payline on their own Lives, or by Parties tabrested therein on the Lives of others.

The effect of an Assurance on a person's sew life to greate at once a Property in Revention, when can by not ables minned to realised. Take, for justomers, the case of a person at the age of Thirty, who, by the payment of st. 2s. od. by the Britannia Life Assurance Company, one become at once proposed of a bequestible property, associating to 1, seel., subject only to the condition of his continuing the same payment quarrerly, during the remainder of his life—a agolitica which may be failing by the condition of his continuing the same payment quarrerly, during the premainder of his life—a agolitica which may be failing by the noted, as can correctly be felt as an inconvenience, he may at diagone of in any way he may hisky proper.

**RETER MOSELSON**, Resident Dispeter.

A Board of Directure in attendance daily at Two of Cinch.

A Board of Directors in attendance daily at Two o'Cinck A liberal Commission allowed to Holictors and Agrant tithe Mariners & General Lipe ABBURANDE COMPANY, MXPRESSLY ESTABLISHED FOR INSURANCES ON THE .

LIVES OF MAKINERS,
(Whether Membres of the Burylis Mercentile News), MILITARY MEN AND GENERAL ASSUMES.

It is to be noted that the Polleine of the Company will enver typese of every description and service in every part of the Globe.

The Lives of Flehermen and Bostman also insured.
High Raise of Frentium have hitherts operated against kind of Assprance, but as the Raise now adopted will be four low as are domenant with the risks, it is believed that this complete with other risks, it is believed that this complete with other sides, it is believed that this complete with other advantages, will induce a great increase.

maren. Deferred Annuilles granted to Mariners upon yery moderate Deferred Annuluse grames of the Profit of the Providence of the Providence of the Profit of the Profit of the Profit of the applied in making providen for Destitute and Disabled Muriners.

WM. M'HIRLL, Manager.

Arthur Street, Runt, London Bridge,

SILVER SUPERSEDED, and those correnive and injurious Metals, called Bicket and German spolunted by the introduction of a new and perfectly mul LBATA PLATS.

ALBATA PLATE.

C. WATSON, 41 and 42, Narbioan, and 19, Norton Folgats, aided by a person of Mennes in the amalgamation of Mgain, has succeeded in bringing to public notice the most beautiful article ever yet offered; processing all the richness of fillyer in appearance, with all its durability and hardness—with its perfect evertimes is use—undergoing, as it does, a Chablesh process by which sail that is nauceous in mixed Metals is quiltrely extracted—relating all actids, safe be cleaned as fillyer, and is manufactued into every Article for the Table and fillyer, and is manufactued into every Article for the Table and fillyer.

· King's Threaded. Plain. *** 4. d. 10 5 12 5 8 6 8 6 8 6 each 2 6 pair 3 6 each Table Sprous and Forks Depart Spools Ten Sprous Sait Ditts Fish Knives Sauce Ladies Gray Spoths 18 title medial book, which may be had grain une goes are reper achieve address.

THAGE PAPIER MACHIK TEA TRAYS, Sie, a set of three flottle chape ditto (including the largest wise) by 30s.; three flottle chape japaned ditto, 35s.; three floathe shape japaned ditto, 35s.; three floathe manually low.

TABLE KNIVEN, lyony handles, warrants, 11s. per dusen; Besserte, 9s.; Carvers, 4s. per pair; a most extensive stock in sulect from, with balance handles, 58s, 50s, and 70s, the long set of fire places; white bone and offer lander, so to 15s. the 24 places; itsgliandist carvers. 2s. 4d. per pair. The establishments of C. Warann have ranked pre-eminably for he years for those and address, and delicate to exchange if not approved of.

proved of.

SOLAR AND CANDLE LARFE.—A Solar Lamp to burn committee of without anote or amely the 64.; a Paleger's Parent Candle Lamp, D give the light of two moule candles, with gines shade, 3s.; Hot-water Diston for Verticon, Best-atonk, or News —a set of its London-made Patent Disto Covers, 1st. 64.; Fire Pross, 3s. 64.; and every article in furnishing therefore. Send for his Catalogue, which may be had Centic and Pastage free.

Now Ready at all the Libraries, in 3 vols., post 8vo., H T 0 8 OF THE ROMANCE OF A WEEK.

Or, THE ROMANCE OF A WEEK.

Rithed by R. PLUMER WARD, Esq.,
Author of "Tremaine," "De Vere," &c.

"Every one will read 'Chateworth; 'for it is a work so novel in its design, so excellent in its general execution, as to be certain to make an impression upon the public mind. In the description of the natural heauties of the seens surrounding Chateworth, and in the drawing of the portraits of the various guestes there exacetiled, the author evinors qual appreciation of the picture que and knowledge of character. He mingles brilliant estar poste descriptions of modern life, scenes and characters, with the old romantic stories of past times. He blends in one work the ideal beauty of Tieck, the ever-fresh simplicity and sharming nature of Boccacio, and the sparkling descriptions of the manners of this age of Mrs. Gore, amidst much to move our wonder, delight, and admiration."—Court Journal.

Heary Colpara, Publisher, 12, Great Mariborough Streat.

Henry Colhurn, Publisher, 14, Great Mariborough Street.

Now Ready, in 2 vols., small evo., with Plates, 21s. bound, Now Ready, in I vols., small Svo., with Pietes, 21s. bonnd, S P O R T S IN EUROPR, ASIA, AND APRICA.

By Lieut.-Colonel Napler, Author of "Scenes and Sports in Foreign Lands, &c."

Also, Just Ready, a THIRD RDITION of WHITEFRIARS; or, THE DAYS of CHARLES II, AN HISTORICAL NOMANCE. Three vols.

Henry Colburn, Publisher, 13, Great Maribarough Street.

The Maron Number of Coloran's

ARMY AND NAVY.

The Maron Number of Coloran's

INITED SERVICE MAGAZINE,

AND NAVAL AND MILITARY JOURNAL.

Contains the following interesting Trapers:—Stray Gleanings from British Battle Fields. By Lieut. Col. Napier.—An Excursions to Zahwan, Tonie.—Reminiscences of Dinchi and Brahot Campaigns in Upper Stadh and Catchi, during 1839 and 1840. By Capt. Poetane, Bonbay Ariny.—A Fortnight's Puriough.—Five Days' Battest of a Turkish Army.—Military Aneeders and Sketches of character. By Lieut. Col. Wikis.—England's Wooden Walls: the Defense.—Gascony on Stilling or, the Serjeant-Major of the Landes.—Personal Adventures and Excursions in Georgia, Circansis, and Russia. Ily Lieut. Col. Causeron. C.B.—Historical Sketches of Milliary Punishments. By Dr. Marshall.—Tribute to the Memory of Sir Hudson Lowe.

By Major Besil Jackson.—in Mexico.—Memoir of the late Col. Drinkwater.—The Hagnes of Campardown.—The Army in Sinde.—Affuirs at the Cape of Good Rope.—The Repealers and the Army in Ireland.—Stations of the Army and Navy.—Estigates, Promotions, End Appointments, with all the Professional News of the Month, &c.

Henry Colburn, Pablisher, 13, Green Marlborough Street.

M*CULLOCH'S DICTIONARY.—NEW EDITION.

McULLOCH'S DICTIONARY.—NEW EDITION.
On Thursday, March 7, will be Published, 8vo., 5oc. cloth, and 5ac. strongly half-bound in Russia, with ficklike back, a New

DICTIONARY, PRACTICAL, THEO

DICTIONARY, PRACTICAL, THEOA ENTICAL, and HISTORICAL, of COMMURCE and COMMERCILAL NAVIGATION. By J. B. McUnhoux, Esq. Illuslended with Mays and Plane.

Neither labour nor exposes has been spared in attempting to perfect this edition, every part of which has been carefully revised and corrected, and the statements and datalls brought incorporated with the work o which has been further unlarged and impliesed by information drived from all parts of the world.
Recently Pablished, by the same Author, Two thick Vols. Svo.

4., cloth,

A DICTIONARY, GEOGRAPHICAL, STATISTICAL, and HISTORICAL, of the various Countries, Places, and principal Natural Objects in the WORLD. With Maps.

London Longman, Brown, Green, and Longmans.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MARKSTY, AND

London: Longman, Brown, Green, and Longmans.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY, AND THE HRITISH ARMY AND NAVY.

J. KOHLER'S NEW PATENT LEVER INSTRUMENTS.

KOHLER having brought to perfection lavention, which he has applied to the CORNOPEAN, TRUM.
PET, CORNETTO, TROMSONES, and FRENCH HORMS, he can now with great confidence, after an experience of Five Years, in bringing the action to its present state of perfection, recommend them to Her Majesty's Army and Navy, and all Professors and Amatours.

The advantages that this Patent gives to these Justraments
are:—

The advantages that this Patent gives to these justraments are:

All the Tones and Semitones produced by the Patent Lever i. All the Tones and Semitones produced by the Patent Lever are quite as perfect as the Natural Notes on the Instrument, 2. The intervals in the Diarquite and Connounced Scales are perfect, the compass greater, and the most rapid and difficult passages may be performed with a precision, freedom, and fulcies of tone, and comparative case to the performed.

3. Combinations in harmony, which never before could be performed at all by any Brass justification, may now be agreated with perfect case, and Ton or Twelve Instruments on this principle, can produce a mure rich and somorous effect than Twestyfour could do on the old principles. The hardness of tone in the former lives instruments is entirely done way with, and a Set of these instruments heard together, produces military and harmonious effects never before beards.

These Instruments are now in see jo Har Massett's Parators harmonious effects never before beard.

These Instruments are now in see-in Ham Majesty's Privatu Barn, First Lipz Gyanus, Royas House Gyanus, Granadika Gyanus, Firstling Gyanus, &c.
Testimonials, Drawings, and Prices, forwarded on Application at J. KOMLER's Manufactory, 25, Henricha Street, Covern Garden, London. February 20, 1854.

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARM? AND NAVY.

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARM? AND NAVY.

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARM? AND NAVY.

I POSTER, MARTIAL MUSICAL

INSTRUMENT MAKER TO HER MAJESTY, BRI

GADE OF GUARDS, and the HOMOURABLE BOARD OF ORDNARCE, 8, Bridge street, Westminnter, Louding.

Manufacturer of Flutes, Clarinnets, Bassoum, Serpeuts, Bass

Borna, Gyubais, &c.—Vaive French Horns, Ruesian Corneth,

Valve Ophthelate, Rpyal Nont Bugle. — Trumbone, Trumpet, Cornegues, and all sorts of Kuy'd and filled Instruments.—Bass, Tumer, and Bide ditto of every description.

Investment the Improved Kettle-Drams—and Parant.

Brum-Majors' Trophics.—Registrar of Band - Masters.

FAST INDIA PAPER.—The MONTHLY TimEs for Indie, with all the News for the Month, will be published at 2 o'Clock on the 6th inst., and may be distinct, through all Newsmen, of Mr. W. M. Marra, 192, Strand, in time for transmission to India by the Overland Mell. Advertisements received by Janus Barden & Co., No. 17, St. Mary Ass, not later than Monday, the 4th last.

SCHWEPPE & CO.'S SODA and POTASS CHWEPPE & CO.'S SODA and POTASS DATES. WATERS, and ARRATED LEMONABE.—The above coinbrated Waters are made expressly for Warm Climates, and constitute a delightful and refreshing Beverage that wholesome qualities also being animirably adapted for counternoting the lajurious effects of the Tropics; such bottle containing from 15 to 18 grains of pure sikell, which few, if any other, Waters possess, European Residents in India are invited to patroniae a Manufacture, long known in every Hemisphere in the World, and valued as a laxury, which local makers vainly attempt to imitate. The above are bottled in giam of atone bottles, as may be desired, and the genuloseness of the Article secured by a red label over each cork, bearing their Names and the Royal Appointment, it is almost unnecessary to state that SCHWEPPE & CO. are the original layentors of Asysted Waters; and still, by far, the largest Manufacturers in the World, and that they constantly supply the Royal Manufacturers in the World, and that they constantly receive from Gentlemen who, have druck their Waters is distant parts, of the Mac condition in which they are uniformly found, encourage the Manufacturers to anticipate an extended Consumption in India.

Agents for the Sale of their Waters are required both in Cal-tion in India.

Agents for the Sale of their Waters are required both in Calentia and Bembay, who will undertake to keep a quantity in Store, and terms will be commensurate with their mutual interests. To prevent disappointment, Schweppe & Co. 40 net consign.

London, March 1, 1844.

ELECTRO-PLATED AND GILT ARTI-LEULRU-FLAR LELV AND VALUE A RALL AND LELVE CLES.—ELKINGTON and Co., Patentees, grainfully acknowledging the distinguished patronage the articles of their manufacture have hitherto received, beg to amounts that their stock, embracing every variety of NOVELTY for the BIDE. BOARD, DINNER, DESSERT, and BREAKFAST-TABLE, may be inspected at their flatabilishments.

WEST-END.—22, Russing-erager, corner of Jermyn-street.

WEST.END.—22, RESERVE STRUCT, corner of Jermyn-arrost. CHT?.—45, MOGROATS-SPERRY.
The Paturiess beg expressly to state, that their Electro-plated Goods differ entirely from any hitherto offered to the Public as "plated goods," or "substitutes, for silvey." Both in appearance, sound, and wear, these goods are equal to EOLID SILVER; they are cost and whased in SOLID WHITE METAIN, and strongly plated with Silver by their PATENT ELECTROP PROCESS; all Joints are made with hard aliver solder, which cannot be used in ordinary plated goods, and neither acids nor heat affect them.

affect them.
Their ELECTRO GILDING, for beauty of colour and facility of application to ALL METALS, is much superior to the old gathod of water-gilding.
Old Sheffield plate rentred and re-plated; plating and gilding on old and new articles promptly executed, at the Manufactory, 48, Moorgate-Arpet.

ticle made and warranted by the Patentees bears their ip, E. & Co., over & Cro

A SINGLE BOTTLE OF BETTS'S

A PATENT BRANDY may now be obtained in a perfectly genuine state. This convenied a strangement for both vendor and purchaser, and their mutual security sgainst deception, is effected by the use of BETTE'S PATENT METALLIC CAPBULE, made of pure and BOLID METAL (not Tin Foil), which compictory encloses the cork and mouth of the barile, and is embrased with the words "BETTE'S PATENT BRANDY, 7, RMITHFIELD BARS," the function of which is engraved on a label affixed to each bottle.

In the present day it is impossible to produce anything new and medial without exciting the capidity of imitators. Already attempts are made to mystify the identity of the original and genuine article, by foisting upon the public the contents of lottles having a Tlu Foil covering, fasciy denominated "a near metallic capatile." J. T. RETTE & Co. therefore deem it emenparing the Emboused Capanes with the Labes, as an mode of detecting fraudaient substitutions.

BRITTE'S PATENT BRANDY, thus protected, may be ob-tained of the undermentioned Wine and Spirit Merchants, at 3c. 6d. per Bottle, Bottles included, or at its. per Gallon, as heretofore, at Bishopagate Street W. Stevens, No. 78 & 29 Bayawater . . . Charles Simpson, 28, Biyawater-tarrace Charles Simpson, 22, Edynwater.

S. Silcock, No., 1

H. Hawkn, Bristan Weshway
Conge Roberts, 91, High-street
Robert Start, Chipherwell Green
Nichs, Weiter, No. 11

Bichard Clayton, No. 2;
Thomas Oliver, Brunnshad Street
Reujamn Scooks, No. 2;
John Chester, Croun's Hill
William Pricet
James Carter, No. 42 Bayswater . Blackfriare Road Brixton Brixton Camden Town Camden Town Camberwell
Drury Lane
Edgwere Road
Euston Router
Exmerth Street
Greenwich
Hampetead
Haymarket
Holtoorn
King's Cross
King's Cross
King's Cross
Kingland Road
Anightschuige
Lambeth
Limebouse
Newington Buth
New Road
Ogford Street
Profileo Camus Cambu John Chester, Crosse's Hill,
John Chester, Crosse's Hill,
William Friest
William Friest
William Brater, 18, Abidde Row
Henry Frach, 18, Abidde Row
William Barter, 1, Albon Place
James Smith, No. 181
Jona Junes, 25d-Hart Row
J. H. Watshorn, Stauch Gate
A. Watson, St. Abb's Place
Thomas Thompsies, Ro. 38
William Monits, B. High Street
J. Arnold, compar Mempsteed Road
James Thompsies, No. 36;
James Watson, 1, Gravener Row
George Rich, Glass House Street
John Short, No. 28
R. D. Burton, 21, Fishest Street
John Short, No. 28
R. D. Burton, 21, Fishest Street
James Young, No. 106
Win. Contes, 25, High Street
Win. Contes, 25, High Street
James Young, No. 106
Win. Garrett, 16, Holkspiroin Row
John Jones, 3, Snebaster Bow
John Jones, 3, Snebaster Row
Jones Watson, 7, Grant Chapal Street
Robert Show, 16, Gilbert Buildings Pimlico Regant Street Bouthwork nem Town strang Ditto Tottenham Ct. Rd. Whitechapei Walworth Walworth Bond Wasterhatte

Just published, the NINETERNITE BUILDN, price Se. 5 and sent

Just published, the MINETERFTH EDITION, price 3s. ; and cent free, on receipt of a Post-office Order for 3s. 6d.

A N H O O D;

The CAUBES of he PREMATURE DECLINE, with plain Directions for the PREFECT RESTORATION; addressed to times suffering from the destructive effects of Excessive Indulgence, Solitary Rabits, or infection; followed by Observationson the treatment of Syphills, Gonorrhose, Gleet, &c. Illustrated with Cases, &c.

By J. L. Cunyrs and Co., Consulting Surgeone, Lo. THE NIMETEENTH THOUSAND.

THE NIMETEENTH THOUSAND.

Published by the Authors, and Sold by Burgass, Medical Bookseller, 28, Coventry Street, Barth, 4, Brydges-street, Strand; Mann, 29, Cornbill; Strange, 21, Fatermoster-row, London; Guest, 51, Bull-street, Birmingham; Souther, 4, St. Anni-square, Manchester; Philip, South Castle Street, Livergool; Fannia and Co., 41, Grafion-street, Dublin; Soloter & Co., Cork; Bernes, 39, High-street, Gleagow; Drammund, 2, Bisir-street, Ediaburgh; and Sold, in a scaled ensuinge, by 21 Hooksellers.

burgh; and Sold, in a secolal encolage, by all Mocksellers.

Opinious of the Passit—

"This work, a TENTH Edition of which is now presented to the public, for thousand copies having been enhanced since its first appearance, has been very much improved and enlarged by the addition of a more extended and clear detail of general principles, as also by the insection of several new and highly-interesting cases. The book, as has been already étabed, is the result of very ample and delity-increasing experience in a cleas of diseases which, for some unsecountable reason, have been either altogether overlooked, or treated almost with indifference, by the ordinary medical practitioner; and we feel no hesitation in anying, that there is no member of society by whom the book will not be found useful, whether such person hold the relation of a Parent, a Preceptor, or a Ciergyman."—Sun.

"Masera. Curtie's work, entitled MANHOOD, is one of the few the resection of a revent, a preceptor, or a Clergyman."—Sun.

"Measts. Curtie's work, entitled MANHOOD, is one of the few books now before the public on such a subject which can lay claim to the character of being strictly professional, at the same time that it is fully intelligible to all who read it. The moral and specient pracepts given render it invaluable."—Magnet.

and medical pracepts given render it invaluable."—Magnet.

"The perusal of Messrs. Cartie's book entitled MANidOOD has really actorished us by developing a series of maladies, the sever-falling consequence of the vicines in abits of which it treats. The elear connexton pointed out between the assigned cases and the effects is perceptible to every capacity."—Agr.

"This is a work that we fear there exists too much need for to cause us to besitate to recommend it for general perusal. Every branch of those frightful maladies, whether the result of immedial habits or scores vices, is here uncoincitly treated, and diveated of all medical technicality; plain and casy directions are given for the best mode to be pursued in allocates, however complicated or apparently hopeless. To the married, as well as the unguarried, this little work alike affords consolation and cure in peculiar cases, and we are doing a service to society in recommending it to general author."—Resea and iterat Mercary.

Hessers. CURTIS & Co., are to be consulted daily at their resi-

Masers, CURTIS & Co. are to be consulted daily at their resi-sape, No. 7, FRITH STREET, SOHO SQUARE, LONDON.

Country Patients are requested to be as minute as possible in the detail of their cases. The communication must be accom-panted by the usual consultation see of 11, and 11 all cases the most laviolable servey may be relied on.

TEREMIE'S SEDATIVE SOLUTION of JOPUM, FIRST PREPARED at PATNA, in BENGAL.—The great merit of this preparation is its peculiar freedom from the soutious properties of Opians, and has therefore been found withabite in cases where other forms have been inadmissible, from its not disterbing the hervous system. The rest procured through its instrumentality is divented of the heaviness and stupprussably the effect of Opians, and the patient, though taking it continuously, is fift in free possession of his inculties. It has for several years been supplied to the H. C. Dispensary, by order of the Medical Board of Bengal, from its being found to meet Choiera in India, beyond any remedy that had been applied to that fatal disease. Captain Jarumie, 17th whose formula it is prepared, is well known to schemitic persons as the telented improver of the Pataa Opians. It will be found not to constipate the bowels, and to keep any time in any climate; it is exceedingly powerful in Cough, aspecially Consumptive Cough, whereis many have found it a, great bleming, in fuduenza, Gout, Tr. Douloureuz, Choiera, and Bowel Complaints, Rheumandton, and Cancers in Acconchements, and all ousses where Opians may be destrable. The exceedingly immotious proparties of the preparation have been proved by infants of a few vesics of the lawing taken it, without any cerebral distributions. The takinconials of many telented genilemen of the Profusion are on the eavelopes of the bottles—a few only of the mapses are given here of those who have approved, viz.:—

MEDICAL BOARD OF BENGAL.

Manical Board of Bungal.

Bir David Dings, Royal Naval Hospital, Plymouth.

Dr. Cockworthy. Physician, Plymouth Dispensary.

Dr. Watson, Michicaex Hospital, London.

J. G. Ferry, Burgson, Feunding Hospital, London.

Dr. Rack, Royal Hospital, Chatham.

J. B., Martin, Eng., (late of Calcutta), Groavenor-st.,

Dr. Jackson, hate Apottessery-General, Bengal.

Dr. Jackson, Bushin.

Br. Hospital, Bushin.

Br. Mangalon, Purbasor of Physic, Glasgow.

Dr. Yciage.

Dr. Hingston,

Scuth Devon Hospital.

Pressent, male by Francis Lean, 27, George-street.

Dr. Mingelon, Jacobs Lean, 27, George-street, Flymouth, and seld by hist. In both for dispensing, and in bottles at 2s, 2d, an seld by hist. In both for dispensing, and in bottles at 2s, 2d, an delta, and tid., and presents tid. Sol. Opi., by Franciscon," with directions for tash, having his diprating written in red int, without White mass is gaptime.—Sold also whotesis by Mesers, Barelay & Same, Misses, Michaelington, street, and Raward Winstanley & Son., Frankey, Leaking & Son., Sankey, Rewley, Sackwille, street, Bulling Scott, Thompson & Co., Caloutta; Binney, Hautma, Tranker, Bulling Scott, Thompson & Co., Jamita, Millam Wilake, Montreel, Caloutta, and retail by all respectable chestrets. 2s, 3d, 4s, 4d, 4d, and til. each hox, past free, he., he., and 12s.

Princed by Granou Lanz, of No. 18, South Parade, St. James's Park, Parisin of St. Morgaret's, in the county of Middreca, Printer, at the Office of Musics, Manuscust and Evalus, Longuester, Fisch Street, in the Presinget of Whiteframe, in the City of London, and Published by him at his Covers, 18, Cavananian County, Straame, in the same County, where all Advantagements and Communications are to by addressed to the Editorial Straight and Communications are to by addressed to the Editorial Straight Straam in the same County, where all

NAVAL & MILITARY CAZITY

East India and Colonial Chronicle. SATUBDAY, MARCH 9, 1844 No. 583. PRICE 8d. Occupations

Britagations ", on the Aibles

"C." on the Reserce

Ritor's Broket to Correspondents

Ritor's Broket to Correspondents

Ritor on the Delysins on the Army Belinstin

Barrent's Howastons to Married Offices

Tenerison in the Army

Convergence of Bildinary Prisons

Convergence of Bildinary Prisons

the Buchalte in the Army

Le Delaiting in the Army

the Preserce, and Overmenting of Ship

Crany Vende for the Franchist of Ship Contents of the Present Nomber: Trucks Tour for the Emple: Court, Packion, and Goneral Rows Parliamentary Analysis Naval Promotions and Appointue General Post-Office Notice Court, Fachion, and General News Parliamentary Analysis East total intelligence Literary Relices we' The Chinese War." By Jost. J. Gentarium; "Busin succes Charles the Heavail" "Ireland, Illustrated and Statistical." By G. L. Emy "The Land and the Lougae" "The Year Suck of Faints in Science and Art." Petry-" Pat." Memoir of Captain Thomas Gordon, lets, of the Royale Fancis, Siries, Marriages, and Ibeats. 146 Naval Tatelligence Official Military Despatches Official Military Despatches
Military Appointments and Promotions—Mov
(2d Prot.—Letter of "E.J. B.")
(Royal Marisea—Letter of "A Baharita
(8th Post.—Murder of Ser), Dodt by Fri
(Cape Mounted Riffamen—Court-Martia
B. Crause)
Military Intelligence
List of the Surviving Nelson Heroes
Foreign and Colonial Intelligence 140 150 CONTRACTS FOR RUM, WINE, SUGAR, COCOA, AND SOAF. 1844 CONTRACTS FOR RUM, WINE, SUGAR, COCCOA, AND SOAF Department of the Comptroller for Victorilling and Transport Services, Someract Pincy, 6th March, 1864.

"THE COMMISSIONERS for EXECUTING the OPPICE of LORD HIGH ADMIRAL of the UNITED KINGDOM of GREAT BRITAIN and IRRIAMS, 6thereby Give Notice, that on THURSDAY, the 14th lessay, at ONE o'Clock, they will be ready to freat with such pervens as may be willing to contract for supplying and delivering into the fidesty's Victualing Ricras at DRFTYORD, the undermentioned Articles, viz.:—

RUM, 180,006 Gollons, the produce of the British Passessions, and not less than half to be the produce of the British Passessions in the West Indice—the half of which to be delivered in Three Weeks afterwards.

Will'E WINE, 15,006 Gollons, tong budies—half of which to be delivered in Three Weeks, and the remainder in Three Weeks afterwards. THE following Splendid SHIPS, belonging to alsow. Change of Blackwall, built expensely for the form Trade, will be despatished punctually from Gravessand, at the madermentationed delay :-FOR MADRAS, DIRECT,
CITY OF POONAH, 700 Tone, E. Hinny, Commander, to Hall lergh 22.

FOR MADRAE AND CALCUTTA.

SERINGAPATAM, 1666 Tens, D. Edbertson, Co. ill May 15. WELLESLEY, 1166 Toos, W. Tolens, Commander, to Sail JURE 15. CWEN GLINKDOWER, 1900 Tone, E. Vone, Con-Sali June 26. WOR: THE CAPE AND CALCUTTA. ASINOUTE, 100 THE CAPE AND CALCUTTA. July 14.

POR CALCUTTA, DIRECT.

MONARON, 100 Tenn, W. H. WALES, Commission, to July 58.

POR THE CAPE AND MADRAS.

PORTSUMBERDAND, 900 Tons, U. E. Bers, Commande
Sal Aspert 19.

POR CALCUTTA, DIRECT.

BARL OF MADWICE, 1000 Tons, J. Draw, Commission
Sal Aspert 19.

MOR CALCUTTA, DIRECT.

BARL OF MADWICE, 1000 Tons, J. Draw, Commission
Sal Aspert 19.

MOR MADDRAS For these to while who never while before, And these who've always nobity ped'd to paid analy the more. Weaks afterwards.

BUGAR, 100 Tone, the produce of the British Peacestons—balf of which to be delivered in Three Weeks, and the remainder in Three Weeks afterwards.

COCOA, 70 Tone—balf of which to be delivered in Three Weeks, and the remainder in Three Weeks afterwards.

EOAP, 50 Tone—balf of Weeks afterwards.

EOAP, 50 Tone, Motipes—balf of which to be delivered in Three Weeks, and the remainder in Three Weeks afterwards.

The Rom, Wine, Sugar, and Cucoa, to be exempted from the Customs Dutless.

Emmisse of the Wine tone tone the Customs Dutless. VERNON, 1909 THEOREM AND CALCUTTA.
VERNON, 1909 THEOR. J. GIMPLEYS, COMMENT. Customs Duties.

Samples of the Wine (not less than two bettles), of the Choose (not less than two ibs.), and of the Segar intended to be-supplied, must be produced by the Farties tendering; and a sample of the Seap, and of the description of the Seap admissible, begather with the conditions of the contracts, may be seen at the conditions of the contracts, may be seen at the conditions of the contracts. POR CARCUTTO, HISBOT. PRINCE OF WALES, 1316 Tons, W. P. Stopkins; Compander Cont's creations,

Minks and dades

Mink dies nowy,

And then, of bourse,

Melandias for,

Mel PRINCE OF WALES, 1986 TESS, W. F. STEVENING, STATES OF THE office. No Tender will be received after One officet, on the Rery of Treaty, not any notices, under the Party altered, or in defeat for him dely authorized in writing.

Every Tender must be addressed to the Secretary of the Admitatty, not berr in the left hand curner the world, "Tender for raity, and must also be delivered at Somesact Piercy and those for Rum, Sugar, and Cuoca, must be accompanied by a Latter signed by Two responsible Percent, and those for Wise by one ray mubbs Percent, and those for Wise by one ray must be sum of 254 per cent. on the value for the due performance of the Contracts. LOR MADRAS DIRECT, and will sail possessity on the set April, the face Tesh Ship MELLISH, see Tesh Ship MELLISH, see Tesh Ship MELLISH, see Tesh Ship MeLLISH, see Tesh Docht. This Ship has excellent accommodation for Pacasses, and carries an experienced surgeon. For Freight of Passage apply to Mesers. Gamberaness & Co., White Mon-court, Corphill, or bell, the visits of Co., Sen. cont., or S., Corphill. 1844. THE following superior SHIPS, belonging to Mesers. T. and W. SHIPS, of Newcostle-upon-Tyne, and balls by them for the INDIA TRADE, will leave (travessed punctually at the undermentioned dates, and embark Passaggers A BAND MASTER.—WANTED, by the Arth Regiment, a BAND MARTER, fully competent to arrunge for, Instruct, and Load the Band. The terms will be liberal; it is therefore requested that he Band Master will offer himself noises be one produce the most satisfactory Testimonials. Applications to be addinged to the Band Committer, 47th Regiment, Gosport. Me applications can be entertained coming from Band Masters now, or about to be, angaged by any other Corps. at Portemouth a week after. COLOMRO, 800 Tone, Joun Thomson, Commander, to fail PERIN, 610 Tons, ROBERT LAINS, COMMISSION, rought SMALL, see Toos, E. Williams, Comm owner Corps.

28. King William-street, Chairing orose.

ORIGINAL DEPOT FOR RAYAL & MILITARY EQUIPMENTS.

AMUFL LEVY, lake of Humming s-row, begs now to inform his Record, and Military Friends, that he has removed to more apations and elegant Fremiers, where they will find a most extensive supply of every article said by him, as even lower prices then formerly. He legs to assure his Friends generally, that the same penetuality and attention to their orders which for so many years obtained their epopulation chall mark his future declings with them.

Portable Reduceds, Notes, Cambana, and Cump Furniture of every description and best undestraine, at forty per cent, under vise charges of any house is the finds.

Fortable Cheet-Drawers

Fortable Camp Teat-Bedwined, Bedding complete a d
Solid Landber Portabantess

Town made Regulation Sweet

Infoatory State, all Silk

Captaint Eponiestes, best quality, per pair 3 a

Weigt Bette

Shoulder Bilto

E. L. has an onessetten with any other house in town.

OR BOMBAY DIRECT,-To sail on the Lith March, being under engagement to the Hon. the B. I. Company, having all her dead weight angaged, the spinnfid touk-built first chan-ship ORIZETAL, due tous, Walles Withelit Commanded to the built first chan-ship ORIZETAL, due tous, Walles Withelit Commanded to just west frid Dects. This ship has present excellent economical distance from the present excellent economical distance from the perisonnel fluryeou. For Fright or Fudance apply to Romans Ranax, Eng., New City Chambers, Sanhopignite-street, or to T. Havision, and Co., See Court, or 6p, Cumbill.

April 26. .LENBORGUGH, 1,100 Tans, M. C. Chass, Coms Hillian Politices, 1,100 kins, M. C., Cacons, Communicate, to BUCEPHALUE, 1,650 Tota, Was. Bush, Communicate, to Sali

FOR CALCUTTA DIRECT.
GLORIANA, 1,100 Tons, J. E. Wass, Community, to

July 8.
TUDOR, 1,150 Tons, M. J. LAY, Commander, to Sail Aug. 18.
FOR THE CAPE AND CALCUTTA.
PLANTAGENET, 1,000 Tons, Jose Donory, Communiter, to Hall July 12.

FOR MADRAE.

DUKE OF ARGYLL, 860 Tone, HERRY BRISTOWS, Community, to ball August 18.

For Patange apply to Capt, Barnen, 17. St. Mary Are; Capt.
Wel. Folders, or T. & W. Sulys, 78, Cornbill.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS. A Dest route to BELFARY, vit Frestwood, vivery Monday, Westereay, and hiterathy evanions, by the new light count, ships PRINCE of WALES and PRINCES Allow, for the western country in the straining of the straining of the straining and arrive or Belliut the indicating decreases. Apply 40 Mr. Burny Enter. Reserved; or at the Company's offers, 5, 5t. Switch's base, London.

TO OFFICERS OF THE ARMY AND NAVY.

IT POTTER, MARTIAL MUSICAL

INSTRUMENT-MARKE TO HER MAJESTY, BELGADE OF CUARDS, and the "HONOURABLE MOARD OF ORDHANCE 4, Bridge-street, Westminister, dondon.

Massisterer of Flaton, Charlesses, Bancoose, Serpents, Base
Horne, Cymbala, ho.—Valve Bissesh, Horne, Bresidas Cornetto, Yalve Oghisteide, Roput Ecch Bagts.—Trumbons, Trump-t, Correspons, and all easts of English and Side Justemments.—Base,
Tunke, and Side Sitte of very Searchiston.

Letterstor of the Improved Katila-Brussa—not Patent.

Drum-Majors' Trupkiqs.—Beginner of Sand-Masters.

AND OUTER OUT AND OUTERN RESERVED BY THE RESERVED BY THE RESERVED BY THE RESERVED BY AND SO., WITH BREED BY THE RESERVED BY THE RESERVED

196

Count price for Breaty higney, also, per its, in quantities of mea-ican than one is. A single is for sample will be for warded in any part of the imageous, our receipt of a Post-silles quiet. In con-classicit, Crawters & Co. beg in wheeve that they know, from personal appetience, that smelling in rather a key work; they, herefore, take this appertuets of secondarding the fullowing quarvalies. Old Wines, resistant able for any, quality, to equat, and deriver, the the purpose of isosping up a due and prope moisture of the animal system, without makes him, the amplest work of Gun's orestime.

THE MEW MAVAL UNIFORM.

PHILIPS, NAVAL TAHOR, 18, 1st a straight the hope to inhim the officers of the Alexandra Section of the Se

UNIFORMA	Commo- dores of the Beroad Class, Captains, and Cum- anaders,	Liemen. Mila, Mantera, Margenne, Mad Purpara.	Metable- men, 1st and mul Cines Vo- iunteers, Masters' Assist- acts, & G
Bress Coat Undress Coat Undress Coat Bress Trousers Braulettes, cash Sword, Knot, & Belt Bress Holt	7 0tok 0 2 10 - 4 10 2 14 - 3 15 3 0 - 3 16 5 5 - 4 16 2 2 - 8 16 1 10 - 6 4	6 0tm3 in 2 10 - 4 4 2 10 - 2 10 2 10 - 2 10 2 5 - 4 10 1 10 - 2 10 8 16 - 2 15	0 0400 0 8 10 - 6 0 1 0 - 6 12 3 5 - 6 10 1 10 - 9 10 5 6 - 7 10 9 15 - 7 10	# 2504 4 2 15 - 5 16 1 4 - 1 12 2 0 - 4 19 2 16 - 0 18

Officers joining fitted out at a few house fisher, with every requisite for a voyage. Share, County, Market, for All always ready; and every article warranted strictly regulation.
Codets, Military and Diplomatic Offices, Mand out on the same edvantageous terms. Full granted addition of each on analization.

THE NEW MILITARY COCKED HAT, BRAT QUALITY, WITH PEATHER, FOR 23 Se.

HER MAJESTY'S DOCKYARDS.

LIR W. BURNETT'S PATENT be having undergone nine years' trial in ALL CLIMATER, is now in daily extensive uperation, is the shown national evidential and the shown and private individuals. This PROCESS preserves TIMBS from DKY-RGT, and, when desired, renders to mainfeatmenties. It is cheep, mention, and say of application. It is shown wooden tanks, and done not, therefore, require hydractic machine, accept for the sake of expendition. It canongs the gramment wood in a very short time, and renders the communication amount of a very short time, and renders the communication that or equal to the best foreign. CANYAR, COSEMA-CE, COTTON, and WOULLEN, are not only preserved trust MOI, MILTON, and the ATTACKS of MGG18, but are inclumined allower, and rendered even attending than before.

Murezous opcomens and testimonicis may be seen, and every information upon to objects and application will be given, at the Company's Offices, No. as, RING WILLYAM STREET, LORDON BRIDGE. W. BURNETT'S PATENT

Nabal Intelligence.

PROMOTIONS.

Commander...C. J. Featherstone.
Lieutenants...G. M. Aldridge, H. O. Veitch, C. O. H. F. St. John Mildmay, J. W. Probert, P. W. Gibson, C. Rainier, J. R. Shairs, F. M. Shorts.

-T. C. Pulles, H. F. Collins.

Manters—T. C. Fullen, H. F. Collins.
AFFOLYMBRYS.

Geptaine—Sir Charles Sullivan, Bt. (1814), from Formidable, to Queen; G. F. Rich (1823), from Queen, to Formidable, Communiter—W. H. Kuchen (1877), from Queen, to Devastation.
Lieutemante—R. B. Leve-ster (1841), to Orestee A. C. C. Denny (1841), to America; Geo, Newcomen (addit.), (1842), to Agincourt; J. B. Marbu's commission to the America has been cannelled.

Naval Cadeta—Hon. H. W. Chetwynd, to Campardown; B. G.

Naval Cadele-Hon. H. W. Chetwynd, to Comparason; B. G. W. Nicolus, to Size.

Surgeois—— Bower, to charge of the Cadel convict-ship; Gen. Burs, M.D. (1840), in America, v. Mackey, warrant cancelled. Assistant-hurgeon—John Specy (1841, to Lacifer.

Paymester and Purser—John B. Dring (acting), to Lerne.

Secretary's Cicha—W. G. Young, to Admiral Sir C. Rowigy; Jas. Timpson, in Rear-Admiral Sowies.

Clerks—John Bell (in charge), to Leafer; J. Roberts, to America.

GENERAL POST OFFICE.—Mance 9.
The next mails for Make, Greec, the Indian Islands Southampton, will be dispatched from bases on the morals the 14th inet, 1 and for Beyts and India on the 1st of April.
Asso for the West Indian mails of the 18th inst.

FORTEMOUTH, March 7.—(From our own Correspondent.)—The Resistance embarked her troops from the Isle of Wight on Monday, and sailed next day for Cork; she of wight on monay, and saided next day for court said is to take some additional drafts from thence, and proceed to Quebec and Halifax. Pictoris and Albert yacht is in dock, to be altered. Magicianus has been taken out to make room for her. Firebrand is in the basin ready for commission, but no one nominated yet. Queen and Indus are to be paid off here, and then fitted as advance ships. Fernon goes to Sheerness. The launch of the Daring, and the consequent removal of the Lily to her duck, has been postponed; a good quantity of the flouring and beams of the new steamer, Soourge, are reedy to lay down. Doneyal has been shifted, to enable the contractor who is making the new steam-boat basin, to have more room for his vessels, its. Dee has completed her defects. The crew will be paid wages to morgow. She is to go to Devonport on Monday, and then to Cork. There is nothing whatever doing in the port. The new order to enter seemen in the dockyard as labourers, will not answer; Jack will not had timber about, or trundle a wheelbarrow; it will only do for a few mengal-war mechanics, such as armourers, coopers, joiners, and persons of that class. Even with them, the regular hours of Dock-yard work will be irknome. Some will miss muster, and grumble on losing half a day's pay, and soon quit in disgust—par-ticularly if they have pensions to fall back on. The plan was tried before, but did not succeed. Unless men have commenced as apprentices, and got into regular habits of attending at the Dock-yard, it is needless their entering. Nothing is more difficult than to make old men-of-war's man work under a civilian. A considerable number of convicts have been discharged, or removed to foreign act-tlements: their work in the yard is performed by hired labourers. Ships in Port. 34. Vincent, Victory, Excellent, Victoria and Albert yacht, Feerices, Dec.

Prynouth, Murch 6.— From our own Correspond — 1st—Arrived the Emerald tender, from Portsmouth, with Saamen-Gunners for the America, and sailed on her return the same day. 4th—The erew of the Empress packet, 6, Lieut. Edw. Herrick, were paid unges the 2d, and she sailed for Falmouth this day. 5th—Coledents, 130, Capt. D. Milne, was hauled into dock, had her copper repaired and cleaned, and banked out again the 7th. Rechester tender arrived from Pumbroke with stores for the Duckyard. 6th—Larne, 15, Com. J. W. D. Brishane, was hauled on the graving allp to have her copper cleaned and examined, and hauled out again the following tide. Sailed the Larneier, Dutch schooner, 6, for the Coast of Africa. Mr. Chas. D. A. Newman, late Assist-Surgeon in this Dockyard, has retired on a pension of lat-Arrived the Emerald tender, from Portsmouth, Coast of Africa. Mr. Chas. D. A. Newman, lete Asslet.-Surgeon in this Dockyard, has retired on a pension of 60%, per annum. Siz wheelerights, from Woolwich, are ordered to be entered in this Deckyard. Mr. Richard Townsand has been appointed Clerk of the Works, to su-portation the formation of the new steam basis, at Morice Town, Decomport, with a salary of 300% per annum. In Marbott-Caledonia, San Insef. America, Larne, Eina, Confiance at. In the Sound Name.

Sumunsty, March 7 .- (From our our Corr Supering March 7.—(From our own Correspond; ent.)—The Racen cutter, Lieut.-Com. J. Stephen, returned laws from Plymouth on Mouday, having had vacant by the death of Capt. Jerominh Leghlan, B.N., most pointerops weather in both passages, during which the spates mixed stays, and was almost totally under value representation. The Naval Cadet, who had been lent to have required to an Admiral, in the receive more of the half-pay of his lambder that voyage from the Compercious, has returned, to an Admiral, in the receive more of the half-pay of his lambder that the succeeded by another for the next trip. The Chichester frigate has been taken into the beain, and the Vulture st. into dock, during the week. All haste is being made in getting the Ganges ready. The Captoin-Superintendent is recovering slowly from a severe bill-ous attack, not paralytic as stated in the neverpapers. In Harbour-Camperdown, Ocean; Roven and Speedy, custers; and African, etsamer. The Tortoice has just arrived from Chatham, and will sail for Fortemouth te-Milroun Haven, March 6 .- (From our own Corre blilroup Haven, March 6.—(From our own Correspondent).—Sir W. Symands is expected at Pembrohe Yard to-day. His experimental brig, the Flying Fish, will be launched the first week in April II she can possibly he got ready. For this garpose every exertion is being made. The launch of the Contession, 80 gams, has been postponed for the present. The Captain Superintendent, Sir W. Pull, west on Isave this week. Commander Higgs, Agent for Mail steam-packets, acts as Superintendent. as Superintendent.

as Superintension.

DEAL, March 7.—(From s.er own Correspondent.)— let.—H.M.'s rev.-catter Lieu sailed from the Downs to the westward. 2d.—The harque Pylades came into the Downs from the westward, with loss of fate-yard: she was aupplied with a new eye, also an auchor and cable, from Doal. A brig came in the same day, having lost her fore-topsell yard. 3d.—H.M.'s rev.-cutter Esperiment run into the Downs for shelter. H.M.'s mail-packet Dover landed her despatches and passengers at Deal.
4th—Sailed H.M.'s rey, outter Experiment and outwardbound vessels from the Downs to the westward. 5th—H.M.'s brig Naudius came into the Downs. Liesty rev.-gutter proceeded to her station, at Hastings. 6th—Sailed H.M.'s brig Naudius and the outward-bound vessels from the Downs to the westward. M.M.'s at-w. Luciler went through to the westward in the evening. 7th-H.M.'s rev.-cutter Figilant went through the Downs to the eastward.

DEFIVORD, March 5th .- (From our own Correspondent.)... Feb. 28th .- Arrived Boyne transport, to refit. March 4th .- H.M.'s ateamer Ruby, Wells Master, from Chutham, with stores. Java transport, Lieut Imerie agent, from Portsmouth, to refit. Sailed Match 8, Landen, male convict, for Woolwich, to embark convicts tor den, male convict, for Woolwich, to embark convicts for New South Walen. Sinbad lighter, Follett Master, for Chatham, with stores. Bemain duck lighter, Trice Master, ibading for Chatham. Cadet, female convictable, fitting for Sydney, New South Wales, Blundell embarked her convict guard on the 4th instant, and will sail in a few days for Portsmouth, to embark convicts for Van Diemen's Land.

OF Van Diemen's Land.

CHATHAM, March 7.—The Tortoise, which has been so long fitting at this dockpard as a store-ship for the Island of Ascension, was this morning towed hence by two steemers for Portsmouth. The Tertoise takes out several mechanics and their families to settle at the Island of Accession, and also materials for building a shurch and houses there. The construction of the Mutine and Esplayle, very fine 12 gun brige, is proceeding with the greatest possible rapidity. The Rainigh, 50, is going on very slowly, must of the hands having been taken off to put upon other work. The Transactions, 74, which was thoroughly repaired at this yard about thirty-five years since, and which was the first vessel in the Service fitted with Sir Robert Sepping's harn kness, will shortly be towed round to Deptiord and broken up.

Woodwich, March 8.—The Dedukes, 42, at 80 towed round to Deptiord and briters up.

Woolwich, March S.—The Deduins, 42, at Shermess, has been ordered to be taken up the river to Woolwich, to be fitted with a spar deck. The Slyar st.-vl., is now ready for sea, and will leave Woolwich, on Tuesday next, for Plymouth and Medica. Lunjfer st.-vl., having had her compasses adjusted by Capt. Johnson, left Greenhiths, on Wednesdey, for Plymouth and Capk. Drafts arrived at Woolwich, from Portsmouth, on Thuesday. Dilige see tr.-ship arrived at Woolwich from Devemport on Monday, and was towed up to Deptford on Tuesday. The African at.-vl. towed No. 20. tr.-ship from Sheemess to Deptford on Monday, and returned on the same day. The Firefly was towed down to Woolwich yesterday from Deptford, to be fitted with her boilers, and when levely for an about the employed in the surveying service, under the command of Capt. Heachy, in place of the Lucifer.

A fatal accident occurred this week on board H. M.'s ateam frigate Siys, now lying off the Rayal Dockyard, Woolwich. Raiph Thomson, an languager, employed in the factory of the dockyard, was engaged with two others in repairing the floats of the bloove yearel, when, through some inadvertunce on the part of the months, and the decement helps caucht in the school with instantly in the school with firstantly in the school with school wit through some insidertence on the part of the man in the engine-room, the padule-wheels were set in motion, and the deceased, being caught in the wheels, was instantly crushed to death. The deceased has left a widow and drashed to design. In a common was a state three children. The other men scopped uninjured.

A good-service pension of 150£ a year has become vacant by the death of Capt. Jereminh Caghina, R.N., C.B., who died at his residence, Ryde, Isle of Wight, issued from the Admiralty to the different Commanders-issued from the Admiralty to the different Commanders-in-Chief during the present-week.

Mr. Henry P. Ward, Master's-Assistant of H.M.'s sloop Helma, has been awarded the Silver Medal by the Royal Humann Society, for his great gallantry, in awing the life of a private in the Royal Marines, who was bathing near South Sea Castle in the autumn of 1843.

H.M.S. Queen, 210, Capt. Rich, in the Mediterranean, is ordered home to be paid off, and Admiral Sir E. W. C. R. Owen, holsts his flag on Formidable, Capt. Sity C. Bullivan, who anchanges ships with Capt. Birk. Capt. seender Kitchen, of Queen, is appointed to Decadation, vice Capt. the Hon. S. T. Carnegis, returning home to his Parliamentary duties.

to his Parliamentary duties,

Penelope has arrived at Lishon, where she will remain until the arrival of enother vessel-of-war in the Tegus. She will then proceed to the coust of Africa.

The Vernen, 50, Capt. W. Walpole, is about to leave the Mediterraneau, and it is understood she is to proceed to Liebon, to relieve the Pencione, and that she will remain there until she is bereaff relieved by the America, 50, Cept. the Ros. John Gordon, now fitting for service at Devenport. Version will then return home to be at Devempert. paid off.

Windhester, 50, Capt. Eden. (with the flag of R.-Adm. the Hon. J. Perey) was lying in Simon's Bay, Cape of Good Hope, Dec. 12.

The Mapple, surv.-v., Com. Brock, has been paid off at Woolwich. She has just returned from the Mediterraneau.

Alligator, 26. Master-Com. Brown, was expected at Calcutta with asptured Chinese guns, whence she would proceed to Trincomales for stores, &c., for the ships in Chine.

The Growler, st.-v., Capt. Backle, was at Bahia 29th Dec., having just returned from a cruise.

Cornwellie, 72, Capt. P. Richards, with the flag of Vice-Adm. Sir W. Parker, will not return to England, from the East Indies, until the latter end of the year.

Samereny, 26, Capt. Sir E. Beleber, was about to pro-ceed to examine an island to the eastward of Formose, preparatory to commencing a survey of the islands to the S.E. of the China Ses.

Waterwitch, 10, is undergoing repairs at Cowes.

Rate, 18, Com. Sturt, and Albatross, 16, Com. Yorke, ere in the Gulf of Mexico when the last accounts left.

Thails, 42, was at Rombsy 17th Dec., whence she proceeded to join R.-Adm. Thomas in the Pacific.

Helens, 16, Capt. Sir C. Ricketts, arrived 25th Jan.

at Madeira from Plymouth, and salled on 28th for Maxico, having on board Mr. Bankband and suite.

having on board Mr. Sankbaud and suite.

Curaçod, 24, Capt. Sir T. Pasley, was on Christmasday at Rio de Janeiro, refitting, preparatory to joining Commodore Purvis's aquadron at Montevideo, from which latter place Raser, 16, was daily expected at Rio.

Supplie, 16, Com. the Rios. G. Hope, in the early part of Nov., detained and sent to the Cape of Good Hope a slave schooner, which she captured off the Mozambique.

Now Advanced and sent to the Council Council Now.

Starling, surv.-v., Lieuf.-Com, Hunt, was put out of commission on 28th Oct. last, at China.

Rattlesnake and Sapphire troop-ships are on their passage to England, with availed of both Services.

Soylla, 16, Com. Sharpe, left Halifax for Bermuda, 2d Feb.

WEST ISDIES.—H.M.S. Illustrious, 72, Capt. J. E. Erskins, with the flag of V.-Adm. Sir C. Adam, K.C.B., the Commander-in-Chief, was lying at Port Royal on 23d the Commander-in-Chief, was lying at Port Royal on 23d Jan., and the following results of the squadron:—Imaum, 72, Commodure Shappe, C.B., Com. W. Houston; Eury-dice, 26, Capt. B. Elliot; Spartan, 26, Capt. Hun. G. C. J. B. Elliot; Griffia, 3, Lient.-Com. Jenkins; Poir Rosemond, 3, Lieut.-Com. Bullman; and Pickle, 2, sch., Lieut.-Com., Balahyidge, The Illustrious will return to England in the course of the summer, as the puriod of Sir Charles Adam's command in the West Indies will then crafins. then expire.

Sir Charles Adam's command in the West Indies will then expire,

TARITZ.—A Nivel Officer, "who visited the jelends in June and July, 1945," gives the following tests in reply to a statement in the French papers, concerning the occupation of Tahiti, in Nov., 1845, by Reer-Admiral Dupetit Theorem, the French Commander-in-Chale in the Paside :—

"As the shief ground uses which the French in the Paside :—

"As the shief ground uses which the French in the Paside :—

"As the shief ground uses which the French in the India in the children eight of Queen Found to rerequise the treaty concludes in Spat, 1843, it will be accessary to state how her signature to that upaky was obtained. Mr. Fritchard, the British Cosesi et Tahiti, as woon Queen Founar had hitherto releaf for the transaction of Mr. public besieses, was absent in England. No iduition man of stor was present in Fapelli Say, when a French to the transaction of Mr. public besieses, was absent in England. To include a river papers less that a sum of dollars larger than she had ever seen, which less had no because of the including the show his diplomary, commonwed hy british ground to the sheet inflaential chiese on the inland. Because of these, he then heatened to gain the good will of the personal by. Fringings had but in charge of the British consultance man who had flewidy shows a limest ton frougasile to French intervals. Will these and the French Cosesi, he grounded to the Govern's residence, and by elections and the French County's desiration of the Theorem and the French County's desiration for French ton frougastic to French County's desiration for passage of the state the French County's desiration of the Govern's residence, and the French County's desiration of the Govern's residence, and the French County's desiration of the Govern's residence, and the French County's desiration of the Govern's residence of the French County's desiration of the Govern's residence of the French County's desiration of the Govern's residence of the French County's desir

Nicoles of the treetment she had treetved, who, in prevent he receiving any further insults from the Presch, declared her to be Hielias of the treatment she had resired, who, in prevent-limit receiving any further leading from the Prench, declared for we be an independent flowerign, and on ally of Great Betwiet. As all this was done by him without instruction from the Admiralty, he immediately east despectant to the floon, by way of Financia but as his proceedings were disapproved of by the Gardrangen, but as his proceedings were disapproved of by the Gardrangen, he was next to Foodh America with his trigate, and the Duddin has almoy, as the French papers only, remained an issuitive specially a subject. The animal of the two French Highles, or rather coverties, of from 16 to 10 years such, are the Banacale and the Enthmenton. It is study to the French papers that Ownmoders Nigaliae landed some guest, and put them in such a prolition as to command the entrance to the rouds. This is sufferly right, for the guan that were imply described from the French prince Bussels, Capitaine Vrignand, on an island commending the two entrances to Fascil Bays ing upon, a meeting from Commoders Nicolas to M. Vrignand, in the effect, that it like steps to enforce it, they immediately the mode to chipped its take steps to enforce it, they immediately the Fascilia. Journal of the Fascilia St. The Fascilia Cartin.

THE FRENCH IN THE PACIFIC.—The Jourise! do Have gives the following:—"The Ajes wheler has envived, bringing news from the Sandwich Islands three months later than that previously required by the Elisabeth. We have already suncessed that Vice-Admiral Thomas, after having re-established King Kassebsuschs in his rights of sovereignty, had concluded a softention in 1843, by which enormous privileges were given to British subjects. Since then the state of things has not changed, and, though disevening the set of Latel Paniet, the English Admiral has abstained from repairing any of the complaints occasioned to French interests, and pasticularly to our consul, M. du Doit. M. du Doit had refused to exhibit his powers to the English commission instituted by Lard Paulet to replice the Sandwich governor; and on his refusal, that commission, after having annulated that it did not recognise the French consul, put scale on the house and papers of M. du Doit. The state of affairs remains the same, and Admiral Thomas has respected it, under pretence of leaving all the requessibility upon its auther. The Ajax left Hapalulu on the 31st of Oct., without seeing the Raine Blanche, which was that they time have been the same team Composite, which THE PARNER IN THE PACIFIC. The Journal de Slat of Oct., without seeing the Reine Blanche, which must at that time have been on its may from Otaheits to the Sandwich Islands. Captain Letelliar gives a melansholy account of the state of our fishermen in those see and says that they are in great need of protection. It is to be observed that it is at the moment when Admiral Dujetit Thouars, informed of this state of things, goes to the Sandwich Islands to support the interests of France, that the expedition is leaving our post which carries the order for his recall."

H.M.S. Cleopatra, 26, Capt. Wyvill, was at the Cape of Good Hope the latter end of Dec. The following are additional particulars relative to her capture of the two slave ressels which had been deserted by their grown, as mentioned in our last. Cleopairs, as coming down the Mazambique Channel, on 30th Nov., saw the two vessels (a brig and a briguntine) at the mouth of the river Zambize, which, on being boarded, were found to be descried by their crows in hosts which were seen proresding to the shore before the Chepatra reached the ressels. They had neither of them ony national fag or ship's papers on board, or anything to show the ship's name, but the brigantine had the name Assis roughly ont on her cabonas. Both veggels had slave decks, and were provided with sheekles, water, and other articles necessary for the sale conveyance of slaves.

Seventern advanced line-of-battle shipe are complete at Deventern advanced line-of-battle shipe are complete at Deventern and Portumouth, and the following are reported complete at Sheerness:—Hand, †20; Waterlee, 120; London, 93; Asia, 34; Ashillee, 75; Harke, 72; Heroules, 72; Russell, 72. Total at the three gerts, 23. Cornwall, 50, is also fitted as an advance frigate, so that there is now ready a trigate at such port. Genges, 84, at Shoomest, will be complete on 30th March.

Thirty-five sail of the line can be get ready for sea spon on emergency, in less than a month. They are all ready for the pendant. Their standing rigging and genr in pre-pared, ready to throw over their masts. Panguard, 80, for the pendant. Their standing rigging and gers in prepared, ready to throw over their mass. Panyaord, 80, will shortly be commissioned at Devenyort. Report states that she is to precent to the Facilite as the flag-chip of Vice-Admirel Sir George Seymons.

The Kingfahre and Fighag Fish, building at Pembroke by the Serveyor of the Ravy; Bering and Orprey, building at Portsmenth by Massers. White had histe; and Muline and mother brig, building at Casthem by Mr. Fincham and the members of the late School of Navel Architecture, will all to resuly for immeking sarly in April. The Daring is ready at the present time. They are the experimental brigs of a new class.

Intent Squapment. Fologo, M. Capt. Sir W. Dickson, has borne the flag of R. Addin. Booken mines the departure of Allien, 90, Capt. Leettyre, from Carle. In addition to Volge, the Mission, Leett-Com. G. Butter, Allen, Cont. John Joseph, Lant. Com. W. P. Creater, steamers, are near lying at the Cove of Carle. The vessels in the Shannes are Pan, 42, Capt. Sir ti, M. Black wood; House, or men for the Com. Rott; and Tanjaran, Cam. Wolf. Camet, Liout. Com. J. B. Benery; Brandship, and Flanor, Liout. Com. J. B. Benery; Brandship, and Flanor, Liout. Com. J. R. Emery; Brandship, and Flanor, Liout. Com. Capt. W. F. Kanthan, and Flanor, Liout. Capt. M. Capt. M. Addition for the capt. Capt. M. Capt. M. Addition for the capt. Capt. M. Capt.

Com. C. F. Poatle; and the Snipe cutter Liquit. Com. G. Raymond, are at Bantry Bay; and Foliates, Licut. Com. G. J. Featherstone; and Radamantins, Master-Com. Thomas Lasa, steamers, are at Kingstown, Dublin. Pairs Moure.—To the Officers and company of Hall's since Curies, who were present at the capture and desepany of Hall's since piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1812, and engaged in the piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1812, and engaged in the piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1812, and engaged in the piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1812, and engaged in the piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1812, and engaged in the piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1812, and engaged in the piratical vessel Pande on 4th June, 1818, a distribution of the broaty-money granted by that pervise, will be made at the same place, agracially to Act of Fullmanch. Amount of an inside all and place. Place, 16. 19. 3ct, 19. 4ct, 2 class, 19. 6ct, 2 dits, 4d. 19. 6ct, 2 class, 19. 6ct, 19. 6c

Military Entelligence. OFFICIAL DESPATCHES.

Bombay Castle, Jan. 17, 7816.

I. The Non. the Governor in Council has he highest gratification in republishing to: general information to failnessing denoral networks, leased by the Right Tites, the Governor-Gasperal of India, quader dole the sth ingl., and the Presentcher phareth alluded to, together with cilician statutes of the killed and wounded, we the coemism of the two brilliants victories gained on the 19th his, at Habamphour and Publishing, by the British Forget, cay the law august Habratia Army of the Highans Habaraja Jyajes Rec-Reinlin.

Scindle.

3. In republishing these documents the Ron. the Covernor in Council directs that the whole of the troops in garrison by paramed to morrow evening, for the purpose of thing a fee despite, after hering the appears of these documents read and derivally explained to them.

3. The Hon. the Governor in Council is pleased to direct that, to the tracelet of this seller, the same observations has also observed in the diffusion gardinary.

3. I. Williamond. On the here the Army of this presidency.

I. F. Willewour, Secretary to Government.

GEMERAL, ORDERS.

By the Eight these, the Governor-General of India.

Oump, Gwalest Residency, 18th. 4.

The Governor-General directs the guildenium of the interest despatch, from the guildenium of the interest despatch, from the Eight the Cam. in-Chief, reperting the operations of the sorps under this Enceitency's immediate summing, and of that under the elements of Maj. Gene Grey, against the matisment troops which overwered and entatested the Governments of his Fightysis (in Maharajan Jyajee Rao Scincials, and attacked the Mitthe Forces on their davance to Gwaline to his Highman's support.

The Governor-General deepty learned the severe issue in hilled and wounded which has been auditured in these operate on; but it has been auditated in the apparation of a great and incidently service, and the stories of Makira-jano and Fussalar, while they have then new glory on the Science Army, have restored the mathetity of the Mainra-jals, and have given new security to the British Empire in India.

The Governor-General coughtily congraintes his Enc. the Com...to-Chair mout the aversal of his asing convincionism, by which two victories were obtained do the same sing, and the true will be formed in all the proper of the Exc., and to Maj. Gen. Grey, and to all the people of leader, office they have packeting from status to all the people of leader, office they have packeting absorption of all the people of leader, office his mast graterial attack which as the officers and out Rept., be the day of the Governor-General, in the maste of the Governor-General, in the maste of the Rept., he they do not like include the Willest of his master of act. Repts., he they do not like the best of the deep of his newton to the Mith K.f., which took with the imposite the hasteries to from a Repts., but the Service his and even the Mither of the Service has a security of the first great territe which include the history of the house of her Service of Mith and of the incider of these pressy vistery by which that Empire has been showed. Her Ridgety's 40th Rid;, and the his hast 16th Ridge. Mative deconsiders, again serving together, again displayed their pre-bushasis qualifies as publics, half will empoored the character of the ever-visterium Army of Cambridge. The people of his course of the adversal strong positions of the order a long march, carried the adversal strong positions of the ordersy with a resolution no "offendage," and ground cruid emable him to witherset, and lier highesty" and Butte and both Regulate bury fastre to the reputation they garned in the Pentundira War.

Everythère, at Maharajaror and at Pannier, the British and the Rasive Trougs, busining much active, and animated by the hims spirit of sittles and the Rasive Trougs, busining much active, and animated by the bands direct of sittlessy development that an Army in companied, and assisted by the bands of his grateful sense of their devicements of ladia will, one mach of its grateful sense of their device places and active? Caller, and it every so ladier engages in the barties of Maharajaror and Fannier, an Indian that of twomas, made out of the great factor with their united to the Government of their strong outs their united.

marker of the Government of many was a symmetry with their united no.

1810 Res, the Constant rolls of all the Officer and collient engaged in the two bestiest regressions, to corer their the intermediate of the lastic producted in one may be leading with the name of the lastic producted in one may be leading with the name of the lastic producted in one may be leading with the name of the lastic producted in one many be leading of the lastic producted in one many beautiful.

p expected. Interpretation organization of the comp

Gerellor, will be evected at Celeutia, and inscribed with this between of all who but in the two battles.

The Governor-General directs that the words "Meharaporeem and "Penniar" that he between upon the colours, or standards and appointments of the present regiments, troops, and companies, and photon, as respectively suggest in those battles.

A Regal actue and a freedinght will be fired at all the stations of the Army, on the receipt of this order.

MARARASOON,—M troop at brigade theres Artillery, let rroop if brigade disto, and troop at brigade theres Artillery, let rroop if brigade theres Artillery, let rroop if brigade theres Artillery, let rroop if brigade theres Artillery, at one, in the control to the same, at his man, of the same, of the fire, the same of the present and inner, the same the same of Reports and Almost disto, the same of Reports and Almost disto, the same of the same of

From the Ran. Gen. St. W. Glongel, bart., G.C.R., Commander, Jon.
Chief, Bank Ladies, to the Might Mon. the Guv. General, dec.
Hisy Lord, "Twee Lordship having witnessed the apprachase of the Sith, and being in possession, from my frequent commissionations, of my Milliary Arrangements for the attack area; in its attempt gentleten of though, in one finel it appearsn'y to mater much late detail, either as to the emerge's position of the disposition is good for classing it, it had been never observe, that it was possition; which choose, and most solitonessed guns better survey, and it body of infinity apparently with choose, and most solitonessed guns better survey, and it body of infinity apparently withoused guns better survey, and it body of infinity apparently better deceased guns better survey, and it body of infinity apparently better deceased guns better survey, and thank by friender Gurstude. Briggion of Cavalry, emenicing of Her Majesty's 16th Lancers, ander Laut. Old. M Downly promise parently better gunst, such a finite Carl. and the caralty, under side by the control of the c ing four regimental standards. This corps was ably and nobly supported by the 3d Grenadiers, who captured two regimental standards, and by the 16th Grenadiers, under Lieut. Colonels Hamilton and M'Laren; too much praise cannot be given to supported by the ad Grenadiers, who captured two regimental standards, and by the 16th Grenadiers, under Lieut. Colonels its militon and M'Laren; too much praise cannot be given to these three regiments.

Maj. Gen. Littler, with Brig. Wright's brigade, after dispensing the right of the enemy's position at Maharajpoor, steadily advanced to fulfil his instructions of stracking the main position at Chonda in front, supported most ably by Capt. Grant's treep of Fiscas Artillery, and the 1st Heg. of Light Cavalry; this column had to advance under a very severe fire, over very difficult ground, but when within a short distance, again the reah of the 19th Neg., as before, under Maj. Bray, gallantly supported by the 56th Regiment under Maj. Diok, carried everything before them, and thus gained the entremental main position of Chonda. In this charge the 19th Reg. lost the services of its brave, Commanding Officer, Maj. Bray, who was desprately wounded by the blowing up of one of the cormise tumbrille in the midat of the corps, who were ably brought out of action by Maj. Mrautenace. Thus gallant corps, on this occasion, captured two regimental standards.

A small work of four gune on the left of this position, was long and obstinately defended, but subsequently carhad, and the gune captured by the greendiers of the 19th, under Capt. Compbell, education with unture privated by a wing of the 46th N.I., under Maj. Phillips.

Brig. Cureton's brigade of Cavalry, taking advantage of every opportunity, maneuved most judiciously on the right, and would have gut in rear of the position, and out off the retreat of the whole, had they not been prevented by an impassable ravine. I witnessed with match pride the regulative of the movement of the three treeps of the Horse Artiliery, which here a completions part in this well-context deathon, and the precision of their fire was admirable. With the two Light Field Batteries I here every reason to be pleased; they well supported the high character of the Bengal Art. I was greatly gratifi nomal eacort under Curact Mannua, which did great credit to himself and the small body of the 5th Lt. Cavairy which formed it.

Several acts of individual herolem occurred on this day, none executed those of Maj.-Gen. Churchilt, C. B., Quartermaster General of her Majeaty's forces in India, and Captain Someract, of the Granadier Guarda, your Lordship's Military Regretary, which you kindly silowed to act on my staff, and whom I sent with Brigader Careton's brigade, to communicate to me the inoversent of the corps. These two gallant offices moby fell, having received several wounds in personal rensontre. In Maj.- tion. Churchilt, her Majeaty's acrise will experience a great loss; he died distring the night, after amputation of the leg; but I am glad to add there is every hope that Capt. Someract will do well, though severely wounded.

I regret to my that our loss has been very severe, infinitely beyond what I calculated on; indeed, I did not do justice to the gainstry of my opponents. Their force, however, no greaty exceeded ours, particularly in Artillery, the position of their guns was no communating, they were so welk served, and determinedly defended, both by their guarers and their lafatary, and the paculiar difficulties of the compay giving the defending force an great advantages, that it could not be otherwise.

In the neturn of killed I have greatly to deplore the loss of Lifut.-Col. K. Randers, C.B., of the Eugineers, than whom this Arm), with its numerous list of devoted soldiers, could not houst a most valuable Officer.

